

Cash Box

DECEMBER 29, 1962

We don't know what Santa said to make Perry Como laugh. But the moment of Perry's response is an ideal pictorial setting for wishing readers of Cash Box all over the globe a Merry Christmas & a Happy New Year. 1962 marks the 14th consecutive year that the RCA Victor star has aided Cash Box in expressing its Holiday greetings. Perry's consistently popular TV'er has been a steady vehicle for the exposure of top disk talent. His most recent disk entry is an LP of songs from "Mr. President" with members of his TV cast.

MERCURY JAZZ

ARTISTS TAKE

DOWN BEAT FIRSTS

With two first-place positions in the year's Down Beat Readers' Poll claimed by Mercury recording artists—Buddy DeFranco's number one in the Clarinet category for the 14th time, and Roland Kirk named in the three-way tie Miscellaneous Instrument award—Mercury steps ahead in its accelerated jazz program.

The Down Beat poll further reflects this in its listing of seventeen other jazz meteors on Mercury. A glance at these names is proof that the label's jazz division today enjoys an unparalleled rally of greats on its roster. Gerry Mulligan, represented in the Mercury catalog, won the Baritone Sax award as he has every year since 1953, and three diversified category mentions.

Bob Brookmeyer, Cannonball Adderley and Charlie Mingus nudged the top winners in the Trombone, Alto Sax and Bass divisions with their second spots. Quincy Jones got multiple mention under Arranger/Composer, Big Band: Jazz and Big Band: Dance, while Maynard Ferguson was a Hall of Fame nominee and included in Miscellaneous Instrument and Trumpet mentions. In addition to second placer in Bass, Mingus merited listings under Arranger/Composer and Combo. Terry Gibbs pulled to qualify twice—Vibraharp and Big Band: Jazz, and first time winner, Roland Kirk, also earned Flute recognition.

Other poll favorites included in Mercury's catalog are: Clifford Brown, Hall of Fame; Errol Garner, piano; Zoot Sims, tenor sax; Benny Golson, arranger/composer; Max Roach and Buddy Rich, drums; Bill Harris, trombone and singers; Billy Eckstine, Sarah Vaughan and Dinah Washington.

The votes cast by Down Beat readers point out, again, the importance of records and the attendant exposure to a jazz artist. With such across-the-board jazz artist affiliations, Mercury's 1963 plans loom big and according to Kenny Myers, sales manager, "Our current jazz stable, augmented by the artists we expect to sign, gives prophecy to the new year—an all-stops-out jazz schedule at Mercury."

MERCURY REVIEWS 1962

SETS PLANS FOR 1963

IRVING GREEN
President

IRWIN STEINBERG

KENNETH MYERS
Vice-president, Sales

CHICAGO—Mercury Records looks back on 1962 as a year of achievement in many areas. From the achievements of the A&R staff, to the "new look" of the classical division, to the parade of hot singles, Mercury considers 1962 a year of which to be proud.

According to Irving Green, Mercury prexy, Mercury is ending the year with a 23 per cent increase in volume over the previous year, a growth attributed to Mercury's concern with constant readjustment to the changing market conditions. In its planning for 1963, Mercury has been carrying out a broad evaluation program of all its merchandising techniques. Under the direction of Irwin Steinberg, executive veep, this has included surveys of the field staff, disk jockey promotions, advertising and public relations in an effort to determine to just what extent expenditures in these areas create a consumer sale. Another part of the program was a review of artists and number of releases. The Mercury label is also in the process of expanding or strengthening its sales organization, under the supervision of Kenneth S. Myers, director of sales. Purpose of the expansion is to sell more effectively the Mercury catalog to the various types of merchandisers, dealers, rack jobbers and discount houses. Much of Mercury's research will be used by the A&R staff to assist them in their planning. Shelby Singleton, David Carroll, Quincy Jones, Jack Tracy, Hal Mooney, Jerry Kennedy and Jerry Reed are already busy preparing for 1963 in terms of the artists with whom they plan to work, and the areas of music which best relate to these artists and best reflect the consumer demand research. The A&R staff will be the prime conduit for engaging independent producers when they feel this system can best create for a given artist; and when an independent producer may provide outstanding new artist or recording concept.

MERCURY PHONOGRAPHS

BOWED IN '62

Mercury entered the phonograph field in 1962 with the introduction of its first two models. Pictured above is the AG 4026 fully transistorized portable. Its sister model is the AG 9115 fully automatic stereo portable. The phonograph line will be expanded in 1963, according to Irving Russell, sales manager.

SPOTLIGHT

ON HUMOR

Comedy albums came into their own in 1962, with a delighted public snatching up the fun-filled albums as fast as they appeared.

Mercury contributed three top-selling humor albums, all of which landed.

RAY STEVENS
"Ahab The Arab"

Starting off Mercury's humor year was "Mike Nichols and Elaine May Examine Doctors," an album which not only racked up sales but drew comment from all segments of the nation's press and broadcast media.

Ray Stevens, the young man who also answers to "Ahab The Arab," is featured on the album "1,837 Seconds of Humor." The package leads off with an extended version of "Ahab," followed by 10 other selections of satire and characterization.

Humor combined with serious singing put "The Two Sides of The Smothers Brothers" on the charts. The album presents Tom and Dick Smothers in one side of comedy, recorded live at the Crystal Palace in St. Louis, and one side of folk singing that shows off the brothers' serious talents.

Sales of "The Two Sides of The Smothers Brothers" have also brought new action for their first Mercury release, "The Smothers Brothers At The Purple Onion."

"NEW LOOK" FOR MERCURY CLASSICAL DIVISION

Mercury's classical division came out with a "new look" in 1962, with a number of exciting innovations and a concentrated buildup of talent.

During a year when many other major labels were cutting back on classical product, Mercury stepped in and gathered up a large share of the market, and at the same time brought into its fold such top names as Janos Starker, Gina Bachauer, Henry Szeryng, and the Romero family.

Industry-wide interest followed Mercury's pioneering recording trip to Russia, during which it became the first Western company ever to record with its own equipment and technicians behind the Iron Curtain.

Wilma Cozart, Mercury VP in charge of the classical division, directed the Moscow recording sessions that yielded the great Byron Janis album "Prokofiev Piano Concerto No. 3 and Rachmaninoff Piano Concerto No. 1," played with the Moscos Philharmonic conducted by Kyril Kondrashin; and the just-released "Balalaika Favorites." Additional albums from the Russian recording sessions will be released in 1963. Five years of research and recording culminated in 1962 with the classical divisions' release of volume one of "The Civil War," an outstanding documentary album telling the story of the great war in words and music.

The year also saw the introduction of the new "Curtain Up" classical album series, featuring albums of favorite categories of music—waltz, march, symphonic dance—with the favorite pieces within each category gathered together on one album.

WILMA COZART

Mercury also entered the low-priced classical product market with its new Mercury-Wing classical series, the result of direct demand from dealers, distributors and the consumer.

As its "Christmas gift" to the record-buying public, Mercury brought out its completely new recording of "The Nutcracker," created by Antal Dorati and the London Symphony Orchestra.

Mercury's classical division is continuing its extensive use of F:35D film, and this great advance in recording technique is shown to advantage in its famous Living Presence Sound series. An outstanding example of the use of this technique is in the new "Encore Byron Janis" album.

Mercury Ends Year With Two Yule Hits

Mercury's two Christmas season single offerings, "Santa Claus Is Watching You" by Ray Stevens and "Do You Hear What I Hear" by the Harry Simeone Chorale, are bringing to a close a year filled with a variety of big hits by a variety of artists.

LEROY VAN DYKE
Two Mercury Hits

As an example, Ray Stevens had a sensational disk with "Ahab The Arab" and Brook Benton had a series of hits such as "Lie To Me," "Revenge," "The Lost Penny," "Shadrack," "Walk On The Wild Side," "Hit Record," "Still Waters Run Deep," and his current "Hotel Happiness" now on the charts.

"Don't Go Near The Indians" was Rex Allen's big hit for the label, and LeRoy Van Dyke also had a double entry of hits: "Walk On By" and "If A Woman Answers." And Patti Page hit entry was "Go On Home."

On the album charts, "The Two Sides of The Smothers Brothers" and "Mike Nichols and Elaine May Examine Doctors" were two humor albums that rated good action. Brook Benton rated here, too, with "Sings The Blues"; Dinah Washington had "I Wanna Be Loved," and Billy Eckstine scored with "Don't Worry 'Bout Me."

QUINCY JONES

A & R man Quincy Jones is an outstanding artist himself—his "Big Band Bossa Nova" album and "Soul Bossa Nova" single have established Quincy as a leader in this new music trend.

Mercury Plans Folk Music Month For February

JOSH WHITE
Veteran Folk Singer

Launching Mercury's year-long folk music push will be "Folk Month" planned for February. Included in the label's Feb. 1st release will be a comprehensive folk package featuring artists representing many areas of folk singing. Leading off the package will be Josh White, whose stature in the folk field is unequalled.

New faces, too, will be included: such as the sophisticated folk duo Ira and Inman, and a young trio, the Knob Lick Upper 10,000, who combine folk bluegrass into a unique new sound. The folk package is the result of Mercury's new folk music department, for which the firm retained Frank Fried last Nov. Fried, a long-time producer of live concerts in the folk, popular and jazz fields, is supervising the production of folk records on both Mercury and Philips labels. In addition to producing folk records, Fried is signing artists to expand the rosters of both labels, and is advising in merchandising and promotion of albums and singles.

In further expansion of its folk music, the diskery has retained Milt Okun, noted singer, arranger and conductor, to handle arrangements and A & R duties on six albums a year. Okun was formerly arranger and musical conductor for Harry Belafonte and arranger-conductor for the Chad Mitchell Trio and Peter, Paul and Mary.

Mercury's emphasis will be on quality in terms of both artists and material, rather than on quantity. Particular stress will be put on the development of new artists in this rapidly-expanding music field.

PHILIPS "One World of Music" Draws Closer

As 1962 draws to a close, Philips Records is finishing its first 11 months of operation with a satisfying net sales volume of over $1 million.

The first major label to be launched in the United States in many years Philips entered the market February 1, 1962, with a well-rounded collection of albums produced through a cross-licensing agreement with Philips Phonographic Industries of the Netherlands, and has since added a strong stable of American talent such as Teresa Brewer, The Barrier Brothers, Emil Coleman's Orchestra, and organist Doug Duke.

In this first year, Lou Simon, Philips sales manager, feels he has accomplished the label's major goals: dealer acceptance, awareness of the label on the part of the consumer, and the build up of an outstanding talent roster.

In the pop category, Philips' singles included nine which were on the charts or reached status in

With the introduction and establishment of the new label now accomplished facts, Philips in 1963 will

Although the step-up will be on American product, Philips will continue to place importance on the foreign aspects of its product. In the foreign field, a new album series is being readied for introduction March 1. To be called "Connoisseur Collection," it will feature authentic productions from around the world—folk music from many lands, and the unusual in song featuring French chanteuses such as Jacqueline Franco. "This series will have one of the most distinctive packages ever seen in the industry," Simon promised.

regional surveys, among them the strong "Silver Threads and Golden Needles" by the Springfields, and two Ruth Brown discs.

The Springfields also brought Philips its first chart LP, with the "Silver Threads and Golden Needles" album. Good reaction has come from Dizzy Gillespie's "Dizzy On The French Riviera" and Michel Legend's "Rendezvous in Paris."

On the classical side, Philips has had a number of outstanding albums acknowledged to be among the best classical product on the market today. And in the jazz field, the talent roster is growing constantly.

In addition to its name talent, Philips has brought out some very promising new names: among them Jan Fields, Randy Lee and Darrell McCall.

Philips has a completely independent marketing setup, with 31 distributors. Promotion is getting heavy emphasis, the last being a consumer contest launched in September.

The consumer contest, which closed

step up its activities on the talent side, building the roster for both LPs and singles artists. Name talent will play an important role, but Philips will also add many potent young artists with teen appeal, such as their new Paul and Paula, whose current disc "Hey Paula" is showing good action.

Plans call for a harder-hitting approach in the singles field through teen sound recordings, and for the addition of considerable product from top independent producers who are already developing talent and product for Philips. "This allows us to produce the very best of leased product in the singles field," said Lou Simon. "We plan for about 50 singles in 1963, most of them with teen sound."

In line with the thinking of many industry leaders, Philips in 1963 will stress selectivity of product, coupled with a new marketing scheme.

Total LP release for '63 will be 50 to 60 albums, including classical, leased product and American product.

to add additional names to its already impressive list.

Already with Philips is Woody Herman with his small group, and his upcoming release for the label will present the great jazzman with a completely new big band, with a sound that differs from any of his previous Herds. Herman earned a "Hall of Fame" rating in the current Down Beat Readers' Poll.

Dizzy Gillespie, the greatest jazz pioneer, is one of the all-time favorites, as evidenced by sales of his first Philips LP, "Dizzy on The French Riviera." Also in the Philips jazz group are Georgie Auld, and the European jazz stars "The Double Six of Paris."

PHILIPS CLASSICAL RELEASES ARE OUTSTANDING

Philips Records' classical catalogue this year has included some of the most outstanding artist and albums to appear in the American market for many a year.

Highpoint of the collection is the Mengleberg reissue featuring the brilliant Willem Mengleberg conducting the Concertgebouw Orchestra on two albums, "Mahler Symphony No. 4" and "Schubert Symphony No. 9." As a result of the success of these two albums, Philips will release additional Mengelberg LPs in 1963.

Sviataslav Richter, one of the finest names today in the classics, and the London Symphony Orchestra; The Vienna Choir Boys; the current Concertgebouw Orchestra directed by Eugen Jochum, and I. Musici are just a few of the outstanding talent currently on the Philips classical label.

Baritone Gerard Souzay contributed a collection of Schubert Lieder, and Arthur Grumiaux's "Unaccompanied Sonatas and Partitas of Bach" was an outstanding two-pocket album.

This album was remarkable not only for its content but for its engineering that permitted putting six works on two discs, rather than the usual three, with no cuts.

I. Musici, acknowledged as one of the finest orchestras in the world, on November 1 were released by Philips on "Christmas Concerts," one of the truly great classical albums produced this year.

In 1963, Philips' classical catalogue will continue to stress the finest in this field, including such names as David Oistrakh, famed violinist.

1963 will also see Philips putting more stress on promotion in the field, "And we'll back this up by continuing to develop a full line of product," Simon concluded.

PHILIPS GATHERS TOP JAZZ NAMES

With a goal of owning one of the top jazz rosters in the recording industry, Philips Records plans in 1963

SMASH — THE MILLION DOLLAR BABY

Smash Records, subsidiary of Mercury Record Corp., is winding up 1962 with sales figures well in excess of $1 million net billing—a notable achievement for a label in its first complete year of operation.

Smash was launched by Mercury in April, 1961, to operate as a completely independent company with freedom to select its own material and distribution, and to set its own sales and promotion policies.

The label began as a one-man operation, headed by Charles E. Fach, Jr., vice president. And its success story began almost immediately—the label's second record was a hit: "I'm A Fool To Care" by Joe Barry, brought out in May, 1961.

Three more hits came in 1961: "Peanuts" by Rick and The Keens in June; "Wooden Heart" by Joe Dowell in August, which climbed to the No. 1 spot; and another Joe Dowell favorite, "Bridge of Love" in October.

Charlie Fach
Smash Topper

Smash also distributes independent other labels and has just concluded a deal with Hallway resulting in the release of two hot singles: "Defrost" by Albert Collins and "My Voice is Changing" by Jack Clement.

Smash material is recorded either by the parent Mercury A&R staff, or by the country's leading independent producers. Among the independents associated with Smash are Major Bill Smith, Huey Meaux, Bill Hall and Jack Clement, Bob Crewe, Paul Vance, Lester Sill and Lee Hazlewood. In the past few years, these men have been responsible for the sale of countless millions of single records.

The growth of the Smash label has meant a growth in personnel, too. Charlie Fach has expanded his organization to include three of the top record men in the country: Doug Moody, handling the Eastern territory; Alan Mink handling the Midwest and Jay Swint covering the West Coast.

Bill Justis
"Alley Cat-Green Onions"

Smash started 1962 off with a bang with a January release that hit No. 1: Bruce Channel's "Hey Baby." Channel followed this hit with "Number One Man" in April, and then came Dickey Lee and his famous "Patches" which went to the top of the charts in August and September of 1962. Joe Dowell returned with "Little Red Rented Rowboat" in August of this year, and "Bluebirds Over The Mountain" by The Echoes was the October hit.

And Smash's 1962 hit schedule is finishing up with "I Saw Linda Yesterday," another Dickey Lee disc currently rising on the charts.

Smash's history of hits has been accomplished mainly by the label's talent for picking up new and unknown artists—such as Joe Dowell, Dickey Lee and Bruce Channel—and building them into top sellers. The label will continue this policy, but is also adding a new facet to its talent program—the addition of name talent such as Toni Fisher, whose signing the label announced last week.

According to Charlie Fach, "We competed with several other labels for Toni Fisher, but her manager chose Smash because of the company's outstanding success record."

In addition to its string of single hits, Smash has had four LPs on the charts: Joe Dowell's "Wooden Heart"; Bruce Channel's "Hey Baby"; Dickey Lee's "Patches," and the biggest selling album in Smash history, "Alley Cat-Green Onions" by Bill Justis.

Smash has currently expanded its catalogue to include 27 items on Smash and five items from the first Fontana release. For 1963, Smash plans 30 new Smash LPs and 15 LPs on Fontana. Fontana is a special line of foreign recordings.

Joe Dowell
"Little Red Rented Rowboat"

This fall, Smash pioneered a new step in recording industry sales plans with the introduction of its radio advertising allowance program. Instead of a longer discount with product, Smash spent the money with a distributor radio allowance and with the new plan pushed two albums onto the charts. The label attributes the success of the Bill Justis LP "Alley Cat-Green Onions" entirely to the radio ad campaign. Future sales plans are keyed to the same radio advertising approach.

Smash feels additional credit for its success is due to its selection of promotionally minded distributors—distributors whose sales and promotional approaches are tuned to the same frequency as those of the Smash label.

But perhaps the most important ingredient that goes into making Smash a hit-making label is the philosophy behind the whole operation: Smash firmly believes that every record it releases has the potential of being a hit—and refuses to release a record that it feels does not have this potential. Because of this belief, Smash puts a 100 percent sales and promotional effort behind every record and album it releases.

SMASH STAFF: HEAVY ON EXPERIENCE

Working with Smash topper Charlie Fach are three regional men whose talent and experience have contributed much to the success of the label.

Doug Moody

Although young in years, Doug Moody, who handles the Eastern territory, has been in the modern pop singles field since its comeback in the early 1950's.

He formerly operated Clock Records with his father, Walter Moody, and had great success with Dave "Baby" Cortez.

Doug was born in England, and now headquarters in New York City. His wife is secretary to Ralph Williams, manager of RCA's custom division. Put Doug, his father and his wife together and the result is an extremely record-minded family!

Jay Swint

Another "young veteran" is Jay Swint, in charge of the West Coast Smash operation. Jay started as a salesman for Capitol, and managed the Dallas, Minneapolis, Seattle and Los Angeles Capitol branches, and also was Capitol's national promotion manager.

Jay now lives in Los Angeles. His wife, Lois, is a talented concert violinist who plays in string quartets and concert orchestras. Lois doesn't ignore the pop field, however: she also plays for many rock and roll recording dates in Hollywood!

Alan Mink

The Midwest territory is handled by Alan Mink, a real expert in this geographical area. Alan was at one time promotion manager for Mercury in the Midwest, and gained further experience with Warwick Records in the same territory.

Because of their expert knowledge of the recording industry, Smash gives these men complete freedom of operation within their territories. "Each one runs his own 'record company' in his area," Charlie Fach comments, "And it has really paid off in sales."

Bruce Channel
"Hey! Baby"

Looking ahead into 1963, Smash expects to increase its net volume by 50 percent by the gradual increase of Smash and Fontana LP catalogues, and the signing of additional name talent. Smash also plans to sign a number of television personalities.

In the new year, Smash plans to expand its activities with independent record producers, and to obtain distribution rights to additional labels. To accomplish this expansion, Smash will increase its own staff during 1963.

THE COLUMBIA RECORDS SUCCESS STORY

began shortly after the company came into being. Columbia Records rapidly took its position as pacesetter of the recording industry. It assumed this dominant role by developing the largest catalogue in the world—a catalogue which includes popular, classical, jazz, country and western and religious music, in addition to original Broadway cast and sound track recordings. It acquired the greatest roster of internationally renowned artists ever gathered under one banner. It pioneered the “Lp” which not only revolutionized the entire record industry, but the habits of the record-buying public as well. For these and many other reasons, Columbia Records has maintained its leadership through the years. 1962 has realized the most successful chapter in the history of the company, but the story holds the promise of an even greater future.

ALBUM REVIEWS

"NEW FRONTIER"—Kingston Trio—Capitol ST 1809

The Kingston Trio have done much to spread the gospel of folk music with their distinctive brand of zest and musicianship and this new batch of ballads is one of the best sets that the group has cut to date. While expertly providing their own accompaniment, the Trio dishes up top-flight readings of "Greenback Dollar," "Poor Ellen Smith" and "New Frontier." The LP has already begun to sell in large quantities and seems destined to score heavily in the coin department.

"NEIL SEDAKA SINGS HIS GREATEST HITS"—RCA Victor LPM 2627

Neil Sedaka is one of the most amazingly consistent hit-makers around. Today's fickle teenage public have completely accepted his distinctive, sincere sound. This first-rate Victor package includes a swingin' bevy of the chanter's most commercial sides. Sedaka turns in his expected professional readings on "Next Door To An Angel," "Breaking Up Is Hard To Do" and "Happy Birthday, Sweet Sixteen." Disk should skyrocket.

"RUMORS"—Johnny Crawford—Del-Fi DFLP 1224

With four chart-riding singles and a best-selling LP to his credit, the young TV actor-singer tags this newest album outing on Del-Fi after his current biggie, "Rumors." In this tuneful session Crawford comes up with some top-drawer renditions of some pop ballads and his natural vocal ability serves him in good stead as he reads "How High The Moon," "Devil or Angel" and "I Don't Need You." The disk could be a real coin maker for the chanter.

"THE SHIRELLES GREATEST HITS"—Scepter 507

The Shirelles, who are currently riding the charts with "Everybody Loves A Lover," spotlight the new biggie and include fourteen previous triumphs in this first-class LP outing from Scepter. The group's distinctive teen sound which effectively couples sincerity and earthiness is firmly evidenced on "Will You Love Me Tomorrow," "Dedicated To The One I Love" and "Soldier Boy." Sure-fire chart item.

"FRANK SINATRA SINGS RODGERS AND HART"—Capitol W 1825

Here's a delightful collection of Rodgers and Hart sturdies assembled from a bevy of Frank Sinatra's many Capitol albums. Although most of the songs were written in the 30's, they are still as fresh and meaningful as when they were first sung. Top-flight tracks here include "The Lady Is A Tramp," "Spring Is Here" and a never-before-released reading of "Wait Till You See Her." The disk has enough built-in success ingredients to reach the charts in no time flat.

"WE THE TOKENS SING FOLK"—RCA Victor LPM2631

With a goodly number of hits to their credit, the Tokens direct their unusual vocal style to a bag of pop-flavored folk ditties, some with an African flavor, on this latest outing for Victor. Included here is one track that is making a bid for strong sales in the single market—"A Bird Flies Out of Sight." Other first-rate renditions by the group are "B'Wa Nina," "La Bomba" and "A Tale Of Two Lovers." Since folk music is currently so hot, the boys could go all the way with this one.

"ALL THE HITS"—Orlons—Cameo C1033

Since their smash single, "The Wah-Watusi," the Orlons have been clicking regularly, and their latest chart-rider "Don't Hang Up" is included here with this package of current biggies. The tunes here are right out of the Top 20 and the group readily adapts them to their coin-catching style. Best bets here are "He's A Rebel," "Release Me" and "Ride." Disk should get maximum play from spinners and fans.

"MARK VALENTINO"—Swan LP508

Cashing in on the success of his current chart-rider, "The Push and Kick," the youthful chanter comes with a premier LP on Swan to showcase his best-selling vocal talents. In addition to his biggie, the songster delivers first-rate renditions of a host of evergreens and newies which include "Earth Angel," "This Little World" and "Penny For Your Thoughts." Mark Valentino has a talent with great appeal for the younger set and this outing should swell the ranks of his admirers.

"HUMOR SEEN THROUGH THE EYES OF JONATHAN WINTERS"—Verve V15035

Johnathan Winters is one of laughmen around who has the ability to create believable characterizations. Winters' stereotyped people effectively poke fun at and satirize American movies and conventions. On this Verve set, cut live at the Hungry i, the comic comes up with a funny bag of new people plus his usual standbys. Some of the best routines here are tagged "S. S. Robert E. Lee," "Chief Running Fox" and "International Folk Singers."

"JONI JAMES COUNTRY STYLE"—MGM E4101

Joni James jumps on the country bandwagon to cash in on the success and popularity of the idiom. The thrush has selected those tunes which have become standard and gives them a pop-flavor that makes for a subtle blending. Easy listening sides here include "You Are My Sunshine," "Vaya Con Dios" and "Gonna Find Me A Bluebird." The lark has a large following and her admirers should want to add this one to their collections.

"THE JETSONS"—Original TV Soundtracks—Colpix CP213

"MOVIE THEME HITS"—Jo Basile—Audio Fidelity AFSD5979

Flick themes continue to be favorite among recording artists, both instrumental and vocal, and Jo Basile directs his accordion at a dozen of the most melodic from recent films. The accordionist launches the session with an uptempo version of "Tonight" and follows through with eleven other self-arranged goodies such as "Moon River," "Never on Sunday" and "It Might As Well Be Spring." Disk is a pleasant late hours mood companion.

"SNOWBOUND"—Sarah Vaughan—Roulette R52091

Sarah Vaughan, whose method of caressing a lyric and melody has made her an inimitable pro, uses her warm vocal charms on a bag of oldies arranged and conducted by Don Costa. The lark's winning way with a song stands her in good stead as she essays "I Hadn't Anyone 'Til You," "Stella By Starlight," and "I Fall In Love Too Easily." The thrush's legion of followers should come out strongly for the set.

"MORE FOLK SONGS BY ALLAN SHERMAN AND HIS FRIENDS"—Jubilee 5019

Allan Sherman gives out with a couple of standards with his self-styled lyrics on this session cut in conjunction with other leading exponents of Yiddish humor. The yockman is heard on only two tracks, "Jake's Song" and "A Satchel And A Seck" but other classic bits are performed by Lee Tully "Essen" and Willie Howard "Professor Marquette." This Jubilee session is good for lots of laughs but has limited appeal.

BIOS OF 1962's LEADING ARTISTS

Paul Anka—RCA Victor

In 1960, when Paul Anka turned 18 and was of legal age to appear in nightclubs, an exciting and most important new phase of his young but sensational career was launched. Debuting his act at Las Vegas' Sahara to tumultuous acclaim, he moved on to New York's Copa and came away with a record-breaking engagement. Dates in a Miami Beach hotel and other famed niteries are now permanent stops in his constant travels.

Born on July 30, 1941 in Ottawa, Paul's big break came when he approached Don Costa, then A&R head for ABC-Paramount Records, with four songs he had written. Among them was "Diana," which Costa and other AmPar execs felt Anka should record for them himself. It became a million-seller and launched the career of the youngster. Now on the Victor label, he has composed almost all of his hit singles, is a solid LP seller and has an international acceptance with his recordings second to none. In 1962, he wrote the main-title of "The Longest Day," in which he also had a part.

Chet Atkins—RCA Victor

Record dealers, pop and country-wise, all across the country classify the albums of "Mr. Guitar"—Chet Atkins as "must inventory." The gentle, unhurried Atkins continues to be one of Victor's most consistent LP chart-makers (as well as scoring big in the singles dept.) and is currently hot with his "Caribbean Guitar."

As one of RCA's key A&R men, operating out of their Nashville studios, the amazing talent has turned out dozens of outstanding singles—including Jim Reeves' "He'll Have To Go," the Browns' "The Three Bells" and Floyd Cramer's "Last Date." As a guitarist his repertoire ranges from Bach to Spanish music to jazz to rock 'n roll. Among guitar students he's a leading teacher of the instrument, a designer of guitars and author of his own "Methods" book.

Born in Luttrell, Tenn., June 20th, 1924, the son of a piano and voice teacher, Chet left high school to appear on host of stations—including WNOX-Knoxville, WLW-Cincinnati, WPTF-Raleigh, WRVA-Richmond and in '50 became a fixture with the Opry.

Joan Baez—Vanguard

Joan Baez, who at one time this year had all three of her albums in the Top 20 of the LP chart, calls Boston home despite the fact that her father, a professor of physics, has served in appointments in many different countries.

The youthful folk singer has had no formal musical education or training but is recognized as one of the most competent folk singers in the business. Her strong soprano voice coupled with an almost innate feeling for the folk idiom brought her favorable reviews at her first appearance with the Newport Folk Festival in 1959.

Personal appearances at colleges, concert halls and on TV brought her to the attention of Vanguard Records signed her to an exclusive contract. Her very first LP was an immediate best-seller as have been her other Vanguard albums.

The vocalist currently lives in California near Carmel.

Kenny Ball & His Jazzmen—Kapp

Trombonist Ball and his crew were leading exponents of England's "trad" style—close to our Dixieland jazz—before Kapp Records released their "Midnight in Moscow" disk for the American market. They are now the leading "trad" attraction in the States as a result of the great success achieved by the "Moscow" side, which had already been a smash in England (on the Pye label) before it was made available in the U.S.

Besides Ball, the group is made-up of another trombonist, Johnny Bennett; Colin Bates, piano; Ron Bowden, drums; Diz Disley, banjo. Hometown for the entire team is London, where it has made many radio-TV, niterie appearances.

Harry Belafonte—RCA Victor

Harry Belafonte has become one of the world's best known artists as well as one of the world's most dynamic and magnetic entertainers. He has that something extra that makes him a favorite of the masses. Born in N.Y.C., Harry moved to Jamaica, B.W.I., while a young boy. Then he returned to N.Y. to attend George Washington High School. After his discharge from the Navy he became a member of the American Negro Theatre Workshop and later joined the Dramatic Workshop where he developed his acting talents. Monte Kay heard Belafonte sing at a Workshop meeting and asked him if he would do the same "just for laughs" at the Royal Roast, a club which Kay owned. Belafonte did and Kay signed him to a contract which ran 20 weeks. From this engagement, Harry went on to become a fairly successful pop singer. But not satisfied with crooning he quit the field and opened a restaurant in N.Y.'s Greenwich Village. During informal songfests at his eatery, Harry discovered a love for folk songs, sought out his friend Millard Thomas (now his accompanist) and together they built a repertoire of folk songs and ballads. He signed a Victor contract and has since had one success after another. In films he starred in "Bright Road," "Carmen Jones" and "Island In The Sun." In 1955 he took Broadway by storm with "Three For Tonight." His albums are continually programmed by jockeys around the world. He has set attendance records everywhere and his TV appearances attract the highest ratings. There are few recording artists who rank with Belafonte. His big album in 1962 was "Jump Up Calypso."

Tony Bennett—Columbia

Tony Bennett was born in Astoria, New York and began his meteoric rise to stardom as a contestant on Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scouts" TV'er.

Coming in as a runner-up to Rosemary Clooney, Tony was immediately signed to appear on Jan Murray's "Songs For Sale" show. A few months later he appeared in a Greenwich Village niterie upon the insistence of Pearl Bailey who was headlining the show. Bob Hope wandered in one night and invited the young crooner to join him the next day on the stage of the Paramount Theatre where the laughman was appearing. The young performer sang a few songs and the audience roared its approval. Four encores later, Hope announced that Tony would be joining him on a national tour. The rest is history. Mitch Miller inked the artist to a Columbia recording contract and his initial sides developed into best-sellers. The chanter has been responsible for such hits as "Boulevard Of Broken Dreams," "I Won't Cry Anymore," "Stranger In Paradise," "Because Of You," "Rags To Riches," and "I Left My Heart In San Francisco."

When he is not on tour Tony usually devotes his time to painting and high fidelity.

Brook Benton—Mercury

To songster Brook Benton belongs the invaluable asset of versatility. He can express himself with equal authority on material ranging from rhythmic teen-market numbers to legit ballads, and, recently proven, to folk-like items (e.g. "Ball Weevil").

Benton's career, two years as a hitmaker began in Camden, South Carolina, in a church choir directed by his father, and today he declares: "... of all the songs I've written and recorded, I've derived the most satisfaction from my album of spirituals; 'If You Believe'."

At 17, he came to New York to seek his fortune as a songwriter, not a singer. Though success wasn't sudden in story-book fashion, he eventually clicked through his association with publisher-writer Dave Dreyer, now Benton's manager. Together, they wrote "Looking Back," recorded by Nat King Cole, and some other successes.

Soon, Benton was aiming at singing career, too—and that led to a pact with Mercury Records. His hits for the label have included "It's Just a Matter of Time," his first Mercury date and a million-seller, "Kiddio," "Fools Rush In," "Think Twice," "Revenge," "Lie To Me" and is currently hot with "Hotel Happiness."

He has recorded two songs for the soundtrack of Columbia Pictures' "A Walk on the Wild Side," the title-song and "Somewhere in the Used to Be."

Mr. Acker Bilk—Atco

The British clarinetist, Mr. Acker Bilk, was born in Somerset, England, in 1929. The son of a church organist, the younger Bilk became interested in music and took up the clarinet while serving overseas in the British Army. After completing his service, Mr. Acker Bilk took a job as a blacksmith for a while. It wasn't long before he dropped the hammer and returned to the clarinet. He joined and stayed with the Ken Colyer Group for several years. In 1958, he started his own group, the Paramount Jazz band, which has become one of the most successful trade bands in England.

His instrumental "Stranger On The Shore," was a million-seller this year.

Pat Boone—Dot

Though Pat Boone became a name via rock 'n roll, in its early years, his talents now cover a wide-range of show business endeavors (e.g. TV, films).

However, after an out-and-out rock 'n roll disk layoff, Boone has "come-back" to the teeners, and has given them such hits as "Moody River" and "Johnny Will," "Speedy Gonzales" and, currently, "Mexican Joe."

Boone's still-standing association with Dot Records began in 1954, when the label's topper, Randy Wood, signed him to a pact shortly after he had won, as an amateur, the Ted Mack "Amateur Hour" show and, as a professional, Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scout" program.

A steady flow of rock 'n roll and legit ballad hits plus many best-selling LP's established his reputation among both teenagers and adults—and led to several network TV'ers of his own and, in 1956, a $1 million contract with 20th Century-Fox for one picture a year for seven years (soon-to-be released will be a Boone-starred remake of "Fair").

Boone, born June 1, 1934, is married to Red Foley's daughter, Shirley, and the couple has four children. He is a graduate of Columbia University (1958) with a B.S. degree in Speech and English.

Dave Brubeck—Columbia

Dave Brubeck was born in 1920 in Concord, California and originally wanted to be a veterinarian in order to continue his father's cattle business. However, the lure of music was the stronger, and he studied music with the noted French composer Darius Milhaud and Arnold Schoenberg.

During the course of his musical studies he also went to college before starting out on a musical career. The talented instrumentalist became a favorite of college campuses all over the country as a result of his definitive jazz stylings and arrangements. Frequent appearances by Brubeck and his quartet on radio, TV, night clubs and a series of concert tours made him one of the most sought after musicians in the country.

Since being signed by Columbia Records, Brubeck has turned out many singles and LP's, many of which have gone to the top of the charts. His LP's "Time Out" and "Time Further Out" enjoyed phenomenal sales during 1962 and appeared in the top 10 of the album charts.

Ace Cannon—Hi

1962 has been a good year for Ace Cannon who scored heavily with his single, "Tuff" and his LP, "Tuff-Sax," both of which are on the Hi label. The versatile instrumentalist is proficient with the clarinet, and the alto, baritone, tenor and soprano sax, as well as being an accomplished composer. Cannon was born in Grenada, Miss., on May 5, 1934, and evidenced a real feeling for music, especially reed instruments, while still a young man. Before jumping on the musical bandwagon to pursue a constant round of TV, radio and personal appearances, he managed to squeeze in a college education.

George Chakiris—Capitol

George Chakiris has played two major roles in the famed musical, "West Side Story," and each has won him acclaim. His portrayal of the Puerto Rican gangleader—Bernardo—in the flick version of the musical was impressive enough to get him an Academy Award as best supporting actor—and an exclusive disk pact with Capitol. He clicked with his first LP for the label, "George Chakiris Sings." In the London stage run of "Story," Chakiris played Riff, also a gangleader, for 20 months "live," a part he got after auditioning for the show's choreographer, Jerome Robbins, in New York in 1959. Before his legit "Story" role Chakiris had played minor roles in other flicks, including Paramount's "White Christmas," in which he got some who's-he recognition as part of a dance ensemble that supported Rosemary Clooney in one of the flick's numbers. Chakiris had wanted to be an actor and a dancer ever since high school days in Tucson, Ariz., and Long Beach, Calif. He was born Sept. 16, 1934 in Norwood, Ohio, to Steven & Zoe Chakiris, both of whom are of Greek extraction. He is currently under a five-year, non-exclusive pact with Mirisch Pictures, which turned out "Story."

Bruce Channel—Smash

Bruce Channel, the 21 year old songster from Jacksonville, Texas, developed into a hot international favorite in overnight fashion when a master, produced by mgr. Bill Smith, "Hey! Baby," was picked up by the young Smash label and soared right up to the #1 spot. The single also sailed way up the English charts. "Baby" was then followed by a hit single, "Number One Man," and an LP tagged after his initial triumph. Born into a musical family Channel was singing and playing the guitar from the time he was 5 years old. After the family moved to Dallas, and while in high school, Channel spent every free moment entertaining at benefit shows, youth centers and other local gatherings. Channel's big break came when, accompanied by his father, he drove to Shreveport, La., to seek an audition with Tillman Franks, producer of the famed "Louisiana Hayride" show. Franks, impressed with Channel's style, signed him to a contract for an appearance on the show. His act brought such good notices, Channel remained as a regular on the show for six months. In 1961 Smash Records signed him to an exclusive recording contract. His latest singles effort is "Oh! Baby."

Ray Charles—ABC-Paramount

Dividing his dates between ABC-Paramount and Impulse, AmPar's subsid jazz label, Ray Charles enjoys a big following in the field of pop, blues and jazz, even more since his "Modern Sounds in Country and Western Music" LP's in 1962. After a tragedy-ridden childhood (he was blinded at 6, orphaned at 15), Charles giggered around Florida, earning a big reputation as a combo sideman. At 17 he formed his own trio and toured the country, settling for a while in Seattle where he had his own sponsored TV show. His big disk break came when he was signed by Atlantic Records, for which he produced several smash hit singles and albums. A year-and-a-half ago he switched to Am-Par and continued his hit string with "Georgia On My Mind," "One Mint Julep" and "Outskirts of Town," and "Hit the Road Jack" and "Unchain My Heart," and such LP's as "Genius+Soul-Jazz" (Impulse) and "Ray Charles and Betty Carter" (AmPar).

Chubby Checker—Parkway

When adults in New York and other major east coast cities became aware of the twist dance they also "discovered" a talent whom their children had been listening to for a couple of years. Chubby's "Twistin'" career began professionally when, at the age of 19, his employer was able to set up an audition with Cameo Records head Bernie Lowe. Chubby was signed and elected by Lowe to spearhead the Cameo affiliate label, Parkway. His first record was "The Class" but it was "The Twist" that started the chain reaction that led to a string of hit singles and albums. Currently, Chubby scored with "The Fly" and a re-issue of "The Twist" in singles, "The Twist" LP and a host of other albums. The artist has now been credited with the fantastic rise in the limbo dance craze—as a result of his "Limbo Rock" (which had the "Popeye" hit coupling). Chubby Checker was born Oct. 3, 1941 in Philadelphia, where he still lives with his parents and two brothers. He was graduated from South Philadelphia High School (one of his classmates was Fabian), where he had entertained fellow students on special school events.

Patsy Cline—Decca

Patsy Cline, along with her Decca labelmate, Kitty Wells, are two of the more consistent best-selling femme country vocalists around today. During the past several years, she has also made frequent appearances on the pop charts, her most recent Top 100 dishing being "Heartaches." But, it was back in 1957 that Patsy displayed dual-market potential. On the CBS-TV network TV'er, Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scouts," that year the audience applauded her the winner among the other contestants. Her song that night was "Walkin' After Midnight," one of her biggest hits. Patsy, born in Winchester, Va., has, like so many other country-originated performers, a background as an entertainer begun at an early age, when, in her first public performance, she won a tap-dancing contest—in Patsy's case, aged 4. Patsy was still in her teens when she joined the "Grand Ole Opry" show, after being discovered by the Opry's Wally Fowler, who was playing a theatre in Winchester.

Nat King Cole—Capitol

Proof-positive that the real greats never fade away is Nat "King" Cole. Although the talented performer hasn't had a big hit in several years, he broke the barrier in 1962 with "Ramblin' Rose" and "Dear Lonely Hearts." The artist first toddled into the musical world at four, when he was able to pick out a fairly good two-handed rendition of "Yes, We Have No Bananas." In 1937, after finishing high-school, Nat joined a road company of the revue, "Shuffle Along." The show broke up a few months later when a sticky-fingered member of the troupe shuffled off with the show's $800 treasury. Broke and jobless, Cole worked as a piano player in "practically every beer joint in Los Angeles," never making more than $5 a night. Then Nat formed his famous Trio. From then on his career went into high-gear. The popularity of the group grew and they played some of the best clubs in the country. In 1942 he joined Capitol Records, as a single, and from the very first decks such as "Nature Boy" and "Mona Lisa" he achieved star status. When he is not traveling on the road Nat lives quietly with his wife, two daughters and son Nat Kelly who was born Feb. 8, 1959.

Shirley Collie—Liberty

The Liberty label's big country attraction is a versatile performer. She's a singer, plays rhythm guitar, bass fiddle, autoharp and other string instruments. She sings equally well anything from her vast repertoire of folk ballads, to the difficult art of the American yodel, and her voice blends well from duets to full vocal groups. The performer has had 15-years-experience in radio, five on TV. She is married to Biff Collie, country deejay and entertainer. Her big hits on Liberty include "Willingly" and "Chain of Love."

Perry Como—RCA Victor

Perry Como's first ambition was to be the best barber in Canonsburg, Pa., where he was born in May, 1912. He did get his own shop when he was 15, but his singing ability eventually took him out of the shop and onto the bandstand. From 1933 to 1942 he toured with the Ted Weems band and learned the business the hard way, doing one-night stands. After the band was disorganized, Perry accepted a radio spot with CBS which gave him more prominence and soon led him to night clubs and theaters. Since 1945, Como has climbed steadily as one of the most talented and most admired performers in the business. The past decade has found the crooner content to be a TV performer and recording artist. His long association with RCA Victor Records has been profitable for him and for the label. As a recording artist, Como has garnered a phenomenal number of gold disks, and his "Prisoner of Love" has become one of the all-time best-sellers. During the past year, the singer has had a best-seller in "Caterina" and his LP "By Request" went on the charts shortly after its release. Perry Como has also won many awards and honors during his successful career, including "Personality of the Year" by the Variety Club and a testimonial dinner by the Friars.

Ray Conniff—Columbia

For both himself and other artists on the Columbia label, Ray Conniff has spelled top sales success. For himself, Conniff has achieved international recognition for a series of LP's, beginning with "S Wonderful" in 1956, that mostly made use of mixed choruses as instruments of an orchestra. For other performers, Conniff has arranged such hit disks as Johnnie Ray's "Walking In The Rain," Guy Mitchell's "Singing The Blues" and three smashes by Johnny Mathis, "Wonderful, Wonderful" (Mathis' first hit), "It's Not For Me To Say" and "Chances Are." By the time he began his Junior year in high school, in his hometown of Attleboro, Mass., Ray was an accomplished trombone player and, with the aid of a mail-order transposer, an arranger. This eventually led to associations with the likes of Bunny Berrigan, Bob Crosby, Artie Shaw, Walter Schumann, Meredith Willson and Harry James. His four-year association with Shaw established his prowess as an arranger. Ray's ideas are well-suited to stereo, and, in fact, he has lately made cross-country jaunts with a show called "Concert In Stereo."

Sam Cooke—RCA Victor

Not long after rock 'n roll began to make it with the teenagers, singer Sam Cooke successfully appeared on the scene, and has been a hit-maker since.

A former member of the famed Gospel group, The Soul Stirrers, Cooke first came through with a million-selling ballad side, "You Send Me," on the Keen label. This was followed by such other clicks for Keen as "Cupid," "Everybody Likes to Cha-Cha" and "Sweet World." After he moved on to Victor, Keen released a master, "Wonderful World," which was also a Top 100 side.

Cooke's big sides for Victor include "Chain Gang," "Twistin' the Night Away," "Having a Party," "Bring It On Home to Me," "Somebody Have Mercy On Me" and "Nothing Can Change This Love." A number of LP's have been good sellers.

The artist, in his middle 20's, was born in Chicago. He can play the guitar and considers swimming as one of his hobbies.

Dave Baby Cortez—Chess

Cortez was a pioneer in making the organ a big factor in today's rock sounds. His influence in this area goes back a few years ago with a smash date called "The Happy Organ," on his former label, Clock Records, and other successes. Now with the Chess diskery, Cortez has most recently made big chart news with "Rinky Dink." He is a young (20), self-taught musician who likes to spend his leisure hours doing sketches. Born in Detroit, Cortez is managed by Wolter Moody, and is booked through the Jolly Joyce Agency.

The Crystals—Philles

Before Bobby Sox & The Blue Jeans scored with "Zip-A-Dee-Do-Do," the Phillies label's single attraction was a femme singing quintet called The Crystals. Considering the girls' hit output, it seemed that the label could do quite well with just their presence in its stable. During 1962, the larks scored with some of the more distinctive teen sounds, including "There Is No Other (Like My Baby)," "Uptown" and "He's A Rebel." They also have an LP to their credit, "The Crystals Twist Uptown."

The Brooklyn-born performers, who began singing together in high school, were brought to the disk fore by label owner Phil Spector, one of the top indie producers around, who discovered them in New York. Spector is also their personal manager.

Names of the girls, all in their middle or late teens, are Lola, Mary, Dee Dee, Barbara and Pat.

King Curtis—Capitol

King Curtis is one of those performers who's always in on the wax sessions. The tenor sax star, who's been appearing in clubs and theatres all over the country with his twistin' combo, has probably recorded behind the big names as much as any saxist around. The Ft. Worth boy has backed up the likes of Sarah Vaughan, Bobby Darin, Eddie Fisher, the Shirelles, Dinah Washington and almost hundreds of others.

The artist finally came into his own this year when his "Soul Twist" on Enjay busted wide open on both the pop and r&b charts. He was later signed to a Capitol pact and clicked on the label with "Beach Party." He's also represented in the LP dept. with "Country Soul" on Capitol.

Bill Dana—Kapp

"My name . . . Jose Jimenez" that introduction, in Spanish dialect, has meant for millions of folks who watch TV, buy records or go to night clubs broken English of an hilarious order.

Bill Dana, the creator and voice of Jose Jimenez, has led a double-life in show business. Not only has he taken the spotlight as a performer, but has been the behind-the-scenes writer of many a skit, both for himself and others, including Steve Allen, on whose TV'er Jose was first presented to the public, and has also written some songs, one of which, "All About Love," was recorded by Steve Lawrence and Barbara McNair. This year the laughman clicked with his "Jose Jimenez Talks To Teenagers" LP.

Besides his Jose success, Dana had a well-received comedy partnership with Gene Wood, an old friend and college buddy (Dana & Wood), scoring first on TV and later on in many a "chic" nitery.

His association with Steve Allen is connected with Don Adams, a regular on the Allen TV'er, including Allen's old "Tonight" show. Dana had written many monologues for Adams' nitery stints. After Allen had learned that Dana was writing material for Adams, he asked Dana to write for him.

The Jose Jimenez character was the result of a collaboration of Dana and another Steve Allen comedy writer, Don Hinkley, and a suggestion by Allen that Dana do the part.

Dana was born on Oct. 25, 1924 in Quincy, Mass. (his real last name is Szathmary). He is a graduate of Emerson College.

Bobby Darin—Capitol

"Splish Splash" was the first link in a long chain of hits that helped make Bobby Darin the darling of the teen set. "Mack The Knife" was the deck that helped put the Atco recording star over the top with the adult crowd as well. It was also the deck that helped him win NARAS Grammy awards for "The Best New Singer" and "The Best Record Of The Year" for 1959. Since then his nightclub and TV stock soared to the point where he can virtually write his own ticket for these mediums. He has also gone on to pic stardom, appearing in "Come September"—for which he penned the musical score.

Darin, whose amazing versatility also includes cleffing hit tunes, playing the piano, vibes, drums, guitar and dancing among others, was born Robert Walden Cassotto, May 14, 1936 in New York City. His father died several months before he was born and was raised, on relief, by his mother and older sister, Nina. He graduated with honors from the Bronx High School of Science and won a scholarship to Hunter College. He dropped out after one term, tho, deciding that acting was his profession. He began writing commercial jingles, after a long period of unemployment, with close friend Don Kirshner (now a top music publisher). This led to making demo records and finally a Decca Wax Pact. After many flops on Decca and Atco he cut his self-penned "Splish Splash."

In 1960 he married screen star Sanda Dee. They have a son, Dadd Mitchell, born Dec. 16, 1961. Personal mgr. is Steve Blauner.

This year Darin signed a new wax deal with Capitol and led off in hit single style with "If A Man Answers," the title tune of the pic in which he and his wife star.

Jimmy Dean—Columbia

Jimmy Dean, whose Columbia recording of "Big Bad John" became a runaway all-market best-seller is a relaxed, easy-going young man who practices his own advice: "Grin once in a while; it's good for you."

Born 32 years ago on a farm outside Plainview, Texas, Jimmy began his musical career at the age of 10, first learning to play piano, then mastering the accordion and the guitar.

Jimmy's musical and Air Corps careers developed simultaneously. He filled in as a replacement with the "Tennessee Haymakers," a country-music quartet made up of Air Force buddies who played off-duty hours in Washington, D. C. base bars for $5 a night.

In 1952, Jimmy caught the shrewd eye of Cannon B. Gay, who hired him to sing and play for the U.S. troops in the Caribbean. After this tour, Dean worked on local radio and TV stations in Washington. In April 1957, he auditioned for a projected Television Network show—and won. After that, he was heard on his own weekly Saturday afternoon show, then appeared as a guest on many top TV programs. He also toured the summer circuit in the title role of "Destry Rides Again."

Jimmy is married to the former Sue Wittauer of Washington, D. C., and they have three children, Gary, Connie and Robert.

The best-selling vocalist followed his blockbuster, "Big Bad John" with the hits "P.T. 109" and "Little Black Book."

Joey Dee—Roulette

Joey Dee, along with the Starlighters, were one of the main influences in making the twist an international craze. The group had been playing together for over 3 years and at the Peppermint Lounge for one when the nitery developed into a goldmine. Since then, they've hit the top spot with "The Peppermint Twist"—as well as smashing thru LP-wise with "Doing The Twist At The Peppermint Lounge." Joey went on to click with "What Kind Of Love Is This" and "I Lost My Baby" among others.

The Starlighters consist of 4 members. Carlton Latimer, 22, on organ; Willie Davis, 21, on drums; Larry Vernieri, 21, who sings and dances; and David Brigotti, 21, who also sings and dances.

Joey Dee was born on June 11, 1940 in Passaic, New Jersey. He has 5 sisters and 3 brothers ranging from 17 to 42. Joey is 5 feet 6 inches and has black wavy hair and black eyes. The Roulette Records star's favorite foods are pizza, hot dogs and spaghetti. His hobbies are swimming, dancing, music and reading. Joey prefers to wear casual clothes rather than getting dressed up.

Among Joey's pic credits is "Two Tickets To Paris"—which is also the tag of a Roulette LP.

Dion—Columbia

Dion's career has had many stages. Originally a single act, he was teamed with a group called the Timberlones on the Mohawk label. Laurie then signed him and teamed him as lead singer with the Belmonts. This association produced such hits as "Teenager In Love," "I Wonder Why," "Where Or When" and "No One Knows."

When the group split, each going their separate disk ways, Dion came through as a solo with "Lonely Teenager," and really came through with "Runaround Sue," a number one hit. Most recently, he clicked with the back-to-back, "The Majestic" and "The Wanderer," "Born To Cry" and "Love Came To Me." Last year he extended his activities to include nitery work, earning plaudits for his club debut at New York's International.

He was born Dion DiMucci in The Bronx, New York, attended Theodore Roosevelt High School there and now lives with his parents and two younger sisters in Westchester County.

The songster recently joined the Columbia label and will have his first session out in Jan. of '63.

Vincent Edwards—Decca

Vincent Edwards began his career as a recording artist. His album chart-rider this year was "Vince Edwards Sings" on Decca, after already having established himself as the star of the new hit medical TV series, "The Ben Casey Show."

Edwards was born in Brooklyn and attended Ohio State and Hawaii Universities where he distinguished himself as an intercollegiate swimming champion. Following college he studied acting at the American Academy.

His thespian career was professionally launched with a small role in "High Button Shoes" on Broadway. This was followed with a road tour in "Come Back Little Sheba." As west coast television grew in stature Edwards went to Hollywood where he appeared in numerous programs. His ability caught the eye of James Moser, the producer of Casey, and Edwards was given the starring role in the show. The rest is history.

The chanter-actor dabbles in creative writing, pilots an airplane and stays in shape by lifting weights and regular gymnasium workouts.

Little Eva—Dimension

When the hit songwriting hubby-wife team of Carole King and Jerry Goffin were looking for a baby sitter, the Cookies (of "Chains" fame) suggested their new school chum Eva Boyd. The youngster so impressed the duo that she was hired immediately. Eventually, the team began to notice that Eva was a music lover and sang along with them when they worked on their songs. She was tried out on a few demos, the results were fine, and a Dimension contract followed. Her very first session, "Loco-Motion," hit the top spot on the charts and was followed in hit style by "Keep Your Hands Off My Baby."

Eva, managed by Nevins-Kirshner, calls Belhaven, N.C. her home town.

Everly Bros.—Warner Brothers

At last count, the Everly Bros., who recently were discharged from the Marine Corps, have accounted for the sale of over 15 million records world wide. This fact alone puts them in a special category reserved for only the biggest stars.

Don, 25, and Phil, 23, were born in Brownie, Ky., to Ike and Margaret Everly, then well-known country artists, and made their professional debut on radio station KMA-Shenandoah, Ia., when they were six and eight respectively. Several years of touring as a family unit followed with winters off for schooling. Mr. and Mrs. Everly retired when the boys finished high school and it was soon after that Wesley Rose of Acuff-Rose brought them under his wing. He had them signed to Cadence Records. "Bye Bye Love" started the fantastic string, and was immediately followed by such outstanding hits as "Wake Up Little Susie," "All I Have To Do Is Dream," "Bird Dog," "Take A Message To Mary," "Let It Be Me" and "Like Strangers." Last year the Everlys were signed to Warner Bros. Records and continued to turn out the hits, including "Cathy's Clown," "Walk Right Back," "Ebony Eyes," "So Sad," and "Don't Blame Me," "Crying In The Rain" and "Don't Ask Me To Be Friends" among others.

Shelley Fabares—Colpix

Shelley Fabares is one of the most versatile young talents to come along in quite a while.

The lark, who plays the role of Donna Reed's daughter on the successful TV'er, started her show biz career as an actress because her mother decided it would be an ideal way to develop poise.

Her big acting break came in 1953 with an appearance on a Frank Sinatra spectacular. From there she moved handily into dramatic parts on a flock of top-rated TV shows. Her slick break came in 1955 with "Never Say Goodbye." Since then she has had featured parts in "Rock Pretty Baby" and "Summer Love."

Shelley recently launched a singing career with her first tune for Colpix, "Johnny Angel." Almost overnight the tune rode up the charts to the number 1 slot and another dimension was added to Shelley's versatile bag of talents.

Bent Fabric—Atco

Bent Fabric, who clicked this year with "Alley Cat," has long been involved in the music business from many angles. He is the head of Metro-nome Records but his executive duties do not prevent him from being an A&R man, composer, pianist, and TV personality.

Only in his middle thirties now, the multi-talented artist had a jazz band when he was still a teenager and cut some early Danish jazz records. However, Bent soon went into the pop field where he has remained ever since. He took over the Metro-nome in Denmark in 1950 when the Sweden-based organization started to expand to other European countries.

Throughout the years Fabric, whose real name is Bent Fabricus-Bjerre, has been composing pop songs, writing movie scores and playing his piano, although his public appearances outside TV have been more infrequent in recent years.

Currently, he is the star of the popular Danish television program, "Around The Piano." "Alley Cat" was originally composed as the theme song for the TV'er.

Ferrante & Teicher—United Artists

Arthur Ferrante and Louis Teicher have been playing piano together since they were six years old when they met as students of the Julliard School of Music. Ferrante, a native of New York City, and Teicher, from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., were both encouraged early to pursue musical careers.

