True to his word, the new Editor has scanned this month's collection of readers' letters, double-checked a combination lock on his wallet that would baffle even the most hardened adventure games fan, and declared that no current offering lives up to the standard set for his star prize of £100 in software.

There is, however, a spot prize of fifty guid's worth flying out this issue, just to prove that no one can be in Jasper the Grasner mode for 24 hours a day. Readers keen on copping a ton of software should scrawl down their fresh ideas (no more 'I hate pirates/ prices are too high/ my machine's bigger than provide his definitive run-down on the compilation scene this year. The budget round-up which accompanies the compilations overview will expand next year, when we'll be taking a monthly look at what is bubbling up from the world of the cheapie game.

The Screen Test Supplement will play host to Updates, as of next issue. And with the arrival of two new staffers, ACE will be able to provide the ultimate version update service. In Supplement, we'll be keeping you posted on all the updates, as they happen.

Look out for future developments in the Screen Test Supplement in 1989, and welcome to a new section in ACE!

Buying or receiving games as presents at this time of year used to be a hazardous process. "What cheep rubbish are they going to push on me this Sime?" sort of thing.
