EDITORIAL Definition Needed

In the wake of recent rulings by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) on the "fitness" of RKO General and Westinghouse Broadcasting to hold broadcast licenses, it is time for the Commission to come up with a concrete set of standards to clarify the issue. It is no small matter to dismantle a large and prominent broadcast chain with a set of nebulous and apparently subjective standards.

While the Commission's primary function of policing the airwaves to protect the public interest is certainly laudable, this duty should not be construed as a blank check to exercise power capriciously. In fact, the Commission should take special pains to see that none of its actions are ever even allowed to be interpreted in that light.

Thus, it is imperative that the Commission clearly define its stance on this issue. As was revealed in the RKO hearings, Westinghouse Electric is but one of 15 companies that have situations with broadcast licenses similar to RKO's parent company, General

Tire & Rubber.

If RKO is "unfit" to hold licenses because it was apparently too close and too involved with the misdeeds of General Tire and Rubber and Westinghouse Broadcasting is "fit" to hold licenses because it apparently was not close or involved enough with the misdeeds of Westinghouse Electric, what are the standards by which "too much" or "too little" is gauged? Are these standards sensible and fair?

In the case of RKO, this distinction makes all the difference in the world for the future of a broadcast chain that has been valued anywhere from $300-600 million. This consideration alone would merit an immediate clarification of all applicable standards.

Finally, it is just plain right that the FCC put all of its cards on the table. The Commission has been entrusted with guarding the public interest in the broadcast field. It is time to prove it by giving the industry a clear and fair set of guidelines to live by.

Leslie Named As President Of CBS Video Enterprises

by Ken Terry

NEW YORK — The CBS Records Group has formally created a new division called CBS Video Enterprises. Originally called New Ventures when it was first announced (Cash Box, Oct. 13, 1979), the division will manufacture, produce and market programming for the new video technologies.

Cy Leslie, founder and former chairman of the board of Pickwick International, has been appointed president of CBS Video Enterprises. He will report to Walter Yetnikoff, president of the CBS Records Group.

According to Yetnikoff, the new division will have three basic functions: the manufacture and distribution of existing programming which lends itself to videotape and videodisc formats; the development and production of original programming, including theatrical, musical and other special projects for videotape and videodisc; and the production of programs for other outlets in the U.S. and abroad. Leslie indicated that cable television would be one of these outlets.

At present, said Leslie, "We're working on the acquisition of existing material for home video and cable, and we will be

Summer Sues To Terminate Pacts With Casablanca

by Michael Martinez

LOS ANGELES — Donna Summer filed suit last week in Los Angeles Superior Court seeking to terminate her exclusive recording contracts with Casablanca Record and FilmWorks and contracts with her former personal manager, claiming that she was unduly influenced and that the agreements were made on fraudulent grounds.

The contracts being challenged do not apply to Summer's legal right to perform live shows, do television or perform in motion pictures as a straight actress, according to legal interpretations of the complaint.

Also named in the suit were Casablanca president Neil Bogart and his wife, Joyce, who was Summer's personal manager.

In a statement, Neil Bogart said that news of the suit left him "thoroughly surprised," and that Casablanca and Summer had enjoyed a "fabulously successful relationship."

He added that, "We look forward to a continuing and successful relationship together, covering at least the balance of the three years remaining on her contract."

Damages

The suit seeks $5 million in compensatory damages and another $5 million in punitive damages.

The suit alleges that Joyce and Neil Bogart jointly consulted and made decisions regarding Summer's career, with the goal of gaining maximum rights and benefits for Casablanca and Neil Bogart and not the performer.

The suit claims that the Bogarts manipulated Summer's career for their own financial gain, because she was unfamiliar with business and was "physically and emotionally ill . . . in a weak and debilitated condition, unable to conduct her affairs vigorously."

The suit further alleges that the Bogarts urged Summer to retain a battery of legal and business advisors who had close per-

Neil Portnow

Portnow Named President At 20th Century-Fox Label

LOS ANGELES — Neil Portnow was appointed president of 20th Century-Fox Records, Inc. last week by the board of directors of 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. Portnow will be responsible for all worldwide activities of the record division.

Portnow first joined 20th as senior vice president in 1979.

Commenting on his appointment, Portnow said, "I'm extremely pleased and honored that the management at 20th has chosen to continue to place faith and trust in me."

The former studio bassist and guitarist said that he remains committed to acquiring quality acts for the label.

"The number one consideration for me is still the music. Getting the best music there is, trying to be on the forefront of providing good music and not getting caught up in trends and hype will remain number one."

"When you have quality music, it speaks for itself, and makes the rest of my job a lot easier."

Artist Development Is Being Redefined As Labels Revise Criteria For Tour Support

by Richard Gold

NEW YORK — In response to new economic realities, most record companies have cut back their artist development programs and have established tougher new criteria for granting their acts tour support. Adopting a more pragmatic approach to the goal of establishing performers and selling their product, the labels have abolished ancillary expenditures that were once taken for granted, and are concentrating their efforts on producing concrete results in a competitive marketplace.

The significant decline in nationwide concert attendance last year (Cash Box, Dec. 22) has forced the labels to re-examine their policies on tour support, which was once the cornerstone of the artist development function. "We take a much longer look at everything as far as tour support goes," said Mark Hammerman, director of artist development for Elektra Records. "It's not the automatic thing it used to be throughout the industry. The concert situation is very weird — it's really a tough sell out there."

A strong stage act and the willingness to play more dates at smaller venues have become increasingly crucial requirements for acts who want travel expenses and fully integrated promotional back-up provided

FCC Upholds Westinghouse In Wake Of RKO Decision

by Joanne Ostrow

WASHINGTON — While the broadcast industry was still reeling from the FCC's recent decision that RKO General was "unfit" to hold broadcast licenses (Cash Box, Feb. 2), the Commission unanimously approved the license renewal application of Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., in spite of similar arguments of parent company misdeeds.

Taking care to draw a distinction between the Westinghouse ruling and the decision against RKO and its parent company, General Tire & Rubber, the FCC dismissed a petition by the Community Coalition for Media Change seeking denial of a license for Westinghouse's KPIX-TV/San Francisco.

The citizens group had argued that Westinghouse is unfit to hold a TV license because of a 1978 guilty plea to charges of failure to disclose questionable payments to a foreign government official. But the FCC found that the broadcasting subsidiary is run independently. Also, the Justice Department had determined that Westinghouse Broadcasting's management was unaware of the payments, which were made by a foreign subsidiary.

Purchase Approved

The FCC also approved Westinghouse's $5.7 million purchase of KCKM-FM in Houston from Taft Broadcasting Corp., despite a grand jury probe involving Westinghouse's Pittsburgh TV station (concerning the sale of advertising time). The existence of a grand jury investigation "was not the equivalent of the lodging of criminal charges" and thus was not a factor in judging the company's qualifications, the FCC stated.

The next question, in the minds of industry executives, is how these FCC decisions will affect other corporations with similar records of wrongdoing, and with their own broadcast subsidiaries. Included in RKO's pleadings at the FCC was a list of 15 companies which appear to be in a similar position — corporations that own or control interests in over 100 broadcast stations and that likewise have made disclosures to the Securities and Exchange Commission of "questionable payments." They are: ATO, Columbia Pictures Industries, Diamond Shamrock Corp., General Electric, Fairchild Industries, GAF Corp., Gulf & Western Industries, John Blair & Co., Metromedia, National Distillers & Chemical Corp., Rollins Inc., Schering-Plough, The Signal Companies, 20th Century-Fox and Westinghouse Electric.

RKO Background

Finding "extensive, serious misconduct" on the part of General Tire & Rubber, RKO General's parent company, the FCC voted 4-3 to lift RKO's licenses of TV stations in three major markets (Cash Box, Feb. 2). The decision, reached in license renewal hearings for RKO's WHAC-TV in Boston, applies to WOR-TV New York and KHJ-TV Los Angeles. The commission cited the parent corporation's questionable foreign payments and attempted pressure on firms to place advertising with RKO as a condition of doing business with General Tire, saying the closely intertwined relationship of the companies meant they shared the blame for misconduct. Not only is Thomas O'Neil chairman of the board and chief executive officer of both companies, the FCC pointed out, but RKO AND General Tire are closely interlocked.

General Tire has announced its intention to appeal the decision as soon as possible. Ken Franki, vice president and general counsel for RKO General told Cash Box the company was "shocked" by the FCC decision and will "appeal vigorously."

Asked how the RKO decision might affect corporations in similar circumstances, FCC chairman Charles Ferris said he knows of "no other multiple-owner that fits under the rationale of this decision," which, he stressed, was "the nexus between the parent company and the subsidiary."

The decision pointed out that RKO had attempted to mislead the FCC. Since 1972, for their tours. "Tour support is available when we deem it to be for a profitable end," remarked Dan Davis, vice president of creative services for Capitol Records. "In some cases, where it's essentially an audio act, tour support is not called for."

Comments by other executives buttressed the trend towards what Bob Regeher, Warner Bros. vice president of ar-artist development and publicity, called "a lot more discerning" attitude towards tour support. At Columbia Records, Arma Andon, vice president for artist development, acknowledged the fact that fewer artists were receiving tour support funds from the label today than in the past, but stressed

Success Of Midline Series Spurs New CBS Campaign

by Aaron Fuchs

NEW YORK — Due to the overwhelming success of its $5.98 list midline series, CBS Records plans to initiate an ambitious, three-pronged campaign to take the line to its second phase.

According to Frank Mooney, vice president of marketing/branch distribution for CBS, "because the line has been so staggeringly successful — more so than we could have imagined in any of our projections — I can say that there will be no parameters to the scope of the operation." Mooney also noted that, while there would be items deleted from the approximately 400 titles in the line, the company hopes to "add new titles pretty quickly."

Sales Figures

Mooney described the first part of the campaign as a consolidation of factual information such as sales figures. "This information," he noted, "will be directed to the artist who passed on being included in the initial release because he was unwilling to renegotiate for an adjusted royalty rate or was waiting to see if the line was viable." Mooney remarked that the figures showed that, in some cases, sales of certain albums had been multiplied fifteen times after their list price had been reduced to the midline level.

The second part of the program, according to Mooney, will be "a concerted effort to intensify the representation in this series by country artists." He also noted that "so far, it appears that we will be 100% successful with this."

Butterfly, MCA Still Uncertain On Relationship

by Leo Sacks

NEW YORK — Butterfly Records and its distributor, MCA, have yet to resolve the question of whether Butterfly will remain a distributed label or be recast as a production company (Cash Box, Dec. 1, 1979).

Butterfly president A.J. Cervantes said last week that the label and MCA are currently involved in the process of "restructuring" their agreement "on a non-exclusive basis." He defined this as an arrangement that would permit Butterfly to have its product distributed by companies other than MCA. Sources at MCA, however, denied that such negotiations are currently taking place, although Bob Dudnik, a partner in the law firm of Rosenfeld, Meyer & Suseman, which is retained by MCA as its general counsel, confirmed that the parties had last met in December to discuss "existing business problems." Those problems, he said, involved Butterfly's alleged failure to reimburse MCA for various advertising expenditures.

According to Cervantes, Butterfly entered into a two-year pact with MCA in March of 1979. He said that the agreement calls for the delivery of a minimum of 15 and a maximum of 30 master recordings to MCA for each year of the pact. Thus far, he said, the label has delivered "about nine albums" to MCA and that he had "another four in the can." He added that he did not expect to have "any difficulty" in meeting his first-year product commitments to MCA.

However, Cervantes said that Butterfly "has a major difference with MCA in regard to its accounting procedures." The problem, he said, began with the first quarterly statement Butterfly received from MCA. Cervantes added that while he does not contest the sales figures MCA has supplied him with, "we do have a problem concerning the way in which they hold reserves and handle collections." He refused to elaborate any further.

Dudnik declined comment on the topic.

Chrysalis, PRT Ink Pacific NW Distribution Pact

LOS ANGELES — Chrysalis Records has entered into a distribution deal for the Pacific northwest with Pacific Records and Tapes (PRT) of San Francisco. The deal covers the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Alaska and is effective immediately.

PRT is presently in the process of establishing facilities in Seattle to serve as a new regional office, which will be headed by Ed Richter, who was formerly general manager for Sound Records & Tapes, Chrysalis' former distributor in the Pacific northwest.

Richter will head a full staff of promotion and sales personnel for the Pacific northwest, according to PRT controller George Williams.

At this time, no other labels are included in the distribution pact, although Williams noted that "a few others are pending."

PRT currently distributes approximately 50 lines in the northern California area, including Muse, Midsong and Laff.

Commenting on the new deal, Williams added "We're very happy with the arrangement, and we hope it can be mutually profitable."

Conway Twitty is a name that's known and respected throughout the music business. A million-selling pop artist during the late '50s and early '60s, Twitty nevertheless left the lucrative world of rock 'n' roll to pursue his real love — country music.

The marriage of Conway and country was a real success. It's netted him 35 #1 records, over 40 top national awards, and sell-out crowds wherever he performs. And it's still going strong.

Twitty has written more than 200 songs, many of which he has recorded himself. He owns several music publishing companies and also jointly owns United Talent Agency (with Loretta Lynn), which books more than $5 million in talent out of Nashville each year. He is also part owner of the Nashville Sounds, a baseball team that plays in the Southern League.

Music was a natural career for Twitty. He learned to sing and play guitar when he was five years old. Born Harold Lloyd Jenkins in Helena, Ark., he was the son of a Mississippi River boat captain. While ferrying across the river from Arkansas and Mississippi in his father's boat, little Harold amused himself by sitting in the pilot house and singing, accompanying himself on the guitar.

Twitty must have developed an extraordinary understanding of life at an early age, because throughout his career he has displayed a remarkable ability to select and interpret hit songs. Some of them like "You've Never Been This Far Before" and his current single, "I'd Just Love To Lay You Down," caused a lot of talk about the absolute honesty of their lyrics while generating outstanding sales. His music gets right down to the heart and soul of the matter.

It is easy to understand why he selected the phrase "Heart and Soul" as the title of his new MCA album. Co-produced by David Barnes, the LP was scheduled to ship Feb. 1, 1980. The first single from the album, "I'd Just Love To Lay You Down," is currently #25 bullet on the Cash Box Country Singles Chart. Conway Twitty is living proof of the loyalty of country music fans. He is in his third decade as an entertainer, and his career, in terms of both concert attendance and record sales, seems to be growing even stronger.

Arista Label Forms New Ad And Editorial Services Unit

NEW YORK — Arista Records has created an Advertising and Editorial Services Unit which combines the functions of the creative services and publicity departments. The unit is responsible for trade and consumer advertising, including print and radio, artist biographies, press releases, solicitation and merchandising materials, album liner notes, and various special editorial projects.

The new unit consists of Mitchell Cohen, associated director of advertising and editorial services; Peter Nicholas, manager of advertising and editorial services; Jean Marcellino, senior art director, advertising; Maude Gilman, art director; and Ron Kerman, proofreader and copier. Michael Rozek will also contribute as free-lance copywriter and producer.

Prior to his appointment, Cohen was manager of editorial services. Previously a freelance writer specializing in music and film, he joined Arista in August 1977 as chief writer. Nicholas has been with Arista since May 1979 as copywriter/producer, coming from a freelance film and book advertising background. Kerman, who joined the label in 1978, will be adding copywriting responsibilities to his position as proofreader.

Jean Marcellino, who will be responsible for the art direction and supervision of all label advertising materials, has been with Arista for two years. She previously held the position of art director. Maude Gilman, who started with Arista in 1978 as a mechanical artist, most recently held the position of art studio manager and designer.

Share Services

Dennis Fine, vice president of publicity and press services, explained that staffers who reported to him in the past, such as Cohen, will continue to report to him, while those involved with ad copy will continue to report to Rick Dobbis, Arista's vice president of artist development. However, he added that the move will enable each department to draw upon the services of members of the other. "While Mitchell, for example, has given input in ad campaigns before," said Fine, "he's now actually working on developing ads."

Dobbis also added that the move would eliminate duplication of effort. "Why should the man who is writing a publicity bio be segregated from the man who is writing new release information for field people? Now we get to draw on the best resources of each."

SCHWARTZ BROTHERS ANNOUNCE PLANS — Harmony Hut, the retail arm of Schwartz Brothers, the Washington, D.C.-based distribution/retail firm, announced its marketing and expansion plans at a recent meeting (Cash Box, Feb. 2). Over 30 representatives of labels and distributors attended the Washington, D.C. meeting. Pictured are (l-r): Irv Brusso, A&M Records; Clyde McElvene, Schwartz Bros. general merchandising manager; Stuart Schwartz, Schwartz Bros. chairman; Al Marks, A&M Records; Bob Heatherly, RCA Records Washington, D.C. branch manager; Schwartz: Ron Piccolo, CBS Records northwest regional vice president, and McElvene. The company will move to new Maryland headquarters in September.

Turley Richards

Although Atlantic recording artist Turley Richards is new to the charts, his long tenure as a professional musician gives his new album, "Therfu," and his charting single, "You Might Need Somebody," a seasoned style and emotional maturity that far exceeds that of most other artists in his position. Richards' influences range from blues to jazz to vintage rock 'n' roll, and he infuses this musical mix with a deeply penetrating emotionality.

Although a childhood accident resulted in an eye injury that made Richard blind by age 29, he was an active performer as a teenager. He began with a doo-wop group called the Five Pearls (of which he was the only white member) and moved on to a rockabilly group called the Travellers, from which he emerged with the monicker of "West Virginia's Elvis Presley." When his manager sent him on a tour with four rolled bills, all of which turned out to be ones, Richards experienced the first of a number of bad business experiences which led to various decisions to quit the music business. Richards describes his initial attempts at making it as "going through a series of managers and producers, all of whom were trying to turn me into the next somebody else."

The mid-70s saw Richards renew his commitment to a professional career, aided in no small way by his marriage and the birth of his son, Adam. Some friends who were financing a demo production company caught Turley's performance and gave him enough money to finance a ten-song demo. Richards took the demo to Los Angeles, where a friend brought it to the attention of Mick Fleetwood of Fleetwood Mac.

"Just to show you how out of touch I was with the music business," recalls Richards, "when Gabrielle (Arras) asked me if I'd mind if she played the record for Mick, I replied with 'Mick who?' Anyway, Mick flipped over the record. We spent about eight hours together and had a great rapport. Even though Mick is listed on the album as executive producer, his role was much less significant in the studio than it was in securing a deal with Atlantic."

Still, Richards is grateful for Fleetwood's help with the LP, which also involved playing on three of the albums tracks, "You Might Need Somebody," "Stand By Me," the old Ben E. King song; and "All Over the World."

"Let people say I'm riding on Mick Fleetwood's coattails," said Richards. "If that's what it takes to make it, I'm gonna ride that SOB until it breaks. I'll even give them an ad campaign. How about, 'I couldn't sing a lick until I met Mick'."

But, despite his optimism about his career, Richards is far from being star-struck. "I'm happy and secure inside," he said, "and if my career falls apart, it wouldn't bother me. Besides," he joked, "I can always go back to selling pencils."

George Burns

When quick-witted, veteran entertainer George Burns talks about his singing career, he's likely to say, "I never thought I'd get paid for singing." But he's quick to add, "I've never done anything else in show business I enjoy more."

Burns, whose singing is characterized by fast songs ("I sing fast songs so by the time the audience realizes they don't like me I'm out of town."), currently has a country-flavored single, "I Wish I Was Eighteen Again," on the Mercury Record label, which was #94 last week on the Cash Box pop singles chart. The single is the title cut from Burns' debut Mercury LP.

Actually, the 83-year-old former vaudevillian, whose career has touched the stage, radio, films and TV, should surprise no one with his singing success, especially in the wake of his rejuvenated film success with movies like The Sunshine Boys (for which he won an Oscar for best supporting actor), Oh God!, You and Me Kid and his current film, Going In Style.

Burns was born Nathan Birnbaum on New York's lower east side in 1896. By the sixth grade, he had quit school and formed a group of child singers, the Pee Wee Quartet, and by 14 had become a budding vaudeville performer. It was in vaudeville in 1923 where the famous Burns and Allen team was spawned.

