DECISIONS REACHED BY JUKE BOX LEADERS

1) Television Here to Stay. 2) Ops Must Get Minimum $15 Weekly Guarantee. 3) Juke Box Collections Gradually Returning to Normal in New York Market Where Two-Thirds of Nation's Television Receivers Now Located as Taverns Find Television Brings Crowds But Does Not Boost Take. 4) Believe Television Will Disappear From Taverns as Home Use Expands. 5) Juke Box Ops Not Worried. Say This Has Been Best Lesson in Years for All Connected With Industry.

NEW YORK—As the television problem came more and more to the front, The Cash Box decided that the time had arrived when a most complete survey of the eight cities where television broadcasts are now being made would prove beneficial to all the juke box industry for operators in those cities where television broadcasting stations are being planned would then be able to profit from the experiences of those other music operators who had already faced television competition.

For some weeks now readers of The Cash Box have been obtaining the news and views of various noted coin machine leaders regarding televised programs and the effect they have had on juke boxes as well as on what is most important — the collections from the juke boxes in those areas where television is broadcast.

The most affected city in the nation is New York. Of the 52,060 receivers already in operation in the nation, 31,200 are located here. Next highest on the 8 city list is Chicago where there are 5,500 television receivers in operation. The reason for this is attributed to the fact that New York has so many sporting events in almost continuous operation. All coinmen seem to be agreed that the television broadcasting, as it is being conducted at this present day, is completely based on sporting events.

Yet, with all this competition to face, the New York music operators haven't lost too much ground to television. They admit that they have been hurt to some extent, but, on the average, they have been able to more or less overcome television competition and now the average tavern owner is working with them against the television receiver he purchased and has maintained at such expense to himself.

Many methods of combatting television have appeared. One noted operator has installed more auxiliary speakers in his locations, cut down amplification, and found that the steady patrons (and a great many of the transients) still prefer to hear the juke box even while the televiewer program is under way. Many others have since adopted these same tactics and found that they, too, are successfully winning out over television.

Another new idea which has come into being is the combining of a television receiver with the juke box. This will be done by one New York firm in such fashion as to allow for 15 minutes of televised broadcast at 25c or by the simple flick of a switch, the patron can insert a quarter and obtain 5 record play. This idea has clicked with many music ops who believe that it has great possibilities for success. The idea being, they report, that the average tavern does not now want to spend anywhere from $400 to $2,500 for a television receiver and would rather use his own coins (25c) to continue television play for, at collection time, he would probably get his quarters back anyway.

There are a great many tavern owners who fear that if they charge an "admittance fee" in the form of a "minimum" for the patron to sit at the bar and see the televised sporting events, that they will be faced with an "amusement theatre license". This has already happened in Dauphin County, Pennsylvania. And with so many of the New York taverns now refusing to serve beer while the television program is on, this may be construed as charging a "minimum" or even likened to an "admittance charge", which would make them liable to a "theatre license" fee.

The tavern owner has most definitely learned one thing. And that is that his television receiver will bring him large crowds, but, not larger income. To combat this he has hung up signs reading, "No beer served during television broadcast". He is also attempting many other methods to make his television receiver pay its way. But, regardless of what he does, he is up against an expense (which he claims has been brought upon him by his competitors) and is forced to admit that television does not help increase the sales of his merchandise.

Yet, the trade knows that television will continue. It may take five, ten, or more years to be perfected. A tremendous number of problems face the television manufacturers, broadcasters and all others engaged in the field. One thing the music machine industry has already learned, that once television receiver prices come down, more sets are bound to get into homes. When they do, they lose their attraction in taverns. And that means, like in the early days of radio receivers, the juke box once again reigns supreme. There is no other instrument in American history which has brought the greatest artists in the world to all of the people at such low cost as has the juke box.

One very important fact which has been driven home to the majority of the music operators who have been faced with television is that they should have long ago arranged to obtain at least $15 per week front money guarantee from each one of their locations. Many are now working out such arrangements. Others believe that they will have some sort of better commission basis completed very soon. In short, this has been a lesson to the juke box operator he will not easily forget. He now realizes that he must protect himself so as to assure himself continued financial stability.

More and more operators are swinging over to a better commission basis. Fewer and fewer fear television any longer. There is no doubt, as some leaders report, that some locations will probably prove unprofitable to the operator for a long time to come, but, the average spot is working out to the operator's benefit and, therefore, with the operator protecting himself by a better commission arrangement he need no longer fear television.

There have been a few who proposed that operators purchase the television sets at dealer's prices and "sell" these to locations. This has long ago been proved a fallacy. Historically, one noted operating firm, prior to the war, attempted such sales in New Jersey and gave up after enduring severe financial losses. Another firm, well known to the trade, tried direct selling of television receivers not so many months ago in the New York market and, after similar financial loss experience, dropped the idea. Therefore, as far as direct sales to taverns and other commercial locations are concerned, operators have learned that these are not only unprofitable, but, in the long run, work to the detriment of the operator's own music.

The answer is once again the same which The Cash Box has urged on the automatic music trade for over five years, and that is that the operators of automatic music must simply "sell" the greatness and advantages of their music to their locations to the extent where they can arrange for location contracts which call for a minimum $15 per week front money guarantee from their machines. In this way they are fully protected against all loss and also assured of a more financially certain future with sufficient monies to purchase new equipment, and to continue to constantly improve their routes so that competition will never again hurt them in any fashion whatsoever.

With this all leaders agree. Furthermore, one noted juke box manufacturer has stated, "The Cash Box proposal that every juke box operator should immediately arrange to obtain a minimum $15 per week front money guarantee is the answer to the entire future success of the automatic music industry. Every music operator in the nation should immediately adopt this plan."

And The Cash Box says to those operators who always complain, "We are willing to start this arrangement in our territories, but, the others won't do it", that, unless they, too, wish to commit business suicide because the "other fellow" wants to—they had best, to protect themselves from any possible future losses arrange now to obtain a minimum $15 per week front money guarantee.

SMALL TOWNS TAKE SALES & PLAY ACTION LEAD FROM CITIES

Biz Switches to Small Town Coverage. Amusement and Juke Box Sales and Play Action Greater in Smaller Communities.

NEW YORK—Reports are at last filtering thru to the trade generally that the small towns of America have taken precedence over the big urban centers and have today become the outstanding buyers and sellers of amusement machines as well as juke boxes.

Once again the small town, always known in business circles as "the backbone of the nation", has come to the fore, and the trade's leaders are contacting deep into these communities and meeting with better and better reception.

The controversies may rage over the belief that one large city can, with one huge smash, take more equipment than dozens of small towns combined, yet the facts as they are today show that by consistent buying and selling of coin operated equipment, the smaller towns are the ones who are holding up the business of the industry to a greater extent than ever before.

It is agreed that many of the nation's large urban centers can use gobs and gobs of machines of all kinds if they wax very popular in those places. But, there is not that consistency which has won leadership for the smaller community evident in such spasmodic purchasing power.

The fact remains that the small town operators, jobbers and distributors, have gone along in their unassuming and quiet fashion and have proved to the satisfaction of the average manufacturer that they, too, can use quantities of equipment. This isn't usually evident in the first orders but, rather, in the consistent re-orders which have come about when the first opening wedge is driven into these communities.

It is also noticeable that even the large city distributor and jobber has now made it his business to get "out on the road" to cover the smaller towns. These men have found that the small town buyers have helped them to hold up their volume of purchases and are, therefore, making it their business to cover these markets as intensively as they possibly can.

What is important to the industry is the fact that the smaller town has developed a closer relationship between the operator and the community than the big cities have been able to accomplish, regardless of what public relations effort the urban centers have attempted. It seems that the size of the community has had something to do with this. Yet, on a proportionate average this should not be the case. The reason? Simply that in the smaller town there are so many less coinmen as compared to the large city. It can be based on the same figures of so many coin machines to so much population. Therefore, so many coinmen to so many people.

But, for some reason or other, the small town coinman has found it to his advantage for years and years to have his business better listed and more indelibly impressed on the citizens of his community than has the big city operator. Where the big city operator shows indifference, the small town op is right in there working with all the citizens in his community. Where the big city op neglects public relations work — the small town op makes use of this great necessity in every possible instance.

The result is that the small town ops have been able to keep their communities running smoothly on their games and phonos with as equitable taxation as possible, whereas the big city ops have been forced to many times close down and have also been forced to pay extremely heavy and inequitable taxes.

Therefore, over a period of years now, the small town operator has continued to boost his status in the industry, and is today said to have taken away much of the "big buying action" from his large city brother.

Coinmen are making it their business to get out into the small towns of America to work more closely with the operators who are located in these communities. Salesmen who neglected to call on these people, especially during the war years, are now arranging more intense coverage of these markets.

