MoJazz As A Lifestyle Choice

Lifestyle has always been associated with jazz. There were manners of dress, lingo and carriage that have accompanied each wrinkle in the continuum known as jazz. And at Motown's MoJazz Records label, the executives are working hard to define the lifestyle represented by that part of jazz which melds with supple R&B grooves and new jack sensibilities. Artists such as Norman Brown, Wayman Tisdale, Pharez Whitted and Daryle Chinn are being marketed to consumers that may not be acquainted with the mainstream echoes of jazz, who have been raised on contemporary urban music and who are defining the lifestyle of a generation. Cash Box urban editor Peter Miro talked with MoJazz executives about their mission and how the campaign is progressing.

Johnnie Taylor's Good Love

The man who brought you the R&B gem "Who's Makin' Love" and ably survived the beat-crazy disco era with the now classic "Disco Lady," is resurging with his current Malaco Records album Good Love, a reprise of the soulful style that has kept him on tour since his solo debut in the '60s and perked up the current interest by a younger generation in traditional R&B. Cash Box blues maven John Rhys talked with Taylor.

Lead Story

Midyear Sales Show 'Modest' Gains, RIAA

Net unit shipments by RIAA signatories up 6.8% in the first half of '96.

CONTINUED STRONG SALES OF CD ALBUMS and a remarkable jump in the popularity of CD singles were the primary factors leading to the 6.8% increase in units shipped during the first half of 1996, according to figures released last week by the Recording Industry Assn. of America (RIAA), which measures the sales of its signatory companies.

In the first six months of 1996, unit shipments of CDs, CD singles, cassettes, cassette singles and music videos by RIAA companies rose to 521.5 million, up from the 488.3 million registered at the midyear point last year. The overall dollar value also was up over the same period last year, logging in at $5.5 billion (based on suggested list prices), a 5.8% rise from the $5.2 billion tallied in 1995's first six months.

"Growth, however modest, is a remarkable achievement given the tremendous competition from other forms of entertainment," said RIAA chairman Jay Berman. "Our success in the first six months of this year is due to the continuing consumer demand for full-length CDs and a marked surge in the market for CD singles."

CD unit sales jumped 16% in the first half of 1996, to 361.7 million from 311.8 million the previous year in the same period. The dollar increase was 11.6, or $4.3 billion, compared to $3.9 billion tallied at midyear 1995.

With many companies lowering the price on CD singles, and the configuration in many cases offering bonus tracks, CD singles soared a whopping 128.8% in unit shipments and 76.1% in dollar value over the first six months tally of 1995. Unit shipments in the first half of 1996 were 13.5 million, compared to 5.9 million in the same period last year. Dollars from CD singles were up to $63.4 million at the midyear point in 1996, compared to $36 million in 1995.

Cassette sales showed a remarkable decrease in both unit shipments and dollar value, while music videos posted solid unit growth but more modest dollar value increases. Cassette sales dropped 19.4% in the first half of 1996, down to 101.9 units from 126.5 at midyear 1995, with a dollar value drop of 15.5%, to $866 million in the first half of '96 from $1.037 billion the year before. Cassette singles were down 7.6% in 1996, 30.4 from 32.9 in '95, and dollar value slipped 16.4%, to $95.3 million from $114 million in '95's first half.

QDE And Rysher Produce Naomi Talker

By John Goff

Naomi Judd

NAOMI JUDD HAS OVERCOME poverty, abuse, a life threatening illness and the music and entertainment business. She has two successful and, seemingly, well-adjusted daughters—an overachievement, or perhaps simply a well-answered prayer in the present era—a best-selling book, successful restaurant enterprise and inner happiness. Now, can she overcome the rigors of hosting a daytime TV talk show and can she retain that brilliant smile and the sparkling light in her eyes while wallowing around in the fetid mire with the current crop of bacon beaters grunting around the swill-trough for afternoon demographics?

Quincy Jones and David Salzman, QDE partners and heads and Rysher Entertainment think so. Jones and Salzman are the creators of Judd's show, Naomi; they'll be producing and Rysher will distribute it in syndication when it debuts this fall.

Perhaps a better question would be why would Naomi Judd want to get into

■ Ron Sacks has been promoted to vp of A&R development for BMG Direct. His new job makes him responsible for the growth and expansion of music product throughout BMG's various music clubs. He will work to expand the company's current label offerings, develop unique music product with BMG's contracted labels and exploit other special market sources to accomplish this task. He also will be responsible for merchandising opportunities. Sacks joined BMG Direct in 1991 as sr. dir. of A&R after nine years at Columbia House. In a related BMG move, Steve Vining has been named vp at Windham Hill/High Street Records. Vining, who previously was vp/gm of BMG Classic U.S., replaces Anne Robinson, who founded Windham Hill in 1976 before selling it to BMG Entertainment earlier this year. Vining joined BMG Classics in April 1991 as vp of sales and marketing for RCA Victor in the U.S. He was promoted to his most recent post in November, 1995. ■ Roger Skelton has been named vp of business & legal affairs at the MCA Music Entertainment Group (MMEG) and will now handle all aspects of business and legal matters for Universal Records as well as representing MMEG on the East Coast. Prior to joining MMEG, Skelton was vp of business affairs at RCA Records, where he held the post since 1991. He joined RCA in 1974 as an accountant. ■ MCA Music Publishing, Nashville has appointed a pair. Stephanie Cox has been named vp of creative services, and in her new post she will be responsible for the acquisition of writers and artists for the publishing company as well as working the MCA Music catalog. Prior to the new job, Cox was sr. dir. of A&R for Capitol Records. Wally Wilson has been appointed sr. dir. of newly-formed MCA Music Prods. for the publishing company's Nashville operation. He will be responsible for signing and developing writers/artists. Most recently, Wilson produced the group Lonestar for BNA Records. ■ Atlantic Records has upped a pair in its promotion department. Kim Stephens, in fact, has been promoted to sr. dir. of promotion/A&R, and will be based in New Orleans. Currently working with Lava/Atlantic on the forthcoming Matchbox 20 project, he most recently was the label's natl. dir. of promotion/A&R, a post he had held since 1993. Mark Fritges has been upped to sr. dir. of natl. promotion and will be based in Pittsburgh, PA. He recently was Atlantic natl. dir. of promotion, a post he has held since 1992. He joined the label in 1980 as a local promotion manager in the Pittsburgh, Columbus, OH territories. ■ Joci Alvarez has been named assoc. dir. of film & TV licensing for Arista Records. Alvarez is charged with the task of developing more relationships in the film and television area and creating new opportunities for the label's recorded material, as well as increasing exposure opportunities for Arista's existing and newly-emerging artist rosters. She previously was manager of soundtracks for the label, and began her career as an administrative assistant at the company in 1992.

that pig sty with all she's got going? Well, according to Judd herself, she's a positive person who wants to help people and, "We'll celebrate values to live by and look at all sides of life, because by learning together how to overcome conflict, pain and tragedy, we will get stronger together."

O.K., granted, daytime TV could use some values. Some of the sleaze on those gabbers make the soaps look like seminaries. But wait a minute, Daytime TV—as is all TV, all entertainment—is about ratings, drawing in the numbers and, ostensibly, the buck$ from the hawking done during respites between babblings from the off-center participants. Sleaze sells; in music, in movies, video, radio and especially daytime TV. About the only thing that doesn't sell there, consistently, at least, is decency. So why would QDE and Rysher want to attempt a show pushing decency, values and positivity; and why would Naomi Judd want to step into that pool? They're betting it's time things turned around.

EAST COAST

The Doobie Brothers recently taped Rockin' Down The Highway: The Wildlife Concert at Sony Music Studios in Manhattan to benefit the Wildlife Conservation Society. The concert is now available on Legacy Recordings and is out on video this week on Sony Music Video. Pictured celebrating the show are Andy Kadison, vp of studio ops/programming; Ron Urban, sr. vp, Sony Music; Patrick Simmons, The Doobie Bros.; and Jeff Jones, vp of marketing & product development, Sony Music.

LAST DAYS OF SUMMER?: Compared to the last few years, this season along the East Coast has been almost like a second Ice Age, where temperatures have not gone above ninety degrees since the middle of May. Which means that it is all the more enjoyable to watch music and other fine arts al fresco. Lincoln Center is putting on its 26th annual out-of-doors festival, which runs for three weeks starting August 13th. A few of the highlights include, on the 16th Sonny Rollins; on the 18th Grupo Afro-Cuba; on the 23rd Sonny Burgess, Sleepy LaBeef and Rosie Flores; on the 24th Taj Mahal; on the 25th Percy Sledge; on September 1st Chico Hamilton, Buddy Collette, Horace Tapscott and The Mingus Big Band; and on the 4th the event is wrapped up with a tribute to Carmen Miranda with more than a handful of performers giving it their all.

Celebrating their 25th anniversary J&R Music World is also putting on a series of concerts across the street from its complex of stores in City Hall Park from August 22nd to the 24th. On the 22nd Ramsey Lewis, Rodney Kendrick and The Mingus Big Band; on the 23rd Art Porter, Javon Jackson and Marcus Printup; on the 24th Bill Perry, Diane Krall, Kenny Garrett and the Essence All-Stars w/Lenny White, Eddie Henderson, Marcus Belgrave, Javon Jackson, Ron Carter & Stephen Scott.

All of this will be happening at the same time as The Panasonic Village Jazz Festival will be taking place from August 17th to the 26th which includes a film series, poetry, art, dance and even a fair as well as eleven venues hosting different musicians over the course of the revelry. Some of the attractions include Gato Barbieri, Terrance Blanchard, Abraham Burton, Thomas Chapin Trio, Charles Davis Quartet and Abdullah Ibrahim among many others. Plus a free concert in Washington Square Park by Herbie Hancock on the last evening of the celebration. So, if moderate weather isn't enough to get you heading onto the island of Manhattan, these musical inducements should be more than enough to get you across those bridges and tunnels.

COUNTRY MEETS WILD WEST RETRO: An artist as popular as Patsy Cline is someone that has had record companies releasing the same material for decades. Now, with The Birth Of A Star put out by Razor & Tie you can get your hands on a myriad of previously unreleased performances that track the Country sensation's early career including TV appearances. These numbers shine almost as bright as her later more polished material. Someone who was never smooth, but a gem none the less, was Little Jimmy Dickens who didn't quite reach five feet tall. This diminutive coal miner's son became an early staple of the Grand Old Opry in the fifties and the sixties. With I'm Little But I'm Loud, Razor & Tie offers an excellent window into an artist who has faded from most memories. Zulu Records has released a trio of CDs that give you a flavor of the ferment that was not just going on in London and the American Coasts, but also in Vancouver, British Columbia. Whether it is the raw energy of the Young Canadians (nee' The K-Tels), the breakneck hooks of the Modernettes or the more romantic yet still punchy Pointed Sticks these are three collections that should be sitting alongside many of the greatest hits from the punk outfits of that era.