In 1929 the pair made their film debut in the movie short, Burns and Allen in Lamb Chops.

While doing films, Burns and Allen also broke into radio in England in 1930. The pair did guest spots on programs starring Eddie Cantor, Rudy Vallee and Guy Lombardo.

With the advent of TV in the '50s, Burns and Allen created the McCadden Corporation in 1955 and began to produce programs like "The Burns and Allen Show," "The Bob Cummings Show," "The People's Choice" and "Panic." When Allen retired in 1958, Burns continued starring in the "The George Burns Show," later starring in "Wendy and Me" with Connie Stevens and producing other shows.

The '60s saw Burns begin a series of theater and nightclub tours with Carol Channing and dates in Las Vegas with Dorothy Provine, Jane Russell and Connie Haines.

The '70s however, became an era of rebirth for Burns when the versatile entertainer, complete with his trademark cigar and round specs, began a new film career.

When asked why he'd decided to record an album of country songs, Burns replied, "I sang 'I Wish I Was Eighteen Again' because they paid me."

Burns explained that the song's composer, 40-year-old Sidney Throckmorton, had originally brought the song to Mercury hoping he would sing it. Mercury liked the song but decided that Throckmorton was too young to yearn for age 18 again.

"They looked around and couldn't find Moses so they got me," Burns said.

"I think Moses was playing somewhere else, maybe the Jefferson Theater."

Sill Says Self-Contained Acts, Lack Of Covers May Hurt Publishers In '80

by Marc Cetner

LOS ANGELES — The trend toward the self-contained artists who write and perform their own music exclusively, the problems stemming from non-creative publishers and the lack of superstar material are three of the present day realities that will affect Screen Gems/EMI Music and the publishing business in general as the 1980s emerge, according to Lester Sill, president of Screen Gems/EMI Music.

Although artists such as Barbra Streisand, Donna Summer, George Benson, Kenny Rogers and Olivia Newton-John covered Screen Gems published tunes in 1979, and the success of such rock acts as Cheap Trick, Boston, Queen and Journey, Sill maintains that the company needs artists with publishing longevity.

"What the business needs is copyrights that live," says Sill. "Most of the time when an album by a self-contained group like Boston is finished, so are the songs. It's great to have the income from a Boston or a Cheap Trick, but I would prefer to have a copyright that a number of people can record. Most of the artists who write their own material are truly limited to their own repertoire."

Longevity Desired

A perfect example of the longevity that Sill is looking for in songwriters is the composing duo of Carole King and Gerry Goffin, who will celebrate their 20th anniversary with Screen Gems in 1980. In observance of the 20 years, the publishing firm has compiled and released an album entitled "Solid Gold Programming," featuring 25 Goffin-King tunes by the original artists. The LP has been serviced to radio stations worldwide for programming purposes. Screen Gems has assembled more than a dozen similar broadcast albums that serve as a programming aid and create performance royalties for the company's writers.

In addition to the trend of the self-contained artist, Sill explained that the lessened impact of great cover artists like Andy Williams, Johnny Mathis and Frank Sinatra has affected publishing. "Sinatra and Williams used to put out three albums a year," says Sill. "They would sell millions between the record club and normal sources of sales. Now, they might do one record a year. That whole area of publishing has been closed by two-thirds."

Non-creative Publishers

The influx of non-creative music publishers has also created a stir in the publishing community and Sill is sympathetic with the new Organization of Creative Music Publishers (OCMP). The aggregation's goal is to reverse the trend toward personal managers, accountants and attorneys serving as administrators of artist/writer's catalogs.

"There are certain cases where a publisher can't do a writer any good except to finance him," states Sill. "I think a lawyer is adept at contacting people overseas and acting as a collection agent on non-coverable material. However, I think lawyers mislead a writer when they tell him they can do as much as any publisher. There is no way in the world that a lawyer can tell if a song can be covered or not."

"If the artist, attorney and manager agree up front that a song is not coverable, then it is strictly a matter of administration and a lawyer can handle the job. However, if it becomes a creative decision, then the lawyer is doing his client a disservice. We've had cases where the attorneys felt that they did not need the services of a publisher any longer, and I've seen a lot of writing careers go right down the tubes because of that," Sill adds.

UNESCO Sponsors Song Competition

NEW YORK — The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) will sponsor an international competition for songwriters under 16 in the organization's 147 member countries. The winning entry will be recorded as a single by Roger Whittaker for RCA.

According to Lucio Attinelli, director of special events for UNESCO, a screening panel chosen by the organization will select five songs from the geographic regions of Asia, Africa, the Middle East, and North and South America, and forward them to a celebrity jury, which is to convene in Paris on June 30. The committee, which includes violinist Yehudi Menuhin and actor Peter Ustinov, will then send six nominations to Whittaker, who will debut the tune at a concert at New York's Radio City Music Hall here in October. Proceeds from the sale of the record will be donated by RCA to UNESCO.

Bronze Plaques

A UNESCO spokesman, Joseph Mehan, said that the organization would award bronze plaques to the authors of the 20 best entries, which will be reprinted by UNESCO for its promotional use next fall.

JAZZ ALBUM PICKS

CHAIR IN THE SKY — Mingus Dynasty — Elektra/Asylum 6E-248 — Producer: Ilhan Mimaroglu — List: 7.98

This gathering of Charles Mingus alumni perform a collection of Mingus tunes that illustrate the range and diversity characterizing the composer-bassist-band leader's work. "Boogie Stop Shuffle" is a frantic instrumental, complete with unobtrusive virtuosity by pianist Don Pullen, tenorist Joe Farrell and altoist John Handy. Though the title track is somewhat more subdued, the pace, set by Charlie Haden's bass, doesn't let up.

EQUIPOISE — Stanley Cowell — Galaxy GXY-5125 — Producer: Ed Michel — List: 7.98

This extraordinary young pianist is among the most respected composer-arrangers in jazz and a veteran of some of the great groups of the 1960s, such as those of drummer Max Roach. This trio recording is engaging and masterful, as well it might be with players the caliber of bassist Cecil McBee and drummer Roy Haynes. Cowell is well-represented in this selection of ballads and burners, transfiguring the most hallowed pianistic conventions of the past 25 years into a deeply personal style with nary a cliché in sight.

I WILL SAY GOODBYE — The Bill Evans Trio — Fantasy — F-9593 — Producer: Helen Keane — List: 7.98

Mellow and moody, the Bill Evans Trio, with Eddie Gomez on bass and Eliot Zigmund on drums, plays subdued music, devoid of rock and funk fusion elements. The title track has a settling effect and is purely for listening pleasure. Evans shows extremely good taste in his piano stylings, which is most evident on the Bacharach-David tune "A House is Not a Home." The music is more spirited on the trio's rendition of Herbie Hancock's "Dolphin Dance."

HOMAGE TO CHARLES PARKER — George Lewis — Black Saint BSR 0029 — Producer: Giacomo Pellicciotti — List: 9.98

George Lewis is probably the most expressive, intelligent trombonist to have emerged in the past decade. A gifted improviser, comfortable in any idiom, his own compositions and group ideas lean in the direction of third system conceptualizations, drawing on electronics, classical and Afro-American forms. One side of this LP is given over to a very formal reading of blues-based materials, while the title side is a peaceful, touching ode to the life and death of the twentieth century's greatest musician.

SOUNDSCAPES — Cedar Walton — Columbia — JC — 36285 — Producer: George Butler and Cedar Walton — List: $7.98

In a word, funky jazz characterizes this album by the former Jazz Messenger. While cuts like "Warm To the Touch" and "The Early Generation" do not forsake their jazz roots, the percussions by Rubins Bassini and Ray Mantilla provide additional dimension to already very full-bodied music. Walton's electric piano technique is best on "N.P.S.," where the feedback is deftly controlled to provide a gritty tonal quality.

FLUTE TALK — Sam Most with Joe Farrell — Xanadu 173 — Producer: Don Schlitten — List Price: 8.98

Sam Most is one of the seminal figures in the history of jazz flute, widely acknowledged to be among the first great soloists on the instrument. Here Most is joined by Joe Farrell on flute for a fanciful, upbeat selection of sambas, swingers and mood pieces, with a typically excellent mainstream production from Xanadu, the cooking "Hot House" and the improvised flute duet, "Leaves," are the standout performances.

creating new product for that in the theatrical, musical and cultural fields."

The initial distribution system for this video software, continued Leslie, "will be like the one we initially had in our Pickwick proprietary division — the development of regional managers and the blossoming of regional managing groups. There may also be some outside reps, but that wouldn't be the main thrust; it would be in-house."

Leslie added that he is "very impressed" with the CBS manufacturing facilities, which are an integral part of the company's game plan for video. At least one of the record pressing plants will be partially converted to manufacture videodiscs of the RCA SelectaVision type, said Leslie. (CBS recently agreed to license this technology from RCA.)

Broadcast Involvement

Leslie also pointed out that the CBS television network may become involved with the video division at some point in the future, because of its "wealth of programming in sporting, news and cultural events." "Ultimately," he said, "I can see special programming using the news group on some regular subscriber basis." In addition he noted that CBS used to be in the movie business, and that there are over 30 films in its vaults which could be converted into video software.

Despite CBS' video agreement with RCA, Leslie made it clear that the company will not limit itself in this field. "The Video Enterprises Division is not confined by any single technology," he stated. "It will take CBS into new directions, influenced by the actions, output of creativity and needs of the market. It will afford us the opportunity to explore the submarkets which are part of the logical process of development. CBS is rich in its natural resource of people and talent with them. I look forward to the same measure of success pioneering this new world of video that I enjoyed in the recorded music industry."

John D. Backe, president of CBS Inc., commented, "The formation of the Video Enterprises Division spearheads CBS's entry into an emerging business that will have a profound impact on the entertainment industry. The home video industry is evolving into a major force and CBS intends to play a major role in it. The potential market for its products is large, encompassing the fields of education, industry and the home, serving both the domestic and international communities. The significant product

American Can Posts Decline In Earnings; Pickwick Int'l Cited

NEW YORK — The American Can Company, the parent corporation of Pickwick International, has reported that its fourth quarter earnings fell 14.7% to $24.4 million from $28.6 million in the comparable 1978 period. However, revenues for the company increased 9% to $1.16 billion from $1.06 billion in the same quarter last year.

During 1979, the company said, its net income rose to $127.3 million from 1978's $119.6 million figure. Meanwhile, revenues for the company jumped 13% to $4.52 billion from $3.98 billion the year before.

According to a company statement, Pickwick International, a wholly-owned subsidiary of American Can, was "adversely impacted by a severe record industry downturn" in 1979. The statement said that Pickwick's earnings, which has risen substantially during the first 18 months of American Can's ownership, declined sharply, and that Pickwick reported an operating loss. In spite of this, the company said, Pickwick's specialty retailing businesses, including its Musicland, Discount Records, Aurasound, and Sam Goody stores, continued to be profitable.

William F. May, chairman and chief executive officer of American Can, explained that "the wholesale part of the business where Pickwick has less direct influence on merchandising to the consumer was especially hard hit by the industry downturn during the year." He added, "We are confident that the basic strength of these markets will provide for a steady recovery of the business."

After the Decca acquisition is consummated, the new classical division will be composed of three operating units and label organizations: DG, Philips and London.

CLASSICAL CLIPS

NEW YORK — The U.S.-Soviet cultural cold war has caused several more Russian artists to bow out of U.S. engagements. Among them are Yevgeny Svetlanov, who had been scheduled to conduct the Chicago Symphony in three concerts last week; and five Soviet artists who are represented by Jacques Lelser Management. In the latter group are pianists Lazar Berman, Grigory Sokolov and Mikhail Pletnyov; trumpeter Timofey Dokschitzer; and tenor Zurab Sotkilava.

Pletnyov, first prize gold medal winner in the 1978 Tchaikovsky International Competition, was to have made his New York debut at Carnegie Hall with the New Jersey Symphony Feb. 15. He was also scheduled to appear with the Los Angeles Chamber Orchestra Feb. 18-19 at the Winter Olympics in Lake Placid, New York. According to a spokesperson for the orchestra's publicity firm, Beethoven's First Piano Concerto will be replaced by a different work on the Lake Placid program. Ilana Vered will take Pletnyov's place at a Feb. 13 recital at Yale University, and Bella Davidovich, a Russian emigre, will fill in for Pletnyov with the L.A. Chamber Orchestra at Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. on March 1.

Commenting on these developments, Jacques Lelser said, "The Soviet notification of a temporary postponement of U.S. tours by Soviet artists, pending resolution of a new U.S.-U.S.S.R. cultural exchange agreement, appears to be an unfortunate byproduct of the escalation in tension between the United States and the Soviet Union. It is tragic that the world of performing arts should suffer from the present strain in the U.S.-U.S.S.R. relationship. And, like all Americans, I hope that there will soon be a return to the normalization of cultural and other relations."

TRACEY STERNE TRIBUTE — Teresa ("Tracey") Sterne, who guided the artistic activities of Nonesuch Records for over 15 years until her recent exit from the label, will be honored by a contingent of Nonesuch artists in a special concert at the Symphony Space (Broadway at 95th St.) on Feb. 20. Among the artists scheduled to donate their services for this event are Jan de Gaetani, Paul Jacobs, Gilbert Kalish, Sergin Luca, Joshua Rifkin, William Bolcom, Joan Morris, Raymond des Roches and the New Jersey Percussion Ensemble, and Pomerium Musices, which will perform music from 15th Century England. All the selections that will be on the program have been previously recorded for Nonesuch by the participants; and, as such, the evening should offer a good cross-section of the musical riches which Sterne helped to record, ranging from Renaissance and Baroque music to turn-of-the-century Americana, world folk music and avant-garde works.

This tribute concert will be the first in the Symphony Space Encore series. Alan Miller, co-artistic director of the non-profit performing arts center, conceived of the series about a year ago. He wanted to afford artists the opportunity to repeat a live performance that had been well-received but would not, under normal circumstances, be heard again in New York for many years. Later on, he thought it would be a good idea to include New York premieres of works that had already been recorded. Since there was so much excellent material on Nonesuch, he decided to contact some of the label's recording artists. After Sterne lost her position with the label, Miller resolved to kick off the series with the Nonesuch concert.

Miller expects the Encore programs to continue on regularly scheduled Tuesday evenings. Symphony Space, which seats 950, will make all facilities available free of charge and will assist in promotion and publicity. Encore concerts may be devoted to a single work or artist, or the programming may be mixed. Performers in all fields may apply by writing to Symphony Space, 2537 Broadway, New York 10025 or by calling (212) 865-2557.

CLASSICAL ALBUM REVIEWS

STRAUSS: Die Agyptische Helena. Gwyneth Jones, Matti Kastu, Barbara Hendricks, Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Antal Dorati, conductor. London OSA 13135. List: $26.94.

The world premiere recording of this little-known opera fully captures the magnificence of the concert performance which Dorati brought to Carnegie Hall last year with the same cast. By turns dramatic and visionary, with a poetic libretto by Hofmannsthal, the work itself is full of beguiling passages, especially the end of Act I. Jones creates a bewitching Helen, and Kastu's Menelaus manages to convey the breadth of a hero who has more than a little in common with Othello. Kudos also to Dorati, who has transformed the Detroit Symphony into a world-class outfit.

PONCE: Variations on "Folia de Espana" and Fugue; Preludio; Balletto; Tres Canciones Populares Mexicanas; Valse; Marchita el Alma; Hace Ocho Meses; Yo Adoro A Mi Madre. John Williams, guitar. Columbia M 35820. List: $8.98.

Ponce has a wonderful ability to synthesize folk and classical music, and Williams has just the right touch for both the charming pieces on side two and the somewhat more serious variations on "Folia de Espana." In the latter work, he gives each variation a highly individual character and shows his remarkable rhythmic facility. The standout among the shorter pieces is "Valse," where Ponce's use of the Lydian mode creates an exotic atmosphere.

SCHUMANN: Fantasia in C, Op. 17; Novelettes, Op. 21, Nos. 1 & 2. Artur Rubinstein, piano. RCA ARL 1-3427. List: $8.98.

Recorded in 1965 but released here for the first time, Rubinstein's reading of Schumann's Fantasia is as much an expression of the pianist as it is of the composer. So inward that it becomes hermetic at some points, this interpretation glows with Romantic spirituality. While vaulting the tremendous technical obstacles quite easily, the pianist eliminates any sense of premeditation, seeming to think out his course as he goes along. His version of the ineffable third movement is particularly affecting.

Artist Development Is Being Redefined By Record Labels

that "if an artist is capable of exciting crowds through live performances, we're still going to come to the party when necessary to break the artist through."

Concert Attendance Down

The fact that there are fewer ticket-buying dollars available has led the record companies to re-appraise the importance of concert tours in developing the careers of new artists. "Everybody is taking a second look at touring," said Perry Cooper, director of artist relations, development and product management for Atlantic Records. "To put an act on the road just to showcase them really doesn't make sense in most cases."

Rather than expending their budgets entirely on tours with questionable prospects of success, artist development planners are channeling more funds into the crucial areas of marketing and promotion. Even a confirmed believer in the viability of selective touring like Jerry Jaffe, vice president of artist development for Polydor Records, pointed out: "We've been putting out money into the direct marketing of acts. We show them the marketing campaign and say, 'This is what we're doing for you, this is directly related to your career, it's not making it more comfortable for you on the road — maybe even harder — but the money is going to get you over the top.'"

The use of film, television and new video technologies is becoming an attractive alternative to the complete dependence upon touring for breaking new acts. According to Regeher, the addition of a full TV department is "the biggest change" in Warner Bros.' artist development program over the past two years. Although he insisted that the label is not de-emphasizing touring, Regeher said that promotional films and videotapes — like those produced for the Pretenders by the new Warner Bros. department — will receive increased funding as the audio-visual presentations increasingly "supplement" live appearances.

Media Promotion

As the labels shift the focus of their development programs, they are upgrading the value of media promotion as a means of establishing recognition for their new artists. According to Davis, Capitol has arranged successful, two-week, non-performing promotional tours for Bob Welch and Cherie & Marie Currie "specifically for the purpose of introducing them to the press and radio program directors."

At some companies, economic measures have led to the dissolution of artist development programs and their re-incorporation into the overall functions of marketing, promotion and publicity. "Our artist development is going to be through airplay, advertising and publicity," said Joan Bullard, vice president of artist relations and publicity for MCA Records.

Rogers Gets First #1 Pop Single

LOS ANGELES — Kenny Rogers reaffirmed his stature as the leading country crossover artist this week when his "Coward Of The County" single from the "Kenny" LP captured the top spot on the Cash Box Top 100 Singles chart. The feat marks the first time Rogers has held the #1 position on the Pop Singles chart as a solo artist.

Rogers is also riding high on the album charts. His "Kenny" album is currently riding at the #1 slot on the Country LP chart, and at the #6 spot on the Pop Album chart.

"Press is going to be more important than it has been for a number of years," she added.

In spite of the austere economic environment, artist development executives are still adhering to the basic principle on which the function has been based since the mid-70s; the need for a strong liaison between the performing artists and the complex web of marketing and promotional activities undertaken on their behalf by the labels. The underlying theory that a customized plan developed for each individual artist will help the act achieve a quicker success is still a key operating guideline.

Woolley Plan

Andon and Fred Humphrey, director of AOR promotion for Columbia Records, mapped out an "unusual" strategy for introducing singer/songwriter Bruce Woolley to the United States in December. Although his album was set for February release, the decision was made to bring Woolley to New York, where he played a number of showcase dates which, Andon said, "gave the company the chance to see what this guy was all about." Airplay exposure was arranged for the import LP, "Bruce Woolley & The Camera Club," with special emphasis given to the British hit single,

Illegal Records Cost Industry $50 Million In '79

NEW YORK — In 1979, the FBI and local law enforcement agencies, working with the Recording Industry Assn. of America's anti-piracy intelligence unit, confiscated more than $50 million worth of illegal record counterfeiting and tape duplicating equipment, counterfeit LPs, pirate eight-tracks and cassettes, and related materials.

