In Praise Of Stevie Wonder

By Sikhulu Shange

In our time and in our presence, is a man who lives his life in the most exemplary manner — Stevie Wonder! Having attained extraordinary prominence through his art, he now uses the power of his hard-won position to provide heroic leadership.

Being a South African in exile for the last 21 years with many of my fellow country men and women who are in the same dilemma, I feel compelled to make a statement about my country whenever the opportunity presents itself. I love my country, and it is against my will that I am torn apart from my family and friends. One has to go through the horrors of being barred from his own country, not even to come back to bury his closest relative! I have no apologies to make about fighting for the land of my birth; I am not asking the apartheid regime, or anyone who collaborates with that regime, to do me any favors, because South Africa is the land of my forefathers. I am entitled to raise my family with dignity and respect.

It is unjust for entertainers to go to South Africa to sing and dance for such a murderous regime! Black artists who visit South Africa, do so as honorary whites, but we say dishonorary blacks. Permission is stamped on their traveling documents so they can be privileged to live in the white hotels and perform for the white audiences; whereas the natives cannot even be considered to be employed as artists. The only time a South African is employed is when a white man signs his passport for authorization. Some entertainers who perform in the Bantustans do so thinking, or pretending that they don't know it is still part of South Africa's murderous regime!

The Bantustans like Bophutswana, Kwazulu, Transkei, etc. are integral parts of South Africa. No government in the world recognizes them except South Africa, who created them. People of South Africa do not need singing and dancing, they need their freedom, now! Entertainment is a political tool when used this way. When you sing and dance for the murderous regime of apartheid, it is a justification of murder of millions in that country.

Some entertainers meet devastating catastrophes while visiting my country. A black American dancer was touring my country with a troupe, and while he was there he was involved in a car accident. An ambulance belonging to a white hospital would not pick him up for treatment. As a result, he was not treated in time and that man is paralyzed for life. Had he been rushed to the hospital in time, he may be walking today. That is apartheid!

The people of South Africa salute the giant of the music industry, Stevie Wonder, for his unselfish participation in the struggle against the most abominable system of apartheid. Some entertainers have been arrested in front of South African embassies for demonstrating their outrage against apartheid.

The support from artists like Diana Ross, Gladys Knight and the Pips, Noel Pointer, Roy Ayers and Barry White, to name a few, have been tremendously positive. These artists and others refused to accept the "lucrative blood money," ranging from thousands to millions, to perform for that racist regime.

A man of integrity, accountability and credibility — Stevie Wonder — is a true humanitarian. His involvement in the civil rights movement and movements for freedom and peace around the world, places him at the apex of the freedom-loving people of the world. Stevie is a man of character and great vision, certainly he lives by his beliefs. Through his music and lyrics he communicates with the entire world. Recently he received awards for the album "The Woman In Red" which he dedicated to Nelson Mandela, the leader of the African National Congress of South Africa. He has been incarcerated for the last 22 years, along with other political prisoners of the A.N.C. Nelson Mandela's crime is that he struggles against the injustices of apartheid. Immediately after the news reached the apartheid regime's authorities about Stevie's act, the racist regime reacted as expected. Stevie's recordings have been banned from the airwaves and sales of his records have become illegal! A call was made to some of the other entertainers to support Stevie's stand against apartheid, by demanding that their recordings be taken off the air in South Africa. None answered the challenge.

The United Nations heralded Stevie by celebrating his 35th birthday at the General Assembly Hall in New York. Songbird Roberta Flack, Bobbi Humphrey and others celebrities joined the masses to hear the giant delivering his solidarity speech. Here are some of the excerpts from that speech: "Tell me this . . . if it is so important for the laborers to live in the industrial area in the cities, why must they be separated from their wives and children by living in the shacks? The resettlement camps are wrong. If they are so great, why don't the whites want to live there? What about Nelson Mandela and other prisoners of consciousness? What is their real crime? When people are oppressed, they rise up and free themselves as they hear the bell for freedom ringing."

Thank you Stevie for being a man. People of South Africa have rendered apartheid ungovernable. The Pretoria regime have declared a state of emergency throughout South Africa. The beginning of the end of apartheid is in sight.

PMRC Unites With The PTA Issue New Demands For Ratings

By David Adelson

LOS ANGELES — The Parent Teachers Association (PTA) has issued a release announcing its alignment and alliance with the Parents Music Resource Committee (PMRC) over the issue of labeling.

At press time it was learned the new alliance had escalated its demands to include an "R" rating on records containing what the group terms unacceptable lyrics. In addition the group is calling for a full disclosure of all lyrics either on or in the album/cassette or on a card to be distributed at the point of purchase.

The change in demands by the PMRC met with an angry reaction from RIAA president Stanley Gortikov who issued the following statement:

"It is regrettable that the PMRC has chosen to escalate the fervor and scope of its campaign without even waiting to see how the record industry's constructive program operates. Its medium has become more vital than its message."

The PMRC would not comment on why the escalation of demands occurred but one source close to the controversy speculated the current media attention on the case spurred the PMRC to try to attain more than the original agreement with the RIAA.

At press time, Gortikov, members of NARAS and several recording artists were meeting in Dallas at the NAB convention to further discuss the issue of ratings.

Extensive coverage of the NAB proceedings as well as the upcoming Washington hearings will appear in next week's issue.

LEGENDARY LINE-UP — Rick Nelson recently invited Fats Domino to California for a series of concerts. A concert at the Universal Amphitheatre in Los Angeles was videotaped and recorded for future release as a video and record. Pictured backstage after the Amphitheatre show are (l-r): Al Kooper, recording artist and record company executive, Hank Ballard, Rick Nelson and Fats Domino.

Danny Goldberg Takes On The PMRC

By David Adelson

LOS ANGELES — "I just didn't see anybody talking for us," said Gold Mountain Records president Danny Goldberg. "I didn't see anyone representing the music business that I'm in."

Two weeks ago Danny Goldberg's anger and frustration over the recent record rating controversy had reached its peak. He placed a call to Ira Glasser of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) and created, under the auspices of the ACLU, the "Musical Majority."

"There are a tiny number of extremists that are trying to intimidate this wonderful industry," Goldberg said, "They are being heard just because some of them happen to be married to public officials."

According to Goldberg, the Musical Majority is opposed to any type of record rating or labeling. "At the same time, I sympathize with some of the PMRC's concerns," he remarked, "I think everybody wants their children to grow up with healthy influences but at the same time I believe in America. In this country, freedom of speech is an integral part of society."

"To limit freedom of speech would do more harm to children than Prince does," Goldberg continued. "If we could magically have a more wholesome society with the wave of a wand, I would vote for that. But it doesn't work that way. The cure they're suggesting is so much worse than the disease."

The industry veteran noted the Musical Majority's primary role would be that of a voice in the media. "There's a high price to be paid for interfering with the most popular part of American culture," said

Goldberg. "I think it's important to have a consistent, articulate voice in the media and I hope this will create a reaction from fans who should be very upset about this."

In its first week of existence, the Musical Majority has enlisted the services of: WBCN, Boston's Oedipus; WMMS, Cleveland's John Gorman; publicist Howard Bloom; Kiss' Gene Simmons; Tim Sexton, vice president of music for Tri Star Pictures; Gold Mountain's Burt Stein; Charlie Kendall, WNEW-FM, New York;

Alternative Videos Explode

By Lee Jeske

NEW YORK — Feel like taking a tour of the Louvre? How about learning how to be a clown? Or maybe you'd prefer to learn Italian, how to whip up a quick entrecote vigneronne, or how to tell one duck from another duck? Or maybe you'd just like to pick up a little present for your dog, or a birthday card for mom. No problem — head across the street or around the corner to the local video store.

One thing that was clear at this year's VSDA Convention was that videotapes are not just for watching Hollywood blockbusters anymore. As a matter of fact, there seems to be nothing that you can't learn how to do off a videotape, nothing that can't be experienced from a videotape, nothing that can't be done by video.

For example — you want to send the latest in greeting cards? No problem, Cardsettes offers videotape Christmas, birthday, congratulations, and "love" cards. A bit steeper than Hallmark, at $14.95 each, but not something to throw out with the stale cake. And you want that little something for Fido? ARF!, the video variety show for dogs (from Kartes) should get those canine noggins a-turning.

What else? Well, for those who feel it's better to cook good than to feel good, the video coffers are bulging: Craig Claiborne's New York Times Video Cookbook (Warner), Julia Child's six volume The Way To Cook (Knopf), a series from Kartes that includes such titles as Thanksgiving Dinner and Basic New Orleans Cuisine, the New York's Master Chef series (SQN), 13 volumes of Bocus A La Carte (Kartes), Enjoying Wine (Video Associates), and dozens of others are making for mouth-watering viewing.

And, to take off the above pounds, there are more exercise and health tapes than Jack La Lanne can do push-ups: there's a whole slew of SyberVision's Neuro-Muscular programming, there's Recover from Back Pain (Feeling Fine), Karatecize (Bookshelf), Freedanse (MTI), Body

Behind The Bullets

Dire Straits Tops Three Charts

By David Adelson

Warner Bros' Dire Straits has reached yet another peak with its latest release, "Brothers In Arms." This week Mark Knopfler and Co. sit atop the Cash Box Pop Album chart, Pop Singles Chart, and Compact Disc chart.

In its 11th week on the Pop Singles chart, "Money For Nothing," the second single from "Brothers In Arms," has bulletted to the top spot thanks to number one reports from such retailers as: Central One Stop, Nashville; Camelot Enterprises, Cleveland; Harmony House, Detroit; Lieberman Enterprises, Dallas and Great American Music in Minneapolis.

Stations reporting the single top five or better include: WAVA, Washington D.C.; WLS AM/FM, Chicago; Z93, Atlanta; Y100, Miami and KIIS-FM in Los Angeles. "Money For Nothing" is the second single off the LP, following the ill fated "Walk Of Life," which is currently gathering steam at AOR and stands an excellent chance of propelling itself onto CHR playlists considering the success of the second release.

Over on the Pop Album charts, "Brothers in Arms" maintains its firm grip on the top position. This week it is the only top ten album to maintain its bullet and just one of four records in the top 25 currently bulletting (only 12 of the top 50-albums have bullets this week).

Retailers reporting the LP top five or better are: Tower, San Francisco; Turtles, Atlanta; Mainstream, Milwaukee; Homers, Omaha; Tower, Los Angeles; Harvard Coop, Boston; National Record Mart, Pittsburgh; J&R Music World, New York; Record Bar, Durham; Oz, Atlanta; Dan Jay, Denver; Cavages, Buffalo; Licorice Pizza, Los Angeles; Peaches, Miami; Harmony House, Detroit and Camelot, Cleveland.

MCA AT VSDA — MCA Home Video brought a crowd of over 4,000 video dealers, distributors and manufacturers together for a dinner show during the fourth annual Video Software Dealer's Association convention in Washington, D.C. Held in the Sheraton Washington ballroom August 27, the dinner featured a multi-screen video presentation and an appearance by two-time Oscar winner Jack Lemmon. Pictured in Photo 1: Participants gather with Lemmon following MCA Home Video's dinner show. The veteran actor, who also received the 1985 VSDA Presidential Award, was

OFFICIAL WELCOME — Phantom (Slim Jim), Rucker (Lee) & Slick (Earl) have signed with EMI America Records. The band's self titled debut album is due out this month. BUSINESS NOTES

75 Join BMI'S "Million-Airs" Row

NEW YORK — Seventy-five songs have been added to this list of BMI's "Million-Airs," songs that have gathered at least one million broadcast performances in the U.S. as of the end of 1984. "Never On Sunday," "Only You," and "We've Only Just Begun," each attained three million performances, "Cabaret," "First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," "How Can You Mend A Broken Heart," "How Deep Is Your Love," "Hurt So Bad," "If You Love Me Let Me Know," "King Of The Road," "Misty Blue," "Never Can Say Goodbye," "Oh Lonesome Me," "Save The Last Dance For Me," and "Young At Heart" each chalked up over two million performances, and 60 songs each were certified at one million performances, bringing to 659 the number of BMI "Million-Airs," with Lennon & McCartney's "Yesterday" the all-time leader. BMI feted their new "Million-Airs" at luncheons in New York and Nashville, with a third luncheon set for Los Angeles on September 17.

ASCAP Distributes Over $1 Million In Cash Grants

NEW YORK — $1,042,600 in cash grants for 1985-86 have been voted to writer members of ASCAP by the society's Award Panels, representing monies over and above royalties paid for performances of works in ASCAP's sample survey.

In announcing the awards, ASCAP president Hal David commented, "For many years ASCAP's Special Awards have not only stimulated creativity among our members, but have also served to recognize those members who have made important contributions to American music."

The popular Awards panel consists of Dan Daniel and Bob Jones, radio personalities for New York stations WYNY and WNEW, respectively; Robert Oermann, reporter for the Nashville Tennessean; A.B. Spellman, author and director of the Expansion Arts Program of the National Endowment for the Arts; and Peter Stone, president of the Dramatists Guild.

Standard Awards panelists are Frank L. Battisti, director of Wind Ensemble Activities at the New England Conservatory of Music; Ainslee Cox, music director and conductor of the Goldman Memorial Concert Band; Marceau Myers, dean of the North Texas State University School of Music; Ursula Oppens, pianist and founding member of Speculum Musicae; and Paul W. Wohlgenuth, professor of music at Oral Roberts University.

Edwards Appointed — Don Grierson, vice president A&R, Capitol Records, has announced the appointment of Wayne Edwards to the position of vice president, A&R Black music, effective immediately. Edwards will be responsible for talent acquisition, overseeing the existing black roster, and assuming all administrative activities pertaining to the black A&R division. Prior to this position, Edwards held the post of director, A&R, Black music at CBS Records where he was employed since 1978.

Stone Named — Quincy Jones' Qwest Music Group this week announces the appointment of Jonathan Stone to the position of vice president, publishing, Qwest Music Group. Stone comes to Qwest from MCA Music Publishing, where he was director of creative services. In addition to MCA, Stone served as professional manager of ATV Music Publishing in Nashville for four years.

Marin Named — Jack Losmann, vice president of AyM International, has announced that Bill Marin has been named director of marketing/administration for AyM Discos. Marin comes to AyM from San Marino Entertainment, which he led for five years. SME specializes in independent marketing, promotion and publicity for the Hispanic marketplace.

Peisinger Promoted — Jon Peisinger, president of Vestron Inc., has been named chief operating officer of the company, it was announced by Austin Furst, chairman. Peisinger has served as president of Vestron since it was founded in 1981. Before joining Vestron, Peisinger served as vice president, marketing at Time-Life Video, where he was responsible for the development of its consumer retail division.

Weinger Named — Harry Weinger joins the press and artist relations team at PolyGram Records as staff writer, it was announced by Sherry Ring Ginsberg, national director of press and artist relations for the label. In the newly created position, Weinger will be responsible for the writing of artist biographies, press releases, company newsletters, monthly sales books, advertising copy for all media, and will provide artist background for company-related projects. He reports to Ginsberg.

Stahl Appointed — Wendy A. Stahl has been promoted to the position of vice president, strategic planning for RCA/Ariola International, the newly formed joint venture between RCA and Bertelsmann A.G. The announcement of her appointment was made by Jose E. Menendez, executive vice president, operations, RCA/Ariola International, to whom Stahl reports.

Paul Cooper Named Atlantic Sr. VP, West Coast General Manager

LOS ANGELES — Paul Cooper has been promoted to the position of senior vice president/west coast general manager for Atlantic Records, based at the company's Los Angeles office. The announcement was made by Atlantic president Doug Morris and executive vice president/general manager Dave Glew. Prior to this new appointment, Cooper had been serving as vice president/west coast general manager since January 1983.

In his new position, Cooper will continue to work closely with artists, their managers and attorneys in developing the careers of both new and established performers. He oversees Atlantic's west coast operations on a daily basis, working closely with all departments of the company. In the creative sphere, Cooper's concentration is in the A&R area, with a focus on those artists based and/or working on the West Coast.

In making the announcement, Morris commented, "It gives me great pleasure to recognize Paul's ongoing development as an instrumental member of Atlantic's creative and administrative team. Since joining the company seven years ago, he has exhibited an ever-increasing range of knowledge and expertise. In particular, his efforts in the motion picture soundtrack arena have made Atlantic a leader in the field. This is a much deserved promotion for a most-valued executive."

Cooper joined Atlantic Records in 1978 as national director of publicity, and in 1983 he was promoted to vice president/west coast general manager, holding that post until his new appointment.

Prior to joining Atlantic, Cooper held the post of Director of Creative Services at Little David Records (including Monte Kay Management and Clerow Productions, Inc.) for five years. He was also national publicity director for A&M Records, where he created the publicity, artist relations and media development departments at the inception of the label.

New Music Seminar To Spotlight Politics And Music

By Paul Iorio

NEW YORK — This year's New Music Seminar at New York's Marriot Marquis (September 25-28) will not only feature the usual blend of musical performance and discussion but will include panels on political topics as well. The political undertone of the seminar is suggested by the scheduling of two keynote speakers, Solar Records chairman Dick Griffey and Barking Pumpkin artist Frank Zappa, who will speak about apartheid and censorship.

Seminar political coordinator Rick Dutka will moderate a panel on the apartheid problem. Panelists include exiled South African poet Denis Brutus, former E Street Band guitarist Little Steven, and Sipho Mabuse, a popular South African recording star. Sipho's solo LP sold 180,000 copies in his homeland, a place where 20,000 units means gold.

Dutka says his panel "will have to take a serious look" at record companies that have holdings in or do business with South Africa. "We've always been an industry that's tried to take moral positions on human rights issues. I think it's time we started practicing what we preach," says Dutka, who is also vice president of Tommy Boy Records. He sees the music industry's role in educating the public about apartheid as key, citing Bruce Springsteen, George Clinton, Little Steven and Ruben Blades as being particularly effective in bringing that message to a mass audience.

