Is The Industry 'Recession Proof'?

Continued sales gains — or at least no drastic slides — during recent "economic adjustment" or "mild recession" periods have led many in the industry to feel that the market for recordings is recession-proof. Obviously, if one bases the industry's performance during the last major economic turndown in 1969-70, the industry's ability to weather negative economic developments carries some weight. It's true that youth takes a "necessity" rather than a "luxury" approach to the recorded product they want; it's true that major purchases may be deferred during economic instability in favor of financially smaller, but desired acquisitions such as recordings.

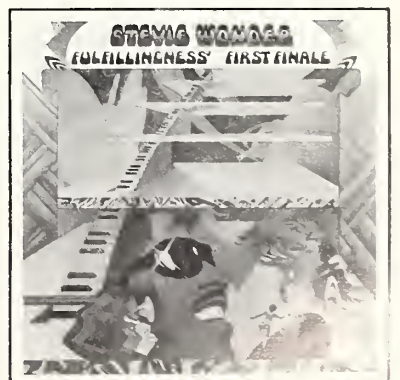

Yet, we must emphasize, how far can the industry carry this admittedly comforting view of industry vs. economic developments before one realizes that the state of business and its welfare is directly related to the economic problems that face America and, for that matter, the rest of the world? As members of the world of recordings and music are well aware, the continually rising cost of doing business has had its impact in the area where it all counts, the bottom-line. Assuming that the market for recordings remains viable, where is the health of the industry when it cannot maintain adequate profit margins in the face of the steady growth of the inflation spiral? And what if economic news worsens beyond the point of the previous downturn, greatly affecting the purchasing power of youth and other segments of the record-buying public?

While we would agree that the record industry has had a "recession-proof" experience in recent years, this period cannot be seized as an example of how well it would stand-up to more unfortunate circumstances. At what point will the "necessity" become a "luxury"? We hope that the industry as well as other business areas are never tested, and that, indeed, there will be a resurgence in economic growth and stability. But, the recording industry must view itself as part of the total mix in the complex and difficult task of beating our economic woes.

To take unwise comfort in the industry's prowess in the face of economic uncertainty is a dangerous delusion. The recording and music industry is a unique entity, to be sure, but it is hardly isolated from the economic world and the events that take place in it.

Roulette Expands: Adds Acts, Announces Appointments

NEW YORK — With two groups currently on the charts and several more signed and ready to go, Morris Levy announced plans to expand and activate Roulette Records. In its future activities, Levy stressed, Roulette will follow its past strategy: discovering and launching new talent.

Levy also announced the appointment of Joe Isgro to the position of director of national promotion. Isgro, who has worked with Schwartz Bros. of Philadelphia, and in regional promotion with Paramount Records, also emphasized the label's interest in providing a launching pad for talented newcomers. In his new position, Isgro will be recruiting personnel for a production team to act in coordination with independent distributors and promotion personnel across the country.

Continuing as heads of their respective departments are Joe Kolsky, vice-president in charge of sales and Fred Bailin, director of A&R.

The decision to expand Roulette's activities was reached after a year of successes for the label. Ecstasy, Passion and Pain, a group produced by Bobby Martin, has had three chart records since Jan. In addition, the group's first album, "Ecstasy, Passion and Pain," is currently on the R&B charts.

Among the talent newly signed to Roulette are several R&B/Pop groups who are active as club and concert performers. The Ghetto Children, working under the supervision of Nise Productions, are currently recording their first single, while Freada Wallace, a southern singer-songwriter, will shortly be going into the studios with producer Tony Camillo. Also slated for recording time in the near future are Heaven and Hell, a six member group and Gentle Persuasion, an all-girl vocal trio who will be produced by Bobby Martin. A fifth new Roulette act is Truth, a rock band which is currently active on the college concert circuit.

Citing the music industry's current reluctance to open its doors to new and unproven artists, Levy summarized his ambitions for Roulette with his stated wish that the label should encourage new talent. "We really hope," he said, "to activate Roulette to the point it was at in the past."

ABC To Market GTO Records In U.S., Canada

LOS ANGELES — Jay Lasker, president of ABC Records, has announced that the company has made an agreement with GTO Records whereby ABC will market all product by the British-based label in the United States and Canada. The agreement was concluded last week at a meeting between Lasker and GTO principals Dick Leahy, Laurence Myers and David Joseph.

GTO Records was formed last June as a partnership between Leahy, its president, and the Gem-Toby Organization, a management/agency/production company with headquarters in Hollywood and London. Prior to its formation, Leahy had been general manager of Bell Records in England for four years, during which time Bell became the leading singles label in Britain, cornering 12.1 percent of the market with hits by such artists as Gary Glitter, the Glitter Band, David Cassidy and Tony Orlando and Dawn. Earlier, Leahy was assistant to A&R director Jack Baverstock at Fontana Records, and from 1969 to mid-1970, he was in charge of all music product at Philips Records. His responsibilities in the latter position included the launching of Vertigo Records with Olaf Wyper, and the subsequent success on that label of Black Sabbath and Juicy Lucy. GTO Records' International manager, Alan Watson, worked with Leahy at Bell.

The Gem-Toby Organization was formed in 1972 with the merger in England of the Toby Organization, headed by David Joseph and Keith Potger, and Laurence Myers' Gem companies. Joseph, a former Australian TV producer, and Potger, one of the original Seekers, founded their Toby Organization in early 1969 to handle the career of the New Seekers, while Myers, a former chartered accountant specializing in the entertainment field, had pursued interests in songwriting, music publishing, recording and management under the Gem umbrella for two years prior to the merger, helping to launch the careers of David Bowie, David Essex and Mott the Hoople, among others. Currently, Myers heads the Gem-Toby Organization's London office and Joseph heads the company in Hollywood, where, in addition to its other activities, it manages artists including the Hudson Brothers, Peter Noone and Mary Travers.

GTO Records is distributed by Polydor throughout the rest of the world. It recently scored its first chart success in England with Polly Brown's "Up In A Puff Of Smoke."

Prager To Form New RCA Label

NEW YORK — RCA Records will manufacture and market Phantom Records, a new label to be formed by Bud Prager, president of Windfall Records. The announcement was jointly made by Prager and RCA president Ken Glancy.

As president of Windfall Records and its production-publishing arm, Windfall Music, Prager, in conjunction with producer Felix Pappalardi, was a major force in the career of Mountain. In association with Gary Kurfirst, Prager was instrumental in the formation of West, Bruce, and Laing for Columbia/Windfall; in negotiating Deodato's million dollar deal with MCA Records; in the placement of Stepson on ABC; and in the management of Mylon LeFevre and Mitch Ryder. Windfall and Kurfirst acted as American representatives of England's Free, Sharks, and Heads, Hands, and Feet. Prager is also publisher for the Chambers Brothers.

Windfall has had nine gold albums since its inception. A Bell-Windfall association resulted in unit sales of close to two million albums for "Mountain Climbing." At CBS, Windfall product produced over a million album sales in approximately two years. Windfall Records and its management division will continue its association with Kurfirst.

Phantom Records will be structured to accommodate a limited roster of album artists. Home base will be 1790 Broadway in New York. A worldwide publishing arrangement is presently being worked out between Phantom and Sunbury-Dunbar, the RCA publishing arm.

FRONT COVER

Marvin Gaye has to be the bellweather, the leader, when it comes to establishing new trends in soul/pop music. He has been setting trends for over a decade now going back to his "fossil," period of perennial hits penned for him by other songwriters and then burgeoning into the music master which he is today. Marvin, music master, the trend setter, which he is, has since written, produced and recorded a string of inventive musical offerings like "What's Going On," "Inner City Blues," "Mercy, Mercy (The Ecology Song)," "Troubled Man," "Let's Get It On," and now "Distant Lover." He's come a long 'distance' since his "Hitchhike" days and now as he rides to the top of the charts with his romantic appeal to a "Distant Lover," (a track culled from his new Tamla 'Live' LP) one can only wonder what innovative direction the master musical maker will go to next.

L.A. City Attorney Raps Record Pirates

HOLLYWOOD — Los Angeles City Attorney Burt Pines today before the National Academy of Recording Arts and Science Institute Symposium on Recording Piracy lashed out at tape pirate criminals saying, "Piracy is exactly the kind of anti-social conduct that deserves the moral condemnation of the community that the criminal law provides."

Invited to address the N.A.R.A.S. in Nashville, Tennessee, Pines also stated, "Piracy is nothing more than theft. It undermines a legitimate industry that provides innumerable jobs and listening pleasure for the public."

"Under present California law, piracy is a misdemeanor. Yet, piracy is big business with huge profits. It has been estimated by law enforcement officials that one out of every three cartridges sold today in the United States is pirated."

Pines went on to note that one of the major difficulties in enforcing anti-piracy prohibitions was the characterization that tape piracy was a "victimless" crime. Pines cited the following instances as to why tape piracy is not a "victimless" crime. He said, "The possible plaintiffs against the pirate include, at the very least, the company that loses profits and the artist deprived of royalties. Deprivations of property rights, the essence of piracy, are clearly actionable."

Pines argued that one of the first priorities in the area of tape piracy was to "raise the penalties for the crime from misdemeanor to felony." Pines stated, "Serious crimes deserve serious punishment."

Pines also outlined how law enforcement could maximize the effectiveness of anti-piracy prohibitions. He noted, "In my view, the most important steps that can be taken to eradicate piracy are in the area of law enforcement education. Just because the public gets a lower price for pirated than a legitimate does not mean that piracy is a victimless crime. Law enforcers must recognize that piracy is a crime against the public and the artist."

Stevens To Donate Tour, LP Proceeds To UNICEF

HOLLYWOOD — As part of his continuing effort to encourage the growth and stimulation of the Third World, Cat Stevens will be donating the proceeds from his forthcoming live album, "Satur-night," to UNICEF. UNICEF is a non-partisan charity organization reaching out to the children in the Third World countries.

Stevens' involvement was intensified recently when he visited Kenya and Ethiopia. During the trip, Stevens was able to take a close look at UNICEF's living commitment to the children of these underdeveloped countries and of the world. "Hopefully, my concern will encourage others to contribute in any way they can," commented Stevens.

Stevens has already donated the proceeds from his recent world tour to UNICEF and is currently finalizing the arrangements for the donation of the proceeds from his forthcoming album, scheduled to be released in November. Stevens is also in the process of forming "Hermes," a special foundation designed specifically to aid children. More details concerning this project will be available at a later date.

"Saturnight," soon to be released on A&M Records, will be an anthology of songs from Cat Stevens' previous albums: "Mona Bone Jakon," "Tea for the Tillerman," "Teaser and the Firecat," "Catch Bull at Four," and "Buddha and the Chocolate Box." The album was recorded live in concert at the Sun Plaza in Nakano, Japan, during his last tour. Also on the album is "Another Saturday Night," Stevens' current hit single, which was recorded in Japan.

Stevens will soon be leaving for South America, where he will be visiting several underdeveloped countries as well as writing.

Senate Votes Aid To Broadcasters; Keep 3-Yr Licenses

WASHINGTON — The senate commerce committee approved legislation intended to give broadcasters somewhat greater assurances that their licenses will be renewed by the Federal Communications Commission.

But the bill, approved unanimously by the committee, would retain the current three-year license period instead of extending it to five years, as the House voted in May. Broadcasters want the longer period as a protection against license challenges.

Sen. John Pastore (D., R.I.), the main author, said he sought a "middle ground" between broadcasters hoping to reduce license renewal problems every three years and public interest groups wanting to use the threat of license challenges to force changes in programming and hiring policies. The committee's retention of the three-year license period was the concession given to the public interest groups.

For their part, broadcasters would have to persuade the FCC that it followed the commission's rules for finding out the needs of local residents, that it "substantially met these problems, needs and interests" and that there were not any "serious deficiencies" in the stations operations.

THE CENTER OF ATTENTION — Barbi Benton, Playboy Records' bright and beautiful new singing star was the focus of a recent luncheon held at the palatial (we're not kidding) Playboy mansion, and she talked enthusiastically about her current single, "Welcome Stranger." The announcement came at a press conference held at the St. Moritz Hotel in Manhattan.

Ronson said that he will still carry on his solo career with a new Columbia LP to be released sometime this winter. When asked how Ronson might change the direction of Mott, Hunter responded that "It will give the group a slightly more electric sound." Hunter also stated "Bender was never a Mott The Hoople guitarist."

Zaire Music Fest Opens With A Bang

KINSHASA DATELINE, ZAIRE — The arrival of American music stars James Brown, B.B. King, The Crusaders, The Spinners and others taking part in the Zaire '74 Music Festival this weekend touched off a carnival in Rio spirit that has swept the city.

Thousands of fans, including Muhammad Ali, stayed up until 2:00 a.m. to greet the stars at the airport where African bands and dancers entertained for hours without stopping.

Despite the postponement of the Ali-Foreman fight, the authorities went ahead with the music festival determined to make it bigger than ever. Top black artists from throughout Africa joined the American stars in the three nights of concerts in the 60,000 seat stadium.

Promoters Don King and Lloyd Price of Festival In Zaire, Inc., announced the concerts were moved forward one day to Sept. 21, 22, 23. Producers Stewart Levine and Hugh Masakela said the dates were changed because there is no longer a need to clear the stadium for the fight that was set for Sept. 24.

The extra day also gave the musicians more rehearsal time at the stadium, Levine said. Both Ali and Foreman attended the opening concert when James Brown and The Pointer Sisters headlined. The American stars are enjoying tremendous popularity in this central African capital city.

The spirit of the festival has swept the city, with bands playing on the streets and in front of the hotel throughout the day and far into the night and the parking lot in front of the Intercontinental Hotel to a vast theatre with up to 30 dancers performing at one time.

The world press, gathered for the fight, remained for the music festival. Among the group was author Norman Mailer and adventurer George Plimpton, plus artist Leroy Neiman and others. Instead of covering a "rumble in the jungle," the correspondents enjoyed fine food and sipped Mouton-Cadet wine.

The music festival has generated so much excitement here that officials plan to make it an American event linking Africa and America.

Tribute Set For Ivory Joe

NASHVILLE — A special evening of entertainment involving the total entertainment spectrum will occur October 1 at the new Grand Ole Opry House in Nashville in honor of Ivory Joe Hunter. As a composer-singer-pianist, Hunter's contributions have been millions of record sales and memorable songs.

Entertainers Isaac Hayes, George Jones, Tammy Wynette, Sonny James, Melba Montgomery, Jeff Robinson, and William Bell are contributing their participation in the event as a special tribute to Hunter's role in the entertainment industry.

Produced by Bayron Binkley, the show will feature an orchestra conducted by Bill Walker; Jim Malloy will be the sound director. Many Nashville firms and individuals are participating in supporting preparations.

Despite having been hospitalized for the past ten months for the treatment of cancer, Hunter is planning to attend the show; air ambulance arrangements have been made to transport him here from Methodist Hospital in Memphis, where he is currently a patient. Proceeds will go to helping defray the medical expenses that have been incurred, but the opportunity for the entertainment industry and the total community to express its gratitude to Ivory Joe is a primary motivational force behind the entire project.

Triumvirat Arrives In U.S.

HOLLYWOOD — Triumvirat, the German rock group whose Capitol debut LP, on the Harvest label, "Illusions On A Double Dimple," was just released, has arrived in the U.S. this week to begin rehearsals prior to embarking on their first American tour, announced Al Coury, CRI senior vice president, A&R/promotion/-artist development.

Highlighting the tour will be one of Capitol's most energetic campaigns to date, featuring an all-encompassing marketing approach enhanced by the promotional campaign already underway.

Commenting on the success of "Illusions On A Double Dimple" and Triumvirat's subsequent tour Coury said: "Capitol Records has never been blind to the effect rock has had on international culture the last two decades. As a result, Capitol has remained in constant touch with artists, producers and production companies the world over, and continues to provide the very best exposure for artists from other countries."

WELL DESERVED — Shown receiving a plaque from the Southern California chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union after he spoke at an ACLU meeting held in Los Angeles is United Artists-Poppy recording artist Dick Gregory, shown accepting the plaque from Ramona Ripston, executive director of ACLU of Southern California. The comedian-social critic was honored for his many efforts on behalf of free speech. Gregory will appear at Operation PUSH's Black Expo in Chicago and at the Black Caucus in Washington, D.C. in the next few weeks.

GRC Sets 12 Singles, 5 LP's

ATLANTA — In response to increased airplay and sales reaction of current product releases, GRC Records has announced the mid-fall premiere of 12 new singles and 5 albums from the firm's label.

GRC President, Michael Thevis, said product releases will begin Sept. 24 and feature the country singing duo Lonzo & Oscar with "He Came Back" followed Oct. 1 with GRC's country/pop band Heartwood. Heartwood will release "Guaranteed To Win" produced by Paul Hornsby.

