Springsteen Sales Create Retail Flurry

By Brian Kassar

November 10th will probably be a day that the record industry will remember as Bruce Day. "It's Bruce Day," proclaimed a spokesman from one record chain.

Bruce Springsteen fans across the country rushed local records stores last week for his long-awaited live album, "Bruce Springsteen & the E Street Band Live/1975-85," which initially shipped 1,500,000 units with another 750,000 two days later, an unprecedented accomplishment for an advance order, especially for a multi-record package.

Initial demand for the 40 song, 3 1/2 hour, five-record (3 CD or cassette) package, which is a compilation of live performances which span over a decade of Springsteen's career complete with photo and lyric booklet, created a excited, carnival-like, almost frenzied atmosphere at record retail outlets around the country. Many began standing in lines hours before the stores opened. "It was like being bait in a piranha tank," said one clerk from Sam Goody's in Manhattan. "As soon as we could pull one out of the box, somebody pulled it from our hands."

Nationally, the LP and cassette price ranged from $19.99 to $24.99, while the CD sells for $33.33 to $39.99.

The LP package has been the sold the largest volume according to most retailers and one-stops, but CD's are selling faster. CD supplies are almost depleted according to several one-stop dealers who reported that they wouldn't be able to obtain any more CD sets until next year, however, CBS vice president of press and public affairs, Bob Altshuler said, "We will have more back in the stores before Christmas."

Show Industries, a Los Angeles based company who owns City 1 Stop and 41 Music Plus stores, shipped out 22,000 units from their City 1 Stop location where record store managers arrived at 7:30 a.m. to pick up product from the parking lot where three trucks which had just arrived from the airport had set up skids of merchandise. Show Industries spokesman George Chronis said they were able to meet the demand. "We're selling a lot more than we anticipated. We were able to restock some of the stores. Some customers were telling our clerks that they came to Music Plus because Tower Records and the Warehouse were still waiting for shipments." Even though Music Plus was selling the collection for about $5 more than some of their competitors, it was clear that availability was

New York Is Mad About 'The Box'

By Paul Iorio

NEW YORK—New York is mad about The Box. There are lines outside record stores, lines inside record stores, and lots of big bucks being spent for what has become the album of 1986. Indeed, this is no ordinary box, it is a forty-song, five-record set called "Bruce Springsteen and The E Street Band Live 1975-85" (Columbia) and it is already making music industry history.

"Live '75-85" has set pre-release dollar records, and will almost certainly debut at the highest chart position ever for a five-record set. This is all the more amazing when one considers that it is priced between $19.99 and $24.99, and that most consumers consider that a bargain.

On the day of its release (10), Springsteen fans lined up outside a midtown. Goody's store some two hours before it opened so they could be among the first to buy the album. At Tower Records waiting perhaps seven out of ten people waiting line were holding The Box, and reading the forty titles on the back cover, titles that tell the story of coming-of-age in the 1970s. "Live 75-85" is a three hour epic about searching for "The Promised Land" in places like "Darlington County," about finally finding a "Reason To Believe." Though it's emphasis is on "Darkness on the Edge Of Town" and "Born In The U.S.A.," it offers a smattering of all phases of Springsteen's career, and includes songs he's never recorded on any album before. The time he's said goodbye to Bobby and pledged his love to a Jersey girl listener has been through one of the most emotional experiences one can have in a pop record.

"On a one to ten scale, Springsteen is about a nine," said one young business leaving Tower Records with The Box. "I don't love him like everyone else does, but only have maybe three or four albums."

"The cuts I've heard on this album are pretty good for a live album," said a middle-aged man who had purchased the record for his son. "I'm not really a fan. My son is a major fan. Since my son moved out of the house I haven't been listening to his stuff. I know most of the older songs on the album, I haven't heard many of the newer ones."

One female executive in her late 20s was also buying the set for someone else. (continued on page 26)

CBS Completes Publishing Unit Sale

NEW YORK—CBS has completed the sale of its music publishing business to SBK Entertainment World Inc., a corporation controlled by Stephen Swid, Charles Koppelman and Martin Bandier, for $125 million.

The assets purchased are CBS Catalogue Partnership, April Music Inc., Blackwood Music Inc., Music Theatre International, and CBS Songs International. The sale also includes administrative rights for Michael Jackson's ATV Beatles catalogue. SBK has also entered into a separate four-year agreement to administer worldwide newly-acquired copyrights for the CBS/Records Group.

In a statement, SBK said it "intends to become a major new entertainment company and expects to make additional acquisitions in the industry as opportunities present themselves. Future acquisitions may come from areas other than the music industry per se."

CBS said it expects to show a gain on the sale in the fourth quarter of 1986.

CBS Declines Billion-Dollar Bid; Opts To Retain Record Unit

LOS ANGELES—At their monthly board meeting last week, CBS directors turned down a $1.25-billion offer for its record arm from an investor group led by CBS Records president Walter Yetnikoff, and including New York-based manufacturer Triangle Industries. The decision ends widespread speculation as to the immediate fate of CBS Records following the takeover of the financially ailing CBS by Laurence Tisch.

Speculation on the eve of last wednesday's meeting centered on a group of potential buyers, which according to sources included Coca-Cola, Gulf & Western, Walt Disney Productions and AmCan.

Had CBS decided to sell, a deal would have had to be finalized in time to take advantage of existing tax laws before the federal tax revision phases them out in January. The Yetnikoff group offered (continued on page 26)

AN EMBARRASSMENT OF RICHES—Island/Warner Bros. recording artist Steve Winwood was recently honored with Platinum R.I.A.A. certification for his "Back In The High Life" LP. At last count, the album had topped one and a half million copies sold in the U.S. alone. The multi-instrumentalist/singer was in L.A. recently as part of his continuing tour. Celebrating the riches are (l-r) Label president Larry Waronker, Winwood, and label chairman Mo Ostin.

PARTYERS—Craig Sussman, president of the newly-formed Cypress label, hosted a party at the G. Ray Hawkins Gallery in L.A. to celebrate the release of the company's first two albums, "Famous Blue Raincoat," by Jennifer Warnes, and "High Risk," by Tim Weisberg. Among the well-wishers were members of the PolyGram staff (distributors of Cypress Records) and the label's staff and artist roster. Pictured at the party are (l-r) Cypress artists Tim Weisberg and Johnny Z (of the Johnny Z Band), Cypress vice president, marketing, Ted Cohen, and artist Wendy Waldman, Sussman, and Cypress artists Jennifer Warnes and Kenny Rankin.

OUT OF THE BOX

BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN—Bruce Springsteen and The E Street Band Live 1975-85—Columbia C5X40558—Producers: Bruce Springsteen-Jon Landau-Chuck Plotkin—No List (5-record set)—Bar Coded

It's every bit as great as you think it is, a five-record, forty-song behemoth destined to blast from every speaker in the western world. Includes seven previously unrecorded songs, and classics from all seven albums. Three hours later, it climaxes with eight "Born In The U.S.A." tracks that touch almost every human emotion. An unparalleled event.

OUT OF THE BOX

BEASTIE BOYS—Licensed To Ill—Def Jam/Columbia BFC 40238—Producer: Rick Rubin—No List—Bar Coded

New York's wacky hip hop trio in a def rocking workout. The way having been paved by Run DMC, Beastie Boys' crash and burn abandon is right on the money. The set blasts off with "Rhymin' & Stealin'," continues on Side Two with the current 12" hit, "Paul Revere," and the heat doesn't stop. An aside: The LP's foldout cover has to win honors for best cover of the year.

OUT OF THE BOX

DEBBIE HARRY—Rockbird—Geffen GHS 24123—Producer: Set Justman—List: 8.98—Bar Coded

Harry ends her hiatus with her Geffen debut. The album contains a lot of winning Blondiesque elements, but also veers off into some new direction, most successfully in the LP's current single, "French Kissin'." Harry continues to embody sex, modernism, captured in the Warhol cover and the album's nine eclectic tunes.

OUT OF THE BOX

KOOL & THE GANG—Forever—Mercury 830 398—Producers: Khalil Bayyan (Ronald Bell)—I.B.M. Coded

"Victory," the first single, is already explosive crossover hit. The quintessential party band, Kool & The Gang continues to take the lead in the dance floor sweepstakes. With thumping bass lines and catchy melodies, the formula remains the same as do the sizzling results.

FEATURE PICKS

LOOSE ENDS—Zagora—MCA 5745—Producer: Nick Martinelli—List: 8.98—Bar Coded

Cool and sophisticated sounds from Britain's leading soul export. Their exotic image and modern sensibilities create a winning combination.

SAM KINISON—Louder Than Hell—Warner Bros. 25503—Producers: Sam Kinison-Elliot Abbott-Mark Linett—List: 8.98—Bar Coded

Engorged with X-rated glee, Kinison puts a scathing bright light on just about every privately held taboo in the book. Vulgar to many, his comedy is often enlightening social criticism.

COLIN NEWMAN—Commercial Suicide—Enigma ST-73245—Producer: not listed—List: 8.98—Bar Coded

Former Wire singer/writer in his fourth solo effort, first with U.S. distribution. The songs have a brutal elegance, directness and intelligence. For Wire fans and modern ears.

MARK RENNER—All Walks Of This Life—The Gate International TGI-003—Producers: Mark Renner-John Grant—List: 8.98

Side One reminds one of Eno, Virginia Astley and other experimental instrumentalists; a gentle synthesizer voyage detailing simple emotions as well as grand landscapes. For electronic music mavins and the adventurous new age consumer. Side Two contains four vocal songs ala Felt, Eyeless In Gaza, et al

VICTIMS FAMILY—Voltage & Violets—Mordam MDR 3—Producers: Ruth Schwartz-Victims Family—List: 8.98

This is thorny hardcore played with uncommon virtuosity by jazz trained and smart quartet from N. California.

THE COLOR OF MONEY—The Original Motion Picture Soundtrack—Mercury 6189—Producers: Various—List: 9.98—Bar Coded

The hit movie has a potent soundtrack lineup, led off by rock radio favorite, "Who Cares This Place," by Don Henley. The set is filled out with cuts by Robert Palmer, Eric Clapton, Mark Knopfler and Warren Zevon.

THE SHAPE OF THE LAND—Various Artists—Windham Hill WH-1055—Producer: Elliot Mazer—List: 9.98—Bar Coded

This beautiful and icy album contains music from the soundtrack to a Japanese film about Arctic explorer Naomi Uemura. It features Windham Hill artist Philip Aaberg doing most of the score, joined by labelmates Michael Hedges and William Ackerman on a few songs.

SANFORD PONDER—Tigers Are Brave—Private Music 2012—Producer: Sanford Ponder—List: 9.98—Bar Coded

Sequenced synthesizers in a dramatic, sweeping new age record destined for widespread acceptance.

FAIRPORT CONVENTION—Expletive Delighted!—Varrick VR-029—Producer: Fairport Convention—List: 8.98—Bar Coded

Late 60s pioneers of the British traditional music scene in an instrumental package of reels and jigs and other fun stuff. Former member Richard Thompson joins in on one tune.

ONE WAY—IX—MCA 5823—Producer: Eumir Deodato—List: 8.98—Bar Coded

Jazzy and sophisticated R&B with a decidedly cool, urban romanticism.

ROBERT CRAY—Strong Persuader—Mercury 830 568—Producers: Bob Bromberg-Dennis Walker—List: 8.98—Bar Coded

Phenomenal young blues guitarist in his major label debut. Cray combines the elements of blues grit with pure lyrical melodicism sculpting a tempting commercial creation.

SINGLE RELEASES

OUT OF THE BOX

BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN (Columbia CS7-2557)

War (3:15) (Stone Agate/BMI) (B. Strong-V. Whitfield) (Producers: Bruce Springsteen-Jon Landau-Chuck Plotkin)

One of the undisputed high points of last year's "Born In The U.S.A." tour was his bone jarring version of the Edwin Starr anti-war classic. This single is the first lifted from the radio/retail/media event of the year, Springsteen's five-record boxed extravaganza, "Live/1975-85." CHR in 1986 would have ignored a rocking cut like this if not for Springsteen. Thankfully, his universal appeal and commercial power has forced the record onto about every playlist in the land.

OUT OF THE BOX

PETER GABRIEL (Geffen 7-28503)

Big Time (4:24) (Clifone-Hidden Pun/BMI) (Peter Gabriel) (Producers: Daniel Lanois-Peter Gabriel)

The third single from "So" is this slick and elastic rhythm-based groove. It features Gabriel in a characteristic lyrical goldmine delivering a passionate, believable vocal. "Big Time" is perhaps the most effervescent, accessible song from the album and should correspondingly keep the former Top-Five album afloat on the charts.

OUT OF THE BOX

THE HUMAN LEAGUE (A&M AM-2893)

I Need Your Loving (3:43) (Flyte Tyme/ASCAP) (J. Harris III-T. Lewis-D. Elland-L. Richey-D. Williams-H. Davis) (Producers: Jimmy Jam-Terry Lewis)

The Human League follows up its Top Five pop and R&B single, "Human," with this burning funk groove directed again by the Minneapolis production team of Jimmy Jam and Terry Lewis. There is barely a trace of the "new wave" sound of "Don't You Love Me Baby" that launched their career, but their steady growth into new musical forms is paying off handsomely for the British dance band.

OUT OF THE BOX

MELBA MOORE (Capitol B-5651)

Falling (4:20) (Rightsong-Frannie Gold-Gene McFadden-Summa adm by Arista/BMI) (F. Gold-G. McFadden) (Producer: Gene McFadden)

The silky rich voice of Moore in an emotionally uplifting performance. Her restrained passion fills every moment of this soulful ballad with a tension that builds to the song's climax. A perfect BC single with strong AC/CHR cross potential.

FEATURE PICKS

VAN HALEN (Warner Bros. 7-28505)

Best Of Both Worlds (3:58) (Yessup/ASCAP) (Edward Van Halen-Sammy Hagar-Michael Anthony-Alex Van Halen) (Producers: Van Halen-Mick Jones-Donn Landee)

The multi-platinum Van Halen wagon rolls along and it is certainly going to get a boost from this blistering single. Again, the guitar wizardry of Eddie Van Halen charges through the grooves of this song. Sammy Hagar's stacked and soaring vocals are impressive as well, layered over a chugging, rock and roll freight train rhythm section.

SLY STONE (A&M AM-2890)

Ek-Ah-Bo-Static Automatic (3:20) (Stoneflower) (Sly Stone) (Producers: Billy Valentine-Sly Stone-Bryan Loren)

Sly's contribution to Soul Man is a mile-wide-smile of a steamy funk cut. He has managed to update his sound without losing any of the old Sly and the Family Stone good feeling.

ARETHA FRANKLIN (Arista AS1-9546)

Jimmy Lee (4:10) (Gratitude Sky/ASCAP) (N.M. Walden-J. Cohen-P. Glass-A.L. Walden) (Producer: Narada Michael Walden)

Franklin follows her Top 25 remake of "Jumpin' Jack Flash" with this uptempo, blues-flavored tune. Her trademark sterling vocals soar again.