Manufacturers, too, have come to the realization that these many thousands of small communities in America are extremely important to them and are now asking that their distributors, who in most instances are located in the large centers, to make it their business to visit these coinmen more regularly.

With sales and play action going more and more into the highways and byways of America, with the small town leading the way, with the lowly out of the way little place on the road blossoming forth as an important entity in the merchandising picture, there is no doubt that many new types of products will also be developed to meet with the conditions which prevail in these communities. These may benefit all in the field.

The greater majority of small town coinmen have long ago arranged for better commission basis with their locations. Most of these men did not fear the same sort of competition as did their big city brothers. They went right to work and pointed out to every location their need for a better share of the intake from their equipment. This, plus their lower overhead (and yet the fact is that their take, too, is much lower than that of the big city) has helped them to obtain this enviable position they now enjoy regarding commissions.

It is a surety that as the months go by, the small town will continue to grow in importance. Many manufacturers are surprised by the fact that a large percentage of the merchandise they ship is reshipped into the smaller communities of the nation.

One manufacturer reported, "It was a complete surprise to us to learn that over 65% of the games we had shipped were being reshipped into the small towns surrounding the big city where our distributor was located. We have awakened to the fact that the small town is extremely important to our future. We are, therefore, sending our salesmen into these communities to learn more facts for us. And we believe that they may return with information which will prove invaluable to our future plans."

Whatever the future holds for the industry, one fact has become clear to all — that the small towns of America have taken the lead from their larger, big city brothers and, from all present indications, are sure to continue to hold that lead for sometime to come.

PINBALLS & ROLLDOWNS LEAD IN 3rd QUARTER

Sales Continue to Boom for New Rolldowns and Pinballs. Both Type Games Reported to Stand Up for Long Runs. Trade-in Prices Holding Up.

CHICAGO—Now that the industry has reached the midway mark in the third quarter of the year, it is interesting to note that the amusement games division has not only held its sales lead, but, seems to have also insured that lead with even greater sales sure to result for the balance of this period.

The new pinballs and rolldowns are getting the lion's share of the sales action. Coinmen everywhere in the nation report that the new games which have been produced have proven themselves among the greatest ever turned out.

Rolldowns started their boom in the New York market during this quarter and tho this market hasn't as yet actually been scratched, the results which have come about assure the trade that it will continue its growth. It seems that two associations have already been formed or are being formed in the New York market. One in Manhattan and the other in Brooklyn, which brings back the same condition which existed as far as associations are concerned during the pinball era here.

Los Angeles and surrounding territory is using rolldowns. This city, it is expected, is sure to awake with the cooler September weather and much speedier action is sure to result. As yet, there hasn't been too concerted a rush for the new rolldowns in this area this past month, especially when compared to the New York market. But gradually this far western area which was the first big rolldown market is developing into a most important future rolldown sales center.

In the midwestern cities, pinballs have taken the lead, with the possible exception of Detroit and some surrounding area. In Detroit, rolldowns and bowling alleys continue to lead in demand. But, there are pinballs operating in Michigan, and there are a great many more being shipped into that state daily.

Also interesting is the fact that many cities that have adopted rolldowns, such as Newark, N. J., are also pinball users. It is said of this city that the pinball play is showing very good action, tho not too many new machines seems to be sold here. Bowling alleys are also part of the sales picture in Jersey and will always continue to hold an important place in operating here.

In the Northwestern states, pinballs are leading in the sales and operating picture. Here, too, one-balls, consoles and bells are important but, in the main, it is the pin game which gets the greatest action. And pin games have continued to be the most important and most active in this area during the third quarter of this year. There is no doubt that they will so continue into the fourth quarter, from all present indications.

In the Northwestern area — again — it's pinball. Here some bells, consoles and one-balls are also operating. But, action is mainly on pinballs with some rolldowns being sold in various spots. Bowling alleys saw some action here the first part of the year, but sales were not in comparison to pinball and pinball continues to be the favorite.

In the Southeastern area — pinball again is the leader. There are rolldowns operating in Florida and some of the surrounding areas, but, it's pinball in the lead by a wide margin. It was hoped in Miami that this Fall season would see some console action but this did not materialize. Now, attention is once again turned to the new pinball games, and sales have held up and even gone ahead in some instances. Coinmen predict that Florida will prove a very important market this coming winter season. Surrounding states have also been active as far as pinballs are concerned.

The Central South is practically all pinball area tho there are some consoles and bells and one-bells operating. Here, again, as in the other territories mentioned, pinball has proved the most active and outstanding of all coin operated equipment. The operators are reported to have done a fine job of bringing up their averages with the new machines and sales have continued on at a good pace. Many more pin games have been shipped into this area than what was originally believed possible.

In the Southwestern part of the country pinballs lead again. There have been some very good sales of rolldowns in this area, too. But the far greater majority of the sales on coin operated equipment made thruout the southwest during the third quarter, as well as in the first and second quarters of the year, have been pin games. The southwest continues to operate pin games of every description. Tho a few important centers have closed down the rest have taken up whatever slack occurred and the pin game is well in the sales lead.

The concensus is that the pin game will continue to prove the most outstanding machine on the present sales market all thru the third and fourth quarters, if present sales trends are any indication of the future.

It seems, tho, that many more games would have been sold were the manufacturers able to supply the demand. With some of the large factories operating under "gauged production" plans, it seems that it will take a little more time to cover a great many areas.

This "gauged production" plan on the part of leading pinball manufacturers has helped tremendously to encourage sales, it is believed. In the first place, some report, this has made it possible for the operator to hold onto his game much longer than he formerly did and realize as good, if not better, trade-in valuation for his machine even tho he had held the machine from trade-in for a longer time interval.

It has, because it is gauged at a certain specified number of machines to each new product, been able to give the distributors and jobbers more leeway, which has helped them to offer better trade-in prices and also to assure customers of a longer run with whatever games they have sold them in the past.

Pinball has reigned as king up to this point and it seems a surety that this will be the case right up to the finish of 1947. There seems to be no other product at present being manufactured which can take this leadership away.

"Choo Choo"

"Lazy Country Side"

The Four Vagabonds

(Apollo 1075)

● Here's a hunk of wax for everyone of your spots. Lots of real harmony with rhythm that'll make 'em play it over and over again. These four boys do a marvelous job with "Choo Choo". On the flip, the boys harmonize beautifully on "Lazy Country Side" from Walt Disney's pic, "Fun And Fancy Free", in slow, lazy tempo. Here's one you've gotta get. It's good.

"They're Mine, They're Mine,
They're Mine"

"I Kiss Your Hand, Madame"

Buddy Clark

(Columbia 37592)

● That boy with the sweet pipes. Buddy Clark, is going to thrill the romantic couples in those quiet, dim lit locations with, "They're Mine, They're Mine, They're Mine", wherein Buddy tonsils the lyrics in a cozy and intimate fashion, getting great background support from the Mitchell Ayres ork. On the flip, Buddy does another sweet job with an oldie that's more than sure to please the customers. You can't go wrong with this platter.

"You Go To My Head"

"It Might As Well Be Spring"

Sarah Vaughan

(Crown 109A)

● Here's that gal with those grand pipes. Sarah Vaughan, spooning out two oldies that have all the smooth sweetness you like to hear. It's a surefire hunk of wax the way thrush Vaughan does it. Sarah is sure to help you grab lots of the moolah on many of your spots with this platter. Maestro John Kirby gives the thrush some really swell background and does a grand job all the way thruout the songs. Here's a really real hunk of biscuit to latch onto now.

"Red Head"

"San Antonio Rose"

Larry Lane

(Sapphire)

● A novelty hunk of shellac that has Philly's juke box ops shouting its praises to the skies. The boys in Philly claim that this is their No. 1 coin culler. Sung by Larry Lane and The Mello-Men, it has that intimate swinging melody that's a sure clickeroo for most of your spots. On the flip, the boys go into the standard, "San Antonio Rose", with lots of real harmony. But it's the topside that counts in this platter. The biscuit has lasting power plus coin catching ability.

DISK O' THE WEEK

"The Freedom Train"

"Star Spangled Banner"

Bing Crosby, Andrews Sisters with Vic Schoen Orch.

(Decca 23999)

Bing
Crosby

Andrews
Sisters

● Here's the story back of this and all recordings of "The Freedom Train". Beginning on September 17, Uncle Sam will start his "Freedom Train" rolling out of Washington, D. C. to eventually cover about 200 cities in these United States in about a year's time and display to the peoples of this great nation the many documents which have brought about the freedom of this country. As the "Freedom Train" reaches a city, a holiday will be declared, with schools closing, and all invited to visit the train and see these great American documents.