Following schooling and a brief period of concert work they returned to Julliard as faculty members. During the next few years they combined teaching with a limited concert schedule but increasing popularity forced them to give up teaching in 1947 for full time concert work. Gradually they drifted into popular music and for two years were the resident piano team on ABC's "Piano Playhouse." After recording extensively for several companies they went to United Artists and began a string of flick theme hits; first was "The Apartment," next "Exodus" and "Tonight" from "West Side Story."

Flatt & Scruggs—Columbia

Having never swayed from their traditional style, Lester Flatt and Earl Scruggs are two of the best known exponents of bluegrass music in the entire country field. The Columbia recording stars rode the Top 100 with "Ballad Of Jed Clampett," which is the main-theme of the new hit TV series, "The Beverly Hillbillies."

The boys have never drifted towards a "pop" sound as so many other country musicians have. Their group consists of Scruggs on the five-string banjo (playing the three-finger style he virtually invented) and Flatt on guitar, and a fiddle, a mandolin, a bass and a second guitar. Their most distinctive sound comes from the fact that none of their instruments are electrified. The boys often add wild, soaring vocals of old folk songs, usually dealing with unhappy love.

4 Seasons—Vee Jay

The 4 Seasons, who skyrocketed to the pinnacle of the charts with "Sherry" and "Big Girls Don't Cry," were unknown just days before "Sherry" was released. Proof-positive of the show biz dream of the "overnight success" is the fact that the boys are now a household name among record buyers across the nation.

All four boys hail from New Jersey. They are Frankie Valli, Bob Gaudio, Nick Massi and Tommy De Vito. Except for Bob Gaudio, who joined the group after leaving the Royal Teens, the other boys have been working together for about six years as the Four Lovers.

Prior to their current smash, everything seemed to be going wrong for the group. However, on a chance visit to Gotham, Frankie met independent record producer Bob Crewe. Crewe decided the group could still make it if they were given the proper material and took the artists under his wing. The second record they came up with was "Sherry." The rest is history.

Ella Fitzgerald—Verve

Ella Fitzgerald was voted the outstanding female vocalist of 1961 in the Playboy Annual Jazz Poll awards earlier this year. She has been similarly titled by other groups for her vocal abilities.

Born in Newport News, Virginia, she began her career in an amateur night competition in Harlem in 1935. Soon after, she was singing with the Chick Webb band and remained with it until his death in 1939. Since that time, she has sung with virtually every important jazz band in the country, and credits Duke Ellington with helping her to develop the singing style that has become her trademark.

Ella Fitzgerald is one of the few jazz vocalists whose disks sell well in all markets, and she is frequently represented on the charts with her Verve LP's. The lark has also gotten her share of gold disks during her career, and her recording of "A-Tisket-A-Tasket" was a million seller at a time when this was almost impossible to accomplish.

The songstress has appeared in films, on TV and radio, and appears regularly at clubs throughout the country that feature the best in jazz entertainment.

Connie Francis—MGM

Connie Francis is undoubtedly one of the most successful female voices on the disk scene today.

The U.S. market is only part of her domain as a lark Queen, for she has also made most of the other parts of the world her own—and in a unique manner.

In non-English speaking countries, the performer cuts her hit recordings in the native tongue, including French, German, Spanish, Italian and Japanese.

In the five years she has been recording for MGM Records, Connie has sold over 23 million disks and has been awarded eight gold platters by the label for sessions that have sold at least 1 million each.

The 22-year-old artist, born in Newark, N.J., (real name: Constance Franconero), first made her mark in show business at the age of 11, when she was heard, as a singer and accordionist, on the early juvenile-performer TV'er, "Starline," presented by George Scheck, now her manager. A year later she was a winner on Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scout" show.

She was signed to MGM Records when she was 17, and nothing too noteworthy happened for seven or eight records and soundtrack chors for rock 'n roll flicks. But her father, who plays the concertina as a hobby, suggested that she record a triplet-backed reading of the oldie, "Who's Sorry Now"; she did and soon had her first million-selling single.

Apart from singles, Connie has cut a host of varied-themed LP's, and has done major nitery-TV stints all over the world. The chirp is currently represented on the singles charts with her fast-rising "I'm Gonna Be Warm This Winter."

Judy Garland—Capitol

If "Rhapsody In Blue" brought jazz to concert halls, then Judy Garland, over the last decade, has done a similar chore for the popular song.

Ever since the star hit the concert hall road back in 1951—a tour of the British Isles—she has been welcomed at such long-hair establishments as The Met and Carnegie Hall with the fervor of an opera prima-donna or top-flight conductor and/or soloist.

Her hold on her fandom was amply demonstrated in 1961 with the release on the Capitol label of her Carnegie Hall "recital" earlier in the year, "Judy Garland at Carnegie Hall," which despite its 2-LP format, held the number one position on the LP charts.

Judy, as she sang in "A Star Is Born," was practically "Born in a Trunk," having been the third of three daughters born to vaudevillians Frank and Ethel Gumm in Grand Rapids, Mich. (her real name is Frances).

A stint with her sisters as The Glumm Sisters (one time the team's name was spelled The Glum Sisters on the marquee of the Oriental Theatre in Chicago, which reportedly led to her being named Judy Garland by headliner George Jessel, who had comforted the tear-filled group, noting that Judy was "as pretty as a garland of flowers") ended when her two sisters got married. But, soon after, Judy was on her way to flick stardom after Lew Brown, of the famed writing team of DeSylva, Brown and Henderson, thought she could make a go of it in the medium (after many musical pics, including "The Wizard Of Oz," Judy received a dramatic role in 1961 in "Judgment of Nuremberg").

Barbara George—Sue

One of the many records that clicked first in the R&B field and later developed into a big pop hit was Barbara George's "I Know" which rode both the Top 100 and the R&B charts last year.

The thrush was born on August 16, 1942 in New Orleans, Louisiana and attended the McCarthy elementary school there. She started singing at 13, when attending Carter G. Woodson Jr. High School, by chirping in her church choir.

Barbara's first professional job was in a small Louisiana night spot. Her original style and personality led to a recording contract with A.F.O. Records where she cut the smash single. She also had a hit with her version of "You Talk About Love."

Stan Getz & Charlie Byrd—Verve

Tenor saxist Getz and guitarist Byrd are the leading Bossa Nova names in the U.S. Through a disk teaming for Verve (Getz is a Verve pactee, Byrd cuts for Riverside), the pair came up with a top Bossa Nova LP, "Jazz Samba," from which 1962's most successful Bossa Nova single, "Desafinado," was culled.

Byrd had a big say in starting the big Bossa Nova boom in the States. During a tour of South America for the U.S. State Department in 1961, Byrd picked-up the Bossa Nova sound and began playing it as part of his repertoire. Though his Bossa Nova success has spotlighted his jazz talents, Byrd is also known for his readings of classical guitar music, and, in fact, once studied with the famed long-hair guitarist, Andres Segovia. Byrd was born Sept. 16, 1925 in Chuckatuck, Va.

Getz is one of the mainstays of modern jazz, as purveyed in both big-band and combo settings (he presently does p.a.'s with his own quartet). The performer's hometown is Philadelphia, where he was born on Feb. 2, 1927.

Don Gibson—RCA Victor

Don Gibson makes disk news as both a songwriter and writer. Reading his own effort, "Oh Lonesome Me," Don clicked in a big way in the country and pop fields in 1957, and most of his hits since then have been with his own numbers. His "I Can't Stop Loving You" was revived in smash Top 100 fashion by Ray Charles in 1962.

Don was a professional at the age of 14 in his own hometown, Shelby, N.C. He eventually moved to radio station WKNX-Knoxville, Tenn., where he farmed his own band. There followed years of dance dates, local radio and TV shows, and hours of lonely work over his guitar in his own especially-equipped recording trailer.

The performer, an exclusive RCA Victor Records' artist since 1957, lives with his wife, Polly, in Powell, Tenn.—on the outskirts of Knoxville. His hobbies are movies, reading and dogs.

Robert Goulet—Columbia

The new 'darling' of the female set is Columbia's rapidly rising young singing star Robert Goulet. Since having won national recognition as Sir Lancelot in the B'way hit "Camelot," he has become an idol of the distaffers. His big romantic voice and his TV appearances has won him a large and loyal following as evidenced by his top selling LP, "Two Of Us." His just-released package is tagged "Sincerely Yours." In addition, he grabbed off a nice share of the "What Kind Of Fool Am I" singles sales melon. Recently he embarked on a entirely new career with his successful club act opening at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C. This was followed by rave reviews at the Plaza's Persian Room.

Robert was born in Lawrence, Mass. and moved to Edmonton, Alberta, Can. when he was 13. At 17 he became a radio announcer and two years later, while continuing his work in radio and television, he entered the Toronto Conservatory of Music on a scholarship.

Joe Henderson—Todd

"Snap Your Fingers" was not only Joe Henderson's 'stepping stone' it also turned out to be the year's biggest dual-market, pop-r&b chart items of the year. Title was also the tag of his debut LP for the Jay-Gee-distributed Todd label.

Joe, who's 24 years of age, was born in Como, Miss. He was raised in Gary, Ind., where he attended Roosevelt High School. In 1958 he moved to Nashville, Tenn. His music career was started by singing in a church quartet. He sang bass with the Fairfield Four a well known spiritual group and shortly thereafter formed his own group, the Silver Quintet.

Joe's talents also spread into the clefting dept.—being responsible for "Baby Don't Leave Me" and "Right Now" among others.

Etta James—Argo

Etta James hails from Los Angeles where she developed a serious interest while attending high school. The lark's deft handling of a song soon brought her to the attention of Argo Records and a recording contract ensued.

Etta is frequently represented on the R&B chart and her Argo single, "Stop The Wedding" was a best-seller for many weeks. Her versions of "At Last," "Dance With Me Henry," "Something's Got A Hold On Me" and her latest, "Would It Make Any Difference" were all money-making hits.

George Jones—United Artists

George Jones not only copped top honors as this year's most programmed vocalist, his United Artists waxing of "She Thinks I Still Care" was one of the year's top tunes. His rapid rise to stardom is currently being capped off by his "A Girl I Used To Know." "Big Fool Of The Year" double-header.

Jones was born on Sept. 12, 1931, in Sarasota, Texas. At the age of nine he began playing the guitar and at 12 wrote his first song. Uncle Sam beckoned in '51 and in '53, after his discharge from the Marines, he returned to Beaumont, Texas. In '54 he joined the Houston Jamboree, followed this as a regular with Shreveport's Louisiana Hayride and an appearance on the trade charts with his starday original, "Why Baby Why." He then became a favorite with Opry fans in '56, joined the Mercury roster, and smashed thru with "White Lightning" and "Who Shot Sam" among others.

George, is now with UA, along with co-worker and friend George Riddle, who sings harmony and fronts his show, and is in constant demand in the U. S. and Canada.

Bert Kaempfert—Decca

Bert Kaempfert, the German maestro known here for his big 1961 hit, "Wonderland By Night" (a salute to Manhattan), can approach the music business from almost every musical angle. He plays four instruments (piano, his first love, clarinet, saxophone and accordion), composes (e.g. "Wonderland"), arranges and is a producer for Germany's Polydor label (Decca releases his sessions here).

Bert was born in Hamburg, Germany, of an old Hamburg family, and is an only child. Showing musical gifts at an early age, Bert is a graduate of the Hamburg School of Music.

He, his wife and two daughters live in a roomy house in a quiet suburb of Hamburg. His favorite hobbies are fishing and boating, and he enjoys detective stories, wild west novels and a "good" film. His "pet hates" are (1) the telephone, and (2) getting up in the morning.

Kaempfert saw plenty of chart action this year with his singles, "Afrikaan Beat" and "That Happy Feeling."

Claude King—Columbia

Sure-fire proof of the popular acceptance of country artists is Claude King. The chanter is currently picking up dual-market coin with his Columbia wax of "I've Got The World By The Tail."

King was born in Shreveport, Louisiana and spent his childhood in a rural atmosphere. The future star got his first guitar when he was 12 years old which he bought from a farmer for fifty cents. Almost immediately, the youngster began writing songs.

The songster attended the University of Idaho and went to business college in Shreveport. During his school years he participated in baseball and football. Prior to scoring with his current deck, Claude hit with "The Burning Of Atlanta," "Wolverton Mountain," "The Comancheros" and "Big River, Big Man."

When he is not on the road or recording, the chanter can be found enjoying himself with his first great love—hunting.

Kingston Trio—Capitol

When San Francisco publicist Frank Werber heard three collegians singing at The Cracked Pot in town he knew he heard a good thing. Immediately he signed Nick Reynolds, Bob Shane and Dave Guard to a personal mgmt. pact. Because colypso music was in vogue at that time, '57, they chose the name Kingston Trio. They were brought to vocal coach Judy Davis and practiced in a lost above Frisco's "discovery club"—The Purple Onion. They were booked there for a week and were so successful that their try-out was extended to a month-run. Later on, while playing at the hungry 1, they recorded an LP for Capitol. A single, "Tom Dooley," was culled from the successful LP and the meteoric rise followed. Their hit singles now include "Tijuana Jail," "M.T.A.," etc. and in the LP dept. it's "Close Up" and "Something Special" among others.

The trio is made up of Bob Shane, born in Milo, Hawaii, Nick Reynolds, from Coronado, Calif. and John Stewart (formerly of the Cumberland Trio), who replaced Dave Guard—when he went on to form The Whiskeyhill Singers. John was born in Son Diego.

Steve Lawrence—Columbia

One of the most successful nite club acts in the country is the very talented husband & wife team Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme. However, prior to their '57 marriage, the artists were already individual standouts in the recording and entertainment fields.

Steve's first appearance in the public eye was back in January of '52 when he won an Arthur Godfrey Talent Scout show and was invited to appear with the Godfrey cast on radio & TV for a full week. He was heard by the folks at King Records, signed, and shortly afterwards clicked with "Poinciana." A year later, he won out against a host of newcomers and name artists competing for a permanent spot on the nitey Steve Allen TV'er. In '54 he was signed to a Coral wax pact, stepping out with "Party Doll," among others. In '59, he switched over to ABC-Paramount and smashed through the top 10 hit barrier with "Pretty Blue Eyes" and "Footsteps." His "Portrait Of My Love" followed later on the United Artists banner. Steve, now with Columbia, is currently enjoying one of his biggest pop hits in "Go Away Little Girl."

His truly showbiz romance, which started when Eydie was also a regular on the Steve Allen show, led to a Las Vegas wedding and the birth of a son, David. Following the marriage the artists headlined their own hour-long TV'ers. In '58 Steve was inducted into the Army and was assigned as official vocalist of the Army Band-or-k at Ft. Myer, Va., and was used extensively in Army recruiting and U.S. Bonds programs. Since his discharge, Steve & Eydie have become the darlings of the nite club circuit, winning rave reviews everywhere they appear.

Brenda Lee—Decca

Little "Miss Dynamite" started on the road to stardom with her first network TV appearance in 1956, has been overwhelming audiences with her spirited vocalizing ever since.

The explosive bundle of charm, who was born on Dec. 11, 1944 at Atlanta's Emory University Hospital (the second oldest of 4 children), was signed to a long-term Decca pact, almost immediately after her TV bow. From '56 to '60 the chirp ran up a consistent string of best-sellers but it wasn't until her waxing of "Sweet Nothin'" did she attain star disk status. Then she followed with a double-header, "I'm Sorry" and "That's All I Gotta Do," that earned her the first of many gold records. Her smash chain, after that, included "Emotions," "Dum Dum," "Eventually," "I Want To Be Wanted," "Fool No. 1" and "How About Me," "Heart In Hand," "Save All Your Lovin' For Me" and her most recent, "All Alone Am I."

Brenda has now enjoyed appearances on the Perry Como, Steve Allen, Ed Sullivan and Danny Thomas network outings, among others, and has started her acting career with a role in the flick, "The Two Little Bears."

In the past few years, the talented youngster has captured the imagination and hearts of people all over the world. Accompanied by her mgr. Dub Allbritten, Brenda was greeted by an enthusiastic mob scene on her '59, '60 and '61 European and South American jaunts. The President of Brazil tagged her "the best goodwill ambassador that America ever had" while Paris newspapers hailed her as the "most dynamic American artist since Judy Garland."

The Lettermen—Capitol

The diverse backgrounds of the three Lettermen might at first appear to be incompatible, but not so, say the boys who are consistently on the LP charts with their Capitol albums.

Robert Engemann, born Feb. 19, 1936 in Highland Park, Mich., was a missionary for two years and is now an elder in the Mormon Church though just 26. Tony Butalo, born Nov. 20, 1940 in Sharon, Pa., a veteran night club and studio singer, proudly points out that he is one of the few full-blooded Croatians in the world. Croatia, he will tell you, is a small country in Europe now a part of Yugoslavia. Jim Pike, born Nov. 6, 1936, is the one genuine Letterman in the group: he excelled in football at Idaho Falls High School. The group originally organized in 1960, when they met in Los Angeles, and had one release "Their Hearts Were Full Of Spring" for Warner Bros. Individually, Tony had been a member of other groups dating back to the famed Mitchell Boys Choir; Robert had appeared with Lawrence Welk; Jim had performed in the Louis Prima-Keely Smith show at Hollywood's Moulin Rouge. Bob and Jim met at Brigham Young University singing in local groups and then formed the future when they joined up with Tony two years ago.

Enoch Light—Command

Enoch Light, who runs the Command and Grand Award labels for Am-Par, may eventually be dubbed "Mr. Stereo" in the record industry's history books. His success in producing the tremendous "Percussion" smash LP's has been almost unbelievable. His latest venture in the progress of sound was "Stereo 35 mm," which produced a number of big LP's. In 1962, Command began a series of musical comedy and spoken word LP's with releases of "Carousel" and "School for Scandal," respectively.

Light, who holds a B.A. from Johns Hopkins and an M.A. from New York University, achieved national recognition as one of America's ten top bandleaders in the late 1930's, and has been starred at leading hotels and theatres.

He has recorded for RCA Victor and Columbia and cut many hit albums including "The Original Roaring 20's" and "The Knuckles O'Toole" honky-tonk albums. Light is a member of the Johns Hopkins Club, the New York University Club, The Lambs, the National Association of Composers and ASCAP.

The Limelighters—RCA Victor

The Limelighters, whose trademark in music is their ability to effectively combine humor with harmony, are as erudite as they are talented. Their musical background is highlighted by best-selling albums for RCA Victor and SRO performances at supper clubs and concert halls throughout the country.

Lou Gottlieb, comic spokesman for the group, attended the University of California where he earned a Ph.D. in musicology for his dissertation on 15th Century cyclic masses. He has done arrangements for the Kingston Trio and was an original member of the Gateway Singers.

Glenn Yarbrough, lyric tenor and classical guitarist, attended St. John's College in Annapolis and studied philosophy at Mexico City College. Banjo-playing baritone Alex Hassilev was born in Paris of Russian parentage. He fluently speaks five languages and sings in eleven more.

The boys saw a lot of chart action during the year with their LP's, "Sing Out," "Through Children's Eyes" and "Folk Matinee," all on RCA Victor.

Judy Lynn—United Artists

From Idaho, the United Artists recording artist has made numerous personal appearances with such top names as Elvis Presley, Eddy Arnold, Red Foley and Rex Allen. As early as 1954 she was sharing emcee chores with Les Paul and Mary Ford on "Grand Ole Opry." With formation of "The Judy Lynn Show" about seven years ago, she toured the country, most of the territories and several foreign countries. "Footsteps of a Fool" is the title of the hit U.A. single to bring the comedy lass to the attention of country fans and capture the vote as Most Promising Female Artist by the nation's country music deejays.

Loretta Lynn—Decca

When Loretta Lynn first came to Nashville, on a promo tour in behalf of her bow on Zero Records, she visited the offices of the Wilburn Bros. The fellas, Doyle & Teddy, liked what they heard and arranged to have her records distributed on a wider scale here and signed her to their Wil-Helm Agency.

The lark started her singing career in Custer, Wash., where she had moved from her home state of Kentucky. She started her own band there and while working a long club date was discovered by Zera execs. Her initial outings on the label, including "I'm A Hanky Tank Girl," received so much deejay acceptance that Decca officials grabbed up her contract. On Decca she immediately clicked with "I Walked Away From The Wreck" and recently rode high with her biggest deck to date, the appropriately titled "Success."

George Maharis—Epic

Maharis, who made his chart debut with "Teach Me Tonight" and more recently with "Baby Has Gone Bye Bye" on an Epic, began his show business career as a singer, working the night club and band circuits. After touring the midwest with a group called the Singing Mariners, he returned to his hometown of Gotham to study acting.

His first professional job was in Wally Cox's "Mr. Peepers" TV show, playing a Marlon type character. Immediately, the name Maharis climbed high on the preferred lists of network casting directors.

Numerous appearances in off-Broadway, summer stock and television productions followed. George's big break came when he landed the leading role in "The Zoo Story." News of his success soon reached Hollywood and Maharis was given a part in Otto Preminger's "Exodus." Currently, Maharis has a co-starring role in the CBS-TV'er "Route 66."

Despite many professional commitments, Maharis keeps the pace of a popular bachelor. He maintains his boxing prowess and pursues an active interest in the legit scene.

The thespian-chamber's first LP tagged "George Maharis Sings!" made a solid chart impression.

Henry Mancini—RCA Victor

Henry Mancini, composer-arranger-conductor has played a major role in bringing jazz to TV with his musical backgrounds for the "Peter Gunn" and "Mr. Lucky" series and is currently the hottest writer of feature flick scores. Mancini was born April 16, 1924, in Cleveland, the son of a steel worker who used to play flute in his spare time. His father sent Hank to Carnegie Tech Music School, and the Juilliard Institute. He has been a staff composer and arranger at Universal Pictures since 1952 and among the films to his credit is "The Glenn Miller Story." He wrote the score for the Bing Crosby film "High Time," and his score to "Breakfast At Tiffany's" which he wrote as well as recorded for RCA Victor, was a fabulous soundtrack seller. "Moon River" is the film's most famous selection, won an Academy Award as the top film song of 1961. He also composed music for club acts including those of such stars as Dinah Shore, Polly Bergen, Billy Eckstine and Betty Hutton. Hank lives in Northridge, California with his wife and three children.

Mantovani—London

A comic routine ends with the line 'if everybody in the world would play a violin each day we would all be bigger and better than Mantovani. Although it may be stretching the point a bit one would still have to go pretty far to match the sounds of Mantovani's "cascading strings."

The maestra is, undoubtedly, one of the most popular rock leaders in the world. Everyone of his more than 20 album releases has been a best-seller in the U. S. and on many occasions he has scored heavily in the singles dept. His tours here have also met with fantastic success.

Born in Venice, Annunzio Paolo Mantovani, he inherited his sense of beauty and good taste from his father, who was first violinist at the famed La Scala in Milan, reigned over at that time by Arturo Toscanini.

His family then moved to England where they settled. His father tried his best to steer Monty into engineering but he stuck to his violin lessons. His love for music won out and at 20 Monty was leading his own orchestra at London's Hotel Metropole. London Records has been cashing in on his talent ever since.

The Marvelettes—Tamla

The postman only had to ring once for Tamla Records' female singing group, The Marvelettes, when he delivered their smash first record, "Please Mr. Postman." Since then the group has come thru with such money-makers as "Twistin' Postman," "Playboy," "Beechwood 4-5789" and their current stand, "Strange I Know."

The group is comprised of Gladys Horton, lead singer; Katherine Anderson, Georgeanna Tillman, Juanita Cowart and Wanda Young; all are in their senior year at Inkster High School in suburban Detroit. It was at an Inkster High School talent show earlier this year that the girls were "discovered" by Tamla Records' prexy Berry Gordy, Jr. Impressed with the girls' performance he arranged a private audition and then signed them to a recording contract.

On the strength of this hit a round of theatre dates across the country is in the works. They've already chalked up impressive stints at Washington's Howard Theatre and Baltimore's Royal Theatre. An LP is forthcoming soon.

Johnny Mathis—Columbia

A singer who offered straight ballad singles in 1956, when rock 'n roll had already taken over the singles market, could hardly expect more than meager sales.

However, Johnny Mathis, certainly in the crooning class, was able to buck the teen-beat tide with an outstanding record of singles successes that carried nary a sign of rock 'n roll.

With "better" pop songs, Mathis proved a "good-music" oasis with such singles hits as "Wonderful, Wonderful," "It's Nat for Me to Say," "Chances Are," "Wild is the Wind," "A Certain Smile," "Marla" and recently with "Gina," and host of top albums, including "Johnny's Greatest Hits," which has passed the half-million mark in sales.

These triumphs have extended Mathis' fame to concert halls, niteries, TV and pics, where he has sung the title song an three soundtracks "Lizzie," "Wild is the Wind" and "A Certain Smile".

Johnny, one of seven children, chief claim to fame, at first, was as an outstanding all-around athlete in George Washington High in San Francisco, his hometown, and San Francisco State College in high school, he established a local high-jump record, 6' 5 1/2", that has been matched only four times in the history of the Olympics. An infarml Sunday afternoon jam session at San Francisco's Black Hawk niterie, then co-owned by Helen Noga, his manager, Johnny sang a number with the group. Helen heard him, ending Johnny's plans to teach physical education, starting a career that now shines brightly.

Jimmy McGriff—Sue

Jimmy McGriff, who recently rode the charts with "I've Got A Woman" on Sue, was born in Philadelphia and attended Germantown High School. He attended Penn Institute of Criminology for one year then decided to make music a full-time career. After mastering the alto sax and bass fiddle he formed his trio in 1958. He started playing the organ only two and a half years ago.

The artist had his first break earlier this year when he was appearing at the Parkview Night Club in Trenton. Floyd Hall, who is now his personal manager, heard him at the club and took the young hopeful under his wing. A few months later he recorded his current chart-rider.

McGriff is a protege of Jimmy Smith who tutored him and helped him develop his distinctive organ style. He has played with such outstanding artists as Don Gardner, Arthur Prysock and Carmen McCrae.

Vaughn Meader—Cadence

One of Vaughn Meader's assets is a resemblance to President Kennedy . . . he even has the same kind of haircut. In his takeoff of the President on the fastest-selling album in history, "The First Family," he perfectly captures the voice of the chief executive.

The laughman was born in Boston and was graduated from Brookline High School. He worked for WCOP-Boston prior to going into the Army for a four-year hitch. Vaughn started his show business as a pianist in the country field and switched to comedy while playing clubs around New England. Eventually, he came to New York and landed an engagement at the Phase 2 in Greenwich Village. He got his first big break on a "Talent Scouts" TV show this summer.

Since then, Vaughn has been signed for numerous appearances on television. He also has been set to play many of the top supper clubs throughout the country, and has recently completed a three-week engagement at the Blue Angel in New York.

Mitch Miller—Columbia

Since May, 1958, when Mitch Miller's first sing-along LP was issued, only perhaps the comedy LP has had as great an impact in the LP field than Mitch's sing-along issues.

With well-over 2 million sales accounted for in his entire sing-along series, Miller has translated the sing-along idea into one of today's most popular TV shows.

Before his association with the sing-along LP's, Miller was a top producer at Columbia Records (his label for the last 11 years), producing such successes as Tony Bennett's "Rags to Riches," Percy Faith's "Sang from Moulin Rouge," Johnny Mathis' "Chances Are" and his own "Yellow Rose of Texas."

Like George M. Cohan before him, Mitch was born on July 4 1911 in Rochester, N. Y. In high school, he learned how to play the oboe, and is today considered one of the top classical oboe players. At 15, he was second oboist in the Eastman School of Music's symphony orchestra, though seven years younger than any of his colleagues. He played professionally with the Syracuse Symphony, Rochester Philharmonic and others.

In 1936, Mitch joined CBS radio, where for 11 years he played with the broadcasting orchestras of Percy Faith and Andre Kostelanetz, the Roth String Quartet, the Budapest Quartet and the Mannes Trio.

Before joining Columbia Records in 1950, Mitch was an A&R man for Mercury Records.

The Miracles—Tamla

Among the more consistent vocal group names around today are The Miracles, a young members are all nineteenish quintet composed of four guys and a gal.

The team got off to a tremendous start on records with a item called "Shop Around," and, since that time, it has scored with such titles as "What's So Good About Goodbye" and "Cookin'."

Names at the members, all Detroiters, are Warren Moore, Robert Rogers, Donald White, Bill Robinson and Claudette Rodgers, who is married to Robinson.

They are managed by Berry Gordy, Jr., an exec of Tamla/Motown Records.

Johnny & Jonie Mosby—Columbia

The team of Johnny and Jonie Mosby was started in 1957, when Johnny hired Jonie as a vocalist for his West coast dance band. The merger became permanent when they were married in 1958.

The talented twosome were signed to their first recording contract by Gene Autry who was then head of Challenge Records for which they recorded "Just Before Dawn" and "Tijuana Jail." After their affiliation with Challenge, they went on to become performers and producers for Toppa during which time they made the successful "Ain't You Ever." Currently, Johnnie & Jonie are under contract to Columbia Records and their recent hit was "I'd Fight The World."

Johnny is 27 and a native of Fort Smith, Arkansas, and Jonie is 22 and was born in Hollywood. They are the parents of two children, Tammy and Tracy.

Rick Nelson—Imperial

At 21, Rick Nelson is already a veteran of 13 years in radio and television as co-star of the real life family comedy series, ABC-TV's "The Adventures Of Ozzie And Harriet"—that also stars brother David and his wife.

He was born Eric Hilliard Nelson, May 8, 1940 in Teaneck, N.J. the son of showbiz parents—bandleader Ozzie Nelson and thrush Harriet Hilliard. His first appearance on the long-running 118 years' series was at the age of 8. Since 1951 he has grown up in full sight of millions of TV viewers.

When he turned 16 he branched out on his own as a singer. His first session for Imperial Records, "I'm Walkin'" and "Teenager's Romance" was a twin success and he's been turning out two-sided smashes ever since. Among his chart double-headers are "Stood-Up," "Waitin' In School," "Never Be Anyone Else But You," "I Got A Feelin'," "Lonesome Town," "Teenage Idol" and his current hit duo, "It's Up To You" and "I Need You." Among his LP chart triumphs are "Ricky, Ricky Nelson," "Ricky Sings Again" and "Ricky Is 21."

Also included in the youngster's fabulous career are starring stints in the flicks, "Ria Brava" and "The Wackiest Ship In The Army," among others. He is also a fine athlete and has ranked high in amateur tennis standings.

Sandy Nelson—Imperial

Imperial's Sandy Nelson has developed into one of the most consistent money-making percussionists around today. At 20 Nelson, who hails from California, has turned out hit upon hit in both the singles and LP fields. Prior to his initial success on Original Sound, "Teen Beat," Nelson had been playing drums with local bands and on recording sessions. Since joining Imperial Nelson has clicked big with "And Then There Were Drums," "Let There Be Drums," "Live It Up" and "Drums Are My Beat" among others.

Bob Newhart—Warner Bros.

One of the recent disk biz phenomenons has been the great popularity of the spoken word-comedy albums. Bob Newhart has been one of the major contributors to the success of the comedy LP. His humor, which a columnist has perfectly described as "poignant, funny little anecdotes which sharply penetrate today's confused thinking" has already landed him a 20-Century Fox film contract.

Newhart, a native Chicagoan, earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Loyola University and then studied law there for 2 years. He has worked at such varied jobs as accountant, cigar clerk, copywriter, shoe clerk and was on the staff of the State Unemployment Dept.—all of which provided him with a wealth of background material.

Bob's first nightclub appearance was on Feb. 1, 1960 at the Swank Tidelands Club in Dallas, Texas. His smash stand there was followed by an Elmwood Casino (Windsor, Ont.) stint and then on to a 3-weeker at Mister Kelly's in Chicago, starting Apr. 4. Later on that month Warner Bros. released his "Button Down Mind" LP, which took just about 7 weeks to hit the top spot in the nation's best selling charts. His meteoric rise after that LP, included shots on the top TV shows and nite spots around the country and two more top outings. He was also a NARAS triple Grammy Award winner in '61. This year he had his own NBC network TV'er.

Roy Orbison—Monument

Roy Orbison's dad, an oil-rig driller, has spent his life searching for black gold in the oilfields of Texas. Roy, a one-time geology student, who gave up his pick-ax for a guitar pick, has made his strike in the recording studios of Nashville.

Roy, now 26, grew up in the oil town of Wink, Texas. When his dad wasn't drilling for oil he was playing a guitar and taught Roy how to play when he was 6. He was barely in his teens when he was leading "The Wink Westerners" and conducting a talent show over the local radio station. At 16 he represented the Lone Star state at the Int'l Lions Conclave in Chicago. While a geology major at North Texas State a fellow student (and disk artist at the time) Pat Boone helped convince him to look for gold records instead of black gold.

In April of '56, he was signed to Sun Records by topper Sam Phillips and later on made chart noise with "Dooby Dooby." In '58 he signed a clobber-mgm't pact with Wesley Rose. Then he moved over to RCA Victor and from there on to Foster's Monument label, coming up with a "Top 10" outing in "Uptown." Then came his "Only The Lonely" and he's been smashing through ever since as evidenced by his "Cryin'," "Runnin' Scared," "Candy Man," "Working For The Man" and "Leah" chart triumphs.

Buck Owens—Capitol

Buck Owens in a very short space of time has become one of the outstanding new artists in the Country Music field. Buck started in country music as a lead guitar player and was the featured instrumentalist on many recordings. He was doing very well for himself as a guitar player when he decided to give singing a try. His efforts in this new venture were for Pop records, a small California label, were brought to the attention of Capitol Records. Since joining the roster he has turned out a host of hits that include "Under Your Spell Again" (his first big success), "Excuse Me," "Above And Beyond," "Second Fiddle," "Under The Influence Of Love" and a pair with Rose Maddox, "Mental Cruelty" and "Loose Talk." He's an outstanding song-writer as well, cleffing many of his own chart outings. He also has Kitty Wells' "Mammy Far A Day" to his credit.

His most recent successes include "Save The Last Dance For Me" and "House Down The Block." Born in Sherman, Texas, on Aug. 12, 1929, Buck was plinking on his mother's piano at the Pentecostal Church as soon as he could reach the keyboard. By the time he was 13 his musical ability was so apparent that his parents bought him a mandolin.

By the time he was 21 Buck played sufficient guitar to get a job with a band in a Bakersfield (Calif.) club. Later Owens joined Bill Woods' band in Bakersfield, played on the "Chuck Wagon" TV show there, became a part-time disk jockey. He even owned his own station, KAYE, in Tacoma, Wash., for a time.

He lives in Bakersfield with his wife, Phyllis, and 3 children.

"THE NATION'S BEST SELLING RECORDS"

Peter, Paul & Mary—Warner Bros.

Life-long interests in folk music led Peter, Paul and Mary to Greenwich Village, where they became a trio. The group toured the country from the Blue Angel to the hungry I developing their style and acquiring a loyal group of admirers. Their fortunes began to rise rapidly when they cut an album for Warner Brothers tagged after themselves. A single, "Lemon Tree," taken from the disk brought the trio into the national limelight. The album is currently riding high on the charts.

Peter Yarrow, who was born in New York in 1937, took a psychology degree at Cornell University where he was an instructor in a folk ballad course. He was discovered at the Newport Festival in 1960 and toured the nation as a solo performer.

Paul Stookey, who was born twenty-five years ago in Birmingham, Mich., thumped an electric guitar for a high school rock 'n roll group on local TV and emceed his way through Michigan State University.

Mary Allin Travers was born in Louisville, Ky., in 1937. She has appeared with several teen-age folk groups and has made it to Carnegie Hall twice. She is the only member of the group with Broadway credits having appeared in "Mr. President" with Mort Sahl.

The group had two singles on the chart this year with "Lemon Tree" and "If I Had A Hammer."

Platters—Mercury

Vocal groups, particularly in the area of rock 'n roll come-and-go, but The Platters have been on top since 1955, when they cut their first big hit, "Only You," for Mercury Records, still their label.

In addition to consistent disk success, the team has become a major personal appearance attraction in many parts of the world.

The quartet consists of Zola Taylor, its only femme voice, who also dances, plays piano and writes songs; Sonny Turner, the vocalist who replaced Tony Williams (now a solo performer) as its lead; Paul Robi, the group's baritone voice; Herbert Reed, a bass who was once a member of the "Wings Over Jordan" Choir; and David Lynch, who does the lead work on most of The Platters jump numbers.

It's been noted that The Platters are performing 325 nights out of the year somewhere in the world. Their manager is Buck Ram, who as a writer gave the team such smash vehicles as the aforementioned "Only You" and "The Great Pretender."

Over the last few years, the group has turned to evergreens for disk material, and has scored with such oldies as "Harbor Lights," "Ebb Tide," "My Prayer" and "To Each His Own."

Elvis Presley—RCA Victor

Every era has its national phenomena—Babe Ruth, Marilyn Monroe, Charles Lindbergh, Shirley Temple and a few select others. Elvis Presley is one of those rare phenomena. His fantastic acceptance and unbelievable sales success throughout the world are unmatched by any other recording artist popular for the same short period of time as Elvis. He is truly an artist in a class all by himself. Elvis Aaron Presley was born January 8, 1935 in Tupelo, Miss., to Vernon Presley, a paint factory employee and the late Gladys Presley. Elvis is the survivor of identical twins. There were no other children in the family. He graduated from Hume High School in Memphis. It was pure chance that brought him to a professional career and overnight fame. Elvis was going to school during the day and studying nights to be an electrician when he decided to make an amateur recording as a gift for his mother. He went to the Sun Record Company, in Memphis, and cut a record titled "That's All Right Mama." Sam Phillips, Sun's president, heard the youngster sing and saw possibilities in his unique style. He asked Elvis to leave his name for a possible audition at a later date.

Presley heard no more from Phillips for a year and a half and meantime had taken up truck driving, it being a more lucrative job ($35.00 a week) than ushering at the theatre ($14.00 a week). Then Phillips called and before Elvis knew what had happened, he was rushed into a recording session, a contract was signed, and "That's All Right Mama" with "Blue Moon Of Kentucky" on the other side, was released.

The night the record was played over Memphis station WHBQ, 14 telegrams and 47 phone calls hit the station during the three hour broadcast and Disc Jockey Dewey Phillips had to play the same record seven times. During the week that followed seven thousand of Presley's first records were sold in Memphis alone.

Soon RCA Victor heard the reverberations from the South, and bought Presley's contract from Sun, along with his original recordings and four additional discs. "Mystery Train," backed by "I Forgot To Remember To Forget" was one of the Sun recordings released under the RCA Victor label and was soon a run away hit. This was followed by Victor's "Heartbreak Hotel," backed by "I Was The One."

From then on, Elvis' records were the sensation of the music world. He has twenty-eight gold records and even held his leadership in his field while he was in the Army. He has an endless list of top hits.

Personal appearances, always accompanied by the screams of a sudden legion of teen-age worshippers, and nationwide TV Guest Appearances (frequently stirring up controversy because of his eloquent hip movements and gestures which accompany his singing) had been the inevitable result of his fame, and in 1956 Elvis signed a picture deal with Hollywood Producer Hal Wallis, and the deal to make his film debut for the 20th-Fox in "Love Me Tender."

Elvis followed this with "Loving You," "Jailhouse Rock" and "King Creole," all of which were enormously successful. For example, 20th Century-Fox estimated that the negative cost of "Love Me Tender" was recouped in the first three days of release, an accomplishment probably without equal in the industry's history.

However, in March, 1958, Elvis was "signed" by the U. S. Army and after basic training at Fort Hood, Texas, he was shipped to Germany in September of that year for duty with the famed 3rd Armored Division. Most entertainers end up in the Army's Special Services, but Elvis took his soldiering in the line and was honorably discharged in March 1960, with an excellent record and the rate of buck sergeant.

He made one television appearance on the Frank Sinatra "special" for a reported $150,000 then reported to Hal Wallis for a film, "G. I. Blues." He then came to 20th Century-Fox for his starring role in "Flaming Star." Highlighting his 1962 efforts were the films "Blue Hawaii," "Girls Girls Girls," both big soundtrack sellers for Victor. One of his smash singles was "Return to Sender."

James Ray—Caprice

Singer Ray is a strong, newer name in the pop-R&B area. The 21-year-old performer, a native of Washington, D. C., has made the grade in a big way with several singles. They include "If You Gotta Make a Fool Out of Somebody" and "Itty Bitty Pieces." Ray has had varied exposure, with the performer making stands on radio-TV and doing niter and other p.a. stints. He lists sports as his prime hobby.

Jim Reeves—RCA Victor

Jim Reeves—one of Country (and Pop) music's most consistent hit-makers is a real westerner—having been born in Panola County, Texas. When he was a boy, too young to learn an instrument, he talked his brother into buying a guitar to accompany him as he spent more and more time singing. In a short while he was able to play the guitar himself and at the age of nine, he was already making his first appearances before audiences. When Jim was ten, he was making $15 per week from his talent, by singing at radio station KRMD in Shreveport, La. However, show biz wasn't really his goal; Jim wanted to be a big league ball player, and while in the University of Texas on an athletic scholarship he began to show promise on the diamond. After graduation he signed with the St. Louis Cardinals as a pitcher. Toward the end of his initial season he was injured sliding into first and the team's doctor advised against any more baseball. That was when he slid into show business as an announcer on the famous Louisiana Hayride show, finally becoming featured vocalist and record star with the release of his first hit, Mexican Joe. From that time on it was Hittsville—all the way—as he chalked up Bimbo, Am I Losing You?, Four Walls, He'll Have To Go and his very latest on RCA-Victor, I'm Gonna Change Everything. Jim lives in Nashville with his lovely wife, Mary.

Marty Robbins—Columbia

Versatile Columbia hit-maker Marty Robbins has written well over hundreds of songs. He has also appeared in a number of Hollywood movies, including "The Gun and the Gavel," "The Badge of Marshal Brennan," "The Western Musketeers," and "Buffalo Guns." His tremendous pop-country hit line-up includes "A White Sport Coat," "Singing The Blues," "Don't Worry," "Knee Deep In The Blues," "Big Iron," "Jimmy Martinez" and "El Paso," which was culled from his LP smash, "Gunfighter Ballads And Trail Songs," and "Devil Woman."

Born in Arizona, near the small town of Glendale, Marty moved with his family to Phoenix when he was 12 years old. At 19, he enlisted in the Navy and spent three years on a Pacific Island, where he taught himself to strum the guitar and began to compose songs. After Navy service, Marty tried many jobs and in his spare time he was writing songs.

Through a friend whose band was booked at a Phoenix nightclub, Marty made his singing debut. He sang several times as a guest, was later engaged for his first paying job as a guitarist in the band.

In time, Marty had his own radio show and a television program called "Western Caravan." His versatile style was developed on these programs on which he ranged from gospel songs and blues to Western ballads. Besides two radio programs daily and a weekly television show, Marty made frequent guest appearances on "Grand Ole Opry," becoming a regular member in 1953. He then began to make recordings, chiefly of his own works.

David Rose—MGM

David Rose, who came up with a number one single this year with his instrumental tagged, "The Stripper," began thinking about a musical career when he was just a youngster in Chicago.

Starting with Saturday morning music lessons and keeping up with his studies all through school, he ultimately attended the Chicago School of Music. Upon graduation from high school, his first band job was making arrangements. He was so successful at arranging that he soon was working with Hollywood studios. In Hollywood his reputation as a top-notch composer-arranger-conductor continued to grow.

Rose's activities and interests cover a broad field. He has cut many selections for MGM Records, including his own compositions. He has arranged and conducted for the Red Skelton TV show, as well as NBC Television "spectaculars."

For many years Rose has been the conductor of the Pasadena Pops Concerts at Santa Anita and has conducted the David Rose concerts at Hollywood Bowl. The musician, who likes to enrich his musical background by exploring the tunes of other nations, goes abroad at least once a year.

The conductor's LP tagged after "The Stripper," was on the album charts for more than half a year.

Bobby Rydell—Cameo

When Bobby Rydell was enthusiastically acclaimed for his niter bow at New York's Copa in June, '61 he embarked on what could be the most important phase of his still-young career.

Born Robert Louis Rildarell on April 26, 1942, in Philadelphia, Bobby's career actually began when Paul Whiteman took him under his wing after winning a place on "Pops'" show. It was also Whiteman who suggested the name change to Rydell. A few years later Bobby joined a rock 'n roll group called Rocco and the Saints—of which Frankie Avalon was also a member. It was when the group was playing a New Jersey night club that Bobby met Frankie Day—a bass player club that Bobby met Frankie Day—a bass player with another group. This meeting proved the turning point for Rydell, for Day had him signed to a Cameo recording contract and began a personal grooming campaign which included music and dance lessons and vocal coaching. The long hours paid big dividends when Bobby's records began to hit with regularity and new niter acts in one of the most exciting new niter acts in the business. Bobby's long, long chain of singles hits recently included "The Cha Cha Cha" and he just added another dimension to his career with a featured roll in the up-coming pic version of "Bye Bye Birdie."

Linda Scott—Congress

Born Linda Joy Sampson on June 1, 1945 in Queens, N.Y., Linda Scott has been performing as a singer since she was 4 years old. She moved to Teaneck, N.J., when she was 11 and went to Teaneck High School. For the last two years she has been dividing her time between appearances at local functions and preparing for a disk career—which materialized when "I've Told Ev'ry Little Star" smashed into the top of the charts. Her next Canadian-American release, "Don't Bet Money" / "Starlight, Starbright," continued her success by scoring on both sides and so did her follow-up single, "I Don't Know Why" / "It's All Because."

In Jan. of '62 the canary moved over to the Congress label and clicked there with "Never In A Million Years," "Yessiree," and "I Left My Heart In The Balcony" among others. Currently, Linda's preparing her nite club bow.

Neil Sedaka—RCA Victor

At 22, Neil Sedaka is one of the most consistent hit-makers in the record business today. This pinnacle has not only been attained through his hit records for RCA Victor but through his song writing talents as well. With lyric writer Howard Greenfield, Sedaka has produced "Stupid Cupid," "Falin'" and "Frankie" for Connie Francis; "Since You've Been Gone" for Clyde McPhatter, "I Waited Too Long" for La Verne Baker and "Time Marches On" for Roy Hamilton. He has also written all his own hits, which include "Calendar Girl," "Little Devil," "You Mean Everything to Me," "Happy Birthday Sweet Sixteen," "Breakin' Up Is Hard to Do" and "Next Door to an Angel."

Another facet of the Sedaka talent is his proficiency as a classical pianist. A graduate of the famed Juilliard School of Music, Sedaka had nurtured a desire to become a concert pianist until he met Howie Greenfield, a neighbor of his in Brooklyn. Together they've built up a fantastic repertoire of pop songs over the few years they've been a team.

The most ambitious undertaking by the team was to write the entire score for the MGM film, "Where The Boys Are."

Dee Dee Sharp—Cameo

The lark, who now has three sales gliders under her belt in "Mashed Potatoes," "Gravy" and "Ride," started her rise to stardom when she answered a newspaper ad for a girl singer. Although only fifteen, she felt sure that she could fill the bill. Dee Dee's confidence in her ability was justified. Soon the young lark found herself doing background on recordings at various Philadelphia wax sessions.

As recording companies are always looking for news sounds, Dee Dee eventually auditioned for Cameo-Parkway. As part of a group she did the background on a Cameo recording that was never released. However A&R director Dave Appell was so impressed with what he heard that he asked her to sing for him alone. Unfortunately, for Dee Dee the diskery was too busy at the time to record her.

Several months later Chubby Checker cut a new tune entitled "Slow Twistin'" which seemed to lack the punch that distinguished all of his past efforts. Bernie Lowe, topper of Cameo-Parkway, came up with the idea of using a female vocalist to give the record added sound. The thrush was called in for the session and Lowe was so overwhelmed with her talent that he decided to record her first solo disk that same night. The rest is history.

The Shirelles—Scepter

The Shirelles, composed of Shirley Owens, Addie Harris, Doris Kenner and Beverly Lee, began their musical activities as most young stars today. They were discovered while performing at their high school talent show. That was in the fall of 1957 and the girls have come a long way since their amateur performing days in Passaic, New Jersey.

Outcome of the talent show was a Decca Records contract. Their first release was "I Met Him On Sunday," which immediately established their act as a show biz attraction.

Then began their association with Scepter Records, the label formed by their manager Florence Greenberg. On Scepter the girls scored first with "Dedicated To The One I Love" and have since clicked with "Tonight's The Night," "Will You Love Me Tomorrow," "Mama Said," "Things Of The Past," "What A Sweet Thing That Was," "Big John," "Baby It's You," and "Soldier Boy."

Allan Sherman—Warner Brothers

Allan Sherman is one of the few professional comedy writers who performs in front of audiences just as wittily as he writes for others. Entering show business as a gag writer and comedy brain for many top comics, Sherman, with his runaway best-selling Warner Bros. LP of "My Son, the Folk Singer" has emerged from anonymity to convulse audiences on his own.

Sherman has had plenty of experience in comedy to prepare him for his recording debut. Born in Chicago on November 30, 1924, he had one of the most eclectic educations in history, having served time in 21 public schools. This well-travelled childhood may in part be due to Allan's father, who was a racing driver and automotive engineer as well as inventor of a coal mining machine.

His writing activities began at the University of Illinois, where he studied journalism as well as wrote book and lyrics, starred and directed three consecutive Varsity Shows. About this time, World War II arrived. Following the war, Sherman set out for show business. He created special material mostly of the nightclub variety, for such performers as Jerry Lester, Joe E. Lewis, Jackie Gleason and Frances Faye.

Currently living the life of Sherman in Bel Air, California, Allan adds to his busy life the problems and joys connected with his family: wife, a boy 12 and a girl 9.

Jimmy Smith—Blue Note

Jimmy Smith is one of a handful of performers who have given the organ a place-in-the-sun in the world of jazz.

As an exclusive devotee of the famed jazz diskery, Blue Note, he has filled the jazz LP catalog with no less than 20 LP's of his artistry as a jazz organist. In 1962, he made big pop singles noise with his Blue Note diskings of "Midnight Special."

And on album of his for the Verve label, released in 1962, gave him another Top 100 side, LP, tagged "Boshin," was the source of a hit single, "Walk on the Wild Side," the flick main-tile.

Smith was born in Norrislawn, Pa. on Dec. 8, 1926. Both his mother and father played piano, and it was his dad who gave him his first formal instruction on the keyboard.

At the Orenstein School of Music in Philly, he studied piano, bass fiddle, harmony and theory. After wartime service, he returned home and joined a number of jazz groups that played around the Newark, N.J. area. While with Don Gardner and His Sonatones, he heard Wild Bill Davis, credited as being the first modern pianist to switch to organ. He, too, switched to the organ, and by 1955, he decided to lead his own group, the first of which consisted of fellow Philadelphians Thorne Schwartz and drummer Donald Bailey. The trio clicked as an intermission group at New York's Cafe Bohemia. Since then, he has appeared at top jazz niteries and jazz festivals, and in 1962 made his first trip to Europe where he appeared at the Antibes Jazz Festival.

Smith lives in the Germantown area of Philadelphia with his wife, the former Joy Gains, a school teacher, and their 2-year-old son, Jimmy, Jr.

Frank Sinatra—Reprise

There are no "comeback" awards in show business, but if there were, Frank Sinatra would have surely been the recipient of one.

During the early and late Forties, Frank, as the bobbysox idol, was one of the remarkable figures of the entertainment world. For the first few years of the Fifties, he was one of its most neglected.

But there's where the "comeback" award comes in, in 1953 he was well on his way back to the top, not ironically, through singing, but via his Academy Award winning role as "Maggie" in the film version of "From Here to Eternity." He is again one of the remarkable figures in the entertainment world.

Frank, born in Hoboken, N. Y., decided to become a singer after seeing, in 1936, a Bing Crosby picture. From his own group, The Hoboken Four, Frank went on to become a vocalist with Harry James, and later with Tommy Dorsey's Pied Pipers, going-it-alone in 1942.

After long disk careers with Columbia and Capitol, Frank formed his own label, Reprise.

Besides his singing and acting, his knowledge of classical music has been noted as "astounding," and his diverse interests include naval warfare.

Frank's current Reprise chart-making package is "All Alone." In the singles field he's teamed up with label-mate Sammy Davis, Jr. on "Me And My Shadow," and with Dean Martin on the flip, "Sam's Song."

Bobby Vinton—Epic

Vinton, who hit the top slot with his Epic bow, "Roses Are Red" and followed with "Rain, Rain Go Away," and is currently hot with a two-sided, "Let's Kiss And Make Up" and "Trouble Is My Middle Name" on Epic, organized his first band in high school playing proms and parties for students at Duquesne University which was near his hometown of Canonsburg, Pa. Later Vinton formed a second group which was soon a favorite at teen dances in Pittsburgh. The youngster began singing a few of the numbers with the orchestra and his vocals soon became the band's most popular feature.

Bobby's career went into high gear in 1960 when Guy Lombardo discovered him at a hop outside Pittsburgh. Some TV dates followed and soon Vinton was on his way to stardom.

In November of 1960 Bobby's crew was featured as the band of the month on NBC's Saturday Prom and played with a succession of stars including Bobby Vee and Sam Cooke. Bobby continued his fast pace in 1961, making a nationwide tour with Tony Orlando. More club dates followed—the rest is history.

Bobby likes sports, particularly baseball, which he plays almost as expertly as he does the saxophone. The multi-talented performer is currently studying acting and reading plays.

Rusty Warren—Jubilee

The public doesn't hear Rusty Warren play Beethoven piano sonatas, but for much of her life the odds were in favor of Rusty Warren, concert pianist.

Rusty, who has sold at least a million copies of risque comedy LP's on Jubilee, is a graduate 119501 of the New England Conservatory.

She entered the school on being a concert pianist, but after the first year, she began to have reservations about the concert field ("too much talent going unrecognized") and no "temperament and dedication to the art to fight these obstacles") and switched to popular music.

During semesters, she worked in small night clubs and hotels, first at singing and playing, then adding comedy to her routine.

The turning point in her career was when Stanford Zucker, the agent, saw her perform, become her agent, and brought her to California to perform. Her first taste of real success came at the Pump Room in Phoenix, where in 1958 she cut her first LP, "Songs for Sinners." Her other hit LP's are "Knockers Up," "Sinsational" and "Rusty Warren In Orbit."

Rusty's hometown is Milton, Mass.

Hank Thompson—Capitol

The versatile Hank Thompson has been up among the front runners for a number of years now, either as a vocalist, guitarist, composer or ark leader. This year, Hank and his Brazos Valley Boys have, once again, been named the most programmed band in a poll conducted among the platter spinners of country music. Also the outfit continues to be booked solid around the country, playing many spots that are usually dominated by pop artists.

The Thompson story began back in Waco, Texas, on Sept. 3, 1925, the year Henry William was born. After mastering the harmonica Hank turned to the guitar—which so impressed officials of a flour company, when they heard him over WACO, that he was sponsored on an early morning show as "Hank The Hired Hand." A '43 to '46 hitch in the Navy followed. He then auditioned as a singer on KWTX-Waco, and won a noon-time slot. His activities broadened when he put together the Brazos Valley Boys and played dances and shows throughout Central Texas. Label-mate Tex Ritter became a fan and introduced him to Capitol officials. The rest is wax history.

Sue Thompson—Hickory

One of the biggest success stories in the past year belongs to Sue Thompson. The Hickory star skyrocketed out of the ranks of the unknowns when she stepped out with "Sad Movies" and followed with "Norman." Since then she's had "Have A Good Time," "Two Of A Kind," "James (Hold The Ladder Steady)" and her current contender, "Willie Con." She's also represented in the LP dept. with "Meel Sue Thompson." In addition to establishing her own fame, Sue gave the Hickory label it's first pop hit. The lark, who's managed by Hank Penny, has been appearing out in Vegas recently and calls Nevada, Mo. her home town. Beside her vocal talent Sue is quite prolific with the guitar.

Johnny Tillotson—Cadence

Though only 23, the Cadence disk star boasts of an unusually intensive training program in show biz. Born in Jacksonville, Fla., April 20, 1939, he moved to Palatka, Fla., at age 8. He still calls it home) and there developed his early musical interest—country music. By the time he entered high school he had earned a local reputation as a fine performer. Then came a 3-year contract as a regular on a TV variety show, "The Tom Dawdy Show." Lee Rosenberg of Southern Belle Music heard him and arranged an audition with Archie Bleyer, Cadence Records prexy. Bleyer inked Tillotson immediately and then followed "Dreamy Eyes," which became a hit reissue, "True, True Happiness," "Jimmy's Girl," "Without You," "Poetry in Motion," "I Keep Right On A-Hurlin'," and "Send Me the Pillow You Dream On." Tillotson, it should be noted, has developed into a country field seller as well as pop.

Ike & Tina Turner—Sue

Among the pop-r&b chart credits belonging to Ike & Tina Turner are "Poor Fool," "I Idolize You," "It's Gonna Work Out Fine," "A Fool In Love" and "Tra La La La La."

It all started when Tina, the featured vocalist with Ike Turner and his Kings of Rhythm for the past three years, cut a demo for one of Ike's tunes—"A Fool In Love." When the scheduled artist didn't appear at the session Juggy Murray of Sue Records decided to cut Tina instead. It proved to be a wise move for everyone concerned as the song rocketed the duo to success.

Ike, 27, and Tina, 20, reside in East St. Louis, Illinois, working that area in personal appearances. Ike is a prolific songwriter, numbering among his compositions "Rocket 88," a rhythm & blues hit several years ago. He is featured on guitar with his band.

