EDITORIAL The Time Is Now

When the boom in new video technologies began to take shape just a few years ago, it seemed that everyone would stand to benefit from the cornucopia of new products promised by the emerging industry. However, now, in 1981, the reality of several different and incompatible videodisc and VCR formats, along with varying cassette rental policies, has already brought the industry to a crossroads.

On one hand, if the present confusion continues, the realization of a mass market for home video could be seriously hampered. However, if dealers and manufacturers are able to meet in an open forum, cut away the hyperbole and realistically examine what is and isn't working, a common goal and direction might well be achieved — and that is the point of the inaugural National Assn. of Recording Merchandisers (NARM) video retailing convention.

From open afternoon conference sessions to panels and seminars addressing virtually every issue confronting the industry, the accent at the August gathering will be on exchange, discussion and sharing of information. It is the sincere hope of NARM and its board of directors that the convention will provide an atmosphere conducive to open dialogue — between dealers and manufacturers, as well as among their respective communities.

Cash Box applauds NARM in recognizing the pressing need to encourage such interaction within the home video industry, as well as allowing the united voice of the video retailing community to be heard. As the title of the convention so emphatically implies, "The Time Is Now."

Elektra/Asylum Hot Streak Continues As Lundvall Signs

by Michael Martinez

LOS ANGELES — What can a record company do for an encore after coming off its best sales year ever?

In the case of Elektra/Asylum Records, which last year posted a record 78.5% sales increase over 1979, the answer is to sign a multi-million dollar manufacturing and distribution deal with one of the most successful young labels to emerge in the '80s and then attract a top ranking executive away from one of its chief competitors.

Landing former CBS Records Division president Bruce Lundvall, one of the industry's most capable and respected executives, would be a major coup under normal circumstances; but the defection is especially noteworthy coming in the wake of E/A's recent worldwide pact with black music powerhouse Solar Records.

Thus, at the half way mark of 1981, the Joe Smith-headed label seems poised to even more aggressively pursue a greater share of the prerecorded music market.

Along these lines, Lundvall said last week that his first priority will be to heighten E/A's profile both on the east coast and overseas by building a strong artist roster to complement the label's existing lineup, which is weighted heavily towards west coast acts.

'Logical Center'

"I view the east coast as the logical center for the record business because it is equidistant between Los Angeles and London," said Lundvall. He added that it is essential for "a west coast-based label to have an eastern presence to maximize its potential internationally."

In his new position, the 21-year music industry veteran, who will remain in New York, will be involved in all management decisions regarding the company's direction and planning, while reporting directly to E/A chairman Joe Smith. Additionally he will be responsible for all artists assigned to the label's East Coast roster.

Lundvall, who is generally acknowledged as having a strong rapport with artists, will be actively involved in acquisition of talent for the newly-created Elektra/Metropolitan label, which will feature a diverse artist roster in all areas of music. At the same time, the new E/A executive will develop a high-grade jazz specialty label featuring artists leaning

RIAA/VIDEO To Accelerate Its Anti-Piracy Drive

by Michael Glynn

LOS ANGELES — As part of its ongoing efforts to combat piracy in the video software industry and aid in the investigation of suspected videocassette counterfeiters and bootleggers, RIAA/VIDEO recently began distributing anti-piracy report forms to its member companies at a council and membership meeting May 27 prior to the Summer Consumer Electronics Show (CES) in Chicago.

Patterned after the RIAA audio recordings anti-piracy forms, the reports are intended to be distributed by RIAA/VIDEO companies to field personnel. In addition to video piracy, counterfeiting and bootlegging, the reports encompass such additional problems as sale or return of rental-damaged product, re-wrapped used product, non-legitimate releases and unauthorized exhibition of video product.

According to RIAA special counsel Jules Yarnell, RIAA/VIDEO and the RIAA anti-toward the more traditional form. The label will also feature rare, previously unreleased live recordings by jazz greats.

"One great attraction of Elektra/Asylum, apart from the long relationship I've had with Joe Smith and other executives at the company is that the label is really involved successfully with all areas of music, which parallels my own involvement with music," Lundvall said.

Commenting on the appointment of Lundvall, Smith said, "We are most fortunate to attract an executive of Bruce Lundvall's caliber. His credits are impeccable and we feel that his very special organizational talents fill an important slot on the Elektra/Asylum team."

Lundvall comes to E/A from CBS Records where he began his career in 1960. He served in the positions of vice president of marketing and vice president and general manager at Columbia Records

Co-ops Helping Small Independent Black Retailers Stay Competitive Against Chains

by Dave Schulps and Dan Nooger

NEW YORK — Black music retailers, mostly small "mom and pop"-type neighborhood stores, have traditionally been unable to obtain the volume discounts and promotional support in merchandising aids and co-op advertising dollars commanded by the larger chain operations. Additionally, they have found it more difficult to obtain credit lines and were often not as well advised about what label support they could receive as their white counterparts. Currently, however, black retailers have begun forming buying and advertising co-ops, working together and in tandem with local one-stops to improve their situation in these areas.

The past two years have seen buying and/or advertising co-ops formed in at least nine different urban areas with large black populations, according to a Cash Box survey of distributors and one-stops around the country. Of those, only five co-ops, all consisting of black retailers, are still currently operative. A similar cooperative advertising venture, launched by a Chicago one-stop for its independent white retailers, was deemed a failure by its creator and disbanded a short time ago.

However, the situation of the black retailer, usually an inner city independent competing for customers with lowballing chain and department stores, has created a greater need for cooperative efforts. According to Ernie Leaner of Reunited Dis-

Broad Agenda Is Slated For 1st NARM Video Convention

by Michael Glynn

LOS ANGELES — An in-depth discussion of various videocassette rental, exchange and club programs, a seminar on video duplication and the law and a president's panel featuring the heads of the major U.S. video software suppliers will be among the highlights of the inaugural National Assn. of Recording Merchandisers (NARM) Video Retailers Convention, slated for Aug. 10-13 at the Grand Hyatt Hotel in New York.

Themed "The Time Is Now," the convention will be chaired by Noel Gimbel, president of national video one stop Sound/Video Unlimited, headquartered in Skokie, Ill., and includes Arthur Morowitz, president of the New York-based Video Shack retail chain, as keynote speaker. Retail sales training expert Jack Berman and Ted Levitt, head of the marketing department, Harvard School of Business, are among the guest speakers tentatively scheduled to appear at the confab.

"The purpose of the convention is to give video dealers the opportunity to meet with other dealers outside their regions to freely discuss such areas of day to day business as advertising, promotion and in-store merchandising," said Pat Gorlick, NARM director of marketing. "A major portion of the convention will also be devoted to video product presentations for the fall and Christmas sales seasons, so that dealer promotions can be planned early on rather than at the last minute."

Other Highlights

In addition, speakers, workshops and panels will explore such subjects as how to develop competent retail sales staffs and provide an examination of the demographics of the present and potential video consumer. Two floors of the Grand Hyatt have been set aside for conference rooms to promote one-to-one and group exchange between manufacturers and dealers. The rooms, which will be open during the afternoons throughout the course of the convention, can be reserved by video product suppliers on a first come, first served basis.

"We want to get a dialogue going between the dealers and suppliers," stated convention chairman Gimbel. "That is the

Strong Opposition To Performance Rights Bill Heard

by Earl B. Abrams

WASHINGTON — Broadcast and jukebox representatives voiced vigorous opposition last week to payment of any performance rights in a hearing before a House subcommittee on H.R. 1805. The bill, sponsored by Rep. George Danielson (D-Calif.) with 35 co-sponsors, would impose a statutory copyright fee for the benefit of performers on broadcasters and jukebox operators for the use of recorded music. Royalty payments already are made by these users to music composers.

Testimony favorable to the performance bill was given last month by representatives of the record industry and the American Federation of Musicians (AFL-CIO).

In objecting to the proposals, James J. Popham, deputy general counsel of the National Assn. of Broadcasters (NAB), declared that it would be "an inefficient and ineffective solution to a non-existent problem." Popham said that although NAB's 4,772 member radio stations derive some benefit from the use of recorded music, record companies and performers tributors in Chicago and Ted Hudson, president of Ted's One Stop in St. Louis, small black retailers have traditionally lacked expertise in how to get advertising and merchandising support available to them. Said R.A. Leaner, "Unless they actually went to the manufacturers and jumped up and down, they probably weren't offered it."

Means Of Survival

"Black dealers move a good volume of black music product, but the major distributors treat it as mom and pop store buys," said Hudson. "The deals go to those who can buy in volume. If forming co-ops means a way to survive that's what they've had to do."

Three approaches are being taken by black merchandisers to realize the increased sales that come from better prices and promotional support. Retailers are banding together on their own, as in the case of the Independent Retailers Protective Assn. (IRPA) in Philadelphia; one-stops are putting together a co-op buying and/or

GAO Suggestion Would Make CRT Part-Time Body

by Earl B. Abrams

WASHINGTON — A recommendation that the Copyright Royalty Tribunal (CRT) be reconstituted into a part-time body was one of the highlights of a report by the General Accounting Office (GAO) presented last week to a House committee.

The report is the result of a nine-week investigation of the CRT made at the request of Rep. Robert M. Kastenmeier (D-Wisc.), chairman of the copyright subcommittee. It was presented in a hearing before that subcommittee by Wilbur D. Campbell, deputy director of the GAO's accounting and financial management division.

GAO found that the commissioners were underutilized since they spent only 75 days in hearings in 1980 and expect to spend 66 days in hearings in 1981. Moreover, they will spend only 12 days in hearings in the following two years. Thus, GAO concluded, "the workload is not full-time."

Besides the proposal that CRT be made into a part-time commission, subject to the call of the Register of Copyrights, GAO suggested as alternatives: 1) reduce the number of commissioners from the present five to three; 2) restructure the CRT with a single full-time chairman and general counsel and a panel of part-time commissioners; 3) transfer CRT to the Department of Commerce; and 4) eliminate the CRT entirely.

Other recommendations called on Congress to amend the Copyright Act of 1976 to

by Michael Martinez

LOS ANGELES — Without benefit of radio airplay, CBS Records' "Exposed" LP, a two-record sampler of 22 songs by the company's new rock artists, is racking up impressive sales for retailers across the country.

Retailers contacted by Cash Box said the double album set, featuring 11 artists from

Bufman, Bogart Pact To Produce Broadway Play

LOS ANGELES — Boardwalk Entertainment Co. president Neil Bogart and Broadway musical producer Zev Bufman have pacted to produce a series of top entertainment projects oriented to theatre, TV, film and recordings.

The new team's initial project will be The First, a new two million dollar Joel Siegel/Martin Chanan/Bob Brush play based on the early days of the legendary Brooklyn Dodger Jackie Robinson. The project is scheduled to open this fall at the Martin Beck Theatre in New York.

Commenting on the new venture, Bogart said, "I have always been drawn to highly visual performing artists who were capable of fantastic live musical theatre. That kind of spontaneous entertainment is becoming, in this age of cable TV and videodiscs, more precious than ever. The resurgence of Broadway is a cause for great optimism, and I'm proud to be part of it."

Peaches Creditor Committee To Be Announced Soon

by Michael Martinez

LOS ANGELES — Notices of appointment have been sent to the seven volunteers for a creditors committee in the Chapter XI proceeding involving the Los Angeles-based Peaches Records and Tapes web, according to Dave Hagan, spokesman for the U.S. Trustee Office.

Hagan said that each prospective member of the creditors committee has been mailed the notice of appointment. A general meeting of creditors is expected within three to four weeks.

Attorney Joseph Eisenberg filed petitions for Chapter XI of the federal bankruptcy laws here in U.S. District Court June 1. While Hagan would not say what companies would comprise the creditors

CASH BOX

Twentieth Century-Fox recording artist Jim Photoglo is finally lighting up the charts after more than his share of dues paying. Five steady years of gigging on Los Angeles' South Bay steak and lobster joint circuit gave Photoglo his eclectic adult/pop sound, and it's resulted in a top charting hit for the man whose name means "son of light" in Greek.

The mid-tempo pop song, "Fool In Love With You," has dented the Top 30 of the Cash Box pop singles chart at #27 bullet, and the album of the same name has come onto the Cash Box pop LP charts at #188. Photoglo, however, is no novice in the chart game, as the "We Were Meant To Be Lovers" single from last year's debut LP also went Top 40.

The two successful singles are credited to the young Southern California singer/songwriter, but Photoglo's music is very much a joint effort. Brian Francis Neary is Photoglo's composing partner and producer, and the two have been a team since meeting up with each other at a Manhattan Beach club called Orville & Wilbur's in 1974.

Neary has also helped Photoglo as far as musical direction, guiding him toward more of a pop/rock sound on "Fool In Love With You." The new album's title and concept were carefully conceived by Photoglo and Neary.

"'Fool In Love With You,'" explained Neary, "is an album about being fooled by love, being fools for love and being fools in love."

That romantic sentiment is part and parcel of the sound and lyrics of the Photoglo/Neary team. And while much of the music on the new LP has a pop/rock flavor, Photoglo insists that both men are dedicated to writing the perfect love song.

"We pride ourselves on writing about the male/female relationship," says Photoglo. "We concentrate on writing memorable melodies and vivid lyrics about love — it's the most intense feeling a person can go through, and we all can identify with losing at it or winning at it."

Photoglo has captured both the adult contemporary and pop audiences with his versatile musical range on the two albums, and his recent chart successes show that the world is ready for yet another "incurable romantic."

NEW FACES TO WATCH

Bill Summers

For MCA recording artist Bill Summers, "music is to the black American what oil is to the Arabs," a vast resource upon which cultural, political and economic identity can be built and preserved.

From this vast reservoir of black music, Summers with his band, Summers' Heat, has come up with a music amalgam aptly titled "Call It What You Want," which is #18 on the Cash Box Black Contemporary (B/C) Albums chart, with the title track #21 of the Cash Box B/C Singles chart.

The music on that album represents Summers' experiences in music — from groundbreaking sets with Herbie Hancock and the Headhunters to myth-shattering engagements with artists like Country Joe McDonald. Indeed, Summers' percussion stylings have graced the work of such diverse artists as Lamont Dozier, McCoy Tyner, the Pointer Sisters, Sonny Rollins, Con Funk Shun and Phyllis Hyman.

Former members of his own band, Summers' Heat, including keyboardist Rodney Franklin, bassist Freddie Washington and vocalist Carla Vaughn, have moved on to recording careers with other name artists or as soloists.

So for Summers, the claim of being eclectic could hold up upon examination. And if his eclectic approach to music can be attributed to anything, it would be his sensitive understanding of multi-ethnic forms.

"My background is varied," explains Summers. "I've been a classical pianist; I've played woodwinds. Percussions just emerged as an avenue to notoriety."

The depth of his perception in the use of percussions as a lead instrument, a pivotal factor in any aggregation, was developed through his studies at the University of California at Berkeley. Summers' demands to study ethnomusicology there while student teaching led to the university granting the establishment of such a major. Several African musicians joined him there where he learned from some of the most masterful African drummers.

His understanding of African music and his affiliation with Hancock on the Headhunter projects earned Summers another prestigious opportunity — the chance to be lead percussionist on Quincy Jones' soundtrack for Roots, which earned him an Emmy award.

A personal music identity, however, began to emerge after Summers signed with Prestige Records in 1976, where he later released four LPs, which failed to bring him commercial success, but established the foundation for his multi-ethnic music excursions.

"I needed to reach people through my music," he said. "I needed to be commercial without sacrificing creativity, without sacrificing anything," he continued.

Though currently on tour to support "Call It What You Want," Summers has his eye on developing a multi-ethnic school of the arts, for which he has already purchased 60-acres of land in Louisiana, 50 miles outside New Orleans.

According to Summers, "People need to replenish artistic energies, test new ideas and to have a place that encourages such growth."

Jim Steinman

"When I write songs I see them as movies with myself as the actor and director," says Epic/Cleveland International recording artist Jim Steinman. As the writer and arranger of Meat Loaf's "Bat Out Of Hell" LP, Steinman established his mastery of the spectacular rock production style that he takes even further on his own debut solo album, "Bad For Good." With the help of co-producer/guitarist Todd Rundgren, fronting a band that features E Street Band stalwarts Roy Bittan (piano) and Max Weinberg (drums) and Utopia bassist Kasim Sultan, Steinman has created a technicolor sound canvas that sounds like, as he puts it, "God hit the world and the world hit back."

Steinman admits that he originally conceived the album as a sequel to "Bat Out Of Hell," but after Meat Loaf made several unsuccessful attempts to record his vocals and asked Steinman to write him an entirely different album, Steinman decided to use the "Bad For Good" material for himself. He worked on "Bad For Good" from August 1980 to March of this year.

"Making this album was a liberating experience for me," he says, "because it made me realize that I could continue to write for Meat Loaf and do my own albums as well. With this record, I saw myself not just as a singer but being ringmaster of a circus" — the album includes featured vocal contributions by "Bat" veterans Karla DeVito, Ellen Foley and Rory Dodds, who sings lead vocals on "Surf's Up" and "Lost Boys And Golden Girls."

In line with his cinematic fixation, Steinman is working several of the album's songs into film projects. "Love And Death And An American Guitar," based on a monologue Steinman used to do on Meat Loaf shows, is being developed into a film called Guitar, which tells of the 1954-1956 experiences of the first Fender Telecaster.

"Stark Raving Love" is being developed into a CBS-TV movie that Steinman describes as "an updated West Side Story." "Lost Boys" is the basis for Neverland, which Steinman says is "a rock 'n' roll science fiction version of Peter Pan that takes place in a city built on the ruins of Los Angeles after a series of chemical wars."

Steinman came by his theatrical and musical leanings early, playing rock and classical piano while growing up in New York and California. He wrote the book, music and lyrics for his first play, The Dream Engine, while in college. His next project was the play More Than You Deserve, which premiered in 1974 and led to his first meeting with Meat Loaf, who auditioned for a part in it. After a short tour with The National Lampoon Show, the two began working on "Bat Out Of Hell." Steinman also wrote an orchestral film score for A Small Circle Of Friends in 1980.

Steinman's current projects include the writing, arranging and co-production (with Jimmy Iovine) of Meat Loaf's forthcoming album, as well as developing material for Karla DeVito and Rory Dodds. He also plans to do either a late summer tour with Meat Loaf or a tour of his own.

"With this album I really tried to top 'Bat Out Of Hell' and go as far as I could in this musical style," Steinman explains.

ARTIST PROFILE

David Sanborn: Session Ace Scores Pop Hit With 'Voyeur'

by Marc Ceter

LOS ANGELES — Such hit songs as Linda Ronstadt's "Ooh Baby, Baby," Paul Simon's "I Do It For Your Love," James Taylor's "How Sweet It Is" and David Bowie's "Young Americans" have more in common than just being the works of pop superstars. All of the tunes were galvanized by the warm, emotional saxophone stylings of David Sanborn. And while the affable altoist has recorded six tasty R&B/jazz flavored solo albums, his reputation as one of pop's most in demand session men has far overshadowed his own artistic career.

His reputation as "sideman extraordinaire" is changing however. Last year's "Hideaway" album stayed on the Cash Box Jazz chart a respectable 42 weeks, and his recently released "Voyeur" LP is standing firm at the #4 spot on the Cash Box Jazz chart and has racked up impressive numbers on the Pop and B/C Album charts as well.