Irving Berlin has written a marvelous song, "The Freedom Train". It is reported that all his royalties will go to continuing this train. Decca teamed Bing Crosby with the Andrews Sisters, supported by Vic Schoen and his ork, to make one of their most stirring recordings. The tempo, the marching, stirring, exhilarating tune, and the great lyrics as sung by Bing and the Andrews Sisters make this a great record. It's backed by the nation's own "Star Spangled Banner".

Here, again, is something into which every juke box operator in the nation should plunge wholeheartedly. To back up the U.S. "Freedom Train", this grand tune with its even grander lyrics, should occupy the "Number One" position in every phono. wall and bar box, wired music shell and all other automatic music equipment. It's the perfect tie-up for the juke box industry. It's another "Any Bonds Today"! It's what this nation wants and needs. This song is of America — its glory — its achievements — its greatness — and its hopes and aspirations for tomorrow.

"Happiness Is A Thing Called Joe"

"January Woman"

Frances Wayne

(Exclusive 17X)

● The gal everyone's heard about since she signed with Exclusive and all have been waiting to hear her first release. Frances gives her all on the topside in about as lowdown a ballad as you'll ever hear. With Buddy Baker's ork backing her up, here's a platter that's sure to start 'em talking about Wayne. On the flip, the thrush does just as great a vocalizing job on "January Woman" with pahlenty of that sex tremor in her tonsils. Better get this one—it sounds mighty ty good.

"Red Top"

"Idaho"

Gene Ammons Sextet

(Mercury 8048A)

● Gene Ammons Sextet has Chicago's south side shouting praises for "Red Top". It's one of the hottest platters we've reviewed in a long, long while, with all the boys coming in to solo it over the top. Gene, himself, does a real hunk of business on his tenor sax, capably supported by Gail Brockman, trumpet; Jim Craig, piano; Chuck Williams, drums and Gene Wright on the bass. Here's real red meat for your race spots. On the flip, "Idaho", the boys again show off their instrumental prowess. This one will bring in plenty of coin.

"The Freedom Train"

"—And Mimi"

Ray Dorey

(Majestic 7262A)

● Here they come. "The Freedom Train" disks. On this cutting for the Majestic label, Ray Dorey does a grand vocalizing job on an arrangement made and conducted by Jack Matthias. You'll like Ray's stirring singing of this great tune. On the flip, Ray takes you to the Rue De La Paix and warbles all about "—And Mimi". The topside, in this platter, is the one that counts.

"Long Gone Blues"

"Am I Blue"

Billie Holiday Orch.

(Columbia 37586)

● Once again Billie cuts a biscuit low down and blue and the gal pipes the tune and the lyrics of these oldies in very pleasing style, getting terrific support from Tab Smith on the tenor sax with a grand closing by trumpeter Lips Page. On the flip, "Am I Blue". Billie does an extremely swell job. You'll like this platter for your race spots. It's got that beat.

"Oh You Beautiful Doll"

"Early Autumn"

Claude Thornhill Orch.

(Columbia 37593)

● For the jukes, we still pick the old oldie in this duo, "Oh You Beautiful Doll" 'cause there's lots of youngsters and oldsters who'll applaud the way maestro Claude Thornhill does this side and also the way the piper, Gene Williams, warbles the lyrics. But, don't overlook "Early Autumn" where the maestro let 'em hear his piano wizardry and thrush Fran Warren spoons out the lyrics of the beguine song. Here's one to get next to — it's got lots of coin culling power.

"Summertime Gal"

"Satchel Mouth Baby"

Basin Street Boys

(Exclusive 19X)

● Here's wax that'll get 'em stompin' up in Harlem. The Basin Street Boys are on the beat harmonizing "Satchel Mouth Baby" in swingin', tinglin' fashion and to which they have added a neat piece of talking business you'll like. They're backed by Lucky Thompson's ork with the maestro furnishing swell support all the way thru. On the flip, "Summertime Gal" (which we note was written by Exclusive's prexy, Leon René) the boys spoon out some sweet and close harmony you'll want to hear over again. This platter should help hold up your averages.

"Why Should I Cry Over You"

"Boulevard of Dreams"

Ray Dorey

(Majestic 7266)

● Ray Dorey really goes to town on the topline with the oldie, "Why Should I Cry Over You", in the best rendition of this one time sensationally big hit we've yet heard. Ray really gives it the schmalz, but good, and sells the song right to the finishing second. Here's a real coin grabber if there ever was one. On the flip, Ray again latches onto an oldie in very fine style. Our bet's on the topline of this platter. Get it when it's released.

"Big Fat Mama"

"Three O'Clock In The Morning"

Gene Phillips

(Modern 20-519A)

● Here's Gene Phillips — plenty brown and lowdown. While Gene wails for a "Big Fat Mama" you'll hear many a coin pop into jukes in race spots all over the land. Fast tempo, plus good melody, to make up a very nice hunk of wax. On the flip, Gene adds a few variations to that great standard, "Three O'Clock In The Morning". But, it's the topline that has the big play possibilities.

SLEEPER OF THE WEEK

"That Old Gang of Mine"

"Heart Of My Heart"

The Four Vagabonds

(Apollo 1076)

THE FOUR VAGABONDS

● Here are two of the best of the oldies and, as harmonized by the sweet singing Four Vagabonds, they're sure to click in all your spots. In "That Old Gang of Mine" the boys open sweet and mellow and spoon out the lyrics with terrific heart warming harmony, going into medium fast tempo on the second chorus to set feet tapping. You'll be singing along with 'em before you realize it. On the flip, another oldie, "Heart Of My Heart", in which the Four again go to town to wind up cutting one of the best coin catching disks we've heard in many a moon. (If the success of the "Peg" is any indication, watch "That Old Gang Of Mine".) It's going to please young and old alike. And, with the college crowds on their way back to the campuses, they'll be singing along with it in every one of their favorite hang-outs. As for tavern locations you know how they'll spin this one white.

"Near You"

"Oh Peter You're So Nice"

Alvino Rey

(Capitol B452)

● Here's wax you'll like. Maestro Alvino Rey gives you the tune that's beginning to catch on (since it was picked as a "Sleeper" by The Cash Box sometime ago) "Near You" on his boogie-woogie guitar in a way that is plenty keen instrumentally and Jimmy Joyce croons the vocal in that intimate sort of way to make you want to turn the lights down low and just relax. On the flip, the maestro again does a grand instrumental supported in the tonsil department by The Blue Reys. You'll like both sides and both are nickel pullers.

"Sugar"

"Woman Alone With The Blues"

Lee Wiley

(Majestic 7258B)

● A swell hunk of low down and brown vocalizing by thrush Lee Wiley offering the romantic ballad, "Sugar" ("That Sugar Baby Of Mine"). Dig this biscuit for your race spots. It's plenty coin-catchy. On the flip, "Woman Alone With The Blues", the thrush gives with one of the bluest of the blue tunes. This platter's got "juke box" written all over it.

"Sugar Blues"

"Why Should I Cry Over You"

Johnny Mercer

(Capitol B448)

● Two swell oldies with vocalizing by Johnny Mercer. Johnny gives with that old-time, hot, lowdown and blue in a new and humorous fashion, improvising on the original lyrics to cut a great hunk of toe-tapping, rhythmic wax in "Sugar Blues". The way Johnny and the gang do it, supported by the Paul Weston ork, you're sure to like it. On the flip, Johnny is joined by the Pied Pipers to give this one time sensational ballad plenty of zing. Here's a disk that should get coin, especially from the many Mercer fans.

"You Gave Me Everything But Love"

"Angel Eyes"

Herb Jeffries

(Exclusive 18X)

● Here's one every Herb Jeffries' fan will spend plenty of nickels to hear over and over again. The warbler whose record, "When I Write My Song", has 'em singing out loud in Harlem, does a really fine job on two great ballads, beautifully supported by Buddy Baker and his ork. In medium slow tempo, with Herb's pipes giving out in the romantic manner, the tunes, "You Gave Me Everything But Love" and "Angel Eyes" sound like a set of naturals for your spots. Plenty of real juke box action here.

"True"

"When The White Roses Bloom"

Andy Russell

(Capitol B450)

● Here's a platter that will catch coin in a multitude of your spots. That sweet crooner of romantic ballads, Andy Russell, really goes to town on the topline, "True", and will make many a pretty girl's spine tingle with his warbling of this number. On the flip, Andy does a very neat piece of business with, "When The White Roses Bloom In The Red River Valley". Thruout both sides the crooner gets grand support from Paul Weston ork. We chose the topline, and believe you will, too.

