Every player performs like his flesh and blood counterpart. Bottom line: If a guy can't do this in real life, we won't cut him any slack.

Jam the lane to help out on D. Run full-court presses. And forget about playing zone. This isn't JV ball.

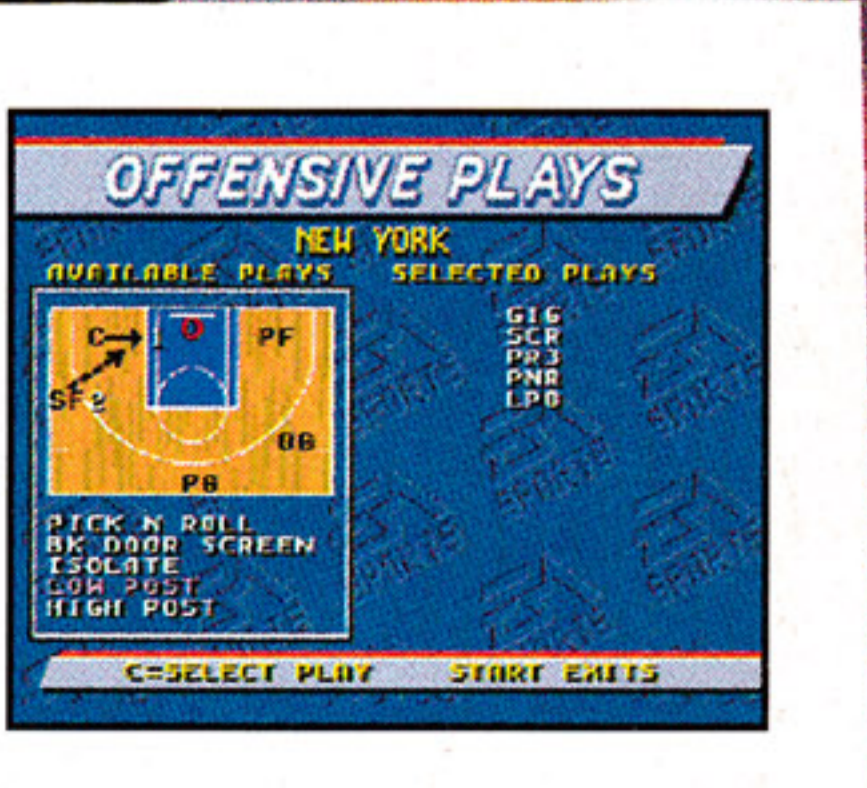

This year we've added a unique free-throw perspective. So even if you have a bad night at the stripe, you'll still enjoy the view.

It's a bird. It's a plane. (Actually, it's the Worm's new lid. We also threw in Mullin's flattop, Grant's goggles, KJ's goatee, and more. You'll see.)

Tell your point guard which play to run. Drape your defensive wiz all over their go-to guy. You're the coach. And hey, you don't even have to slick your hair back.

A new sports authority is in town. Introducing Team EGM, the complete source in finding everything you need to know about the world of sports carts. This section will become an integral portion of EGM every month, so I hope this insert booklet whets all you sports-lovers' appetites.

I'm sure I don't need to go into too much detail about the sheer number of sports games that are flooding the market these days. It seems that nearly every company is scrambling to get out some kind of a sports game, whether it be unique one-on-one basketball games, high-powered racing games, or soccer titles (which are really capitalizing on the World Cup '94 rage which is currently sweeping the globe).

With all these sports games, who else could you turn to for the latest in previews and reviews but EGM? Within these pages you'll find a variation on our popular Fact File format with all the juicy insight and wit you've come to expect. You'll find exclusive previews and hot information that you won't find anywhere else. So sit back and enjoy the wonderful world of sports as EGM takes you through the latest games. You won't find this information in the sports section of your local newspaper. Enjoy!

SPORTS RIVALS ... DIFFERENCES AND COMPARISONS

How many times have you seen or purchased a game and wondered, "Hey, I thought I saw that game before?" Well, a unique feature you'll find on these pages in the future is Sports Rivals, a unique look at two games from different companies which are similar in game play, such as Jammit from Virgin Games and Barkley Shut Up and Jam! from Accolade. Our team of sports authorities will put these two games to the test and see which one emerges as the victor.

We'll also show you the alterations that a game will make from year to year. There are probably a large number of readers out there who think that the only change Electronic Arts makes to their John Madden series of football games is the year in the

The world of sports is ever-changing so you can count on EGM to bring you what's hot. You'll be sure to see sneak pics of upcoming games as well as blowouts of spectacular games. It's what we've done in the past and we'll certainly continue this tradition!