Additional product slated for October release includes R&B vocalist Dee Ervin "I Love What You're Doin' To Me"; pop vocalist Eddie Reeves "What Are We Doin'"; pop singer/guitarist Jim Turner and Houston singer/performer Bill Nash.

Releases on the label, the r&b subsidiary of GRC, feature return singles by R&B songstress Loleatta Holloway and soul singer John Edwards. Edwards is currently enjoying top 30 R&B position on the charts with his single "Careful Man."

From the success of "There's Got To Be Rain" released early this year by Dorothy Norwood, GRC returns with a new single and album from the former gospel-turned-R&B artist. Also marked for release is the vocal/instrumental funk-sounding septet, Ripple. This band brought in the first breakthrough for GRC in an R&B/pop crossover during the label's first six months of operation. Ripple's current single is "You Were Right On Time."

Joe Hinton, songwriter for many Motown artists will release a single on GRC's Hotlanta Label.

Heading the list of November single releases are the Rhodes Kids. This seven-member youthful set, making their debut with "Voo-Doo Magic," plan to follow with "I Like You," backed by an extensive multimedia promotional campaign.

New albums slated for October/November include The Counts, Eddie Reeves, Dorothy Norwood and the Rhodes Kids.

According to Buz Wilburn, president of GRDC, "We have produced a diversified selection of product releases including the areas of pop, R&B, country and MOR. Our overall sales have increased within the past three months and we have expanded our artist roster heavily in country and pop music. Combining this with our marketing staff, field promotion force and A&R push, we feel the successes of GRC will continue developing."

Wilburn also commented that GRC will be releasing a complete new line of jazz product in mid-November by Ebony Godfather, thus initiating the world-wide label into yet another phase of the music industry.

Anka Orig. Hits Via Sire In Oct.

NEW YORK — The original recordings of Paul Anka's greatest hits, which have not been available since 1962, will soon be released in a specially packaged and priced two-record set by Sire Records following an agreement reached between Bill Buster of American Record Sales, who holds the exclusive license to this product and Sire's managing director Seymour Stein.

These recordings cover the period from 1957-1962 when he was under contract to ABC-Paramount. Titles include "Diana," "Lonely Boy," "Put Your Head On My Shoulder," "Puppy Love," "You Are My Destiny," "It's Time To Cry," "My Home Town," "Dance On Little Girl," all of which were top 10 hits for Anka and all of which will be contained in this package.

Sire plans to release the double album in October as part of their first release since signing their new ABC distribution pact, as an historic package filled with photos and memorabilia with special liner notes by Greg Shaw, editor of Phonograph Record Magazine. Plans for future releases from the Anka catalog of over 100 masters have not yet been set. Sire's rights cover the United States only, but include tape rights, through their licensee GRT. Buster has done separate deals for Canada and the rest of the world with Polydor of Canada and CBS International respectively.

In commenting on the deal Stein stressed, "We are indeed pleased that Sire has been entrusted with the task of bringing back on the market these great Paul Anka recordings. Our timing is excellent! With Paul back on the top of the charts, this album will appeal not only to collectors who have been waiting years for this material to be re-issued, but to all markets as well."

Joining the group, are bass player Reggie McBride, formerly with Stevie Wonder's concert band, and drummer Frosty, who has played with Lee Michaels and Van Morrison.

In addition, Rare Earth increases in number to 7, with the addition of Jerry La Croix as lead singer, formerly of the Edgar Winter Group and Blood, Sweat and Tears.

As part of the change plan, Pete Hoorelbeke and Mike Urso have departed Rare Earth.

The newly-constituted group's first appearances included a week-long headline stand at New York's famed Apollo Theatre.

Elvis 'Talking' Album Via RCA

NEW YORK — RCA Records announced a special release of "Having Fun With Elvis On Stage," on Sept. 25. The content of the album is comprised of spontaneous remarks made by Presley during many of his performances on recent concert tours.

This package was originally pressed on Boxcar Records and sold only as a souvenir at Presley's personal appearance venues. It will now be released nationally, and will coincide with Presley's forthcoming tour beginning Sept. 28.

'Bad Company' Gold

NEW YORK — Bad Company's first album "Bad Co." has been certified gold by the RIAA.

"Bad Co." is the first album released on Swan Song Records, the newly formed record label owned by the members of Led Zeppelin and their manager Peter Grant.

Trower Climbs Golden Bridge

NEW YORK — Robin Trower's current Chrysalis album "Bridge of Sighs" has been certified gold by the RIAA. Trower is currently at work on his next Chrysalis album, which will be released through Warner Bros. early next year.

Lynyrd Skynyrd Second LP Gold

MCA Records, has notified the R.I.A.A. that Lynyrd Skynyrd's album, "Second Helping" has exceeded one million dollars in sales. This is the Southern rock group's first album to attain "gold" status. Released in April 1974, the LP contains the hit single, "Sweet Home Alabama." The album features the music of Robert Burns (drums), Allen Collins (lead and rhythm guitar, vocals), Ed King (lead and rhythm guitar, vocals), Billy Powell (keyboards), Gary Rossington (lead and rhythm guitar, vocals), Ronnie Van Zant (lead singer) and Leon Wilkeson (bass, vocals).

Pryor's 'X' Rated Hits Gold Status

MEMPHIS — Comic Richard Pryor's current album, "That Nigger's Crazy," has been certified gold with over a million dollars in sales, combining the figures for both records and tapes.

The LP on the Partee label (a division of The Stax Organization) is distinctive in that it reached its status virtually without the benefit of radio airplay, because of the nature of Pryor's material. Clearly "Rated X" on the cover, the Pryor album is done with scenes and language straight off the ghetto streets which inspired most of Pryor's routines and characterizations.

Sparks Set UK Tour, New LP

HOLLYWOOD — Sparks, the Island Records band that broke onto the U.K. charts this year with a debut album and back-to-back singles, is set for a major tour of Britain commencing in early November.

The concerts will coincide with release there of a second LP, "Propaganda," preceded by a single from that album, "Never Turn Your Back on Mother."

Lead guitarist Adrian Fisher has left the band, meanwhile, and there presently are no plans to replace him. The other members are co-founding brothers Ron and Russell Mael, Martin Gordon and Dinky Diamond.

Scoring strongly in America, meanwhile, is the debut Sparks album, "Kimono My House," and the single, "This Town Ain't Big Enough for Both of Us."

"This Town" and "Amateur Hour" were major chart entries for the group upon release overseas, the former establishing Sparks' reputation as possibly the best new band of 1974.

FPM Announces New Releases

All of the Fantasy releases are made up entirely of new music.

On the Milestone label, Michael Howell's second album, "In The Silence," has also been released.

The twofor series on the three labels now includes 80 double albums. Among the new doubles, on Prestige, are "Kansas City Nights," by Buck Clayton and Bucky Tate; "Oscar Peterson," featuring Stephane Grappelli and all new music from the great pianist; and Sonny Stitt's "Genesis," which was recorded early in his career and is here arranged chronologically.

POINTS WEST — At the party held for Al Green by David Gest and Associates and Mr. and Mrs. Tito Jackson at the latter's home (Sun. 8) an interesting dialogue developed between Michael Jackson, Al Green and David Bowie (who had just finished his week long stint at the Universal Amphitheatre). It seems that Bowie was very interested in the charisma that Green continually generates during his live show as well as Mike's ability to get any given crowd into a Jackson 5 tune. For their part, the two soul giants were very interested in Bowie's ability to present his music in a theatrical framework. The conversation was quite animated with the three performers exchanging viewpoints on the business and congratulating each other on their respective successes. The guest list at the soiree included Quincy Jones, Lamont Dozier, the entire Jackson 5, the Supremes, and Mr. and Mrs. Bowie. Green was presented with a proclamation honoring his civic contributions including a gig he played at a penitentiary earlier in the year. Presentation was made by City Councilman Dave Cunningham and Assemblyman Robert Farrell.

How's this for a guest list on a TV talk show? Dinah Shore's second network broadcast will feature Bo Donaldson and the Heywoods, Jimmy Hoffa, Rosey Grier and Rodney Allen Rippy. Wonder if Rodney will ask Hoffa some tough questions... Argent's new lead guitarist is 19 year old flash John Grimaldi... The Jackson Sisters just cut three sides with Johnny Bristol producing... Paul Horn's new single to be the Stevie Wonder gem, "Too High"... Randy California, using the name Spirit has just finished a new Epic LP... Michael Murphy also just out of the studio with a new disk titled "Blue Sky/Night Thunder" produced by Bob Johnston... Sly and the Family Stone will make their first Vegas appearance Oct. 12 at the Sahara playing two shows... Looks like Charlie Rich may cop an Emmy nomination for his work on "Benji".

Word has it that Edgar Winter flipped when he met Shirley Maclaine in Vegas on a concert stop. Apparently he's always been a big fan and told her that if she ever decided to record an album he'd be honored to be her producer... Isn't 43 dates enough? Not if you're Elton John and your tour is causing riots by the folks who weren't lucky enough to score the precious duckets that will gain them admittance to the best and most professional rock 'n' roll show in the business (and I'm a devoted Stones freak). In Washington, D.C., disgruntled fans did in fact riot when they couldn't buy tickets so Elton, with that big heart of gold, cancelled a rest day and scheduled a concert for Fri., Nov. 22, the 11th anniversary of John Kennedy's assassination. Rumor has it, President Ford and family may attend one of his shows in the Capitol.

They All Came to Al Gram's Party

Now how would you like to be a secret service man trying to protect Ford at an Elton John concert? Think about it.

Reflect also for a moment that last Wed. (18) marked the 4th anniversary of the tragic death of Jimi Hendrix, a man whose talent was only exceeded by his generosity and sincerity... Norman Kurban, president of Circus Wheels, an arranger and producer, has done work for such artists as Carole King, Kris Kristofferson, Rita Coolidge, Paul Williams, Buddy Miles and many others. He is currently arranging songs for Keith Moon's new MCA LP. The album is being produced by Mal Evans at the Los Angeles Record Plant.

On Tuesday Sept. 24, Kurban will produce and arrange a live album at Doug Weston's Troubadour for Dennis Tracy, who is with 20th Century Records.

We hear that Paul McCartney & Wings' single, "Helen Wheels" was named after the nickname of Paul's land rover he travels the moors of his Scottish farm in. And I always thought it was a play on the phrase "Hell on wheels". You just can't be too careful these days.

Carly Simon helped her Uncle, Peter Dean out on his new LP, "Four Or Five Times". In addition to the title track, Carly and Peter team up on "So The Bluebirds and Blackbirds Got Together"... Because places for bands to play are as hard to find in England as they are in the U.S., former Yes keyboard ace, Rick Wakeman, along with friend Bob Harris, intends putting together a production company to help new small bands who have potential, but no backing. Wakeman indicated he'd also be active in trying to secure label deals for some of the more promising groups. Rick, where were you when I had my band together?

Looks like Gary Legon has himself a good game plan for bringing top name acts to South America for limited tours (4 to 7 dates). He was successful with James Brown and Santana last year and has some big names in his sights for future dates. The money is there and Legon says, "The record market for British and American superstars is huge in South America. Any act that plays there can open up a big new territory for itself."

Because we've gotten numerous phone calls and several letters (mostly from ladies) we must ask who is handsome Dick Manito?

EAST COASTING — A gala party was thrown for Stevie Wonder (12) prior to his Nassau Coliseum gig. The party was held in the plush Delmonico Hotel Ballroom and hosted by John Phillips (ex-Papa), his wife and stylized songstress Genevieve Waite, photographer Peter Beard, Roberta Flack, and Beverly Johnson, who last month became the first black model to appear on the cover of Vogue Magazine. It was a true bash with such music luminaries as Mick Jagger, Edgar Winter, Steve Paul, Rick Deringer, Marvin Gaye, Andy Warhol, and numerous others present to help Stevie celebrate.

Settlement has at last been reached on the Rod Stewart court case. Rod's new LP entitled "Smiler" will be released as of Sept. 25. The album includes some interesting contemporary writers. "Let Me Be Your Car" written by the fabulous writing team of Eltor John and Bernie Taupin features Elton on piano, background vocals and some lead vocals. "Mine For Me" is a Paul McCartney penned ditty that should be out-a-site. Rod does a solid reworking of two Sam Cooke tunes, "Bring It On Home To Me" and "You Send Me." And Rod and Ronny Wood do a duet on "Sweet Little Rock And Roller" and "Girl From The North Country." Promises to be an exceptional album, but then again we have learned to expect only the best from Rod and the Faces.

Ira Blacker, formerly of ATI, who has gone to start his own management firm will be managing "Rush" who is Mercury's new hard rock group bearing a very strong auditory resemblance to some early Led Zeppelin. Lead singer Geddy Lee sounds like a cross between early Roger Plant and Ian Lloyd, while the lead guitarist, Alex Lifeson sounds as if he could trade licks with Jimmy Page anytime. The group will be playing the Felt Forum on Nov. 5 opening for Rory Gallagher which promises to be a very good show.

New Paper Lace single has been released and it promises to take the group where "Chicago" did. It's called "The Black-Eyed Boys" and is written by that constantly prolific songwriting team of Mitch Murray and Peter Callander.

Minnie Riperton, that perfect singing angel, promises to blow the audience out of their seats on Oct. 3, when she plays Carnegie Hall with Herbie Hancock. It should be quite a show judging from her previous New York appearance at the Bottom Line. I mean it's not every day that you hear a lady span five octaves with a superb clarity of tone.

We would like to extend two get well wishes. First Lionel Hampton, has been hospitalized at Mt. Sinai Hospital for internal bleeding and any notes of get well wishes would certainly be appreciated. Second, Gary Thain, bass player for Uriah Heep suffered a serious electric shock onstage (15) as the band headlined an indoor concert in Dallas, Texas. He has been flown to an unknown Los Angeles hospital for observation.

Although the Foreman-Ali fight has been postponed there was a gala send off for the stars who will be participating in the Zaire '74 Festival. Present at the going away party, and getting on the plane were James Brown, B.B. King, The Spinners, Bill Withers, The Pointer Sisters, Etta James, Fania Latin All-Stars, The Crusaders, Sister Sledge, Manu Dibango, Hugh Masakela, Miriam Makeba, and Lloyd Price. The party thrown by Rogers & Cowan, was held at the Grand Ballroom of the Holiday Inn adjacent to Kennedy Airport. An exciting affair indeed, the flash bulbs were forever flashing even to the point where the stars began to leave to board the plane. Lots of luck for Zaire '74.

Interestingly enough it was also B.B. King's birthday so the cake that was eaten served two purposes of celebration. A gala affair for sure.

Little Feat really knocked them dead at the Bottom Line. That is one group you are going to be hearing more about in the very near future.

The new Raspberries LP has been released by Capitol. It is a super LP and since the group reformed they have a stronger sound than ever. Hats off to Jimmy Ienner's great production of this fine album.

Maria Muldaur's new LP due for an October release is titled "Waitress In A Doughnut Shop" and the Warner people are pretty excited about it. She does the Alan Toussiant tune "Brickyard Blues" which has been done by Three Dog Night, the James Montgomery Band, and Frankie Miller, who was the first to record it, all in the space of a month. Pretty hot copyright, that's for sure.

New Lennon single "Whatever Gets You Through The Night" is a real rocker that John superbly produced himself. A very vibrant single.

Warner Bros. recording artist Jimmy Cliff has had his new LP entitled "Music Maker" just released. Jimmy recently played Randalls Island to 30,000 people at Black Family Day.

Lou Reed will be appearing at the Felt Forum on Oct. 9.

Atlantic recording artist Gary Bonner who is an ex-Turtle and penned such hits as "Happy Together" and "She'd Rather Be With Me," has released a laid-back R&B pop smash titled "Baby Baby (Love Is Waitin)."

Blue Magic will be appearing on the forthcoming Rolling Stones LP which is scheduled for fall release.

Swedish rock group ABBA who recently hit with "Waterloo" and is currently represented with "Honey Honey" will be touring the United States shortly.

H. W. Casey and R. Finch who co-penned the international George McCrae smash "Rock Your Baby" have formed their own group called K.C. And The Sunshine Band. Their current single "Queen Of Clubs" is represented currently on the British charts and was recently featured on Tops Of The Pops. The group is presently in the midst of a 48 show tour of England.

MCS (Musician Contact Service) will be sponsoring a series of benefit concerts for muscular dystrophy. Any interested parties contact (516) 681-1327.

There is a book called "Rock Dreams" which will be available to the general public as of Oct. 1. It is a retrospective look at rock and roll done by Guy Peellaert and Nik Cohn. It is a collection of masterful paintings that must be surrealistically seen to be realistically believed.