CHAKA KHAN (Warner Bros. 7-28576)

Tight Fit (4:15) (April/ASCAP-Blackwood-Henry Suemay/BMI) (Bunny Siegler-Marvin Morrow) (Producers: Russ Titelman-Arif Mardin)

A slow, funky percolation brews under Khan's unparalleled singing on this latest from "Destiny." An instantly accessible, grooving chorus raises the temperature on this one just right for BC and CHR.

ROD STEWART (Warner Bros. 7-28625)

Every Beat Of My Heart (4:39) (Rod Stewart adm by Intersong-Black Lion-Kevin Savigar/ASCAP) (R. Stewart-K. Savigar)

Stewart is back with a rock ballad that shimmers with solid production values and the singer's trademark grainy voice.

SMOKEY ROBINSON (Tamla 1868)

Love Will Set You Free (4:10) (Taj Mahal adm by Jobete/ASCAP) (W. "Smokey" Robinson-I. Stone) (Producers: William "Smokey" Robinson-Mark Davis)

Smokey's classic voice in an inspirational and appealing single from the soon-to-be-released film, Solarbabies.

SKIPWORTH AND TURNER (Warner Bros. 7-28527)

Won't Get No Better (3:48) (MCA-Virgin/ASCAP) (Robyn Smith-Barry Blue) (Producer: Ron "Have Mercy" Kersey)

From the underdiscovered self-titled debut LP, talented duo takes another shot at BC with this punchy single.

BONNIE TYLER (Columbia 38-06527)

Band Of Gold (4:28) (Gold Forever adm by Blackwood/BMI) (R. Dunbar-E. Wayne) (Producer: Jim Steinman)

With grit and gravel, Tyler infuses the Freda Payne classic with a new fire. Should be a hit.

LOOSE ENDS (MCA 52976)

Slow Down (4:06) (MCA-Brampton-Virgin/ASCAP) (McIntosh-Nichol-Eugene) (Producer: Nick Martinelli)

British R&B group in a sensual grooving confection. Cool and sexy, right for urban radio and dance clubs.

JEFFREY OSBORNE (A&M AM-2894)

In Your Eyes (3:15) (Prince Street-ATV adm by CBS/ASCAP) (Michael Masser-Dan Hill) (Producer: Michael Masser)

With impeccable commercial taste, Osborne wields one of pop/R&B's more formidable voices. His touch graces this lavishly produced AC/BC/CHR single.

UB40 (A&M AM-2898)

Rat In Mi Kitchen (4:39) (New Claims) (UB40) (Producer: UB40)

Pop/reggae with an infectious beat perfect for dance clubs and adventurous radio.

BRUCE MANIA—Columbia Records sees no lack in sales, buyouts or no buyouts. As it has in the rest of the country, the madness over Springsteen's live package has caused a flurry of excitement on the West Coast.

MADNESS—Suffering the tragic withdrawal symptoms of "Bruce abuse," a fan gets crazy when stocks of the new album run low.

Quaint anecdotes of "Bruce mania" incidents at record stores abound, even stories of violence. Indeed, Columbia has hit on a Christmas buying season bonanza unheard of since Cabbage Patch dolls. Mob scenes have been reported at local one-stops . . . as early as 5am, no less! And, of course, price wars have erupted, with tags ranging from Tower Records' $19.99 (LP) to $24.99 (LP) at Music Plus (CD prices have varied accordingly, starting at around $33). An actual fist fight broke out at the Sherman Oaks Tower outlet when supplies ran low. Was it the current rash of Santa Ana winds (known for mysteriously increasing L.A.'s crime rate) that caused the fracas, or is this album worth a broken jaw? I mean, sure, it's a great recording and all, but it's not like we've never heard most these tunes before in one form or another. Geeze leweeze! Gone Platinum records in Thousand Oaks reports one young customer who paid the store's $20.98 LP price all in coins. Are kids breaking their piggy banks for this collection? I guess so. Still, stores do exist where Bruce Mania isn't all it's been cracked up to be. "It's a hype," said Jeff Platt, of the Canoga Park Moby Disc branch (the store sold 15 Springsteen albums the first day, as compared to the 400 LPs sold at the West Hollywood Tower the first day out). Nevertheless, Bruce Mania covers the nation, north and south and coast to coast like a storm of locusts, and folks are snatchin' up the record faster than you can misinterpret "Born In The U.S.A."

ROCK WALK—What a great idea! The ultimate promotion. What better way to get customers into your store, especially a guitar shop, than to create a shrine to music legends outside your door! We're talking about Rock Walk, the sidewalk hall of fame of handprints and signatures similar to that of the Hollywood Walk of Fame (and located in the same town, too). The tribute comes free of charge to inductees, and they're not paid to participate, either, but it's fairly obvious who benefits most from it. The Guitar Center, that's who, at 3500 Sunset Boulevard, outside which you'll find a whole lot of guitar ideas. Little Richard ard, who got his piece of the sidewalk November 13, on the occasion of the walk's 1st anniversary. Rock Walk's first inductees include such innovators as synthetic drumhead performer Remo Belli, drum mavin Bill Ludwig, Martin Guitar honcho C.F. Martin III, Marshall amplifier founder Jim Marshall, synthesized keyboard inventor Robert Moog, guitar great Les Paul, as well as such contemporary artists as Stevie Wonder and Eddie Van Halen.

IN PARTING—Encino's Bao Wow is becoming one of the muse biz chow houses of late (if you're into dim sum). It's owned by, among others, Weird Al Yankovic, Bernie Taupin and Elvira. The trendy, the hip, the terminally faaabolous have been spotted Eating It there with such notables as Tito and LaToya Jackson, Pat Benatar and Mick Fleetwood. Trouble is you have to enter The Valley to go there. Needless to say, I have never been . . . The Forum plays host to David Lee Roth,

IT'S NOT JUST A JOB—Pasadena's The New Marines, fresh from opening dates for Iggy Pop, The Woodentops and The Smithereens, come to Club Lingerie November 19.

Saturday, December 20 as part of his "Eat 'Em And Smile" tour. Cinderella opens . . . Coming to the Beverly Theatre in December are the McGarrigle sisters (Kate & Anna), along with Billy Bragg . . . while Miles Davis and Al Jarreau make it to the Universal Amphitheatre for a string of late December dates, including a New Year's Eve show.

Gregory Dobrin

Manhattan recording artist Robbie Nevil is exuberant about the way his career is shaping up. Seated on a couch in his manager's office, the face of the 24-year-old singer/songwriter registers a cross-section of emotions as he explains his reaction to the success of his debut self-titled LP. The emotions range from excitement, to pensiveness, to unbridled gratitude.

These days, the once struggling young artist has plenty to get excited, pensive and grateful about. "C'est La Vie," the first single from his self-titled debut LP is bulleting up the Cash Box Singles chart, and its accompanying video, artfully directed by Peter Care, has gone into active rotation on MTV.

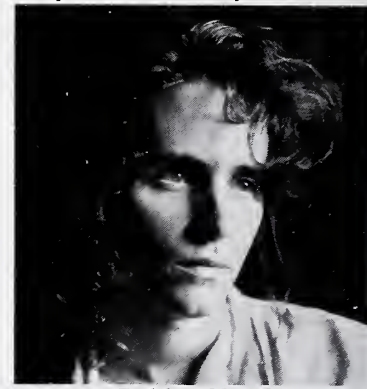

"I'm being played in other cities that I've never even heard of. I feel like I better get in the car and go travel just so I can find out about these places!" he enthusiastically joked. For the L.A. born-and-bred musician, positive feedback to the album is a dream come true, the ultimate payoff. He savors every moment. "People ask me what it's like to hear myself on the radio. I say, 'It's the best.'"

Not that Robbie Nevil has never had a song recorded before. His tunes have been covered by the Pointer Sisters, Sheena Easton, Al Jarreau, El DeBarge, Vanity - he even had a cut on the "We Are The World" LP. But it was an artist deal that Nevil had originally intended for himself, and through his songwriting, an artist deal was what he finally got. "Many things can be a means to an end," he commented. "That's the nice thing about this industry. It's kind of like going fishing. You throw out the lines you can, and they all kind of connect."

The signing happened by chance, and it happened at a time when Nevil had more or less put his own recording ambitions on hold. After submitting some new material for artists on the Capitol roster, he got a call from one of the label's a&r people who had heard his tape. A meeting was scheduled. Nevil was asked if he'd be interested in an artist deal. "Of course!" he replied. "That's what I was interested in initially!" Then he was introduced to Manhattan Records founder Bruce Lundvall, who said he wanted to sign him as the first artist on the new label.

Nevil is the first to admit the fairy-tale qualities of this story. "The whole thing was so extraordinary, after all those years of wanting it so bad, and doing anything I could. And at that particular time it was no longer the main goal. It was so easy. I couldn't help but smile. It was like a dream."

Nevil grew up listening to the radio. When he sang too loudly in his grammar school singing class, the school principal took notice, and asked him to sing at graduation. He picked up a real guitar after years of playing "air guitar" to his favorite records, which included everything from Led Zeppelin to Motown. Songwriting came naturally.

Now, with a label deal under his belt, all of the elements of his craft, including live performing (though there are no tour plans at present), have finally gelled. The album was recorded in London, and produced by Alex Sadkin, with ex-Cure member Phil Thornally. Nevil waited a year and a half to work with the much-in-demand Sadkin, whose credits include the Thompson Twins, Duran Duran and Grace Jones, but the more he listened to Sadkin's work, the more he wanted to work with him. The wait was worth it. "Alex sees what you see, and embellishes it," he remarked. The result is an R&B inflected pop album, featuring a direct, gutsy approach, led by Nevil's soulful, energized vocals. Clearly, after years of having to farm it out to foster parents, Nevil's music is very much his own.

Stanley Clarke: Return To Fusion

By Lee Jeske

"I feel that right now is a nice period for people who play instrumental music," says Stanley Clarke. "There's kind of a resurgence, people are kind of taking notice of it again. It's funny, it happens every 10 years. I have no idea why - it's the stupidest thing ever - but, hey, that's the way it is."

Hey, so Stanley Clarke - the sultan of the electric bass - is cooling off on his r&b projects, slowing down on his producer-for-hire gigs, and getting ready to jump back into fusion waters. "Hideaway," his latest Epic LP, which Stanley terms a "transitional album," features such mavens of instrumental jazz fusion (or almost-jazz fusion) as Stanley

Jordan, Herbie Hancock, Stewart Copeland, George Howard, and Alphonso Johnson. He credits an openness on the part of audiences to instrumental music as the catalyst for its "resurgence."

"It's a nice period again. See, for me, this is the second one. Because when Return To Forever came out, when the whole fusion thing came out, it was amazing what happened. It happened so fast: It went up really fast, everybody made a whole lot of money real fast, and then when it died it died fast. It was like "vroom!" and it was over. It was really, really something. I have a feeling that

Duran Duran Is 'Notorious' For Going Platinum

By Paul Iorio

NEW YORK — Duran Duran is back. "Notorious" (Capitol), the band's first LP since '84's "Arena," is likely to become their fifth platinum album in as many years. The first single is the title track, accompanied by a video directed by Peter Kagen and Paula Wolf, and other tracks sound like potential singles as well.

Though drummer Roger Taylor and guitarist Andy Taylor are no longer with the band, Simon LeBon, Nick Rhodes, and John Taylor stay true to the sound that first made them successful. Steve Ferrone, formerly of The Average White Band and Frankie Politti, is the drummer on "Notorious," and Nile Rodgers and Warren Cuccurullo play lead guitar (Andy Taylor is featured on four tracks). The result is a ten-track collection that is as percussive and melodic as anything the group has ever done.

The song "Notorious," which was reportedly one of the last cuts recorded for the album, seems certain to be a hit, and the other songs on the album will have appeal for Durannies as well. "Skin Trade" is perhaps the catchiest and most oddly effective, while the other songs run a wide gamut ranging from the McCartney-esque "So Misad" to the moody "Winter Marches On." "I'm a restless sort of person in that I can't bare to be doing the same thing for too long," Nick Rhodes told Cash Box some months ago. "Meaning that what's great about being in a group is that we do writing and recording and playing live and doing videos."

This restlessness has resulted in Rhodes and the other band members engaging in extra-curricular projects. Last fall, Rhodes, LeBon, and Roger Taylor formed Arcadia and recorded a successful album called "So Red The Rose." Prior to that, John and Andy Taylor made an album with The Power Station which had two hit singles in "Some Like It Hot" and "Bang A Gong (Get On)." Indeed one can see the influence of Power Station on "Notorious"'s "Proposition," and hints of Arcadia on "Winter Marches On."

"I have been listening to a lot of experimental music," said Rhodes after the release of "So Red The Rose." "Some of it is obscure just for the hell of it and some of it is very original. What I'd like to do is combine more of the originality with something that relates to people, something that is slightly accessible. Because I still have an urge to communicate with people and I think it's always important to move music on to something else. I like things to be very modern. I don't like things that take too many ideas from the sixties or rock roots. I like something that maybe develops in sound but is still a damned good song."

For all his experimental leanings, Rhodes has kept it accessible on "Notorious," which should go a long way toward expanding this band's already solid commercial base. Another thing that has "moved forward" the Duran sound is the addition of Nile Rodgers as co-producer of the album. He affords some songs a percussive authenticity that may take some people by surprise.

Video has played an important part in this band's development from the time of their 1981 self-titled debut album to their current 'performance' video for "Notorious." In fact, this band could be called one of the first bands of the video age. "I like video," said Rhodes. "I think Duran Duran really pioneered it and moved it into new areas, but I think we always had our priorities right as well, that the song was the most important thing. Now I think it's time for a little more simplistic videos."

Duran Duran's tour in support of "Notorious," slated for a February kick-off, will begin in Australia, and will swing around to Japan and the U.S. later in the year. Certainly their repertoire — whether from '82's "Rio," '83's "Seven and The Ragged Tiger," '84's "Arena," or their debut album — will be more hit-packed than ever. Not only that but Rhodes said that "I would hope that we'd include both Arcadia and Power Station songs as well." But, clearly, the focus will be on "Notorious" — and a band that has a notorious reputation for going platinum.

CHRONIC MURMURING — R.E.M.'s first of two sold-out Felt Forum concerts (11/06) was much better than their show last year at Radio City, but not quite as riveting as their show the year before at the Beacon Theatre. What made it better than last year's was the inclusion of songs from "Murmur" (IRS), their best album, and "Lifes Rich Pageant" (IRS), their second best album. What made it worse than the Beacon show was that Michael Stipe, the most compelling and charismatic member of the band, was not always the focus onstage. Instead, this show was often more of a group effort, and on such songs as "Fall On Me" and "Maps and Legends," Bill Berry and Mike Mills's lush harmonies nearly upstaged Stipe. On another song, "Superman," the tune's co-writer, Gary Zekley, helped out on vocals, relegating Stipe to the wings. Evidently, R.E.M. has become democratized and that is both good and bad.