Iceman really loves a good basketball and hockey game, while the Rookie is more of a jack-of-all-trades—he'd love to sit and play a few seasons of baseball and football. The reviews will focus on four main points: graphics, sound, playability, and realism. The games will be rated on a 100 percent rating scale with full descriptions, a format, and look that's similar to EGM. These reviews will begin next month. Remember—this insert is designed to give you a look at what you'll be seeing in future issues. We think you'll enjoy it.

BARKLEY'S JAM FEST!

Barkley, one of NBA's superstars, now can be seen in his very own video game. Tough as can be, he gathered the meanest players around the country to take part in this jam-fest. Barkley's posse consists of a variety of players all with different styles of play. The players skills vary, depending on their offense and defense. In terms of offense, you can rely on players who can shoot from the three-point perimeter as well as dunk from anywhere. Dunking is the key to winning the tournament. The fundamentals of dunking are very easy. All you have to do is get close to the basket and jam! The dunks also vary, depending on where you jump toward the basket, and the power of the individual's dunking ability.

Pick from a variety of players, each having different skills and strengths.

Defense, on the other hand, can take a while to get use to, but can be very effective if you master the floor. You can really knock someone off their feet, sending them to the floor. Even if your opponent is dunking, you can stop him in midair causing him to fall, enabling you to handle the ball and getting an easy layup from your partner. With four players, watch out for the others who will stop at nothing to set up a pick and knock you down. Choose a player with great rebounding and stealing skill, and also speed to help you with your defense.

COMPETE AGAINST THE BEST

As one of the options, you can enter the tournament traveling throughout the country competing against the very best basketball players around. You will be able to represent the state of your choice. First, pick the player who you think will take you to the finals. A second player will be chosen to be your partner on your journey to the championship. Now, you're ready for some action! Tour the globe, playing in different environments and on different courts, playing on outside or inside courts. Meet Barkley in the finals of the tournament!

Check out the monster jam! The player you choose will determine how hard you can jam.

FOUR-PLAYER ACTION!

Get a tap and plug in four controllers for some really jammin' action!

The feature that really ignites the game play is the Four-Player Mode. Can't get better than this! Call your friends over, don't forget to get some extra controllers and a tap, and really jam on the game! Show your stuff on the court in the dunk competition. Don't forget to talk some trash!

Tons of challenging racetracks will challenge even the most harden driver.

THE C & F3000 CAR CLASS

Before you race the Grand Prix, you must first pay your dues in the C and F3000 racing class. Each class consists of eight races that must be completed in order to go on to the next class.

FORMULA RACER UPGRADE

To keep a consistent winning streak going in this game, it's necessary to upgrade your formula racer frequently. Unfortunately, it costs a lot of money to do that and the only way to pay for it is with your winnings. Use the money to purchase upgrades for your engine, tires, suspension, and wings. You have to go through at least one race before your car can be outfitted with special parts.

Choose from three different formula cars, each with different engines.

LIFE IN THE FAST LANE

Prepare for the most challenging racing game to date. F-1 ROC 2 tests your driving skills to the max with the most intensive racing game ever to grace your television screen. Coupled with Sega's new DSP chip, computer opponents actually think for themselves and will do anything to win the race, even if it means sacrificing their car and knocking you off the road.

Long races can take a toll on your formula racer. Your engine, tires, suspension, and other parts of your car can all be affected and possibly put you out of race contention. Drive in for an occasional pit stop.

After you race the qualifying lap, you will see a screen displaying the starting grid.

RACING WITH THE BIG BOYS

Once you pay your dues with the C and F3000 racing class, you can move up to the Grand Prix racing class where the big bucks and super-big endorsements are. There are three different formula racers you can choose from. The Benetton team's car has a quick V8 engine. The Footwork team has a V10 engine. And the Venturi Larrouse team has a powerful V12 engine.

After each race, you will win a certain amount of money, which can be spent on upgrading your formula racer.

WHO'S THE MAN?

This isn't your ordinary basketball game. Pick from many unique options.

Hey dudes and dudettes, think you can handle yourselves on the basketball court? You do! How about a little one-on-one? Take on three of the best players from the city's playgrounds to participate—if you're up for it. Slade, Chill, and Roxy are the three top hoopsters chosen for pick-up games around town. You get to control one of the three in an eight-round tournament of one-on-one games with a different game type in each round. You slam against one of the two other players for each game and bet on the games until one of your wads of cash disappears. If you can out-psych and out-score your way through all eight rounds, you then go up against the court king, Judge, in a winner-takes-all game of HIS choice on HIS court. And if you don't feel like taking on all that competition, go get a buddy and control two of the best in a one-on-one challenge of your choice. Either way you cut it, remember to play tough. And when you get the chance—Jammit!!!