Bob Dylan is back in the studios recording his first Columbia LP in two years. On the LP will be Eric Weissberg and Barry Kronfeld. Columbia's Don DeVito and John Hammond Sr. were among those in the listening audience.

Until next week...

Hudson & Ford — Strawbles and Free Spirited

A nickelodeon is any one of three things or a combination of two. First, it is an early 20th century movie house whose admission was five cents. Second, it is a player piano or old time juke box. And third, it is the name of Hudson & Ford's current debut LP for A&M Records. So, embodying the best of both worlds, the "Nickelodeon" LP, is a movie of the mind with musical accompaniment. For a first LP it is particularly strong with several of the cuts having single potential. Of the two released in England "Burn Baby Burn," which has superb blending harmonies, accented instrumentation, and a synthesis of splendid metaphorical images, and "Pick Up The Pieces," which features bending flexibility of slide guitar leading to suppleness of lyric suggestion; "Pick Up The Pieces" is the single release in this country. It has a lot going for it and proper promotion could qualify it for a top twenty record in the United States.

The talented duo whose song writing prowess is sharp and poetical, and whose harmonies sound at times like mid-period Beatles and some early Bee Gees are a perfect blending and balance of harmonic serenity.

Hudson & Ford were once part of that unique musical ensemble called Strawbs. They were with the group from 1970 through 1973. They appear on "Just A Collection Of Antiques And Curios," "From The Witchwood," "Grave New World," and "Bursting At The Seams," of which the single which brought Strawbs into the coveted number one spot on the English charts "Part Of The Union" firmly established Hudson & Ford as a separate entity from the Strawbs musical direction.

No longer could the classical spark of the Strawbs stay lit with Hudson & Ford's own brand of hybrid rock at odds to endure a unified musical relationship. Interestingly enough, the observant listener should be able to detect the influence the Strawbs have on Hudson & Ford's music as well as the influence that Hudson & Ford have had on the latter part of their association with the Strawbs, particularly the "Bursting At The Seams" LP from which the group's first number one hit in England was culled.

This established the creative conflict. Strawbs were in one genre, while Hudson & Ford were in another, and there was no sort of musical reconciliation which could be reached. So it was in early '73 that Hudson & Ford split the Strawbs to innovate their own kind of music. The sense of mystical classicism which pervades such Hudson &

Hudson & Ford

Ford pieces as "The Dark Lord," which is a glorious tale in epic proportions, capitalizes the eternal whys and wherefores of religion. The theme itself is indicative of the very definite Strawbs influence.

And just as the Strawbs have always attempted to say something in their music and literate rock, so Hudson & Ford say something in their musical way. They are not didactic, and their music is a subtle tale with subdued ironies running rampant.

Tom Allom, who has also appeared on one Strawbs LP "Two Weeks Last August" which was released only in England, has lent his talents on harmonium and piano on the new LP, and produced the "Nickelodeon" album along with Hudson & Ford. Hudson, who used to play drums in the Strawbs, plays electric acoustic, and 12-string guitars on the Hudson & Ford LP, while John Ford plays bass, acoustic, and 12-string guitars also. Mickey Keen, plays lead and steel guitar, and Gerry Conway plays drums. Also, Rick Wakeman, formerly of Strawbs, and Yes plays some keyboards on the LP.

The duo have just recently played the Bottom Line in NYC and The Joint In The Woods in Parsippany N.J., and it looks to be that they are going to have a career in America tantamount to their already hit career in England.

They mastered their new LP in New York and it should be ready for commercial release sometime next month. The title track "Free Spirit" is indicative of the split from the old Strawbs and the personal renaissance of Hudson & Ford's musical evolution in respect to the old Strawbs and to their own progression from the "Nickelodeon" LP. For as Richard Hudson said, "The first LP was more acoustic and was written for Hudson & Ford more as a duo than as a group. Now 'Free Spirit' has been conceived for the group, and it is more musically oriented having been written with the band in mind." It also celebrates the creative freedom the duo have expressed since the split from Strawbs.

And so we see the progression of Hudson & Ford as a viable duo who have created their own musical metamorphosis and who stand as a very creative twosome of writers and masters of pure harmonies. A most talented newcoming group who stand to establish themselves as a significant musical force in the very near future.

Felix Cavaliere — These Are The Good Ol' Days

The name Felix Cavaliere evokes a variety of memories and thoughts, from record producers and presidents like Jerry Wexler and Ahmet Ertegun to the millions who knew him only as the lead vocalist and keyboard whiz of The Rascals, but one impression is common to all — Felix is a hell of a guy.

Once, in 1965, while "Good Lovin'" was becoming the #1 song of the entire year, Felix, Eddie Brigatti, Dino Danelli and Gene Cornish left a gig in the Catskills and detoured through forty miles of bad road to a remote camp site to play a special two hour set for the kids vacationing there who never in their wildest dreams expected the nation's hottest rock act to show up to play for them. But that's the quality that typifies Cavaliere, a spirit and desire to please that in every way matches up to the vast reservoir of talent and creativity he possesses.

The Rascals' break-up, as most catastrophes of that nature will, had a profound influence on Felix and for a while he was understandably despondent and temporarily directionless. His way of dealing with life and its problems had by that time developed into a spiritualistic approach that had in fact manifested itself even before the quartet parted ways, and it wasn't long before he went back to his first love — music.

The relationship Felix and the Rascals had had with Atlantic Records was, according to Felix, "The very best. They respected us and treated us right and we respected them." When Felix started searching out possible deals for a solo LP of his own, he became involved with Columbia Records, but was unfortunate enough to have his fine debut effort with that label stymied as the firm went through the chaos that immediately followed Clive Davis' departure.

I spoke with Felix over lunch in New York in February and at that time he was uncertain as to where he would try to place his next LP or even what direction it would take musically. Time, as it always does, has a way of solving those problems, and when Felix visited Cash Box last week he was the proud bearer of his debut album for Bearsville, produced by 'the wizard', Todd Rundgren.

"I can't say enough good things about Todd", Felix commented candidly. He's much more spiritually inclined than he's given credit for and he's an electronics genius. He mixed my entire album in ten hours spread over two nights. I've never encountered anyone like him. He reminds me very much of Tom Dowd in his earlier days."

A big turning point in Felix's career came last November when Tony Outeda teamed with the artist in a managerial capacity. "He helped get me onto Warner Brothers", said Felix, "and when I expressed a desire to work with Todd as a producer, he engineered the Bearsville deal with Paul Fishkin (Bearsville president) and Mo Ostin of Warners and bought back the Columbia LP."

Felix, who for the last few years has maintained a residence outside Danbury, Connecticut, recorded his new LP at Moogy Klingman's New York studio and when he's not busy reading or writing songs, commutes regularly from his home to the Apple to Woodstock (home of Bearsville) and back. The reason for his California visit is that he just taped a Don Kirshner "Rock Concert Show" (Wed., 18) with a band he put together in a mere ten days with the help of Outeda and with the determination that has marked all his efforts from "I Ain't Gonna Eat Out My Heart Anymore" to "I Am A Gambler" (possibly his new single).

In town with Felix for this rare public appearance (his first in 3½ years) are former Druid and current Sha Na Na guitar genius, Elliott Randall, Klingman on multiple synthesizer, Jack Scarangella on bass, Eddie Rivera from the Eddie Palmieri Band on drums, Tony Jimenez on congas from the Fania All Stars, Gail Boggs on backing vocals from "Candide" with Nancy Cedeno (formerly with Tito Puente) and Brenda Madison of TV commercial fame.

The show will feature this unique musical aggregation playing four songs from Felix's LP, entitled simply, "Felix Cavaliere". The tunes are "I Am A Gambler", "Everlasting Love", "Funky Friday" and "Future Train" and provide a good insight into where Felix is at today. It may be fun to dwell on the past, but for Felix the optimism of his new association with Bearsville and the continual opportunity of working with Rundgren and his personal lyricist, Carman Moore make the present and future his primary considerations.

"I retreated from lyric writing a while ago because I didn't feel record companies were spiritually oriented enough to dig them. From their point of view, they're right. They want to sell records. I believe that if you want to write 'message' material that's going to appeal only to a select audience, you should start your own label, because the majors want to make money. It would be nice, however, if every once in a while they gave equal time to God and released some spiritually oriented material."

In the meantime, Felix has his destiny under control although he's somewhat reluctant about the promises he made to Outeda to do a week at the Troubadour and a week at New York's Bottom Line. But knowing Felix as a determined artist and sincere human being I'm confident that he can do nothing but spread happiness wherever he goes.

Miles Davis

EVERY FISHER HALL, NEW YORK — Miles Davis, as his albums proclaim, is one of America's foremost "new directors of music." The Columbia artist was one of the founders of the musical experiment fusing jazz and rock. His latest concert was his most profound attempt to force rock electronics and its integration with jazz instrumentation to its ultimate conclusion.

Davis has questioned the very meaning of music and its relationship to pure sound. His performance was structured around a strong rhythm line and a heavy bottom. The trumpet and the reeds explored the improvisational possibilities of the single chord and the single tone progression. Complexity arose from the arrangement of the individual musical voices within a more or less cohesive whole. Bells, beads and blocks not only served the traditional rhythmic role of secondary backing, but took on a more forward more creative articulation. Yet, within the unlimited confines of his new musical compositions, Davis played several old riffs. The conflation of the old and new was both humorous and ironic — humorous because of the discontinuities between the old sounds and the new structures; ironic because, for Davis, that style of music cannot be played anymore.

Davis conducted the concert as the musical scene unfolded before him. He arranged the music by playing out the interpersonal relationships that developed between the musicians. Davis indicated the breaks and modulations and directed the various improvisational moments. The resulting sound was sometimes obscure but always interesting and indicates the direction one of the world's most talented musical geniuses is taking and, in turn, the possibilities for all contemporary music. s.m.

Dolly Parton Bobby Bare Ronnie Milsap

FELT FORUM, NYC — RCA Records was in full force as three of country music's most powerful artists opened the second season of the highly successful Country In New York series produced by Al Aronowitz in association with Madison Square Garden. The show was fast paced and offered the kind of diversification that sparkled with the variety of three excellent performers.

Ronnie Milsap is going to be a superstar on the country scene with definite crossover potential. He is a performer of the first order and his acoustic piano playing is as smooth as can be. His voice is powerful and rich and Ronnie wound his way through such hits as "Pure Love," "Behind Closed Doors," the Johnny Rodriguez smash "Pass Me By (If You're Only Passing Through)" and his present RCA chart hit "Please Don't Tell Me How The Story Ends" which is a Kris Kristofferson penned tune.

Closing his set "Mr. Country Soul" did a rockabilly medley including "Splish Splash" "Chantilly Lace" and "Sea Cruise." And the way the story is going to end for Ronnie is very pure success.

Bobby Bare is an extremely interesting and enjoyable performer. His story songs, of which most are penned by the very talented Shel Silverstein, are true experiential vignettes which take the listener on a mind excursion. Bare's delivery of these story songs is really something special. He is a natural, with a laid-back easy flow to his musical narrative that cannot help but totally captivate the audience. His tunes included "Warm And Free," "Ride Me Down Easy" "It Hurts To Know She's Leavin'" and his recent RCA smash single "Daddy What If."

A duet with his wife on "Let It Be Me" was complemented by the lovely Jeanne Bare performing the exquisite "Scarlet Ribbons." The two numbers which highlighted the set were the incredible "Rosalie's Good Eats Cafe" and "Marie Laveau" both of which can be found in a recorded live concert on Bobby's "Lullabies, Legends and Lies," LP.

Dolly Parton is not only a veritable voluptuary and gorgeous, but she has a distinctive vocal style and writes some fine songs. She is backed by the Travelin' Family Band which is made up of family members exclusive of the lead guitarist. They are a tight unit and provide Dolly with the instrumental undercurrent she requires for her sparkling stage act.

She opened the show with part of "Joshua," and the haunting quality of Dolly's material makes her very special warble a unique presentation. Her repertoire is indeed extensive and the material is representative of ballads, up-tempo ditties, story songs and some excellent bluegrass. Her sincerity and humility are also part of the attractive lady's repertoire and she carried off with consummate ability such numbers as "The Coat Of Many Colors," "My Tennessee Mountain Home," "I Will Always Love You," "Rollin' In My Sweet Baby's Arms," "Gettin' Happy," "Jolene," and the latest single which is the title track from her new RCA LP entitled "Love Is Like A Butterfly."

And so is Dolly's voice. With all of her softness and delicate flexibility of range Dolly is like a butterfly, and she will continue to fly up the country charts with more crossover hits in the near future. m.d.

Charles Bevel Franklin Ajaye

HOLLYWOOD — Charles Bevel, or "Mississippi" as he's sometimes called came into town and blew the minds of a packed auditorium with his powerful style, reminiscent of Taj Mahal and, at times Jose Feliciano. His warmth and his natural stage presence was particularly refreshing as he played a variety of numbers from his current A&M LP.

The rapport he developed with his audience was easy going and sincere and the songs he sang re-enforced his posture. He played "Where Does The Grass Grow Green?" "Have You Lost A Friend?" "Mt. Bayou" from his "Mississippi" LP, "Sally B White" and "It Ain't Magic" with the deft touch of a magician and left no doubts among the assembled crowd that his capabilities augur well for his future. He's the type of performer whose style sneaks up on you slowly, but grabs you strongly once you're into it. Attention to dynamics as well as clever arrangements typified his material and his stage presence was forceful, though not theatrical or glittery. Kind of a nice change of pace from the screaming gaudy groups who dominate rock today.

Franklin Ajaye, another A&M artist whose current LP, "I Am A Comedian, Seriously" has had critics and listeners alike in stitches, opened for Bevel living up to the pre-publicity he'd gotten through exposure on the Carson, Flip Wilson and other TV shows.

He performed a number of sketches, each taken from his real life experience and transformed the hall into a festive party while he was on stage. He did his dirty germ bathroom routine, "Deaf Mute In A Choir," his "Traffic School" sketch, a bit on homosexuals and their clothing tastes, "Fraternalities and College Roommates," "High School Sex Talk" and an hilarious piece on the wolfman (not you, Jack) going to the bathroom. In all, the Ajaye set seemed short because of his rapid fire delivery, but one thing is certain — Franklin Ajaye will be back. d.b.

Isis Stuart Goetz

WHISKEY A GO GO — Isis, Buddah's brass heavy all girl band hit the Whiskey with an over-abundance of talent and energy. The nine piece woman band surprised many with their fine exhibit of songs laced with imaginative arrangements. The band showed they were beyond just demonstrating the point that they can be competent musicians. Instead, they were a tight knit creative band in the process of developing their own individualistic style. Leaders, Carol McDonald and Ginger Bianca, previously from Goldie and the Gingerbreads originated the group after many years of hard work to develop the group's image.

With a repertoire ranging from the funky "Rubber Boy" (their latest single) to the dixieland inflected "Cocaine Elaine," Isis' versatility was perhaps the most striking aspect of their set. Standout performances were given by flutist, Jean Fineberg and lead vocalist, Carol McDonald, bass, Stella Barrow and Suzi Ghezzi on lead guitar. The bulk of their material was from their recent Buddah release "Isis."

Stuart Goetz, opened for Isis, accompanied by the Ropo Ash Band. Their songs included some rock standards, Traffic's "Can't Find My Way Home" and Led Zeppelin's "Stairway To Heaven." The majority of their songs though, were written by the band, standout numbers such as "Graffiti Falls," "You Know I Love You Still." Goetz' vocals were polished and could adept easily to any musical format

Joe Cocker

Ted Nugent's Amboy Dukes

NORTH HALL, MEMPHIS — The return of Joe Cocker to the rock scene has been watched with great enthusiasm by all of his old fans and by an entirely new rock generation who are familiar with him only by reputation. Fortunately, Joe was up to his best effort at North Hall where a packed house welcomed him enthusiastically.

Fortified by his successful new A&M LP, "I Can Stand A Little Rain," Cocker performed an innovative, if somewhat different set than in past years. He did several selections from the new disk and was applauded lively for "Turn Out The Light," his single. He reminisced a bit about the old days and then proceeded to sing some of the tunes he made famous during his Mads Dogs and Englishmen days. "She Came In Through The Bathroom Window" and "Cry Me A River" were particularly well received, but "Woman To Woman" stole the show, particularly when Joe started gesticulating wildly as in days of old. His band, thoroughly professional and tight, was in fine form as well and gave every impression that they can back Joe in the style he deserves.