MISCELLANEOUS SIGNS OF MUSICAL LIFE, ... Hootie & The Blowfish have announced that the group will be making a special $10,000 contribution to establish a music scholarship fund at the State University of NY at Stony Brook....Republica, whose "Ready To Go" single is proving to be a commercial alternative winner, has announced its debut U.S. tour. The British band will be opening for Gravity Kills in the fall, following that band's stint with The Sex Pistols...Jennifer Finch has left L7, causing the critically-acclaimed garage punkers to delay the release of their upcoming Reprise disc, The Beauty Process—Triple Platinum, 'til early 1997... "Macarena" purveyors The Bayside Boys have signed to Lava/Atlantic.

CAN'T GET ENOUGH FILTHY LUCRE even after seeing The Sex Pistols live and buying the concert album? On August 23, the band will be broadcast live and uncensored from the Hollywood Palladium on the Internet via N2k Entertainment's ROCKTROPOLIS site.

AND MEANWHILE, ON MTV: The third installment of "Bootleg" visited the H.O.R.D.E. festival August 17, focusing on Lenny Kravitz, Rusted Root, Dave Matthews Band and Blues Traveler with one of those swell on-the-road documentaries... The Fugees, Alanis Morissette and Dr. Dre & Nas are set to perform at the MTV Video Music Awards along with Bush, Metallica, Oasis and The Smashing Pumpkins. Presenters include Dennis Rodman, Chris Rock, Damon Wayans, Kevin Bacon, Snoop Doggy Dogg, Susan Sarandon and Mariah Carey. The event will be hosted by acerbic funny man Dennis Miller.

MoJazz: Jazz As Lifestyle

By Peter Miro

BRUCE WALKER, GENERAL MANAGER, MoJazz Records and sr. vp of A&R, Motown Records, still recalls the day he met with newly-appointed CEO Andre Harrell, the young mastermind behind the Uptown Records juggernaut. Walker entered the chairman's suite harboring distinct misgivings that Harrell's pledge to "hip hop" Motown Records into the future would mean eliminating MoJazz, the fledgling jazz-oriented ancillary label founded in 1992. Eric Reed, a skilled pianist, wasn't setting sales charts on fire, melodically gifted soprano saxophonist J. Spencer was straining at a hip hop leash, Foley was an experiment gone awry, Norman Connors was all but ignored in stark contrast to his '70s stature as an R&B composer of magnitude. Only Musicians Institute guitar professor Norman Brown was clicking with record buyers with his Just Between Us debut. Harrell dispelled any ominous tension firsthand. "You need more money," he said. "This is a lifestyle that people need to know about. You need to get your records done now."

Walker and MoJazz have received considerable marketing support since that October '95 meeting. Now he is an avid point man for a revitalized slate of artists, with Norman Brown still outpacing the pack. "MoJazz is the new face of jazz, the bridge between R&B and jazz," offers Walker, emphasizing the label's focus and identity in the contemporary jazz market.

Gone are the days when a jazz record was considered a success if it sold 40-50,000 units, supported by only airplay on jazz stations and live club dates attended by core fans. Some specialty labels without a huge overhead can probably still be content with that, but with the swollen budgets of today's leviathan record conglomerates, such a return would be regarded as a hemorrhaging instead. "The way jazz was marketed stagnated," says Michael Mitchell, sr. vp of communications, West Coast. "(The artists) expected everyone to come to them. Jazz is far from over. You have to remind people that it's there."

A shrewd marketer like Harrell quickly discerned that MoJazz had to be market-driven in its approach to the music. "The main thing is to introduce the MoJazz lifestyle," continues Walker. "Great music, accessible music for people with diverse tastes. A lot of young people are really into what we're doing. We're not limiting jazz. We hope to help the jazz arena. We're bringing back good music, live performance values, with great artists, performers and entertainers."

Eric Talbert, director, MoJazz, shapes the company position further. "I think the label's vision is to have everyone think they're not a jazz lover, but they are." He diagrams the MoJazz formula thusly. "Take an urban bass form, add musical instrumental composition...it's jazz. People are tired of hip hop. Take real music, writing from nothing, not just samples and loops. We needed to change the message to reach the audience. We're taking an urban face of music, including cover tunes to break the ice. They immediately identify with it." Doc Remer, director of nat'l promotions recounted the tweaking and fine tuning needed to make the MoJazz product appeal to radio, given its fragmentation. "Radio isn't really sure what they get from us. It's always been good, but not always been a good fit. We had to make enhancements—different mixes for different formats. The product is for flavor. It's a combination of contemporary jazz and urban contemporary music."

"It's difficult to define jazz," elaborates Steve Corbin, vp, marketing. "The purist will always buy Thelonious Monk. We're not trying to box MoJazz into being only jazz music. There's a variety for the adult consumer. We put it out, worked it on a street level and people found it. Bruce Walker has definitely brought lifestyle marketing focus to MoJazz. It gives Motown another dimension."

About two and a half years ago MoJazz realized its approach had to change. Now the nucleus of a championship team is in place reflecting favorable sales numbers, impacting in various radio formats and consumer groups with execs and staffers timing their efforts like an improvisational jazz combo. Cassette samplers, and listening posts trumpet the MoJazz sound favorably, such that a debonair urbanite will want to step out with his date to a MoJazz performance. Norman Brown remains the sales leader. His '94 LP After The Storm is approaching gold status. His dazzling combination of guitar virtuosity and stage showmanship make him an ideal frontman for the label's roster. His current LP Better Days Ahead is surging with 100,000 units shipped, and its title track is the #1 most added record on NAC radio. A video for "After the Love Is Gone" was recently shot in Northern California.

Daryle Chinn's first LP, From The Heart has a subtle, romantic instrumental approach. Wayman Tisdale follows the 120,000 unit performance of his debut LP, Power Forward with his 4th quarter sequel Watch Me Play. An all-star video will be lensed in New York next month. Trumpeter Pharez Whitted, also a music professor, will promote his Mysterious Cargo LP with nationwide appearances at Borders Bookstores. Norman Connors is nearly finished with his new instrumental album, and singer Ronee Martin, releases her debut Remember next month. A multiple artist Christmas album will round out '96, and about eleven projects are in the works from MoJazz for 1997.

Imprompt2 offers a hybrid flavor to the roster. Legendary vibist Lionel Hampton made the timbre of his hammers felt on the recent Olympic Games jazz album, People Make The World Go Round.

By tailoring product for the masses, and marketing a desirable lifestyle, MoJazz has steadily transformed consumer awareness of the label as a distinct entity in its own right. Black AC, urban, and Quiet Storm formats play its music alongside NAC, AC and jazz radio. So there is a wider spread from which to reap consumer dollars and new listeners. A freewheeling compositional approach remains the signature of the MoJazz sound, and tolerance among new listeners is growing for the label's product. Its most staunch supporter remains the man thought to amputate the label before it had a chance to fulfill its promise.

"I'm approaching MoJazz's development similar to the way I approached Uptown," Andre Harrell stated. "We are developing a lifestyle label. If we start to put labels on our MoJazz acts, we will limit them. I see a Waymon Tisdale or Pharez Whitted not just appealing to the jazz audience, but to the hip hop heads who are now discovering the music of such greats as Miles Davis as well as to the audience who groove to a Stanley Jordan. We are looking to make artists (into) personalities. Norman Brown could easily become the George Benson for a younger, more active record buying consumer."

SINGLES REVIEWS By Daina Darzin

■ PENNILESS PEOPLE OF BULGARIA: "Velocity" (Altered CD-378-2)

A gorgeously layered, big track that could make a serious dent on Modern Rock stations, "Velocity" is replete with the kind of anthemic, fuzz-distorted, cool hooks that have already made the band a hit in its native Finland and elsewhere in Europe.

■ WLD COLONIALS: "Charm" (DGCD-A-24973)

Angela McCluskey's haunting, strong voice, this stunning single's uncluttered, soaring guitars, and a quirky charming edge that's vaguely Cranberries-like combine for a sound that couldn't be more dead-on fashionable today. The Wild Colonials' "Charm" will surely catch on at modern rock radio first, but could cross over to active and other rock formats.

■ THE QUEERS: "Punk Rock Girls" (Lookout 140 CD)

The veteran punk band takes its patented mix of raw punk plus '60s bubblegum-happy rock to make an entirely silly, fun, accessible single, kinda like the Ramones and Lesley Gore getting together for a jam. "Punk Rock Girls" is from the band's Don't Back Down disc, which is differentiated from its previous offerings by sharper, bigger production.

■ JOSH CLAYTON FELT: "Soon Enough" (A&M AMCDP 00279)

And today's luckiest guy in the world is Josh Clayton Felt, who recently got handpicked by Tori Amos to open her current tour. The former singer of School of Fish, which had a hit with "Three Strange Days," Felt offers an easy, jazzy groove and a quirky hook for a charming tune that's currently being worked at commercial alternative and college stations. "Soon Enough" is the second single off Felt's solo debut, Inarticulate Nature Boy.

PICK OF THE WEEK

■ THE REFRESHMENTS: "Down Together" (Mercury 314 528 999 2)

A sleeper success story, the Refreshments' Fizzy, Fuzzy, Big and Buzzy disc already spawned "Banditos," a Top 10 alternative single that's still receiving MTV play. The new single, "Down Together," hooks a laconic Tex-Mex vibe to amiable, cheerfully loopy rock n' roll, graced with old-time twangy guitar chords. Currently being worked to both alternative and rock stations, "Down Together" has already been added at WAAF in Boston, WDZR in Detroit, KDKB in Phoenix and CFNY in Toronto. The Refreshments will be touring this fall.

ALBUM REVIEWS by Daina Darzin

■ EARTH: Pentastar: In The Style of the Demons (SubPop SPCD 361)

Earth is a big, lumbering, deliberately, interminably slow metal band that takes the Black-Sabbath-via-the-Melvins-and-Codeine route, periodically adding Phantom of the Opera keyboards, ambient noise loops and other appropriately atmospheric flourishes. Most of the tracks on this disc are too long for radio play, but this is an extremely inventive, cool disc that could increase the band's already-solid cult following (the outfit has a stellar history, counting Melvins' Joe Preston and, some years back, Kurt Cobain among its former members.)