"I'm Falling For You"

"Sweet Slumber"

The Scamps

(Modern 20-521B)

● A biscuit that has been pressed into something romantic, slow and soft, for those spots on your route where the customers like to hear that soothing wail of a good voice backed by neat piano playing. It's a really restful hunk of wax with both sides about equal. If you've got those dim lit tavern spots where they like their romance slow and easy, you'll do good with this disk.

BROTHER, CAN YOU SPARE A TITLE STRIP ?

Biggest and Cheapest Juke Box Promotional Factor Being Overlooked by Diskeries as Ops Cry for Title Strips. When Disks Were 19¢ Each Strips Were Free to Ops. Now at Triple the Price for the Records They Just Ain't to be Had.

NEW YORK—"When records sold for 19c each", one noted juke box operator wrote The Cash Box this past week. "we used to get all the title strips we wanted from the record manufacturers. Now that records cost triple that much", he commented, "we can't even get near seeing a title strip in the envelope of the records we buy".

Here is the greatest and cheapest promotional factor the record makers have ever had and which they are overlooking at a time when competition is keener than ever before in all disk history.

Every artist, every publisher and ever diskery knows how important the title strip is to the operator and also what these title strips mean to him. There is no doubt that the continuous appearance of the name of an artist, the name of the record maker and the name of the song, appearing in a juke box, acts as a showcase reminder for the public long after the song has passed from radio and promotional prominence.

In short, names of leading artists are constantly on display in juke boxes, wall and bar boxes and in wired music shells all over the nation. The name of the tune itself means much to the publisher as well as to the record manufacturer and the artist, and the cost of this tremendously marvelous promotion is so small that many, to this day, wonder why it has been overlooked since the beginning of the war.

Many times a record manufacturer will complain that the name of the record firm does not appear on the hand made strips which the operators themselves are forced to make up for their juke boxes. This is simply because the busy operator just hasn't the time to sit down and write out all details on a small title strip. He puts in the name of the song and the name of the artist and that's all.

But, were the record manufacturer to print the title strip for him and enclose it in the envelope in which the record appears, as he did in years before the war, he would be able to also mention the record and its serial number so that, in this fashion, he would be gaining greater sales action from the public who first hear the record in a juke box prior to entering into a music store to purchase it.

The very uniformity of the title strip invites such manufacture by the diskers. They can, then, not only get over the name of the artist and the name of the song in strong, bold type, many times in reverse, but also print thereon the name of their own record company and the serial number of the record to make it easier for the public to purchase such records.

It certainly speaks well for the record manufacturer whose name appears more times than any other on any individual juke box. This is direct "point-of-sale" advertising which he couldn't purchase anywhere else. Right when Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Q. Public and the youngsters are looking over the record chart on the juke box or wall box — they are sold the name and number of the record they most prefer.

They are, at that moment, in the best buying mood they will ever be. And, yet, the record manufacturer overlooks this extremely important promotional sales advantage for himself at the cheapest price he could ever pay for such advertising.

There is no waste circulation on the juke box record charts. Here all numbers are being constantly sold to the public. They are choosing generously of the music they like and when a new number strikes them favorably it becomes part and parcel of the stock that the neighborhood record store must carry at all times. This is admitted by all intelligent record merchandisers who realize that the juke boxes are among the greatest and most daring of sales anticipators and sales creators.

The juke box operator always takes a chance on a new tune — in quantity. But, the average record store will hold off until calls come in for that number. Therefore, since the juke box is an opening wedge to future sales of a number — certainly this should be most completely utilized by the manufacturers and they definitely should print title strips for the operators.

The operators want and need such strips. They have been purchasing them and hand manufacturing them but none of these hand made things are equal to the fine printing which was used some years back and which gave the appearance of uniformity to the average phono record rack.

For a long time now music operators have been asking the manufacturers and their distributors for title strips. It's about time the publishers, artists and record manufacturers came together to answer this great need and to, at the same time, gain for themselves the many promotional advantages which such marvelous point-of-sale advertising can bring to them.

OLDIE AND NOVELTY DISKS HOG THE BIG SPOT'S PLAY

"That Old Gang of Mine"; "Why Should I Cry Over You";
"I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now"; "Old Man Mose";
"Beer Barrel Polka"; "Sugar Blues"; and Others Now
Grabbing Coin From Old and Young Alike as Music
Ops Jam 'Em in All Their Juke Boxes.

NEW YORK—"The show must go on"—even if there aren't any sensational new tunes which will make people pop more nickels into the nation's juke boxes—and so the music ops thruout the country are jamming their boxes full of oldies and novelties which, they report, are bringing up averages and also getting good play from Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Q. Public.

Western, hillbilly and folk tunes have captured the favored positions in the juke boxes in the nation's biggest cities. These are doing a job where none of the modern songs have been able to capture the play. It is interesting to note that such tunes as, "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke", "Tim-Tayshun" and "Feudin' & Fightin'" were rated in the number 5, 7, and 8 spot on August 18 in New York. In Chicago, the regional record report for the week of August 18, shows these three tunes in 8, 9 and 10 position, and in Los Angeles and other of the larger cities, they hold even better positions.

This may prove a surprise to a great many in the music business, but, the juke box ops thruout the nation claim that these songs are bringing in more coin than any others on the present market. And, as is well known in this, or any other, business, "it's what's in the cash box that counts."

Take such oldies as "Peg O' My Heart", since it was introduced by Vitacoustic with the Harmonicats, the number has held first place in juke box reports from thruout the nation for seven straight weeks. This is better than any tune has done this year. And, from all indications, (at least at this writing), it looks like the "Peg" will set a new record for holding the first place position. It just simply seems that the public have turned back to the sweet, melodious oldies and there's nothing that can be done about it.

So, to match the public's desire, the nation's pubberies and diskeries have turned to the oldies and are today presenting everything from "Bei Mir Bist Du Schein" all the way to "Beer Barrel Polka". Some of the tunes currently grabbing the spotlight and which juke box operators are jamming into their machines are: "That Old Gang of Mine", "Sugar Blues", "Heart Of My Heart", "Why Should I Cry Over You", "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now?", "Old Man Mose", and so many, many others, the list would require many pages of this size to complete.

But, what is certainly of interest to all in the music field is the report received from one very well known large juke box operator who wrote The Cash Box. "There's no use talking about it. You hit the nail squarely on the head when you told the entire music business that we need a new and great song. Yet, we can't seem to get it. What I've done", he continues, "is probably what every other operator in the nation is now doing. That is, to turn back to the oldies which are being reissued by all the leading record manufacturers.

"Here", he says, "we've hit a bonanza. Take it from me", he reports, "the oldies like the 'Peg' and some of the others, are making us more money than any of the new songs which have been introduced this year. We've always followed your 'Disk O' The Week' and also your 'Sleeper Of The Week' and we've never yet gone wrong. But, you will probably have noted yourself, that everyone of the tunes you've lately placed in these favored positions are oldies, and what oldies.

"Yes, sir, you can take it from me and tell it to all the trade, that if not for the oldies we might as well shut down our boxes and forget all about the business. It's the oldies that the novelties that are keeping us going and, from all present indications, this is what's going to happen for the rest of this year anyway."

In fact, even the first half of the year 1947 has been dominated by oldies. These resulted from the sensational successful return of Al Jolson whose "Anniversary Song" and "April Showers", "Mammy", and all his other tunes, occupied the best moneymaking spots in all the juke boxes thruout the country. Once these wore out with the public, the diskeries returned with reissues of even older songs. Most of the diskers and publishers are still digging down deep into dusty bins to gather up songs of 20 years and more ago and putting them to new beat to place them on the market once again.

A pertinent example, "Why Should I Cry Over You?", that Ned Miller of Feist's Chicago office dug up out of his trunk and brought back and which is now beginning to gradually climb to a point where even Ned, who wrote the song years ago and plugged it personally from the boxes of many a Chicago theatre, is surprised. But, that song is only a youngster compared to "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now?". We wonder how Joe Howard who, a few years ago, worked for a juke box and arcade machine operator, Johnny Christofano, when Johnny opened the "Little Old New York" cabaret on 14th Street, and brought back such names as the late Eddie Leonard and also Joe Howard, Joe certainly must be wondering what's wrong with the modern day Tin Pan Alley?

This issue of The Cash Box finds "That Old Gang of Mine" chosen the "Sleeper of The Week". It really is something to marvel at—the return of the oldies and the fact that they seem to grow greater instead of weaker with each passing day.

As one noted music man stated. "We must remember that most of the boys who are now 20 and even older, never heard of these tunes. They were sensational hits when most of these young men were still in their diapers. They were being sung by mother and dad who were the 'flappers' and 'sheiks' in those days.

"Now, these boys are hearing the tunes, some for the first time, and they like them. They like them because they're sweet and restful and relaxing, and that's what the country wants again.

