EDITORIAL "Recording Studios — Credit To Unsung Heroes"

The recording studio is for many in our industry the closest they'll come to a second home. It is the place where the lifeblood of our business is formulated, the creative incubator upon which we all depend.

The role of the recording studio has never been more important than in today's technologically-advanced environment. From the latest techniques of digital recording, to the newest and most advanced synthesizers, today's recording studios help shape how tomorrow's music will sound. The day-to-day operation of a studio is no easy task. From staying on top of the technological changes, to remaining competitive in a business sense, studios must always be able to move in the new directions taken by the rest of the music industry. A role they have taken on quite effectively.

The studios in which records are recorded are more often than not the unsung heroes of the music business. Their creative personnel, who operate state-of-the-art technology and utilize innovative recording techniques have helped each recording artist in the drive to produce a hit record.

Recognizing the studio's crucial role in the life process of hit product, Cash Box has expanded its studio coverage to include a weekly studio profile outlining and highlighting the newest equipment and facilities. A better working knowledge of the many studios all over the country can only help serve the music industry. These profiles are further proof of the commitment we feel to each facet of the recording industry, and studios are indeed one of the most vital links in the chain of creating popular music.

ON THE COVER

Billy Squier has emerged as the standard bearer of straight-ahead rock and roll in the '80s. His fourth release for Capitol, "Signs Of Life," has already spawned one hit single, "Rock Me Tonight," and promises more in the future. His last two LPs both sold in excess of two and a half million copies with the current release assured of breaking that mark. "Signs Of Life," also marks the first time Squier has not solely produced his work. The collaboration between himself and Jim Steinman has resulted in a slick-driving package that had CHR coming out of the box immediately. Billy Squier has established himself as a bonafide rock and roll superstar, managing to intertwine the elements of the past with a fresh new energy.

Those worried about the fate of traditional rock and roll need only listen to the latest LP to realize it is indeed showing excellent signs of life.

Exclusivity Small Factor For L.A. Radio's Olympic Effort

by David Adelson

LOS ANGELES — Despite restrictions placed upon radio stations by the 3-3-3 exclusivity rule, Los Angeles outlets have been able to respond to the tide of Olympic fever currently sweeping the city. From backlogged interviews to broadcasts originating outside the restricted areas, L.A. radio outlets have individually sought different avenues to present the biggest media event in the modern history of the city.

The 3-3-3 rule is the result of an agreement between the ABC Radio Networks and the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee ensuring that all non-ABC affiliates will be limited to three minutes of on-site Olympic reporting, at intervals of no less than three hours and occurring no more than three times daily. In Los Angeles the various ABC networks have a total of seven affiliates: KABC-AM, the network's flagship station; KRLA-AM; KLOS-FM, KGRB-AM, KBOB-FM, KIQQ-FM and KUTE-FM.

Any reports from non-ABC affiliates must originate more than 100 yards from an indoor venue and 500 yards from an outdoor venue in order to be exempt from the 3-3-3 restriction.

It is that stipulation that has allowed CBS affiliate KNX-AM among others to carry extensive coverage of the games. According to KNX news director Bob Sims, "the 3-3-3 rule is a terrible hinderance and we could do a much better job if we were free to talk about events

Death of Big Mama Thornton Stirs Friend's Sorrow, Anger

by David Adelson

LOS ANGELES — Willie Mae Thornton, better known to blues lovers around the world as "Big Mama," died in her Los Angeles home on July 25; she was 57. Born Dec. 11, 1926, Thornton's singing career spanned four decades and earned her many fans and admirers. However the death of Big Mama Thornton has caused concern and anger in some facets of the blues community. Despite her prominence and influence as a blues singer and performer, Big Mama Thornton died in poverty.

"It's an injustice," said Etta James, a blues artist who has experienced many problems that Thornton encountered in her lifetime. "We're not protected. The money's been ripped off from the beginning." James added, "Willie Mae's face was on every little blues package, tape or video. There are pirates all around, they've pirated all her music and she died without a penny."

James, though 11 years Thornton's junior, traveled many of the same roads traveled by Thornton. In 1952 Thornton joined the Johnny Otis Band in his Rhythm and Blues Caravan tour. The following year she achieved her greatest

Reggae Gains With Independent Labels At Grass Roots Level

by Peter Holden

LOS ANGELES — Since the widespread introduction of reggae music into the American recording industry in the early '70s, nearly all of the major labels have signed one or two reggae bands to their rosters in hopes of tapping reggae's potentially sizable audience. Examples of these signings are still apparent on many labels with Jimmy Cliff and Third World on Columbia, Peter Tosh on EMI America, Steel Pulse on Elektra, and of course the many reggae and African acts which populate Island Records, the largest label with substantial reggae holdings.

While these labels find steady, if marginal, success with their reggae artists, they have over the past few years displayed dwindling interest in their support of the music. Even Island, which has just released new LPs from Black Uhuru, Sunny Ade and a compilation LP from Bob Marley, is giving the music less visibility in the face of more commercial successes. As a result, independent labels such as Shanachie, Nighthawk, Ras, Heartbeat and Alligator have taken up the slack in signing and recording new Jamaican, British and African acts. These labels, along with a grassroots network of over 500 noncommercial radio shows

Music Marks Olympic Size Festivities At Summer Games

by Gregory Dobrin

LOS ANGELES — The Los Angeles Summer Olympic games have been enlivened with music of every format. From the recording community to the opera, music is everywhere as the Olympic athletic competitions progress.

The only Jazz event under the sponsorship of the Olympic Arts Festival — The Olympic Jazz Festival — brought jazz to the games with four days of some of the best in that genre. Jazz delegates from all over the world were featured guests at the festival, including Japanese trumpet player Terumasa Hino and West German trombonist Ablert Mangelsdorf.

The recently-formed Los Angeles Metropolitan Opera Company will present a special production of Verdi's Aida with a cast of international renown in honor of the Olympic games. The production is sponsored by the Coca-Cola Bottling Company and will appear later this month at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles.

Composer John Williams' "Olympic Fanfare and Theme" made its west coast debut at the Hollywood Bowl in Los Angeles during a "Prelude to the Olympics" gala July 27. Also featured was Leonard Bernstein's "Prelude, Fugue and Riffs." The concert included vocal solos by Placido Domingo, Benita Valente, Florence Quivar and Paul Plishka. Billed as the "Amphitheatre of Light," the show climaxed with a light show that included the lighting of 52 individual searchlights, intended to be seen throughout the Los Angeles basin, and paintings by artist Peter Alexander projected upon the

RIAA Sponsors Workshops On CD, Video Standards

NEW YORK — The Recording Industry Association of America sponsored a three-day series of meetings July 17-19 to discuss the creation of standards for the production of compact discs and music videos.

The first session, held at CBS Records July 17, convened the RIAA Engineering Committee, made up of representatives from record companies, video manufacturers and sound engineering companies. The session dealt with the need for a "white paper" detailing suggested sound transfer requirements of compact discs and music videos.

A compact disc seminar was held at RCA's Studio A the following day, detailing proper and incorrect ways to transfer sound onto CD's. A sound-on-music video workshop convened at Warner Communications July 19, bringing together various representatives from the fields of home video, cable and broadcast television, video producers and engineers as well as video promotion personnel from member companies to talk about maintaining sound quality in music video.

The "white paper," incorporating conclusions reached from the various discussions and demonstrations, will be reviewed by the RIAA Engineering Committee before being presented to member record companies. Among the suggestions are a call for improved communications between label personnel and outside contractors. The more specific measures ranged from recording compact discs without pre-emphasis to making a time-encoded master for a music video at the same time the album track is prepared for the final product. The finished "white paper" will be released soon, according to the RIAA.

BUSINESS NOTES

EMI America Appoints New VPs

LOS ANGELES — EMI America has appointed two new vice-presidents: Gilles "Frenchy" Gauthier assumes the newly-created position of divisional vice president, creative services and merchandising, while Dave Palacio will take over as divisional vice president, administration.

Gauthier fills the new post after serving as EMI's director of creative services, merchandising and advertising since 1978. Palacio comes to EMI America from Capitol Records, where he was most recently assistant controller for the label.

Josephson Announces Dividends

LOS ANGELES — Josephson International Inc. has announced the declaration of a regular quarterly dividend of $0.125 per share, payable August 24, 1984 to shareholders of record August 10, 1984.

Through several separate subsidiaries, the Josephson company provides talent agency and management services in all areas of the entertainment and literary worlds. The Josephson radio station group serves Detroit, the Norfolk, Virginia area, Columbus, Ohio and Milwaukee. Another Josephson subsidiary produces the Captain Kangaroo Show. The design and furnishings group includes five companies in California, Texas, and Minneapolis/St. Paul, which provide a full range of services from space planning and design to the sale and installation of complete office furnishings systems. Recently, the company announced it had entered into an agreement in principle to acquire Fischer Office Interiors, San Diego, California, which will become part of its office design and furnishings group. Fischer is a well established design and furnishing firm which also operates budget and rental furnishing stores in San Diego.