The performance showcases will be augmented this year by a series called New York Nights where emerging artists will perform in selected clubs. Featured in this six-night program will be the Clintons, the Kristi Rose Revue, Ned Sublette, John Sex, and The Lucy Show. Meanwhile, the Palladium, the Ritz and Irving Plaza will host a separate showcase of performances by new-music heavyweights like Ruben Blades and the Philip Glass Ensemble. Mixed with them will be lesser-knowns like 10,000 Maniacs, and new face Marti Jones, whose Don Dixon produced debut album "Unsophisticated Time" (A&M) is already generating wide industry interest.

In an interview at last year's New Music Seminar, Laurie Anderson pointed out that a song could be new and a song could be music and still not be new music. Conversely, it might be said that a song could be old and music and still not be old music. The artists panel embodies this attitude with the inclusion of several new-music personages who have been around a long time, notably Eddie Kendrick and Yoko Ono. Frank Zappa also has a central role in the seminar with his keynote address on censorship and participation in a seminar on "Censorship and Record Rating," chaired by RCA A&R director Bruce Harris. "This year's Music Seminar," says Rick Dutka, "will try to address the cutting edge issues in the international music scene."

Warner Bros. ViewMaster Video Pact

LOS ANGELES — Warner Bros. Records, Inc. and View-Master® International Group, Inc. have announced they have entered into a worldwide agreement to distribute a series of original live-action children's videos for home viewing. The agreement marks the entry of View-Master into the home video field, while Warner Bros. Records, through its Warner Music Video division, will be marketing and distributing children's videos for the first time. View-Master and Warner Bros.

Records believe these will be the most sophisticated, entertaining and educational children's video productions on the market. The first titles will be available in early 1986.

Together Again Productions, Inc. (TAP) of Los Angeles is creating and producing the video series. TAP principals Carol Rosenstein and Bruce Gowers have produced and directed more than 500 videos for a wide range of audiences over the last ten years.

CBS Songs To Handle Jackson's ATV Music Catalog

By David Adelson

LOS ANGELES — The administration of ATV catalog, recently purchased by Michael Jackson, will reportedly be handled by CBS songs in New York. Jackson purchased the lucrative catalog for $47,500,000 last month.

There are over 41,000 songs in the ATV catalog including 251 Beatles' songs from 1964-1970. The Lennon-McCartney compositions represent all but a few of the duo's compositions during the six-year period.

Other artists represented in the newly purchased catalog are, Little Richard, Pretenders, the Pointer Sisters and Pat Benatar. ATV had been on the block for a while before Jackson purchased the company. All of the ATV staffers in Los Angeles were given notice three weeks ago and the company's offices on Sunset Boulevard officially closed its doors last week.

Though paperwork is not final and CBS Songs executives would not comment on the deal, it has been learned that the majority of the administration will be handled from the CBS Songs office in New York where copyright administration is headquartered.

Details on additional staff, office space or other considerations are still unknown but one source claimed that Beatles catalog is the subject of hundreds of requests per month.

ATV employed approximately 75 employees in four offices, Los Angeles, Nashville and two in Australia. "It beats me how they'll handle a catalog that it took 75 people to administer," a pink slipped ATV staffer told Cash Box.

According to the former staff member, no ATV employee has been contacted by CBS Songs to help with the administration of the newly acquired catalog.

Artist Development Top Priority At Famous Music

First Article In A Series On Publishing And Artist Development

By Stephen Padgett

LOS ANGELES — Music publishing has always played a well defined role in the music business. In the past, publishers occupied themselves with discovering songwriting talent and exploiting the fruits of this talent via myriad available media; cover versions by recording artists, sheet music and international sub-publishing deals, to name a few. Recently, however, publishers are actively pursuing artist development arrangements in an effort to further expand their market. This week, Cash Box begins a series of articles on this new and interesting challenge for publishing. Our first report is on Famous Music Corp., which has recently begun a program of artist development.

"The role of the publisher in working with songwriters who don't perform is fairly clearly defined," stated Alan Melina, west coast creative director, Famous Music Corp., "inasmuch as the writers write songs and the publishers place them. However, the role of the publisher in the career of writers who perform is less clearly defined inasmuch as they not always want the publisher to take the songs and get them recorded by other artists. In the longer term the role of the publisher for those sort of artists is to take songs that are contemporary hits and try to develop them into longer term copyrights."

"I think a good active publisher that's competitive in the marketplace is working in both these areas, that is, song plugging with writers and offering co-publishing deals or administration deals to artists," stated Melina. This includes a whole range of publishing services like printed music, administration, raising cash, promotion and pushing copyrights into film, television, advertising and secondary usage areas internationally. "I don't want to criticize other publishers for doing that because I do the same thing," said Melina.

But what about a publisher's involvement in the short term career development of performers who write? Melina commented, "I think what it should be is, first of all, I think a publisher should be very accessible to new talent, and, secondly, be involved with young artist/writers and work with them in the area of artist development." This artist development role can be expressed through help in an artist's songwriting and performance skills, or in terms of marketing them to labels, agents and managers. In many ways, this role comes out looking very similar to a manager's job description.

Melina came to Famous a little over one year ago. Prior to this he was with Chappell Music in London. In this previous post, he often acted as artist developer, which is more common in the U.K. "It's fairly common for English publishers to get involved with bands before they have record deals," Melina said. While at Chappell he signed Dead Or Alive, Billy Bragg, The Cult and The Icicle Works and helped each of them get record deals. Now with Famous in the U.S., Melina hopes to contribute to his new company's artist development push.

"What I'm trying to do in terms of artist development here is first of all find the young, unsigned talent that we believe in," stated Melina. From here Melina then decides what the band needs and which tools to employ to meet these needs. "This could be working with them as songwriters... helping them with producer contacts, helping them make great demo tapes, helping introduce them to some of the labels they may not have access to, introduce them to a good attorney if they don't have one... basically help them put together the kind of package you need to have to go out and make a record deal," said Melina.

ALBUM RELEASES

KNEE DEEP IN THE HOOPLA — Starship — Grunt BXL1-5488 — Producer: Peter Wolf-Jeremy Smith — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

With its classic moniker further altered and a streamlined cast of players, Starship's latest effort places emphasis on melodic, pop songwriting and the vocal interplay of Mickey Thomas and Grace Slick. From the powerful single "We Built This City" to the soulfulness of "Sara" and the hard rock of "Desperate Heart," "Knee Deep . . ." is an album rich in commercial potential and musical satisfaction.

HOW TO BE A ZILLIONAIRE — ABC — Mercury-422 824 904-1 — Producer: Martin Fry — Mark White — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

From the band that proved the look of love was easy as ABC comes this lesson on "How To Be A Zillionaire." The ambiance of drama and theater is undeniable, but the bottom line here is pure British soul, with an infusion of the current instrumental technology. While "Be Near Me" is the fastest breaking single, there are a fistful of sonic delights on this high-stepping LP.

BACK INTO BLUE — Quarterflash — Geffen 24078 — Producer: Steve Levine — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

The long-awaited return to the spotlight of Quarterflash on "Back Into Blue" proves out a maturation in the quality of the band's songwriting and the overall production—thanks to Steve Levine — as well as the vocal abilities of Rindy Ross. From the A-side opener "Walking On Ice" to the lyric "Grace Under Fire" and the romancing "Just For You," Quarterflash is showcased as the quickly accessible pop band they showed promise of. Ross' vocals and horn playing are the album's hallmark — look for fast CHR and AOR acceptance.

RHYTHM ROMANCE — The Romantics — Nemporer FZ 40106 — Producer: Peter Solley-Gordon Fordyce — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

Sticking to its tried and true style of upbeat guitar-pop, the Romantics hit stride on "Rhythm Romance" with the innocuous "Let's Get Started" and the bounding single "Test Of Time" while the rave-up "Never Thought It Would Be Like This" is another standout. Straight ahead pop-rock for the younger demos from a band which knows its audience and its strengths. A solid LP.

SOUL TO SOUL — Stevie Ray Vaughan and Double Trouble — Epic 40036 — Producer: Steve Ray Vaughan-Double Trouble — Richard Mullen — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded Vaughan's blistering lead guitar is still the showcase here, but strong material such as "Say What!" and "Ain't Gone 'n' Give Up On Love" makes "Soul to Soul" even more interesting than past releases. Clear-cut Hendrix homages like "Come On III" abound, but Vaughan is alive and kickin'.

TWO WHEELS GOOD — Prefab Sprout — Epic BFE 40100 — Producers: Thomas Dolby-Phil Thornally — Bar Coded

Paddy McAloon is perhaps one of the best songwriting talents to emerge this decade. This second LP from his band, Prefab Sprout, is a heady, spiritual journey. This is not just another band with a peculiar name, they are serious. Thomas Dolby gives them the production sheen that elevates them above amateur geniuses. Radio is already responding to "When Love Breaks Down."

ANOTHER WORLD — The Roches — Warner Bros. 25321-1 — Producer: Edd Kalehoff-Carter Cathcart-Richard Gottlehrer-The Roches — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

The ethereal minimalism of past Roches efforts is here foregone for more traditionally musical yet still humorous, touching and profound songs. A classic vocal sound not to be missed.

THE HEAT — Nona Hendryx — RCA 1-5465 — Producer: Arthur Baker-Bernard Edwards-Jason Corsaro-Nona Hendryx — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

Thunderous dance-rock from one of the ladies than pioneered the field. "Revolutionary Dance," "Rock This House" and the balladry of "I Need Love" are highlights of this typically powerful Nona Hendryx release.

MODERN MAN — Charlie Singleton — Arista 8-8389 — Producer: Charlie Singleton — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

Cameo's formidable creative nucleus Charlie Singleton steps out on his own here on this solo debut. With a distinctive and sensual vocal style and hard funk grooves, "Modern Man" is an accessible and progressive B/C contender.

ERIC MARTIN — Capitol 12424 — Producer: Danny Kortchmar Greg Ladanyi — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

Eric Martin's soaring voice is given expert treatment on this disc which has already spawned a charting single in "Information." Featuring Bill Payne, Randy Jackson, Stan Lynch, producer Kortchmar and Waddy Wachtel and others, Martin is making a strong bid for next teen rock throb a la Rick Springfield.

VILLAGE LIFE — Herbie Hancock/Foday Musa Suso — Columbia FC 39870 — Producers: Bill Laswell, Herbie Hancock — Bar Coded

One of the year's hippest releases, as Suso — a master of the ancient African stringed instrument, the kora — and Hancock — a master of anything with keys (he uses the Yamaha DX-1 here) — fuse the African and the American for a sound that's out of this world.

LOOK BACK IN ANGER — Graham Parker — Arista 6-8391 — Producer: various — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

12 tracks from Parker's prime albums with the Rumour which include such well-known classics as "Heat Treatment," "Local Girls" and lesser known gems like "Temporary Beauty" and an extended "You Hit The Spot."

CITY LIGHTS — Lou Reed — Arista 6-8390 — Producer: Lou Reed — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

Three live tracks from the "Take No Prisoners" LP and cuts from "The Bells," "Street Hassle" and other LPs make up this solid retrospective of Reed's later work.

JUST A MILLION DREAMS — Alan Vega — Elektra 9 60434-1 — Producer: Chris Lord-Alge — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

The well-seasoned rock of Vega is here added to the inimitable sound of producer Chris Lord-Alge on this well-paced and perfect back-to-school rocking disc.

WHEN MIDNIGHT COMES — Surgin' — EMI America 17167 — Producer: John Luongo — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

No nonsense rock'n'roll which burns on the searing title track "Turn The Radio On" and "In The Heat Of It All" and slowly churns on "Not Done Lovin' You."

FAST BREAK — Skip Castro — Midnight 2033 — Producer: Bob Dawson-Skip Castro Band — List 8.98

BORDERLAND — Rio — Elektra 60446-1 — Producer: Steve Rodford — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

SHY TALK — Columbia 39985 — Producer: Pete Solley — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

SCREAM FOR HELP — Original Motion Picture Soundtrack/John Paul Jones — Atlantic 7 8019001 — Producer: John Paul Jones — List: 9.98 — Bar Coded

RISE & SHINE — Peter Broggs — RAS 3011 — Producer: Doctor Dread — List: 8.98

THE WEST WAS FUN — Waves Of Grain — Stonegarden 286 — Producer: Ethan James-Richard Andrews-Waves Of Grain

SINGLE RELEASES

THOMPSON TWINS (Arista 1-9396)
Lay Your Hands On Me (3:44)(Zomba Ent./ASCAP)(Bailey-Currie-Leeway)(Producer: Alex Sadkin-Nile Rodgers-Tom Bailey)

The first single from Thompson Twins long awaited "Here's To Future Days" LP is this melodically rich track that fits perfectly into the current wave of U.K. successes on this side of the Atlantic. With Nile Rodgers helping out on production, "Lay Your Hands On Me" is a typically strong piece of songwriting. Bridges the dance-pop gap excellently.

COREY HART (EMI America B-8287)
Boy In The Box (3:53)(Liesse Pub./ASCAP)(Hart)(Producer: Phil Chapman-Jon Astley-Corey Hart)

Already taking off on Cash Box's Top 100 singles chart, this week bulleting to #54, the title track from Hart's second LP "Boy In The Box" is a sonically impressive cut which gives the young singer a distinctively British flavor. Hard rocking and still in the urban dance vein, "Boy In The Box" is an amazingly complete collage of synthesized sounds — should give Hart another high charting single.

TOMMY SHAW (A&M 2773)
Remo's Theme (What If) (4:02)(Almo Music/ASCAP)(Shaw-Cannata)(Producer: Tommy Shaw-Richie Cannata)

Taken from the motion picture Remo: The Adventure Begins, this cut from Shaw's successful "Girls With Guns" LP is an engaging straightforward power-chord rocker which reveals Shaw's knack for vulnerability in his vocal delivery. Sure to be a CHR and AOR breaker, "What If" recycles various lyric and musical ideas in forming a cohesive single which spells h-i-t.

MARILLION (Capitol D-5433)
Kayleigh (3:33) (Marillion Music-Chappell Music/ASCAP) (Marillion) (Producer: Chris Kimsey)

For weeks picking up AOR support, this project from Britain's Marillion is now getting a proper shove from Capitol and with some open minds "Kayleigh" could break on CHR. Lush production and a powerful arrangement are highlights of this developing act — which debuted a #1 in the U.K.

RATT (Atlantic 7-89502)
You're In Love (3:12) (Ratt Music-Time Coast Music-Rightsong Music/BMI) (Percy-Croucier) (Producer: Beau Hill)

Now patented production from Beau Hill and searing vocals from Stephen Percy mark this throbber which is complete with a no-nonsense chorus hook.

KENNY LOGGINS (Columbia 38-05625)
I'll Be There (3:58) (Milk Money-ASCAP/Foster Frees Music-BMI) (Loggins-Foster-Loggins) (Producer: Kenny Loggins)

An understated rocker from Loggins' "Vox Humana" LP which is highlighted by some tasty guitar fills and Loggins' rich and resonant voice. Sheer pop delight.

THE CURE (Elektra 7-69604)
In Between Days (2:55) (APB Music/PRS) (Smith) (Producer: Robert Smith-Dave Allen)

Recalling the guitar-live drum sound used on New Order's last single, the Cure's latest domestic effort on Elektra is a surprisingly pop effort which works to the advantage of Robert Smith's distinctive vocal styles. Could be a strong new music radio smash.

SUZANNE VEGA (A&M 2759)
Marlene On The Wall (3:37) (Waifersongs-AGF/ASCAP) (Vega) (Producers: Lenny Kaye-Steve Addabbo)

A shortened, remixed version of this bright new talent's beautiful, richly delivered song. The pained dialog with Marlene Dietrich's picture about love's battles is none the less powerful for its cleverness.

NIK KERSHAW (MCA 52690)
Wouldn't It Be Good (4:10)(Irving-BMI)(Kershaw)(Producer: Peter Collins)

Following the adage, "if at first you don't succeed, try again," MCA this week re-releases the single that launched Kershaw's international orbit. Perhaps Kershaw's support of the Paul Young tour will finally put American success within reach.

ADAM ANT (Epic 34-05574)
Viva Le Rock (3:40)(Colgems-EMI/ASCAP)(Ant-Pirroni)(Producer: Tony Visconti)

A lengthy hiatus is ended as Ant is back with a single that owes more to his early, rhythm-attack days with the Ants than to his later pop efforts. "Vive Le Rock" is a straight-ahead rocker with little subtlety. Should score big.

TA MARA & THE SEEN (A&M) 2768)
Everybody Dance (4:02) (Crazy People Music-Almo Music/ASCAP) (Johnson-Ta Mara) (Producer: Jesse Johnson)

Jesse Johnson introduces Ta Mara and the result is an enticing debut single which draws from the famed Minneapolis-sound while installing its own pop ingenuity.

IAM SIAM (Columbia 38-15620)
Te Amore (4:04)(Liedela/ASCAP)(Rothschild-Sonenberg-Vienna-Sonenberg)(Producers: David Sonnenberg-Brian Rothschild-Larry Fast)

An aerobic, hooky little effort with an electronic Latin feel. Electronic wizard Fast's production influence can be felt.

JAKI GRAHAM (Capitol B 5516)
Round And Round (4:05) (Virgin Music--ASCAP) (Derek Bramble) (Producer: Derek Bramble)

Jaki Graham is a newcomer to the American music scene. Her first single "Round And Round" is a track that flows with the beat, and has a very familiar melody that should entice record sales and B/C radio play.

TEENA MARIE (Epic 34-05599)
14K (3:59) (WB Music Corp./April Music--ASCAP) (T. Marie) (Producer: T. Marie)

Another single from the already popular Goonies soundtrack, this record by far seems to be the LP's most funkier. "Lady T's" writing, arranging and production gives the cut its own flair.

STACY LATTISAW (Cotillion/Atlantic 7-99614)
He's Just Not You (3:23) (Almo Music/Prince Street/April Music/Random Notes--ASCAP) (Michael Masser-Randy Goodrum) (Producer: Prince Street Productions)

Young Stacy Lattislaw is back with her second single from the LP "I'm Not The Same Girl" singing, and as usual she showcases her strong vocals on mature love songs from the heart. Could possibly be a contender for pop cross-over.