Ted Nugent and his Amboy Dukes opened the show for Cocker, with "Hibernation" and went into "Strangle Hotel," "Pony Express," "Lady Luck," "Living In The Woods" and "Sasha." The next tune was "Papa's Will" during which he beat his guitar with his guitar strap and crawled off the stage at the song's end. After lots of howling from the audience, Nugent returned for an encore titled "Great White Buffalo" (a cut from his just released DiscReet LP, "Tooth, Fang and Claw"). In the middle of the song, during a short drum and bass solo, Ted left the stage and was next seen standing on his amps, towering over the audience, dressed in loin cloth only and holding a large bow and arrow which was aimed at a flaming skull at the other end of the stage. Somehow Nugent lost his balance and fell off stage into the arms of the police. The kids in the audience grabbed him and pushed him back on stage, in time for him to shoot the flaming skull, and be hauled off by the Memphis police and arrested for indecent exposure. The promoters who felt the entire police episode was uncalled for went down to the courthouse and bailed Nugent out.

Albert King

CLUB PARADISE, MEMPHIS — The eleventh anniversary of this mid-southern mecca for soul and jazz saw a near-capacity crowd on Sunday, Sept. 15, shouting and dancing as the king of blues guitar, Albert King, showed them what the blues is all about.

Paradise manager and co-owner Andrew "Sunbeam" Mitchell had invited Albert to help celebrate the beginning of the club's twelfth year as well as Sunbeam's 32 years as the man who has run both the Paradise (located in a structure that was built as a bowling alley) and the old Club Handy on Beale Street, just across from the park named for W. C. Handy, the man who first put blues music down on staff paper.

Some 2,000 people, about a third of them white, had gone down to the Paradise in the heavily black South Memphis area to help honor Sunbeam and listen to Albert King.

The crowd was ready and eager for The King to commence gettin' down, and even though he spent the first five minutes in an instrumental piece to get his equipment's levels set, the audience was standing and shouting for more. Albert brought out one of his big guns, "That's What The Blues Is All About," early and launched from that into other King standards such as the by-now classic "I'll Play The Blues For You," "I Wanna Get Funky," "Breaking Up Somebody's Home," "High Cost Of Loving," "Flat Tire," and others.

Backstage before his set Albert had been having some trouble getting his suit for the show together and he sent an aide back to the bus twice for different pieces of clothing. In the crowded dressing room he would sometimes shake his head and mumble his dissatisfaction with the way he was feeling and playing lately, saying things like "I just can't get it going. It won't feel right." Then he walked onto the stage and spent almost two hours showing his consummate artistry on the guitar, blues style, with the superbly timed and funky background of the Paradise house band. The thought occurred that if this won't feel right, heaven help us if this giant ever gets it to feel right.

There can be little, if any, dispute as of this date that Albert King is the undisputed King of the Blues and is likely to remain at the top.

Joe tends to the vocal with his usual expertise and the production and arrangement are both very much together. Watch this one go big. Flip: No info. available.

DON PRESTON (Shelter 40279)

(Keep On) San Francisco (3:05) (Amasing — ASCAP — Don Preston)

A laid-back jazzy ballad in a progressive fashion, Don carries off the vocal with a refined sense of smoothness that will at once appeal to programmers and listeners alike. The instrumentation is full and solid with an excellent arrangement and fine production. The disk should do well for Don. Just listen! Flip: Free And Easy Day (2:16) (Amasing, ASCAP — Don Preston).

CHASE (Epic 8-50027)

Bochawa (3:27) (Cha-Bil, ASCAP — B. Chase)

It is indeed unfortunate that the life of such an innovative artist as Bill Chase was so tragically cut short. This tune which is culled from the "Pure Music" LP, is a progressive instrumental with some dynamite arranging. The horns are powerful and are the focal point of the disk. A heavy instrumental there is also some very heavy keyboard work on the tune. Flip: No info. available.

SPOOKY TOOTH (Island IS004)

Hell Or High Water (3:32) (Ackee - WB, ASCAP — M. Petto — G. Wright)

Spooky Tooth is in fine form on their latest release which exemplifies the Spooky Tooth style. Heavy tight instrumentation is complemented by very good vocal harmonies and a together record. The haunting disk is a sure shot and should be reckoned with come hell or high water. Flip: The Mirror (5:21) (Ackee — WB, ASCAP — M. Patto — M. Jones — G. Wright).

GENE HARRIS (Blue Note, BN-XW551-X)

Higga-Boom (3:23) (Masong - Parnassis, ASCAP — H. Mason)

A very infectious instrumental that just has to be a disco smash. Very tight instrumentation is accented by some excellent piano riffs and a very solid undercurrent of bass and drums. This tune has excellent potential to break out and once listeners get wind of it there is no doubt that it will. Flip: I Remember Summer (2:03) (Parnassis, ASCAP — J. Peters).

RAY CONNIFF (Columbia 3-10022)

When Mabel Comes In The Room (2:35) (Jerryco, ASCAP — J. Herman)

Taken from the Broadway musical "Mack And Mabel," the tune has that characteristic Coniff flow that has made Ray's music a true and distinctive entity. The arrangement is full and is brightly augmented by the very full chorus of background voices. The orchestration is lush with an appeal to many markets. Flip: No info. available.

STAMPEDERS (Capitol 3964)

Ramona (3:14) (Covered Wagon, ASCAP — Rich Dodson)

Canadian based trio play some great rock 'n' roll. Culled from their super "New Day" LP the tune is dynamic and hard driving with a really dynamite hook. This group has been around in Canada for a good while and it's about time they broke out in this country. Refined rock with a great lyric line should get this group some very positive action. Flip: No info. available.

PAUL DAVIS (Bang 712)

Ride 'Em Cowboy (3:52) (Web IV, BMI — Paul Davis)

A very mellow ballad that should break out in a big way for Paul. The tune is easy paced with a very smooth flow and Paul's harmonies are really something else. The tune drifts in a relaxed fashion that sets its appeal as something very natural and easy. Watch this because it will move. Flip: I'm The Only Sinner (In Salt Lake City) (3:47) (Web IV, BMI — Paul Davis).

newcomer picks

CARL DOUGLAS (20th Century 2140)

Kung Fu Fighting (3:18) (Chappell, ASCAP — Carl Douglas)

A soulful rocker with an eastern flair and a touch of funk is what this fine disk is all about. The instrumentation is solid and Carl's vocal is smooth and full of the necessary funk. The tune is cleverly orchestrated and there is an instant amount of commercial appeal. Dig this because it is going to get some very positive response. Flip: No info. available.

MALCOLM ROBERTS (BASG 19566)

Love Is All (3:45) (Felsted, BMI — Reed/Mason)

A tune in the Engelbert Humperdinck tradition, this is a very mellow ballad with the unmistakable power and resonance of Malcolm's vocal prowess. A love song to enhance all love songs the tune has a definite MOR appeal that should have programmers picking up on it immediately. Flip: In My Own Time (2:30) (W. Bros., ASCAP — Roberts/Greene).

MIAMI FEATURING ROBERT MOORE (Drive 6234)

Party Freaks (2:57) (Sherlyn, BMI — Willie Clarke — Clarence Reid)

And when you hear this fine disk you freaks are going to want to party. A funky tune with solid instrumentation once you dig it you won't be able to stop movin' around. The disk is an excellent disco tune and should be breakin' out any day now. Robert has got the right hint of funk to carry the tune off with spunk. Flip: Party Freaks Pt. 2 (2:57) (Credits Same)

PHOTOGRAPHS AND MEMORIES — Jim Croce's Greatest Hits — Jim Croce — Producers: Terry Cashman, Tommy West — ABC ABCD-835

It's very sad that Jim's not here to share in the fun that his greatest hits afford all the rest of us. His contribution to pop music, though short in duration, will last forever with the greatest impact because of the excellent material he consistently wrote and performed. Included in this sentimental tribute to one of America's most inspiring talents are "Bad, Bad Leroy Brown," "Operator," "Time In A Bottle," "You Don't Mess Around With Jim" and "I'll Have To Say I Love You In A Song."

LIGHT OF WORLDS — Kool & The Gang — Producer: K&G Productions — De-Lite DEP-2014

Kool & The Gang have established a reputation for excellence and "hit savvy" that's hard to top, but they live up to the challenge in typically fine form on their latest De-Lite LP, a delight if you don't mind us punning a bit. Always in touch with the rhythms of the street and the disco they bring a wealth of musical expertise to this record and the resultant product is a soulful masterpiece. We love "Fruitman," "Street Corner Symphony" and "Summer Madness." A smash LP.

STARTING OVER — Raspberries — Producer: Jimmy Ienner — Capitol ST-11329

The LP title tells only part of the story of Raspberries, the group whose hit singles and albums made them one of the premiere acts of the '70's. Make no mistake, Eric Carmen is still the leader of the group and the new material on this LP promises to help the fellows pick up where they left off — riding a wave of success that was unstoppable. Of particular interest here are the cuts "Overnight Sensation (Hit Record)," "All Through The Night" and "Cruisin' Music." Glad to have the Raspberries back.

THE ROCKY HORROR SHOW — Tim Curry & the Original Roxy Cast — Producer: Lou Adler — Ode SP77026

The biggest box office success of the rock "season," The Rocky Horror Show now emerges via this impressive Ode cast featuring Tim Curry in the starring role and Jamie Donnelly, Boni Enten, Abigale Hanes, Alan Martin, Kim Milford, B. Miller, Susan Morse, J. M. Robinson, Bruce Scott and narrator Graham Jarvis. Great selections from this zany space shot include "Dammit Janet," "Sweet Transvestite," "Once In A While" and "Time Warp." Add Curry and Lou Adler and you've got a hit LP on your hands.

THE MIRROR — Spooky Tooth — Producers: Gary Wright, Mick Jones, Eddie Kramer — Island ILPS 9292

The raw power of Spooky Tooth emerges on the reformed group's new LP as never before, with a scintillating flash and a bedrock underpinning that defy even Newton's law of gravity. Impeccable harmonies, great hooks in the tracks, careful dynamics and precision arranging characterize this record, by far their best to date. The special synthesizer effects on "Hell Or High Water" are excellent, reminiscent of the Who at their best. We also dig "Fantasy Satisfier" and "Higher Circles."

IT COULD HAVE BEEN ME — Sami Jo — Producers: Sonny Limbo, Mickey Buckins — MGM S3G 703

Coming off her smash summer single, "Tell Me A Lie" and segueing into her current single, "It Could Have Been Me," this dynamic new LP puts the vivacious sexy artist into proper focus — at the top of her craft with plenty of time left to climb still higher. Smash tracks off this disk in addition to the aforementioned singles include "I'll Believe Anything You Say," "He's Everywhere" and "I Can't See The Good In Your Goodbye." A sure shot hit LP if we ever heard one.

THE SYLVERS III — The Sylvers — Producers: Michael Viner, Perry Botkin Jr. — MGM M3G4940

It must be great to have a group consisting of your brothers and sisters. Just think how well they understand one another's point of view. The Sylvers reflect that togetherness beautifully on this, their third LP. An artful display of musical wizardry complements the six Sylvers as they sing up a storm on such cuts as "I Aim To Please," "Don't Give Up The Good Life," "Wish You Were Here" and "Love Over Mind." A superb album with fine dynamics and impeccable harmonies, look for this to take off.

STREETLIGHTS — Bonnie Raitt — Producer: Jerry Ragavoy — Warner Bros. BS 2818

The inimitable Bonnie Raitt is at her best here playing a variety of songs by the likes of Allen Toussaint, John Prine and Allee Willis with the flash that has come to be a trademark of her's. Her attention to dynamic control as well as selection of songs, arrangements and complementary production enhance each cut on the LP giving it a personal touch that stands up strongly even to the most critical ear. Particularly provocative selections include "The Midway" (reminiscent of Joni Mitchell who wrote it) and "I Got Plenty."

HIGH ROLLER — James Montgomery Band — Producers: Tom Dowd, Albhy Galuten — Capricorn CP 0142

In typical fashion the explosive James Montgomery Band is out of the starting gate quicker than Secretariat with their new Capricorn LP, an effort earmarked by the funk and soul that has made the group one of the premiere live acts working the rock circuit in this country. Whether laying back and taking it slow on a blues number or wailing like banshees on a hard driving rocker, the Montgomery sextet knows exactly how to make the most of its natural musical resources. We like "Shot Down Love" and "I Can't Stop (No, No, No)."

MUSIC MAKER — Jimmy Cliff — Producer: Jimmy Cliff — Warner Bros. MS 2188

Jimmy's particular brand of funky reggae comes through very strongly on the multi-talented artist's latest LP, one filled with the sound of the islands as well as the streets. Particularly strong tracks from this record include "Brother," "No. 1 Rip-Off Man," "You Can't Be Wrong And Get Right," "My Love Is Solid As A Rock" and the fine title track. Whenever Jimmy decides to make music, there is an expectant air of happiness and refreshment and those feelings are reflected here in depth.

INTROSPECTIVE OF THE EARLY YEARS — Bobby Bland — ABC/Duke KDLPD-92-2

For anyone with a soulful bent about him, Bobby "Blue" Bland's dynamite two record introspective set will be a delight. The fabulous blues singer's ability to project feeling through music is evident in every cut. Each track is, in itself, an insight into the genius that has always characterized this superb artist. Parts of the LP will make you cry because they're so very sensitive and others will have you up and feeling the good time blues the way they were intended to be felt. We love "You're The One."

TOOTH, FANG & CLAW — Ted Nugent's Amboy Dukes — Producers: Lew Futterman, Ted Nugent, Jon Child — DiskReet DS 2203

Like the hard driving rock'n'rollers they've always been, Ted Nugent and his irrepressible Amboy Dukes take charge from the start of their new DiskReet LP to the final bar. Ted's guitar playing and vocals spark the package and add a powerful element to the band's overall dynamic feel. Particularly effective when playing high intensity music, the group makes a fine impression with cuts like "Hibernation," "Lady Luck" and "No Holds Barred." We look for this colorful package to spark lots of imagination.

LOOK AT THE FOOL — Tim Buckley — Producer: Joe Falsia — DiscReet DS 2201

Tim's last effort, "Saffronia," was a remarkable LP, but all Buckley fans will be delighted to learn that his current effort is at least as good and in many respects an improvement over his last record. Tim's vocals continue to have a haunting quality to them even when he reaches back and lets it rip, but the overall strength of the record is in its sense of unity. We think that "Bring It Up," "Tijuana Moon," "Down In The Street" and the title track are particularly strong and give the LP a good foundation.

DORY PREVIN — Dory Previn — Producer: Nikolas Venet — Warner Bros. BS 2811

Dory Previn has always been one of the most enigmatic and uniquely gifted singer/songwriters to perform in the pop genre and her current LP is an expansion of the talents she has amply displayed in the past. The LP cover is symbolic, for Ms. Previn has always placed a high priority on lyrics and this collection is one of the most intriguing we've seen this year. The music complements the feeling in each track and the resultant combination is quite strong. We like "Mama Mama Comfort Me" and "The Obscene Phone Call."

jazz picks

ASTRAL SIGNAL — Gene Harris — Producers: Keg Johnson, Jerry Peters, Jim Shifflett — Blue Note BN-LA313-G

Watch for Gene Harris! Not only is this Blue Note LP an exercise in brilliance, but his live stage act is incomparable. This record explodes with such tracks as "Rebato Summer," "Don't Call Me Nigger, Whitey," "My Roots," "Love Talkin'," "Green River" and Gene's great new single "Higga-Boom" and Harris' piano playing throughout is incredible. If people start hearing this album, they're not going to rest till it's a part of their collection. It's that good and so is Gene Harris.

VIVA EMILIANO ZAPATA — Gato Barbieri — Producer: Ed Michel — ABC/Impulse ASD-9279

The obvious saxophone genius of Gato Barbieri pours forth on this LP as well as his marked proclivity towards 6/8 time and the resultant product is one of wonder and magic. The improvisation and byplay between Gato and his band defy layman's description, but suffice it to say that the interweaving textures and moods the artist and his ensemble create very much resemble a unique and challenging atmosphere. Favorites off this LP include "El Sublime," "Milonga Triste" and "La Podrida."

best bets

URUBAMBA — Urubamba — Producer: Paul Simon — Columbia KC 32896

If you were impressed by Paul Simon's "Live Rhymin" LP, then you were at least subconsciously influenced by Urubamba, the South American quartet Paul met in Paris in 1965 and whom he used to back him on one side of the aforementioned Gold album. This collection puts into focus the collective as well as the individual brilliance and sensitivity of the members of Urubamba and gives them a very strong debut product in which they can all take pride. We like the cuts "Heart Of The Inca King" and "Kachapari."

GINO CUNICO — Gino Cunico a — Producers: Artie Ripp, Gino Cunico, Toxie French — Kama Sutra KSBS 2601

A dynamic talent capable of sounding like Billy Joel or Maurice Gibb (of the Bee Gees), Gino Cunico has a very bright future ahead of him indeed. Though he prefers to play down his extensive past experience in the record industry, his performing credits are extensive and are reflected clearly on this Kama Sutra LP. We feel that "Melanie" could be a smash single for Gino and we also look to "Younger Girl" and "Sing Me A Song" to do well. Gino's a man to watch and to listen to — especially on this LP.