It is good because Mills and Berry can harmonize like nobody's business, and it is bad because consistent focus is sacrificed, the focus being Stipe who gives the band its enigmatic cachet. But when they play together as a unit, with Stipe dominating, the results can be as great as folk-rock gets. "Pilgrimage," for example, was done just the way one might want them to play it, with every hook in place and the tension of the final verse spilling over into the chorus. And the centrifugal "Pretty Persuasion" was exhilarating and positively irresistible. Though garage folk is what they do best, there is a goopy, paisley element to this band ("Flowers Of Guatemala") that shows up every now and then like some unwelcome party-crasher. But for the most part they keep that impulse at bay — which is more than they were able to do with the audience, which kept crowding the area in front of the stage. At one point, the crowd up front was getting so badly crushed that the band had to break off an encore of "Driver 8" while Stipe helped an injured fan backstage. Indeed, devotion to this band is fanatical, and it's but a matter of time before that translates into top ten success.

READY FOR PRIME TIME — The Feelies opened the show and were joined by R.E.M. guitarist Peter

Buck for a cover of The Beatles's "She Said, She Said." (One could suddenly hear the striking similarity between the guitar riff in that song and the one Buck plays in "Begin The Begin.") Some years ago, The Feelies were a big influence on a nascent R.E.M.; today, it's the other way around. Whatever the case, The Feelies sound is more effortless and natural than R.E.M.'s and that plays well in concert. Songs like "Slipping (Into Something)" and "On The Roof" ("The Good Earth"/Coyote) are infectiously rhythmic, while others, like "The Last Roundup," make novel use of vocal and guitar textures. Gauging from the crowd's enthusiastic reaction to the forty minute set, a major label deal can't be too far off.

THE RAMONES LIVE! — The rockin' Ramones gave one of their patented non-stop shows at the Ritz November 8, unleashing a sound and fury that still serves them well after nearly twelve years, going onetwothreefour into "Teenage Lobotomy," "Psychotherapy," "Rock 'N' Roll High School," "Glad To See You Go," all without a break, and, get this, even playing lost-in-the-cracks classics like "Carbona Not Glue" and "I Don't Care" (which still has only nine words in the lyric), while de-Spectorizing "Rock 'N' Roll Radio" and metalizing "The KKK Took My Baby Away" and "Mama's Boy," before Joey Ramone again onetwothreees it into "Today Your Love, Tomorrow The World," "Rockaway Beach," and "Cretin Hop," dedicating "Sheena" to the "tenth anniversary of punk," letting Dee Dee Ramone sing the hard-core "Let's Go," bringing on a 'Gabba Gabba Hey' placard for "Pinhead," and then declaring "We're A Happy Family" to an audience that couldn't agree more after thirty-five songs in seventy minutes flat, some kind of record.

CLAPTON AT RITZ — Eric Clapton in clubland? That's what's going to happen November 23 and 24 at the Ritz.

TRAGEDY — Horace Burrell of the Atlantic Records publicity department passed away Nov. 1 at the age of 36. Those who knew him are filled with a sense of loss, and will long remember his easygoing charm and quick wit. A statement from Atlantic Records sums up the feelings of all who knew him: "His warmth and kindness and great humor will always be a part of our lives and the life of Atlantic Records, and for that we are so very thankful."

FLASHY DO, ELTON—Roy Orbison is pictured admiring Elton John's remarkable hairdo and stage attire backstage on the opening night of John's seven sold-out dates at L.A.'s Universal Amphitheatre in October. Orbison, who releases a new studio LP next year, is unlikely to trade in his trademark black glasses for a flashy Amadeus "do," but he was quick to point out how good John looked in Fuschia.

Emerson, Lake & Powell

THE GREEK THEATRE/PACIFIC AMPHITHEATRE, L.A.—To the delight of thousands of eager, adoring fans, Keith Emerson, Greg Lake and Cozy Powell (Powell having replaced Carl Palmer as the band's drummer/percussionist) made a triumphant return to Southern California with supercharged two-hour performances at both The Greek Theatre and Pacific Amphitheatre.

Better known as ELP, the band established itself in the 70's as one of the leading practitioners of classical/rock music relying almost exclusively on the keyboard expertise of Emerson for its musical identity.

Despite a several year-long absence since disbanding in the late 70's, and despite the many critics who castigate ELP as being pompous, pretentious and unimaginative, a group couldn't ask for a more loyal following of fans and friends than those who attended its concerts during this recent tour.

And so it was, appropriately, in this reunion-like atmosphere, that some of the loudest cheers rang out during the opening number, "The Score," as Lake belted out the lyrics, "it's been so long your welcome back my friends, to the show that never ends." Emerson, Lake & Powell responded in turn to the crowds enthusiastic approval and gave them a stirring version of their epoch "Pirates" from the "Works Vol. 1" LP. For hardcore ELP fans, "Pirates" was truly one of the highlights for it was previously performed during the unsuccessful, short-lived "Works" tour that featured a complete orchestra. The orchestra was certainly not missed and if anything, these performances conveyed an even greater flair for the song's swashbuckling theme.

While there were some younger fans drawn to the show, the majority of fans most likely were the same that rallied to ELP shows in the early and mid 70's. No stones were left unturned as the group gave its fans everything from "Tarkus" to "Lucky Man" and other ELP chestnuts like "Still You Turn Me On," "From The Beginning," "Knife Edge" and "Fanfare For The Common Man" to mention a few. However, in addition to the old ELP pleasers, songs from the new album like "The Score," "Touch And Go" and "Mars" were received equally well.

Welcome back my friends to the show that never ends. Based upon the crowd's

Steve Earle

THE BOTTOM LINE, NYC — At his Halloween show here, Steve Earle debuted seven new songs from an as-yet untitled album he'll record in January and release next April or May. Many of these new songs emphasize the rock aspect of his country-rock, and a couple of them sound like instant classics. If this show was any indication, Earle's follow-up to "Guitar Town" (MCA) will be a major industry event.

The big question is whether he has come up with songs that equal "Someday," "Good Ol' Boy (Gettin' Tough)," and "Guitar Town." Apparently, he has. "Sweet Little 66" is the best of the new batch, scaling down Springsteen themes to Chuck Berry size with a ferocity that would burn ears in Opryland. "Nowhere Road" is the best lyrically, a kind of 'Desolation Row Revisited' about a boomerang road of life that "don't go nowhere/it just takes you back again." "I Love You Too Much" is pure Buddy Holly roots-pop, "Angry Young Man" is a melodic, harmonica-driven tune, and "San Antonio Girl" has more than a hint of The Beatles and mid-sixties farfisa pop.

But the new album is months away, and most of the crowd came to hear Earle perform "Guitar Town" songs. From the moment he opened with the title track, Earle played it raw and fast, articulating every musical surface and depth with an exquisite precision that suggested the E Street Band, particularly with Harry Stinson's "Born In The USA" drumming on "Someday" and Ken Moore's bell-like keyboard work on the touching "Little Rock 'n' Roller." Earle even covered Springsteen's "State Trooper" and when he sang "the radio's jammed up with talk show stations" Moore created a deserted highway feel with some icy, three-in-the-morning organ fills.

While Springsteen characters are often just passing through on a highway trek to nowhere, Earle's characters know the local roads, drink the local beer, and can smell the speed traps half a mile away — in short, they live around here. There is transience, yes, but there's also a sense of regional allegiance that is so provincial it's universal. Perhaps that's why Earle has crossed over from the country to the rock charts with ease, and is equally compatible touring with both George Jones and The Replacements.

On the cover of "Guitar Town" Earle is pictured with a guitar that has a broken D-string. At this show, Earle broke no less than three strings, and one song was even interrupted while a roadie handed him a new guitar — which is testament to his intensity. Earle thrashes his acoustic as if he were trying to make it sound like a strat or a percussive instrument. He may sing with a twang, and write songs about 'good 'ol boys,' but he's a rocker in the purest sense of the word, as this concert and his new songs attest.

American Jazz Orchestra

GREAT HALL, COOPER UNION, NYC—The American Jazz Orchestra, the jazz repertory band founded by jazz critic Gary Giddins, got off to a somewhat slow start earlier this year, but the band fell into line for its debut concert of the '86-'87 season, "A Tribute To Benny Goodman." The band, remarkably, sounded like a band (something it didn't at its debut) as it purred through the program of Goodman Big Band chestnuts with sleek aplomb.

The case for jazz repertory — something fiercely debated at the AJO's debut — was clearly made here. The Goodman charts — by such marvelous arrangers as Fletcher Henderson, Eddie Sauter, Jimmy Mundy, Mel Powell, and Edgar Sampson — are best heard live, with a well-greased big band swinging the hell out of them. Music director John Lewis this time had the right guys for the job — can one imagine a better big band trombone section than Jimmy Knepper, Jack Jeffers, and Urbie Green? — and he whipped them into major league shape. The rhythm section — Dick Katz, Rufus Reid, and Kenny Washington — was spry and elastic, and the choice to fill Goodman's clarinet shoes — Walt Levinsky — was a wise one: Levinsky's rich sound is pure Goodman and his own musical personality was subsumed here, without being compromised, into that of Goodman's. (Levinsky also served as guest conductor — John Lewis had to make a Modern Jazz Quartet gig across town.)

But the stars of the evening were, naturally, the arrangements: some of the swinging jazz arrangements ever made. Such favorites as Henderson's charts of "King Port Stomp," "Let's Dance," "Down South Camp Meeting," and "Stealin' Apples," Eddie Sauter's challenging later charts — things like "Clarinet a la King," and the marvelously-performed "Benny Rides Again" and Mel Powell's lesser-known, but no less effective, "The Earl" and "I'm Here," were given a wonderfully exuberant spin by the band. Solos were kept properly short, with such players as Green, Knepper, Katz, saxophonist Loren Schoenberg, and trumpeter Virgil Jones making good use of their given spots.

The concert opened with "Tribute Benny," a concerto for clarinet and jazz orchestra commissioned from Bob Brookmeyer, with BMI's help, expressly for the AJO. The concerto combined Goodman's que swing passages with warm pastels — had the unmistakable stamps of both Goodman and Brookmeyer — and it showed that the AJO has more up its sleeve than jazz repertory. Today's equivalents of the Hendersons and Sauters of yesteryear are out there and this band can develop into an outlet for their work: they certainly seemed to do justice to Brookmeyer's fine piece.

The American Jazz Orchestra carefully avoided one of the pitfalls of jazz repertory: it so easily fell into at its debut several months ago: the idea that a mixed group of jazz personalities can overnight be transformed into a band. One needs team players — the right team players — to make a team. The young American Jazz Orchestra, which will offer its next concert December 1, seems to, after a bumpy maiden voyage, be ready to take flight.

UK BUZZ

The UK music industry had been counting on the government to introduce a levy on blank tapes. Frantic lobbying has been going on in the hope of speeding up the process—all to no avail. The cabinet committee has pushed aside the copyright bill, which included the levy proposals, claiming the next Parliament session is already overcrowded.

BPI director general John Deacon is furious. He predicts "a kind of anarchy in the realm of copyright reform if the outdated and largely unenforceable 1956 act is not reformed."

The Performing Rights Society, the Musicians Union, and an impressive array of publishing bodies are all behind the BPI push for the bill to go through.

"Our industries say that it is absolutely essential that this bill go before Parliament this year," says Deacon, who fears that the opportunity for radical copyright reform may be lost for years.

Iggy Pop is in London rehearsing for his world tour, which starts in December. His performances have always been legendary, although this time he says he will not be taking his clothes off.

"I have always wanted to give a good performance. I've been to so many gigs where the band on stage was said to be in town. Their bodies were there and their product was on sale, but they were somewhere else.

"What happens at my gigs happens in my soul and the soul of the audience.

"I don't think I am going to drop my trousers this tour. I now try to get the same strength out of my sobriety as I did out of my drug use. I have been a singer for 18 years and I have gone full circle. When I started off I was the same as I was now. I looked the same, I had the same weight and the same hair. I graduated into drugs and more drugs and the side effects caught up with time."

He puts his reformed character down to his Japanese wife, Suchi.

"She was taught me a lot about quiet and sustained effort, which is something I had when I was 19 and lost."

Iggy explains his personality is best summed up in two childhood memories.

"When I was three, I was in a little blue sailor suit and I was with my parents visiting my mother's friend and she said, 'And since we had Jimmy...,' and I started screaming 'waah!' and I said, 'You didn't have me, I don't belong to you, I was sent here.' I said, 'I am from Mars!', and I think that was very indicative of a certain line of thinking.

"When I was in the third grade, I had a sourpuss teacher, who said I was hyperactive and couldn't stand seeing me running around the class and I wouldn't shut up. I don't remember being this way, but, then again, I don't remember half my adult life. She took me and sat me down in my chair and she bound me in class, round and round and around—it must have been 100 times—with bright red string. I remember that very vividly. I have a very fond memory of that, I think it affected me. It made me a little bit kinky, I thought to myself proudly, 'Hey, I'm in the red string...'"

Recommended: The Weather Prophets new single (Creation) "Naked as the Day You Were Born." It is compelling, haunting, and very Velvet Underground, but there is nothing wrong with that.

Not to be missed: Furniture's new album (Stiff) "The Wrong People." Classic, beautifully-constructed ballads like "Love Your Shoes" and "Brilliant Mind" sit tight between the wafting saxophones on the looser, jazzier tracks. The love song "I Miss You" portrays wincing vulnerability. Sad, simply lyrics are back with a sparse and soulful piano, bass and sax. The kind of song that writer Jim Irvin admits he is embarrassed to listen to. He is at his best when he wears his hear on this sleeve. The maudlin tracks are infinitely more interesting than the smug, uptempo ones.

WHAT'S WHY I'M HERE — CBS recording artist James Taylor recently completed a concert tour of Brazil. During his stay in Rio, Taylor held a press conference at which he was awarded Brazilian gold record awards for "That's Why I'm Here." THE BEE GEES AND W-BEE—At the media reception announcing the Bee Gees signing to Warner Bros. Records, a smiling cast of characters assembled for a group portrait. Pictured with a terminal case of the grins (l-r) Back row: Gary Borman and Harriet Sternberg of Kragen & Co.; Barry Gibb; Warner Bros. chairman Mo Ostin; Robin Gibb; and Ken Kragen. Front Row: Producer Arif Mardin and Maurice Gibb. The brothers Gibb release their first Warner Bros. LP early next year.

BLACK CONTEMPORARY

A LOT OF MUSIC—Melba Moore is shown here with Freddie Jackson on the set of Soul Train, along with the show's host, Don Cornelius. On the show, Moore performed her current hit single, "Falling," from her Capitol LP, "A Lot Of Love." She also performed her #1 R&B single, "A Little Bit Moore," a duet with Freddie Jackson, also from the album. Pictured (l-r) are: Jackson, Moore and Cornelius.

ALBUM ALLEY

Bruce Springsteen & The E Street Band Live/1975-85—Columbia re-record set focusing on ten years of Springsteen live shows.
1st single "War" is this weeks CHARTBREAKER at #44 bullet.

Delter—Lane Justice—Geffen underkind Maria McKee returns with a revamped band and slightly altered sound this, the fall-up to their acclaimed 1985 debut album. LP is chock-full of DR gems.