The new found solo success has led Sanborn away from the practice of coming into the studio and overdubbing a solo for every artist from Bowie to Bacharach, and let him concentrate more on his composing.

"In session work it got to a point where artists wanted me to recreate a sound or feeling from a previous hit record I'd played on," said Sanborn. "It was sort of like becoming a musical rabbit's foot. For a while there my solos were under much scrutiny because I was becoming overexposed. Now I choose my sessions much more carefully."

Sanborn has just finished studio dates with Carly Simon, Little Feat and Patrick Henderson, but the session-a-week syndrome has stopped since the recording of "Hideaway."

Sanborn considers the 1980 release to be his most personal album because "I don't feel I really wrote anything until that record. Before that album I'd reached a point in my musical development where I hit a deadend," he said. "I wasn't happy with anything I was playing, finding suitable material or understanding anything about chord changes."

The period of self realization and dissatisfaction with playing only other people's material led the St. Louis-born and raised sax man to sit down and learn the piano while "hiding away" in a loft apartment in Manhattan. Armed with piano exercises courtesy of pianist friend Don Grolnick, a "fake" book and the will to power through the necessary keyboard calisthenics, Sanborn quickly learned the chord changes and patterns and began composing his first tunes.

Sax Is First Love

While he's proud of his keyboard accomplishments, the alto saxophone still remains his musical voice. "I don't really think of myself as a saxophone player," maintained Sanborn. "I go for melody and try to exploit whatever possibilities the instrument has — its woodwind warmth or brass bite — for artistic reasons, rather than adhering to stylistic considerations and a certain standard of playing. I play the instrument for its vocal qualities."

Sanborn began to develop his distinctive "vocal" sax style as a youngster in St. Louis, where he was working with blues great Albert King by the time he was 15. He grew up with R&B and rock 'n' roll, but had little exposure to jazz because "the music had died in St. Louis a few years prior to me," said Sanborn. "They supposedly cleaned up the town and the jazz clubs were the first thing to go."

After high school, Sanborn attended Northwestern University, where he learned to read music and play with a big band style. But it wasn't until he transferred to the University of Iowa that he really confronted jazz. "I met an old tenor player named J.R. Montrose there, and he taught me to command the idioms and how to navigate through the bebop changes," Sanborn recalls.

His post-college days found Sanborn in San Francisco during the "summer of love"

Chuck Gregory

Gregory Named VP Of Marketing For Hammond Records

NEW YORK — Chuck Gregory has been named vice president of marketing for John Hammond Records. The appointment, made by label chairman John Hammond, is effective immediately and will allow Gregory the necessary time to establish sales and promotion strategy for initial releases scheduled for the fall.

In making the appointment, Hammond noted that "Chuck's numerous years of involvement in record sales and promotion, along with his A&R experience, all in the diversified areas of C&W, disco, R&B, rock, jazz and gospel, as well as contemporary music, makes him ideally suited to our company, which will ultimately deal with these many facets of the musical world."

Gregory entered the record business at the distribution level before joining Columbia Records as promotion manager for the Baltimore-Washington area. Moving on to Epic's West Coast office as an A&R director, Gregory played a key role in bringing Sly and the Family Stone to the label. He returned east as director of marketing for Polydor, and was later named vice president of marketing for Famous Music, where he managed Stephanie Mills. Most recently, Gregory was senior vice president and general manager at Salsoul Records.

Major Cutbacks At 20th Fox Label

LOS ANGELES — Following the recent acquisition of 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. by Denver oil baron Marvin Davis, 20th Century-Fox Records has made major staff reductions and moved toward independent promotion for the remainder of the year.

According to a spokesman for the label, the cutbacks have come in the form of layoffs rather than terminations. Those recently dismissed from the label include Bunky Sheppard, vice president of R&B promotion; Mort Weiner, vice president of sales, merchandising and international operations; David Parks, vice president of pop promotion; Brenda Geffner, publicist; and Paula Jeffries, A&R manager. Eight staffers remain on the label's payroll.

Label president Neil Portnow will be more actively involved in A&R functions under the restructuring; while Donnie Brooks, who has served as the label's director of R&B promotion, will now direct all promotion activity for 20th.

Additionally, Dave Parks has been appointed as an independent promotion consultant for the remainder of the year. Parks, while not an employee of 20th, will work closely with RCA Records vice president of pop promotion, John Betancourt.

The relationship between 20th and RCA Records remains as a production and distribution deal, according to the label spokesman. He said that discussions about the future relationship between the companies are currently in progress, but that a final disposition on the label's connection may not be reached for another six months.

GAO Recommends CRT Become Part-Time Body

require the CRT to distribute all royalty funds within 30 days of a decision, unless a claimant can obtain a court injunction; provide the Tribunal with a general counsel and with subpoena power; provide the Tribunal with sufficient funds to hire objective, expert opinion when needed, and finally, require that future commissioners be "knowledgeable in matters related to copyright." The GAO report said that copyright was such a complex area, the commissioners should be familiar in some degree with the field.

Campbell declined to offer an opinion on whether the copyright law should contain provisions for compulsory licenses (the basis for the need for CRT). That is up to Congress to decide, he said.

During the question period, Kastenmeier observed that he assumed there would continue to be compulsory licenses of some sort, thus the need for CRT would continue. Rep. M. Caldwell Butler (R-Va.) expressed strong reservations about the idea of part-time commissioners. Too much money is at stake, he said.

The top five creditors include CBS Records, Warner Bros. Records, RCA Records, Capitol Records and PolyGram Dist., Inc. Also listed as creditors are Citibank Corp. and Crocker National Bank.

After the notices of appointment are signed and returned, the committee would be free to act in any manner they see fit, according to Hagan, who said that the committee could hire counsel, accountants or employ whatever resources it deems necessary in developing a solution to Peaches and Nehi Distributing, Inc.'s (the chain's parent company) estimated $20 million collective debt.

In addition to being credited with the acquisition of several name artists — including Willie Nelson, Herbie Hancock, Gladys Knight, James Taylor, Return To Forever and Bill Withers — Lundvall was instrumental in development of CBS' country music division in Nashville and spearheaded the company's commitment into the expansion of black music.

On the development of the jazz label at E/A, Lundvall said that while he was looking "to develop a place where creative jazz musicians can develop their craft," the label would not ignore jazz artists wishing to establish a commercial base.

NEW AND DEVELOPING ARTISTS

NEW AND DEVELOPING ARTISTS

JOHN O'BANION (Elektra E-47163)
Love Is Blind (3:34) (Sixty-Ninth Street Music — BMI) (J. Carbone) (Producers: J. Carbone, R. Zito)
 With a Top 30 single already under his belt, O'Banion should begin to create a strong album rock base with this follow-up. When the Kokomo, Ind. native hits those high notes against the riptide rhythm, comparisons to other heartland rockers such as Kansas are inevitable. The swirling keyboards, crunchy riffs and meaty bass are the stuff AOR is made of.

REX SMITH/RACHEL SWEET (Columbia 18-02169)
Everlasting Love (3:29) (Rising Sons Music — BMI) (B. Cason, M. Gayden) (Producer: R. Chertoff)
 The voice and image of former teen idol Smith have matured since his stint with the Broadway cast of The Pirates of Penzance and it shows on this duet with the plucky young Sweet. A cover of the Top 20 hit for Robert Knight, in 1967, and Carl Carlton in 1974, it's faithful and upbeat.

YARBROUGH & PEOPLES (Mercury 76111)
Third Degree (3:59) (Total "X" Publishing Co. — ASCAP) (J. Ellis) (Producers: L. Simmons, J. Ellis)
 Perky and uptempo, the latest from the duo that hit with the crossover sleeper "Don't Stop The Music" is as delightfully buoyant a dance single as you're likely to hear this year. Cavin and Alisa each take a solo turn at the mike and join on the jumpy chorus, while handclaps and keyboards move the groove.

SQUEEZE (A&M 2345)
Tempted (3:53) (Illegal Songs, Inc. — BMI) (G. Tilbrook, C. Difford) (Producers: R. Bechirian, E. Costello)
 Master contempo pop craftsmen Glenn Tilbrook and Chris Difford add a blue-eyed soul twist to the latest offering from Squeeze, mixing an Al Kooper-period Blood, Sweat & Tears type sound with a decidedly R&B-tinged midtempo rhythm.

THE GO-GO'S (I.R.S. IR 9901)
Our Lips Are Sealed (2:45) (Go Town Music/Plangent Visions Ltd. — Copyright controlled) (J. Weidlin, T. Hall) (Producer: R. Gottehrer)
 On the strength of the alternative radio play given to its Stiff import single "We Got The Beat," L.A.'s Go-Go's has gained a reputation as the new girl group most likely to succeed. Now the first single from the forthcoming "Beauty And The Beat" LP fulfills the promise with a pop punch.

KLEER (Atlantic 3823)
Running Back To You (3:30) (Alex Music/Soufous Music — ASCAP) (W. Cunningham) (Producers: D. King, Kleer)
 This slab of sinewy R&B is heavily percussive in nature, from the sparse keyboard stabs to the polyrhythmic buildup at the close. Little wonder, though, considering Kleer drummer Woody Cunningham penned the tune. Percussionist Paul Crutchfield maintains a high profile on this jazzy dancer for B/C.

POINT BLANK (MCA MCA-51132)
Nicole (3:45) (Hamstein Music Co. — BMI) (B. Keith, M. Hamilton, B. Gruen, B. Randolph, R. Burns, K. Davis) (Producer: B. Ham)
 The gritty fuzz guitar that runs throughout the second single from the "American Exce$$" LP has a ZZ Top feel that will surely please Point Blank's hard-core Texas rock fans. However, new lead singer Bubba Keith's vocals offer a sharp, pop counterbalance that could bring Top 40 acceptance.

HOLLY STANTON (War Bride WB45-1)
Just A Little (2:40) (Clears Music — BMI) (Elliot, Durand) (Producer: J. Rewind)
 Had Chrissie Hynde, Rachel Sweet and Pat Benatar come out a little later, they might've been compared to San Francisco's Stanton. Her sultry, aggressive and quite tuneful vocals on this Beau Brummels (another S.F. act) cover combine the best elements of all three of the aforementioned singers. And the backing here, particularly the layered guitars, are made to order for AOR.

FEATURE PICKS

HITS OUT OF THE BOX

RONNIE MILSAP (RCA PB-12264)
(There's) No Gettin' Over Me (3:15) (Rick Hall Music, Inc. — ASCAP) (T. Brasfield, W. Aldridge) (Producers: R. Milsap, T. Collins)
 If any country act has been destined for crossover success, it's Milsap. With such mass appeal touches as a bright sax, polished production and arrangements, this could well be the ticket.

MATERIAL with NONA HENDRYX (Island/ZE IS 49741)
Bustling Out (3:40) (Cri Cri Music, adm. in the U.S. and Canada by Island Music — BMI) (B. Laswell, M. Beinhorn, F. Maher, N. Hendryx, R. Drayton) (Producers: Material)
 Former Labelle member Hendryx joins the three-man N.Y. band for a dance-oriented exercise in Eurodisco cum rock. A sturdy beat backs the metal guitar workout and electronics on this cut from the compilation LP "Seize The Beat (Dance ZE Dance)."

JOHN BATDORF (20th Century-Fox TC-2497)
Be My Baby (3:10) (Mother Bertha Music/Trio Music — BMI) (Spector, Greenwich, Barry) (Producers: M. Stewart, J. Batdorf)
 After laboring for years in Batdorf and Rodney, the former strikes out with an echo-laced cover of the well-worn Ronnettes classic.

DURAN DURAN (Harvest 5017)
Planet Earth (3:59) (Tritec Music — copyright controlled) (Taylor, Taylor, Taylor, LeBon, Rhodes) (Producer: C. Thurston)
 Another English New Romantic import, Duran Duran's former U.K. hit doesn't sound an awful lot different than any of its Blitz brethren. If you've heard Visage's "Fade To Grey," you get the picture. Synth rock, with a disco beat.

BUCKS FIZZ (RCA PB-12242)
Making Your Mind Up (2:39) (Intersong-USA, Inc./Steve and Nickelodeon Music/Almo Music Corp. — ASCAP) (A. Hill, J. Danter) (Producer: A. Hill)
 1981 Eurovision Song Contest winners Bucks Fizz come on with all the pert pop style of role models ABBA on this bright '50s-meet-'80s number.

TUBES (Capitol 5007)
Don't Want To Wait Anymore (3:50) (Pseudo Songs/Irving Music, Inc./Foster Frees Music, Inc./Boone's Tunes — BMI) (Tubes, Foster) (Producer: D. Foster)
 Although this spit-polished and ultra-produced ballad, courtesy of David Foster, may seem like a radical departure for the White Punks on Dope, the band, in fact, cut a similar track on the "Remote Control" LP called "I Don't Understand."

TANYA TUCKER (MCA MCA-51131)
Should I Do It (3:00) (Unichappell Music, Inc./Watch Hill Music — BMI) (L. Martine, Jr.) (Producer: G. Klein)
 Take the girl group classic "Mr. Postman," add a honky tonk piano and a brief pop doo-wop bit and you've got the first single from Tucker's upcoming July LP release.

MEL CARTER (Cream CRE 8143)

DYNASTY (Solar S-47932)
Here I Am (4:35) (Spectrum VII/Silver Sounds Music — ASCAP) (W. Shelby, N. Beard, M. Gentry, B. Lipscomb) (Producer: L. Sylvers, III)
 The vibrant polyrhythms behind the Dynasty trio, combined with punchy horn blasts, makes this a stellar dancer that could well top "Your Piece Of The Rock." Expect heavy B/C activity.

EDDIE KENDRICKS (Atlantic 3796)
(Oh I) Need Your Lovin' (4:06) (Stone Diamond Music Corp./Forever Platinum Music, Inc. — BMI) (E. Holland, B. Holland) (Producers: R. Richards, J. Sandlin)
 Kendrick's distinctive tenor, well-known from his days in the Temps and '70s solo works, burns like smoldering coals on this sultry R&B outing from the "Love Keys" LP.

CARPENTERS (A&M 2344)
Touch Me When We're Dancing (3:19) (Hall-Clement Publications, c/o Welk Music Group — BMI) (T. Skinner, J.L. Wallace, K. Bell) (Producer: R. Carpenter)

COMMODORES (Motown M 1514F)

Co-ops Help Indie Retailers

advertising group composed of retailers who regularly buy from them, as in the case of Stratford Distributors and its Black Advertising Associated Dealers (BAAD Records) group of stores; or, in the case of Ted's One Stop, a subdistributor is actually setting up dealers in business, who then participate in co-op buying and advertising.

Philadelphia's IRPA was started two years ago, according to Bruce Webb, owner of Webb's Department Store, who set up the organization, for the purpose of lobbying in Washington and at music business conventions for the small black music retailer. "We wanted to know why some stores were able to sell records for less than we were buying them," Webb explained.

With 15 area retailers involved, IRPA began buying selected titles in quantity from an area one-stop about half a year ago, and by doing so, according to Webb, were able to trim 69 cents to 79 cents off the price of each LP purchased, and receive some advertising support and in-store materials. Recently, he said, the co-op had begun dealing directly with Capitol Records. At the recent BMA Convention, IRPA approached other labels about direct buying, but it has not gotten response from any of them as of yet, Webb said.

Webb feels that the inability of the small,

House Passes Bill To Regulate FCC Budget

LOS ANGELES — Legislation was passed by the House that would require the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to come before Congress once a year for reauthorization. The regulatory agency currently enjoys permanent authorization and is not subject to Congressional scrutiny of its budget.

The bill, which was passed by a vote of 360 to 21 and sets the FCC's operating budget for fiscal 1982 at $77.3 million, also authorizes the FCC to impose fees on broadcasters to help defray some of the agency's regulatory costs.

Another bill that would limit the FCC's open ended authorization was introduced in Congress by Sen. Robert Packwood, (R-Ore.) on March 30 (Cash Box, April 11). Packwood's bill (S. 821) differs from the House bill in that it calls for the FCC to come before Congress for reauthorization every three years and stipulates set fees for broadcasters to pay which could be adjusted by the FCC each year depending on its own costs.

independent retailer to compete in today's market makes cooperative ventures like IRPA a necessity, "if we are going to survive."

New York's BAAD Records co-op was initiated not by a group of retailers but by a local one-stop, Stratford Distributors, whose owner, Allen Silverman, conceived the idea and presented it to a number of stores he felt would be helped by a co-op. Starting in October 1980 and now boasting a 15 store membership, the co-op has worked out extremely well for all concerned, according to Bernie Oshin, marketing and advertising coordinator for Stratford. And, according to Ray Espinosa, general manager of the company, there is currently a waiting list of stores trying to get into the BAAD group.

Manufacturers Respond

To get BAAD off the ground, Stratford first contacted major manufacturers with its proposal and indicated that by offering a bulk price and advertising support for BAAD, everybody's volume stood to increase. The manufacturers responded with increased advertising support that helped generate excitement about the co-op. By pooling a small monthly advertising fee of about $25 from each store, BAAD members have been able to pay for cooperative ad buys with manufacturers on both local radio and print media.

According to Espinosa, the BAAD stores have thus far benefited from "better all around promo support in the form of increased in-store materials, in-store contests run in association with the manufacturers, for which the manufacturers supply all materials, and the fact that they can now offer the same price as a big chain while still providing more personal service." Espinosa estimates the savings for the store at approximately 50 cents per LP.

As for Stratford, Bernie Oshin says the one-stop acts as a link between the stores and the manufacturers and that its own business has increased as a result of the co-op. Stratford also offers the BAAD stores special services such as signs identifying the stores as members of the co-op, and a mention in at least one ad per week, either at the bottom of a print ad or on the radio.

