WELCOME TO THE NEXT LEVEL

SEGA POWER!

Welcome to another edition of Sega Force. As many of you readers know, Sega Force is an exciting look at all the new hardware and software that will be released for the Sega Genesis, Sega CD, and Game Gear during the Christmas season. This entire book is dedicated to the hard-working companies that make Sega and their game systems the best it can possibly be.

THE POWER OF CD!

Another year has come and gone and what have we seen? The Sega CD is quickly becoming a hot commodity for some really good games. American Laser Games has a long lineup of games for the CD that include Gallagher's Gallery, Space Pirates, Who Shot Johnny Rock?, and Mad Dog McCree 2. These games will be compatible with a light gun or with the joypad. Konami's arcade hit, Lethal Enforcers, will also be compatible with a light gun that is included with the game! Remember the classic Dragon's Lair? ReadySoft is producing a CD translation that looks exactly like the arcade! Revell/Monogram, makers of plastic model kits, is finishing up production on their unique racing game, Power Modeler: European Racers. You can build model cars from 3-D on-screen instructions and then race them on a variety of streets and tracks. Very cool indeed!

Let's not forget Sega. They've been promising tons of games for many months and now they're getting ready for release. The super-secret Sonic CD is fantastic! Spanning 70 levels and having the ability to travel into the past and future, this game is just too cool. Joe Montana Football features some great digitized sequences with Joe and offers some terrific football action. The Sega CD hasn't even scratched the surface of its abilities!

The arcade hit, Lethal Enforcers, comes packed with a light gun.

THE GENESIS JAMS!

Sega's most popular system by far is still the trusty Genesis. This system pioneered the current trend toward 16-Bit video gaming over four years ago! Sega and the third-party companies have consistently strived to make bigger and better games to keep Genesis number one. Interplay, a popular Nintendo licensee, has recently signed up with Sega to become a Sega licensee as well.

Their first batch of games will include Genesis translations of Claymates, The Lost Vikings, and Rock 'N Roll Racing. Another new face to Sega is Extreme. This company was originally known as Bignet, but under their new name, they're releasing Genesis versions of the popular Warrior of Rome 3 and Battletech. Virgin is also preparing a killer lineup of games that includes Dune 2, an awesome strategy game based on the computer version and RoboCop vs. the Terminator—a wildly bloody action game. The Genesis is certainly still the system to beat for great 16-Bit quality video games.

PORTABLE POWER!

Last but certainly not least is the portable Game Gear. This best selling system has literally been flooded with tons of hot software from nearly every manufacturer out there. While the number of Genesis conversions keeps growing, many newer titles are designed exclusively for the Game Gear. For instance, Sega has created Sonic Chaos and Road Runner exclusively for the Game Gear. As more people realize that they can bring their games on the go, the more they'll learn that the Game Gear is the best way to do it!

GAME GEAR

HANDS FREE POWER!

By far, Sega's biggest and best peripherals are the ones yet to come. Did you ever want to play your games without a controller? Wouldn't it be great if you could feel like you were really part of the action, instead of just controlling it? If so, then it sounds like Sega's incredible new Activator may be just right for you. The Activator will work with many older Genesis titles while newer games are being specially developed for use with the Activator.

The Activator consists of eight panels that connect together and form an octagon that rests on the floor. Invisible infrared beams shoot upward and touch the ceiling. By moving your arms and legs, you break the beams and activate the buttons that correspond to the controller buttons. It takes a while to get used to the new arrangement, but it soon becomes second nature.

Sega's own upcoming Eternal Champions is Activator compatible as is Acclaim's Mortal Kombat and Capcom's Street Fighter II.

FUTURE POWER!

Sega, always on the cutting edge of technology, is finally putting the finishing touches on their virtual reality unit. Virtual reality is the buzzword in films and books these days. Sega will be there with their own virtual reality system to be called Sega VR. The Sega VR system is made exclusively for the Genesis and will be available under $200! The Sega VR's full-color head tracking unit draws you into a 3-D universe that surrounds the senses to give you the feeling of total control of the game.

The Sega VR will come packed with Nuclear Rush, a game in which you pilot a hovercraft while battling hostile robots and drones. Three other games will be available about the same time; Matrix Runner, Outlaw Racing, and Iron Hammer. Virtual reality opens new doors to entertainment and Sega is there in full force to deliver the action and excitement you want. It looks like Sega is going to have one heck of a great year!

Mortal Kombat is just one of the many games compatible with the Activator.

Nuclear Rush (top) and Matrix Runner are two of the debut games for the Sega VR.

YOU CAN BE THE VELOCIRAPTOR.

Only on Jurassic Park™ from Sega™ can you play the dinosaur as you attempt to escape the armed guards of Jurassic Park.

Dinosaur teeth varied in size and shape depending on what the dinosaur ate. Herbivores had round, dull teeth for chewing plants. Carnivores had sharp, pointed teeth for chewing Herbivores. Be careful. To them, you're just a snack.

Welcome to th

At the end of their powerful legs and muscular arms, many dinosaurs were equipped with razor-sharp claws. Ours are no different. And no less dangerous.