Billy Vaughn—Dot

From singing with a vocal quartet in 1952, Billy Vaughn has developed into one of the most consistent hit producing studio ark leaders in the business. Among his many credits are a platinum record (signifying 3 million sales) for "Sail Along Silvery Moon," arranger-conductor on Pat Boone's platinum awards for "most programmed studio orchestra," disk, for "Love Letters In The Sand," and Cash Box awards for "most programmed studio orchestra."

As a member of the Hilltoppers, Vaughn wrote and recorded "Trying" with the group. This record led to a Dot contract, a hit record and a follow-up hit, "P.S. I Love You."

Then, as musical director at Dot, Vaughn has had an important arranging-conducting hand in producing many of the label's hits with Pat Boone, Gale Storm and others. His own singles, and especially album products are continual chart makers. In addition to the U.S. and other parts of the world, Vaughn has a particularly large following in Germany.

Dinah Washington—Roulette

The blues song stylist was already a well-known jazz name when she began a strong pop singles career a few years ago during her days with Mercury.

Her distinctive legit delivery on such oldies as "What a Difference a Day Made," the first of the string of softie hits, "Love Walked In," "Bitter Earth," "It Could Happen to You" and "Tears & Laughter" became a chart sound when hit soft ballad sounds were even more hard to come by than they are today. She was also teamed with fellow labelmate (at the time) Brook Benton for a smash duet outing, "Baby."

For Roulette, which she joined in '62, the lark had a click showing with "Where Are You." For both Mercury and Roulette, she has cut well-received album products.

Like so many blues artists, Dinah sang (and headed) a church choir. She went on to become a bond vocalist with Lionel Hampton. Her real name is Ruth Jones. Chicago's her hometown.

Webb Pierce—Decca

Webb Pierce has been, for many years, one of Decca's most consistent hit-makers. His roster of successes starting with "Wandering" in 1951 and going up to his current hit-duo in "I Ain't Never" b/w "Walking The Streets," ranks as one of the most impressive string of hits in the entire country field. Country music devotees will recognize previous Pierce triumphs in "Fallen Angel," "How Do You Talk To A Baby," "Last Night," "Let Forgiveness," "Tupelo Country Jail," "Honky Tonk Son," "In The Jailhouse Now" and "There Stands The Glass" and his recent double-header, "Cow Town" and "Sooner Or Later."

The Pierce brand of magic began at sixteen when he became proficient enough to land a job as an entertainer on a radio show on KMLB-West Monroe, Louisiana, his hometown's major station.

After a three-year stint in the Army, Pierce settled in Shreveport and played for various bands throughout the state; waiting for the audition that was soon to come from "Louisiana Hayride." At first he was used sparingly on the show, then as he received a veritable flood of mail, he was elevated to star billing. Three years after he came to "Hayride" Pierce cut his first hit Decca release and his career went into high gear.

Today Webb Pierce is one of the nation's foremost country chatters. He has sold millions of recordings and popularized hundreds of folk songs, many of which he wrote himself.

Lawrence Welk—Dot

In 1928, when Lawrence Welk was playing hotels and ballrooms, a friend likened his music to champagne—noting it had "a bubbly, frothy quality." That was the year "champagne music" was born and since then the 'ah-one and two and-a-three' timekeeper has become one of the most popular ballroom, TV and recording ark leaders in the country.

In 1878 Ludwig Welk, his wife and four sons and four daughters sailed for America, fleeing Bismark's invasion of their little country of Alsace-Lorraine. Their sole possession was a 3-generation, hand-me-down accordion when they settled in Strasburg, N.D. Second son, Lawrence, evinced interest in the instrument on which his father played the polka and folk dance music. At 13, he was playing it for community dances and church socials. At 21, he left the family farm to join travelling bands and eventually formed his own group, "the biggest little band in America," which began broadcasting over WNAX-Yankton, S.D. in 1925. The ballroom dates followed and in '51 he was signed for a short engagement at the Aragon Ballroom in Pacific Ocean Park, Calif. A six-week repeat engagement was extended to 9 years. After a very successful run with Coral Records, he moved over to Dot where he earned his initial gold-disk'er in "Calcutta."

Lawrence, and his wife, Fern, have been married over 30 years and have had a son, Larry, Jr. and 2 daughters, Shirley Jean and Donna.

Kitty Wells—Decca

To the country music fans—and, more recently, the pop crowd, Kitty Wells ranks as one of the all-time great performers. And in a field where women are definitely not equal to men, as far as longevity of fame is concerned, this is quite an achievement. Kitty, born Aug. 30, 1919 in Nashville, began a career in radio on Nashville's WSIX in 1937, going onto various other outlets, including a long stint as a soloist on "Louisiana Hayride." She's now one of the regulars on WSM's "Grand Ole Opry." Kitty is married to Johnnie Wright, who is a member of the Johnnie & Jack country team.

Among her initial hits for Decca, which has been her label for many years, was "It Wasn't God Who Made Hanky Tonk Angels." A host of successful singles and LP's have continued to keep her standing high in the country music community.

Mary Wells—Motown

Mary Wells is one of those artists who helped make her own "lucky break." It happened last year, when the lark finally got up enough nerve to walk into the "Hitsville" studios of Motown/Tamla/Gordy topper Berry Gordy, Jr. (now her personal mgr.) and ask him to have one of his artists record one of her originals, "Bye, Bye Baby." Gordy asked

Mary to sing it for him and was so impressed with her vocal talent that he had her do the tune herself. The rest is wax history—hit after hit followed—including the follow-up "I Don't Want To Take A Chance," "The One Who Really Loves You," "You Beat Me To The Punch" and her current smash, "Two Lovers."

Mary, who hails from Detroit, the home of her diskery, has also been a big hit on the concert tour.

Wilburn Brothers—Decca

The Wilburn Bros., Doyle & Teddy come by their talent through a combination of heredity, environment and hard work. Born into a musical family, in Hardy, Mo., within one year of each other, their daily schedule included hours of practice on the instruments their father bought them.

Originally, the Wilburns were a family act with sister Jerry joining them for C&W shows throughout the mid-west. Soon afterward Jerry left to be married and the brothers went into the Army. After the stint with the Army, D&T, still remembering their warm reception on the Opry just 2 years back, decided to continue singing. The 'new' Wilburns first joined the Webb Pierce Show, then found themselves back on the Opry. Hit after hit followed and in the early part of '62 they had their biggest deck to date, enjoying huge success in both the pop and country markets with "Trouble's Back In Town."

Andy Williams—Columbia

Andy Williams began his singing career when he and his three brothers along with their parents organized a church choir in Wall Lake, Iowa. Later the four brothers were heard on their own radio shows from Des Moines, Chicago and Cincinnati.

After the Williams family moved to California, the brothers teamed up with comedienne Kay Thompson and formed a highly successful night club act. The group stayed together six years and then the three older brothers settled down with their families and Andy became a soloist. He achieved national prominence when he became a regular on the old "Tonight" show hosted by Steve Allen. A recording contract with Cadence Records followed and he waxed a long string of singles and LP hits.

In the fall of 1959, Andy Williams was named "Personality of the Year" by the Variety Clubs of America, an award which has been given to such stellar performers as Al Jolson, Steve Allen and Arthur Godfrey.

In 1961 the talented singer was signed by Columbia Records for whom he has made a series of chart-riding singles and LP's. His album "Moon River" quickly went to the top of the charts in 1962 and remained there for many months.

Jackie Wilson—Brunswick

The strong vocal talent, who records highly rhythmic rockers and lush big-sounding ballads with equal facility, began his singing career in 1953, one year after graduation from Highland Park High School, in Detroit, by signing with Billy Ward's Dominoes as their lead voice.

At his mother's insistence, Jackie was forced to decline a promising career as a boxer (in 1948, entered and won a Golden Gloves welterweight crown at the age of 16, by claiming to be 18).

Late in 1957, Jackie decided to leave the Dominoes and try singing on his own. He made the acquaintance of Nat Tarnopol, then a Detroit publisher who immediately recognized Jackie's talents and signed him to a personal management contract, which, in turn, led to an exclusive pact with Brunswick Records, the Decca affiliate. A number of smash hits followed, many of them back-to-back chart makers, including "Talk that Talk," "I'll Be Satisfied," "Doggin' Around," "My Empty Arms," and "Alone at Last."

Jackie, who is married and has four children, has made too many theatre-TV appearances, and numbered among them are The Sahara in Las Vegas; The Fontainebleau in Miami; The Apollo in New York; and the Ed Sullivan TV'ers.

Nancy Wilson—Capitol

The song stylist is one of the leading newcomers to the sophisticated pop song field. Capitol has thought enough of her talents to pair her on LP's with such stellar instrumentalists as George Shearing and Cannonball Adderley, and, it's easy to assume, that both Shearing and Adderley share the label's respect for the performer. She was born on Feb. 20, 1937 in Chillicothe, Ohio. Her manager is John Levy, one of the top personal managers in the jazz field.

Timi Yuro—Liberty

Timi Yuro was born Rosemarie Yuro in Chicago on August 11, 1940. Her childhood nickname "Timi" has stuck with her and is now used professionally. At twelve she moved with her family to Los Angeles and attended Fairfax High School—where she developed her singing interest. Spare time was (and still is) spent helping out at the Alvalturno Italian Restaurant 15751 W. Pico which her mother owns.

She was signed to a Liberty contract but after several unsuccessful sessions, which were never released, she was almost forgotten. When Clyde Otis joined Liberty as A&R exec he noticed Timi and took an active interest in her career. While on the west coast, Clyde cut Timi in several sessions resulting in the release of "Hurt," a smash hit, "Smile," and a teaming with Johnnie Ray, "I Believe."

Timi is managed by Martin Machat's Sunset Enterprises.

ARMADA'S Lines Of Action

For "Sanity & Stability"

By Paul Ackerman, Executive Secretary Of The American Record Merchandisers & Distributors Association

Distributors today face a revolution in marketing. The traditional manufacturer-distributor-dealer relationship has given way to a distribution pattern of increasing complexity, indicated by the growth of racks, one stops, chains and discount houses.

These new outlets and new patterns of distribution are the natural results of a growing business; but growth is rarely an unmixed blessing. As the dollar volume increases, so do the industry's problems—with the curious result that while expansion is obvious, it becomes increasingly difficult to make a profit.

This situation faces virtually all segments of the record business—manufacturers, dealers, and, of course, distributors.

In very many cases, the distributor finds his retail accounts drying up as the small dealer succumbs to the incursions of racks, discounters etc. In many cases, too, the distributor feels that his own status in the industry is being undermined by manufacturers who give way to pressure and ship direct—thus bypassing the distributor.

In many instances the distributor—finding himself in an industry marked by chaotic and changing distribution patterns—compounds the various problems by engaging in transshipping. He is prone to "explain" this by stating that others are cutting in on his territory and he must engage in similar practices for reasons of "survival." Again, a distributor may not be a regular transshipper but may feel obliged to engage in such activity in order to meet manufacturers' quotas. In brief, such a distributor fears he may lose a line.

In the light of such an uncontrolled state of affairs, what can be done for, and what is the future of, the distributor segment of the record business?

To logically examine this question we must first spell out the point of view that the distributor problem cannot be isolated. It is closely related and intertwined with other elements of the record business—notably the manufacturing segment. Once this is realized we may proceed to the next point, namely: It is to the ultimate advantage of the good manufacturer, that is, the manufacturer with catalog and the stability which catalog produces, to buttress and strengthen the distribution segment of the industry.

Catalog manufacturers will admit the foregoing. They are prone to recognize that the distributor, as clobbered and distressed as he is in today's pattern of business, is the "guts" of the record business. It is he who serves unique functions: He promotes and he moves catalog. To a manufacturer of substance, these functions will continue to be all-important as against forms of distribution which cherry-pick and skim the cream off the top.

So the question arises as to how to protect this necessary function and thereby ensure the future of the distributor.

Two chief lines of action suggest themselves. One does not preclude the other, and both may be pursued simultaneously. These two lines are as follows: 1) Action by the Federal Trade Commission via a trade conference which could result in an ethical set of standards affecting not only distributors but all phases of the record business.

RIAA: More Services In '63

By Henry Brief, Executive Secretary Of The Record Industry Association Of America

It was "Exit Laughing" for the record industry as 1962 drew to a close, the laughter being generated throughout the country by Vaughn Meader's "The First Family" and Allen Sherman's "My Son, The Folk Singer."

From the standpoint of total volume—sales promised to surpass 1961 levels by about 10%—and from the standpoint of the resurgence of the pop singles market, it appeared to be a good year for the industry.

However, early in 1963, the Record Industry Association of America intends to conduct a profit and loss study similar to ones done in 1950 and 1958 to try to determine the real state of the industry's economic health. The questionnaire, as well as standard definitions of terms to be used in the study, will be drawn up by RIAA's Controller's Committee and will be circulated among all record companies, not only RIAA members, that are willing to cooperate in the study.

RIAA is also intensifying its public relations, information and education programs. Its brochure, "Your Wonderful World of Records," describing pictorially how records are made, has been re-designed and re-printed in order to satisfy a backlog of over 2,000 requests. These requests stemmed from the RIAA exhibit at the World's Fair of Music and Sound held in Chicago last August and from a mention in the Sunday supplement of a New York newspaper which drew a response of better than 800.

Plans are to supplement this booklet with two others, one describing the creative processes that go into the making of a record—how artists are secured, how they are paired with the material they will perform, the functions of the A&R man, the arranger, the engineer, etc.; the second describing the entire marketing process, including distribution, advertising, promotion, cover design, window displays and publicity required in getting the record from the manufacturer to the consumer. It is hoped that this series of three booklets will serve not only as educational and informational literature but also as a tool to recruit new talent into the industry.

RIAA is also cooperating with the National Federation of Music Clubs in an essay contest to be held among school children of the ninth through twelfth grades during National Music Week, May 5-12, 1963. These students will be asked to submit themes on the subject, "How I Broadened My Musical Horizon Through Records." A panel of judges to be selected by the National Federation of Music Clubs will choose a winner in each of the fifty states who will receive from RIAA a package of records with a retail value of $250. An equivalent package will also be given by RIAA to the school of each winner's choice.

In addition, a number of newspapers receiving RIAA's monthly feature releases on the many and diverse areas of repertoire to be found on today's phonograph records, has been greatly enlarged. The interest on the part of newspaper editors in getting this information to their readers may be gathered from the flow of clippings from newspapers throughout the country that are re-printing these releases almost word for word. This becomes not only a public relations tool, but in view of the mass merchandising that characterizes today's retail selling, it also becomes an avenue further to expose the industry's great wealth of entertainment, information and culture.

NARM: A Message From The Executive Director

By Jules Malamud, Nat'l. Ass'n. Of Record Merchandisers

The National Association of Record Merchandisers, as it looks forward to its Fifth Annual Convention in 1963, today represents the fastest-growing and most progressive segment of the phonograph record industry—the record rack merchandisers of United States and Canada. The record rack merchandisers have brought into the phonograph record industry, in a greater degree and to the industry's credit, the advances in marketing, merchandising, and sales promotion which the reactionary elements within the industry, thinking on a short term, often selfish basis, attempted to exclude.

First, the record rack merchandiser recognized what had been apparent in other industries for years: the tremendous potential for consumer products in the one-stop shopping picture (and phonograph records were one of those consumer products)—first, in supermarkets, then in drug chains, and now in almost every conceivable type of multi-product retail outlet, including variety stores, department stores, discount houses, service PX's, etc.

Second, the record merchandiser recognized the problem faced by departmentalized retail outlets, in securing the proper buying specialists for a highly individualized product like the phonograph record. He went into retail outlets which had discarded records or were on the verge of eliminating them because of the difficulties and losses involved in running the department, and turned them into attractive, profitable record locations—profitable for the store, for the local distributor, and for the record manufacturer.

Third, the record merchandiser has found outlets for phonograph records in sparsely-populated areas, heretofore neglected in the record distribution picture.

Through NARM, the record manufacturers have manifested their support and cooperation with the record rack merchandisers, and in this combined effort, great industry advances have been made. But with success comes complacency, and this is the great danger we face today. The industry must recognize the constantly increasing potential of the record rack merchandiser, and of the need which he fulfills for the phonograph record industry. The record manufacturer, possibly complacent, cannot afford to overlook the importance of having his product placed in the ever-increasing number of the nation's busiest retail outlets. He must realistically face up to the need for working with the record merchandisers on the purchasing problems which an industry volume of more than $150 million dollars a year, must necessarily create.

It should be apparent to every intelligent observer of the phonograph record industry, who has the best interests of the industry at heart, that the day of using the "rack jobber" as the scapegoat for every industry ill, every individual failure, has long since passed.

NARM looks to the coming year as the one in which every facet of the record industry will unite in a collective effort to face the problems among us realistically and sensibly, with as little lip service as possible, and as much positive action as the solutions of the problems require.

"Record Dealers Unite"

By Sy Bondy, Association Of Record Dealers, N.Y.

That's just what we record dealers did five years ago and founded the Association of Record Dealers in New York City. New Jersey dealers also joined in with us. A charter and by-laws including members, make a much needed Association of Record Dealers. If any trade needs one, we sure do.

In 1958 the Association of Record Dealers decided to bring suit against the three major record clubs but SORD beat us to the punch. However, we furnished financial aid and full support. All legitimate record dealers have a duty to join their trade association. There is too much wheeling and dealing and yet a dealer has to buy where he finds the lowest price in order to compete in this so-called buy cheap and sell cheap competition.

As a record dealer since 1939 and still active, I find that one cannot remain in business unless a leader is on the constant lookout for that extra edge in buying. The big trick is to buy at the lowest possible price in order to meet the competition from the so-called large discount stores and yet make a substantial profit. The large discount department stores use the cream of our products as a loss leader because they don't care to make any kind of a profit on records. They want to lure the customer into their stores and make a great profit on the two thousand other items they sell. Yet we legitimate record dealers who depend solely on records have nothing else to rely on to make a living—only records. This is one of the great evils we dealers are faced with.

As organizer and past president for four consecutive terms of the Association of Record Dealers, I urge that all record dealers join together and make our association strong and be recognized and respected by the record industry.

ROSA: Its Ideas And Hopes

By Irv Perlman, President Of Record One Stop Association

Ours is the newest trade organization in the record industry and of course as such, we have our growing up pains.

Everyone asks, what are you seeking, what can you do to help The Record Industry, I will try to convey some of our ideas and hopes.

Unity and cooperation are only words that are used very sparingly in the record business. These are the ideals we are looking for. Unity and cooperation with a good communication system. These are the things that are lacking within our own business. To achieve these things we must have a better understanding between the manufacturers, distributor and the One Stop.

One Stops have a definite part in this industry and it is the one segment that is not getting its due recognition. We have the confidence of the juke box operators and the stores that we service. We can only get this from being fair and honest with our customers. We have a sales potential that is higher than most people can conceive. The twenty members of ROSA do a volume of $35,000,000 a year.

With this figure in mind and with our future growth potential, you can see this will be a much higher figure in the near future.

We need the help and consideration of the manufacturers and distributors in everything we do. One Stops want to cooperate with the other trade organizations to stop bootlegging, transshipping, and in general have an understanding to help the record industry.

The manufacturer must have confidence in the distributor he chooses to have represent his line and in turn the manufacturer and distributor must have confidence in the One Stops. We want to make this a top industry with confidence, unity, and of course, cooperation among all facets of the record business.

Let us all get together to have a United Industry so that we can grow to be the biggest and best industry in the United States.

ord business, and 2) Adoption by distributors generally of a determined and forthright attitude with regard to manufacturers.

To these two chief lines of action may be added a third: Critical evaluation by distributors of themselves—and realization of the necessity of many to put their own house in order.

ARMADA, the distributors' official trade association, has taken action on these three fronts and intends to pursue each of these lines until stability and ethical practice is substituted for the chaos which currently exists. This was clearly indicated by the association's board meeting in Detroit, December 10 and 11, at which time funds were allocated for retaining counsel, and a rules committee appointed, for the purpose of pressing for an FTC trade conference. The FTC, under the Robinson-Patman Act, has cognizance or authority to tackle the bulk of unethical practices now afflicting the industry. Out of such a conference, too, can come clear definitions with regard to all the elements in the chain of distribution—such as racks and one stops—and clarify their functions and spell out what discounts are applicable so that all may live.

In addition to pursuing the trade conference theme, ARMADA, as indicated by the resolutions adopted at the Detroit board meeting, is clearly stating to manufacturers its intent to bring unified opposition to bear against instances of direct shipping, preferential discounts and other practices which undermine or erode the distributor's position. Known instances will be reported and the organization will intercede at the manufacturer level. The attitude is not one of threat; neither is it one of blandishment. Rather, it involves the indoctrination of the manufacturer with the point of view that he too must face himself; that it is for his individual well-being as well as the total good of the industry that he adopt a more ethical stance—which necessarily entails distributor protection.

Thus ARMADA is engaged in decisive action and—in the best sense of the word—propaganda. What is envisioned is a combination of governmental effort plus an educational campaign within the industry and touching upon manufacturer, distributor and dealer levels. The combined effects should bring sanity and stability not only to the distributor facet of the business but to the industry generally. Once this is accomplished, each segment of the industry will be able to realize the full profit potential—which is not possible today despite the fact that the total industry dollar volume has quadrupled within the last decade.

As Milton Rackmil, head of Decca and Universal used to say: "It is the line that counts." If the ARMADA drive is successful, the last line—the profit—will again be meaningful.

ord manufacturers and distributors in the sense that we dealers are not just puppets to be dictated to, with somebody else pulling the strings.

We have just witnessed one of the greatest events in the record industry. The fastest selling records in the shortest period of time, "The First Family." Yet many legitimate dealers who carry a complete inventory year round were not able to purchase "The First Family" in the big two weeks and yet large discount stores who don't carry a complete inventory in stock had them in stock by the cartons. This is a very unfair practice. But at this time I must praise Cadence Records for having the foresight to contemplate the greatness of this record.

We dealers also find that distributors are not treating the independent record dealers fairly. They favor the big buyer from the pseudo discount department stores and not the constant year round buyer who carries a complete inventory. I often wonder whether the distributors realize that it was the record dealers who made this a giant industry and what it is today—not the few large cut-rate department stores.

The so-called one stops are becoming prevalent and yet we hate to see this, but it is becoming necessary to the smaller and larger dealers alike. Who is at fault? The manufacturers who initiated this practice or the distributors? Now the octopus has dipped its tentacles into the pot of gold. We legitimate record dealers would like to see the distributor retain the sole distribution of all records and this I believe is the only solution to return the record industry to normalcy.

On January 15, 1963, the Association of Record Dealers will hold a nomination and election of officers. All dealers are welcome. The time is 8:30 p.m. at the Park Sheraton Hotel, in New York City.

Pick of the Week

"CURRY ROAD" (2:14) [Cedarwood BMI—Ives, Tillis] "THE SAME OLD HURT" (2:11) [Pamper BMI—Cochran]
BURL IVES (Decca 31453)

The famed balladeer should keep his hit streak (currently it's "Mary Ann Regrets") going strong with both ends of his new Decca stand. They're the touching folk-calypto entry, "Curry Road," and the lilting shuffle weeper, "The Same Old Hurt." Excellent Owen Bradley choral-ork assists on both halves.

"TRA LE LA LE LA TRIANGLE" (2:03) [Cedarwood BMI—Wilkin, Burch] "LEAVIN' ON YOUR MIND" (2:24) [Cedarwood BMI—Walker]
PATSY CLINE (Decca 31455)

There's sales dynamite packed into both sides of this new Patsy Cline outing. One side, "Tra Le La Le La Triangle," although a tearful love opus, takes a cheerful, toe-tappin' ride. The other is an easy-goin' weeper ballad beaut titled "If You Got Leavin' On Your Mind." Top drawer vocal and instrumental backing on both portions.

"HIGH ON THE HILL OF HOPE" (2:32) [Mansion ASCAP—Shuman, Carr] "BY A LONG SHOT" (1:53) [Metric BMI—Sheely, DeShannon]
PATTI PAGE (Mercury 72078)

Patti can make a tremendous chart impression with this Mercury date. Side, labeled "High On The Hill Of Hope," is a powerful pop inspirational that the canary puts across with telling effect. Terrific Merry Melody Singers and jumpin' Jerry Kennedy ork showcase. The slow beat-ballad weeper, "By A Long Shot," makes for a strong companion piece.

"LET'S STOMP AGAIN" (2:18) [Ponderosa BMI—Madara, White] "SLOP TIME" (1:59) [Dandelion BMI—Madara, White]
THE SHERRYS (Guyden 2077)

The Sherrys, who broke thru the hit barrier with their "Pop-Pop-Pop-Pie" Guyden bow, send up two more teen dance delighters that'll have the kids dancin' 'round the clock. They're two sock-rockers, labeled "Let's Stomp Again" and "Slop Time," that the crew knocks out in ultra-commercial manner. Sizzling instrumental assists on both lids.

"THE RUNWAY" (2:09) [David Rose ASCAP—Rose] "SUNSET STRIP" (2:18) [Ding Dong BMI—Wayne]
DAVID ROSE & ORCHESTRA (MGM 13118)

That "Stripper" gal is back. David Rose & his instrumentalists come up with another Minsky-like, bumps and grinds delighter, tabbed "The Runway," that's sure to make everyone concerned sit up and take notice. More enticing shuffle-bump stuff on the "Sunset Strip" stand. Both sides are in Rose's "More, More, More" LP.

"HITCH HIKE" (2:31) [Jobete BMI—Stevenson, Paul Gaye] "HELLO THERE ANGEL" (2:43) [Jobete BMI—Stevenson, Gordy]
MARVIN GAYE (Tamla 54075)

That "Stubborn Kind Of Fellow," Marvin Gaye, is back with a deck that could make it two-in-a-row chart-riders. It's a fetching, shuffle beat cha cha blueser, tagged "Hitch Hike," that the chorus-backed Gaye decks out in potent r&b-pop style. "Hello There Angel" is made for an inviting, dual-mart cha cha beat underlid.

"CASTAWAY" (1:49) [Wonderland BMI—R. M. & R. B. Sherman] "SWEET RIVER" (2:09) [Promenade ASCAP—Dunham, Camarata]
HAYLEY MILLS (Vista 408)

The young talented English star can have another "Let's Get Together" chart success on her hands with this tune from her current flick, "In Search Of The Castaways." Hayley displays a lovely, fragile vocal quality on "Castaway," a lilting charmer. More soft, appealing sounds on the "Sweet River" stand.

"MY VOICE IS CHANGING" (1:46) [Jack BMI—Clement] "TIME AFTER TIME AFTER TIME" (2:04) [Big Bopper, Jack BMI—Clement, Hall]
JACK CLEMENT (Hall-Way 1912)

Clement, who's had previous chart experience in both the country and pop categories, can have a sales giant in both fields with this one on the Smash-distributed Hall-Way label. It's a tantalizing rock-a-twist beat novelty, tagged "My Voice Keeps Changing," that finds Jack running the vocal scale in rib-tickling fashion. The very funny rock-waltz pairing has Clement singing only the tag all the way thru the deck.

RANDY LEE (Philips 40089)

(B+) "LA-DO-DA-DA" (2:08) [Arc BMI—Hawkins, Lewis] As the listener can imagine from the title, ditty is meant to be done in an upbeat manner, and that's the happy attitude taken by singer Lee and his support. Particularly contagious teen portion that could make it. An outfit called The Keytones has also cut the item.

(B) "KEEP THE HALL LIGHT BURNING" (2:16) [Cedarwood BMI—Harrison, Wilkin] Well-done countryish shuffle-beat stand.

FELICIA SANDERS (Decca 31335)

(B) "FLY ME TO THE MOON (In Other Words)" (3:00) [Almanac ASCAP—Howard] Date is one of many vocal responses to the Top 100 showing of the Joe Harnell (Kapp) instrumental reading of the great oldie. The thrush and her ork-chorus backing offer a very classy version, one which should be considered when programming of the tune is planned.

(B) "TONIGHT (Intro: Something's Coming)" (3:10) [G. Schirmer ASCAP—Bernstein, Sondheim] Performer's effective reading of two songs from "West Side Story" has been previously released as a single.

ADDIS & CROFUT (Verve 10281)

(B+) "12 DAYS WITH KHRUSH-CHEV" (2:20) [Heatherfield BMI—Addis, Crofut] The familiar of tune of "The 12 Days Of Christmas" gets clever modern-times lyrics, with the re-write getting a deft robust folk reading from the vocal-instrumental duo. Might prove a left-field success.

(B) "GOIN' HOME" (2:05) [Heatherfield BMI—] Boys do a very attractive folk blend on the famed adaptation of the well-known theme from Dvorak's "New World" symphony.

DONNIE LA NEAR (Apt 25073)

(B) "GANGSTER OF LOVE" (1:48) [Hermosa BMI—Watson] The performer does a delightful reading of a bouncy blues novelty. Some of his stint involves a sing-a-narrative approach. Could go places in R&B and pop areas.

(B) "I DON'T THINK YOU LOVE ME ANYMORE" (2:11) [Dundee BMI—La Near, Thacker] Despite the title, there's a sunny quality to this item, which at times sounds like "Save The Last Dance For Me."

PARISIAN SEXTET (Challenge 9197)

(B) "WONDERFUL! WONDERFUL!" (2:35) [E. B. Marks ASCAP—Edwards, Raleigh] The combo offers a cozy jazz-inclined BN reading of the worthy tune that was the first big hit by Johnny Mathis. It's back is a fine, timely instrumental display.

(B) "BUENA BOSSA NOVA" (2:07) [Piedmont ASCAP—Rizo] Tuneful item serves as the vehicle for another solid BN showing.

BIG MOOSE & THE JAMS (Age 29113)

(B) "BRIGHT SOUNDS" (2:10) [Conrad-Melva BMI—London] Busy bounce blueser, with organ and guitars doing the lead work. Funky work that makes pro R&B and teen-market sense.

JIMMY THOMAS (Sue 778)

(B+) "YOU CAN GO" (2:30) [Four Star BMI—Yount, Williams, Miller, Turner] Songster Thomas heads a good reply to Little Esther's smash dinking of "Release Me." The original tune is used for the answer lyric, and the songster is backed by a sound similar to the hit deck.

(B) "HURRY & COME HOME" [Placid BMI—Turner] Performer does a wail-type stint against a busy full ork-chorus sound.

LOU TROY (Markle 105)

(B) "FORSAKEN LOVE" (2:20) [Massa BMI—Troy] A haunting teen romantic is made the most of by the talented teen performer. Backing him is an interesting Latinish combo, led by a legit keyboard sound. Label is located in Chicago.

EARL BOSTIC (King 5711)

(B+) "EL CHOCLO BOSSA NOVA" (2:30) [P. D. Villoldo] The vet saxist hops on the Bossa Nova bandwagon as the top figure in a solid rock-inclined BN reading of the familiar tune, known pop-wise as "Kiss Of Fire."

(B) "MY REVERIE (Bossa Nova)" (1:50) [Robbins ASCAP—Clinton] A cha-cha feel to this reading of the standby melody.

JO ANNE GAIL (Riverside 4538)

(B) "EVERYONE WANTS TO BE REMEMBERED" (2:59) [Pep n' Paul ASCAP—Lattanzi] Thrush and her backing offer a straight-forward sentimental pose.

(C+) "ROME ISN'T WHAT IT USED TO BE" (2:34) [Pep n' Paul ASCAP—Lattanzi, Bell] Same approach here.

SONNY LESTER (Roulette 4460)

(B+) "A PRETTY GIRL IS LIKE A MELODY" (2:10) [Irving Berlin ASCAP—Berlin] The oldie, a favorite burlesque item, is performed with an authentic take-it-off sound by the Lester crew. Good entry among the rash of bump-and-grind outing that resulted from David Rose's smash, "The Stripper."

MARSHA LYNN (Bid 502)

(B) "(That Just Proves) THERE'S A LOT YOU DON'T KNOW" [Trend Setter BMI—Grossman, Lynn] Chirp leads a quick-beat rock-a-billy date. Diskery is based in Waco, Tex.

(B) "(Listen to Me) I AM YOUR HEART" [Trend BMI—Grossman, Lynn] Dirge-like percussion beat backs the performer's plaintive warble.

LES BROWN, JR. (Crescendo 191)

(B) "SWINGIN' & SURFIN'" (2:14) [Skyview ASCAP—Pell] Vet maestro's percussion-playing offspring tops a colorful rock-directed stint. Guitars and sax assist Brown's exciting work. Side's from an LP called "Wildest Drums Yet!"

(B) "DRUM'S SAFARI" (2:15) [Neil BMI—Botkin] A more deliberate-sounding date from the same LP.

Pick of the Week

Newcomers

In an effort to call D.J. attention to Pick records by "Newcomers" (artists never before on the Top 100) the editorial staff of Cash Box will list such records under this special heading.

"OUT OF THIS WORLD (1:40) [Berry Ltd. (PRS) ASCAP—Siday]
"CYRIL'S TUNE" (2:20) [Leeds ASCAP—Anthony]
TONY HATCH (London Int'l 10523)

The London label, currently burning up the charts with the Tornados' "Telstar," can have another red-hot instrumental product from England in "Out Of This World." It's a fascinating, galloping beat rocker that maestro Tony Hatch and his outfit pound out with solid sales appeal. Companion piece is a catchy cha cha beat thumper that can also stir up attention.

"WALK RIGHT IN" (2:05) [Ryerson BMI—Darling, Svanoel]
"WALK RIGHT IN" (2:08) [Ryerson BMI—Darling, Svanoel]
THE MOMENTS (Era 3099)

Looks like there'll be a big battle for chart honors on "Walk Right In" in the near future. Era newcomers, the Moments, come up with a sparkling, thumpin' teen beat version of the Rooftop Singers' click folk-styled Vanguard bow. More of the same happy stuff on the all-instrumental coupler. Potent Jack Nitzsche arrangements.

"DEFROST" (2:36) [Big Bopper, Jack BMI—Scott]
"ALBERT'S ALLEY" (2:29) [Big Bopper, Jack BMI—Scott]
ALBERT COLLINS (Hall-Way 1913)

Best Bets

THE MONIQUES (Benn-X 55)

(B+) "HEY GIRL" (2:40) [Ben-Lee BMI—Bendinelli, Lee] Date is crowded with sure-handed busy-beat remarks from the songsters and their instrumental accompaniment. A rompin' rocker that could make it big. The Popular label of N.Y. handles the diskery.

(B) "GOIN' DOWN TO BIRDLAND" (2:20) [Ben-Lee BMI—Billips, Miller, Fletcher, Greenfield, Billips] Things move quickly in this whacky item.

THE IMAGINATIONS (Ballad 500)

(B+) "WAIT A LITTLE LONGER SON" (2:25) [Skeets BMI—Irby] Teen warblers may have cut a Top 100 sound with their strong upbeat blend on a tuneful too-young theme. Musicians offer a solid steady-beat attack in the setting. Deck should be eyed closely. Laurie Records is distributing the label.

TONY FARRAR (Trans-Atlas 14001)

(B+) "BLAST FROM THE PAST" (2:26) [Selma BMI—Craft, DeFario] Oldie programming theme of New York deejay Murray (The K) Kaufman is used to solid bright-rock advantage by the songster and his Latinish combo-chorus backdrop. Date could collect good coin.

(B) "FOLLOWING YOU" (1:50) [Selma BMI—Craft, DeFario] Another sunny teen-market affair. London distributes label nationally.

IRMA THOMAS (Minit 660)

(B+) "TWO WINTERS LONG" (2:30) [Minit BMI—Neville] Lark, who's had chart cuts before, heads a very catchy blueser about a gal who's been counting the winters her guy had not been around (he's back). Could score.

(B) "SOMEBODY TOLD YOU" (2:30) [Minit BMI—Neville] Another catchy date, this time telling of a gal who tells her guy not to be so glib when he's told unpleasant things about her.

THE LIDOS (Mercury 72080)

(B+) "BASHANOVA" (2:15) [Criterion ASCAP—DeLory, Van Winkle] Warblers have lots to offer the kids with this infectious rock view of the Bossa Nova sound. Whacky chants are an important part of the vocal chore, and the combo stint is a constant potent factor. Ought to be eyed.

(B+) "MARINA" (1:57) [Atlantic BMI—Granata, Maxwell, Graham] This is a bright, disarming reading of the one-time international hit by Rocco Granata, still a joy to hear.

(B+) "CARRYING THAT LOAD" (2:13) [Progressive BMI—Pomus, Shuman] This isn't the "modern sounds" Ray Charles, but the performer is deft at handling sunny spiritual-like numbers (this one has a romantic angle). Femme chorus is around to add to the cheerful sound. Could step-out.

(B+) "LOVER'S PLAN" (2:24) [Garpax BMI—Daye] Contagious bright-beat blueser is led by singer Davis, who's backed by a happy back-up arrangement of the ork-chorus. Label, handled by the London Group, could have a hot portion here.

(B) "I DON'T KNOW" (2:41) [Garpax & House of Fortune BMI—Spotlight] Soft-spoken stint shows Davis off to good teen-ballad advantage.

THE RHODA SCOTT TRIO (Tru-Sound 418)

(B) "IN MY LITTLE CORNER OF THE WORLD" (2:25) [Hilliard, Pockriss] The onetime Anita Bryant click gets a catchy blues-styled approach, with a male songster doing the lead vocal. Good teen-market slant of a fine Tin Pan Alley tune.

(B) "FLY ME TO THE MOON" (2:40) [Howard] A femme jazz stylist does a pretty reading of the lovely oldie, which is making some noise via a Joe Harnell (Kapp) instrumental.

THE J'S WITH JAMIE (Columbia 42635)

(B) "LITTLE ME" (2:12) [Ed H. Morris ASCAP—Leigh, Coleman] The hit musical title-tune, a happy ditty ala Cole Porter's "Friendship," is brightly surveyed by the legit singing crew and a swingin' ork under Ernie Altschuler's direction. Fine legit sunny for the good-music jocks.

(B) "COME ON STRONG" (2:41) [Ed. H. Morris ASCAP—Cahn, Van Heusen] This is the sultry, smart item that was written as the main-theme of a B'way comedy that recently closed.

RAY SMITH (Smash 1787)

(B+) "THOSE FOUR PRECIOUS YEARS" (2:30) [Four Star BMI—Fuller, Fuller] The pretty teen waltzer tells of a high-school romance that looks like its going to be a lifetime pairing. Relating the sentiments with appeal is singer Smith, who is supported by a warm combo-chorus sound. Kids will feel for the portion.

DONNIE & THE DEL CHORDS (Taurus 357)

(B+) "I'LL BE WITH YOU (In Apple Blossom Time)" (2:45) [Jerry Vogel & Broadway ASCAP—Fleeson, Von Tilzer] Song team is out to appeal to the teeners in its softie reading of the wonderful sentimental oldie. Boys come thru nicely.

(B) "I DON'T CARE" (1:48) [Sarah & Sebiniano ASCAP—Judge] A busier-sounding romantic blend by the guys.

RONNIE SAVOY (Philips 40071)

(B+) "21,000 HAPPINESS STREET" (2:17) [Srsup & Charleston BMI—Williams] All's right with the world in this joyful Latinish rock outing from the warbler and his full ork backing, which has several attention-getting sounds. Fine happy-beat entry.

(B) "MOONLIGHT TO SUNLIGHT "Water to Wine)" (2:29) [Peer International BMI—Barr, Blustone] Savoy's got a sad tale to tell about a romance gone astray, and he does it with much feeling.

APRIL STEVENS (Imperial 5907)

(B+) "FLY ME TO THE MOON" (2:24) [Almanac ASCAP—Howard] Those who want a strong legit showing on the lovely evergreen—on the Top 100 as an instrumental (Joe Harnell, Kapp)—can turn to this outing by the lark. She's accompanied by a choice string-filled setting.

(B) "THAT'S MY NAME" (1:59) [Post ASCAP—Lampert, Loring] Interesting moody romantic. An harmonica is spotlighted in the backing.

SONNY RICHARD'S "PANICS" with CINDY & MISTY (Chancellor 1127)

(B+) "SKINNIE MINNIE OLIVE OIL" (2:20) [Contour BMI—Knorr, Edwards] Rock gang ensemble here does a nifty novelty dance job for the kids. Bright & brassy rock treat.

(B) "THE VOODOO WALK" (2:18) [Rambled BMI—Desrocher] Whacky horror-theme item also meant to be danced to by the youngsters.

RAY RUFF (Norman 528)

(B+) "LOVE" (2:15) [Gaslight BMI—Odom, Reed] The songster and his support offer the teeners a bright rock-romantic date. Ditty's lyrics tell of guy who would like to find love, even though he knows it has its ups-and-downs. Can be a noise-maker.

AL BARKLE (Koo-Koo 1001)

(B) "WAIT 'TIL THE COMMERCIAL" (2:38) [Les Kangas BMI—Kangas] Cute bouncy rock novelty good-naturedly digs the power of TV to keep one glued to the set until the commercial breaks the spell. Worth spins. Diskery is based in San Gabriel, Calif.

BILLIE JEAN HORTON (Custom 103)

(B) "AIN'T IT FUNNY WHAT A FOOL WILL DO" [Glad—Horton, Mathis] Lark has a sad country-styled tale to tell and she relays it with understanding. Support sound from the combo is sympathetic.

ARCH HALL, JR. (Fairway-Int'l 102)

(B) "WILD GUITAR" (2:00) [Black Rabbit BMI—Hall, O'Day] Catchy, funky-sounding stand is headed by guitarist Hall, who is feature in a teen flick of the same name. New label is based in Burbank, Calif.

KING CURTIS COMBO (Alcor 016)

(B) "THE LONE PRAIRIE" (2:06) [Betabin BMI—Curtis] The familiar P.D. tune gets a happy rock going-over from the Curtis crew, with saxes providing the spotlight sound. Could be an active cut. Label is the Everest Records affiliate.

(B) "JAY WALK" (2:37) [Progressive BMI—Curtis] As the title implies, this is a novelty take for teen tastes.

Thanks, reviewers, for all your nice words.

WOODY WOODBURY IN THE SPICE IS RIGHT

Stereoodities MW-5—Woody Woodbury is back in his favorite laughing room, the lounge at Fort Lauderdale's Bahama Hotel, and the set, like several earlier ones, finds him clowning with his audience around the bar, telling a flock of gag stories, one-liners and in this case, doing a number of short songs. The title is a bit misleading, in that the stories are hardly blue enough to be called spicy, at least in the context of other comedy disks now available. Most of this is harmless and amusing. With Woodbury now achieving regular national exposure via his new ABC-TV series, "Who Do You Trust," this can be expected to maintain and perhaps better the pace of his earlier sellers.

"THE SPICE IS RIGHT"

WOODY WOODBURY

Stereoodities MW 5

This winner of two gold records is up to his old tricks of delightfully shocking the crowds with his satirical truth jibes. Here he does a bit of spicy singing too of never-before-sung tunes created especially for Woody.

Thanks to deejays, distributors, dealers for helping me earn my first two gold record award albums.

MAC REBENNACK (AFO 309)

(B+) "ONE NAUGHTY FLAT" (2:27) [At Last BMI—Montrell] Strong driving blues-jazz outing from the organist and his backing, called the Soul Orch. An explosive entry that could make it big.

WARREN COVINGTON ORCH. (Decca 31452)

(B) "PERDIDO—BOSSA NOVA" (2:08) [Tempo ASCAP—Tizol, Drake, Langsfelder] The maestro who was one of the big cha-cha factors a few years ago enters the Bossa Nova race with a bright sound that's on the order of his previous cha-cha stints. Polished big-band entry.

(B) "NEVER TOO LATE" (3:05) [Sunbeam BMI—Bock, Harnick] The ork goes cha-cha on the fine tune from the legit Broadway play of the same name.

THE PHEASANTS (Throne 802)

(B) "HOT BISCUITS" (2:16) [Moon-Lake & Thorne BMI—Luis, Stark] Yet another food-themed dance novelty for the kids, and the songsters plus their combo setting know how to dish out a wild rock beat.

(B) "OUT OF THE MIST" (2:43) [Moon-Lake & Throne BMI—Eli, Livingston] Lead nicely relays a pleasant love-found opus. Good light rock-a-cha sound from the musicians.

LYNN LORING (Dore 657)

(B+) "MY NAME'S ANN" (2:07) [Meadowlark ASCAP—Lewis, Bideu] Performer, who was featured on the "Fair Exchange" TV'er (it was recently dropped), heads a solid novelty session. Backed by a busy stomp sound, lass relates a tale about a couple who have difficulty remembering their respective names. Deck could deliver.

PHIL GUILBEAU & HIS CREOLE STOMPERS (Atlantic 5025)

(B) "CREOLE WALK" (2:48) [Cotillion BMI—Guilbeau] The infectious Creole sound is employed to fine-sounding advantage by the combo, which gets its lead voice from a trumpet. Teeners have an instrumental treat here.

BOB TAYLOR (Stacy 953)

(B+) "(Flyin' High) AFTER HOURS" (1:55) [Old Taylor BMI—Wheeler, Taylor, Miller, Gaylord] Forget the idea of "after-hours" being the introspective time of day here, for this is a busy, instrumental-vocal blueser with a good-time attitude. Original-sounding stuff for the kids. Could happen.

THE EXOTICS (Coral 62343)

(B+) "MY LIFE'S DESIRE—Part 1" (2:41) [Champion BMI—Boone] Vocalists can dish-out a deft shout-type session, as they amply display here. An organ-led combo setting is strong. There could be action for the entry.

DORA HALL (Premere 102)

(B+) "HELLO FAITHLESS" (2:10) [Acuff-Rose BMI—B&F Bryant] A fine shuffle-beat item from the pens of the Boudleaux Bryants is well-represented in this outing by the lark and her Don Rulke-directed ork-chorus backing. Worthy teen-market programming stint from the Winnetka, Ill.-located waxery.

(B) "YOU'VE GOT ME CRYIN' AGAIN" (2:25) [Isham Jones ASCAP—Jones, Newman] Nice cozy reading of the old sentimental.

LARRY MEADOWS (Regency 27)

(B) "COULDN'T THAT JUST TEAR YOUR HEART OUT" (2:07) [Arch ASCAP—Kaye, Springer] A sprightly item gets a well-defined echo chamber warble from the artist, who's backed by a Latinish combo-chorus stint. Date also includes a narrative section. Diskery is based in Los Angeles.

VON FREEMAN (Markie 103)

(B+) "WHEN YOU LOVE SOMEONE" (2:14) [Massa BMI—Freeman] Von Freeman and his crew come up with a top-flight instrumental affair with a teen-angled multi-dance beat. Tune has enough good things in it to cause quite a stir.

(B) "CHEEKS" (2:22) [Massa BMI—Freeman] Another fine instrumental side. This one's a potent, rhythmic twister.

THE MEDALLIONS (Lenox 5556)

(B+) "WHY DO YOU AT ME" [Bonatemp & Madchen BMI—Gibson] The teen set is sure to appreciate the contagious vocal-instrumental goings-on here. A solo trumpet offers the vocalists a worthy helping-hand in the backdrop. Diskery is an affiliate of Ad-Lib Records.

(B) "YOU ARE IRRESISTIBLE" [Bonatemp & Madchen BMI—Gibson] In this easy-beat romantic, the loved-one is saluted in no uncertain terms.

JOHNNY FARRO (Monique 614)

(B) "A LITTLE LOVE, A LITTLE KISS" (2:34) [Chappell ASCAP—Ross, Silesu] Pretty Italian-styled ballad is handled with a lush, legit style by the rich-voiced songster and string-loaded ork. Lyrics are sung in both English and Italian. Jukebox operators catering to large Italian markets should note.

GAYLON CHRISTIE (Bid 503)

(B) "SOMEONE ELSE, NOT ME" [Sherwick ASCAP—Duncan] A striking solo electric guitar sound spotlights this simple, but effective instrumental moody. A soulful sax is also a featured instrument, and, about half-way-down, a chorus does some soft chanting. Label is located in Waco, Texas.

(B) "TOO LATE" [Trinity BMI—Doyle] A vocal crew tagged The Downbeats, led by Dean Hester, heads this bright rocker.

KURT HARRIS (Josie 902)

(B) "UH HUH" (2:50) [Sizzle SESAC—Bernstein, Simons, Burton] Catchy blues-styled stuff from the songster and his organ-led backing. Vehicle is a tuneful, familiar-sounding folkish affair. Side has lots of good teen-market cheer.

(B) "YOU BETTER SHUT YOUR MOUTH" (2:32) [B. F. Wood ASCAP—Wooten, Burton, Lee] Busy blues novelty, one of the gimmicks of which is a Chipmunk-like voice.

JOHNNY (ACE) CANNON (Fernwood 135)

(B+) "HOE DOWN ROCK" (2:18) [Pure Gold & Sandra BMI—P.D.] A traditional hoe-down ditty is dressed-up for the teen crowd. Heading the sunny showing is a happy sax sound. An off-beat romp that could get attention.

(B) "SUMMERTIME" (2:12) [Gershwin ASCAP—Heyward, Gershwin] Sax again leads the way in an intriguing slow-beat reading of the classic.

CHICK CARBO (Instant 3254)

(B+) "TWO TABLES AWAY" (2:21) [Tune-Kel BMI—Neville] The r&b vet seems destined to pull some loot with this hard-driving, low-down, chorus-backed rhythmic lament. Side boasts some real smart guitar work. A natural for ops and spinners.

(B) "WHAT DOES IT TAKE" (2:33) [Tune-Kel BMI—Neville] This time out Carbo offers a fine medium-paced tradition-oriented blues ballad.

Atlantic Completes Top Sales Year;

Gross Sales Exceed $7 Million

NEW YORK—Atlantic Records had its most successful year in 1962, with gross sales of Atlantic & Atco product topping the $7 million mark, the label reported last week.

The label declared that an increase in both singles and albums over the 12 month period established the record gross.

"Several reasons are responsible for the success of our operations this year," according to Ahmet Ertegun, president of the label.

We have become very much aware of the greater diversity of product which the record buying public is demanding, both in the singles and album fields. We were fortunate to have met that demand with a number of important releases, including three singles that each sold over a million copies; 'Stranger On The Shore,' by Mr. Acker Bilk (Atco), 'Green Onions' by Booker T. & The M.G.'s (Stax), and 'Alley Cat' by Bent Fabric (Atco). All three were followed by associated albums, which have sold and continue to sell extremely well.

"This year, the recordings of both established performers, as well as new artists earned audience acceptance. On the Atlantic label, the popular Drifters added two more winners to their long list of big recordings; their currently successful 'Up On The Roof' and 'When My Little Girl Is Smiling,' which was released earlier this year. The resurgence of LaVern Baker in the singles field has been a welcome event. Her recording of 'See See Rider' is currently a best-seller. The same is true of Carla Thomas, who returned to the winner's circle with 'I'll Bring It Home To You.' Another Atlantic artist, Solomon Burke, who has proved himself a consistent hit maker, was represented this year with 'Cry To Me,' 'Down In The Valley,' and his new release, 'I Said I Was Sorry' and 'Go On Back To Him.'

"We were privileged that one of the most talented performers in our industry, Mel Torme, joined Atlantic to record both albums and singles for the label. His first single, 'Comin' Home Baby,' was quick to win enthusiastic approval."

"We introduced several new performers this year who gained immediate followings; Booker T. & The M.G.'s, whose aforementioned 'Green Onions' produced a million seller the first time out. His follow-up disk, 'Jelly Bread,' is already moving at an impressive pace. Other new talents who hold enormous promise are Betty Lavett with 'My Man—He's A Lovin' Man' (Atlantic) and William Bell with 'You Don't Miss Your Water' (Stax).

"On Atco, Ben E. King's 'Don't Play That Song,' The Ikettes' 'I'm Blue,' and Acker Bilk's 'Above The Stars' were all outstanding singles. Bobby Darin was represented on Atco by at least three hits: 'Multiplication,' 'What'd I Say,' and 'Things.' Bent Fabric's 'Chicken Feed' is already shaping up as a strong successor to 'Alley Cat.'

Avnet Denies Confabs To Buy Atlantic

NEW YORK—A flat denial that discussions were taking place between Liberty Records and Atlantic Records for the former's purchase of Atlantic was made last week by Lester Avnet, president of Avnet Electronics, which acquired Liberty earlier this year.

Trade talk had it that such a deal was in the works, but while Liberty prexy Al Bennett said no decision on the matter would be reached before Jan. 1, Ahmet Ertegun, head of Atlantic, told Cash Box that the label wanted to buy, not sell.

The following statement by Avnet would seem to indicate that although Liberty would not shy away from such discussions, Atlantic definitely has a "Not for Sale" sign on its door:

"In order to rectify trade stories and rumors which have been circulating in the past few days, I should like to state categorically that neither Liberty Records nor the Avnet Electronics Corp. of which it is part, is in discussion with Atlantic Records for the purpose of acquisition or merger. While it is true that Liberty Records and Avnet are presently interested in acquisitions both in and out of the record fields and while we have the highest regard for Atlantic Records, we have no reason to believe that Atlantic is or has been interested in any sale or merger."

Roulette Bringing Distributors To N.Y. For Jan. Sales Meet

NEW YORK—Roulette Records will hold a national sales meeting for all its distributors in New York on Saturday, Jan. 5 and Sunday, Jan. 6. Meet will be attended by both the distributors, as well as their sales and promotion personnel, at the Plaza Hotel and, according to Bud Katzel, the label's general sales manager, a record turnout is expected.

The January Sales Meeting sets a new precedent for Roulette. Prior to this meet, the diskery's only full scale national meets were held the latter part of the summer months as a prelude to the firm's fall programs. This forthcoming meet will set the stage for the presentation of the company's first album release schedule for 1963 and a general discussion of its future plans for the first half of the year.

On Friday, Jan. 4th, Roulette will conduct a promotion meet and seminar for the distributors personnel as well as for the label's own field staff. The Sat., Jan. 5 meet will be a general open meeting, at which time the new album releases for Jan. will be unveiled, and a wide open discussion on company policy, past, present and future, and mutual industry problems will be undertaken.

On Sun., Roulette will continue a unique feature of their meets, which was first instituted three years ago. The diskery will hold scheduled, private, in-person meetings with each distributor, at which time specific individual problems will be the chief concern. Also, at this time, the distributor will write his initial order for the new January product, as well as catalog merchandise. Each distributor will be allotted from 20 to 30 minutes for their private appointments.

According to Katzel, Roulette has found these private meetings one of the most gratifying segments of these distributor conclaves. "It enables us to get to the heart of a distributor's problem and to attempt to understand and cope with it without burdening other distributors who may not be faced with such matters and are unconcerned by it. In this way, matters relating to a specific territory can be isolated and dealt with more effectively . . ."

The Roulette meet will be attended by the entire executive staff and will be helmed by the company's president, Morris Levy, along with Katzel and Howard Fisher, comptroller, and also including A & R heads George Goldner, Henry Glover and Teddy Reig.

McGuires Looking For New Label, Says Kane

NEW YORK—The McGuire Sisters, a featured attraction on the Coral label for the past 11 years, are shopping around for a new diskery, according to their manager, Murray Kane.

Vocal trio's pact with Decca Records, parent company of Coral, ends in Jan. Kane said he was considering a number of offers from various, unnamed labels, with an announcement coming shortly as to their new affiliation.

Kane added that negotiations are being conducted on a "two for one" basis, since a member of the crew, Phyllis, has been doing solo stints of late and is expected to record occasionally as a solo.

Dorothy McGuire has just given birth to her second son and the sister act will continue upon her return. Meanwhile, Phyllis continues to do some work as a single.

Team is committed for three more dates in the next two years at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas.

Columbia Realigns Sales Force

NEW YORK—Columbia Records has made a number of changes in its sales organization.

Realignment was made, an announcement said, in order to "carry out most effectively the assignment of the Columbia Records sales organization in a continually changing industry."

Joseph Lyons has been promoted to the position of marketing director, product sales and planning. In this position, he will be responsible to William Gallagher, marketing, vice-president, for studies and recommendations for maximum catalog utilization and distribution efficiencies in the profit centers responsible to the marketing department.

Lyons joined Columbia in 1956 as manager of the Philadelphia branch of Columbia Records Distributors, Inc. In 1958, he was promoted to District Sales Manager of the Columbia Records Sales Corporation and in Jan. 1961 he was promoted to Field Sales manager.

The director of sales, Jack Loetz, has announced the following realignment in the Columbia Records Sales Corporation Organization:

With the promotion of Lyons to marketing, Maurice Hoffman, manager of national sales, will now be directly responsible for all line activities of the Field Sales organization.

Richard Smith, manager of product services, will be responsible to Jack Loetz for maintaining liaison between the various product managers of the sales corporation and creative services. In addition, John Weihing, manager of Columbia's order services, will now report to Mr. Smith.

Peter Munves will assume the responsibility of Masterworks product manager. He will be responsible to Loetz for all merchandising of Masterworks products, including original cast albums.

Reassigned as assistant product manager at Masterworks is Thomas Berman, who will assist Munves in all aspects of his work.

Bruce Lundvall is reassigned as pop product assistant product manager. He will be responsible to Joseph Norton, product manager of popular product, for assigned merchandising responsibilities.

Sal Forlenza has returned to the New York Office and has been reassigned as manager of field communications. In this position, Forlenza is responsible to Loetz for all field sales communications, including Insight and the Newsletter.