HOME AT LAST — Wayne Berry — Producer: Norbert Putnam — RCA CPL1-0603

One of the most pronounced talents to emerge this year, Wayne Berry can be very proud of his new RCA LP, one that reflects the sincerity and depth of emotion he's capable of reaching, seemingly at will. Recorded in Muscle Shoals (with the appropriate heavies) and Hollywood (where most of the remaining heavies now reside) the LP has a flair to it that ranges from the fine song selection to Norbert Putnam's skillful production job. Rustic Wayne's at his best on "Dixie's Pride" and "All I Needed."

PRIME CUTS — Randy Edelman — Producer: Michael Stewart — 20th Century T-448

Another singer/songwriter who may very well some day be called a genius has emerged — his name is Randy Edelman and his songs speak for themselves. Edelman is like a painter, evoking colors and forms with his music and lyrics and his material is well conceived in a nearly traditional style. Particularly fine tracks (we hesitate to use the word cuts) include "Bluebird," "You Are The Sunlight—I Am The Moon," "Everybody Wants To Call You Sweetheart" and "June Lullaby."

UNICORN — Unicorn — Producer: David Gilmour — Capitol ST-11334

As enigmatic and mysterious as the group's LP cover, Unicorn is a different kind of band, one whose spirit is tied to its flesh in a remarkable pattern of interweaving harmonies and melodies. The group's new Capitol LP is a strong one, a mixture of derivative and original styles that come together neatly. The production is clear and the arrangements clever, resulting in some rather pleasing sounds. Particularly good tracks include "Holland," "Electric Night" and "Just Wanna Hold You."

THE GEORGE CLINTON BAND ARRIVES — George Clinton — Producer: Jerry Fuller — ABC ABCD-831

With a provocative cover encompassing the breadth of anyone's imagination and a collection of material that makes you get up from whatever you're doing and take a close listen, the new George Clinton LP on ABC is indeed a space shot. From the moody quintessence of "Faith" to the more emphatic "Hold On To Your Lady" and "Free Love" the album has a vivacious quality about it that is challenging and compelling simultaneously. Look closely both to the heavens and to your local one stop for this one.

DON'T FIGHT THE FEELING — Sound Experience — Producer: Stan Watson — Soulville PS 1650

The name of the group added to the famous Flip Wilson expression that serves as the LP title just about sums up the message of this fine new Soulville package. As adept at pretty ballads as they are at rendering super-funky material, the Sound Experience is a group of skillful, polished professionals who know what they're about — good music. Our faves off this new disk include "You Don't Know What You're Doing," "Devil With The Bust," "Your Love Belongs To Me" and the great title track.

OFF THE RESERVATION — Billy ThunderKloud and the Chieftones — Producers: Farah Productions, Jim Vienneau — 20th Century T-452

An interesting LP to say the least, this new 20th Century package features Billy ThunderKloud and his group stylizing such tunes as "Sunny," "Kick The Can," "Endless Sleep," "You Touched My Life" and "Come To Me." The harmonies are good and tight, the production complimentary, the arrangements succinct and the dynamics well thought out. It's hard to pick a favorite off the LP because the group doesn't fit into any established "bag." So listen and decide for yourself.

The Nation's Next Big "Message" Song

Los Angeles Times

Tues., August 27, 1974 - Part II 7

Living in the Bottle

BY SANDRA HAGGERTY

SALT LAKE CITY—"See that black boy over there/ Running scared/ His old man's in the bottle/
"See that sister/ Sure was fine/ Till she started drinking wine/ In the bottle/
"Now don't you think it's a crime/ That time, after time, after time/ People are/ Living in the bottle"/

These are the lyrics of a new song recorded by a group called Brother to Brother on the Turbo label. Like many of the contemporary "message" songs, "In the Bottle" is insidiously thought-provoking. Our young people dance the latest steps to its beat, and laugh all too knowingly about those they know who are "living in the bottle."

The bottle (alcohol) is part of the great American life-style. All racial and socioeconomic groups pride themselves in serving guests good liquor, as opposed to cheap rotgut. Yet alcoholism is the No. 1 drug problem in this country. It is a disease which affects 7 million to 10 million Americans.

It is estimated that only 25% of American adults drink no alcoholic beverages. Available data indicate that the average adult consumes 29 gallons of beer, 3 gallons of hard liquor and 2 gallons of wine per year.

We spend about $18 billion a year on alcohol, a commodity which not only directly debilitates the body but is a major contributing factor in auto accidents and deaths, homicides, suicides, injuries and lost work-days.

Other drugs and narcotics, such as marijuana, heroin and LSD, have been branded the opiates of our young. However, as part of the current nostalgia kick (when booze was king), the use of alcohol by many young people is on the upswing. Parents who were horrified at the thought of their youngsters taking hard drugs are being lulled into a false sense of relief as they see them turning to good old acceptable booze.

Even though researchers have identified certain alcoholic personality traits (low tolerance of tension, egocentricity or self-centeredness, dependency on someone or something else and an exaggerated sense of one's capacities or omnipotence), alcoholism is a disease which most people do not believe themselves susceptible to—until it is too late.

"In the Bottle" by Brother to Brother has a "heavy" message.

Profile: Mary Turner, Lady DJ

HOLLYWOOD — Once each month the Cash Box radio and TV editor will select a media personality and discuss topics germane to his or her special branch of broadcasting, in this case FM radio. The insights provided in this feature will hopefully give the performers themselves the kind of format that musicians are privy to in our Insight & Sound columns.

Mary Turner is a slender brunette whose bangs nearly reach her eyes and when she spins away from the turntables and mike to answer a question she speaks animatedly, more intensely than her 'on-air' voice suggests. Mary is the senior jock at KMET-FM, a metromedia station broadcasting out of Hollywood.

Her two and a half year tenure at the station under PDs Mikel Hunter and now Shadoe Stevens have seen her ratings climb continually and you'd be off the mark if you assumed that the ARB numbers didn't mean anything to her. "We're always in a race for the top spot," confides Mary, "but you can't allow yourself to concentrate on numbers while you're on the air or you'll blow what you set out to accomplish."

What Mary speaks of is the ability to talk with people instead of at them and her ability to do this while projecting her vivacious personality through a very hip selection of songs ok'd by Stevens is her greatest asset.

Born in Indiana, and an apprentice at a San Francisco TV station before coming to KMET, Mary hasn't sensed any sexist discrimination in her line of work though she acknowledges, "I guess some chicks who are just starting out get propositioned and all that but it's never happened to me. I'm also lucky I guess in that no promotion man, even from the smallest record label, has ever tried to lay anything on me in the form of what I guess you'd call payola. If they did that, they'd completely lose their credibility with me and the station and I'd have them thrown out bodily if they couldn't take no for an answer."

Her position of evening jock (her slot right now is from 7 p.m. to midnight) is one of the most coveted in radio, but her response to the pressure is philosophical. "You know after a while what your capabilities are," she confides, "and after being here as long as I have I'm not paranoid or anything. Of course, there's a lot to concentrate on. I've got to keep the station log up to date for the FCC (writing down the time that each commercial, song, or public service announcement airs), make sure I give the station ID twice an hour on the half hour, which isn't always possible, and keep an eye on my mike levels. If I should peak (i.e., exceed a given decibel limit) I could knock someone's head off. Actually, all of us here are lucky to have great engineers working for us, and they're as much responsible for maintaining our sound levels as we are."

What Mary Turner means to radio is best summed up by the fun she has on the air. It's her ballgame from the moment she goes into her intro to the minute she signs off at the witching hour. Her role as a woman in a man's business is underplayed and really doesn't concern her. She merely wants to communicate and in that regard, she's got it made.

'Godspell' An ABC TV Motion Picture

NEW YORK — "Godspell," the retelling of the Gospel of St. Matthew as a modern musical celebration of life and faith, comes to television on ABC, Wed. Nov. 27 (8:00-10:00 pm, EDT), announced Barry Diller, vice president in charge of prime time television for ABC entertainment.

The play, which is now in its fourth year as an off-Broadway hit, was translated into a movie last year with the original cast. For the movie, the production left the theatre to film almost entirely on locations in New York City, including Central Park, the Brooklyn Bridge, the Statue of Liberty and the Andrew Carnegie mansion on Fifth Ave.

The story of "Godspell" consists of a series of Biblical parables told in song by a Christ figure in a superman suit and workman's overalls. Unlike other musical translations of the gospel, "Godspell" is light-hearted and youth-oriented, with each parable sung and danced by a cast of previously unknown young performers.

"Godspell" was written for the screen by the film's director, David Greene and John-Michael Tebelak, who conceived the stage version. Edgar Lansbury produced the play and Stephen Schwartz wrote the music.

ABBA To Visit NY

NEW YORK — Swedish rock artists, ABBA, will arrive in New York on Sept. 29 for a three-day promotional tour. Their American manager, Sid Bernstein, is bringing the foursome to the U.S. because of the present media interest.

During their stay, ABBA will be meeting with various members of the media, including several visits to local radio stations and phone hookups to other stations around the country.

ABBA recently won the Eurovision Music prize for "Waterloo." The group begins an extensive tour of Europe in Oct.

'Rock Dreams' Contest Set For FM Stations

NEW YORK — "Rock Dreams," the fantasy-history of rock, will be the object of a nation-wide FM radio contest during the last week of Sept. and the first week of Oct., announced Kenneth Collins, head of Popular Library Publishers. The book, which has already sold almost 200,000 copies in advance of shipping, has been receiving publicity in the rock and consumer media.

Each station will be using its own particular contest approach, but in each contest, the prize will be a "Rock Dreams" kit, comprised of an advance copy of the book, a four-color "Rock Dreams" tee shirt and a large poster. Participating are: WNEW-FM, New York; KLOS-FM, Los Angeles; KSAN-FM, San Francisco; WMMS-FM, Cleveland; KPRI-FM, San Diego; WSHE-FM, Miami; SURF, Miami; WMC-FM, Memphis; WB-CN-FM, Boston; WKDA-FM, Nashville; KADI-FM, St. Louis; KWKI-FM, Kansas City; KRPI-FM, Denver; WABX-FM, Detroit; WEBN-FM, Cincinnati.

The "Rock Dreams" promotion is being coordinated by Dominic Sicilia.

Cat Stevens' 'In Concert' Encores

NEW YORK — "Foreigner Suite," an 18 minute rock opus, climaxes the all-Cat Stevens segment of "Wide World: In Concert," airing Friday, Sept. 27 (11:30 p.m. - 1:00 a.m., EDT), on the ABC Television Network. The song is from the British rock star's album, "Foreigner," a concept album which is a many-sided exploration of the meaning of love.

The 90-minute show, which originally aired Nov. 9, 1972, will be broadcast simultaneously in stereophonic sound by ABC-FM stations across the country as well as by other FM and some AM stations.

Stevens' special guests are folk-rock star Linda Ronstadt and Dr. John. Both artists perform tunes written by Stevens. "Wide World: In Concert" was produced by Sunny Schnier and directed by Joshua White, who also served as executive producer for this program.

Morrow To Warm Hope's NY Show

NEW YORK — WNBC's Bruce Morrow will be on hand during the two days of Bob Hope's free Central Park Show, Sept. 17 & 18, celebrating Hope's 25th television anniversary. Morrow, who holds down NBC's 6-10 pm weeknight slot as well as the station's 8-12 pm Saturday show, will be responsible for warming up the crowd.

The show, which will be taped for network tv airing on Sept. 25, will also feature Glen Campbell, Jackie Gleason and Olivia Newton-John.

WCBM Airs Sat. Oldies Show

NEW YORK — WCBM's new feature show "Only Yesterday" can now be heard on Sat. from 7:00 P.M. to midnight. Produced and hosted by Baltimore radio personality, Jack Edwards, "Only Yesterday" highlights top recordings of the 1950's and sixties. The live five-hour show will also feature specific record artists, musical trends and fads. In addition, listeners will have an opportunity to participate in an oldies album contest during the broadcast.

ANKA'S GANG — Shown sharing their enthusiasm for Paul Anka's new United Artists album, "Anka," are (standing, from left): Terry Stevens, program director, WIXY; Al Teller, president of United Artists Records; Odia Coates, who sings on Anka's chart topping single "(You're) Having My Baby" and who will soon have an answer record of her own out; Brent Marcoguissepe, Cleveland Phonodisc district director; and Dick Bremcamp, general manager, WIXY; (kneeling, from left): Vic Perrotti, local United Artists promotion man with the irrepressible Marge Bush, music director, WIXY.

r&b ingredients

KDAY's DJ Tom Reed was on hand at the Johnny Nash posh Bistro luncheon last week which was comprised of white and black guests. We draw attention to the integration because of a statistic which Reed pointed out. He reported that KDAY's progressive r&b format, one which gives ample attention to album cuts, has been garnering top ratings above and beyond the 17 per cent black population in Los Angeles. This, according to Reed, signifies that a large portion of KDAY's audience is comprised of caucasians. This analysis would also indicate that white listeners are leaning towards rhythm and blues, or soul music (of which we will try to define momentarily). Reed stated that there are still black radio stations throughout the country which will define r&b music as black music and therefore only play songs recorded only by black artists. There is a stigma, however, that accompanies this line of thinking and that is that often songs recorded by black artists have been the result of integrated efforts of say a white producer or whitewriter, or white record executives and publishers. This being the case makes the radio station who philosophy is "We will only play records made by black artists," a tumid illusion. It becomes a philosophy of disc-emption. There undoubtedly then is a very thin line between what is black music and this line of ambiguity is more a semantical issue than anything else. On that nebulous concept of just what r&b music is supposed to be comes some intelligent thoughts from Larkin Arnold, general manager, soul division of Capitol Records, who opined that it is "music which is generally recognizable by the feel of the music." This then doesn't isolate the category to just music recorded by black acts and to support this Arnold points to the fact that today probably more than ever before black consumer record collections will also include albums by Three Dog Night, Joe Cocker, Elton John and Eric Clapton (just to name a few). This interchange of music both for blacks and whites may be attributed to discotheque records. Also Arnold affirms that "Soul Train," has a lot to do with white's new found affection and sudden precipitation towards "dancing music." "Soul Train," believes Arnold, has "created a demand by whites' and blacks alike to emulate the various dances demonstrated on the tv show." Some of Arnold's insight into "r&b," the kind of administrative perception which has aided Capitol's resurgence into the soul market, came as a result of an investigation of the market place. This entailed visiting the nine major markets (N.Y., Detroit, Washington, Baltimore, Chicago, L.A., Atlanta, Houston, and St. Louis) becoming acquainted with radio station's program directors, as well as black retailers. His scrutiny of the soul scene helped to determine how Capitol could best re-enter the r&b field. Arnold's assessment made the following things evident. First that they would have to establish a solid image in the field and that in order to do this they would have to treat their r&b artists and their product with as much priority as pop product. Secondly that they would have to acquire product by producers with eminent track records. And finally adhering to Bhaskar Menon's precept of building an artist from within rather than spending extravagant revenue to purchase already established acts. All of these principles have been exercised. Capitol has been very successful with producers Dennis Lambert and Brian Potter (Haven Records), Gene Page, and Johnny Bristol just to name a few. They have also built from the inside the careers of Tavares, and Gene Redding. Last month was Capitol's Soul Month which paid homage to three new soul albums, all having pop crossover appeal. Those are "Hard Core Poetry," by Tavares featuring the "She's Gone," single, the new Nancy Wilson LP "All In Love Is Fair," and her new single from it called "Streerunner," and Gene Reddings Haven LP "Bloodbrother," which includes his new single of the same name. Fall Soul product at Capitol will include releases by Barbara Acklin (produced by Willie Henderson), the debut of a new group out of Chicago called Coda (produced by Billy Davis), and a soon to be announced name act from Philly. . . . Lorraine Ellison has been getting great reviews on her new Warner LP "Lorraine Ellison," her first in three years since "Stay With Me." Her new smash single off of that album "If Only I Could See Him," will be released next week. . . . "Love's Theme," the only instrumental in history to ever turn the album of a girl's recording group into gold, has just been recorded again by the same group Love Unlimited only this time with lyrics (written by A. Schroeder). This could be a hit single all over again. . . . Syreeta's new single "I'm Going Left," is a smash; a must to program. . . . New Grand Central Station single will probably be "Release Yourself," off of their WB LP of the same name. . . . Aretha guested on "What's My Line," as the "mystery celebrity" last Friday night. We understand that she has just recorded some oldies that include a number of standards.

SOUL & POP ANNEX — The following are new r&b crossover records debuting on the Cash Box Top 100 Singles chart this week.