FATS DOMINO-DOUG KERSHAW (Toot Toot Recordz 001)
My Toot Toot III (3:11) (Flat Town/BMI) (Simien) (Producer: Robert Vernon)

This unlikely pairing on a now well-worn single sparks with energy and eclectic musicianship. Also features a country version on the flip.

JIMI TUNNELL (MCA 52504)
We Put It All Together (3:57)(Not Fragile Music-Emergency Music-Jobete Music/BMI-ASCAP)(Godwin-Mandel-Vlcan)(Producer: Mark Liggett-Chris Barbosa)

GRANDMASTER MELLE MEL (Sugarhill 92015)
King Of The Streets (5:08)(Sugarhill Music/BMI)(Glover-Robinson)(Producer: Melle Mel-Leland Robinson)

ROBERT ARMES (Cruise 005)
Whatever It Takes (3:12)(CAPAC/ASCAP)(Armes)(Producer: Robert Armes-Pepe Francis)

TONI REDD (Wonder 001)
Red And Hot (4:02)(Ruby L. Music/BMI)(Houser-Walker)(Producer: Houser-Walker-Walker-Ginn)

TOMMY EGLIN(Claiming Race 2001)
Your Money (3:34)(Lord Hume/ASCAP)(Eglin)(Producer:Kraig Wall)

RALPH MacDONALD (Polydor 883 321-7)
Laying In His Arms (3:59) (Antisia Music/ASCAP) (Eaton) (Producer: Ralph MacDonald-William Salter-William Eaton)

JEFF TYZIK (Polydor 883 273-7)
Sweet Surrender (3:59) (Maurice Starr Music/ASCAP) (Starr) (Producer: Maurice Starr)

JEAN KNIGHT (Mirage 7-99606)

POINTS WEST

ALONE JUSTICE — Lone Justice's recent triumphant return to one of its many Los Angeles' stomping grounds — a two-night sold out engagement at the Palace — revealed a change in the band's lineup. When the curtain went up it was Greg Sutton not bassist/guitarist/songwriter Marvin Etzioni anchoring the rhythm section on bass. Though Etzioni was introduced later in the evening for a set-ending version of "Sweet Jane," the word is that Etzioni will still write for phenom vocalist Maria McKee and Lone Justice, but that he will be pursuing a solo career. Currently in the studio working with Peter Case (Plimsouls) and his wife Victoria Williams, Etzioni is also newly wedded. Sutton is a seasoned veteran of the local music scene, playing with Bob Dylan, the Coup and Rockhouse among others. Even without Etzioni, Lone Justice packed a wallop though not as much as one might expect after a roundly hailed debut LP (on Geffen) and live dates with Tom Petty and the Heartbreakers, U2 and others. Topping off the Warner Bros.-dominated evening was a stop by Club Lingerie and Chris Isaak's show, which proved that all the praise which has been heaped on him recently is true. Isaak is an engaging live performer with a crack band poised on the brink of a major success. Isaak's next L.A. date will be Sept. 27 at the Palace.

UNLIKELY PAIR — George Clinton is seen here laughing it up with Marie Osmond. Both on Capitol Records, they say they have a mutual admiration for each other as artists.

Keel is especially outraged. Keel has released this statement in regards to the PMRC's plan and his own tune "The Right To Rock." When I wrote 'The Right To Rock' I never dreamed the content of the song would address musical censorship in this nation. The Constitution of the United States is the foundation this country was built upon and I don't want to see it disregarded by 'moral majority' groups like the PMRC . . . With all the problems in the world today, it seems silly that they are so concerned about 'Like A Virgin' or Prince . . . With all the income tax they receive from recording artists you'd think they could find better ways of spending it than by forming committees to decide what the kids listen to. Rock and roll is American. To attack Rock and Roll is anti-American." Right on, Ron.

HERE'S THE BEEF — San Pedro's own Minutemen are set to go out on a two week tour with Billy Bragg in October in what should be a tour with a lot of substance and a lot of style. Bragg, the solo politico on CD Presents will be showcased at the upcoming New Music Seminar while the Minutemen are finding good sales with its latest SST album "Project: Mersh." A double-bill to dance to and learn from.

CATERO CELEBRATES — Legendary engineer producer Fred Catero, who has worked with everyone from Janis Joplin to Bob Dylan to Herbie Hancock and Sly Stone, has started his own label (Catero Records) which features Terry Garthwaite, the Rhyth-O-Matics, Mel Martln, Ernie Mansfield and others and will be based in San Francisco. Vice president of NARAS, Catero is a long time behind the scenes genius, and the label should bring that genius to the fore — with much of the credit going where it belongs. All of the label's bands will be featured at the Catero Records Showcase Concert to be held Sept. 25 at the Great American Music Hall in S.F. For more info, call (415) 386-2831.

FUN STUFF'S RAVES — From our "valley" correspondent William J comes this rave review of Fun Stuff's Rave-Ups (Molly Ringwald's favorite band).

"Two-step champs, rebellious class tramps, the Rave-Ups are having no problem filling up clubs lately. Their recent Palomino date was no exception, and the band sounded as if they jumped in where the Burrito Brothers dropped off — in a rundown honky-tonk somewhere on that infamous highway to nowhere. Lead singer Jimmer Podrasky is a perfect rebel without a cause; complete with cowboy yelps and defiant cries against love loss and middle class life, Podrasky and the Rave-Ups kept the crowd kickin' up its heels for 60 minutes plus. Remaining a short step away from either city life or country life, the band provides insightful lyrics into its guitar-oriented music. This set showed that the band is clearly on its way. Terry Wilson's guitar playing deserves special note, and with a new album — appropriately entitled 'Town & Country' — out soon the band is a new L.A. talent to watch."

WHAT'S IN A NAME — A lot if you ask Shawn O'Brien, lead vocalist of the Cripples, a longtime Venice/L.A. band whose debut disc ("What's In A Name") will be out this week on Tabb Rex Records. Strong, provocative songwriting and solid rock musicianship are hallmarks of the disc and the band's enervating live shows. A showcase for the band was held last weekend at the Music Machine in support of the release.

CLOSE TO THE EDIT — Ricki Lee Jones will perform two special engagements at the Palace Court Sept. 19 & 20. A show not to miss! . . . Dallas Taylor (CSN & Y) and Bob Welch (Fleetwood Mac) are working together in the studio on material for their new band . . . Nighthawk recording artists the Itals will be at the Music Machine Sept. 21 with the Freedom Fighters and Ron Miller in a reggae jamdown . . . Kronos Quartet will be making a special appearance at UCLA's Schoenberg Hall Sept. 20.

RAVE-INGS UP — Los Angeles' Rave-Ups on the Fun Stuff label are one of the top local bands to watch.

NEW FACES TO WATCH

"Well, you know, all we try to do is sing the truth. And if the truth is political, the truth is political. We don't define our music as being political or what have you. It's just the truth."

The message is a familiar one. In fact, the voice speaking the message — and the voice that sings many such socially-conscious messages on "Play the Game Right," the EMI America LP debut of the Melody Makers — is also familiar. "Ziggy" Marley speaks, writes, and sings in a manner that immediately brings to mind Bob Marley, the father of Ziggy, Steve, Sharon, and Cedella — collectively, the Melody Makers.

"We sang together first in 1979, when I was about 11," says Ziggy, whose real name is David and who has no idea why his father began calling him Ziggy. "And from that we grew and we grew and we did a couple of recordings, very young though. Our first major recording was 'What A Plot' (included on "Play The Game Right"). We've been together for all our lives, as a family, but singing together from 1979."

Oddly, father Bob was less-than-enthusiastic about his melody making offspring.

"Well, he didn't too like it," says Ziggy, "because he said, 'Let them get their education first.' We're still doing our education first, but now we're into our music more stronger than ever. But he was always saying, 'End the school first.' I guess because he knew that the music business wasn't as easy as it looks."

The Melody Makers live and work in Jamaica, where "Play the Game Right" was waxed (at Tuff Gong Studios), and, according to Ziggy Marley, where the band is going to stay. It must be hard to be heard as yourselves in Jamaica when you're Bob Marley's offspring.

"That was the feeling at first, but now they see the light," says Ziggy. "So everyone accepts us down there now as the Melody Makers, they've seen all what we can do."

The Melody Makers perform a tribute to Bob Marley at their concerts — "a momento," as Ziggy calls it — and, like their father, they don't only concentrate on political and social statements.

"Remember this — me and my father didn't write message songs all the time; you know we also wrote love songs with a reggae beat. Mainly it's the message that makes the music, but reggae can do anything now — it can go into disco, it can go into soul; reggae's international and versatile."

As for what he wants to impart to his audience, Ziggy Marley says simply, "Basically we're trying to tell the truth, as I say. But you have many truths — you have political truth, you have social truth, you have all kinds of truth, but basically all I preach is justice and doing the right thing. We're trying to stop oppression. 'Just be free,' that's what we want to preach to the young, 'and don't do drugs.'"

If the Melody Makers "Play the Game Right" they may prove to be the true musical heirs to the King of Reggae.

"Reggae's the truth," says Ziggy Marley. "Reggae's now and was and will always be. Reggae is the preaching of life, how it is — especially in the ghetto. That is reggae. It's not just the rhythm."

Licher Combines Talent To Mine Alternative Market

By Peter Holden

LOS ANGELES — Mining the often amazingly fragmented 'underground' music marketplace is one of the most time consuming and difficult tasks in the music industry, yet for people like Bruce Licher, head of Independent Project records, partner in the Starkman Concern mail order business and member of Savage Republic, one of Los Angeles' seminal industrial noise/underground bands, it is a market which could prove to be a fertile one.

Though bands like Savage Republic, Camper Van Beethoven, Kommunity FK on Independent Project and the Romans, 100 Flowers, Twisted Roots, Toiling Midgets and Shadow Minstrels among many others available through the Starkman Concern will probably never have a number one album or single, they do have a loyal and enthusiastic audience. Licher's own experiences have proved that, and indeed led him to begin his own label.

Starting as an art student at UCLA, and picking up the guitar after classes with performance artist Chris Burden, Licher made his first recording as an art project — the 45's packaging as well as its music was part of the "piece." The name Independent Project came about from a class of the same name. Teaming with friends for experimental recordings in the subterranean tunnels below UCLA and in the campus' parking structures among other sites, Licher quickly made a name for himself in the L.A. underground scene, which at the time was gauged by the now defunct Slash magazine. But success came as a surprise: "Savage Republic was about to break up when we recorded our first single — we thought we'd just put it out and hope to make our money back, but a distributor picked it up and it sold out," he recalls.

Playing sporadically with the band, and picking up letterpress printing skills to add to his artistic sensibility, Licher then began Independent Project, helping put together various recorded projects and creating distinctive packaging for his releases. Hand-printed covers and inside sleeves revealed an aesthetic and attention to detail which makes Licher's

Prime Time Rock Comes Of Age

By Peter Berk

LOS ANGELES — In a perilously unsure business, MCA Records' soundtrack from Miami Vice seems remarkably like a sure thing. The just-released album, in fact, has everything going for it; proven singles, diverse cuts from popular artists, and most significantly, a built-in, widespread audience. Yet, key people at MCA and throughout the music industry know there's far more at stake with this album than just profits. They know the very existence of such a record marks a milestone of considerable significance. They realize the entertainment community as a whole appears poised on the threshold of an eruptive new trend. Prime time rock has come of age.

Contemporary songs and even hit songs have, of course, emanated from TV shows before; shows as polarized as The Greatest American Hero and General Hospital, among others. Programs such as Mission Impossible and Star Trek have spawned soundtrack albums. The Miami Vice LP, however, is the first of its kind, the first major 'poptrack' derived from a single TV series. The show, with its skillful blend of music and visuals, has in essence done what no regular series could do before. It has made television credible in the eyes (and ears) of contemporary musicians.

For that reason, such notable performers as Tina Turner, Phil Collins, Chaka Khan, Grandmaster Melle Mel, Jan Hammer and Glenn Frey have written material directly for, or allowed the use of their work on Miami Vice. Why have so many musical heavyweights flocked to such a formerly avoided medium? According to the show's music coordinator Fred Lyle, "The music we choose fits. It is irreplaceable and integral. We treat it with respect. It's never gratuitous."

In order to probe the story of the Miami Vice soundtrack further, Cash Box spoke with Larry Solters, MCA Records' senior vice president of artist development. "It's been very exciting for us," he commented. "Our involvement really began when Michael Mann (Miami Vice's executive producer) chose Glenn Frey's "Smuggler's Blues" (off his "Allnighter" LP) for the show." When the Frey song wound up inspiring an entire episode, in which the artist appeared himself, the song rapidly took off on both the radio and the retail level. As a result of the success of "Smuggler's Blues," the former Eagle suddenly established a highly bankable "association with Miami Vice which propelled him to the top as a solo performer." Frey's latest single from Miami Vice's soundtrack is called "You Belong To The City," which will be heard on the show this season.

Frey's experience with Miami Vice showed other artists just how viable television could be as means of promoting their material and themselves. "For musicians," Solters remarked, "TV had always been the final nail in the coffin. The music was 'tragically unhip,' you might say. TV was terrible in terms of contemporary music. Music video changed all that though, and led to the Miami Vice approach to prime time programming. The show's producers treat music as it should be treated, with care and caution."

MCA's Miami Vice soundtrack contains 11 cuts, four of which are instrumentals composed by Jan Hammer, who writes all of the episodes' scores. His main theme, and "You Belong To The City" are quickly ascending Cash Box's singles chart, with both already in the Top 40. MCA hasn't as yet announced future singles, but the other songs written and recorded specifically for the show, (Khan's "Own The Night" and Grandmaster Melle Mel's "Vice") are likely contenders. With such notable artists obviously attracted to recording for Miami Vice, Solters doesn't rule out the possibility of annual soundtrack releases from the hit NBC series.

Miami Vice has paved the way for other similar efforts. This season's Hollywood Beat will boast a theme song performed by Natalie Cole, while Stewart Copeland of the Police has composed the title song to the upcoming series, The Equalizer. Miami Vice has even inspired one of its own stars, Don Johnson, to record an album (which will feature Stevie Ray Vaughan). All of this suggests a new era is upon us. Whether TV producers will turn out pale rip-offs of Miami Vice or respectable competitors for it remains to be seen. So long as the trend isn't misused for strictly commercial reasons (and audiences are sophisticated enough to know when that's happening), the future of rock on prime time is limitless. If Miami Vice can do for television music what Saturday Night Fever did for film music, the industry will have a vital new tool for promotion and source of revenue. As Solters put it, "It's time we utilized the power of television. There are an awful lot of people out there."

EAST COASTINGS

GREAT STAGINGS — R.E.M.'s August 31 Radio City Music Hall performance attempted an ambitious fusion of diverse musical elements. Guitarist Peter Buck leans more toward the country rave-ups while vocalist Michael Stipe tends to experiment in art rock. Though this fusion has yet to gel cohesively, there are signs of a happy marriage in the works. R.E.M. works best on songs like "Auctioneer" (from IRS's "Fables of the Reconstruction") and "9-9" (from "Murmur") where they take the primary colors of traditional folk music and splash them Pollock-like into new combinations. Sounds easy, but the trick is to keep it appealing, effective and danceable. And gauging by the dancers-to-aisle space ratio at Radio City, they did just that. If this year's show saw the flowering of a rhythmic dissonance, last year's Beacon Theatre gig summed up a different phase of their career. That show combined a high-protein, pastoral sensibility with a centrifugal force that positively galvanized the capacity crowd. But from the moment they took the Great Stage Saturday night it was clear something new was emerging. Train whistles, enigmatic silhouettes, and slide images of green gears filled the hall as R.E.M. opened their set with the cryptic guitar riff from "Feeling Gravities (sic) Pull" ("Fables of the Reconstruction"). This multi-media dimension recalled nothing so much as Laurie Anderson's "Mister Heartbreak" performance last year. Two songs later, though, their country side surfaced with a tune that Ronnie Van Zant would have had no problems with. Then these two R.E.M.s intersected in a rearranged, tunelessly cacophonous version of "Auctioneer" so completely riveting that when it abruptly ended there was this remarkable sound of 5,800 people catching their breath. Then applause. "Auctioneer" seems to come from the same songwriting motor as "9-9" and their new unrecorded songs prove that they could run a whole album on it. Early in the show, Stipe pointed to an "invisible line" on stage over which, he explained, the band couldn't cross without creating feedback. By the end of the show Stipe & Co. had crossed that line many times both literally and figuratively with Buck ending the last song by smashing his guitar to the floor and leaving the audience with feedback. That is probably where R.E.M.'s next phase will begin — in cacophony. Perhaps by their next album this art folk fusion will have fused, putting John Cage closer to the jukebox than he would like to be. Whether R.E.M. can get there from where they are now depends on the willingness of the public to listen to their bargain harder.

PUCK PRIVATES — To celebrate the formation of his new record label, Private Music, Peter Baumann hosted a multi-media event in the ballroom of New York's famed Puck Building in Soho (l-r): Peter Baumann; Lucia Hwong, newly signed to label; Peter Allen; Private Music recording artist Patrick O'Hearn.

CITY HALL — Radio City Music Hall is rapidly establishing itself as the place to play in Manhattan. Not only was last spring's Liberace show the single top-grossing national engagement but Radio City's concert division promoted five other shows that ranked in the top 50 concerts for 1985. Upcoming Radio City shows include Heart (September 21), Sting (September 23-25 and 27-30), Dire Straits (Oct. 1-3) and a Doo Wopp extravaganza featuring the Harptones, the Impalas and Johnny Maestro and the Brooklyn Bridge (October 12 and 13).

GOLD COAST — Rap Masters Run-DMC celebrated the gold certification of their "King of Rock" LP (Profile) with a Danceteria party September 4. Run-DMC will appear with manager Russel Simmons on September 18 at 10:30 p.m. in the debut installment of Channel J's Crashing New York where they will preview a clip from their upcoming feature film Krush Groove.