In addition, the following organization changes have been made:

The educational department, under Frederic Johnson as manager of pop-product merchandising under Joseph Norton as product manager, and single records merchandising under Thomas Catalano as product manager, will now all be the responsibility of Loetz.

Freed Pleads Guilty On 2 Payola Counts; Suspend Sentence, $300 Fine

NEW YORK—After pleading guilty to two counts of accepting payola, Alan Freed, former deejay "King of Rock 'n Roll," received a six months suspended sentence and a $300 fine in New York Criminal Court last week (17).

Sentence and fine were handed down by Judge John M. Murtaugh, who heard Freed plead guilty to the payola charges on the same day.

Freed was originally indicted in May, 1960 of accepting more than $20,000 in payola while conducting rock 'n roll shows on New York radio stations WINS and WABC.

Freed pleaded guilty to two counts of a 25 count information, each of counts carrying a misdemeanor charge. They charged that he accepted "gifts & gratuities" as an agent and employee without the knowledge of his employer, a violation of New York's commercial bribery statute.

Freed offered pleas of guilty on the first count, accepting $2,000 from Cosnat Distributing and the 11th, accepting $700 from Superior Record Sales.

In addition to the 25 count information, there was a separate one count indictment charging that Freed accepted $10,000 from Roulette Records during the period he was broadcasting on WINS.

Command Mono Sales Up 40%; Showtunes, Dance LP's Do It, Says Light

NEW YORK — Command Records, famous for its stereo product, has made "giant strides" in recent months in the sale of mono LP's, according to Enoch Light, who guides the label's activities.

With three of Command's most recent releases—"Carousel" with Roberta Peters and Alfred Drake; "Enoch Light Plays Irving Berlin at Carnegie Hall"; and "Big Band Bossa Nova" with the Light Brigade—the label has shown a 40% increase in mono sales.

It was noted that whereas Command's sales are usually 75% stereo and 25% mono, the ratio with these three albums has been 60-40.

"Since Command started four years ago, the line's overwhelming appeal has been to the stereo equipment owner," Light says.

But the recent sales increase in Command's mono catalog, according to Light, is due to the hifi (non-stereo) fan's ready acceptance of showtunes and popular dance rhythms, as exemplified by the three recent albums.

Light says that Command intends to continue to increase its activities in both the showtune & popular dance rhythm areas.

Another Peters-Drake teaming is slated for early next year and other Light Brigade LP's are set for '63.

RCA Expects Top 1st Qtr. In Phono-Radio-TV Sales

NEW YORK—RCA Sales Corp. expects a record first quarter next year in home entertainment sales, reflecting the strong sales pace of the home entertainment industry as a whole.

Prediction came last week from Raymond W. Saxon, marketing veep, at the unveiling of a new line of TV's and tape recorder in Chicago.

"The addition of these new models will strengthen each product category in time for the home entertainment industry's anticipated best first quarter in history," Saxon said.

"RCA anticipates a definite increase in its overall home instrument business during the initial three months of 1963," he added.

A feature of new RCA product is the firm's first self-contained stereo tape recorder-player, which contains a transistorized amplifier and speaker.

The Bare Facts

NEW YORK—Roulette Records and their Gotham distributor, Action Records, recently tossed an unusual cocktail party-luncheon for their "How To Strip For Your Husband" LP. The label and distrib presented a live, in-person demonstration of the album at the Roundtable night club. The invited guests that comprised the audience, was made of the wives of deejays, buyers record executives and women reporters. The event was held strictly "for women only." Shown (left to right) in the top pic are Dorthy Klayman, wife of Lou Klayman, owner of Action Records; Marilyn Fisher, wife of Howard Fisher, comptroller of Roulette; Eve Burtoff, wife of Moe Burtoff of the record department at Korvette's in Brooklyn; and Shirely Berman, secretary to Bud Katzel, general sales manager of the diskery. After 47 Years:

Andy Schrade Retiring As Columbia's Coast Veep

HOLLYWOOD — A. J. "Andy" Schrade, Columbia's Records veep in charge of west coast operations, is going into retirement Dec. 31, after a 47 year association with the Columbia organization.

Schrade reached retirement age last summer, however was requested to remain actively on the job until year-end to continue his work on the company's new Santa Maria Project. As just announced Columbia is building a $4 million modern plant in Santa Maria and until its completion in mid-1963, Schrade will act as special consultant.

Schrade went to work for Columbia Graphophone Company at their New York Branch in 1915 and after two years there joined the Navy in World War I and served with Navy Intelligence for the duration of the war. Upon discharge from the service in 1919, he was transferred to Columbia's San Francisco Branch and in 1924 became Manager there.

In 1926, Schrade convinced his company that records should be pressed on the Coast and established the first Pacific Coast manufacturing plant for Columbia in Oakland, California.

He took a recording crew to Honolulu in 1928 and recorded for the Columbia and Okeh labels 150 native Hawaiian selections representing the first complete catalog of Hawaiian music.

In 1929 and 1930, with the advent of talkie movies and all sound being on disks, under Schrade's supervision a second Pacific Coast plant was established in Hollywood to take care of the motion picture business.

Schrade transferred to Shanghai to become general sales manager and director of Pathe Orient Ltd., a Columbia affiliate, in 1932 and returned to this country in 1934 to become vice-president of American Record Company, which at that time controlled the Columbia label. As the original Hollywood plant had been outgrown, Schrade designed and had built for Herbert Yates, owner of American Record Corporation, a new factory on the Consolidated Film Industries' property at Romain and Seward Streets.

In 1938, American Record Company was acquired by Columbia Broadcasting System and in 1945 Schrade became vice-president of Columbia Records in charge of west coast operations, the position he is now relinquishing.

In 1947, he built the present plant at 8723 Alden Drive, Los Angeles, California, at that time classified as the most modern and up-to-date plant in the world. The facilities were capable of quick conversion to the manufacture of LP production introduced by Columbia shortly after the opening of the factory.

Schrade's plans beyond the consultant assignment have not been announced, however as he has maintained a home in Del Mar, San Diego County, Calif., for several years, in addition to his Los Angeles residence, he expects to have more time to spend at the beach resort. He has a wide acquaintance in San Diego County as his brother, Jack Schrade, is State Senator representing that county.

POPULAR PICKS OF THE WEEK

"MY SON, THE PRESIDENT"—Christopher Weeks—Clan 1501
Continuing the current craze of comedy LP's, this hilarious musical satire about the Kennedys seems sure to score heavily in the coin department. Unlike some of the recently-released sets, this disk effectively combines music and comedy material. Christopher Weeks is an apt J.F.K., perfectly capturing the President's voice. Kudos also go to Fran Stacy for her admirable mimicking of the First Lady. Of the 29 bits, some of the funniest are "Jackie's Not Home," "Balancing The Budget" and "Oh! My Johnny."

Greco: Moving & Grooving

NEW YORK — Buddy Greco (left), whose star has been much in its ascendancy during the past two years, winds up his current starring engagement at New York's Copa on Dec. 26, and two days later begins a month-long tenure as headliner at Chicago's Edgewater Beach Hotel.

Before leaving for Chicago, Greco will slice the first half of his next Epic LP, which will consist of songs he highlights in his night club act. He will complete the yet untitled album while in Chicago. While in the Windy City, Greco will also wax an all-piano album—first in his career.

When not waxing or doing his floor act, Greco will make an ambitious number of daytime forays into radio stations in Chicago and nearby cities to help promote his newest single, "Stranger." His previous single, "Mr. Lonely," was a Top 100 item.

Greco's career has taken a big turn since the end of 1960. At that time the singer-pianist was kicking around in small cocktail lounges with his trio. When his "Lady Is A Tramp" disk got around, Greco ditched his trio, became a stand-up performer (instead of one who accompanied himself on the piano), and began getting bookings in top clubs, such as the Copa, Latin Casino, and Edgewater Beach. He now reportedly gets as high as $10,000 per week, and is said to have earned about $250,000 during 1962 via night club work, disk royalties and songwriting royalties. He's managed by Dee Anthony.

Now A "Celebrity," Sherman's LP Off To A Big Start

NEW YORK—The sequel to one of the most remarkable albums in the history of the record business has just been put on national release, yet, from first reports, it's following in the footsteps of its daddy.

The album is Warner Bros.' "My Son, The Celebrity" by Allan Sherman, which is backed by his sensational million-plus seller, "My Son, The Folk Singer."

Two weeks before the set was to be shipped to distributors, Warner Bros. reported that it was assured of an immediate sale of 250,000 LP's.

Last Fri. (21), WB shipped 57,000 albums in the Los Angeles area, 79,000 in New York State, 68,000 in Chicago and suburbs, and over 50,000 albums in San Francisco, Dallas, Seattle, Boston and Philadelphia.

The new Sherman volume is similar in concept to the initial set, that is modern-day lyrics are applied to familiar tunes. Differences are that there is less of the ethnic (Yiddish) humor and melodies are taken from more varied sources, whereas the "Folk Singer" LP applied to more traditional tunes. Among the re-writes of pop items are "Mary" and "Won't You Come Home Bill Bailey." In addition, these re-writes of two Gilbert & Sullivan favorites, "Tit Willow" from "The Mikado" and "When I was a Lad" from "H.M.S. Pinafore."

Cream Of Catalog In Colpix' Singles Series

NEW YORK—A "Torchlight Series" of singles—featuring tracks from best-selling and often-programmed singles & LP's—has been launched by Colpix Records.

Line is in response to demands by distributors, deejays and jukebox operators who "continually request copies of former Colpix releases that maintain strong popularity," according to Jerry Baker, general manager.

The first group of releases in the "Torchlight Series" will contain 100 singles pulled from "The Amazing Nina Simone," "Nina at Town Hall," "Forbidden Fruit" by Nina Simone, "Nina at the Village Gate" and "Nina Simone Sings Duke Ellington." Other LP's from which singles will be taken are "Blue Moon" by the Marcells, "Look Who's Twistin' . . . Everybody!", "Jazz Mission to Moscow" with various artists, "The Chad Mitchell Trio," "New Beat-Bossa Nova" by Zoot Sims, "Tommy Dorsey, Vol. 4," "Sabrosa y Caliente" and "Viejos Pero Buenos" by "Latin Pete" Terrace, "Chris Barber Plays Trad" and "Hymns."

Distributors will receive 20 free disks with every 100 purchased. Special browser boxes, containing 25 singles, will be available for counters in stores.

The "Torchlight Series" will be identified by a special label design with the Columbia Lady's torch to distinguish it from regular Colpix singles releases.

Distributors Handling Limbo Game

NEW YORK—Record distributors across the country have good reason to be handling a game.

Taking advantage of the success of The Limbo on disks, particularly Chubby Checker's (Parkway) "Limbo Rock," Guy Ward Associates of Hollywood, music biz consultants, has set up a national network of distributors to handle a Limbo game, a product of the Wham-O Manufacturing Co., leading game firm.

See Tape Sales Up 25% In '63

NEW YORK—A healthy 25% increase in sales in all segments of the magnetic recording industry has been forecast for 1963.

William P. Gallagher, president of the Magnetic Recording Industry Association, and marketing veep for Columbia Records, reported that a survey conducted among members by the industry association revealed that this year's sales generally were about 20% ahead of last year, with slightly more optimism shown in predicting a 25% figure for the new year.

"Right now everything is going for the industry," Gallagher said. "Four-track stereo tape is established as one of the finest mediums for recorded music and entertainment in the home. Educators are turning more and more to tape in teaching in U. S. schools.

A Trip East

BALTIMORE—Paul and Paula, who are currently clicking on Philips with "Hey Paula," recently planed east to Baltimore and Washington to visit spinners and participate in record hops. The duo are Brownwood, Texas college students.

FM-stereo has added a new dimension to home recording. Finally, the new 3M tape cartridge system introduced in Nov. will focus new and greater attention on tape and the tape cartridge concept."

The association includes manufacturers of recorders, raw tape, recorded tape, accessories, heads, reels and cartridges, educational recorders, as well as language labs and tape duplicators.

"The future potential has never been so promising as it is today," the MRIA executive said.

Speaking about Columbia's own tape sales for 1962, Gallagher said that they are more than 75% ahead of 1961.

"There is no question that the outlook for tape products is as exciting as that of the disk," he said.

Here are some quotes from a cross section of MRIA members who reported in the survey:

"Tape sales were 20% over 1961, with a forecast in 1963 of a gain of 20-25%"—Herbert L. Brown, Ampex Audio Company.

"Sales of magnetic tape and accessories ran well ahead of 1961 and I anticipate continued growth with an increase of a minimum of 50% in 1963 over 1962"—Burt I. Harris, Greentree Electronics Corp.

"Sales were excellent in 1962 and 1963 is very, very promising"—Edward O. Praeger, Roberts Electronics, Inc.

"We introduced a new tape line in 1962 and the reception has been pleasing. We anticipate rising sales"—Myron L. Kerney, Eastman Kodak Company.

"Accessory sales should continue upward based on the increased number of tape recorders in regular use. Replacement heads, which showed much activity in 1962, will be a big item in 1963. This will be the year of the tape recorder"—Herman D. Post, Robins Industries Corporation.

"Good Year For Talent" Is '62 Report By Bill Grauer

NEW YORK—Bill Grauer Prod., parent company to Riverside Records and five other labels, had—as the firm put it—a "good year for talent" in 1962.

Noting that jazz talent came at a premium during the year and artists shuttled from one label to another for greener pastures, the firm reports an "extremely successful program to secure new talent as well as re-sign artists presently under contract."

According to Orrin Keepnews, veep & A&R head, several of the firm's top performers have recently inked new long-term pacts for the Riverside and Jazzland diskeries. They are guitarist Wes Montgomery, pianist-composer Bobby Timmons, vibist Johnny Lytle, tenor saxist Jimmy Heath and alto saxist Frank Strozier.

For Battle Records, Grauer's new gospel and spiritual line, Keepnews has inked the Rev. Cleophus Robinson, as well as The Duncanaires, a new group of sacred singers from Chicago.

During '62, several major artists who had established themselves as solid sellers on other labels moved over to Riverside. They include vibist Milt Jackson, formerly on Atlantic; drummer Art Blakey, who cut for Blue Note for a number of years; The Staple Singers, the famed sacred group previously on the VeeJay label; and Latin drummer Mongo Santamaria, who came to the label after a stint with Fantasy.

BIOS FOR DEEJAYS

Bob B. Soxx & Blue Jeans

A typical example of the overnight success story is Bob B. Soxx and the Blue Jeans, who are currently riding high on the Top 100 with "Zip-A-Dee-Doo-Dah" on Phillies. The group has only been singing together for three months and their present biggie is their first release.

It all began a few months ago when the group met Phil Spector, the owner and topper of Phillies Records, in Los Angeles. Spector was immediately impressed by the group's fresh and distinctive sound and promptly inked them to a recording contract. Shortly after, they cut "Zip-A-Dee-Doo-Dah." The rest is history.

The group consists of Bobby, 19, Darlene, 18, and Fanitia, 18. Their vocal and instrumental abilities will be well displayed in their forthcoming Phillies album tagged after the single chart-rider.

Lavern Baker

Lavern Baker, who is currently holding down the #49 slot on this week's Top 100 with "See See Rider" on Atlantic, was born thirty-three years ago in Chicago. Lavern had big eyes for the bright lights from earliest childhood. She rushed through school and her early teens impatient for a chance to clutch a mike in front of an audience.

After playing a number of clubs around the country the lark went on tour with the Todd Rhodes band. Lavern learned the art of putting a song over to an audience and decided to try her luck abroad.

After six months in Europe, much of the time having been spent in Italy, the artist returned home. She had become not only a successful night club favorite, but something of a personality whom newspaper men had taken a shine to.

The most important phase of Lavern's career began after her return to the U.S. She began recording for Atlantic Records in 1954 and cut a long string of pop-r&b hits including "Jim Dandy," "Tweedlee Dee" and "Lucky Old Sun."

PLATTER SPINNER PATTTER

KHJ-Hollywood will once again present one of the most unusual Christmas Eve broadcasts in radio. A special Xmas Eve Festival has been programmed, to run from 5 PM until midnight, under the aegis of program director Arnie Schorr. The seven-hour show will range from the whimsical to the deeply meditative and significant, presenting every facet of Christmas music. Cal Milner will produce and announce the annual KHJ festival. . . . KHJ spinner Perry Allen has had his afternoon time slot until 6 PM. Last week he helped the station's merchandising department promote a new supermarket opening by acting as a "mystery clerk." First shopper to identify him was awarded a radio and albums, donated by the station. . . . KHJ, through music librarian Betty Breneman, has now sent records to more than 20 different charities and organizations throughout southern California, including orphanages, children's clinics, etc.

Jack Sharp, program director of KFJZ-Forth Worth, sends along word that the station's news helicopter is currently being used to drop their special Santa Claus in on the kids at the Lena Pope Orphanage with small gifts and a tree for the children. . . . Sharp also reports that the outlet, in conjunction with the downtown merchants association, is running a "Lucky Lights" contest, to determine how many Christmas lights are up in the downtown area. Cash prizes will be awarded.

The unprecedented live broadcast of an entire theatrical production, the international hit gospel play, "Black Nativity," was recently presented by KYW-Cleveland direct from New York's Lincoln Center. "Black Nativity" was the first musical play to be presented at Lincoln Center.

WCKR-Miami and nine other radio stations were recently honored with certificates of special service at the White House from the President. General manager Milton Komito received the certificate for WCKR. These certificates were offered for these stations' part in broadcasting Voice of America Spanish language programming during the Cuban Crisis. In presenting the certificate to Komito President Kennedy stated: "During the Cuban Crisis of October-November 1962, WCKR voluntarily cancelled its own programs and from dusk till dawn relayed programs of the Voice of America to Cuba."

For the second successive year, WCFL-Chicago air personality Mike Rapchak, recently broadcast a special two and one-half hour musical tribute to Glenn Miller on the 18th anniversary of the famous bandleader's disappearance over the English channel during World War II. Besides featuring the music that made the Glenn Miller band famous the world over, Rapchak taped interviews with members of the band including Tex Beneke, Ray Eberle, Paula Kelley and the Modernaires.

The Jim Mendes Show ("Designs In Music") on WXCN-FM-Boston featuring music of Broadway, jazz and classics from midnight-7 AM may go network in a few weeks in stereo, since the outlet does most of its broadcasting in FM stereo. The show also features live and taped interviews with celebs and educators from surrounding colleges and universities.

A swinging evening of music and comedy took place last week at the Carnegie Music Hall in Oakland. Headlining the show—a benefit for Children's Hospital—was KDKA-Pittsburgh's wake-up personality Rege Cordic and the Paul Hubinion-Ray De Fade Jazz Workshop of Duquesne University.

"Big Joe" Rosenfield, who conducts the "Happiness Exchange" on WWRL-New York and locality mayor of Times Square for the past 11 years was just elected president of the New York League of Locality Mayors. The membership at the annual meeting, held at the Warwick Hotel, also elected Paul Taubman as vice president and Morris Kirsch as 2nd vice president. The New York League of Locality Mayors, which is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year, has 34 outstanding business and professional people, noted for their humanitarian and charitable work, as mayors in particular areas throughout the New York metropolitan area.

A unique series of 15-minute cultural programs, aimed at young housewives, was launched last week by KRLA-Los Angeles. The programs will be presented six days a week, Monday through Saturday, with the cooperation of the Los Angeles Public Library. The project is intended to bring the library and its services to the attention of a large segment of the Los Angeles audience. KRLA general manager John Barrett said that the series will feature practical suggestions on books for young parents, library services for children and teenagers, and special services, such as the lending of motion picture film. It will also build a friendly image of the branch community librarian.

Christmas spirit really permeates the KALL-Salt Lake City studios. A local merchant has willingly offered educational gifts to the KALL audience. Every hour, a Christmas carol is played and the listening audience phones in to identify the song. Winners receive a lovely educational book or toy for the kiddies in the family.

VITAL STATISTICS:

Jim Horn now spinning 'em on KNOW-Austin's 12-6 AM slot. . . . Boyd Magers exits his air niche on KLTR-Blackwell, Oklahoma, to assume a similar position on KRLN-Canon City, Colorado. . . . Ray Willes, formerly with KGON-Portland, has joined the announcing staff of KEX-Portland. . . . Larry James leaves his WFKY-Frankfort stanza to take over the midnight-5:30 AM time on KEWI-Topeka. . . . John Lee, formerly with WJXN-Jackson, Mississippi, is now doing the 9 PM-1 AM slot on KFJZ-Forth Worth. . . . Buddy Webber given the green light as the program director on KVI-Seattle. . . . Jim Lewis is a new add on WCOP-Boston. . . . J. J. Valley exits his program director chair on KJR-Seattle. . . . Adam Jones, previously with WINN-Louisville, now a deejay on KIOA-Des Moines. . . .

Colpix Issuing "Lawrence" Track

NEW YORK—The soundtrack score to "Lawrence of Arabia," the Sam Spiegel-produced flick that looks like it's going to be in for Academy Awards' Oscars in many categories, is going to be released by Colpix Records.

The label is going to issue both a standard LP and a limited-edition deluxe volume.

The deluxe album will be enclosed in a hard-cover box and will contain the souvenir booklet of the film. Mono & stereo list price will be $5.98 and $6.98. Regular LP version will carry list prices of $4.98 (mono) & $5.98 (stereo).

Music for "Lawrence of Arabia," released through Columbia Pictures, parent company of Colpix, was written by French clefper Maurice Jarre (Richard Rodgers was originally set to do the music, but he quit the project because of work on his new musical with Alan Jay Lerner). His scoring, in addition to conventional instruments, calls for the use of the Onde Martinot, an electronic instrument with a keyboard like a piano, that is said to be capable of an auditory range that is beyond all other instruments in use today. A cithare, a companion electronics instrument, is also used in the orchestration.

Several singles, utilizing themes from the flick score, will also be released by Colpix.

Mogull To England For Powell TV Theme; Also Plugging Own Firm

NEW YORK—Publisher Ivan Mogull left last Wed. (18) for England, where he will work in behalf of Dick Powell's BBC TV show, the main-title of which has been cut by the Tony Hatch ork on the Pye label. Mogull was recently named international and U.S. east coast rep for Powell's Four Star Television's music copyrights.

In addition to the Hatch disking, there's an outing on Dot by Hershel Gilbert, released only in England. Carl Sigmund has written a lyric for the theme, and Mogull will try to place the song with British artists and labels.

For his own European firm, Ivan Mogull Music Ltd., Mogull will also visit Milan, Sweden, Germany, Switzerland, Paris, Belgium and Holland. He will contact deejays and labels in those areas.

Capitol Spotlights Chakiris & Gray In Dec. Release

HOLLYWOOD—Capitol Records has announced an end of Dec. release that highlights "Memories Are Made Of These" with George Chakiris, and Vol. 6 of Glen Gray's "Sounds of the Great Bands" series.

Both LP's have been specially packaged as part of a concentrated promotion. The Chakiris album contains a set of five photos of the singer, and the Gray package contains a second album of big band classics free in a piggy-back sleeve attached to the new release. The two-for-one deal is included in the price of the new "Themes of the Great Bands."

The vocalist's first LP for the diskery, named after himself, was highly successful on the charts and Capitol feels the new release is a strong follow-up.

The Atlantic and Atco album picture for 1962 was summed up by Nesuhi Ertegun, vice president of the company. "In the pop field, we brought out a large number of successful packages, including Acker Bilk's 'Stranger On The Shore,' Bent Fabric's 'Alley Cat,' and Booker T.'s 'Green Onions' LPs which were released when the associated singles were at their selling peaks. Earlier this year we released two of the nation's best selling Twist LPs when that dance was the rage: 'Do The Twist With Ray Charles,' (Atlantic) and 'Twist With Bobby Darin' (Atco). Other popular albums that have scored handsomely for our company are the two-LP set, 'The Ray Charles Story' (Atlantic), which was also released as single LP's, The Drifters' 'Save The Last Dance For Me,' (Atlantic), and 'Solomon Burke's Greatest Hits' (Atlantic), as well as 'Ben E. King Sings For Soulful Lovers' (Atco).

"We are very pleased with the tremendous popularity Herbie Mann has achieved this year through his series of albums on Atlantic. He played a key role in generating interest in the Bossa Nova. 'Herbie Mann At The Village Gate' and his Bossa Nova LP, 'Right Now,' established him as one of the most important instrumentalists recording today, and have boosted sales on his other Atlantic LPs; 'The Common Ground,' and 'The Family Of Mann.'

"As in past years, Atlantic's jazz LPs sold well both in this country and overseas. Among the new albums that did particularly well were The Modern Jazz Quartet's 'The Comedy,' 'Lonely Woman,' Hank Crawford's 'From The Heart,' 'Coltrane Plays The Blues,' John Lewis' 'A Milanese Story,' Ray Charles' and Milt Jackson's 'Soul Meeting,' Slide Hampton's 'Explosion!,' and Ornette Coleman's 'Ornette On Tenor.' Mel Torme has proved to be a vital album seller for Atlantic with both of his LPs, 'Mel Torme At The Red Hill' and 'Comin' Home Baby!' reaching a wide audience.

"Our efforts to expand selling of the Atlantic and Atco LP catalogs have been highly successful this year. Through realistic selling programs and imaginative merchandising, we have been able to maintain sales on a large percentage of past LP releases. These include albums by Ray Charles, Bobby Darin, Herbie Mann, The Modern Jazz Quartet, John Coltrane, Hank Crawford, Charlie Mingus, Chris Connor, Slide Hampton, John Lewis, Ornette Coleman, and many others.

"We have made significant progress in arranging distribution of Atlantic and Atco products in all parts of the world. This year, through new contractual arrangements with licensees, our recordings have been introduced for the first time in the following markets: Turkey, Israel, Venezuela, and Peru. Meanwhile, there has been a substantial increase in the amount of business in those territories where distribution arrangements already exist."

The show, which is expected to attract some 150 exhibitors in the 120,000 square feet of exhibit space in San Francisco's Cow Palace, is being sponsored for the fourth year by the Magnetic Recording Industry Association.

Chi NARAS Meets

CHICAGO—The Chicago Chapter of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences (NARAS) held its monthly meeting last Tuesday (20), at 6 p.m., in the RCA Victor custom recording studios, on Lake Shore Drive.

The business end of the session was chaired by ork leader Dick Schory, president of the local chapter of NARAS. Prime business on the evening's agenda was the unanimous agreement by the membership in attendance to increase the Board of Governors (wherever possible) to two board members for each category represented in NARAS.

A nominating committee was appointed by Schory, which includes NARAS' legal counsel (in this chapter) Jordon Ross (committee chairman), David Carroll, A&R director for Mercury Records; Pete Wright and Bob Diedrick.

The last portion of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of comedy records. The guest speaker was comic Joe Conte. Conte, who records his comedy LP's on the Elmwood label, emceed the floor shows at Mangam's Chateau, in suburban Lyons Township, for about 11 years. He is currently making the circuit of Playboy Clubs throughout the United States. Conte was introduced at the meeting by Joe Wells, of RCA Victor custom recording studios.

The next meeting has been pushed up to Tuesday, December 11, 6 p.m., so as not to conflict with the Christmas-New Years holiday season. All members were strongly urged to attend this meeting as there will be an election of the additional members of the board of governors.

Bluegrass At Carnegie Hall

Benefit Date

HOLLYWOOD — Stanley Livingston, Marilyn recording star and a "My Three Sons" TV regular, recently made a guest appearance at the Stockton, Calif. Police Widows and Orphans benefit sponsored by KJOY-Stockton. Some of the other artists appearing with Stanley were (left to right) Eddie Hodges, Shelley Fabares and Duane Eddy.

Frey To Co-Sponsor 2 Coast Bossa Nova Concerts

NEW YORK—Sid Frey, president of Audio Fidelity Records, is putting on two Bossa Nova concerts on the coast next month.

Concerts, which are being co-produced by Irv Grantz, will follow the recent Frey-sponsored (along with Show Magazine) Bossa Nova show at New York's Carnegie Hall, which was a losing proposition and which came in for criticism largely due to an over crowded bill and the presence of too much audio equipment on stage (see last week's issue for Frey's defense of the concert).

The coast concerts—to feature Stan Getz, Dizzy Gillespie, Lalo Shifrin, the Oscar Castro-Neve orchestra—will be held Jan. 4 in the Masonic Auditorium in San Francisco and Jan. 5 at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles. Leonard Feather will emcee the event, repeating his chore at the Carnegie date, and Rocky Mari will demonstrate a Bossa Nova dance step.

Steve & Eydie To Host Cerebral Palsy Telethon

NEW YORK—Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme, for the third year, will be the host and hostess of twelfth annual Greater New York Cerebral Palsy telethon over WOR's channel 9 on Jan. 5-6, it was announced.

Dennis James will serve as master of ceremonies for the eleventh time, and music will be provided by Tony Cabot and his orchestra.

Emanating from the Elysee Theater in New York, past telethons have raised as much as 90% of the funds pledged to the cerebral palsy drive.

Santa Meets The Cousins

NARAS Comes Of Age

By Bob Yorke, President NARAS

NARAS has come of age. We are now entering an exciting and crucial period. We are a truly national organization, with three thriving chapters. We have some money in the bank for the first time. Our membership is composed of dedicated people who believe in this industry and the creative inspiration of the individual upon whom it depends.

It isn't too soon to recognize that we are much in the debt of Jim Conkling, whose brain-child the Academy was, and Paul Weston, our past President, who steered us carefully and selflessly through our formative years. We owe a great deal to the faith of a few men.

Our improved financial situation makes it possible for us to improve on the things we have done in the past; but also, we can now reach out and do new things to improve the status of the creative forces in the industry.

We can greatly enlarge our scholarship and education activities. We certainly will continue to improve our awards' procedures. We certainly will look for and find ways to encourage and reward true artistic creativity in the field of recording, including, quite possibly, outright awards in the forms of grants to deserving new talent via selected NARAS-sponsored competition. All of these things we can and should do.

The time is past for the Academy to be run by a handful of dedicated members. We are growing too old to be carried any longer on the shoulders of a few who are willing to carry the burden of many.

I call upon each of you to join actively in helping us achieve our many worthwhile aims. Attend meetings. Volunteer to work on committees. Corral new members. Help make this Academy the important force it deserves to be, and most assuredly will be, if all of us work together.

Galaxy Acquires Masters By Hooker, Jackson, Stitt

SAN FRANCISCO—Galaxy Records, this city, has purchased 86 masters of the vet blues performer John Lee Hooker and some of the first diskings of jazzists Milt Jackson and Sonny Stitt.

Deal was with Bernie Besman, who first recorded the artists for his Detroit-based Sensation label. Included among the Hooker masters is the original version of his big hit, "Boogie Chillun."

Hooker's first release under the Galaxy tag will be a previously unreleased side, "You Gotta Shake Them Up & Go" backed with "I Lost My Job."

An album called "The Beginning" will debut the takes of Jackson and Stitt now being handled by Galaxy.

Donald Kahn Forms Rexford Label

HOLLYWOOD—Donald Kahn, writer-publisher son of the late Gus Kahn, the great cleffer, has set up Rexford Records in Hollywood. Guy Ward Associates, business consultants in the music business, will handle all domestic and foreign distribution and promotion for the label, which will cut in the U.S. and abroad.

A single, "Cosa Nueva" by Dante Verela, has already been released, and in Jan. three LP's will make their bow from Rexford, including a big band jazz-type album cut in Milan, Italy by Giulio Libano. A sales-promotion campaign on the labels produced will be launched in Feb.

COUNTRY ROUND UP

Charlie Williams of Cliffie Stone Associates sends along word that Hollywood will welcome 1963, country style, New Year's Day, with the first all-country show ever to play the Moulin Rouge in the heart of the city. Headlining the package will be Johnny Cash and the Tennessee Three, Hank Snow and his Rainbow Ranch Boys, Wanda Jackson, Bobby Bare, amazing. A tremendous response in favor came by telephone, mail, and in-person visits. KFTV then announced the complete change to an all country format. Pee Wee Reid continues with his regular shows and the other deejays now spinning country wax exclusively are Roy Castleberry and Thomas Seay. Record service is welcome.

Lorrie Collins and Johnny Bond. Cliffie Stone will serve as emcee.

A Young fan of country music in Japan evidently believes Sheriff "Tex" Davis of WCMS-Norfolk is the manager of the entire city of Norfolk. When the personnel division of the city of Norfolk called WCMS recently, it was to tell them they had intercepted a letter which should have been sent to the station. The letter was from Shoick Okubo of Norfolk's sister city, Moji, Japan and addressed to William (Sheriff) "Tex" B. Davis, manager, city of Norfolk. He was interested in record information and having the Sheriff play some records for him. Needless to say, Davis was flabbergasted. He has no idea how the 17 year old Japanese who wrote to him will hear the records he requested but he will play 'em anyway.

Bill Mack, who until recently had a top-rated country deejay show on KENS-San Antonio but lost the spot when the station went "pop" under new management, has accepted the position of program director on KPCN-Dallas. Besides his duties as program director Mack will do a daily deejay show. He will also continue making personal appearances and recording on United Artists Records under the guidance of "Pappy" Daily in Houston with bookings handled by Jimmy Kline in San Antonio.

Smiley Monroe, who spins 'em on KTYM-Hollywood, sez that spinners interested in obtaining copies of his Toopa wax of "Bluegrass in Hollywood" can get decks pronto by writing to Slick Norris at P. O. Box 653, Highlands, Texas.

KFTV-Paris, Texas has made a complete swing to all country music. The outlet normally programmed two or three hours a day of country music with Pee Wee Reid. Under the new management of Jim Hendricks, they decided to run a 1 week test to determine whether a change to country music would be acceptable to the listeners. They announced a week of country music and the results were Harvie June Van, Briar recording artist, is currently making her first tour of the southwestern states from her Nashville home base. Timing of the lark's tour is geared to the new seasonal interest in her Christmas standard, "Natividad." Harvie June will visit deejays in Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona and will return to the Music City in early January.

Hank Snow and the Rainbow Ranch Boys just finished thirty-two one-nighters through Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California, Washington, Oregon and parts of Western Canada. Hank reports that this tour was one of the most successful tours in his fourteen years at the Grand Ole Opry. The Canadian crowds in Calgary, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Lethbridge, Regina and Yorktown were sold out crowds and the crew was forced to put on an extra show. On December 30 the gang will be playing in Davenport, Iowa at the Masonic Temple and on December 31 they will move to Los Angeles to play the Western Exhibition Building.

Chet Ward has started a new country music show on WTAQ-La Grange, Illinois, tagged "Chet's Country Kitchen." The show airs from 10:00 AM to 11:00 AM every Saturday.

Buddy Killen, executive veep of Tree Publishing Company, writes in that he has just signed Bill and Dottie West to exclusive writers contracts. Recently, they have had songs cut by Skeeter Davis, Jim Reeves and Archie Campbell. Dottie has just signed with RCA Victor with a release scheduled for the first of the year. Bill, aside from his song writing, plays steel guitar with various stars in Nashville. The two have just cut his first session for RCA Victor. His first release is being scheduled for the first of the year. Justin has written many songs and has had them recorded by most of the top country entertainers. Two of his most recent chart clicks were "Imagine That" by Patsy Cline and "Big Fool Of The Year" by George Jones.

THE CASH BOX BULLSEYE

"IF I COULD COME BACK" (2:15) [Cedarwood BMI—Tillis, Peddy]

WEBB PIERCE (Decca 31451)

Webb Pierce, who is currently riding the charts with "Cow Town" and "How Come Your Dog Don't Bite Nobody" with Mel Tillis, should pull plenty of coin with this new Decca outing tagged "If I Could Come Back." The tune is an easy-goin' traditional chorus-backed ballad essayed with loads of sincerity by the vet. The coupler is a rousing, infectious dual-track ditty.

"ALL GROWN UP" (1:53) [Buna BMI—Hausey]

JOHNNY HORTON (Columbia 42653)

The late vet country chanter has enough good things going for him in this new Columbia tagged "All Grown Up" to have a first-class coin-puller in no time flat. The tune is an infectious, fast-moving, raunchy chorus-backed item with a potent teen-angled beat. Eye it for rapid sales acceptance. The coupler, "I'm A One-Woman Man," is a commercial, shufflin' lament with a fancy guitar backing. Also merits a close look.

Decca's Patsy Cline and Burl Ives check in with a pair of platters that are destined to make that dual-mart, country-pop run. See Pop Reviews.

HYLO BROWN (Starday 613)

(B+) "THE PRISONER'S SONG"

(2:20) [Shapiro-Bernstein ASCAP—Massey] The vet hillbilly chanter displays all of his expected poise on this fast-moving tale of heartbreak. Side seems a natural for heavy airplay. Watch it.

(B) "TREASURES FROM THE PAST" (2:22) [Starday BMI—Foster, Redfern] Brown's wide-range talents are aptly suited to the bluegrass idiom on sentimental dual-track opus.

ROD BARTON (Rodeo Int'l 3156)

(B+) "COLD FEET" (2:15) [Banff BMI—Peters, Bruce]

Rod Barton could jump into the national limelight with this rockin' contagious rhythmic happy blueser. The chanter's professional delivery coupled with some top-flight material give the deck a real good chance to score.

(B) "TOO YOUNG TO REALIZE" (2:20) [Banff BMI—Peters, Bruce]

(B) "HIS AND HERS" (2:41)

[Glad BMI—Couch, Jennings] The artist delivers a traditional opus about a couple which have drifted apart. Lively ork-chorus backing gives the deck excellent airplay possibilities.

(B) "WORN OUT WORDS" (2:35) [Glad BMI—Word]

Medium-paced bluegrass-styled, warm-hearted romancer.

VON RAY (Reprise 20, 132)

(B) "CRY HIM FROM YOUR HEART" (2:15) [Ding Dong BMI—Miller]

Here's a real nice commercial shuffle-beat lament essayed with sincerity and style by Von Ray. The tune boasts an effective danceable ork backing.

(B) "SOME'S GOT IT AND SOME AIN'T" (2:53) [Ding Dong BMI—Miller]

KENNY ROBERTS (Bethlehem 3052)

(B+) "CHEER UP" (2:05) [Lois-Tanne BMI—Specs, Long]

Kenny Roberts unleashes his potent vocal talents full-blast on this rousing, hand-clappin' novelty ditty. With the proper exposure the side could develop into a chart item.

(B) "SING ME A HURTIN' SONG" (2:15) [Lois-Tanne BMI—Specs, Long]

(B+) "BEFORE YOUR TIME" (2:15) [Yonah BMI—Anderson]

Newcomer Nina Wright should attract a slew of spinners with this rousing, melodic pop-styled affair. Plenty of potential here.

(B) "WAITING FOR DADDY" (2:20) [McFadden BMI—Veale]

This time out the lark offers a moving recitation which she sells with loads of country authority.

SUNNY LEE (Carroll 977)

(B) "JUDGE OF HEARTS" [Vokes BMI—Wallace]

The lark dishes up a feelingful, slow-paced tradition-oriented country tearjerker. Side is sold with enough authority to grab plenty of spins.

(B) "I WON'T BE YOUR HONKY TONK QUEEN" [Vokes BMI—Wallace]

Pleasing bluegrass-flavored ballad with some real pretty lyrics.

(B) "THERE'S A STAR SPANGLED BANNER WAVING SOMEWHERE" (2:25) [Bob Miller ASCAP—Roberts, Darnell]

Bill Clifton teams up with the Dixie Mountain Boys on this infectious flag-waving opus about the benefits of the U.S. Clifton gives the side a top-flight send-off.

(B) "SINKING OF THE MAINE" (2:34) [Starday BMI—Clifton, Clayton]

On this end the chanter delivers an interesting folk-flavored ditty about a famous battleship.

1962

INTERNATIONAL SECTION

TRENDS—1962

In 1959, conscious of the speeding up of communications in an ever shrinking world, Cash Box with commendable foresight, expanded its activities on the continent of Europe. Realizing the possibilities that lay ahead for the international exchange of territorial rights to tunes and recordings, we introduced the international section and the international charts. A glance at the Cash Box Top 100 today fully justifies our move and it is an acknowledged fact that Cash Box has played no small part in bringing about the closer American-European relationship which exists today. Although American readers of the magazine will be as familiar with the international record charts as are other countries with the Top 100, it might be interesting, at the end of 1962, to have a look at the current trend in European charts.

America continues to influence the world charts although possibly to a lesser extent than two or three years ago. One of the most noticeable influences today is the growing popularity of country and western style music. In 1959 this type of music was regarded as a specialist type of product only followed by the enthusiastic few who, like the early jazz enthusiasts, eagerly sought the limited number of country and western records by American artistes released in England. That the following for country and western music has increased enormously in the past few years and is now commercially acceptable is due in no small measure to the influence of such American artistes as Elvis Presley, The Everly Brothers, Jim Reeves and, of course, Ray Charles—all of whom, during the past year, have featured in the charts of practically every European country. In England today it is not only possible to find country material by American artistes but British singers, too, have followed the trend and discovered a natural instinct for it. This year's most striking example has been Frank Ifield who topped the British charts with his million seller "I Remember You" which, although not strictly country & western had a distinct country flavour. This was followed by "Lovesick Blues." Ray Charles climbed to the top with "I Can't Stop Loving You." Karl Denver made a great impact with "Wimoweh"—the English version of "The Lion Sleeps Tonight." And a British group The Springfields with their first U.S. release also favoured country music. American influence has also made itself felt in the European charts this year with 'The Twist' and now, as we go to press, the Bossa Nova seems to be the talking point.

Another notable change in trend has been the upsurge of traditional jazz—known to us as trad—a music midway between New Orleans and Dixieland. British exponents Kenny Ball and Mr. Acker Bilk have successfully popularised this type of music not only in England and the continent but in America too. The extent of their American success can be gauged by the results of the Cash Box 1962 Poll from which both Ball and Bilk emerged victorious—Acker Bilk being voted "The Best Instrumentalist of the Year" with "Stranger On The Shore" the "No. 2 Song of the Year" while Kenny Ball claimed third place in the "Leading Orchestras of 1962" section. Both these artistes achieved Top 100 chart honours during the year—Mr. Acker Bilk reaching the coveted No. 1 position with Kenny Ball right behind in the No. 2 spot with "Midnight In Moscow." Country and Western and trad are very good examples of the international exchange of artistes and material. The entry into the transatlantic charts of modernist Dave Brubeck first with "Take Five" and later with "Unsquare Dance" set another trend which, a few years ago, would have been remarkable indeed.

An analysis of the British charts over the past two or three years reveals not only a steady increase in the amount of British material entering the Top Twenty, but of British artistes gaining chart status with cover versions of American originals. For instance Frankie Vaughan with "Tower Of Strength" (Gene McDaniels); Billy Fury with "Halfway To Paradise" (Tony Orlando); Craig Douglas "A Hundred Pounds Of Clay" (Gene McDaniels); Mark Wynter "Venus In Blue Jeans" (Jimmy Clanton) Ronnie Carroll "Roses Are Red" (Bobby Vinton) and Susan Maugham "Bobby's Girl" (Marcie Blaine). This growing chart predominance can be substantiated by the fact that in 1959 17 Silver Disks were awarded for British sales exceeding a quarter million, 8 of these went to British artistes and 9 to American. In 1960 out of a total of 34 Silver Disks 16 went to Britain, 1 to the continent and 17 to America. However, in 1961 out of a total of 36 Silver Disks Britain claimed 22 as opposed to America's 14. This year so far (November) Britain maintains the lead and out of 25 Silver Disks issued 14 are British and 11 American bringing the total since the award was inaugurated in 1959 to 60 British, 51 American and 1 Continental. Chart statistics further corroborate this trend. Accounting for this one must take into consideration the emergence over the past few years of a wealth of local talent, writers and composers as well as several young and imaginative A & R men—all of whom have played their part in furthering British prestige at home and abroad.

Nowadays the fact that a number climbs high in the American charts is no guarantee that it will meet with the same success on the other side of the Atlantic. A few examples can be found in "Duke Of Earl," "Soldier Boy," "Mashed Potato Time," "The Stripper" and more recently "Green Onions" which although rated very high in America failed to make any impact in Britain. With this in mind it is understandable that many publishers in England and on the continent consider that the advances asked for American hits are out of all proportion to their European potential, particularly as with sheet music sales at rock bottom a publisher relies mainly on record royalties and performance fees. Also when one considers that the performance fee received for a British copyright is twice that of an American number and that 50% of the fee for an American composition goes to the State side publisher it is easy to understand why British publishers seek suitable material on their own doorstep. Recent European manufacturers and publishers have been much appreciated by Cash Box lead editorials on this subject.

Crossing the channel for a closer look at the continental charts we find that in most cases the percentage of American and British copyrights is greater than that of local material. However, here again, statistics show that there is an increasing trend, in many of these countries, to favour records by local artistes and those of neighbouring European countries. Undoubtedly, the language problem has something to do with it. However, it is interesting to note that, except for Presley who seems to get to No. 1 with anything, anywhere in any language, and is an international law unto himself, it is possible for first class artistes from both America and Britain to achieve spectacular sales with 'national language' disks. The best example of this must surely be Connie Francis—a truly international star guaranteed to sell in large quantities in every territory. Connie is also one of the few artistes who fully appreciates not only the importance, but the necessity, of making personal and TV appearances wherever and whenever possible. Her efforts do not go (Continued on page Int'l 10)

COPS AND BOBBIES ARE DIFFERENT

But their musical tastes are the same

Records of American popular music sell in substantial numbers in the United Kingdom. We know because we have been selling American repertoire for over half a century.

Shown below is E.M.I.'s record plant at Hayes, Middlesex, England — probably the largest record factory in the world.

You would be surprised if you knew how many of the records produced in this great factory are of American music.

So goes the pattern of E.M.I.'s record business all over the world. That is why E.M.I. records are being pressed today in 40 different countries, and one record in every four sold throughout the world (outside the Communist bloc) is made by E.M.I.

THE GREATEST RECORDING ORGANISATION IN THE WORLD

CLIFF RICHARD—COLUMBIA (EMI)

At 22 Cliff retains the crown as Britain's top male star with a kingdom extending throughout the continent of Europe. Since his first disk "Move It" entered the Top Ten in 1958 he has continued to dominate the British charts. This year he claimed his second Gold Disk for the million selling "The Young Ones"—the first was for his own composition "Livin' Doll." His total of Silver Disks for records selling over a quarter million now stands at 13. Having just completed tours of America and Australia he leaves for South Africa in the New Year. Current single "The Next Time" backed with "Bachelor Boy" both from his latest film "Summer Holiday" to be premiered in January. Recording Manager: Norrie Paramor. Personal Manager: Peter Gormley. Press Representative: Les Perrin. Agent: The Grade Organization.

THE SHADOWS—COLUMBIA (EMI)

The Shadows continue their dual career as Cliff's backing group and Britain's top instrumentalists. First discovered at London's 2 1's coffee bar in 1958 the group has since won a Gold Disk for their million selling "Apache" and a total of 5 Silver Disks. During 1962 the group has topped the singles, L.P.s and E.P. charts, their biggest single being "Wanderful Land." Current release "Dance On." Recording Manager: Norrie Paramor. Personal Manager: Peter Gormley. Agent: The Grade Organization.

FRANK IFIELD—COLUMBIA (EMI)

Born Coventry, England in 1937. In 1946 went with his parents to their native Australia where he entered show business to become a top line entertainer. Returned to England in 1959 seeking international fame and fortune. This he found in 1962 just three years after signing a recording contract with EMI. Success came overnight with his million selling single "I Remember You" followed by a second chart entry "Lovesick Blues." Recording Manager: Norrie Paramor. Personal Manager: Peter Gormley. Agent: The Grade Organization.

HELEN SHAPIRO—COLUMBIA (EMI)

For Helen Shapiro voted "Most Promising Newcomer of 1961" on the strength of three successive hits "Please Don't Treat Me Like A Child," "Walking Back To Happiness" and "You Don't Know" while still a 15-year old schoolgirl, 1962 has been a year of challenge. Her two biggest hits "Tell Me What He Said" and "Little Miss Lonely" although they entered the Top Ten failed to reach No. 1. Much of 1962 has been spent making personal appearances in Great Britain and the continent with visits to America, Canada and Australia. Her itinerary for 1963 includes tours of Israel and South Africa. Latest release "Keep Away From Other Girls." Recording Manager: Norrie Paramor. Personal Manager: Alan Paramor. Agent: General Artists Ltd.

RUSS CONWAY—COLUMBIA (EMI)

Pianist Russ Conway and composer Trevor Stanford are one and the same person—both successful. Their combined efforts have resulted in a string of chart entries for Russ as a recording star while Stanford has achieved similar success for many other stars. Conway's biggest sellers have been "Slide Saddle," "Roulette," "China Tea" and more recently "Toy Balloons." In front of the TV cameras his disarming personality has established him as a firm favorite. Recording Manager: Norman Newell. Agent: Nee Gay Artists Ltd.

MR. ACKER BILK—COLUMBIA (EMI)

Mr. Acker Bilk was born in Somerset, the son of a church organist. Music was in his blood. Took to the clarinet while serving in the British army overseas. Back in civilian street as a blacksmith Acker soon dropped the hammer and again took up the clarinet. Formed his own group, The Paramount Jazz Band in 1958 and made his first recording for independent producer Denis Preston of Record Supervision. Together they have marched to international fame and fortune with Bilk's own composition "Stranger On The Shore"—the million selling Gold Disk destined to top the transatlantic charts and to make Mr. Acker Bilk "Best Instrumentalist of 1962" in America. Recording Manager: Denis Preston. Manager: David Bilk. Agent: Lyn Dutton Agency.

MATT MONRO—PARLOPHONE (EMI)

A true Londoner Matt Monro was born within the sound of Bow Bells. His recording career started in 1956 with a contract for Decca. After the release of his first disk "Everybody Falls In Love With Someone" he gave up his job as a bus driver for London Transport. But success was not forthcoming. His luck turned in 1960 with a take-off of Sinatra for Peter Sella's L.P. "Songs For Swinging Sellers." This led to a contract with Parlophone and the Best Song of 1961 "Portrait Of My Love" followed by "My Kind Of Girl," "Softly As I Leave You" and his current release "My Love And Devotion." Recently appeared in cabaret at New York's Round Table. Recording Manager: George Martin. Manager: Don Black.

THE TORNADOS—DECCA

Britain's latest instrumental group The Tornados waxed their first disk for Independent producer Joe Meek early in 1962. Meek, who also discovered them was responsible for "Telstar" with which the group rocketed into the world charts overnight eventually becoming one of the biggest transatlantic hits of the year. Recording Manager: Joe Meek. Personal Managers: Joe Meek and Larry Parnes.

SHIRLEY BASSEY—COLUMBIA (EMI)

Born in Tiger Bay, Cardiff in 1937 Shirley Bassey entered show business at the age of 16. Diskwise, except for "What Now My Love" the past 12 months have not been as successful as 1961 when she entered the charts with "As Long As He Needs Me" and "You'll Never Know." However, in the field of cabaret Miss Bassey further enhanced her reputation with triumphant seasons at London's Talk Of The Town and New York's Perslan Room. Recording Manager: Norman Newell. Agent: Jack Jacobsen.

unnoticed by European manufacturers. If only American and British artistes would accept the relatively low fees that the smaller countries are able to offer for TV shows and concerts, the resultant boost to record sales and the royalties derived therefrom, would not only adequately compensate them, but enhance their international reputation. It is a relatively easy matter for a star visiting London to take in a continental date at the same time with very little inconvenience. Only by being seen as well as heard can English speaking artistes hope to combat the increasing competition of local talent. Maybe Telstar will be the answer but meantime it is the star and not the satellite that should go into orbit! As a result of personal appearances in Europe during the past 12 months British artistes, such as Cliff Richard, The Shadows, and Helen Shapiro, as our export figures show, have not only greatly increased their record sales but have become consistent chart entrants in many territories. Both these artistes have recorded in foreign languages. At practically any time during the past year both Cliff Richard and Elvis Presley have featured in the best selling charts of Great Britain, Belgium, Holland, Italy, Germany, Sweden, Denmark, Norway and Finland. A point worth remembering by manufacturers and artistes when planning recordings in 'national languages' is the advisability of employing the assistance of a local A&R man, whose expert knowledge of a country's peculiarities of speech and rhythm, may make all the difference between an eventual hit or miss.

Some artistes who record in foreign languages eventually become even more famous abroad than in their own country. For instance America's Gus Backus, now firmly established in Germany and Britain's Petula Clark, who is a regular charter not only in England but in France where she now lives, and many other European countries. The business of 'national language' disks can, and does, work both ways. During the year, for example, Petula Clark made the British charts with "Ya Ya Twist" in French. Although it had been a hit in France her record company did not intend to re-release it in England but after she sang it on a TV show—and again note the importance of TV exposure—public demand forced the release. Parallel with this in Italy one of that country's top teenage stars, Pepino de Capri recorded "Let's Twist Again" in English and succeeded in notching up enormous sales at the expense of Chubby Checker's original. Italy and Germany are the two countries on the continent of Europe most actively engaged in promoting local talent and material. Italy probably because English is not widely spoken and Germany because, although they speak our language to a greater or lesser degree, they do not altogether share our musical tastes. However, Germany is a major European record market thriving and progressive and offering a great sales potential for English speaking artistes prepared to record in their language. Success is harder to come by in Italy where the charts are heavily loaded in favour of local talent. Here again the regular exceptions to the rule are Connie Francis, Elvis Presley and Cliff Richard and in recent weeks Paul Anka, Neil Sedaka and Pat Boone have made the grade. Scandinavia, too, had a noticeable success in the U.S. this year with "Alley Cat" by Bent Fabric.

At the time of Cash Box' entry into the European territories in 1959 both Italy and Germany were starting to make their mark in the Stateside charts with tunes like "Morgen" by Ivo Robic for Germany; "Ciao Ciao Bambina" and "Volare" from Italy and have since contributed further successes notably with "Sailor" by Lolita—a German copyright; while Italy has succeeded with "Al di la" the winning song from the San Remo Festival of two years ago. The Scandinavian bloc is very pro-American both for repertoire and artistes as the charts of Denmark, Norway, Sweden and, to a lesser degree, Finland, bear witness. Local artistes such as Lill Babs, Anita Lindblom, Siv Malmquist from Sweden and Nora Brockstedt, Jan Hoiland and The Monkeys from Norway although consistent in the charts of their own countries and occasionally in neighbouring territories, make little or no impression in America or England. Again a notable exception this year has been The Spotnicks who sold well in Britain with "Orange Blossom Special."

As would be expected the Benelux countries, Holland and Belgium being multi-lingual are still very much influenced by America and both are hungry for personal visits by American and British artistes. This summer Paul Anka received a tumultuous welcome in Brussels including a police and motor cycle escort! Although it doesn't affect the charts religious and choral have a very good market in both these territories.

The charts of France are more difficult to assess as this is almost solely an EP territory with singles confined to juke boxes. However, it is largely a case of Vive la France and local artistes enjoy a large percentage of the chart ratings. Although Britain's Petula Clark is currently enjoying a major triumph both on dish and at the Olympia Music Hall in Paris.

BRITAIN'S Top TV and RADIO Shows Offering Artist Exposure

"SUNDAY NIGHT AT THE LONDON PALLADIUM (Television)

Frequency:	Weekly
Duration:	1 Hour
Average Viewing Figure:	17,000,000
Producer:	Albert Locke
Company:	Associated Television
Address:	ATV House, Great Cumberland Place, London, W.1.

Britain's No. 1 tele-variety show "Sunday Night At The London Palladium" this year notched up its 200th performance. The man behind the show—Val Parnell—was for many years boss of the world's most famous Variety House from which the show takes its name. He later moved to TV becoming Managing Director of ATV, a post he only recently relinquished.

In 1955 with TV rapidly gaining ground and more and more 'live' theaters closing down, Val Parnell preserved his link with variety and the living theater by presenting his first "Sunday Night At The London Palladium" for ATV. Now, five years later, with a weekly audience of 17,000,000 the show is firmly established as one of the world's top television showcases, recognized by artists, agents and managers as a No. 1 plug for the latest pop recordings—Britain's equivalent of The Ed Sullivan Show. Reckoning the life of a pop single as three score days and ten at most, the immediate and overnight impact of a personal appearance on "Sunday Night At The London Palladium" both on the public and record sales alike cannot be overestimated.

A popular feature of each program is the 'Beat The Clock' competition. To date over £18,000 has been given away in jackpot prizes. Over 150 artists and technicians are involved in each transmission with production costs running at £8,000 or £150 a minute. The list of British, American and Continental artists who have appeared in the show since it first reached the screens in September 1955 reads like a glittering "Who's Who Of International Show Business." The following stars have topped the bill during the past year: Larry Adler, Kenny Ball's Jazzmen, Shirley Bassey, Acker Bilk's Paramount Jazzband, Pat Boone, Dave Brubeck Quartet, Max Bygraves, Roy Castle, Xavier Cugat and Abbe Lane, Billy Daniels, Jimmy Dean, Ferrante & Teicher, Ella Fitzgerald, Buddy Greco, Johnny Hallyday, Eartha Kitt, Brenda Lee, Carmen McRae, Dorothy Provine, Cliff Richard, Bobby Rydell, Neil Sedaka, The Shadows, Frankie Vaughan.