"So, to those boys who are beginning to reach that age when their mothers and dads, too, got over the bunny-hug and one-step and some of the other hot dances of their day, these boys, too, want something restful and sweet and melodious and relaxing, and, to them — these tunes are brand new."

NEW INDIE RECORD GIVES PROFITS TO DAMON RUNYON CANCER FUND

8½c From First Disk of New United Artist Record Co. Sold to Juke Box Ops Goes to Runyon Fund. BMI Ties in. Will Print 400,000 Stamps to be Pasted on Jukes Calling Attention to Both Sides of Disk. Full Week in Sept. Set Aside for Juke Box Play. Disc Jockey Assn. Hears About Record at Chicago Convention.

Walter Winchell Sees First UA Disk Set For Full Week Juke Play

CHICAGO—James T. Mangan, CMI Public Relations Bureau director, today announced that on every copy of United Artist's recording of "You're the Sunshine of My Heart" and "Ella" sold to phonograph operators for use on juke boxes, the recording company agrees that 8½c will be donated to CMI's Damon Runyon Cancer Fund Drive. This represents 5c from the United Artist Record Company, 1c royalty from the composer of the tune, Maurice O. Wells, 1c from the recording artists, The Esquire Trio, and 1½c from the distributor.

John Clein, president of United Artist Record Company, stated that suppliers of shellac, cartons, labels, by-products, processing, etc., will be urged to contribute all or a part of their profits from this particular record to the CMI campaign. He also announced that special labels are being printed for the record itself and will bear a suitable message. Advertising, circulars, and other pieces will be printed describing the disc's part in the Cancer Fund.

Carl Haverlin, president of Broadcast Music, Inc., has made a special appropriation to be used for advertising and other promotion of the record in the juke box field. 400,000 small stamps are being printed by Broadcast Music, Incorporated. Operators are urged to paste the stamp on their juke boxes, as it calls attention to the fact that record royalties of these two tunes are being donated to the Damon Runyon Fund sponsored by CMI.

The coin machine operators who play these songs in a given week, probably September 20 to 28, will be asked to donate their entire net proceeds from this record to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund as sponsored by Coin Machine Industries, Inc.

The record itself was introduced by James T. Mangan to the National Disc Jockey's Association, which convened at the Sherman Hotel, Friday, August 15. Mangan, in a short talk, informed the disc jockeys of the record's royalty donation and asked that such information be part of the broadcast announcements when the record is played on the air. Each disc jockey received an advance copy of the record.

Walter Winchell was shown the record on his visit to Chicago during his meeting with CMI officials. He complimented United Artist, M. O. Wells, Broadcast Music, juke box operators and distributors for their great generosity.

"You fellows in the coin machine industry are really going all out in the Cancer Fund drive," Winchell said. "My many, many thanks! I never anticipated such tremendous support. I hope to see these two tunes on every one of the 400,000 juke boxes in this great country."

Desi Arnaz Learns How

INDIANAPOLIS — Desi Arnaz pays a call on his friend and AMI phono distributor here, Paul Jock of P-J Distributing Co., who gave Desi a lesson in just how a juke box gets tone quality from records.

"Arnaz is well acquainted with mechanism", Jock reports, "and you can take it from me that some of the questions he asked regarding amplification, volume and general tonal reproduction were something to answer."

The Maestro Takes A Gander At His Disks

NEW YORK — That big smile on Freddy Martin is due to the way his disks "Come To The Mardi Gras" and "Lady From 29 Palms" are catching on with juke box ops everywhere in the country as he looks at the reports in The Cash Box.

Cash Box. Johnny Dugan, who books Freddy, reports that theatre box office records are being smashed by Martin because of the big juke box play he is getting.

Freddy has been re-signed for the Strand Theatre here for next year due to the tremendous hit he made on his last appearance.

BULLSEYE of the WEEK

"Them Durn Fool Things"

"Song Of Indians"

Red Ingle

(Capitol B451)

● That man Ingle is back again to try and match his big clickeroo, "Tim-Tayshun". This time he has taken, "Those Foolish Things Remind Me Of You" and turned it into one of the screwiest, most comical hunks of wax you've ever listened to in "Them Durn Fool Things". Supported by the Natural Seven, Red gives with the lyrics in a way that'll make you howl. Supporting his vocal is a "Mrs. James F. Paisley", whoever she is, and Capitol won't tell, yet. On the flip, Red becomes "Chief Red Eagle" and goes into what he calls the "Song of Indians" (Song Of India) supported in the tonsil work by "Minnie Haw Haw". (And we can't get Capitol to tell us who she is, either). For a hunk of really great coin nabbing material grab this platter.

"I Never See My Baby Alone"

"The Little Shirt My Mommy Made For Me"

Smilin' Eddie Hill

(Apollo 158)

● Here's a hunk of humorous, melodious wax by Smilin' Eddie Hill and his Tennessee Mountain Boys you'll find people playing over and over again. Smilin' Eddie is heckled thruout his vocal on the topside by one of his crew who does a Donald Duck quacking questioning kibitz that proves a very neat piece of business. On the flip, Eddie comes thru with another really great piece of wax. Both sides sure to prove themselves nickel getters.

"Downtown Poker Club"

"That's What I Like About The West"

Tex Williams

(Capitol A40031)

● Fast talking recitation all about the "Downtown Poker Club", about old Bill and a cheating poker game. Tex does a very good job here with a speedy, matching musical background by his Western Caravan. On the flip, Tex goes into another recitation about why the West is best that should get the support of everyone west of the Mississippi. Both sides extremely good for any western juke box.

"Just Me And You"

"Too Long Blues"

Little David Wheaton

(Capitol A40034)

● Little David does a very workmanlike job on the topside here in a blues arrangement wherein he tells why you should "leave us to ourselves" in "Just Me And You" that's got plenty of coin calling possibilities on any phono anywhere. With real lowdown lyrics to add to his vocalizing, he has cut a couple of sides sure to please.

To Hold Hearing For Scrap Price Reduction

NEW YORK—The American Truck Association (ATA) will hold a hearing on August 26 at the Hotel Governor Clinton, this city, on behalf of all record companies who have filed applications for the reduction on the price of scrap records.

Those record manufacturers who have not already filed their applications are urged to do so immediately, according to S. M. Gasstner of Decca Records, Inc., offices here.

The railroad hearing on the reduction on price of scrap records is scheduled for sometime during the month of September.

Gasstner will furnish information to any record manufacturers who are not completely familiar with the plan to get a price reduction on scrap record haulage.

Cleveland Ops Pick "On The Avenue" As September "Hit Tune"

CLEVELAND — 350 members of the Cleveland Phonograph Merchants Assn. and their friends chose "On The Avenue" as the "Hit Tune of the Month for September" at the association's annual picnic, Tuesday, August 19, at the Richmond Country Club.

Balloting took place in the evening when Howie Lund, of Station WJMO, one of Cleveland's most popular disk jockeys, introduced the ten tunes, which were played on a Mills "Constellation" phono.

Results of the balloting showed that "On The Avenue" received one third of the votes cast. This tune will be placed in the number one spot of the 3000 juke boxes in the Cleveland area throughout the month of September.

The other nine tunes played, in order of popularity, were: "Kate", "Kokomo, Indiana", "Just Plain Love", "Penguin At The Waldorf", "Just An Old Love Of Mine", "Sweet Marie", "That's What Every Young Girl Should Know", "How Lucky You Are", and "Huckleberry Duck".

Petrillo Bans New Disk Firms

NEW YORK—James C. Petrillo, head of AFM (American Federation of Musicians) announced this past week that AFM is refusing to make instrumentalists available to new concerns who want to enter into the record manufacturing business.

This is believed to be the outcome of the strategy adopted by AFM after the enactment of the Taft-Hartley Law. AFM will not sign any new contracts wherein the disk maker has to pay directly to the union a fee for each record sale. Such a contract would be illegal under the Taft-Hartley Law, but all former contracts will remain in force to July 1, 1948.

It is reported that rather than alter the operation of its welfare fund at this time, the musicians' union decided not to negotiate any new contracts. Dental of contracts has kept many new firms from entering into the record manufacturing biz.

It is believed here that should AFM grant new contracts without the royalty payment provision, those firms who now hold contracts which carry fees for each record, would protest that they were receiving inequitable treatment.

ALAN DALE

● New face on the wax horizon steps out here with more hit material out of the Irving Berlin grab bag and scores — but heavily! Peg this ditty for big things in the near future and also take note of Alan Dale. The balladeer, behind a background of musical perfection offered by Ray Bloch, spills the word-age of "Kate" in such mood as to charm and enchant any listener. That the lad can sing, and sing well at that, will be attested to once you catch his golden pipes. Alan's quiver flows the arrangement ever so much, making for more nickel nabbing all the way thru. Excellent marimba solo opens the way for the crooner to step in, while a band chorus follows the lead in the second chorus. "Kate" for the moola, and a barrel-full at that!