The estimated value of the confiscated hardware and software represents just a sampling of 28 major actions in 16 states, according to Jules Yarnell, RIAA Special counsel on antipiracy.

Among the software retrieved in the various raids is more than 208,000 pirate and bootleg eight-tracks and cassettes, 27,000 counterfeit LPs, some 500,000 counterfeit and pirate Spanish language eight-track labels, 60,000 counterfeit sleeves and thousands of additional LPs and tapes taken in large tonnage seizures that are not broken down by item.

Materials Destroyed

At the same time, more than $5 million worth of raw materials, machinery, counterfeit LPs and eight-tracks were destroyed under court orders in connection with previous confiscations. Included were 173,000 counterfeit LPs and eight-tracks in the seizure from John LaMonte d/b/a House of Sounds in June; thousands of eight-tracks, machinery and raw materials in the R&A Audio (Ramon Gutierrez) raid in July, and 4,300 eight-tracks in the action against Elton and David Sewell d/b/a David's Novelties in September.

There were also several important criminal prosecutions and adjudications that strengthened anti-piracy statutes in states such as New York and California. David Heilman, for example, was found guilty of 18 counts of copyright infringement and sentenced to a six-month jail sentence, with a $9,000 fine, currently under appeal, in the U.S. District Court, Northern District of Illinois. Heilman and E.C. Tape were also hit with a summary judgement of more than $4 million in Milwaukee County Circuit Court in December, following a two-week civil trial.

In the first conviction resulting from FBI

REGGAE ROBIN HOOD — Although Michael Butler's Broadway production of "Reggae" has been garnering the media buzz, my bets are on the movie "Rockers" to be the vehicle that will take reggae to its next phase of popularity. Directed by Theodoros Bafaloukos, the Jamaican-based film, which has been playing in England since mid-September, could be subtitled "The Harder They Come Gets Religion." The similarity of "Rockers" to "Harder" lies in its focus on an Everyman's rise to heroism, using reggae as a musical Richter scale. But while the former was what one might call a goats-head western, "Rockers" is the story of a Rastafarian Robin Hood, Leroy "Horsemouth" Wallace, who robs from the (westernized) rich and gives to the poor. If the movie has any shortcoming, it is Wallace's character: His somber, somewhat stoned Maybe there's just something funny wafting through those twelfth floor air vents?

FUN AND GAMES — Chuck Mangione — A&M SP-3715 — Producer: Chuck Mangione — List: 8.98

Mangione offers clean sounds on this album with ample help from the likes of guitarist Grant Geissman, who keeps the horns and rhythm sections on an even keel. The cut "Give It All You Got" has an urgency in the pace, but does not seem rushed at all. The title track is indeed aptly named, complete with Mangione's inimitable singing horn. Very good for B/C and Pop programming.

VOYAGER — Roger Whittaker — RCA AFL1-3518 — Producers: Eric Robertson & John Mackswith — List: 7.98

Roger Whittaker has been lending his deep resonant vocal style to wax for 14 albums now, and he seems to improve with age. His latest adult-pop oriented album is rife with string-filled ballads like "I See You In The Sunrise" and uptempo toe tappers like "I Was Born." Whittaker puts a lot of folk influence into his material and it comes to the forefront on songs such as "Sail Away" and "Song For The Captain." For A/C lists.

THE BEST SIDE OF GOODBYE — Jane Olivor — Columbia JC 36335 — Producers: Shelton, Masser & Darrow — List: 7.98 — Bar Coded

Olivor possesses one of the most distinctive female voices in contemporary music, and although her sound is a little slickly produced on this waxing, she serves up her finest collection to date. At times her voice is reminiscent of a mellow Barbra Streisand, but her shimmering tones have that memorable Olivor trademark. She is as at home on a Broadway stage as the recording studio, and the most affecting moments on this LP can be found on "Weeping Willows, Cattails" and the title cut.

THIS DAY AND AGE — D.L. Byron — Arista AB 4258 — Producer: Jimmy Iovine — List: 7.98

This volatile east coast rocker puts a lot of the savage bite into his music that Elvis Costello and Bruce Springsteen are renown for. Byron's lyrical themes have to do with the young and restless, and his new wavish musical attack is equally exciting. Production ace Jimmy Iovine handles the direction on this startlingly good debut. Best cuts include "Am I Falling In Love Again," "Listen To The Heartbeat" and "Backstage Girl." Check out the drum mix on this album.

TEMPTATION — Marc Tanner Band — Elektra 6E-240 — Producers: Nat Jeffrey & Fred Mollin — List: 7.98

Tanner has matured quite a bit since his debut LP last year. He is no longer afraid to let the wild boy creep into his clean streamlined rock sound on "Temptation," and the bold step consistently pays off. His hook-laden California rock style is propelled by a young band that is now accustomed to his style and rocks with conviction. The LP's fine moments are on the title track, "Don't Say No (Surrender)" and "Hot And Cold."

FREEZE FRAME — Godley & Creme — Polydor PD-1-6257 — Producers: Godley & Creme — List: 7.98

Godley & Creme were always responsible for the moodier, more cerebral moments in yesteryear's 10cc. "Freeze Frame" finds these two pop maverick wizards once again in top form, stretching the boundaries of traditional pop arrangements by unleashing a plethora of percussive gymnastics and multi-layered lyrical mind games that tickle the funny bone, excite the intellect and even manage to get the feet tapping. Godley & Creme have come up with one of the most challenging AOR commodities since Hot Legs thought school stank.

FRANKIE ELDORADO — Epic NJE 36291 — Producer: Frankie Eldorado — List: 7.98 — Bar Coded

Frankie Eldorado is an expert at producing slick, space age, bubble gum rock. The sugary vocals are often wrapped around a hard rocking disco beat, but the songs are perfect for Top 40 car radio listening. If bands like 1910 Fruit Gum Company and The Ohio Express were around today, they'd sound just like Eldorado. Top tracks on this fun waxing are "Good Thing," "Ain't That Peculiar" and "Dancin' To Me."

PHILLIPS/MACLEOD — Polydor PD-1-6255 — Producer: Tony Peluso — List: 7.98

The Phillips Macleod aggregation takes a grittier rock approach here than on their last few albums. The power rock guitar rhythms are driven home with authority, and the boys' harmonies are on the money as usual. There are lots of strong AOR tracks on the LP, but the most immediately memorable are "Young Girls," "East Side, West Side" and "Down By The River." Pure pop/rock for AOR.

THE TRANSFIGURATION OF BLIND JOE DEATH — John Fahey — Takoma TAK-7015 — Producer: John Fahey — List: 7.98 — Bar Coded

Fahey is a master of the acoustic 12-string guitar, and he puts his finger picking expertise to 15 songs on this quality recording. He handles a mixture of genres — lilting ballads, old folk songs and freewheelin' bluegrass numbers — on "The Transfiguration Of Blind Joe Death." The songs from this calming collection are equally suited to film scores and for listening during those lazy Saturday afternoons in the hammock.

THE FLYING LIZARDS — Virgin VA 13137 — Producer: David Cunningham — List: 7.98

If there was ever an album that could be considered Dadaist, this has to be it. David Cunningham is the mastermind of this pseudo-band, and although many will find the music on this avant-minimalist LP offensive, it borrows directly on the John Cage school. The sterile spoken-sung vocals are supplied by Cunningham's art school friend, Deborah, and the recording techniques are all based on chance, mistakes and technological incongruities. Still, the recordings of "Money" and "Summertime Blues" are ingenious in their ridiculousness. Well, they laughed at Dali.

GALLAGHER — United Artists LT-1019 — Producers: Ken Kragen & Jim Mazza — List: 7.98

The line on the back cover of this off the wall comedy album reads "... you people ain't thinkin' about this stuff," and it hits the essence of Gallagher's humor right on the head. This LP captures the weird and riotous hypothetical routines of Gallagher in a live situation. Although much of his humor is visual, he has put together a nice mirth-filled waxing. This jester has both a fine vinyl and television future ahead of him.

SUE SAAD AND THE NEXT — Planet P-4 — Producers: Richard Perry & James Lance — List: 7.98

While this album has a new wave veneer, Sue Saad and the Next's debut packs a strong-mainstream rock punch. The songs on the record are frantically paced rockers, and the lyrics are of the rebellious teenage variety, but the music is more in the mold of newcomers like Ellen Shipley and Pat Benatar. The power rockers that highlight this beautifully produced waxing are: "It's Gotcha," "I Want Him," "I I Me Me" and "Danger Love."

THUG OF LOVE — Dirk Hamilton — Elektra 6E-249 — Producers: Dirk Hamilton & Don Evans — List: 7.98

Some day Dirk Hamilton's going to be a star. His lyrics have the wry wit of a Zevon, and he sings with the abandon of Van the Man. While his music isn't as strong on "Thug Of A Love" as it was on "Met Me At The Crux," there are still Hamilton classics such as "Out To Unroll The Wheel World," "Colder Than Mexican Snow," "Change In A Child's Hand" and "In A Miracle." Hamilton is a forceful rock 'n' roll talent, and AOR should jump on this finely crafted effort.

A DIFFERENT KIND OF TENSION — Buzzcocks — I.R.S./A&M SP 009 — Producer: Martin Rushent — List: 7.98

This is the official, unadulterated third album from one of England's finest now available domestically. The Buzzcocks recent "Singles Going Steady" LP served as an intense primer for newcomers to the band's unique brand of singles-oriented melodic relentlessness. The result this time around is nearly identical in that, once again, it is an album rife with a tight, well-honed barrage of singles. Fans of spirited, proletarian love songs should greet this newest offering by the Buzzcocks with gusto.

SURVIVOR — Scotti Brothers SB 7107 — Producers: various — List: 7.98

This is a fine debut by a hard driving mainstream rock band that should be around for awhile. Led by well-known Chicago-based guitar player Jim Peterik, the group has a lot of the midwest influence in its style. The sound is clean, the hooks are consistent and the musical dynamics astonishing. This talented fivesome looks like it has a fine future ahead. Best tracks on wax include "Youngblood," "Love Has Got Me," "Somewhere In America" and "Whatever It Takes."

WINNERS — Kleer — Atlantic SD 19262 — Producers: Dennis King and Kleer — List: 7.98

This accomplished R&B/Funk quartet possesses an easy moving rhythm guitar/bass sound surrounded by a swirling keyboard. The smooth, dynamic vocals fit the bouncy beat perfectly, and added female harmonies add luster to the proceedings. The band moves into changes at a more proficient speed than most laid back B/C bands. Best cuts are "Open Your Mind," "Rollin' On" and the title cut.

AFRICAN SUITE — MCA MCA-3205 — Producer: Richie Rome — List: 7.98

This LP is laden with the euro-disco-monorhythmic beat, with a bit of African and Latin percussion thrown in to spice the action. Pneumatic vocals by Carolyn Mitchell and Brenda Hill, especially on cuts like "Grass" and "In The Pocket," offer a soothing reprieve from the thumb popping bass play and the heavy footed bass drum mantra. The synthesizer is persuasive as a rock element lent to African disco. For AOR and B/C.

LIVE MAGNETIC AIR — Max Webster — Capitol ST-12042 — Producers: Max Webster & Terry Brown — List: 7.98 — Bar Coded

This LP, recorded live in southern Ontario in 1979, will introduce this stellar Canadian rock band to a lot of AOR programmers. Its hard rock attack is pleasantly offset by some interesting jazz and blues breaks, and is slightly reminiscent of the old Brian Auger assemblage. Look for "America's Veins," "Hangover" and "Here Among The Cats" to get lot of FM play.

Donna Summer Files Suit To End Casablanca Contracts

sonal or business relations with Casablanca or the Bogarts. The suit claims that parties already acting as advisors to Summer were offered or promised financing for business operations, with the intent of subverting the singer's relationship with the consultants, consequently gaining unfair advantages in their dealings with Summer.

The suit says that "Joyce Bogart repeatedly assured plaintiff that the Agreements were beneficial" and would enhance her career. The suit also says that Bogart knew that the contracts were more beneficial to Casablanca than to Summer.

The complaint said that whenever Summer questioned or objected to terms of the agreement, that the Bogarts maintained that the contracts were fair.

In addition to termination of the agree-raids on December 19, 1978 in five east coast states, Frank Martino, principal of Ramart Publishing Corp., Central Islip, N.Y., pled guilty to a two-count information charging him with wire fraud and copyright infringement in U.S. District Court, Eastern District of New York. The plea was accepted conditional on his agreement to cooperate with the government against the individuals involved in the scheme, and he was sentenced to three months in jail and fined $15,000 in May.

New Laws

In New York and California, substantially strengthened anti-piracy statutes went into effect in 1979. In New York, manufacture of pirate recordings is now a felony punishable by imprisonment for at least one and up to three years and/or a fine of up to $1,000. The manufacture or sale of recordings made from a live broadcast performance without the artist's permission is treated as a felony with the same penalties as manufacture of pirate recordings. The sale of such recordings is the same grade of offense as the sale of a pirate recording.

In California, anti-bootlegging provisions similar to those in New York were enacted. The manufacture and sale of recordings made from live or broadcast performances without the artist's consent is also now prohibited.

Atlantic/Atco Launch Numan Marketing Push

NEW YORK — Atlantic and Atco Records have launched a major merchandising campaign to promote Gary Numan's Atco LP, "The Pleasure Principle." The promotion, which will coincide with the artist's tour of the U.S. in February, will offer retailers such items as an eight-minute videotape of two songs performed by Numan; album cover blowups; and special tour posters. Prizes will be awarded to WEA field merchandisers for the most creative displays. Numan can be seen on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live" program on Feb. 16.

Portnow's previous background in talent acquisition and artist relations supports his position.

Before coming to 20th, he was division vice president of popular A&R on the west coast for RCA Records. With RCA since 1976, Portnow also held the positions of A&R producer and executive producer for pop A&R.

ments and the damages sought, the suit also seeks to enjoin Casablanca from trying to further enforce the agreements or from claiming that the contracts are in effect. The complaint further seeks to prevent Casablanca from enjoining Summer from recording and making agreements with other companies for distribution of her product.

The Bogarts and Summer met while the singer was on a promotional tour in the United States in 1975. Summer was a resident of Germany at the time, where she enjoyed a successful singing career.

Later, on Feb. 15, 1977, Joyce Bogart was retained by Summer as personal manager in exchange for 25% of the singer's gross profits. Exclusive recording contracts with Casablanca followed.

Summer, who has sold more than 20 million records for Casablanca, is largely credited for turning the company into a major force in the recording industry.

Korvettes To Sublet 13% Of Store Space

NEW YORK — Korvettes has revealed that it plans to sublease approximately 13% of the store space in its 50 outlets to other retailers in an effort to improve its profitability. However, David Rothfeld, vice president and divisional merchandise manager for Korvettes, reaffirmed that the conversion of space would not affect any of the chain's existing record departments (Cash Box, Jan. 19). Nevertheless, he did allow for the possibility that a few of the chain's outlets may be closed.

The conversion move, which was announced last week by the chain's owners, the Agache-Willot Group of France, would be equivalent to the closing of five or six Korvettes stores, according to John Magee, vice president of real estate. Of the chain's total occupancy of nine million square feet, he said, Korvettes occupies two million more square feet than it needs.

Blackbyrds Sign New Contract With Fantasy

LOS ANGELES — A long-term, exclusive recording contract with Fantasy Records has been signed by the Blackbyrds, who will begin work on the first album of the new deal in early February. Deodato is slated to produce the album with the Blackbyrds.

The Blackbyrds are no longer affiliated with Blackbyrd Productions and Donald Byrd, who formed the group in the early '70s and later brought it to Fantasy where the group has racked up three gold LPs and several hit singles, including "Walking in Rhythm," which received a Grammy nomination.

ABKCO Reports Loss

NEW YORK — ABKCO Industries Inc. reported last week that its revenues for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1979 fell to $8.1 million from $16.3 million in 1978. The company also reported a net income loss of $99,585, compared to a profit of $44,208 for the previous year.

In addition, the company's revenues in the fourth fiscal quarter, ended September 30, fell to $2.3 million from $10 million in 1978. ABKCO's earnings for the period resulted in a loss of $9,438, compared to a $176,571 drop for the comparable 1978 period.

For The Record

Due to a printing error, no photo credit was given for the portrait of the group Blondie which appeared on the cover of the Feb. 2 issue. The photographer was Norman Seeff; the design was by Andy Engel, with art direction by Billy Bass.

FUNK ALLEY — More than 150 people, including the usual Mr. Wiggles and Sir Nose lookalikes, pinned the tail on the funky at the Hollywood Star Lanes bowling alley on Jan. 28. The party was thrown by Casablanca in honor of the latest George Clinton concert concoction, "The Gloryhallastoopid" show, which was held the following four nights in succession at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium. The fete featured jugglers, fire eaters and mimes; while those who weren't satisfied with maggott brain could chow down on such delicacies as hot dogs and pop corn, served up by cart pushing barkers . . . To celebrate the first L.A. appearances by Chrysalis blue beat band The Specials, the label will decorate the Whisky with black and white checkered balloons and table clothes. The motif carries on in the tradition of the group's album graphics. Concertgoers are asked to come attired in black and white to the Feb. 8-10 shows.

UNESCO FETE — Roger Whittaker was the subject of a recent press party at the Beverly Hills Hotel on Jan. 25. The English A/C crooner was in town on the eve of his first American tour, which has been launched to support his 14th American RCA release, "Voyager." The internationally known singer also announced that he would put the words of the winner of UNESCO's "Children Helping Children" international song writing competition to music. Proceeds from the song, which Whittaker will record and debut at his October concerts in NYC, are to go to UNESCO's Education for Handicapped Children Program. Among the noted guests at the soiree was Lucio Attinelli, director of special events for UNESCO.

BULLET BOB RETURNS — The long overdue LP by Bob Seger, "Against The Wind," is scheduled for a late February release. Seger finished mastering the eagerly awaited waxing Jan. 29, and an advanced single is being rush released. The track due in mid-February is titled "Fire Lake," and rumor has it that Don Henley, Glen Frey and Tim Schmit handle the backing vocals.

JAMES JOINS PETERS — Trumpeter Harry James dropped in on MCA recording artist Bernadette Peters while she was recording her debut album. James cut a musical duet with the actress-singer, which will be on the LP. Peters (l) is pictured with James.

sell for the price of a single. Meanwhile, the working title of Jules' next effort is entitled "Bad For Business." The prolific Shear has 26 songs in the can for the upcoming LP.

A YEN FOR YELLOW BROADCASTERS — It seems that some members of Hollywood rock society, namely The Dickies and Van Halen, have developed romantic yearnings for two of L.A. most prominent electronic journalists. The Dickies, which has just released the riotous "Dawn Of The Dickies" LP, has pledged its love to Tricia Toyota (anchor on local KNBC-TV) by penning the classic "(In A Pagoda With) Tricia Toyota." Not to be outdone, however, is Van Halen lead singer David Lee Roth, who has said that he would pay vigil to Connie Chung (who handles the news on L.A.'s KNXT-TV) by sitting in a lotus position wearing only a black cowboy hat if he were given five minutes alone with her . . . Roth doesn't have any bizarre statements to make about the poster inside the new Van Halen LP, "Women And Children First," which is due out in early March. The poster was taken by photographer Helmut Newton, whose book "White Women" and fashion work in "The Eyes Of Laura Mars" film have stirred public controversy in the past.

ANARCHY IN THE FILM CAN — For those in need of a Sex Pistols fix and can't afford the import copy of the latest Public Image album "Metal Box," vindication is on the way. The two-record set, which currently comes in a metal film canister, will be released on Warner Bros. under the title "Second Edition" on March 1.

BEFORE AND AFTER SCIENCE — The Manhattan Transfer will be the featured performers at the 8th annual Histocompatibility Convention at the Bonaventure Hotel in Los Angeles on Feb. 8. The performance will cap a week long event that will play host to leading biologists from all over the world who will come together to discuss new field developments in such areas as organ transplants, genetic disorders and diseases, and bloodbanking. "An Evening of Appropriate Entertainment," which the Feb. 8 show is being tagged, will also boast such talent as new wave dandies Interpol, Tally Brown and master of ceremonies Timothy Leary.