PolyGram To Sell Chappell, Intersong

NEW YORK — PolyGram has reached an agreement in principle for the sale of its worldwide music publishing activities, comprising Chappell, Intersong and their affiliates, to a group consisting of Anglo-American Music Publishing Holding Corp. and Edward B. Marks Music Company, both headed by Freddy Bienstock, and the Williamson Music publishing interests and the investment banking firm of Wertheim & Co. The proposed agreement, which is subject to compliance with official requirements, is expected to be finalized shortly. PolyGram's music publishing enterprise is the largest in the world.

Feliciano Signs With RCA

LOS ANGELES — Jose Feliciano, the award-winning Puerto Rican balladeer, has signed a worldwide recording contract with RCA Records. The announcement was made by Manuel A. Sosa, RCA Records' newly appointed Division Vice President, Latin America-Spain.

Feliciano's initial recording contract was with RCA and earned the performer three R.I.A.A.-certified gold albums: 1968's "Feliciano" and the 1970 LPs "Alive Alive-O" and "Feliciano/10 To 23". The 38-year-old guitarist has captured an additional 35 worldwide gold and platinum album awards in such diverse markets as Austria, Greece, Japan and Spain as well as throughout South America.

T-I-C-K-E-R-T-A-P-E

NEW YORK — The Radio Network Association is currently searching for a replacement for its president, Arthur L. Kriemelman. . . . According to the accounting firm of Ernst & Whinney, network radio billed more advertising in May, 1984 than in any other single month in the industry's history. . . . The American Video Association has changed its name to the National Academy of Video Arts & Sciences. . . . The Full Sail Music Business Workshop will raise its sails to help you raise your sales, Sept. 21-30, with three different seminars — Publishing & Songwriting, The World of Recording and Agents, Managers & World Tours — in Orlando, FL; call them at 800-221-2747 for details. . . . "Rock In Rio," "the world's most spectacular music festival," will be a 10-day, 90-hour extravaganza in that Brazilian city, Jan. 11-20, 1985. Nobody's booked yet, but it promises to be a doozy that will accommodate 350,000 people per day. . . . From the bookshelf: St. Martin's Press has just issued Crosby, Stills & Nash: The Authorized Biography by Dave Zimmer with photos by Henry Diltz ($12.95). Warner Bros. Publications, meanwhile, sends along 101 Most Popular Hits of the Rock Era ($16.95).

WCI Labs Goes Independent Forms Take One Company

LOS ANGELES — The management of WCI Labs, Inc. has recently purchased a majority interest in the company from Warner Communications Inc. in a move that established the hardware manufacturer as an independent and privately held company. The company's new name under chairman and chief executive Steven T. Mayer is the Take One Company, which continues to specialize in a variety of computer hardware designed to deal especially with computer graphics.

As a subsidiary of Warner Communications, WCI Labs developed a series of computers for Atari, created a variety of entertainment software products and worked on projects in conjunction with the recorded music and cable communications divisions of WCI. The first Take One system will provide integrated graphics, animation and live video editing facilities for professional and business use. The system will also make it possible to create quality video tape combining charts, graphics, original art, photographs animation and live video footage.

WCI will still retain 22 percent interest in the company and Mayer had this to say about the transaction: "I speak for all of the employees at the new Take One Company when I say that we are tremendously excited about the company's future prospects. Our relationship with WCI was a positive and fruitful one and I think WCI's continued stake in Take One is evidence of the strength of that relationship." A spokeswoman for Take One also noted that while WCI is primarily a software-oriented organization, Take One is in the business of computer hardware, and as a result a change was necessary in order to bring the corporation to its full fruition.

OUT OF THE BOX

METROPOLIS — Assorted Artists — Columbia JS 39526 — Producer: Giorgio Moroder — Bar Coded

This Giorgio Moroder-composed collection of modern songs that have been used as the soundtrack to the 1926 German classic silent movie Metropolis, is bound to climb the charts even if modern day audiences don't flock to the film. Featuring tunes by Freddie Mercury, Billy Squier, Pat Benatar, Bonnie Tyler, Loverboy, Jon Anderson, Adam Ant, Cycle V and Moroder himself, this one is a good bet for playlists and retail action. Moroder has a strong track record with soundtracks and this one should prove no different.

NEW AND DEVELOPING

SEA TO SHINING SEA — Choir Invisible - PVC 6905 — Producer: Ethan James — List: 6.98

Ethereal synthesizers and a vibrant vocal track highlight the tunes on this mini EP from the L.A.-based Choir Invisible. A debut of special verve, this new Jem Records act glows with an electronic intensity on each of the well honed cuts. With seething synthesizers and an occasionally stiff back-beat roll, Choir Invisible puts forth its own brand of progressive technorock. Certain to gain a rock radio following with the release of this EP, Choir Invisible shows technical control for a vinyl future.

OUT OF THE BOX

BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN (Columbia 38-04561)

Cover Me (3:26) (Bruce Springsteen — ASCAP) (B. Springsteen) (Producers: Bruce Springsteen, Jon Landau, Chuck Plotkin, Steve Van Zandt)

This second single from Springsteen's self-proclaimed songs for survival LP, "Born In The U.S.A." is a driving, emotional display of classic Boss. The already booming sales of the LP will be further fueled by the multi-format appeal of this release. Already an AOR favorite, look for heavy adds across the board and increased retail traffic. With a sold-out, two-year tour in progress, Springsteen's tenure as the Boss certainly seems infinite.

SINGLES

OUT OF THE BOX

STEVIE WONDER (Motown 1745MF) I Just Called To Say I Love You (4:16) (Jobete Music-Black Bull Music/ASCAP) (Wonder) (Producer: Stevie Wonder)

After a long hiatus, Stevie Wonder returns with this single taken from the soundtrack for the upcoming film The Woman In Red. This single is a tender and romantic love letter which captures the ever-present and Wonderous feeling of love and optimism. The simple melody and lyrics evoke a disarmingly honest and sincere feeling and should prove to be this amazing performer's latest in a lifetime of number ones.

FEATURE PICKS

INSTINCTS — Romeo Void — Columbia 39155 — Producer: David Kahne — Bar Coded

Romeo Void's second LP again showcases all the strengths of lead vocalist Deborah Iyall's ominous lyrics and sensual vocal delivery while proving that the whole band performs an invigorating and powerful brand of dance-rock. Horn-player Benjamin Bossi is especially pivotal to Romeo Void's unique sound as on the first single "A Girl In Trouble" and the dangerous sounding "Just Too Easy." All the band members share writing credits on "Instincts," which avoids the sophomore jinx with confident playing and writing.

HIT AND RUN LOVER — Charlene — Motown 6090 ML — Producer: Curtis Nolen, Charlene Oliver — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

Motown recording artist Charlene is an artist of surprising power and versatility. First entering the charts with a touching, heartfelt ballad "I've Never Been To Me," and following with the equally tuneful and emotional "I Found In You, Something I Lost In Me," Charlene is back with an LP that displays a tougher side to this typically tender vocalist. Dance tunes such as "I See The Music" and "Next Door Neighbor" bear witness to Charlene's potent vocal capacity.

RIGHT BY YOU — Stephen Stills — Atlantic 81177 — Producers: Ron Albert, Howard Albert and Stephen Stills — List 8.98 — Bar Coded

A tuneful new offering from Atlantic Records' Stephen Stills, "Right By You" is an LP of particular melodic intensity. With the Stills vocal sound, a sound that brings with it the echos of a generation, a mesh of thoroughly fresh keyboard and guitar tracks rounds out this LP to form a new evolution in the career of one of the legends of rock. Smooth ballads such as the breezy "Can't Let Go" find pleasing juxtaposition to the sharper edges of the guitar burning, "Flaming Heart."

TALK IT UP (TELL EVERYBODY) — Harold Melvin and the Blue Notes — Philly World 90187 — Producers: Harold Melvin et. al. — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

Harold Melvin and the Blue Notes marks "Talk it Up (Tell Everybody)" as its debut LP for Philly World Records, delivering a sensational blend of funk and soul. With each masterful vocal cut this superlative B/C act proves it has what it takes to keep its audience tuned to its unique sound. With the success of "Don't Give Me Up" and the recent release of the equally promising "Today's Your Lucky Day," future playlists hold gold for classic soulsters Harold Melvin and the Blue Notes.

ELVIS THE HILLBILLY CAT — Elvis Presley — Jem 3602 — Producers: Sehorn and Jerry Wilson — List: 8.98

This second in a series of Music Work's classic Elvis Presley recordings from the "Louisiana Hayride" radio show offers listeners a rare glimpse of the king before he got entwined in the trappings of royalty. Recorded in 1955 and 1956, songs like "That's All Right Momma" and "Blue Moon Of Kentucky" provide an excellent insight into Presley's roots which shine through in the 19-year-old's soulful, bluesy vocals. Presley fans will jump at this second gem from Jem.

TV2ME — Miles Devereaux — Qube Records 2001 — Producer: Glen Ballard — List: 5.98

This debut release from Miles Devereaux should increase exposure for Santa Monica, Ca., indie Qube. This collection of commercially appealing rock/pop tunes exudes both lyrical intelligence and top rate musicianship. Cuts worth particular note include the title track, "Love In The Ruins" and "Where Have All the Heroes Gone."