EAST CLUBBINGS — When Green on Red debuted in 1983 with "Gravity Talks" (Slash) they sounded like the kind of American band the Rolling Stones wanted to be by birth. If vocalist Dan Stuart sounded like Jagger, his lyrics were positively Freehold. In "Over My Head" he sang "I've got debts that no honest man could pay," which is one of the two of three greatest lines in rock but, alas, belongs to Springsteen's "Atlantic City." Their September 7 Irving Plaza show, however, went beyond derivation to focus on new material that cross-cuts genres with casual aplomb. With Keith Mitchell substituting for Alex MacNicol on drums, Green on Red started with an initially unprepossessing acoustic ballad that gradually built momentum and took the small but appreciative crowd by surprise. Most revealing was their "Sympathy for the Devil" encore which Stuart leather-lunged to fine effect. Opening the show was Alex Chilton who performed with a couple of New Orleans musicians in a set noteworthy for its solid choice of material. Meanwhile, the Fleshtones turned in a characteristically playful and chaotic set the next night at the Ritz in support of their new IRS release "Speed Connection II."

COASTING OUT — Columbia recording artists Cock Robin made their New York debut September 14 and 15 at Madison Square Garden opening for Bryan Adams . . . AC/DC are in the midst of the east coast leg of their first tour in two years, with a New York area date the 14th at the Meadowlands . . . Roger Daltrey has just released a Pete Townshend-penned single entitled "After the Fire" (Atlantic). All proceeds from the single will be donated to Band Aid Trust.

LBS Enters Syndication Business

LOS ANGELES — "LBS Communications will enter the advertiser-supported radio syndication business via the formation of LBS Radio — and has named Steven A. Saslow as senior vice president and general manager of the new division," it was announced by Henry Siegel, LBS chairman and president.

"The purpose of LBS Radio is to offer advertiser-supported radio programs with integrated marketing and media crossover opportunities, while attracting sizable audiences among listeners and operating profitably," Mr. Siegel stated.

Saslow, formerly director of special programming for NBC Radio Entertainment, will report directly to LBS Network's president, Phil Howort. Prior to joining LBS Radio, he was director of marketing for Group W's The Nashville Network, and a partner of the radio production and syndication firm of Nautilus Network, Inc.

Blair Analysis Shows 25-54

Demo Still Strong

NEW YORK — Blair Radio's Business Opportunities analysis for 1985 showed that the 25-54 demographic has continued to remain the most requested demo. During 1985, more than one out of every three opportunities were for this popular demographic. The 18-49 demo ranked second, remaining flat over last year. Requests for the 18-34 demo were up from last year.

These data are tabulated from Blair Radio's Business Opportunity reports and take into consideration the number of markets requested by an advertiser and the number of weeks in which the campaign is scheduled to run, taking into consideration the approximate amount of dollar volume that each demographic represents. In this calculation, if an advertiser requests 10 markets for men 25-54 and the campaign is to run for 10 weeks, this is counted as 100 opportunities for this demographic category.

The results of the comparisons showed: The 25-54 demo continued as the leader showing a 1.1 percent increase over 1984, representing over 38 percent of opportunities. The 18-49 demo now ranks second remaining flat over last year, now representing 15.2 percent of opportunities. The 18-34 group showed an increase over last year, up .6 points, representing 14.7 percent of opportunities. The 25-49 group showed the largest increase gaining 3.8 points over last year, representing 14.3 percent of opportunities. The 35+ demo moved up to rank fifth and was up 1.3 points. Teen opportunities were down considerably, representing 2.3 percent of opportunities. Youth opportunities were down 2.1 points over last year, making up 20.0 percent of opportunities. Youth demos include teens, 12-24, 12-34, 18-24 and 18-34.

"It's got a good beat, you can dance to it, I'll give it a 73, but I wouldn't buy it." That's the typical way rock and roll records are rated by the teens on TV. You never hear, "It has a rather socially relevant lyric, I'll give it a 73, but I wouldn't buy it." While rock lyrics have sometimes lagged behind the beat, the sound, and the artist image in importance, they have nonetheless been an easy target. They've been accused of being moronic and having nothing to say or of saying too much. They've been condemned for being uninspired, or of inspiring too much. There are those that argue that contemporary music is merely a reflection of the times and the public gets what they deserve. They listen to what they want to hear and they buy what they want to hear again and again.

During the 60s, music was the prime factor in communicating the mood of an entire generation. Lately, it seems that there has been a trend for rock and roll to once again show the world that it has a conscience. Amidst the crashing of heavy metal guitars, synthesized drums, and silly love song lyrics, arose "Do They Know It's Christmas," a song released to raise money for the starving people in Ethiopia. This was soon topped by the "We Are The World" extravaganza complete with superstar video. Not to be outdone, the "Live-Aid" concert spectacular made its way into entertainment history. Now, we have "Farm Aid" in Illinois to raise money for needy farmers. With all of the recent hoopla in the media over rock and roll's allegedly "unacceptable, satanic, violent, and sexually explicit" lyrics, these noble fundraising efforts by rock musicians make you kinda proud.

Of course, the enormity of the publicity and good will generated by these ventures has sent certain agents and managers heads spinning with the possibility of getting themselves and their clients into the limelight. Futurerock has learned of several plots for benefit concerts currently in the works. We thought we would let you know, so you could prepare for the following:

City-Aid — a concert to raise money for the financially troubled urban areas. The promoters are hoping to line up everybody who has ever had a song about the city from the Lovin Spoonful to John Cafferty.

Dead-Aid — a concert to benefit the poverty stricken Dead Heads who haven't been able to keep a job because they've been following their favorite band from town to town for the last 15 years.

Short-Aid — to raise money to buy platform shoes for short people; guest appearances by Randy Newman, Little Eva, Little Richard, Little Anthony and the Imperials, Little Feat, and the Small Faces.

Gator-Aid — relief for the Florida flood victims.

Cool-Aid — to raise money to give lessons to "white breads" so they can be hip at the hip-hop, go-go, or neighborhood rap party. (First lesson — how to clap on the right beat.)

Lemon-Aid — to raise money for everyone who thought that they were buying a great car, and ended up with a lemon. On the bill are REO Speedwagon, The Fabulous Thunderbirds, the Edsels, and, of course, the Cars.

Yup-Aid — to raise money to allow aspiring yuppies to make the down payment on their first new BMW. Music by various "adult rock acts."

Metal-Aid — for indigent heavy metal rock musicians who have been dropped by their label because radio won't play heavy metal any more. Music to be supplied by more Marshall amps than you can imagine.

First-Aid — to raise money to aid radio stations who's owners won't give the programming department enough of a promotional budget to make them first in the ratings.

Foreign-Aid — a clever scheme by the government and IRS Records and Secret Tapes to get every citizen to donate a portion of their salary so it can send the money to foreign dictators and other anti-communists.

Aparth-Aid — to raise money in support of South Africa and its domestic policies. So far the promoters haven't found anyone willing to perform.

Aid-Aid — to give aid to those tired of too many benefit concerts.

AIR CHECK

Station: WIOT
 Market: Toledo
 PD: Michael Hughes

WIOT

WIOT is a 50,000 watt rock station that has been broadcasting album rock music to the Toledo, Ohio market for the last dozen years. The latest Birch Radio Survey shows the station with 16.9+ and number one in the market. In their target demographics, 18-34, the station enjoys a 40 share.

"We want to be a Toledo radio station," says music director Rick Van Gil, "Michael Hughes, the program director and I will listen to all of the music that comes through, and we try and find something that will click. We've both been with the station for a long while and we believe that we have a good feel for the market. It's as simple as looking for good songs that will fit into the tastes of Toledo."

The station is playing approximately 60% currents and 40% oldies and is showcasing less heavy metal product than it has in the past. "There is a lot of metal product out there," continues Van Gil. "Some of it we won't touch, but if it is quality metal, we will play it. Toledo is the world headquarters for the Jeep Corporation as well as the home of some of the new technologies. We have a lot of blue collar workers who would probably prefer Motley Crue to the Motels and we have a lot of white collar workers who might feel the opposite. We want to attract both sides of the demo."

The station is very community oriented, having spearheaded the permanent lighting of two Toledo bridges on July 4th. The event drew 300,000 people.

The current station lineup includes: The mornings with Bob and Brian with Maury "Scoop" Sanders, 6-10 am; Ann Kelly, the promotion director, 10-2; Michael Hughes, 2-6 pm; promotion director Keith Masters, 6-10 pm; Rick Van Gil, 10-2 am; and Tony Travis, 1-6 am.

THE BEAT

ARETHA ZOOMIN' ON THE FREEWAY OF LOVE — Undoubtedly one of the highest forms of acclaim and recognition within the music world is to be known by one's first name. For the last few years Michael has led the way, but going back to before Jackson was a superstar Aretha was the first and last name in soul music, the Queen of Soul. Even before she became a familiar name to music lovers across the nation, Aretha was stunning members of her fathers' congregation at the New Bethel Baptist Church in Detroit while still in her teens. By growing up in a household with Rev. C.L. Franklin, her father, and reknowned figure within the gospel field it wouldn't be unusual to have such greats as Mahalia Jackson, Clara Ward and Dinah Washington to visit, so it wasn't surprising that Aretha heard so much good music.

Recently it was mentioned by entertainer Luther Vandross that one of his ambitions was to meet and produce three of his own musical inspirations; Dionne Warwick, Diana Ross and Aretha Franklin. Part of this dream came true with 1980's "Jump To It", a top 10 hit produced by Vandross for Aretha.

With Aretha's incredible 24 gold albums and singles and 4 Grammy awards, the city of Detroit has declared her voice a resource. With her latest "Who's Zoomin' Who," Aretha is back to recapture those who were too young at the time to witness the Queen of Soul in her prime. With help from such artists as Clarence Clemons (Bruce Springsteen's horn player), Dez Dickerson (ex-Prince guitarist), Nat Adderly, Jr. and Yogi Horton (Luther Vandross' band members and co-writers), Nathan East, Annie Lennox and Dave Stewart (Eurythmics) Peter Wolf and producer Narada Michael Walden, the LP can only lay the groundwork for a strong comeback.

But as Aretha insists, "I'm not making a comeback, I never left. The period while there wasn't any product out we were planning and recording this current album."

Throughout her career with producers Arif Mardin and Tom Dowd, Aretha's creative skills became more evident, and since signing with Arista, her input has increased greatly. Aretha commented, "I'm happy with the kind of enthusiasm and support that is clearly there."

Even with the tragedies that entered her life during the LP's production (her father had been seriously ill since 1980 following a shooting incident when C.L. Franklin surprised burglars breaking into his home, then a painful divorce from actor Glenn Turman, and the passing of her father in '84), Aretha continued sounding good. "Who's Zoomin' Who" is looking like it will be her most successful ever. "Freeway of Love" is already her biggest single since 1967, hitting the number 1 spot on Cash Box B/C singles chart for 6 consecutive weeks, along with the "Freeway" 12" hitting #1 also. With many of today's entertainers noting Aretha as being their inspiration, it is not surprising that the Queen of Soul will reign for another generation.

NEW EDITION'S SECRET (DIDJA GITIT YET?) — Be on the lookout for New Edition's new release entitled, "Count Me Out" which is from the soon to be released new LP tentively titled, "All For Love". MCA's A&R director for R&B, Louis Silas, Jr. who's handled mixes for Klymaxx, Collage, Patti LaBelle, Shalamar, Ready For The World, Loose Ends, Harold Faltermeyer, Bobby Womack and New Edition, will be back again to create the formula that helped "Cool It Now" top the charts.

When mixing a single many times a lot of the productions fall on the engineering staff and Silas has one of the veterans by his side, Taavi Mote. As Silas says, "In the studio when sometimes we log as much as 15-20 hours straight doing various mixes, I sometimes can become very volatile, where as Taavi is more mild mannered. Also he's very meticulous and that's how I am, which makes for a pretty good balance of personalities."

Stopping by the studio was Vince Brantley, one half of the writing team for New Generation Productions. Rick Timas and Brantley are responsible for the success of New Edition's first single "Cool It Now", writing and producing the number 1 hit. They can almost expect that "Count Me Out" will be added to their collection of gold on the wall.

ONE GOOD APPLE — Nolan Thomas, who grew up in Edison, New Jersey, always wanted to be an entertainer from the days of listening to his favorite group, The Jackson Five. Thomas knew that someday he too would make it in the business, and his chance came when Mark Liggett and Chris Barbosa (Shannon) held auditions for a certain type of singer. Thomas says, "Out of 70 guys, they picked me, and all of a sudden I had a record contract with Emergency records." Thomas, who also attended the School of Visual Arts in Manhattan also has the ambition of being in films. "I would like a career in films too. I'd like to maybe do a dramatic role," but for now Thomas is more than content with his singing career; Thomas' 3rd single from the LP is called "Too White," no reflection on how Thomas sings "Yo' Little Brother."

Darryl Lindsey

QUEEN OF SOUL — Last week, September 12th, 13th and 14th Franklin appeared at the Premiere Theatre in her hometown of Detroit. October dates are booked at The Arie Crown Theatre in Chicago.

Song: "Eaten Alive"
Artist: Diana Ross
Label: RCA

Comments:

"For the first time in the four years since I've been music director here, Diana Ross has debuted on the chart without being an add first. She came on in medium rotation at 40. This was based upon phone requests and one-stop purchases that I personally witnessed. Other records that are doing as expected are Stevie Wonder's "Part-time Lover" and my all-time favorite rap record, "Inspector Gadget" by Doug E. Fresh. Stevie is number 22, Doug E. Fresh is 11, moving into the Top 10."

PHILADELPHIA JOINS MANHATTAN IN L.A. — Philadelphia International founders and chief executives Kenny Gamble and Leon Huff celebrate their exclusive distribution pact with Manhattan Records, a division of Capitol Industries, with Bhaskar Menon, chairman and chief executive of EMI Music and Capitol Industries and Bruce Lundvall, president of Manhattan Records, at a recent luncheon in Los Angeles. The first Philadelphia International release on Manhattan is the O'Jays "Love Fever." Pictured (l-r): Menon, Gamble, Huff and Lundvall.

12" REVIEWS

ADAM ANT (Epic 49-05261)
Vive Le Rock (5:13) (Ant-Pirroni) (Producer: Tony Visconti) (Remix: Steve Thompson-Michael Barbiero)

Traditionally one to go for spicier tunes and arrangements, Adam Ant's first new vinyl in some time is a relatively straight-forward track which is here worked with an effective and subtle mix.

THE LUCY SHOW (A&M 261)
Leonardo Da Vinci (5:37) (Vandeven-The Lucy Show) (Ivory Coast Music) (Producer: The Lucy Show)

A UK favorite, The Lucy Show is set to be given a nice American send-off and this import 12" is a telling intro. A favorite high-energy cut to urban jocks, "Leonard da Vinci" is a blistering synth cut.

LUSHUS DAIM & THE PRETTY VAIN (Motown 172)
More Than You Can Handle (6:00) (Sylvers-Gambo-Barbee) (Jobete Music-R.K.S. Music-Conceited Music/ASCAP) (Producer: Leon F. Sylvers III)

The long-publicized debut for vixen/chanter Lushus Daim is a sensual and pumping effort with gains strength as its breaks down and builds up.

ROBERTA GILLIAM (Sutra 036)
All I Want Is My Baby (5:32) (Sweat) (Amber Pass Music-Keith Sweat Pub./ASCAP) (Producer: Keith Sweat)

A classic soul groove delivered expertly by Roberta Gilliam which is already picking up some radio play. A tight lyric and a nice arrangement are highlights of this romancer.

THE FLIRTS (CBS Ass. 4Z9 05284)
You & Me (6:15) (Orlando-Chase) (CBS Inc.) (Producer: B. Orlando) (Remix: Shep Pettibone)

An energized musical track sets off this rhythmic burner from the Flirts. Nice edits and vocal work on the track which shows off the groups potential: dance/pop in a Madonna/Bananarama vein.

MUCHO MAS

DESPERATELY SEEKING YOUTH — In his search for the Fountain of Eternal youth, Spaniard conquistador Ponce de Leon ran into this beautiful piece of real estate which he decides to call la tierra florida, long for Florida — land of the many flowers. Today the state as a whole is a blooming area, and its best example is Miami, reflected by its high cost of living and unique gentrification process where co-ops, condominiums and luxury hotels are built from swamps, rather than ghetto areas a la New York. The city shines sunny horizons as well for the music industry. There isn't a major international label not represented there. Discos CBS has long established headquarters in the area; RCA International moved theirs from New York last year, and recent arrivals like Sono Rodven plantaron bandera in Sunshine City. It also has other logical advantages. Contrary to crowded New York or laid back Los Angeles, Miami is neither too north nor too west for an industry that considers all the Spanish Western Hemisphere as its market; therefore, executive travels are shorter and more equidistant from Miami. In addition, it provides year round sunny climate (except when, as in the occasion of my visit, "Elena" or one of her relatives is in the vicinity), very similar to the ones enjoyed by these executives in their native countries.

O.T.I. — The most prestigious Spanish song festival, O.T.I., had its national contest in Miami on August 24th. Sponsored by the Spanish International Network (S.I.N.), each flagship station provides one winner from the area to the nationals. As this process takes place in every country, the finalists meet at the worldwide contest that will take place this year in Sevilla, Spain. The Miami event featured, in addition, the performances of international superstars Miguel Bose, Lolita, Miami Sound Machine and Emmanuel. Judging the contest were other figures of international reknown like musical director Hector Garrido (Jose Luis "El Puma" Rodriguez's) and Rafael Ferro (Julio Iglesias') and other performers like CBS' Braulio, Sonotone's Carlos Mata and RCA's Ruby.