■ DOGSTAR: Quattro Formaggi (Zoo 72445-11128-2)

This four song EP is just a preview of Dogstar's Our Little Visionary full-length album, which will be released in the fall. In the meantime, this four-track Enhanced CD plays on a conventional CD player and includes state-of-the-art interactive computer graphics. Dogstar plays entirely lovely, catchy power pop songs that could work on any number of formats.

And, well, yeah, there's that little matter about Keanu Reeves being Dogstar's bass player, and turning down a gazillion dollars to do Speed 2 in order to tour with his beloved band...

■ DEADBOLT: Tijuana Hit Squad (Cargo HED-059 CD)

What would you get if you crossed the Rev. Horton Heat, the Cramps and a Quentin Tarantino/Robert Rodriguez movie? Welcome to the creepy and amusing world of Deadbolt, which makes good ole rockabilly twang sound like the most ominous thing in the world. The disc's hilarious, darkly sarcastic tone and fun rootsy sound could make any of these tracks—"Convict Man," "A Hit Gone Wrong," "El Perversio"—a novelty hit.

■ ROBERT MILES: Dreamland (Arista 18930-2)

A major-league hit in Europe, Robert Miles gets ready to take the U.S. Miles' single "Children" sold more than two million units and reached #1 in seven countries. A trancey, dramatic dance track from the former pianist, club DJ and producer, "Children" appears on Dreamland in two versions, with plenty of other similarly lush, hypnotic Giorgio Moroder-meets-Enigma dance tracks in between, including the space-age blip of "Landscape" and the high-drama crescendos and plaintive keyboard arrangement of "Princess of Light."

PICK OF THE WEEK

■ FAILURE: Fantastic Planet (Slash/Warner Bros. 9 46269-2)

A swirly, inventive mix of hard-edged industrial sounds and sweetly harmonic melody lines, Failure is a commercial alternative natural, with weird but anthemic tracks like "Saturday Savior" and the sadly lilting and extremely catchy "Pitiful." Much of the rest of Fantastic Planet takes off for an extended sonic adventure, with peculiarly and brilliantly deconstructed sound. This is a real hang-out-under-the-earphones record which includes car sounds ("Segue 2"), feedback and other assorted strangeness in the mix. Although a new band, Failure is no stranger to national touring, having completed an extensive trek opening for Tool in support of its earlier disc, Magnified.

ALBUM REVIEWS By Peter Miro

■ FACEMOB: The Other Side Of The Law (Rap-A-Lot/Noo Trybe 7243 8 41336 2 7) Producers: James A. Smith, Brad Jordan.

A clack up and a blam begin this cold gangsta saga by Scarface protégés Facemob. It has its share of hard-cussing, heavy-thumping hip hop tracks, but it also steps the pace down to an easygoing groove on "Millions" and "Tales From Tha Hood," without lessening the sting of its lethality one whit. "Respect Rude," while about mobbing, is downright funky to listen to, thanks to its bassline. "The Other Side" continues the floating mood, but it's tunes like "Da Coldest" which can adapt to club action for its danceability. Expect remixes to increase underground support from a loyal fan base for anything Mr. Scarface is connected to. Arrived in stores August 6.

■ SIR MIX A LOT: Return Of The Bumpasaurus (American 2-4301-A) Producers: Sir Mix-A-Lot, Mike Kumagi, Quaze, Funk Daddy.

It can finally be told. Atlantis was settled by George Clinton, and when it sank, his funk was dispersed by survivors who weren't fried by the solar power jewel in the center of the city. Sir Mix-A-Lot incorporates some of that legacy onto his pimp game-laced compositions, with "Buckin My Horse," "Mob Style," and "Bumpasaurus" especially sounding like vintage "Knee Deep." Mix-A-Lot's trademark rhythmic conversating is evident on "You Can Have Her," rips into ungrateful back-stabbers on "Lead Yo Horse," and hilariously dissects "cross-over" sisters who abandon their ghetto roots on "Aunt Thomasina." Chris Rock's comic intro sets up the absurdist mirth of this eclectic platter, and "Da Bomb" makes use of female dialect to add to the send-ups which are all over this LP. Fun stuff.

■ TRICKY: Tricky Presents Grassroots (Payday/FFRR 697-124-105-2) Producers: Tricky, Drunkenstein.

This is really an extended EP with five cuts being released and marketed with all the fanfare of an album. Not a problem. We'll accommodate him here. Featured artists are The Hillfiguzes ("Heaven, Youth Hell"), Tricky, ("Tricky Kid"), Laveda Davis ("Devil's Helper" w/Tricky), Stephanie Cooke ("Live W/Yo Self") and Roberto Malary, Jr. ("Grass Roots" w/Tricky). Tricky spins tales in a gravelly voice on this laid-back alternative hip hop project, but it's Stephanie Cooke's performance on "Live W/Yo Self" that is thought-provoking and sublimely entertaining at once. She comes from a deep center of wisdom in her lyrics, and offers the most radio-ready tune herein.

PICK OF THE WEEK

■ THE BRAXTONS: So Many Ways (Atlantic 82875-2) Producers: Bryant Reid, Jermaine Dupri, Daryl Simmons, "Tricky" Stewart.

Besides the hit single "So Many Ways," Tamar, Towanda, and Trina Braxton show their musical mettle on a menu of sultry ballads, with equal opportunities to display vocal prowess. Can't say "The Boss" by Diana Ross belongs on the collection, unless it's there to appeal to a techno-oriented dance crowd. Its straight-up hip-hop intro would have made a nice tune if it was fleshed out, but the rest of it sounds incongruous on this otherwise tranquil, luxuriant disc. Think of the fine crystal of "Slow Flow," "I'd Still Say Yes," "L.A.D.I.," the brilliance of "Take Home To Momma," with its gutsy phrasing, the nitty gritty of "Where's The Good In Goodbye," and "What Does It Take," and then the magic is dispelled with "The Boss." The Braxtons will earn increased respect for their solo skills with this LP, but get "Little" Louie Vega and Kenny "Dope" Gonzalez to make a complete joint out of that mix show beat they came up with so the ladies can snap up some of the hip hop market to boot.

THE RHYTHM

By Peter Miro

AI Bell discusses "social science marketing" principles being employed for a surge of releases his Bellmark Records label will launch in the 4th quarter '96. A total of 22 albums and singles ranging from blues to jazz, rap, bass, dance, R&B and "God-inspired (gospel)" genres are planned to continue the musical legacy begun at Stax Records for the '90s and beyond.

FOR WHOM BELL TOILS: Bellmark Records CEO AI Bell is covering as many bases as possible to position his label to maximum advantage in today's urban music marketplace.

Releases on his label are now being distributed through RED, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sony Music. Bellmark has regrouped after the label's Tag Team craze of '93, and the independent success of the Paisley Park maxi-single release "The Most Beautiful Girl In The World," which helped the symbol known as Prince prove a point to Warner Bros. about his creative viability. Bellmark is now targeting various market niches with a new slate of artists for '96, with special attention being devoted to upcoming projects by The Dramatics, Lenny Williams, Stylistics and Chi-Lites. These classic groups may be considered "old school," but Bell emphasizes that they are "great, unique artists who hadn't been given the opportunity to enjoy the fruits of their talents to the fullest." He wants to play a role in popularizing their talent for contemporary audiences, and allow the groups to be seen and heard anew. As a marketer, Bell says they offer "great music, great songs and great performances." He points out that young African-American producers are seeking vintage soul to graft onto some of their current creations, reinforcing the viability of classic material. So in his view, it seems intelligent to sign these veteran groups and add a contemporary flair to their songs, ripe for AC radio exposure.

Remaining label offerings are diverse. Tag Team's sequel release is due early '97. Top Secret is a bass music act from Augusta, GA who raps and sings, coming forth with a project titled "Ghetto Booty." Stefanie Bolton, age 23, is a Memphis-bred vocalist, "a beautiful, dynamic performer," whose appeal parallels that of Atlantic artist Brandy, and whose range, pipes and vocal gymnastics are compared to Aretha Franklin. Doug Lazy & Science, from D.C., are receiving preliminary mix show action on their "Get Your Groove On" single, prior to their LP's late August release. There are also West Coast rappers Terrorist Society, Chicago balladeer Brad Watson, who's traveled with R. Kelly, the Kerry Gordy-produced dance diva E. GEE, whose upcoming LP and single are called "Butterfly Me," and Hillside, described as a contemporary Bar-Kays. Eleven releases are forthcoming on the "God-inspired" Life Records label, and its exceptional sales performance has expanded to the general market. Separate marketing plans have been devised for each group in the mix. Video will be a judiciously-used promotional tool, on an as-needed basis.

"What I've always wanted to do," says Bell, "is present to people the music that is a part of, or influenced by, the African-American experience, irrespective of period or genre. I always dealt with music as an artform. I always wanted to present that art to the masses. It was always born in me to ferret out that which was unique. At Stax, the most important word in contracts was 'unique.' Unique artists, unique songs, unique presentation. I don't like the categories, I just like unique music. I respect the validity and power of the genre, but I just look for great unique art. As a social science marketer, my steps are finding the art, examining the purchaser, determine the approach, target the niche, promote and advertise the art until it becomes popular, crossing over to the general market. I don't use a rote approach. I like figuring out unique ways to market product," he concludes.

THE RHYME

How to translate hip hop creativity into enduring dollars? The answers will be pursued during the Fourth Annual How Can I Be Down? Hip Hop/New Jack Power Summit in South Beach, Miami, brainchild of entrepreneur Peter Thomas (pictured).

IT WAS APTLY STATED by music industry agent Lawrence J. Milov, who handles finances for some of rap music's big names, "It's not how much you make, it's how much you keep." Milov was one of the guests at last week's listening party for LaFace artists Outkast who ripped the mic at the House of Blues in West Hollywood in support of their upcoming August 27th release Atliens. Security was tight in both the lobby and penthouse of the Hyatt on Sunset, where guests milled about. Milov pointed out that cars, jewelry, houses and apartment buildings are the chief assets he's seen rap artists purchase. It's his job to make sure that terms like "cross-collateralization" don't fall on deaf ears, and that his clients come away from their windfalls with more than a few U.S. Mint leaves. Naughty By Nature got the hint, because Milov sported a fat diamond-rimmed square gold ring with the group's logo in raised letters as an appreciative gift for watching their hard-earned coins. In the rap game, he's called "Larry."