FEATURE PICKS

JACKSONS (Epic 34-04575)

Torture (4:30) (Siggys Music-BMI/April Music-Lady of the Lake Music-ASCAP) (Jackson-Wakefield) (Producer: Jackie Jackson)

As a followup to the smash "State Of Shock" single from the Jacksons' "Victory" LP, this Jackie Jackson cut works perfectly in its sensuous and hard-hitting manner. Brother Michael delivers a controlled and tense vocal and the production is simply state of the art. The variation and depth of "Torture" prove that these brothers indeed have something musical to prove, and prove it they do. Haunting backup vocals and a chaotic lead guitar highlight this throbbing mix.

HERBIE HANCOCK (Columbia 38-04565)

Hardrock (3:59) (Hancock Music-OAO Music/BMI) (Hancock-Laswell-Showard) (Producers: Bill Laswell/Material-Herbie Hancock)

While "Hardrock" taps the same groove and assortment of electronic gadgetry and scratching of "Rockit," this cut also integrates elements of heavy metal into the distinctive "future-funk" style. Hancock and cohorts' Material on "Hardrock" clearly show the knack for blending these well used sounds into an irresistible pop and dance club must. Screaming guitar solo literally blows the speakers out as Hancock just keeps evolving.

POINTER SISTERS (Planet JK-13857)

I'm So Excited (3:53) (Braitree Music-'Till Dawn Music-Blackwood Music/BMI) (A. Pointer-J. Pointer-R. Pointer-T. Lawrence) (Producer: Richard Perry)

After hearing "I'm So Excited," you'll know why RCA is re-pressing the sister's "Breakout" LP to include it. The Pointers show on this third single from the album both their intuitive pop sensibilities and their gospel roots. Richard Perry's production is superb and the overall musicianship is flawless, highlighted by a randy piano solo midsong. Should be another sure-breaker for this veteran team.

MISSING PERSONS (Capitol B-5381)

Surrender Your Heart (3:30) (Private Life Music — Life After Music — Private Parts Music — Additional Music — Gypsy Joker Music/ASCAP) (Bozzio-Bozzio-Cuccurullo-O'Hearn) (Producers: Terry Bozzio-Bruce Swedien-Missing Persons)

This third single from the Missing Persons' "Rhyme And Reason" LP features Dale Bozzio's oscillating vocals and an airy sound which could give the album a lift on the charts. "Surrender Your Heart" 's modernistic sound and clear-cut dance beat make it a ripe candidate for dance club play.

COMMUTER (Casablanca 880 141-7)

Young Hearts (3:38) (Golden Torch Music-Rare Blue Music/ASCAP) (Merenda) (Producer: none listed)

This Los Angeles-based band's debut taken from The Karate Kid soundtrack is a hook-laden synth-oriented pop cut that offers a melodic chorus and a shimmering high-hat groove. Perfect CHR breaker material, Commuter shows its experience on the effective arrangement and the slightly calypso tone of the track which should make it all the more appealing for August playlists.

SMOKEY ROBINSON (Tamla 1756TF)

I Can't Find (3:59) (Bertman Music Company/ASCAP) (W. Robinson) (Producers: W. Robinson, R. Burke)

Pure satin from the man who invented it, "I Can't Find" has all the earmarks of another Robinson classic. The gentle slides of this smoothest of vocalists, Robinson's glisteningly smooth voice lilts and flies better on this single than on any single to date. A surging string back-up and heartfelt lyrics give the tune all the emotion and magic we've come to expect from this legendary artist, whose tunes through the years have always spelled quality. A CHR playlist topper, "I Can't Find" is a mellow mover of the first order.

POINTS WEST

SOMEBODY HEARD — A highlight of that amazing Olympic opening ceremony extravaganza was the soulful voice of Los Angeles' own favorite jazz vocalist Etta James. Performing at the five-yard line of the Coliseum in the midst of a huge makeshift church, James did a rousing and powerful version of "When The Saints Go Marching In" which beautifully captured the spirit of New Orleans jazz and southern gospel music. While many in the crowd were obviously moved by James' performance, it is probably James herself who was most moved by the unique opportunity to share her formidable vocal talents and civic pride with a worldwide audience. "Singing in the Olympics was one of the things that makes me thank God every day!" And the chance to sing for the world was heaven sent . . .

"After I did the Street Scene in Los Angeles, I wrote a letter to Mayor Bradley saying I wanted to do something in my city when the Olympics came around. I told him I was born in Los Angeles, I'm a Los Angeles girl, and if there was any chance for me to sing I'd sure appreciate them thinking about me. I wanted to contribute somehow . . . So in the beginning of July, I was over at the Vine St. Bar & Grill and I got this letter back from Mayor Bradley. I was so happy! It just said that he didn't decide about that sort of thing and that he would get the letter to the right office. Then it was about a week later that I got this telephone message that said David Wolper is trying to reach you. The woman that gave me the message said, 'Do you know who David Wolper is?' and I said no. She told me that he's one of the biggest producers around and I knew what it was and I just shouted for joy!' Well, she shouted for joy on July 29 and the whole world heard, much to everyone's joy.

A DIFFERENT OLYMPIC TUNE — With the Olympic torch making its final run through the streets of Hollywood last Friday night, reggae wailer Judy Mowatt and Bloodfire were bringing the Palace crowd to its feet with an anthem of a different tune — but the meaning was the same. Mowatt's introductory titles of "earth mother" and "high priestess of reggae" were somewhat overblown, but Mowatt's sheer vocal control and performing intensity captivated the nearly-full house with songs like "Black Woman" and a medley of Marley favorites. Mowatt closed the show with a ringing version of "One Love" which has topped charts around the world and is soon to be released here as a single off of Marley & The Wailer's "Legend" album. Bloodfire turned in a red hot set which included their #1 British and Jamaican single "Rub A Dub Soldier."

POINTERS POSTPONED — RCA's The Pointer Sisters two-night stand at the Greek which was set for July 28-29 has been postponed until Saturday and Sunday, October 6-7. Tickets for the 28 will be honored on the 6, and those for the 29 will be honored on the 7.

SLASH GOES FOR THE GOLD — In an Olympic tribute, Slash recording artists Los Lobos are set to go head-to-head with a (rumored) Rank & File at the Music Machine on August 11. Los Lobos is just finishing up its latest with T-Bone Burnette and sax-man Steve Berlin producing. It's set to be called "How Will The Wolf Survive," and will include the songs "Cajun Breakdown," "Got To Get You" and "Evangeline." While tickets for the Music Machine showdown should be less than those for the Olympic basketball finals, the competition should be very nearly as fierce!

ODDS & ENDS — The Bangles and The Beat Farmers take over the Palace this Saturday in what should be the weekend's barn-burner . . . the legendary Ry Cooder — the man who brought to you some of the finest soundtrack music ever in the Streets Of Fire film — will also be at the venue on August 10 . . . the Dazz Band is finishing up tracks for its latest Motown disc with Reggie Andrews producing at the Monterey Recording Studios in Glendale . . . Paul McCartney and Jeff Lynne have each penned songs for the upcoming PolyGram Everly Brothers album. McCartney expressly wrote "On The Wings Of A Nightingale" for the reunion disc to be out in August . . .

STILL DOING THE HOOCHIE — KOO Rock 'n' roll veteran Rick Derringer is in the spot-light with his latest Jem LP and the just released single/video entitled "I Can Play Guitar." But can he play it dressed completely in leather?

Highlights of the At My Place calendar include Richard Elliot with the Baltimores on August 10-11, The Yellowjackets on August 13-14 and Alphonse Mouzon with Greg Otto on August 24-25 . . . David Bowie has just finished his latest at Quebec's Le Studio with Hugh Padgham behind the board . . . the latest collaboration in town is the rumored Blasters and John Cougar team. With the Blasters' LP due out soon, can we expect a remake of "The Authority Song" with Paul Alvin belting and Dave twanging?

Composer Kubik Dies

NEW YORK — Pulitzer Prize-winning composer Gail Kubik, who wrote numerous symphonic works, operas, and movie scores, died July 20 in Claremont, California at the age of 69. Kubik, an ASCAP member, won the Pulitzer Prize for his 1952 "Symphony Concertante." His other symphonies include "Folk Song Suite" and "Scherzo for Large Orchestra." Among his film scores are "The Memphis Belle" and "The Desperate Hours."

NEW FACES TO WATCH

Corey Hart is a Canadian who grew up in Spain and Mexico, received his first exposure in Japan and is now climbing the American charts with a single recorded in England. Sounds crazy, no?

Well, no. The Canadian part makes sense — it was where he was born. The Spain and Mexico part is due to his father's work in land development. The Japan part? Corey Hart picks up the story:

"That was the World Song Festival in Budokan — it sort of crystallized the type of attitude and the type of drive that I have. 'Cause I decided real early that I wanted to be a recording artist. And, when I was about 17, I was just glancing through some trade paper and I noticed that they had this festival over in Tokyo where they have some artists come over there and represent the country that they're from. It's two weeks, all expenses paid and you perform at Budokan. 'Swell, let me send in a song of mine.' So I sent out some songs and I was fortunate enough to get accepted over there. Christopher Cross was there from America and Kiki Dee from Britain. I didn't win there, but it was good experience.