1. "Sha La La," by Al Green on Hi Records at 79 bullet.
2. "Let's Straighten Out," Latimore on Glades at 89 with a bullet.
3. "When Will I See You Again," by The Three Degrees on Philadelphia International came on at 90 bullet this week.
4. "Devotion," by Earth, Wind & Fire on Columbia at position 100.

Capitol C&W Realignments

HOLLYWOOD — Capitol Records' country division, under the supervision of Frank Jones, CRI vice president and general manager, C&W, will move its headquarters to the label's Nashville offices located at: 806 16th Avenue South, Nashville, Tennessee (615) 244-1842, effective immediately.

Jones, who has headed the country wing since Oct. 1973, will relocate to Nashville. Simultaneously, he has announced the following appointments:

Bill Williams has been named national country sales and promotion manager. He will be based in Nashville and will report directly to Jones.

Williams will be responsible for the overall promotional directions and activities of the country division.

Williams began his music industry career with Capitol Records in 1967 as sales and promotion manager in Dallas, Texas. In 1968 he moved to Columbia Records where he served in that firm's Houston office and most recently served as national sales and promotion manager for Epic Records and custom labels.

Don Ovens has been named director, C&W marketing services, reporting directly to Jones. Ovens will be based at the Capitol Tower in Hollywood.

Ovens will work closely with west coast artists while coordinating all country marketing plans with various departments at the home office. He will also be responsible for coordinating A&R schedules for the label's country roster.

Prior to his Capitol appointment, Ovens served as director of charts and reviews at Billboard Magazine for nine years until joining MGM Records last year as director of country.

Jones, commenting on the new appointments, said: "We're extremely pleased to welcome Bill Williams and Don Ovens to Capitol. The new appointments will enable us to reaffirm this company's continued commitment to country music both in Nashville and on the west coast. By dividing my time between Nashville and Los Angeles we will help to reinforce a repertoire commitment that has made Capitol a preeminent name in country music since the founding of the label over thirty years ago."

WSM Anniversary; 49 Years Young

NASHVILLE — Everyone has a birthday but not many have a party that attracts over 6,000 celebrants. However, that's exactly what happens when WSM's 49th Grand Ole Opry Birthday Celebration and Disc Jockey Convention convenes in Nashville, Tennessee, Oct. 16-20.

Each year representatives employed in the production, promotion, or distribution of country music, as well as the industry's greatest artists, top athletes, movie stars, and other celebrities gather in Music City, U.S.A. for five days of fun and entertainment in honor of the famous show.

WSM's Grand Ole Opry has been phenomenal since its beginning in 1925. This show is the most enduring radio program anywhere. It has never missed a weekly broadcast in almost half a century. In March of this year, the Opry moved to the new Grand Ole Opry House at Opryland USA. It is the world's largest broadcasting studio — seating 4,400 — and the first theater built specifically for the Opry. Opryland USA is a 369 acre entertainment amusement complex designed to be the home of American music.

The actual convention begins Wednesday, Oct. 16 with the Early Bird Blue Grass Concert, and is climaxed by the cake-cutting celebration on stage at the Saturday Grand Ole Opry. As in the past, this fast paced, fun filled gala affair is designed for the enjoyment of the artists, disc jockeys and guests.

In order to attend all official Opry anniversary events, one must send a registration form along with a check for $10.00 payable to the Opry Trust Fund, and a separate $15.00 check payable to the Opry Celebration.

The $10.00 Opry trust fund fee is a contribution. All revenue received is channeled to the fund, established in 1965, to give financial assistance in time of need, emergency or catastrophe to country musicians or their families. The remaining monies help defray a portion of the cost incurred by the sponsoring firms.

COUNTRY ARTIST OF THE WEEK Cal Smith

"He's No Country Bumpkin" — One of MCA Records' top recording artists, Cal Smith, a native of Gans, Oklahoma has come a long way since his first night club job in San Jose, California in the early 1950's.

For several years he was a regular member on the tv show "California Hayride," and his experience as deejay for KEEN Radio in San Jose has proven to be an asset in his role as an artist.

Cal attributes much of his success to the years he spent as master of ceremonies and featured vocalist for Ernest Tubb and his Famous Texas

Troubadour band. Traveling with Ernest and the band gave Cal the exposure he needed, and evidently the people liked what they saw and heard because requests started coming in for Cal as a single act.

Some of his latest singles are "That's What It's Like To Be Lonesome," "Free Streets," "The Woman On The Inside," "I've Found Someone Of My Own," "Lord Knows I'm Drinkin'," "Country Bumpkin" and his current single "Between Lust And Watching TV."

Cal is produced for MCA by Walter Haynes, with exclusive booking by United Talent Inc.

singles

MEL TILLIS & THE STATESIDERS (MGM 14744)

Memory Maker (2:41) (Cedarwood, BMI — Mel Tillis — Kent Westberry)

With a title like this it's a cinch that you won't forget the tune. And even more, Mel's mellow smooth vocal richness comes right through on this laid-back ballad that has hit written all over it. The Statesiders offer fine background harmonies for Mel and the subtle instrumentation rounds this disk out to roll up the charts. Flip: No info. available.

ARCHIE CAMPBELL AND MINNIE PEARL (RCA 10077)

As Soon As I Hang Up The Phone (3:00) (Twitty Bird, BMI — C. Twitty — Adapted lyrics by Atkins-Cannon-Campbell)

As soon as you see who the artists are on this humorous cover of the Conway and Loretta hit you can imagine where the record is at. The disk is a live recording and the audience guffaws are enough to get you going with this novelty cover of the tune. One listen will make you want to hear it again. A fun record!! Flip: No info. available.

CARL SMITH (Hickory 329)

Dreaming Again (3:00) (Acuff-Rose, BMI — Redd Stewart)

An easy flowing tune, Carl's unctuous vocals are given a rich treatment on this up-tempo ballad. Dreaming is something we all do and in Carl's case he is dreaming of his yesterdays. The tune has a fine arrangement with subtle instrumentation that should get this record off the ground and give it a sure shot. Flip: I Ain't Getting Nowhere With You (2:33) (Acuff-Rose, BMI — Melvin Endsley).

DORSEY BURNETTE (Capitol 3963)

What Ladies Can Do (When They Want To) (2:57) (Chappell, ASCAP — Rory Bourke)

Dorsey's distinctive vocal style has always readily identified him from all other country vocalists. He has a certain crying lilt in his voice which is at once infectious. The ballad concerns the female of the species and the instrumentation is handled with a meaningful tenderness that will at once hit for Dorsey. Flip: Tangerine (3:15) (Brother Karl, BMI — D. Burnette-S. Stone).

HANK LOCKLIN (MGM 14753)

Send Me Your Coffee Cup (2:37) (Sawgrass, BMI — Hank Locklin)

A smooth flowing ballad, the lyric line penned by the talented Hank is built around the metaphorical coffee cup. An interesting lyric line it is fun to watch how Hank uses the cup as an object of remembrance and to get closer to his lady. The ballad is highlighted by some fine piano and steel and should do well. Flip: No info. available.

JERRY "MAX" LANE (ABC 12031)

Right Out Of This World (2:56) (Briarpatch/Deb Dave, BMI — E. Rabbitt-B. Stevens)

Eddy Rabbitt co-penned this lyric and he writes some fine songs. The tune is a free rolling ballad that will at once find its way into your heart. Jerry handles the vocal with his usual expertise and sense of musical interpretation. The subtle instrumentation is complemented by Jerry's final vocal. Listen!! Flip: Fine As Wine (2:29) (Credits Same As Above).

HUGH KING (Hickory 332)

Our Sun Shines At Night (3:03) (Contention, SESAC — Hugh King)

An easy paced love ballad, Hugh's rich vocal adds to the overall depth of this rather novel love tune. Sun shining at night is metaphorical for you know what. Well the tune is pleasant and mellow and should get come very positive chart action. The tune is laid-back and Hugh's sun will be shining on the charts. Flip: Wish I Were In Love Again (2:15) (Milene, ASCAP — Eddy Raven).

BONNIE GUITAR (MCA 40306)

Shine (And We've Got To Face It) (2:50) (Little Elmo, BMI — Sun Child — Crystal Lady-Elma)

A driving up-tempo ballad, the lyric line will positively knock you out. Bonnie tends to the vocal with her very sweet voice. The tune is powerful and bright yet has a certain delicacy that is the ultimate combination. The record clearly demonstrates crossover potential and fine background vocals. A great record. Flip: From This Moment On (3:26) (4 Star, BMI — Bonnie Guitar).

MARVIS YERBY (Bryan 1006)

You Can't Hang On To Me (2:01) (Algee, BMI — Norris Wilson-Carmol Taylor)

A bouncy up-tempo bright tune, sweet Marvis sounds as if Loretta Lynn may have been her musical mentor. In any event her rich vocal style is carried with a special flair that makes you want to hang all over sweet Marvis. The instrumentation is solid and forms a fine undercurrent for Marvis to belt out over. Listen, it's great. Flip: No info. available.

CHUCK PRICE (Playboy 6010)

Slow Down (2:48) (Combine, BMI — Kris Kristofferson)

A Kris Kristofferson penned tune, it has a very strong lyric line. The tune is an easy paced song that tells all to slow down and just take it easy and enjoy life. Chuck's vocal is countryfied but has a definite pop appeal. There is a predominating sense of irony inherent in the disk. The instrumentation is strong with fine background vocals. Flip: No info. available.

BUFORD ROCKEFELLER (Capitol 3959)

Tupelo Joe (4:05) (Sing Me, Backyard, ASCAP — Jack Brouse)

A heart-rending ballad, Buford tends to the vocal with a sense of tender sensitivity. The lyric line is curious and concerns a circus clown. The instrumentation augments the lyric line which is handled with Buford's rich and smooth vocal. The tune should fall into the novelty class because of the lyric, but it is most serious. Flip: No info. available.

DURWOOD HADDOCK (Caprice 2004)

Angel In An Apron (2:05) (Acoustic Music, BMI — Gary S. Paxton — Ron Hellard)

A bright up-tempo happy tune that simply makes you feel good. A debut disk for Durwood, with material and vocal delivery like this it is no small wonder that Durwood is going to be a known name in no time. The lyric is simple and direct and imparts the wonder of everyone's angel in an apron. Watch this one!! Flip: No info. available.

LP's

MERLE HAGGARD PRESENTS HIS 30TH ALBUM
— Capitol ST 11331

When you build up a catalog that consists of thirty albums you can be sure that there is an established longevity and a long lasting rapport that the particular artist has managed to build with his vast following. Such an artist is Merle Haggard. Merle has always been an innovator and it was he that brought Bob Dylan to Nashville back in 1966. Yes, a creative giant on the music scene, Merle has a great deal to be proud of with his 30th LP. The album is of the usual Haggard quality with a fine selection of material and Merle's distinctive vocal style tending to the songs with his usual expertise. Included on the LP are "Holding Things Together," "Old Man From The Mountain," "Things Aren't Funny Anymore," "Travelin'," and "It Don't Bother Me."

SINGIN' IN THE KITCHEN — Bobby Bare — RCA 0700

Since his "Lullabies, Legends and Lies" LP, Bobby Bare has established himself as an artist with a rare gift indeed. He has a tremendous rapport with children and this is very obvious from the great material that is on this new collection. Most of it was penned by the prolific Shel Silverstein and Bobby has a wonderful knack in his interpretation of Silverstein's material. Children are involved on all of the tracks and the numbers take on a definite novelty feel. An interesting working of "The Unicorn" gives this old hit new life. Also included on this fine LP are the title track, "The Monkey And The Elephant," "The Giving Tree," and "See That Bluebird."

TREAT ME LIKE A LADY — Sherry Bryce — MGM 4967

One listen to the title track of this great album, and there is no way that you will not treat Sherry like a lady. The title track is an up-tempo delightful ditty that will wind its way into your heart. Sherry's vocal sweetness puts her in a musical class all by herself. She is one of the better female country vocalists and one listen will tell you. "Oh How Happy" is her newly released single that is a cover of the Shades Of Blue hit. A great cover of Jeanne Pruett's smash "Satin Sheets" has never sounded better. Also included in this great collection are "Leavin's Heavy On My Mind," "Don't Stop Now," and "I'm All Right, You're All Right."

IT ALMOST FELT LIKE LOVE — Charlie Louvin — United Artists LA248-G

Charlie has always been one of the true stylists on the country scene who is able to give his music so much a part of himself that as a listener his sincerity and vocal honesty is never questioned. His rich vocal timbre marks his music with an inimitable touch. "It Almost Felt Like Love" is a heart rending ballad that will at once entrance you. "I Just Want A Happy Life" is a sincere statement to spend the rest of his life with that very special someone. "As Much As I Love You" is an up-tempo ditty that is axiomatic. Also included on this fine LP are "When Love Is Gone," and a fine cover of Roy Clark's "Honeymoon Feeling."

GUY & RALNA COUNTRY — Guy & Raina — RANWOOD 8134

Guy and Raina's perfect harmonic balance has always proved to be a most refreshing source of bright talent on the country music scene. Their sense of vocal delivery is meshed perfectly with the glorious timbre of their voices. This fine collection of material is a veritable showcase of the great talents of this fine duo. The orchestration on the LP is excellent and the production by Guy Hovis captures the duo very well. Included on this LP are reworkings of some great standards as "Loving You," "Orange Blossom Special," "Take Me Home Country Roads," "Red River Valley," and "I'd Like To Share Your Life." Their vocal interpretation is a renewed sense of musical taste.

Hoyt's tunes have been hits for a lot of people. Now they're hits for him.

Hank Williams Music Festival Postponed

MONTGOMERY — The premiere Hank Williams Memorial Country and Western Music Festival, originally scheduled for Sept. 13, 14 and 15 at Cathedral Caverns Park, Guntersville, Alabama, has been postponed until June, 1975. The extremely tight money conditions at this time made it necessary to move the dates forward.

"Because this is the premiere performance for the Hank Williams Festival, we want conditions to be right for both the performers and fans," said Sam Stephens, project coordinator. "This includes adequate promotional funding to assure a large audience. We want to do a first rate job for the many country music stars who are willing to volunteer their time and talent to help us raise the money to build the Hank Williams Memorial Museum in Montgomery."

Full refunds will be mailed to all those who ordered advance tickets. The new tentative dates set for June are 27, 28, and 29, 1975.

Other artists he has worked with extensively include Jerry Reed, Merle Haggard, Buck Owens, The Everly Brothers, and Waylon Jennings. At one time he had 20% of all chart country records.

"We feel very fortunate to have an engineer with the ability of Les to join our staff," commented Glenn Snoddy, Woodland's president. "Les brings with him a sincere feel for the music of Nashville and a real understanding of the producers' needs. We know his many friends will want to get in touch with him."

Woodland's mixing staff consists of senior mixer Rex Collier and engineers Tommy Semmes, David McKinley, and Pat Higdon. Bob Sowell, mastering engineer and chief engineer Jim Pugh complete the engineering staff. They are ably assisted by secretaries Sam Huntsman and Patricia Dunnagan.

Mrs. Jim Reeves Visits WHO - Iowa

DES MOINES, IOWA — Radio Station WHO, the powerful 50,000 watt clear channel "voice of the Midwest," was host to Mrs. Mary Reeves Davis, widow of legendary country music star Jim Reeves, during a special tribute to Reeves on the 10th anniversary of his death.

Mrs. Davis was invited to Des Moines by Billy Cole, WHO music director and afternoon country DJ. Memorial events were held July 31-August 1.

During WHO's Country Music USA program on Thursday, Aug. 1, Mrs. Davis shared the microphone with Cole. The two reminisced about Jim Reeves and played many of his greatest hits. Later that evening Mrs. Davis was the special guest on Country Call-In, WHO's popular phone show. Listeners from all over the country were invited to telephone collect and chat with Mrs. Davis and members of the Country Music USA team, including Cole, Max Bennington, Larry Heaberlin and Dan Reed. During this program, Mrs. Davis drew the name of the winner of a 26-album collection library of Reeves albums given by WHO Radio. The album collection was promoted on the air, beginning 10 days before. Nearly 1500 entries came from 26 states.

As general manager for Warner's Nashville operations, Fricke will be based in Nashville, and will oversee all efforts by the company in that area including A&R, promotion, sales and administration of the Nashville office. Reporting directly to Wickham, he will also be the "home base" for artists in the Nashville area signed to Warners.

Prior to that, he has worked with radio stations including WTXL and WHYN in Springfield, Massachusetts, WCOG in Greensboro, KRAK in Sacramento, WPOP in Hartford and KBGO in Waco. Beckham joined Combine in 1966 and has been instrumental in the growth of the music complex that has produced some of the most celebrated writers of the decade.