Blackbird—Debbie Harry—Geffen re-punk rock diva makes an impressive return to the recording scene with this high tech album. "French Kissin'," the first single, charts this week at #88 bullet.

Forever—Kaal & The Gang—Mercury single "Victory," (bullet at #40 this week) should propel this strang follow-up to 1984's multi-platinum release "Emergency."

ON THE CIRCUIT

ROCK 'N' ROLL DAY IN L.A.: November 13th marks the first year anniversary of Rock 'n' Roll Day as proclaimed by Mayor Tom Bradley. To celebrate the event, Little Richard will be honored by adding his hand prints and signature to the ROCK WALK located in front of the Guitar Center on Sunset Boulevard in Hollywood. The ceremony promises top rockers as well as the master of ceremonies Gary Owens, and will preview Little Richard's new album "Lifetime Friend" which is due out December 8th. The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has a committee which selects those who have 'proved' the way for great rock. Previous rockers to be preserved in cement include: Steve Wonder, Eddie Van Halen, Les Paul, Robert Moog, C.F. Martin III, Jim Marshall and Bill Ludwig. Soon to be inducted are: Rod Stewart, Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young, Ricky Nelson, Elvis Presley and Jimi Hendrix.

HALL OF FAME: The National Association of Broadcasters is accepting nominations from its radio members for two inductees into NAB's Radio Hall of Fame. NAB Radio Board Chairman Bev E. Brown, owner/manager, KGAS, Corthoge, TX said, "This is an excellent opportunity for broadcasters to publicly salute the accomplishments of the champions in the industry. I urge all NAB radio members to participate."

The Hall of Fame was established in 1976 to recognize and honor those individuals who have made outstanding contributions to the radio industry. To be eligible for nomination a person may be involved in any area of radio broadcasting, must have been active in radio for at least 10 years and may be nominated posthumously if the person has been deceased for at least two years. Ballots have been mailed to members and must be returned by Dec 31st. Each broadcaster may nominate one person. Those receiving the most nominations will be reviewed by NAB's Board of Directors which will choose the two new members during its semi-annual meeting next February.

Last year's inductees were sportscaster Mel Allen and commentator Earl Nightingale.

'60 SECONDS IN ROCK': (San Francisco, CA) On November 10th, 97.3 KRQR The Rocker, will mark the debut of "60 Seconds In Rock", a chronological history of Rock 'N' Roll as it happened to the day, including biographical capsules and reviews of significant events. The show contains relevant points of interest about artists and their music spanning three decades of Rock 'N' Roll with an emphasis on the 60's and 70's. The show is hosted and produced by KRQR's Production Director, Mercy Hawkes.

BEATLEMANIA REVISITED: On November 26, a BBC special will air at 9 p.m. EST/PST on most PBS stations. Yoko Ono presents John Lennon: A Journey in the Life, a 60-minute dramatized version of the ex-Beatle's life starring Benji Lawrence and Tim McEnvoy as the childhood and teenage Lennon and Bernard Hill as the adult rock star.

During Thanksgiving week Westwood One Radio Network offers THE BEATLES: TWIST & SHOUT. The program features music and interviews, including Paul McCartney's most recent interview in which he discusses early days of Beatlemania and his songwriting partnership with John Lennon. The program runs 3 hours and is hosted by Roger Scott.

John Lennon In His Own Write, an hour-long special celebrating the career and music of this rock legend, will be broadcast the week of December 8th over Westwood One Radio Networks. The special, which marks the sixth anniversary of Lennon's murder on Dec. 8, 1980, will air without narration as Lennon himself talks about the early days of The Beatles, his relationship with Yoko Ono, and his hopes for the future, utilizing interviews that range from 1962 to shortly before his death.

ON THE MOVE: Rick Gillette will assume the position of Program Director for WHYT Power 96 FM/Detroit, on Monday, December 1st. Rick comes to WHYT with 12 years of radio experience. Most recently he held the position of Operations Manager for KSFM AM/FM in Sacramento, CA, and prior to that he held on-air and management posts at several West Coast stations including KWSS in San Jose and KGB in San Diego. Acting PD Michael Waite will remain at WHYT as Asst. PD. . . KDON in Solinas, CA has a new Program Director in the form of Jeff Hunter. Jeff's most recent post was as Music Director with KWOD in Sacramento, CA, where he hosted the afternoon drive. During his career in radio he has worked at KITS in San Francisco, and The Mighty 690 which broadcast throughout Southern California. . . Scott Lockwood has been promoted to Production Director at KFI-AM and KOST 103 FM in Los Angeles, CA. Laurie Sanders can now be heard 2am-6am weeknights on KOST 103 taking over Scott's previous shift. Laurie, prior to her promotion, served as weekend personality on KOST, and before joining KOST last March, she was on announcer at WLS AM/FM in Chicago and WISN in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Scott on the other hand, in addition to his new position will serve as weekend personality on KOST. During his radio career Scott worked on-air at KHS-FM, KUTE-FM, and KRTH-FM, all in Los Angeles. He also does a variety of freelance radio and television commercials, and is currently involved with a weekly show on KCOP-TV, "Meet Your Next Employer." . . .

RADIO LEGEND SCOTT MUNI (W)NEW GIG—East Coast radio legend Scott Muni, pictured here, will team up with KMET-FM's David Perry to host "One", Westwood One's weekly live hour of music, interview, and call-in program. Scott has been with WNEW-FM since its inception in 1967.

LOOP ABUSE: Chicago's LOOP 98, has just kicked off a PSA campaign against substance abuse. The campaign began with 10-second television spots against drinking and driving, featuring afternoon personalities Steve Da Garry Meier. In the PSA Steve says "When I drink, Gorry drives;" Gorry counters with, "When I drink, we crawl." The crawl across the screen reads "Don't Drink and Drive." Local TV stations are donating time to run the announcements, and the TV run is supported by a magazine and buscard. Gorry hopes that Chicago will have a much safer holiday season.

PROMOTION OF THE WEEK

CITY—HOUSTON, TX

STATION—KKHT-FM96.5

D.J.—Morning Man BOBBY MITCHELL salutes a different "Secretary of the Week" each Thursday morning.

PROM + OTION— HIT 96.5'S TRIBUTE TO THE "HARDEST WORKING PEOPLE IN THE WORLD"

Finally a contest to honor the real backbone of most organizations! KKHT is combing the city to search for Houston's hardest-working, most dedicated secretaries, and a different "life-saver" will be named each week. Winners receive a dozen roses and a Seiko watch worth $200.00 courtesy of Gordon's Jewelers. As DJ Mitchell comments, "Today's secretary, tomorrow CEO."

THE DEFINITIVE HISTORY OF ROCK AND ROLL

The CASHBOX Singles Charts, 1950-1981, a complete history of all the records to appear on the CASHBOX charts. This historic volume contains an alphabetical listing of all artists who appeared on the charts and includes the week it first appeared and all subsequent chart positions. Cross referenced by song title. Also compiled in this spectacular reference book are the top ten records of each year, the most chart hits by an artist, the most #1 hits by an artist, the most weeks at #1 by an artist, the most weeks at #1 by a single record, the records with the longest chart run and a chronological list of #1 records. An incomparable reference tool.

STEVE LOBEAU

with all the powers to get your station flying high again? Well, removing his glasses and stepping from the nearest phone booth is the answer to all your prayers.

His name is Steve LoBeau. He is a man who has logged many miles and many years in AM radio and he has recently formed AM Media Consultants, a firm devoted exclusively to helping AM radio stations. "During my years spent with AM radio it has become obvious that AM listening patterns have evolved in such a way that there are special needs and problems that need to be addressed," LoBeau comments.

A native Californian, LoBeau's career has taken him from the wilds of Colorado through stops in Las Vegas, Orlando, and Detroit before landing him back in Los Angeles, where he has served as Program Director at KFI-AM for the last 4 years.

LoBeau finds programming extremes to be one of the major problems with AM formats today: "A lot of AM stations are just grabbing at anything, and others have programmers more concerned with playing the Hot Hits than they are about really appealing to the demographics available and making more money for their radio station. Between these two extremes is programming that really does work."

In order to help fine-tune an AM station with problems, LoBeau has the important resource of experience to draw upon, and plans to use consistent programming and focused marketing to appeal to the big-bucks 35-49 demos. "Programming has to come first. You must define just who it is that you want listening to your station, then make sure that your programming is matching that audience," he insists. "If you have the right programming to reach the right audience, and you know how to properly market that radio station, then AM radio can and will continue to be a significant force. But you must market it so that it is successful as a business."

LoBeau plans to use his strategies to compete within the AM market for the most part, especially in the larger areas. However, he notes, "I do want to make myself available from small to major markets and each market will have different situations. The key is getting the right number of programming combinations together to grab new listeners and yet maintain a certain consistency and image for your station." He is sure that there are plenty of PD's across the country who would like to use that key to unlock the gateway to higher ratings.

"To my knowledge, there is nobody who is consulting AM and AM exclusively. I think we are unique. Hopefully the credibility I have established throughout the years in AM radio, as well as my willingness to work with AM radio and not just throw it by the wayside will carry some weight."

LoBeau speaks enthusiastically and optimistically about the future of AM radio, but warns that it must be overseen with patience and foresight if it is to be successful again. "It is a future that has to be forged with quality decisions and the commitment to stick with the decisions you've made and see them through to their completion. These changes will take some time to become visible, and it won't happen in one or two books."

So take heart all of you in AM-Radio land: the man of steel has landed, and programming that promises to increase your share and make you more profitable is just a phone call away. Steve LoBeau and AM Media Consultants can be reached in Los Angeles at (213) 857-8402, so pick up the phone and give them a call. Today.

okay, so you are a program director at an station. Your format is AOR (All Over the d), your ratings are dropping like a dirty and the new Classic Rock station in just stole your best jock. Isn't there any you can call; a sort of AM Superman

FLASH BOX

WHAT? A FREE CONCERT? WHAT A GREAT IDEA!—On September 18, Los Angeles' KLOS (95.5 FM) threw a free party for 14,000 of their closest friends at Irvine Meadows Amphitheatre. On hand to help power the bash were Jae Walsh and George Tharagaad, and there was much rejaicing. Shown above after the show are: Front Row- Tim Kelly, Ava Hubbard, Steven Smith, Ted Dawson and Lisa Kas, all of KLOS; Middle Row- Rita Wilde (KLOS), Ann Cerussi (KLOS), Jae Bensen (KLOS), Tharagaad, Gina Mitchellini (KLOS), Mark Margal (EMI), and Jahn High (EMI); and Lost Row- Tany Smith (EMI), Kurt Kelly (KLOS), Steve Owens (KLOS), and Cliff Schultz (EMI).

THERE'S A RATT IN ME KITCHEN...—Atlantic recording group Ratt crawled into New York City in support of their third LP (already certified gold) "Doncing Undercover." While deavouring the Big Apple, the boys stopped in to do "Rockline," the live call-in radio program. Shown above at the broadcast are the party animals involved, from left: "Rockline" associate producer Jimmy Fink, Atlantic's Director of National Promatation David Fleischman, and Ratt's Stephen Pearcy and Rabbinn Crasby.

IT'S STILL A WONDERFUL LIFE—The sincere one, Jimmy Stewart, will serve as the host far "Moonlight, Memories, and Miller," a three hour retrospective on the life and music of the hippest big band-er of them all, Glenn Miller, which is set to air over Thanksgiving weekend on the Mutual Braadcasting System. Pictured here are (l-r): Marcia Hrichisan, producer of the show; Stewart; and Gary Landis, director of programming far "Westwood One."

MILES DAVIS —Tutu—Worner Bros.	Mr. Draper has on out and out smash from Mr. Davis.
AL JARREAU —Tell Me What I'm Gonno Do—Warner Bros.	Another big one for Tom Draper & his pros.

IT'S YOU—EPA recording artist Carl Anderson (left) knows that Maurice Worfield, associate director EPA West has done an outstanding job promoting his latest release.

KEEP 'KOOL' ON CRACK!—Numerous performers and music industry professionals participated in a recent concert event and dinner party supporting the anti-crack movement in New York. Robert 'Kool' Bell, of Mercury/PolyGram recording group Kaal & The Gong, was spotted mingling with other luminaries at the post-concert reception hosted by radio station WRKS-"KISS"FM. He's pictured here on the right with Michael Bivins of New Edition (left) and Tany Gray, program director, KISS-FM (center).

HIGH PRIORITY

Doug Wilkins
National Director Jazz
Progressive Promotion
Columbia Records

Oran "Juice" Jones, "Curiosity," follow up single to one of the biggest records of the year "The Rain," just shipped and already getting immediate response. Full Force, "Unfaithful So Much," top 20 single receiving heavy airplay. Isaac Hayes, "Ike's Rap/Hey Girl," getting heavy phones and sales. James "D Train" Williams, "Misunderstanding," is going to become a major hit, busting out in New York. Manhattans, "Where Did We Go Wrong," featuring Regina Belle getting stronger every week with an average chart move of 15 points. Beastie Boys, "It's The New Style," with flip side "Paul Revere," is happening big. On the jazz side, the two Marsalis brothers, Wynton and Branford are receiving heavy airplay throughout the country. Keep your eyes and ear's open for the new album by Kent Jordan entitled "Night Aire". Stay tune for more hits from Columbia Records.

Maurice Warfield
Director of Black Music Marketing and Promotion
Epic Records

At EPA right now we are very excited. We entered the fourth quarter with hits by stars James Brown and MTUME. We've got up the S.O.S. Band and Krystal, both turned out to be tremendous successes. We have a smash on our new group Teasie "Wish You Were Here." Knowing what a time we had our big hits coming from Lue VanDross, "Stop To Love" and Carl Anderson, "Can't Stop The Feeling." To make things even better, we've another on Miami Sound Machine. Stacy Clarke has a tremendous album Hideaway. New artist Robin Anderson has a new album and is soon to be released titled "I'll Be Loving You Forever." EPA—Always bringing you the best...

IPC MEET-This was a really exciting week for yours truly. I had the pleasure of attending the Y.B.P.C. Young Black Programmers Coalition meeting in Houston. It gave me an opportunity to meet and meet many of the industry pros that I have known for several hundred hours as well as meet many for the first time face to face. Let me go on record and say that your comments, words and con, your present and future support has been and will always be graciously accepted, appreciated and needed in order to best serve the needs of the entertainment business. Hopefully, you can read and will share in my excitement over the expanded coverage that is being afforded blacks in the industry. (coverage that "WILL" grow bigger with "OUR" support). I know this is the most coverage for "us" via a "major publication" that I have seen in my 13 years in the business. A very very special salute, and "definite" commitment to do whatever possible to find as much support as needed, to the Young Black Programmers Coalition, the finest and most efficiently run organization dealing with the betterment of blacks in the business. Ladies and gentlemen let us support our Y.B.P.C.!