S.F. DISCO GOES DOR — Once a bastion of disco in the Bay Area, The City has shifted gears, and on Jan. 31 the club opened its doors as San Francisco's newest new wave/rock 'n' roll dance club complex. DJ hosts Beverly Wilshire, Richard Gossett and Howie Klein (all formerly of X's new wave disco) will spin.

RIVIERA RECORD — Tony Orlando's SRO performance at Las Vegas' Riviera Hotel showroom on Jan. 19 set a house record for attendance. The previous record was jointly set by Kenny Rogers, Olivia Newton-John, Liza Minnelli and Steve Martin.

MCDONALD MONOPOLY — Although he can't be sued for anti-trust, blue eyed soul singer Michael McDonald can be heard on no less than five recently released albums. His velvety vocals can be heard on current releases by Nicolette Larson, Lauren Wood, Chris Cross, as well as the "Together" soundtrack and the Kenny Loggins smash "This Is It." McDonald, who will also be producing the new LP by Capitol recording artist Amy Holland, could be one of the reasons why the Loggins single has gone so high on the black contemporary chart . . . Paddy Faralla has departed her post of director of national press for Casablanca Records and Filmworks to pursue interests in video, music and film. She can be reached at (213) 761-1310.

GRAHAM PURCHASES OLD WALDORF — Rock impresario Bill Graham has extended his music business empire by buying one of San Francisco's most successful nightclubs, The Old Waldorf. The 600-seat venue was opened three years ago by Jeff Pollock. Graham said he plans no basic changes in the way the club has been managed, and Pollock and his staff will continue to run the famous Bay Area nitery.

FEATURE PICKS

THE KNACK (Capitol 4822)
Baby Talks Dirty (3:40) (Eighties Music/Small Hill Music — ASCAP) (D. Fieger, B. Averre)

Ready for 'The Big Knack Attack', Part II? Well, this first single from the band's forthcoming LP "... but the little girls understand" continues the same infectious staccato guitar rock groove as on "My Sharona," as well as the thundering drum rolls. Again, the lyrical content is imbued with sexual connotation, so preview before playing.

FOREIGNER (Atlantic 3651)
Women (3:25) (Somerset Songs Publishing Inc./Evansongs Ltd. — ASCAP) (M. Jones)

Foreigner should score its third direct single hit from the "Head Games" LP with this uncompromising piledriver of a rock song. Slashing lead guitars, courtesy of writer Mick Jones and Ian McDonald, lead the way into the hardcore boogie beat, with Lou Gramm's rough 'n' tumble vocals, for another pop, AOR winner.

HEART (Epic 9-50847)
Even It Up (3:45) (Strange Euphoria Music/Know Music — ASCAP) (A. Wilson, S. Ennis, N. Wilson)

Steamy lead guitar riffs pace the first single from Heart's upcoming "Bebe Le Strange" LP, punctuating the aggressively sensual lead vocals of Ann Wilson in fine fashion. The band's rhythm section holds the heavy bottom down nicely on this straight ahead boogie number, complemented by vigorous horn work on the finale. Hot rock for AOR, pop action.

PRINCE (Warner Bros. WBS 49178)
Why You Wanna Treat Me So Bad (Ecnirp Music Inc. — BMI) (Prince)

With "I Wanna Be Your Lover" still firmly ensconced in the Top 15 of the pop singles chart, multi-instrumentalist Prince comes with this swirling electronic pop/dance concoction. A multi-format killer, this number showcases falsetto lead vocals in front of powerful electric crescendos. Combo of hot lead guitar and striking keyboards makes this a winner.

CRYSTAL GAYLE (Columbia 1-11198)
It's Like We Never Said Goodbye (3:32) (Cookaway Music, Inc./Dejamus Music, Inc. — ASCAP) (R. Greenway, G. Stephens)

A strong, melodious hook and Gayle's sweet, supple vocals are the key elements here — which could make this track another crossover success along the lines of her last Top 20 single "Half The Way." Resonant piano and acoustic guitar roll along at a mid-tempo gait, backed by pop-symphonic strings. A solid pop A/C, C&W pick.

UTOPIA (Bearsville BSS 49180)
Set Me Free (3:09) (Unearthly Music, Inc./Fiction Music, Inc. — BMI) (Utopia)

Utopia, with techno wiz Todd Rundgren at the helm, has come up with its strongest pop single entry to date here. A bouncy keyboard and bass dominated beat rolls along at a catchy clip, as Kasim Sulton leads the strong vocals with sterling harmonies and backup assistance from the rest of the band. A frothy concoction aimed at Top 40.

PRETENDERS (Sire SRE 49181)
Brass in Pocket (I'm Special) (3:01) (Modern Publishing Ltd./Hynde House of Hits/ATV Music U.K.) (C. Hynde, J.H. Scott)

Pretenders lead vocalist Chrissie Hynde is quickly emerging as one of the bright new singer/stylists of 1980 and one listen to this track will show why. Her sly, sexy warbling and tremendous control on this distinctive R&B-infused pop/rock tune should make this #1 UK hit a pop, AOR smash on these shores as well.

THE GAP BAND (Mercury 76037)
I Don't Believe You Want To Get Up And Dance (Oops, Up Side Your Head) (3:29) (Total Experience Music Pub. Co. — BMI) (L. Simmons, R. Wilson, C. Wilson, R. Wilson, R. Taylor)

A swaying, downbeat instrumental groove, with a lilting, clicking backbeat, is joined by a truly catchy rap on this track from "The Gap Band II." Already receiving heavy B/C radio activity off the LP track, this is destined for crossover status. Watch for this one.

SINGLES TO WATCH

THE ROMANTICS (Nemperor ZS9 7527)
What I Like About You (2:56) (Forever Endeavor Music, Inc. — ASCAP) (Palmer, Marinos, Skili)

The Detroit-based Romantics blend the raw urgency of '60s rock groups, a la The Standells, with the quick ensemble pop of contemporaries like The Knack. Here, rough guitar chording is nicely mingled with new wavish vocals for a vibrant pop, AOR pick.

THE SEARCHERS (Sire SRE 49175)
It's Too Late (3:27) (Rockfield Music/Almo Music Corp. — ASCAP) (J. David)

After a long absence, The Searchers have re-grouped with two of the original members remaining. What they have delivered here is a truly contemporary pop-rock number with a breezy, infectious hook, aided by shakin' tambourine, zesty piano and guitar and tasty vocal trade-offs. A pop sleeper.

KEITH HERMAN (Radio RR 419)
Body Body (She Knows What To Do) (3:09) (Noble Son Music Corp. Ltd./Renmai — ASCAP) (K. Herman)

Herman's last single, "She's Got A Whole Number," from "The Next Song Is..." LP came on the low end of the Top 100 but this snakey, sexy rocker should take him even further. Herman's tough, gritty vocals will undoubtedly bring more AOR, pop play.

TARNEY/SPENCER BAND (A&M 2214)
Cathy's Clown (3:23) (Acuff-Rose Pub. Inc. — BMI) (D. Everly, P. Everly)

An eerie electronic opening moves into a unique electrified re-working of the Everly Brothers' classic hit. Arrangements here bear a startling resemblance to Cliff Richard's "We Don't Talk Anymore," penned by Allan Tarney. Choice pop, AOR pick.

JEFF CONAWAY (Columbia AE7-1196)
City Boy (3:58) (Laurel Canyon Music Ltd. — ASCAP) (P. Floyd, C.J. Ellis, M. Appel)

Jeff Conaway, co-star of the popular television series "Taxi," comes up with a bouncy urban pop/rock selection for the first single from his self-titled debut LP. The strong Springsteen influence here is supplied by Bruce's former manager, Mike Appel, who co-wrote and co-produced the record.

THE STONE CITY BAND (Gordy G 7179F)
Strut Your Stuff (4:00) (Stone City Music Company — ASCAP) (L. Ruffin, Jr.)

Rick James' Stone City Band steps out front on this single from their upcoming "In N' Out" LP. Polished funk is the order of the day with a bright chorus of female singers up front and gruff male vocalizing complementing. Horns, percussives and snakey bass and lead guitar make this exceptional B/C fare.

CLIFTON DYSON (Motown M 1482F)
Body In Motion (Want Your Body In Motion With Mine) (3:59) (Magic Lamp Music/Pretty P Music — ASCAP) (L. Harrington, C. Dyson, P. Harrington)

Previously released on the independent All-American label, this pulsating dance/R&B selection features the urgent vocals of Ronnie Dyson's brother Clifton, with scintillating female backup assistance. A powerful dance cut for B/C lists.

THE CONTROLLERS (Juana/TK JUX-3426)
We Don't (3:55) (Groovesville/Everynight — BMI) (J. Sahnwell, T. Tate)

A bright bed of strings, horns and easy drumming back this glossy ballad from The Controllers' "Next In Line" LP. Harold Melvin and The Blue Notes come to mind here, but this superior vocal ensemble is most definitely in a class of its own. For B/C lists.

RAINBOW (Polydor PD 2060)
All Night Long (3:49) (Thames Talent Pub., Ltd. — BMI) (R. Blackmore, R. Glover)

Blackmore and company crank it up loud on this hard 'n' heavy rocker from the "Down To Earth" LP. Guitar and bass attack on the hook and the gruff lead vocals will attack AOR play.

RUSH (Mercury 76044)
The Spirit Of Radio (3:00) (Core Music Publishing — CAPAC/ASCAP) (N. Peart, G. Lee, A. Lifeson)

Canadian power trio Rush is back with a tumultuous rocker from its recently released "Permanent Waves" LP that should strike an immediate chord within the radio community. Geddy Lee's high vocals and the band's electrically charged instrumental should click on AOR lists.

BEN E. KING (Atlantic 3635)
Music Trance (3:40) (Smiling Clown Music Pub. — BMI) (Ben E. King)

Veteran pop/R&B hitmaker Ben E. King strikes a highly danceable, funk-infested groove here, maintained by congas and various percussives as well as a thick bass line. King's tough vocals are given slick female backup assistance for a B/C, dance treat.

BOB WELCH (Capitol 4833)
Don't Let Me Fall (3:20) (Adel Music — ASCAP) (D. Adelstein)

Brad Palmer's funky bass comes to the fore on this second, jazz-inflected single from Welch's "The Other One" LP. Writer David Adelstein's lush keyboard work and Welch's soft, sinewy lead vocals could make this a pop, A/C sleeper.

RITCHIE ADAMS (MCA MCA-41182)
The Best Of The Rest Of Our Lives (3:51) (Silver Blue Music, Ltd.) (R. Adams, G. Nissenson)

Glistening piano and a crying guitar line open up this pop/A/C entry from newcomer Ritchie Adams, with a full, glossy production by veteran Joel Diamond. Adams' big tenor is given full rein on the heavily orchestrated crescendos.

LITTLE FEAT (Warner Bros. WBS 49169)
Wake Up Dreaming (3:40) (Streelights Music — ASCAP/Ayn Animus Music — BMI) (B. Payne, F. Payne)

The legacy of Little Feat lives on and this single from the latest and final LP, "Down On The Farm," is a testament to the group's talents at making lively, distinctive rock. Sharp guitar work meshes with bright piano for a sure pop, AOR pick.

KARLA BONOFF (Columbia 1-11206)
Baby Don't Go (3:17) (Seagrape Music/Valgovind Music — BMI) (K. Bonoff, K. Edwards)

Inigorating a cappella harmonies open up the third single from Bonoff's "Restless Nights" LP, moving into an easily paced, country-tinged pop number. Bonoff's rich vocals are accompanied by twangy guitar work. Recommended for pop, A/C and Country lists.

Foreigner

THE FORUM, L.A. — Although Foreigner's current LP, "Head Games," has not yet approached the high sales plateau of last year's "Double Vision" or its self-titled debut LP, the band's mostly teenage audience has neither diminished in size nor enthusiasm for the popular rock sextet. The vocal SRO crowd greeted the lads here recently, and aided by a superior sound system and an unceasing musical attack, the band put on a polished display of rock craftsmanship.

In a little over three years, Foreigner has racked up an impressive series of pop hits, all of which were performed to thunderous response. From "Feels Like The First Time," the band's first pop smash and still one of their biggest sellers, to the more recent "Head Games" and "Dirty White Boy," the group cranked out an endless array of smoking singles with nary a pause.

Led by the wiry presence of vocalist Lou Gramm, clenching and unclenching his fists with all the demonic energy his small frame could muster, and charismatic lead guitarist Mick Jones, the band surged into "Cold As Ice," "Hot Blooded" and "Double Vision" with unflagging intensity. What the band lacked in passion or dynamism they more than made up for in technical proficiency, as underscored by Ian McDonald's soaring flute solo during "Star Rider" and Jones' sharp, economic guitar work throughout the set. New bassist Rick Wills, longtime session player and veteran of such groups as Frampton's Camel and Roxy Music, has become well-integrated into the band's rhythm section, with drummer Dennis Elliott assisting on some tasty harmonies as well.

Rounding out the group, keyboardist Al Greenwood provided sparkling atmospheric fills during the few extended instrumentals the band played. With unique visual props such as the curtain of mammoth mirrors that were lowered during "Double Vision," the band's precise brand of power rock was nicely complemented rather than overshadowed.

Aerosmith

NASSAU COLISEUM, UNIONDALE, N.Y. — Aerosmith's brand of lavish kilowatt rock is made for the masses, and the group could do no wrong for an enthusiastic but orderly crowd of over 15,000, mostly teenage admirers.

Following the departure of founding member Joe Perry to pursue a solo career, Aerosmith is making its first tour with new lead guitarist Jimmy Crespo, formerly of Flame. The fans' acceptance of Crespo was immediate and unanimous, but the lion's share of their adulation was reserved for the androgynous heroics of lead vocalist Steve Tyler.

Sporting a flowing red shaman's robe over a striped yellow and black jester's suit, Tyler was the focal point throughout the show — a study in nasty insouciance. The band opened with "I Wanna Know Why," then got the crowd jumping with "Big Ten Inch Record." Crespo took his first solo on the exotic B.C. Rich flying cutaway guitar he used throughout most of the evening, giving the crowd a taste of things to come with an intense burst of workmanlike overdrive.

Rhythm guitarist Brad Whitford transmitted a barrage of thick chord textures with his Les Paul as the two guitarists kept throwing smoke through "Coney Island Whitefish Boy." Crespo was on time with the rolling signature lick on "Walk This Way," displaying the glamorous physicality essential to the Aerosmith format.

The arena went ecstatic for "Dream On," backed by shimmering drum dynamics from Joey Kramer. Tyler then led the boys into the propulsive, crowd-pleasing twelve-bar "Rats In The Cellar," before bringing on guest guitarist Richard Supa for a rousing "Chip Away."

Milking his raspy falsetto and a variety of vamping, mike-twirling poses, Tyler stirred up a frenzy on "No Surprise" and "Same Old Song And Dance," while "Lord Of The Thighs" featured hot soloing by Whitford and crying slide work from Crespo on a vintage Stratocaster.

"Let's give the critics something to talk about," Tyler challenged his legions, plugging his new LP, "Night In The Ruts," with screamers "Reefer Head Woman" and "Three Mile Smile," before wrapping up with "Milk Cow Blues" and "Toys In The Attic."

The Tubes

THE ROXY, L.A. — Featuring a mixture of the old and the new, A&M recording group The Tubes forsook its usual full-blown show for a more musically oriented set — and left little doubt that the band is just as strong with its music as it is with its showmanship.

Aside from one routine, when a fan from the audience was "KO'd" by Fee Waybill after an "assault" on the lead singer, the show was filled with nothing but singing and jamming. Although quite a different format from usual shows by The Tubes, the band proved that it is quite capable of handling a performance without the aid of its customary props, costumes and routines. In short, the music stood on its own merits.

Moving through a set that featured both the five "most requested" songs by the group and prospective cuts from an as-yet-untitled album tentatively scheduled for release in a couple of months, lead singer Waybill emerged as a top-notch performer, easily capable of carrying a show.

Waybill's torrid vocals, complemented by a sense of complete ease in running the show, kept the set moving at a pleasant pace. Throw in the rest of the band, playing with a smooth confidence in its own abilities, and the show was dynamite from the opening number to the Who medley, "Baba O'Reilly/The Kids Are Alright," that served as an encore.

In between, Waybill and the band ran through the most requested list that featured "White Punks On Dope" (what else?) as the top Tubes cut, followed by "Telecide," "I Was A Punk Before You Was A Punk," "No Way Out" and "Turn Me On," plus such cuts as "Dreams Come True," "How Can You Love A Girl Like That" and "Holy War" (dedicated to Ayatollah Khomeini) that are being considered for the upcoming album.

As evidenced by the rousing finish of the show, with much of the audience jumping and standing through "Telecide," "Mondo Bondage," "WPOD" and the Who medley, The Tubes gave their fans a different kind of show and pulled it off nicely.

The opening act, Lion, showed plenty of potential with a power style that certainly left the audience primed for The Tubes. The English quartet's lively set was highlighted by its first single, "Help Us," soon to be released on A&M.

the commission said, RKO knowingly filed inaccurate information regarding trade and barter transactions, failed to notify the FCC about an SEC investigation into the alleged misconduct of General Tire, concealed information and filed pleadings "designed to mislead the FCC."

FCC Commissioners Abbott Washburn, Robert E. Lee and James H. Quello dissented in the ruling. Washburn said "the connection between General Tire's misdeeds and RKO's broadcast service to the public . . . is tenuous at best." He would have preferred a solution where New England Television, a citizens group in Boston, was to take over WNAC-TV and upgrade its programming. "Sadly, the action does little but assure many more years of litigation in a proceeding that has already dragged on for 11 years," Washburn commented.

Quello called the decision one of "gross bureaucratic overkill."

Opinions of industry representatives were mixed. Erwin Krasnow, general counsel of the National Association of Broadcasters, was critical of the RKO ruling, saying, "The courts have held that the public interest is best served when broadcasters have a reasonable expectation of license stability. We agree with the three commissioners who concluded that it was most unfair to take away RKO's license." And following the Westinghouse ruling Krasnow was reported as saying, "Broadcasters will continue to be apprehensive when they have to depend on the votes of seven politically appointed commissioners." (The NAB board has declined to comment on the cases before studying the FCC decisions.)

Speculation among communications lawyers, however, was that the Westinghouse case indicates the RKO ruling was an exception, not a precedent to be followed often.

Metromedia's vice president for broadcasting, Tom Dougherty, said that while the RKO ruling "seems a very severe penalty," Metromedia should not be put in the same category. "We're not being investigated. We did report one of our non-broadcast divisions had made some questionable payments in the early '70s and Metromedia cooperated with the authorities in the prosecution of those who did it." But, he said, it was nothing like the "magnitude of RKO's problems." He anticipates the decision will have "no effect" on Metromedia in the future.

Publishers Look To The Future

Screen Gems' first projects of 1980 are already well underway with the addition of the songs of Off Broadway usa, a new band in the Cheap Trick mold, to a rock catalog that also features Boston, Queen, Bob Welch and Journey. In addition to Off Broadway usa, Screen Gems has also signed two other acts, Lisa Garber and Beth Nielsen, and Sill feels that the female singer/songwriters are the exception to the usual self-contained act rule. "My feeling is that both of these girls write material that is strong enough to be covered," says Sill.

Also projected for mid-1980 is a new album by The Rolling Stones, who have been publishing with Screen Gems since the "Sticky Fingers" LP. "The Stones have always been a consistent song seller for us," explained Sill. "And that's what the business needs to get back on its feet right now, a couple of supergroups like the Stones or The Beatles. It needs that kind of shot in the arm."

FOTOMAT CORP. SETS DEAL WITH WCI HOME VIDEO — Under a new, non-exclusive licensing agreement, WCI Home Video, a division of Warner Communications, Inc., is making available a package of ten feature length films to Fotomat for sale through its 3,800 retail outlets nationwide. Among the titles listed in the agreement are Superman, All The President's Men, Dirty Harry, The Exorcist, Hooper, Oh, God!, Deliverance, The In-Laws, Blazing Saddles and The Bugs Bunny/Roadrunner Movie. Prices on the videocassettes, which will be marketed through Fotomat's "Drive-Thru Movies" catalog, will range from $49.95 to $69.96 and will be available in both Beta and VHS formats. This new agreement now gives Fotomat a total of 160 titles and programs in its "Drive-Thru Movies" system.