The movie brings them to life. The game invites you to join in.

Try not to end up here. The powerful jaws of the meat-eater Tyrannosaurus rex. They had pointed, six-inch-long teeth and really bad breath. Keep out.

FACE TO FACE ON SEVEN DIFFERENT LEVELS.

Work your way through the Visitors Center, Pump Station, River, Volcano, Canyon, Power Station, and Jungles of Jurassic Park.

IT TOOK 65,000 TO MAKE T

A typical walk in the park 130 million years ago would have looked like this. Ferns, cycads, and other plants were everywhere. Just like the jungle of our game.

It's still unknown why the dinosaurs disappeared. One theory suggests that a huge asteroid struck the Earth sending dust into the sky and blocking out the Sun.

Or maybe they died of boredom; there were no video games back then. What do you think?

The reptiles that could fly, the Pterosaurs. They ruled the sky while the dinosaurs ruled the Earth. Be careful as you move through Jurassic Park. You never know when one might drop in.

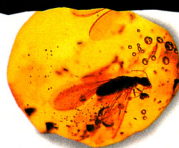

At one time, all the continents were grouped together forming one supercontinent called Pangaea. This may explain why dinosaur fossils have been found in so many different places around the world.

This is Amber. The fossilized resin (sap) of an ancient tree. Have you got something you want to preserve for 65 million years? This is the way to do it.

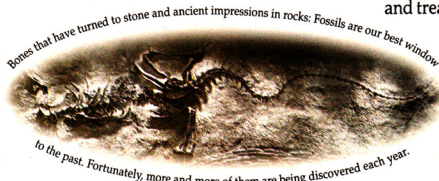

Dr. Robert T. Bakker is a real paleontologist. He helped us design Jurassic Park for Sega.

Imagine. You're walking through the jungle 130 million years ago. Be sure you don't step in this. It's a fossilized dinosaur dropping. Today, they can help scientists reveal clues to a dinosaur's diet and nutrition. (You'll be glad to know, we've left these little land mines out of our Jurassic Park.)

YOU CAN BE DR. GRANT. You can choose to play Dr. Grant as he tries to escape the dinosaurs and treacherous jungles of Jurassic Park.

Bones that have turned to stone and ancient impressions in rocks: Fossils are our best window to the past. Fortunately, more and more of them are being discovered each year.

Unlike real paleontologists, Dr. Grant uses tranquilizer darts, a stun-gun, flash grenades, gas grenades, super darts and dinosaur bait.

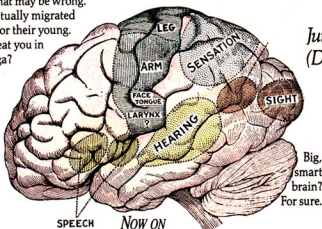

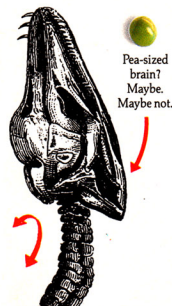

This is the team that designed and created Jurassic Park from Sega. Their task was to produce the best looking, most exciting dinosaur game possible. Nice job.

0,000 YEARS HIS GAME.

Over the years, humans have developed large, intelligent brains. We can think like no other species ever has. For years, it was thought that dinosaurs were dumb, pea-brained creatures. That may be wrong. We've learned recently that they actually migrated to different areas and even cared for their young. Are they smart enough to beat you in Jurassic Park from Sega?

SEGA GENESIS™

COMING SOON TO GAME GEAR™ AND SEGA CD™

Just like in the movie. A dinosaur is a cunning and ferocious adversary. Remember, if you can't beat them, join them. In Jurassic Park from Sega, you can play the dinosaur.

THEY GET SMARTER AS YOU GET BETTER. Jurassic Park from Sega was designed to include D.P.A.™ (Dynamic Play Adjustment.) So as your game skills get sharper, the dinosaurs become harder to outsmart.

ACTIVATOR

HANDS FREE CONTROLLER

Sega is preparing to take gamers by storm! The Activator is their answer to the consumers' cries to bring the players into the game, instead of just controlling it.

The Activator consists of eight panels that connect together and rest on the floor. You connect the Activator to the controller port on the Genesis and power it up. To play the game, players stand in the middle of the Activator and break the invisible, infrared beams that shoot up from the Activator with their arms and legs. Each panel corresponds to a button on the joystick or the keypad to allow compatibility with many of the older titles.

You can even accomplish tasks with the Activator that you cannot do on a standard controller. You can conjure up deadly combos for fighting games that you could never do on a standard pad. Ever see Axel from Streets of Rage 2 do the moonwalk? Now you can!

Fighting games like Mortal Kombat and Street Fighter: Special Champion Edition are really cool with the Activator. Perform Rayden's head clear off his shoulders! In SF2 you can perform all the killer moves and combos with ease. It takes a little training to get it right, but this is definitely the way to get into the game!

The Activator will be available by Christmas with a retail price of around $80. If you want total flexibility in your games, don't miss out on the Activator!

Keep track of any new moves you learn with sheets like this one.