The U.S. prize was awarded to the talented couple Zobeida and Frank representing WLTV-Miami with the song "Te hablo de mi raza," a beautiful lyrical melody interpreted by the duo with charm and tenderness, and of course, supported enthusiastically by the local crowd gathered at the Miami Convention Center. Not wanting to dampen the brilliant victory of this couple, or the crafty creative composition, it is noteworthy to consider the following two factors: (a) the winning song was repeatedly played on FM-92 (one of Miami's two main stations), heard by these ears since my arrival to the city. The advantage of radio diffusion consequently results in audience familiarization, in addition to the obvious local rooting factor. (b) That several of the judges are Miami residents didn't hurt either. Should the same factors be applied to the San Antonio representation, 2nd place "Dame un minuto" ("Give me a minute"), or third place, "Musico, poeta y loco" ("Musician, poet and crazy") composed and arranged by Fernando Rivas and interpreted by Walter Valentino from New York, the finishing order might have been different.

Then again, many observers argued, with good logic, that the present O.T.I. format may soon become obsolete. Three plus hours of slow, syrupy ballads is not anyone's idea of good night of entertainment — not for the live audience or televiewers. And since the O.T.I.'s main goal has always been the discovery of international musical talent, admission standards should be loosened to include other acts which could provide a wider spectrum of entertainment and participation from other musical genres.

The performers were, on the other hand, something else. Miguel Bose in a Boy Georgesque attire of very wide pants, cut inches above the ankle, glittery tux and blonde, long pony tail, mesmerized the crowds with "Tu amante bandido." Ditto Emmanuel, clad in his European impeccable best, with "Detenedla ya" and Lolita's sobrious fury in "Estupido." Yet it was local favorites Miami Sound Machine's "Conga" that rocketed everyone off their seats, aided by a choreographed comparsa circa Havana 1955. MCM is broadening the path set with "Dr. Beat," highly ranked number throughout Europe which hardly dented the U.S. market. And to these ears, they represent the most commercial manifestation of the blend of Latin and R&B rhythms. They are overdue to score with a big crossover hit in this country. When they do, watch out!!!

NOVELAS + MUSIC = SALES — A multinational label predicted by industry experts to be a success in the U.S. market in Sono Rodven, U.S.A. According to its U.S. general manager Eduardo Martirene, the company works at various marketing levels. "As part of the ODC conglomerate, we are part of the Venezuelan television network, Venevision. Four years ago, we decided to go into the record business as Sono Rodven." In that time, the company has engendered superstars like Guillermo Davila, who, alleges Martirene, sells in Venezuela as much as local favorite "El Puma" and Julio Iglesias together. More recently it forged the resurgence of Lila Morillo — "El Puma's" stranded wife — retailing her image while aiming her artistic sights to the international ballad field.

Banking on its extraordinary television resources, Sono Rodven is marketing some of its magic through the soap operas produced by Venevision. Hence, the splashing introduction of Jorge Rigo, whose "Sola" is the basic musical theme of the telenovela Las Amazonas, a superhit in Venezuela and on Puerto Rico's WAPA-TV as well. Other musical hits in Las Amazonas include rocker Agullar — vibrant, wonderful and sensual, with "Siempre juntos" and salsero Amilcar Boscan with "Apariencias."

JOHN PAUL HITS THE GROOVES — As if they needed any help, Sono Rodven is also taking the ecclesiastical route with the future release of "El Taller del Orfebre" ("The Jeweler's Shop"), a musical version of a play written by Pope John Paul II when he was Cardinal Karol Wojtyla.

ON JAZZ

PASSING ON — Jo Jones, who died September 3 at the age of 73, was one of the greatest jazz drummers who ever lived. (He didn't have an "e" on his first name, because Jo was short for Jonathan.) With the Count Basie Orchestra in the '30s, Jo Jones helped turn the role of the drums around so that the instrument was no longer a metronome — it sizzled quietly underneath the band. The All-American Rhythm Section, as they were called, of Count Basie on piano, Jo Jones on drums, Walter Page on bass, and Freddie Green on guitar, was, perhaps, the swiftest jazz rhythm section of all time — they played like they were dipped in Valvoline. Nobody could purr on the drums like "Papa" Jo Jones.

Jo Jones was a jazz character — he was an irascible individual who never suffered wisdom, still accepting offers to sit behind the traps. Through the '70s, no drummer — none — could swing a big band or a small group like the great Jo Jones. Here are a few bits of Jo Jones, taken down while I was watching him set up his kit at N.Y.'s West End in 1978.

BEBOP McNUGGETS — The McDonald's All-American High School Jazz Band, which gives a group of swinging teens the chance to barnstorm with a big band every summer, here shown in full flight before they returned to reading, 'riting, and 'rithmetic.

"Forty-one years ago, in January, it was printed in the New York Times: I told them, 'I won't know anything about drums or women until I'm 90.' I'm not 90 yet! I don't know anything about drums, that's why I don't endorse them; the only people who've got me in their ads is Zildjian. Cymbals. I know cymbals. But I don't know the drums. Why, I can't even read drum music, I write in trombone parts.

"Today musicians are missing out; they don't know the country. We walked over every inch of it — today they get in a jet plane and get right off in Los Angeles. You won't get those great stylists any more, not in your lifetime. I always do something unexpected, they don't know what I'm going to do. Just when they think they know, I throw in something completely different. But it always turns out right.

"Today people are showing me their Louie Bellson set-ups and their Buddy Rich set-ups and I say, 'Yeah, let's see you play them.' And then . . . I've known Buddy Rich since he was six years old. Buddy Rich is different, Buddy Rich is an act.

"You know, we used to do 35-40 shows a week. People would line up at the Apollo Theatre to see Basie and Lionel Hampton. No movie, no Pathe Newsreel — just Lionel, us, and bam, everybody out and another show starts. 35-40 shows a week. Gene Krupa used to come and stand on the side and say, 'How do you do that?' I told him, 'I don't work that hard; I'm just lazy I guess.' He worked too hard. If someone had shown him how to play right, he'd still be alive today.

"You know, we made those Jones-Smith Inc. records, with Lester Young, and Basie, over 40 years ago and nobody's ever been able to do better. 40 years ago! Why do you think that is?

"Today the musicians are too busy playing their records and reading their reviews. They end up reading their records and playing their reviews. Hahaha."

RE: REISSUES — The hits just keep on coming: Pausa's Jazz Origin Series, which dips into the vaults of Capitol, has re-released Mark Murphy's "This Could Be The Start of Something Big" (Bill Holman, arranger), Nancy Wilson's "Nancy — Naturally" (Billy May, arranger), Peggy Lee's "Sugar 'N' Spice" (Benny Carter, arranger), and "4 Freshmen and 4 Trumpets." Terra Records, which is Vanguard's new "new age" label, has given us three reissues (Oregon's "Music of Another Present Era," that band's debut; John Fahey's "Requiem," and Sandy Bull's "E Pluribus Unum"), along with three new LPs (Clyde Criner's "New England," Ben Tavera King's "Southwestern Scenarios," and Jukka Tolonen's "Touch Wood").

SWISS CHEERS — That's what should be heard Oct. 24-27 at the annual Zurich Jazz Festival. It's "European Music Year," so the emphasis will be on some of the fine continental players. Look for The Leaders (Chico Freeman, Arthur Blythe, Don Cherry, others), Annie Whitehead, Joe Zawinul, Mike Mower, Compagnie Bernard Lubat, Tomas San Miguel, Surinam Music Ensemble, Wayne Shorter, the Alpine Jazz Herd, Pilrpauke, Simon Shterev, and many, many others.

LOCALLY — Three fine annual N.Y. jazz programs are ready to roll. Cooper Union's "The Great Hall Jazz Series" (Lincoln once spoke there) is free and this year it'll bring in Joe Chambers and NY Prime (10/18), Leroy Jenkins' Mixed Quintet (10/2), Marty Erlich (11/1), Judy Carmichael (11/11), Gary Giddins, who, like Lincoln, will come to speak (11/6), Abdullah Ibrahim (11/22), Thurman Barker with Joseph Jarman (12/6), and Relache (12/12).

"Heavenly Jazz," a swing series, will bring Jay McShann (9/29), Dave McKenna (11/3), and Kenny Davern/Warren Vache (12/15), to 5th Ave.'s Church of the Heavenly Rest. All the concerts are for the benefit of the Church's Day School. A related program, "Jazz at 6" (Paul Weinstein coordinates them both), brings McShann (9/27), Jon Hendricks (10/18), and Carmen Lundy (11/22), to the New School for some early evening Greenwich Village gigs.

FEATURE PICKS

ATLANTIS — Wayne Shorter — Columbia FC 4005 — Producer: Wayne Shorter — List: none — Bar Coded

On his first solo effort in a decade, Wayne Shorter airs his commanding tenor and soprano saxophone (he's still one of the finest reedmen of his generation) and his bend-in-the-road compositions in a light fusion context (but with mostly acoustic keyboards). Less heat and fire than the Blue Note days, less density than Weather Report, and a welcome return to the role of leader for this monster musician.

NEW ENGLAND — Clyde Criner — Terra T-4 — Producer: Clyde Criner — List: 8.98

This Vanguard subsidiary kicks off with, amongst others, the debut LP from pianist Criner, whose works has graced the bands of Archie Shepp, Chico Freeman, and others. Here he's in a gentle, reflective, "new age" mood — with his dreamy piano and Fairlight spinning entrancing musical webs, accompanied, at times, by Koichi Aiba's flute.

SPECTRUM — Azymuth — Milestone M-9134 — Producer: Jose Roberto Bertrami — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

Those Brazilian fusionists are back with a hefty, rhythm-laced effort that is typically upbeat and musical. As always, good originals from members Jose Roberto Bertrami, Alex Malheiros, and Ivan Conti (the lively "Turma Do Samba" features five additional Rio samba percussionists), and nice covers of tunes by Marvin Gaye, Tom Jobim, Ivan Lins, and others.

MOSAIC — Mark Egan — Hip Pocket HP 104 — Producer: Steven Miller — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

Clear-eyed, pretty performances by the eloquent Egan, on double-necked electric bass, and his formidable colleagues (Clifford Carter, Danny Gottlieb, Mitchel Forman, Manolo Badrena). Sort of a "new age"/fusion fusion, with self-explanatory song titles like "Trance Dance," "Ocean Views," "Hills," and "Floating Gardens."

SHOP TALK

CD NEWS — America's infatuation with high-tech toys has made the compact disc this year's darling of the manufacturing and retailing sectors. The hardware is selling well ahead of projections. It is outpacing the speed with which the VCR, the previous leader in consumer electronics market penetration, entered the U.S. market. Advertised prices for CD hardware of $150-$200 are common, further buttressing the technology's infiltration of the marketplace. Software price tags of $10.99 have been seen in the Los Angeles area.

Still, reports of software shortages abound. Leslie Rosen of The Compact Disc Group confided, "There will be shortages. But really, it's a matter of perspective. This year there will be 15,000,000 CDs produced. That is an incredible figure for a two-year-old product. Next year we will double that." Weekly reports of plans for new plant openings brighten the picture.

The NARM figures for 1984 show that CDs account for 4.0 percent of retail business. This figure compares CD with LP, 7", 12" and cassette. RIAA figures tell a startling tale. In 1983, .8 million units were sold. In 1984, 5.8 million sold, an increase of 625 percent. The dollar figures from RIAA are equally staggering. 1983 sales $17.2 million jumped in 1984 to $103.3 million, a 500 percent increase.

Capitol/EMI America figures through July 1985 show that combined pop and classical CD sales accounted for a 4.1 percent net of their business. Cassettes shared 66.5 percent and LPs 22.9 percent. Classical CDs amounted to 16.4 percent of that division's total sales, while pop CDs at Capitol accounted for 3.1 percent and at EMI America 2.6 percent.

PolyGram, who figured to have impressive CD percentages due to their early involvement in the technology, showed CDs as 11 percent of business for the 2nd quarter, 1985. This figure is for combined classic and non-classic divisions. PolyGram's classic division showed CDs competing with LPs and cassettes with a 28 percent share of business to 31 percent and 41 percent for LPs and cassettes, respectively. Non-classic division CDs posted 4 percent, LPs taking 36 percent and cassettes grabbing 59 percent.

Totals for RCA/Ariola International through August, 1985, had CDs at 4 percent compared with 2 percent for all of last year. These figures are "changing dramatically", according to RCA, as CDs carve an even larger chunk of the market. The LP accounted for 39 percent of business, with 57 percent for cassettes.

Of hidden interest in all of this is the strength of LP relative to cassette. For all the pronouncements about CD being the death of LP, it has apparently gone unnoticed that cassettes have already overtaken the black vinyl disc and threaten to be its obsolescence.

NARM figures for retailers for 1984 show cassettes running ahead of LPs 49.2 to 39.3 percent. This is borne out by actual second quarter label statistics from Capitol, PolyGram and RCA. At Capitol, cassettes outstrip LPs 66.5 to 22.9 percent. PolyGram reports that cassettes lead LPs 54 to 35 percent. And at RCA, cassettes dominate LPs 57 to 39 percent.

RETAILER PROFILE

Chain: Lechmere
Market: New England
Assoc. Buyer: Dave Curtis

"Lechmere is a mass merchandiser, but we're also specialty, we emphasize a sharp price on everything that we carry. We're not going to go and lowball anybody, but we're very competitive," stated Dave Curtis, associate buyer for the eight-store New England-based retailer. Lechmere is a mass merchandising specialty department store involved heavily in electronics, video sales and rentals, luggage, table top sporting goods and appliances. A "store-within-a-store" concept for records, cassettes and CDs is a very successful part of Lechmere.

"The strategy for records is a little different from the rest of the store. We'd like to see the record buyer in here a little more often. So we're stepping up our promotion," said Curtis. Lechmere is out to get the 18-30 demo and it is doing it with radio and TV. A recently completed promotion involving WBCN, Dire Straits and Warner Brothers was "extremely successful" according to Curtis. A contest with a "Money For Nothing" theme gave away tickets to the MTV video awards in New York City as well as a video player and a microwave to tie in to the song's lyrics. Another successful outlet for Lechmere ad money is V66, a 24-hour local video channel. Curtis says that print ads for records will be trimmed back a little.

"We've really become a dominant factor in compact discs in this market. Partly because we have probably the best assortment of CD players. The type of customer that's really driving CD business now is a Lechmere customer," boasted Curtis. A commitment to "better, best" ensures that customers who want the best shop Lechmere. "We've got the demographic," stated Curtis.

The name of the game at Lechmere is merchandising. "We pretty much call our own shots in regards to merchandising. We don't have label reps coming in . . . we're very strict on what goes into the stores. We have a particular image that we want to protect," said Curtis. "The one thing that separates Lechmere from a lot of other mass merchants is the fact that we are very heavy into catalog. We are not racked. Nobody is telling us what is in the stores," remarked Curtis.

The biggest thing on the Lechmere horizon will be the opening of two new stores within two months. Albany, NY and Warwick, RI will bring the total number of stores to 10. Albany is the first foray outside Lechmere's media umbrella, preparing the way for next year's ambitious expansion when four stores will be opened in Atlanta.

ALPHABETICAL LISTING ON INSIDE BACK COVER

WHAT'S IN-STORE

FROM THE PAST — On August 19th, Shadowfax's long out of print first album, "Watercourse Way" (LL-0085), was re-released on the Lost Lake Arts label (a division of Windham Hill). Available once again in a re-mixed, re-mastered, re-packaged version, "Watercourse Way" is a document of this exceptional group's beginnings that displays a more electric side to its music. In-store play of this odd-metered jazz-rock LP is highly recommended.

IT CAN CRY — Jerry Portnoy, the famed blues harpist of the Legendary Blues Band, recently announced his endorsement of Hohner harmonicas. A veteran of more than 15 years and leader of the Legendary Blues Band, Portnoy is known as one of the most inventive blues harp players in the business. Commenting on the Hohner harmonica, Portnoy said, "it has an amazing range of tones. It can cry, squeal, scream, purr, talk and everthing else."

NOW AND THEN — An album that sold quite well in its day and that is now making a comeback, Watercourse Way was the first collection of recordings by Windham Hill recording artists Shadowfax (see story above).

feature increased picture resolution by as much as 20 percent over conventional Beta pictures, more vivid color definition, enhanced sharpness and finer reproduction of textures and details. "SuperBeta was intended to be a luxury feature for the very high end market. But, we've been able to incorporate this technology into a variety of affordable Betamax model," said Nell Vander Dussen, president of the Sony U.S. Marketing Group.

QUITE COMPATIBLE — 3M's new Scotch 275 Digital Audio Mastering Tape offers high density recording suitable for recording and playback on digital hardware from a variety of manufacturers, including 3M's Digital Mastering System. The new tape has a highly durable binder system that provides dependable operation for multi-pass applications. "Because of the tape's increased durability, users can be especially confident about its performance," said Stan Page, market development supervisor in 3M's Magnetic Audio/Video Products Division. "In repeated shuttling back and forth during playback operations, they are assured that the tape will withstand this rigorous treatment." Scotch 275 is available in 1/4 inch, 1/2 inch and 1 inch widths, and in lengths convenient for use on a number of high-density digital systems and in various applications.

Ron Rosenthal

DIGITAL EXCITEMENT — Suitable for recording and playback on digital hardware, 3M's new Scotch 275 Digital Audio Mastering Tape is available in many different widths and lengths. The tape features a highly durable binder system for increased durability.

VCRs, Projection TV Register Sales Gains; Video Cameras Maintain Pace

LOS ANGELES — With August sales of nearly 800,000 units, more than 6.2 million videocassette recorders (VCRs) were sold during the first eight months of 1985, according to the Electronic Industries Association's Consumer Electronics Group (EIA/CEG).

Data compiled by CEG's Marketing Services staff indicates that August VCR sales to dealers were up 50 percent over the same month a year ago, with year-to-date sales running nearly 60 percent ahead of their pace during January-August 1984. EIA — whose members include the major manufacturers and marketers of audio and video equipment, blank tape, and personal computers for the home — has predicted that 11.5 million VCRs will be sold during calendar 1985, as compared with 7.66 million last year.

Color television sales were up fractionally in August to some 1.28 million units. Eight-month sales of color TVs totaled 9.7 million units or 1.2 percent ahead of January-August 1984, the best sales year in that product's history (16.1 million units).