Rodriguez Cuts Fourth Album

CHICAGO — Johnny Rodriguez recently completed his fourth album for Mercury Records entitled "Song About Ladies And Love." In addition a new single has been released called "We're Over" to follow up the recent top five "Dance With Me."

Both album and single were produced by Jerry Kennedy. Several Rodriguez originals are on the album, such as "Do You Really Want To Know" and "Oh, I Miss You." Also "I Can't Stop Loving You," "Have I Told You Lately That I Love You," and "Turn Around, Look At Me." "We're Over," which features the piano work of Pig Robbins, is also on the album.

Jennings Schedule Heavy

NASHVILLE — Waylon Jennings has the need for a 400-day year. At this point the only free weekend he has for the remainder of 1974 is Nov. 1-2 "and we've had several inquiries about both those dates," according to Earl E. Owens of the Nova Agency, which represents Jennings. With "only a few fill dates" remaining open for Jennings and the Waylors, planning is underway for 1975 although no dates are being accepted for next year at this point.

"Waylon's working virtually every kind of date you can imagine — colleges, country packages, country and underground clubs, festivals of all sorts — and we're studying the overall direction before we get too many commitments too far ahead," explains Owens, who adds, "Waylon Jennings is helping create a whole new situation for commercial music — one that has little to do with categories and limitations and we want to be sure that no steps prematurely taken limit this expansion."

Loretta Lynn Plans Bio

NASHVILLE — Country music star, Loretta Lynn, who was the Country Music Association's first woman entertainer of the year and the subject of a Newsweek cover story, will write her autobiography this summer in collaboration with the noted author and New York Times reporter, George Vecsey. Bernard Geis Associates will publish the book next spring.

Miss Lynn has never authorized a biography, and this first person account of her dramatic career will provide the only authentic story of how she was raised in the poverty-laden Appalachian region during the depression and rose to stardom because her husband, Mooney, has a "notion" that she could sing. An MCA recording artist, she was named as one of the twenty most admired women in the world in a January Gallup Poll.

Picking up two artists from the Texas area which Paula has recently signed are Bubba Littrell, formerly of Joey Records, and Larry Quinten of Graham. Gottlieb Releases 'Duotron' Two Player; New Flipper Features Cross-Field Action

CHICAGO — Under D. Gottlieb & Company's motto "more features for more operator profits," the company has released its new "Duotron" two player pingame for the fall season, and it's a beaut! The game's literally packed solid with bonus scoring features including: a captive ball bonus booster, five rollovers which score the A-B-C sequence (and lite green targets), two additional rollovers for 500 points, gold star targets, kick out hole which opens the ball recovery gate, and loads more. The hole value, by the way, can increase up to 5,000 points.

One of the best features are the two side kickers which create terrific cross-field ball action.

The new Duotron flipper should be available for operator demonstration as of this printing.

Rowe Holds Series Of Video Sessions

WHIPPANY, N.J. — Electronics and video game repair was the order of business recently at a series of service seminars entitled "ICs and the Vending Industry" conducted by the customer services department of Rowe International, Inc.

The course involved theory and operation of integrated circuits (ICs) commonly used in video games.

The meetings were held in Atlanta, Georgia; Newark, New Jersey; San Francisco, California and Houston, Texas, and were designed to enhance the skills of Rowe distributor technicians performing video games repairs in this rapidly expanding segment of the vending games industry. Rowe is a subsidiary of Triangle Industries, Holmdel, New Jersey.

The service program was divided into several phases. First, each participant was asked to complete a home study course and series of quizzes prior to the formal seminars. This provided the basic concepts and theory necessary to introduce and understand the training that followed. The second phase, consisting of a regional seminar, expanded the home study theory into practical application as found in most of the video games now on the market. The third phase, also conducted during the regional seminar, provided demonstrations and working experience with the electronic instruments and tools peculiar to solid state electronics and integrated circuits.

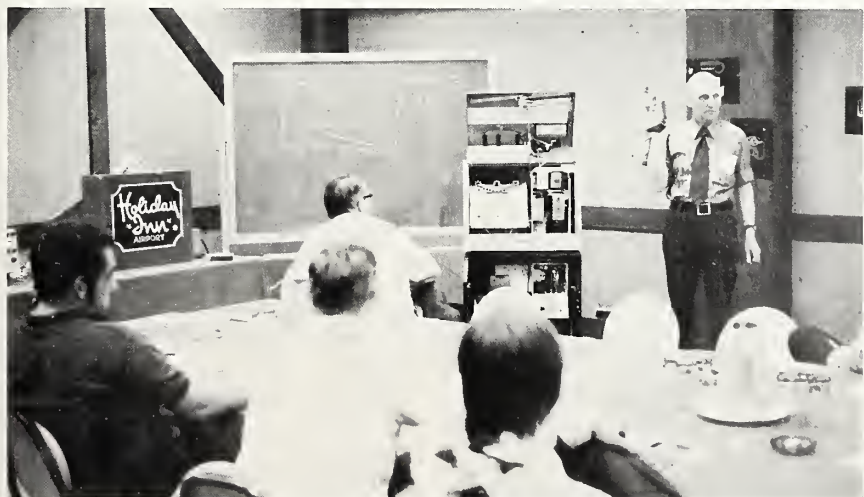

Instructors for the program series were Greg Scarnecchia, Vince D'Agostino, Martin Rust, and Roy Dean of Rowe field services. Subject matter for the program was conceived and executed by Gordon Winfield, manager, Rowe field services based on several months of field experience with video games equipment and equipment manufacturers.

Service equipment display for Rowe technical seminars included oscilloscope, digital multimeter, video game printed circuit boards, and a game simulator using a TV monitor and control box.

"ICs and the Vending Industry" is part of an on-going program of technical assistance and education designed to make the latest technical information at the manufacturing level available through the local Rowe distributor to the operator in the field. For additional information on this and other Rowe customer services educational opportunities contact Frank Boykie, manager of service training & customer communications.

Williams Launches 'Strato-Flite' 4-Player; Studded With Bonuses

CHICAGO — From the top eject bonus hole to the two king sized flippers at the out gate, Williams' brand new Strato-Flite four-player flipper is an action packed (and really good looking) pin-table. The eject pocket advances bonuses, opens the top or the bottom gate and can add to the score by itself. Lighting the display stars scores special double or triple bonuses. An extra ball and even a replay can be gained when striking the lighted center target.

Williams sales exec Bill DeSelm believes the Strato-Flite table has "unparalleled play appeal." The game, which should score especially well in the foreign markets where four players are most popular, is adjustable to vend either a three or a five ball game. The game should be available for operator inspection at this printing.

Puerto Rico Picks Bally

CHICAGO — The government of Puerto Rico has awarded a multi-million dollar contract to Bally Manufacturing Corp. to supply slot machines for use in casinos throughout the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

While declining to give the specific amount of the contract, Bill O'Donnell, Bally president, said it initially called for the purchase and installation of 1,300 slot machines in November of this year.

Bally was selected from a field of seven bidders to provide the machines to the government which, in turn, will lease the equipment to the casinos in Puerto Rico.

O'Donnell commented, "We are pleased to have been selected by the government of Puerto Rico to become a part of the tourism industry. I believe this reflects a growing recognition around the world that Bally has the industrial capacity to provide large orders of quality gaming equipment wherever and whenever it is needed, on a competitive basis."

Seeburg To Simon

NEW YORK — Albert Simon, Inc. has been appointed exclusive distributor for Seeburg phonographs in the metropolitan New York area and northern counties. The appointment became effective Monday, Sept. 23.

It is assumed that Seeburg Corp., which bought the Atlantic New York distributorship on 56th and Tenth Ave. last year and has since been running it as a factory distribution branch, will phase the operation out now that the Seeburg jukeboxes will be handled out of Simon's on 43rd and Tenth.

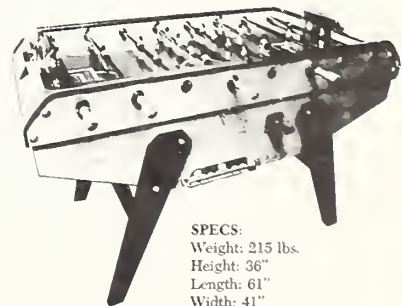

Simon will handle a complete line of Seeburg music and vending parts, but will not take on the Seeburg vending line. That will probably be handled on a direct to the operator basis by regional Seeburg salesmen.

EASTERN FLASHES

Big news of the week is the acquisition of the Seeburg music line by Albert Simon, Inc. Simon's will be officially handling the Seeburg First Edition and Vogue phonographs Monday Sept. 23, out of their place of business on Tenth and 43rd. As far as vending is concerned, it's believed Seeburg itself will set up some sort of direct-to-the operator distribution arrangement, tho' nothing is official right now. Simon's will, of course, stock complete parts and supplies for the Seeburg music boxes, as well as parts for the vending units. Great news is that Murray Kaye will be moving on down to Simon's to do the thing he loves best — selling those Seeburg jukeboxes. As far as the factory branch at 56th, it'll probably be phased out in the future. Seeburg has already closed the former Atlantic branches in Connecticut and Jersey. . . . Simon sales exec Al D'Inzillo called in from Italy last week to chat with prexy Al Simon about arrangements to incorporate the Seeburg line into their existing roster of machines distributed (which includes the very popular Williams line). D'Inzillo is currently on a three week vacation in Europe with the family; will be returning the end of the month. . . . Gottlieb pingame activity for the Mondial lads out in Springfield, N.J. continues very brisk; now awaiting deliveries on new two-player Duotron, released to the trade this week. . . . New four-player Bally Ro-Go arrived at Runyan's and it looks like a honey!

NEW ENGLAND NEWSNOTES — Rowe's Marshall Caras pleased as a peacock with the new Classic and Arlington jukeboxes previewed at recent Rowe conference in Boston. He's making plans for gala introduction of the line to his numerous operator customers. . . . Jones International manager Arnold Kaminkow tells us he'll have a Bally service school at his Syracuse, N.Y. office Sept. 26-27. Bally's Tom Hata and Dick Linkens will conduct the two day session. Arnold promises New York State Bally customers a "productive session in profitable game operation." . . . Coin Operated Dist. Corp. marketing exec Mary Donahue called to tell us the company is "alive and well and now living at 908 Rear Providence Highway, in Dedham, Mass." (New England's coinrow). The young distributing-jobbing firm is sister company of ASSESCO machine service organization. Mary, who is known to turn a phrase when she wants to, says:

"Growing with the Spirit of Independence, the New England area witnesses the birth of a new concept in coin operated distributing. In recognition of the American Bicentennial, a union of young revolutionaries is preparing a new pot of beans. Looking through history and the events of the past, C O D Corp. opens a one-shop stopping concept to provide the convenience and efficiency that operators need today. Working with a low overhead objective in mind, the benefits of the operation are designed for and passed on to the customer to maximize their potential profit. The sales system is organized towards the operator, offering a spacious showroom and lounge, ease of transaction and a personalized customer service to help provide what he needs. Complete service and parts facilities maintained by ASSESCO. Come in and see the independents."

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

Yet another brand new Gottlieb flipper arriving at Portale Automatic. This a two player named Duotron featuring mobs of bonus features, plus one of the greatest backlasses (art-wise) we've ever seen. Dig it. . . . Social/business highlight for the Washington trade was gala open house party hosted by Ray Galante (Music Vend Dist., Seattle) over the weekend to introduce operators and technicians to the fall lineup of Seeburg music machines including the First Edition (quad) and Vogue (standard stereo). One factory visitor to the festivities was Atari's Pat Karns, now national director of sales for both the Atari and Kee video pieces after recent acquisition of the latter by the former. Pat reveals that their new Touch Me game will be released to the trade Oct. 1. . . . According to C. A. Robinson's coinbiz sage Hank Tronick:

"The approaching MOA Expo '74 with its promise of presenting great new equipment has been no deterrent in the sales of new games. Usually, the operator waits in anticipation of new products. Today they say 'we need the equipment now!' As a result items like Bally's Amigo and Delta Queen, Midway's T.V. Basketball and Pirate Gun, Atari's Gran Trak 20, Allied's Crack Shot and Super Shifter, Meadow's Flim Flam, Ramtek's Clean Sweep, Mirco's Challenge Cocktail Table, Kee's Twin Racer and the 'whipped cream' to top all of this—Valley's superb Pool Tables are all producing record sales at C. A. Robinson as we enter the fall season."

"Has there ever been an array such as this in the coin machine business?" ask Al Bettelman, prexy, and Hank Tronick, the "vice." They represent lots of years in this business and the answer is a definite "No!" Jim Tomi of Robinson spent a few days at Atari's special service school designed to develop a greater understanding of video technology which will be passed along to operators and their service personnel. This a follow-up to the very successful school that Atari held recently at Robinson Co.

CHICAGO CHATTER

A gorgeous new 4-player called "Strato-Flite" has just been released by Williams Electronics! Factory completed sample shipments this past week and is now concentrating on quantity orders, according to Bill DeSelm!

THE CHICAGO SUN-TIMES ran a fine feature story recently on the Kiddierama Theater, one of the most popular coin-operated children's units on the market. Article told of the origination of the theater by Tom Leon, a founder and partner in the firm Universal Visual Audiotronics Corp. of Davenport, Iowa which produces kiddierama, and its tremendous growth over a brief period of time, in both the domestic and overseas markets.

BALLY DISTRIBS WILL by now be displaying the factory's latest 4-player flipper called "Rogo"! Samples have been shipped and operators are invited to stop by their nearest Bally distrib showroom and have a look at it!

ONE OF THE YOUNGEST recording artists ever to visit the Cash Box office stopped by last week — 11 year old Joshua Lee, who hails from suburban Highland Park. He was accompanied by local promo rep Paul Gallis. Josh has a new single on Honk Records titled "The Things You Give Away In Life."

NEW PRODUCTS: Manitowoc Equipment Works of Manitowoc, Wisconsin introduced a new coin-operated ice dispenser geared for use in hotels, motels, campgrounds, convenience stores, liquor stores and various other locations where ice is sold. The unit occupies about 30" of wall space and dispenses 2 to 5 lb. portions of ice per quarter deposit. An optional system, for larger portions, is also available. To assure sanitation, all components of the unit are specially sealed against contamination.

FROM THE IAAPA NEWSLETTER comes word that Playboy magazine plans to run a feature article on amusement parks in its upcoming issue.

A WELCOME VISITOR to the Cash Box office last week was Mario Menegalli of Brussels. He and his associate spent time in town and plan to return here for the MOA convention in November.

AND SPEAKING OF MOA, the association issued its first reminder to make hotel reservations at the Conrad Hilton as much in advance of Expo as possible. In view of the expected very heavy attendance, it would be wise to set up accommodations now, and avoid any last minute disappointments.

MILWAUKEE MENTIONS

Empire Dist.-Green Bay will be wrapping up its September series of service schools at the end of this week with a two-day session, on the Rock-Ola can venders line, September 25 and 26. Distrib already hosted schools on Automatic Products and the Rock-Ola phono line and will be scheduling some games sessions in October. Branch manager Bob Rondeau, who is a staunch advocate of the service school, said he was pleased at the number of operators and service personnel attending each session.

HASTINGS DIST. INC.'S SALES MANAGER Paul Pade and various members of the sales staff were on hand at the Lake Geneva Playboy Club last week to participate in the three-day Tavern League convention September 17, 18 and 19. Hastings hosted an exhibit, displaying its full line of equipment along with the "Air Janitor" unit and the Frigidaire ice machines. New Bally 4-Player "ROGO"
Features "Lucky Horseshoe"

CHICAGO — "The 'Lucky Horseshoe' on the 'ROGO' playfield is going to be lucky for operators looking for a way to pep up 4-player locations." That was the confident prediction of Paul Calamari, Bally sales manager, announcing delivery this week of the new 4-player flipper-type pinball game.

"The 'Lucky Horseshoe,'" Calamari explained, "is a horseshoe shaped channel right smack in the middle of the playfield and is one of the most exciting features players have seen in a long time, not only because of scoring potential but also because of the special skill required to turn the scoring potential into actual scoring values.

"A ball can enter the 'Horseshoe' channel only by a flipper shot, driving the ball through the left or right tip of the shoe, both of which are open, while the upper arch of the shoe is closed. Directly inside each entrance to the 'Lucky Horseshoe,' is a rollover button. A ball crossing either button scores 1,000 and advances the bonus 1,000 points. However, if the flipper shot is powerful enough to send the ball across a button in the upper, curved section of the shoe, another 5,000 is scored and the bonus advanced an additional 5,000. More important is the fact that a ball crossing the 5,000 button, when adjacent light is lit, scores special. The special scoring light lights when bonus is pushed to 20,000, then alternates, on and off, at each 10-point hit.