JO STAFFORD

● With "Love and the Weather", Jo goes off the deep end with as beautiful a ballad you could possibly muster today. It's more plaudits for Jo and Irving Berlin on this score, which features some wonderful instrumental accompaniment by the Weston crew again. In the lighter mood of music, Jo's soft purring should have the starry-eyed kids singing and playing this ditty in no time at all. Both sides make for heavy coinage — get next to them by all means!

Briefs FROM THE HILLS AND PLAINS

New York has been the mecca for hillbilly and western recording acts for the past several weeks. Eddie Arnold waxed for Victor and will be in town to guest the Victor program on Sept. 7. Lonzo and Oscar have also been in to cut some wax for the same label. . . . Esco Hankins, King Records' new discovery, is a sure-fire click, from all reports. He has a flock of new releases, including some of Roy Acuff's greatest numbers . . . Johnny Bond is doing alright in the peroxide department for Columbia with his cutting of "Jole Blon's Daughter". Nice break for a nice guy . . . You probably never heard of Jimmy Hinchee unless you happened to pick watermelons in a neighboring patch down in Mississippi, or were a shipmate of his in Uncle Sam's Navy, but word comes from the juke box biggies that he'll soon be a nickel grabber in the rural sections. Waxing for Continental, his first release (Sept. 1) is "Kentucky Waltz" backed with "It's A Sin" . . . Jack Day of ABC's "Hayloft Hoedown" is a terrific bet for any record firm looking for another Red Foley . . . Have you heard Jack Beasley on CBS' "Oklahoma Roundup" knockin' 'em dead with "Sold Down The River"? . . . Spade Cooley's waxing of "Red Hot Polka" will burn up many a juke this fall . . . Rex Allen is knockin' the stuffin' out of us'ns with his "Feudin' & Fightin'" His weapon is a Mercury disk . . . Ernie Benedict's Continental Record of "Baby Sitter" is a very unusual novelty. Babies cryin' and such stuff. You'll be hearin' it soon . . . Plenty a juke box op will go for Smiley Wilson's hunk of Apollo wax called, "Gotta Get To Oklahoma City". Smiley really rides this one to a fare thee well.

M G M Starts Big Membership Drive

Public Relations Program Stressed

NEWARK, N. J.—At the last meeting of Music Guild of America (MGA), music operators association here, it was decided to conduct a membership campaign in order to induce non-members to join the Guild.

An invitation was sent to non-members by Sam Waldor, president, in which he invited them to call on him so that he could discuss the advantages of membership in their organization.

Every member of the association was urged by Sam Waldor and Ernest Krauter (Chairman of the Membership Committee) to call on some non-member with whom they were friendly and discuss their mutual problems, and invite them to join up.

"Competition between members and non-members" states Waldor "only reverts to the benefit of the location and to the financial loss of both the member and non-member. The important fact is that all music machine merchants will benefit thru membership in the Guild financially with a better commission arrangement and the assurance of 'front money'."

The Guild is now working on a half dozen good will measures under the direction of LeRoy Stein. Stein has advised the membership to place a placard on every machine, sponsoring the collections for the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund. Streamers have also been supplied to the operators, who are covering all their spots with them,

Rodins Host To 75 Crippled Children

Police officers cooperated with Rodins, using their own cars to drive the kids to and from the wharf. The children were taken from Children's Hospital and social service lists, and Ben reports they had "the time of their lives".

This is only one of the many public services undertaken by Rodins. Recently he led a collection for the wife of one of Washington's policemen, killed in a shooting brawl.

"Cooperation"-Theme Stressed By Mann At Cincy Ops Meet

FRED MANN

CINCINNATI, O. — At the regular monthly meeting of the Cincinnati Phonograph Assn., held at the Gibson Hotel, Fred A. Mann, regional sales manager of Aireon Manufacturing Corp., guest speaker, spoke on "Prosperity or Bust".

Stressing cooperation as the only means of success, Mann stated "The relationship between the manufacturer, distributor and operator is not that of employer and worker, for their interests are identical and not diametrically opposed to one another. The proponents of the theory that we must fight one another are the apostles of doom and bust. The only way to continued prosperity in our industry is for all three branches — manufacture, distribution and operating to equally share our responsibilities."

After the meeting Mann and the Aireon Manufacturing Corp. were hosts of all present at a buffet supper. Among visitors from other sections of the State were: Leo Dixon and Myron Erb, Cleveland; and Ed Dressel, Columbus. Don Fosgate manager of Triangle Distributing Co., local Aireon distributor, displayed the "Fiesta" and "Blonde Bombshell" phonos at the meet.

The operating firm explain that by this gesture they are assured of all locations in the Paterson area getting increased play, since every member of the National Guard appreciates the free use of the music machine and want to play other music machines to show this appreciation.

U. P. Reporter Checks Tele At Taverns

NEW YORK—The World-Telegram, local evening paper, featured the above cartoon and a story on the effects of television at bars by David Quinlan, United Press Staff Writer, who interviewed many tavern owners.

"New York tavern owners" writes Quinlan "debated today whether television—there are more than 7000 sets in public places here—was the biggest thing in bar business since the free lunch, or the nearest thing to the free load.

"Last summer, television receivers in public places in the metropolitan area could be numbered in the hundreds. This summer they have blossomed in taverns. They are attracting an estimated daily audience of more than 150,000 persons.

"Tavern keepers" reports Quinlan "were of varied opinion as to their boost-business value. Location played a big part.

"Business district bars, both mid-town and downtown, have increased sales up to 200 per cent in some cases. There's a particular boom in the baseball season. Men, and sometimes women, who ordinarily never would visit a bar during business hours, now drop in to watch an inning or two.

"While they watch, they sip.

"In the neighborhoods, it's a different story.

"One neighborhood proprietor sat in a booth morosely watching the Dodgers and the Pirates.

"'Baseball,' he grunted. 'All the time baseball And I don't like baseball.'

"Down the bar 14 men leaned on elbows, eyes fixed on the screen.

"'Look at the customers' said the tavern owner 'Everybody with his chin in his hand — nobody drinking. They just watch. Before was talk, a little argument, the juke box taking in nickels. Now is only baseball — quiet baseball.'"

Probing further, Quinlan questioned the promoters of athletic events. Arthur Mann, press agent for the Brooklyn Dodgers said he believed television was developing the women's interest, and prompted them to go to the ball park to see the real thing. Madison Square Garden claims to be drawing the same number of people to their fights as last summer and expect a larger attendance this coming winter due to the increased interest in television (Ed comment: Last Friday, August 15, the Garden drew less customers than it ever did in its fight history).

Hotels Viewed As Income Source For Many Coin Machines

OMAHA, NEB.—In a special feature article in the Mid-West Hotel Reporter, a hotel trade magazine, A. T. Wayne, secretary-treasurer of the National Hotel Company, asks the hotel owners "Are You Overlooking Sources of Income?"

This hotel executive in pointing out that "By Products of the Hotel Business may seem trivial when viewed alone, but when taken in the aggregate they amount to a substantial sum", suggests that they install various types of coin operated equipment.

Among those coin machines listed in this article are: Amusement Machines: commission from receipts of pin ball or other amusement machines; Candy Machines; commissions from these machines in small hotel not having cigar or drug stores; Cigarette Machines: commissions in small hotel not having cigar stands; Drink Machines: commissions in small hotels, and large hotels for sales to employees; Gum Machines: commissions in small hotels.

While certain type machines were omitted from this listing, coinmen could install other equipment such as: Coin operated radios, cigar venders, ice cream and food venders, etc.

Alabama Music Ops In 1st Annual Meet

1st Year Proved Successful

R. E. L. CHOATE

MONTGOMERY, ALA.—The first annual meeting of the Alabama Music Operators Association was called in this city by its President, Claude Hall of Jasper, Ala. The two day meet (August 24 and 25) will see election of officers, and scheduled for top discussion is the various laws that have been enacted by the state legislature affecting the operation of coin machines.

The legislature of this state has been in session for the past four mouths and the association has been quite successful in keeping licenses down to a reasonable figure.

"We have succeeded in killing several bills" states Bob Choate, business manager, "which would have increased our state licenses from the present $8 to figures ranging from $25 to $165. We were successful in combating the increase in licenses. We amended the present laws governing operation of vending machines by bringing same up to date, making it easier for our people to comply, and enabling us to enter into a good public relations program here.

"It was extremely difficult for us" continued Choate "to get this bill passed because many of our legislators had exaggerated ideas as to profits in vending machine operation, and many wanted to place heavier licenses against us. Our bill, which is House Bill 235, will go to the Senate, and we don't feel that we will have any difficulty in that chamber."