A third type of "cooperative" is what Hudson, owner of Ted's One-Stop in St. Louis, who developed the concept, calls "owner-operator" stores. Hudson, who had been involved in a retailer's co-op of 10 to 12

EAST COASTINGS

THIS MUSIC OF BUSINESS — While any number of names have been tossed in the ring to succeed Bruce Lundvall as CBS Records Division president, the most prevalent talk at Black Rock has COO Dick Asher instead leaving the position vacant and assuming greater control of the label's affairs. Another possibility is that the senior VP post, last held by Jack Cralgo, will be reactivated. . . . A Daily News profile of PolyGram's CEO, David Braun, implies that the label's game plan will be to increase its market share. Braun said he would prioritize reversing a situation that sees "big name singers who write songs and get almost 50% of the wholesale price of an album." . . . Look for Morris Levy to reactivate Roulette Records. . . . Bob Reno has "phased out" Midsong, and has launched Quicksilver Records, an MOR-type midline, to go through indies. . . . CBS

LOOKING AMERICAN — Singer Pamela Moore (r) recently signed a recording agreement with First American Records and is preparing to release her debut LP for the label, "Take A Look," nationally. The LP, according to First American president Jerry Denon, is already selling well in the Northwest.

signed a combination production/promotion deal with Mike Klenfner. . . . Look for the WEA International label to go through the Atlantic system. . . . Atlantic will revive its commercial release of 12" singles. . . . HERE NOW THE SHMOOZ — The influence of the Talking Heads funk experiment appears to have been far-reaching; there are strong possibilities that black musicians will accompany both Blondie and the Rolling Stones on projected upcoming tours. Word from the Blondie camp has a possible early fall tour, with the group accompanied by Deborah Harry's producers, Bernard Edwards and Nile Rogers of Chic, while Mick Jagger has broached touring possibilities with the Heads' parastitist Busta Jones. The Stones' situation continues to be harrying. Keith Richards, who was supposed to join the group for mixing last Friday, reportedly didn't show 'til Sunday. By Monday, Bill Wyman had flown back to England. . . . Steely Dan's Donald Fagen will record a solo LP for Warner Bros. Fagen apparently was pleased enough with the results of a solo tune he did for the Heavy Metal soundtrack. According to a spokesperson for the band, the sound will not dramatically depart from that of Steely Dan. On hand for the LP will be producer Gary Katz and engineers Roger Nichols and Elliot Schelner, all long-time Dan cohorts. Meanwhile, the duo's other half, Walter Becker, has been writing songs with ex-Dan member and current Doobie Brother, Michael McDonald. Becker will also get involved with another as-yet-unnamed production project, after which the duo will do a bonafide Steely Dan record. . . . PolyGram will release a rap record by Rodney Dangerfield called "Rappin' Rodney." . . . Peter Tosh is set to embark on the longest U.S. tour ever undertaken by a reggae artist. The 32-city tour will start in Philly July 25 and end "some time in October" in Miami. It hits the Ritz here July 28-29. . . . By July, 611 Broadway will house the offices of Bob Slinger, Neil Cooper, Joe Gibbs Records, Hannibal and Rounder Records. Is this site becoming the Brill Building of the '80s? . . . THE REVOLVING DOOR — Dance music activity in this town continues its dizzying pace. The latest entry into the fray is Youthanasia, on 11th and 26th, initial ads for the club are done up in kidchic style, and musical emphasis, so far, is on the progressively rhythmic street-level acts indigenous to the 99 Records roster. But, what really matters is not so much opening a club, but keeping it profitable in the face of hot 'n' heavy competition. As such, "mobile," flexible policies seem to be on the upswing. The Peppermint Lounge, for example, now opens its doors at the unusually early hours of 8:00 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday, and extends free admission until 11:00 p.m. on those days. The club has also set aside the next few Wednesdays as women-only nights, and begins this week with Carol McDonald, formerly of the all-women group Isis. . . . New York New York, a disco-disco, has instituted a four-part Latin In Manhattan series on Fridays. The next three shows (June 10, 17 and 24) will feature Machito, Eddie Palmieri, and Tito Puente. This club has also started experimenting with rock. . . . Perhaps the two most striking contrasts in the new mobility are the production companies of Club 57 and Jim Fouratt. 57's Kathy Gallagher and Chris Gremski have announced an "open door" policy to outside promoters for their Irving Plaza venue on week day nights. Fouratt, conversely, is subordinating his latest venue, the Underground, to a free-floating "Modern Classix" format — based significantly on the London Blitz Kids movement — that will allow him to take his show, if need be, to other venues. But unlike the fashion show atmosphere that the media has portrayed the London experience to be, Fouratt is keeping good live music central to the experience. We were knocked out by his presentation of the obscure rocker Kevin Coyne, the British cross between Joe Cocker and Richard Harris. . . . Other club news sees the Leber-Krebs team landing on their soft cat's paws. A spokesperson says they may have a new venue ready "within a week" of the closing of Private's. Rumour has the duo looking at both the Anderson Theatre, and, yes, Studio 54. . . . One last development has a new downtown club, The Before Club, going one better than the Pep. It'll open at 6:00 pm and in an ingratiating move that sacrifices chic for originality, it'll close at 11:00.

THE LAST DANCE — Starting next issue, we're pleased to announce that this column will be the focus of a dance music 12" northeast music chart. The chart will feature a top ten, a top breakout and will include nine additional breakouts. What we hope will validate this chart's preminent credibility in the field will be its research based entirely on local sales.

HITS OUT OF THE BOX

HITS OUT OF THE BOX

SOME DAYS ARE DIAMONDS — John Denver — RCA AFL1-4055 — Producer: Larry Butler — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

His Rocky Mountain Highness is back and armed with one of his best albums in years. Produced by Larry Butler and recorded in Nashville, the album recalls the freshness and simplicity of "Country Road," while retaining the sophistication Denver has acquired over the years. The album, with its country/pop flavor, is as appealing as Denver's boy-next-door good looks. Choice cuts include "Till You Opened My Eyes," "Easy, On Easy Street" and Michael Murphy's classic, "Boy From The Country." This is a strong return to form for Denver, and country, A/C and pop programmers shouldn't hesitate to go on it.

BLACK & WHITE — Pointer Sisters — Planet P-18 — Producer: Richard Perry — List: 8.98

The Pointers have garnered hits from strong remakes recently, but this time around the classy trio should fare well with a new modern adult contemporary sound. Richard Perry's glossy, full production style is perfectly suited to the threesome's soulful but well contained style. "Slow Hand," an easy moving adult-themed ballad is a nice follow-up to last year's smash, "He's So Shy." The Pointers touch on '60s girl group, R&B, country crossover and straight ahead pop but manage to render them in a style that should appeal to the upper demographics. Best cuts on this high polished, adult appeal record are "Take My Heart, Take My Soul," "Sweet Lover Man" and "What A Surprise."

SEASON OF GLASS
YOKO ONO

SEASON OF GLASS — Yoko Ono — Geffen GHS 2004 — Producers: Phil Spector and Yoko Ono — List: 8.98

In many ways, "Season Of Glass" is Yoko Ono's healing album. It's a simple, personal record that has the weight of John Lennon's death hanging on every lyric and vocal intonation. Her fragile, dove-like voice is framed by the astute, almost mainstream, pop sound supplied by some of New York's finest studio musicians. Alternately sad and happy, but always melancholy, the album was a cathartic experience for Ono, and it translates to vinyl nicely. Top tracks on this saddening but always interesting LP are "Silver Horse," "Goodbye Sadness" and "Dogtown."

DANNY JOE BROWN

DANNY JOE BROWN AND THE DANNY JOE BROWN BAND — Epic ARE 37385 — Producer: Glyn Johns — List: None — Bar Coded

If this sounds like a Molly Hatchet album that's because it's the product of ex-Hatchet lead singer Danny Joe Brown and his contingent. Those who like their Southern rock 'n' roll deep fried, whiskey soaked and liberally spiced with hot slide and triple guitar boogie will revel in this collection of gator stompers. Brown's guttural wail has never been in finer form and the album as a whole embodies the loudest and proudest elements of Allman Brothers, Johnny Winter, Lynyrd Skynyrd and the Outlaws.

FEATURE PICKS

NEW AND DEVELOPING ARTISTS

BUSTIN' LOOSE — Roberta Flack — MCA MCA-5141 — Producer: Roberta Flack — List: 8.98

The soundtrack to Richard Pryor's latest laugh-fest about an ex-con accidentally turned analyst is a gem. Flack has come up with an album that is alternately funky and soothing. Both "Lovin' You (Is Such An Easy Thing To Do)" and "Love (Always Commands)" are spiritually moving ballads that stand among Flack's best work in the past five years. But she also gets up-tempo on the breezy "You Stopped Loving Me." A stone smash for B/C and pop.

ICE HOUSE — Chrysalis CHR 1350 — Producers: Cameron Allan and Iva Davies — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

This Australian quartet is perhaps the first notable art-rock band to emerge from the land Down Under since Split Enz kicked off that country's pop renaissance. The band had to change its name from Flowers to Ice House and pump up the production (thanks to Ed E. Thacker) a little before it could have this LP released in the states. Fans of Ultravox, Pink Floyd, and Bowie should enjoy this unique synth/guitar rock band's hybrid sound.

MADE IN AMERICA — Carpenters — A&M SP-3723 — Producer: Richard Carpenter — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

America's favorite brother and sister team of a few years back is in fine fettle after a long hiatus from the studio. Don't expect a massive directional change from the "Close To You" days, though. Richard Carpenter's production is clean and modern, but the duo's strength remains its sprite, floating harmonies and A/C pop stylings. Karen and Richard's material here should fare well with adult contemporary and pop programmers considering the current American fervor for middle of the road acts.

RESTLESS EYES — Janis Ian — Columbia FC 37360 — Producer: Gary Klein — List: None — Bar Coded

Ian returns to the mellow, folk-oriented sound of her "At Seventeen" era with "Restless Eyes." She has penned most of the material to be performed on a lone acoustic piano or guitar, but a passle of the finest studio men in pop enhance her ever so personal lyrics and whispering vocals. Ian has kept the musical framework on this album simple in order to weave her honest tone poems about love lost and gained. Top cuts on this return to form are "Under The Covers," "Restless Eyes" and "Bigger Than Real."

ROUND TWO — Johnny Van Zant Band — Polydor PD-1-6322 — Producer: Kevin Elson — List: 8.98

If the music on this album has a little of the flavor of Ronnie Van Zant's Lynyrd Skynyrd or Donnie Van Zant's .38 Special that's because it's in the blood. Younger brother Johnny and his band step up for their second time at bat and touch all the rock 'n' roll bases with "Round Two." The fivesome can play rowdy southern rock, but for the most part they marry clean Brit rock influences with good old Stateside mainstream and it comes off winningly.

SHADDUP YOU FACE — Joe Dolce — MCA MCA-5211 — Producers: Joe Dolce and Ian McKenzie — List: 8.98

This Italian by the way of Australia came up with one of the novelty hits of the year with the riotous and offensive "Shaddup You Face." And while most of the material on his LP has a certain whimsical quality, songs like the reflective ballad "Return" and the anthem-like "Boat People" are serious songs and should catch a lot of people off-guard. Dolce proves that he is more than just a funnyman on his debut for MCA. Mirth seekers will also enjoy "Ain't No UFO Gonna Catch My Diesel."

SAILS OF SILVER — Steeleye Span — Takoma TAK 7097 — Producer: Gus Dudgeon — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

You would think the English folk scene of yesteryear is still alive and well to hear this album. Yes, Steeleye Span has reunited for this new LP, and its mixture of traditional English folk and rock is reminiscent of the "All Around My Hat" era. Maddy Prior's pretty-as-an-English-garden vocals and Peter Knight's violin are more spirited than ever on this album. The sextet has held onto the feel of years gone by, while updating its sound for the '80s, and the combination is irresistible.

HOLDING OUT MY LOVE TO YOU — Max Romeo — Shanachie 43002 — Producers: Keith Richards, Geoffrey Chung and Earl Chin — List: 7.98

Both reggae and rock fans should enjoy the latest offering from this tiny New Jersey-based label, as it features Jamaican Max Romeo and the usual Kingston superstars — Robbie, Sly, Earl "Chinna," etc. — and an extra added bonus: Rolling Stones Keith Richards cuts loose with guitar throughout the album and helps with production as well. Romeo has a pop reggae style with elements of R&B and rock blended into his Jamaican rhythms.

HERE COMES THE NIGHT — David Johansen — Blue Sky FZ 36589 — Producer: Barry Mraz — List: None — Bar Coded

The pride of Staten Island returns with his third Epic LP and it's a honey. David Jo tried too many diverse styles last time out, and it simply spread his talent too thin. But now he's back and rocking with a vengeance. Much of the material harkens back to his gem of a debut album and even the wild and wooly New York Dolls days. The anthemic "Here Comes The Night," rabble rousing "She Love Strangers" and the heart wrenching ballad "Heart Of Gold" should reaffirm Johansen's status as one of rock's top front men.

RHYTHM AND SONG — Miriam Makeba — Peters International PLD 2073 — Producer: Not Listed — List: 7.98

Peters International has re-issued the much celebrated LP by Africa's queen of song because there has been a renewed interest in such Makeba classics as "The Click Song" and "Mbube." The 14-song collection features the internationally known songstress rendering the songs of the Xosa, Zulu and Swazi, and it is truly a package of the dark continent's most popular folk songs.

(1967), and through a mutual friend the sax man was introduced to Paul Butterfield just as brass was being introduced to The Butterfield Blues Band's sound. Four years of touring with the group followed.

When the Butterfield days ended, Sanborn settled in Woodstock, N.Y. And after a short stint on welfare he began to acquire session dates through the help of Butterfield manager Albert Grossman. Sanborn's sensual alto was recruited for studio dates with Stevie Wonder, Gil Evans, James Brown, Phoebe Snow and the Brecker Brothers.

Bowie Brings Fame

But Sanborn didn't achieve national acclaim until his hot and nasty sax lines (complete with Cooper time cube induced slap affect) were heard on David Bowie's "Young Americans" and "Diamond Dogs" albums and subsequent tours.

His notoriety peaked just as the fusion craze hit pop music, and by 1975 Sanborn found himself with an album released on Warner Bros. called "Taking Off." His R&B jazz inflected sound and emotional style were improved on two rhythmic follow-up releases, "Sanborn" and "Promise Me The Moon."

The year 1978 yielded one of Sanborn's finest musical achievements, "Heart To Heart." The album showed his maturation as a player and allowed him to play with the top flight session men — Mike Mainieri, Tony Levin, Don Grolnick, Steve Gadd and David Spinozza — he's always loved and respected.

Final Lineup Set For 3rd Playboy Jazz Festival

LOS ANGELES — The final lineup for the third annual Playboy Jazz Festival here at the Hollywood Bowl June 20-21 has been set. The festival will be held at the bowl from 2:30-11 p.m. on each day.

On Saturday, June 20, the lineup will consist of the Cal State University of Long Beach Jazz Band; Maiden Voyage; Richie Cole with Alto Madness; a jam session with Terry Gibbs, Buddy De Franco, Illinois Jacquet, and Ross Tompkins; the Don Pullen/George Adams Quartet; Woody Herman and the Young Thundering Herd; Stan Getz Quartet; Herbie Hancock quartet; Count Basie and his Orchestra; Joe Williams accompanied by the Count Basie Orchestra and special guests, The Crusaders.

The Mesa Community College Jazz Band, Ensemble I opens up the festivities during the Sunday, June 21 sessions. Rounding out the day's lineup are Vi Redd and Friends; Earl Klugh; Art Blakey and the Jazz Messengers; special guests Weather Report; the Playboy Jazz Festival All-Stars featuring Dizzy Gillespie, Willie Bobo, Ray Brown, James Moody, Bernard Purdie and Lalo Schifrin; the George Shearing Duo; Mel Torme; and a finale performance by Count Basie and his Orchestra.

Comedian Flip Wilson will serve as master of ceremonies during each day of the event.

During the week preceding the two-day festival, several community programs will be held. A mini-festival will be held at Rancho Cienega Park, co-sponsored by Los Angeles City, and Senior Citizens Concert in Watts will be co-sponsored with the Watts Labor Action Council. During the month preceding the festival, the Playboy Jazz Festival Collegiate Contest was held, which resulted in the Cal State University Long Beach Jazz Band and the Mesa Community College Jazz Band, Ensemble I being added to the regular festival lineup.

"When you see those guys' faces as you walk into the studio you can't help but smile," beamed Sanborn, "because you know that the musicianship will never go below a certain level. You gain a collective musical strength from people like that and they made 'Heart To Heart' a real treat."

Sanborn returned in 1980 with his breakthrough "Hideaway" album, which not only signaled his coming of age as a composer, but with sales figures close to 300,000 units became a commercial success as well.

"I didn't purposely shoot for a commercial album on 'Hideaway,'" insisted Sanborn. "I've just always been song-oriented and have a pretty accessible style. Whatever commerciality there is on the LP is simply in me. It's a very natural sound on 'Hideaway.'"

Sanborn enlisted such noteworthy studio folk as Tom Scott, Buzzy Feiten and Patti Austin for his most successful album to date, "Voyeur." Produced by "Hideaway" producer Michael Colina, the album has more in an R&B/funk fusion style because of Sanborn's collaboration with drummer-composer Marcus Miller.

The idea for the album's title came to Sanborn while he was readying material for the album's recording sessions at his Manhattan apartment. "I used to go to the roof of the building and play because the view inspired me," explained Sanborn. "I had a view of the Hudson, the Statue of Liberty, the tip of Manhattan, the East River, the Brooklyn Bridge and all the way up to the Empire State Building. The word 'Voyeur' came in to my head when I realized I was absentmindedly looking into the windows of apartment buildings nearby."

The idea of the "Voyeur" promoted the pop saxophonist, who is currently on tour with Al Jarreau, to give his final thoughts on the role of the artist.

"The musician is a passionate observer," mused Sanborn. "He's not an active participant, but he observes life's experiences, interprets them and then sends them out through his instruments. At least that's what I try to do and it's worked for me so far."

RCA Red Seal Sets Broadway LP Series

NEW YORK — RCA Red Seal will launch a series of albums devoted to greatest hits from original Broadway cast albums with the June release of two "Opening Nights" anthologies, covering the label's involvement with Broadway in the 1960s and 1970s. The albums will include selections from such shows as Carousel, Fiddler On The Roof, Kismet, Oklahoma, Sweeney Todd and The King And I, performed by such artists as Liza Minelli, Zero Mostel, Ethel Merman, Angela Lansbury, John Raitt and Yul Brenner. The albums will be backed by an advertising and merchandising campaign including ads in selected media and special mailings to drama critics.

The series, produced by Didier Deutsch, will also include other volumes dealing with the 1940s and 1950s and screen adaptations of well-known Broadway shows.

ICM Consolidates, Shuts Miami Office

NEW YORK — International Creative Management (ICM) will close its Miami office and integrate its coverage into ICM's New York office in a new consolidation of its personal appearance operation.

Bill Beutel, who headed ICM's Miami office, is retiring because of illness. That decision, coupled with the recent death of Buddy Howe, who operated out of the office during the winter months, led to ICM's decision to close the office.

WESTWORDS — Geffen Records has signed a 14 year-old R&B/reggae whiz kid from Jamaica called Junior Tucker. He's recorded many tracks at Bob Marley's famous Tuff Gong Studios, but Geffen will be flying him out here within the next few weeks to work on a fresh LP with Ray Parker Jr. producing. We heard two of the album's possible tracks and they were stunners, with Tucker sounding akin to a Caribbean Michael Jackson. Who says Geffen only signs superstars? . . . The soundtrack to the sci-fi/fantasy film Heavy Metal is shaping up as quite a double LP. Not only does the album contain fresh material from the world's top hard rockers, but a reunion song by Grand Funk and Devo's mutated version of "Working In A Coal Mine" are also on tap. Solo tracks by Donald Fagen ("True Companion") and Eagle Don Felder ("All Of You") and "Taking A Ride (On Heavy Metal)" are other points of interest on this late summer release. . . . The soundtrack to Francis Ford Coppola's long awaited One From The Heart film is in the finishing phase. Beat poet/derelect Tom Waits has written eight new songs, plus incidental music for the film. And surprise of surprises, two of the songs, "Old Boyfriends" and "Empty Pockets," are duets with Crystal Gayle.

