I wish I could say there has been a big improvement in the economy and that our industry is a beneficiary. When I look back at what I wrote at this time last year, it seems that time has stood still. I started by saying, “Here we are at the beginning of a new year facing two opposing realities: plentiful new products on the market but still a hesitation to buy.” As baseball’s Yogi Berra famously said, “This is like deja vu all over again.”

Can it be that the industry is stuck in “park,” with no hope of moving forward? I’d like to believe otherwise. The recent International Association of Amusement Parks and Attractions (IAAPA) Expo proved that viable products are available. The exhibit floor area where much of the coin-operated equipment is located grows every year. Common sense says that upgrading and reinvesting is vital to survival in today’s competitive world. Don’t give your competition a leg up by default.

Let’s look ahead to bright spots on the horizon in the first quarter of this year. January brings more announcements of new products showing at the European Amusement and Gaming Expo (EAG) in London. February marks the Amusement and Music Operators Association (AMOA) Council of Affiliated States Meeting in Phoenix, which is always enlightening because industry leaders from around the country share information and ideas. March is a real blockbuster with the Amusement Expo in Las Vegas sponsored by the American Amusement Machine Association (AAMA) and AMOA co-located again with the National Bulk Vending Association (NBVA) Expo; the added bonus again is crossover time with the International Pizza Expo. April brings the National Automatic Merchandising Association (NAMA) OneShow in Las Vegas to meet the needs of vending professionals.

You’re also holding a bright spot in your hand right now: Play Meter’s comprehensive annual Directory with its handy A-Z listings that make it a snap to find everything you need. The entire staff pitches in to contact companies, verify information, and compile the data into this invaluable reference guide.

At the end is our Index of Articles that makes it easy to revisit features, columns, news articles, and all the events of 2011 covered in our pages. The bonus is our traditional wall calendar that includes the dates and location of all the major trade events coming up in 2012. As always, Play Meter is committed to serving the industry and our readers; we’ll be with you every step of the way in 2012. ▲

"We are more than satisfied using the Sacoa PlayCard System. Sales are up 20% and customer satisfaction is at an all time high due to constant promotions and discount offers. Our managers are now free to dedicate their time to cater to customer needs, motivate our personnel and general oversight of the operation. The management reports are fast and to the point. This enables us to base our decisions on hard facts. Whereas previously the question was "Is it worth the investment to install PlayCard at all our stores?", it has now changed to: "How do we go about upgrading all operations in the shortest possible timeframe?"

Raul Vasquez, Manager of City Park, Colombia.

Welcomes any enquiries from companies interested in participating.

March
5~7, 2012

Hall 1 & 2, Poly World Trade Center

Guangzhou, China

China's Most Commercially
Valuable Electronic-Game
Exhibition in Spring 2012

While global economic focus is on China, you should not lose your chance to enter this market.

SEM 2012 is organized by People's Government of Panyu District, it is believed that SEM 2012 is destined to succeed in gathering a long list of exhibitors and providing the most advanced and complete array of e-game related product offerings.

With leading R&D capabilities and organized machine supplying chains, the development of the e-game industry in Guangzhou is much more mature than other cities in China. Located in Guangzhou, Panyu has developed as a well-known manufacturing powerhouse of the Chinese e-game machines and related products and services; therefore, professional buyers are able to make a one-stop purchase at this district and it has become a new destination for both local and foreign professionals to buy amusement equipment. Facing the future, on the basis of its celebrated manufacturing power and continuous support from the Chinese government, Panyu is transforming itself

China: Global Economic Focus Full of Business Opportunities in 2012

Chinese electronic-game industry has drawn a large amount of international professionals' attention. It is believed that SEM 2012 will be the most professional and commercially effective show among the e-game related exhibitions next spring in China.