Look out, baby! This one is gonna get sent back and maybe the poor player will go along with it. Sucka!

bet $100, $200, or $300 on a game. The loser forfeits that amount of money when the game is over. If you lose all your money, the competition ends. If you empty your opponent's wallet, you move on to the next round.

LET'S GET BUSY, PUNK!

Jammit has two game modes for maximum satisfaction. Either take on a friend who might brag about his abilities on the court or enter an intense competition all alone against the game's best players. Doesn't matter what you choose—you have your work cut out for you.

NO BLOOD, NO FOUL! Body check your opponent and scramble for the ball.

PLACE YOUR BETS!!!!

The two-player games are fun when you've got a friend you want to pummel on the court. The one-player competition adds to the excitement of advancing through the rounds. Take on the Judge to become the one-on-one champion of the hood. At the beginning of each round, your opponent has $300 to bet. You can

PLAY BALL!

EA has done it again. They have created another baseball video game which is licensed by the MLBPA (Major League Baseball Players Association). The name MLBPA Baseball says it all. Based on last year's statistics of the real players, MLBPA features a plethora of various modes of play and those cool little options gaming options we all have grown to love in a baseball game: home or visiting team, designated hitter, and field type.

for all 28 teams in the majors, this title brings the game of baseball into your living room. Select your favorite team and play in any of the various modes of play: Full Season, Series, and Championship. View many options like Team Stats, Defensive Position, and Bench. The feature that really stands out is the animation of each player. Players were filmed in their usual playing motions, then roto-scoped into the game. There are loads of cool special sound effects created specifically for the game, which were digitized.

It takes a trained eye to follow the path of the pitched ball. You can either swing for power or contact.

THE ART OF BATTING

Timing in hitting the baseball is very critical. Move the player anywhere inside the batter's box and position him for the pitch. Remember that the location of your position will determine how you will hit the ball and where it will go.

You must take special precaution when you are near other competitors, as they won't hesitate to attack.

BRING A BUDDY AND MAKE HIM EAT DUST!

One of the better features of Combat Cars is that you can play with another friend at the same time in a race against each other. The object of the two-player simultaneous mode is the same as the one-player mode against the other computer opponents, but this time you must outrace your sole competitor to the finish line in a set amount of laps.

SUNDAY DRIVERS!

Combat Cars is a fast-paced, arcade-style racing game set in a classic birds-eye arcade view. Combat Cars has eight of the toughest drivers maneuvering through 24 grueling racetracks in six different locations, each with four laps. Along the way, you can build up your car to help take on the other drivers.

Meet your combatants. You will get to play as any one of them in the game.

The many corners and hairpin turns will definitely slow you down. Remember that they also have an effect on other racers. Use that knowledge to your advantage and take turns faster than you normally would.

ROUGHIN' IT UP

Even though the perspective on the field is angled, the game play is very easy to learn. Tackling, shooting, and passing the ball is the key of the game. You will have to master the moves and skills of the players. First, we will start with tackling. Tackling will elevate your defense on the field, knocking your opponents on their backs. Whenever you're playing with partners, don't hesitate to help them out by taking some guys down. But, remember don't get caught by the refs on the field, you may get a yellow, red card or even get ejected out of the game leaving you to sub in a weaker player.

As far as offense goes, passing the ball to your teammates is very essential in getting down the field and scoring and goal. First of all, you have to pick a formation that you think you can take advantage over your opponents. Also remember though, the other team may have a different formation that can hinder your offense and defense positions. Why not play four players on the same team and help each other on the defensive and on your side. Overall, there are many disadvantages and advantages on the defense and offense sides. I'm pretty sure you sports fans out there know all of this stuff?

Pass the ball if you're being hassled. Of course, your partner can tackle the other players around you.

LET'S PLAY BALL!

The pitcher's perspective is still the same, but animations have greatly improved.

HardBall is back and better than before! By the looks of it, HardBall '94 is destined to be one of the best baseball games.

With more features and options installed in this version, the competition will have a hard time coming out with a better baseball game. But before I can talk about the other competitors, let us talk about the new features that Accolade has brought to this cart. Pictured below are two scenes from HardBall 3 and the new HardBall '94. As you can see, it shows how the graphics have been improved. If you could see the Hardball in action, you can notice the big difference in the players' animations.