HERE'S HOW: Keeping more of what you earn will be a topic of interest in scenic South Beach, Miami at the Fourth Annual How Can I Be Down? Hip Hop New Jack Power Summit come October 10-14, 1996. Created by entrepreneur Peter Thomas, it has grown in successive years, becoming one of the most anticipated, highly attended urban music conferences in the country. Thousands of urbanites, label executives, artists, entrepreneurs and celebrities, ages 18-35 are expected to converge on the Show Club Hotel and surrounding beaches for the event. Guidance towards economic empowerment in the billion-dollar hip hop industry will be offered on a slate of informative panels. Touring, publishing, management, entertainment law, distribution, TV/video & film, radio, and new label start-ups are a few of the panel topics being offered. Signed and unsigned artist showcases, fashion shows, celebrity basketball tournament and "The Salute To Excellence Awards Dinner" round out the event. Participating labels include: Def Jam, Loud, Bad Boy, Island, Epic/550, Priority, Relativity, Flavor Unit, MCA, Columbia Uptown and Biv 10. This year's "Salute To Excellence" honorees are: Jermaine Dupree (CEO So So Def/Columbia), Sean "Puffy" Combs (CEO Bad Boy Ent.) and MCA artists Salt N' Pepa. There will be a $25.00 discount off the registration fee for all those who register to vote, an incentive backed by ROCK THE VOTE, and George Magazine. To register, contact How Can I Be Down? at (212) 229-5279 / FAX: (212) 337-1440.

ADDRHYME: A few knuckleheads disrupted the 92.3 KKBT Summer Jam August 11 at Irvine Meadows prior to the show's completion, aborting performances by Ice Cube and SWV when sporadic fights broke out. L.A. urban music fans had enjoyed a strife-free show until then. Unbowed promoters vowed it would return next year... Rapper/producer Triggerman, who's recorded with MC Ren, E-40, Above the Law, and Spice-1, says he's working on some tracks in his Pomona, CA studio with new artist Marley Mack for an upcoming debut release. Triggerman was impressed with the inventive flavor of Marley's "Scars & Memories" demo... Correct spellings are in order for Orlando Fenderson and Xzibit of Loud Records, and Kurupt of Tha Dogg Pound. Retiring at the top of his game, Jive artist Too Short certified Gold and Platinum simultaneously for his final album, Gettin' It (Album Number Ten). He will focus next on his Atlanta-based label/production company, Dangerous Music.

BLACKJACK: "Whatever It Takes" (Penalty/Tommy Boy PENCDDPRO 0173) Producer: Blackjack.

Culled from his upcoming LP Addicted To Drama, "Whatever It Takes" is a mellow R&B track about the indispensability of cash, rapped with serious street knowledge grafted onto it, a gift Blackjack has exercised in his recordings for Spice-1, Method Man, 2Pac and E-40. Vocals and a crisp hi-hat pace this groove. Sounds and subject matter get more intense on "Fk Your Life," and "Nine Of 'Em," which allow MC Eht, The Luniz, Notorious B.I.G. and other members of the Criminal Minded Clique an opportunity to state their outlook.

LUTHER VANDROSS: "Your Secret Love" (Epic/LV ESK 8356)

Producer: Luther Vandross.

The title track from Luther's forthcoming self-produced LP has the elements of his patented style: a soothing serenade, emotive backup vocals, sustained notes held over the refrain, a romantic flair. Altogether it's spelled "chart-bound."

MINT CONDITION: "What Kind Of Man Would I Be" (Perspective PSSAD 00261) Producers: Jimmy Jam & Terry Lewis, Mint Condition for Mint Factory Productions.

Contemporary balladeering flair from a talented band, this single rated ink well in advance of its August 20 release date, it was that hard to sit on, but the hook-up is on so take notice. Lead vocalist Stokely wallops major you-know-what on an excitingly rendered love jam, hitting highs and falling into the chorus to telling effect. Its guitar solo interlude reminds one of "Let Me Put Love On Your Mind," by Confunkshun, (and for all that "old school" talk, it's doubtful that one member of Confunkshun is collecting Social Security). Repeated plays will see this jam rocketing and bursting like Chinese New Year every night, and twice on Sunday. From their Sept. 20 LP Definition Of A Band, there will be heavy trading in the latest pressings from the Mint.

Blues News And Notes

By John Rhys

Johnnie "Good Love" Taylor

"LET'S TALK ABOUT NOT KILLIN' PEOPLE, and how to make a little love here," quotes veteran bluesman Johnnie Taylor.

On the making of his new album Good Love, Johnnie remarks, "I just wanted to make some sense out of music again. I wanted to give folks what they wanted. Some nice words and good melodies. Bring a little love back into the music." And it seems to be working.

Good Love is the ninth album Taylor has made for Malaco Records. Capitalizing on the recent resurgence of Southern R&B, Malaco's Tommy Couch Jr. says the company is having a field day. "This is the fastest moving record we've had in a long time, and we're having problems keeping up with the orders."

The album has sold more than 200,000 copies since its release in May.

Born in Crawfordsville, Arkansas and raised in West Memphis, Johnnie grew up with strong influences in both gospel and the blues. In 1960, Taylor found himself lead singer of The Soul Stirrers, replacing Sam Cooke after an almost 10 year tenure. Then newly-formed SAR Records realizing Johnnie's potential, quickly signed him to a recording contract, which resulted in his first chart success "Rome Wasn't Built In A Day."

Taylor's tireless career certainly wasn't built in a day. Hit records are few and far between but Johnnie always made the best of what he had. Years on the chitlin' circuit built a solid fan base for the illustrious entertainer and has served him well through the years. "I have always been able to work at least six months out of the year since I first hit the charts, and that has kept my family and me alive," says Johnnie. "But I must admit, I have had a great deal of good luck to go along with the hard work."

Some of what Johnnie equates as good luck was his recording of "Who's Makin' Love" for the Stax label. "For a long time after that hit it seemed like I could do no wrong," said Johnnie, and because of the tremendous sales of that record, he wound up being listed as one of the all-time best selling acts on Stax even with Otis Redding, Booker T. And The MG's and Sam & Dave signed to the label.

At the time, when disco became the rage, Johnnie, always moving with the flow, achieved gold status with his monster hit, "Disco Lady" for Columbia Records.

Cash Box asked Taylor what Malaco thought about the Jewel/Paula release of Stop Half Loving These Women, product he had recorded for RCA with Don Davis after the demise of Stax. He replied, "Tommy was mad, but I told him you can't stop a guy from hustlin' his wares. Tommy Sr. and Stan Lewis have been in competition for a long time and it's good for business."

It's certainly good for Johnnie Taylor's business and now, entrenched in the number one spot on the Cash Box Blues Chart, Johnnie is traveling across the USA spreading goodwill and helping to sell his record.

How does Johnnie Taylor feel about having one more hit? In his own words: "With the release of Good Love I've noticed that the kids are coming back to see my shows. I think, to me, that's the most gratifying reward of all."

BLUES BEFORE SUNRISE NEEDS HELP: As of September 1st, one of America's finest blues shows is leaving WBEZ Chicago after being on the air for over 15 years. Blues Before Sunrise is widely recognized as a presentation of great historical depth giving exposure to many great blues artists who perhaps would have never been heard. Host Steve Cushing cites station management decisions as the problem and is now funding the show, which is broadcast via satellite to 58 markets, with his own resources. If there are any blues lovers who would like to help in any way, call Steve Cushing at 708-771-2135, lest we lose a valuable friend of the blues.

JOE GALKIN NOMINATED FOR "GEORGY": A musician, promoter and one of the all time great music men has been nominated in the Eighteenth Annual Georgia Music Hall Of Fame Awards. Son of Russian immigrants, Joe went from musician to becoming one of the greatest record promotion men in the history of American Rhythm and Blues. Anyone who ever had the privilege of working with Galkin has a story to tell. More than likely, a few. Honored by Jerry Wexler in his recent book, The Rhythm And The Blues, Joe Galkin will live through the music he helped propel into the lives of music lovers everywhere. This pupil pays his dearest respects to the teacher...

Cash Box wishes to thank Chuck Bloomingburg of Lightning Blues, Nashville, TN for his support. It was great meeting Chuck during our visit to Nashville last month...We would also like to welcome Jim Mertz of radio station WMUH, Allentown, PA to our ever-growing group of dedicated bluesmen. Jim, your weekly reports will help keep America and the world apprised of the great music we call the blues...A very special BIG 50 to our friend Casey Rankin. We plan to attend the elegant party being held at the home of prestigious attorney Gerald Weiner on Sunday August 18th. Many, many more Casey...Last of all we are very sorry to hear that Jimmy Bowen who last year was diagnosed with cancer, has sold his home in Nashville, divested most of his holdings and moved to Hawaii with his wife to await an end. The music industry will always hold Jimmy in high regard and hope that his last months will be peaceful...So long for now, and remember...The Gods love the blues.

Other Music In The Land Of Giants

By J.S. Gaer

HOW DOES A MOM AND POP STORE compete against mega retail outlets like Tower, HMV and Virgin, et. al? Well, if you're the three enterprising souls that own New York City's Other Music, you open your doors right in the shadow of the giant Tower Records store in the Downtown complex, and consequently become one of the most talked about indie stores in recent history.

Combining experience, knowledge about the product, unique inventory and a regular slate of artist in-store appearances, Chris Vanderloo, Jeff Gibson and Josh Modell have managed to carve out a solid niche in the thick music retailing universe of Manhattan.

Despite the aforementioned attributes, Other Music's locale is what initially raises eyebrows. Opening literally across the street from Tower is a risky proposition, but according to Vanderloo, "We had been thinking about this for a year. We finally found a place after a long search. Location is always the key thing. Traffic patterns, foot traffic, safe neighborhood, plus we wanted something that was very visible (arc other factors)."

But after attracting customers to the store, what keeps them there and draws them back is the inventory. Featuring the usual rock and oldies (which skew toward the more obscure), mixed with LA/Decadence, krautrock, ambient and other subgenres is what sets the store apart. "We sell what we like," Vanderloo says. "It reflects all our interests; all three of us have individual tastes."

But the Other Music people keep their ears open. "You listen to what people are looking for and you react to that, too. We're not out to compete with Tower at all. We're filling a niche that they don't."

To achieve this goal, the trio mounts a tireless search for music and use a couple of dozen distributors on average per month. But it doesn't stop there. "We search out through many distributors to get the littlest thing, which gives us an edge over the Towers," Vanderloo says. "They will deal with some big one-stop, and we will call up the label," which makes the hard to find things more accessible to the customer.