Centre—the first time the Eurovision finals have ever been held in a television studio. At a preliminary conference held in London recently, attended by representatives of all participating countries, lots were drawn to decide the order in which the songs will be performed. The results were (1) United Kingdom, (2) Holland, (3) Germany, (4) Austria, (5) Norway, (6) Italy, (7) Finland, (8) Denmark, (9) Yugoslavia, (10) Switzerland, (11) France, (12) Spain, (13) Sweden, (14) Belgium, (15) Monaco, (16) Luxembourg. It is hoped that this early draw, inaugurated by common consent, will cut down the delay in rehearsals which will be spread over three days including day of transmission. This means that countries drawn in the latter positions need not be present for the entire three days.

There has been a major change of plan concerning the method of selecting Britain's entry for the Eurovision Contest. The practice adopted last year whereby major record companies submitted recordings for selection has been abandoned. Instead the BBC has commissioned seven top composers—Hal Shaper, Leslie Bricusse, Jerry Lordan, Johnny Worth, Norman Newell, Tommie Connor—Jimmy Kennedy—to submit six songs by January 7th. The BBC will then invite artists to sing them in "A Song For Europe" on February 23 when a jury of viewers all over the country will decide which song is to represent Britain on March 23. "A Song For Europe" will be introduced by top DJ David Jacobs who also be the British commentator for the Finals which will be introduced by TV personality Catherine Boyle. At the Eurovision Finals juries of competing countries will vote for all songs except their own country.

Singer Matt Monro just back from a 20,000 mile journey to Hong Kong to appear in "Operation Santa Claus"—a charity concert in aid of the poor children of that city. It was in Hong Kong, as a soldier during the war, that Matt won a talent contest which led him to radio appearances and his ultimate singing career. His latest single is "My Love And Devotion" on Parlophone.

In a recent issue we credited the soundtrack LP of "Gypsy" to CBS. This should have read the Original Broadway Cast LP starring Ethel Merman. The soundtrack LP featuring Natalie Wood, Rosalind Russell and Karl Malden is on Warner Bros.

Joe Loss, currently riding high with "Must Be Madison," recently took a night off from the Hammersmith Palais where they have a £250,000 five-year contract. For the fourth year running Joe Loss and the boys went along to Buckingham Palace to supply the music for the annual staff ball attended by H.M. The Queen and The Duke of Edinburgh.

Radio Luxembourg New Year plans include a new series "Meet Chubby Checker" in which the twist king will personally introduce his own disks.

Stanley West, co-ordinator of European operations, CBS Records, has opened an international office at 14, Avenue Hoche, Paris 8, France.

"Mr. Acker Bilk's Christmas Band Show" opens a four-week season of matinees at London's Prince of Wales Theatre on December 22. Bilk, in partnership with brother David and film producer Jacques de Lane Lea has formed a new production company, Pensford Productions. Their first venture is a full length feature film starring Acker Bilk and His Paramount Jazz Band which goes into production in April.

More top stars have been signed to appear in ABC's TV show "Thank Your Lucky Stars" early in the New Year. Billy Fury, Jet Harris, Tony Mehan, Rolf Harris and The Springfields (January 5), Joe Brown, Brian Hyland, Danny Williams and The Eric Delaney Band (February 2) and Helen Shapiro (February 9).

Cliff Richard and The Shadows top the bill in the first 1963 production of Val Parnell's "Sunday Night At The London Palladium" on January 6.

Jess Conrad switches label from Decca to EMI's Columbia and will cut his first disk for A&R Manager Norman Newell early in the New Year.

Joe Pasternak, producer of MGM's "Jumbo," flew in for the gala premiere on December 19th at the New Empire Theatre, Leicester Square.

Impresario Vic Lewis negotiating for a third tour by Johnny Mathis in 1963.

The first three LP's from the World Pacific catalog to be released by Philips on the Fontana Pacific Jazz label are out—"Great Jazz Standards," The Gill Evans Orchestra; "You Better Believe It," Gerald Wilson and "Les McCann in New York."

Congratulations to The Tornados, who just received a gold disk for their million selling transatlantic hit "Telstar." Presentation was made to the group by Billy Fury when the boys appeared on ABC's TV show "Thank Your Lucky Stars."

1962 produced many events of all kinds that makes us think about the Bondy Forest, which is the equivalent to the English Sherwood Forest in the old days, as more than an institution of virtue, when we speak of music and records. However, there is a matter of high importance that has just come to light, which has started to modify geography re: disks in France, and in Europe in général. It's the application of marché commun (common Market or Open Market), whereby custom barriers have been dropped, and exchanges greatly facilitated. There's been big industry concentration as well. The first event to date is the agreement concluded, on a big world scale, it seems, between Philips and Deutsche Gramophone. The general lines of this accord is that the most important firm in each country of this group will help the other and direct same. Just like the big and older brother taking the hand of his little brother and guiding him in his first steps. But this does not stop generally the little brother from stumbling, and hurting himself. However we cannot minimize the importance of an agreement like this one, and will make this group the most powerful in Europe. A big maneuver like this would open many doors and many perspectives. In France, for example, nothing would prohibit us from thinking that the whole classical Polydor repertory, and that of Philips, will eventually be pressed in Germany, and that only the variety repertory would be pressed in France, same in every European country. This will make of the D.D.G. complex one of the most powerful. From the political disk point of view, one never knows, but perhaps Philips could impose its main idea, as everyone knows, that the 45 single record, being a disk for average people, could dethrone the 45 E.P. In this case, the result would stimulate the sales of the 12" LP, which seems to be slightly stagnant re: sales. The reasoning, commercially speaking, is perfect, and it's like this in many countries. However it seems that the opposing forces to this in our country have the chance during the coming year to do this with success. First of all, since the birth of the microgroove record the publicity has been centered on the EP and the cover. It seems very hard to destroy something that is deeply anchored. After reflection, there is another argument. The average salary is not high enough in comparison with the high cost of living, to permit them to buy an EP, and this on a big scale in spite of it all, the customer who buys an EP is under the impression to have in hand a record and cover, which has always been presented like this just like a good cover on a book. One could evidently put a good cover on the 45 single, but the selling price of this record is so low, that it would not permit another cover other than the "ersatz" one now in use. Let's say that this cover is not very attractive. The president of a well known American Record label, while passing through Paris, mentioned the fact that the difference was too great between price and sales between the single and the 12". After careful thought, it seems that the 45 EP has its place, and is here to stay.

Going back to the open market subject again. Let's say that the effect of this will not be felt perhaps for some time to come, but in all evidence will upset the European disk exchequer, and who can tell the future, We might foresee a big concentration by Barclay-Vogue, or Vogue Barclay. We give this as an example, and not to offend anyone. This could be the best solution that could be achieved in France, to create a true national heavy force. It seems elsewhere that the opening of this market stimulates already the competition between several labels. Maybe in the near future the record business will bring in a large revenue only by merging activities.

Another subject that characterized the year and the year before, was the changeover of artists on record labels, usually followed up by a lawsuit, Hallyday, Brel, Les Compagnons de la Chanson, J. J. Debout. To try and understand this state of affairs we asked a Parisien lawyer Maitre Sberro, who said this is caused by complete ignorance of the stipulations in the contract intended or not intended, and the lack of someone to try and put a stop to this.

This is the point of view of a jurist, which is perfect but on the other side. It seems that as long as the contracts in France bear the same clauses, and form, all changing over of artists to other labels is automatically followed up by a lawsuit, and at the bottom of all this is the need of an evolution to straighten things out between record companies and artists. This evolution will come about, but it's difficult to define on which basis.

We also asked the opinion of Mr. Valoussiere, commercial director of EMI and in particular the incident of the departure of the Compagnons. The financial result due to this departure was of little importance, and far from what was imagined. On the other hand, we can say that the change of label for the Compagnons has not been very beneficial.

Let's talk about the evolution of the French song in 1962. The rhythm has been replaced by the song, and this has come about without dethroning the well known rhythm boys, Hallyday, Anthony, who are still competing for first place honors, but trying also to push, on one side the young English songstress Petula Clark. The harvest of the young promising talents for this year is good and ripe. Just to remind you of a few names, Leny Escudero, Françoise Hardy, Claude Nougaro, Lucky Blonde, and the Madison Prince, Billy Bridge.

Must point out that during the whole year this writer has been waiting patiently to inform you that at last we'll have the CBS label on the French market, and it doesn't seem normal that this label should be missing. Alas, the moment has not yet arrived to strike up the band.

To finish up, let's say that the record biz has prospered during the year, and the market has expanded on all sides. Just like the desert caravan, the record business passes in spite of all incidents on the way.

ITALY — 1962

From this Christmas column the Italian correspondent of Cash Box wishes to extend all readers Season's Greetings, which—this time—are especially warm, since in January we must leave the music world and go into the military service. We also take this good opportunity for thanking the Italian music industry, which over three years has given me kind and close cooperation. Chosen to replace me during my military service is Mario Panvini Rosati, who is known here and abroad for information-service for the music industry over the past four years.

In our column, we often wrote about the monopoly of RAI-TV, the sole Italian radio television station. Let's clarify this matter: recently the Italian Constitutional Court stated that the radio and television broadcasting is exclusive right of the Ministry of Post and Telecommunications. This right is exercised by RAI-TV, a company the shares of which are distributed as follows:

75.5% belongs to I.R.I.
22.9% belongs to S.I.P., the 47.2% of which belongs to Finelettrica, the 61.5% of which belongs to I.R.I.
1.6% belongs to others
(This data are quoted from Agenda Del Dirigente Di Azienda, 1962, Rome)

You see, the majority share of RAI-TV is in the hands of I.R.I. (Institute For The Industrial Reconstruction), which is a creation of the Ministry Of The State Sharings. Thus RAI-TV is a company which indirectly belongs to the Italian State. No other station can be opened and the lack of normal competition places RAI-TV in a position of great power. The series of troubles and non-senses the music industry meets with, when approaching our radio and television station is endless. Recently when Dario Fo, the headliner of Canzonissima (our annual outstanding music TV shows) decided, a few minutes before the starting of one of the shows, not to take part in it any longer, a further evidence of the absurd situations this monopoly creates was made known.

The number of Italian subscribers to radio broadcasts is 8,888,522, out of whom 3,348,343 are subscribers to television, as well (October 31, 1962). Over the first ten months of '62 the number of TV subscribers enjoyed an increase of 586,605, which indicates a fast development. The yearly production of radio sets is about 800,000, while the yearly production of television sets is about 750,000.

Among the companies having shares RAI-TV, which we have listed above, there appears S.I.P. (Hydroelectric Company of Piedmont), which plays an important role in the Italian music industry as well, because it owns almost completely the stocks of record house Fonit Cetra. As said above, S.I.P. is one of the owners of RAI-TV and this clearly explains why Fonit Cetra have always enjoyed privileges in radio broadcasts. President of Fonit Cetra is Antonio Merzagora, who is the brother of Cesare Merzagora, President of the Italian Senate. Vice-President of the firm is Enrico Carrara, who has important appointments in other far bigger industries. But over the past few years Fonit Cetra has lost much of its old prominence and importance: one year ago or so Mr. Trinelli, the director of Cetra, left the company; one month ago Mr. Navarra, the director of Fonit, left the company. The whole organization, as everything which directly or indirectly belongs to the State, is in a certain sense choked by the bureaucracy and the situation is made worse because Fonit Cetra belongs to SIP, which is a company producing electric energy and recently our Parliament decided that the electric energy must be nationalized and thus Fonit Cetra is expected to become a direct property of the State.

Official figures on the record industry do not exist in Italy. Anyway, there is a man, Arturo Frachetti—the Secretary to the IFPI Italiano, who in the past privately studied the matter and arranged some figures which can be regarded as the most reliable. But his latest study goes back to 1959, as during the subsequent years he had to give up publishing his surveys because of too many difficulties and oppositions he met with. November last he wrote in the Italian music monthly Musica E Dischi, a new article on this subject disclosing some interesting figures. According to him the number of records annually sold in Italy has been approximately unchanged and steady from 1959 up to now, and it would amount to some 19,000,000 Liras subdivided as follows:

Singles (45 rpm)	15,200,000
Extended Play: 45rpm and 33rpm-17cm	2,850,000
Long Play: 33rpm-30cm and 33rpm-25cm	950,000

The Italian record buyers would yearly spend Italian Liras 15,200,000,-000 ($25,333,000).

It is known that in Italy the most useful and efficient means to promote music is radio broadcasts, but immediately after, there is the juke box. What's the Italian situation juke box-wise? Recently Antonio Ciampi, the director of S.I.A.E. (Italian Association Authors and Publishers) disclosed interesting figures we report here. In 1958, there were in Italy some 500 juke boxes. Today there are some 16,500, but they aren't uniformly distributed all over our territory. In Northern Italy there are some 10,000 juke boxes, while the other 6,500 are in Central and Southern Italy. In Lombardy (Northern Italy) there are 4,486 juke boxes and in Basilicata (Southern Italy) there are 11 juke boxes. These data are quoted in our daily Corriere D'Informazione.

What we have said in regard to the figures of the Italian record production can be repeated for the figures of the Italian production of record players and tape recorders. Official figures do not exist. Anyway in the monthly Musica E Dischi we have read that the number of record players produced yearly in Italy amounts to 300,000 and the number of tape recorders yearly produced would be 250,000.

What about the Italian festivals? As always happens, as soon as something succeeds, a lot of imitators come up. After the festival of San Remo became a national event thanks to Domenico Modugno, an endless series of new, small, indifferent festivals were born to imitate San Remo. They did not succeed—of course—and they closed. At last this year we had the impression that the music-festival-craze had partially disappeared and also a certain atmosphere of fairness, correctness and trust has come to those which are left. To be exact, there is only one important festival in Italy every year and it is at San Remo. The Naples festival, which drew attention in the past years, has proved in 1962 not to be followed any longer by public interest. Thus, it remains the sole San Remo festival and this liberation was surely one of the most welcome happenings of 1962. What exactly does San Remo mean? To avoid misunderstandings the first aspect to survey is the composition of the audience who follows this festival from the theatre in San Remo and from radio and television sets all over Italy. This audience is formed by the record buying public plus a far larger public consisting of people who will never buy a record. Over the past two years, these two groups have shown they have different tastes. The number one song voted in the festival wasn't so successful in record sales: for instance, the last one, "Addio Addio" by Domenico Modugno, was something like an actual "record" (Continued on page Int'l 22) bluff." As to 1961's number one "Al Di La" by Emilio Pericoli, which in Italy sold just a little more than nothing and one year later sold more than 400,000 copies in the States, this is a phenomenon nobody can understand and explain. What is true for Italy, is that in 1961 and 1962 the number five and four, respectively, in the San Remo voting list became really successful on records: "Like A Symphony" by Rino Donaggio (Emi Italiana) and "Quando Quando Quando" by Tony Renis (Emi Italiana), and not the number one tunes.

The Italian music industry—this year—became consistently richer: March the first, RCA Italiana inaugurated its new recording studios in Rome. The new building consists of four studios, one of which is regarded as the biggest in the world; its sizes are as follows: m 12 x 24 x 36 (40 x 80 x 120 feet); volume mc 10,500 (aggregate volume 400,000 cubic feet); capienza 250 persone (working capacity 250 persons). This brings RCA to a position of great prominence in the Italian music industry. November 19th—this time in Milan—another large building for recording studios was opened. This is an enterprise of Carlo Alberto Rossi, a well known music composer, music publisher and record publisher. His building features two independent recording stages, one with a working capacity of 60 persons and the other 12 persons. All the equipment comes from Germany's Telefunken.

After long negotiations, CBS Records found at last the Italian music company which can represent them with prestige. Their new representative is Ricordi, the oldest and most famous name in Italian music business (more than 150 years old) and this contract closes a strange period of competition among our record houses to get this important American line.

1962 has been the year of the record marriage between Philips and DGG. How their merger should be achieved is not yet known in details. 1963 will see it.

The two giants of the Italian record industry are two foreigners in Italy: RCA from New York and EMI from London. Both of them had a good 1962 and can boast of at least one big hit: "Quando Calienta El Sol" by Los Hermanos Rigual (RCA) and "Quando Quando Quando" by Tony Renis (EMI). In March, RCA opened its new recording studios in Rome and made its catalog richer, adding Pye and Barclay. RCA also got success with Paul Anka's "Love Me Warm And Tender," Edoardo Vianello's "Guarda Come Dondolo" and "Pinne Occhiali E Fucile," several Neil Sedaka numbers, and Sergio Endrigo's "Io Che Amo Solo Te." As for EMI, besides the brilliant showing of Tony Renis, who is expected to conquer some European foreign market as well, the firm recorded good sales with Pino Donaggio, a star who was born last year, with Edith Piaf, Gilbert Becaud, and England's Cliff Richard with "How Wonderful To Know." Since January 1962 it distributed the Liberty line, which can meet with its first big hit with the Italian version of "Run To Him" by Bobby Vee. 1962 has been the first year of Francois Minchin as EMI Italian's director.

This year we have marked two important record victories of Italian talent abroad: Emilio Pericoli had a hit in the States with "Al Di La," and our "Mina" had similar success in Germany with "Heisser Sand." Peppino Di Capri, moreover, was able to sell well in Germany with "Saint Tropex Twist," "Los Marcellos Ferial" became number one in France with "Quando Calienta El Sol" and Tony Renis is doing well in several European countries with his "Quando Quando Quando."

On the other front, foreign talent in Italy, it must be mentioned Paul Anka with "Ogni Giorno (Love Me Warm And Tender)," Cliff Richard with "Anema E Core (How Wonderful To Know)," Neil Sedaka with more than one title, but mainly with "Tu Non Sai." One thing must be said because it seems a real trend: they got success with records in the Italian language.

This year, which opened in the warm atmosphere of the Twist craze as a dance and under the auspices of Italian singer Peppino Di Capri, who was responsible for the Twist smash here, ends with the sound of the new Bossa Nova. Nobody yet knows what will be the reaction of Italy to the Bossa Nova, but to avoid the danger of being caught by the possible boom of Bossa Nova in Italy without having arranged Bossa Nova record numbers, every Italian record house has cut an incredible amount of Bossa Nova disks, which will surely create a shocking sense of confusion in the mind of the record buyers. If the Bossa Nova booms here, merit also goes to Enrique Lebendiger, the South American music publisher, who this year came more than once to Italy and contacted a lot of people to communicate to them his enthusiasm for the Bossa Nova. Later this year, also came to Milan with a U.S. jazz troupe including Charlie Byrd, the guitarist, which performed the Bossa Nova on the stages of Milan and Rome.

This year marked a strong exchange of foreign labels in Italy: Columbia passed from Philips to Ricordi, Vogue from Durium to Gurtler, Barclay from Gurtler to RCA Italiana, Liberty from Decca Italiana to EMI Italiana, the Interdisc jazz lines went all together to Philips, RIFI took over the Time label.

This year Adriano Celentano, our best talent, left his record producer Walter Gurtler and opened in the center of Milan his own record house under the name Clan. Things are going well to him: his first Clan release, "Tower Of Strength" by himself sold more than a half million copies, his second release "Stand By Me," also by himself, too, is on the same road to success.

Nanni Ricordi, Spring last, left his post as record creation manager at RCA Italiana in Rome and opened his own offices in Milan to produce records. It is expected that he can soon succeed.

Two record houses this year, Italdisc and Bluebell, closed and broke off their network of agents and gave their distribution respectively to DGG and Ricordi.

Walter Gurtler bought a new building consisting of offices, record moulding factory and one recording stage. The building is located at Pero, a section of Milan and will be opened by Walter at the end of 1963. A big report on this can be found in the last Cash Box Directory issue.

ITALIAN ARTIST BIOGRAPHIES

ADRIANO CELENTANO-CLAN

Singer Celentano was undoubtedly the top selling Italian artist in 1962. This came from both the Gurtler label, his previous affiliation, and Clan Records, which he formed in '62. The hits include "Nata Per Me (Born For Me)" (Gurtler), about 450,000 sold; "Stoi Lontana Da Me (Tower Of Strength)" (Clan), more than a half-million sold; "Preghero (Stand By Me)" (Clan), 200,000 sold and still selling at the time of writing; "Si E' Spento Il Sol (The Sun Went Out)" (Gurtler), sales figure unknown. Outside of Italy, Celentano's biggest market is Argentina.

His label is distributed in Italy and Switzerland by Rifi Records, and all over the world, except South America, by Durium.

PEPPINO DI CAPRI—CARISCH

Peppino Di Capri, 24-years-old, is one of the biggest names in Italy. He is able to interpret with equal finesse standards and modern-sounding songs.

Specifically, he is a modern and refined performer of Italy's Neapolitan song catalog, yet, at the same time, he was solely responsible for the incredible success of the twist in Italy.

His big twist tunes were "Let's Twist Again" and "Saint Tropex," which besides its popularity in Italy, was a big success in Germany.

His other hits include "Speedy Gonzales" and "Addio Mondo Crudele (Goodbye Cruel World)." He is one of Italy's top-paid night club attractions.

Summing up, Di Capri is an Italian talent able to bring old songs to new hit life and follow closely the movements of foreign disk fads so that he can be first to launch them in Italy.

ITALIAN ARTIST BIOGRAPHIES

TONY DALLARA— SAAR & GURTNER

Dallara, the 26-year-old songster, has had a series of successes on disks. These include "Come Prima," which made some noise in the U.S. some years ago, "Ti Dira," "Non Passa Più," "Romantica," "La Novia," "Bambina Bambina" and "Caterina." His brother is impresario Gino Lardera, who operates Music Star at Galleria Del Corso 2, Milan.

PINO DONAGGIO—EMI ITALIANA

Donaggio is a pop music composer and singer and also a student of the violin. Musically speaking, he was born at the San Remo Festival of 1961, which presented his tune, "Like A Symphony," which came in sixth in the competition, but became a number one seller. Following up that first hit, he penned a series of other compositions of light music. In 1962, his most successful record was his song "La Ragazza Col Maglione." His latest single is "Madison Fra Gli Angeli" backed by "Vestita D' Sacco."

SERGIO ENDRIGO—RCA ITALIANA

Sergio Endrigo became popular in 1962 with "Io Che Amo Solo Te." Although the record was not a great big hit, it did draw attention to the singer as a possible big star in the future. He was initially signed to Ricordi, but when Nanni Ricordi left the label to join RCA, Endrigo followed him.

GIORGIO GABER—RICORDI

Giorgio is a young man of 23 who composes rich melodies in especially good taste and sings them accompanying himself on guitar. His hit songs are "La Ballata del Cerutti," "Non Arrosire," "Trani a Gogo" and "Povera Gente." "La Ballata," after a slow start, sold 100,000 copies. Even greater successes are predicted for Gaber in the days ahead.

LOS MARCELLOS FERIAL—DURIUM

Though their name sounds Spanish, the group is very Italian. The singers appeared suddenly on the disk scene in the summer of 1962 with "Quando Calienta El Sol" and achieved sales of 50,000. It was a number one seller in France during autumn of that same year. Team's next offerings were "Las Campanas," "Agua" and "El Cigaron."

MILVA-CETRA

Lady Milva revealed her charm at the 1961 San Remo Festival, when she sang "Il Mare Nel Cassetto (The Sea In A Drawer). She subsequently hit with "Milord," "Les Enfants Du Piree," "Flamenco Rock" and "Il Primo Mattino Del Mondo (The First Daybreak Of The World)." At this year's San Remo fest she came through successfully with "Tango Italiano."

DOMENICO MODUGNO—FONIT

Domenico Modugno is considered the great figure in modern Italian music. As a composer, some of his songs now belong to Italy's folklore. Some claim that he wrote his best songs when he was unknown and that popularity made him a composer of commercial tunes. Two of his big commercial successes include "Nel Blue Dipinto Di Blue," better known as "Volare," which became a big international success in 1958, including the U.S., where it clicked big in a version by Madugno himself, and "Plove ICiao Ciao Bambinal," which got world-wide recognition. Both tunes were San Remo Festival winners. Modugno's more recent disk successes were "Seleno" and "Sassera Pago Io." In 1962, he worked as an actor in a comedy, "Rinaldo In Campo."

TONY RENIS—EMI ITALIANA

One of the most exciting newcomers to the field of pop music. Although his performance of "Quando, Quando, Quando" won fourth place in the 1962 San Remo Festival the disk went over the 400,000 mark in the European market. Tony, a vet singer with a wealth of theatre experience, appeared on Scandinavian and German TV this past autumn. He has already penned his entry in the '63 San Remo sweepstakes.

EMILIO PERICOLI-RICORDI

Ricordi artist Emilio Pericoli's singing of "Al Di La" in the picture, "Rome Adventure," proved to be his international 'stepping stone' to success. Although veteran singer Luciano Talari brought the song victory at the 1961 San Remo Festival, it was Pericoli, who became a top star in the U.S. with his Warner Bros. version of the tune.

NINI ROSSO-DURIUM

Trumpet player, singer and composer Nini Rosso is a newcomer in the records ranks, bowing last winter with "Ballad Of A Trumpet"—which reportedly sold over 250,000 copies and followed with another big seller in "Evelynne." His latest is "Anni Verdi" and is expected out soon with "I Ragazzi Del Jazz" and "Clown."

EDOARDO VIANELLO-RCA ITALIANA

For the past 2 years Edoardo Vianello has been looking for the right disk formula. He finally came up with the right ingredients with the summer entry, "Pinne Fucilli Ed Occhiali (Flippers Gun And Water-Glass)." The twisting flipdeck, "Guarda Come Dondolo (Watch Me Swinging)," also scored in the sales dept.

HENRY WRIGHT—CGD

Negro artist Henry Wright started slowly with his initial record success, "Abatjour," but developed into a stature artist with the best-seller—as well as the follow-up hits—"You Belong To My Heart" and "Fraschita."

MINA-ITALDISC

Twenty-three year old Mina has developed into one of the most exciting and popular singing personalities. Besides her recording success she has starred in films and on TV. She has toured the European countries as well as Japan and South America. Her biggest hit in Italy was "Il Cielo In Una Stanza," of two years ago and in '62 came through with "Renato," "Strigiml Forte I Polsi," "Chihuahua" and "Il Soldato Gio." She recently had a Verve release in the U.S., titled "Pretend That I'm Her." This year, Mina smashed through in Germany with her German language waxing of "Heisser Sand." This persuaded her producer and owner of Italdisc David Matalon, to cut numbers in several languages.

GERMANY

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year! That's the most important part of our article from Germany this week. The big business season is now past, most of the industry people are taking a well deserved rest until the New Year shoves us back to the desks, studios and writing tables. Although the season has come to an end, press material continues to flood our desk, so here's some new information from the publishers and press departments of the record companies in Germany.

Metronome Records reports that Swedish star Siw Malmkvist has burned up the small silver screen lately as she appeared 3 times in national TV shows in Germany in November and December.

Gerig music publishers who burned up the charts in 1962 have started the new year in fine fashion. At present, the firm has 13 numbers in the top 50 according to a strong national trade paper.

Dr. Karlheinz Busse reports that his Italia waxing of "St. Tropez Twist" by Peppino Di Capri has passed the 1/4 million mark in sales and is the second strongest selling record for Metronome since its existence in Germany. The best selling waxing for the firm was "Petite Fleur" by Chris Barbour which moved over 1/2 million records. Karlheinz is planning big things in 1963 including his own publishing firms in Spain in Madrid called Music House Espanol, in Paris under the name Music House France, and in Italy under the name Music House Italiana. The director of his firm in Italy is Germany's well known Joe Van Erden who formerly worked with UFA music publishers here. The director of the French firm is Jacqueline Bouvier who formerly headed up Vogue Records in Germany. Karlheinz is furthermore planning record distribution in Italy, France, Spain and Germany with the Metronome label already set for distribution in Italy. For Germany, Karlheinz has signed Betty Curtis, Italian star for Italian and German dates. Her new Italian record will be released at the first of the year, and her first German waxing will also soon be released. Other top stars under contract include former Ariola stars the Jochen Brauer Sextet who will be produced for Metronome by Karlheinz's Musik Haus Produktion. His production group recently cut new waxings for Metronome and Philips and his newest Metronome recording by Carmencita will be done twice in TV before the New Year begins. Karlheinz has furthermore acquired the publishing rights for the new Acker Bilk recording of "Lonely."

Swinging Paul Siegel, who has been spinning discs for Sender Freies Berlin (Berlin Radio) for the past 4 years is now planning a TV DJ show. Guest stars on his radio stint include Connie Francis, Kay Starr, Werner Mueller and many others. Paul has just produced Swedish star BIANCA for Teldec. In addition, his Hi-Fi music publishing house has just taken over publishing from new waxings by Grit Van Hoog and Acker Bilk, he has sold the song "If My Baby Comes Tonight" to Sidney Mills in the U.S. and he has sold 2 masters from Hi-Fi to Ariola for quick release.

Globus One Stop in Frankfurt reports that their best sellers are Western Rose from Peter Kraus, "Madison In Mexico" from Caterina Valente and "Ya Ya" from Joey Dee.

Radio Luxemburg reports that Freddy is heading their hit parade with his newest recording "Junge, Komm Bald Wieder" (Son, Please Come Home Soon) from his new musical "Heimweh Nach St. Pauli" (Homesick For St. Pauli). Stanley West, the coordinator of European Operations for CBS (American Columbia) Records has opened an international office at 14 Avenue Hoche, Paris 8, France. The telephone number is WAGram 81-93.

Ariola records reports that young star Peter Wegen who last hit the charts in 1959 with his recording of "The End" is now back on top with his German recording of "Shiela" which is selling like hotcakes. The firm has also started a press campaign for Chubby Checker to help sell their international repertoire. Furthermore, Ariola has opened a new distributor in Cologne to bring the number of self-owned distribution points in Germany to 8.

Teldec's Fritz Kohler, radio promotion man recently toured Germany and Luxemburg to all radio stations with young star Michael Holm to push Michael's new German recording of "Just Tell Her Jim Said Hello" originally sung by Elvis Presley. Michael just renewed his pact with the label.

Hans R. Beierlein of Montana Music reports that the title "Bongo Cha Cha Cha" which Caterina Valente made a top hit in Italy is now swinging in the Hungarian and Yugoslavian hit parades. Hans is also happy to report that Bob Azzam has recorded the song "Schau Ich Zum Himmelszelt" (I Look At The Heavens) under the new title "Guardando Il Cielo" in Italian. At present, Hans is swinging in the Number 2 slot in Germany with Petula Clark's "Monsieur" and the new recording of "Casanova Baciami" will be released early in the new year.

Philips Records has reported on their work in 1962, which is a good ending for this last article of the year. The firm has released about 100 of their own singles in the last year. Saleswise their single sales were 21% better than in 1961, their pop EP's sunk 3% in sales, the classical EP's had a 15% increase, the 10" LP pop sales decreased 24%, but the 10" classical LP's had a 9% increase and the big news were in the 12" LP production. Pop 12" LP's increased 28% and the 12" classical LP business increased a whopping 102%.

That's it for this week and this year in Germany.

Bier und Amerikanische Musik haben wir gern!

(Beer and American music—that's what we like!)

THE GERMANS love all kinds of music but American music has a firm place in their affections. With the high level of prosperity achieved in Western Germany, record sales have increased enormously in recent years and E.M.I. has achieved a considerable share in this expanding market.

The E.M.I. company in Germany is Electrola G.m.b.H., whose factory and offices (pictured below) are in Cologne. This central location gives it unrivalled possibilities for effective distribution throughout Western Germany as well as Switzerland, Austria and other Continental countries. A very high proportion of the recordings that Electrola sells come from America.

of E.M.I.'s record business all over the world.
This is why E.M.I. records are being pressed today in forty different countries, and one record in every four sold throughout the world (outside the Communist bloc) is made by E.M.I.*

ARTIST BIOS GERMANY

LALE ANDERSON-ELECTROLA

In 1938, a young lass with a husky voice recorded a song which was to sell 2 million records in her version alone, became a standard, and made her a top star. The song was "Lili Marlene" and the artist was Lale Anderson. Lale continued to reign as a star for many years, but after the war, her career dropped off and she went into semi-retirement. In 1960, she recorded "Never On Sunday" in German and sold over 800,000 records of the tune and once again took up her position as a top star in Germany. She won the "Song For Europe" contest here in 1961 and represented this country at Cannes for the European finals. Hollywood is now making a film about her life. In 1962 Lale continued her hit making ways and she topped off the year with an LP in German and English over her songs and her life. The LP will soon be released in the U.S. and England, and is already racking up top sales here in Germany. Lale's repertoire includes folk songs and seamen's ballads, and she is one of Germany's leading TV personalities.

RALF BENDIX-ELECTROLA

Ralf is a record star with a double life. Along with his record activities, he's also the director of TWA Airlines in Dusseldorf. Ralf took off to the top of the charts with his waxings of "Kriminal Tango" and "Buona Sera" which both sold over 1/2 million records here and followed up his success in 1961 with his recording of "Babysitter Boogie" which earned him his first golden record for over 1 million records sold in Germany. In 1955 Ralf appeared on a regular show for Pittsburg TV in the U.S. and in 1962 he once again visited the U. S. for appearances in Las Vegas and other cities. His top records include "Come Prima" and "The Venus Waltz" and he is now riding the charts here with 2 top new recordings. He is a seasoned performer who speaks many languages and he delivers a top job on stage, films and TV. In 1963, he once again plans to work in the U. S. and other countries.

REX GILDO-ELECTROLA

Twenty-three year old Rex Gildo is one of Germany's top young stars. Rex has over 300 fan clubs and is also a top star in Holland and Scandinavia. He started his career on the stage and soon developed into a fine talent for film. After several minor roles, Rex got a part in a picture starring Conny Froboess and Peter Kraus. While singing back stage, he was heard by an Electrola A&R man, signed to a contract and his first record was at once successful. His hits are too numerous to mention, but his latest recording of "Speedy Gonzales" topped the charts here for months. He also moved into the ranks of a leading man for films and spent months recently in Berlin playing the part of "Freddy" in "My Fair Lady." He has done lots of TV work this year, and next year he plans to continue his career with more records, films and an international career. Rex is certainly an up and coming entertainer in Germany.

CONNY FROBOESS-ELECTROLA

Conny was born in 1943 and it didn't take long for young Cornelia to win acclaim. Her first appearance took place in Berlin, her home town, in 1950 when she was seven years old. She made her first record in the same year. After enjoying a top career as a child star on records and in films in the tradition of Judy Garland, Conny blossomed into a beautiful young lady and established herself as Germany's top teenage songstress. She's only 19 years old now, but is already a veteran of over 10 years in show business and is continuing her career as a top star of stage, screen and TV. This year, Conny won the "Song For Europe" contest in Germany, went on to take fourth place, and her recording of "Two Little Italians" went over the half-million mark in Germany and headed the hit parade in Holland and Scandinavia. Her followup recording of "Lady Sunshine and Mr. Moon" also headed the hit parade here. Conny also did her first English speaking record for EMI in England under the direction of Narry Paramor, and is looking for international acclaim.

CHRIS HOWLAND-ELECTROLA

Englishman Chris Howland became the top representative of his country and the "typical Englishman" for millions of continental fans as he started his career 10 years ago in Cologne, Germany. Starting as a disc jockey for the British Forces Network, Chris soon became the first Englishman to have a regular German radio program over Radio Cologne. He started his career as a record star a few years later and his recording of "Fraulien" quickly took off to the top of the charts. He has been a consistent best seller for several seasons now and his recording of "Little Hammer Polka" in 1963 topped the charts here. Chris is also established as a top film star here, and he not only produces but also directs the "Candid Camera" TV series here and he stars in a TV disc jockey national program called "Music from Studie B" from Hamburg. Last year, Chris went back to England for TV and radio shots there, but he returned to make his permanent residence here and become a top comedy entertainer.

THE GREATEST RECORDING ORGANISATION IN THE WORLD

GERMANY — 1962

1962 was an exciting year in Germany. It was the year that saw German compositions gain power that they never had before over foreign numbers. Of the 29 numbers making the top 3 in Germany, 21 were original German copyrights. It was the year that saw the price of single records raise 20% and LP's began to gain in sales power. Here's a monthly wrapup of events as they took place in Germany and as reported in Cash Box.

JANUARY

Caterina Valente celebrated her 25th year in show business with a gala fete in Stuttgart including a nation wide radio show. Considering that Caterina is now only in her early thirties, that's some achievement. A young gal from Israel named Carmela Corren stormed the charts with her festival recording of "Eine Rose Aus Santa Monica." The International Music Instrument Fair took place in Frankfurt. German A&R men began to have difficulty getting American material as stars such as Helen Shapiro, Paul Anka, Connie Francis, Brian Hyland, Connie Stevens, James Darrin, Neil Sedaka and many others did German dates of their American hits. The "soft wave" sound hit Germany and the first million seller in this category was turned in by Gerhard Wendland with his "Dance With Me," a tango. The soft sound is still tops in Germany at present. Bert Kaempfert hit the U.S. charts with Afrikaan Beat, which he wrote. Electrola released a spoken word LP with former German president Theodore Heuss on his 78th birthday. Philips awarded a trip for two to Greece for the lucky buyer of the 500,000th copy of Nana Mouskouri's "White Rose Of Athens." A Berlin gal won the trip for her and her husband.

FEBRUARY

Cameo-Parkway records changed distribs from Electroda to Ariola in the middle of a hit and both firms racked up top sales with Chubby Checker's "The Twist" b/w "Let's Twist Again." Philips, who became the parent firm of "Mercury," picked up the line for distribution and moved fast on the Leroy Van Dyke recording of "Walk On By" which he also waxed in German. Sonet records started a special promotion campaign for Danish star Dario on the event of his first German recording. Ralf Bendix picked up the golden record for his "Baby-sitting Boogie" million seller at a press conference in Cologne. He was also awarded a golden diaper and nipple by Seith-Chappell music exec Harry Schultz-Bielefeldt. Two more foreign stars did their first German waxing. Sweden's Anita Lindbloom and France's Johnny Hallyday turned out platters for Philips. Les Chakachas returned to Germany to perform in Munich and push their "Twist-Twist" waxing which became a hit. Eartha Kitt came to Germany for a TV spectacular. The German Record Industry prime event took place in Baden-Baden with their Pop Music festival. First prize was won by Conny with her "2 Kleine Italiener" which is still topping charts all over Europe and sold well over 1/2 million records here. In all, it was Germany's most successful festival as many of the end round songs entered the charts and well over a million singles were sold as a direct result of the TV exposure and publicity afforded the festival songs. Nana Mouskouri from Greece picked up a gold record for a million records sold of her first release, "White Roses From Athens" for Fontana Records, one of the Philips group. Manos "Never On Sunday" Hadjidakis wrote the song, and Peter Schaeffers published it. The award was made in Munich. Electrola A&R men Heinz Gietz and Gunter Ilgner traveled to Paris to record Gilbert Beaud, Jacquelin Boyer and Line Renaud in German.

MARCH

Paul Anka made his first trip to Germany along with manager Irvin Feld and A&R chief Bob Yorke where he waxed a German recording of "Love Me Warm And Tender" with Teldec A&R man Horst Fuchs. Paul also made press conferences in Hamburg and Frankfurt. RCA held an international meeting in Munich and Rome. Van Cliburn made a concert tour and press conferences in Germany. His Tschaiakowsky Piano Concerto LP sold 100,000 in Germany. Paul Siegel's first Teldec production by the Oederland Orchestra was picked up for the states by Seeco Records and quickly made the N.Y. charts. Sales figures for Germany 1961 were released and although 750,000 less singles were sold in 1961 than in 1960, EP sales increased by 50,000 and LP sales by 300,000 to make an overall increase in dollar volume for the year. In 1961 49.5 million records were sold in Germany. Import decreased by 250,000 pieces and export increased by 100,000. Karl Breuer of Sikorski Music made his first visit to the U.S. Paul Siegel celebrated his 3rd anniversary as a D.J. for Radio Berlin. Radio Luxemburg and the teen mag Bravo made their awards for the most popular recording artists. The radio Luxemburg contest was won by Freddy Quinn with the distaff honors going to Nana Mouskouri. Third place went to Peter Kraus. Bravo awarded their honors to Male singers Freddy Quinn, Gus Backus and Peter Kraus with females Connie Francis, Caterina Valente and Conny Froboess picking up awards as well. Ariola records recorded top sales with the first German waxing by Charles Aznavour and A&R man Helmut Jantsch of the firm tied the knot with a lovely Munich gal. The "Song For Europe" contest was held and Conny took 5th place with her "2 Kleine Italiener." Gerhard Wendland toured the U.S. and did his first American waxing under the A&R direction of Quincy Jones. Helen Shapiro visited Germany for her first German session for Electrola. Bert Kaempfert visited the U.S. and signed Brenda Lee for German recording dates.

APRIL

Brenda Lee visited Army camps in Germany. Bernhard Mikulski sold his first master to Chancellor records. Laya Raki did the honors with the sexy song "Don't Kiss Me Now." Foreign artists showed a strong foothold in the German market with 23 songs making the top 10 by the end of April, 9 were recorded by German, Austrian or Swiss artists; 14 by foreign artists. 9 of the songs were foreign material and 14 songs were of German origin. Foreign artists recording in the German language include Paul Anka, Gene Pitney, James Darren, Neil Sedaka, Connie Stevens, Ella Fitzgerald, Mitch Miller, Earl Grant, Louis Armstrong, Elvis Presley, Jane Morgan, Connie Francis, Helen Shapiro, Cliff Richard, John Leyton, Jacqueline Boyer, Annie Cordy, Sacha Distel, Henri Salvador, Charles Aznavour, Gilbert Beaud, Marcel Amont, Bob Azzam, Jean Phillip, Johnny Hallyday, Siw Malmkvist, Anita Lindbloom, Vivi Bach, Pirkö Manola, Lill Babs, Gitte, Gunnar Winckler, Lou Neefs, Tony Sandler, Bobbyjaan, Nana Mouskouri, The Blue Diamonds, Mina, and many more. Ariola Records made a huge move when they signed the distribution chief of Electrola Records Rudolf Engleder as director of Ariola Records. Former director Lutz Welnitz left the firm to enter private production. Metronome Records increased their retail single price from 1.00 to 1.12 dollars. Until this writing, no one has followed suit. Gerhard Wendland was awarded a gold record for a million copies sold of his tango "Dance With Me In The Morning." This was the second million seller award in as many months for Philips records and producer Ernst Verch. Siw Malmkvist's little sister Lil signed a contract with Ariola A&R man Nils Nobach.

MAY

Stan West the coordinator of European operations for CBS records visited Gutersloh for talks with Ariola records and Munich for talks with GEMA reported that royalties from records and films sunk 90 million marks in 1960 and 203 million marks in 1961. Helen Shapiro visited Germany for her first TV shots here.

JUNE

The warm season approached the German market and Philips took the lead with new waxings by Nana Mouskouri and Gerhard Wendland hot on the heels of their million sellers. Newcomer Mina from Italy lead the charts with her first German recording "Heisser Sand." Tommy Kent left Polydor Records to sign with Ariola producer Helmut Jantsch. Werner Muller visited Munich for Berlin week and featured Chet Baker with his orch. Perry Como had his first hit here in many a season with Caterina and August Seith, the publisher of the song announced that 5 German versions would be available. Elvis Presley took the only slot held down by an American song in the Radio Luxemburg hit parade with his "Good Luck Charm." Petula Clark visited Germany and waxed 5 songs in German for Deutsche Vogue.

Lale Anderson announced the recording of an LP of her top hits with commentary by the lass in English for release on King Records. Mina came to Germany for press conferences with her producer Dave Matalon, who also announced that her new German record would be out soon. Her first waxing here passed the 1/2 million mark in sales. Peter Schaeffers celebrated the 10th anniversary of his Melody Film company with a gala party in Berlin for over 250 guests. The Berlin Film festival was held and top gossip linked starlet Christina Kaufmann with Tony Curtis.

Pop singer Rolf Peer of Ariola records died in an automobile accident. The deal between American Columbia and Ariola Records died. Rumors spoke of a merger between Deutsche Grammophon and Philips records stockwise.

JULY

Mina continued to head the hit parade with her first German language recording. She also made her first German press conference. Record firms began to make deals with the music box operators for special pieces on box records. Deutsche Grammophon GMBH and Philips Records joined together business wise for the sensation of the season. They stayed separate firms in Germany. The German Pop Music Festival was planned for 1963 despite rumors that the festivals were over for Germany. Teldec released a special series of classical LP's at reduced prices. Ariola Records joined their Sonopress pressing firm to make a joint corporation. Wilfried Jung took over as distribution chief for Electrola Records. Erich Storz renewed his Metronome contract for 3 years. Alfons Bauer who had been with Electrola for 5 years switched labels to Philips.

For the first summer in the history of the record business here, top artists had new releases. Summer hits included new waxings by Conny, Gus Backus, Connie Francis, Gerd Boetecher, Caterina Valente, Billy Vaughn, Gerhard Wendland and Nana Mouskouri. Classically, Hans Ritter left D.G.G. for the classical A&R post at Electrola and Fritz Ganss left Electrola for the same position with Ariola. Festival wise, strong classical programs were beginning in Bayreuth for Wagner, and Salzburg for Mozart.

AUGUST

and Bob Moore for the most requested records of the season. Lou Van Burg joined the station as quizmaster. Two sided decks began to rack up top business topped by Philips stars Nana Mouskouri and Gerhard Wendland and MGM's Connie Francis. Peppino Di Capri had his first hit in Germany with the Italian recording of "St. Tropez Twist." The German team composed of Nina Weston-Philips, Ralf Paulson-Electrola, Angela Monti-Teldec, Ulla Raphael-Polydor and Peter Kirsten finished 3rd at the Knokke, Belgium festival. Japan's top star Sachiko Nashida did her first German recording. Rainer Bertram switched labels from Polydor to Metronome. D.G.G. classical artists Karl Boehm, Wilhelm Kempff, Lorin Maazel, Rita Streich, Geza Anda and Tamas Vasary toured the U.S.

SEPTEMBER

Following in the footsteps of Metronome who had raised their singles prices from 4 DM (1 dollar) to 4.50 (1.12), the major German record firms lead by Polydor raised their singles prices to 4.75 (1.19) and Metronome later followed suit.

Billy Vaughn, Siw Malmkvist, Bobby Vinton, Alvino Rey, The King Sisters, and Henri Rene visited Germany.

Metronome took over the Spanish Belter label. Nils Nobach took over the production of Dalida for Ariola.

Joey Dee had his first German smash with Ya Ya which passed the 100,000 mark in sales and went on to double that sum. The madison hit Europe and record producers here jumped on the band wagon. Enrique Lebendiger visited Germany to bring the Bossa Nova here. Electrola celebrated its 10th anniversary in Cologne with a big party. Sir Joseph Lockwood and L. T. Dines from EMI were on hand along with many Electrola stars and Holland's Gerry Oord. Jerry Thomas of Liberty Records visited Germany. Bert Kaempfert did the music for the film "90 minutes after midnight," his first film score. Philips released an LP under the title "Cash Box Top 100" and began to use the rubrick Cash Box Top 100 to point out their top American sellers. Metronome later followed suit.

OCTOBER

The music box industry took the show as Al Adickes of Nova Apparate did a showing of the new Rockola boxes in Hamburg and Munich. Seevend soon followed with Seeburg shows in Hamburg and Manheim. Martin Haerle from Starday visited Ariola for talks about hillbilly production. Ariola took over Kapp Record distribution for Austria and Germany. Electrola Records took over the Epic line for Germany. All major and minor labels switched to the new singles price of 4.75 DM (1.19 dollars). GERMANY — 1962

The price raise showed its mark in sales as middle selling records dropped out of the picture all together, and hot hits such as "Baby Twist" sold 200,000 and more in nothing flat. Polydor released a new classical LP package for 9.50 dollars. Barbara Kist took over the music promotion slot at Schaeffers Music replacing Gerd Hammerling. The music boxes began to scream about the singles price raise and tried to find a way to combat it with their own production, etc. No solution is in sight. A new gag hit the market again through producer Hans Bertram. This time it was the "Spiegel Twist" named after the political affair which tore the German government in two. Electrola also followed suit but a Hamburg court made them change the name of their release to "Bundesball Twist." Tom Ward visited Germany for talks with Peer Music here. Metronome records re-organized and put Reinhard Streit in as distribution chief.

DECEMBER

Publishers were screaming about the advances and percents asked by American publishers and many German publishers were planning on cancelling their contracts to begin the new year. Philips started a publicity campaign for The Firehouse Five Plus Two and their jazz catalogue including the huge "Interdisc" catalogue. A new man was hired to look out especially for jazz repertoire. Ariola held a press conference in Vienna for director Rolf Engleder to tell about the new plans of the firm. Petula Clark reached the ¼ million mark with Monsieur to make it the best selling record ever for the young Vogue records here. The first German 70 MM color film "Flying Clipper" was premiered in New York and Germany.

That's about it for 1962. We must admit that our predictions in the directory issue and last year's Xmas issue turned out just right. How about 1963. For our new year's predictions let's look for more indie labels, the birth of indie producing in Germany, heavy concentration on LP product and further increase in LP sales, stronger independent distribution, less single sales, more cover production at lower priced levels for department stores. Cash Box will be on hand to report the excitement that is the record business in Germany again in 1963.

GERMANY — ARTIST BIOS

BILL RAMSEY-ELECTROLA

American Bill Ramsey came to Germany as a G.I. and entertained troops as a D.J. for AFN. In his spare time, Bill joined the jazz circles of Germany and played piano and sang. His blues singing entertained Germans and Americans alike. Bill did his first record for EMI in Holland as a blues singer, but was quickly signed by Polydor where he became a top star. His first biggie was "Purple People Eater" and he followed it up with a row of hits that still hasn't ended. This year, he returned to the EMI-Electrola fold and immediately moved to the number 2 slot in the hit parade with his first recording for the firm. Bill is a top film and TV star and his gravel voiced stylings has caught on with the German public and has established him as Germany's top comedy sensation. In 1963, Bill plans to make his first English speaking records for EMI and Capitol records and he is on his way to a top international career.

GUS BACKUS-POLYDOR

American Gus Backus was born in New York on December 9, 1937. He started his career as a member of the Del Vikings and turned out such hits as "Whispering Balls" and "Come Go With Me" with the group. Gus came to Germany as a member of the U.S. Air Force and after his release in June of 1960, he decided to stay in Germany for a career here. His first hit was a cover of Johnny Preston's "Running Bear" and he followed it with "Wooden Heart" backed with "Thus Spoke The Old Indian Chief" which moved close to a million records and established Gus as a top star here. The record in English also made the U.S. Cash Box charts. Gus works on TV, films and on stage. Every record which he has released in the last 2 years has made the top 10 here, and he plans to top off his career with a new contract with MGM records for American releases. Among other honors, Gus has been awarded the "Golden Lion" by Radio Luxemburg as the most requested artist.

PETER KRAUS-POLYDOR

Austrian born teenage idol Peter Kraus was the first top star of the rock and roll era and one of the few to last until today. He made a strong recovery saleswise in 1962 with his top selling versions of "Sweety" and "Silvermoon," and his record sales are better than ever. Peter also does plenty of film and TV work as well as stage appearances, and he now has his own top rated TV series. Peter's bid for international fame has taken him to England where he did many TV shows and the young good looking star has also recorded in several languages.

BERT KAEMPFERT-POLYDOR

Thirty-eight year old Bert Kaempfert is a composer, arranger, orchestra leader, A&R man and recording artist. This many sided young man plays a number of instruments and has helped many stars on their way to hitsville. Even before "Wonderland By Night" brought his name to the public throughout the world, Bert had turned out two other million sellers including "The Guitar and The Sea" by Freddy and "Morgen" for Ivo Robic as a producer-arranger. However, 1961 was the start of popularity for Bert himself. His unique orchestral sound captured the popularity of the world and after his million selling "Wonderland" success he has not only made the Cash Box Hot 100 with almost every release, but his LP's continue to make high positions on the charts. He was also the first European to be honored as the Up and Coming Orchestra of the year by American D.J.'s in the Cash Box Poll. Bert is continuing his chart marking ways with LP's and singles and his newest work is the background music for the film "90 minutes after Midnight" which he wrote and conducted. Bert spends much of his time with his family in N.Y. and Miami Beach and the rest of his time in his beautiful Hamburg home. Bert has become Germany's export item number 1 and it looks like he'll be on top for a long time to come.

FREDDY QUINN-POLYDOR

In 1956, Freddy was singing sailor's ballads in a nightclub on the Hamburg waterfront in a small club on the Reeperbahn. He was discovered by Polydor and his first record, a cover of "Memories Are Made Of This" and "16 Tons" went on to sell over 2 million records and become the best selling record ever made in Germany. Freddy is Germany's best selling artist. The good looking, guitar playing young man is also Germany's top film box office attraction. He makes only 2 records a year and not one of his records has failed to make the top 10 in the last 5 years. His first LP became the first German pop LP to pass the 100,000 mark in sales. Freddy continued his career in 1962 with his first TV shots, his first tour of Germany and he is now working as the star of a German musical in Hamburg. Freddy's first LP has been released by MGM in the states. Freddy speaks fluent English and should soon embark on an international career. He has already recorded in Spanish, French, Italian and Finnish.

LOLITA-POLYDOR

The voice of the people, that's Lolita. Even before she became world famous with her recording of "Sailor," Lolita was thrilling German audiences with her folk songs and ballads. A small gal with a big heart, Lolita performs her songs with a feeling and warmth that has won her way into the hearts of audiences everywhere. Lolita lives in Austria but is still popular in Germany through her many films, TV appearances and stage shows.

IVO ROBIC-POLYDOR

On October 1, 1959, 36 year old Ivo Robic left Germany for America and the Perry Como show. His hit "Morgen" had a world hit. His career began in his native Yugoslavia where he established his stardom before coming to Germany to make records. His first record was "Morgen" and it was immediately a hit. Ivo is no newcomer to records, however, as he made over 50 waxings before coming to this country. He sings in Spanish, German, English, French, Italian and his native Yugoslavian. His big hit last year was "Save The Last Dance For Me" which passed the half-million mark in sales and he continued his hit making ways in 1962 with his version of "I Can't Stop Loving You." His international career continues with appearances all over the world including a U.S. trip in 1962.

HELMUT ZACHARIAS

Zacharias and his magic violin is a top selling attraction from Japan to America with both singles and LP's. The seasoned performer made his first appearance at the age of 6 in Berlin. After the war, he established his popularity as Germany's number one violinist. He's now got his own orchestra and is busy turning out records and making personal appearances all over the world. He also is a top film and TV personality.

PETER BEIL-PHILIPS

Although he's in his early twenties, Peter Beil is a veteran of show business. The trumpet playing singer established his career here after several years of making records with a smash waxing of "Corrino Corrino" which took him to stardom. Peter continues to turn out hit recordings and spends the rest of his time making personal appearances, films and TV.

HEIDI BRUHL-PHILIPS

Pert, petite Heidi Bruhl was born in Munich on January 30, 1942. Before becoming a top recording personality, Heidi was already an established film star. In 1955 she had her first leading role and soon became very popular in this country. Her success was so great that she was awarded the "Golden TV Screen" by a major German film publication as the Top TV personality of the year last year. Heidi started her recording career early in 1959 and was immediately popular. After a medium sized hit with a song called "Chico Chico Carly," she entered the "Song For Europe" contest in 1960 and finished second with a song called "We Will Never Part." The song caught the fancy of the German public, is now an established standard number, and sold over a million records for Heidi. Heidi can dance, sing, and act. In a poll last year, she was voted the third most popular woman behind Princess Grace Kelly and Queen Fabiola. She is also the best known woman in Germany according to another national wide poll. Heidi has now perfected a one woman show which took Germany by storm this year, and she has been chosen as the German representative for the "Song For Europe" contest in 1963. Heidi is now planning an international career having recently visited the U.S. and her first record in English has already been released. Director Schrade of Philips says that Heidi will soon be Germany's most popular personality and is on her way to international stardom.

WILLY HAGARA-PHILIPS

Willy was born in Vienna, Austria on June 4, 1927. When he was 19 years old, he entered a singing contest in Vienna and that was the start of his career. He made his career as a Variety club singer until 1953 when he signed a record contract. After flopping as a tenor, Willy began to sing cowboy songs and pop numbers and with his "Casetta In Canada" he had his first smash hit. He did his first film in 1958 and is now established as a top film and TV personality. His big hit in 1961 came with the German song "Pepe" which appeared in theatres here along with the film and the flip side which was the theme for a national TV show. He is still racking up top sales with his records today.

NANA MOUSKOURI-PHILIPS

The voice of longing, that's the keynote of the success of Nana Muskouri. She's Germany's newest pop star. Born in Athens, Greece in 1936, Nana was already a success in her native Greece before coming to Germany. However, her big break came when she met Manos "Never On Sunday" Hadjidakis in 1958. He heard her sing and promised her material, and in 1959 Nana made her first record in Greece. Within one year she was established as a top record artist. After winning several song contests, she came to Germany and began to make records here. Her first record was a Hadjidakis song called "White Roses From Athens" which passed the million mark here and earned her a golden record. Her second waxing, also two Hadjidakis numbers, passed the half-million mark in sales, and she is now racking up smash sales with every new release.