MISSING THE POINT — The 5th Annual Songwriter Expo June 6 & 7 at Beverly Hills High School was, once again, a well-presented affair that allowed the amateur songwriters of Southern California to rub elbows with successful industry veterans as well as become acquainted with the services that are open to future hit song writers. Attendance was down from last year, but the students seemed to be more concerned with getting right down to the mechanics of the hit than in 1980, and that's why Jack Segal's "The Song Form — The Whole And Its Parts" and "The Hit Lyricist Panel," featuring Allee Willis, Dino Fekaris and Cynthia Well were so apt and informative. But all was not well with this year's two-day seminar. Some of the classes that we attended were well intentioned, but misguided. A lecture on use of recording equipment never got off the ground because the instructor never got beyond talking about his background. An A&R panel that had the potential to be most informative, also refused to get to the heart of the matter by failing to address the non-pro artist. And while Geffen A&R vice president Carol Childs and Boardwalk A&R vice president Gary La Mel did play musical samples of recently signed acts, the panel was poorly chaired and ended up a rambling shambles of an A&R discussion. As predicted, the "Continuous Song Evaluation By Publishers" seminar feature was the hot ticket. Fledgling songwriters crowded the rooms to have their songs critiqued and to find out what publishers were looking for. But at least one of the evaluators seemed overly harsh in his criticisms, and didn't seem to realize that he was discouraging people from the record business with his crude and offensive manner. All in all, however, the weekend event was well-paced, informative and intelligently formatted. Congratulations are in order for Expo organizers John Braheny, Len Chandler and the staff of The Los Angeles Songwriters Showcase for presenting this much-needed service for the people of L.A.

GERMICIDE — Darby Crash, the late, great father of L.A.'s much publicized no wave scene, belongs to that group of "live fast, die young" hellions who has become more famous after his death than before. Darby (using yet another pseudonym) as Bobby Pin was the premier punk prince of L.A.'s slam dance/destruction crowd as leader of the Germs. And now he's the subject of a legal hassle. Bomp Records has decided that it will distribute Mowhawk Records' "Germicide" album, a live chronicling of the Germs' very first performance at the Whisky in 1977. The set was recorded by Kim Fowley, and it's a must for those who helped assemble The Decline Of Western Civilization. Bomp's announcement has caused quite a legal brouhaha with Slash Records, which was readying an album, featuring the final performance of the Germs at The Starwood late last year. Court battle or not, the first 3,000 pressings of "Germicide" will be numbered for collectors and sold in blank covers.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK — This week's quote comes from Ian Copeland, president of booking agency F.B.I., who recently booked British acts XTC and Jools Holland into a two-night stand at venues in the unique location of Carracas, Venezuela. When asked why overflowing crowds of 3,000 and 5,000 showed up to see such relatively new bands in such an isolated spot, Copeland replied, "The Venezuelans are hipper than you think. Two of their exports put them in touch with modern society . . . oil and drugs."

FOR BEATLEMANIACS — We thoroughly enjoyed the multi-media experience that was Beatlemania when the troupe came to Los Angeles five years back. And now we hope that the American Cinema film, due for nationwide release Aug. 7, can live up to its predecessor. The Landau/Leber-Krebs produced, Joseph Manduke directed movie attempts to integrate 30 classic Lennon-McCartney songs, performed live on film by four actor-musicians, with several thousand multi-visual images to form a multi-media collage of the '60s. Historical footage, pop art, slides and other graphic images are used as a backdrop for the songs performed by Beatles stand-ins Mitch Weissman, Ralph Castell, David Leon and Tom Teeley. Principal photography for this stage property translated to film was accomplished in four days. The bulk of the work was relegated to post-production and specifically in editing the thousands of 1960s images together with concert footage. Synching the visuals to the Lennon-McCartney-written soundtrack helped to complicate the process even more because of the crucial importance of timing. Let's hope that, like the play, the movie takes the Beatles (their music and personal evolution) and a decade overloaded with revolutionary political, social and cultural upheaval, gives it form and turns it into an everlasting evening.

THE CALL TO ORDER — The California Copyright Conference will hold its next meeting at The Sportsman's Lodge in North Hollywood on June 23. The theme of the evening will be "The Producer's View of Today's Recording Industry." A guest panel featuring Chris Bond, Michael Lloyd and Michael Omartian will discuss this interesting outlook.

PETTY PANIC — When Tom Petty aggravated his tendonitis-riddled knee while frolicking on a trampoline a few weeks back, promoters around the country were worried that the whole "Hard Promises" tour might be scrapped. Such is not the case. The tour was postponed only two weeks, and he'll be able to make up all the dates except three, Athens and Cincinnati, Ohio, and Rockford, Ill.

Strong Opposition To Performance Rights Proposal Surfaces At Hearing

"benefit handsomely from the constant, continuous and extensive exposure of their recordings on radio." This, he observed, "creates a balance of benefits."

Popham also took aim at the bill's provision that provides that performance royalty payments be divided half to record companies and half to performers. H.R. 1805, he said, would cost broadcasters $26.5 million yearly, with $13.25 million going to record companies and the other $13.25 million having to be divided among an estimated 44,000 musicians (as of 1979), giving them only a few hundred dollars each.

Mutual Benefits

Robert A. Herbe, licensee of radio stations in New Haven, Conn., and Orlando, Fla., speaking for the National Radio Broadcasters Assn. (NRBA), also emphasized what he termed the mutuality of benefits between record companies and broadcasters. "Record companies live and die based upon the sale of their product," he said, "and those sales are directly proportional to the amount of air time accorded that product by local radio stations." And, he added, radio broadcasters do pay for use of the records by providing airtime for which other advertisers pay time charges.

Wayne E. Hesch, representing the Amusement and Music Operators Assn. (AMOA), emphasized that jukebox operators purchase the records they use (an estimated three records each week), so they are paying a fair fee to record companies and performers. He also noted that the jukebox industry was in a distressed economic situation today, pointing to the fall in the manufacture of jukeboxes from a high of 75,000 a few years ago to about 40,000 yearly at present. He also commented that previously jukeboxes used to be able to play 20 songs an hour, but now, because songs are longer, that figure is only 15; thus income is reduced.

At one point during the questioning of the broadcast witnesses, Danielson asked why radio broadcasters don't charge record companies for playing records. Rep. Tom Railsback (R-Ill.) noted that 62 other countries now have performance rights copyright protection.

The subcommittee expects to hear additional views on the subject later this month.

First Cotati Jazz Festival Slated For June 27-28

LOS ANGELES — The first ever Cotati Jazz Festival will be held June 27-28 in the Northern California city's various clubs and restaurants. Jointly sponsored by the City of Cotati and the Sonoma County Jazz Society, the festival will feature such top flight jazz talent as The Bobby Hutcherson Quartet, The Eddie Duran Sextet, The Larry Vuckovich Quintet, Quintessence and The Gary Digman Quartet.

Proceeds from the "chamber jazz" event will go to construction of a wheel chair access to City Hall and other aids to the handicapped of Cotati.

"Small cities are in a financial bind these days," said festival coordinator and Cotati Mayor Tamara Davis. "Special concerts like the one we've planned can aid municipal treasuries."

The two-day fest's basic format is the placement of jazz talents — solo performers, quartets and quintets — in downtown Cotati clubs such as Inn of the Beginning, Cotati Saloon and Suzie's of Cotati. For more information call (707) 795-5451.

TALENT

Garland Jeffreys

THE ROXY, L.A. — As a veteran rock artist who has received much critical praise but only a smattering of public attention throughout his career, Garland Jeffreys the performer is not about to let a good opportunity slip through his fingers at this point.

Knowing full well that the opening show of his two-night engagement here was going out live on the radio to more than 55 stations around the country, Jeffreys seized the moment with a bold display of sheer rock energy and drama. It didn't hurt that the dreadlock-tressed Jeffreys had one of the finest backing bands extant behind him, England's Rumour.

With Martin Belmont and Brinsley Schwarz cutting some fine leads, as well as choppy, reggae-inspired chords, Jeffreys opened with a torrid version of "Rough and Ready." One of many cuts showcased during the evening from his current "Escape Artist" LP, the tune, like many others from the same waxing, was injected with a spirit and life somewhat missing from the album version.

One cut, however, that was a standout on the record's four-song bonus EP, the reggae anthem "We The People," became even more poignant in concert, when Garland stretched his arms out to the audience during the chorus and sang with a sincerity and conviction that could not help but be affecting. Jeffreys rolled out his share of rock anthems as well, with blistering versions of the classic "Wild In The Streets" and "R.O.C.K." that found Belmont and Schwarz putting their guitars into fifth gear and burning rubber.

Jeffreys' frequent leaps into the audience and an inspired sing-a-long that, for a pleasant change, found most of the crowd in key during the chorus, underscored how badly the singer/songwriter wanted to make the evening into a real event. Because of this, there were a few forced moments, such as a longer winded version of "Mystery Kids" and melodramatically drawn out rap about his stepfather's beatings during "Cool Down, Boy" that would have been more effective had it been shortened, but these were few and far between. In comparison, such tunes as "35 Millimeter Dream" sparkled and Jeffreys was called back for a number of well-deserved encores.

The Rumour opened the show with a brief but unbalanced set of tepid originals from its two Passport LPs and some surprisingly invlting covers. ABBA's "S.O.S." was hardly recognizable in new pop/rock clothes and a winning version of the Spliners' "Rubber Band Man" couldn't help but get the feet tapping in time. Michael Glynn

Willie Nelson

GREEK THEATRE, L.A. — One of the most prominent beneficiaries of today's country boom, Columbia recording artist Willie Nelson came through beautifully on his opening night show here at the Greek. One of L.A.'s top outdoor venues, the Greek Theatre on a Tuesday evening was the perfect place for Nelson to bring his Texas-soaked music to town.

From the beginning, Nelson had the crowd in the palm of his hand. The entire audience, from suburban polyester cowboys to the curious press, embraced Nelson from the first strains of the set, eager to catch every note by one of the hottest singers in the country today.

The entertaining set was powered along by a tasteful mixture of smooth ballads and rockin' country outbursts, highlighting the tightness and unity of the singer with his band. The two-hour set showcased Nelson and his band's ability to put on a good show in spite of the absence of two members.

A number of Nelson favorites — "Blue Eyes Crying In The Rain," "Luckenbach, Texas," "Angel Flying Too Close To The Ground," "Night Life," "Stardust" and "Whiskey River" to name a few — at times made the set seem like a "greatest hits" compilation, but overall, the familiar tunes served to perk up the audience and spur the show to greater heights.

The best-received tune of the evening was, of course, the universal favorite, "On The Road Again" — a song that, more than any other, has formed the basis of Nelson's pop identity.

By the time the final encore was finished, Nelson's popularity in Los Angeles was obvious. One of the top country stars today, Nelson surely lived up to his reputation with his opening show at the Greek.

Edgar Winter

THE RITZ, NYC — Edgar Winter is best remembered for his impact on the rock scene some years back with such hits as "Free Ride" and "Frankenstein," although he has continued to sporadically perform and record since then. Winter's recent Ritz appearance showed him leaning heavily on his older, more familiar material almost to the exclusion of songs from his most recent Blue Sky LP, "Standing On Rock."

Winter started his show with a solo piano and vocal rendition of one of his best known early numbers, "Dying To Live," before bringing on his band — Al Ferrante (guitar), Ron Lawson (keyboards), Scott Spray (bass) and Greg Carter (drums). While Winter's earlier groups, the big multi-horned White Trash band and the Edgar Winter Group, which included Dan Hartman and Ron Montrose, often shared or seized the spotlight from the leader, the present lineup directed all the emphasis to Winter himself, as he sang and pranced across the stage, switching from his shoulder strapped synthesizer to saxophone. A couple of songs from the new album were sandwiched into the middle of the set, but the focus was on his tried and tested repertoire — "Frankenstein," "Free Ride," "Turn On Your Lovelight" and a very long version of "Tobacco Road" loaded with Winter's patented scat vocal riffs and extended soloing by the band. dan nooger piracy unit will continue to work in concert with the Motion Picture Assn. of America (MPAA) and its Film Security Office in coordinating video anti-piracy efforts. The MPAA's Film Security Office, under the direction of Dick Bloeser, will handle all video piracy matters pertaining to product originally intended for theatrical release or television broadcast. Problems involving product originally intended for video cassette or disc should be reported directly to the RIAA.

'Full Support'

"We're working out an arrangement where we won't trip over the efforts of the MPAA's Film Security Office and vice versa," Yarnell indicated. "We have the full support of the approximately 30 RIAA/VIDEO member companies in this effort and while we haven't yet worked out plans to involve NARM (National Assn. of Recording Merchandisers) at this point, I'm quite certain that we'll be soliciting their help in this as we have in LP and tape anti-piracy efforts."

Yarnell added that formal investigations into video piracy by the RIAA and RIAA/VIDEO have been minimal up to this point because "we only got rolling with a full budget as of April 1." However, he did say that he expected "some interesting developments" to be announced on various nationwide investigations into video piracy-related matters shortly.

"The RIAA Anti-Piracy Unit has been engaged in audio recording anti-piracy for five to six years, so with our combined knowledge, we're hopeful that we're as successful in the video field as we have been in audio," summarized Yarnell.

The MPAA's Bloeser stressed that although the RIAA and the MPAA's Film Security Office would remain working in conjunction on video anti-piracy, the relationship is an informal one.

"We've worked closely with RIAA for the past five or six years, but we're only interested in video piracy involving any motion picture or television program," said Bloeser. "If we receive any complaints or allegations of piracy which would specifically apply to RIAA, we would let them handle it. That way, our individual efforts will be more concentrated and therefore more efficient."

NARM Agenda Set

main purpose of having the conference rooms. We want to be able to get an idea of what the direction of this industry is going to be and what are the goals of manufacturers. What do the manufacturers see in their future, in terms of videodisc and VCR formats? These are the types of questions which will be raised.

"During the presidents' panel, we're going to put these people on the spot to find out what is working and what isn't in terms of rental programs and the like. Our hope is that through these planned workshops, panels and conference sessions, the astute merchandiser will go away from the convention with a broader insight into how the industry is developing... as well as what course of action he might best follow."

Gimbel added that although the list of guest speakers is still incomplete at this point, NARM hopes to offer a well-rounded and diverse selection of representatives from all sectors of the video industry, including those involved in rental operations.

"We want the best possible spread of industry experts available," concluded Gimbel, who is also a member of the NARM board of directors. "We'll be asking such people as George Atkinson of the Video Station rental operation and Steve Wilson of Fotomat to speak, as well as the top video software manufacturers."

Convention keynoter Arthur Morowitz lauded the efforts of NARM in organizing the video retailing convention but declined to discuss exactly what issues he would be addressing in his opening speech.

"First of all, the business is changing so quickly that I wouldn't want to write my speech right now," he said. "As for NARM's involvement on behalf of video retailers, I think it is much needed. The video retailer today has no official voice. While we don't necessarily need a record industry person to represent or speak for us, as a retail trade organization, NARM is well-qualified to stage such a gathering and offer support on behalf of our community."

RCA TO ADOPT CX NOISE REDUCTION SYSTEM? — While there was no official announcement at presstime, it was expected that RCA Records would be the next label to follow Warner Bros., E/A, Atlantic and associated WCI record companies in the adoption of the CBS-developed CX noise reduction system (Cash Box, June 13). "We're talking to RCA right now, among many other record companies," said Al Teller, vice president, operations, staff of the deputy president, CBS Records Group. As for initial WEA label releases, Warner Bros. chief engineer and technology director Al McPherson could not be reached for comment and E/A senior vice president of production Keith Holzman said that, at this point, "it will be employed on an optional basis, and the decision to utilize (the CX expansion/compression system) will be left up to the individual act and management." CBS's Teller added, "I think (the WEA labels) are going to have to go through a planning process. They need a certain amount of time to schedule releases before there will be any announcements." At present, five audio hardware manufacturers are set to market outboard decoders for the system, including Sound Concepts, Audio International, Audionics, Phase Linear and MXR, and Teller indicated that following CES, "The licensees we already have seem to be enthusiastic." In addition, Teller expected the single chip decoding circuitry for the system to become available to hardware manufacturers "within six months or perhaps a little longer," while amplifiers and/or receivers with integrated CX "compansion" microprocessor chips would reach the marketplace "within a year, at the outside." UREI has already been licensed by CBS to build the CX circuitry itself, with full, on-line production expected by September. In addition to New Musik's "Sanctuary" LP, CBS has quietly released its first CX-encoded classical album as well, of Korngold's opera "Violanta."

PRIME CUTS — Veteran recording engineer and master disc cutting specialist John Stachowiak sits at the Neumann Transfer Console of his newly opened, state-of-the-art Disk Master Studio facility. The studio is located at 6363 Sunset Blvd., Suite 720, Hollywood, Calif.

TV, VCR SALES CONTINUE TO CLIMB IN MAY — According to stats compiled by the marketing services dept. of the Electronic Industries Assn.'s Consumer Electronics Group, sales of TV receivers and videocassette recorders (VCRs) continued to roll up at the rapid pace established during the first four months of the year. Sales of color TV sets during the last month reached 747,609 units, as compared to the 538,969 units sold during the same period last year, a 38.7% increase. For the first 21 weeks of 1981, total color TV sales were up some 23.5% over the same period last year, reaching a 1,136,031 units, compared to 3,350,276 sets in 1980. Sales of monochrome (B&W) TV receivers in May were up 37.4% over the same period during the previous year, reaching a total of 434,709 compared with May 1980's 316,372 sets. For the first 21 weeks of the year, B&W TV unit sales hit 2,250,188, compared with the 1,910,105 units sold over the same period in 1980, a 17.8% gain. But the real news is the enormous sales jumps VCRs continue to make. Unit sales increased a whopping 93.5% last month over the same period in 1980, reaching 87,013 units compared to 44,975 units last year. For the first 21 weeks of the year, sales of VCRs were up 85.1% over the 234,525 units sold during the same period in 1980, hitting the 434,098 mark.

MARLEY DOCUMENTARY ON TAP FOR ISLAND VISUAL? — Expect Island Records to formally announce its new Visual Arts film and video division shortly. Could the first project for the new division be a documentary on the late reggae superstar Bob Marley, produced by Island chairman Chris Blackwell? With Chrysalis and Island both forming visual programming divisions, can other label announcements of similar moves be far behind?

CABLE BABBLE — RCA Corp. has joined Rockefeller Center, Inc. in a joint venture for the development and operation of the RCTV pay television program service. Formed in December 1980 by Rockefeller Center, Inc., RCTV is slated to offer "The Entertainment Channel," featuring a broad range of popular entertainment, to cable systems operators beginning in 1982. The Entertainment Channel is also set to include programs from the British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) via an exclusive cable agreement... MCA Videocassette, MCA Videodisc and Universal Pay Television have signed an exclusive agreement with the Children's Television Theatre Co. for pay-cable, videocassette and disc rights to the Children's Theatre Co. and School of Minneapolis' production of The Marvelous Land of Oz... Comedian and Liberty recording artist Gallagher will be taped live and in concert during his two-night Southern California stand at the Variety Arts Theatre June 26-27 for both a Showtime pay-TV special and Liberty album. Both the show and LP will be titled Gallagher: Mad As Hell... Michael Nesmith in Elephant Parts, which will be released as the first Dolby stereo videocassette, has been licensed to a new pay-TV tier of Times Mirror Satellite Programming called Spotlight.