Another feature that sets the store apart are the appearances by several artists, such as Matador Records' Yo La Tengo, Killing Rock Star's Elliot Smith, DJ Spooky on the Ashphodel label. Store logistics lend themselves to this feature, as the racks and fixtures are portable enough to accommodate the performance and the increased traffic that it attracts. "The in-store performances have definitely spread the word," says Vanderloo, who adds that the store usually offers a special price on the visiting artist's records. "We try to use co-op advertising so that with the help of the labels we can highlight the event in our ads."

Perhaps the most important customer draw for the store is service, according to Vanderloo. "The biggest thing is the way we treat people in the store. This spreads awareness more than anything. Someone comes in and they ask us a question and more than likely they are going to get an intelligent answer. And if we don't know, we can steer you in the right direction. Someone goes away with that and they tell their friends, and they also come back. Word of mouth is most important."

Keeping daily operations up to established standards is hard work, though. "There's too much work," Vanderloo says. "I feel as though I could be up 24 hours and not get all the work done. It has been a bigger undertaking than all three of us thought possible."

But the hard work is proving that a small store can shine through—even in the neon afterglow of the giant stores.

Indie Execs

■ Gilbert L. Wachsman has been named to the newly-created post of vice chairman of merchandising at Musiland Stores Corp. Wachsman is charged with the task of stimulating Musiland's overall merchandising efforts by streamlining its merchandising, buying, inventory systems, distribution and advertising departments. He will serve on the company's executive management committee. Wachsman recently served as sr. vp of hardlines for the K-Mart Corp. and from 1974 to 1986 worked for Target Stores, where he rose to sr. vp of marketing/merchandising and shepherded in the chain's move from rack jobber to internally directed music functions. ■ David Conrad has been named sr. vp at Rondor Music International. With nearly 20 years of experience in music publishing, Conrad opened Rondor's Nashville office in 1981 and has not only placed on the charts country music, but pop adult contemporary and R&B titles as well. ■ Lawrence Wert has been named sr. vp of Evergreen Media Corp. Wert will play a major role in the company's growth while managing WKQI-FM in Detroit. The 19-year industry veteran has held a number of management jobs in both radio and television. ■ Lysa Grande has been promoted to sr. dir. of licensing for Windswept Pacific. Formerly the dir. of licensing, Grande will increase her involvement in the areas of exploitation of the firm's catalog for film & TV projects as well as advertising. ■ Rhino Entertainment has hired Michael Nieves as dir. of music publishing. Nieves will be responsible for all the company's music publishing issues, including mechanical licenses for all the company's labels, and also work to acquire music publishing catalogs which will work within the Rhino framework. He comes to the post after two years with MCA Music Publishing, where he was manager of business affairs. ■ Scott St. John has been named manager of regional promotion and will be based in Dallas for Career Records. He comes to the job with 18 years of experience in radio, including several years as music dir. at WTKA/Orlando, FL. He most recently worked as West Coast reg. promo dir. at Patriot Records.

The music industry came out in support of the premiere New York City performance of Nicklebag, which has been on the road in support of its recently released Iguana Records album 12 Hits And A Bump. The invite-only set at downtown club Coney Island High featured a guest performance by venerable P-Funk keyboardist Bernie Worrell, who also contributed to the album. Pictured hanging backstage are (l-r, standing): Worrell; Nicklebag's bassist Carmine Rojas; former Stray Cat Slim Jim Phantom; Nicklebag's frontman/vocalist Bernard Fowler; Living Colour drummer Wil Calhoun top flight guitarist Eddie Martinez; (kneeling) Nicklebag guitarist Steve Salas; famed guitarist Carlos Alomar; and an unidentified guest.

News From The United Kingdom, Ireland & Europe

By Hal Levy

TOP UK SINGLES: Still spicing up the charts in number one spot is Spice Girls' "Wannabe" followed by the moving up Los Del Rio's "Macarena," which jumps to two, pushing Robbie Williams' "Freedom" down to three with newcomer Eternal's "Some Day" hitting four, followed by Paul Weller's new one, "Peacock Suit" on five. Dodgy's "Good Enough" is good enough to hit six and Fugees' "Killing Me Softly" pushes down to seven with OMC's "How Bizarre" coming from lower in the charts to land on eight. Holding onto nine is Underworld's "Born Slippy" and we find, at the crossroads of number ten, Bone Thugs-N-Harmony's "The Crossroads."

Alanis Morissette's Jagged Little Pill is the album most dropped in the shopping cart in the UK with Bill Whelan's Riverdance—The Show still the top music video sold. Also holding their own on top are the sales video Swan Princess and Seven in the rental field. Now with the Olympics out of the way, Mega Drive's Toy Story is back on top and Super Nintendo says its top rental is Donkey Kong Country 2. And the UK's boxoffice hit is still Warner Bros./UIP's Twister (but blowing hard on it is the opening of Fox's Independence Day).

Europe's top single still remains Fugee's "Killing Me Softly," which tops the charts in Austria, Belgium, Croatia, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Holland, Italy, Macedonia, Switzerland and Yugoslavia.

Fugees' album The Score, leads in Austria, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Norway while other albums are represented by one country each.

Check your favorite book store in the UK for Lys Symonette & Kim H. Kowalke's Speak Low (When You Speak Love): The Letters of Kurt Weill and Lotte Lenya (Hamish Hamilton). Also in the music field are Noel Ross Russell's There Will I Sing (Open Gate Press) and Geoffrey Skelton's Selected Letters of Paul Hindemith (Yale).

Celebrating 13 weeks in the top ten UK Best Seller List is number one Jack Ramsay's SAS: The Soldiers' Story (Macmillan) on the non-fiction hardback list. Newcomer Ben Elton's Popcorn (Simon & Schuster) is the fiction hardback choice. It's a Hollywood story. Paperback non-fiction's newcomer is Bill Bryson's Notes From A Small Island (Black Swan), a personal travel book covering the UK and moving back to number one after ten weeks on the fiction list is Nicholas Evans's The Horse Whisperer (Corgi).

BULLS AND BEARS: Thorn EMI at £17.65 is up 3.9% and PolyGram selling for NLF 96.80 £37.74 is up 6.4%. Down is Rank Organization going for £4.63, down 1.9%.

NO BEER AT THE OASIS last weekend as up to 250,000 Oasis fans spent the weekend listening to what is being called the biggest pop concert in the 90s. The 4-mile circumference site was favored with good weather and with giant video screens all over the place, everyone got a view of what was going on on stage, even though some were as far as half a mile from the stage. The promoters face a police bill of £400,000 even though there was little trouble. One reason given was that with up to a two-hour wait to buy a beer, most opted to enjoy themselves without liquid refreshment. The large crowd caused all-day long traffic jams and high prices all over the place and with public transportation overwhelmed, thousands were left stranded.

GREEN OASIS, as the group is scheduled to play Cork, Ireland at the end of the week. With up to 40,000 expected, the Irish bus and train systems have geared up with extra trains and busses running as far as Belfast in Northern Ireland. However, American Michael McGinn, owner of Mallow Castle, which was scheduled as the home for Oasis while they were in Ireland, has said that he didn't want them staying there.

A PENNY SAVED IS a budget label CD and Koch International has come up with a new budget label, Koch Discover International. Music covered ranges from the classical to ethnic folk like Classical Jewish Songs From Russia to songs by Weill and Lehar.

DROPPING OUT OF THE RANK-S are expected to be such companies as the UK's Pinewood Studios and Rank Film Distributors, which are regarded as small businesses that don't fit into the new Rank's master plans. The company's new CEO, Andrew Teare wants to restructure the company into four core units under the name of The Rank Group, Plc which will replace Rank Organization. Among others to be dropped will be the company's £930 million stake in Rank Xerox. Teare wants to concentrate on Rank's film and entertainment retailing services, holiday, recreation and theme restaurants like the Hard Rock Cafe. Marketing analysts expressed disappointment at the scale of changes thus far announced, however, Teare pointed out that he has been with the company only three months and it's asking too much to restructure a company in that short a time. Teare has been with several other companies where he specialized in disposing of subsidiaries that didn't fit into the so-called grand picture. He's expected to drop off Rank businesses worth some £1.6 billion, leaving money to concentrate on Rank's core businesses.

GIMME YOUR LIP as the deal was completed between the UK's Boosey & Hawkes, music publishers and instrument manufacturers and California's Rico International, which was founded in 1936. Rico makes some 26 million reeds a year for saxophones and clarinets and holds some 70% of the U.S. market and 50% of the world markets. Sales price was reported at £17.9 million. Last year Rico made pre-tax profits of £1.7 million off sales of £11 million.

BOOSEY AND THE MOUSE: No, it's not a new Disney movie, it's just a U.S. court case in which Boosey & Hawkes took Disney to court concerning the use of copyrights in video versions of their films. The court ruled that the rights to use Igor Stravinsky's "Rites of Spring" in the film Fantasia covered only the 1939 film's release. Boosey bought the rights to Stravinsky's works in 1947 and claimed that Disney failed to negotiate video rights with them. In 1991, Peggy Lee won her case against Disney for using her voice in The Lady Is A Tramp, winning her claim that the company only paid for her singing in the film, not the video.

FORGIVE ME FATHER could be the opening lyrics of Germany's Lazarus Society's new CD-ROM, The Confession. Users select as many sins as they want from a list of 200 (soon to be increased) and for each sin they receive a number. When "confession" is completed, the computer totals up the numbers and then spits out the correct penance. Some people in the Catholic Church say it ain't kosher and others worry about putting priests out of work.

HOW USEFUL IS THE REALLY USEFUL GROUP? Well, ask Sir Andrew Lloyd Webber who reportedly has taken a 63% pay cut this year. But don't cry for him, Argentina, he's still taking home some $60 million a year. Blame is put on the fact that he hasn't come up with a new show since Sunset Boulevard and there is a slowing down trend for the old standbys Cats, Phantom of the Opera and Starlight Express, all of which seemingly have been running forever.

HIGH FLYERS: A new art form has been born in Ireland as the "4 To The Floor" exhibition of promotional night club flyers opens in Dublin's trendy Temple Bar area. 4 To The Floor is the name of a certain kind of house-music beat. And most of the flyers usually end up on the floor. The night club flyers, given out all over town have been recognized as a legitimate marketing tool and this year two Irish Creative and Advertising Design Awards were given for flyer design.

UP AGAINST THE WALL with the finalists of the Mercury Music Prize's Album Cover Award. This year's contestants were students of art and design from all over the UK and they had to come up with CD covers illustrating the theme of a celebration of music. Show is running at London's The Gallery until the end of September.