GERHARD WENDLAND-PHILIPS

Gerhard Wendland was born in Berlin. He started his career in 1932 as a singer. It was interrupted by the war but afterwards he came back and started making records. After a short lapse in sales, Gerhard smashed back last year with "Dance With Me In The Morning" which became his first million selling golden record. It took a long time for Gerhard to reach the top of the charts, and he's got plenty of experience to take advantage of the opportunity that he now has. He not only is a top stage star, but he also does plenty of film and TV work. His followup record was also a smash hit and he is now riding high in the charts with his version of "Ramblin' Rose." Gerhard is once again on top where he belongs.

GERD BOETTCHER-TELDEC

Born in 1937, young Gerd Boettcher was discovered in 1960 by Werner Muller, the man who also helped Caterina Valente off to a successful career. Werner produced his first record "Jambalaya" which was a top hit here and started Gerd off to a smash career. Gerd plays guitar and after working in night clubs with his own combo, he's now touring clubs and doing film and TV work as a single. He not only has had success covering the Elvis Presley hits but also did the "Barcarolle" which sold close to 200,000 records and made the top 3 in the nation's charts. Every record since then has not failed to reach a top chart position and he reached new peaks with his "Johnny Will" which passed the half-million mark. His latest recording is already a smash sales hit. Gerd is certainly one of Germany's top teenage stars with a bright future before him. He recently finished a tour of the Near East and Turkey where he was a great success.

PEGGY BROWN-TELDEC

Peggy Brown started her career in show business 10 years ago heading up a combo, singing and playing vibes. With her trio she played clubs and later became one of the most requested background choir singers in the German recording studios. In 1960, her hit "The Harbor Ballad" established her as a top star and since then she has been a steady performer on TV and in films. Peggy's young, pretty and talented and 1963 should even be a bigger year for this personality.

VICO TORRIANI-TELDEC

One of the most established recording stars in Germany is certainly Vico Torriani. For the last 10 years, the Swiss born charmer has been making hit records. He has his own TV series and is a top film and stage star. A favorite in nightclubs, throughout Europe, Vico is also an expert chef. He's made over 60 records and his personal appearances and films are much too numerous to mention. He's also a top seller on LP's here and started the world hit "Calcutta" on its way with his recording which topped the charts here.

CATERINA VALENTE-TELDEC

If you ask anyone in the world for a list of top European stars, you can bet that Caterina Valente will be high on that list. Certainly Caterina has established herself as Germany's top musical export item. She's not only a top hit maker in Germany, but also tops the hit lists of Italy, Japan and many other countries, for Caterina records in many languages and has made over 92 recordings in the space of a single year. A great performer, a top singing star and an accomplished dancer, Caterina has appeared many times on the Perry Como show and has toured the world with her husband-manager Eric Van Aro. Her brother Sylvio Francesco is an established star in his own right and often appears with his famous sister on records and on stage. In 1962 Caterina continued to burn up the charts here with her best selling twist and madison records as well as the ballad "Roses Are Red." Her LP's sell over the whole world and she is still riding high as a top star. Despite her young age, Caterina celebrated her 25th year in show business this year.

LYS ASSIA-TELDEC

The first lady of records is the title given Lys Assia. She started as a music student, but had her first chance when a star troupe touring France had their top female star fall sick and Lys jumped at the chance and was an immediate success. Today Lys speaks perfect German, French, English, Spanish, Italian, and Portuguese. She started her record career as she took a test in her native Zurich. She received a record contract with Teldec and her career was under way. She took first prize in a song contest in Lugano, received a gold record for 6 million sold records for hits such as "Oh My Papa." She even had a rose named after her. Today, Lys is still touring top clubs, doing lots of TV and film work and making hit recordings.

ATAHUALPA YUPANQUI

(Odeon). Probably the biggest folklorist of our time. Known all over the world because of his work in discovering South American folk songs. His "Camino del Indio," "Luna Tucumana" and "El Alazan" have been recorded in several other countries, although they are folk songs. Screen actor. Has recorded nine LP's for Odeon, two for RCA before being inked by Odeon 119411. Screen actor, composer, very good guitar player. Now is preparing "Coplas del Payador Perseguido," a new LP that will surely cause commotion because of its contents.

ROBERTO YANES

(CBS). Born on April 25, 1932. Bolero singer, although started with tropical music at 19. Worked with Kiko Navarro and his tropical orchestra. Biggest hit: "Lagrimas del Alma" and "Paloma." Visited Venezuela and Mexico in 1961, plans to return soon.

RODOLFO ZAPATA

(Music Hall). Folk composer and singer. Good showman and story teller. Has penned two hits lately: "La Gorda" and "El Casamiento." Has finished his first LP; is preparing another one.

SPAIN — 1962

The Spanish record market continues to expand rapidly and 1962, like the previous year, has witnessed ever increasing preparations for the boom that everyone hopes is just around the corner. After a year of considerable activity manufacturers, publishers, disk jockeys and all members of the industry are optimistically looking ahead to 1963. That the Spanish people are now more interested than ever in music and records has been proved by this year's popularity polls. Places hitherto occupied by football players or film stars have been taken over by singers. However, the economic level is not yet sufficiently high to allow sales to increase with enough speed and today the records are still too expensive for most of the people. But here again better conditions are expected in the near future and association with the Common Market is a firm hope and eagerly anticipated.

The selling field for records is now better than twelve months ago and will probably be even better in 1963. The number of phonographs all over the country at present is not more than 800,000. 300,000 more are scheduled for production in 1963 of which it is hoped at least 240,000 will be sold. There are around 2000 Juke Boxes but mostly old models bearing little resemblance to the latest American machines. Although this may seem a ridiculously low figure compared with other countries it must be remembered that Spanish record companies never press more than 500 or 1000 copies of the first release by an unknown artist. However, the potential of the Juke Box is gaining recognition and its strength in the record market is increasing.

The standard type of record is still the E.P. Efforts to impose the single have so far been unsuccessful although some manufacturers regard it as the future disk for the Spanish record industry, despite the dealers' continued preference for the E.P. L.P. sales are not high except in the case of Record Clubs. There are three clubs enjoying good sales: Discoteca Selecciones del Reader's Digest selling L.Ps of RCA, Telefunken and Pye at very low prices; Club Internacional del Disco with its own repertoire of low priced records and a new club Discorama selling L.Ps on the Mercury label. The clubs operate a mail order system with special offers.

Dj programmes have become very important for promoting records—the top one is "Discomania" (Raul Matas) broadcast through 25 stations of SER chain. "Caravana Musical" (Angel Alvarez) is entirely given over to American and English music and plays the latest releases from the United States. This programme has a club with a lot of members, mostly teenagers, who help considerably to promote new American artists.

Jose Palau of Radio Madrid broadcasts a daily programme in FM and a weekly programme entitled "Musica de ultima hora" through all the stations of the chain. There are also many local and lesser known d.j's with their own regular radio programmes. Television is also used to promote the sale of records. During the past twelve months TVE (Spanish TV) has produced many good programmes and covered several festivals which are an essential part of Spanish life. As numerous as they are popular these festivals or song contests foster keen rivalry between Spanish song writers. The most important festivals are those held in Benidorm (Spanish songs only), Festival de la Cancion Mediterranea (held in Barcelona with songs from France, Italy, Greece, Cyprus, Malta and Spain). This year the winning song was "Nubes de Colores" penned by young Augusto Alguero. However, his glory was short-lived because a few hours after the festival the organizers cancelled all prizes when it was discovered that the people who assisted at the first and second sessions kept their votes for the final sessions with the result that 6000 votes were counted although there were only 5000 people in the auditorium.

During the year several new labels were issued in Spain whilst others changed representation. The Compania del Gramofono Odeon (EMI) already releasing Liberty started the Epic and Stateside labels. RCA Espanola release Warner Bros. and Pye both on their own labels and Cameo-Parkway under RCA. Hispavox who, this year, launched Hickory and Laurie signed with American Columbia to release CBS on their own label in Spain. Columbia records were previously issued on Philips and Fontana. Philips are now releasing Mercury records especially stereo L.Ps. It also seems likely that Philips will release Riverside and Audio Fidelity products. A new Spanish record company, Vergara, representing Ariola (previously handled by Discophon), Ricordi, Condor and Cetra (before SAEF). The German firm Ariola opened new studios in Barcelona and with an eye on the Spanish and Latin American markets signed top Spanish singer Jose Guardiola who was previously with the HMV label. New studios were opened in Madrid by Hispavox who are now beginning to record new Spanish artists. They have signed Robert Jeantal—a French singer previously on the Philips label who had a big success in this year's Barcelona Festival. Zafiro now represents the French Ducretet Thomson label. RCA also opened new studios replacing their old one. This was followed by one of the most important news of the Spanish record year. RCA studios, factory, offices, ground and all installations were sold to Fonogram S.A. a subsidiary of Philips Iberica S.A.—with excellent conditions for both companies. RCA, who have recording & pressing priority at the installation will continue to produce records for all the companies they represent and also scout local talent. Their relations with Readers Digest remain unchanged. It is understood that RCA will step up the promotion of its records on radio and in magazines and streamline their organization. There are also signs that RCA will promote jazz recordings in Spain.

A notable arrival on the Spanish record scene has been Mr. A. G. Alexander from E.M.I. London now working as International Repertoire Director in Compania del Gramofono Odeon.

During 1962 a great number of world famous artists visited Spain including Paul Anka, Frankie Avalon, Connie Francis, Gilbert Becaud, Milva, Mina, The Platters, Domenico Modugno, Alma Cogan, Antonio Prieto and Phil Everly. There are also many foreign artists, almost unknown in their own country, working in Spain with great success.

Newspapers are now more interested in records and music and a lot of them devote much space to records.

The record manufacturers' association is "Asociacion espanola de impresores de discos" and its President is Mr. Iglesias of Discos Columbia. Record prices are now uniform all over the country: E.Ps 85 pesetas ($1.60); L.Ps around 260 pesetas ($4.35) and singles 45 pesetas (75¢). No special discounts or special offers are allowed (except in the case of clubs that sell records by mail).

Spanish folk music is very popular and sales have increased greatly in recent months helped no doubt by the great number of tourists (6,000,000 during last summer) who find local disks excellent souvenirs. There are a lot of young and promising artists and many rock 'n roll groups mostly formed by students. Some of them have recorded such as Los Pekenikes, Los Sonor, Los Estudiantes, Dick y Los Relampagos, Los Pajaros Locos, Hermanos Heras. The year's best newcomers were Tito Mora and Raphael and Javier Fleta and Gelu and Tonio Areta. However, the idols are still Duo Dinamico, Jose Guardiola, Sarita Monteil, Manolo Escobar and Marisol. The most popular foreign singers are Elvis Presley, Paul Anka, Connie Francis, Pat Boone, Dalida, Mina, Bobby Darin, Domenico Modugno and a new Italian singer Ennio Sangiusto. To sum up it is really Elvis Presley and Paul Anka together with local Duo Dinamico who are the kings of the Spanish record market.

*(It's not only bullfights

Spanish bullfights and Spanish music are world famous. But Spaniards are "aficionados" of American music too —sales of jazz and 'pop' records have been rising steadily in recent years. We know, we have been selling them.

The E.M.I. company in Barcelona is called "Compañía del Gramófono-Odeon".

Pictured below is a photograph of the monitor room at the recording studios.

The factory has been in operation for many years, turning out records for the ever-increasing demand throughout Spain.

You'd be impressed by the percentage of these records that are American recordings.

So goes the pattern of E.M.I.'s record business all over the world. That is why E.M.I. records are being pressed today in 40 different countries, and one record in every four sold throughout the world (outside the Communist bloc) is made by E.M.I.

EMI THE GREATEST RECORDING ORGANISATION IN THE WORLD

SPAIN ARTIST BIOS

MANOLA ESCOBAR

Born in Almeria on the southern coast of Spain. Began singing in Barcelona in radio programs. Achieved great success by giving a rhythmic interpretation to typical Andalusian tunes. Escobar is married to a German girl whom he met on one of his European tours. He is under contract to Belter Records. His greatest hit: "El Porompomero."

TITO MORA

His real name is Carlos Oloria, brother of well known opera singer Ana Maria Oloria. Changed his name because he wanted to achieve success on his own. First disk released this year on RCA was directed by Joaquin Prieto who penned the world hit "La Novia." Tito performs on radio and TV programs as well as cabaret. He is claimed to be the most promising newcomer. Had a big hit with "Olvidate."

SARITA MONTIEL

Real name is Antonia Abad Fernandez. Has appeared in many Spanish and American films including "Vera Cruz." Began recording career with Columbia Records and recently signed with Hispavox. Currently enjoying success with a version of the oldie "Amapola."

"DUO DINAMICO"

This "duo" consists of two young singers, Manuel de la Calva and Ramón Arcusa. They have in the course of the past two or three years rocketed to fame as the most popular exponents of "pop" music in Spain, and are the idols of the teenagers. During 1962, they have had at least one, and often as many as three records in every Spanish "top ten." They are very popular in Latin America, and have just completed a highly successful tour of Venezuela and Argentina. Their recordings have been released in England, and will probably soon be pressed in the USA as well. Label: "Voz de su Amo" (HMVI).

RAFAEL FARINA (El rey Gitano)

"El rey Gitano" means "The Gypsy King," and this is the name by which Rafael Farina is most often referred to by his fans all over Spain. A true gypsy from Andalucía, he was singing already as a child, and was an experienced flamenco singer by the time he made his first appearance in a theater, with the famous star Conchita Piquer. He is considered to be the most popular flamenco artist of today, and appears frequently on Spanish TV and in films. He has many admirers in Latin America, where he toured with great success. Label: "Voz de su Amo" (HMVI).

"GELU"

Her real name is Maria de los Angeles Rodríguez, and she is 17 years old. She was born in Granada, and she was "discovered" there by the local radio station. Her career has been almost as meteoric as that of Helen Shapiro in England and she has already been twice to Venezuela for TV performances, as well as to Argentina and Portugal. As a singer of "pop" tunes, this teenager has a special appeal to her own generation. Label: "Voz de su Amo" (HMVI).

MARGARITA SANCHEZ

Spain has a long tradition of "couplets," melodious ballads in which the lyrics are of almost equal importance. Names such as Raquel Meller and Conchita Piquer made the "couplet" famous in the 20's and 30's. Now the tradition is carried on by Margarita Sanchez, unrivalled today as the singer of such famous melodies as "La Violetera," "El Relicario" and "El Pañuelo." Though she appears on TV, her real milieu is the theater, where as the star of many revues, in magnificent costumes, she always attracts a full house. She is one of the most Spanish of Spanish artists (except that she doesn't like bullfights!). Label: "Voz de su Amo" (HMVI).

JOSE GUARDIOLA

Spain's No. 1 crooner. Thirty-three years of age, he is probably the most successful "pop" singer of Spain today. A choir-boy as a child, he studied music at the Barcelona Conservatoire, getting the highest award as a saxophonist. He became a professional musician, and it was only by chance that his talents as a singer were discovered. The vocalist of the band was taken ill, and Guardiola had to "stand in" for him. From that night on, he was a singer. He has received more awards at pop music festivals than any other Spanish singer, and is a great attraction in the leading dance restaurants of Madrid and Barcelona and on the screens of Spanish TV. He is married, and with two children. His little daughter, Rosa Mari, recently recorded a duet with him (a Spanish version of the French success "Dis papa") which was one of the top sellers of 1962 in Spain. Label: "Voz de su Amo" (HMVI).

ENRIQUE MONTOYA

Born near Seville, in the heart of Andalucía, in 1930, this singer grew up in the "flamenco" country. He made his debut at a very early age, and soon established himself as an exponent of Spanish "pop" music, often in international rhythms such as the bolero and the cha-cha-cha, but always with a strong influence of "flamenco" style in evidence. He has been recording from 1955, and his recordings have extended his circle of admirers to Latin America, where he has frequently been invited to appear on TV screens. Label: "Voz de su Amo" (HMVI).

SWITZERLAND - 1962

In the field of recorded music, there is probably no other country in Europe which, in proportion to its size, presents as complex a sales pattern as Switzerland.

Swiss record distributors have to cope with different linguistic groups of which at least three must seriously be taken into consideration; each of these groups has its own distinct preferences which are largely inspired by the music production of Switzerland's neighbors, Germany, France and Italy. In addition, there is a considerable demand for American as well as British recordings, and finally there is a domestic Swiss production which, although limited, must nevertheless also be taken into account.

Thus, Swiss record dealers, in order to be able to satisfy the demands of a population of only some five million, must be ready to offer practically the whole range of western recorded music. Small wonder therefore that in Switzerland sales of ten or twenty thousand copies of a popular record are already considered hit figures!

The presence in our country of more than half a million foreign workers, mainly Italian and Spanish, further complicates this situation. But the ruggedly individualistic and often strongly conservative buying habits of the Swiss are also making themselves felt in other ways. For instance, singles continue to be most popular in German-speaking Switzerland, while the French-speaking Swiss seem to have special liking for EPs. Music-boxes have, of course helped to increase the sale of singles. But on the other hand a recent series of financial scandals have started to turn public opinion against the gaudy mechanical dispensers of pop music which were never very popular among the vast majority of the adult Swiss population in the first place.

Stereo continues to have to fight against a certain reluctance among the Swiss record-buying public, although sales have lately been picking up in that field. The fact that Swiss urban populations are largely apartment-dwellers may be of a certain significance in this respect. And strangely enough, the long-hair crowd is far from being among the most enthusiastic supporters of the stereo record.

Regional diversity of taste has also kept the dance fashions of the day from sweeping the country. While the Twist had a certain moderate impact on the younger set, especially in French-speaking Switzerland, the Madison never even properly got off the ground and little more is to be expected for the Bossa Nova.

A certain natural aversion to fads and especially to methods of sledgehammer advertising makes the Swiss one of the most discriminating buyers also in the field of music. This is, no doubt, largely due to the fact that Swiss broadcasting stations which are all non-profit, non-commercial, public-service organisations, generally refuse to lend themselves to any kind of song-plugging. Hit parades on a national level being completely out of the question, owing to the regional diversity of taste, and local tabulations arousing only limited response, Swiss radio listeners in point of fact, seem to be more interested in critical reviews and selective presentations of pop music and jazz.

Thanks to the continuing prosperity, records can be sold in very satisfactory quantities in Switzerland—there is still a decided upward trend to be noticed—but distributors must always bear in mind that for many Swiss the quality of an artist's performance is far more decisive than any publicity ballyhoo which is made around that person. Thus, the mere fact of a star's personal appearance in Switzerland need not necessarily spell bigger sales, if his concerts did not find the approval of the public.

Swiss popular artists like Vico Torriani, Lys Assia, Peter Hinnen, Hazy Osterwald and Anita Traversi being active primarily outside the country itself in Germany, France and Italy, there is hardly any domestic pop music production of an international calibre. In the field of Swiss folk music, however, good recordings are available from most of the bigger record companies. An excellent example is Vico Torriani's recent Decca release of Swiss folksongs sung in the four Swiss national languages.

Classic music also has a number of outstanding Swiss performers on records, but a special position is held by the Orchestre de la Suisse Romande, one of the finest symphonic orchestras in existence today, which under the brilliant direction of its founder Ernest Ansermet, continues to produce recordings of lasting value and of wide public appeal. Its strongest bid for the 1962 Christmas market is a new rendition of the "Christmas Cantata" by the late Swiss composer Arthur Honegger.

Field Day

LONDON—An elated Frank Ifield is pictured at right holding a gold disk for "I Remember You" and a silver disk for "Lovesick Blues" which achieved fantastic sales in England. Both disks were presented to the chanter on his 25th birthday at a party given for him by EMI Records. Ifield is currently riding the Top 100 in the U.S. with "Lovesick Blues" on Vee Jay.

BELGIUM — 1962

It's really a difficult assignment trying to pick out the three or five records which sold best in 1962. Which ones are to put at the top? "Let's Twist Again," by Chubby Checker (Columbia), "Zwei kleine Italiener" by Connie Froboess, "I Can't Stop Loving You" by Ray Charles, "J'entends siffler le train," Richard Anthony (Columbia), "Clair de lune a Maubeuge," Pierre Perrin (Ricordi), "The Kissin' Twist," Jack Hammer (Ronnex), "Chariot," Petula Clark (Vogue), "Speedy Gonzales," Pat Boone (Dot), "Telstar," The Tornados (London), "Love Me Warm and Tender," Paul Anka (R.C.A.), "Good Luck Charm," Elvis Presley (R.C.A.), "Every Night," Anka, "She's Not You," Presley, "Ya Ya," Joey Dee (Roulette), "The Peppermint Twist" (also Dee), "Sherry," The 4 Seasons, or will it be Johnny Halliday with "Retiens La Nuit" and "L'Idole des Jeunes" (Teenager Idol), or maybe Robert Cogoï with "Si un jour" or "Pardonnez-moi Seigneur"?

Perhaps, the most rational and practical way of dealing with the problem of selection is to list the titles which have been earmarked as bestsellers by the most important record firms. There is however no point in quoting sales figures.

As far as '62 hits are concerned with the Gramophone group, one could start with Chubby Checker's "Let's Twist Again," leading by a short neck Gilbert Bécauds "Et Maintenant." They follow, in order of their appearance on the market: "Zwei kleine Italiener" (Connie Froboess), "J'entends siffler le train" (Richard Anthony, from July onward), "Desafinado" also by Anthony; "Ca sert a quoi l'amour?" (Edith Piaf and her husband Theo Sarapo). Ranking high in December were Desafinado, Ca sert a quoi l'amour, The Next Time (Cliff Richard-Columbia), Dear Lonely Hearts and Sherry, by Les Chats Sauvages.

Bestsellers with Palette are of course The Cousins. In order of preference: "When the Cousins Come Twistin' In" "Hey Mae," "The Peppermint Twist" and presently "Lawdy Lawdy" and "Sweet Virginia." Young Flemish crooner Will Tura is also a certainty for the hit parade. This year he was tops "Hey Hey" and recently "Eenzaam zonder jou." Other hits: "Tango Italiano" (Reg Owen and other versions), Wim Lieven with "Herderskoning" and "Maria's Kind," Bobbejaan Schoepen with "Die ene kleine traan" (Flemish version of "A Little Bitty Tear"). Speaking about Socodisc, it has done well during the last year with the following numbers: "Norman," Sue Thompson; "Mr. Paganini," Ella Fitzgerald; "The Longest Day," Mitch Miller; "Like I Do," Nancy Sinatra, (Reprise); "Desafinado," Ella (Verve), "Everybody's Twistin'," Frank Sinatra (Reprise); "Desafinado," Stan Getz and Charlie Byrd (Verve); "Misty," Sinatra (Reprise).

Moonglow tells us its best sales were with: "Tango d'Amore," by Rocco Granata; "La Spagnola," Angelo Biondi; "Ich bin immer verliebt," Rocco Granata, "Beona notte Bambino," Angelo Biondi and "Luna Rossa" by Bob London.

Three stars with Philips reached top sales: Soeur Sourire, Johnny Halliday and Robert Cogoï. "Sister Smile," a humble little nun in a convent in the French speaking part of Brabant province, produced a very successful LP. She also did well with an EP "Soeur Sourire." Johnny Halliday, idol of the French speaking audience at most, reached the hit parade with numbers like "L'Idole des Jeunes," "Retiens la nuit," "Let's Twist Again" and others. Robert Cogoï who is new in the trade and who earned himself a Grand Prix des Variétés in Ostend, has scored heavily with his number one: "Si un jour." Now have followed "Pardonnez-moi Seigneur," "Si je t'ai fait de la peine," "Donne-moi ta jeunesse." Among other Philips-bestsellers: "Take five" by Dave Brubeck; "Une petite fille," Claude Nougaro; "Paradiso" and "Brandend Zand" by Anneke Grönloch, "Och was ik maar bij moeder thuis gebleven" and "Daar mag je alleen maar naar kijken," both numbers sung by Johnny Hoes.

Top of the list with Siemens are: Freddy Quinn, Marcel Amont and Les Compagnons de la chanson. Some hit numbers of this firm: "Le Mexicain," Marcel Amont; (EP); the LP "Freddy auf hoher See" and an EP by Les Compagnons de la chanson with "Kalinka" and "Les compagnons de la Marjolaine." Singles: Alo Ah, "Und das weite Mehr," "La Paloma" and "Nur der Wind," all by Freddy Quinn; "Yours and Yours Alone," Kenny Chandler (Coral); "Petit Gonzales," Danyel Gérard; "Op zwier nr I," Oscar Denayer; "So Deep," Brenda Lee (Brunswick), "Violino Tzigano," Connie Francis (M.G.M.) and the Flemish hit: "Rik van Looy," by Franky Bodet.

Discobol only provides three titles of fantastic bestsellers: "The Peppermint Twist," and "Ya Ya," by Joey Dee (Roulette) and "Sherry," by The 4 Seasons (Imperial).

Two great names with RCA, of course: Elvis Presley and Paul Anka. Sales, pertaining to a specific period would be in the following order: "Love Me Warm and Tender" (Anka), "A Steel Guitar and a Glass of Wine" (Anka), "Good Luck Charm" (Presley), "Every Night" (Anka) and "She's Not You" (Presley). LP's: "GI Blues" (Presley), "Blue Hawaii" (Presley). Van Cliburn has reached impressive figures in the classic domain with an LP, featuring Beethoven's Concerto nr 5 and Tchaikowsky's concerto nr. I.

Anvers-Radio looks back with satisfaction on results obtained with its records. Titles are: "Les millions d'Arlequin," Francis Linel (Ricordi); four big numbers of Ray Charles: "I Can't Stop Loving You," "Georgia," "You Don't Know Me" and "You Are My Sunshine" (all on ABC-Paramount); "Sheila" by Tommy Roe (ABC-Paramount); "I'm Gonna Knock on Your Door," Eddie Hodges (Cadence); "Tyl de Flandre" and "La Fayette" by the girls choir Les Ginns (Dueretet-Thompson); two numbers of Camillo Felgen: "Petit Bonhomme" and "Est-tu seul mon amour" and last but not least: "Clair de lune a Maubeuge" by Pierre Perrin (Ricordi).

Show-records a content with Alberto Cortez, "Comme une Sérénade" and "Napolitana." The following Cameo-Parkway disks, distributed jointly with Artone-Holland in Belgium "Limbo Rock" (Chubby Checker), "Ride" (Dee Dee Sharp), "Don't Hang Up" (The Orlons) and "Recado Bossa Nova" (Zoot Sims) have already sold well. Not to forget: The Upa's with "Donna Maria," Jo Pira, with an accordion-record "Simonette-wals"—"Raket mars."

Ronnex lists big hits with "The Kissin' Twist" and "The Wiggle," two bestsellers by Jack Hammer.

Vogue has scored highly with: "Chariot," "Monsieur" and "Coeur blessé," the three by Petula Clark; "Cuando Calienta el sol," Los Marcellos Ferrial; "Tous les garçons et les filles"; "Jezebel," The Everly Brothers (Warner Bros); "Little Diane," Dion; "How Can I Meet Her," The Everly Brothers and "Let's Go" by The Routers.

On Fonior's list of hits one finds: "Let's Dance," Chris Montez (London); "Telstar," The Tornados (London); "The Loco-motion," Little Eva (London); "San Antonio Rose" (several versions); "Non Monsieur," The Machucambos (Decca); "Le jour le plus long," Dalida (Barclay); "Speedy Gonzales," Pat Boone (Dot); "L'Amour et la guerre"—"Les Comédiens," both by Charles Aznavour; "Albert t'exagère," Eric Genty (Decca); "Cuando calienta el sol," Los Machucambos (Decca); "Euphrasie van Doemelen," The Strangers (Decca), "Cuando Cuando," Pat Boone and "Tango Italiano," by Caterina Valente. EP-best sellers: "Le play pays," Jacques Brel; "Le jour le plus long," Dalida; "Les Comédiens," Aznavour and "Non monsieur," Los Machucambos.

The best numbers of Sobedi are: New Tone-Label: "Mad Madison," The Rubby's; "Cuando calienta el sol," Los Tres Sombreros and "Kuku Yango ana kcfa," also by The Rubby's; on Olympia-label: "Ik zie die witte wolven gaan," Annie Heuts and "Toi," by Jean-Marc Bertrand.

Famous Flemish painter of the 17th Century. Recognised as one of the outstanding artists during "THE GOLDEN AGE" of the Dutch and Flemish school. Art-expert Prof: Leo Van Puyvelde states that the portrait seen here is from his Genoa Period (1621-1627) and not that of Nikolaas Trieste as is said of a similar portrait in the Gulbenkian Collection (New York).

A BELGIAN RECORD ENTERPRISE

Belgium, situated exactly between the three greatest occidental races: Latin, Germanic and Anglo-Saxon, constitutes the turning disk of Europe. It is open to all influences. It is the heart of the Common Market. It is at the point of the exchange between Europe and America.

It is in Belgium for instance that the records' market looks like the American market most (preponderance of the 45 r.p.m. singles, of which the number is considerable: 40,000 for 10 million inhabitants, etc.). It is in Belgium also that a double records' enterprise was founded, more than 30 years ago, by a dynamical and daring young man, E. W. PELGRIMS de BIGARD: The one named FONIOR was set up for the edition, import and distribution of records. The other named FABELDIS was set up for the manufacture of records, and, for the last few years, also for the manufacture of presses for records and equipment of records' plants, following new techniques.

FONIOR started in a modest way by importing in 1929 a few DECCA records, first from Great Britain, afterwards from France and Germany. It proceeded very soon to make local recordings and acquired rapidly a preponderant place on the Belgian market. Later on, after the first experience, its founder E. W. PELGRIMS de BIGARD, created companies and factories in other European countries, such as "SOCIETE FRANCAISE DU SON", distributor in France of the international DECCA since 1947, the company "DURECO" of Amsterdam and even companies in Africa, where a model factory was established in Leopoldville pressing records for all labels sold on the African continent. Another firm was set up in Casablanca and soon a new factory will rise in Brazzaville, to cover all the countries of the French African Community. Important chains of retail shops strengthen the distribution networks created for distribution and wholesale.

It is the most striking example, no doubt unique, of a complete activity in the field of the record in vertical direction, from the construction of the machines, intended for the manufacture, to the retail sale of all records labels.

The Belgian company FONIOR remains however the soul of all the new new enterprises set up afterwards and not ceasing to grow each year. FONIOR distributes in Belgium, for more than thirty years already, the European DECCA catalogue and an important number of American labels, combined on LONDON label. Under these BIGTOP, CARLTON, CHALLENGE, FELSTAD, GUYDEN, DOT, MONUMENT, SPECIALTY, SUN, etc. must be mentioned.

The great French label BARCLAY has also chosen FONIOR, like its daughter-company DURECO of Amsterdam, to ensure a large distribution in the Benelux countries. The combining of all these catalogues has induced FONIOR to create several chains of distribution, totally independant. The artistic and commercial services work in competition, necessarily creating an emulation.

The Commercial Direction, sustained by a Promotion Department and an Office of Press and Public Relations, is the most important and best equipped of the country. This enables to include new foreign catalogues in the whole and ensure the best possible distribution, following the opportunities.

FONIOR has also been the first to create, as soon as 1934, local repertoire, proceeding to its own recordings. It has always been at the head for this genre of repertoire. Its recordings have at the moment taken such extent that these are no longer only exploited within its frontiers, but are reproduced in all Europe and as far as the United States and Canada under labels DECCA, LONDON, BARCLAY, etc.

E. W. PELGRIMS de BIGARD
CHAIRMAN of S.A. FONIOR

FONIOR possesses at the moment two recording studios, each having its technicians. These studios are taken for the best equipped of Europe, function without stopping, as much for the production of FONIOR as for that of foreign trade marks. They are often booked several months beforehand by the most important German, French, British, Italian, Spanish, Dutch, Swiss, Greek, etc. firms.

A few American editors have chosen the FONIOR studios and Belgian orchestras to realize a repertoire of L.P. albums at much more interesting conditions than could be obtained in the United States.

Numerous recordings of African music, intended not only for Africa, but for all black populations of the world, have been made in Brussels. The best black orchestras are selected in the heart of Africa and transported by plane to Brussels.

The repertoire "AFRICAN JAZZ" and "O.K. SURBOUM JAZZ", embodying the typical dance music of the African continent, are sold in almost all the corners of the world.

FONIOR, one of the oldest record firms of Europe, is also one of the most dynamical ones, by its will to grow without ceasing, its facility of adapting itself to new circumstances and its unshakable belief in the future of the record.

So many years of acquired experience in all the branches of the record have naturally induced E. W. PELGRIMS de BIGARD to take upon himself, since 1956, the Presidency of the Trade Association of the Record. This professional organism groups all the Belgian firms active in the record branch.

THE COUSINS

(Palette). Four boy-friends discovered at the club "Les Cousins" Grand'Place in Brussels. Their first record for Palette "Kili Watch" reached the charts immediately. It remained number one in the top ten for several weeks. The Cousins have been in the news again. After their Swedish tour, they have returned to Brussels, where they were met by Sonto Claus in the South Station. The colorful procession then toured the streets of the capital.

WILL TURA

(Palette). Will Tura, just turned 21, has become one of the most popular Flemish crooners; in fact he has moved from La Panne on the coast to Kampenhout, nearer Brussels. He has recorded a number of singles, all appearing on the hit parade. When he started, his much younger brother Jon accompanied him. The latest Tura-hit in Belgium was "Hey, hey," which has been doing fine. Presently he will join the Belgian hit parade with "Eenzoom zonder jou" (Lonely without you).

THE JOKERS

JACQUES RAYMOND

CLARK RICHARD

(Ronnex). Clark Richard is Indonesian. Two years ago he was discovered in Holland—he had been living there with his mother, brothers and sisters—by Belgian impresario Dumitrescu. Since then, Richard has been with the sextet The Tropical Stars, and I wonder why he has not yet left the Belgian stage. This 19 year old friendly chap is checkful of talent and would undoubtedly make headway abroad. He has already done two records (H.M.V.) which didn't do very well, but he has scored with his latest recording for Ronnex "Come back to me" (on a Chopin theme "Tristesse") and "I'll Try." It's time for him to cross the border, to show what stuff he is made of.

CHRIS ELLIS

(Marshall). Chris Ellis (22) until recently was best known as lady crooner with Francis Bay's radio-orchestra. She has now found another outlet and is very proud about her first German record "Das Glück in Yokohama" and "Nie geht die Liebe zu Ende." Three months ago she was in the news, while on a three day tour in Germany she had to stand in for still popular Zarah Leander, who had fallen ill. Chris did a good job.

ALBERTO CORTEZ

(Show). Alberto Cortez is American born but has been living in Aarschot for years. Here he is still as popular as at the beginning. He has been on a successful tour of the America's. His latest record feature "Comme une Sérénade" and "Si tu veux."

ROCCO GRANATA

(Moonglow). Rocco Granata really needs no introducing. His records "Marino" and "Manuelo" have been sold the world over in 1959 and 1960. He is only 24 and has already made a fortune with copyrights. His other records like "Pupeta" and "Tongo d'Amore," although less popular than Marina have sold very well. Now Rocco has his own musical production. First results: his "find" Angelo Biondi is doing well in Belgium with the performance of "Buona Notte Bambina" for which Rocco wrote music and text.

CECILY FORDE

(Marshall). Cecily Forde, born in Trinidad, now seems firmly rooted in Belgium. A number of years ago she successfully performed as jazz singer with Bill Coleman's orchestra in Paris. Though she prefers sheer jazz she scored a commercial hit two years ago with "J'en ai marre de l'amour." She has now done a complete jazz LP with her new firm (Marshall); "Like someone in love." It's a smooth performance.

ROBERT COGOI

(Philips). Robert Cogoi has proved a true revelation in the domain of French language songs in this country. After having won a variety award with "Si un jour" he has now recorded the song with Philips. It is now near the top both in Belgium and France. "Pardonnez-moi Seigneur" is following hotly in its tracks. Robert is the son of a Yugoslav miner who came to live in Couillet in 1933.

JACK HAMMER

(Ronnex). Jack Hammer, a colored boy, once with The Platters—so he said—also abides in Belgium. Two of his biggest hits here are "The Kissin' Twist" and "The Wiggle" for Ronnex. He seems to be heading for success again with "Espona te quiero."

BOBBEJAAN SCHOEPEN

(Palette). Bobbejaan Schoepen, former yodeling whistler is now in business. He owns a big eating and relaxing place at Lichtaart, where he gives performers of his native soil a chance. He is still very popular in Flanders and also abroad, having been on a very successful tour in America.

DIGNO GARCIA

(Palette). Digno Garcia, a South American who found a second home in Belgium, started as a harpist with the Los Paraguayos trio, which has undergone a number of changes since. He is married to a girl of Geraardsbergen (Grammont) where he and his wife live. He is still very popular here and has his own duo, called "ye sus carias."

ANGELO BIONDI

(Moonglow). Angelo was born in Mazarino, a small village in Italia, on the 18th of April 1932 and sprung from a poor family with 9 children. The father was a miner in a sulphur mine. Only eleven years old, Angelo was dotingly fond of music and he sang already on wedding parties and all kind of festivities. However, from poverty his family went to Catania, where Angelo became a help to a bricklayer. In the evening he sang and played his music on the streets. After a poor life in Catania, he went to Livorno where he announced himself as an amateur music-hall artist. He obtained a pretty success and after a while, he left Livorno, came to Belgium and felt himself at home in Antwerp, where he plays and sings in the restaurant Napoli. Thanks of the manager of Moonglow records, a couple of recordings could be made, which met with a very kind approval and also Rocco Granata himself wrote a song, especially intended for Angelo: "Buona Notte Bambino" which is in the hit parade here.

Fabeldis Manufacturer of Modern Pressing Equipment

(Technical Manager)

After more than 30 years experience in the manufacture of records, FABELDIS is now in full production of a complete range of modern equipment for the pressing of high quality records.

FABELDIS is presently known all over the world. From this small country, large quantities of record equipment are sent to the biggest names in the record pressing business. From the FABEL press cyclomat 6, electronically controlled timing device, up to the smallest cutting tools, every single item is of outstanding revolutionary design. The record pressing industry may now be provided with equipment based on a long record of pressing experience.

Just to have some idea of how FABELDIS understands the manufacture of this equipment, we are hersunder developing some important details which are contributing so much to her today's success.

The FABEL '63 press is extremely rapid in production—high quality, low price—the FABEL is beyond comparison with the outdated column type press and is years ahead of the more recent counter-weight type. The FABEL is precision designed for precision manufacture and is also mass produced and consequently all parts are interchangeable. Its unique principle—no cam-shaft, no motor, no slide, no counter-weight, constitutes an evolution in design. On security, the FABEL is entirely automatic, all operations are pre-selected. No risks of accidents. The protection action of the grill is the only one officially approved by most exacting accident-prevention committees. Within 2 or 3 days, any operator can be fully trained to operate the machine.

Cyclomat 6 is constituted only by 6 cold cathode electronic timers and consequently without filament. The starting of the cyclomat 6 is instantaneous without any mechanical movement, resulting in a succession of absolute precision cycles.

The last new-born achievement is the FABELAL pre-heating oven for vinyl material. This design is a real hit in this field. No similarity with any existing oven in regard to price and production rate. The FABELAL is of the hot air blowing system, comprising 5 tunnels, of which the top and bottom ones are inlet chambers, the middle one is the blast chamber, and the 2nd and 4th constitute the slip tunnel, along which the recipients move. The hot air is blown upwards in the first stage and downwards in the second one. The result is a regularity of heating never before attained. The oven is fully heat-insulated resulting in only intermittent heating of a total power of 2 kw. Complete recuperation of the calories is made through closed circuit.

The "FABELDIS GROUP" is also proud to produce a complete series of equipment, starting with the FABELBO 10" and 12" edging machines, the principle of which is unique. The record is not clamped but simply placed, and is held in position by depression. A heated cutter ensures clean cutting without burrs. Every operation is completely automatically.

Modern and fast dies are provided on the program. The smallest detail in the center piece design, the plate thickness and its special high quality steel show that the FABELMO dies are the outcome of a long period of experience.

Although FABELEX eccentric presses with their FABELOU cutting tool for simultaneous edging and center punching of the 7" records, and a full range of FABELFO stampers forming tools completes this manufacturing program, FABELDIS of Belgium has not yet said its last word.

With great precision, a production rate of 180 records per hour—and more—is not unusual, even with a cooling water up to $\pm 70^\circ$ F. Robust and resistant to distortion, the FABEL press is made for a maximum working pressure of 120 tons. The patented locking device is accomplished in one second. This press, free of cams and electric motor, eliminates dead time and costs resulting from adjustments and maintenance by skilled personnel.

Once more, the most important thing that happened in our record industry, during this year, was the policy of increasing prices. Our companies raised the prices three times during the past twelve months, and doubled them. It's easy to predict that this policy will continue in 1963, causing an irreparable loss to industry itself, because the sales are already going down—an inevitable consequence of the constant "going up" system, headed in Brazil by two of the most important companies E.M.I. and RCA.

Fortunately, at the same time, our companies reached a new and solid position in the foreign market, as a result of the good technical quality of our records, specially in the LP field. England welcomed our albums with enthusiasm, comparing them with the best pressed in any part of the world. Latin American markets are favourable and Brazilian records are being exported to several countries, with very encouraging sales. And "Bossa nova" opened the doors in the United States, until now almost completely locked to Brazilian music.

Now, with Dot pressing RGE Records produced in Brazil, and RCA doing the same, we can expect much better results for the next year.

1962 hailed Copacabana as the most important Brazilian Record Company of the year, since its records reached constantly the top of our charts, specially AMOR—with Silvana and Rinaldo Calheiros and Suave E A Noite (Tender Is The Night) with Moacyr Franco. These two records spent 32 weeks on top of São Paulo's charts (Amor 18 weeks and Tender Is The Night 14 weeks). And another record of Silvana & Rinaldo has been on top for four weeks: the old tango Donde Está Corazon. Companhia Brasileira De Discos—(Philips subsidiary) toward the end of the year, had an incredible impulse and climbed to the top of our charts with a Brazilian samba, recorded by Noite Ilustrada, intitled "Volta Por Cima" and placed other records on our charts, during the year, specially Silvinho's Quem E and Ray Charles' "Stella By Starlight" and "I Can't Stop Loving You."

Once more, Columbia (now CBS) was represented in our charts, by Ray Conniff. The album's Continental is 1962's best seller among the LPs. Sidney, the pianist, achieved great popularity during the year, with the two albums "Isto E Dança" (This Is Dance) numbers One and Two. At the end of November, Columbia released the number Three, with much less interest of our public.

Audio Fidelity deserves special mention too, because it won the fight for Reprise's representation in Brazil. During the past four months, a great many of Reprise records have been released. And naturally, the most popular of them are those with Frank Sinatra—one of our public's favorites.

Odeon (E.M.I.) was represented on our charts with several hits, specially "O Trovador De Toledo"—(Brazilian version of "L'Arlequin de Tolède) with Gilda Lopes, Leva Eu Sodade—with Nilo Amaro & Seus Cantores de Ebano and more recently, O Rei Do Gatilho, with Moreira da Silva. Odeon completed this year, fifty years of continuous activities in the record business.

Chantecler declined a bit, compared with 1960 and 1961, when the label was on the top of all charts. In 1962, Chantecler lost the top position, but still had some smash hits, the greatest being Poema, with Renato Guimaraes. Special mention to the group The Jet Blacks.

RCA Victor once more had in Nelson Gonçalves her top artist. Special mentions to Angela Maria and Carlos Gonzaga in the national field and to Ray Ellis and Paul Anka among the International artists.

Fermata with Chubby Checker and Bobby Darin records, has been on all charts all over the country, during the whole year.

RGE Records had in Miltonho (Brazilian) and Billy Vaughn (International) its top record sellers. Raul Sampaio had an enormous success too, with Quem Eu Quero Nao Me Quer (The One I Love Don't Loves Me).

Musidisc with less presence in the charts, nevertheless continued to wax the best Brazilian LPs in technical and artistic quality. At the end of the year, Nilo Sergio released two albums of his new label, Nilser.

Continental Records had only one great hit during 1962: El Suco Suco, with Poly. Francisco Petronio's Records, Segredo and Bolero Triste, appeared in the charts, but didn't climb to the most important positions.

During 1962, several new labels appeared in our market. But only two deserves special mention: MGL—a Record Company from Minas Gerais Estate, and Albatroz. Both have offices in Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo.

Let's hope that in 1963, our Record Companies can operate without the constant necessity of raising the prices, perhaps the most important handicap they're having in the last year.

As we predicted last year, 1962 marked the complete disappearance of 45 RPM records, singles or EP's. The compacts took their place and nowadays not even one Record company is pressing 45 RPM records.

Another important fact concerning our Record Industry was the regulation by SUMOC (Currency and Credit Control Board) of profit transfers, through Ordinances 231 and 232, issued in November. These Ordinances established norms for registry of all foreign capital in Brazil and that held abroad by residents of this country, as well as remittance of profits abroad, and they are supplementary to legislation recently approved by Congress, limiting profit remittances abroad to 10 per cent on registered capital. These limitations are causing very serious preoccupations to the Record Companies, specially those which represents foreign labels. The remittance of royalties is getting more and more difficult, creating an almost desperate situation.

As you see, our Record Industry will have to face some very hard obstacles during the next year. It will survive, of course, because it's powerful and led by men of skill and experience. But the exchange with foreign companies will be severely injured, if the mentioned legislation stays as it is.

JANUARY

The year started with the Supreme Court of Sweden presenting a highly interesting declaration re. mechanical licenses. NCB (Nordsik Copyright Bureau) in Copenhagen sued an importer of records since the importer refused to pay those licenses, pointing out that such licenses had been paid by the manufacturer in the United States, and that those licenses should not be paid twice. The Magistrate's Court in Stockholm did not agree with the importer, nor did the Lower Court of Appeals where the case also was taken up. However, the Supreme Court declared that "if the importer can present evidences that these licenses had been paid by the manufacturer, he should not have to pay the licenses once again." Everybody in record biz in Sweden followed the case with greatest interest.

Publisher Felix Stahl of Stockholms Musikproduktion in Stockholm and Atrium Musikverlag in Hamburg visited New York, where he founded an American publishing firm to be added to his other chain of publishing companies.

Top sellers on records in Scandinavia in middle of January included "Mandalay" with The Four Jacks on Odeon in Denmark, "Viimeinen Mõhikaani" (Da' Sprach' der alte Häuptling) with Brita Koivunen on Scandia in Finland, "Johnny Will" with Pat Boone on Dot in Norway, and "Sån't Ar Livet" (You Can Have Her) with Anita Lindblom on Fontana in Sweden.

FEBRUARY

Philips-Fontana held a Scandinavian conference in Stockholm in the beginning of the month. A Gold Disk was presented to Swedish songstress Anita Lindblom for having sold 100,000 of her Swedish version of "You Can Have Her" in Sweden. Later on, she was presented another Gold Disk after having sold 100,000 of the same record in Denmark.

Viking Music, new record company in Norway, signs distribution contract with Philips in Norway—and for the rest of the world.

Scandinavians choose their songs for the annual Eurovision Song Festival to be held in Luxembourg in middle of March. The traditional 'scandals' follows. In Denmark the best song is withdrawn since the composer's name leaks out before the local festival takes place. In Sweden a good song is withdrawn when it is discovered that it has been played on radio (but with a different lyrics) once before, and later on the winning song is accused of being plagiarised.

The top sellers all over Scandinavia during February included "Elisabeth-Serenade" with Günter Kallmann Choir on Polydor in Denmark, Ray Adams on Broadway with "Violetta" in Finland, "Walk On By" with Leroy Van Dyke on Mercury in Norway and "Läs Inte Brebet Jag Skrev Dej" (Don't Read The Letter) with Siv Malmquist on Metronome in Sweden.

MARCH

All Scandinavian countries began preparing themselves for the Scandinavian Championship of the Twist, to be held in Stockholm in middle of April. Music publisher Ake Gerhard-Larsson of Belinda (Scandinavia) AB, who also was the publisher of some of the top sellers with Twist music, arranged the whole thing.

Great activity was reported from Finland. Levytukku Oy, one of the veteran record companies and music publisher, celebrated its 30th birthday. Herman Sjöblom, 67, president of Oy R. E. Westerlund Ab since 1940 died. German composer Wyn Hop visited Helsinki for radio and TV performances. The Finnish Eurovision song "Tipi-Tii" was sold to many countries all over Europe long before the Festival took place.

American record label Liberty was made available in the Scandinavian countries by EMI.

For the second month, "Elisabeth-Serenade" with Günter Kallmann-

Choir on Polydor topped in Denmark, while "Tipi-Tii" sung by Marion Rung on Philips topped in Finland. The Norwegians preferred a local version of "Wings Of A Dove" with Grynet Molvig on RCA and Sweden had "Happy José" also known as "Ching Ching" as top seller.

"West Side Story" came to Scandinavia with the film opening in Stockholm, and a stage version opening in Copenhagen with touring American artists in the roles. Record companies reported growing interest in the music, particularly on LPs.

APRIL

The Eurovision Song Festival, which took place in middle of March, began to show up on the charts. As usual, the juries in various countries missed the one and only song with real sales possibilities, Germany's "Zwei Kleine Italiener," a song that did very well all over Europe.

Commercial radio and the government of Sweden. Commercial stations outside the nautical three-miles border did well for years, particularly in Denmark where also government people appeared most friendly to those stations—until Sweden got such a station outside Stockholm. A 'made in Sweden' law presented by Danish government to the Danish Parliament suddenly made commercial broadcasting on international water illegal, thus making the Scandinavians the first nations in the world claiming they had legal ragights to control international water.

Swedish films' Ingmar Bergman has from time to time been criticized for many things, among others for being very sexy, they have received Oscar's and other international awards. The Supreme Court in Finland presented a brand new idea about those films by stating that "the film in itself is highly artistic, but the music in the film makes it very obscene."

Greta Garbo visited a dance school in Stockholm asking for instructions in Twist, it was reported.

For the third month Günter Kallmann-Choir on Polydor topped the charts in Denmark with their "Elisabeth-Serenade." In Finland, people bought the local Eurovision Festival song "Tipi-Tii" with Marion Rung on Philips, while the Norwegians favored "Sån't Ar Livet" (You Can Have Her) sung in Swedish by Anita Lindblom on Fontana. Leroy Van Dyke on Mercury topped the charts in Sweden with "Walk On By."

MAY

Record people in Finland said they were very happy with the sales results so far during 1962. In Denmark and Norway record people had the same opinion, while Sweden was complaining about the worst year in history.

Norwegian record companies started a campaign to make people buy more local recordings, and feel a little less depending on the music taste as presented by Radio Luxembourg.

"Walk On By" in a local recording with The Clifters on Philips was the new top seller in Denmark, while Finland still preferred "Tipi-Tii" with Marion Rung on Philips, Norway bought "Good Luck Charm" with Elvis Presley, and so did the Swedes.

New record company Scan-Disc was organized in Stockholm. It was acting as a production company only, with record distribution handled by Sonet Grammofoon, AB. All or most of the artists at the former label BFB moved over to Scan-Disc.

JUNE

Ray Charles and His Orchestra to Scandinavia for concerts and promotion of his records.

Swedish Parliament finally accepted the much criticized law against so called pirate radio stations. Sweden's Radio Nord got involved in a scandal and decided to stop its activity before the time (August 1) the government had decided.

Russian navy visited Stockholm, and interviewed by the dailies here, the sailors said that Twist is far from unknown in Russia, but not particularly popular, compared with dances as tangos and waltzes.

Cliff Richard on Columbia topped the charts in Denmark with "The Young Ones," while Nat "King" Cole on Capitol was top seller in Finland with "Signorina Capuccina." Elvis still topped in Norway with "Good Luck Charm," while Sweden had begun to prefer "Lesson One" with Russ Conway on Columbia.

JULY

The British Pilkington Committee report on commercial TV was the number one discussion theme in Sweden. Observers who followed the whole thing finally declared that "the report didn't cause half as much in noise in England as it seems to have done in Sweden."

Denmark began to buy the Brazilian song "La Novia," of which there were two local recordings sharing the number one spot in the charts. In Finland "The Boulevard of Broken Dreams" with Lill-Jörgen on Columbia moved to the top while Elvis for the third month topped in Norway with "Good Luck Charm" and Ray Charles with "I Can't Stop Loving You" on Karusell made the big money in Sweden.

Making big money in Sweden . . . everybody had been complaining about the bad sales results, but suddenly as the summer came, all record people started looking much happier. Sales went up very quickly and everybody hoped the trend would continue also when the new season began in August/September.

AUGUST

August 1 was the day when the commercial radio stations in Sweden and Denmark had to stop their activity, with one exception. A small Swedish station outside southern Swedish border continued, asking for a trial to get finally established whether the station, the way it was operated, could be declared illegal or not. Swedish government seems to have trouble as it had difficulties finding any chance to prosecute. Danish government preferred more drastic methods when it went out on international water and confiscated a ship sailing under Lebanese flag, broadcasting to listeners in Denmark.

German labels Tempo and Osca introduced in Denmark by the distributor of RCA.

"I Can't Stop Loving You" with Ray Charles on Karusell moved up to number one spot in the charts in Denmark while Pat Boone with "Speedy Gonzales" on Dot topped in Finland, Norway and Sweden,

SEPTEMBER

Cameo-Parkway signed a deal in Scandinavia with Simon Brehm of Karusell, after leaving EMI, who had been its distributor.

It caused big headlines when it was reported (from Metronome) that EMI was planning to buy Metronome for a sum of around $1,000,000. However, the months went on with very little happening and it was obvious that the affair had been discussed, but far from finished as the first reports said. About the same time came the news that Pve handled over their record distribution in Sweden to Philips-Sonora AB.

"Speedy Gonzales" moved up at the number one spot in Denmark with "I Can't Stop Loving You" with Ray Charles on ABC-Paramount topping in Finland, "Roses Are Red" with Bobby Vinton on Columbia on the top in Norway and "Dear One" with Larry Finnegan on HMV at the top in Sweden.

OCTOBER

Philips in Norway changes the name of their record dept. to Norsk Phonogram A/S and A/S Proton changes to Siemens Norge A/S.

(. . . are brightened by American music)

Nowhere in Europe do Americans feel more at home than in Scandinavia.

So it's not surprising that American music, especially jazz and pops, are favourites with the Swedes, Danes, Norwegians and Finns, and that U.S. recordings often dominate the local charts.

E.M.I. has been firmly established throughout Scandinavia for many years. Skandinavisk Grammophon Aktieselskab is the E.M.I. company in Denmark with a highly efficient factory (pictured below) in Copenhagen from which it exports a large proportion of its output to the other Scandinavian countries. E.M.I. operates in Sweden as Skandinaviska Grammophon AB, and has pressing and recording facilities in Norway and Finland too — as well as active distribution and promotion.

So goes the pattern of E.M.I.'s record business all over the world. That is why E.M.I. records are being pressed today in 40 different countries, and one record in every four sold throughout the world (outside the communist bloc) is made by E.M.I.

It seems as Swedish artistes are doing better and better for every year, there are four of them among the 'top 15' this year, against only three last year.

In altogether, not less than 58 artistes have appeared among the top ten at the charts week by week during 1962.

The charts in Sweden is more or less dictated by the SBC programs. The Swedish Broadcasting Company has started some programs in which teenagers are voting for 'the records we like best', and an observer following those weekly programmes has the feeling that SBC is doing its best to "kill" best sellers as quick as possible. It seems as SBC has made it to its main mission to make sure that there is as big change, and as quick change, as possible among the "top ten" every Saturday afternoon. Official sales figures reflects the opinion of the 400-piece jury in the SBC programmers—a record appearing among the radio's Top Ten very soon appear in the sales charts. On the other hand, a number one top seller who recently used to keep its number one position for week, maybe months, might now stay as number one only for one or two weeks.

Teenagers/record buyers prefers recordings in English. In those SBC programmes it happens that some of the voting teenagers are interviewed about their opinion, and very often asked why they so seldom gives a Swedish language record a chance. "We understand the lyrics of a Swedish record" they say, "while not so many understand an English-language one, and that's why..." is the usual answer.

It is obvious that British artists in general and Cliff Richard in particular has had "a golden year" all over Europe. From time to time, he has been on the top with his records, sometimes he has had more than one record among the top ten in each of the Scandinavian countries. The Columbia recording artist did particularly well in Denmark with "The Young Ones."

Pat Boone did very well thanks to two recordings, "Speedy Gonzales" and "Quando, Quando, Quando," two Dot releases who did well on the charts in Denmark. It was surprising but not unexpected that he did better than Elvis Presley at the Danish market in 1962.

The Clifters, a young Danish group, came third. Ever since their record debut a couple of years ago, this Philips recording group has been top money makers with every new record they made.

In altogether, there appeared 53 artists on the Danish charts during the first 11 months of 1962. Compared with the other Scandinavian countries, there were more local artists getting hits in Denmark than in any of the other countries, where record buyers seem to favour foreign artists. On the contrary, there were surprisingly few Americans among the top selling artists in Denmark. One of the reasons is the fact that TV in Denmark plays a great part in promoting artists, and with very few American artists on Danish TV (but several European artists seen there), this is reflected on the charts. It has also been a wish since long time, particularly from distributors of American labels, that more and more American artists should try to include Denmark in their European plans, and try to come over for a TV show, which would do a lot to promote their records.

FINLAND

Generally, it can be said that Finland is a country where the domestic language dominates the record sale. Most Finnish-language recordings have much better sales possibilities than many of the best imports.

Certain foreign artists, as Elvis Presley, Paul Anka and three or four others seem as the only ones who are able to offer any greater competition to the local artists.