The movements of the players' are so lifelike that you think they are real players. Well, these are real people who have been filmed to create the realism in batting and pitching sequences. This technique is quite common nowadays in order to enhance the players' animations and also to develop a realism in the game.

In the sound effects department, newer and better sounds were produced to give you a real feeling on what's happening for the field. Hear the crowd roar when you blast one down the line or knock one out of the ballpark. Overall, this new version greatly surpasses Hardball '93. With better graphics and sound effects, how can you turn down a game like this from Accolade? Look out for this one baseball fans!

In the Area Menu, pick from eight teams in each of the six areas shown.

SUPER SOCCER ACTION

Not one to miss out on the World Cup, SNK (known for the many Neo•Geo games) introduces their sequel to Super Sidekicks. This game picks up where the other left off with new team stats and much-improved play control along with all the action and excitement that only tournament soccer can offer. Lots of new features like the Penalty Kick Battle and the Sudden Death Playoff make sure you won't get bored of this one, especially with two players!

Try your best not to receive a yellow or red card. If you do, you're penalized.

GET INTO IT!

Super Sidekicks 2 offers a multitude of playing options to get you wrapped up in the action. Whether you're on offense or defense, you have three moves that you can accomplish, depending on the button you press. Attempting to run across the field with the ball is futile and darn-near impossible—passing is the key to getting across the field.

These teams have individual stats that really mean something, not just hokey numbers. After selecting the team, you may choose one form of power-up for the team, whether it be a full team power-up, goal keeper power-up, or increasing the skill of your ace, this option can really make a difference. On-screen prompts show you where your ace player is located and the player you are controlling. If an opponent attempts to steal the ball, you can perform a quick hop to avoid being tripped. And if a ball is headed toward you, perform a headbutt or a flip kick to keep the ball in motion.

Even with all these characters, the game never gives a hint of slowdown. This keeps the action going strong.

CHEERS AND SNEERS

Ouch! This guy hit the turf hard. Get up and stop the punk that stole your ball!

The first thing you'll probably notice are the incredible sound effects. Everything from the announcer rattling off the team names to blaring out 'GOAL!' after a shot is done perfectly. The icing on the cake has got to be the cheering and roaring of the crowd as you approach the goal. You begin to feel as if you are an actual player. Not many games produce this sensation as well as Super Sidekicks 2 does. It simply has to be experienced to be believed. If you've got any urge to try soccer action on the arcade scene, it would definitely be worth it to break out some quarters and head to the arcade to try out the most incredible version of soccer around!

When you see the word 'SHOOT' over your player, that means you're within range.

BEYOND THE LIMIT

Welcome to the next level in Formula One racing. Formula One World Championship from Sega offers all the thrills and spills of high-speed racing, without the nasty side effects. This game allows you to take on the world's best racers on hot tracks in a multitude of countries. So put on your driving gloves and get set for high speed action, Formula One-style.

From the Game Select Screen, participate in three race types: Grand Prix Mode which is the full race season; a 1993 Mode where you select one of 16 rounds in various countries; and a Free Run where you can practice your driving skills on any of the featured tracks.

HIGH SPEED THRILLS AND SPILLS

Once you head out to the track, the action begins. Begin the race with a qualifying lap to see where you'll place in the pack. Lower scores equal a better starting position. Once you've qualified, the timing lights begin and off you go. The overall feel of the track is very European, with short straight-aways and binding S-curves to wiggle through, making handling adjustments more important on the top-speed runs. Of course, experimentation is the key to winning any race, which is where the Free Run Mode comes in handy. By changing certain factors of your car in the Machine Setting Menu, you can modify aspects like braking, front and rear wings, and steering ratios. Each change you make to one setting will affect other aspects of the car, so constant fiddling will yield surprising results.

Drive into the pit area to get tires replaced and minor damage repaired.

Blazing around the tracks introduces you to the other racers. Although not rough, the later track racers are out for blood.

When you notice the car is beginning to feel awkward, it's time to head into the pit. Changing tires and repairing any damage can work wonders for the race.