COLOR MAY 'BLUE' FOR VIDEO SHACK — During the month of May, sales were in the pink, so to speak, at New York's five-store Video Shack chain, as the adult film, Inside Seka, led all titles in sales. Edging out the leading feature films, Cabaret (a new entry) and Airplane!, Inside Seka also took the honors as top selling "blue" videocassette for the sixth straight month at the Shack. A strange turn of events, indeed, considering the majors predicted that porno video sales, which comprised the largest share of the home video market during its infancy, would continue to dwindle as the spread of legit film titles and other programs increased. The example of Inside Seka's success, however, points to the ongoing popularity of the X-rated video. And while the soft-porn staple Emmanuelle has been certified gold, don't expect to see sales of, say, Deep Throat or The Devil In Miss Jones recognized by the ITA or the RIAA... although we bet those X titles, among others, have surely topped the million dollar mark... Speaking of Video Shack, president Art Morowitz air-expressed a couple of videocassettes to Prince Charles and bride-to-be, Lady Diana, as a gift for their July 29 wedding after reading that His Royal Highness was a budding videophile. And what were the titles? Well, you can be sure one of them wasn't Inside Seka. More appropriately, he sent along The Man Who Would Be King and The King and I.

MERCURY SIGNS — Singer/songwriter Eric Mercury recently signed an exclusive long-term recording agreement with Capitol Records and will release his debut LP, "Gimme A Call Sometime," July 13. Pictured standing during the signing at Capitol's New York offices are (l-r): Robert Urband, Mercury's attorney; Mercury; Varnell Johnson, vice president, black music A&R, Capitol; Rupert Perry, vice president, A&R, Capitol; Jerry Delet, Mercury's business manager; and Rick Smith, Mercury's attorney. THE RHYTHM SECTION

BOPPING — The L.A. Boppers have left Mercury Records and signed with MCA Records, according to Boppers' producer Augie Johnson, who is also leader/writer/producer for Elektra/Asylum group Side Effect. During a recent conversation, Johnson also said that he will continue to produce the Boppers' vinyl offerings and explained that the group, which has backed Side Effect in the studio and on tour, is free to expand on its own... MCA, meanwhile, has developed a sales/marketing campaign for Black Music Month, titled, "Black Music: The Sound To Count On." In addition to a five percent discount offered through one-stops and branches on the nine albums featured during the campaign, MCA Records and MCA Distributing Corp. have developed a merchandising plan that includes 3 x 4 color posters featuring all the albums in the campaign, banners and other point-of-purchase aids. Product featured in the campaign includes: "Party 'Til You're Broke" by Rufus; B.B. King's "There Must Be A Better World Somewhere"; "One Way's" "Love Is... One Way"; "Voices In The Rain" by the Crusaders' Joe Sample; "Call It What You Want" by Bill Summers; Allcia Myers' self-titled LP; Round Trip's self-titled album; "It's Winning Time" by Kilque; and the soundtrack from the film Bustin' Loose by Roberta Flack. During the current tours of acts such as Summers and One Way, concentrated radio campaigns as well as frontboard and mini merch aids are being employed to highlight the artists.

HERE'S HOPING — Columbia recording artist Johnny Mathis will be honored by the Music Industry chapter of the City of Hope Medical Center with the "Spirit Of Life" award during a banquet dinner, July 9, at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles. As a result of the tribute, the Johnny Mathis Research Fellowship will also be established. Proceeds from the benefit dinner banquet go toward research at the City of Hope into treatment of Huntington's Chorea, cancer, diabetes, leukemia, lupus and other devastating malaise... In an equally philanthropic event, MVP/Polydor duo Peaches & Herb are scheduled to appear during the third annual St. Jude Children's Research Hospital fundraiser July 11 to honor veteran entertainer Cab Calloway. Slated to join Peaches & Herb at the Century Plaza Hotel are Lola Falana, Ben Vereen, Slappy White, Ray Charles, Billy Daniels, the Nicholas Brothers and the Ink Spots. The hospital was founded 20 years ago by entertainer Danny Thomas and has been involved in research and treatment of leukemia-related diseases, which has led to the development of several new treatment techniques.

IN QWEST OF — Not one to presume on friendship, producer/composer/arranger Quincy Jones waited until it was obvious Lena Horne wanted him to produce the soundtrack to her Broadway smash Lena Horne: The Lady and Her Music. The soundtrack will be released on Qwest Records. The show, which recently received a special Tony Award, will be recorded by Jones during three days in New York this week, then mixed for a probable September release. Commenting on the signing, Jones said, "To have it (the soundtrack) on Qwest is a dream come true."

ON THE ROAD AGAIN — Honey/Fantasy recording duo Two Tons reportedly made a heavy impression (another godawful pun) on the audience at the Coliseum Theatre in Johannesburg, South Africa, drawing capacity crowds each night of the engagement. The pair are to continue their tour of South Africa during engagements in Durban, Port Elizabeth and Capetown. During the Johannesburg gig, Martha Wash and Izora Armstead (Two Tons) received a gold album award for their LP, "Two Tons o' Fun" released last year... Arista artist Robert Winters with his group Fall were recently on the East Coast for a series of performances to support their LP, "Magic Man." Winters and Fall performed at Bowling Air Force Base in Washington, D.C., Paradiso Club in Newark, N.J. and The Savoy in New York with labelmate Tom Browne.

MULTI-TRACKING — George Benson recently finished overdubbing and mixing chores at Westlake Audio on his next Warner Bros. album with Wayne Henderson producing and Alan Sides and Brian Reeves engineering... Island head Chris Blackwell recently announced that there is enough material by the late reggaeist Bob Marley in the can for another LP. Also, one of the first labels Marley recorded for, Trojan Records, plans to release a single of two Marley songs recorded more than 10 years ago, titled "Wisdom" and "Thank You Lord."

HOT CROSSOVER VINYL — "Lady (You Bring Me Up)" by Motown group the Commodores (#78 bullet); "You Are Forever" by Tamala/Motown's Smokey Robinson (#83 bullet); "Love On A Two Way Street" by Cotillion/Atlantic's Stacey Lattisaw (#84 bullet); "The Real Thing" by A&M's Brothers Johnson (#86 bullet); and Dionne Warwick's Arista single "Some Changes Are For Good" (#88 bullet) are the top B/C crossovers to the Cash Box Top 100 Singles chart.

SHORT CUTS — Pauline Black, the striking, galvanizing lead vocalist with Chrysalis Records' British rock/reggae outfit The Selecter, recently left the band to pursue a solo career with the label... Leon Sylvers III of the famed Sylvers Family and Nidra Beard of Dynasty were recently married during ceremonies in Van Nuys, Ca. and are honeymooning in Las Vegas. Cash Box Congrats... Cash Box would also like to congratulate Jerry Jarvis and his Florida Black Record Pool on their first year anniversary.

JAZZ

ON JAZZ

ORNETTE 'N OTHER WORLD TRAVELERS — Nancy Weiss, director of the New York Shakespeare Theater's "New Jazz at the Public" series, reached a rare peak of excitement when she recently told us that the Public Theater will be the site of Ornette Coleman's first New York performance in three years. Backed by his electric Prime Time Band, Coleman makes his return to the New York stage a scant four hours after the start of this summer's Kool Jazz Festival in New York. What this means is that New York listeners will have to choose between the June 26 and 27 Coleman shows, and Festival productions that include a salute to Art Blakey; a collaboration between M'Boom and The World Saxophone Quartet; an "Art of Jazz Singing" program featuring Joe Williams, Carmen McRae, Helen Humes and Johnny Hartman; a "Goin' To Chicago" show with Roscoe Mitchell, Art Hodes, Von Freeman, Ira Sullivan and others; and a "Women's Blues" concert featuring Linda Hopkins, Sippie Wallace, and Nell Carter. In the face of all this competition, it seems relatively certain that the four Coleman shows will still be sell-outs. Though Coleman is best known for his work as a performing musician, he has always had an intense interest in education, both as a student and as a teacher. His interest in universal music has prompted him to travel and record with groups like the Master Musicians of Joujouka in Morocco, and to help found The Creative Music Studio in Woodstock, N.Y., an institution dedicated in large measure to the promulgation of a world music. The school's Annual World Music Seminar will begin July 1, and once again draw on musicians from many different traditions as participants. Among the panelists and performers will be South Africa's Abdullah Ibrahim Dollar Brand; India's Trilok Gurta; Sierra Leone's Ahnadu Jarr; Brazil's Paolo Muro, and Americans Steve Corn and Collin Wolcott. Many of the seminar's participants will be remaining in upstate New York to teach at the school, and will also be performing the weekend of July 31-Aug. 2 at the Bear Mountain Festival of World Music and Dance, an event shaping-up as one of the premier showcases of international ethnic music. Also representing the jazz tradition at the Festival will be Sun Ra and Herbie Mann, with non-jazz artists like Tony Trishka and Andy Statman representing other American folk music. An outgrowth of what was originally the Great Hudson River Revival, the festival seeks to embrace the traditions of many of the area's 90-some-odd ethnic groups. The resulting program will feature a Scottish Battlefield Band as well as a Mandingo Griot Society, and music from such diverse places as Puerto Rico, Senegal and Peru. The festival is headquartered at One Duncan Road, LaGrangeville, N.Y., 12540. The telephone number is (914) 724-3414. Incidentally, the Creative Music Studio frequently opens its doors to the public for concert performances by its instructors. If you're in the New York/Connecticut/New Jersey region, it's a nice way to get away from it all for a few hours while hearing musicians like Oliver Lake, Ed Blackwell, Anthony Braxton, Cecil Taylor, and Kari Berger. The studio is located in Woodstock, N.Y., and the telephone number is (914) 338-7640.

RECORDS RECORDS RECORDS — "Requiem," a double-pocket reissue of music by pianist Lennie Tristano on Atlantic has been awarded the "Grand Prix du Disque" as the best jazz reissue in Montreux, Switzerland. . . Saxophonist Byard Lancaster has released a solo LP entitled "Personal Testimony" on his own NYC Concert Artists label. . . Fantasy Records is kicking off a "June is TwoFer Month" promotion to support eight new Prestige and Milestone reissues. Discounts on the entire twofers catalog will be offered to distributors, and 20x30 posters will be made available to retailers. The albums on Milestone are: "Alabama/Africa" by Cannonball Adderley, featuring some of the saxophonist's Riverside dates; "April In Paris/Live," by Thelonious Monk, contains the Paris portion of "Two Hours With Thelonious," the limited-edition Riverside double album recorded in 1961; and "Conversations," by Max Roach, is a reissue of "Deeds, Not Words," and "Speak, Brother, Speak." The additions on Prestige are: "Vintage Sessions," by Sonny Rollins, featuring his first five sessions as a leader, "Four Trombones — The Debut Recordings," featuring J.J. Johnson, Kai Winding, Bennie Green and Willie Dennis backed by Charles Mingus, Art Taylor and John Lewis; "The Big Sound," by Gene Ammons also features Paul Quinichette, Jerome Richardson, Pepper Adams, and an all appearance by John Coltrane; "Live At Minton's" is a reissue of some real cookers with Johny Griffin and Eddie "Lockjaw" Davis; and "Mingus At Monterey" is a welcomed repackaging of the bassist's '64 Monterey Jazz Festival performance. The Debut issue has long been plagued by a miserable pressing. . . The Book-of-the-month club continues its jazz recordings series with "Errol Garner: Master of the Keyboard," a three-record set with comprehensive notes. . . Columbia Records has recorded the Red Rodney/Ira Sullivan group.

WHAT'D I SAY? — Two weeks ago, Jazz Album Picks carried a review of the new Buddy Tate LP, "Tate A Tote at La Fontaine, Copenhagen." The record was mistakenly listed as being on the Steeplechase label. It is in fact on the Storyville label, available in the United States through the Moss Music Group. Well, at least we got the country right.

JAZZ SCHOLARSHIPS — The Errol Garner Memorial Foundation is offering three scholarships of $1,500 each to instrumental jazz students. Awards will be based on talent, need, amateur standing and the desire to continue education. Applicants must be from the United States or Canada and may obtain applications by writing to the Foundation at 521 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017. In other scholarship news, the Monterey Jazz Festival recently awarded $36,200 in grants to benefit music education. The funds came from the proceeds of the festival.

MORE RECORDS — London Records, which took over the marketing of Verve Records back in January, is set to make an initial splash in the American market with 25 titles from the Japanese Verve catalog. David Town, national promotion director for London, told us that the $9.98 LPs will be modified slightly for the American market, but will be pressed and packaged in Japan. There will be additional batches of releases of 10-15 titles each in July and September, with selections gleaned from the Mercury, LimeLight and Emarcy labels as well as Verve.

JAZZ ALBUM PICKS

HOT TURKEY — Ray Bryant — Classic Jazz CJ 130 — Producer: Black & Blue — List: 7.98

When it comes to two-fisted barrelhouse piano, Bryant can more than hold his own. When he adds a lighter, sophisticated tone, the sound is practically unbeatable. Split between solo and trio tracks, Bryant gets to show his stuff on ballad and up-tempo vehicles alike, while the title track and his own "B&H Blues" have him really bouncin' the blues.

SOCIAL STUDIES — The Carla Bley Band — Watt/ECM W11 — Producer: Carla Bley — List: 9.98

This is the first American offspring of the Watt-ECM marriage. To describe Bley's music as wry would be to trivialize it. Rather, it relies on its own self-deprecatory manner to convey meaning, forging irony with vision for a music that is frequently moving. This fine band includes Carlos Ward, Joe Daley, Earl McIntyre, Steve Swallow, Tony Dagradi and Michael Mantler.

NIGHT FIRE — The John Carter Quintet — Black Saint BSB 0047 — Producer: Giovanni Bonandrini — List: 11.98

California clarinetist John Carter has always made distinctive and original albums. His recent association with flautist James Newton has produced music that sounds as appropriate to a chamber group as it is to a free jazz unit. A five-part suite, "Night Fire" is a delicate and carefully balanced work that combines optimism with an uncompromising and tough spirit.

AIR PLAY

WBCN TAKES STAND — Politics has always been a part of Boston's personality, but who knew it could have such a great effect on a station's programming. But that is exactly the cast at WBCN, where general manager Tony Berardini has decided to stop carrying "The King Biscuit Flower Hour," a show produced by DIR Productions and distributed by ABC Radio, because the show is sponsored in part by the Nestle Corp., whose baby formula came under fire at the recent World Health Organization Conference in Geneva. In a statement, Berardini said, "It would be inconsistent, given WBCN's editorial stance against the use of Nestle's baby formula in underdeveloped countries, for us to continue to air a program sponsored in part by Nestle's. This decision in no way reflects the duality of the 'King Biscuit Flower Hour' produced by DIR, or their distributors, ABC." Berardini's decision was prompted by the U.S.' recent "no" vote at the conference, where nations were trying to adopt an Infant Formula Code to protect the populations of Third World Countries. He also said that King Biscuit will be replaced by a variety of programs originated by WBCN.

FEDERAL RAMBLINGS — The NAB filed comments with the FCC that, according to NAB radio engineering reports, the FCC "underestimated conversion costs (from 10 to nine kHz) on reduced AM channel spacing by $18 million . . . Senate Commerce Committee chairman Robert Packwood (R-Ore.), told a gathering of members at an Associated Press Broadcasters conference last week that the FCC's Radio Deregulation Act of 1981 would become law by the year's end. Packwood said that all of the FCC policies contained in its deregulation act would be put into a legislative bill to help eliminate challenges to the FCC policy.

VULCAN DELIGHT? — KFI/Los Angeles has offered a very tantalizing proposition to that little bit of program director that exists in every listener. Having an ear for music has been KFI's theme of the past few months, complete with multi-media advertising featuring assorted people sporting oversized ears talking about KFI's "ear for picking the hits." Now, KFI is kicking off an early summer promotion by giving its listeners the opportunity to show they have ears for hit music as well as a chance to win money and other prizes by simply, well, picking the hits. KFI's Top 30 playlist is printed each week in the L.A. Times Sunday Calendar supplement, and by using the June 1 list, readers were asked to fill in the accompanying coupon with what he or she felt would be the top three songs in order on the KFI list the first week in July. First prize is $640 plus the week's Top 30 albums. The next five correct entries will win the albums and the first 6,400 entries win their very own set of KFI ears.

ABC Radio Develops New Networks To Fine Tune Youth, Adult Audiences

by Mark Albert

LOS ANGELES — ABC Radio will be introducing two full service networks on Jan. 1, 1982. One of the networks will be AOR/Top Tracks aimed at the 15-34 demographic, while the second is adult oriented offering programming to the 18-49 demographic with special emphasis on the 25-44 age group.

Robert Chambers, vice president and general manager of ABC Radio Networks, explained that like the four existing ABC networks, news, sports and information will play a vital role with both new networks. With today's economy and increased competition for advertising dollars, many radio stations simply cannot provide comprehensive coverage of major events due to a shortage of capital and manpower.

"There is a strong desire of local stations to be affiliated with a powerful, worldwide news organization," Chambers said. "News is the basic product for all the networks,

Quello, Rivera Are Named To FCC

LOS ANGELES — Commissioner James Quello and Henry Rivera, an Albuquerque, N.M. lawyer, have been named to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) by President Reagan. The two nominations, along with new FCC chairman Mark Fowler and the recent Senate confirmation of Mimi Weyforth Dawson, brings the Commission to a full complement of seven.

Upon Senate confirmation, Rivera will become the first Hispanic FCC Commissioner and will complete the seven-year term ending June 30, 1987 — a term that, ironically, would have been Quello's had he been reappointed in 1980 when his term expired.

Quello will fill the remaining three years of former chairman Charles Ferris' term, who resigned from the Commission in April. Both Rivera and Quello are Democrats. Dawson, a top aid to Sen. Robert Packwood (R-Ore.), chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, will take over Commissioner Robert E. Lee's seat when he retires on June 30. Remaining FCC Commissioners include Ann Jones, Abbott Washburn and Joseph Fogarty.

and with the listening audience fragmenting the way it is, our goal is to continue providing the best coverage possible in meeting the needs and interests of various age groups. In addition, the advertising market is very strong and healthy for networks."

Chambers emphasized that a network is only the product of what stations need. In the case of AOR/Top Tracks, an aggressive approach will be utilized in the music as well as presentation to attract youth and male oriented audiences. The current ABC FM Network will become more of a Top 40 rock network with current ABC FM staples like DIR's "King Biscuit Flower Hour" concerts moving to the new network, according to Chambers.

The adult oriented network won't be as clearly defined, he added. "There will be music of an easy listening nature," Chambers said, "but there will definitely be greater emphasis on news and information." Chambers indicated that he expects much interest in the news service from country stations due to their expanding audience appeal and the desire to provide more diverse services.

Each network staff will include its own news manager, program director, manager of station relations and other personnel. The AOR/Top Tracks format will be under the supervision of A. Thomas Plant, currently vice president of the FM Network. The network is being developed with consultant Jeff Pollack. The adult-oriented network is being developed by Robert Chaisson, currently director of network development.

RKO Radio Appoints New Vice Presidents

LOS ANGELES — Five network directors at RKO Radio have been named to newly created network vice president positions, effective immediately, according to Tom Burchill, president of the RKO Radio Networks.

The appointments include Jo Interrante, vice president and director of programming; Ken Harris, vice president and director of affiliate services; Dave Cooke, vice president and director of news; Kevin Lyons, vice president and director of sales; and Joe Maguire, vice president and director of engineering.

Five Country Artists Are Inducted Into Museum's Walkway Of Stars

NASHVILLE — In the midst of Fan Fair week here, five country music artists were inducted into the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum's Walkway of Stars. With a throng of fans on hand for the event, emcee Frank Jones, director of operations and head of A&R for Warner Bros. country division and president of the Country Music Foundation board of trustees, announced inductees Boxcar Willie, Moe Bandy, Louise Mandrell, the Stoneman Family and the Armstrong Twins.