GIMME THAT OLD TIME MUSIC: Not that old; Greek musician Panos Viagopoulos has succeeded in building a "hydraulic," the grand-daddy of the modern church organ. The last time anyone played a hydraulic was around 100 A.D., so there aren't too many critics around to judge Viagopoulos' playing. The instrument uses a metal tank of water and a pump to maintain air pressure instead of the modern bellows.

GREEK-ING THE WAY: Chicago-based Teros Gaming has invested more than $10 million in a new casino outside the town of Patras in Greece. For a while there was doubt if the government would grant the final permit. But the company said it would donate 2% of the casino's gross income to the local authorities as well as make a donation of a quarter of a percent of house winnings for Greek earthquake relief.

HABLO ESPANOL? Well, if you want to make big bucks in Spain, the two most profitable businesses in Spain are cinema houses and undertaking, not necessarily in that order. On the other hand, keep away from the arts as the government is set to cut the subsidies given to the music and film industries by past governments.

ARE YOU HUNGARY? Well, comes October in Budapest, you can eat at McDonalds and Burger King as well as buy your CDs at Virgin Megastore and rest your footies at the Village Roadshow's cineplex. The Duna Plaza is Hungary's first "American-type" mall and expects to serve more than 50,000 a day to start.

WHERE THE BOYS ARE: Well, they're not at the top of the charts, that's for sure. Earlier this year the boy bands were still the hottest thing in town but all of a sudden the girl bands, led by the Spice Girls have knocked them off their high perches. Three weeks ago their debut single "Wannabe" knocked Take That's former lead singer Gary Barlow off the top spot and then the following week they forced ex-Take That's Robbie Williams down to two. In the first three weeks the single sold more than 700,000 and in the fourth week it was still top of the charts. Virgin Records is smug about having their girl group and other labels are looking around for one of their own.

PUT 'EM ALL TOGETHER AND WHAT DO WE GET? Why, a compilation album. The Best Of...The Top Songs Of... etc. Nowadays there are so many of them, not only on legit labels, but pirate ones as well and lots of artists are making big bucks by selling their songs off to compilation albums. If they were listed on the album charts, industry analysts say they'd have almost a third of the chart. And the business is estimated at more than £250 million a year.

TriStar's Fan, A Dark Fascination

By John Goff

Robert De Niro is an obsessed baseball fanatic and Wesley Snipes his objective in The Fan.

WHEN DOES A GAME cease to be a game and when does a fan cross the line into fanaticism?—When the players are paid too many millions of dollars and the fans dig deeper into their pockets to pay out of adoration and adulation. Just read the papers.

Or, for a less simplistic explanation read Peter Abrahams' book The Fan and go see Tony Scott's interpretation of it on the screen. It's all there in varying degrees but with each point sharpened and honed like the knives Robert De Niro's character peddles: The effect a $40 million salary has on the sportscasters, players, fans and their families; what's a true fan and what's a game fan, and the consequences when one of those fans steps across the line into obsession. It's a fascinating, Tony Scott-styled work with the characters brutally rooted in fact, psyches explored through piercing and multi-layered performances from De Niro and Wesley Snipes, a Hans Zimmer score which is a map of characters and story in itself and simply an expert job of filmmaking.

There's never any doubt that it's Tony Scott at the helm. That's good and bad. Bad in that, often that calls attention away from the whole of the piece.

Were the cast not as forceful as they are, the director-as-star element would detract to the detriment of the film as a complete entity. Fortunately Scott works with actors the caliber of De Niro and Snipes, Benicio Del Toro and John Leguizama here (Denzel Washington and Gene Hackman in last year's Crimson Tide) whose forces and strengths demand they be paid attention to. When Scott comes in contact with powers like these, you're in for a treat; not so when the talent's not quite up to Scott's level of style or the material flounders, as Phoebe Sutton's script seems to do in the final quarter measure here—this could be due to, I suspect, some editing for time. Also, this is the good because it's where Scott's imposing style covers the missing moments impressively.

The attitudes brought to their characters by De Niro and Snipes are often mind-bending. In the course of a fifteen-minute period you can feel sorry for, empathize with, fear, love, hate and pity De Niro. He's an abusive-loving father; a control freak one moment, beggar losing his job the next; frozen on the couch depressive and a split second later a knife-throwing killer; a man lost and a man obsessively determined. Balancing that act as the overpaid baseball player is Snipes, causing you to sneer at his verbal arrogance while supporting his visual inner fear and weakness. He's a nice guy one moment, a browbeating star snob the next, self-obsessed bastard then loving father. Both actors manipulate the audience wonderfully because we discover that we feel, anyway, that we like them and on some level, understand their angst—whether completely or not is another matter, but we are with them. Excellent work.

No less solid are Benicio Del Toro as a rival team member, the focus of Snipes' irritation, and John Leguizamo the high-powered agent. Ellen Barkin does a turn as a radio talk show host bridging the gap between street fans and players by asking the hard questions

Dariusz Wolski's photography often attempts to go into the actors' heads, giving us a claustrophobic feel, as if we're trapped in the same tormented maelstrom as De Niro's character while Zimmer's score assures us that we're experiencing what he's experiencing. This is expertly edited together by Christian Wagner and Claire Simpson.

When an audience walks out of the theatre, in spite of the end sequence being flooded with Scott's fascination with rain, you'll want to breathe deeply to free yourself. It's a contender.

Produced by Wendy Finerman. Executive produced by Bill Unger, James W. Skotchdopole and Barrie M. Osborne.

Par's Brady Sequel Is 'Cool'

By J.G.

The Bradys, triumphant in Hawaii.

BELFBOTTOM PANTS, PLATFORM SHOES, Ma's helmet hair that can't be styled with a chainsaw. You bet your bippy, the Bradys are back, blissfully oblivious to the travails of the nineties and happier than clams in a sherry sauce.

Paramount's A Very Brady Sequel captures the same loopy warmth the merged families exuded so successfully in The Brady Bunch Movie and undoubtedly this will bring 'em in at the boxoffice enough to spawn a sequel-sequel. Could be another Paramount franchise. Between Star Trek and the Bradys Par's sitting pretty. This one also gets plugs in for Gilligan's Island (already set for feature filming) and I Dream Of Jeannie, along with a myriad of other references back to the original 1969-1974 series—which, incidentally, is still running somewhere, right this moment! As we speak! Somewhere in the world the original Brady Bunch is being shown and it's never been off the air! You don't think they can cull an audience from that? If you don't, then you've got your head in the seventies, wrapped in polyester.

And I defy you to leave the theatre after seeing this and not have series creator Sherwood Schwartz & Frank DeVol's theme song, "The Brady Bunch" haunt you for the next 48 hours. If you can do that, you've got a hard heart, Hannah.

Sure, there's a built-in audience for this, of all ages. Even the very, very youngsters at the screening know the Bradys and the oldsters who grew up with them seemed just as anticipatory. Perhaps part of their charm is that they overcome adversity simply by ignoring their surroundings and the audiences want to do the same, if only for an hour and a half. Another part is the spirit of fun with which the filmmakers imbue the project, from the on-screen performances to the spirited color designs of production designer Cynthia Charette and the bright photography of DP Mac Ahlberg. The whole thing is Fun!

Screenplay by Harry Elfont & Deborah Kaplan and James Berg & Stan Zimmerman from a story by Elfont and Kaplan has Carol Brady's, Shelley Long, first husband (ostensibly) and the girls' (Christine Taylor, Jennifer Elise Cox and Olivia Hack) long-lost father, Tim Matheson, return. Mike Brady, Gary Cole, and sons Christopher Daniel Barnes, Paul Sutera and Jesse Lee stoically invite him into the home as a guest and the troubles begin. All in good fun and delightfully so with Alice's, Henriette Mantel, meatloaf and spaghetti with Matheson's hallucinatory mushrooms. Needless to say, so let's not waste any time there, all works out well. Script references old series episodes, as did the first one, other series and other characters, all highly recognizable. Several tributes are paid to creator Sherwood Schwartz along the way.

This bunch of actors are terrific, playing in another era, practically a time and sense warp. They are the Bradys, and sustaining that design without dipping somewhere along the line into at least a partial parody mode is simply super-groovy-cool—damned fine acting: oops, sorry; damned fine acting.

Arlene Sanford makes her feature film directorial debut here, moving out from her work in TV for which she's picked up a CableACE Award as Best Director for her work on Dream On. She was a solid choice for this assignment.

Composer Guy Moon's original score is wonderfully supplemented with some classic period 8-track populars: "Sugar, Sugar," "Brandy (You're A Fine Girl)," "Good Morning Starshine" and others to make up a collectible soundtrack.

Producers are Sherwood Schwartz, Lloyd J. Schwartz and Alan Ladd, Jr.

The Last Sound You Hear

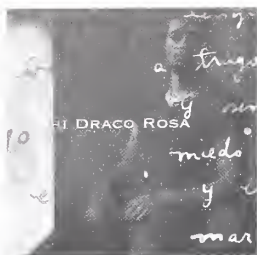

Julie Andrews sings in Austria's Alps for the final time this century.

ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL AND POPULAR films ever made, The Sound Of Music, will no longer be available on videocassette after the end of this year. FoxVideo, vid arm of Twentieth Century Fox Home Entertainment, is making a THX digitally remastered, single cassette copy the final release for this century at a sellthrough price of $19.98.

Twentieth Century Fox is supporting the farewell release of the five Oscar-awarded (Best Picture, Director, Sound, Score of Music Adaptation and Film Editing) motion picture with a comprehensive marketing campaign including a promotional game which includes a Royal Caribbean Cruises and Galaxy of Tours vacation prize. An additional consumer offer comes via MCI, which provides for a 60-minute free phone card with the purchase of the video and a long distance service switch to MCI.

In addition, to coincide with the release, TCFHE has set up a Sound Of Music worldwide website (<http://www.foxhome.com/Sound Of Music>) which will allow consumers to experience compact disc quality sound without first downloading to their computer hard drive. This will feature exclusive film premiere footage and more than 1,100 previously unreleased clips and photos harvested from the studio's archives, contests, games and sweepstakes offering more than $50,000 in prizes. You go there and you'll be "Touring The Estate" with an online Yodeling Contest, full-motion animated puppet show and "A Few Of My Favorite Things" scavenger hunt. The website will also feature previously unseen footage and story synopsis as well as the story of the real Maria Von Trapp, profile of director Robert Wise and cast and crew bios.

REVIEWS By Héctor Reséndez

■ ROBI DRACO ROSA: Vagabundo (Sony Latin, 81929) Producer: Phil Manzanera. ROCK.