Finland also offers some good sales of Swedish records, since certain parts of Finland is Swedish-speaking, but the population is too small to motivate a local recording in Swedish made by Finnish companies.

Radio and particularly TV offers plenty of possibilities as far as promotion of records is concerned. The country has commercial and non-commercial TV working together, and there has never been any complaints as far as the result is concerned. This might also explain why guest artists visiting the comparatively small Finland is offered more money from Finnish TV than from countries as Sweden with a larger population.

ICELAND

Iceland is another country where recordings in local language is favored by the record buyers. Considering the small population of Iceland (approx. 18,000 inhabitants) the number of domestic records made every year is very large—approx. some 30 singles are produced by three companies, plus several EPs and LPs.

Broadcasting is handled by Ríkisutvarpid (Icelandic State Broadcast Service) in Reykjavik, on the air from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 a.m. with few intermissions. There are some 50,000 receivers in Iceland. Iceland has no TV, but the American forces at Keflavik has its own TV station, and the programmes are very popular all over Iceland.

With very few exceptions, Norway continues looking like the best bet for American artists. This year, as in last year, only two local artists managed to hit hard enough to appear among the 15 top selling artists of the year.

This, and other lists of best selling artists from Scandinavia, has been made by a week-by-week look at the charts. The artist holding the number one position got ten points, the second got nine points, etc., down to the tenth who got one point. Of the 46 artists who have appeared among the Top Ten Charts in Norway during 1962, the above got most points.

It might be worth attention that a study of the charts in Norway week by week is about the same as a look at the Weekly Hit Parade as it is aired over the continental Radio Luxembourg, a station most Norwegians follow very carefully.

Chances are that in coming years, local artists will do better, and that more of them will appear among the fifteen top selling artists when the year is over. Record companies in Norway, with some assistance by the local press has begun to do a lot to make people buy local recordings, at least more of them than they do nowadays. Whatever the result will be will be seen in coming years.

HOLLAND — 1962

1962 was—we are happy to report—a very successful and prosperous year for the record industry in Holland, and according to statements of officials this was an even better year than 1961.

Important label switches took place. The phonograph record group, headed by Bill C. and Casper D. Slinger introduced the CBS label on the Benelux market. Since January 1st, L. C. Phonogram released Mercury Records, while an agreement was made by "Interdisc" (Riverside, Pacific Jazz, etc.) with Philips, distributed by L. C. Phonogram on the Fontana-label. On October 1st, M.G.M. switched from Bovema to Siemens, while Bovema acquired the Stateside, Epic and Okeh repertoires. Artone got the Cameo-Parkway, Tivoli and Pythia catalogs for distribution in Benelux, while Funckler Records, a subsidiary of Artone, started heading the Colpix distribution in Benelux.

Most successful music-publisher this year was Belinda/Amsterdam, and their manager Eldert van Zoeren certainly must be proud to have no less than five titles who reached Holland's Top Three in 1962. Most successful record-company was Phonogram with 8 records in Holland's 1962 Best Sellers list, closely followed by Artone and Bovema, each with 6 records.

Golden Records were awarded to Anneke Grönloh (one for "Brandend Zand" and one for "Paradiso," both on Philips), Willy Schobben (for "Mexico" on Artone), Cocktail Trio (for "Batje Vier" on Omega), Children's Choir "De Leidse Sleuteltjes" (for "Dikkertje Dap" on C.N.R.), and the Blue Diamonds (for "Little Ship" on Decca).

There are the names of no less than 10 American artists, figuring in the 1962 best sellers list of Holland (Bob Moore, Connie Francis, Pat Boone, Elvis Presley, Chubby Checker, Ray Charles, Eddie Hodges, Tommy Roe, Sue Thompson and Little Eva), against 4 from Holland (Willy Schobben, Anneke Grönloh, Blue Diamonds and Willeke Alberti), 2 from England (Cliff Richard and Vera Lynn), 2 from Germany (Conny Froboess and Gerhard Wendland) and 1 from Italy (Mina).

Twist had a big boom in Holland, with Chubby Checker as the most popular artist in this field. Delta introduced a sensational young jazz-singer on the Dutch record-market, Edwin Rutten, who, to our opinion certainly could 'make it' in the US. A big achievement for Dutch artists was made by Jan Burgens, appearing among the first ten on the American Hit Parade with "Midnight In Moscow", Burgens' interpretation being the original one, copied later by Britain's Kenny Ball. As far as we know, this was the first time ever that a Dutch artist came into Cash Box Top Ten list! Congratulations to Jan Burgens and to his record-company C.N.R.

Warner Bros. held their annual convention in Bovema's Gramophone-house, attended by Mike Maitland, Robert B. Weiss and Warner Bros. delegates from many European countries. Mr. Gerry M. Oord was host.

Artone had a rather sensational price cutting of their Extended Play and LP records, while Inelco-Holland L.C. once more started an action with inexpensive records, in order to popularize RCA-LP's.

To our opinion, one of the biggest surprises that happened in the record-industry of Holland came in the last months of this year: Vera Lynn, almost forgotten by Dutch record-buyers, made a more than glorious comeback with a record she made years and years ago: "Land Of Hope And Glory"! By the time this article will be printed it is very possible that this number will be the Number One Hit of Holland. How was this possible, many readers will ask! well, only a very impressive tv-appearance during the Grand Gala Du Disque, where Vera Lynn featured this number . . . A tip for American artists: you are able to achieve the same, but you only can do this by asking prices up to Dutch (European) standards! Like past years, also in 1962 there were only a few American artists who made a 'live' show for Dutch tv, because fees were as usual much too high! We have no commercial tv. TV-stations only can pay a sum which will be low for American artists, BUT there are strong possibilities for making hits through tv-shows.

Foreign artists who came to these shores this year include Caterina Valente, Vico Torriani, Lale Andersen, Rudolph Schock, Kurt Edelhagen and Conny Froboess from Germany; Frankie Vaughan, Cliff Richard, The Shadows, Ronnie Carroll, Russ Conway, Helen Shapiro, Jet Harris, Cleo Laine, Edmundo Ros, Vera Lynn and Victor Silvester from England; Jacques Brel, Gilbert Bécaud, Les Frères Jacques, Ziziz Jeanmaire, Philippe Clay, Edith Piaf with Théo Sarapo, Les Compagnons De La Chanson and Vince Taylor from France; Jörgen Ingmann, The Spotnicks and Jan & Kjeld from Scandinavia; Fats Domino, Eartha Kitt, Billy Vaughn, Bobby Vee and The Crickets from America; and Louis Neefs, Nana Mouskouri and Los Machucambos. Jazz-concerts included appearances by Art Blakey, Ella Fitzgerald, Oscar Peterson, Count Basie, Erroll Garner, George Shearing, Horace Silver, Gerry Mulligan, John Coltrane, Dave Brubeck, Charlie Byrd, Les McCann and Zoot Sims. Now we are on the threshold of 1963, we hope and trust that 1963 will show a still increasing activity on the record-market with even better and bigger sales-results! From Holland we wish all Cash Box readers a very prosperous and happy New Year!

Gerry Oord

staff wish you all a very happy and
new year 1963

In Singapore she got a big popularity, especially because of her Malayan songs like "Nina Boba," "Baeraen Kaka," etc. Newest recordings: "When The Saints" and "A Tisket A Tasket." She made two tours in the Far East, the latter one with the Dutch Swing College Band. July 1962 was in Dutch team at the International Song Contest in Knakke (Belgium).

WILLY SCHOBHEN (Artone)

Born 1916 in Maastricht, Willy Schobben comes from a musical family. He actually started trumpet at six. At the music-lyceum in his hometown he soon became pupil par excellence of the concertmaster of the Municipal Orchestra, who taught him piano and harmony. Just 14 he was offered a seat in this classical orchestra, but switched to pop music when seventeen. He went on tour with various top-orchestras across the country and all over Europe. From 1936 he has been playing an and off with radio-studio orchestras. In 1946 Willy became principal soloist of Holland's foremost radio dance-orchestra "The Skymasters." During this period gaining international recognition through his worldwide success "Trumpet Tango," an own composition. Since his exclusive Artone recording pact in 1961, Willy Schobben records with an own orchestra. His first recording, "Mexico," an immediate smash, became his first Gold Platter. Several other hits followed in due course, establishing Willy's name as one of the hottest on the European record scene. Best sellers were "Benfica," "Egal—O.K.," "Heisser Sand" and "The Lately Bull." Willy Schobben was featured in an American show with Bob Hope.

Paula Dennis belongs to the category of singers destined to become a top-star overnight. With her debut-disc already, she succeeded in establishing her name in show-business. Paula's first record, "Ja! Was Jij Maar Bij Moeder Thuis Gebleven" became a chart-buster in the Benelux-countries. Paula was born 29 years ago in Amsterdam. Before her discovery by Artone's talent-scouts, she was the leading vocalist with an authentic Spanish orchestra (as Paula Dennis) in The Hague. Paula's 1962-delivery "Janus Pak Me Nag Een Keer" rapidly became her second smash-hit. Due to Paula's sensational popularity, she is heard with "Janus" in the new Dutch film production "Riffi In Amsterdam."

March 17th, produced the usual St. Patrick's Day Shenanigans but CKGM, Montreal took the wearin' o' the Green a step further as they imported a deejay direct from Dublin to appear on the station throughout the Irish celebrations.

"Colinda" by Rod Bernard released in April by Compo on the Hall Way label through the firm's Vee Jay affiliation became a steady seller throughout the balance of the year to rank high on that company's list of best sellers for 1962.

Executive realignment at Phonodisc in April saw William H. Hewson become Vice President and Operations Manager; Ron Newman appointed National Sales Manager; David S. Thompson became Personnel Manager in addition to his Credit Manager Duties; and the firm named Bill Fisher and Alex Groshak as branch managers in Montreal and Regina respectively. Bud Hayden took up new national promotion duties with Phonodisc at the same time.

"West Of The Wall" by Toni Fisher made its Canadian chart debut in Winnipeg and Ottawa, well before achieving anything like national recognition in either Canada or the U.S.

Cornwall, Ontario TV personality, Jack Silvers released a new single on Acadia at about the same time that Bobby Curtola's follow up to "Fortune Teller," "You Must Belong To Me," was released in late April.

Another young Canadian star-in-the-making, Sandy Selsie, made her Columbia debut in late April with "A Date With Loneliness."

Well known Montreal deejay, Gene Kirby, made the move, in May, to CKEY, Toronto as Program Manager. "Fortune Teller," long a hit in Canada, began to develop definite hit tendencies on many U.S. charts.

Ronn Metcalf and his band were scoring heavily with their twist arrangements of one time big band hits in May.

The Gatineau Club, long a vehicle for top record talent, near Ottawa reopened after a major fire destroyed the old premises almost two years before. Subsequently such top name talent as: Johnny Nash, Lavern Baker and Jimmie Rodgers made 1962 appearances at Joe Saxe's establishment.

Later in May Capitol Records began to make real sales headway with their "6000" series of albums and "72000" series of singles originating through Capitol of Canada's affiliation with EMI of England. Foremost among the early "72000" series of singles to click in a big way was "My Boomerang Won't Come Back" by Charlie Drake.

May was also the month that The Romeos first Columbia LP, "Rendezvous With The Romeos" made its debut. The group was on the road from coast to coast, visiting deejays to promote their new album.

Paul Anka and his Dad played host to numerous radio types from his home town, Ottawa, at Paul's Copacabana opening.

Late in May Bill Butler, Toronto pianist and orchestra leader of note, gained international recognition through a new Epic single, "Soldier Boy" and his "Portrait Of A Piano" album.

Phil Rose's bi-lingual promotion of Pete Fountain and his numerous Coral LP's by renaming the artist Pierre Fontaine, stole the promo spotlight late in May.

"Steel Men" a Canadian song published by BMI Canada was recorded by Jimmy Dean, and began to show chart signs as May drew to a close.

About the same time Chateau made its strong pitch for international record recognition with new releases by Pat Hervey and Gord Lightfoot. Both did well enough chartwise to garner American distribution by RCA Victor and ABC Paramount respectively. "Mr. Heartache," Pat's song, is still a strong commercial item in the U.S. due to its delayed release there.

May 30th, and Ella Fitzgerald vowed a full house at Toronto's Massey Hall in a one niter.

June was a big month for Bobby Curtola, complete with appearances on the American Bandstand TV'er, and a live show at Palisades Park.

"The Tender Years," destined to develop into strong commercial material on both sides of the border was released by The Beau Marks on Quality.

In June the Canadian record market felt the influence of TV as the Vince Edward package was released on Decca. "Dr. Casey" became the singing idol of the girls as well as a very big man in the operating room on TV.

Early in July Cash Box reported the appointment of Edward Leatham as Director of Sales and National Sales Manager for Capitol Records.

Quality rushed out the David Rose LP, entitled "The Stripper," figuring on active sales based on the success of the artist's single of the same name.

Phil McKeller, Toronto deejay over CKFH, introduced Bossa Nova to the North American continent through his efforts with the Stan Getz LP, "Jazz Samba" as the artist was appearing in Toronto just as the LP was released. Bossa Nova went on to take the continent by storm and McKeller ended up with a gold record presented by Quality for his pioneer efforts on behalf of the "new beat."

July saw "Peepin' n Hidin' released on Coral in both the U.S. and Canada by The Count Victors, four youngsters from Peterboro, Ontario. It took a while but finally broke into national recognition, starting in Detroit.

The number one British song in July was "Come Outside" by Mike Sarne. After a false start on distribution and promotion through an error in English-American affiliation, Capitol of Canada went to work on the disc with excellent results.

Jimmie Rodgers' debut on Dot made its appearance in July. "No One Will Ever Know" was the tune and it developed into a very strong commercial item in Canada.

Terry Mann arrived at Oshawa's CKLB as P.D. after a lengthy broadcast career in the U.S.

July was also the debut month for CHFI, Toronto's new fifty thousand watt station. Programming "good music," the station deejay lineup includes long time Montreal radio personality, Gerry Herbert.

Tamla—Motown exited the London distributor setup in Canada in July and joined the Phonodisc ranks.

Vic Damone pleased thousands of theatre goers in Toronto with his week's stand at the O'Keefe Center.

Jerry Murad and The Harmonicats and Jane Morgan starred at Ottawa's Central Canada Exhibition early in August. CKOY deejays played host to both star attractions, declaring "days" in their behalf.

"Roses Are Red" by Bobby Vinton soared over the magical 100,000 sales mark. That's Canada's "Gold Record" level, and Bob Martin and his Columbia cohorts presented Bobby with a gold record emblematic of his sales accomplishments in The Dominion.

Col Pix changed their Canadian distributor setup from Canadian Music Sales to The Compo Company.

RCA Victor in Canada was named distributors for Buena Vista Records, one of the major Walt Disney enterprises.

Another outlet for in person appearances by Canadian and American record talent was established with the opening in August of Bobby Simpson's Club 70 in Ottawa. This was followed by still another club debut in the same area as The Rib Room established a name entertainment policy.

August was the month that the Tony Bennett Concert played Toronto's O'Keefe Center to rave notices from trade and public alike.

CJAD, Montreal and CFRB, Toronto introduced their Canadian Talent Library to broadcasters in Canada and The U.S. featuring 100% Canadian talent, the transcription service is designed to improve exposure on the air waves for deserving and talented Canadians.

Gilles Marchand was given the nod as National Field Rep. for London Records Classical Division late in August.

September saw CKAC, Montreal celebrate its fortieth anniversary.

"Jamais" by Connie Francis, a Canadian release on MGM by the Quality people, out only a short time began to crack sales records left and right, especially as the song, sung in French, began to catch on in the many areas of Canada where French is spoken.

Montreal deejay Frenchy Jaraud spent a few anxious moments in the middle of a prison riot as rioting cons named him as the only man they would state their case to, when trouble broke into the open at a Montreal area pen.

Steve Woodman and Kieth Rich exited CKEY Toronto in September to begin a new afternoon show over New York's WNBC.

RCA Victor named a new Manager of Commercial Record Sales in September in the person of Knox Coupland.

Jerry Palmer, a Lakehead youngster, hit the jackpot in September when his newie, "Come Along With Me" was picked up for U.S. distribution by Joe Carlton.

Mike Stephens, long time host of CJAD, Montreal's Club 800, began a new TV show over a Burlington, Vt. channel beamed at Montreal in October.

"Damn The Defiant" underwent a title change for Canadian distribution to "H.M.S. Defiant," but the Col Pix sound track LP maintained the original title.

October saw Mahalia Jackson, Bobby Curtola with The Count Victors, Marty Robbins with Skeeter Davis, all appear in separate shows in Canada's Capital.

Long time record executive with Capitol, Dennis Lapointe, left the firm to join Sam Gesser at Folkways Distributors in Montreal.

CKLB, Oshawa deejay Slim Gordon had a tune he penned released on Capitol by Mac Wiseman in October. "Pistol Packin' Preacher" was the title.

October saw Ned Miller's "From A Jack To A King" on the Fabor label begin to flex its muscles through Ottawa's CKOY. Finally listener response was so great to the tune that Quality arranged for Canadian distribution rights, and the Miller sound was off and running. At last report it was aiming at the 70,000 sales mark, had established a name for Ned Miller, and won each of the CKOY deejays who helped introduce it, a gold record from Quality as a token of thanks.

Billy Martin the proud owner of a new LP package released in October. "Dancing Party" recorded in the U.S. and set for American and Canadian distribution (in Canada on London) had Billy keeping his fingers crossed. My Son The Folk Singer released ('nuff said).

November marked recognition of Phil McKeller's early air exposure of the Jazz Samba, Bossa Nova LP over Toronto's CKFH, as the spinner was presented with a gold album by Stan Getz on behalf of Quality Records.

Walt Grealis was named promo man at McKay Distributors, Toronto.

Helen Shapiro and Norrie Paramor arrived in Toronto for promotion and TV appearances on behalf of their respective Capitol outings.

Kirby Stone Four in London, Al Alberts and Earl Grant with appearances in both Montreal and Ottawa highlighted U.S. Record talent making the Canadian P.A. scene in November.

Norman Brooks and Nat Raider very happy over early reaction to their new Venus LP. Norman off to a club date in Vegas and keeping his fingers crossed for the album in general, and some of his own material therein, in particular.

Tommy Hunter's debut on Capitol in the U.S. and Canada with a great new sound, and high hopes by both label and artist that he will have attained the stardom he deserves long before next November and a Cash Box Review of 1963 in Canada's world of wax rolls around.

MAX FALCON—Fraternity, Barry

Personal manager, Frank "Lucky" Pepp; national promotion manager, Pat Nelson; birthday, July 29th, 1937; home town, Campbellton, New Brunswick, Canada. Grew up in a small New Brunswick town, always had great enthusiasm for music. Organized a small singing group, but broke up when he enlisted in the Canadian Army at the age of sixteen. Discharged three years later, he spent two years traveling in the United States and Canada, writing songs and playing them on an old guitar. In 1959 he came to Toronto, and organized his own group of musicians, and began playing in night clubs and one nighters. In January of 1961 Max took this group to Bay City, Michigan for a two week engagement, playing in the finest club in the area. It was here that he was discovered by "Lucky" Pepp (this two weeks engagement lasted 5 1/2 months). "Lucky" was so impressed at this time, that arrangements were made for a recording session, in Nashville for the Fraternity label. Max has also appeared on Canadian shows, along with most of the Grand Ole Opry stars. He sings country and popular songs, and plays the guitar, drums, and piano as well.

THE BEAU-MARKS

Four lads from Montreal, Quebec: Joey Frechette, lead vocalist, pianist; Mike Robitaille, rhythm guitar and comic; Ray Hutchinson, vocalist and lead guitarist; Gilles Taillefer, drums. Became internationally known through their hit record "Clap Your Hands." Appeared at Peppermint Lounge, New York and many more night clubs in U.S.A. Favorites at Le Coq D'Or, Toronto where they appear two or three times a year. Record on the Quality label in Canada.

R. DEAN TAYLOR

A Toronto boy, 23 years old, who gained national recognition with his smash recording of "I'll Remember" on the Barry label. Dean writes and arranges all his own songs. He also accompanies himself on the piano. Dean Taylor has performed in many clubs in the U.S.A. and Canada. During his travels he finds time to enjoy his favorite sport, skin diving. Dean is currently playing clubs and record hops and is in the process of recording a couple of sides for release in the near future.

TOMMY HUNTER (Capitol Records)

One of the best known, and most popular entertainers in Canada now represented on record with his new Capitol single, "Penny Wishes" and "Poor Little Bullfrog." The disc is set for both U.S. and Canadian distribution and extensive promotion in both countries. He now is featured on his own coast to coast radio show, and has been a regular cast member of the top rated Country Hoedown network TV'er since its inception some years ago. He was called to the attention of Capitol's Ken Nelson by long-time friend, Mac Wiseman. Nelson was impressed with Tommy, and immediately signed him to an exclusive Capitol recording contract.

THE ROMEOS (Columbia Records)

The Romeos, Alex Ticknovich, Rick Stainsby, Vern Kennedy and John Garden are one of the best known vocal groups in Canada through their regular weekly appearances on the Juliette TV Show. They are one of the most versatile groups in the business in that each member is an accomplished instrumentalist, and they possess a rare faculty for quick paced comedy in their many stage appearances from coast to coast in Canada. Their first album was released on Columbia in 1962. It was a collection of ballads, all of them of the standard variety, that The Romeos specialize in on their various TV appearances. The LP was based on the considerable success the boys' first single for the label achieved in 1961. If the fellows are not singing, they can usually be found busily engaged in a bridge game.

THE COUNT VICTORS (Coral Records)

The Count Victors, four young men from Peterboro, Ontario, are: Fred Munro (piano), Danny Harrison (guitar and vocals), Terry Lathangue (drums) and Bob Dixon (bass). Fred Munro is the Count Victor in charge of correspondence, fan mail, etc. Danny Harrison who handles the vocal chores with the Count Victors is partial to Jackie Wilson's singing style. Drummer Terry Lathangue is a HAM radio operator, while Bob Dixon, the man on bass, is something of a teacher for the group, employing his extensive musical knowledge. Bob's idol is Chet Atkins. The group scored heavily with their first Coral release, "Peepin' and Hidin'" in 1962, following a couple of releases in Canada prior to their debut on an international scale with Coral.

THE TRAVELLERS (Columbia Records)

The Travellers, Simone Johnston, Sid Dolgay, Jerry Gray, Ray Woodley are one of the most travelled folk singing groups in the world. Moreover, they are one of the most talented groups in the medium currently. They have been described by some "purists" as being too commercial to be authentic folk singers but the enthusiastic reception of audiences the world over serves to indicate that the group is among the best. They recently spent a month in Russia as part of a cultural exchange program. Their concert appearances in the Soviet Union were sell outs. During their visit, Moscow radio stations played their Columbia records frequently. They are represented on wax through two Columbia LP's, "Quilting Bee" and "Making Hay." For information and scheduling, contact Sid Dolgay, 33 Lilywood, Toronto 19, Ontario.

AUSTRALIA—

Belinda Music Pty. Ltd.

As each year ends, it is usually possible to look back and see a trend in pop music fashion. It may be dictated by the dancers, or by the lovelorn, or by the sing-for-the-hell-of-it group who make up the expanding world market. So over the years we have endured or enjoyed, according to taste, Dixieland; Swing; Latin-American; Ballad; Bop; Scat; Ragtime; Beatnik; Big Band; Small Band; all symptoms of their time leading us inexorably to what appeared to be 'the ultimate' . . . rock and roll. For a long time it was a cert, and indeed was happily holding sway until it's first real rival came along in The Twist. Now this was a phenomenon rather than a fashion. It rose like a meteor, hovered awhile, and suddenly became dead as a dodo if you called it 'twist.' Any title including that word became out of date overnight, but the dancing motion itself stayed on, and dance-wise it seems as popular today as it was a year ago. Since the second quarter of the year, we have looked in vain for another fashion to take over, but unless one can call a series of Country and Western pops a 'trend' the business seems to be groping for a new lead.

If any fashion has been noticeable it is in the growing demand for Harmonic content as distinct from the purely melodic sound of recent years. It is too early to say if this could lead to a return of the 'big bands,' but it is certainly demanding a big band sound, whether acquired by background organ, engineers' ingenuity, or chorally. Some outstanding examples of this satisfying noise this year have been Toni Fisher's 'West Of The Wall'; Ray Charles and his 'I Can't Stop Loving You'; Bobby Vinton with 'Roses Are Red', and more latterly Toni Fisher again with 'Music From The House Next Door'. There are others following this trend to 'thicker' sounds, and it may be a pointer to developments in 1963.

One interesting factor has been the revived interest in instrumentals. From an obscure instrument, the guitar has become as much a household word as the piano of the first half of the century. It seems to be the only instrument capable of achieving success by amplifying its own natural beauty, as distinct from the overblowing, distortion and other gimmicks employed on other instruments. This in itself may be a trend as more and more of the public seem to enjoy the sounds of The Shadows (England); Rob E.G. (Australia); Santo and Johnny (U.S.A.), and the newest recruit—Digger Revell and the Denvermen (Australia). They may make pop history during the next year or two with their fruity themes.

However, here in Australia one must allow for Radio Station policies, which may not always reflect a true picture of market demand. A series of best-selling records in U.S.A. and England have been 'axed' by Programme Selectors in recent months, particularly in New South Wales, including some which have hit the No. 1 slot in American charts. Even local artists and their records have suffered in this way, and with New South Wales housing a large proportion of the Australian population, it is a serious matter. It is to be hoped that these policies will relax during 1963 and once more allow the public to choose for themselves. Then perhaps the real trends will become evident.

Perhaps the year 1962 however will carve it's own niche in Australian music history as the year when the original Australian product began to achieve some recognition overseas. Australian artists and composers found their work being released on various overseas markets for the first time, and a new invisible export is being developed which could have far-reaching effects on Australian economy. New Zealand economy too, as in that country new alliances with Australian companies are opening up overseas markets to a small country with some of the best musicians in the world. Our own organisation is proud of the example it has shown in this respect with some outstanding exports such as "I've Been Everywhere" written in Australia by Geoff Mack, recorded on the Festival label by our own Lucky Starr and released on Big-top label in U.S., also recorded by Hank Snow on RCA Victor in the States and again released in both countries. "Charlie Mopps" . . . originally recorded by Johnny Devlin for Festival, and subsequently recorded by the Cocktail Trio in Holland, resulting in a Golden Disc and 100,000 sale in Holland. "Hey, Little Angel," appeared as "Hey Petite Angela" in France, "Charlie Mopps" came up in Germany. Little Songs that Teach for children by Australian writers Cordukes and Harris appeared in a fantastic publishing job done by Hill and Range Songs, Inc. in New York, and a constant stream of others are leaving us for overseas offices. Sooner or later they must add up to something for Australian exports. We do not claim all the credit, and regardless of the publisher or record company which achieves an overseas release, we in the music field can claim to be doing our bit towards building new markets for this corner of the world. Perhaps that is the biggest thing of all for Australia in 1962.

A few posers:—

WHO will start a move to curb the Copyright Pirates in Malaya and the Far Eastern areas?

WHY must some singers seek success by distorting the English language?

WHAT do overseas publishers hope to achieve by insisting on big advances for Australian rights?

WHEN will someone standardise the centre holes in records?

WHERE did the Wobble-Board go? To all my friends in many countries, my best wishes for 1963, and wherever you fit into the music business, remember we're all in this together.

SANDY SELSIE (Columbia Records)

Fourteen year old Sandy Selsie from Richmond Hill, Ontario already has two hit Columbia singles to her credit, and seems destined for many more. Her first waxing, "Date With Loneliness" was listed as Canadian Columbia's ninth best selling record in 1962. The session was cut in Nashville under the supervision of Don Law and Frank Jones. Columbia's hierarchy figure young Sandy as the label's answer to Brenda Lee. Her second single is doing well regionally now, and her Columbia bosses figure that the third release, set for the first of the new year, to be her strongest yet. She is a native Torontonian, but when she was only five she made her show-biz debut on a radio talent show. Shortly thereafter her family returned to the Toronto area, where young Sandy made numerous appearances. Her first big professional break came along when she was ten years old. She was invited to appear on a broadcast over WWVA, Wheeling, West Va. Numerous Canadian radio and TV shows followed, and then came her first Columbia disc session. Now, with two better than average singles, and a lot of experience in show-biz under her belt, this young Canadian looks forward to her biggest and best year, 1963.

BILL BUTLER (Epic Records)

Bill Butler was featured with his piano and orchestra at Toronto's Lord Simcoe Hotel, Pump Room since the hotel opened in 1957. His first LP for Epic, "Portrait Of A Piano" developed into such a hot commercial package that a second set, including most of Hollywood's hit themes, had its recording and release date advanced considerably. He has been featured at one time or another on most of Canada's top network shows, and has made American video appearances with Arthur Godfrey and Dave Garraway, among others. A hit single, his version of "Soldier Boy" added to his success in 1962. Bill is hopeful that the label is grooming him to take over for another very successful Canadian in the Columbia family, one Percy Faith.

BOBBY CURTOLA (Tartan Records, Del Fi in U.S.)

Born: April 17, 1944, Port Arthur, Ontario, Canada. Bobby Curtola (his real name) is one of the first internationally recognized entertainers to first be recognized in his native country. To date he has had ten singles, all top ten items in Canada, two of them have been chart items in the U.S. as well. "Fortune Teller" was the first of Bobby's records to be released in the U.S. by Del Fi, currently his recording of "Aladdin" is on the Cash Box Top 100. He also has two albums to his credit, the latest entitled, "Meet Mr. Personality." He has appeared in over 400 shows in Canada during the course of his short career so far, and has also been on extensive promotion and show trips that have taken him to every major market in the U.S. This includes an appearance on American Bandstand and a show at New York City's Palisades Park. Bobby's International Fan Club headquarters representing 527 affiliate clubs in both the U.S. and Canada, is located at 143 Prospect Avenue, Port Arthur, Ontario, Canada. Co-managers, Dyer and Basil Hurdon.

AUSTRALIA — 1962

Like most countries, Australia during the year just passed has seen vast changes take place. After staggering and halting temporarily under the depressive influence of a governmental financial policy that brought about widespread loss of public confidence and the resultant withdrawal of money by the public, the economy has since June slowly but surely pulled itself back month by month to a position where economists tell us we were two years ago. Because of this slow recovery we believe that the country's economy is far sounder than prior to the credit withdrawal.

Being a luxury line, records naturally suffered saleswise and it is a credit to the Australian companies that no major company disappeared during this time of many problems.

Radio functioned throughout this period and was supplied with the countless records with hit potential that were turned out by the majors of Australia. Hits climbed the charts and dropped again and in the majority of cases sales very seldom reached beyond 8,000—exceptions of course ran on to make a big noise and sales of 20,000 plus were notched up but it is fantastic to realize that a few short years ago songs of a similar nature would sell in excess of 80,000 discs.

Many, many reasons for this have been stated but whether it be the type of music, the frequent programming of format Top 40 stations or the fantastic sales of transistor radios, the big fact to emerge from this struggle has been the clear and resounding victory of Australian artists over the overseas artists. No longer does the big American name carry the weight that it used to. No longer can the US company demand and get big advances in the name of a troupe of artists—because the Australian producer has seen his own local boy or girl gain record sales far in excess of the imported variety.

In recent weeks we have seen an appeal by Cash Box editorials for US companies to soft pedal the "advance" situation—this is sound advice because the day is fast approaching when Australian record companies will be in such a strong position with their own products that they would much rather spend the advance requested on a local production, which they know will without any fear or risk at least cover costs and have every chance of running on to hit potential.

Australian artists have won success during this year and from nearly every company there have been at least two or three big hit records by local artists—this is most encouraging after years of promoting and trying. Also encouraging is the number of overseas releases gained by Australian artists in countries such as US, Canada, South Africa, England and Germany. This fact will highlight the remarks made earlier in this article and point out that the quality of recording available in Australia is up to international standards.

Vast sums have been spent on promotion by record clubs and the like—multi-colored ads, full page ads, have been used to woo the public away from the record retailer to the company-controlled outlets and it is felt in many circles that retailers must have suffered somewhat by these company activities—in some cases selling disks at almost half the price of identical records in retail outlets. Attempts have been made by retailers' associations to stop these activities but none have lasted very long and many new outlets have been established by companies which must further deplete the effect of the retailer. So it would seem that both outlets are continuing to operate side by side and an air of armed truce is evident in the retailers' camp. The basic fact is that many records released through the trade have fared badly and when these identical records come up in the clubs they sell exceptionally well . . . who can complain about results like this—a record company is keen to obtain the maximum sales from their investment and it does seem that the retail setup is incapable of getting these sales as it is established at this time. Just how this can be improved is problematical but many retailers should take a very keen look at the staff who sells records to the public. It will be found that many, many records departments do not carry trained staff at all and it must be stressed that like all branches of the selling profession, record selling is a specialized one. No record company is happy about having its products handled by staff who have no more interest than getting the customer out of the shop as quickly as possible so that they can continue to daydream about things that have no bearing on records or record sales. It is this fact that has led many companies to seek alternative means of selling.

On the publishing front we have seen many active publishers pushing their songs and gaining great action on songs that have not made very much noise overseas. Sheet music continues to make its presence felt on the Australian scene and unlike the United States, where many publishers never even contemplate printing a piano copy, here in Australia almost a hundred per cent of publishers conduct a lucrative trade in sheet music. The publishing companies have proved most co-operative with record companies during the period under discussion and both professions have proved the value of this policy by a steady growth in both branches of the music business.

The future does seem to be very strong and as this young country forges ahead so will the music business in this country . . . strengthened by the trials and experiences of the past eighteen months to be in a position second to none in the world.

SOUTH AFRICA — 1962

Without doubt the biggest impact on the Republic's record industry in 1962 was made by the folksy Jim Reeves. Before his personal appearance tour of this country in the latter half of the year his records sold well—after it he created an avalanche of record sales for the RCA distributors in this territory. The moral—personal appearances pay off handsomely in the Republic of South Africa where there is no TV and commercial radio is limited to two stations. Pat Boone, Cliff Richard and Jim Reeves have all found that South Africa gives a rousing welcome to favorite entertainment stars and it's this correspondent's guess that many more top show biz personalities will visit us in 1963. Current probables—Connie Francis and a return visit from Pat Boone. Our record industry continues to grow and visits by big name artists is a wonderful stimulant.

Of over riding importance to the industry's growth is the rapidly increasing purchasing power of the African (13,000,000 in the Republic alone). Still an avid devotee of his own brand of African Jive and traditional tribal songs the African is buying more and more recordings of Negro/American Jazz stars both vocal and instrumental.

It is also indicative of the steady growth of the market as a whole in this territory that the Republic's newest record company—The Radio Record Company (established February 1962) has enjoyed an outstanding first year's trading. The company's Managing Director—Brian D. Hobbs when asked to comment on prospects in '63 said: "I have been in the record business for 14 years and I find it as fascinating and as vital today as it ever was. The challenge is always there . . . no less in 1963 than it was in 1949! The prospects for business in '63? Unlimited!"

The past year saw the absorption of Trutone Africa Ltd., one of this country's major record companies by Gallo Africa Limited (Decca Records). The take over was affected smoothly and the results of the additional investment by Gallo Africa will become clearer in the new year. At the beginning of the year the industry combined its resources to launch what turned out to be a highly successful campaign. Almost overnight through the force of a giant radio and press campaign the public were conditioned to regard the 78 speed single as obsolete and the 7" single as the only acceptable form of single recording. This changeover was overdue but the industry was doubtful of the outcome. When put to the test the point was proved conclusively. The country was more than ready for the 7" single.

The African record market which is almost boundless (apart from the 13,000,000 Africans in the Republic of South Africa there are on our borders and north of us a further 70,000,000 Africans) has been further influenced with the introduction of FM broadcasting which provides a complete daytime and evening programme especially for Africans. So far this service can be picked up in certain areas only—soon a complete network of transmitters will bring FM broadcasts in many different languages to all the African people in the Republic. These broadcasts are "commercial" and give a much needed outlet through which business can approach the African. This is probably the most difficult of all merchandising problems in respect of the African—"how to reach him successfully." FM radio will assist greatly in this regard.

EMI has scheduled the English record Star Cliff Richard to a round of personal appearances in this country commencing early in the New Year. A polished performer Cliff Richard has appeared on our stages a number of times before and his records enjoy a tremendous popularity.

My Fair Lady opened for the first time in South Africa a few weeks back and was immediately applauded by the critics as on a par with major presentations of the famous musical in other centers. As usual seats are unobtainable through the Xmas period and booking extends well into the New Year. Record sales of the My Fair Lady album have soared.

1962 COIN MACHINE REVIEW

A Year-End Review of Industry Events, Problems and Opinions

The End Of The Year Brings An End To Bingos

When the year began the Justice Dept. was trying hard for a ban on bingo machines and at the close of the year—two weeks before the final day of 1962—the Eastland Bill became effective and it was unlawful to ship multiple-coin in-line games interstate. As December 17th—the effective date—approached, wholesalers scurried about ridding the warehouses around the country of every bingo game in sight. And it was not known if another multiple-coin game would ever be manufactured again.

New models of other types of equipment continued to be introduced of course, and with the new models came new appointments, new personnel, and new problems. Production was the big one for the hits, and sales were the problems for the losers.

The vending machine business had lost its glamour on Wall St. but the solid operator like Macke, and ARA and United Servamation continued to expand soundly with hot food and large full-line plants in their futures. Canteen elected a new President, Pat O'Malley, and it was said that O'Malley was the answer to some of the problems at Canteen. At the year's end, the firm had improved its performance and the giant was still on top in first place in the business of operating machines.

Merchandise machines continued to make their way onto the market and vendors for photo copys, films, flash-bulbs, shoe-shine kits and other non-edible products were introduced. Chi-Coin's Ed Levin retired and oldtimer Vince Shay died, in the same week.

Seeburg put the speakers on top of the juke box this time and ran ads stating why the juke box had ears. By the year's end the 1963 machine was not called a juke box but was altogether different than the one with ears or any other model ever seen before. It was a tasteful mahogany music unit designed for the so-called champagne locations and offered the widest selection LP music ever—480 selections. At the close of the year the machine was said to be garnering 50¢ pieces in the top locations of America.

Anti-cigarette campaigns continued but cig sales soared for a record—fifth year in a row. The Don Moloneys had twin boys named Adam (AM) and Patrick (PM) as the lads were born in the morning and afternoon but only minutes apart.

The Importance Of Programming

Programming continued to be an important part of operating music and editorials outlined the need for a closeness to the sounds which people pay money for. Ops were expected to take advantage of the growing interest in jazz, the radio swing from r&b to sweet, and a new chart in CB which would pinpoint op best bets. Wurlitzer introduced a new phonograph and the theme centered around the music which will bring the greatest income—the Ten Top Tunes—in this case Wurlitzer claimed that the ten top tunes were the records most often played. Competition pushed 33 stereo singles culled from LP's, and the operator wondered if he wasn't giving way to the return to nickel play. However, after the initial premiere, the TTT proved successful, increased play from all reports, and while on the surface it was technically music at five-cents a tune the volume of play on the machine offset the technicalities and collections were greater which was what idea was in the first place. As the year came to a close Wurlitzer prepared to add to its line a new component which would enhance and merchandise the TTT feature. January was the official announcement date set for the release of the component part.

American Shuffleboard tourneys continued in full swing throughout the New England and Northwest areas as patrons of bars in these areas played for trophies. A new electronic golf machine—Golf-It—was launched as the industry tried to capitalize on the golf interest. They did it with bowling but at the years end there was nothing sensational in the golf end of the business available.

Major wholesalers set sail for London's A.T.E. Convention and learned that while the country was saturated with slot machines the amusement and phonograph machine was still a major product to be shipped to the UK.

Editorials asked if '62 Brings Prosperity Will You Be Ready For It? Prosperity never came but no one starved either. Routes did very well, generally, and new equipment sales were good.

British operators faced the year with concern over the Common Market problems as did all industry in the UK. German arcade ops looked to their Government for aid through legislation and asked for an increase in the number of pay-out machines permitted in a location. At the moment, two were allowed. There was no increase heard about by year's end. NYS studied a mandatory insur-

MOA Board To Change Bylaws, Interview New Applicants, Regio Member Drive; '63 Show In Chi

The annual convention of the Music Operators Association (MOA) failed to draw the expected attendance, and the board of directors has decided to change the bylaws and interview new applicants for membership. The convention, held in Chicago, was a disappointment for many operators who had hoped for a larger turnout. The board has also decided to hold the next convention in Chicago in 1963. Ratajack has resigned from the board, and Miller is expected to leave in December.

ance bill for kiddie rides, Iz Edelman said he had a coin-operated tape player, and NAMA formed another state council in Oklahoma. Continental opened its latest full-line feeding installation at Ft. Monmouth in Jersey amidst much publicity. Lou Casola, veteran coinman, sold out for one-quarter million dollars and devoted more time to PR and MOA business.

Operators were told to act more like businessmen and at the close of the year received a pat on the back from bankers who were increasing in numbers among those who now thought highly of the industry and the people in it.

NAMA went into a highly complex promotion program to introduce vending to major parks people and the results were still being studied by December. Management was brought into the picture, in addition to the Parks effort, when AMA held a three-day seminar at the Astor Hotel in NYC and told gasoline and other major industrials what, why, and how vending operates. The move toward giant installations operated capably only by giant publicly owned firms was underway and moving fast.

Music Ops In Background On Mood Music Business

Music ops were criticized for permitting outside electronic repairmen and others to capitalize and gain footholds in the background music business, a business originally belonging almost solely to the music op. Reprints of editorials were circulated throughout the nation as ops awakened to the possibility of losing out on what promised to be a lucrative field for regular monthly income. A layout on vending at Macy's department store in NYC was used by operators in Hamburg to sell German locations on the idea. February wasn't even out the door when the first baseball game made its appearance. United delivered it.

Organization was stressed within the industry as local, state and national moves were made by coinmen. MTA was not holding too well and was on its way to a dismal convention but a bright new change in management. By the end of the year, Bob Blundred was Manager and Harry Snodgrass was President. George Miller was not on the Board and the national association began a long uphill climb. First stop—the juke box

The Eastland Bill and the Coin Machine Industry

It has been three weeks since President Kennedy signed the Eastland Bill (P.L. 86-58) which becomes effective December 17 and Public Law 87-64, to be known as the Gambling Act of 1962. An attempt is being made to explain the ramifications of this bill as they apply to the industry.

The Eastland Bill is an amendment to the Johnson Act of 1951. The Johnson Act specifically banned the interstate shipment of slot machines which were described and identified as such. The Eastland Bill extends this ban to any other machine designed primarily for use in gambling and which when operated may emit a prize or money or property, or deliver money or property, as the result of an element of chance. The Eastland Bill does not identify any specific machines, as does the Johnson Act. The Department of Justice, however, has indicated that the scope of the bill is intended to include all machines which are designed to operate on multiple coin in-line games and will be interpreted by the government. Therefore, it is assumed that interstate shipment of multiple coin in-line games will be prohibited as of December 17, 1962.

The Eastland Bill does not apply to the single coin placed machine (identified as a nickel machine in the text of the bill), nor does it prohibit interstate shipment of multi-coin slot machines, slot machines, multi-coin slot machines, or similar amusement machines.

The bill also states that "it shall not be unlawful to transport in foreign commerce or interstate commerce any gambling device into any State in which the transportation of such device is specifically prohibited or lawful to a State of this Union." In his statement, Mr. Hubert of Bell indicated that he believed that this amendment excludes from the bill not only Illinois and Nevada, but also Arizona, California, and other States. Other States are mentioned as possibly being legal recipients of "gambling devices" according to some estimates but this has not yet been determined.

The Eastland Bill has an effect on regulations governing the operation of multiple coin in-line games.

Whether or not the manufacture of multiple coin games continues, such multiple coin games, as the other kind, must be shipped interstate and to States in which any such machine is prohibited or "restricted" as to being on the street or in a public place, as well as the interstate shipment of such machines. The sale of such machines to such States and to be operated as an amusement device.

Dallas joining the ranks and then with others leading up to the highly successful '63 showing held at the closing quarter of the year. The sales were said to have been near record proportions for '62 and with the new '63 model out demands for even greater production caused a slow-down in delivery. But distributors couldn't have been happier with the orders.

The previous year (1961) was proven to be the export market's biggest year and with '62 underway another record was in sight. As foreign countries took to coin machines they took the American-made models and sales soared. Belgium held its first coin show and vending played a major part.

Vending here took on an added importance to operators looking to diversify and expand. Cigarettes were the first addition and with candy already being viewed with possibilities, coffee vendor mfrs. were trying hard to make a more simplified machine to lure the music ops into the 'wet' end of the business. With the advent of Spring business looked good, not only in the industry but across the country. JFK promised less unemployment, a steel strike was averted, and coin machine operators said that the locations were picking up in traffic. A big market dip in May (the second biggest) took the wind out of everyone's sails and the country nose-dived. Slowly but surely it picked itself up and started back on the road to health.

manufacturers and exhibit contracts. Canteen's Fred Schuster issued an optimistic statement for earnings early in the year but he was not around to see them take form. O'Malley moved to the top post and Rowe AC continued to appoint and purchase outlets.

Location contracts took on added importance as an NYC attorney came up with a clause which enabled the op to hold onto the location even in case of sale or transfer. The contract was heralded throughout the trade and every one became more conscious than ever over the link between today and tomorrow—the contract. A major vending operating firm (ARA) set up a scholarship foundation for college and post-grad levels. Bilotta from NYS drove hard on the road, Empire gave away free clocks, and First Coin had a catalog for those who asked for it.

Direct sales had hit hard in the Nebraska area and ops were alerted throughout the country to defend against this practice which oftentimes led to lost locations and injured relations.

Rowe AC continued changing personnel and Kleiman was transferred to a Milwaukee distributor post as Hale, Pres. and Harper, Vice-Pres. took over, under the guidance of O'Malley. Later Hale was removed and Harper stepped into the prexy post to team up with O'Malley. The team won wide respect throughout the distributor organization.

ASCAP held a west coast meet and the coin industry sat up to take note but only for a moment. Nothing came from the huddle. A shortage of amusement machines and arcade equipment came about after a heavy export year led to depleted inventories. At the year's end no relief was in sight and exports continued to drain off the later model equipment.

Rock-Ola, with plans for the new line being prepped at the plant, made several changes in the sales organization, first with Abe Susman in Seeburg reps traveled the nation demonstrating stereo, LP selections, and proper programming. The factory insisted on stressing the need for adult music on the juke box and ops came into the fold, slowly but surely.

The opening of new plants continued throughout 1962. Peach State opened a giant sized plant in Columbia, Royal put up a plush center in Cincy, Betti put the final touches on his modern site in Jersey and Runyon announced his 36,000 sq ft plant in Springfield. The need for more space, efficient production and service techniques, and general expansion were seen as the prime reasons for the moves.

The Government took a licking from all of business following the steel blow-up and everyone thought the Kennedy Administration was stepping into too many business roles. The coin machine business thought this way too and as the Eastland Bill banned bingos, many thought perhaps Government was responsible for the start of the legislation which snuffed out a profitable segment for those concerned.

Joe Orleck was honored at a UJA benefit, took the opportunity to announce his engagement to Pauline Slott, and followed through as expected in October with a marriage and a five-week Oriental honeymoon trip. Another bachelor had gone the way of all flesh.

Diversification was discussed and many levels of industry looked to lines they wouldn't have considered earlier.

Cigarettes and Candy Can Pave The Way To Vending

It seems an opinion of some operators in the industry who still think that the future of the business will be made up of vending machines. They are wrong. The future of the business will be made up of vending machines, but not the kind of vending machines that are being sold today. The future of the business will be made up of vending machines that are being sold by the kind of people who are being sold to today.

Seeburg Names Struve For Colo., N. M., East Wyoming

PRES STRUVE

CHICAGO—William F. Adair, vice-president—sales of The Seeburg Sales Corporation, has announced the appointment of Struve Distributing Co. as distributor for Seeburg music and vending equipment for Colorado, New Mexico, and eastern Wyoming.

The Struve organization, with headquarters in Salt Lake City, has opened and staffed new offices in Denver at 50 Rio Grande Blvd., including a complete parts department and service shop to handle the needs of operators in the new territory. The location is in the heart of Denver with easy access off the Valley Highway.

Operators in Utah, Idaho, Nevada, Montana, and western Wyoming will continue to be served by the Struve offices in Salt Lake City.

"We are happy to announce this expansion of our affiliation with Seeburg," said Preston Struve, president of the distributing firm. "Our aim, both in Salt Lake City and in Denver, is to provide music and vending operators with the best service and to help them toward greater profits."

The new Denver location, Struve said, provides ample parking space, convenient loading docks, and is convenient to Denver's one-stop record companies.

In naming Stanley L. Larsen as Denver manager, Struve said that Larsen "has a background in the business that matches his capabilities. His congenial manner will make operators' association with him a pleasant one."

Al Morrison, sales manager, has a reputation for a thorough knowledge of the music and vending business.

Leo Negri, named to represent the Struve vending sales department in the Denver area, is well known in the industry for his willingness to assist operators at all times.

The new shop service manager, John Santomaso, is rated as one of the best in the service field. He will be assisted in Denver by Jim Lawliss and Red Menkveld.

To give the Denver parts department expert management, Struve has moved his Salt Lake City parts manager, Gary Wilde, to the Denver position. Operating with the slogan, "If you need a part, I've got it," Wilde intends to keep on tap a complete stock of every part an operator needs to sustain profitable daily operation.

To greet operators who visit Struve's new Denver offices, Terry Geller has the job of secretary.

The new Struve offices in Denver have also been named to represent, in addition to Seeburg, Chicago Dynamic Industries, Williams Mfg. Co., Midway Mfg. Co., and Irving Kaye Co.

Struve's new Denver telephone number is 303 (area code) 222-9758.

London's A.T.E. Convention Is Another Guaranteed Advanced Sell-Out

Three Day Coin Show Set For Jan. 29, 30, 31st

LONDON — The 1963 Amusement Trades Exhibition scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, 29th, 30th and 31st January has been a guaranteed sell out for weeks. Once again the venue for Europe's major coin machine convention will be London's New Royal Horticultural Hall. The Organisers report that the demand for space—always at a premium—has been greater than ever. Many would-be exhibitors had to be turned away while the demands of others have been severely curtailed. Amongst the 68 exhibitors are two newcomers from overseas Eltec Ltd. of Germany and Urban Industries Inc. of Kentucky, U.S.A.

It is early days to divulge details of the many new exhibits in all branches that are expected to be on show as manufacturers are reluctant to spill the beans too far in advance. However, indications are that there will be several new multi-slot-multi play pay-outs on show for the first time. Manufactured in Britain and designed for use in arcades, the machines have the maximum 1/—pay out required by law and some models are reported to cost as much as £1,700.

Once again it is hoped that attendance records will be broken. Cash Box, who will be represented on Stand No. 138 for the fourth successive year, wish the Organisers every success and join them in extending a warm welcome to the many visitors that are expected to make the journey from all over the British Isles, the United States and the Continent. A complete list of exhibitors is as follows:

Oldest Op In Southeast Celebrates 75th Birthday

35 Yrs. In Coin Machine
Business As Novelty Amuse-U Co.

SAVANNAH, GA. — Sam Goldberg started in the operating business in this area about thirty-five years ago and just last month celebrated his 75th birthday (Nov. 6th). According to reliable sources here, Goldberg is said to be the "oldest operator in the Southeast."

Gunnar Gabrielson, local Seeburg distrib down here, claims to have known Sam for 22 years, since 1940, when Gabe was district man for Seeburg.

According to Gabe, Sam hasn't aged much in these years. He turned his route over to son Joe, who runs Novelty Amuse-U Company, located at 2008 Barnard Street in Savannah. Joe has made more than one purchase of a large lot of phonos from the local distribs but always with "Pappy lookin' over his shoulder." Distribs claim that Sam hasn't signed a deal yet that didn't add up to a good one for him.

Ralph Gabrielson claims that Sam closes a deal by "icin' up" a couple, which isn't a bad way to close or even open one.

industry and also one who has made a lasting contribution. And so, we wish Pappy a belated Happy Birthday, and wish him the very best for more to come.

ANALYSIS OF THIRD QUARTERLY COIN MACHINE EXPORT REPORT

A Review Of Coin Machine Sales To The World's Markets During July, August and September 1962

GENERAL

Overall volume for the July-Sept. quarter was off by close to $700,000 with the brunt of the decline occurring in the games and vending categories. Vending was a disappointment in South America and didn't fare too well in Europe, as compared with this same period for last year. Games were down almost one-half million dollars with Europe taking the loss since the Continent does the biggest business in amusements. Canada's vending imports dipped to one-half of the second qtr. gross, games were down in Canada to less than half of the earlier qtr. and phonographs sank to below $100 thousand. Most of this business was on new machines. Venezuela and Argentina were up on phonos in So. Amer. but Chile, Peru and Colombia dropped. Japan doubled phono imports, the Nansei Is. was notable in a fall-off to $134 thousand, and Br. East Africa was the sole taker on that Continent. Amusements in So. America held steady. Asia dipped with a drop-off in Japan. Australia was about the same almost to the dollar. And African business slowed. The vending situation perked up in So. America with Venezuela providing some impact with the purchase of 380 vendors. Norway took 49 vendors for the first time out, Belgium dipped, the UK followed and West Germany fell to $155 thousand. Japan saved the Asian volume with a big buy as did Lebanon, both on Vendors, but the Aussies fell down to a minimum amount of business for this quarter.

PHONOGRAPHS

Music machines were up $200,000 for the quarter with Europe saving the category from a sound market drop. North America and specifically Canada was down quite a bit as compared with these months for last year. South America dipped to a trifling $76 thousand for a surprise drop. But Europe registered $2 1/4 million and came through very well. Belgium just missed the $1 million mark, France fell off from the earlier quarter, Italy was cut in half, Sweden tripled, the UK increased slightly and West Germany fell off a bit. Asia was steady throughout the quarter. So was Australia. And with the exception of three phonos, Africa was counted out. The year did promise a record gross however, and at the close of the quarter, it appeared as though $13 million would pass through customs marked 'phonos'.

AMUSEMENT MACHINES

Games were down half-a-million this last quarter as compared with last July-Sept. figs and the qtr. registered a drop-off of $1 million as tallied from the start of the year. Coinmen expect $3 million per quarter or $1 million each month from games markets. This last qtr. turned in $2 million, a noticeable drop to say the least. The market did have its bright spots. Word was out that Japan had lifted restrictions, a news note which may have reflected the tidings to come. The industry hoped for another UK splash. In the meantime, the $1 million drop centered in Europe where France showed up as the cause of the trouble taking 2000 games less than the previous qtr. The Netherlands and Sweden hurt some, but the UK dipped only slightly. West Germany continued strong but not enough to hold up the Continent. Belgium's situation with bingos was not clarified but reports of a bingo ban did hurt earlier shipments.

VENDING MACHINES

Vending was off one-third of its volume of last year at this time and reflected the export dips for all categories. The culprit was So. America where the only life in the market was found in Venezuela. Comparing this quarter with the earlier one, North America fell in half, Europe dipped $200 thousand, Asia showed signs of picking up, and Africa was about the same as always. Belgium started the year slow, shot up in the second quarter, but dipped again this last three months. Finland was the opposite having had a solid qtr. under its belt before and recovering again after a slowdown. The Netherlands were disappointing this qtr. but Norway shows promise. Sweden is off again, but the Swiss are holding their own with a steady import business on vending machines. The UK dropped off after an unusual second qtr. but this is to be expected. West Germany has been cutting its volume with each month. Reports from exporters specializing in the vending phase of the business still show signs of hope for the future. The business hasn't grown that fast overseas. Merchandising is still an obstacle. The machines are available but the American way will be the way in which these same machines sell food. Until the groundwork is loosened to permit further progress, vending will continue to move slowly. But the future holds great promise.

A Banker Views The Coin Machine and Vending Scene and Sees Greater Responsibility, Better Credit Line, and Higher Opinion Than Ever Of Industry

The following is an account of how the coin machine industry in the Philadelphia area, and in the nation, as seen from the eyes of the banker—the man responsible for providing the vital line of credit necessary for a healthy industry. This report is the result of correspondence between Cash Box and Philadelphia's Broad Street Trust Company. Ray Erfle, Senior Vice-President, and Jack Wagner, Asst. Vice-President, prepared the report which follows.

It has been noticed that the coin machine operator is gaining stature in the community as a businessman. Frankly, I believe that on the whole this is true throughout the country. The operators are recognizing their responsibility to their location and also to their competitors. They must recognize these responsibilities in order to acquire and retain their locations, which are the "life blood" of their business. Competition has become more keen, and the operator must give his location excellent service at the right price. This holds true in all types of coin machine route operations.

Better Equipment

Another factor affecting the status of the operator is the equipment itself. As we all know, practically every machine has been designed with more "eye appeal" and functionally and mechanically they are able to give better and more dependable service than ever before. This equipment opens up locations to operators which heretofore were not available.

As you know in Philadelphia we have what we believe to be one of the finest trade organizations in the country. The members work very well together, and they have been very effective in developing, guiding, and organizing much of the coin machine industry, which is highly respected in the community, and because of the interchange of ideas, the location and the public in general benefits. Competition, as previously stated, is keen but healthy.