"I was only in Tokyo for about two weeks — I came back and I was still going to high school, but I was always trying to pop into the studio and negotiate with the studio manager so I could get in there at three in the morning and get some of my songs down on tape. I was always trying to put together a package of songs so I could send them out to record companies. On one occasion, I had gone through about three saxophone players who were real miserable sounding. I was getting real depressed and I kept saying, 'I want a rock and roll saxophonist. Do you understand? Not a jazz saxophonist. I like jazz, but I want something like Clarence Clemmons or something like Richie Cannata, from Billy Joel's band.' And no one was able to duplicate that, so I said, 'Well I might as well get Richie Cannata.'

"Billy Joel was on tour and the night he played in Montreal, I put together a package of songs and I sent it down to Richie Cannata's hotel. I never really expected it, but at 1:30 in the morning, there comes Richie with his tenor and his alto saxophone and Richie said, 'Alright, let me play your songs, buddy,' or something like that. So he played and not only did he do that, but he wrote down his name and his address on a piece of paper and told me to phone him up whenever I got a chance to. If I ever wanted to get out of Montreal and come down to New York, he'd like to get involved in my career. So I just packed my bags and waited in front of his door 'til they got off the tour. And he was very supportive of me."

After a year in New York, Corey Hart returned to Montreal.

"My mom loaned me some money so I could go into the studio and put my last batch of songs together so I'd have a complete album," he says. "And then I just bombarded the record companies in Canada with it and I got offers for four or five record deals in a week. I didn't just send the tapes in — I walked in and pushed my way into the door. I did that in America and was turned down promptly. But in Canada it was easier. An independent label called Aquarius, which is distributed by Capitol, released the album."

The album, "First Offense," was recorded in England, with Eric Clapton stopping by and adding some dobro to one track ("Jenny Fey"). Most of the album was done last summer, but after returning to Canada, Corey Hart had inspiration for another couple of songs. One of them was "Sunglasses At Night."

"When 'Sunglasses At Night' was released in Canada it was a big hit there," says Corey Hart, "a really successful record. And that isn't going to impress America, they've got to like the record themselves, but it sort of makes them look a little closer at the project."

EMI America looked so closely at the project that they signed Corey Hart. "Sunglasses At Night" is currently in the Top 20 with the video receiving regular MTV airplay. An obvious question — why the title "First Offense"?

"When I was over in England I was thinking of an album title and the record company said, 'Well, just call it 'Corey Hart, Corey Hart.' But I thought the album title should suggest something a little bit more than that. And there was a photograph of me that the co-producer, Phil Chapman, looked at and said, 'You look like a first offender.' And they started calling me First Offender in England, it was like my nickname over there. So when I came back to Canada I sort of translated that into 'First Offense,' being it's my first album."

Indies Help Form Reggae Network

spotlighting Africa/reggae music and specialty retail outlets popping up in many urban centers are shouldering much of the responsibility of promoting reggae and making it more viable for the record-buying public.

Some of these labels started as highly focused independents such as Alligator (blues) and Shanachie (folk) and were drawn into reggae through love of the music and a strong roots audience which made the manufacturing of reggae albums a reasonable commercial venture. Randall Grass of Shanachie commented, "There is a solid core audience for reggae that enables us to put out music that is not commercial, as well as reggae that has a broader buying audience." Bob Schoenfeld, head of Nighthawk Records which works strictly roots reggae from Jamaica — its roster includes the I-Tals and the Gladiators — explained, "We don't believe in fusing the music with something else in order to create bigger dollars. That has become a popular idea; that reggae has to take on an identity other than its own for it to make money. My contact with white and black audiences indicates that in fact its roots reggae's unique character and sound that appeals to an audience, not that it may be similar to something they already know."

This preserving of reggae's natural elements is part of the strength of these labels' music and its appeal to more adventurous listeners as well as to the strong roots buyer. However, another important factor in the success of such independents is their willingness to work together in promoting reggae and their awareness of each other's product. Bill Nowlin of Rounder Record's Heartbeat label remarked: "There are about half a dozen independent reggae labels that are picking up some of the empty space left by the majors and we all know each other and we all talk on a fairly regular basis. We don't go in for trying to raid each other's artists and many times we cooperate through joint mailings and promotions. What benefits one does not hurt the other; what benefits one helps the other." A good example of this came from Shanachie's Grass: "At one point, we were approached to do an album coming out from them and so we simply didn't release ours so as not to cut into their sales."

"The best thing about this network of people is that, opposed to the majors or even Island/Mango, when our artists go out on tour we are in touch with this network at a grassroots level. We are on the phone directly with the people that book in the clubs and with the radio people. These people may not have much of a profile for the majors, but they are the ones out there pushing the music."

STUDIO PROFILE

Devonshire Sound Studios Center

LOS ANGELES — Built 16 years ago by ex-big band vocalist David Mancini, Devonshire Sound Studios has hosted many of music's most popular artists like Teddy Pendergrass, George Benson, Peabo Bryson, Joyce Kennedy and many others. The studio has also had such songs as Lionel Richie's "Endless Love" and Billy Joel's landmark "Piano Man" reach the top of the charts. Mancini's expertise in the designing and building of recording studios is evident throughout the four main rooms in Devonshire as well as the three live acoustic chambers which OSS is famous for.

Mancini's son, Michael Mancini, is the principal in-house producer, though after so many years in the Los Angeles area, a wide variety of outside producers and engineers are available and regularly use the facilities. Producer Michael Masser is one who especially enjoys and utilizes Devonshire consistently. Devonshire Sound Studios is located in North Hollywood. Listed below in a partial compilation of Devonshire's extensive equipment list and more information is available at (213) 985-1945.

EAST COASTINGS

SHOW OF THE DECADE — The crowd assembled early for V-J Day ("Victory" in Jersey). So early, in fact, that the buses escaped any hint of traffic congestion and arrived at the Meadowlands in plenty of time to keep the press congested outside the gates to the Stadium Club. Once inside, we were treated to a fiesta of public relations pomp courtesy of CBS, Pepsi and Chuck Sullivan. We dutifully picked up our wafer-thin press kits, depleted, no doubt, by the utter lack of anything new to announce about this tour. We dined on beef bourguignon and Stroh's and spoke of Titomania. We stared like kids as the New England Patriots Cheerleaders (Patriettes?) glided through the crowd, welcoming us on behalf of the Pats (where were the Giants cheerleaders?) and passing out tickets for free T-shirts. If Chuck Sullivan wanted to create the air of a Super Bowl, he came up with more of a Shriners' convention, albeit one with plenty of pudding and cold cuts. As the anticipation and heartburn swelled, Sullivan stepped to the podium to introduce CBS Records Group president Walter Yetnikoff and the Pepsi coordinator and to tell us not to forget about those T-shirts. It was almost 8:30 p.m. and time to think about making our way out to the stadium for a glimpse, at last, of how one goes about arranging 375 tons of equipment. Outside the main dining room, in the coat check area, two harried workers frantically distributed black and white Jacksons T-shirts to anyone with a ticket. "It's supposed to be one ticket per person," said a slightly disgusted girl handing out the chits, but it was clear that some members of the noble press were taking five, six, even seven tickets to the counter, obviously thinking of nieces, nephews and editors.

THE FORCE, IT'S GOT A LOT OF POWER — Inside the stadium we were met by a massive stage, which lived up to its advance billing. It actually did extend to the 50-yard line and did preclude the selling of almost half the stadium's seats. (In retrospect this seems perfectly logical since fireworks are shot from behind the stage and since the Jacksons need a lot of depth for the spectacle they stage.) An air of suspense and intrigue was evident in the crowd. People walked rapidly, their faces hidden. The event at times seemed like a political rally awaiting the arrival of the President. More often it was a high-tech circus, complete with juggler, seizing his airborne globes to the strains of "Sgt. Pepper" and Jean Luc Ponty. Yoko Ono and Eric Estrada (not an item at this writing) bobbed in and out of sight, driving the crowd to star-gazing madness. When the magic moment came, the crowd was transfixed, like the observers in Close Encounters, by the sheer power that the stage equipment generated, before the brothers even emerged. First the creatures, then the sword in the stone routine, then the first of several battles staged as filler or introduction. Then, him! The most cynical observer in the audience had to be swept up in the intensity of the moment of Michael Jackson's first steps to "Wanna Be Startin' Something." And this is because Michael has played the superstar game so expertly. Like all great heroes, he doesn't have to show his face to be recognized. He has other trademarks — the glove, the socks, the voice, the moves — and the mostly crystal clear video screen that peaked the towering set augmented the production perfectly with closeups of these accessory attractions. The moment everyone had waited for since Motown's 25th was here — non-prerecorded, de-sunglassed, mega-moonwalking Michael.