BELLS 1ST-This week saw the first official release from Al Bells' newly formed Edge Records, by Jay Blackfoot (of Taxi fame) titled "Urn." The response has been nothing short of absolutely sensational. Many stations started playing the record via the test pressing. Based on the response with airplay and sales orders coming in so quickly, I believe it is safe to say that an awful lot of industry people are very excited and pleased that this giant among men, and "brilliant" businessman, is back in the business that he knows and loves so very much. Mr. "B", on behalf of the many well wishers who have not spoken to you personally, may I convey their wishes for health, happiness and a very fruitful and successful return to the business that you have given so much to, not only entertainment but employment. "Al Bell, touched, influenced, employed many and really changed the course of the music business." "I know as you grow, having worked with you during the Stax days, that more unemployed pros will once again become employed," stated a Stax veteran

MET THE VOICE-This week was very special in that I met the multi-talented man who, at the tender age of 11, played piano on Jesse Belvins' hit "Goodnight My Love" record in 1956. Currently, he is very actively involved with KDAY radio Los Angeles in an effort to help curb gang violence. Having been a part of that life during his younger days, he speaks about gangs and violence with first hand knowledge. As an ex-program director, and a big fan of this gentleman, I was very excited to hear that he has signed a record deal with A&M Records and his first of many hits will be released in early 1987. Music lovers, it gives me G-R-E-A-T pleasure to say welcome back to the one and only, the maestro, Mr. Barry White!!

COMMODORES VISIT CASH-BOX-A very special thanks to Nar- velan Hunt, of PolyGram for bringing my fellow Tuskegeens Milan and William along with new "Mate" J.D. by Cash Box to talk about the tremendously positive airplay support and sales response they are receiving with their smash single "Goin' Ta The Bank" from their hit filled album "United" on Polydor records and tapes. Milon (The golfer, who has given me 18 strokes for our upcoming golf match, "I wish he would") reminded me, as much as I wanted to forget, how my knees were knocking while serving as M.C. for the show at the Cincinnati Gardens when The Cammadores were on opening act for the then Jackson Five. That is not (ha ha) funny Milan. Congratulations to these fine human beings, talented entertainers and one "almost" comedian on their initial success and new label affiliation. SCHOLARLY SINGERS-Industry veteran Paul Kyser, president of Trumpet Records, is all smiles considering the tremendous response he is receiving around the country with his hot teenaged group of scholarly singers called Infinity. These five young men are not only talented, but they are all "A" students in their respective grades in school. Their single titled "Come On And Be My Girl" is very well received with an impressive list of radio airplay around the country that is growing daily. Equally as impressive with airplay is the group Level Four and their rapid rising single titled "Are We On The Air." Paul Kyser is another in the long list of youthful veterans who knows how to find, refine, produce and market hit records. For more information or copies of those hits, contact Paul at (201) 539-9503. BASTION OF BRAINS AND BEAUTY-While gathering information and putting the thought processes in order to prepare this weeks column, I was listening to a song from the brilliant minds of Edward and Brian Holland's production company. The song, "Jealousy," by Heavy Traffic Starring "V" made me reflect on the many gifted and lovely ladies within the Atlantic structure. Certainly we have to start with the multi-talented lady that sits in one of the, if not the most, powerful positions in the record industry. When you speak of brains and beauty, you are speaking of Atlantic's vice president/general manager of black music, Ms. Sylvia Rhone, and Ms. Simo Doe, who guides all p.r. information into the right places regarding their many artists. Speaking of artists, check this brief list of talented and beautiful ladies: "V," the voice of Heavy Traffic, with a potential smash called "Jealousy," Micki Howard, formerly at Side Effect, with an octave range in the same class of the late Minnie Riperton, whose hit "Come share my Love," is happening big, Jenny Burton, with features reminiscent of Traci Ross (the big winner on Star Search, model category) last but not least, and certainly there are many others I just don't know all of the names and faces, Shannon, who scored a major success with "Let the music play." Maybe we should call the company, Atlantic Records, the home of many beauties and brains!

B/C PROFILES

Richard Mack
President/Catawba Record
Corporation

"Nothing is done overnight. It takes a lot of planning and hard work." R.M. After 20 years and two medals in the United States Coast Guard, Richard Mack retired as chief petty officer and decided that the music business was where he belonged. He wet his wings and his appetite in February of 1966 with Koppelman and Rubin Associates, N.Y., an associate of United Artists. After a year there, he was ready for Atlantic Records, N.Y. where he enjoyed the positions of not only assistant to the vice president, but also as national promotion director. Five years of Atlantic gave Richard the experience he needed to move to CBS Records where he was both the national promotion director for special markets and the vice president of national promotion.

Off to a great start, Richard had proved his way for what was yet to come.

In July of 1978, Richard went into business for himself as president and chief executive officer of a land development company called Nature's Development Corporation. So far to date, the company has developed some 400 tracts of land in South Carolina, and is starting up deals overseas, particularly in the Philippines and Barbados.

While he was getting his land development company off the ground, another very special project was also in the making. That project was Cotowbo Record Corporation which jumped quite strongly into the music scene in January of 1981.

Cotowbo has an exciting catalogue of artists including R. Justice Allen whose recent release entitled "Croakin' Up," has made it onto the Block Contemporary singles chart, and whose follow up entitled "Babies Making Babies" is scheduled for release this February. Also on the roster is a Dutch Robinson record called "Lowdown," a new Sandro Fevo LP, and new artist Eleanor Grant is scheduled to release her record called "Wind Me Up."

Mock's favorite part of the job is the molding of Cotowbo into a solid independent record company. He feels that the company now has the, "right personnel. We are very close to busting wide open, and by the 1st of the year we will be moving into an upper grade." Tommy Young from Poly-Gram has recently come on board as vice president general manager, and with Richard Eric Mock, his eldest son, as director of a&r, and Mock's wife Fanny as senior vice president, secretary treasure, and controller, this thriving family business can only win.

Judie Haymes

Gwen Franklin
National East Coast Promotion
Director
A&M Records, Inc.

Want to see a beautiful and intelligent lady in action? Check out Gwen Franklin over at A&M Records. Since 1984, she has been their national east coast promotions director. She has had the "pleasure," as she puts it, of working with such artists as Cameo, Starpoint, Donna Summer, Parliament-Funkadelic, Jonet Jackson, Jeffrey Osborne, Atlantic Starr and Jesse Johnson (a great pleasure, I agree). Believe me, Gwen has certainly worked her way up to this one. Starting with education, having been cum laude in the dept. of radio with a minor in television at Howard University, Gwen received scholarship tuition for three of the four years that she spent obtaining her B.A. in Communications. Her fourth year scholarship came from RCA-NBC in 1975-76 for scholar of the year in telecommunications. Back then, Gwen's interests spread beyond radio into the field of law. In fact, while in high school, she was awarded another scholarship from the Washington Workshop, a government seminars program. As a result, from 1974-76, she held a position as a staff aide in the Low Enforcement Assistance Administration, U.S. Dept. of Justice (audiovisual branch).

At the same time, not yet being fully aware of her fascination for radio, Gwen became an announcer for WGTV-FM of Georgetown University. From that point on, the ball started rolling up the music industry path. In 1974, while still attending college, Gwen was hired by Andre' Perry, program director for WHUR-FM, Washington, D.C., to be his associate program manager, announcer and public affairs assistant. After two years there, and upon graduation from college, she moved on for a short stint at Harmony Hut, Schwartz Bros., Inc. to be administrative assistant to the president.

In 1977, Gwen became the r&b promotions manager at Zomski Distributors handling record lines from various labels including United Artists, Blue Note, ABC and Casablanca, to name a few, covering the areas of Maryland, Washington, D.C. and Virginia. She thanks god for the guidance of Varnell Johnson, Mike Abbott and Gubby Patterson.

In 1978, Ruben Rodriguez and Ed Pugh decided that Ms. Franklin belonged on the Casablanca team as the regional r&b promotions manager. For over three years, she handled Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maryland, Washington, D.C. and Virginia. Heavily inspired by Jheryl Busby, she describes him as "the best teacher/motivator," and the Casablanca staff as "a warm & sincere group of human beings."

Finally, in 1981, she joined the A&M staff, first as mid-atlantic regional promotions director with Busby, and then in 1984 as national east coast promotions director with Step Johnson, vice president of r&b promotions. Gwen likes working with Step because of his "marketing point of view" which she has towards his job. "With the autonomy that I am given," Gwen states, "there is the opportunity to experiment with new promotional concepts. I believe that creativity is desperately needed in gaining the competitive edge, especially in today's dynamic marketplace."

Since her promotion, Gwen has attributed her success at A&M to "three of the best regional promotion people in the business; Don Sellers, north-east, Woody Johnson, mid-atlantic, and Keith Frye, southern." Her business influences were not only Jheryl Busby, but also Vi Higginson, one of the finest contemporary black women in communications. Perhaps the most important influence in Ms. Franklin's life has been her father, who, as she describes it, "dedicated his life to making this better for his kids."

Gwen's overall philosophy is, "Turn your negatives into positives." Her father has proven her philosophy.

Tommy West

(The following is the completion of an interview with Tommy West, senior vice president and head of A&R for MTM Records, and part of an executive partnership that also includes Howard Stork [president] and Alon Bernard [CEO]. Part One of the interview was printed in last week's issue.)

"What we're really selling, besides music, is lifestyles. And to me, it's inevitable that there's gonna be an acoustic boom, because that's what's being written now.....all in all, it's a good time to be making acoustic kinds of records. I feel really optimistic for the people coming in. All these little spurts, this creative unrest that's in town now—this graping for something new—will yield something great. And everybody benefits from it."

In addition to the quest for the new and creative product, there is, naturally, a quest for more airplay for that product. As West sees it, the bulk of country radio can be segmented into "three little subdivisions: you have the traditionalists, then you have the middle-of-the-roads and you have the 'left-wing' country stations who don't want to play George Strait, for instance, unless they 'have to'.

And then you have people who will play only that sort of product and will only play the Almost Brothers if forced."

Still in all, he sees the country market as being the natural outlet for the type of records that he likes to make.

"The only acoustic area left, radiawise, is the country format," he apines. As a result, perhaps, "country has become almost like a dumping ground for a lot of music that isn't too techno-pap, or too rock 'n roll. It's like a middle ground now. Which I think could be good. Where else can you go but country radio? Because if you produce a sensitive record you can't go to [a heavy rock station] with that.

"Maybe what'll come out of it is a new format—what I would call 'acoustic wave,' a newer acoustic kind of direction, if radio will allow itself, because the people here are writing differently now, they're producing differently.

"If that happens, the record buyer of 25-44, or 18-54, whatever the demographic is, may say, 'Gee, on this Holly Dunn, I can relate to these things. I can like this, and I live in Sheepshead Bay, Brooklyn.'

"That's what I'm trying to get to—because there's a big void. Why is it that all of us down here who are marketing and trying to sell records are getting massive airplay and not selling through, when other kinds of music get no airplay and sell a lot? To me, that means there's a market out there that is lacking for something better, or something different, and it isn't responding.

"They may listen to the records on the radio, but they're not going out and buying. So I figure that you have to come out with songs that really hit people, somehow. There's gotta be some kind of either depth or funniness to it, or irony to it, to make 'em think a little bit. To touch them.

"Now, the people who live in Chicago or New York or San Francisco and L.A.

and markets like that don't relate, on a lifestyle level, to what [many traditional artists] are doing, to any great extent. I think they're still turned off in certain markets to what they think the image of country is. And that image may be being sustained and perpetuated by people who want to keep it the way it is. I don't know. Sometimes I almost think that this is the only form of music—country—that sort of resists change. The only area I've seen fight about what the record should sound like is country. That's a surprising to me. And so annoying. There's more arguments over how a record should sound in this genre than I've ever seen. It's like 'well, we can't put that on the record because maybe the guitar's too loud, or too much drums,' etc.

"One major market (radio) guy who really has resisted our product—almost in total—said he would play Holly Dunn's record, maybe, if I took the fiddle off the beginning. Well, I'm not gonna do a special mix for one radio station. I said, 'Let 'em talk loud over it.' No way am I gonna do that. That introduction is valid to that record, and it was purposefully put there. And the song is so ripe—I mean everybody has a father.

As for himself, West says, "I just see it as music. I don't see it as country music, I don't see it as folk music. To me the key is good. Give them unique; make unique records. Don't be afraid to try things. As a commercially-oriented person I'm certainly not gonna be so out of the ballpark that somebody can't play it.

"The music itself has to be special. What they're telling us out there, from a sales point of view, is that it's not special enough to buy. 'I'll listen to it because I punch it up on the radio, and I don't like what the AOR station's playing and I don't like what the black station's playing, so the only choice is the country station.'

"I look at the success of all these new-age artists who don't get played on the radio and whose records sell more than our records are selling. That's the demographic we're trying to hit. It's like something is going on that we have to pay attention to, and maybe what it is is to make better product, make better music. Don't depend so much on the drum machine and the synthesizers. Make them move people.

"For country music to survive as a marketing thing it has to appeal to masses. Because you can't make albums for $6,000 anymore. As a business just can't do it.

At the same time, he concludes, he would like to think that there's a segment of the population that is ready to pay enough of this product to make it profitable to make records.

"What we're developing here (MTM) is a point of view. Not that every record sounds alike, but sanically our records have a sound that radio likes. It's done very carefully, mixed very carefully, mastered very carefully. There's a point of view here, I think, that makes us unique—and that's that it has to be of a certain quality. We've turned down acts that have gone on to be at other places because we felt that just didn't fit into our mix. It may sound haughty, or whatever, but I think we have to have that.

"I look at the great pop labels, where it was Warner Bros. or A&M, Atlantic or Motown. They had a point of view. And that's what we want to keep bringing here, and I think we're off to a good start. I really believe, along with my partners Howard and Alan, we're moving in the right direction."

COUNTRY PROMOTION OF THE WEEK

WICHITA, KS

KFH—PETE BRIER-MUSIC DIRECTOR

PROMOTION—COUNTRY BINGO

A phone number has seven characters, and, coincidentally, so does the word COUNTRY. For fans of country music and bingo in Wichita, this is a nice arrangement.

Listeners use a 'bingo card' with the word COUNTRY written across the top and their phone number filled in below it, thus making each number correspond to a letter. Every hour, the station announces a country bingo number, and the players keep track of these on their card. If in fact the station has zeroed in on a listener's number, and that card is completed, the listener has 13 minutes to call in and say "COUNTRY BINGO!" What happens next? The listener-winner gets $130.00 in cold, hard cash.

Country bingo started at KFJ Sept. 25 and has garnered 9 winners so far.

COUNTRY PROFILES

KEN CARLILE—Program/Music Director
WPNX—Columbus, GA

COLUMBUS, GA—In most people's lives, it's a road not taken. That's not true of Ken Carlile; any time he's seen an intriguing path, he takes it. You might say he's got a touch of "nblin' fever," but Ken is also plagued with "radio heart." Somehow, every road always seems to circle back to radio.

Ken's love of music started when, as a youngster, his country-music-loving mother would take him to concerts given by Jim Reeves, Patsy Cline and Hank Williams. Although he was raised around country and he admits to liking all kinds of music, Ken's job in radio was at rock station WCLS in Columbus.

Every road in Ken's life seems to have been years long, but each also had at least one side road that begged for exploration. His life started at WCLS in 1966. However, in 1968, a position at another rock station, in a major market, beckoned and he took off for WEE in Richmond.