What would the Doors sound like if they had done an album today in Spanish? Listen to Robi Draco Rosa's Vagabundo album and you'll get a good idea. Be aware that some have compared Draco to "Bowie or Prince working in the Hispanic world." What is undisputable is that he takes a bit from here, there and everywhere. All twelve tracks were written, performed, acted upon, and drawn into this uniquely creative alternative rock en Español. We're anxiously waiting (honest, folks) for the English version of this album to be released. It really is some of the best alternative rock en Español around today. Even Jim would've been proud.

■ MASSIMO DI CATALDO: Libres Como El Viento (Sony Latino, 81961) Producers: Phil Palmer & Marco Patrignani. POP.

Libres Como El Viento is the Spanish version of the debut album by Italian newcomer Massimo Di Cataldo. His album sold over 200,000 copies in his native country alone the first week it was released last year. With a definite acoustic signature and sounding a bit like Sting in Spanish (with a slight accent), Di Cataldo's ballads have a strong appeal while his upbeat numbers might be a bit predictable here in the U.S.A. One highlight is the participation of Europe's pop icon Eros Ramozotti on the cut "Una Ragione Di Pui." Two other good numbers are the Springsteen-sounding "Qualcosa Cambiera" and Di Cataldo's own composition of the too-short of a ballad, "M'Innamorero."

■ OMMAR: Tan Cerca (Sony Tropical, 81982) Producers: José Gazmey and Edgar Nevárez. SALSA.

It was only until recently that 25 year-old vocalist and psychology grad student Gilberto Omar Hernández began his career in Salsa. Born in Santurce, Puerto Rico, the newly dubbed Ommar releases his debut album Tan Cerca. Up-beat and colorful, Ommar's resounding voice seems well-matched with the production team of Jose Gazmey and Edgar Nevarez. Compositions like the creative opening track "Chula" and the up-tempo "Juntitos Los Dos" will send heels kicking on dance floors. With tunes from writers like Rudy Perez and Juan Luis Guerra, among others, Ommar gets an "A" on this term project.

PICK OF THE WEEK

■ NESTOR TORRES: Talk To Me (Sony Latin Jazz, 81875) Producer: Andre Fischer. TROPICAL-JAZZ.

Flautist Nestor Torres returns with his second album for Sony's Latin Jazz label. Talk to Me sounds more assertive than its predecessor (Passion Fruit). Thank goodness, it was about time. Torres can light a torch to any song (listen to his earlier salsa projects). This gifted musician lets it all hang loose while remaining tight and flowing where required. The first promo single, the hauntingly beautiful "My Patricia" as well as the fiery "Forest Rain" are bound to kick up a storm from coast to coast. Sombreros off to producer Andre Fischer for bringing out the real Nestor Torres. He even sings on the cover "Sabor a Mi!" This is one incredibly enjoyable and cool jazz production!

THE LATIN LOWDOWN

News From U.S. & Latin America

By Hector Resendez

YVONNE: THE PRINCESS OF MER-

ENGUE: The Puerto Rican songstress of merengue, Yvonne, graced the City of the Angels recently. An exclusive recording artist for the Miami-based indie label, MP Records, she flew in from her home in Puerto Rico as part of a promotional tour. She also gave a concert appearance at the annual "Fiesta del Sol" event on Aug. 4th at Whittier Narrows Park in the nearby city of Rosemead. Ten thousand people were in attendance. Yvonne signed autographs for several hundred admirers alone. The vivacious vocalist was asked to return next year with her full orchestra.

With two hit albums under her belt, Yvonne evokes the image of a natural born entertainer. Her first album Segueme brought the singer to the forefront of the merengue stage. "El Poder de las Mujeres" served to clinch Yvonne's position as a heavyweight in the market. Quite an accomplishment since competition is tremendously fierce, especially in Puerto Rico. Says Yvonne, "On the island itself, there are 54 actively working merengue bands alone, at full power, we like to party!" The artist has done exactly that throughout the U.S. and Latin America as well.

Yvonne appeared on Channel 22's TV show Facilísimo where she attracted the highest viewer ratings for that program since the airing of the Fiesta Broadway event (earlier in the year). Says Yvonne, "It was really happening, there was a lot of energy, lots of it." Another show, Hola L.A. on Channel 52 asked her to perform three songs instead of the one that had been scheduled earlier. The music video program, Salsa Showcase, on Channel 38 plans to air the second portion of their interview with the singer. They likewise received numerous call-ins from their viewers. Telemundo's (locally on Channel 52) Hora Lunatica with host Humberto Luna. The singer's warm and infectious personality easily allowed her to score hit after hit across all of these mediums.

Yvonne also caused quite a furious frenzy at salsa night spots like Vasilio's in Downey, Limon y Menta in Glendale, and the Mayan in downtown L.A. Fans and new admirers crowded around the "Princesa del Merengue" anxiously seeking a promotional single or autograph. True to her followers, Princess Yvonne would not hear of disappointing any of her loyal subjects.

During her radio promotions, Yvonne's interview on the bilingual 112,000 watt salsa show, Canto Tropical, 90.7 FM, KPFK, was heard throughout the Southland. Says co-host Armando Nila, "Listeners from San Diego, Palm Springs, Orange County, to Santa Barbara were calling in and dying to speak with her. It's like if we had announced we were giving away money or candy!" After her interview on radio station KRTO 98.3 FM, La Nueva Ritmo aired her hit single "El Poder de las Mujeres," no less than thirty times within a three week period primarily due to females requesting the song.

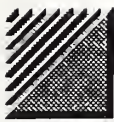

The man who made this public relations dream a reality was MP's West Coast representative, Carlos Montani, who's based in Los Angeles. Says Montani, "Yvonne will be one of the biggest stars in Puerto Rico and the Latin market in general. I can say this because of her awesome talent. She is an incredible performer on stage. Being the only female merengue artist on our label, I am very proud to have her with our company. Yvonne is a great talent, a terrific person, and has the uncanny ability to attract people to her. There are very few artists who immediately make you feel at ease, as if you're on a one on one relationship."

Perhaps her training as a teacher (English as a second language) evokes these kind of feelings. The proud mother of two daughters, Yvonne amazingly juggles her career with her personal life. She is very close with her lovely young girls spending lots of quality time with them.

Born in New Jersey, Yvonne's childhood was influenced by American rock, R&B, Motown, and other pop artists. Her family later moved to Puerto Rico. There Yvonne was drawn into the world of merengue by a friend who insisted on her participation. Says Yvonne, "I learned to feel merengue music, to love it, and to embrace it as my own." With definite plans to visit the Dominican Republic with ideas for new music, Yvonne expressed a desire to record with the renowned Dominican producer, Mamiel Tejada. "I want to go there and explore the roots (of merengue)," says Yvonne.

Future plans and dreams include crossing-over one day. For merengue to do that, says the singer, would require some changes, but the result would be exciting. Another goal would be to become an actress. She had studied when she was in college and actually won a scholarship to a New York college. "That's been one of the greatest things I have regretted," remarks Yvonne. "Who knows where I would be right now." Imagine Yvonne with Marc Anthony in a remake of Cross Over Dreams!

Yvonne plans on entering the recording studio by the end of this year. Her third album for next year promises to be as exciting, eclectic, and, of course, as powerful as the woman herself.

Music video unit shipments rose 62.2%, 7.3 million from 4.5 million a year ago. Dollar value for the configuration was up to $101.7 million from $93.7 million in the first half of last year, a shift of 8.5%.

Vinyl, the forgotten configuration, showed a 20% increase in unit sales (up to 1.2 million from 1 million) and a 43% dollar value increase ($14.3 million from $10 million in '95's first half). Vinyl singles dropped slightly in unit sales, 3.5% or to 5.5 million units compared to 5.7 million in '95, but registered a dollar value increase of 6.7%, up to $25.6 million in '96 compared to $24 million during the same period a year ago.

News Briefs

IMAGINARY ROAD A REALITY: Will Ackerman, the impresario that co-founded new age/jazz label Windham Hill Records, and the label's former vp of A&R, Dawn Atkinson, have formed Imaginary Road Records, a joint venture with PolyGram Classics & Jazz and the Philips Music Group. Ackerman will serve as CEO and Atkinson will be president of the acoustic-oriented label.

Imaginary Road will focus on contemporary instrumental music and seek to sign singer/songwriters with classical and folk influences. The company's initial releases include The Chant Of Christmas Midnight, a holiday album of Gregorian Chants, and albums by singer/songwriter Frank Tedesso and guitarist Rob Eberhard-Young. A Different Mozart, a compilation of the composer's works interpreted by contemporary instrumentalists, is currently being produced by Atkinson for October, 1996 release.

And maybe it's time it turned around. Rosie O'Donnell's Rosie has rolled out a good sized afternoon wave without as much pollution as a Santa Monica beach. And if the press conference at Beverly Hills' Four Seasons Hotel announcing Naomi is any indication, the show will be a definite air freshener in that stale talk show bus. Quincy Jones, introducing Naomi Judd remarked that "If anybody can endure the road...because the road, sometimes you don't grow on it, it grows on you..." can survive this milieu.

From that point on Naomi Judd took over. She worked the press like she'd work a playdate—or perhaps a TV show?—by taking a remote mic rather than remaining with the others on the dais and fielding questions, the lady, belying the fact, even up close, she's a grandmother, moved freely among the floor making direct communication with her questioners.

She's comfortable, down-homey, with a quick wit and a caring, concerned patina. Relating the history of the show she revealed she'd been pitched for Daytime TV up to two years prior. "Thanks, but no thanks," was the reply. "I'm into real people and real life."

Her agent said, "Hear me out, you have an extremely high TV Q." For those not in the know, the "Q" is a Quotient draw listing that is rumored not to exist.

"Do I need shots?" Judd queried. The upshot of it all is that some people felt Naomi Judd, after her years on the road, traversing this country as a performer and on the lecture circuit, has a direct touch with "people." Perhaps people who watch daytime TV, or at least, people who might watch daytime TV because of Naomi Judd.

With QDE and Quincy Jones and David Salzman backing, Judd said yes. It promises to be an interesting ride. Phil Donahue, attempting to retain some sort of dignity, had the switch thrown on his long running show. Oprah, another QDE product, slipped recently in not stooping to the current trend, but she's still strong.