I WANNA ROCK WITH YOU — Musically, the show had some questions to answer. Would Michael's sometimes razor-thin voice stand up to the demands of the show? Would Jermaine steal the show with his harder-edged, high-powered funk? Would the other brothers really contribute significantly (Titomania on the line)? Would all the best tunes be played? Would Michael come out into the audience? To sum up, yes, no, yes and no. (The last question was, er, a joke.) Michael has a lot of stamina, as anyone who has seen him dance knows. If anything, his voice sounds more powerful live, and his control is unsurpassed. Fifteen years in show biz have not been wasted. His dancing is in another ballpark from even his best vocalizing. His execution of the now-classic break-dance moves possesses such fluidity and grace you know it's not hype when Fred Astaire speaks admirably of him. As for Jermaine, although knocking the crowd out with "Let's Get Serious" and "Dynamite," he seemed to lose his vocal balance completely on "Tell Me I'm Not Dreamin'" and seemed, perhaps humbly, more married to his bass than to his material. He also left out "Let Me Tickle Your Fancy," his most infectious groove. Randy, Marlon and Tito each made his presence felt, with exemplary keyboard work, burning moves and chicken scratching funk guitar, respectively. The brothers, when they're right on, have a fine, raw soul sound to their harmonies, like a low train whistle in the night, which made an unexpectedly nice complement to Michael's edgy fire. There was no "Thriller," no "Don't Stop Til You Get Enough," no "Dancin' Machine." But there was Motown. Short and sweet and amazing. Amazing because in this group so identified with youth, so dependent on a leader who is considered the up-to-the-minute, '80 man/child superstar, there resides a bona fide '60s soul group from the most famous stable of black artists ever assembled. Amazing.

HUMAN NATURE — As the fireworks fizzled and the $30 fantasy ended, we made our way to the bus for the trip back to Planet Earth. The Jacksons? When they reach the hotel, according to publicist Howard Bloom, "they take their dinner to their rooms, where they can clean up and eat in peace, and then they go to bed." While visions of "Victory" dance in their heads. And to all a good night.

Conductor Fred Waring Dies

NEW YORK — Fred Waring, popular orchestra conductor and the inventor of the Waring Blender, died July 29 of a stroke in State College, Pa. at the age of 84. Waring led orchestras that played sweet dance music, from 1916-1981. In the 1930s he and his Pennsylvanians were enormously successful on radio. They also appeared in feature films and on television, becoming the first orchestra to have its own TV show. Still, Waring found time to invent — coming up with the blender in 1937. In 1981 he conducted his final performance at the inauguration of Ronald Reagan.

12" REVIEWS

O'BRYAN (Capitol 9174)
Breakin' Together (6:22) (Burnette-Cornelius) (Big Train Music/ASCAP) (Producers: Friendship Producers — O'Bryan)

O'Bryan's soulful vocalizing is here put to what should be the 12" of the season. "Breakin' Together" is dominated by a bottom-heavy funk groove and a punchy horn section which give this young singer all the space he needs to show off his substantial vocal talents. The cut's breakdown features a rhythmic rap and a variety of syncopated percussion patterns which will have you breakin' right along with O'Bryan.

JELLYBEAN (EMI America V-7831-1/2)

The Mexican (8:44) (Benitez) (Producer: John "Jellybean" Benitez)

Master mixer John "Jellybean" Benitez' first single remixed from the "Wotupskil" LP is an infectious concoction, heavily spiced with Spanish flavoring and a powerful lead vocal from Jenny Haan. Benitez' extensive dance remix and production experience shines through especially on the rapidfire percussion and drum track. The instrumental is highlighted by wild gypsy synthesizer solo which should help to whip club crowds into a frenzy.

KONK (Sleeping Bag 009)

Your Life (7:14) (Konk Music-Beachouse Music/ASCAP) (Producer: Danavlecek-Konk)

This indie from Konk is whipping up quite a reputation in the clubs with its multi-layered vocals and murky African percussion. Punctuating horn lines and a bottom heavy beat underscore Konk's undeniable expertise with the groove. A rapidfire percussion breakdown also helps to make this one of the most infectious and popular indie releases in some time. Club jocks should get this hypnotic mix immediately.

WHAT'S IN-STORE

EXCITED ABOUT COMPACT DISCS — Most retailers would agree that compact disc offers better sound quality than conventional records and tapes and this fact alone makes the compact disc an exciting new source of music. But are retailers really excited about this new medium? Have CDs met their expectations? Are they doing anything special to highlight CDs in their stores? Has the price been a barrier to public acceptance? These are some of the questions concerning this latest development in music reproduction.

When asked if the CD is all it was made out to be, Steve Padgett of Moby Disc Records, Canoga Park, California, replied that "At first I was under the impression that they were gearing for the real audiophile, the high-end market, but I have found over the last five months as the product has become more available that it is really the average consumer that has been picking compact discs up. They are getting the compact disc player because it's the newest, coolest thing and as the price starts coming down, which we have already seen with WEA and CBS, the sales are going up. Here at our store compact discs were four percent of total sales last month, and that's significant when you consider that there's a lot of product competing for that percentage."

Another important question concerning CDs are their sound quality. Do CDs sound better than conventional records and tapes? According to Padgett "on digitally recorded or mastered compact discs the difference is remarkable. But I listened to Pink Floyd's "Dark Side Of The Moon" and as soon as the CD started you could hear all of the original tape hiss. There was a greater dynamic range but the CDs that are going to be great are the new records that are digitally done. The pre-digital stuff, well I don't get the point of it. Yesterday we sold the Turtles' Greatest Hits on CD and that's what prompted my first comment that it is just average Joes that are buying them. You wouldn't believe what we are selling on CD. We have sold Elvis Presley on CD. I wouldn't have ever guessed that this would happen because I believed that it would remain an elite, audiophile thing for a longer time."

On the digitally-recorded compact discs Padgett said the sound quality was "phenomenally better. I listened to Beethoven's Ninth Symphony done digitally and it was really breathtaking. It's almost scary because you are hit with the music out of the blue and you get a different feeling from listening to it." Many believe that Padgett's comments are accurate, noting that CDs have no lead-in noise and their greater dynamic range is the source of a more lifelike sound reproduction.

Another retailer questioned was Don Simpson of Entertainment Enterprises, Indianapolis, Indiana. Asked whether CDs are everything they've been made out to be he replied, "as far as the quality of sound I would certainly say that it is superior to conventional records and tapes. At this point to say that they are any better than audiophile recordings or audiophile cassettes, well, I couldn't say that they are much better than anything I've ever heard on mobile fidelity. You can hear the sound improvement that compact discs have just like you can hear the improvement of mobile fidelity albums and tapes. Where I think you notice the improvement the best is when the work that it comes from was done better. When you take a digitally-recorded album where all the sound is there to use, that sounds very good on CD. If you take a copy of an old Miles Davis record and put it on CD, the sound quality is very nice through the system, but the original recording wasn't good enough to bring out all that happened. When you listen to the classical digital recordings on CD, it seems to me that the range of a symphony has really benefited. They sound tremendous on a CD. But I think to hear Quiet Riot on a CD, well it is hard to tell if the improvement is that dramatic. There is certainly a range of lows and highs that come into play that you probably missed in the original recording. Right now we are seeing that the CD is an upper demographic item and the majority of things that are selling are of an upper demographic taste. Quiet Riot and Slade, some things that have come out on CD, at this point I think that they are a little premature in putting those things out. Mom and Dad aren't going to hand over $20 for a kid to run out and buy a Slade CD, where they will spend it for a jazz item. That's what we are selling at this point." We then talked about the lowering of prices of CDs and how that would affect consumer demand. According to Simpson "our costs on CBS and WEA CDs have gone to where they are going to be a $15-area retail item and that should help them. The original price point of around $20 made them slow to begin with and it certainly took away the opportunity for the young teens to be flocking in to pick up their music on CD. But we have sold Lionel Richie and Michael Jackson and things like that that are more for the upper demographic or total buying group rather than for the kids. We are starting to sell more of the youth-oriented things now that the price is lower."

Sandy Dean of Harmony House, Detroit, commented "our customers are crazy about CDs. We are doing very, very well with them. We started out real slow, but we got such a great response that now we are carrying a full line of them, all the lines and hard-to-get ones. As far as defectives, there are a few defectives and I think that the manufacturers are starting to bend a little on their returns. I would like to see a regular return policy on all of them. But I have found very few defectives. It's very minimal. Commenting on the sound quality, Dean stated that "the sound is unbelievable, especially on the classical CDs. On the classical CDs you can really get the full impact."

Judging from the comments of the retailers surveyed, all were quite excited about the medium of CD. Although there are some problems associated with CD, tape hiss from non-digital recordings being one example, the many pluses seem to far outweigh the minuses. And according to Marc Flner, product communications manager of Sony Corporation, the price of CDs could be down around $10 by the end of the year. He also pointed to the fact that CDs are a standard to which all are committed, unlike other media which have been manufactured in different formats.