HELTER SKELTER — The recent "Night Stalker" murders on the west coast brought to light some rather paltry evidence pointing to Atlantic recording act AC/DC as a possible source of inspiration for the killer. Tie-ins with the occult in the form of a certain devil worship symbol found scribbled on the walls of several murder sites were linked with an AC/DC baseball cap the killer wore and his supposed predilection for the band's music. AC/DC has long been considered an acronym for "Anti-Christ/Devil's Child" by people who worry about such things. Well, little did the folks at Warner Home Video know when they planned to release an AC/DC home video in late September of this year that the band would become the focus of such speculation just prior to the release, nor did Atlantic video, which also has an AC/DC tape on the market. It's a morbid twist in the marketing of the two tapes. "It's an unfortunate coincidence," said Warner Home Video director of publicity Michael Finnegan, "and it's still too soon to tell whether or not there has been an effect on sales. We certainly don't want to appear goulsh about this." WHV pre-order closing date on the tape is, ironically enough, Friday, September 13. Atlantic video, having been besieged by calls in recent weeks, is making no comment on the situation. Meanwhile, AC/DC has just embarked on a national tour, due to hit the Los Angeles area (the Night Stalker's terror zone) October 18.

VIDEO GRAMMY ENTRY FORMS —

If you haven't received your NARAS Grammy entry forms by September 18, be sure to contact the NARAS office Academy Awards supervisor, Margaret Leverence at (213) 849-1313. Special entry forms for commercially released music videos have mailed to 48 video companies, according to NARAS. The forms must be returned by October 7, so if you feel you've been overlooked once the 18th has come and gone, call Margaret. The NARAS address is 303 North Glenoaks Blvd., Suite 140 Mez., Burbank, CA 91502.

THE BEAT GOES ON — KTLA's Video Beat music video show has renewed its contract, and will continue to air with a new time slot of 10-10:30 a.m., (PST) through the end of the year. Richard Blade stays on as host, while Ambria Productions joins as coproducers with Monte Gast as executive producer and John Collins as associate producer. Blade and Peter Facer of BladeRocker Productions remain as producers.

AMERICAN VIDEOSTAND — Dick Clark and Vestron Video recently inked a deal whereby Clark's Dick Clark Productions will produce a series for home video. Remixed in digital, the new line will feature vintage clips from the late '50s and early '60s. The first tape of the series, entitled Dick Clark's Best of Bandstand, includes a line-up of legends from Buddy Holly doing "Peggy Sue" to Bill Haley and the Comets performing "Rock Around the Clock." Vestron says its Clark's very first video venture.

THE HONOR ROLL — If you happen to be in New York City between the 6th and the 30th of September, stop by the Museum of Modern Art and check out Columbia recording artist Fishbone's video Modern Industry as it plays and plays as one of the museum's exhibits on video. The video was directed by David Hogan, shot at the Melrose Stage in Los Angeles. Fishbone also happens to be, as mentioned in last week's column (8/14), the band that 3M New Talent Award winner Henry Selick chose to make a video for (the tune is "Party At Ground Zero") at the American Film Institute facilities (provided for him to do so). Fishbone videos are becoming positively academic. They'll probably be teaching a course in them next. Gregory Dobrin

The Release Beat

Winner of eight Oscars (including Best Picture) at the 1984 Academy Awards, Amadeus arrives on video from Thorn EMI/HBO Video this month. Featuring the music of Mozart, Amadeus was recorded in Digital Audio and is available in HiFi, VHS and Beta. Suggested retail is $79.95. Also from Thorn EMI/HBO Video in September are Polyester, the off-color comedy classic from John Waters ($69.95); Detroit 9000 ($59.95); Braingames ($29.95); Beach Blanket Bingo ($59.95); and Ready Steady Go, Volume 3, the third volume in a series of cassettes from the popular '60s TV rock show. Volume 3 includes appearances by Marvin Gaye, Martha and the Vandellas, the Rolling Stones and the Beatles (29.95). Thorn EMI/HBO Video also has two tapes for the classically inclined: The Royal Opera's Samson Et Dalila, filmed at the Royal Opera House in Covent Garden, and The Royal Ballet production of Swan Lake. Both tapes are available in VHS and Beta for $39.95. . . . Warner Home Video has two big music titles this month with Huey Lewis and the News: The Heart of Rock 'n' Roll and AC/DC: Let There Be Rock. The Heart of Rock 'n' Roll, filmed at San Francisco's Kabuki Theatre in February, 1985, retails for $29.95 in VHS and Beta with HiFi Stereo sound. Let There Be Rock catches AC/DC in a 1980 Paris concert (with the late Bon Scott on vocals), and retails for $39.95, HiFi Stereo VHS and Beta. Both tapes will be available September 30. Also from Warner Home Video September 30: Police Academy 2: Their First Assignment (closed captioned VHS and Beta HiFi Mono, $79.95, laserdisc, $34.98); and Steelyard Blues; Up The Academy; and Which Way to the Front, each for $59.95 in VHS and Beta (HiFi Stereo on Up The Academy) . . . CBS/Fox Video Music brings The Compleat Al to the home video market this month. This collection of Weird Al Yankovic comedy cover tunes features send ups of Michael Jackson's "Beat Eat" ("Eat It"), and many others.

Comments:
 Starpoint's music is well produced. They have a lot of video magic and they're fun to watch. A great stage presence. I just added the video this week.

TWO MORE CONVERTS — By now, it's quite evident just how alluring film music is to members of the rock community. For them, film represents a new challenge, an opportunity to break free from the perceived shackles of commercial songwriting, a chance to go all out and express themselves musically. The latest of these converts to film music are Wang Chung's Jack Hues and Nick Feldman, who recently wrote not only songs, but a complete score for director William Friedkin's soon-to-be-released feature, To Live And Die In L.A. Speaking from London, where he and Feldman are working on their next album (for Geffen Records), Hues discussed his first venture into the realm of film scoring. "We were feeling all this pressure to write commercial music," he commented. "That led me to ask our manager if we could possibly become more involved with film (Wang Chung contributed material to The Breakfast Club soundtrack earlier in the year). I thought he'd come back with a 10 minute TV documentary which needed a few notes of music." As it turned out, Friedkin (who had employed unusual scores for such films as The Exorcist, Cruising and The Sorcerer) was impressed enough with Wang Chung's music to offer its members the chance to completely score his new film. Therefore, Hues and Feldman, in a highly unusual arrangement, were asked to write and record ninety minutes of orchestral music, although the musicians had yet to see the film. "I really didn't even know much about the film at that stage," Hues remarked.

NEW ROLES — Sting and Tracey Ullman have the chance to expand their performing horizons with their decidedly non-musical roles in the new film, Plenty. Meryl Streep stars in the post-WWII drama, which is being released this month.

"I knew it was an intensely dramatic, rather grand movie. Bill trusted us, though." He and Feldman then wrote the music, and over a two-week period, recorded it. "Bill wanted to take what we had recorded and juxtapose it into the film, and that's exactly what he wound up doing. Somehow, it worked, and in fact, many of the timings were uncannily in sync between the music and the footage." The soundtrack from To Live And Die In L.A. will be released by Geffen on September 30, although Wang Chung's title song will be shipped out as a single on the 25th. The LP will feature one side comprised of four pop songs and the other featuring Hues' and Feldman's instrumental work for the film. A video version of the title song, also directed by Friedkin, is being readied as well. For Hues and Feldman, the experience was thoroughly satisfying both emotionally and creatively. "I actually studied classical music," Hues said. "For that reason, I always figured that if I wrote for film, it would be in an instrumental capacity. To work on a film calling for orchestral music and rock songs is the best of both worlds."

THE FINAL FRONTIER — The voyages of the Starship Enterprise were superbly enhanced by composer Alexander Courage's music. Along with his internationally familiar main theme to Star Trek, he also contributed consistently melodic, unusual and effective background scores to all 79 episodes. Now, twenty years later, countless fans will be glad to know by the release by G.N.P./Crescendo Records of a Star Trek album, consisting of music from the series' first episodes. Nell Norman, A&R and staff producer for the label, supervised the packaging of the new Star Trek album. Of the project, he said, "I've put together several other science fiction compilation scores, and always wanted to offer Star Trek music as well. I found out fairly recently that an original master recording from the pilot was in a secret hiding place, in private hands. It was the only tape not destroyed during a fire and flood at Desilu Studios (then on the Paramount lot, where Star Trek was produced). I finally worked out a deal with the studio, converted the music to digital, E.Q.'d it, and (with the help of Grammy winning engineer/producer Bob Margoullef) brought it to its present condition." On a similar note, the label also just shipped out a compilation album of 'secret agent themes,' featuring Billy Strange's versions of several James Bond themes, as well as the theme from TV's cult classic, The Prisoner, and the main theme from PBS' popular series, Reilly: Ace of Spies.

ODDS AND ENDS — The forecast . . . more Purple Rain. Sort of. For those who await the return of Prince to the screen, the wait is almost over. Your Prince will come back to a theatre near you sometime next year in a film titled Under The Cherry Moon. The movie, however, is not related to Purple Rain in any story sense. Produced by Bob Cavallo, Joe Ruffalo and Steve Fargnoll (who know both the music and the film business first hand), the picture will offer His Purpleness as a musician in France who plays in a bar. Becky Johnson has written the screenplay to Under The Cherry Moon, and Mary Lambert (of Madonna video fame) will direct. Warner Bros. will distribute the film. No details about Prince's musical contributions to the movie or the anticipated soundtrack have as yet been announced. . . . Speaking of pop stars turned actors, both Sting and Tracey Ullman are featured in 20th Century Fox's Plenty, which stars Meryl Streep. The post-World War II drama casts the two musicians in complex, serious roles which could potentially cement their credibility as actors. Sting was most recently on film in this summer's The Bride, but audiences divorced themselves from the picture soon after its release. Ullman had a tour de force role in Paul McCartney's similarly short-lived Give My Regards To Broad Street. Both performers are clearly out to establish themselves in more than just musical capacities, and Plenty may turn out to be the perfect vehicle for them to do just that. . . . Congratulations to the brilliant Danny Kaye on his triumphant Hollywood Bowl concert. . . . Producer John "Jellybean" Benitez recently completed the 12"-remix of Huey Lewis and the News' "Back In Time." The song was written and recorded for the blockbuster film, Back To The Future. "The Power Of Love," of course, also comes from that film. . . . Polydor recording artist Willy Deville will make a cameo appearance (as a pool shark) in German director Dietrich Kuester's latest film, Va Banque (which loosely translated, means "go for broke" or "all or nothing"). Deville founded the group Mink Deville.

SWEET MUSIC — Jessica Lange strikes up the band in a scene from Sweet Dreams, in which the actress portrays legendary country singer Patsy Cline.

Sweet Dreams Rekindles Bittersweet Memories of Patsy Cline

By Peter Berk

LOS ANGELES — "That about broke me up, to think that someone as good as that was gone." So wrote Loretta Lynn in her autobiography, Coal Miner's Daughter, about Patsy Cline, the 'Queen' of country music whose life came to a tragic end on the night of March 5, 1963. Now, in a new film starring Jessica Lange and titled Sweet Dreams, Cline's short yet triumphant life has been recreated. The film, which also stars Ed Harris, will be released early next month. The soundtrack, featuring 12 original Patsy Cline recordings, will be released this month on MCA Records.

Just as Cline inspired Lynn's career, it was, ironically, the film version of Coal Miner's Daughter (starring Sissy Spacek) which inspired Sweet Dreams. While her character wasn't at the forefront of Lynn's story, enough interest in Cline was generated to suggest the idea of a film based on her life. For that reason, the producer of Coal Miner's Daughter (CMD), Bernard Schwartz, set out on an in-depth quest to discover the essence of Cline and her music. Through extensive interviews with her family and friends, he emerged with enough material for an eventual screenplay (which was written by Robert Getchell). Lange was cast, and the project was finally underway.

In a recent interview with Cash Box, Schwartz elaborated on Sweet Dreams. "When you're portraying someone's life, it can be a sensitive, very touchy area," he commented. "The family was very supportive, though, and I feel the film offers a good balance between Patsy's personal life and her professional life. The movie does, probably, lean a bit toward her personal life, but I feel we've handled it in a fair and honest way."

When asked to explain how Sweet Dreams differs from CMD, Schwartz replied, "They're entirely different films, really. One is the story of a 14-year-old girl who comes out of poverty, but is raised by a loving family. It's about her struggle to become a great singer. Sweet Dreams, on the other hand, is a tragic love story. Patsy had a very different kind of life. Her father walked out on the family when she was only 16. Her mother was only 16 years older and there was an unusually strong relationship at work between mother and daughter. Patsy had to become the breadwinner, and that made her, in some ways, a tough, hard lady, someone who wanted to desperately avoid having the kind of life her mother had." These qualities, the producer added, became the foundation for her music, as well as for her personality.

Although CMD clearly showed Schwartz' skill and taste in depicting a biography on film, with Sweet Dreams he had a particularly precarious tightrope to walk on. In addition to the inherent emotional sensitivities of portraying a real person's life on screen, Schwartz was dealing with a beloved artist whose untimely death at 30 made the effort all the more charged.

Determined not to compromise the memory of Cline, Schwartz therefore decided against choosing an actress/singer like Spacek, who had acted and sung the part of Lynn in CMD. Instead, he sought "the best of both worlds by finding the best actress in town and using Patsy's own recordings (although some of the instrumental tracks were re-recorded)." To project Cline's persona, if not her singing voice, accurately, Lange nonetheless required and sought assistance in creating the role. Above and beyond working with Schwartz and the film's director Karel Reisz, Lange for that reason worked for several weeks with Owen Bradley, who had produced for both Cline and Lynn. She also studied extensively in order to master the choreography of the period, working with Harris, who plays Cline's second husband, Charlie Dick.

MCA's soundtrack to Sweet Dreams contains such country perennials as "Crazy," "Walking After Midnight" and, of course, "Sweet Dreams." According to Schwartz, and many others, though, Cline was "far more than a country singer. Her songs aren't typical country songs, she had a quality which defied categorization." CMD proved how diverse an audience there can be for a film oriented toward country music, and although Loretta Lynn may be better known to younger movie audiences, Schwartz is confident Sweet Dreams will have a similar impact theatrically. As he put it, "I hope people will learn about Patsy, and how much she contributed to music in general. This is an emotionally charged love story with music which will probably break your heart. It was a difficult film to make, but it was most definitely worth it."

Opry Birthday Plans Made

By Bill Fisher

NASHVILLE — As the sixtieth anniversary of WSM's Grand Ole Opry nears, officials for the radio show are finalizing plans to commemorate the occasion with a three-day slate of activities. There will be two primary changes marking the festivities this year. First, the birthday celebration will be held Oct. 10-12, prior to the Country Music Association's Awards Show, instead of during the week following the telecast. Second, Friday's (10/11) events will be invitation-only, and registration fees will not be charged for the radio broadcasters and music industry representatives who make up the bulk of the participants. The fees paid in previous years went to benefit the Opry Trust Fund; this year, the fund will receive proceeds from $20 ticket packages available to the public which allow attendance at Thursday's and Saturday's events.

Opryland USA's Acuff Theatre will be the site of the Early Bird bluegrass concert, hosted by Bill Monroe, on Thursday from 2-5 p.m. That evening (7-11 p.m.) guests will be able to attend the Music Country Radio Network show, hosted by Charlie Douglas at the Opry House. The show will feature live performances, and several members of the Country Music Hall of Fame will reportedly be on hand.

From 1-4 p.m. on Friday afternoon, DJs will be able to schedule artist interviews at the Opryland Hotel. Invited guests will meet for a special reception and show Friday night aboard the new "General Jackson" showboat. During the evening cruise, the 1985 DJ Hall of Fame Awards will be presented.

The celebration will end Saturday with traditional birthday cake-cutting ceremonies and the sixtieth anniversary show at the Opry House, which begins at 9:30 p.m.

Stations who wish to broadcast shows from the Opryland hotel lobby this year can obtain details from Ray Waters at (615) 889-1000.

U.S. And Japanese Concert Dates Set For Rogers

By Bill Fisher

NASHVILLE — Less than a week after he completes a four-date schedule of concert performances in the U.S., RCA artist Kenny Rogers will depart for his first-ever concert tour of Japan.

Rogers' American dates begin this week at the Brown County Memorial Arena in Green Bay, WI, (9/19). On 9/20 the singer will appear at the Five Seasons Center in Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Wings Stadium in Kalamazoo, MI is the next performance (9/21), and Rogers will end his September schedule with two appearances on 9/22: the first at the much-publicized FARM-MAID benefit in Champaign, IL, and the second, a full concert, at the Saginaw Civic Center, Saginaw, MI.

On Sept. 28 Rogers will depart for a tour of Japan that will include five concerts and a taping for Japanese television. With Capitol group Sawyer Brown as opening act, Rogers' schedule of dates and venues is as follows: 10/1, the Budokan, Tokyo; 10/2, Kanagawa Kenmin, Yokohama; 10/

3, taping for Seibu network television special, Tokyo; 10/4, Nagoya, Kenmin; 10/5, Osaka Jo, Osaka; 10/6, NHK, Tokyo. Before returning to the continental U.S., Rogers will play Aloha Stadium in Honolulu (10/8) with Dolly Parton.

The Japan tour is being coordinated by C.K. Spurlock and North American Tours; the promoter is Pacific Music Enterprises, San Francisco.

Rogers' new album, "Heart Of The Matter," is tentatively scheduled for a Sept. 30 domestic release, but Harriet Sternberg of Kragen & Co., Rogers' management, told Cash Box that an unspecified number of copies of the LP will be exported to Japan and made available to the Japanese public "when the tour hits."

Commenting further on Rogers' Japanese tour, Sternberg said, "He has repeatedly been asked to attend the Tokyo Music Festival, and everytime they've asked, Kenny has had tours scheduled. He's vacationed there before, but never performed. He's looking forward to this."