Ed Reed, executive secretary of the Alabama League of Municipalities is scheduled as guest speaker at the operators' meeting, and will outline ways and means for the coinmen to improve their relationships with the governing bodies of the towns in Alabama.

Detailed Article On Venders Featured In National Magazine

NEW YORK—Advertising & Selling, a national trade paper devoted to the advertising field, featured a six page story "Will Retail Robots Revolutionize Marketing?" by Bertrand R. Canfield, director of sales and advertising, Babson Institute. The story was devoted to the various coin operated venders on the market today, and others that are in the process of manufacture. Various photographs of these machines were used to illustrate Going into great detail, the story deals with "Auto-Serv" and the "Keedoozle" (automatic grocery stores); automatic laundries; Gasoterias (automatic vending gasoline pumps); cigarette; candy; cigars; beverage; food; nuts; ice cream; drug items; cosmetics; shirts; hose; books; etc. Service machines were given a good amount of space. Among those venders mentioned were: Music machines; railroad tickets; shoe shines; telegrams; insurance; weighing scales; lockers; pay toilets; typewriters; etc.

The coin changer was also described. The writer pointing out that this machines makes it possible to insert any coin into the vender and get the correct change.

"Although vending equipment is still quite complicated, expensive to make, costly to service and maintain, and restricted in the number of items it can handle" writes the author "individual enterprise, initiative and inventive genius stimulated by wartime experience and facilities are rapidly extending mechanization in trade.

"The advantages of automatic merchandising were discovered during the war. Many stores, unable to employ salespeople, converted to self-service. Buyers become accustomed to the advantages of waiting upon themselves. With automatic merchandisers service is instantaneous, and can be made at any hour of the day or night

Word "Gaming" Omitted From Title On Federal Tax Stamp

CHICAGO—One of the most unique and practical ideas ever presented to the music trade as a service help to the operators was instituted by Art Weinand, sales manager, Phonograph Division of Rock-Ola Manufacturing Corporation.

Rock-Ola distributors thruout the country will be equipped with portable still picture projectors which they will carry with them when visiting operators. A series of full color stills, showing every portion of the phono is carried in a kit. The salesman sets up the projector and flashes a photo on a portable screen. By a method of pointing and writing on a unit in front of him while explaining verbally, the salesman points out various problems and the solution. The written material appears on the screen in full view of the audience, and later on can be erased from the still.

The distributors and salesmen can put on this show for a group of operators or one individual. Coinmen who have seen the projector in action claim it will be of great assistance to the music operator.

"This modern method of demonstrating servicing problems to either one or more operators" states Weinand "does away with the necessity of calling a number of operators to a central point for service information. The operator and his service men (if he has any) can study the mechanical construction of a Rock-Ola phonograph right in his home or office. The entire demonstration takes only a short while and the operator and his servicemen don't have to lose a great deal of time away from their business. Many of the stills are illustrated with humorous cartoons, which we use to keep the operator's full interest and yet show a human interest touch."

The projectors should be in the hands of all distributors within a very short time, reports Weinand.

Rock-Ola Offers Unique Full Color Service School Shows

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The Internal Revenue Department changed the title of gaming device special tax stamps in a Bulletin (No. 1980) sent to their collectors on July 21 and explained the Department's reasons.

This change in title in no way changes the law itself nor the license fee amounts.

Thus, in the $100 license class, where formerly both the special tax return form 11-B and the special tax stamps original wording was: "Coin-operated GAMING DEVICES (slot machines and all other machines involving element of chance)". The new nomenclature is: "Coin operated DEVICES — Section 3267(b) Int. Rev.

Operators are very appreciative of this change, as certain games which were not classified as "gaming devices" in local territories and states, had Federal gaming device stamps posted on the premises of the location. This seemed to indicate that the location was violating local codes.

Reproduced below is the notice "A&C-Circular, Coll. No. 1980, July 21, 1947. Change in Title of Gaming Device Special Tax Stamps. COLLECTORS OF INTERNAL REVENUE:

Certain types of pin ball machines dispense tokens which may be used only for free plays and are not classed as gaming devices under various state and local laws, although so held under the Internal Revenue Code. However, some state enforcement officers hold that premises posting Federal gaming device stamps are advertising a gaming occupation and are thus violating local codes.

To avoid this contention collectors, when so requested by taxpayers, may blank out the word "Gaming" appearing in the title of the fiscal year 1948 stamp and also the complete line appearing in parentheses directly thereunder. Rubber stamps for this purpose may be obtained by filing requests for them on the Bureau. You may insert in place of the blanked out wording the following, "Section 3267 (b) (2) Internal Revenue Code." It is intended to print this revised wording on the gaming device stamps to be issued for the fiscal year 1949.

Correspondence relating to the provisions of this circular should refer to the number thereof and to the symbols A&C:Col:Stp.

GEO. J. SCHOENEMAN, Commissioner.

THRU THE COIN CHUTE

CHICAGO CHATTER

Quite a bit of excitement around this torrid town this past week. Dave Gottlieb and Ray Moloney presented Walter Winchell with a check for $20,000 which proves that the guys and gals of the Coin Machine Industry have really gone all out for the Damon Runyon drive . . . Ben Coven of Coven Dist. Co., is one man we think deserves a lot of credit for his untiring efforts in connection with this drive. Ben has been staging a one man campaign to help this great and charitable cause, making it a point to ask all his personal friends (regardless of their business) to contribute and make the check payable to CMI. Ben tells us it doesn't matter if the check is for $10 or $100 just let everyone give what they can. "If you get enough people to contribute it mounts up, and every dollar helps. Cancer is your enemy so let your dollars be your weapons and go all out to fight it", Ben says.

Thelma Weinstein, secretary to Harry Rosenthal of Banner Specialty Co., Pittsburgh, in town this past week. Chuck and Fred contacted all their distribs in addition to signing up two new ones, Music Sales in Memphis and Monarch Sales in Birmingham . . . Dave Lovitz over at O.D. Jennings talks about his ten week old daughter. It seems that Dave enjoys being called "daddy". His only complaint being that his daughter still can't play a decent game of gin rummy. Dave also told us about Jennings' newly remodeled display room. From the description it sounds classy. Plastic wallpaper, acoustic boarding for the ceiling and indirect lighting. Dave also reports Kate Schneider, bookkeeper for Jennings, enjoying a two week's vacation in Detroit.

Over at CMAC we found Ray Burman in the Chicago office. Ray spends most of his time in New York but manages to get into town every now and then. Howard Pretzel is reported still enjoying his vacation in Denver but is due back next week. Meanwhile Joe Collins also of CMAC carries on with the work and loves every minute of it . . . We hear that Genco is one place the out of town coinmen love to visit. Reason? Aside from their very good products, it is also one of the coolest spots in town. The boys tell us once you walk in there you just don't want to leave . . . Art Weinand reports Rock-Ola ready to launch their new Service Training Program. Art tells us Bill Happel of Badger Sales Co., Los Angeles, Carl Happel of Badger

Harry and his gorgeous Mrs. flew their plane up Saturday and returned Sunday. Fulton Moore of Williams reports Jack Menessee of Roanoke, Va. and Lou Boasberg of New Orleans, La. as visitors. Moore tells us the air conditioning at Williams still isn't working, but reports that on the very first cool day the unit will be in better working order than ever.

Meanwhile Les Levison keeps busy preparing for Illinois Pla-Mor's grand opening. . . . Over at M.S. Dist. Co., we found Milt Salstone back in harness again after his recent business trip. The boys there report the record business as being very good for the summer season, their only complaint being, they can't fill the orders coming in. . . . Carl just returned from a two month vacation in California . . . Lindy Force of AMI talks about his trips around the country. Lindy really covered ground, getting around down south, east and up north . . . During his travels he appointed several new distribs and is on the lookout for more. Lindy reports one very nice thing about the trip was that he managed to combine business and pleasure.

Grant Shay was one of the few people we spoke to who didn't complain about the heat. Grant tells us with the air conditioning over at Bell-O-Matic he manages to keep cool and comfortable. In fact several people have found it so comfortable they've even threatened to bring pillows and spend the night there. Grant also reports business as being very good for the summer months . . . Over at Bally we found George Jenkins just as busy as ever, dashing here and there, in an dunt. George tells us that's what helps to keep him young . . . Jack Buckley of Vitacoustic Records back in town after a very successful trip thruout the east. Meanwhile Ruth Patch keeps busy at her newly appointed job as publicity director . . . Gene Bates of Pace Mfg. Co., reports things rather quiet this week. Gene tells us the weather here keeps all the visitors away.