COPYRIGHT TRIBUNAL DENIES NAB'S STAY ON ROYALTIES QUESTION — The Copyright Royalty Tribunal last week turned down a request by the National Association of Broadcasters (NAB) for a stay on its decision to apportion the $13 million in fees collected from cable systems across the country for a compulsory license to receive broadcast signals from television stations. The Tribunal had previously denied the claims of broadcasters for royalties from secondary transmissions of syndicated, sports and compilation programming. In its argument, the NAB contended that TV station programming should be considered under an "entire broadcast day" for copyright purposes, and that stations own rights to sports broadcasts and should be compensated for retransmission of syndicated programming. The Tribunal will ask the U.S. Court of Appeals to dismiss the NAB suit and will insist that until it issues a final ruling on the distribution of cable TV royalties, the court has no jurisdiction in the matter.

WARNER AMEX CABLE GAINS FIRST MAJOR CABLE FRANCHISE — Warner Amex Cable Communications, one of the nation's largest cable TV operators with an estimated 665,000 subscribers in some 29 states, won its bid for the cable TV franchise in Pittsburgh, Penn. last week. Under the terms of the bid, Warner Amex promised that it will offer subscribers up to 78 channels, including government and public access channels and the two-way interactive QUBE service now available in Columbus, Ohio. Also part of the deal was Warner Amex's promise to offer a low-cost security service.

BLACK ENTERTAINMENT CABLE TV NETWORK DEBUTS — A new Black Entertainment Television network, available to 6 million cable TV subscribers across the nation, recently debuted and will initially be broadcast, via satellite, on Friday nights. It is hoped to eventually expand to some 12 hours per day throughout, according to president Robert Johnson. BET, as it is known, is entirely ad supported. Last year, Tele-Communications Inc. bought a 20% interest in the privately-held network and at least 27 cable companies covering 350 markets have set plans to carry BET. Film distributors have also expressed interest in getting BET off the ground; but, significantly, the network could also be a major boon for record labels as a potential source of exposure for music-oriented programming featuring black recording artists in promotional videos. The Washington, D.C.-based firm is open to reviewing quality black programming for potential broadcast.

VIDEO ROYALTIES A HOT TOPIC AT MIDEM — The lingering question of copyright royalty payments on recording artists' videos was a hot topic at the 14th annual MIDEM festival in Cannes this year. According to published reports (Cash Box, Feb. 2), Peter Smits, acting secretary of the International Federation Of Popular Music Publishers (IFPMP), "The problem here is how are publishers going to license copyright material. This is still a matter of negotiation, but at the moment the video producers are not organized enough to go to them in a body and work out a satisfactory formula." Few independent video producers from outside of Europe made the trip to MIDEM this year, in light of the fact that the record industry recession of last year has also brought a drop in the number of promo videos commissioned this year. However, the independent video production industry in the U.K. is seemingly in better health than its cousin here, as British producers haven't been hampered nearly as much by the high costs of production as American producers have, and there is still a highly viable market overseas for music-oriented videos.

VIDEO CLIPS — Video Tape Network of N.Y. has acquired non-broadcast rights to Comedy Tonight, a 60-minute compilation of comedy sketches by the Chicago Hysterical Society. The program was taped live at Chicago's Banana Boat Club as the first comedy show produced specifically for the home video cassette market. It will also be aired through VTN's closed circuit college network of 650 affiliates and as a pay cable special. . . .

Jon Roseman Productions is scheduled to begin shooting on pop/R&B artist Chaka Khan, sans Rufus, for her upcoming Warner Bros. solo LP, "Clouds." The video shoot will take place in Los Angeles. In London, Roseman recently completed shooting videos for a new Buggles single, new Flying Lizards, a promo for the new Peter Gabriel LP and 10cc. The firm has also wrapped up work on a 30-second commercial for Neil Diamond's single, "September Morn." The single is on Columbia. . . . Keef Co. is currently in pre-production on a new video for Capitol recording group The Knack. The video features the L.A.-based group's just-released single "Baby Talks Dirty," from the forthcoming LP. . . . but the little girls understand" . . . Kramer/Rocklen shot new Warner Bros. group Pearl Harbor And The Explosions at Television Workshop in Los Angeles last week for a clip featuring the band's single "You Got It (Release It)". . . . Music business veterans Dennis Wood and Terry Rango have formed Raw Productions, a new video production company to specifically work within the 'Video Music' field. Formerly members of the We Five recording group, Wood and Rango have also produced a variety of albums in the past. The firm has purchased an MCI 24-track console and three Phillips LDK 10 video cameras to add to their existing inventory of audio/video equipment. They also have a remote mobile unit for shooting live concert performances. Raw Productions is located at 3021 Airport Ave., Santa Monica, Calif. 90045. The phone number is (213) 396-2112. . . . Video Planning, a new video production unit based in New York City, has opened its doors, and will be offering inexpensive broadcast quality video production in both ¾" and ½" formats. The firm specializes in shooting entertainers in performance. The firm's address is 888 Seventh Ave., N.Y.C., N.Y. 10019. The telephone is (212) 582-5006.

BOSTON HOME VIDEO SHOW DRAWS 1,000 — The New England Video Center in Boston, Mass. drew more than 1,000 people during the two days of its recent Home Video Show, as well as bringing in some $30,000 worth of sales. The show was held in conjunction with the store's first anniversary and representatives from major manufacturers of video hardware lines attended. Retailers may be interested in following a similar route as the New England Video Center, staging special price promotions on selected items and generally creating an open-house atmosphere to answer questions on video to customers who may be unfamiliar about specific products. And, according to Elayne Haggan, general manager of the store, "Dealers should make sure they stock sufficient quantities of smaller items, such as accessories, magazines, books and tape care kits." mike glynn & dennis garrick

M&K RealTime, dbx Demonstrate New Type Of Audio Recording

NEW YORK — M&K RealTime Records and dbx, Inc., a Newton, Mass.-based electronics firm, last week gave the initial demonstration here of recordings which combine the processes of digital tape mastering and dbx disc encoding.

The dbx encoding process utilizes linear compression to reduce the music signal from a digital master tape by one-half over the entire frequency spectrum, enabling the signal to be stored on a conventional vinyl disc. When the disc is played back through a dbx decoding unit, the signal picked up by the home phonograph cartridge is linearly expanded so that the dynamic range of the original master tape — 90db as opposed to the 60db now offered by audiophile recordings — is completely restored, according to dbx.

The essential technology for the system, which was debuted at the Winter Consumer Electronics Show in Las Vegas early last month (Cash Box, Jan. 19), was designed by David Blackmer, President of dbx, in the early seventies. Blackmer's key inventions were a true rms ("root mean square") detector — a device that constantly monitors a music signal's dynamic content — and a voltage-controlled amplifier, which responds to the rms detector's commands to increase or decrease amplitude levels during recording and playback. It was only last year, however, that dbx developed an affordable decoding unit compatible with existing home stereo equipment.

Leading the presentation at the Rockefeller Center Rainbow Room was Jerome E. Ruzicka, vice president of marketing and sales for dbx. Ruzicka gave a visual demonstration of the dbx system's dynamic range and noise-reduction capabilities by utilizing a real-time audio spectrum analyzer with a multi-color bar graph CRT display.

The recordings, performed by The Philharmonica Hungarica with conductor Zoltan Rozenyai, were on specially encoded discs produced by M&K RealTime. The musical selections were from Dukas' "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" and Bizet's "Carmen."

Only specially encoded disks can be decoded through the dbx unit, which retails for about $109 and can be connected to the tape monitor loop of most existing home amplifiers.

Audiophile Label Will Support Mahal LP, Tour

LOS ANGELES — Taj Mahal, currently on tour with the International Rhythm Band to support the release of his new Crystal Clear direct-to-disc recording "Live & Direct," is the subject of a joint promotional and marketing campaign in major U.S. markets by the audiophile label.

In conjunction with Mahal's performance Feb. 8 at Carnegie Hall in New York City, Crystal Clear is sponsoring an in-store appearance at Sam Goody's Manhattan outlet. The label has also set coop print advertising with the record retailer.

Radio Promos

According to Cathleen Chance of Crystal Clear, the label is also providing Mahal albums for on-the-air give-away promotions at radio stations WRUV in Burlington, Vt., KSAF in Kansas City, Mo., and WBNX in New York City. In addition, KSAF will be airing a remote broadcast of Mahal's concert at the Uptown Theatre in Kansas City.

In every city where Mahal plays, promotional albums will be distributed to progressive and black music format stations accompanied by a release suggesting recommended cuts for airplay.

RCA Acquires Films For Videodisc Catalog

NEW YORK — RCA has acquired 12 Charlie Chaplin films and five NBC specials, including "Victory At Sea," for its catalog of video disc programs. In making the announcement, Herbert S. Schlosser, executive vice president of RCA, said that the company planned to issue some 300 titles in the year after RCA begins to market its "SelectaVision" video disc. The initial marketing date is expected to be in the first quarter of 1981.

Noting that RCA has already licensed films from Paramount, Walt Disney Productions, Twentieth Century Fox, MGM, J. Arthur Rank and ITC for its video disc catalog, Schlosser said that the company is "negotiating for many more programs from television." He added that the rights for some television programs would be pre-bought for the discs before the programs were aired.

Pointing to the domestic record industry's sales figures of more than $4 billion for 1979, Schlosser said that there is a large potential market for video discs.

AUDIOPHILE LP REVIEWS

JANOS STARKER PLAYS VIRTUOSO MUSIC FOR VIOLIN-CELLO — Denon OX 7171-ND — Producer: Tamako Hashimoto — Distributor: Discwasher — List: 15.98

Digital recording is especially valuable in chamber music, where background noise must be held to a minimum. This recording also shows how expanded dynamic range and full capture of transients can enhance the sound of an individual instrument, particularly when it is played by a master like Starker (with tasteful accompaniment from pianist Shigeo Neriki). Neither Chopin's "Sonata in G minor, Op. 65," nor Schubert's "Sonatine in D major, Op. 137, No. 1" is a very memorable work; but the album is worth owning just for Cassado's superb — and seldom-heard — Suite per violoncello solo.

VIVALDI: THE FOUR SEASONS — Gunars Larsens, violin soloist; Festival Strings, Lucerne, Rudolf Baumgartner, conductor — Denon OX-7174-ND — Producer: Tamako Hashimoto — Distributor: Discwasher — List: 15.98

Inasmuch as these concertos are played by a group of only a dozen musicians on strings and continuo, they can be regarded as chamber works. And, once again, the Denon digital production does full justice to these small-scaled pieces, bringing out the sheen of the upper strings in the "spring" concerto and highlighting the harpsichord part in the "autumn" concerto. While Baumgartner's readings of these famous works are a bit on the restrained side, his tempos are impeccable, and Larsens is a perfect soloist in that he leads the ensemble without dominating it.

WHAT'S IN-STORE

TAPE NEWS — Fuji Corporation has announced its marketing plans for the new year. The company will be offering selective dealerships 5% co-op advertising and point of purchase promotion materials. Advertising will also be expanded beyond hi-fi periodicals to general interest publications. A special deal will be offered whereby the purchaser of two FL-90 minute audio cassettes will also receive a free push-button storage case that holds eight tapes (normally $6.95). In the area of blank video tape, Fuji will offer a complete set of point of purchase materials, including a plexiglass display case designed to sit on or behind the counter and hold 150 video cassettes. Each cassette will feature a plastic case and label, which should help to eliminate shedding problems. The company's slogan, "One brand fits all," forms the key thrust of the campaign which is aimed at demonstrating that customers who purchase quality audio tape from Fuji should also purchase video tape products from the same source.

CBS PROMOTIONS — A check with the CBS office in New York uncovered these promotional activities now in progress: WNEW-FM and J. & R. Music World conducting a Romantics contest in support of the groups' appearance at the Bottom Line on Valentine's Day. Contestants must submit a Valentine card to the store or radio station describing what they consider their most romantic thought. The contest will run from Feb. 1 to Feb. 8 with the winners chosen on the basis of originality. Grand prize will be a "romantic weekend" at the Playboy Club in Great Gorge, N.J. and a pair of tickets to the group's concert. Second prize will be a holiday dinner, again with free tickets to the show. There will also be 100 runner-up prizes of Romantics LPs . . . Another contest is being run by WKTU and the seven Discomat stores to promote the latest George Duke album, "Master of the Game." In this case, entrants must guess how many keyboards Duke plays on his album. The grand prize here is a weekend trip for two to Game City in Atlantic City, N.J. Twenty-five runners-up will receive the latest CBS albums by Duke, Cheryl Lynn, Jean Carn and Webster Lewis.

RCA-MILLENNIUM PUSH — Millennium Records is now involved in a major thrust behind the latest Bruce Cockburn LP and single. The first phase of the campaign was aimed at pre-release awareness. Five thousand teaser postcards were printed for distribution to the press, radio, colleges and retailers. The cards featured the question, "Who is Canada's best kept secret?" with the retail cards' answer reading, "Ask your local RCA sales representative." Other merchandising and marketing aids include a large poster of Cockburn and a special bio on the artist. The second stage of the promotion is now underway. Two half-hour radio specials, also in LP form, have been produced featuring the album and interview with Cockburn. The specials, which are being aired in early February over the Thirsty Ear syndicate of 50 college radio stations, will be supported by some 10,000 posters and flyers. Budweiser, which is sponsoring the broadcasts, will also participate in the third marketing phase — listening parties at colleges in the top 20 U.S. markets.

RUSH CONTEST — Lieberman Enterprises is initiating a national Rush display contest through its eight local branches. First and second place store winners will be selected in each branch, with a $100 prize going to each winner and $50 to each runner-up. SAM THE MAN GETS GOLD — MCA recently honored the Sam the Record Man chain with gold records for helping to push MCA recording group Trooper's "Hotshot" album to quadruple platinum in Canada. Pictured are (l-r): Gail George, Sam's; Randy Lennox, MCA Distributing sales representative; John McBride, Sam's; George Burns, vice president of MCA Distributing in Canada; Sam Sniderman, owner of Sam's; and Mike McKelvie, MCA Distributing branch manager.

"Video Killed The Radio Star." According to Andon, the plan resulted in extensive airplay for the single and gave the label's salesmen a persuasive story to tell their accounts in advance of the album's U.S. shipping date.

At Warner Brothers, Regeher was confronted with the inviting prospect of exploiting the success of another British artist — '60s star Marianne Faithfull, whose Island LP, "Broken English," is currently climbing the charts. Noting that the record was slow to take off, Regeher said, "Broken English" is kind of a stunner-shocker, a night and day divorce from what she was doing in the '60s." The label is now re-servicing the LP as if it were a brand new release, while simultaneously conducting an extensive press campaign featuring clippings in which "Broken English" was greeted with critical acclaim. According to Regeher, Faithfull is also set for a coveted appearance on the "Saturday Night Live" television show, and Warner Brothers hopes to arrange special performance dates in the New York area to coincide with her TV date.

Re-developing the career of a once-popular performer can present a unique challenge, as in the case of MCA recording artist Brenda Lee, whose 1950's hits included "Sweet Nothings" and "I'm Sorry." The approach to promoting Lee's current LP, "Even Better" is centered around "developing her back into the country artist she once was," according to Bullard.

Leslie Named

potential of the recorded music operation, coupled with its leading worldwide distribution network, creative and marketing organization and manufacturing capabilities, make the Records Group the perfect home for the new division."

Yetnikoff added, "Cy Leslie has demonstrated the vision, leadership and management skills which are vital ingredients in the success of Video Enterprises. As founder and Chairman of the Board of Pickwick International, Inc. from 1953 to 1977, when it was merged with the American Can Company, he developed marketing and distributing concepts which have become integral parts of the industry today. He was the architect who helped build Pickwick International from start-up to $500 million a year in sales and made it the largest merchandiser and retailer of recorded music in the world."

Rich Background

Leslie is a 1945 graduate of Syracuse University and a 1971 graduate of the Advanced Management Program of the Harvard Graduate School of Business. He received an Honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters from Hofstra University in 1974 and the George Arendts Pioneer Medal for Excellence in Business from Syracuse University in 1978.

Leslie is a member of the board of the AVX Corp., the Harvard Business School Club of New York and the advisory board of Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. He is a member of the board of trustees and a vice president of the American cancer research Center. He is also a member of the Harvard Club, ASCAP, the NAACP, the Syracuse University Council and Hofstra University Council.

Leslie has received numerous industry and civic awards, which include the Presidential Award from the National Association of Recording Merchandisers in 1976. He was named "Man of the Year" by the City of Hope (Music Industry Division) in 1975.

Leslie is currently chairman of Leslie Group, Inc. a private investment firm.

New Talent

At the other end of the spectrum, developing young rock 'n' roll bands like Polydor's the Jam, the Inmates, 3D and 999 calls for creating a "grass roots" teenage audience for them, said Jaffee. Pointing out that these bands have the resiliency to adapt to rigorous, carefully budgeted tours which will garner them maximum exposure, Jaffee remarked: "If radio feels they just want to continue playing records made by people 30 years or older, we will create a demand for these hands on the lower levels and make it through the '80s." With an established performer like Roy Ayers, Jaffee said, the label's objective is "to broaden his audience and to have certain input about where he's playing."

Widening the audience for an already known quantity is an important part of artist development. In the case of AC/DC, the Atlantic hard rock act, the label "stuck with" the group, Cooper said, and was rewarded with strong sales for their latest LP, "Highway To Hell." Sometimes, though, a group has to be taken back to the drawing board. When City Boy's first album did not meet with the expected success, the record company sat down with the group, had them listen intensively to the radio, and "moved their thoughts" about where to take their sound in the future, according to Cooper.

Traditional Techniques

Traditional promotion techniques still figure prominently in the plans of artist development executives. Elektra capitalized on the high-flying success of Lenny White's single, "Peanut Butter," with the obvious effective distribution of peanut butter cookies and other goodies, Hammerman said. The label has nurtured the popularity of the Eagles' hit album, "The Long Run," with a major giveaway tie-in to a popular brand of running shoes. But for an artist like Danny Kortchmar ("Danny Kooch"), who is well-known but doesn't have a current hit, development is likely to take the form of more immediate, essential aids: "Rehearsal space, musicians, roadies — anything we can throw at him, we will," Hammerman said, adding that he hopes to hook up Kortchmar with Linda Ronstadt's next tour.

All the executives in the Cash Box survey felt that artist development departments will continue to be important as the glue that holds together many other record company functions.

"Artist development only works effectively when all the other departments that are necessary for the product's success are working," said Andon. "When you have a band that can generate reaction from the press, and you have the creative juices flowing in terms of album cover, radio spots and print ads — that's when artist development can really sink its teeth into it. We're planning more emphasis on artist development in the future, as trends develop and change, the company as a whole has to change with them — and it will always involve artist development."

CBS Midlines

The third part of the operation, said Mooney, will be to gather information about material contained in the CBS archives so that judgements about possible reissues can be facilitated. Mooney added that, "specifically with regard to jazz reissues, we intend to work as partners with our accounts, particularly where there are jazz mavens, and to let them be a part of it."

Mooney added that the retailers have responded to the line with such enthusiasm that in some instances some have created separate sections for the midlines to be "a permanent part of the store."

rhythmically very loose, thanks to bassist Ed Schuller and the windswept drumming of Pheeroan ak Laff . . . Elvin Jones, that most influential of modern drummers, returned to the Village Vanguard with a new quintet, highlighted by featured saxophonist Andrew White of Washington, D.C. . . . and Sun Ra led his intergalactic tent show into the Bottom Line for two exciting shows. The addition of drummer Warren Smith gave Sun Ra a firmer, more flexible rhythmic pulse to work with and the band responded with one of their hottest sets in recent memory, much to the delight of celebrities like Bill Cosby and rock guitarist Robert Fripp.