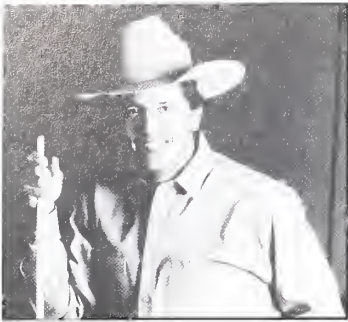

QDE and Rysher aren't in the habit of backing something remotely iffy. QDE's history includes the aforementioned Oprah, Fresh Prince of Bel Air, In The House, MAD-TV, '96's Academy Awards, upcoming motion pictures, magazine publishing, live music entertainment venues, interactive content and broadcast television station ownership. Rysher, established in 1991, has built a literal empire in that short time encompassing network programming and first-run syndication with TV shows including Highlander: The Series, F/X—The Series, The Hitchhiker and Saved By The Bell. On Network TV, the Fox Series VR.5 and the new Nash Bridges and are currently represented in the feature film market place with Escape From L.A. International Television Distribution is a strong area for Rysher also with product placed in more than 100 countries worldwide.

Gearing up for a Fall debut, we'll see if positive will sell in one of the most decidedly non-positive areas of entertainment.

Single Reviews By Wendy Newcomer

■ GEORGE JONES: "Honky Tonk Song" (MCA 5P-55228)

After years of sobriety, Jones has thrown political correctness out the window and returned to what he does best: sing drinkin' songs! From his forthcoming album, I Lived To Tell It All, this first single's lyrics say it all: "She took away my keys/And now she won't drive me to drink." The possum is still sober, but with "Honky Tonk Song," he's liable to make radio drunk with gratitude for coming back to his calling.

■ DERYL DODD: "Friends Don't Drive Friends..." (Columbia 67544)

Continuing with the drinking theme, newcomer Deryl Dodd puts a tear in your beer with his debut single. He's lost his girl and his best friend—to each other. Just when you're about to reach for that razor, Dodd opens his mouth and out comes a voice straight from honky tonk heaven. Dodd's deft note-bending will gain him many converts among the traditional crowd.

■ DIAMOND RIO: "It's All In Your Head" (Arista ASCD-3019)

If Bobbie Gentry's "Ode To Billy Joe" moves along in first gear, then "It's All In Your Head" runs in overdrive. Like Gentry's tale, Diamond Rio's tune is rooted in Southern imagery. But unlike "Ode," it's much higher on the quirkiness scale and deals with a man who thinks "We never walked on the moon/Elvis ain't dead/You ain't goin' crazy/It's all in your head." Listeners will stay tuned if only to figure out the song's storyline.

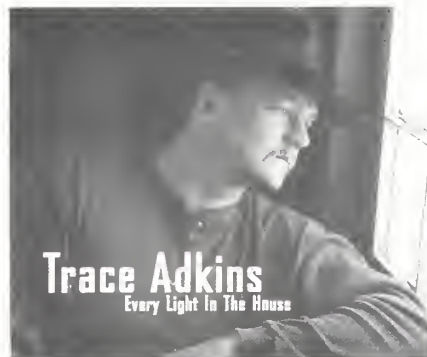

Billy Ray Cyrus

■ BILLY RAY CYRUS: "Trail Of Tears" (Mercury MNCD-122)

Perhaps in response to the backlash that's been erupting over the last few years and his non-existence on the charts, Cyrus decides to pull a new one out of his bag of tricks—and believe it or not, it has substance and genuine feeling! "Trail Of Tears" suggests that maybe Cyrus has used the ache and break in his heart to write something real.

PICK OF THE WEEK

■ TRACE ADKINS: "Every Light In The House" (Capitol 7087-6-10351-2-4)

In the quest to find a new way to say "please come back home" in a country song, writer Kent Robbins created a fresh angle with "Every Light In The House." Capitol Nashville's Adkins is sincerely one of the best contenders for future stardom. His voice could soften the hardest of hearts and perk the ears of the most jaded listener.

Gill Scores Seven CMA Noms

By Wendy Newcomer

VINCE GILL REALLY IS the host with the most—CMA nominations, that is. Gill, host for "The 30th Annual CMA Awards," racked up seven nods. This year's nominees were announced by Lorrie Morgan and Marty Stuart at a press conference at the Grand Ole Opry House courtyard August 13.

Winning CMA awards is nothing new to Gill. The MCA recording artist holds the esteem of being the top award winner (15 thus far) in CMA history. Gill's nominations were expected but the 1996 list of honorees is not without a few surprises. Alison Krauss, first-time CMA nominee and winner of four awards last year, is nowhere to be found in '96. And CMA nom regular Reba McEntire did not make the cut in the Female Vocalist of the Year or Entertainer of the Year categories.

Other top nominees include duo of the '90s, Brooks & Dunn, who earned five nominations. Texan George Strait also received five honors. Additional artists garnering multiple noms are Martina McBride and Shania Twain with three each, and Jeff Foxworthy, Patty Loveless, LeAnn Rimes (the youngest artist ever nominated) and Bryan White with two each.

The final nominees for the 1996 CMA Awards are:

Entertainer of the Year—Brooks & Dunn; Garth Brooks; Vince Gill; Alan Jackson; and George Strait.

Male Vocalist of the Year—Vince Gill; Alan Jackson; Collin Raye; George Strait; and Bryan White.

Female Vocalist of the Year—Faith Hill; Patty Loveless; Martina McBride; Pam Tillis; and Shania Twain.

Horizon Award—Terri Clark; Wade Hayes; LeAnn Rimes; Shania Twain; and Bryan White.

Vocal Group of the Year—Alabama; BlackHawk; Diamond Rio; The Mavericks; and Sawyer Brown.

Vocal Duo of the Year—Baker & Myers; Bellamy Brothers; Brooks & Dunn; Sweethearts of the Rodeo; and John & Audrey Wiggins.

Album of the Year—Blue Clear Sky—George Strait, MCA, produced by Tony Brown & George Strait; Borderline—Brooks & Dunn, Arista Nashville, produced by Don Cook, Kix Brooks and Ronnie Dunn; High Lonesome Sound—Vince Gill, MCA, produced by Tony Brown; The Trouble With The Truth—Patty Loveless, Epic, produced by Emory Gordy, Jr.; and Wild Angels—Martina McBride, RCA, produced by Martina McBride, Paul Worley and Ed Seay.

Musician of the Year—Eddie Bayers (drums); Paul Franklin (steel guitar); Brent Mason (guitar); Mark O'Connor (fiddle); and Matt Rollings (keyboards).

Single of the Year—"Blue", LeAnn Rimes, MCG/Curb, produced by Wilbur C. Rimes; "Check Yes Or No", George Strait, MCA, produced by Tony Brown and George Strait; "Go Rest High On That Mountain", Vince Gill, MCA, produced by Tony Brown; "My Maria", Brooks & Dunn, Arista Nashville, produced by Don Cook, Kix Brooks and Ronnie Dunn; and "Time Marches On", Tracy Lawrence, Atlantic, produced by Don Cook.

Vocal Event of the Year—Dolly Parton with special guest Vince Gill, "I Will Always Love You," Columbia/Blue Eye; George Jones and Tammy Wynette, "One," MCA; Jeff Foxworthy with special guest Alan Jackson, "Redneck Games," Warner Bros.; Marty Stuart and Travis Tritt, "Honky Tonkin's What I Do Best," MCA; and Reba McEntire with special guests Trisha Yearwood, Martina McBride & Linda Davis, "On My Own," MCA.

Song of the Year (award to the songwriter)—"Any Man Of Mine," Shania Twain/R.J. Lange, Loon Echo Music/Zomba Enterprises; "Check Yes Or No," Danny M. Wells/Dana Hunt Ogleby, John Juan Music/Victoria Kay Music; "Go Rest High On That Mountain," Vince Gill, Benefit Music; "Keeper Of The Stars," Dickey Lee/Karen Staley/Danny Mayo, Murrain Music Corp./Songs of PolyGram International/New Haven Music/Sixteen Stars Music/Pal Time Music; and "Time Marches On," Bobby Braddock, Sony/ATV Tree.

Music Video of the Year—"Check Yes Or No," George Strait, directed by John Lloyd Miller; "Go Rest High On That Mountain," Vince Gill, directed by John Lloyd Miller; "My Maria," Brooks & Dunn, directed by Michael Oblowitz; "My Wife Thinks You're Dead," Junior Brown, directed by Michael McNamara; and "Redneck Games," Jeff Foxworthy with special guest Alan Jackson, directed by Coke Sams.

COIN / COUNTRY

Jim Jarocki Joins ITI

CHICAGO—Jim Jarocki, a well-known and highly respected figure in the coin machine industry, has joined Immersive Technologies Incorporated of Richardson, Texas in the position of vice president/general manager.

For the past two years ITI, a relatively young company, has been working on a new virtual reality entertainment system.

Jarocki advised that a prototype of the new system, called Kimera, was featured at the recent Nightclub and Bar Show in Orlando, Florida. "ITI believes that Kimera represents a breakthrough product which game players will find to be one of the most intense, wild and fun game experiences to be introduced to the marketplace," he said.

Further information may be obtained by contacting ITI at 1237 Executive Drive East, Richardson, TX 75081 or phoning 214-699-9122.

AMOA Expo '96 Is Lookin' Big!

CHICAGO—Excitement is building and tradesters are anxiously looking forward to the upcoming AMOA international convention, where all of the latest in technology, equipment and services will be showcased. In addition, a number of pertinent, new changes will be evident as the show gets underway.

This year, the exhibit hall will open at 10 a.m. each day and the traditional distributor hour, normally held before the exhibits open, will be eliminated.

Educational seminars have all been scheduled before noon each day, allowing attendees to spend more time visiting the exhibits. The only exception will be Wednesday, September 25, one day before Expo officially opens, when there will be afternoon seminars targeted specifically to distributors, manufacturers and suppliers.

AMOA's Member Welcome Reception will, for the first time, have a sponsor; namely, Dynamo Ltd. of Richland Hills, Texas. This will be a three-hour function—6 p.m. to 9 p.m.—as opposed to the usual two hours of previous years.

Football great Joe Theismann will deliver the keynote address at AMOA's annual business meeting on Friday morning, September 27. This function is open to AMOA members and will include breakfast, an update on association activities and the installation of AMOA's new slate of officers.

The seminar package this year will focus on four main areas—Management, FECs, Marketing and Technology. A special FEC tour has been planned for Thursday, September 26, as part of this package. Attendees must sign up in advance on their registration forms.

AMOA Expo '96 is expected to attract an attendance of 8,000 or more. The exhibit area will house nearly 1,000 booths.

Show dates are September 26-28 at the Dallas Convention Center in Dallas, Texas.

Further information may be obtained by contacting AMOA headquarters at 401 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, IL 60611-4267 or phoning 312-245-1021. FAX 312-245-1085; Internet: amoa@sba.com.