Howard Freer of Empire Coin just returned from a very enjoyable and very cool two week's vacation in Oregon. Ralph Sheffield (also of Empire) reports he keeps busy these days with the remodeling and installation of offices in their new headquarters. Ralph tells us if things go as planned they should be ready for occupancy sometime in September. Gil Kitt tells us about Empire's recent purchase of the Munves Mfg. Co. at a liquidation sale. Gil announced the sale consisted of two models of Bat-A-Ball, a floor model and a counter model with stand. The results of this purchase will enable Empire to offer the ops two games at less than cost. Gil feels that this should be a very welcome opportunity to all operators.

EASTERN FLASHES

The weather cooled off a bit this week, and so did the action along coinrow. What evidently happened is that with the last few weeks of summer on hand, coinmen are getting set for business after the Labor Day holidays. Reports in the newspapers and on the radio indicate that this coming fall will prove to be one of the best business seasons the country ever had. Business always shows a great pick-up after Labor Day, and operators are looking forward to a real boom.

Remember the editorials in The Cash Box suggesting a 7½c coin. Now comes a request from New Yorkers for coin of this denomination. # THRU THE COIN CHUTE

MIAMI, FLA.

By IRV MANDELL

The equalizing of freight rates by the Supreme Court several weeks ago may hypo the coin machine industry in south considerably. Many of the Miami area distribs were heartened by the news and several of them are planning ad campaigns to sell off some of their used equipment.

Ever since Cuba put thumbs down on pin games the problem of selling used machines was quite serious in this area. Now that the freight rates have been equalized the local merchants will be able to compete with the rest of the country's coinmen.

Willie Blatt of Supreme was so impressed with the turnout at the Sam Getlin and Max Becker (Sunshine Coin Machine Company) Philben party that he is now at work planning an industry-wide show in Miami Beach in November. He has made arrangements to take over one of the largest oceanfront hotels for the deal.

Jack Lovelady of Automatic Music is getting things in shape so that he can take a few weeks off before the seasonal rush . . . Clifton Deale of Deale Automatic Music is a hard man to reach these days. He's out working on the route almost every day.

Duke Luker of Christopher-Luker Co. quite busy these days what with "Chris" Christopher spending practically all of his time in Batlimore. Duke reports that Harry Moseley, well known Richmond, Va. coinman, who is now retired and living in Miami, still spends a great deal of his time chewing the fat in his office . . . Bob Weller, formerly of New Jersey, is doing great with his Dade County Amuse . . . George Maier and George Bloom also keeping busy in the so-called "off-season" . . . Harry Goldberg of H & G novelty sporting a new Cadillac around town . . . Van House, Maples, Fla. op in Miami on a buying spree . . .

Dave Engle is another no'thener who has settled down here. Dave is now with Taran Distributing Company . . . Murray Morris is anxiously awaiting the return of Joe Mangone who is in Jacksonville. Mangone plans an introductory party for the new Packard Phono.

Bill Frey back in town after a short trip to New York . . . Disc Jockey programs becoming more popular than ever. Outstanding one is in the Copa Cabana lounge with Dick Stern. Also features name acts on program. Billy Vine and Dolly Dawn last week and Henny Youngman takes over this week.

Sam Getlin of Sunshine Coin Machine Co. left for Chicago immediately after the Mirrocle music line showing last week to speed orders. Max Becker reports that the affair was a great success with more than 300 attending. Some from as far away as Alabama. Bert Davidson and Bill Zogg were on hand to represent the manufacturers.

ST. LOUIS

By BERT MERRILL

The Missouri American Legion in town for the state convention, but with none of the hustle of former years. Ops who once shuddered at the thought of "the boys" arriving need have no fear this year. For the Legion now has MP's to keep the fun safe and sane. Many of the distributors and ops are sporting their blue Legion overseas caps during the Convention.

Last report from Lou Morris. Morris Novelty Company, who is taking an extended vacation in Chicago, is that the nights are cool and the scenery is better. Just what scenery Lou did not say.

Andy McCall, that phonograph buying man from McCall Novelty, is the proud owner of over 70 new machines on a deal completed at the first of the week. Andy explains keeping the locations constantly revitalized with new machines is one of the secrets of his success. Jack Stengle over at McCall is out in Sunny Cal soaking up a little of that famous sunshine during his vacation. There seems to be more than enough sunshine in St. Louis to go around with the temperature hovering around the 100 mark each day.

Star Novelty was recuperating from the reception given for Bess Bush. John Gazzoli says she will be back on the job as soon as the honeymoon is over. "After all she has one more mouth to feed now," grinned John.

Ben Axelrod, Olive Novelty Company, is without a book-keeper for a couple of weeks while she spends her vacation at some spot in Illinois hunting and fishing.

Ben, who handles pin games, claims that business is up to a high for the summer after a slump for a few weeks. "Deliveries are better all the time," stated Ben, "And the ops snap up the new games as soon as they arrive."

Looking tanned and happy is Dan Baum, Baum Distributing Company, who just returned from a week up at Pere Marquette Lodge in upstate Illinois. Dan placed a "Strike'N' Spares" bowling game on the river boat Admiral for a try-out. The response was so terrific that Dan took on distributorship for the game throughout this section. According to Dan they have been going like hot cakes since. By the way, Dan not only placed the game on the lower deck of the ship, but he also attached a sign with the company name for all to see.

Ed Randolph, Ideal Novelty Company, is still not in the best of condition after his two weeks bout with a cold. Back on the job a week now, Ed figures the only way to defeat it is to just forget about it. Anyway, Carl Trippe was glad to have him back. Carl just returned from a pin game selling tour up through Northern Illinois. Springfield, Illinois, which has been closed to pin games, is now a wide-open territory for new machines.

Another distributor happy about the recent opening of Springfield is Del Veatch at VP Distributor. Del sent a big order up that way shortly after the ban was lifted. "Phonographs have been the fastest movers," Del pointed out, "Although the ops still are on the lookout for any thing new in pin balls."

Making the rounds of the city's distributors were: Leo Leiwiske, Washington, Missouri, op, who hasn't been in town for many a moon: Fred Vohshay, Festus, Missouri, and Fred Weale, Farina, Illinois, both carried away new pin balls for their choice spots. Jack Bunn, Mascoutah, Illinois, and S. Zitta, popular East St. Louis op, both returned this week to see what was new.

MINNEAPOLIS

The Twin Cities and practically the entire state of Minnesota has been sweltering the past ten days from some real summer heat, temperature ranging from 95 to 102 degrees above zero. A break in the heat wave, the past couple of days, with some nice rain is helping a lot, not only for the comfort of the citizens, but also for the farmer's bumper corn crop. In the meantime, many operators have disappeared to the cooler part of the state, getting relief there.

Ozzie Truppman of the Bush Distributing Company, Minneapolis, is away for a few days on a trip into the Dakotas, and that isn't any picnic in this hot weather . . . Dave Ziskin of the Silent Sales Company is out of town for a few days on business . . . J. E. McNeice of the Minneapolis Rifle Sport, 812 Hennepin, Minneapolis, passed away Sunday morning, August 17, the funeral being today, Wednesday August 20 . . . Mildred Birkemeyer of the Automatic Sales Company, Litchfield, Minnesota is at the Litchfield hospital for a checkup and a rest.

Cecil Pence of the Automatic Piano Company, Minneapolis, purchased the Sport Club from Ted Clyer located at Hudson, Wisconsin. This is a new venture for Cecil and we all wish him a lot of luck . . . Harry Partridge of Mora, Minnesota who nearly was killed in a plane accident about three months ago made his first visit to Minneapolis and although his left arm is still bandaged up, he is in fairly good shape and making very rapid progress in his recovery . . . Johnny Kalasardo and his wife, of Ladysmith, Wisconsin took a few days off to visit the Twin Cities calling on a few distributors . . . Mr. and Mrs. Wally McFarland of Bismarck, North Dakota arrived in Minneapolis Tuesday, October 19 for several days vacationing . . . Roy Foster stopped off in Minneapolis enroute to his home in Sioux Falls, South Dakota after enjoying a few weeks vacation with his sister and brother-in-law at Hibbing, Minnesota.

R. M. Shea of Wesington, South Dakota was a surprise visitor to Minneapolis last week; the first visit of several years . . . Julius Koers of the Koers Distributing Company, Rapid City, South Dakota in Minneapolis on a very fast business trip . . . Emil Sirianni of Eau Claire, Wisconsin also in Minneapolis just for the daymaking the rounds . . . Henry H. Greenstein of the Hy-G Music Company back on the job after being home two weeks with a badly sprained ankle. He still is hobbling, but getting along.

With the All Star Game being played at Chicago, Friday, August 22, many distributors and operators of the Twin Cities are either flying or taking the train to see the game.