Because of prior commitments, Bandy and Mandrell were not able to attend the ceremony. Accepting on Mandrell's behalf was younger sister Iriene. Inductees present were given certificates signifying that a bronze star bearing the individual's name has been placed in a terrazzo block in the walkway located in the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum lobby.

Though he has been in the music business more than 40 years, Boxcar Willie is only recently beginning to realize a particularly strong following in the United States. A highly popular artist in Europe, his recent 31-day overseas tour was a sell-out. He has been voted Best American Artist in Scotland and his album, "Daddy Was a Railroad Man," won the 1979 award for International Album of the Year by the British Country Music Assn.

Floyd and Lloyd Armstrong, better known to fans as the Armstrong Twins, began their careers with KARK and KLRA in Little Rock, Ark., and became popular recording stars with Four Star Records in the late 1940s. They stayed active in the '50s, but have been out of the industry for more than 20 years and only recently began performing again.

Best known for bluegrass and traditional country music, the Stoneman Family has been entertaining audiences for many years. Of the 23 Stoneman children, Jim, Van, Roni, Scotty and Donna form the core

Alabama Album Certified Gold

NASHVILLE — Alabama's current RCA album, "Feels So Right," has been certified gold by the Recording Industry Assn. of America (RIAA), signifying sales of 500,000 copies. The album, the group's second for RCA, is also the #1 album on the Cash Box Country Album chart, while both the single and album have cracked the Cash Box pop charts.

"The entire industry has become aware and taken note of Alabama's success and impact on the marketplace," commented Joe Galante, division vice president of marketing, RCA Nashville.

of the group that hails from Virginia.

Capping off a successful week, Mandrell added the Walkway of Fame honor to her award from Music City News (June 8) as 1981's Most Promising Female Artist. Bandy also capped a successful year, having earlier been honored by the Academy of Country Music and the Country Music Assn. for his duets with Joe Stampley.

The foundation, which is a non-profit organization, last year attracted approximately 496,000 visitors. Artists who desire to be walkway members are submitted to the Country Music Foundation board of trustees for approval, and approved artists are inducted each June during Fan Fair. A $1,500 contribution to the foundation is made in each artist's name, which helps support the ongoing education program of the Foundation's Library and Media Center.

Haggard Pacts With Epic Records

NASHVILLE — Following a four year, six album association with MCA Records, Merle Haggard has signed with Epic Records and will begin work on his first album for the label in mid-June in Austin, Texas. The album will be produced by Haggard and Chips Moman. According to a spokesperson for MCA, Haggard owes the label three more albums, which have been completed and are awaiting release. They include a gospel album, a live album and a studio album.

In announcing the signing, Rick Blackburn, vice-president and general manager of CBS Records, Nashville said, "Merle Haggard is probably the most sought after artist to have been signed out of Nashville in quite some time. We are extremely pleased that he is joining our roster of talent on Epic and look forward to a long and successful relationship between Merle and our CBS family."

In regard to the signing, Don Dempsey, senior vice president and general manager of Epic Records, said, "Merle Haggard has been a major force in the surge of country music's popularity, and we are excited about our involvement with him. His presence as an artist on our label is viewed as a valuable asset and a welcome addition."

SINGLES REVIEWS

NEW AND DEVELOPING ARTISTS

GUY CLARK (Warner Bros. WBS 49740)
The Partner Nobody Chose (3:08) (World Song Publishing, Inc./Coolwell Music/Granite Music Corp. — ASCAP) (G. Clark, R. Crowell) (Producer: R. Crowell)

Guy Clark and Rodney Crowell are two of the finest tunesmiths writing today, and Clark, as a vocalist, is a stylist in the finest sense of the word. The sheer simplicity of this single, from his "The South Coast of Texas" LP, should do much to garner some much-deserved airplay.

FAMILY BROWN (RCA PB 50593)
It's Really Love This Time (2:34) (Sunbury Music Canada Ltd.—CAPAC; Dunbar Music Canada Ltd. — PROC) (R.J. Jones, M. Kosser) (Producer: J. Feeney)

They hail from Canada and have already fared well in that market. Their first single released south of the border features upbeat production and catchy male/female vocal trade-offs. Jukebox, as well as country-formatted stations, should pick up on this clean and concise release.

ALBUM REVIEWS

MR. T — Conway Twitty — MCA MCA-5204 — Producers: Conway Twitty and Ron Chancey — List: 8.98

Twitty and co-producer Ron Chancey have crafted this kind of album package Twitty fans, particularly those of the female persuasion, crave and have come to expect from the master of love songs. His superb style has, in his 25-year career, become something of a standard for aspiring performers to look to. Selected cuts include "Over Thirty (Not Over the Hill)," "Hearts" and "Love Salvation."

THE COUNTRY COLUMN

MORE PO' FOLKS FOR ANDERSON — MCA artist Bill Anderson is now part owner and corporate spokesman for a six-year old chain of restaurants known as Po' Folks. Anderson, who says he's been singing about "po folks" for some 20 years (in 1961 he recorded a single titled "We Ain't Nothing But Po' Folks"), was on hand to greet members of the press during a reception held at the Nashville restaurant last week to announce his affiliation with the restaurant. Although the chain boasts 17 locations throughout Tennessee, North and South Carolina and Georgia, Anderson did not make the natural link until the organization opened its first Nashville restaurant in March of this year.

"People kept coming up to me and asking about 'my' restaurant over on Nolensville Road," said Anderson, who is a regular on the ABC daytime drama One Life To Live and hosts his own syndicated television show, Backstage At The Grand Ole Opry. "Well, I didn't know a thing about it, but I made it a point to find out. I call my band Thé Po' Folks, so that name has always been more than just a song I wrote . . . it's a signature. People naturally assumed that I was involved in the restaurant too." And now he is. ROUNDER GEMS — Boston, Mass.-based Rounder Records has been releasing some real chestnuts lately. For fans of the Frizzell sound, check out "Treasurers Untold: The Early Recordings of Lefty Frizzell." And for those who yearn for the traditional country sound, Vernon Oxford's "A Better Way Of Life" is a must.

ROUNDER GEMS — Boston, Mass.-based Rounder Records has been releasing some real chestnuts lately. For fans of the Frizzell sound, check out "Treasurers Untold: The Early Recordings of Lefty Frizzell." And for those who yearn for the traditional country sound, Vernon Oxford's "A Better Way Of Life" is a must. ROUNDER IN CALIFORNIA — Elektra/Curb artist Gary Gentry recently hosted and performed in California's first "Buckout In Concert," which took place in Fresno, Calif. Sponsored by Miller Beer, the event treated 6,000 plus fans to performances by Gentry, Bobby Bare, Hank Williams, Jr., Stephanie Winslow, Duke Davis and Buckshot, Marty Merchant and Country, as well as rodeo events. Prior to the Fresno date, Gentry performed at the Palomino, where Johnny Lee and Real People's Skip Stephenson dropped in to catch his show.

NIGHTSTREETS IN JUPITER — Epic group Nightstreets recently performed two benefit performances at Burt Reynolds's Dinner Theatre in Jupiter, Fla. to raise money to support the community's theater troupe. Later, the group filmed That Nashville Music, which is scheduled to air early in the Fall.

SAMMY DAVIS IN NASHVILLE — The multi-talented Samy Davis Jr. is in at the Sound Emporium in Nashville this week cutting tracks for a new LP. Production whiz Larry Butler will be in the booth, and Billy Sherrill will engineer.

DEAD WANKERS IN NASHVILLE — In their first, and possibly last, performance the Dead Wankers played Nashville club Spanky's a couple of weeks ago. In what can be described in no other terms than "historic event," the Wankers — Tony Phillip, Bobby Whitlock, Dee Murray and Davey Johnstone — jammed the night away at the local nightspot. Murray and Johnstone, names you may associate with Elton John, have been in Nashville for the last few weeks playing on various sessions and basically hanging out. The boys were spotted tooling about town in Murray's white rolls, which prompted Roger Cook to get his back on the road.

MANDRELL LIVE — Barbara Mandrell did more than accept awards during Fan Fair week. June 7, she gave two shows at the Roy Acuff Theatre at Opryland. Studio whiz and producer Tom Collins was on hand with a mobile unit to tape the performance, and the best tracks will be presented on a live LP, which will be released on her label, MCA. Included in the taping were several standards, such as "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and three new works from the collective pen of Dennis Morgan and Kye Fleming. Their trio of songs was completed just 48 hours prior to the taping of the concerts. MCA has not yet set a release date for the unnamed collection.

HERE AND THERE — Despite the lack of major club venues in Nashville, there were a few showcases during Fan Fair week besides those at the Auditorium, with Don King performing at Hank Cochran's club, Sugar-tree Records showcasing Clifford Russell at Jersey Lilly's and Ridgetop Records and Music Row Talent showcasing the Capitals, also at Jersey Lilly's. Speaking of clubs, still no word on the fate of the Exit/In — it's still up for sale. . . Look for a major New York-based pop label to open an office in Nashville probably within the next three months. . . Nashville reggae group Afrikan Dreamland will be in Wild Tracks studio June 15 to cut a reggae version of the Felice and Boudleaux Bryant classic "Rocky Top." We hear the Bryants are very excited about the project and well they should be. Afrikan Dreamland falls into the "Most Likely To Succeed" category. . . Producer Al DeLory was at the Sound Emporium last week, producing a new Billie Jo Spears album for Warwick Records in London. The special project will be sold only as a direct mail television package. Spears' next stateside release will reunite her with longtime producer Larry Butler and will be released on Jet Records. Look for it as a first quarter 1982 release. . . Conway Twitty participated in a ground breaking ceremony June 9 at the building site of his proposed complex (Cash Box, May 23). . . Our apologies to Jerry Jeff Walker and Elektra/Asylum for failing to mention two albums the artist recorded for the label. They are titled "Jerry Jeff" and "Jerry Jeff Walker Number Two," released between 1979 and 1980. . . Jim Halsey was in Burgas, Bulgaria, June 4 to participate as a judge in the famed International Golden Orpheus Festival there. His wife, noted American Indian artist Minisa Crumbo, was also asked to display her photographs and poetry during the Bulgarian pop music fest. Prior to departing for Bulgaria, Halsey was in Nashville for the Oak Ridge Boys' benefit concert for the Performing Arts Center. Halsey, who became heavily involved with the annual Neewolah Festival in Independence, Kansas, last year, promises that this year's event will be even bigger and better.

ONLY IN NASHVILLE — That's not simply a phrase the tourist bureau likes to use to lure camera-laden tourists to Music City. "Only in Nashville" is something you hear quite often lately, especially from April/Blackwood songwriter and Rio recording artist Chris Waters. What he is referring to is the vast opportunity that lies in Nashville for the songwriter to be accepted as a writer of all types of music — from country to pop to R&B — whatever. Nashville has often been referred to as the songwriter's town — Waters' success is proof of that. In the past year, he has written a pop million seller for Dr. Hook — "Sexy Eyes," as well as "The Highest Praise," a gospel song nominated two years in a row as Gospel Song of the Year and a string of country hits. Says Waters, "only in Nashville could a writer have access to the top pop, country and gospel performers and their producers — and have the creative climate that is willing to accept so many different kinds of music from one writer."

CKBY SPONSORS JAMBOREE FOR COUNTRY MUSIC WEEK — The Nepean Sportsplex in Ottawa, Ontario was the site of a recent jamboree of country music, May 17. For the fifth consecutive year, the Ottawa Host Committee for the annual Country Music Week in Ottawa and CKBY/Ottawa co-sponsored the event in a fund-raising effort to support Country Music week, Sept. 13-20. With a crowd of over 1,700 in attendance, the four-hour performance garnered in excess of $10,000. Fans enthusiastically supported 26 local Ottawa artists and groups who performed their hits, with special appearances by Don Cochran and Sweetclover, Marie Botrell and Cottonwood, Dallas Harms and Michael Dee Graham, and Southern Exposure. The overwhelming response shown in this year's jamboree promises that this year's Country Music Week in Ottawa will be the biggest to date.

Brian Moors

PERSONALITY PROFILE — After five years of teaching math and science in a New York high school, Brian Moors began a career in advertising with the Ted Bates Advertising Agency. After a year-and-a-half, Moors joined Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborn, Inc. (BBDO), one of the world's largest advertising agencies. With a more than ample background in the advertising sphere, it was a natural progression to join the sales department with CBS-FM in 1970. For four and one-half years, Moors directed the retail operation with CBS until Storer Broadcasting-owned WHN/New York chose him for a position in the sales department on July 7, 1975. On New Year's Day 1978, Moors became WHN's director of retail sales, and, exactly two years later, was elevated to general sales manager. On July 7, 1980, Moors became station manager of WHN. His tenure with the New York country giant has not been without the obvious pitfalls and obstacles. Negotiations between Storer and Mutual Broadcasting Systems to purchase WHN lasted for more than a year. During this critical period, however, WHN was able to more than maintain its position in the competitive New York market. Moors cites the viability of WHN's New York country format and knowledgeable personnel with great insight into the market as the stabilizing force behind the station's success. Recognizing that the New York market differs from the Nashville or Dallas country realm appears to have been, and continues to be, an asset worth commendation. Moors' plans for the future? To continue to develop and expand the growth of country music in the Northeast.

WKDA, MCA, SILVER EAGLE AND OAKS BENEFIT TENNESSEE PERFORMING ARTS — More than $21,000 was donated to the Tennessee Performing Arts Center following an SRO Oak Ridge Boys performance June 2. The benefit was promoted by WKDA/Nashville, MCA Records and the Oak Ridge Boys, and was taped for the Silver Eagle Cross-Country Music Show, presently scheduled to air over Silver Eagle affiliates Aug. 1.

THACKER JOINS DRAKE-CHENAUT'S HISTORY OF COUNTRY MUSIC — Drake-Chenault Enterprises' Bill Drake has announced the appointment of Tom Thacker to the executive staff of the special project, The History of Country Music. A 26-year veteran of the entertainment industry, Thacker's background includes play-by-play sportscaster, newscaster, music director, program director and general manager positions. Thacker played an integral role in developing the early careers of Kenny Rogers and The First Edition, Kim Carnes, Glen Frey and J.D. Souther, as well as producing records for such artists as Tina Turner and Glen Campbell. Commenting on Thacker's addition to the staff, Drake stated, "I feel that Tom Thacker's credentials in music and radio, combined with his knowledge and love of country music, is the perfect combination for this project. It's really ideal."

MALRITE UPS FOTI — WHK/Cleveland chief engineer, Frank Foti, has been promoted to the same position with Malrite Broadcasting's KNEW/Oakland. Foti will move to the fourth ranked market in the country after serving nearly three years with WHK.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN — Drake-Chenault Enterprises promotion director Doug Flodin is resting comfortably at his Southern California residence after recently undergoing surgery at St. Johns Hospital, Santa Monica, Calif. Expecting to return to his duties July 1, Flodin can presently be reached at 2224½ Erwin Street, Woodland Hills, Calif. 91367.

NBC BOASTS NEW COUNTRY AFFILIATES — Add five new stations to the list of NBC Radio Network affiliates. The country-formatted stations include WSEK-FM/Somerset, Ky., Nolan Kenner, president, general manager, and program director; WZYX/Cowan, Tenn., Nell Bracken, president, and Joe Brewer, promotion director and sales manager; KYEZ-FM/Salinas, Kan. John McDaniel, general manager, and Randy Picking, program director; WCBL-AM and FM/Benton, Ky., Jim Freeland, general manager, and Bill Burns, program director. All stations will air hourly newscasts and feature commentaries, as well as obtain first option in individual markets on the networks' long-form programming.

WJRB, Record Bar Host Artists Promo

NASHVILLE — WJRB, in conjunction with the Record Bar in Hickory Hollow Mall here, sponsored a series of autograph sessions and a special performance by Rounder Records artists Riders in the Sky at the Mall center court during Fan Fair week. Additionally, the record store offered its entire collection of country music albums at a special price during the week.

Artists participating in the autograph sessions June 10 included RCA artists Razy Bailey and Sylvia and MCA artist Brenda Lee. On Jun 11, Riders in the Sky performed and participated in the autograph sessions along with Warner Bros. artists Con Hunley, David Frizzell, Shelly West, Gail Davies and Rex Allen, Jr.

MAKIN' FRIENDS WITH MIGHTY WWWW — In support of his current RCA album, "Makin' Friends," Razy Bailey seized the opportunity while in Detroit to visit WWWW, a January 1981 addition to the family of country radio stations. Retail Backs CBS 'Exposed' Sampler With Aggressive Merchandising Ploys manager for Lieberman Enterprises, the sub-distrib is offering any record by an "Exposed" artist at one dollar off the regular price with purchase of the sampler package. "Based on initial retail reaction, it's a welcome relief to have a quality product to sell at 1970 prices," commented Maita. "The consumers obviously like it too because it's number three for us this week in sales."

Lou Fogelman, president of the 23-store Music Plus chain and City One Stop based in Los Angeles, said the web has enjoyed solid sales of the item at full list price. He added that the sampler LP has been placed in a variety of spots around the stores, including the singles bin, where Fogelman said singles buyers might be encouraged to purchase the album because of its low price.

In-store airplay has been the most effective tool employed to make consumers aware of the "Exposed" package. "We'd hoped to capitalize on in-store airplay," said Hamilton, who added that the merch campaign tied to the sampler consisted of cover blow-ups and flats.

Hamilton also said that while the company was not trying to release "Exposed" as a normal market item, "we did hope that dealers would see the package as an opportunity to sell more of the product featured in the sampler."

Albums supplying songs featured on the sampler include, Loverboy's self-titled album; Judas Priest's "Point Of Entry" and "British Steel;" Ellen Foley's "Spirit Of St. Louis" and "Nightout;" Adam and the Ants' "Kings Of The Wild Frontier;" Steve Forbert's "Little Stevie Orbit" and "Alive On Arrival;" Ian Gomm's "Gomm With The Wind" and "What A Blow;" Rosanne Cash's "Right Or Wrong" and "Seven Year Ache;" The Romantic's self-titled LP and "National Breakout;" the Sorrows' "Teenage Heartbreak" and "Love Love Too Late;" "Escape Artist" by Garland Jeffreys; and "Mongo Bongo" and "The Fine Art Of Surfacing" by the Boomtown Rats.

According to Hamilton, the encouraging response to "Exposed" may prompt other "cheap peek" projects.