AUDIO/VIDEO

PROGRAMMINGS — First up are several bits from the MTV file. With a tumultuous Hollywood premiere that harkened to the golden days of such hoopla, Warner Bros. recording artist Prince made his official screen debut Thursday evening, July 26 in Purple Rain, the new funk/rock potboiler that stars the elusive young artist. The premiere was held at Mann's Chinese Theatre (where else?) in the heart of tinseltown's Walk of Fame boulevard with a reception just afterwards at Hollywood's Palace Theatre, by far L.A.'s poshest venue. Well, MTV was on hand to get the whole glittering thing on tape, which was simulcast live from the party, and featured interviews with muse biz notables such as Lionel Richie, Little Richard and Lindsey Buckingham . . . Meanwhile, the music television megachannel is preparing for its own glamorous fete as its "1st Annual MTV Video Music Awards" ceremony September 14 airdate approaches. The festivities will be overseen by Dan Akroyd and Bette Midler (an awards ceremony must after her gut-wrenchingly glib delivery at last year's Academy Awards) with guest performances by the likes of David Bowie and Rod Stewart . . . Also upcoming on the cable music channel will be a special MTV Guest Video Jockey appearance by veteran psychedelic rocker and current Jefferson Starship muse vid clipper Grace Slick, seen lately in Can't Find Love and Winds of Change from the band's Grunt Records release, "Winds of Change" . . . If the metal hasn't been heavy enough on your favorite vid clip show, switch to the USA Network's latest music offering, created in collaboration with Hit Parader Magazine, Hit Parader's Heavy Metal Heroes, which began airing July 28. The new clip show will also include interviews with some of the Heavy Metal heavyweights, Krokus and Quiet Riot among the initial tapings. . . Coming in September will be a music video program from The Entertainment Television Company entitled This Week's Music, a half-hour strip show hosted by Livingston Taylor with a special album, single and video highlighted as each week's best, along with the show's dancers and other live performances.

IN THE WORKS AND OUT — Besides their recent work for Capitol Records on Tina Turner's "Better Be Good To Me" clip (see Audio/Video, July 7) MGMMO, the maverick production group responsible for the Duran Duran longform videos, Olivia Newton-John's Physical and many other notable clips has also finished shooting a video for Kenny Loggins second Footloose hit, "I'm Free," for which CBS Records chose them especially. As with the Turner video, I'm Free was produced by Jacqui Byford and directed by Brian Grant . . . Speaking of MGMMO, the word is that they will soon be moving into the area of commercial production as a sideline to their thriving music video enterprise. This news comes on the heels of the company's move from its original London base to New York. Special effects specialist Colin Chilvers has been swept into the group as its first commercial director. Chilvers won both the American and British Academy Awards for his special effects direction of the first Superman movie in 1979, not to mention the 16 other major feature films on which he has lent his special effects expertise . . . An interesting combination, to be sure: Pia Zadora and Jermaine Jackson, together, and in a music video. The clip is called When Rain Begins To Fall, for Curb Records conceived and directed by Bob Giraldi, from the soundtrack of the forthcoming film Voyage Of The Rock Aliens, for which no release date has been set. The clip aired Friday, July 13 on Friday Night Videos . . . Premore Productions has finished posting the video of the theme to the film Electric Dreams called Together In Electric Dreams, produced by Limelight Productions and written by Giorgio Moroder and Philip Oakie for Virgin/CBS Records. Another Limelight Production posted recently by Premore is Painted Desert for Chrysalis Records' Pat Benatar . . . Trans-American Video, a division of Merv Griffin Enterprises, has been busy of late, producing, among other things, a television commercial spot for Tina Turner's Capitol LP "Private Dancer," in which Ms. electric legs performs part of her "What's Love Got To Do With It" single . . .

MOOVIES — Slews of new videocassette releases are being heaped on the market these days, as studios get more firmly entrenched in the business and manufacturers obtain new titles. Some new, some old, there's a new title with each passing hour. One of the more impressive releases is due to be turned loose on the retail shelves during the coming Labor Day weekend: Footloose. Paramount Pictures is planning a monumental radio blitz in promotion of the videocassette, in which 30-second Footloose spots will be aired on Casey Kasem's "America's Top 40" and Rick Dees' "Weekly Top 40" nationwide September 1 and 2. The price is $39.95 and will be available in the stores August 29 . . . MGM/UA Home Video now counts the original 1935 Mutiny On The Bounty among its array of titles. The film stars Clark Gable and Charles Laughton, and is available in black and white on Beta and VHS. Another $39.95 listing . . . Also from MGM/UA is a compilation of classic films billed under the title of Great Books, and each, as the title says, the film version of some of the finest in literature. Treasure Island, Madame Bovary, The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, A Tale of Two Cities — all are included in the series, along with Little Women and The Good Earth. Each film sells for $29.95 . . . U.S.A. Home Video has acquired the rights to Bo Derek's controversial film for Cannon Films, Boleto. The film makes its theatrical debut August 31 and won't be out on cassette until early December . . . Another U.S.A. HV pre-premiere acquisition is the much-buzzed-about Alexander and Iya Salkind film Supergirl . . . Media Home Entertainment is going for the vintage film market in a big way with its recent acquisition of the entire Nostalgia Merchant catalog. One-hundred and eighty titles are already in distribution through the five-year-old Nostalgia Merchant company, which will continue to operate under the same name, with 200 releases planned.

CABLED DIVINITY — The "Divine Ms. M." returns to cable when Bette Midler, Art Or Bust airs August 18 on HBO's Standing Room Only concert series, for which Midler provided the very first with her award-winning 1976 show.

S.C. Man Found Guilty Of Tape Piracy, Copyright Infringement

NEW YORK — Terry Bridges, of Backsburg, SC, was found guilty by a U.S. District Court in Greensboro, NC on one count of criminal infringement of copyrights and two counts of trafficking in counterfeit labels, July 18. Bridges had been indicted for distributing more than 1,000 unauthorized phono records and transporting, transferring or otherwise disposing of counterfeit labels designed "to be affixed to or to enclose a phonorecord of a copyrighted sound record." A date for Bridges' sentencing has not been set. The maximum penalty for Criminal Copyright Infringement is a $250,000 fine and/or five years imprisonment for a felony conviction. Trafficking in counterfeit labels carries a maximum penalty of a $250,000 fine and/or five years imprisonment.

AIRPLAY

KABC TALKS — It started with the KABC Talkradio Card, which gave Los Angeles listeners the opportunity to receive discounts at various locations around the city. We then learned that the station would use these cardholders to guarantee the circulation of the premiere issue of KABC's newest undertaking, a 56-page, full color, glossy magazine called Let's Talk. No small task, the station found out, as it set out to recruit advertisers and subscribers. Well the first issue has just been released and as far as the advertising goes, it appears that KABC has triumphed. It's slick, colorful and full of features written by the air personalities themselves. From articles on religion by Dennis Prager to a piece entitled "Incest: Acknowledging The Epidemic," by Dr. Susan Forward the magazine is stocked full of commentary, pictures and self-accolades. It's a 56-page commercial put in an effective, entertaining format. Remember the first issue was free to cardholders but from here on it will cost subscribers $15 for one year. The cover price is marked as $2 per issue. KABC has proved it can get the advertisers as well as put out a quality publication, now how many people will subscribe? Only time will tell. Stay tuned.

RADIO IN PRINT — This is KABC's 56-page, glossy premiere issue of Let's Talk, a new monthly magazine put out by the station. The first issue was sent free to KABC cardholders.

NEW MAN AT WESTWOOD ONE — George Taylor Morris has been appointed to the newly-created position of director of programming for the Westwood One Radio Network, according to Norm Pattiz, Westwood One president. Morris, Program Director of NBC's Source network between 1981-83, will be responsible for developing new programming concepts for the many formats Westwood One services, as well as assisting Brian Heimerl, the company's vice president/production and head of the Westwood One Satellite Network, in various areas of production. "George not only brings more than 20 years' knowledge and experience to the company," Pattiz comments, "but he's the first full-time member of Westwood One's management team to have three names."

ON THE RIGHT TRACK — CBS Radio group general managers and program directors held their annual meeting in Chicago recently where the topic of discussion included an analysis of the direction the group of stations will take in the formulation of practices regarding key industry issues. Among industry topics discussed was a policy with respect to "tracking" a record album on the air. Tracking, playing an entire album without commercial or other interruptions is an important topic to all facets of the industry. According to CBS, "since the longstanding policy of the group is to protect the integrity of copyrights and of the rights of creative artists, an internal practice against any tracking was reconfirmed."

NEW FACES TO HEAR — Real Radio Company, a Pasadena, Calif.-based syndicator, has inked syndication rights for The Sports Radio Network, a weekend satellite service. Sports Radio Network features four two-minute scoreboards hourly from 9 am-6 pm Pacific time on Saturdays and Sundays. SRN is headquartered in Los Angeles. The new network's reporting staff includes Ken Jones, Jane Chastain, Chuck Benedict, Pete Arbogast, Fred Wallin, Pat Haslam, Fred Hessler and Steve Benoit. Stations may carry a partial or full compliment of SRN's feeds on a barter basis. Feeds (at :06, :20, :36 and :50) may be aired live, or delayed.

KRLA SOLD — Western Broadcasting Corporation has announced that it has reached an agreement in principle to sell the assets of its subsidiary KRLA, Inc., operator of Pasadena, Calif.-AM station KRLA, to Greater Media, Inc. The company is a New Jersey-based communications firm that operates 12 radio stations as well as CATV systems and newspapers, owns Greater Los Angeles Radio, Inc., operator of KHTZ-FM (L.A.). Western has no other broadcast interests. Terms were undisclosed. The transaction is subject to the prior approval of the Federal Communications Commission.