"But the 'Lucky Horseshoe' is only one of a dozen strong play appeal features built into 'ROGO.' For example, 'ROGO' has, not one, but two free ball gates, both of which not only deliver free balls to the shooter-tip, but also add big numbers to the score. And extra balls can also be gained by the right skill shot. The bonus builds up to a 20,000 top and can be collected two ways — either by a skill shot or when the ball sinks in the outhole. Two separate skill objectives ring up

Bally Rogo 4-PI

5,000 on the totalizers. Nine skill objectives are each good for 1,000. Plenty of extra scoring action is insured by two kickout holes at the top of the playfield and a kicker in the left skill lane, which kicks the ball back to the top of the field for a repeat performance on the score-studded panel.

"'ROGO' is quickly convertible to add-a-ball play, can be operated with 3 or 5 balls, with or without the match feature, with one, two or three coin chutes. And any way you operate 'ROGO' world wide location tests, since April, prove that 'ROGO' will be the 4-player star of 1974," Calamari declared.

Boston Vending Op To Be Feted Nov. 9

BOSTON — Berton Steir, board chairman of SCA Services, Inc., a vending and institutional food service company, will be presented with the state of Israel's Prime Minister's Silver Medal.

The Prime Minister's Silver Medal is one of the highest awards given by the state of Israel through the National Israel Bond Organization. It is reserved for presentation only to top corporate officers, philanthropists and dignitaries who by deed have assisted in Israel's economic independence.

Israel's ambassador to the United Nations, Yosef Tekoah, will present the award to Steir at a tribute dinner on Saturday evening, Nov. 9, 1974 at the Sheraton Boston Hotel on behalf of the Israel bond program to mobilize investment dollars for Israel's domestic development.

Many vending and institutional food service executives from across the nation are joining with influential churchmen, civic leaders and corporate counterparts for the ceremony by serving on the tribute dinner committee. Dignitaries serving as honorary chairmen for the testimonial are Massachusetts governor Francis Sargent, United States senator Edward Brooke, speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill and Boston mayor Kevin White.

Israel Bond officials point out that the award to Steir is particularly fitting in that his own life and business career have exemplified the entrepreneurial spirit that has been demonstrated by the people of Israel in transforming a land from an ancient agrarian economy into a 20th century industrial complex. The Harvard educated Steir, in less than five years, has built a fledgling company into a flourishing business which has achieved a dominant position in the vending industry.

Headquartered in Boston, SCA's vending division has offices in Cleveland, Baltimore, Aurora and LaGrange, Ill.; Muskegon and Buchanan, Mich.; and Eatontown, N.J. Division director Matthew G. Mazur serves as coordinator for the tribute dinner.

CANADA

Bachman-Turner Overdrive's new Mercury album, "Fragile" shipped Gold in Canada. Their first and second albums are close to certifying for Canadian Gold (Gold Leaf Award) as well. The group appeared this past week at the Grandstand of the C. N. E.

Terry Jacks has moved his Goldfish label over to A&M Canada for distribution. The deal was finalized by Jacks, who is president of Goldfish and Jerry Lacoursiere, managing director of A&M Canada. Jack's single, "Seasons In The Sun" has sold more than seven million copies throughout the world. His latest single "If You Go Away" didn't fare as well but kept the Jacks image active across Canada. He is now readying another single release. Other artists on Goldfish are his wife, Susan, Chilliwack, Hood and newly signed Barry Greenfield. The latter became internationally known a couple of years ago with "New York Is Closed Tonight." Goldfish is based in Richmond, B.C.

A&M Canada, responsible in many ways for breaking Nazareth in the North American market, are gearing up a national promotion (time buys, window displays etc.) for the first major Canadian tour by the British group. They begin their tour at the Arts Centre in Ottawa Oct 21 and move across the country to Vancouver. Their single, "This Flight Tonight" and album, "Rampant" are still chalking up good sales.

Krautrock is a new label on the Canadian scene, created by Germandisc, a giant importer of foreign tapes and albums. Initial album release will be by Grobschnitt, a German group of thirteen members, who will join Jane, another Krautrock group, for a tour of Canadian colleges and universities in the fall. Wolfgang Spegg, the label's vice-president and marketing manager, will also be concentrating on the development of progressive Canadian talent.

MOTOWN making good sales hay with Stevie Wonder's "You Haven't Done Nothin'," The Miracles' "Do It Baby" and Eddie Kendricks' "Tell Her Love Has Felt The Need." National Promotion Manager, Ken McFarland recently completed one of the most extensive promotions with a Canadian radio station ever held. CKGM/Montreal ran a full weekend (56 hours) of Motown Music. The station was geared up by CKGM's Greg Stewart and Tom McLean. More than thirty stores were dressed up with Motown window and in-store displays and CKGM took half page ads, on their own hook, in the Gazette. Montreal is obviously a good town for Motown.

Bachman-Turner Overdrive have been given a company award from Polydor on the shipping of 50,000 albums of their new "Not Fragile" album. The group was presented with the award, immediately after their CNE Grandstand show where they shared the billing with the Beach Boys.

MCA is gearing up for a national push on Elton John's new single, "The Bitch Is Back," culled from his "Caribou" album. New singles also receiving a promo push from MCA's national promo manager, Scott Richards, include: Sonny Bono's "Our Last Show," Cher's "I Saw A Man," "Watch Out For Lucy" by Dobie Gray, Freddie Cannon's "Rock & Roll ABC's" and what could be a giant from left field, "I've Got The Music In Me" by Kiki Dee.

CAPITOL's Bill King, an ardent and outspoken supporter of U.S. amnesty for draft evaders, is beginning to have his day in Canada. His single, "Blue Skies," culled from his album, under the same title, is receiving heavy promotion from the label's national promotion manager, Bill Bannon.

Belgium

Because of chaotic local circumstances Harry Thomas' 2nd Schlagersfestival could not be filmed by the Dutch television. This will be repeated now on November 22nd and 23rd.

Roberta Flack's "Feel Like Makin' Love" single is becoming a big hit in Holland and Belgium. The number is heavily plugged on the radio. Quite some promotion is made for the third LP by Capitol artist Lori Lieberman. She is expected in Belgium for a few concerts. On September 21 Shirley Bassey will give a concert in Antwerp. Her new album entitled "Nobody Does It Like Me" on U.A. has been released meanwhile.

INELCO news: The special Island campaign for the inauguration of this label distribution by INELCO proves to be very successful, also with such new releases as the Bryan Ferry album "Another Time, Another Place," Uriah Heep's "Wonderworld" LP, the Bad Company album and of course with The Sparks' singles "This Town Ain't Big Enough For the Both of Us" and "Amateur Hour." On RCA INELCO Belgium released a Perry Como single "I Don't Know What He Told You/Weave Me the Sunshine." George McCrae's "Rock Your Baby" (RCA) has become a solid number 1 in Belgium on both the single and LP charts. Its strongest runner-up is still "Rock The Boat" by Hues Corporation (RCA).

EDITIONS BASART-BELGIUM reports that it has the distribution rights for the numbers "The Hostage" (Donna Summer), "Ah L'amore" (Mouth & MacNeal), "Die Goeie Oude Tijd" (Gerard Cox) and "Pappie Nummer Twee" (Jimmy Frey). This last one is an original copyright.

Overseas "Baby" Boom

LOS ANGELES — Lee Mendell, vice president international operations, United Artists Records, has announced that Paul Anka's chart topping disc "(You're) Having My Baby" is currently engendering strong response in England, Belgium, France and Israel. The disc, which is already gold in the states and in Canada, is contained on Anka's newly released album "Anka."

The Anka album also contains a song that was an international hit for Anka even before "(You're) Having My Baby" was released. The disc, "Let Me Get To Know You" was a chart success in Mexico (where it was one of the largest sellers in the history of Mexico's record business), Venezuela, the Phillipines, Peru, Guatemala and Canada, and is currently being charted in Argentina (last week #10) and Spain.

Pye Confabs First In Four Years Pye Records Sales Convention

LONDON — Last week Pye Records held their first international and domestic sales conference in four years, attended by licensees and delegates from over twenty countries. Addressing the audience Pye Chairman Louis Benjamin said that this was mainly due to the long term policy of re-building and restructuring of the Pye Group to meet today's needs and markets. He went on to say, "When we last met in this dimension, Precision Tapes was an embryonic company, setting out into the really unknown and untested fields. Today, Precision is probably the leading tape manufacturing and distributing company in the whole of the UK."

"I mention Precision first because it played such an integral part in our rapid financial development in the last fiscal year, and therefore developed from being a small subsidiary of Pye Records to a major contributor of the parent company. In regard to Pye Records proper, and its various other subsidiaries, the turnover of the Group during the fiscal year ending March 1974 rose by not less than five million pounds, and the Group profitability by 83%. These very large increases encouraged the management to invest for the future by way of expansion in all areas. We are only at the preliminary stages of these various expansions which include overseas development, and even at the end of the first five months of the fiscal year, which are known to be poor months in the industry, we have again increased the group turnover by 30%."

At the conference, Benjamin announced the acquisition of 50% of the Vogue Company in Holland, giving Pye their first foothold in Europe. Within the first few days of the acquisition Pye had a record in the charts in Holland with Brotherhood of Man. Hans Kellerman will be the managing director of the new joint Dutch Company. Talking about the distribution set-up, Benjamin went on to say, "Obviously with as big a gap as that left by A & M (who changed distribution to CBS recently) some additional product had to be acquired. The acquisition of product, I must admit, is a very simple affair for a successful company, but the acquisition of the right product is equally difficult, and for bringing in the new American and UK catalogues including Stax, Buddah, Vanguard, Disney, Penny Farthing, and Goodear we feel that the Pye management should be congratulated."

Benjamin went on to talk about the setting up of Pye's America operation, and welcomed to the convention the president of the new company, Peter Siegal. Commenting on the operation of the company, Benjamin told delegates, "The initial part of this policy is that the American company will be mutually responsible with the London management for the release of UK originated product. Jointly we will decide which product we feel is right for any particular segment of the American market, whether it be country music, rock, middle of the road or anything else. However, in order to protect our artists' interests, if there is any third party in the United States specializing in a certain field which wants product that would otherwise remain unissued, then the American company will sub-license this product, thus giving more exposure to the catalogue. The next part of the operation could be extremely important in that due to the great depth of catalogue we have over many years, the president of the company will seek to re-package and market direct or through sub-licensees much of the material which has been issued so successfully in the UK. Lastly, Mr. Siegal will have the responsibility of acquiring original American product for the American company and Pye, and for the rest of the world wherever possible."

Polydor (Japan) Reports Gain/Best In Its History

TOKYO — Polydor Record Co. (president, Kenyichi Morita) has held its officers' conference on Sept. 5 at its head office in Tokyo to confirm the sales for the 43rd term (Apr. 1 to Sept. 30, 1974) and to discuss the sales plan for the 44th term (Oct. 1, 1974 to Sept. 20, 1975).

The sales for its 43rd term were reported to show 5,750,000,000 yen ($19,166,666), 31% more than the target of 4,380,000,000 yen. At the same time, this was 38.57% more than the same term of the previous year of 3,754,000,000 yen. The percentage between Japan's music and western was 67% to 33% while disk and tape was 86% to 14% respectively.

The sales of this term were the best in the company's history mainly due to many hits of Japanese artists including Yosui Inouye, Goro Noguchi, and Kenji Sawada. Because of this, when it comes to Japan's music, the sales recorded 30% more than the target.

The sales target for the 44th term has been settled at 12,300,000,000 yen ($41,000,000) in which 6,300,000,000 yen was for the first six months of this term and 6,000,000,000 yen for the second six months. The item of 6,300,000,000 yen (the target for the first six months) was 65% for Japan's music and 35% for Western music respectively.

The business policy for the 44th term was decided to lay emphasis on the next three points: (1) to hold down the business cost as far as possible, (2) to raise the efficiency of its factories according to the increase of output in keeping pace with the growth of sales, and (3) satisfaction to consumer, happiness to employee and compensation to shareholders.

Also currently on release in the States on Atlantic is "Banjo Man" by Apollo 100 — the group who gained a Grammy nomination for their Top 5 single "Joy." Dallon is also very enthusiastic about his new discovery Bearded Lady — a rock group which has just been signed to Larry Utall's new Private Stock label. Bearded Lady's first single is "Rock Star." Another Dallon artist with great potential is Stu Stevens whose first single "God-forsaken Land" goes out on the Granite label October 1st. With artists of the calibre of Mac and Katie Kissoon, Scott Campbell and Miki's son Lee available for the States, Dallon is looking ahead to the best year ever in the U.S.

The song was written and performed by Aznavour as the theme for a London TV series.

Nippon-Col And Hitachi Disclose "UD-4" System

TOKYO — Nippon Columbia Co., and Hitachi Electric Works Co., have disclosed "UD-4 system" (4-channel) at the press conference on Sept. 2, 1974 at Hotel Okura in Tokyo. Those who presented were Mr. Shobochi, president of Nippon Columbia Co., Mr. Takahashi, chief of sound-section of Hitachi Electric Works Co., and many other concerned. The outline of this system is as follows.

"UD-4 system" is abbreviation of "Universal Discrete 4 Channel System" and has been developed after co-inquiry of Nippon Columbia and Hitachi for 4 years. According to both companies, this system has merits of both Matrix and Discrete. Concretely speaking, its merits include 1) few distortion and noise, 2) wide dynamic range, 3) complete separation without unbalance, 4) clear sound, 5) to be possible to be developed from Monoral to 2, 4, 6-channel freely.

When users want to play this record with other 4-channel system, they have to use jointly "Modulator" except with Monoral and 2-channel-stereo which have exchangeability.

The company is expected to release "Soft" for this system on this Oct. and "Hard" within this year.

Phonogram To Promo, Market ON Records

NEW YORK — Nils B. Kvam, general manager of Norwegian ON Records, has just completed a deal with Phonogram in Oslo. The deal calls for ON Records to deliver ready-made tapes to Phonogram, who will market and promote the records on a par with their own Phillips, Mercury and Vertigo lines.

King's Sales Results

TOKYO — King Record Co., has held the conference of its branch managers throughout the country on Sept. 5, 1974 at its head office in Tokyo to confirm the sales result for the first half period of 1974 (Apr. to Sept., 1974) and to discuss the sales plan for the second half period of 1974 (Oct. 1974 to May 1975).

The Sales Result for The First Half Period of 1974: The target for this term has been settled at 6,900,000,000 yen ($23,000,000) at the beginning of this term. By the way, this is 46% for the target of the full year (Apr. 1974 to May 1975, 15,000,000,000 yen). However it has been confirmed that the sales result of this term is to go higher than the target due to the many reasons in which 1) the longer rainy season during June and July than usual year has brought good sales to record, 2) "The Carpenters" showed strong sales just like as the previous term, 3) on the contrary to the previous term, Japan's music has been active by the many hits of Michiyo Azusa and Akira Fuse included.

The percentage between Japan's music to Western is 40% to 60% while disk to tape is 84% to 16%.

To break through the target (8,100,000,000 yen, 54% of full year's target), the company is going to develop the special campaign, "Winter Sale 75," from Oct. 21 to Jan. 20, 1975. At the same time, many younger and fresh artists are to be promoted.

L.A. Atty on Pirates

what it is — theft — and devote significant efforts to eradicating it."

Pines then went on to note that the City Attorney's close relationship with the police department "has maximized the effectiveness of piracy investigations" in Los Angeles.

Pines concluded, "The recording industry is vital to the economic health of Southern California, as it is to the economic health of Nashville, New York, and the rest of the nation. The City Attorney's office will continue to devote substantial efforts to the prosecution and hopeful eradication of tape piracy. We stand willing to work with anyone, federal officials, state and recording industry people in this task."

In the past the Los Angeles City Attorney's office has cracked down hard on pirated tapes in the Los Angeles area. Recently, the Criminal Division was involved in prosecution which involved the confiscation of over 5,000 pirated tapes and fines of $10,000. Mr. Pines also has sent letters to federal and state representatives urging a change in the laws which would make tape and record pirating a felony rather than a misdemeanor. In addition Pines sent letters to California Assemblyman Alan Sieroty asking Sieroty and other members of the Assembly Criminal Justice Committee to enact new laws in the area of tape piracy.

Concerts Planned To Raise Funds For MDA

NEW YORK — MCS, a music entertainment corporation, has announced the formation of an organization which aims to coordinate four major concerts and to donate the proceeds to the MDA (Muscular Dystrophy Association of America). Their slogan is "Concerts For Dystrophy — Go To A Concert And Fight MD — You'll Never Know You're Doing It."

MCS plans to charge a low admissions price and to utilize concert facilities with large seating capacities. The proceeds from every concert will go directly into an escrow fund to be held until the 1975 MD telethon.