WHAT'S IN-STORE

SPECIALTY SPOTLIGHT — In an industry where "Top 40" charts frequently dictate what retailers put on their shelves, specializing in local music can be a unique way to attract customers. New Orleans' Leisure Landing has built a nationwide reputation by stocking hard-to-find albums by local artists, a particularly difficult task in a city as musically rich as New Orleans. But despite any difficulty, Leisure Landing's specialty approach is proving fruitful, as the chain prepares to open its third store and introduce a mail-order business. Starting with their original outlet in Baton Rouge, Leisure Landing partners Patrick Berry, Douglas Cushman and Jo Anne Feldhaus have been careful to set aside a large segment of their inventory for local music. Berry assesses the actual percentage of sales from the specialty racks at three to four percent of the store's receipts, but credits Leisure Landing's reputation with drawing an expanded clientele, especially during Mardi Gras and the annual Jazz and Heritage Festival. It's this particular out-of-town consumer that Leisure Landing will be trying to keep in touch with when it bows its new mail-order business in the next few months. One of the major challenges for the mail-order business will be to find product in quantity of out-of-print and import-only items; among the difficult items are Dr. John's "Gumbo," a homage to New Orleans' rhythm and blues that is now available only in Japan. Another challenge facing Leisure Landing is to find new sources for cut-outs by perennial favorites like The Meters or The Wild Magnolias. "With the mail order catalog, we're going to have to constantly evaluate what we can really get," said Berry. This is not the first time Leisure Landing has used the mails to boost business. Wavelength, a separate, monthly magazine that deals exclusively with New Orleans music had its beginnings as a monthly mailer the store used to attract customers. Although no longer affiliated with the store, the magazine is still published by Berry, with editorial duties handled by Connie Atkinson. Berry is also a partner in Oblique Records, a label that records local acts. As in the case with Wavelength, Oblique has no official ties with Leisure Landing, although Berry was quick to credit the reputation of the retail outlet with helping him launch the label. With so much of Leisure Landing's reputation built on its catalog of rhythm and blues, jazz and ethnic music, it's no surprise that the new outlet will also be a specialty store. What is surprising is that it will feature only classical recordings.

INFLATION TAKES A VACATION — That's the theme in a WBA promotion being handled by Chicago's Sound Unlimited One-Stop. Forty-four stores, including 11 Sound Warehouse and six Dog Ear chain outlets will benefit from a massive radio campaign that features 250 radio spots with rotating IDs. In-store aids including T-shirts, banners, posters, dividers, caps and buttons, will leave no question as to which stores are participating in the promotion. The radio spots and print ads will also alert shoppers to give-aways and contest drawings tied to the promotion. Sound Unlimited's Bob Kahn told us that while WEA is offering no price breaks, it is exceptional that the company should propose such a large promotion with a one-stop, and he is cooperating. "We're pushing the stores to key the WEA mid-lines which were the focus of much of the promotion," said Kahn, "and to put the big sale items up front." Kahn also hopes that the advertising blitz introduces the stores to a lot of new customers.

RADIO DOCTORS ADDS CLASSICAL/VIDEO — Milwaukee's Radio Doctors Records has opened a classical/video store adjacent to its main store on West Wells St. The store, with over 2500 square feet, will carry over 10,000 records, and feature a reference library for customers. Steve Lutomski will be retail manager of the store as well as senior retail supervisor of the entire Radio Doctors retail operation.

STARK FACTS — The folks who handle Stark Records and Tapes, CMC Advertising, recently took two first place prizes at the "Mona Awards" sponsored by the Canton Advertising Club. The company was cited for a point-of-purchase display for Elvis Presley, and for a direct mail campaign it designed for the Stark/Camelot classical club. . . . Other Stark congrats go to Paul Burnett, recently promoted to director of media production and communication, and to Geoff Mayfield, who has just joined the outfit's advertising department.

RECORD BAR NEWS — "Guess our 'Newtons' and win our 'Juice'" is the title of a promotion at the Terre Haute, Ind. Record Bar in support of Juice Newton. Guessing the number of fig newtons in a giant cookie jar will be rewarded with $30 worth of gasoline. . . . "Grand Slam" by the Isley Brothers is the focus of a contest and promotion at the Portsmouth, Va. outlet. Baseballs have been placed throughout the store, and the customer correctly guessing the number wins season passes to see Triple-A club the Tidewater Tides and will receive the entire Isley Brothers catalog. The LP is also on sale. . . . The customer who correctly guesses the number of 45s in a large fishbowl in the Statesville, N.C. store will win $50 worth of Record Bar gift certificates. Singles will be sale priced throughout the promotion.

MILAN — The annual CGD-Messaggerie Musicali convention took place May 22-23 in Milan. The event was attended by the executive staff of the company and representatives of the distributed labels. During the meeting, Franco Crepax, managing director of the CGD group, revealed the programs for the future in terms of growing development, in spite of the separation from CBS (which in 1980 covered 40% of the sales) two months ago. Crepax announced that the drop in the two months without the CBS catalog was only 4.5%, compared to the same period in 1980. The total sales of the CGD group last year reached $35 million.

A new law against piracy, with penalties up to three months in jail for dealers who trade in pirated records and cassettes, was approved by the government at the end of May.

Following lengthy investigations, including a study of the American "Give The Gift Of Music" campaign, the British Phonographic Industry (BPI) is looking to start a marketing campaign aimed at the general public, the non-music media and broadcasters with a view to the overall promotion of prerecorded music. The campaign is intended to educate the mass of people who feel underinformed about the music scene and those who feel daunted when confronted with row upon row of racks in a record store. The BPI PR committee, under the chairmanship of WEA MD Charles Levison, intends to start by organizing a meeting of major retailers to enable them to meet one another, as well as with the BPI. Saatchi & Saatchi, the advertising agency, will survey the record markets with an eye to discover why they are stagnating. The BPI is assuming that among the survey's findings will be that potential customers lack information about what they can buy and at what price.

Following the trend of other manufacturers Virgin is pushing its catalog product by reducing the dealer price on a selection of titles and mounting a national advertising campaign to promote them. Seventeen titles will be reduced for two months from June 15. The dealer price of three pounds 20 pence ($6.17) drops to two pounds 43 pence ($4.68). Included are albums from the Sex Pistols, Public Image Limited, Devo, Mike Oldfield and the Human League.

As the industry attempts to work out some way of blocking parallel imports, the free market has meanwhile conspired to do so, certainly as far as imports from the U.S. are concerned. With the pound falling on international currency markets, the tiny profit margins of the importers have all but disappeared. Imports from the European continent are not yet affected, but one importer complained of losses approaching $10,000 a day on its trade with the U.S.

Edge, Landmark Toronto New Rock Club, Closes Down

by Kirk LaPointe

TORONTO — Two-and-a-half years and $250,000 later, The Edge — the small downtown nightclub that played host to the most adventurous and eclectic of new wave and jazz — has closed its doors.

The decision "was abrupt," said co-owner Ron Chapman. While it had been anticipated the club would shut down, Chapman and his two managers, Gary Topp and Gary Cormier, knew only 24 hours before the lock-up occurred.

So it can be said, June 7 marked the end of an era for progressive music in Toronto. An impending mortgage renewal, coupled with the economic reality of increasingly expensive touring artists and an inflexible (and low) seating capacity of 200, made the venture impractical.

"That we lasted this long is actually a miracle," said Chapman.

Taken alone, the club's closing means there won't be a venue for unproven acts to play. The Police, the B-52s, The Knack, XTC, Ultravox and Gang Of Four all played the club before they had successful recording careers in Canada and around the world.

Moreover, Topp and Cormier's prevision kept the club at the forefront from 1978 until its closing. Economically, it was a minute portion of a large financial pie. Symbolically, though, it meant much more. Once a folk cafe, the aforementioned trio turned it into the best launching pad for local and imported new music entertainment in the country.

Oddly enough, Chapman blamed the languishing local scene for the club's ultimate demise. "There weren't many bands on the road who came through town," he said. "Certainly not enough for seven nights a week. So we relied on the local people to play there at least half the time. It just didn't work out."

While the club was home base for such bands as Martha and The Muffins, few others emerged with similar success. In the end, The Edge lost to its rival, the El Mocambo, which has double the capacity and the type of ownership clout to attract record industry support.

"We never asked for that support," Chapman said. Still, he admits there were some half-empty houses that could have used a boost.

The club's other chief rival, The Horseshoe Tavern, which has relied primarily on local and regional talent to fill its room, is also due for a facelift. New ownership intends to revert to its country music policy.

As for The Edge, the 100-year-old building is likely to be sold as office space.

COIN MACHINE

Copyright Infringement Main Focus Of Japan Trade Group

TOKYO — Japan's leading manufacturers of coin-operated amusement machines, as well as amusement park equipment, and kiddie rides, numbering 91 companies, have banded together to form a new organization to represent the industry. The association, which was organized Jan. 1, 1981, is called Japan Amusement Machinery Manufacturers Assn. (JAMMA).

Its parent organization, Japan Amusement Trade Assn. (JAA), had limited its membership to manufacturers, operators and distributors of amusement park equipment only, and had been having difficulty in fulfilling its function. The organization was, therefore, divided into three independent associations, including JAMMA.

Among the officers of JAMMA are: Masaya Nakamura, Namco, Ltd., president; Hayao Nakayama, Sega Enterprises Ltd., vice president; and Akio Nakanishi, Taito Corp., vice president. The directors are: Kenjiro Mori, Esco Trading Co., Ltd.; Snigekazu Kato, Kato Amusement Industry; Mineo Aoi, Kansai Seiki Seisakusho Co., Ltd.; Shuntaro Kawakusu, Kawakusu Co., Ltd.; Tetsuo Fukuda, Data East Corp.; Tokuzo Komai, Nintendo Co., Ltd.; Sadayoshi Ono, Hope Corp. Ltd.; and Kazuo Okada, Universal Sales Co., Ltd. The executive committee includes inside auditors Kaichi Endo, Nihon Gorakuki Co., Ltd. and Masami Maeda, Sun Electronics Corp.

JAMMA president Nakamura, emphasizing the problem of copyrights, made the following statement concerning the course JAMMA is to take and the problems the new organization must urgently take up:

"In Japan, we have not yet reached the stage of defining whether copies should be covered by copyright laws, or whether they fall under the category of rights relating to computer software, in the broad sense of the word, and this has been a frequent source of trouble.

Legislation Needed

"All game concepts, logos and characters are the previous fruits of brainstorming by talented individuals, the result of many efforts on the part of manufacturers. It is absolutely intolerable that this property of the manufacturer should be so widely plagiarized simply because of advances in decoding technology. These plagiarists are nothing like a high school boy picking up radio messages with a gadget he himself took great pains to assemble. Our anger is

U.S. Customs Files Orders Against Midway Copiers

CHICAGO — The United States Customs Service recently issued orders for the seizure and re-delivery to the port of entry of alleged pirate copies of Midway "Pac-Man" and "Rally-X" video games covered by recorded copyright registrations on the audiovisual works embodied in these games.

Specifically, the orders were issued against Sutra Import Corp. of Oceanside, N.Y., with respect to "Gobbler" video games; Stan Rousso, Inc. of Los Angeles, Calif., with respect to "Pac-Man" video games; and Chens International, Inc. of Winchester, Mass., with respect to "Rally-X" circuit boards.

Such orders may result in forfeiture of the seized goods or of the entry bonds for penalties in the amount of the full value of the goods plus duties.

Midway continues to actively seek enforcement by the U.S. Customs Service of its copyrights in "Galaxian," "Pac-Man," "Rally-X" and "Gorf," as well as in its new video games as they are released, according to the factory.

In a strong notice to the industry at large, Midway Mfg. Co. cited the United States Code which states that "willful copyright infringement is a federal crime."

Title 17 of the United States Code contains the following provisions:

CRT Eliminates Jukebox Location List Regulation

WASHINGTON — In a major victory for the AMOA, the Copyright Royalty Tribunal (CRT) voted to eliminate a regulation that required jukebox owners to provide the Tribunal with a location list. At a meeting here June 5 the CRT voted 3 to 1 to overturn the copyright regulation which has been a source of strong operator opposition since it was imposed. The usual 30-day period will be allowed for the filing of appeals.

In making the decision, the CRT noted that not once since the regulation has been in existence has there been any request for location list information.

The AMOA has persistently campaigned for the elimination of the location list regulation, never abandoning the issue despite numerous setbacks over the past two years.

AMOA executive vice president Leo Droste and president Norman Pink were attending the Wisconsin Music Merchants Assn. state convention when news of the decision was announced. The executives said they felt personal satisfaction from the favorable ruling, and conventioners greeted the news with a standing ovation.

Game Plan Announces 'Tradewinds' Vacation Sales Incentive Promotion

CHICAGO — Game Plan, Inc. has launched a major sales incentive promotion in conjunction with the factory's current "Killer Comet" and "Shark Attack" video games, in both cocktail table and upright models.

The prize being offered is a "Tradewinds Vacation," described by director of sales Ken Anderson as an "exotic, classy vacation that can't be topped." The destination — Saint Maarten, "the most fantastic island in the Caribbean," according to Anderson.

He further pointed out that the island is "famous for good weather, gourmet dining, gambling, golf, tennis, swimming, sightseeing, scuba diving and just about everything you could ask for in a luxury vacation."

Game Plan distributors are eligible to participate in the promotion. With the purchase of six of the specified games (Killer Comet and Shark Attack) one vacation will be awarded; two can be earned directed toward those who dare to pretend to be our fellow businessmen, and who are trespassing on our territory armed with weapons they have actually stolen from us. The most important thing to do, I would like to emphasize, is to enact legislation that ensures that the efforts of manufacturers will be justly rewarded so as to encourage advancements in technology such as would be naturally of use in the development of society.

"From the standpoint of lawmaking, because such legislation, by its very nature, calls for perfectionism, it is likely to require considerable time to enact. There is enormous complexity involved in the procedures and methods of formulating the definition of such copyrights. Nevertheless, we think the problem can be considerably remedied by taking such legislative measures as to enlarge the concept of unfair competition, or to extend the idea of the territory of competition. In any case, it is certain that the copyright problem will grow worse and worse if we remain a passive onlooker just because there is no applicable law at present.

"In our opinion, all influential members of the industry and members who have invented new products, should join together in exerting every necessary force to build an industry that can truly be said to be run on sound judgement and high principles. We have very high hopes that the scope of influence and the regulating force the new association can have in the industry will be great.

"This is especially the case with video games, which depend entirely on their software for their commodity value. Software developed by Japanese manufacturers has been in great demand recently, especially in overseas markets, and, taking advantage of this, some unscrupulous manufacturers are distributing, in an unorderly way, imitations in various overseas markets. Cases of infringement upon the interests of foreign manufacturers holding lawful licenses have become quite frequent.

Players Battle Space Monsters In Atari's New 'Centipede' Video Game

SUNNYVALE — A snaking centipede that winds through a treacherous mushroom field, a space spider, a flea and a poisonous scorpion are the dangerous targets in Atari's newest video game, "Centipede."

Increasing challenge and mounting tension are highlights of the fast-paced play and Centipede offers a number of unique action features including an Atari Trak-Ball controlled shooting device, continuous firing capability and full color video graphics that change completely with each level of play.

The object of the game is to shoot and destroy the centipede and its carnivorous allies as they advance through a field of mushrooms, without being hit by the centipede or other monsters.

In announcing the new release, Frank Ballouz, vice president of marketing for Atari's Coin-op Division, said, "Like many of Atari's recent successful games, Centipede is easy to learn, but very hard to really master. It's an attention-getting new theme with game play that requires faster reflexes and provides increasing challenge as the game progresses. Test results have shown a very high level of play and replay. Centipede is going to eat up a lot of coins," he added.

The excitement begins as soon as the player's "game" is activated. The first cen-

Convention Update

The theme and purpose of the 1981 JAA annual convention in October will be finalized at a later date. However, it has been decided that the show will be held and operated under the joint sponsorship of the three newly organized associations, including JAMMA, Japan Amusement Park Equipment Assn. (JAPEA) and Nippon Amusement Operators Assn. (NAO) with due consideration given to relations which then existed between the former JAA and overseas manufacturers. Inquiries about the convention may be directed to: Japan Amusement Machinery Manufacturers' Assn., Room No. 704, Shuwa Nagatacho, TBR Bldg., 2-12-2, Nagata-cho, Chiyodaku, Tokyo 100, Japan, Phone: 03-593-2563.

7th Annual OMAA Convention Topples Previous Records

CHICAGO — The Ohio Music and Amusement Assn. (OMAA) has obviously discovered the formula for taking an outstanding trade show and making it even greater, as evidenced by the seventh annual convention, May 8-9, in Columbus which broke all previous attendance records, establishing this Ohio event as one of the biggest and best in the U.S.

"It couldn't have been better," declared OMAA president James H. Hayes of Dayton. "Our only problem now is wondering what we can do for an encore in 1982. Our exhibit space is bulging at the seams and this year we even turned down some late filing exhibitors. It's a nice kind of problem," he added. "I know a lot of states that wish they had headaches like ours."

Tommy Thompson of Tora Music in Columbus presided over the Exposition once again this year. The gathering drew representatives from just about every "name" in the music and amusement industry. One exhibitor, displaying the latest in electronic games, commented after the show that he booked firm orders for more than $100,000 in machines and received enough additional leads "to keep my salesmen going for weeks." A jukebox firm reported sales of 50 units during the two days of the show.

Business And Pleasure

In a seven-year span, OMAA has emerged as a major state association and one of the most prominent, and successful, in the industry. Stressing education and service, OMAA aids members on many different fronts. Executive vice president Paul Corey of Columbus blends good times — "there are few better parties in the industry than OMAA's get-togethers" — with hard work, as underscored by this year's exposition format.

OMAA gave registrants everything from a golf outing (the Edward Shaffer Memorial Tourney) to legal clinics (presided over by Assistant Attorney General Marc E. Myers, OMAA legal counsel J. Richard Lumpe and John K. Everett) during the two-day convention. AMOA president Norman Pink and executive vice president Leo M. Droste addressed the Saturday lunch and Ohio Supreme Court Chief Justice Frank D. Celebrezze, Jr. swore in the association's new slate of officers.

Entertainment at the Friday banquet was provided by the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company in the form of an outstanding 70-voice group, the Sweet Adelines, who proved to be exceptionally popular with their widely varying number of a cappella hits.

The exhibit hall was open a total of eight hours during the weekend, and included 59 booths, the limit that could be handled at the University Hilton Inn, which is where the convention was held. The booth total represented an increase of 16 from last year and there were 14 new exhibitors at the '81 expo, including many out of state businesses. Among the newcomers were: The Valley Company, The Tobacco In-

Stern Taps Coin-O-Matic

CHICAGO — Coin-O-Matic, of Las Vegas, has been appointed a distributor for Stern Electronics products, announced Tom Campbell, director of marketing for Stern.

Under the agreement Coin-O-Matic will carry the complete line of coin-operated amusement games from Stern as well as Seeburg division phonographs. The firm is located at 2901 S. Highland Drive, Las Vegas, Nev. Claudia Wichinsky is company president.

Campbell noted that the new appointment is effective immediately.

stitute, Pepsi-Cola, Motorola, Danny Vegg's, Brown & Williamson, P & G Records, Scan Coin, Philip Morris, Poland Manufacturing, Bumper Tube, Security Products, OBA, Inc. and D&R Industries.

The Tobacco Institute's participation was particularly interesting because, during the show, it was revealed that OMAA members own more than 65% of the 34,000 cigarette vending machines licensed in the Buckeye State. Recognizing this trend, R.J. Reynolds has been an exhibitor since OMAA's inception and this year was joined by Philip Morris and Brown & Williamson.

The bulk of the exhibition space, however, was devoted to electronic games and the splendid array on display this year depicted the futuristic aspects of the business.

Admission to the hall is limited to operators and their guests, allowing everyone the opportunity to play the "state of the art" units which are brought in especially for this occasion. OMAA Expo '81 received extensive mass media coverage and by the time the show closed on May 9, 424 people had registered, breaking the 1980 record by more than 100.