MORE SALE NEWS — Schering-Plough Corporation has sold WJJD-AM and WJEZ-FM in Chicago to Infinity Broadcasting Corporation for $13.5 million. The earlier announced sale is part of Schering-Plough's plan to sell all of its radio properties. The company will concentrate resources on its core businesses, which are pharmaceuticals and consumer products, said Michael A. Pietrangolo. He is senior vice president of Schering-Plough Consumer Operations and board chairman of the subsidiary Plough Broadcasting Co., both based in Memphis. Pending before the Federal Communications Commission are separate sales agreements with DKM Broadcasting Corporation of New York for the following Plough stations: WPLO-AM and WVEE-FM in Atlanta; WCAO-AM and WXYV-FM in Baltimore; WMLX-AM and WUBE-FM in Cincinnati; WKDJ-AM and WHRK-FM in Memphis and WZNE-FM in Clearwater, Fla.

A HISTORIC REUNION — WCBS/FM 101 will reunite the voices that made music history in New York in a special "Rock & Roll Radio Greats" weekend, to be broadcast Saturday, August 18 and Sunday, August 19. The lineup of talented New York radio personalities will include Harry Harrison, "Cousin Bruce" Morrow, Dan Ingram, Charlie Greer, Ron Lundy, Joe O'Brien, Herb Oscar Anderson, Dean Anthony, Jack Spector and Bob Lewis.

L.A. Radio Outlets Take Different Paths to Summer games

as they were happening but even within the rules we are going to do far and away the best job in Los Angeles."

Los Angeles stations, regardless of network affiliation, have maintained as much Olympic coverage as desired regardless of the 3-3-3 rule by simply reporting away from the site of the games. This has led some broadcasters to comment that there are loopholes in the rule, rendering ABC's exclusivity ineffective. However according to Shelby Whitfield, director of sports and executive producer of the ABC Radio Network, "We think it's effective. We feel that our exclusivity is well protected and we never intended to prevent the opposition from doing as many reports as they wanted as long as they're away from the venues." KNX's Sims agreed, "it's not much of a loophole. It's very clearly laid out and it makes it extremely inconvenient." Despite the inconvenience, Sims remarked "compare us with KABC, which has the rights and I think you'll see we are finding ways to do a good job."

Compare is what ABC will continue to do throughout the remainder of the games with an extensive monitoring system in New York ensuring that the other networks are complying with the 3-3-3 regulation. In addition Whitfield claimed the network would be monitoring local outlets on a smaller scale.

Music stations in Los Angeles have used other methods to complete their Olympic coverage. Many have been collecting taped interviews with various athletes for the past 18 months, garnering features on potential medalists. "I know everybody that doesn't have exclusivity wishes they did," said Mary Lyons, news director at KRTH-FM. "But if nothing else it forced the rest of us to be more creative."

According to Rick Leibert, KMGG-FM's producer, "What it comes down to is that L.A. seems to have swallowed the Olympics whole and so far everybody's having a good time. We're taking the Olympics on as part of the lifestyle of Southern California. We are providing information on how an Angeleno or an Orange County resident can deal with the Olympics. As far as the actual coverage of the Olympic sporting events, we're leaving that to the people who do that the best."

FEATURE PICKS

GIANTS OF JAZZ — Dizzy Gillespie, Thelonious Monk, Kai Winding, Sonny Stitt, Al McKibbon, Art Blakey — The George Wein Collection GW-3004; dist. by Concord Jazz — Producer: George Wein — List: 8.98

The term Giants was never more aptly applied. This band, incredibly, toured the world a dozen years ago (Monk, Winding and Stitt have since died). More incredibly, this studio recording has been unissued outside of Japan. It's the last time Monk was in the studio and the interaction between he and Blakey alone would be worth the price of admission, but there's inspiration in all corners (especially, though not surprisingly, from the great Gillespie).

THE DIZZY GILLESPIE REUNION BIG BAND 20TH AND 30TH ANNIVERSARY — Verve/MPS Series 821 662-1; dist. by PolyGram — Producer: Joachim E. Berendt — List: 5.98 — Bar Coded

Dizzy again. Connoisseurs of big bands have always licked their lips at the memories of Gillespie's late-40s and late-50s ensembles. Well, in the late-60s, the Berlin Jazz Festival invited him to reform a big band. Stocked with such veterans as James Moody, Sahib Shihab and Curtis Fuller, this band amply demonstrates the clarity of said connoisseurs' memories. "Con Alma," "Things To Come," "One Bass Hit" and others done with all the savvy and élan always associated with John Birks Gillespie.

SWINGING SEVENS — Bucky and John Pizzarelli — Stash ST 239 — Producer: Bucky Pizzarelli — List: 8.98

Gentle, easy-on-the-ears guitar duos from a swinging father/son team (Bucky's the dad) who have 14 strings between them. "Four Brothers," "In A Mist," and other chestnuts from a pair of guys who are not only deft improvisers but are excellent rhythm guitarists (a dying art, unfortunately).

CALL OF THE WILD — Generation Band — TBA TB 202-N; division of Palo Alto — Producers: John Feldman, Trevor Feldman, Victor Feldman — List: 8.98

Palo Alto formed TBA to separate the straight-ahead jazz from the foot-flapping, hip-shaking sounds that Victor Feldman and his band of fusionists (Tom Scott, Robben Ford and others) give us on this plugged-in LP. Not music to read the New York Times by — rather the kind of stuff that'll make you head into the closet for those dancing shoes.

Jazz Takes To Sea For Oct. Cruises

NEW YORK — Nearly 100 musicians will be afloat on Norwegian Caribbean Lines' S/S Norway, Oct. 20 and 27, for a pair of "floating jazz festivals." Organized by veteran producer Hank O'Neal, the week-long cruises will depart Miami for the Caribbean with Dizzy Gillespie, Zoot Sims, Joe Williams, Benny Carter, Ruby Braff and Dave McKenna making both trips, Woody Herman's band, Hannibal Marvin Peterson, Al Cohn and Jonah Jones being added Oct. 20 and Mel Torme, George Shearing/Don Thompson, Clark Terry, Wild Bill Davison and Les Paul boarding Oct. 27. Many other artists are also scheduled. Info can be had from NCL; One Biscayne Tower; Miami, FL 33131 (305-358-6670).

ON JAZZ

"NO BLACK VINYL" — At least that's what the people at DMP are saying. It's a jazz label and they're determined to keep its fine and steadily growing little catalog on compact discs and "premium quality cassettes." There are currently six titles out with a lot of intermingling amongst artists. There's a delightful and surprising album (disc? cassette?) by Jay Leonhart, "Salamander Pie" — the veteran bassist, supported by pianist Mike Renzi, sings 17 of his own wry compositions (with titles like "Beat My Dog," "Robert Frost" and "Jujubes"). Leonhart then pops up on "Relaxin'", a well relaxed LP (disc? cassette?) of standards by guitarist Joe Beck. Beck returns — with Leonhart and Mark Egan, Michael Brecker, Steve Gadd and Don Grolnick — for "Friends," a funky and flying set of originals. In the electronic mode also is Flim and the BB's "Tricycle," a sprightly album by a good-natured gaggle of talented Minnesotans (Flim Johnson on the five-string bass, Billy Barber on the keys, Bill Berg, drums and Dick Oatts, reeds). Billy Barber bounces out of the BB's for his solo effort, "Shades Of Gray," displaying an unusually wide range of influences on the acoustic piano — from the classics to Jerry Lee Lewis, with the whole range of jazz inbetween. Finally, there's "Trio '83," Warren Bernhardt's romantic (and aptly-dedicated to Bill Evans) collection supported by Eddie Gomez, bass and Peter Erskine, drums. I'd love to be able to report about the crystal clear sound of the compact discs, but I don't have a compact disc player. I

BMI, I'M ADAM — Pianist Adam Makowicz (r), who will be performing Aug. 15-18 at L.A.'s Sunset Hyatt, recently joined BMI. Here he's pictured at NYC's Carnegie Tavern with Stanley Catron, BMI vice president, performing rights.

I don't listen to the cassettes and, there, the sound is quite good indeed, thank you. The CDs list for $20 and come with a booklet; the cassettes list for $15 and don't come with a booklet. They all, however, do come with a full hour of music. DMP (that's Digital Music Productions, by the way) promises another Flim and the BB's effort shortly, with something called the Pugh-Taylor Project scheduled for the fall. I admire DMP's resolve to stick by its CD guns, but I'm glad they're also offering cassettes of this fine music for those of us still in the dark ages of black vinyl records and chipped needles (I mean styli). I'm sure they'll be happy to supply all and sundry with further details — they're at P.O. Box 2317; New York, NY 10185. Tom Jung, who produced all the product, is the boss.