ANDY NARELL'S STEEL DRUM DREAMS — The New York-born Narell has been seeing chart action lately with his new Inner City album, "Hidden Treasure," which is more like what fusion music should be — a bright, melodic, rhythmically active mixture of sounds that is geared towards what the players enjoy doing, not what they pray will sell. But with airplay on over 70 stations throughout the country, Narell seems likely to gain a good deal of recognition with a music that features a most unusual instrument for jazz, the steel drums. "My father was a social worker," Narell told Cash Box, "and he used to hire steel bands as a community worker on the lower East Side of New York. One day he brought some home for me and my brother and that was it. I was hooked." Though Narell took some lessons early on, and learned some calypso music from Ellie Mannette of Trinidad (the father of modern steel drums), he is basically self-taught. "I'm pretty much following my own road as far as the music I play. I play piano and had pretty extensive studies in Bach and the Baroque eras up through Debussy, Stravinsky and Bartok. And I listened a lot to people like Herbie Hancock, Chick Corea, Joe Zawinul, Bud Powell and Art Tatum. I also love people like the Art Ensemble of Chicago, and what I'm trying to do is synthesize what I know about steel drums, piano and world musics — Afro-Caribbean, Latin, Brazilian, gamelan, and folk musics from the Celtic to American — into a growing musical form." The sound of Narell's steel drum is ringing and felicitous, a happy sound that is especially pleasing when doubled with the sound of a piano or a modified Fender/Rhodes Electric Piano. "What you hear me playing on the record are a soprano steel drum for the leads and a pair of tenor steels for harmonies. There are roughly five ranges of steel drums from bass to soprano, and I think they have a tremendous potential in modern music. People like Ellie have refined the tuning to such a degree that you get the fundamental pitches and all sorts of upper harmonies, so its very percussive but also very musical, not at all like a barrel. People like Beaver Harris, Jaco Pasterius, Monty Alexander, and Ralph MacDonald have made very good use of steel drums on records, and New York street musicians like Victor Brady have been doing it in public for years. You'll be hearing a lot more steel drums in the future." With a featured performance in a Schaeffer Beer commercial, his work with Patrick Gleeson and Bernie Krause on the soundtrack to "Apocalypse Now" and a fine debut album, you'll be hearing a lot more from Andy Narell, too.

CLASSICAL CLIPS

other things. Although the classical station has run this promotion for several years, the coupons were formerly included in KFAC's bimonthly program guide, "The Guild Listener." Now they will be mailed out six times a year during the months in which the program guide does not appear. "We thought our listeners would react better to separate mailings," explained Arliss Goodman, director of promotion and advertising for KFAC.

Among the upcoming events featured on the station's "cultural coupons" are concerts by pianists Lazar Berman, Rudolf Buchbinder and Oxana Yablonskaya, as well as performances by the Los Angeles Chamber Orchestra and the Los Angeles Philharmonic. Discounts are also offered on films and dance and theatre presentations. In addition, Listener Guild members, who pay dues of $20 annually, are entitled to discounts on opera tours to San Francisco, New York and Australia, as well as a 40% discount on new LPs that are featured on the Sunday afternoon program, "The Listeners Guild Hour."

According to Chuck Hoffmeister, director of operations for Tower Records' Classical Annex in Hollywood, which gives a $1.00 discount to coupon-holders on each purchase of non-sale items, "just a few" coupons have been submitted to his store in the two weeks since they were mailed out. But Rick Woodward, manager of the Classics Unlimited store in Pasadena, said that the response to the coupon program has been good, and that he would continue to advertise with KFAC on an ongoing basis. He acknowledged that part of the reason for the success of the coupons is that he is offering $2.00 off on each purchase. "On a $6.00 item," he noted, "that's a sizeable discount."

AVANT GARDE RETROSPECTIVE

— The Graduate Liberal Studies Program at Wesleyan University in Middletown, Ct. will offer a Summer Choral Institute of Contemporary Music, under the direction of Neely Bruce, from July 1 to Aug. 15, 1980. To be featured are major choral works commissioned by Bruce's experimental vocal ensemble, the Wesleyan Singers, since 1975. Among them are works by Christian Wolff, Pauline Oliveros, Gerald Shapiro, James Fulkerson, and John Watts, all of whom will be in residence for part of the summer. Meanwhile, the Wesleyan Singers will perform Wolff's "Wobbly Music" on February 3 at Harvard, under the auspices of the Fromm Foundation . . . On Jan. 27, the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre's Repertory Company in Minneapolis bowed William Bolcom's full treatment of John Gay's "The Beggar's Opera," which is his completion of a half-length version by Darius Milhaud, dating from 1937. Bolcom's wife, mezzo-soprano Joan Morris, performed the role of Polly Peachum.

announce the competition, which is called "Children Helping Children," Whittaker said, "I know we have lots of talented young people in the world today, and this is an opportunity for them to display it while helping needy kids at the same time." He estimated that the single could generate as much as $10 million if he were to record it in several different languages, which he said was a distinct possibility. Monies derived from the record will go directly to UNESCO's Education for Handicapped Program, which provides schooling for blind, deaf, crippled, and other children requiring special education throughout the world.

Commenting on the program, Robert Summer, president of RCA Records, said, "We are delighted that Roger has come up with this concept and that UNESCO is sponsoring this international competition. We feel that because of Roger's worldwide popularity, the contest will be an unqualified success."

Music In Memphis Growing; Future Elvis Fests Planned

by Jennifer Bohler

MEMPHIS — The past year has seen an increased interest in the music industry in Memphis, due partly to the formation of the Music Industry of Memphis (MIM), as well as to a number of music festivals spotlighting Memphis music and the recent renovation of Sun Studio. While MIM is attracting interest from within the music industry, festivals scheduled for August are drawing attention to Memphis' past and attracting thousands of fans to the music-rich city.

MIM was formed in March 1979 to promote the various music interests in Memphis. Cash Box recently talked with David Porter, president of MIM, about the organization and its goals to re-establish Memphis as one of the hubs of the music industry.

"We have definitely noticed an increased interest in the Memphis music industry since the formation of MIM," noted Porter. "Since last year there have been a lot of positive things happening. Memphis is the home of Anita Ward (who scored big in 1979 with her disco/pop hit, "Ring My Bell"). Of course the organization didn't cause the record to be a hit, but we made a concerted effort to support it in any way we could. Our organization is a base of support for the music industry here. The feeling is more positive now than it has been in some years."

Demise Of Stax

The demise of Stax Records in the early '70s was something of a setback for the Memphis music industry. According to Porter, the general feeling was that there was nothing musically happening in Memphis.

"People took their beds and walked, so to speak," Porter said of the folding of the legendary Stax label. "For a while, it was a big shock — nobody was doing anything. But it wasn't long before people started working at it again. Now the feeling is we can do it — all over again — we will do it all over again. People are creating again. You've got talents like the Bar-Kays saying 'we're not going anywhere else because it's all here in Memphis.' I think what Memphis once represented is only a fraction of what it will come to represent.

"There's a new breed of talent happening, and the old breed of talent is more dedicated than it has ever been. There is a definite, positive attitude that we can recapture what Memphis once represented in the music field."

Historically, Memphis is known as a predominantly R&B city, but Porter contends that the new industry will be representative of all facets of music — from pop to R&B to country. Educating the music industry in Memphis to these different fields of music is part of MIM's function. The organization holds monthly meetings, which feature speakers from different areas of the industry. Porter added that the organization is also planning a variety of educational seminars, which are presently in the formative stages.

A nationwide membership drive is also on the agenda. The MIM currently boasts some 100 members, as well as a 15-member board of governors, including: Porter, David Porter Productions; Cordell Jackson, president of Moon Records; John Fry, owner, Ardent Studios; Lester Snell, arranger/producer; Edgar Mathews, music director for Evelyn "Champagne" King; Warren Wagner, Shoe Productions; Bill Frulla, attorney; Rusty Jones, ASCAP; Jerry Smith, BMI; Harold Streibich, attorney/publisher; Evelyn Graves, publisher; Estelle Axton, past owner of Stax Records, president of Fretone Records; Judd Phillips, Sunshine Management; Bob

Jones, Wynette Together Again

NASHVILLE — George Jones and Tammy Wynette are back together again, at least on record, according to an announcement made at a press conference held at Wynette's home last week. Present at the announcement were Wynette, Jones, Paul Richey (Jones' manager) and George Richey, Wynette's husband.

It was also announced that Jones has signed with the Jim Halsey Agency in Tulsa and his future performances include duets with Wynette on the Tonight Show and in concert and appearances by the duo on Johnny Cash's upcoming "25th Anniversary Special."

It has been over two years since Jones and Wynette recorded together. The single just recorded, written by Wynette, was recorded in Muscle Shoals, Ala. and is scheduled for immediate release with an album to follow. Jones will also return to the studio shortly for more recording as a solo artist.

THE COUNTRY COLUMN

NEW KID ON THE BLOCK — George Burns' first single for Mercury is currently making its way up the Cash Box Country Singles chart, while Burns himself is making a bit of history in Hollywood. The perennially young entertainer recently had his hand, foot and cigar prints implanted in cement outside Mann's Chinese Theatre in Hollywood. Appropriately, Burn's prints are next to those of his old friend, Jack Benny.

When Warner Bros. Records hosted a listening party for Gail Davies Jan. 16 at Woodland Studios in Nashville, two of Gail's special guests were Boudleaux and Felice Bryant, a couple of legends in the music business. Davies' was pleased to meet the veteran songwriters, especially since she included one of Boudleaux's songs on her self produced/arranged album.

George Burns

Was that Heli's Angels in our parking lot a couple of weeks ago? No, just the local team of RCA Evel Knievels and a batch of honest-to-gosh Shriners dropping off Ray Stevens' debut single for the label, appropriately titled "Shriners' Convention."

Within a three-week period, Ronnie Prophet is scheduled to host three telethons: Jan. 26-27, the two-day "Make A Miracle" telethon in Winnipeg; Feb. 2-3 a telethon for the Northern Alberta Crippled Children's Fund in Edmonton; and Feb. 16-17 he'll be in Vancouver, B.C. where he'll be hosting the three-hour country segment of the 21-hour Vancouver Variety Club's telethon, which benefits disabled children.

COULD THERE BE A NEW TREND? — Award Records' artist Neal James said his latest release, "Georgia Cowboy," was inspired by observing the musical trend at the University of Georgia in Athens. James, who is a regular club performer in Athens, noted that most of the UGA boys have discarded their collegiate style of dress in favor of western attire, replete with boots and Levis. He says they have even traded in their sports cars for pickup trucks and chewing tobacco.

Nana Mouskouri was reunited with the man she claims "discovered" her when she and Harry Belafonte teamed up for an appearance with the Montreal Symphony Orchestra. The $125-a-plate fundraising endeavor for the Montreal Symphony was also a tribute to Mouskouri's manager Sam Gesser in honor of his 50th birthday.

Bill Anderson made a cameo appearance on ABC-TV's Family Feud last week. Anderson was in town taping Password Plus and Match Game.

Our best wishes go to Shorty Lavender, president of the Shorty Lavender Talent Agency, who is recovering after undergoing surgery earlier this year.

A host of country music artists, including Kenny Rogers, Lynn Anderson and Leigh Grady will join Bob Hope in the dedication ceremonies of the Bob Hope Crippled Children High School in Port Arthur, Tex. These artists also helped raise $750,000 for the school during a telethon last March.

Chisal Childs hosted the Grapevine Opry's fifth anniversary show Jan 25.

Crystal Gayle was named Honorary Ambassador of Goodwill for the state of Louisiana by Lieutenant Governor James Fitzmorris. In ceremonies held at the Superdome in New Orleans, Gayle was also presented with the key to the city, and made an honorary citizen of that city by Mayor Ernest N. Morial. The ceremonies coincided with an announcement that Gayle, as well as Willie Nelson and others, will perform a special Mardi Gras concert at the Superdome Feb. 18.

MUSIC IN THE '80s — What will be the trend? Dr. Roger O. Blackwell, professor of marketing at Ohio State University and one of the country's leading experts on cultural and marketing trends, believes that country music will be the music of the '80s. He points out that Americans are weary of the frenetic pace of city life and are yearning for the peace and quiet of the country. It must be so. Even Rona Barrett has made some predictions about country music in the '80s. She cited a trend for filmmakers to use country music subjects or artists in many films which will be released in the early part of the decade, and added that there is speculation that country music might become Hollywood's disco sound for the 1980s.

Add one more event to the ever-growing number of country music festivals in Europe. Drew Taylor of the Drew Taylor Organization Ltd., England, was recently in Nashville finalizing plans for the first country music festival in Edinburgh, Scotland. Artists for the show, which will be held at the Royal Highland Showground Aug. 22-23, are still being secured.

Congratulations to Rosanne (Cash) and Rodney Crowell, proud parents of a seven pound, seven ounce girl. The little tyke will carry the name of her famous grandfather's (Johnny Cash) mother — Caitlin Rivers Crowell.

Hank Snow was in our nation's capitol last week, enlightening the politicians on the plight of America's abused children.

Roy Clark will guest host "The Tonight Show" Feb. 18 when Johnny takes a breather.

Joe Sun is pretty hot in Sweden. Accolade upon accolade was lavished on the singer when he was selected "Country Artist of the Year," "Most Interesting New Country Act," and his "Old Flames" LP was selected country LP of the year.

Our best wishes and hopes for a speedy recovery go to singer Bill Wence, who was recently hospitalized after collapsing from exhaustion on his latest tour.

The Shoppe, a group whose by-line is "country music at its hysterical best," has signed with Rainbow Sound, Inc. of Dallas. Rainbow will release a single written by members of The Shoppe this month with an album to follow.

ON THE ROAD — Country artists are gearing up for those winter dates on the road. Nat Stuckey has a number of scheduled dates in February. . . The Oak Ridge Boys are currently on their first headlining tour. . . Joe Sun is on tour with the Oaks and in February he has scattered dates across the U.S., and the latter part of March and the first of April. Sun will be in Europe. . . Likewise for the Kendalls. . . George Hamilton IV is touring New Zealand, Australia, and Europe. . . Shaun Nielson began a three week engagement at Nashville's Carousel Club Jan. 14.

Roy Clark has been named artist in residence at Longwood Collegé in Farmville, Va. The position was created to honor Clark as a native son. As artist in residence, Clark will make yearly appearances at the college to address various departments of the student body. In addition, the Southside Community Hospital of Farmville has named its recently completed wing "The Roy Clark Memorial Treatment Center." The name Roy Clark is also carried on a Tulsa elementary school and the Skiatook, Okla. airport.

Tennessee Governor Activates New Film, Tape And Music Commission

NASHVILLE — In order to attract more film and television production business to Tennessee, Governor Lamar Alexander has activated a Film, Tape and Music Commission. The commission is chaired by David Martindale and run by Diana Deweese, who carries the title of Film, Tape and Music production consultant.

Well-known as a business leader in Tennessee, Martindale is president of Martindale, Exum and Associates, Inc., which is a construction, development and investment firm. He holds membership in the Exchange Club, and serves on the Chamber of Commerce Legislative and Membership Committees.

Deweese has an extensive background in graphics design, advertising, public relations and film promotion work. She has represented more than 20 artists as a freelance agent and is a former vice president of the Florida Motion Picture and Television Assn., South Chapter, Miami. She has held an art director position with Cine Tech, Inc., Miami, and served as sales representative for Media Equipment Center of Memphis, which is a motion picture supply house.

In her new position, Deweese will coordinate location scouting, film shooting permits, arrangements for crews and services and promotion work for film and television.

To introduce Martindale and Deweese to the music community of Nashville, Tandy Rice, president of Top Billing, Inc. hosted a reception for more than 100 music executives at CBS' recording studio.

Noted Rice, "The activation of Tennessee's Film, Tape and Music Commission is a huge step towards expanding opportunities in the state's music industry. Any step towards the advancement of Nashville and Tennessee is a definite plus for country music and all of us involved."

CMA Board Initiates Employment Service

NASHVILLE — Acting on a recommendation made by its board of directors in January, the Country Music Association is currently initiating an Employment Information Service to serve companies and individuals in the music industry. Mergers and other industry changes have resulted in the displacement of some experienced and qualified individuals. CMA wants to make information about these people available to all music industry employers. Persons seeking employment in various phases of the industry may obtain a transmittal form from CMA, which they must fill out and return to the organization's offices.

A copy of the employment service transmittal form has been mailed to every CMA member in the February 1980 issue of CMA Close-Up. Others wishing forms should send a self-addressed stamped envelope to CMA Employment Information Service, P.O. Box 22299, Nashville, Tenn. 37202. All forms and resumes will be kept on file for three months. (CMA does not screen the applications or make recommendations); the Employment Information Service is not an agency service, and no fees are involved.

Employers interested in reviewing the files or receiving copies of all pertinent applications should contact Joan Dickson, coordinator of administrative services for CMA at (615) 244-2840.

Sanborn Opens Bull Run Studio

NASHVILLE — Sanborn Productions Corp. recently announced the opening of Bull Run Studio, a 24-track mobile unit based on 30 acres of land 15 miles outside of Nashville.

According to Scott Getlin, marketing and public relations head for the company, the main complex offers the 24-track mobile unit, a recording studio, two rehearsal studios and facilities to house up to six guests. Located on the Cumberland River, the resort has its own fishing pond and water skiing facilities, with future plans calling for a tennis court to be installed.

Getlin added that the complex is capable of conducting "the smaller more intimate showcases," and will be equipped to cater the gatherings.

Sanborn's Credits

Sanborn Productions in the past has worked with Waylon Jennings, Lynn Anderson, Tanya Tucker, George Thorogood and the Destroyers, John Stewart, Parliament/Funkadelics, Paul Butterfield and Rick Danko of The Band.

The Studio is staffed with its own engineers — Gregory Edward, formerly with Caribou Recording Studio, and Carl Frost, who is also president of Sanborn — but Getlin stressed that artists wishing to utilize the studio can bring in their own engineers.

Brown Honored By Tenn. Governor

NASHVILLE — John (Bud) Brown, a 30-year veteran of the music business and vice president and general manager of Acuff-Rose Publications, Inc. here, was named Honorary Colonel of Tennessee by Governor Lamar Alexander. The event, which came as a complete surprise to Brown, took place in the Governor's office.

Wesley Rose, president and co-owner of Acuff-Rose, commented that Brown had played a vital part in building and keeping the company together through the years, but that he remained in the background, seldom receiving the recognition he deserved.

Radio Seminar's Policy Bans Individual Promo

NASHVILLE — The Country Radio Seminar has again adopted a strict policy banning individual promotion activities throughout this year's event, scheduled for March 14-15 at the Hyatt Regency here.

The policy has been in effect since the seminar's inception in 1969, and includes the banning of promotional displays, handouts, and any activities involving the marketing of a specific product, such as a particular record or record company, radio station or broadcasting firm.

Radio Agenda

"This is a radio agenda and not a record industry function," noted Joe Casey, record/music industry chairman for the 11th annual seminar. "This year's agenda, and the original purpose for the seminar speak for themselves. The seminar is not a party and we do not allow hospitality suites. This is a learning experience and a time of sharing vital information. If everyone attends the sessions, they will come away a lot more educated."

The deadline for advance registration is Feb. 15. Registration forms should be sent to: Country Radio Seminar, P.O. Box 120548, Nashville, Tenn., 37212. Printed matter and/or other station promotional materials should be mailed to: Frank Mull, Mull-Ti-Hit Promotions, 50 Music Square West (604), Nashville, Tenn. 37203. Deadline for printed matter is Feb. 15.

THE SUPER BOWL ALL OVER AGAIN — The Super Bowl is known for spawning some very interesting wagers. The bet between Pittsburgh's WEEP and Los Angeles' KLAC was no exception. Each station was sure of its own home team and, figuratively speaking, "put their money where their mouth is." WEEP wagered 57 varieties of products made by the Pittsburgh-based Heinz Company, while KLAC put up jams and jellies from Knott's Berry Farm, located just outside of L.A. We all know the outcome of that wager. Pictured with their loot are (l-r): Barry Mardit, WEEP assistant PD; Jonathan and Terry Rhodes, WEEP morning air personalities; Joel Raab, WEEP PD; and Chuck Frank, Heinz area manager.