Future Look

The convention program provided clues as to possible future directions of the Ohio group, which is considered a pacesetter among state organizations. For example,

Bally Pin Division Taps Reckas For Marketing Post

CHICAGO — Tom Nieman, vice president of Bally Manufacturing's Pinball Division, announced the appointment of John Reckas to the position of manager of market research and development. Reckas' new duties will include a concentrated effort to research and develop profiles on the amusement game marketplace.

Reckas has been with Bally for eight years, most recently serving as assistant sales manager of the Gaming Equipment Division.

In announcing the appointment, Nieman stated, "We've been looking for someone to help the Pinball Division bring the needs and wants of the marketplace more sharply into focus. With John's varied background, working in Bally's computer department, the traffic department and most recently the gaming division, he brings a new and valuable perspective to our marketing efforts."

one of the convention speakers was Warren Kelley, a consultant to The Valley Company, who outlined how development of state-wide pool leagues can protect locations for Ohio operators who are concerned about direct sales. OMAA is known to be considering sponsorship of such state-wide activities to help members on the local level.

Also discussed during Expo's opening business session was the organization's aggressive legal effort to keep "gray area" machines out of the state. Ohio's attorney general, aided by OMAA, won an appeals court decision against electronic Draw Poker games in March of this year and the organization indicated that it intends to stay vigilant in keeping gambling devices out of the state.

Seminars

The Saturday seminars for technicians covered two timely topics: "Signature Analysis" by Jim Sneed of Kurz Kasch and "A Monitor Check List" by Ken Legge of Shaffer Distributing.

"Some organizations try to take on too much and wind up doing nothing," noted OMAA president Hayes. "We're different in Ohio. In seven short years we've built up an organization that succeeds at just about everything it tackles.

"These accomplishments don't just happen," he added. "They're the result of a supportive membership and a great headquarters staff headed by Judy Martin and Paul Corey. I've been involved with many groups, but I've never seen one where members receive dividends almost every day. Whether it's on the political, business, or social fronts, OMAA delivers for its members, and it's no surprise that we have more than 90% of the operators in Ohio as members."

Among the many highlights of the 1981 exposition was the awarding of over $20,000 in valuable door prizes plus many other smaller prizes during the two-day event. Major prizes awarded included a Rowe "Starburst" jukebox; Bally's "Hot Doggin" pingame; Gottlieb's "Pink Panther" pingame; Midway's "Extra Bases" video game; Game Plan's "Cocktail Video"; a Harvard 3-Way "Entertainer Table" (courtesy of Danny Vegh's); a color TV set (courtesy of Brown & Williamson) and an Atari "Home Video Set."

A new feature at this year's show was the OMAA Edward Shaffer Memorial Golf Tourney, held on Thursday and won by J. Larry Hilton of J.L. Hilton Company in Cuyahoga Falls.

If OMAA had given an award for the most innovative exhibit it would have gone to Royal Distributing (Cincinnati) which staffed its booth with the "Royal Rookies," the distributor's all girl softball team, attired in their attractive uniforms. In addition, Royal had as its guests two Cincinnati Bengals football players — Ross Browner, former All-American end at the University of Notre Dame; and Pete Johnson, former All-American fullback from Ohio State University — who signed autographs while trying out the latest games on display.

Major manufacturers in attendance included Frank Fogleman (Gremlin); Tom Stroud (Cinematronics), C. Marshall Caras (D. Gottlieb & Co.); Ben Rochetti (Stern Electronics, Inc.); Larry Berke (Midway Mfg. Co.); Hal Watner (Universal U.S.A.); Hal Anthony (Game Plan, Inc.); Len Schneller (U.S. Billiards); Lila Zinter (Exidy) and Bill Currier (Irving Kaye Co.).

Dates of the 1982 Exposition are May 7 and 8. As indicated by Paul Corey, "exhibit space is already sold out!"

New Officers Elected

James H. Hayes was re-elected president of OMAA during the 1981 exposition. Other officers include: Richard E. George, first vice president; Larry Van Brackel, second vice president; M.E. "Jim" Schlarb, secretary; Clarence B. Nearing, treasurer; and Judith A. Martin, executive secretary.

Directors elected to 3-year terms are Richard E. George, Melvin Pearlman, Frank Provenza, Larry Van Brackel, Richard Zappa and William A. Beckham.

Other mid-term directors are: Harold Laughlin, David R. George, Edward P. Elum, Raymond E. Lonsway, Clarence B. Nearing, James H. Hayes, Norman Borkan, William Levine, Tommy Thompson, and M.E. "Jim" Schlarb. Paul A. Corey will continue as OMAA's executive vice president.

Atari Bows New 'Centipede' Video

Centipede begins its path through the mushroom field. The Trak-Ball controlled gun can be positioned up or down and side-to-side. Players must destroy mushrooms to get a clean shot at the centipede and other targets.

When the centipede runs into a mushroom, it turns and moves down another row. If one of the segments is hit, the centipede splits into two bodies and keeps coming. If the centipede or any portion reaches the bottom of the screen, it turns back and heads up the screen.

If the entire centipede reaches the bottom of the screen, its tail segment will be released as a new head. As the game

MIDWAY'S COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT POLICY

FAIR WARNING!

WILLFUL COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT IS A FEDERAL CRIME!

Title 17 of the United States Code contains the following provisions:

“Section 506. Criminal Offenses

(a) CRIMINAL INFRINGEMENT. -- Any person who infringes a copyright willfully and for purposes of commercial advantage or private financial gain shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both: Provided, however, that any person who infringes willfully and for purposes of commercial advantage or private financial gain...the copyright in a motion picture...shall be fined not more than $25,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, for the first such offense and shall be fined not more than $50,000 or imprisoned for not more than two years, or both, for any subsequent offense.

(b) FORFEITURE AND DESTRUCTION. -- When any person is convicted of any violation of subsection (a), the court in its judgement of conviction shall, in addition to the penalty therein prescribed, order the forfeiture and destruction or other disposition of all infringing copies or phonorecords and all implements, devices, or equipment used in the manufacture of such infringing copies or phonorecords.”

Although the United States Customs Service has for some time enforced copyrights in original audio-visual works embodied in video games such as GALAXIAN™, PAC-MAN™, and RALLY-X™, and the Federal Courts have recognized the validity of such copyrights, there are some manufacturers, distributors and operators who continue to flaunt the law by dealing in infringing games. These companies undermine the creativity which is essential to the life of this industry.

Because of the serious nature of this problem, Midway now gives notice that it intends to seek criminal prosecutions against such companies in cases of willful infringement of its copyrights in GALAXIAN™, PAC-MAN™, RALLY-X™ and GORF™, as well as in its newest game, WIZARD OF WOR™, and other video games when released. Midway will also continue its activity to obtain enforcement of its copyrights by the U.S. Customs Service and the International Trade Commission, and by civil actions against infringers for injunctions, damages and profits. At present, Midway is actively engaged in such civil actions in the U.S. District Courts against seventeen defendants, in Phoenix, AZ, Omaha, NE, Providence, RI, Chicago, IL and Canada. In some of these actions the defendants' games and circuit boards have actually been seized by the U.S. Marshal pursuant to the impoundment provisions of the Copyright Act. Every available legal action is being taken to protect Midway's proprietary rights in its original and highly successful video games.

SOUTHWEST VENDING SHOW — More than 1,000 people attended Southwest Vending's Spring-Summer Game Extravaganza at the Dallas Market Hall May 16-17. The event was conceived as a combination product showing/service school/business seminar, and a majority of the major U.S. manufacturers were represented. Pictured at the event are (l-r): manufacturer representative Marty Glazerman (Williams), Bernie Powers (Bally), Tom Petit (Atari), Don Osborne (Atari), Marshal Caras (Gottlieb), Abi Carmen (Gottlieb),

Southwest Vending Draws Large Crowd With Summer Game Show

CHICAGO — Southwest Vending Sales Company hosted a Spring Games Show in typical Texas style at the Dallas Market Hall, May 16 and 17 with over 1,000 people coming in from all parts of Texas and Oklahoma to see the latest equipment on display and meet with such genial hosts as Tom Chatten, general manager of the Dallas distributorship and John Gatens, president of Southwest. The event was truly a Games Extravaganza where a lot of new product was on display, service schools were held and hospitality was the order of the day. A number of factory executives attended from across the country to join in the festivities.

Seventeen booths were set up for the major games manufacturers and the Western theme of the show was evident in the decorations, the barbecue lunch that was served and in the garb of the guests, in some cases. Marshall Caras, Gottlieb's vice president of marketing, arrived all decked out cowboy style complete with hat, boots and bolo tie.

Among factory representatives present were Marty Glazerman (Williams); Don Osborne, Tom Petit and Russ MacDonald (Atari); Ivan Rothstein (Centuri); David Stroud, Mr. & Mrs. Tom Stroud, Sr. and Ron Cole (Cinematronics); Bob Harmon (Gremlin); Lou Rudolph (Stern); Marshall Caras, Jim Phillips and Abi Carmen (Gottlieb); Bernie Powers (Bally); and Dick Konopa (Midway).

There were special seminars held on the financial aspects of the business, conducted by Charles Ross and Richard Priesmeyer of Innovative Management Consultants. A talk on Game Operation in Convenience Stores was given by Don Barfield. Atari, Cinematronics and Stern held technical schools on both days of the show. Atari also presented a film on game development and production; and Gottlieb hosted a wine and cheese reception as well as a technical session. All of these special events added to the overall success of the two-day show. As one long-time customer commented, the exceptional turnout was evidence of the high regard in which Tom Chatten is held and his outstanding reputation in the trade.

"We were pleased with the response to the show," stated Southwest president Gatens. "It is evident that the Dallas office is doing exceptionally well for its first year due to the enthusiastic operators in the area together with Tommie (Chatten) and his superior staff." Southwest is already mapping out plans for a fall show to be held just after the October AMOA convention.

U.S. Customs Office Issues Orders Against Midway Counterfeiters

Section 506. Criminal Offenses

(a) Criminal Infringement. Any person who infringes a copyright willfully and for purposes of commercial advantage or private financial gain shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both. Provided, however, that any person who infringes willfully and for purposes of commercial advantage or private financial gain . . . the copyright in a motion picture . . . shall be fined not more than $25,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, for the first such offense and shall be fined not more than $50,000 or imprisoned for not more than two years, or both, for any subsequent offense.

(b) Forfeiture And Destruction. When any person is convicted of any violation of subsection (a), the court in its judgment of conviction shall, in addition to the penalty therein prescribed, order the forfeiture and destruction or other disposition of all infringing copies or phonorecords and all implements, devices, or equipment used in the manufacture of such infringing copies or phonorecords."

Although the United States Customs Service has for some time enforced copyrights in original audiovisual works embodied in video games such as "Galaxian" and "Rally-X," and the Federal Courts have recognized the validity of such copyrights, there are some manufacturers, distributors and operators who continue to defy the law by dealing in infringing games. These companies undermine the creativity which is essential to the life of this industry, Midway pointed out.

Due to the serious nature of the problem, Midway intends to seek criminal prosecutions against such companies in cases of willful infringement of its copyrights in "Galaxian," "Pac-Man," "Rally-X" and "Gorf," as well as in its newest game "Wizard Of Wor," and other video games when released. Midway will also continue its activity to obtain enforcement of its copyrights by the U.S. Customs Service and the International Trade Commission, and by civil actions against infringers for injunctions, damages and profits. At present, Midway is actively engaged in civil actions in the U.S. District Courts against 17 defendants, in Phoenix, Ariz.; Omaha, Neb.; Providence, R.I.; Chicago, Ill. and in Canada. In some of these actions the defendants' games and circuit boards have actually been seized by the U.S. Marshal pursuant to the impoundment provisions of the Copyright Act. Finally, Midway is pursuing every available legal action to protect its proprietary rights in its original and highly successful video games.

CHICAGO CHATTER

Paul Huebsch, executive director of the recently organized Amusement Device Manufacturers Assn., has acquired office space for setting up shop in this area and is already getting things rolling — at this point, sans furniture, but that's expected very shortly. The ADMA office is located at 2300 E. Devon in suburban Des Plaines, which is in close proximity to O'Hare airport. Phone number is (312) 296-6333.

JUST AS VIDEO GAMES have been enjoying extensive mass media exposure for their tremendous popular appeal (most recently on the 20/20 network TV'er as well as local coverage on NBC and CBS) so, too, is the consumer press starting to take notice of the copyright infringement problem, currently faced by a number of manufacturers. As we learned from Stan Jarocki, Midway's vice president of marketing, the 4/30 edition of the Arizona Republic newspaper and the May 8 edition of the Omaha World Herald both gave space to the copyright infringement proceedings initiated by Cinematronics and Midway. This kind of exposure draws public attention to the "copiers" problem and the tremendous efforts being put forth by the manufacturers in their campaign against the blatant piracy of copyright protected video games. The problem is a serious one, effecting not only the manufacturers of the machines that are being copied but the distributors and operators as well who are all being victimized. Based on the recent actions, however, of such firms as Midway, Cinematronics, Stern, Williams and others, something is being done about it.

AMOA'S EXECUTIVE VEEPEE Leo Droste happily notes that reaction to the selection of the Hyatt Regency Chicago hotel for the 1982 AMOA Exposition has met with "enthusiastic response" thus far. At this point, all of the required agreements have been signed and AMOA is now working on floor plans for the exhibit hall. Leo said there will probably be a meeting set up with exhibitors well in advance of the '82 convention for further discussion and familiarization of the new convention site. . . . As for Expo '81, option notices have been sent out; response has been great, with a number of potential newcomers submitting inquiries about participating in the show. Leo expects this year's convention to be another sell-out event but advised that AMOA does not plan to have exhibits in the lobby area this year! Show dates are October 29-31 at the Conrad Hilton.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS TO Stephen Kaufman, president of Stern's amusement games division, and his lovely wife, Shiela, on the May 2 arrival of Amanda Beth, their second child. Amanda's older sister, Stephanie, who must be about 3 by now, was at the Stern offices this past week spreadin' the word about her new little sister! . . . Felicitations, also, to marketing director Tom Campbell who turned 40 on June 3 and the venerable Harry Williams, who turned a little more than 40 on June 3. Since Harry was in town from his Florida home discussing some new game ideas with the Stern people, a double celebration was in order to toast the two birthday guys!

progresses, heads will appear more frequently. When an entire centipede is destroyed the playfield changes color and a new faster centipede starts at the top. The centipede from then on will alternately move faster or slow.

For additional challenge, a spider moves across the playfield and can destroy the player as well as any mushrooms it passes over. A flea also hops across the screen bombarding the player, leaving mushrooms in its wake; and then there's a deadly scorpion who poisons any mushroom it touches. The centipede is also poisoned if it contacts a contaminated mushroom, causing it to head directly at the player.

The game really tests the player's reflexes and provides plenty of very exciting, challenging play.

Operator options include 2, 3, 4 or 5 selectable game lives, 4 adjustable bonus "life" score levels, 4 language and numerous coinage options for maximum location versatility.

Centipede is available in standard upright, space-saving mini Cabaret and new 19 inch cocktail cabinets, with a limited quantity of 13 inch models also available.

with the purchase of 12 games.

In addition to luxury hotel accommodations for seven nights, the package includes baggage transfer, various cocktail parties, dinners and other "surprises." Game Plan also intends to unveil an "amazing new game" during the festivities, Anderson noted.

Departure date for the trip is July 17 from Chicago with return on July 24. Game Plan president Darrel McCollough, along with Anderson and the firm's manufacturing representative Hal Anthony will escort the group.

Co-ops Helping Black Indie Retailers Stay Competitive

stores from 1971 through '78, soured on the idea because he found that after awhile it "produced a mythical independence on the part of some store owners, who would try to go out on their own and buy from other stores. That lack of loyalty hurt the whole co-op." In addition, Hudson cited a lack of centralized bookkeeping and cash flow problems as reasons for dissatisfaction with the original co-op idea.

Credit Problems

According to Hudson, black people traditionally have a hard time obtaining the credit lines, bonding and insurance needed to open a retail operation. In addition, blacks who want to start a store rarely have the venture capital on hand to do so. Therefore, Hudson investigates and evaluates potential owner-operators and if the person is felt to be a good risk, or has collateral, Hudson will front the money to start the store. He also offers a training program for the new retailer. Because Hudson's own credit line with the manufacturers is good, he is able to start each store out with $15,000 worth of product.

In return, the new dealer, if he cannot offer collateral for his loan, works on what Hudson terms a "sweat equity" system, whereby he must work for Hudson a certain amount of time before the store actually becomes his. With both collateralized and "sweat equity" retailers, Hudson receives five percent of the store's gross, which covers the "support services" offered to the stores. These include bookkeeping, a cash flow system and 100% return privilege on product purchased through the one-stop.

The owner-operator stores — there are currently four — in turn act both as independents and as part of a chain, buying and advertising cooperatively. Hudson believes that this system eliminates the problems that have caused the failure of a number of co-ops across the country, as well as increasing the number of viable black retailships.

Hudson said he "wants to iron out the bugs in the owner-operator program before trying to spread it into different parts of the country." He noted that with both the owner-operator program and his earlier co-op venture he has received excellent support from the black division of the major record labels, which have helped out with ad dollars, point-of-purchase merchandising aids and periodic merchandising workshops.

"There are great advantages to co-ops if they work right," said Ed Gilreath, director, black music sales, Warner Bros Records, "but some of them have had trouble maintaining continuity. Most small dealers like to think they can do it all themselves. They don't understand all the advantages cooping offers."

Often, Gilreath added, co-op members are unwilling to maintain a situation where they feel they're responsible for the other members. In addition, he said, cash flow problems and a lack of trust and/or organization among members often beset the cooperatives.

Nevertheless, Gilreath sees co-ops as a way of helping the small retailer to survive. At the recent Black Music Assn. convention, Gilreath addressed the issue of co-ops and as a result he plans to discuss co-ops with other black executives industrywide. Still, he said that right now, co-oping is not growing in the industry, but that new co-ops are starting up as older ones fall apart.

Perhaps a more consistently viable co-op form is the type of advertising-only venture being run for 140 Chicago retailers and eight one-stops by Metro Music, a marketing consultant firm. With the highest concentration of black-owned independent retailers and one-stops in the country, Metro Music's Edward Carter said that the one-stops came to him with "the common problem of not being able to justify cooperative advertising to the labels because each store's individual volume was too small." Metro then went about banding together retailers for the project, using three criteria for membership: the store must be a black retailer, it must do business with one of the participating one-stops and it must go along with the special pricing set by the one-stops on advertised product.

The co-op costs the retailers nothing to join, money for the co-op advertising being supplied by the eight one-stops, and thus far, Carter said, it has worked well.

A similar plan, on a far smaller level, has been instituted by Associated Distributors in Phoenix and six small, black retail accounts. The plan, undertaken in cooperation with Motown Records, has enabled the retailers to buy radio spots for the Smokey Robinson and Rick James LPs and Associated's sales manager, Guy Figueroa, says he hopes to be approaching other manufacturers with similar programs.

dent and general manager. Dr. Brandinger, who has headed videodisc operations since Jan. 1979, now reports to James M. Alio, RCA vice president for electronic services and VideoDisc operations.

In addition, disc player manufacturing under the restructuring has been formally placed under RCA's Consumer Electronics division, headed by group vice president Jack K. Sauter. Players are manufactured at RCA's color TV plant in Bloomington, Ill.