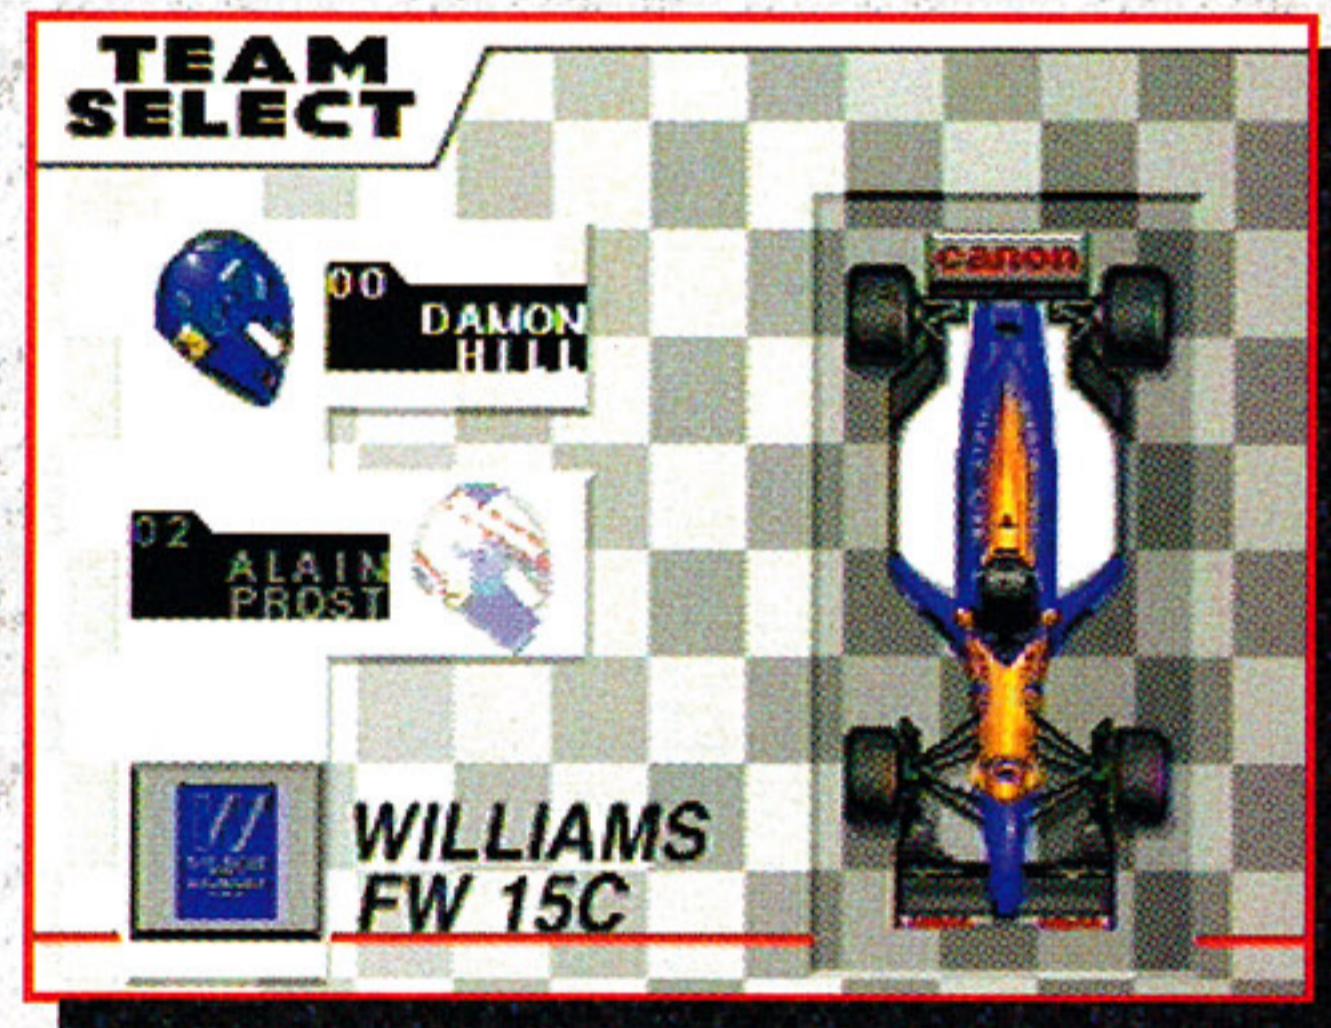

This really is one of the better racing games on the market with a huge number of options and near limitless replay value. Definitely a top contender!

Hang on to the controller tightly! Those hairpin turns have a nasty habit of eliminating even the best drivers.

CINEMAS GALORE!

As you would expect in a CD title, this game is filled with video sequences of real races and candid interviews with the racers that make this sport happen. They are a real treat to watch and really get the adrenaline flowin'! If racing games are your cup of tea, or even if they aren't, games like this can certainly change someone's opinion in a flash. I know it certainly changed mine!

Going too fast on a turn? This rough area around the course is where you'll end up.