Because of the great difference in operation between the amusement field and the merchandise vending field, there is not a trend toward one intermixing with the other to any great extent. Of course, joint operations of amusement and cigarette routes are common in the Philadelphia area, but there does not seem to be any unusually strong trend toward this at the present time. There have been many mergers in recent years, which have developed into rather large diversified operations. In spite of this, there are only a few "full line" vendors in the true sense of the word in this particular area.

Flexible Financing

We at the Broad Street Trust Company have been financing both large and small operators of almost every type of coin operated route for over a quarter of a century. During that time we have expanded our operations and our services to keep pace with this rapidly growing industry. This expansion, of course, is consistent with existing banking regulations, policies, and economic conditions. In spite of the varying degrees of tight money conditions and high interest rates, we feel we have kept our financing flexible enough to be able to help all of the distributors and most of the operators to keep pace with the industry expansion.

Most vendors and operators recognize the full potential of the industry, and that readily available financing, at fair rates, is the key to their own route expansion. As any businessman, operators are extremely conscious of getting the best possible financing plan for their own particular situation, at the most advantageous rate. The financial picture of each particular operation must be examined closely to determine the financial plan best suited to the operator's expansion program. Sometimes they seek financing that is either longer or shorter than they should have. If the ability to repay as evidenced by the earnings statement is not sufficient to meet short term payments, the customer will experience difficulty in meeting the note obligations and maintaining his equipment at a high operational and depreciable level. On the other hand, if the operator's ability to repay is higher than necessary to meet his installments and maintain his route, he may be paying excessive amounts of interest unnecessarily.

Time To Reduce Debt

All operators and vendors should attempt to time his financing so that he allows sufficient time to reduce his indebtedness considerably before attempting further expansion and re-financing. In the anxiety of many operators to expand, some of them have made some fairly wild deals and have paid a very high rate for their anxiety.

In considering the operator's financial statement, we inevitably encounter the all important factor of depreciation. Without a doubt, this is one of the most important figures in the operator's statement, because of the heavy equipment investment. What is the best way to depreciate equipment? There is really no set rule. It depends on the individual operator's tax situation. This can best be determined by a competent accountant, who is thoroughly familiar with the tax laws relating to this industry.

Depreciation

As a "rule of thumb," in this area music equipment, for example, is depreciated over a four year period, at a 50%, 25%, 12½%, 12½% rate. Games and arcade equipment have been depreciated anywhere from one to five years. Cigarette equipment is depreciated on a straight line basis over four or five years. Vending equipment, depending on the type of equipment, will vary anywhere from four to ten years.

Incidentally, I have been informed by the leading accountant of the industry in our area, that a new tax statute permits considerable savings to the operator who purchases his equipment prior to the start of 1963.

You may be aware of the fact that the National Automatic Merchandising Association publishes a Ratio Guide, that is prepared by a nationally known accounting firm, that is available to N.A.M.A. members. This is an excellent publication, because it gives the vendor an opportunity to compare his figures against that of other vendors in the same general line and having the same financial resources. (Ed. Note: N.A.M.A.'s address is 7 South Dearborn St., Chicago).

Runyon Sets New Era In Operating and Sales After 25 Years In Business

New Plant Result Of Greater Vision, Broad Concepts

SPRINGFIELD, N.J.—A new era in the coin machine industry was born recently in this thriving little community on the outskirts of Newark—on New Jersey's busy Route #22.

Spread out in bold beauty was the birth of Runyon Sales Company's 36,000 sq. foot new modernistic edifice embracing all its operational and distribution facilities under one roof.

Scientifically built to meet every requirement of the rapidly expanding vending business, the new Runyon showpiece is accessible to every leading highway in New Jersey. It is only 25 minutes from New York.

"To me this is just a beginning of a brand new era in vending operations and sales," declared Barney Sugerman, Chairman of the Board, who recalled how quickly those 25 years flew by when he and his associate, Abe Green, started this business in a small store in Hunterdon Street, Newark. Green remains president of the company.

New faces adorn Runyon's top echelon since that day 25 years ago— younger men with greater vision and broader concepts. Progress is the keynote of Runyon policy, its tools consist of service, good will and top quality equipment, and the approach is a scientific one. This then is Runyon today, a leading wholesale outlet for seven factory lines, jobber of three other major machine lines, exclusive international distributor for two of these factories, international wholesaler of all types of equipment into sixty countries, and finally, a leading operator in the State of New Jersey of phonographs, amusement machines, cigarette machines, and one dozen full-line feeding installations.

Today, each of Runyon's many departments is headed by executives whose average age is thirty-four years, most of whom are college-trained, with many years of background in the business. This youthful machine is directed by the top echelon of principals who founded the firm and, in practically each instance, have been with the firm since its inception. In addition to Sugerman, the firm's President is Abe Green, long-time associate of the Chairman; Ed Burg, who heads the operating divisions and has developed this facet of the business over the years; and Myron Sugerman, who heads the sales division and the export departments.

The nerve center of Runyon is within the 36,000 square foot Springfield plant but the Company has branch offices on Tenth Avenue in New York, and in East Hartford, Conn. Ten road salesmen keep a staff of fifty people in the sales department busy each day, while over one hundred and fifty employees conduct the firm's operation and route duties. Many of the staff of two-hundred have been with the firm almost since the beginning. Runyon International also has an associate office in Buenos Aires—Gino Caion, and Vincenzo Spinelli of Jet, S.A. Buenos Aires, Argentina, a Latin-American coin firm.

Inside the plant, a modern paint spray shop does 2-in-1 chores, painting two machines at a time. Warehousing of equipment is simplified via a three-tier storage arrangement which is equipped to receive several hundred machines and saves about 50% floor space which is used for another department. A hydraulic forklift and pallets enable quick storage until the machine is called for reconditioning. The warehouse is fed from three station platforms which receive the dozens of daily deliveries. Another hydraulic lift places slate tops into position in a pool table section where workmen specialize in this phase of renewal. Specialization is the keynote inside the shops. Each mechanic handles one type machine—shuffle alley, bowler, pingame—but is flexible for use in special instances. A parts dept. occupies 3,000 sq. foot of space and offers "every known part," according to Bob Kohn, Manager. Plant Manager Hans Vandendon supervises the service on music and games. He is assisted by a specialist in each of these departments, who directs a trained crew. A repair room does nothing but repair electronic and sound equipment. An "advertising" room is equipped with mimeograph, addressograph and photocopy machines which serve each facet of the business. Four 2½-ton trucks pickup and deliver daily, the equipment sold and serviced by Runyon Sales.

The Operating Department of Runyon is composed of four firms; Public Service Tobacco Co., cigarette operations; Runyon Music Co., the music and games operation; Automatic Merchant, the vending operation; and World Wired Inc., a franchise unit of Muzak for the state of New Jersey. Ed Burg heads these Companies and directs every phase of the operation. "When cigarettes looked profitable, we immediately entered it on a full-scale program. When pool tables looked promising, we placed dozens on locations and today we need a special corner of the shop for just this type equipment," said Burg. Each move the firm makes is a well-planned one and in most instances results in long-term successful addition to the present organization. The vending company operates full-line feeding in several leading New Jersey industrial plants. As the urban renewal programs razed dozens of tenements (and with them hundreds of locations), Runyon moved with the tide and today is very prominent on the highways, in shopping centers and in modern bowling alleys.

Sugerman insists that the business of operating coin machines has never looked brighter. Refusing to pinpoint any specific segment of the operation, he claims each phase—music, games, vending—has unlimited potential for the operator who knows "his business, his equipment, and his customers."

Today, after starting with the Buckley Wallbox line in 1940, ("we sold 8000 wallboxes that year, to Homer Capeheart's 500!") Sugerman's distributing company represents the Rowe-AMI phonograph, the Rowe AC cigarette vendor, and amusement machines manufactured by Irving Kaye, Williams, Midway, Keeney, and sub-distributes Chicago Coin, Gottlieb and United. An international exclusive franchise for Williams includes markets in Argentina, Uruguay and Brazil, with a similar franchise for the Midway line in all of So. America, Australia, Africa, and Asia. Runyon's banking associations are with Chase Manhattan Bank, Israel Discount Bank (Intl.), and First State Bank of Union (also for Intl. business).

THREE LEVEL STORAGE and hydraulic lift adds 50% space to present warehouse facilities.

MODERN TAX STAMP MACHINE processes 50 thousand cigarette packs per hour.

VAST PARTS DEPT. offers every known part from 3000 sq. ft. of space.

CIGARETTE ROUTES serviced from 18 cages replenished from inside by stockmen and entered from outside by routemen via special lock-key provisions.

GAMES DEPT. is specialized as is music dept. and all other phases of repair and service. Mechanics are flexible though.

Blackpool Coin Convention As Jack Rose's Northern

BLACKPOOL, ENGLAND — Blackpool, leading British holiday resort and world famed for its entertainments, seven miles of beaches and 518 ft high tower, was again the venue for the 2nd Northern Amusement Equipment and Coin-operated Machine exhibition from Dec. 3 to Dec. 6. The show, for trade representatives only, was, as last year, held in the vast Olympia hall.

Though only a stone's throw from the wintry-looking promenade and the icy-cold Irish Sea, the hall was full of warmth, music and lights and the happy informality which marked last year's venture.

Amusement concessionaires and operators had travelled from all parts of the country to see the exhibition which was again organized by genial Jack D. Rose of Brighton and opened by the Mayor of Blackpool (Alderman Joseph Richardson).

Between them, the 46 firms who had exhibits on show covered the whole range of amusements. There were the latest lines in "one-armed bandits" or fruit machines, juke boxes, bingo machines and coin counting and changing machines.

Pride of place, however, was shared between two exhibits. One was a helicopter ride and the other a robot gunman who could be challenged to draw by players.

The hydraulically-operated ten car helicopter ride was shown by Edwin Hall & Co. of London. Forty feet in diameter and capable of carrying 30 to 40 people, it was the largest ride ever shown in an exhibition in Britain. Its cost, £7,750 (approx. 23,250 dollars) made it the most expensive ride ever displayed in Blackpool.

The robot gunman—called Mr. Top Gun—drew large crowds throughout the three-day exhibition. Two of the lifelike dummies were on show and no-one passed the stand without accepting the challenge to "draw partner" which the dummies threw down. Each robot took one second to raise and fire his dummy .45 colt. Few challengers failed to beat them, most people drawing their gun from its holster—connected to the robots by electrical circuit—raising and firing it in eight-tenths of a second.

Burly Mr. John T. Gibbs, head of the Taylor Engineering Corporation of Beverly Hills, California, who manufacture the robots said the exhibition was the first occasion on which the robots had been seen in Britain.

"They are very successful in the States and have been featured on several big TV shows," he said. "They are authentic in every way. The guns and black clothing of the dummies are similar to those of the old west."

The robots, which should prove highly popular in British amusement parks and arcades, are being exclusively distributed in the UK and continent by Major Matics Ltd. of London. Price of each dummy, together with guns and a clock to time challengers' draws: £875 (about 2,625 dollars).

Their popularity was proved soon after the exhibition opened. Major

MAJOR-MATICS: Robot gunman "Mr. Top Gun," California-made arcade machine, with Joe Phillips, Sales Manager.

Matics sales manager, Joe Phillips, reported "We sold three of the robots within two hours of the doors being opened. Two of them went to British buyers and the other to a Swedish representative."

The latest idea in coin box music caused considerable interest. Described as the "newest most exciting entertainment ever devised" it is called Cinebox and looks like a jukebox with a built in TV screen. After 1/- has been inserted and the song of one's choice chosen by pushing a button in the usual way, the song is played and the artiste can be seen singing and dancing in a colour film on the screen.

Made in Italy, the attractive machine contains 40 sixteen-millimetre colour films. It sells at £1,250 (about 3,750 dollars) with films. It was displayed by Filmbox Equipment Co Ltd of London.

Sure winner for amusement arcades was a new electronic rifle range presented by Epta Engineering Co Ltd of London. This has eight animal targets painted in their natural colours and when a kill is registered the animal's natural sound is reproduced.

A Wakefield, Yorkshire, firm, Easy-Quip Ltd, drew many inquiries with their two new casino games specially designed to comply with the Betting and Gaming Act which has allowed games previously confined to clubs and night spots outside Britain to be played in the country.

Named "Monoko" and "Monoto" the games are adaptations of roulette. The former game uses a roulette wheel while "Monoto" is played with a pack of cards.

The casino receives its income from the charge which accompanies each bet. Both games are reported to have already proved very popular and are now being used in several casinos.

Symplay Ltd of London, on their three stands showed a completely new range of Bergmann built equipment including the Symphonie S.100 series of jukeboxes. "The operators' dream come true" said the catalogue.

That bright and breezy Australian, Hal Elridge was again "in charge" at the stand of his firm, Ainsworth Consolidated Industries (Great Britain) Ltd where this year's feature was a display of the Arcadian, one of the Australian-made Aristocrat range of fruit machines.

Trade at the fair is expected to top £500,000 (about 1,500,000 dollars). Said Jack Rose "I expect at least £250,000 worth of business. The amount of money spent at this show is fantastic."

Keeney's McGinnis Names Tennes Of Vend-Rite New VP, Genl. Mgr. As Two Firms Set Coin-Vending Plan

CHICAGO—Roy P. McGinnis, President of J. H. Keeney & Co., announced the appointment of R. J. (Dick) Tennes as Vice-President and General Manager of the forty year old coin machine firm of J. H. Keeney & Co. Tennes will succeed Paul Huebsch who resigned on November 16 after ten years as Keeney General Manager, and Vice President.

Tennes, currently President and Owner of Vend-Rite Manufacturing Co., 1536 North Halsted Street, Chicago 22, Illinois, will continue to head up his own organization and at the same time will consolidate it under one roof in the Keeney plant.

Tennes originally entered the Coin Machine Industry in 1942 as Purchasing Agent for J. H. Keeney and remained with them in that capacity through 1948. In 1949, Tennes left Keeney to form Vend-Rite.

Vend-Rite Mfg. Co., now in its fourteenth year has an enviable record in the Vending Machine Industry, having built in excess of one hundred and fifty thousand venders for various product manufacturers. Numbered among their distinguished clientele were such prestige firms as Kimberly-Clark, Nestle Co., Cellulose Products Corp., Procter & Gamble, Purity Baking Co., Colgate-Palmolive Co., and many others.

J. H. Keeney & Co., now in its fortieth year of operation is one of the original founding companies of the Coin Machine Industry. Located at 2600 West Fiftieth Street on Chicago's southwest side, it occupies its own modern, one story plant with 62,750 square feet of manufacturing area. The largest single facility in the Coin Machine Industry. For years it has been recognized as one of the leaders in the design and manufacture of Coin Controlled Mechanical and Electrical Devices. During World War II, it was cited many times for its brilliant contributions to the War Effort in the development of ingenious training devices for the Air Force and Navy Department.

R. J. (Dick) TENNES

McGinnis further announced that J. H. Keeney & Co. will continue their manufacture of Coin Operated Games and Amusement Devices and with Tennes' experience in vending, will now firmly enter this field. Keeney for years has been vitally interested in the potential and growth of the Vending Machine Industry and has a success story of their own in this field. Coincidentally, Tennes was with Keeney in Post War 1946 when Keeney built the first Electric Cigarette Vending Machine in the Industry.

Tennes' comment to the appointment was: "it's just like going home to your family after a long separation." All of Keeney's key personnel remain from Tennes' previous association.

McGinnis further announced that Tennes had been appointed to the Board of Directors of the forty year old Coin Machine firm.

Tennes in confirming the appointment also announced the appointment of R. P. McGinnis to the Board of Directors of the Vend-Rite Manufacturing Co.

Cute little Peggy Smith is official operator of the new machine. . . . Six LP records, selected by serviceman Larry Twardowski from H. A. Franz & Co. record library as a gift from Hody Franz to Erma Nan, daughter of Yours Truly, were sincerely appreciated. . . . Pleasant visit with A. H. Shannon and Hazel Turner, manager and secretary-treasurer respectively, Coin Machine Co. Past season, as usual, Miss Turner served as arena secretary for Nationally famous Prison Rodeo, an annual event inside State penitentiary walls at Huntsville. She is, and has been for past several years, retained in that capacity by every major rodeo in this area including annual Houston Fat Stock Rodeo. . . . Operator Bill Gates, generally regarded as fair to middlin' deer hunter, probably has dropped to bottom of totem pole this season. Been hunting three times and so far not one single buck. Said he proposed to try once more. . . . Retail record stores here report all time high pre-holiday record buying. . . .

Franz Serviceman Works Way To Top

HOUSTON—Dave Beasley, middle aged and father of eight children, who started with Houston area Seeburg distributing organization in 1946 as a porter, has recently been given opportunity to prove his ability at selling the Seeburg LP console. During spare time from portering Dave used to lend a hand in service department and eventually was promoted to serviceman. He had confidence in his work, believed in Seeburg products, and boosted both at every opportunity. H. A. Franz, head of H. A. Franz & Co., Seeburg distributor said Beasley was a hustler and believer in what he sold and with those qualifications should do O.K.

Beasley is currently responsible for part of the influx of 'LP Consoles' in the high-type Houston oasis.

Atty. General Issues Bulletin For Complying With Eastland Bill Registration Requirements

WASHINGTON DC—The Eastland Bill (S.1658), known as Public Law 87-840 (Cash Box Nov. 17), requires that every person dealing or receiving in gambling devices, must register with the Attorney General's office in Washington D. C. Following is a portion of a bulletin released last week outlining the procedures for registering as a dealer, as it applies to dealers in multiple-coin in-line games, or equipment which appears to be included in the text of the legislation: Any person engaged in one or more of these activities must file certain information with the Attorney General each calendar year in which he intends to engage in such business. This means that any person must now file a registration statement each year after Nov. 30 and before January 1, or before he engages in the aforementioned business.

The following information must be included:

1) Registrant's name and trade name under which he does business; if a corporation, the names of the principal officers should be given;

2) The address of each of his places of business in any state or possession of the U.S.;

3) The address of a place of business in a state or a possession of the U.S. where he plans to keep records required by this statute;

4) Each activity, as outlined above, in which he intends to engage during the calendar year with respect to which his registration is made.

No special registration form is required, according to the official bulletin. A letter addressed to the Attorney General, Washington 25, D.C. setting forth the above information, is sufficient. Registration should be made by registered or certified mail since it will not be acknowledged. Persons who previously registered under the Johnson Act will be required to re-register under this new Act, if he intends to continue to manufacture or deal with gambling devices.

The Eastland Bill prohibits the interstate shipment of multiple-coin in-line games and gambling devices. Those persons who intend to do business in this equipment across interstate lines, may do so providing they have registered as above. Details of the law concerning record keeping and compliance may be found in the text of the law which appears in the November 17 issue of Cash Box, pages 52 and 54.

Cleveland Coin Has Record Year As Gisser Sets Sights On Expansion Through Vending and Export Marts

CLEVELAND—Morris Gisser, president of Cleveland Coin Machine Exchange, Inc., during an interview with Cash Box last week summed up his business year, terming it "a record business year." Following is part of his conversation:

"With the closing of the year 1962, the Cleveland Coin Machine Exchange, Inc., is proud to report the completion of one of its record years.

"The increase in volume is due to the expanding foreign market, with many countries today becoming extremely receptive, not only to Music Boxes but Vending Equipment as well. In addition to these, Games of Amusement such as Shuffle Alleys and Bowling Alleys are today receiving enthusiastic reception not only in the Far East but the Continent as well.

"The future outlook, despite the Common Market which is slowly crystallizing, seems to offer a challenge to the American manufacturers and exporters, and despite the fact that much new equipment is being manufactured in European countries, the used equipment that is exported from this country is even in much greater demand, and we expect it to grow each year.

"An extremely important segment of the domestic business is a challenge that is now being created by the tremendous demand of industry, which provides a strong impetus for the latest in all types of Vending Machines. This because business must find ways and means of eliminating the high cost of personnel—and that is taken over by Automatic Vending.

"We here in Cleveland Coin Machine Exchange have enlarged our facilities for shopping, displaying and shipping, with the result that we are in position to take advantage of this expanding market.

"We wish to announce that after the first of the year, due to the expansion of our exports, our new name will be Cleveland Coin International. The words Cleveland Coin are being retained in our new name inasmuch as they are a byword in the coin machine industry."

George George Dead At 49

CLEVELAND — George George, President of the Monroe Coin Machine Exchange, Inc., died suddenly early Friday morning, December 21. George was 49 years of age. He leaves his wife Eleanor and a son, Thomas, 15.

George entered Euclid Glenville Hospital in Euclid earlier in the week for a check up. The announcement of his death came as a shock to his family and his host of friends. George will be interred at Calvary Cemetery in Cleveland, Monday, December 24.

The well-liked coinman handled the Rowe AC phonograph and vending machine line in the Ohio area, assisted at the executive level by Norman Goldstein who will continue to conduct the business. Mr. and Mrs. George George were part of every major coin machine and vending convention and met hundreds of representatives from the industry during the many years they were married.

George was a soft-spoken person quick to give the other party the benefit of any possible doubt whether it be in business or on the golf links where he often relaxed. The knowledgeable executive had a reputation for studying situations thoroughly before entering into a transaction and this asset was considered an invaluable quality by many of the Chicago manufacturers.

Personally, he was a fine family man, a credit to the industry, and a gentleman. In a business where pressures and circumstances sometimes cause personalities to change, George George was the same man the day he died as he was the day he entered the business world. He was a man of his word. No greater tribute can be paid to a man by an entire industry. He will be missed by many for a long time to come.

Negotiators May Agree To A Delay Of Dock Strike

NEW YORK—The first ray of hopeful light beamed onto the negotiation tables last week as shipping management and labor officials agreed to a delay on a work rule to permit study by an impartial panel. The actual length of time during which the study would be made was the stumbling block. At press time it appeared that the dock strike scheduled for Dec. 23 may not take place.

Mike Bushdid, Washington Airport Operator, Dead

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Michael Bushdid, owner and president of Michael's Enterprises, Inc. died of cancer on November 24th after an illness of five months. Bushdid, known as "Mike," was the operator of the Washington National Airport Game Room for a period of over ten years. He also was Sec. Treas. of National Amusement Corporation, operator of Central and Eastern Greyhound Terminal Game Rooms.

Bushdid was born in Lebanon, Beirut, and came over to this country in 1926. From a modest beginning in the business world in the produce field, he built a sound amusement and coin machine business and was beginning to enter the vending field prior to his death. All his business ventures will continue and be run by Cosby C. Roberts, Vice President of the companies.

Mike will long be remembered and missed at the various "shows" which he always attended. He leaves a wife, Alma, and two children, Angel and Darlene.

Coin Mart And N.O. Novelty To Co-Distribute Bally

NEW YORK—An article which appeared in Cash Box, December 22 issue, stated that Coin Mart was the new Bally distributor for Louisiana and Mississippi. The statement also said that New Orleans Novelty Company was the former Bally distributor in this area. This was not correct. Coin Mart and New Orleans Novelty Company will serve the territory as co-distributors, according to a notice received from Coin Mart's Charles Rosenblum, who adds that the arrangement will be effective January 1, 1963.

EUROPEAN CLOSE-UP: 1962

First Of A Three-Part Series

A Specialist Views The European Export Markets

Cash Box has asked Mr. Morris Nahum, Chief Negotiator and Sales Manager for the R. H. Belam Company, major exporters, to outline his recent 4-month trip to Europe. Nahum visited ten countries during this tour, which was his seventeenth trip. Nahum's observations of the coin machine and vending business in these countries will be presented by Cash Box in a three-part series beginning with this issue. The report, prepared by Nahum, follows.

FRANCE—The pinball machine business, which soared to fabulous figures in 1961 and the first-half of 1962, is taking a breather now. But let me reassure you that the pinball is there to stay, although most locations in the larger cities are already taken, with several machines on each spot. Moreover, most of the new orders sent in, are for either new machines or very late models, in order to replace older machines in the aforesaid locations.

The French distributors already have a problem on their hands, trying to sell these old trade-ins to secondary locations, which are mostly in remote provinces. Another interesting point is this: The pinball craze is still very much on, so that most operators get the cost of their equipment back in about 6 months. Consequently, they accept most prices offered by the distributors on trade-ins. Result: Pinball machines older than two or three years, cost in the local French market, much less than what they are currently quoted from the United States. My advice: No one should lose too much time at this stage, trying to sell to France, pingames which are older than three years, specially those with the old cabinet design. Nevertheless, business in France will continue on a reasonably steady level after the year-end recess, but exclusively for new and late models. Demand for older machines might be revived, but certainly would be very small and sporadic, and uniquely on specific popular models requested by remote and secondary locations.

MORRIS NAHUM
R. H. Belam Company

Coming now to the juke-box business in France, I must say that surprisingly enough, the French manufacturers of juke-boxes, are producing lately very good machines, even better than those manufactured by neighboring countries. As a result, French juke-boxes have taken more than 80% of the local market. At the top of the list comes electro-kicker, which puts out the Jupiter 104 selections stereo, with a production of about 3500 units yearly. This machine costs the local distributor about $600 and retails for about $800 while the least expensive U.S. machine runs into almost $1000. —(Duties and taxes on imported machines are almost 70% ad valorem). Electro-kicker has already produced in 1962, a very compact machine, called the B80 with 80 selections Hi-Fi, which had quite some success in France. The owner and president of Electro-Kicker, Mr. Charles Gosteli who has been a veteran coinman for the last 25 years, told me of his definite plans to put out in 1963 an improved machine on the market, which will be called the B96, as well as a deluxe machine, with the artist of the week feature, and many more improvements. In seniority, next to the Jupiter juke-boxes comes the scopitone which features the projection screen animating the record played. In spite of its size and cost, this type of movie juke-box seems to be rather popular, as it is followed now by other newcomers as the Caravelle, Tele-Box, Cine-Box, etc. Pricewise these types of machines run higher than American juke-boxes. The last one but not least on the French juke-box line, is the "Emaphone" which maintains a reasonable piece of the French business. Therefore, due to its high cost and duties, as well as the low rentability which results, the American juke-box, even used and of older models, have slim chances in bringing booming business to U.S. exporters.

Coming to the subject of vending machines in this particular country, I daresay that the general public still hates the idea of getting their national hobby and pastime (that is eating!) from vending machines. Nevertheless, there is a rising hope to convince the Frenchmen to get a hot or cold drink from a vending machine, especially in extreme weather, either in hot summer or cold winter. But, it still is very tough to convince the public to buy a drink from a vending machine on a mild day, when he can sit at an outdoor cafe and sip the same drink for an hour, at almost the same price. With the heavy industrial areas which are growing and getting modernized at a very fast pace, chances for establishing in-plant feeding systems, are increasing very much. My hope now, is to see the large French operators taking the big jump into vending operations. In fact, up to now, vending operators in France, can be counted in one hand, and the lack of competition cannot possibly create a healthy market which should look ahead all the time for better systems and better machines.

Next week, in the January 5th issue of Cash Box, Nahum takes a close look at Belgium, Holland and Germany, and presents a highly personal, colorful, and accurate view of these markets.

IRS Agents Seize Multiple Coin Games Without $250 Stamp

Move Based On Kansas Court Decision Last April

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Internal Revenue Service agents seized multiple-coin in-line games in twenty states across the nation on Wednesday, December 19, in a concerted drive to remove all machines not bearing the $250 Federal Gambling Tax Stamp. First reports stated that locations in 112 cities in 20 states were raided by agents who removed 648 of the games.

The IRS move was based on a Federal Court Decision handed down in April by a Kansas Court which upheld an earlier decision which states that the existence of these games without a $250 Federal Tax Stamp is in violation of the law.

The ruling stated that no payoff was necessary for the machine to be considered a gambling device. "A pinball machine which is so designed as to permit insertion of additional coins to increase chances of winning a high score and which registers free plays far in excess of the number that a person playing for amusement normally would play-off is considered a coin-operated gambling device." Before the Kansas ruling, the Government could not confiscate a machine unless an agent actually played the machine and received a pay-off.

Results reported included: Virginia—105 machines seized from 80 to 90 locations. No arrests, no criminal charges.

Pennsylvania—51 machines taken at 30 places in Pittsburgh, suburban Braddock and Homestead; 27 in Philadelphia and four adjacent counties. There were also raids in Wilkes-Barre.

Kentucky—42 machines seized in 7 cities: 13 at Morehead, 8 at Richmond, 6 at Georgetown, 5 Mount Sterling, 4 Winchester, 3 each Versailles and Paris.

Missouri—Kansas City area 13, St. Louis area 5, Lilbourn 2.

Kansas—3 seized, at Seneca, Horton, and Anthony.

Indiana—16 machines taken: 8 at truckstops near Evansville, 3 at Terre Haute, 3 in Jeffersonville, 2 in Logansport.

Iowa—agents raided six places in six communities, seizing nine machines.

Ohio—24 machines seized in raids on 16 taverns in five Cincinnati suburbs: Forestville, Cheviot, North College Hill, Mount Healthy and Norwood. And 9 more were taken in 6 places in Litchfield, Lima, Orrville, and Yorkville.

Illinois—82 machines seized in 50 establishments.

Minnesota—16 pinball machines and a $500 jackpot board seized in 16 bars and taverns in 6 communities in northern Minnesota.

Louisiana—agents raided 11 establishments in New Orleans and seized 24 pinball machines, one slot machine and one iron claw machine.

New Mexico—23 seized in Silver City area.

Texas—175 seized in Galveston County on Gulf Coast.

Wyoming—19 devices confiscated in 12 establishments.

Georgia—two slot machines and one pinball machine seized. One man arrested.

In the Boston area the T-men seized 36 slot machines and pinball machines.

They confiscated 7 in Peabody, 1 in Waltham, 6 in Watertown, 1 in Arlington, and 9 in Revere.

Eastern Flashes

As the year comes to a close we can look back on a good business year, if not a great one, but then they can't all be great or the term would be reduced to good (if that makes sense). Most operators around the country enjoyed an unusually good year from the income derived from pool tables, the surprise of the season. The 6-pocket games were garnering coins throughout the length and breadth of the land and the price was right. Few ops went as far as trading the games because they just don't react as shuffles and other type equipment. A new slate top with a clean crisp playfield, and the game is like new again. Irving Kaye, Valley, Fischer, American Shuffleboard, were among the prime suppliers of the pool tables. Distributors handling the line went as far as taking on a home model and enjoyed big holiday sales to the consumer market. We must take the good with the bad and although the passage of the Eastland Bill hurt the industry badly, the success of the pool table certainly helped it along the way. We must be thankful for shape of the business today. The coin machine industry generally speaking is a sound and profitable business . . . for the businessman.

Seeburg is creating lots of conversation these days with all kinds of rumors. The manufacturer had a crew into New York two weeks ago for a sales meet at the Barbizon and when the forum was over everyone was as hot as a fire cracker. Main topic was the LP Console and plans for '63. Another meet was held in New Orleans at the Hilton, from there to the west coast where our California reps tell us the factory hosted a sales meet at the Jack Tarr in San Francisco. Chicago was the site of a midwestern meet with Seeburg distrib in the area meeting at the Knickerbocker for more of the same. Organization is the theme at Seeburg today and you can expect another announcement from the juke box plant any week now concerning long range plans for Seeburg. Among the Seeburg execs who were present at the regional meets were Jack Gordon, Bob Briether, Bill Adair, Ed Claffey, Charlie Smith and Dan Collins. Gordon, Briether and Adair attended all of them. And speaking of Bill Adair, the Philly-native flew into his old home town last week to attend a Christmas party hosted by Eastern Music Systems Corp., local Seeburg distrib. The party, held at the RDF Club, was attended by about 100 people. Bill Schwartz and his Edna attended with Mary and Dan Collins. Zav Hovsepian and Nat Solow came up from Baltimore to join Marvin Stein and all the employees attended and had a wonderful time. The Philly-Balti Seeburg set-up is really one big happy family. Perhaps that's the reason for their success.

Wurlitzer distrib were smiling this week and Harold Kaufman of Musical Distrib in NYC was no exception. Sid Greenfield and Allie Goldberg decided to "gift wrap" a Model 2600 and just as they had the bow tied neatly in place, some operator came in and bought the machine! "We're not complaining," smiled Allie, "but we wish he stopped in about one hour earlier." That's no way to save gift-wrap, Al!

Meyer Parkoff off to Chicago for a meeting. Murray Kaye holds down the fort and business continues. Joe Fishman back in the swing of things, getting his feet wet, looking over the current equipment for sale with an eye to re-joining the wholesale end of the business after two years in Florida "playing the market."

Bernie and Lou Boorstein, Leslie Distribs, enjoyed a good year and were all smiles about 1963. Bernie just finished the basement of his new home and the family is all in good health. What more could a man want!

Abe Lipsky's nose was slightly larger on Monday and then turned red on Tuesday. "I evidently have a thing in my nose," observed Abe, "who didn't let his proboscis stand in the way of writing business."

Al Bodkin and Fran drove into town on Tuesday to join Molly and Barney Sugerman. Intended to see a show and have dinner, providing Shugy could get his business out of the way in time. We missed Morris Rood and didn't see Kempy either. Now that we think of it, perhaps the two "boys" ran off for a bite of lunch, something they seldom do together. One must always mind the store, you know. Lou Wolberg trying like all get-out to snare a few TV ducats for the Holiday Week but to no avail. They're rare, man. Nate Sugerman into the NYC office these weeks, claims he loves every part of his new job: sales-service-receivables (and what have you).

John Bilotta dropped onto Tenth Avenue earlier in the week and stopped to visit with Irv Holzman who was out in Long Island working at the Great Neck outlet. Bilotta still driving hard and claims he has a "jewel" in his upstate showrooms which will garner more half-dollars than anything else he's seen. And it's not a juke box (!).

Morris Nahum, R. H. Belam International exec, is one of the most informed export men in the business today. He has traveled the ocean no less than 17 times to call on buyers and claims to have a working knowledge of every country in Europe. Next stop? Asia or South America.

Mike Munves is a guy who has seen a few Christmas' and New Year's roll around but we doubt that he has ever complained about one year not being a good year. Mike is philosophical and looks at the world in that way. Always a good word for his fellow-man and always a satisfied opinion as to how the world is treating him.

Norman Berkowitz, Deperri top aide, had to stick by his home one day last week to mind one of the kids. His wife Jean took Steve to the hospital for a tonsillectomy while the baby decided to catch a virus and the neighbors couldn't handle him. Meanwhile the coin machine and vending advertising business was covered from the kitchen telephone, as efficiently as ever.

Abe Witsen enjoying a nice rest in Florida. . . Ted 'Champ' Seidel, on the avenue with a few shots of himself in prize fight attire during "the old days." He looked great then, too. . . Al Simon and Al D'Inzillo, chatting with MONY's Nash Gordon, and the discussion includes acquisitions, expansions, and the gambling instinct which was more prevalent years ago in the veins of the newcomers to the coin machine business. "They were more quick to take a risk then," claimed Al Simon, who is very happy about the Rock-Ola sales performance again this year.

Rowe-AMI distrib around the country very happy with Jack Harper's personal assistance when sales and service problems crop up. Tom Sams, too, will fly to an outlet at the sound of a telephone call. That's class service—executive attention on call when needed!

Al Kerner strolling the avenue meets up with Willie Aaronson and the two discuss business and of course the conversation sets on pool tables and the success of same. And another year heads for the final week but before it ends as always even the pace of business slows before calling it another year and we celebrate the Christmas season. Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good year!

ALLENTOWN, PENNA. — Glenn Thomas, Asst. Sales Mgr., Allen Electronics, manufacturers of packet-type hot drink vendor, offered his firm's opinion last week, in conjunction with a review of the coin machine operator, as a market for this machine.

"We manufacture a low priced packet type hot beverage vending machine, two models of which require no plumbing. Just fill 5 gallon bottle water supply, plug in electrical outlet and machine is ready to operate," said Thomas.

"Although the heavy traffic locations are fairly well saturated by the large hot beverage vending operators, we have found that there are many secondary but very profitable locations available.

"The music and candy vender is looking for ways to expand and naturally has looked toward the very lucrative hot beverage vending field. Upon investigation of this field he has been confronted with a situation of high priced vending machines requiring high traffic locations. These not being readily available, he has to look for lower priced machines suited for lower traffic areas.

"Since our vending machines are primarily designed for the operator that requires a low priced but serviceable machine, we view the music and candy vender with tremendous potentiality, along with many venders presently in the hot beverage field desiring expansion," concluded the vending exec.

Chicago Chatter

We extend a very sincere Cash Box "Season's Greetings" to all our friends in coinbiz All Over The World—and say thanks for the countless Christmas cards which grace our offices. . . . As we meditate over the fading year's events the single factor which stirs the thinking is the effort put forth for healthy resurgence in coin machiness business. There will, we predict, be a healthier rise in business in 1963. Many factors point this way. And one factor can be the reorganization of MOA, which can help mightily as a uniting instrument. Stellar personages in this scene are Harry Snodgrass, Clint Pierce, Lou Casola, Bob Blundrod, Les Montooth, and a host of other coinmen.

The holiday week was shattered last Friday (12/14) for the Gottlieb family when Manie Gottlieb, brother of David, Sol, Nate, Morris and Isadore Gottlieb, died in Grant Hospital. Dave and Dorothy Gottlieb were already in Miami Beach for their winter hiatus when tragedy struck. We add our expressions of sorrow to the countless condolences that have flowed in to the Gottlieb family.

Happy holiday felicitations were the order of the week at Rock-Ola Mfg. Greetings are extended everywhere by David C. Rockola, Donald Rockola, Edward G. Doris, Dr. David Rockola, Bill Haldeman, Ralph Wyckoff, Frank Doyle, Les Rieck and Jack Barabash.

We happily welcome Dick Tennes back into the fold at J. H. Keeney & Co. We also take this opportunity to wish Keeney president, Roy P. McGinnis—a grand and genial veteran of coinbiz—and all his personnel a most enjoyable Christmas season, and a very prosperous New Year. Welcome home, Dick!

Joel Stern, prexy of World Wide Distribs, looks back on a very excellent year of sales with the Seeburg phono and vending line. He, along with Fred Skor, Art Wood, Howie Freer, Kurt Kluever, and the rest of the staff at World Wide look forward, with eager anticipation, to the coming year.

Jack Harper, vice prexy & general manager of Rowe AC Services, and all the Rowe AC execs (and that includes Dean McMurdie, Fred Pollak, Tom Sams, Jack Dunwoody, Jack Ross, Jim Newlander, Don Lunday, Jerry Marcus, Phil Glover, Bob MacGregor and Robert Edinger) extend joyous season's greetings, and "thanks to all the operators who made 1962 the greatest year in Rowe's history—a year which threatens to be eclipsed by fiscal 1963, whose first quarter since October is the best in history."

We hear that Joel Kleiman, of Pioneer Sales & Service, in Milwaukee, is presently in the lease signing stage in his quest to open the new K.C. Sales & Service distrib in St. Paul. Site is 1926 University Avenue. Kenny Glenn, widely known coinman in Minnesota, will manage the subsid distrib for Joel.

Seeburg's Stan Jarocki announced last week that 18 new little LP's are available this week at Seeburg distrib all across the nation. That now makes well over 200 very popular LP's (top sellers) for operators to choose from. Best season's greetings at Seeburg to everyone in coinbiz from Delbert Coleman, Bruce Jagor, Jack C. Gordon, Bill Adair, Tom Herrick, Stu Auer, Bob Breither, Ed Cleland, Bob Dunlap and Stanley Jarocki. Bally's Bill O'Donnell, Herb Jones, Ray Moloney and Don Moloney echo our sentiments—a joyous best season's greetings to all.

It's a festive yuletide at Chicago Dynamic Industries, what with the passing of a very successful 1962 and high hopes for a bigger 1963. . . . The United Mfg. gang is certainly going all out to give the firm's employees a happy holiday. Everyone is happy at United thanks to the likes of Herb Oettinger, Bill DeSelm, Roy Kraehmer, Glenn Johnson, et al.

A big Christmas party for the employees was the order of the day, last Friday, Dec. 21, at William Electronic Mfg. Corp. Sam Stern, prexy, was in fine spirits after his realization that Williams sales in '62 were simply phenomenal. Other celebrators were Art Weinand, Dave Howle and Jack Mittel.

"We look forward to another sensational year in 1963," exclaimed Hymie Zorinsky, when we chatted with him and Eddie Zorinsky via long distance telephone t'other day. Hymie echoed the sentiments of everyone else in wishing one and all a very happy holiday season.

The big smiles last week were on the faces of Empire Coin owner Gil Kitt and sales chief Joe Robbins, who are thrilled over the fantastic domestic and export sales they enjoyed through 1962. In answer to the query about '63 Gil said: "We have every reason to expect a big increase—even over 1962."

'Tis the season to be jolly (and very happy) at Atlas Music Co. and everyone there (and that includes Nate Feinstein, Eddie Ginsburg, Harold Schwartz, Irv Ovitz, and Joe Klyken) are enjoying the holiday season. . . . Joe Kline, prexy of First Coin Machine Exchange, joins Sam Kolber, Fred Kline and Nick Nelson in wishing everyone in the coin machine industry all over the world a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. By the way, Nick is our idea of what Santa Claus should look like, and he's as jolly as he looks.

Holiday greetings to all from the gang at Wico Corp. Max and Milt Wiczer, Ed Ruber, Morris Wiczer and Ben Kay. . . . Prexy Joe Schwartz and Mort Levinson, National Coin Machine Exchange, advise happily that '62 was a big export year for the Chicago based firm. They eagerly look forward to a bigger and better domestic and export business boom in 1963.

Sincerest holiday greetings go 'round the world from Pat O'Malley and Bill Fitzgerald, and Harry Creighton, of Automatic Canteen Company of America. Nathaniel Leverone extends his best wishes to one and all. . . . And from the confines of Chicago Dynamic Industries come greetings from Sam Wolberg, Sam Gensburg, Jerry Koci, Mort Seore and Herb Bidekap.

Chet Gore, prexy of Exhibit Supply Co., says Merry Christmas and Happy New Year most sincerely. . . . Johnny Frantz, head of J. F. Frantz Mfg., urges us "to come on in and drink a toast to the New Year with him" (and we will!). . . . There's a good reason for a very happy attitude by Marvel Mfg. prexy Ted Rubey and Estelle Bye, who are watching a great 1962 go out, and a fine outlook for the incoming 1963.

Herb Perkins, Purveyor Distribs, is certain he'll continue in 1963 the excellent sales he enjoyed in '62. So it goes all the way up and down the line—nothing but happy, smiling faces and messages of good cheer all over the world—coupled with high hopes for the New Year, which is just around the corner (not like the so-called prosperity of the depression years). MERRY CHRISTMAS EVERYONE & A HAPPY PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR!

VENDING: 1962

THE YEAR OF THE INDEPENDENT OPERATOR

During 1962 the giant vending operating firms continued the march toward full-line vending on a national scale but by the close of the year the independent operator was still taking 84% of the national volume. Vending was a small business in many ways. Cigarettes, candy and drinks were doing the bulk of the business—about 85% of the volume—and while the expansion plans continued in top level boardrooms, the small independent continued along his own way, aware of the giant but no longer upset by his presence.

About 6000 firms operated vending machines during 1962 and the number dropped and then started to increase slowly at the close of the year. Mergers and other centralized moves dispensed with some companies and molded others into one unit. But the increase was seen coming from two sources: the neophyte who has been hearing about vending, its potential, and its opportunities, and the coin machine operator, the man who probably started it all some thirty odd years ago, but left it for more lucrative fields.

The coin machine operator in America today operates about 500,000 juke boxes and a wide assortment of amusement machines but has recently diversified his holdings for a variety of reasons. The first non-music machine or amusement game to catch his eye was the cigarette vendor, a machine which can vend a necessity, from a vendor which is comparatively low in cost, at a respectable profit, and in many instances from the same locations he was already servicing. The move was made and the coin machine operator now classified himself as a vending operator, although until this past year there has been little evidence that his route included other types of vending equipment.

1962 seemed to be the year in which the cigarettes led to conversation, commissions, costs and eventually candy—another 'dry' product which could be handled easily and again, in many instances placed on locations already furnishing music and cigarettes. The term candy included snacks of course—the salty kind which attracted sales in many of the juke box locations.

And so with the cigarette-candy combination, the operator found himself making additional income, not at the percentages he was accustomed to but an increase just the same (approximately 5.5% before taxes). The added income helped the operator over the commission and loans hurdles and in many cases caused him to look to vending—automatic merchandising—as a field in which the potential was greater than he had suspected.

In this day and age of increased costs and thinner lines of profit, vending loomed as just one way in which an aggressive operator can expand his present business. As 1962 ended, more coin machine operators were in vending, about two-thirds of the juke box distributors were gearing for vending franchises in '63, and at least one more major vending machine manufacturer had decided to market its products in a manner which did not resemble general vending industry structure but was closer to the approach used by the juke box industry.

CANDY

NUMBER TWO CHOICE OF THE COIN MACHINE OPERATOR

Vending gross volume for 1962 is expected to reach $3 billion and candy will probably account for about $400,000,000 of it. One of the reasons for the increase, aside from population growth and forgetting for a moment the increased number of candy vendors on location, is the fact that candy during 1962 went just about all the way to the ten-cent vend. The only nickel items found on the vendors were the nuts, cookies, crackers and chewing gum.

Having fought an uphill battle for many years to achieve the ten-cent play in music, the juke box operator now in candy learned almost immediately that it is nigh impossible to operate nickel candy and profit. Ten cents is the price, and the increase which has come about gradually has helped push the total volume toward the aforementioned $400 million mark. With the increased price came a dip in unit sales. This has been expected just as it is expected to rise again.

Of all the juke box operators in the country, the number one choice of machine for intended purchase during 1963 was the cigarette machine. But the operators with cigarettes already on the route marked candy machines as the machine most likely to be added to their route comes the new year.

The reason was logical: Candy as a product has mass appeal. Most juke box locations were a potential for candy—or snacks of a kind—and the operator could wend his way into a location without too much added investment. New locations—the bowling alley, the pizza joint, the so-called 'street' location—all were strong outlets for candy machine and the coin machine operator expanding into vending, with candy as a foremost tool, found that he could obtain new locations for the vendors, and an average gross profit of forty-four per cent. The new first-in first-out machines were a big help to operators. Inventory control techniques have been arrived at which strengthen net profits.

Seeing the need for additional promotion, the suppliers were already in the process of turning out advertising and promotion aids for use in conjunction with the vended sale of candy. Forums and panel discussions resulted in more accurate information available to the operator as to stock, assortment and brand selection.

Manufacturers introduced twelve new candy vendors during 1962—from a pretzel machine to a specialized 'Pez' vendor which will sell the popular pop-out candies to the moppet set and merchandise the strong selling candy at the same time with a giant color illustration. Potato chip vendors were back in the news as the year ended and popcorn was being given another go-round by the manufacturers. They all interested the coin machine operator.

Outlets for candy vendors kept cropping up as new construction, schools, bowling alleys and highway spots continued to present strong potential. The coin machine operator with an interest in vending acknowledged the candy prospects and it was a sure bet that he would continue in this direction toward diversification.

A large music operator in Jersey, recently entered into the cigarette business, is now pushing candy with an eye toward food machines. At 6:00 AM each morning a fleet of trucks are on the way to cigarette and candy locations. Almost invariably the number of locations have increased before the trucks return. Routemen are paid a commission for new outlets. Five years ago music was the main interest here. Today, vending is stronger than it ever has been. Tomorrow, it could be the leader.

CIGARETTES

PAVE THE WAY FOR THE MUSIC OPERATOR

Tobacco has paved the way for entry by the coin machine operator into the vending business—or what is actually the start of his expansion into the automatic merchandising business. The cigarette operation is no longer limited to the specialist. Competition from many corners has been felt, and among the new entrants are the music operators who are diversifying.

Cigarettes are attractive for many reasons. The cost of equipment is not high. The product itself is a dry one. Inventory control can be affected. Promotional allowances from the five remaining cigarette manufacturers are still worthy of being considered an important part of income (see allowances listed below) and the number of new locations coming into being warrants a serious study of this market. The machines continue to offer new merchandising methods designed to increase profits. The sale of non-cigarette products (cigarette lighters) and the 50¢ changemaker are two radical innovations, both of which have enjoyed success.

The cigarette scare, as it has come to be known, is presently on the lips of industry leaders around the world. It has undoubtedly become the prime topic of discussion in tobacco and vending circles, and for very good reason: cigarettes represent almost one-half of the total annual vending volume, regardless of appearance on the market of hot food and new methods of distribution. Because of the evidence available which is designed to show that cigarettes cause lung cancer—evidence which is inconclusive—the battle to ban cigarettes whether from a location standpoint or a merchandising control, will rage for a long time to come. The vending industry—as expected—turned its back on a planned discussion of this all-important problem last October in San Francisco. As a result, NAMA's President Lou Risman, has called for an industry-wide program designed to alert the operator to the possible measures which may eventually be taken through legislative action. Great Britain—a case in point—has suffered under new laws which prohibit the sale of cigarettes through vendors and additional legislation which has curtailed the advertising and promotion of tobacco. NAMA is expected to handle this new problem in its usual efficient manner.

But the attraction of cigarettes as an additional means of regular income, preferably from the same locations housing music and in some instance amusement machines, continues. It represents a path to diversification that is not yet readily available via the food and coffee route. This will eventually come, according to operators who should know. But the eventual influx of coin machine operators into vending will be made across a bridge that is built on cigarettes, strengthened by candy, and bound by a desire to round out present operations in order to broaden the base and open up newer avenues of income during the coming years.

Canteen Holds Annual Sales Meet

CHICAGO—A new awards program honoring top salesmen of Canteen distributors, branches and food operations, was unveiled during Automatic Canteen Co. of America's 1962 sales convention here last week.

Some 550 Canteen branch and distributor personnel attended the two-day event which was staged at McCormick Place. Covering all aspects of sales and marketing, under the theme "The Magic of Dynamic Vending," the program opened with a welcome from Nathaniel Leverone, Founder-Chairman, and concluded with an address, "People Make An Organization," by Patrick L. O'Malley, President and Chief Executive Officer.

One highlight of the convention was a "top volume" awards program disclosed at a banquet attended by Canteen personnel and their wives in the Walnut Room of the Bismarck Hotel.

Recipients of sterling silver tea services as winners of the new "Top Volume Awards for Outstanding Accomplishment in Sales," were:

John T. Collins, New York Automatic Canteen Corp., winner in the distributor category; Robert J. Kief, Los Angeles Branch, winner of the branch award; and Tom Holahan, Food Services Director, North American Operation, winner in the food services category.

Runners up, who received beautiful silver punch bowl sets, were:

S. S. Arrighi, Canteen Service Co. of Baton Rouge; co-winners Ralph J. Boid and Ben F. Mann, of Canteen Service Co. of Carolina, Inc.; Maurice Cable, Food Operations—Central Re-

Shaffer Holds Bally Coffee School

COLUMBUS—Shaffer Music Company, distributor of Seeburg Phonographs and Seeburg Vending Equipment for the state of Ohio and Eastern Kentucky, has completed a series of service schools for operators, servicemen and route men.

Approximately 175 persons attended the schools held in the Shaffer Music Company offices in Columbus, Cincinnati, and Cleveland. Topic of the classes was the Bally Coffee Vendor, according to Ed Shaffer, President.

In charge of the programs was Emmett Engel, Seeburg Sales Engineer, assisted by Mike Whitbeck, Service Manager, Columbus; Gordon Winfield, Service Manager, Cincinnati; and Clarence Sorber, Service Manager at Cleveland.

"We feel these schools are successful in helping our operator-customers and their service personnel. We will probably conduct them on the other equipment we distribute," said Mr. Shaffer. Home offices of the company are at 849 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio.

5 REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BE A GIEPEN DISTRIBUTOR:

1. NO SERVICE—The Giepen Machines are 100% Guaranteed—tested and proven for two years.
2. LOW SELLING PRICE—Operators pay only $345 for a coffee vender that looks like a large fresh-brew machine costing $1500. You have a good margin of profit and yet operators can afford your new machine.
3. REPEAT BUSINESS—The steady sale of vending supplies—name brand products like Maxwell House Coffee and Soups, Johnson Chocolate, Romanoff Soups—is steady income, yet there's no spoilage, no sanitation problems, no inventory losses. Everything is instant.
4. BIG PROFIT POTENTIAL FOR OPERATORS—Operators can now do business with the "poor" locations because the small traffic areas pay big profits. No big investment, no maintenance cost, no high priced servicemen. It's like operating cigarettes, but more profitable.
5. VERSATILE—The Giepen machine is adaptable to coffee, hot chocolate, soup, tea, the new Cinch Instant-Shine—schools, offices, wherever people congregate are good locations.

Special Committee Will Alert Cig Ops To Details Of Controversy NAMA Sets "Operation Alert" To Inform Members and Non-Members; Rap Complacency

CHICAGO—A far reaching program to alert all cigarette vending operators to the growing controversy over the alleged harmful effects of smoking will be launched by the National Automatic Merchandising Association in January 1963, according to Louis J. Risman, president-elect of the association.

Risman said that the association will present the full details and implications of the controversy as they affect vending direct to individual operators in "OPERATION ALERT" meetings throughout the country.

"Our decision to act is based on several months' study by a special blue-ribbon committee which the NAMA Board of Directors appointed last June," Risman said.

"Our Special Committee has watched with growing concern as publicity and public actions have mounted in the past few weeks. The lack of participation at a specially scheduled panel discussion at the recent NAMA Convention is one indication that NAMA must act quickly to inform the cigarette vendor of this vital issue," Risman pointed out.

Risman added that the NAMA staff is now making plans to schedule meetings in all parts of the country where detailed information will be furnished to cigarette vending operators.

"This is another case where NAMA wants to reach all operators, whether they are members of NAMA or not," he said. "The potential problems will affect everyone in cigarette vending, members and non-members alike."

Risman, who is chairman of the NAMA Special Committee dealing with the problem, made the announcement after the Committee met in Chicago on December 4.

He said detailed plans of "OPERATION ALERT" will be announced in the coming weeks.

Geiger Terms Hot Beverage Safety Campaign A Success

Film Was Viewed By More Than 3000

CHICAGO — The industrywide NAMA education program regarding safety practices with hot beverage machine water heaters was termed a success by Herb A. Geiger, president of the association and national chairman of the program.

Geiger pointed out that inquiries and materials orders had been received from more than 750 vending companies as a follow-up to some 65 safety meetings which were attended by more than 3,200 persons. More than 1,000 vending operating companies were represented at these NAMA-conducted meetings in all parts of the country last summer and fall, Geiger said.

"One measure of our success is that in addition to the more than 3,200 individuals who viewed the safety film at our meetings, some 230 companies purchased their own film sets and nearly 100 others secured loan copies," Geiger said.

"NAMA recognized this potential problem and put its resources and members to work to alert the entire industry," the association president said. "We will continue to remind operators in the future so that all will maintain the necessary safety standards and training sessions."

Dynamic Earns 41¢ Share

NEW YORK—Dynamic Vending Corporation, international distributor of coin-operated equipment, reported sales of $1,340,780 and earnings of $115,683 or 41 cents per share, on 278,000 shares of common stock outstanding, for the six months ended September 30, 1962.

Walter W. Bechhofer, President, said these figures compared to sales of $801,018 and earnings of $43,735 or 15 cents per share for the same period during 1961. The 1961 results, he noted, are adjusted for a 100 per cent stock dividend paid during August, 1962.

He called attention to the formation of a new Austrian subsidiary, which is the exclusive distributor for the Norge and Borg-Warner coin-operated dry cleaning and laundry equipment lines in Austria and Luxembourg.

Cine-Sonic Offers Ops Background Music Deal

NEW YORK—Cine-Sonic Sound Corporation has announced a "partnership deal" for operators interested in earning income from a background music route without performing the service which is usually a part of the transaction.

Iz Edelman, President of Cine-Sonic, will accept all locations signed by operators and then service them for the operator for 60% of the monthly fee paid by the location. The royalty costs will be paid by Cine-Sonic. Equipment can either be leased or sold to the location by the operator or directly by Edelman. "I am interested in selling or leasing my background music unit, and in the income to be derived from periodic changes of tapes. If an operator wishes only to make a profit without any responsibility after signing a location, I will perform the service for him. If he wishes to service the location I will supply the tapes at a special rate to the operator as always," said the coin machine veteran.

Initial agreement by a location calls for one tape repeater which plays for up to two hours, and five tape cartridges. Thereafter, the tapes are

Mitnick To Distribute Slate Tops, Machines

ROME, ITALY—Jack Mitnick, former coin machine manufacturers' representative, has re-entered the business on the distributor level and is expected to return from Italy during the first week in January in order to distribute pool table supplies including slate tops, cue sticks, cloth and balls. He will also form a corporation with offices in NYC for the purpose of wholesaling music and amusement machines.

Mitnick advised Cash Box that he had completed negotiations with suppliers here and expected deliveries to commence after January 1.

changed each month. Usually this is handled through the mail at the same time the billing is processed.

Edelman's library of taped music is extensive and, according to the manufacturer, totals approximately three thousand selections. Cine-Sonic produces special tapes featuring music as requested by locations. The firm has a duplicating studio in NYC where much of the recording is done.

Edelman introduced a tape juke box featuring four to six cartridges at the MOA Convention, along with an AM-FM tape player.