But the old grass ain't always greener: That was when I realized that if I didn't have my own input in formatting," Ken admits, "I wouldn't want to stay. I felt trapped." So, after a year in Richmond, Carlile returned to Columbus and his job at WCLS, where he eventually became program director.

Perhaps Ken had reached a point where he didn't feel challenged enough at WCLS, or maybe it was his feeling that the rock format was becoming more and more impersonal. Whatever factors played a part in his decision, the result was that (after the magic seven years) Ken left WCLS to go to work for country station WPNX in 1973. You would think that would be enough of a change, and it might be for most people, but explorer Carlile decided to straddle two parallel paths this time around and started his own business, working at the station at night and at his music store during the day.

He spent a year "working himself to death" so that when another side path suddenly opened up, he didn't need much persuasion to leave both the music store business and WPNX to take a position at a local TV station, WTVM, as an engineer. The job offered more money and less hardship, and Ken enjoyed himself in TV land, both the technical side of the business and as a talent in commercials. In fact, he liked it so much that he almost made it another (you guessed it) seven years at WTVM. But the truth was, he missed radio and in 1980 he took a $500-a-month pay cut and went home to WPNX.

"As I look back, I know I could have made a lot of money doing something different, but those things weren't making me happy," he says with a mental shrug. "This is a fascinating business."

That fascination, for Ken, includes the country music industry as a whole. Although radio continues to be his main road through that land, the side roads continue to draw him away from time to time. During one of his pilgrimages to Nashville, Ken made the acquaintance of Razyzy Bailey, and the two found they had a lot in common—they come from the same area of the country, liked the same style songs, thought a lot alike. So, in 1984 Ken set off once more, this time really on the road—with Razyzy as his road manager. During those months the two co-wrote "Modern Day Marriages."

Ken "thoroughly enjoyed" the touring life, but (surprise, surprise) his heart was still with radio, and when part-owner of WPNX Jim Martin asked him to come back to the station as p.d. and m.d., Ken went along willingly. His knowledge of country music—as a songwriter and producer—has grown as he traversed life's musical highways, and the affects can be seen in the success WPNX has had under Ken's directorship. The station's ratings have increased from 3.5 to 12.5 since he took total control of the wheel.

If you think Ken's interstate life is over, however, think again. "I know the day will come when I will move to Nashville," Ken says. "I'm more creative when I'm around creative people, and my goal is to live in Nashville and be a songwriter and producer."

Well, Ken, looking at the ol' 7-year clock on the wall, 1980 was when you started on your last venture. You know, 1987 is looming just over the next hill...

JIM PATRICK—Music Director
KSO—Des Moines, IA

Jim Patrick has learned a bunch during his six years in the business of radio. He's worked with an album rock format, MOR/country and automated rock (at the same time), back to rock and roll and on to country in the time span of a half dozen years.

"My first real job was in Ames, Iowa after I graduated with a degree in radio from the University of Wisconsin in Platteville," Jim reminisces. "KASI was the daytime AM station with an MOR/country crossover format and the FM, KCCQ, was a 20-hour automated rock and roll station. I worked 6 p.m. to 2 a.m., so in the summer I often worked both stations at the same time." (The AM went off air at sunset.) He only worked at the station four months, but it must have seemed like ten years. "I often thought," he said with a laugh, "that it would be nice to work someplace where you only worked one station at a time."

KASI/KCCQ was not Jim's first experience in radio, however. From May to August of 1981, he and a handful of other students ran the campus radio station in Platteville. Patrick speaks of WSUP with notable pride.

"It was the best campus station in Wisconsin," he says of the album-rock formatted station. "Our grade A signal only reached 11 miles, but our grade B signal was picked up in DeBuque 27 miles away. We placed third in Arbitron ratings in the DeBuque market."

After getting his toes wet at WSUP and receiving his trial by fire at KASI/KCCQ, Patrick took a part time job at KGGQ, playing rock and roll and eventually moving into a full-time overnight slot at the station. In September of 1983, he was offered an overnight shift on the station's country-formatted AM affiliate.

"I grew up listening to Top 40 and I knew rock, so I had never really considered doing country," Patrick explains. "But I didn't seem to be getting anywhere. When a station plays 15 cuts in a row, there's not much of a chance to develop an on-air 'personality.' I realized that the country station would give me that opportunity, so I took the job. I'm very glad I did."

That was three years ago. In 1984 he was moved to the evening shift on KSO, and last July he was promoted to music director.

Patrick credits the station's success (it was the highest rated AM station in the U.S. last year) and his own growing knowledge about country music and the radio business to Jarrat Day, program director at KSO since 1978.

"If you look back," Patrick says proudly, "you'll see that the rise of KSO coincides with Jarrat's arrival. He took over a rock station on the decline and made it into a popular country station."

One of the learning tools handed to Patrick was the "Decade of Dust" program he now handles on the evening shift. On different nights he plays songs that were hot one particular year during the lost ten. "I've learned a lot about the background of country from that show," he says.

"We play traditional country on KSO," he continues. "Our audience is older, 35+, and we cater to them."

"My job here is not to break new acts. Our audience appreciates new music, but I try it out first to see if it will work." Patrick adds, "It really makes no difference if it's major or indie; if it's good and it fits what I'm doing, I'll play it."

Jim Patrick may only have six years behind him in the radio business, but he's put those years to good use. He's well on his way, and under the tutelage of Jarrat Day, he's already learned the most important thing: to know his audience and what they want to hear.

HIGH PRIORITY

BRUCE SHINDLER

We're really excited to be breaking Holly Dunn with "Daddy's Hands." Judy Rodman is going to have another top 10 as momentum builds on "She Thinks That She'll Marry." The Girls Next Door, with a good uptempo effort, are jumping fast on playlists and national charts.

The Almost Brothers are now getting their best response to date on one of their records, "I Don't Love Her Anymore"—if you've ever liked an old Everly Brothers record, you'll love this one.

JACK WESTON
RCA

Michael Johnson's "Give Me Wings" is showing consistent growth and has already passed his first record in chart activity and sales.

We're taking odds now on our priority of the week, Earl Thomas Conley's new single, "I Can't Win For Losin' You."

Following on the heels of "Miami, My Amy," Keith Whitley is quickly becoming part of the established artist set with "Homecoming '63."

Reba's big brother, Pake, is finding that there's no such thing as "Bod Love" as he continues to make strong chart moves.

THE MOSS "CD WALLET": AN IDEA WHOSE TIME HAS COME— It's no surprise that compact disc sales have exceeded everyone's expectations. As more CD plants go on-line, availability, which has been a major contributing factor in keeping CD prices high, is starting to loosen and a good quality compact disc player can now be had for around $100, yet the cost of the average CD (around $13) is still prohibitively high for the average American music consumer. Ira Moss, president of the Moss Music Group, an independent distributor, has developed a new package for the compact disc, the "CD Wallet," a self-contained storage protector and marketing tool which is cheaper to produce than all of the components which comprise the current CD packaging—the jewel box and its plastic insert, which is now being packaged into a cumbersome clam shell or long box which the consumer promptly disposes of. "Comparing it to a jewel box, the insert and the long box, the difference is a minimum of a half-dollar savings to the manufacturer," says Moss. This, he says, translates to at least a $2 savings at list price. "A jewel box is a very handsome, rigid and durable package, but this (the wallet) does the same trick and allows the consumer to get into the price area of CD's." The CD Wallet, constructed of durable cardboard, similar to traditional LP packaging, stores the CD in the a special protective plastic cloth, the same which factories use to ship them in, which fits into the wallet. The package measures

5" x 11 1/4" x 1/8" when displayed with a stiffener, which can be used to advertise catalog which is discarded after the package is opened. The wallet is one-third the thickness of the standard CD long box, making them lighter, and therefore cheaper to ship, display and warehouse. "Three of them will fit in the counter in the place of one long box," Moss explains, "so if you can only stock one 3'x5' table with CD's in the store, you can fit 1000 CD wallets, but you can only fit 350 in the jewel box in either of the long box configurations. You can ship five CD wallets for the price of shipping one CD jewel box." When the consumer opens the wallet, there is ample room for liner notes, credits and an extra pocket for another CD. The wallet is then folded to 4 1/2" x 5", the same size as the jewel box, for easy storage. "From the consumer's point of view, this packaging is intended to offer a safe and adequate storage facility. It has considerably more liner notes than do most records, the package is not breakable, the CD can't fall out. It's like a double record jacket." While Moss acknowledges that a cosmetic comparison of the CD wallet with the jewel box is akin to "comparing a Cadillac with a Chevrolet," he emphasized that since the CD itself is a much more durable format than vinyl, the jewel box is not a necessity. Indeed, the wallet is actually more functional to the consumer and more cost effective for the manufacturer and the dealer. Moss, who won a NARM award for Marketing Achievement in 1983, for expanding the base of the classical market relative to popularly priced cassettes, developed the wallet to differentiate Moss Music's new Vox Prima classical line since classical CD's are sorted out by composer making them "unbrowsable." "Since promotion is very expensive now, the most important thing for us is to get our merchandise segregated from the rest of the product by having unique packaging," says Moss. Since Moss has made the wallet available for licensing, sample wallets have been sent to all the major labels, manufacturers, and independents. Dealer reaction has been enthusiastic including retailing heavies Russ Solomon, (Tower Records), Barry Bergman (Record Bar) and Joe Bressi (Camelot). "We've had definite and specific interest from some of the independent labels, but the majors, with all of their various disabilities to make decisions are waiting to see what happens," says Moss. P-O-P displays are now in the stores with 25 CD titles which list for $12.98, yet most retailers are selling them at $9.98! He is concerned that his classical CD line may not be a true indicator since the classical target market is more affluent and don't mind paying for the "Cadillac." "They're (manufacturers) missing the boat by not going into pop right away. From a pop point of view, the wallet makes more sense." Moss says the wallet has only been shipping for two weeks and not all of the responses have been positive. "Some are very negative, to be honest, but out of 105 responses, 91 said they would look for more product and see a catalog," he says, but more interestingly, "a number of them said, if this packaging is what brings the price down, we're all for it. We recognize that if we went out at the same price as a jewel box, we wouldn't stand a chance." In an informal Shop Talk poll, I found that CD aficionados who purchased their players early on, many to satisfy their audiophile needs, tended to be stuck on the "high-tech" aesthetics of the jewel box. Since the prices of the units have dropped, however, the complexion of the CD buyer is rapidly changing. Newer player owners, I found, are all for the package if it reduces prices. Being a member of the CD elite corps myself, I was skeptical about the CD wallet, yet when all the benefits are weighed, it won me over. For me, the extensive liner note area and the ease of removing the disc from the plastic pouch instead of wrestling it off of the plastic insert inside the jewel box are important benefits, but the prospect of paying $10 instead of $13-$16 for a CD is particularly convincing, especially when statistics say I'll purchase about 50 of these addictive polycarbonate discs per year. In sum, the CD wallet is a not only a viable alternative to current CD packaging, it could be a catalyst for CD sales for the industry and make the CD more accessible to the average consumer. "After all," says Moss, "they're not buying a package. They're buying the music."

WEI's Kwiker Honored As 'Retailer Of The Year'

Stephen Padgett

ANGELES—Wherehouse Entertainment president and CEO Louis A. Kwiker named Retailer of the Year last Thursday (11/16) by the Institute of Retail Management of the California State University of Los Angeles. Kwiker is the fifth recipient of the award and the first from the record retail industry. The luncheon, held in Los Angeles at the Hyatt Regency hotel, was attended by 800 retailing and business executives from the Los Angeles area.

This was only the second year the award went to the executive of a department store chain and recognized the phenomenal success experienced by Wherehouse Entertainment under Kwiker's leadership. In accepting the award, noted that "100-employee support staff were honored with him. 'The whole organization won the award,'" he stated. Professor Bernard Codner of California State University, Los Angeles, who created the award six years ago, presented Kwiker with the award. In making the presentation, he spelled out that Kwiker was honored for his track record, his response to adversity, his ability to spot new trends and react quickly and his inspirational leadership.

Kwiker joined WEI in 1980 as COO. He guided the struggling retail organization out of the economic malaise that had affected the entire recorded music industry in the late 70s and early 80s. He became CEO in February 1982. Under his leadership, WEI anticipated and quickly entered the video

Windham Hill Launches Children's Line

ANGELES—Windham Hill Records announced the inauguration of Rabbit Ears records, a line aimed at the children's market. Rabbit Ears will be a joint venture between Windham Hill and Mark Sottnick, creator of last year's successful Dancing Queen Windham Hill project, "The Velvet teens."

The Rabbit Ears recordings will feature musical and stage personalities with scores of original music by contemporary composers. New versions of children's stories. "The Velvet Rabbit" featured actress Meryl Streep reading the classic tale with pianist George Winston. The first release in the Rabbits Ears line will be "The Bear's First Christmas," a story narrated by Kelly McGillis (Witness, Top Gun) with music by Windham Hill artist Michael S. This album, and all future Rabbit Ears albums, will be tied to a half-hour television special as well as companion versions on video and the book trade. "The Bear's First Christmas" will air over the ABC network on November 22. The album shipped November 4.

Set to appear in future Rabbit Ears/Windham Hill projects are Cher, Glenn Close, Jeremy Irons, John Malkovich, Jack Nicholson and Meryl Streep. Music will be delivered by Mark Isham, Bobby McFerrin and Patrick Ball, among others.

The Rabbit Ears concept is an extension of Sottnick's interest in classic children's storytelling. He first realized his goal to merge multi-media into the storytelling form with the 1985 PBS production of "The Velvet Rabbit." The accompanying album, which featured Streep's narration and Winston's playing, was named best-selling children's album of 1985 by the National Association of Record Merchandisers.

Slated for future release are "The Elephant's Child," narrated by Jack Nicholson with music by Bobby McFerrin; "The Ugly Duckling" narrated by Cher with music by Patrick Ball, and "The Steadfast Tin Soldier"

RIAA Sets DAT Meeting With Japan's EIAJ

By Lee Jeske

NEW YORK—The Electronic Industries Association of Japan has agreed to meet with representatives of the RIAA and the international recording industry to discuss Digital Audio Tape, which the RIAA and IFPI sees as a potential threat to copyright control. Specifically, the RIAA and IFPI are seeking to ensure copy-code protection in all DAT recorders. The meeting will be held in Vancouver, Canada on November 11.

To fulfill the claimed promise of DAT, the RIAA must take legislative steps to protect its high risks to the music industry's copyrights," said RIAA president Gortikov. "The prospect of unbridled perfect master-quality home copying is a threat to our industry. We are particularly apprehensive about the capability of DAT to expand sales displacement, through home taping, since sales are our companies' only source of revenues."

DAT equipment is expected to be available in the United States sometime in 1987.

The copy-code system, developed by the CBS Technology Center, requires placement of a copy-code chip in recording equipment, which would prevent that equipment from replicating copyrighted recordings that are compatibly encoded during the mastering process.