THE COUNTRY MIKE

STATION PROFILE — WPKX/Washington will be marking its 5th year of providing country music to the nation's capital and surrounding area this year. The 50,000-watt FM/5,000-watt AM station is owned by Metroplex Communications. KIX-106 is staffed by general manager William C. Sherard, program director Mike O'Malley, music director Greg Cole, and news director Paul Bottoms. KIX-106 covers not only the Washington market, but also Baltimore and its hometown of Alexandria, Virginia. The station assumes a very visible posture within its listening area. It's current promotion involves an all-expense-paid trip to the Farm Aid Concert (KIX-106 is Washington's exclusive outlet for the radio broadcast of the show). Mike O'Malley describes WPKX-FM as being "more-music-modern country that integrates classic country hits," citing that the station features 10-in-a-row hourly. The AM side "skews slightly older . . . the music mix is more traditional." WPKX-AM features a daily call-in show, "The KIX Carryout," which is devoted to oldies. The air staff consists of John Bodner from 5:30-10 a.m., Chris Conners from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on FM and Mary Bartone from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on AM. Mike O'Malley is at the mike from 1-3 p.m., as is Greg Cole from 3-7 p.m., John Diamond from 7 to midnight and Bill Celler overnight.

STATION NEWS — KFDI/Wichita not only plays records . . . they set them as well. On August 17, in conjunction with a number of Wichita businesses, set a new world record for building a house (Cash Box, Aug. 17, 1985). The task was completed in 7 hours, 31 minutes. The new house was then put on the auction block. It's sale raised $82,500 in support of both the Wichita Ronald McDonald Houses. KFDI also holds the new record for the largest scarecrow (they are in Kansas, you know!) in the world. The latest addition to the Wichita skyline stands 32 feet tall, beating the old record by 12 feet. KFDI is also building on its illustrious past, having recently celebrated its 21st Anniversary at a local amusement park. An estimated 15,000 KFDI listeners turned out for the event which featured The Forester Sisters, Keith Whitley, Little Jimmy Dickens, and a number of the area's finest country bands . . . Bill Dotson, formerly with WMC/Memphis, has joined the Morning Team of KSJ-FM/Mobile, Alabama. Dotson will be working with Wayne Gardner to present the "KSJ Breakfast Club." Jay Childress, KSJ general manager said, "Bill is a successful major market talent who brings high energy and excitement to KSJ. Working with Wayne Gardner we'll have professionalism and sizzle on the air like Mobile has never seen!" Dotson began his radio career in 1975 as a jock with WTRB/Ripley, Tennessee, and has also worked with WPAD/Paducah, Kentucky. Byron Wynkoop

HALF NELSON — Willie Nelson — Columbia FC 39990 — Producers: various

Sure to be a Christmas favorite, "Half Nelson" contains 10 duets (some giant hits, some not so giant) plus three previously unreleased tracks, one of which is an amazing product of modern studio technology: "I Told A Lie To My Heart," on which Willie sings with Hank Williams, Sr. "Half A Man" (with George Jones) and "Honky Tonk Women" (with Leon Russell) are the other two newly released cuts; the central attractions, of course, are "Pancho And Lefty," "To All The Girls I've Loved Before," and "Seven Spanish Angels."

SOMETHING SPECIAL — George Strait — MCA-5605 — Producers: Jimmy Bowen, George Strait

George Strait and his work have earned five CMA nominations this year, including one for album of the year ("Does Fort Worth Ever Cross Your Mind") and, for the singer, nominations in the male vocalist and entertainer of the year categories. With "Something Special," the artist continues his habit of recording straight-ahead, western dance material of remarkably high quality with a voice that walks the line between near-detachment and cool intimacy. Already a fast mover, this album's sales should be strong and steady well into next year.

SHAKIN' — Sawyer Brown — Capitol/Curb ST-12438 — Producer: Randy L. Scruggs

It's hard to think of a happier success story than the story of Sawyer Brown. The band's first album hit the number two spot on the album chart, and "Step That Step" was a number one single. The group's new "Shakin'" album features high energy showstoppers and several slower tunes in as complete a package as the debut LP. Especially hot cuts are the title song and the current single, "Betty's Bein' Bad," both of which sport big, blaring horns. Lead singer Mark Miller and producer Randy Scruggs are co-writers of half the album's songs.

SINGLE RELEASES

OUT OF THE BOX

REBA McENTIRE (MCA-52691)
Only In My Mind (3:37) (Jack and Bill/Reba McEntire — ASCAP) (R. McEntire) (Producers: Jimmy Bowen, Reba McEntire)

As we've come to expect on her songs, McEntire's singing here is purely outstanding. However, she shows another side of her talent with this release. The lyrics of "Only In My Mind" reveal her ability to express complex emotions in classically simple, country terms. This song will quickly cover the markets and should eventually surpass the Top 10 success of McEntire's last single.

SAWYER BROWN (Capitol B-5517)
Betty's Bein' Bad (3:14) (Tall Girl — BMI) (M. Chapman) (Producer: Randy L. Scruggs)

"Betty's Bein' Bad" is the first single from the new "Shakin'" album, and it's back to boogie for Sawyer Brown. The song jangles happily with hard-edged, Memphis-style guitar and a jump 'n' jive horn section. Opening for Kenny Rogers has been (and continues to be) an audience-builder of incalculable value for the Horizon Award-nominated group, and this single will easily become Sawyer Brown's fourth major single success in as many outings.

FEATURE PICKS

ROGER MILLER (MCA-52663)
River In The Rain (3:43) (Tree/Roger Miller — BMI) (R. Miller) (Producer: Jimmy Bowen)

This single is Miller's version of a song from his Tony award-winning Broadway score, Big River. Beginning with solo guitar and voice, "River In The Rain" builds on old-time fiddling, blues guitar licks and Miller's distinctive vocal style. The words of the song are charged with the power of significant American literary themes, and only a writer like Miller could metaphorically relate two of our most important cultural and musical symbols (the Train and the River) and make it work. A killer of a comeback.

JOHNNY LEE (Warner Bros. 7-28901)
They Never Had To Get Over You (3:20) (Rick Hall — ASCAP) (B. McGuire, M. McGuire) (Producers: Bud Logan, Rick McCollister)

Johnny Lee's new single combines his typically strong-but-tender vocalizing with breathy background singing like that found on "Save The Last Chance," but this song is punchier and demands more from the singer. "They Never Had To Get Over You" should be a strong chart performer.

MAC DAVIS (MCA-52669)
I Feel The Country Callin' Me (3:21) (Landers-Roberts — BMI) (J. Richie, M. Davis) (Producer: Jimmy Bowen)

Davis describes a mental journey to an old fishin' hole, complete with hound dog and lightning bugs. Unfortunately for the singer, show business is too demanding for him to make the real trip. A solid cut from the "Till I Made It With You" album.

NEIL YOUNG (Geffen 7-28883)
Get Back To The Country (2:49) (Silver Fiddle — ASCAP) (N. Young) (Producers: Neil Young, Ben Keith, David Briggs, Elliot Mazer)

Young's second single from his "Old Ways" album uses fiddle and jew's-harp to support the singer's contention that, no matter where he has been, "All the time I knew I would/Get back to the country." An entertaining, upbeat cut.

DIANA RAE (MCA-52673)
Fallin' In Trouble Again (2:57) (Sabal — ASCAP) (R. Squire) (Producer: Randy L. Scruggs)

A pretty and talented singer, Diana Rae is ready for the big time. "Fallin' In Trouble Again" is well produced and Rae's delivery is energetic and professional.

SONNY CURTIS (Steem ST 82985)
I Think I'm In Love (2:52) (Blackwood/Screen Gems — BMI) (K. Stegall, C. Craig) (Producer: James Stroud)

An excellent, bluesy performance from the famous songwriter ("I Fought The Law") that features a near-nasty, low register guitar sound and polished production from pop veteran Stroud. Call the distributor at (615) 327-1493.

SAMMI SMITH (Step One SOR-347)
An Offer I Couldn't Refuse (2:24) (Andite Invasion/Simonton — BMI; Southwing — ASCAP) (H. Bynum, D. Gray, B. Reneau) (Producers: Bobby Bobo, Ray Pennington)

Though the title/hook of this song reached cliché status years and years ago, Sammi Smith's ever-powerful singing makes the record a good playlist addition.

WEA/UK Sales Conference Illustrates Growth

By Chrissey Iley

LONDON — WEA/UK has seen outstanding growth over the past 12 months under the chairmanship of Rob Dickins. At the annual sales conference at the south coast resort of Bournemouth Dickins was able to illustrate how dramatically WEA's fortunes have changed.

Market share is now 11.1 percent, up from 6.6 percent last year, an increase of 94 percent in a market place that has increased by just 14 percent.

Madonna has been the jewel in the company's crown. "Twelve months ago she had only one Top 10 record which barely scraped silver status at the time," said Dickins. "Two weeks ago she had both number one and number two in the British charts. Both albums are now selling like crazy and this will continue way into the future."

At the start of his address Dickins admitted WEA/UK was "a real embarrassment" two years ago, at the bottom of the major leagues. Now it could look back on number ones from Chaka Khan, Foreigner, Sister Sledge and Madonna.

Max Hole, director of WEA/UK A&R, told the conference that the UK remained an international focus for new music. After the so-called British invasion of the US in the late 70's and early 80's, we were told that there was a backlash to the extent that powerful radio program directors there would not play anything by new British artists.

"Far from any backlash, the British domination of the charts in the USA and most of the rest of the world has never been so dramatic as it is now."

Carl Grant, WEA's marketing manager, outlined several successful joint-marketing campaigns with the likes of Adidas, Pioneer Audio, British Caledonia, Levis, Schlitz beer and Marlboro. He said co-promotions were having an increasingly significant effect on record sales, and that WEA was way ahead of its competitors in this field.

A GERMAN JAM, FOREIGNER-STYLE — As part of their recent European tour, Atlantic recording group Foreigner headlined a major festival in Munich. After the show, many of the artists adjourned to a local restaurant for post-concert festivities, with a house band providing musical entertainment. All the members of Foreigner took to the stage for an impromptu jam, with fellow festival performers Joe Cocker and Huey Lewis joining in. Shown at the German jam are, from left: Foreigner's Lou Gramm, Joe Cocker, Foreigner's Rick Wills & Dennis Elliott (partially hidden), and Huey Lewis. Not visible is Foreigner's Mick Jones.

'85 World Song Fest Entries Named

NEW YORK — The final lineup of international entries — 18 songs representing 14 countries — has been set for the 1985 World Popular Song Festival which will take place Oct. 26-27 at the Nippon Budokan Hall in Tokyo.

According to the Yamaha Music Foundation, sponsors of the annual extravaganza, this year's international finalists had been chosen out of an all-time high of 2,035 song entries from 58 countries including the People's Republic of China, which entered for the first time. The international finalists survived multiple screenings based on vocal performance, originality of arrangement, suitability to the international market, potential as a "hit" song and the attractiveness and projection of the performing artists and lyrics.

The three finalists for the U.S. are La Toya Jackson ("Baby Sister" by Gary Goetzman and Mike Piccirillo), David Pomeranz (his own "Hold Tight"), and Alan Scott ("The Thrill of the Chase," by Scott, Gary Pickus and Roy Freeland).

Argentina

BUENOS AIRES — Three strong releases have begun new hopes in the local market after a serious slump in June and partial recovery of sales in July and August: "Para Cantarle a La Vida," the new album by Valeria Lynch, had initial sales exceeding 63,000, which turned it into an instant Platinum record according to the local industry standards; "Libra," by Julio Iglesias, netted more than 46,000 units (Gold record) and Victor Heredia's "Coraje" also exceeded the 46,000 level. The charts are still topped by "Rockas Vivas," the Miguel Mateos & Zas album enhanced by the recent stints at the Luna Park Stadium by this artist and his rock and roll band, of strong appeal among native teenagers. Heredia has also been appearing to SRO audiences at Luna Park, with a total attendance of 58,000 people, while Valeria, as we have already reported, has fulfilled a series of 29 dates at the Astros

Theatre. The trade is hopeful that these products will help to overcome the recession in sales produced by the previous inflation situation and the recent (and very strict) measures taken by the government to fight against inflation. One of the signs of confidence in the financial market is that the exchange rate of the dollar, which had been skyrocketing for years, has been stable at .96 Australes for more than two months, with inflation rates falling from 31 percent in June to six percent in July and probably less than five percent in August.

CBS is working hard on the promotion of "El Regalao," the new (and long awaited) album by Piero, a very popular artist in this country and several other Latin American nations. Piero has scheduled a series of appearances in the interior of the country and there will be radio & TV advertising for this waxing, intended to be one of the top hits of the year end campaign to be launched soon by this company.

Interdisc reports that Charly Garcia will record an album with Luis Alberto Spinetta, another great name in the local rock and roll field. Garcia started in the '70s with Sui Generis, a duet formed with Nito Mestre, and formed his own groups afterwards. Spinetta started in the late '60s with Almendra, one of the basic groups of R&R in Argentina, and also has been playing recently with several groups; this meeting is expected to result in a very interesting album.

LONDON — Nashville Network Europe will be launched in the UK and Europe by Christmas, following over two years of successful broadcasting in the USA. A subsidiary of Opryland USA, NN was launched in March 1983 and now reaches 22 million cable TV households in the USA. They are teaming up with Cable and Satellite Enterprises for the European venture. A daily service of four hours in the late evenings is planned, with the accent on music shows by the top country stars of America.

Despite his number one status in the USA, John Parr is still an unknown in his native country, England. Parr, a former bricklayer from Doncaster, Yorkshire was playing the local northern workingmen's clubs just a year ago. Now an attempt to bring him to the notice of his countrymen is being made with the recent release of his hit single "St. Elmo's Fire."

Sade, still locked away in a Bavarian studio completing her second album, has announced plans to tour the UK at the end of the year, with a visit to the US scheduled for some time next year.

Sade will perform 16 shows around Britain in November, culminating in two shows at the prestigious Royal Albert Hall in London on December 1 and 2. The first British single for Sade in 1985, "Sweetest Taboo," will be released on September 30, and her follow up album to "Diamond Life," which sold over five million copies worldwide, is due for release in time for the tour.

The Who's Roger Daltrey released a new single, "After The Fire," on September 9, on 10 Records. The song was written by his former partner Pete Townshend. The single marks a return to his Who roots for Daltrey, whose previous solo efforts have been a conscious effort to escape them. His upcoming album "Under A Raging Moon" includes a drum appearance from Zak Starkey, son of ex-Beatle Ringo. "I think Zak is phenomenal, he is one of the best things I have heard since Keith Moon. I would have him in my band tomorrow, he is brilliant," said Daltrey.

Enigma/Greenworld Split Strengthens Both

By Peter Holden

LOS ANGELES — After establishing one of the most successful independent distribution companies/independent labels in the country, Greenworld and Enigma Records split last June. It gave both companies a new independence and a chance to gain larger influence in their respective fields. The result has been continued success in independent distribution for Greenworld and the best quarter ever for Enigma Records.

Begun in 1978 by Steve Boudreaux, Wesley Hein and William Hein, Greenworld Records Ltd. was founded as an importer and a distributor of American independent product. Quickly taking on bands such as Motley Crue and Berlin, and in 1982 formally forming the Enigma label, the company quickly found a fertile niche. Wes Hein said that "although Bill and I still sat on the Greenworld board of directors, which in theory ran both arms of the company, we spent less and less time in the distribution end of things and gave more focus to Enigma."

While the close proximity in ownership and in location (they occupied the same building), between the companies seemed to give Enigma an upper hand in getting its traditionally large number of monthly releases on the marketplace via the increasingly influential Greenworld distribution network, Hein explained, "though they were certainly our largest distributor—probably about fifty percent of Enigma's business—I think there was just a strong motivation behind the sales force, not because they got any better prices than anybody else. That was one of the reasons for the complete split; whenever there is a parent company or a sister company, there is always the idea that you are getting help from them, and in cases of desperation, that they are the sole reason for your existence."

Coming off of "the label's biggest quarter ever—even excluding the Stryper LP which shipped 100,000 copies" Enigma's product is enjoying a surge of interest among independent distributors which amounts to a price war. "People have realized that the Enigma product is up for grabs—though we don't encourage the kind of price cutting that is going on because it takes the focus away from the product. I think by the end of the year things should stabilize and we'll be back to the original market shares."

Aside from generally increased sales figures, Enigma has also moved to larger facilities and has added staff both of which have increased the profile of the label as a whole.

Here They Come Again: Mann & Weil Tunes Get Bottom Line Revue

By Lee Jeske

NEW YORK — From the cards of Trivial Pursuit comes another tuneful baby boomer revue: Just Once, featuring the words and music of Barry Mann and Cynthia Weill. "On Broadway"? Well, not quite, Just Once will get its first airings September 19-22 at New York's Bottom Line, the club that spawned last year's Broadway revue based on the music of Ellie Greenwich, Leader of the Pack.

Now Leader of the Pack was a bomb on Broadway, but, by all accounts, it was a rip-snorter at the Bottom Line before Broadway gussied it to death. Now Melanie Mintz—who created the original Leader of the Pack—has conceived and written Just Once, which tells the story of two star-crossed lovers and their lives during the two decades that Weill and Mann were penning such hits as "Who Put The Bomp," "Walking in the Rain," "Blame It On The Bossa Nova," "On Broadway," "We Gotta Get Out of this Place," "Here You Come Again," and "Make Your Own Kind of Music."

Nina Faso is the director (she did Godspell), Wayne Cilento is the choreographer (he did Billy Joel's "Keeping the Faith" video), Jimmy Vivino is the music director (he did Leader of the Pack), and Paul Shaffer is the musical consultant (he does the David Letterman Show). Cast members include Peter Strong, Bernard Fowler, Ula Hedwig, and Bobby Jay.

Nostalgia, until very recently, seemed to mean a longing for the bygone days of running boards, Dick Haymes records, and double features with selected short subjects. Not anymore. The aging-youngsters of the Woodstock Era are yearning to get misty-eyed over "I Love How You Love Me," "Only in America," "You've Lost that Loving Feeling," "New World Coming," and other not-so-old golden oldies. Just Once will even include such relatively recent songs authored or co-authored by Mann and/or Weill as the Pointer Sisters' "He's So Shy," Lionel Richie's "Running with the Night," Barry Manilow's "Somewhere Down the Road," and the title tune (recorded by Quincy Jones and James Ingram).