ALBUM REVIEWS

YOU CAN GET CRAZY — Bellamy Brothers — Warner/Curb BSK 3408 — Producer: Michael Lloyd — List: 7.98

The brothers Bellamy fared quite well with their last waxing, and this one should secure their spot as one of country music's leading vocal duets. The songs (most of which were written by Howard and/or David) are a nice blend of honky tonkers and beautiful country ballads, with lots of steel guitar thrown in for good measure. Country programmers should particularly note the title track, as well as "Fast Train Out Of Texas" and "Dancin' Cowboys."

TRIBUTE TO HANK WILLIAMS — The Drifting Cowboys — Standing Stone SSDC 1234 — Producer: George Lewis — List: 11.98

Who better to do a tribute to Hank Williams than his own Drifting Cowboys? This double album set includes 10 standard and 11 inspirational tunes made popular by Williams. As an added bonus, between cuts the Cowboys talk about the songs and Williams. As far as the music, they do a more than ample job covering such hits as "Your Cheatin' Heart," "You Win Again" and "I Saw The Light." This album should be a popular add for traditional country stations.

CRYING — Stephanie Winslow — Warner/Curb BSK 3406 — Producer: Ray Ruff — List: 7.98

Winslow and mentor Ray Ruff have put together an attractive debut package for the California songbird. Winslow's lilting vocals are suited for the predominantly ballad selections included on this album. A double dose of pedal steel makes this a solid country outing. Notable selections include "Oh Mister," "I've Been A Fool" and the title cut.

SUNRISE — Orion — Sun 1017 — Producer: Shelby S. Singleton, Jr. — List: 7.98

Mystery man Orion has made a name for himself in the music world because of his uncanny vocal resemblance to Elvis Presley. In this, his second album, the singer could very well be mistaken for Elvis. The vocal similarities coupled with the ambience surrounding Orion make for a good promotional package. Adventurous programmers should note the cuts "You Can't Judge A Book," "Turn Around Look At Me" and "Baby You Got It."

SINGLES REVIEWS

BRENDA LEE (MCA 41187)

The Cowgirl And The Dandy (3:33) (House of Gold — BMI) (B. Goldsboro)

A positively incredible song that is certain to take the charts by storm. Some of the most interesting lyrics to be heard in quite some time make this a vintage song in Nashville.

DON KING (Epic 9-50840)

Lonely Hotel (2:53) (Blackwood/Vector — BMI) (K. Stegall-S. Harris)

This is Don's first release for CBS and it sounds like he is a potential superstar. It'll send goose bumps all over you as he sings this smooth, easy number.

CAROL CHASE (Casablanca CW 4502)

Sexy Song (3:23) (Palomino — BMI) (M. Brown-S. Dorff-S. Garrett)

Carol's first release did well on the charts and this follow-up ballad will take her career a step further. She has a great voice and a sexy tune sure to be in demand.

DEBBY BOONE (Warner Bros. WBS 49176)

Are You On The Road To Lovin' Me Again (2:29) (Southern Nights — ASCAP) (B. Morrison-D. Hult)

This offering from Debby has more country flavor than any of her previous releases. Produced in Nashville by Larry Butier, this record should put everyone on the road to loving her again.

KENNY DALE (Capitol P-4829)

Let Me In (2:35) (House of Gold — BMI) (Slate-Pippin-Keith)

Kenny's got a fine voice and this ballad showcases it well. It builds strong and the chorus is smooth but powerful. Radio will definitely let this in to their formats.

JIM KIRK (Capitol P-4834)

Voice Of Freedom (3:15) (TM Productions — ASCAP) (J. Kirk)

This record could be the sleeper of the year. It's as American as apple pie. In fact, it's really a commercial for America, tastefully well done, and the public is ready for it.

Republic Closes Offices

NASHVILLE — Republic Records is closing down its operations, according to information obtained last week by Cash Box. The label, owned and headed by Dave Burgess was formerly owned by Gene Autry and during the past several years has released product on David Rogers, Tom Grant, Bobby G. Rice, Randy Barlow, Poacher, Cathy Barnes and Gene Autry.

The organization also owns publishing companies Singletree and Doubletree Music. There have been no reports of whether those companies will continue to operate. Burgess was unavailable for comment.

American Truckers Release Album

NASHVILLE — Big Wheel's Records, Inc., an Arizona-based label, has inked an exclusive five-year, world-wide distribution agreement with Lakeshore Music Ltd., of Newport Beach, Calif. to manufacture and distribute a two-record set titled "The Song of the American Trucker." Lakeshore Music is involved in the television-direct marketing field.

"The Song of the American Trucker" is comprised of 20 songs written and performed by professional truck drivers.

RAY STEVENS JOINS THE SHRINERS — Ray Stevens rarely does anything halfway. And certainly the announcement of a new label — RCA — as well as a new single — "Shriner's Convention" — called for something a little unusual. To help Stevens out and to add a festive air to the occasion, members of Nashville's Al Menah Shrine Temple escorted Stevens and RCA staffers as he delivered the single to local trade and radio personnel. Pictured in the first photo standing are (l-r): Joe Galante, RCA division vice president,

THE RHYTHM SECTION

SOLAR AT THE TOP — Solar Records' "Second Time Around" by Shalamar is that company's first #1 record, which at the same time was its first certified gold single. Solar recording artists The Whispers, Lakeside, Dynasty and Shalamar will be going on a 70-date tour starting next month. Dick Griffey, president of the company said, "This will be the first time since the old Motown days that four acts from one company will tour together. The tour will be billed The Solar Galaxy of Stars, and will be a production with several of the acts doing things with each other as opposed to a group doing just its own thing and leaving."

THE CONTOURS TO ROCKET — Veteran recording group The Contours have signed with Rocket Records and will release its first single for the label entitled "I'm A Winner" in early February. The group is being produced by Michael Valvano, who has previously been involved with Stevie Wonder, The Supremes, Meat Loaf, Edwin Starr and others. The group was signed to the label by president Barney Ales, who was involved with the group during its first major hits.

HOLLAND, DOZIER, HOLLAND AND PINK LADY — The Songwriting/producing team of Holland, Dozler, Holland are in the studio laying down tracks for an upcoming album project with Japanese recording duo Pink Lady.

POP GORDY'S MOVIN UP — Harper & Row Publishers have published the life story of Pop Gordy, who passed away in November of 1978. The autobiography of Pop Gordy's life is entitled "Movin Up," with features and introduction by Alex Haley.

RICK JAMES STARTS 50-CITY TOUR — Motown/Gordy recording artist Rick James will commence a major 50-city performing tour, which is scheduled to be completed in less than 2½ months. During the tour, James will be showcasing his back-up band, The Stone City Band, whose debut album entitled "In 'N' Out" will be released before the tour starts. Prince will open the show for James during the tour, which will start Feb. 22 in Ft. Worth, Tex.

WLE IN RALEIGH OFF AIR — The FCC demanded that Raleigh, North Carolina's only black radio station, WLE, cease all programming last week. The station had had its license revoked in 1976 for fraudulent practices and double billing, and the FCC had granted the station several extensions of its license while management negotiated for a buyer. When no agreement came to pass, the FCC sent the station a telegram last week, ordering it to stop all programming.

ARTIST ACTIVITY — Quincy Jones is in the studio, laying down tracks for the upcoming George Benson album he is producing. . . Narada Michael Walden is in the studio with Stacy Lattisaw. At the same studio, Nile Rodgers and Bernard Edwards are finishing up Diana Ross' album. Since they were so close, Nile and Bernard paid Walden a visit, and offered some of their expertise. . . Bob Marley is celebrating 18 years in the record business this year. . . Richard Perry is in the studio producing the Pointer Sisters' next album for Planet Records. . . Feb. 1 was declared Peaches & Herb Day in Washington, D.C. by Mayor Marion Barry. The duo will also receive a proclamation from congressman Walter Fauntroy. . . Teddy Pendergrass made a sizeable donation to Legal Services of North Florida to help stop the loss of homes that have been owned for several generations by many black families. The homes, which were frequently passed from one generation to the other with no formal will, have come to be preyed upon by people seeking to buy property at a low cost. . . Motown Records has picked up a single called "Body In Motion," which was recorded on a small label called All American. The artist is Clifton Dyson, brother of Ronnie Dyson.

INTERNATIONAL

INTERNATIONAL DATELINE

Canada

TORONTO — Teenage Head, widely regarded as the premier new-whatever band in this country, have signed to Attic Records (distributed by CBS), with one-time Bowie sideman Stacey Heydon at work producing the group's second disc, to be issued this spring. The group, led by vocalist Frankie Venom, earned the distinction as the first such band to crack the high school circuit locally. The band has also been banned at a couple of private Catholic institutes . . . A&M will release Vancouver-based The Payolas' first disc as part of its Debut Series of albums. The modestly-priced ($4.98 suggested list) discs feature four cuts and are teasers testing the waters for potential album projects. Already, the label has bowed Violletti and Ste. Claire, a hard-to-describe Quebecois duo, to good response. The Payolas first disc is slated for imminent release.

Lene Lovich makes her first venture to the city, with a March 1 El Mocambo date . . . Gary Numan is set for his first local appearance, Feb. 18 . . . The Police had to add a second show, both now sold out, for the Feb. 4 Vancouver concerts . . . Triumph's fourth Canadian release, "Progression Of Power" (or is it "Power Of Progression"?), is due for the second week in March. The band will start touring again in the spring, says guitarist Ril Emmett, with one more studio disc, and perhaps a live album, to be completed in 1980 . . . Two nights of Genesis are set for here, June 24 and 25 . . . XTC and Fingerprintz Feb. 2 show was sold out well over one month in advance. One wonders why a second date wasn't added.

"If Tom Petty can be brought back out of debt, then why can't we be?" asks The Babys' John Waite. In town for a recent sold-out club gig, he told Cash Box he's in debt "about a million dollars" to Chrysalis, after once receiving the largest advance (about half that sum) years back to sign up with the label. "None of the money has really been squandered," he says, "and money isn't really that important to me, anyway. It's the principle of the matter." With two new band members, the band is out promoting its fourth disc, "Union Jacks," a disc Waite says is much more confident than its predecessor, the uneven "Head First" album of a year ago. After Michael Corby left the group, Waite went off and wrote on his own. "It took about eight months for me to get back writing with anyone else. But I think we're a much better group now as a result." A managerial change and the two lineup moves have turned the band into a much more cohesive unit. Initially, he was alarmed at the band's young following, but "I don't want to be a hypocrite about it. It's enjoyable. I mean, there's Tchaikovsky to get serious about.

Rock 'n' roll is meant to be fun."

Nazareth guitarist Manny Charlton is again handling the production chores for Regina's Streethart, working at the band's third WEA disc at Le Studio in Morin Heights, Quebec.

One of the better rock documentaries was produced by PolyGram Canada recently for screening on the Ontario Education Communications Authority (OECA) network, with CFNY-FM programmer Bruce Heyding hosting the special on the new music from the label, with The Boomtown Rats, XTC, Bram Tchaikovsky, Interview, The Skids and numerous others performing on the show. It's believed to be the first time a company has actually produced its own TV show, and judging by the $20,000 budget, it was money exceptionally well-spent. Several companies could afford to do the same, and it certainly would be a great one-shot stab at promotion, particularly for such a capturable market as Toronto.

Japan

TOKYO — The total sales of K.K. Shinseido, one of the biggest record wholesale/distribution companies in Japan, reached 21.1 billion yen ($91.7 million) during 1979, up 20.6% from the previous year. Mr. Otake, managing director of the company, credited a steady supply of hit product as the main cause of the successful year.

Warner/Pioneer Co., Ltd., has announced the restructuring of its Japanese music manufacturing section, which now includes the entire manufacturing process under one leadership.

Looking ahead to the '80s, Mr. Ohga, president of CBS/Sony, is predicting a period of retrenchment and consolidation. "Instead of the high growth and prosperity of the '70s, the '80s are very sure ages of change and saving. Elastic behavior to meet any new challenges and changes will be required to secure profits in the '80s," Ohga added.

K.K. Polystar, a newly established label in Japan, formally started operations Jan. 1, 1980. First releases are expected in May.

MADRID — Reaction has been strong in the Spanish market during past few weeks following long-awaited release of "No More Tears (Enough Is Enough)" by Donna Summer and Barbra Streisand. Fonogram came out first with the single and LP release by Donna and a few days later CBS released Barbra's album "Wet" . . . Lene Lovich, Stiff label artist distributed by Columbia, is back in town for another visit

GOLD AND SILVER FOR SUZI Q — During a recent tour of Denmark in support of her "Suzi . . . And Other Four Letter Words" LP, RSO recording artist Suzi Quatro also received gold records for her "If You Can't Give Me Love" and "Stumblin' In" singles and silver records for her "She's In Love With You" single and "Suzi . . . And Other Four Letter Words" LP. Pictured are (l-r): James Crompton, Quatro, Dave Neal and Len Tuckey of Quatro's band, and Jerry Ritz, EMI Denmark international A&R/promotion manager.

WEA UK Initiates Massive Changes In Press, A&R Units

by Nick Underwood

LONDON — Following the announcement of A&R director Dave Dee's resignation last week at MIDEM and a growing trend to U.K.-originated product on the label, WEA UK is now radically restructuring its creative departments. WEA UK is now averaging 30% of its turnover in local product, up significantly from 1% two years ago.

The revamping basically involves the merging of WEA's press and A&R departments, which, managing director John Fruin believes, will facilitate an increased awareness on all levels of the music scene and, accordingly, will enhance the more traditional A&R approaches.

Consequently ex-press officer Moira Bellas has been appointed director of A&R and publicity, becoming the first woman A&R director of a major company in the U.K. She is joined by Dave Walters, who moves from press to A&R, where in turn he is joined by Rob Atkins, who continues the A&R activities he held previously.

Other Changes

Other personnel changes include Mick Houghton, who is appointed as press/A&R/special projects manager, handling press and pr on his own A&R projects, as well as continuing his press responsibilities on all Sire product and other specific projects within the WEA stable. David Jarrett is appointed publicity manager and takes responsibility for the day-to-day running of the press department. All of the named will report directly to Moira Bellas.

The re-structure takes in other changes in the press office, with Sharon Wheeler appointed press officer and Neil Dalton continuing as staff writer.

On the marketing front, Stuart Hornall, Geoff Grimes and Jonathan Clyde are appointed label managers. An additional label manager will be named shortly to replace Ian Mannerling-Smith, who is leaving the company.

A casualty of the re-structuring is the classical label Enigma Records. Four staff have been made redundant, including sales manager Cedrick Sayce and recording manager Tony Faulkner. The label is being merged with WEA's marketing department. Fruin said, in the reallocation of responsibilities, "regrettably

MIDEM Totals Point To Bright Future In 1980

by Nick Underwood

CANNES — Cautious, realistic and more businesslike was the overall mood for this year's MIDEM, and with the final release of total attendance figures, Bernard Chevry, MIDEM commissioner general, said "There have been fewer problems and a lot more work has been done. The participants have ended MIDEM on a much more optimistic note than they started with."

The final breakdown of figures supplied by companies and individuals points to a new vitality and a secure future for most of the record industry. The USA held the largest MIDEM contingent with 276 companies participating; the UK sent 283; France, 204; Germany, 91; Canada, 68; The Netherlands, 52; Italy, 48; Australia, 46; Spain, 37; and Japan, 34.

Overall 584 companies from 49 countries participated, with the number of senior executives participating up by 28% to constitute 20% of the total attendance figures.

In the U.K., Jonathan Simon was named to the post of managing director, Chappell Music, and Bruno Kretchmar to the post of managing director, Intersong Music. Gerry Ryan was also promoted to director of management information systems, PolyGram Publishing.

a number of jobs had to be declared redundant in the continuing pattern of shaping WEA UK to meet the anticipated market."

Dee, former director of A&R, chose MIDEM to announce his resignation and future plans. Dee had been with WEA UK for the past eight years, but he has decided to branch out on his own and set up a new record and publishing company called Double D Records in partnership with Ariola and Hansa.

Bootlegged Product Destroyed By JPRA

TOKYO — Illegally bootlegged tapes that first appeared on the southern island of Kyushu at the end of 1979 have been confiscated and destroyed by the Japan Phonograph Record Association (JPRA), according to Saburo Watanabe, the organization's president.

The bootlegged tapes, which were confiscated from various retail outlets on Kyushu, were believed to have been imported from southeast Asia.

The tapes consisted mainly of product by famous international acts from the USA and Europe.

MIDEM MEETING — Ariola recording artist Amii Stewart dropped in on the Cash Box booth at MIDEM to chat with vice president and general manager Mel Albert.

and was warmly received by fans. At the press conference, Lene spoke of her movie just finished in Holland, her new album "Flex," and the single "Bird Song," which is getting heavy airplay here. . . Pedro Marin (Hispanovox) has a big seller with his debut record, "Que no, que no." Marin is especially popular with the teen crowd, who bought up the record like crazy at Christmas. From France comes the news of Marin's growing popularity in that country, and his label is currently preparing a heavy promotion blitz in Latin America, as our fellow correspondent in Argentina recently reported.

Over the Christmas season, children's records continued to be hot product, as shown by sales of such artists as Enrique y Ana, Botones, Nins, Pitufos de Padre Abraham, and Parchis, whose album included a game board. . . The "Rama Lama" LP of Rocky Sharpe and the Replays (Movieplay) has proven to be one of the most durable hits of the season. The group's frequent appearances on Spanish television and a succession of singles from the album have given added impulse to sales of its record, which at first had been dismissed by many as having little commercial future. Rumors continue to circulate about a Spanish tour this spring.

Rock 'n' roll by such local groups as Tequila, Tebeo, Orquesta Mondragon and Asfalto has its fans, as evidenced by strong box office at concerts. However, records are not selling as well as the record companies expected, despite heavy promotional outlay in most cases. . . A huge marketing campaign is underway for "Un par de corazones," the new Pecos album. TV, billboards, press — no rock has been left unturned in support of Epic's duo. International projects are planned. . . Camilo Sesto and his "Horas de Amor" is currently among Top Ten best selling LPs in Spanish charts.

Rocio Jurado (RCA) is making lots of waves, air waves that is, with her new album, "Senora," product of a teaming-up with the famous composer Manuel Alejandro, who is largely responsible for the huge success of her previous album. RCA is doing a heavy campaign with new Darryl Hall & John Oates album, "X-Static," as the single selected for the Spanish market, "Intravino," promises to make them a hot name in Spain.

LONDON — Polydor Records helped in the staging this week of Andrew Lloyd Webber and Don Black's latest piece of musical theatre, "Tell Me On A Sunday," which was performed on stage at London's Royalty Theatre especially for media and press personnel. The new musical composition features the vocal talent of Marti Webb, who put on a spellbinding performance of the new work along with such musician notables as Rod Argent, Jon Hiseman, Ricky Hitchcock, Paul Jones, Paul Keogh, John Mole, Mike Moran, Morris Pert and Barbara Thompson. The Polydor album release of same work also features The London Philharmonic Orchestra. "Tell Me On A Sunday," said Lloyd Webber, "is a concert piece for a woman singer, quite simply, a one-woman show about love. I have for a long time wanted to write a series of love songs for a female performer. Then, when it was in New York working on the USA production of Evita, I met Don Black. He told me that he had a similar idea, but that he wanted to set his idea in New York. Both of us knew several English girls who live in New York and I suppose "Tell Me On A Sunday" has a little bit of them all in it."

Pink Floyd Music Publishing Ltd. recently signed a long-term worldwide co-publishing and administration agreement with Chappell International. In addition to the songs on their new #1 LP "The Wall" (Harvest), the agreement covers Pink Floyd's entire existing catalog and was negotiated in America by Chappell president Irwin Z. Robinson, and Chappell International executive vice president Nicholas Firth and assistant general manager David Hockman with Pink Floyd's manager Steve O'Rourke. . . Ex-lead singer with Lindisfarne, Ray Jackson, recently signed an exclusive deal with Phonogram for the world except America.