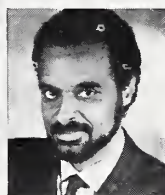

The RIAA has joined members of the Senate in its crusade for copy-coding of DAT equipment. About the upcoming negotiations, Gortikov said, "We expect to approach our Japanese conferees constructively and hopefully. A vital synergism exists between our industries and products. We wish to preserve that delicate this period is not growing as fast as the last one, so I think this one is going to sustain a little bit more. It's something that's not going to be able to be stopped."

Despite his positive feelings about fusion, Stanley Clarke says that he is none-too-impressed with the current crop of fusion bands. He goes to clubs in L.A., where he resides, and he finds himself yawning. Flash, he thinks, is replacing substance.

"I have a feeling it has something to do with the fact, to be point blank about it, that the guys don't practice like we practiced. I just know that they don't, I can tell. I've taught a lot of bass players and I can look at a musician and tell when they've spent more time on their equipment. It sounds to me, when I got to these clubs, that I'm hearing four individuals that kind of just walked off the street from different locations and started playing. There's some semblance of something happening, but they just didn't play enough together.

"It's funny, I can't even blame the musicians, totally. There just ain't enough time to figure out how to put a whole Midi system together, and get that going, and then practice, really practice, in one day. We had shitty equipment back then, but we used to practice 10 hours a day. Religiously, every day."

The "back then" Stanley refers to is the early '70s, the glory days of fusion; the "we" is Return To Forever—Chick Corea, Al DiMeola, Lenny White, and Stanley Clarke. If Clarke and DiMeola and White have their druthers, Return To Forever will return to performing—and show these young fusion whippersnappers a thing or two.

"Lenny and Al and I are ready to go," says Stanley. "We are definitely going to tour. We're just waiting on a few little things in Chick's head, which I think will be real easy to solve, and we're going to go.

"When we got together for the last reunion, I had to stop everything that I was doing: I couldn't produce anybody, I couldn't see my family, I was constantly doing interviews, touring and rehearsing. It reminded me of when I was 19 or 20 and basically all I used to think about was music. So it's nice. That would actually, for me, be kind of an icing on the cake that would help propel this instrumental thing seriously into the '90s. RTF could do it real easy."

In the meantime, Stanley will hit the road with his own ensemble, finish producing flutist James Walker's classical fusion LP, and begin preparing the follow-up to "Hideaway," which he says will "probably be more along the lines of some of the more creative songs on that album." However, don't look for it to contain Stanley's best bass playing.

"I'm not as serious about albums as some people are," he says. "I think a lot of jazz musicians are like that, because you usually play your better stuff live anyway. I've never been, and probably never will be, captured on a record."

market, which at the time had yet to take off. Now, Wherehouse is an industry leader in the sales and rentals of video and blank video product. Also during Kwiker's tenure, Wherehouse has seen tremendous growth in new store openings, from 126 in 1983 to 190 today. Kwiker also initiated a unique stock ownership plan that has become a model for other industries.

Kwiker couched his acceptance in a message to students, some of whom were on hand to accept scholarships. "In selecting a career," Kwiker advised, "choose a company that's growing." He went on to include innovativeness, hustle and ethics as qualities of "great growth retailers." Citing the prevalence of unfriendly corporate takeovers, Kwiker also advised students to choose a company that is not going to fail. "Middle management gets crucified in a takeover," he warned.

Before joining The Wherehouse, Kwiker had practiced law on Wall Street. He was formerly vice president of mergers and acquisitions at Laird and Company and president of rack giant, The Handleman Company. As the 1986 recipient of the Retailer of the Year award, a scholarship in Kwiker's name will join scholarships in previous winners' names.

dier," narrated by Jeremy Irons with music by Mark Isham. All of the titles will carry a $9.98 list and will be available on compact disc.

The "Santabear" project is a unique cross-promotion involving the Dayton Hudson Department Store Co, which introduced "Santabear" as a toy premium last Christmas. An estimated 400,000 toys were sold, prompting the company to initiate the marketing of a product line of 120 different gift items, ranging from clothing and toys to cookies and housewares all featuring the snowy white cub and his signature scarf and knit cap.

The Rabbit Ears/Windham Hill LP will also be stocked in the Dayton Hudson stores. The "Santabear" promotion will enjoy other product tie-ins, including General Mills' use of the character in a national cereal ad, and American Express' four-color gatefold spread which kicked off national print exposure in the November 6 issue of USA Today.

Record retailers can tap into "Santabear's" visibility with specially created merchandising aids including 2x2 posters and album flats. Co-op advertising money is also available.

more important to eager fans. "We haven't heard people griping," said Chronis. "At this point, they want to get the album and they're enjoying just being able to get it." Indeed, there were reports of a fist fight between two customers over a final copy at a local Tower Records store.

Steve Kall, who owns an independent one-stop, Pacific one-stop, said he had ordered 14,000 units which was enough to service his stores. "I had enough for all my accounts. I bought enough product that I thought it would last through December," says Kall, who ended up selling much of his product to Licorice Pizza, not one of his usual accounts. "Even though it only lasted one day, I'd still have some product today if it wasn't that the major chains needed it."

Many stores took pre-orders from customers. The Studio City Music Plus store led the chain in preorders with a total of 206. "It's been crazy," said clerk and self-confessed Springsteen fan, Michael Zorek, "getting them out and getting the preorders in alphabetical order has been a real project. We guarantee a copy will be here for them." Zorek said the phone was constantly ringing with people asking, "Is it in?" "We say, 'yeah, it's in.' They don't even ask for Springsteen and everyone knows what they're talking about," he laughed. Zorek was so enthusiastic about the release, he had handed out copies of the song list a friend had acquired to customers days before the release. "We had it before Wherehouse and Tower," he said proudly.

Tower Records on Sunset Boulevard, in West Hollywood had 20 people and several news crews waiting before they opened. Howard Krumholtz, buyer for the location, said, "95 percent came in to buy Bruce. I can't say 100 percent because I just saw someone buy a Judas Priest album." The store had stocked about 1,000 LP sets, 800 cassette boxes, and 500 CD boxes.

bought it for a friend," she said. "He's as big as a New Jersey fan can be for Springsteen. I've never seen him in concert but I love his lyrics and that's why I like Springsteen."

For a Fordham University law student, "Live 75-85" was only the second Springsteen album she ever bought. "I only own one of his albums but I think if I'm going to buy any of his albums this one is the one because it's live and it's a three record set (sic) and it's got a lot of songs on it and it's a good price," she said.

largest in record industry history, is said to lose its feasibility once the new tax laws go into effect.

CBS' decision to retain its record unit is Tim Olphie, a spokesman for World/Eloay Enterprises which owns a chain of 66 stores in New York, said they are selling 100 copies per hour at their one store in Roosevelt Field. The 150 people standing in line when it opened and there were lines at all of our local stores. Olphie said they shipped 50,000 copies to stores and they have ordered another 30,000. He says the chain didn't operate on special promotions or discounts because "the album speaks for itself. The sound quality is unforgettable."

Tom Lopez, manager of a Rose Records Store (a Chicago chain of 14 stores), said, "I've never seen anything like this in my entire Rose Records career." His store sold 150 copies the first hour they were open. While many retailers try to promote the Springsteen catalog on sale, Lopez didn't think of it, but I don't think they should about the old stuff today."

Some of the local independent stores, smaller chains such as Aaron's and Moby Disc, who cater to a segment known for alternative sensibilities, were able to sell more units than they had expected. At one Moby Disc store said interest in the album had been in "extreme amounts. The biggest hype for an album this year."

Not all independents had experienced the same excitement over the Springsteen package. "Our cost on it is 60 cents more than what Tower and the Wherehouses are selling it for so we're not going to be able to sell very many competitively," said a manager at Moby Disc. "That's why we didn't get a good deal. In fact, we're going to lose money if we try to sell it competitively at all. Hopefully, we'll sell it though our price is higher than the other stores. I'm assuming huge record chains got a better deal."

Several consumers groped for a comparison. "Springsteen has that kind of hold over the younger people that Sinatra had over people my age," said a middle-aged customer. "But I get the impression that he's more of an artist than the folk hero. More like Dylan was when he was in the sixties." Though some compare the mass hysteria to the heyday of Elvis Presley and The Beatles, most agreed that the album compares to the sense of national unity this album has fostered.

the latest wrinkle in the media giant's corporate shakedown, which has already resulted in the unloading of both its book and music publishing interests.

Country Takes Top Honors At AMOA Banquet

NASHVILLE—The Amusement and Music Operators Association (AMOA) hosted their annual Awards Banquet on Friday, Nov. 7 at the Hyatt Regency in Chicago. The banquet is a tradition of the organization's annual trade show.

This year, along with the Juke Box Awards, the AMOA also gave out Rising Star Awards. The Juke Box Awards, based on a "highest revenue producers" criteria, are voted on by the membership of operators, according to Fred Newton of the AMOA. The Rising Star Awards, a separate honor, are voted on by a nominating committee of AMOA board members.

The Juke Box Awards are given in the categories Best Country Record of the Year, Best Pop Record of the Year, and Best Soul Record of the Year. The songs that generated the most revenue, according to the AMOA vote, between June 1985 and June 1986 (in their respective categories) were:

"Bop" by Dan Seals, EMI-America

TWO DOORS DOWN—They were singin' and havin' a party (not two doors, exactly, but one block down) when Maypop Music Group moved from 803 to 702 18th Ave. So. in Nashville. Co-owner Randy Owen (Alabama) renovated the turn-of-the-century home that was the scene of an open house last month when this picture was taken. Included are (l-r): Jeff Cook of Alabama, co-owner; Chuck Neese, professional manager; John Jarrard, staff writer; John Schneider, friend; Randy Owen; Kevin Lamb, vice president.

ALBUM REVIEWS

JEFF STEVENS AND THE BULLETS—Bolt Out Of The Blue—(Atlantic 90556-1)—Producer: N.Larkin

The Bullets have debuted with a high-profile, country rock album. Even the ballads are shot with energy. Stevens' vocal influences are epitomized by the two Bruce Springsteen songs, "Darlington County" (their first single release) and "Angelyne," and the latter, along with "Tamed By Love," may be the best choices for album cuts.

CHRISTMAS ALBUM REVIEWS

CRYSTAL GAYLE—A Crystal Christmas—(Warner Bros. 1-18)—Producer: J.E.Norman
Christmas carols Crystal style take special holiday glow. This collection of traditional fare is one everybody's family will like, no matter their tastes; it was custom-made for Christmas Eve.

Crystal Gayle

GEORGE STRAIT—Merry Christmas Strait To You—(MCA-5800)—Producers: J.Bowen, G.Strait

Okay, here's the plan. You're from Texas, right? And there's no way you can get home for Christmas. So, put this LP on and listen to the fiddling swing of "When It's Christmas Time In Texas." And you don't have to stop there, even "White Christmas" sounds Texan when Strait does it.

STREET TALK

CHIT CHAT: "The audience loves it," Ricky Skaggs says of the addition to his repertoire of a "rap" style "Uncle Pen." Skaggs calls the new musical genre "rap-grass." Sounds intriguing... Ex Duke bro Tom Wopat will star as a Greek god when he portrays Jupiter in the New York Broadway production of "Olympus On My Mind."...

Joe Bonsall of the Oak Ridge Boys was watching Johnny Carson chat with pop artist Patti LaBelle on the Tonight Show recently. When Carson asked her if there was anyone she would particularly like to record with, LaBelle mentioned the Oaks. Bonsall called her the next day and invited her to sing on the album the boys just happened to be cutting. LaBelle will sing a duet with William Lee Golden on the LP. The cut is titled "Rainbow At Midnight."

NASHVILLE NEWS: Former band directors W.C. Gore and Jay Dawson, along with partner Herbert Morgan, have opened an educational print company, Arrangers' Publishing Company, at 1903 Division Street in Nashville... John Brunning has been promoted to the position of vice president-general counsel for Chappell & Co. Inc., parent company of Chappell and Intersong Music Group, headquartered in New York.

INDIE NEWS: A.M.I. Records will close their 24-track recording studio in Hendersonville, TN by the end of November, according to President Michael R. Radford. The company will focus on their newly formed Alpha Video Productions division... Lou Miller, president of Blossom Gap Records, has announced the relocation of their offices to Suite 500-A, United Artists Tower, 50 Music Square West... Lake Country Media Inc. of Branson, MO has been retained by Janbill Ltd. for public relations representation of the vocal group Branson! and female vocalist Kate Landers, as well as a Janbill's Country Music World theater.

COUNTRY TV: "My Home's In Alabama," the first network television special for Alabama, will air November 28 on CBS. The group's guests will include The Judds, Willie Nelson and The Charlie Daniels Band... TNN's country music game show, Fandango, has undergone a facelift for the new season. Among the changes are bigger prizes, a new set and a broader musical focus. In addition, the program will follow in the winning footsteps of Wheel Of Fortune when host Bill Anderson introduces his pretty new co-host, model Blake Pickett... While we're on the subject of The Nashville Network, Loretta Lynn will be accompanied by more than her 20-piece Coal Miner's Band when she makes a USO tour of bases in the Philippines and South Korea during the holiday season. A TNN camera crew will be tagging along to film the performances for two hour-long specials, one scheduled for airing in December, the other for April broadcast.

COUNTRY RADIO: The Storyteller, Tom T. Hall, will be the featured guest on a 90-minute live radio show which will be taped in Nashville by National Public Radio affiliate WPLN-FM. Titled "Live from the Hungry Ear Coffee House," the program will also include comedy and jazz entertainment and will be made available for live or taped transmission to all NPR affiliates in the country via satellite.

OUT OF THE BOX

SWEETHEARTS OF THE RODEO (Columbia 38-06525) Midnight Girl/Sunset Town (3:09) (Almo/D.Schlitz - ASCAP) (D.Schlitz) (Producer: S.Buckingham)

If anything can get the Sweethearts out of their Sunset Town, a hot-turned-hot-single could do it. The up-tempo, traditional country tune is a good showcase for the duo's harmonies, and chances are good that it may not only get them on the road, but faced up the sought-after path that leads to the top of the chart.

FEATURE PICKS

RONNIE MILSAP (RCA 5033-7) How Do I Turn You On (4:20) (Lodge Hall Rick Hall - ASCAP) (M.Reid, R.Byrne) (Producers: R.Milsap, T.Cole, R.Galbraith)

The magic Milsap ballad style is clearly at work here, and that seems to turn r listeners on without any problem at all.

LEE GREENWOOD (MCA 52984) Mornin' Ride (3:31) (Chappell/Unicappell - ASCAP/BMI) (S.Bogard, J.Tweel) (Producer: J.Crutchfield)

More than the morning dew has been stirred up with this slightly controversial release. The song's double meaning, like its lyrical beauty, clearly lies in the ear of the listener.

THE KENDALLS (MCA 52983) Little Doll (3:49) (KCM - ASCAP) (M.Watkins) (Producers: T.Skinner, J.L.Wallace)

The infusion of the blues into the Kendalls sound here creates a welcome change and may swing this one right up the charts.