The producers obviously hope that the Bottom Line audiences get "Kicks" and "Soul and Inspiration" at Just Once; that "Somewhere Down the Road" the show ends up "Uptown" "On Broadway" with a cast album, following in Leader of the Pack's "Footsteps," but that's just "The Shape of Things to Come."

ARISTA BUDDIES WITH HACKETT AND HOWE — Arista Records has announced the signing of GTR, a newly-formed band fronted by two of England's top guitarists, Steve Howe and Steve Hackett. The band, which also features Max Bacon, on lead vocals, bassist Phil Spalding and Jonathan Mover, is currently recording their debut album, scheduled for release at the beginning of 1986. Shown in London at the signing are (l-r) Hackett; Clive Davis, president, Arista Records; and Howe.

The Compleat AI Released By CBS First In Series Of Long-Form Programs

NEW YORK — The Compleat AI, an hour-long musical comedy special starring "Weird Al" Yankovic, has been released by CBS Music Video Enterprises (CMV), launching a new series of long-form music video programs for the home video, broadcast TV and cable markets.

The program, which features original material combined with such previously released clips as "Like A Surgeon," "Eat It" and "I Lost on Jeopardy," is currently airing exclusively on Showtime. An expanded home video version will be available to dealers in late September through CBS/Fox Video.

In the coming months, CMV expects to release long-form programs by the following artists, according to Jerry Durkin, vp of CMV, and Deborah Newman, vp, programming and sales: Billy Joel's Marking Time, the Columbia artist's first special for CMV, will be released this fall. Produced by Picture Vision for CMV, it will include original material, animation, and previously released clips, and will tie in with Joel's new "Greatest Hits" album. An REO Speedwagon concert program, recorded at Kansas City's Kemper Arena in April, that will air on both MTV and Showtime this fall. The program is produced by John Weaver Productions for CMV. A Ricky Skaggs London concert, with other original material, also due this fall, produced by CMV. And comedian Emo Philips, whose debut Epic album has just been released, will star in November in a half-hour Cinemax Comedy Experiment produced for CMV by DIR Broadcasting.

These long-form programs give the CBS Records labels the opportunity to cull short-form promotional videos from them. CMV will continue to put together compilations of short-form videos by CBS Records artists. One such compilation, Wham! The Video, has become one of the best-selling music videos in history. In addition, CMV's "Prime Cuts" series of multi-artist compilations has expanded into jazz (Jazz & Beyond), with a country compilation also planned.

"We are being extremely selective in choosing and releasing projects," Deborah Newman said. "We want to establish the same image for quality programming in video that CBS has earned in music and broadcasting over the years, and we believe this first group of shows will give us a terrific start."

Omni Records Sets New Dist. Deal With Mirage/ATCO

LOS ANGELES — Jerry Greenberg, president of Mirage Records, and Steve Bernstein, president of Omni Records, have jointly announced the signing of a new agreement whereby Mirage/Atco will press and distribute Omni product in North America.

The first artist to be released under the new Mirage/Omni deal is the Philadelphia quintet known as Stroke. Their self-titled debut album, due for release in September, was produced by group leader/songwriter Terry Price and WMOT Productions. President Steve Bernstein was formerly President of WMOT Records, which was distributed by Atlantic/Atco from 1972 to 1976. During that period, WMOT scored with gold records by such artist as Blue Magic and Major Harris, while also enjoying success with the likes of Impact and Fat Larry's Band. WMOT was subsequently associated with CBS Records.

DOWN IN THE VALLI — New York's Scott Blackwell (l) at LA's Sound Labs Studios preparing a special 12-inch mix for Frankie Valli's new Curb/MCA release, "Street Fighter." With him here is engineer Ed Thacker.

The ACLU is currently exploring the possibility of being represented at Thursday's congressional hearings on the labeling issue, though no confirmation of participation was given at press time.

"I want the actual attitudes of the music community to be expressed," Goldberg concluded. "I think this may just be the catch-all to enable that to happen."

After you're all trim and healthy, you can turn to Michael Maron's Makeover Magic (Suntree). And, to keep you healthy and wealthy, there's Principles of Home Defense (Bookshelf).

There are plenty of tapes (not even counting the numerous tapes for children) that now teach you how to do things. D.I.Y. has tapes that'll teach you to use pneumatic drills, weatherize a home, and do all sorts of handy things; Kartes has tapes that'll help you shoot a wedding or a football game on home video; and, before you use the Kartes tape, Video Update will teach you How to Plan Your Wedding. Esquire will help you learn how to dress, speak, and plan for career success, and Singles (Granite) will actually let you pick out a date. Too much work? Just pick up a video comic book (Marvel Comics Video Library) and relax. Or dive into the long-awaited Pet Rock Video (Avalanche) and rock out. And if this all sounds too confusing, let Fulton J. When many video retailers went into the business, they thought they were in the movie business. Wrong! They are now in the self-help, exercise, how-to, magazine, travel, and games business. More than ever, video stores are resembling bookstores, as manufacturers try to prove that if you can read it, eat it, built it, or learn it — you can read it, eat it, built it, or learn it better from your TV screen.

Lack of new product on the market, an extensive North American tour and the band's strongest U.S. single ever make "Brothers In Arms" a good bet to maintain its number one position for at least another week.

On the Compact Disc chart, Dire Straits has returned to the number one position it last held on July 27. Many retailers complained they couldn't keep the CD in stock and consequently couldn't report sales that normally would have occurred. This in part explains the CD's decline while the album and single continued to climb the charts. WEA seems to have straightened out the supply problem as the CD jumps from four to one this week thanks in part to number one reports from: Strawberries, Boston; Licorice Pizza, Los Angeles; Peaches, Cincinnati; J&R, New York and Richman Bros., Philadelphia.

Bruce Licher

projects all the more marketable and satisfying to the consumer. "When I started making records, I considered them as pieces of art," he says, and that principle still holds true.

Though the Starkman Concern — formed by Licher, Fredrik Nilsen and John Talley-Jones — is a sideline to the label and his now burgeoning letterpress business, it reflects that aesthetic sense and entrepreneurial vision. "The Starkman catalogs go out to individuals around the country and the world. In a sense we are competing with retail stores, but we are also offering things that aren't available anywhere else," he says. Though some of the product comes from Nilsen's Solid Eye label and Talley-Jones' Happy Squid as well as from Independent Project, much is bought from other companies. Starkman acting as simply another, though eclectic, distributor. With four thousand original catalogs sent out — an updated version with some fifty new items is being prepared — Licher adds, "most people spend between ten and thirty dollars, though we had one person buy one of just about everything in the catalog." There are over fifty items currently available.

Funds from past releases and from the Starkman Concern are keeping Licher afloat, though his printing business is catching on — Warner Bros.' Jeff Ayeroff hired him to print promo material and a special edition 7" single cover for Scritti Politti's latest single "Perfect Way" — and the label is on the verge of success — Island has expressed interest in putting out a compilation in the U.K. The recent Camper Van Beethoven LP "Telephone Free Landslide Victory" is gaining a formidable head of steam on college radio and upcoming releases from Kommunity FK, Savage Republic and notably from the Abecedarians — an Orange County band with a release out on the British Factory label and opening dates for New Order under its belt — will certainly gain the label more visibility in the new music scene, and this may give way to greater financial solidity and creative breathing room for Licher, Independent Project, Savage Republic and the Starkman Concern.

AROUND THE ROUTE

Will there be a joint AOE/ASI convention in 1986? Well, it is still a possibility, even though AOE '86, the seventh annual Amusement Operators Expo, is scheduled for February 6-9 — during Mardi Gras — at the Sheraton New Orleans Hotel and ASI '86 is scheduled for March 7-9 at Expocenter in Chicago, as things now stand. However, the door is still open for negotiations — and here's the scenario. A counter proposal was made about a month ago by Playmeter (sponsor of AOE) to AAMA (ASI's sponsoring trade association) but there was a deadline involved (necessitated by the pressure of heavy bookings during Mardi Gras) which conflicted with the AAMA late August board meeting, so an agreement was not reached and AOE thus proceeded with their original plans. Cash Box has now learned that AAMA has subsequently issued a new proposal to salvage negotiations toward the possibility of holding one spring show next year. Under the terms of this latest proposal AOE officials would design and produce the ASI '86 seminar program and realize the income involved from this segment of the show. Additionally, if the proposal is accepted AAMA would establish a Ralph Lally

GETTIN' READY — Pictured is the lineup of team trophies being readied for presentation at the recent IDEA "Royal Darte" league summer Dart Banquet which was held at the Sycamore (Illinois) Veteran's Club. Approximately 100 people representing 10 teams were in attendance and individual as well as team awards were presented for first to third place winners. New leagues are currently being formed and plans are progressing for the fall season. IDEA, the Sycamore based company that founded the Royal Darte League, anticipates the formation of 25 to 35 teams. Further details may be obtained by contacting Robert Corrigan at IDEA, Route One, Sycamore, Illinois 60178 or phoning 815-895-8188.

III award to be presented annually for the best amusement game of the year, in honor of the late founder and publisher of Playmeter. Here again, a deadline is involved — so we will all just have to await the outcome. The options are that the trade will once again have two national shows within a few weeks of each other, or one major joint spring convention. Latter would be perfect if all parties involved could come to an agreement.

John Margold, who headed up the Bally Banner branch in Philly, has accepted an offer to run the Bally Midwest branch in Chicago, which recently relocated to Franklin Park, Illinois. Alan Moss, formerly branch manager for vending products, will take over John's former post. Chuck Arnold will remain with Bally Midwest on a consulting basis. Another personnel change that accompanied the distrib's recent move was the appointment of Bally Midwest vet Jack Frugo to head up the vending department. During the transition period, as the distrib organization was preparing to relocate, various reductions and shifts in personnel took place. The move was an economic measure. At this point in time, stabilization has set in and management is concentrating on streamlining, consolidating and going forward with greater emphasis on marketing.

Pluggin' away! Steve Epstein of the famous Broadway Arcade in New York City is constantly promoting coin-op game play, particularly pinball, which is especially dear to his heart and a personal favorite game form. As previously reported in this column, a Cerebral Palsy benefit pinball event is a strong possibility, which could be finalized very shortly. In the meantime, the Broadway Arcade will play host, on September 21, to the Big Brothers and Big Sisters of New York City, to introduce the idea of pinball leagues to these organizations. Keep up the good work, Steve.

Dateline Sycamore, IL — home of IDEA, which designs and manufactures electronic dart games. Firm recently announced the appointment of NSM-Lowen as its European distributor. The Lowen organization, of Bingen, Germany, has been successfully promoting IDEA's "Royal Darts" games for almost a year now. As stated by IDEA prexy Don DeVale, "Because of their enthusiasm and performance for us in the past, the NSM-Lowen group was a natural choice for IDEA in terms of increased European distribution."

Nice chatting with former Bally Midway exec Stan Jarocki, who recently returned from Idaho where he visited with son Bill and his family. Stan did the whole bit out there — horseback riding and what have you. Jim Jarocki (Bill's twin), a former member of the Bally Midway team, has been doing extremely well in his new affiliation and will shortly be relocating to Washington, D.C. Good luck, Jim.

As noted by Ira Bettelman of C.A. Robinson in L.A., "Nintendo's distributor meeting brought some additional life into their product line" — which has been enjoying much success in the marketplace. Recently arrived at C.A. Robinson are samples of Williams new "Comet" pin and Bally's new "Eight Ball Champ" pin and Ira is most enthusiastic about both of these pieces.

"Hang On" is indeed the center of attraction at Sega Enterprises in San Jose. Firm's Jolly Backer humbly confides "can't get enough of them to serve our distribution network."

Update. Regarding the Tim O'Reilly case, latest word is that sentencing had been postponed. As previously reported (Cash Box, 8/10/85) O'Reilly was the first individual to be tried and convicted of a federal felony for copyright infringement as a result of the AAMA/FBI investigation and undercover operation and faces stiff penalties. Another of the accused, Tom Goss, recently stood trial and was convicted of copyright law violation (details elsewhere in this issue). A third individual in this case, Simon Ho, also was expected to face sentencing early this month.

School days. During the week of September 9, Lowen America prexy Rus Strahan was on the road doing the service school bit on the new Concert 240 phono. Stops included Southwest Vending Sales in Oklahoma City and Mountain Coin in Phoenix. And speaking of mountain Coin, we wish a speedy recovery to Bob Maxey of the Denver branch who recently underwent extensive bypass surgery.

It's Wartime

Easily one of the most talked of conversion kits to hit the market is the new "1942" from Williams — an easy to understand yet difficult to master high action format for players of all skill levels.

"1942" is a 32-wave action-packed game of air combat with a flight plan that pits the player's P38 Lightning against a host of hostile Japanese Zeroes. Players can take the offensive with machine gun fire and can activate a limited "loop the loop" to escape when the action gets too hot. Picking up "POWs" gives extra power in the form of bonus points, automatic destruction of enemies or the addition of allies. The game also offers a buy-in feature which allows the player to rejoin the play action.

The "1942" kit is complete and includes a new set of electronics, control panel assembly, marquee, CRT glass and bright comic strip side decals. Easy to install, it converts any vertical color raster monitor game, and is economically priced for today's market.

Op Convicted Of Copyright Violation

CHICAGO — Tom Goss of Coaltown Amusement in Harlan, Kentucky, was convicted on August 29, 1985, on criminal charges of dealing in counterfeit coin-operated amusement machines in violation of the U.S. copyright law.

Goss, a 37 year old operator of video games, was arrested in April of this year, along with several others, including the recently convicted Tim O'Reilly of Montreal, as a result of an undercover FBI operation targeting importers, manufacturers, distributors and operators of counterfeit video games.

Glenn Braswell, executive director of the American Amusement Machine Association, said that the success of AAMA's efforts in aiding the FBI during their Atlanta undercover operation has established the association as an effective law enforcement tool for both current and future government investigations directed at other video game pirates. "The conviction of an operator reaffirms AAMA's position to combat this criminal activity at all levels in the industry," said Braswell.

Goss will be scheduled for sentencing in October and faces a maximum penalty of $250,000 and/or two years in prison.

'Counterfeit Video Game' Training Film

CHICAGO — Glenn Braswell, executive director of the American Amusement Machine Association, announced the completion of a training film for U.S. Customs Service field agents on the identification of counterfeit coin-operated amusement machines.

Mr. Braswell said that this joint project was an outgrowth of the cooperative relationship between the AAMA and Customs developed through ongoing AAMA Customs seminars on the differences between legitimate and counterfeit video games printed circuit boards (PCBs). "The national distribution received by this film allows us to reach every U.S. port and will significantly aid the industry's fight against the growing tide of counterfeit video games from the Orient," commented Braswell.

The 20-minute film featuring Braswell, U.S. Customs Service National Advisory Import Specialist Thomas McKenna and AAMA Technical Advisory Committee Chairman Ray Musci of Data East USA, covers all aspects of the identification process from shipping documents to the PCB's electronic circuitry.

New Equipment

A Million In One

CHICAGO — It's the shot heard 'round the world for unprecedented scoring excitement, location competition and profit making, is undeniably the most important shot in pinball — and Comet's got it! "Comet" is the latest pinball game in release by Williams Electronics, Inc. and is already among the most talked of pieces to hit the market.

Innovative design and engineering from Williams have made possible, for the very first time, the incredible chance to score one million points in a single shot. All it takes is lighting the 1-9-8-6 top rollover lanes on the third ball and then landing in the uppermost ring of the cycle jump when lit and flashing the million challenge.

The "Comet" theme and graphics depict all of the thrills and excitement of an amusement park in a fantastic new pingame. There's the fun house, shooting galleries, fireworks exploding in the night sky, screams of roller coaster riders, revving up for the cycle jump, dunking the dummy as he taunts "Come on. Hit me, you turkey," and taking the corkscrew at high speed.

This is truly an outstanding package, with sounds, lights and action plus the added enhancement of being able to score a million in just one shot.

The new model is available through factory distributors. Further information may be obtained by contacting Williams Electronics, Inc., 3401 N. California Ave., Chicago, Illinois 60618.

An Adventurous Experience

CHICAGO — Among the first new games introduced by Sega Enterprises, Inc. is "Pit Fall II Lost Caverns," an adventurous obstacle game using a cartoon character. There are 84 different screens, each with high resolution graphics.

In this game, the player is "Pit Fall Harry" whose objective is to locate three treasures hidden in the underground caverns. Not an easy task and one that calls for skill in eliminating the obstacles and achieving the goal.

The play experience is further enhanced by the various different screens. The new model is currently available in dedicated upright version.

KAYLEIGH

A SINGLE LIKE THIS IS ONE IN A

MARILLION

NOT TO BE OUTDONE, THE ALBUM IT CAME FROM, MISPLACED CHILDHOOD, APPEARED SOON AFTER AND EXPLODED, OUT-OF-THE-BOX TO A #1 DEBUT ON THE U.K. ALBUM CHARTS.

HISTORY SEEMS TO BE REPEATING ITSELF HERE IN AMERICA. WHEN MISPLACED CHILDHOOD WAS RELEASED IN MID-JULY, IT WAS IMMEDIATELY EMBRACED BY AOR RADIO LIKE NO OTHER LP IN MARILLION'S CAREER AND SINCE THEN, TRUE TO FORM, LISTENER RESPONSE HAS SINGLED OUT KAYLEIGH AS ONE OF THE MOST ACTIVE ALBUM TRACKS OF THE SUMMER WITH R & R CHARTING IT AT #15 (9/6/85).

NOW KAYLEIGH IS READY TO BECOME A SINGLE IN HER OWN RIGHT HERE IN AMERICA AND IF THE PAST IS ANY INDICATION OF THE FUTURE, SOON EVERYONE WILL KNOW KAYLEIGH AS WELL AS THE REST OF THE WORLD ALREADY DOES.

THE AOR ALBUM TRACK OF THE SUMMER.
THE CHR SMASH OF THE FALL.