WEA has initiated a new audio presenter to service information to all its dealers. The presenter, in the form of a 7" single, features the factual tone of BBC Radio and TV pop music personality Annie Nightingale who tells all about WEA monthly album releases, singles requiring specific promotion, and information on marketing support, advertising campaigns, merchandising and tours. The record runs for 12 minutes.

The German electronic rock act Tangerine Dream play two concerts in East Berlin this week, apparently the first time a West German band has been invited to play behind the Iron Curtain. The concerts ironically coincide with the serious deterioration in East-West relations over the Russian invasion of Afghanistan.

Recent executive moves in the press quarter see Kit Buckler joining CBS Records as press and publicity manager, while Bernadette Kilmartin replaces him at Ariola Records as head of press. Bernie was previously working for EMI LRD, and out of EMI, too, comes Sue Johnstone, previously press officer with EMI International, who now takes up a new post as press officer for Stiff Records International.

Marofske, Midway President, Names Executive Committee

CHICAGO — David Marofske has been named president of Midway Mfg. Co. of Franklin Park, Ill., a wholly owned subsidiary of Bally Manufacturing Corporation of Chicago.

Marofske, a 20-year Midway veteran who served as vice president of manufacturing since 1972, succeeds president Marcine Wolverton, one of the founders of the coin-operated electronic games manufacturing firm.

Upon assuming his new post, Marofske announced the formation of an executive committee and named officers to serve on that committee.

Dr. Martin Keane, (Ph.D., Engineering) associated with Midway since 1976, joins the executive committee and continues in his capacity as vice president of engineering.

Paul Vesper, a 20-year Midway veteran most recently in charge of the Printed Circuit Department and Electronic Component Division, was promoted to vice president of manufacturing.

Stanley Jarocki, who has been Midway's director of marketing since 1977, was promoted to vice president of marketing.

Jack Hartman, who served as Midway treasurer since joining the firm in 1978, was promoted to vice president of finance.

Henry Ross and Marcine Wolverton, co-founders of the company, will both participate in policy matters assisting the executive committee.

Describing the newly formed executive committee, Marofske said, "Midway's sales volume nearly tripled during the past three years, enhancing the company's position as one of the leaders in the coin operated amusement industry. Yet, we are just entering our greatest period of growth, and the executive committee will provide a formal structure for helping us realize our full potential in an expanding market."

Broadway Arcade Enjoying Eight Percent Annual Growth

by Leo Sacks

NEW YORK — "There was a time when it was hard to justify the hours we would spend here each day," recalled Steve Epstein, manager and co-owner of the Broadway Arcade, New York's oldest and largest coin-operated amusement center. "Traffic would fluctuate wildly, making it a very long haul at times. But then the City Council legalized the pins in '76, and suddenly they had achieved a sense of legitimacy. It was as if the market had opened to millions of people — artists, musicians, lawyers, kids from Hells Kitchen, management, prostitutes. Everybody came here. It was a big melting pot."

Epstein, 32, has been working at the Arcade, located on W. 52nd St., ever since his father, David, and a partner, Albert Simon, purchased the 8,000-square-foot, split-level facility in 1964.

"The store was a white elephant for a long time," he remembered. "Since we're not in the main stream of the Times Square area, we've always tried to bring the best possible service to our customers. I know what it means to get a fair shake on a machine, because I'm a player myself. I understand the animal; I can relate to it. We're very sensitive to that here."

This sort of experience recently guided the multi-operational Arcade to its fourth consecutive eight percent profit increase. According to Epstein, who has won a place among elite American pinball executives for his innovative management, fast, open playfields, and knowledgeable clientele, each one of the Arcade's 50 pinball machines generates approximately $75 a week; an additional 45 video games gross an average of $115 a week, he said. He expects to add another 55 machines by the end of the year.

While the company's primary business is coin-operated, it also leases space to Circle Magic, a souvenir and trick shop, and Broadway Billiards, which occupies the building's ground floor and has 27 pool and ping pong tables. The businesses, which are individually owned, were part of the original Arcade when it was built by the amusement corporation of Schork and Schaffer in 1941. A third enterprise, Broadway Nuts, a candy concession, is wholly-owned by the Broadway Arcade.

Maintaining Premises

Epstein has great personal and professional admiration for his father, who has spent over 30 years in the industry. "I learned about the business from him, and the rules he taught me still stand today," says young Epstein. "Number one is that the playfield must be cleaned every two weeks. The second is make sure that your

Portale Hosts S.F. Open House

Exidy Releases New Player Piano

SUNNYVALE — Exidy Inc. of Sunnyvale, Calif. is currently in the process of producing and distributing its new pneumatically operated Player Piano series. Three different models of the antique piano are being marketed ranging in price and style.

All of the new pianos feature the following: real stained glass panels, player rolls that easily snap in and out for changing, automatic rewind on rolls and completely sealed bearings. Other features such as 180 rolls (10 songs per roll), plastic keyboard covers and special wood are available on the maintenance free pianos.

The pianos are not reproductions, but actual pianos converted to air operated player pianos. Production is limited and orders are processed as received.

which was recently acquired by the distributor in this market. "We are pleased to be representing the Gottlieb products in our San Francisco office," remarked Portale president Peter Betti, "and after previewing their upcoming new products I am certain that Gottlieb games will have a strong impact in the 1980 pinball market."

Other new products were also shown at the open house and these included Exidy's new sitdown "Tailgunner 2," Game Plan's "Coney Island," Atari's "Asteroids" and a new balloon vendor, "Fanky Malloon" by Vending International. Tom Adams, operations manager of Araven in Santa Clara, was among the enthusiastic attendees who commented about the impressive equipment lineup on view. "The Fanky Malloon may have interesting applications in our area," he said, "and we are looking forward to trying it here." Adams also had high praise for Atari's Asteroids, rating it as "one of the best video games" on the market.

Among manufacturer representatives who were on hand to meet with the operators and answer questions were Lila Zinter (Exidy), Tom Petit (Atari), Bill Rickett (Dynamo), Stan Levin (Game Plan), John Holtz (Rock-Ola), Don Hutmeyer (Gametronics) and Jerry Vick (Vending International). Inda Trinwith, games administration manager for Pizza Time Theater, expressed delight at the opportunity to "meet the manufacturer reps as well as Jerry (Monday) and Peter (Betti) in a congenial atmosphere to learn more about the equipment." Commenting on the products featured, she said, "I was particularly impressed with Tailgunner 2. The sitdown cabinet design and mode of play is especially good for our clientele and this is the type of game that will have high appeal in our locations."

'Tell-Us' Op Survey Conducted By Atari

SUNNYVALE — During the AMOA convention last November, Atari conducted its first "Tell-Us" operator survey utilizing the innovative Tellus pushbutton terminals by MSI Data Corporation. The Atari marketing research team selected the Tellus system as the research tool most conducive to the trade show environment, as explained by the company, and this system is a new concept for monitoring and measuring customer attitudes. A small terminal displays a series of questions for which operators select responses by touching the appropriate answer key.

As reported by Atari, over 450 operators responded to questions about their business and game buying behavior on the Tellus terminals and more than 125 of these operators were interviewed in-depth by teams of professional interviewers. At the completion of the interviews all participants were eligible for the Tellus Drawing which awarded a grand prize of an Atari Football. Also given were Atari Video Computer Systems as second prizes and Atari Hand-held 'Touch Me's' as third prizes and additionally all of the operators received a free gift in return for their time and cooperation.

Winners

The drawing was held at the show on Nov. 11 and among the winners were Michael Reynolds of Pinball Pete's in East Lansing, Mich., who won the grand prize Atari Football; George P. Lyons of Jefferson County Amusement in Madison, Ind. and John Porter of M & M Sales in Champaign, Ill., the second prize winners of Atari Video Computer Systems; and Philip Brown of P.J.P. Kimpton, Ontario, Canada, S. Lehtinen of K.M.L. Enterprise, Mississauga, Ontario, Canada and Bob Finley of Albion Vending Co., Inc. in Albion, Mo. who won the third prize Hand-Held Touch Me Games.

Commenting on the survey, Colette Weil, Atari's marketing research manager, stated, "Atari marketing research would like to thank all the operators who participated in the Tellus Survey."

received, according to Jerry Monday, general manager of the San Francisco office, which provided "a good opportunity for our customers to join us for cocktails and to see the new products. This is an excellent way to introduce the local operators to the manufacturers and to give them a chance to meet on an informal basis."

day, Peter Betti and Tom Campbell with Rock-Ola's new "Techna" phonograph; and Monday, Jerry Sanchez and Jerry Vick briefing customers on Vending International's balloon vending machine. The distrib also has a Los Angeles office.

Broadway Arcade Enjoys 8% Growth Pattern

machines are properly leveled. These are the kind of details that keep your traffic up." He estimated that when the Arcade's neighboring Broadway theatres (including the Alvin, Winter, Broadway, Anta, Mark Hellinger, and Uris) have performances booked, approximately 10,000 people are drawn to the area each day.

Of course, he reminds a questioner, business wasn't always booming. In December of 1941, pinball was banned in New York City, due to the "popular belief" that pinball machines "were of a harmful influence because of their strong tendency to instill and develop a desire for gambling in immature young people," in the words of New York City Police Commissioner Louis J. Valentine. But largely through the efforts of Roger Sharpe, managing editor of Gentleman's Quarterly and author of the book, "Pinball," the City Council's Committee on Consumer Affairs voted to readmit add-a-ball machines to New York City in April, and in June of 1976, former Mayor Abraham Beame signed the new statute into law.

"It was a time of great concern for businessmen in the city," Epstein recalls. "The city was on the edge of default, but tourism was up and New York was starting to get some really favorable publicity. We did extremely well with our first batch of machines, and we haven't looked back since." He says that today's popular pinball favorites include "Laser Ball" and "Gorgar" by Williams; "Future Spa" by Bally; "Genie" by Gottlieb; "Galaxy" by Stern; and "Sharpshooter" by

Game Plan. Favored video games at the moment are "Space Invaders" by Midway; "Asteroids" and "Lunar Lander" by Atari; and "Tail Gunner" by Cinematronics.

Test Models

While the Epstein touch has penetrated all corners of the Arcade, one recent step he took that particularly effected the company's stature in the industry was to solicit new machines (prior to their commercial release) from major manufacturers for in-store testing. Some of the models recently tested at the Arcade were Game Plan's "Coney Island" and Bally's "Groundshaker" machines. New machines are tested on an average of once every five weeks, Epstein said.

"On the whole, we have a very excellent pinball-playing crowd," he remarked. "We're one of the only major testing centers representing all of the major manufacturers in Manhattan, so we attract a lot of people who come solely to see what kind of new machines we have."

"As a rule," he continued, "we like to find a place for each new machine so that it gets a chance to find its own identity. If you put too many new machines next to each other, you're defeating your purpose. That's why we move our machines around the way we do; it's the fairest way to give each manufacturer a chance to expose his game."

Worn machines, he added, are generally moved to one end of the Arcade, where they are relegated to five-ball play at an increased pitch. He explained that he usually keeps the newer machines at a shallow pitch "to compensate for the fact that we don't give away free games. Adjusting our legs at a fairly liberal height is our way of giving the consumer the most for his money."

Epstein, who supervises a staff of 12, said that a good portion of the Arcade's clientele is made up of "actors and musicians with time on their hands between dates or interviews." However, he added, the majority of the company's daytime traffic is drawn from "the great outpouring of management people from the office buildings that surround us. The jacket-and-tie crowd keeps us busier than any other group. They tell me what a great release pinball is for them from the boredom they experience on their jobs, and how after a few games in the afternoon, they're ready to go back to work and finish off their day."

"Pinball and video games will take you as far as your skills permit," he concluded. "They offer immediate resolution, which is something you can't always get in a working situation. As long as we remain a leisure and game-oriented society, people will always have a need for the challenge and diversion that pinball and video provide. It's not quite like finding God, but it can certainly help you through the day."

Stern Pingames At Lake Placid Olympics

The coin machine influence will be very much in evidence at the Lake Placid Winter Olympics with the Bally-Midway-Kay Olympic Village Game Room (Cash Box, Jan. 26) and now a unique outdoor display sponsored by Stern Electronics, Inc., featuring four "Galaxy" pins and four "Meteors." Marty Rosenthal, vice president of engineering at Stern, modified the equipment to withstand the severe temperatures out there. Olympics visitors will thus have the option of either indoor or outdoor play. . . . Stern was represented at the ATE show in the London Coin exhibit with "Meteor," "Galaxy" and "Big Game." Company execs Gary Stern, Sam Stern, Larry Siegel and Ed Polanek personally attended the show. . . . "Galaxy" is currently in production for export to the European market following which domestic delivery will begin. Marketing vice president Stephen Kaufman notes that initial reaction to this new pin equals that of "Meteor," Stern's biggest hit to date. . . . We'd like to extend birthday greetings to Steve's daughter, Stephanie, who'll be two years old on Feb. 9. Seems like only yesterday we announced her arrival, in this column.

FRED GRANGER and the local AMOA staff are concentrating on the upcoming 8th annual AMOA Notre Dame Seminar, scheduled for March 14-15 at the O'Hare Hilton in Chicago. Inquiries have been coming in steadily and, as Fred mentioned, they are going to try to limit attendance so that everyone will get the full benefit of the program. This seminar is among the association's most popular functions of the year so it is suggested that reservations be confirmed well in advance.

THE LOCAL IAAPA OFFICE issued tentative dates of its 1980 annual convention, namely, Nov. 22-24 and the show will again be held in New Orleans. However, the association plans to move it to Kansas City in 1981. . . . The association's Summer Meeting will take place Sept. 11-14 at Opryland USA in Nashville, Tenn.

ON THE SINGLES SCENE: Keith Medin of Tony Galgano Records one-stop, sees a lot of jukebox potential in the following singles and has been recommending them to area ops: "Computer Games" by MI-Sex (Epic), "Desire" by Andy Gibb (RSO) and "Long Haired Country Boy" by the Charlie Daniels Band (Columbia).

EASTERN FLASHES

Mark McCleskey has been upped to sales and marketing manager at Sefco Distg. (Hanover, Md.) and is now in charge of the distrib's entire music and games division. Among the company's plans for the new year is the bolstering up of its service and parts departments as well as warehouse and shipping. Expansion is definitely a key word for 1980. Mark told us he's about ready to launch a big local promotion as a tie-in with the Williams "Gorgar" pinball machine and will be inviting news media reps out to the showroom to meet "the world's first talking pinball machine." The model is a super seller, he said; initial shipment no sooner arrived when it went right out the door. Mark sees the new Gremlin "Dual" game as a tremendous seller, especially for the street operator. Its size is very compatible, he pointed out, "a single game with single service and single pricing, which offers dual longevity and dual earning power". . . . Newest member of the Sefco team is Jim Abbott who was recently appointed district sales manager in Virginia.

BALLY NORTHEAST-DEDHAM chalked up a banner sales month in December and January is perking up nicely, which is not a bad start for the new year. The distrib is very much involved in activities at the Olympic Village Game Room in Lake Placid, serving as distributor coordinator for the Bally-Midway-Irving Kaye project. Among the current best sellers in the Dedham games department are Atari's "Asteroids," Williams' "Gorgar" and Midway's "Deluxe Space Invaders." Bob LeBlanc expressed much enthusiasm about the new Gremlin "Dual" (Head On 2/Invincio) game.

SAID A QUICK HELLO to Al Kress of Coin Machine Distributors in Peekskill -- where "business is great" and Rowe phonos are selling like crazy. Recent addition to the sales staff out there is Don Edwards. Al and his wife, Donna, planned to be in attendance at the ATE show in London.

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

Hank Tronick at C.A. Robinson tells us that the distrib is eagerly awaiting the arrival of both Bally's new four-player "Earth Shaker" and Stern's "Galaxy," which should arrive concurrently. Tonick also says that Gremlin Sega's "Monaco GP" is getting great earnings reports particularly from locations that are monitoring the game on 50¢ play. Meanwhile, Atari's "Asteroids" Midway's "Space Invaders Deluxe" and Exidy's "Tailgunner 2" are the hot sellers at the distributor.

PORTALE'S RECENT SHOWING of Rock-Ola's new "480 Phonograph" drew more than 250 people, according to Peter Betti. He adds that Exidy's "Tail Gunner 2" and Gremlin/Sega's "Monaco GP" are selling well because of the encapsulated environment and realism that the games create. "The sounds and visual portions of these games are of excellent quality," says Betti. "And the same people who originally bought the games seem to be coming back for more." In addition Betti comments that Gottlieb's "Buck Rogers" is continuing to be a consistent seller, and that Gottlieb's "Torch" is getting great test reports.

CHUCKLIN' CHICKEN — The "Chicken Machine," successfully introduced in Europe, is currently being manufactured and marketed in the U.S. by Iowa based Universal Visual Audiotronics. The unit measures about five feet high and is adorned with a large molded cartoon chicken made of tough acrylic material. The chicken "cackles" each time it "lays" a plastic egg and every egg contains a small prize for children. The pricing on the machine is 25¢ and it is geared for such locations as discount and department stores, variety stores and supermarkets. Further information may be obtained by contacting Universal Visual Audiotronics Corp., 604 Main St., Davenport, Iowa 52803 or phoning (319) 326-6467.

Jacobs Named VP At Universal USA

LOS ANGELES — Industry veteran Paul C. Jacobs has been named executive vice president of Universal USA Inc. Jacobs will head up all U.S. operations for the manufacturer, and be extensively involved in European sales activities.

"Universal is very pleased to have a man of Paul's knowledge and industry experience," said John T. Nomura, president of Universal USA Inc. "He represents Universal's commitment to attain a significant presence in the American marketplace."

Universal is presently in the process of shipping two new video games — "Cosmic Guerilla" and "Galaxy Wars" — which were premiered at the AMOA show in Chicago. The games are available in both upright and cocktail table models.

mittee for the Lake Placid Olympic Games.

Titled "Rosebud II — Seven Self Propelled Earthly Parodies," the sculpture features seven down-filled fabric shelters linked together on flexible flyer sleds. The metaphorical ark speaks humorously to the seven psychological and physical stages of life, as explained by Simkin, who is a faculty member of long standing at York College of the City University of New York. The sculpture will be positioned on Lake Placid's Mirror Lake.

A total of eight Stern "Meteor" and "Galaxy" pinball games will be housed in the ark's center pavillion and the games were custom-modified by Stern engineers for play during prolonged exposure to below freezing temperatures. Weather-proofing included loading the games with moisture absorbing material, spraying components with silicone and plasticizing electronic boards. The games feature coated plungers. Earlier this year, Stern tested the machines at temperatures of more than 25 degrees below zero in an ice cream freezer in Chicago.

5,800 People From 34 Countries Visit IMA In Frankfurt

FRANKFURT — More than 5,800 visitors from 34 countries attended the International Amusement and Trade Fair (IMA) in Frankfurt, Germany, Jan. 17-19. Vending and amusement machines and their respective accessories were displayed by 100 exhibitors from nine countries.

The foreign share of visitors amounted to approximately 18% of the total, exceeding the projected aims of the IMA. Lively business transactions were reported and many new coin machine connections were established.

Aside from the various coin-counting and coin-sorting machines, cigarette and bottle-vending machines were in great demand. The amusement games sector was dominated by video and electronic games.

Plans for 1981's exhibition, which will again be held on the Frankfurt Fairgrounds, are already underway and provide for a generous extension of the display area.

Midway President Names Committee

outlook was based on Midway's proved capability, as demonstrated by the company's recent success with the "Space Invaders" electronic game. Since introduction in November of 1978, the computerized game has sold more than 40,000 units worldwide, making it the most successful amusement arcade game of all time. He further stated that sales projections indicated continued demand for the game through the foreseeable future.

Midway currently employs over 1,000 persons and undertakes design and manufacturing functions at two Franklin Park plants totalling nearly 250,000 sq. ft. Midway Mfg. Co., formed in 1958, became a wholly-owned subsidiary of Bally in 1969.