JEFF STEVENS AND THE BULLETS (Atlantic 7-99494) Darlington County (Bruce Springsteen/Ensign - ASCAP/BMI) (B.Springsteen) (Producer: N.Lark) (Jeff and the boys have taken one of Springsteen's best songs and moved it from New York to Nashville. Country softens some of its punch, but the tune doesn't seem to mind the change.

CHRISTMAS SINGLES

RANDY TRAVIS (Warner Bros. 7-28556-A) White Christmas Makes Me Blue

CRYSTAL GAYLE (Warner Bros. 7-28555) Have Yourself A Merry Little Christmas

INDIE FEATURE PICKS

ERRY LaPOINTE (Door Knob DK 86-260) Chosen (3:02) (Door Knob - BMI) (Schmid, R.Boone) (Producer: G.Kennedy)
 Erry the pure of voice has been chosen once more by the CB staff as having one of the strongest indie releases of the week, this time with a clear-as-a-bell ballad.

E BRICKERS (db db86110) Southern Comfort (3:07) (Fortson Flash - BMI) (Bricker) (Producer: R.T.Crabb)
 Equation: country rock sound + lyrics about the South + good lead and backup vocals = lots of airplay on country stations.

JADA KING (Evergreen EV 1047) Her Tears In Texas (2:10) (Maplehill/Hall-nent/Bibo/Cross Keys - BMI/ASCAP) (D.Lee, T.Rocco, B.Jones) (Producer: Deek)

A good, basic country sound wraps around Jada's pleasing vocals—and the lyrics mention Texas, Tennessee, Colorado and Chicago.

LUKE GORDON (World Artist WAP 1004) Picture Show (1:53) (R.A.Wilkins - BMI) (L.Gordon) (Producers: G.R.Brown, V.B.Brown)
 This one is just plain fun. It makes you want to tag along as Luke and his honey ride down a dusty country road to the picture show, circa 1949.

ALSO MENTIONABLES

INDIE LP REVIEW

FAMILY BROWN—Feel The Fire—(RCA-Canada KPL 1-54)—(Producers: N.Wilburn, W. Lawrence)

These folks aren't exactly finding their way into the U.S. smooth goin', which is a shame because the family packs a wealth of talent. The cut to play from this LP is probably the same as their previous one, "Wouldn't You Love Us Together Again." The album cut features the vocal harmonies of Willie Nelson, teamed up with his picking skills. However, there are many good, radioable male/female duets on here.

INDI SPOTLIGHT

SOUTHERN REIGN (Regal RRSR 2) 15 to 33 (3:22) (Forrest Hills/Al Calico/M.C.A./Write Road - BMI/ASCAP) (D.Goodman, M.Sherrill, F.Dycus, J.W.Ryles) (Producer: D.Goodman)

They scored well last time out and this time they've scored even better. Give a teeny bit of the credit to producer Don Goodman (and his shoeboxful of snapshots), but not much or it might go to his head. We expect this one to see a lot of time on radio turntables.

AMOA Awards

"Addicted To Love" by Robert Palmer, Atlantic

"What Have You Done For Me Lately" by Janet Jackson, A&M

Country artists swept all three categories in the Rising Star Awards during this year's banquet. John Estridge, past president of the AMOA, officiated over the ceremonies during which the following artists were honored:

Best Female Rising Star—Judy Rodman, MTM

Best Male Rising Star—Marty Stuart, Columbia

Best Rising Group—Girls Next Door, MTM

Two of the winners, Judy Rodman and Girls Next Door, also entertained for banquet attendees that evening.

SIGN HIM UP—General Manager Jerry Bradley (center) oversees the signing of Tommy Brasfield (right) to the Opryland Music Group, a sober moment for Ronnie Gant, director of professional development. Artists such as Ronnie Milsap, John Anderson and Barbara Mandrell have enjoyed chart success with Brasfield compositions.

Gospel Views

MUSIC'S MIGHTY MISSION

By Phil Driscoll

Music is powerful. It stirs emotions and reaches the senses in a way that nothing else can. It is a universal communicator.

In I Samuel, the Bible gives the account of King Saul, who was under a spirit of oppression. When young David played music for the monarch, Saul's heaviness was relieved. That force is still at work through music today.

In order to fully understand its vast potential it is necessary to define music's mission as it relates to the gospel of hope. Music can be used to actually penetrate areas where the church cannot reach. Missions is going to Honduras, The Philippines and Africa. By the same token it is reaching a kid in the ghetto or even the man who is depressed, fearful and full of guilt as he sits in his Rolls Royce in Beverly Hills. They all need Jesus. Music is the one thing that could potentially touch their world with hope.

Through travelling overseas, we've seen evidence that music actually transcends economic, political, social, geographic and even denominational borders. At a recent anti-drug rally in Tegucigalpa, the capitol city of Honduras, the power of God was unleashed through music and literally hundreds of lives were transformed. That is the potential before us.

On the home front there are many challenges to be addressed. Recently the plague of drug abuse has begun to receive national attention. Drugs have truly taken a toll on this nation and there is a vital role music can play in reversing this trend by taking a grass roots approach to reaching those in the grips of addiction as well as informing those who might be tempted.

In "Just Say No," and anti-drug single released by The Benson Company and Mighty Horn, we are attempting to reach out to the world in their vernacular: music. A Christian version of the song pointing to Jesus as the alternative to drugs will be sent to gospel stations nationwide while a second version, geared for secular radio, without the blatant gospel message, states "There's a better way to fly than drugs." Both renditions will be promoted nationally; however, the mission potential of this single goes far beyond radio airplay.

The message included in this song could reach the homes of millions through a cooperative effort between the music industry and responsible corporations. Imagine if a company included 45 RPM sound sheets of this song on the back of cereal boxes or on top of pizza cartons, in a magazine or even with a six pack of beer. The slogan on such a package might read, "ABC Pizza Cares For the Family—Say No To Drugs." The public service message could have profound impact on the homes it enters through that distribution. The company who makes the effort to publicize this positive message would also benefit from a boost in company image.

As opportunities continue to present themselves to gospel musicians and more is learned about the world-changing power that is made available through the medium of musical expression, we must work to forge ahead and pioneer new ways to reach the vast mission field before us.

KENNY MARKS RE-MARKS DAYSPRING—Christian rocker Kenny Marks has resigned with DaySpring records, a division of Word, Inc. Marks' contract calls for three albums to be released over the next three to five years. We can expect his next album in early '87. He's shown here with Neal Joseph, executive director of DaySpring records.

GOSPEL LP REVIEWS

EVIE—When All is Said and Done—(Word 7-01-902810-1)—Producer: P. Karlsson

It's been awhile since we've heard from Evie, but this album was worth the wait. Her accomplished vocals have only improved, her songs strengthened. In fact, each song on here may become your favorite as you hear them. She sings with much conviction on "United We Stand" (a duet with Pelle Karlsson.) Karlsson's strong lyrics stand out on the title cut and "Another Angel In The Sky." (Listen for the cosmic production sounds on "Another Angel.") Evie's sweet power comes to the forefront on "Make Straight The Way For The Lamb Of God" and "Winter To Spring."

CANDY HEMPHILL—Arms of Love—(Greentree R03999)—Producer: L. Goss

With a clap of thunder, the stage is set for a dramatic, storm-tossed rendition of "Halleluiah." The production techniques are definitely effective and well placed. And you know, "There's Nothing Wrong With Being Right" (another good one). More than anything, "You've Got To Trust Somebody." Okay, all cleverness aside, another goodie on here is Candy's version of "Oh It Is Jesus," a favorite chorus of many churches. The energetic congregational harmonies and simple piano instrumentation on the cut stir up some old-time memories.

CHRISTMAS LP REVIEWS

SHIRLEY CAESAR—Christmasing—(Rejoice 7-01-501228-6)—Producer: N. Putnam

Shirley Caesar lets her voice soar with this collection of Christmas tunes as she stamps her unmistakable soul-filled vocals on newly-arranged standards and first-time offerings. If you go Christmasing with Shirley, you'll hear her chill-sending rendition of "O Holy Night," as well as other traditional favorites.

GOSPEL BITS

NASHVILLE—ASCAP's second annual Gospel songwriters' workshop will begin Nov. 25 and take place on four consecutive Tuesday nights from 7 to 9 p.m. at ASCAP's Nashville offices. ## Arachnid Announces $50,000 Tournament

CHICAGO—Arachnid, Inc., of Rockford, Illinois has launched what promises to be the largest English Mark Darts promotion in the history of the sport, the $50,000 Bull-Shooter II National Grand Tour. Over the next seven months, five $5,000 regional tournaments will be sponsored by Arachnid culminating in a $25,000 National Championship, May 23-24-25 in Chicago.

In addition to the $5,000 in cash prizes awarded at each of the regionals, first, second and third place winners in each of the main events will be given free entry certificates to the BullShooter II $25,000 finals in May. Operators will still be able to enter local league players in the $25,000 finals just as they did at the '86 BullShooter National Challenge. Qualifying kits for the Bull-Shooter II finals will be available to English Mark Darts International Association operator member November 1.

Each of the $5,000 regional tournies are "open" tournaments where players from a designated reign may enter for $10 per person, per event. All of the main events, namely, Open Singles, Mixed Doubles, Open Doubles and Women's Doubles are double elimination.

The first $5000 tournament will be the Midwest Regional, held November 21-22-23 in Des Moines, Iowa. The grand tour moves to Roanoke, Virginia, December 13 and 14. The next regional will be held in Portland, Oregon, January 17-18, followed by the Western Regional in California, February 21-22 and the Grand Tour will wind up in Buffalo, New York on March 14-15.

"These regionals have been created to fill the demand English Mark Darts players across the country have for open tournaments to participate in," Arachnid's tournament director Russ Peters. "An average player is a little intimidated by big money tournaments. These regionals will show that player that he or she can be competitive in the larger events. We've formulated a generous payoff scale for both the regionals and the finals so that every player will have a good chance to come away with some sort of prize."

The '86 BullShooter National Challenge was a tremendous success with over 1,300 entries in the four events. Operators from 37 different states and three foreign countries participated in the international event.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Arachnid at (800) 435-8319 or (in Illinois) (815) 654-0212.

Atari's Dick Needleman Goes Into Semi-Retirement

After nine years of dedicated service to Atari, Richard Needleman will be bidding farewell to his sales accounts in the Southeast on January 1, 1987. As he nears retirement age, Dick will be giving up his position as a full time sales manager but has agreed to remain on the Atari staff for at least one year as a consultant for the firm's new market development program.

"We just couldn't let him fully retire, we still need him," commented Shane Breaks, senior vice president of sales for Atari Games, "but after all of his years of hard work and dedication traveling around the country, he deserves a rest! We are looking forward to continuing to work with Dick as a consultant, channeling his expertise in public relations into our new market development program."

Dick made the following statement to his many friends in the industry, "I have enjoyed working in the coin-op industry and look forward to my future association with the contacts I have made here. After so many years on the road I'm looking forward to a little quiet public relations work, trying to promote the positive side of our industry and encourage controlled growth into other markets."

Dick will continue to work out of his Florida office as a consultant for Atari's New Market Development Program.

LOOKING BACK—Would you believe there was a time when pingames sold for $16. (that was in 1931) and jukeboxes were going for under $200 (that was in 1934)? These are a couple of interesting items contained in the two editions of Cash Box you see here, in the (l-r) John Neville, prexy Frank Gumma and veepee Frank Gumma Jr. of American Vending. The cover dates are January 17, 1948 and January 24, 1948. Following are a few more tidbits from the latter edition, which focused on the fifteenth annual Coin Machine Industry trade convention that was being held at the Sherman Hotel in Chicago (the forerunner of the now AMOA Expo). At that time (as revealed in this edition) the record industry participated in this trade convention... The top tune across the nation was "Ballerina" by Vaughn... jukebox operators were gearing up for a tough legislative year that was expected to bring many new taxation programs directed at the jukebox business and a move to revise the Copyright Act of 1909... a number of record label executives, quoted in this edition, extolled the value of the jukebox and the jukebox operator in the promotion and sale of the single record. Gottleib advertised its "Lady Robin Hood" flipper which boasted "the flashiest most light-up backboard you ever saw... "Triple Action" by Genco was another new flipper of... a new super deluxe roll down game called "Sunny" was introduced by Williams... E advertised an assortment of games including "Wild Lemon," "Jockey Club," "Double U... Boy" and "Triple Bell"... These two editions of Cash Box are classics—real collector's items and we'd like to thank John Neville for supplying them to us.

Bally Earnings For Third Quarter Show 20% Increase

CHICAGO—Robert E. Mullane, president and board chairman of Bally Manufacturing, announced net income, revenues and earnings per share for the third quarter and nine month period ended September 30, 1986.

For the third quarter of 1986 net income was $17,655,000 up over 20 per cent from the net income of $14,687,000 reported in the same period in the prior year. Revenues were $551,129,000, compared to $443,315,000 earned in the same period in the prior year. Earnings per share were $.54 up from $.52 reported in the third quarter a year ago. The 1986 share amounts are based upon an increase in average common shares outstanding, primarily reflecting additional shares issued in the merger of Bally's Park Place, Inc.

For the nine months ended September 30, 1986 net income was $33,928,000 up from $32,251,000 in 1985. Revenues were $1,278,495,000 compared to $1,086,079,000 reported in the prior year. Earnings per share were $1.18 compared to $1.12 earned in the nine months of 1985.

"Bally's amusement game division produced solid earnings in the quarter and has compiled a profitable record in each of the last five quarters," according to Mullane. "Arcade operations were profitable and manufacturing activities returned to profitability as a result of an improvement in market demand for new equipment. Bally expects future operations to maintain a record of profit contribution to the company's overall results."

Improved results were reported for various other companies that are part of Bally Organization.

Mullane noted that "the current quarter results underline our confidence that Bally has a mix of business ideally suited to America's leisure time marketplace."

SHOWTIME AT HANSON—Operators from six states along with a good number of manufacturer representatives were on hand for the recent Hanson Distributing Company showing in Bloomington, Minnesota. The day's activities began with the factory's executives vice president Joe Pankus, with an assist from Seeburg engineer Warren McDonald. Next up was Valley's Tom Shelton who demonstrated the new ZD-4 pool table and detailed the Valley lease program for operators; followed by Cinematronics' Ken Anderson who reviewed Cinematronics' new Countertop Cinemat System Cabinet, which is now available for both World Series and Alley Master and also showed the factory's kit for converting existing Merit countertops to World Series. Jim Pietrangelo of SMS Manufacturing focused on cranes, fielding operator questions regarding this product and Ben Santucci of Merit Industries updated the assemblage on Merit's recent acquisition of Nomac and forthcoming plans stemming from the acquisition along with a demonstration of their Riviera video poker. The event provided plenty of time for one on one dialogue between operators and manufacturer reps plus a delectable buffet luncheon. Pictured in the accompanying photos are (photo 1) Valley's Tom Shelton, thoroughly examining the changes on the ZD-4 Defects ZD-4 table; (photo 2) Cinematronics' Ken Anderson, at the new World Series countertop conversion kit; (photo 3) SMS's Jim Pietrangelo at the Skill Crane machine and (photo 4) Ben Santucci at the factory's new Riviera poker machine.