CLOSE AS THE PAGES — Spellmount Ltd., a British publisher, has come up with a dandy idea — vest pocket biographies of jazz greats that are short, concise and relatively inexpensive. Published here by NY's Hippocrene Books, the first four titles in the Jazz Masters series are on the market and they serve handily as little guidebooks through the careers of Billie Holiday, Charlie Parker, Dizzy Gillespie and Gil Evans. Each book contains a biography — about the length of a good-sized magazine article — a discography and a number of photos; is about the size of a paperback book, though hardbound (with shiny photo-covers of the type that adorn schoolbooks); and sells for $6.95. Brian Priestley wrote the Parker, David Burnett James wrote the Holiday and Raymond Horricks wrote the Evans and Gillespie. These are far from complete biographies and are perfectly unsatisfying for those who want the whole story (Parker, Gillespie and Holiday have been the subjects of other books, however), but, as a Baedeker through the careers of these jazz greats, they are quite useful — especially to those who are just beginning to listen to the respective artists. There are at least a dozen more books on the slate, all being handled by British writers (Priestley will return with a John Coltrane bio, Horricks'll give us Eric Dolphy and Gerry Mulligan and there will be Jelly Roll Morton and Duke Ellington, each by Peter Gammond; Phil Woods and Buddy Tate, each by Stan Britt; Lester Young by Dave Gelly; Oscar Peterson by Richard Palmer; Sidney Bechet by Charles Fox; Jack Teagarden by Sally Ann Worsfeld; and Stan Kenton by Derek Jewell). It's a worthwhile project — and they look great all lined up next to each other.

BOPPING AROUND — George Russell, the great composer, arranger, big band leader and theorist ("The Lydian Chromatic Concept of Tonal Organization" is his baby) was recently awarded the Jazz Master's Award from Philadelphia's Afro-American Historical and Cultural Museum, following in the footsteps of previous recipients Max Roach, Archie Shepp, Art Blakey, Sun Ra and Jackie McLean . . . Speaking of following in footsteps, the freshman class at Boston's Berklee College of Music will include a couple of familiar names: Eric, son of Charles Mingus will be improving his bass skills and Kendall Kelly, offspring of Ramsey Lewis will be in the percussion department . . . The Art Ensemble of Chicago, no band to sneeze at, will be celebrating its 20th anniversary by embarking on "The Third Decade" tour from mid-September to mid-October. If you're interested in having Lester Bowie, Roscoe Mitchell, Joseph Jarman, Malachi Favors and Don Moye bring their piles of instruments to your hometown, contact Helene Cann of Outward Visions (212-473-1175) about bookings . . . The boys (and girls) of Brooklyn's summer should head down to Park Slope's Port Royal for a Sunday afternoon series that will include Anthony Davis (8/5), Henry Threadgill (8/12), John Hicks (8/19) and Cassandra Wilson (8/26) . . . And those in the nation's capital should make a beeline for Herb's Restaurant where they'll be able to catch the wonderful vocalist/pianist Shirley Horn (that's at 2111 P St.) . . . While, for those in the Heartland, Holiday Acres in Rhinelander, WI will be presenting Free Flight and Ron Evanui (8/24) and Richie Cole and Evanui (8/25) . . . St. Louis bound? Get yourself to Henry W. Kiel Auditorium (1416 Market St.) Aug. 11 and you'll find Henry "Mule" Townsend, Albert Collins & the Icebreakers, Koko Taylor & her Blues Machine and Big Twist & the Mellow Fellows kicking up a storm as part of Heublein Spirits' Brass Monkey Blues Festival '84.

TALENT ON STAGE

Stevie Wonder

EARLS COURT LONDON — Stevie Wonder played to a capacity crowd at London's Earls Court. He proved himself a performer who takes risks. He was intent on really moving the audience — not just to bob around in the seats, or sing along with his old classics, but to have his music penetrate each individual. He took risks by painstakingly encouraging the audience to participate in various singing exercises. No one else could have gotten away with it. The audience wanted to please him more than he cared about pleasing his audience. There were many moments when the relentless audience musical interaction was simply tedious — but Stevie Wonder is readily forgiven because he gave us moments of absolute high.

On slow ballad numbers his voice, so soulful, touched and filled up the audience. He played few new songs from his long-awaited new album, which is very much in the Wonder tradition. He was determined not to be limited by any musical form and he ranged from ballads to jazz to rap to Motown. In his two decades as a performer he showed us he has covered just about everything with as much insight and skill. He performed for an amazing three hours. In the closing moments of the show he asked his audience to close its eyes. It was the high-point of communication. We had to say to ourselves "I am black and I love me" and finally the conclusion, the message from Stevie Wonder to our souls — we all said in our darkness "I am me and I love me."

retrospective of the careers of the Jackson Five ("I'll Be There," "I Want You Back"), Michael Jackson ("She's Out Of My Life," which included Michael writhing on the stage, "like Jackie Wilson used to do at the old Apollo Theatre," as the guy behind me said; and of course, "Beat It" and "Billie Jean"), and Jermaine Jackson (in effective versions of "Let's Get Serious," "Dynamite," and, with Michael, "Tell Me I'm Not Dreamin'"). With exception of Jermaine's two-and-a-half vocals, the other members of the family (Tito, Marlon and Randy — the injured Jackie waved to the crowd from crutches before the show) were confined to backup vocals. As was always the case with the Jackson Five, it was Michael Jackson — the best voice in the bunch — handling the brunt of the vocal chores.

And dancing chores. Whether employing his patented hip thrust or gliding across the stage as if it were iced or engaging his brothers in some snappy Motown pirouettes, Michael's feet failed him not for one moment. Another reason why — the "OHMYGOSH" abilities of the special effects notwithstanding — the "Victory" scored was the old-fashioned way: with dazzling singing and dancing.

Now, was it worth 30 bucks? Yes it was absolutely worth 30 bucks (after all, Sinatra charges a $50 top ticket and Broadway has a $45 ceiling) for those sitting within shouting distance of the enormous stage (Sinatra and Broadway don't have people seated a quarter-of-a-mile from the stage). For those up in the upper tiers of the football stadium... Well, there was a giant video screen hung above the stage and, I guess, most of those people spent the concert watching Michael Jackson on television; which is how most everybody there got to know him anyway.

The bottom line is — with all the hype, hoopla and huzzahs — the Jacksons at Giants Stadium was one hell of a show.

The Jacksons

GIANTS STADIUM, East Rutherford, N.J. — Forget about the giant hulking monsters, the sword-in-the-stone routine, and the electronic gizmos that look like flying one-eyed spiders. Strip away the explosions, the roman candles and the fireworks display. Discard the costume changes, the campy theatrics, and the two hours of swirling smoke. Look past the 375 tons of equipment (every ton of which was utilized), the humongous painted shade trees, and the lasers cutting through the skies. Michael Jackson and his brothers — 15-year music veterans — are exquisitely polished, powerful entertainers who are, above all else, superb musicians. Victory Tour, Shmictory Tour — what the people who are lucky enough to score ducats to The Jacksons are going to hear is an hour-and-three-quarters of compelling music-making from a man who has successfully blended a number of musical elements into his own unique folio. There's a taste of gospel, more than a dollop of the harmonizing vocal group tradition (back to the doo-woppers, on to the early Motown bands, up to the Jackson Five), a large smidgeon of rock 'n' roll (including Hendrixish guitar mania), and the technical glue of syntho-pop. On top of it all are heartfelt vocals belted out by a pure and powerful pop instrument. Michael Jackson has earned his spot at the top.

Oddly, the Victory Tour ignores the "Victory" LP. Beginning with "Wanna Be Startin' Somethin'" and ending with "Shake Your Body Down To The Ground," the Giants Stadium concert offered a brief

Julio Iglesias

UNIVERSAL AMPHITHEATRE, L.A. — Latin America's latest romantic sensation is undoubtedly Julio Iglesias. At the amphitheatre for an unparalleled 10 sold-out shows, Iglesias performed many of his timeless hits. Even though most of the crooner's compositions were in Spanish, French or Italian the audience understood the emotions and feeling displayed.

Willie Nelson wasn't in attendance but a life-size video of Nelson along with Iglesias accompanying vocals treated the audience to the top-selling single "To All The Girls I've Loved Before." The moving stage with 17 band members and three female vocalists on the risers was quite a visual experience in itself, accompanied by the always-changing scenic background photos which set the mood for each tune.

Between songs Iglesias spoke English and played on the fact that, "I can't really speak English so bear with me." Iglesias never failed to exhibit his boyish charm and charisma. It is that charisma that has led some to label him the Spanish Frank Sinatra. The 90-minute set, including a 20-minute encore presented the audience with the soon-to-be-released video featuring Iglesias and Diana Ross entitled "All of You." The video showed Ross in her best and complimenting Iglesias' suave performance. It couldn't have displayed a more compatible duo. Iglesias truly brought the feeling and atmosphere of a Vegas production to Los Angeles with such tunes as "When I Fall in Love" and "As Time Goes By," the Latin crooner has more than lived up to the reputation that has preceded him and will surely reach new heights in his career.

Ronnie Milsap

GREEK THEATRE, LOS ANGELES — Even though this amphitheatre is a far cry from T.J.'s in Memphis where RCA recording artist Ronnie Milsap started out, the atmosphere which the multi-talented vocalist and instrumentalist cooked up on this summer night was probably quite similar to the energy he generated during his formative years at the now famous Tennessee nightclub.

While Milsap's level of performance has remained sky-high, the scope of appreciation for his rousing vocals, alternately intimate and rocking songwriting and engaging stage presence has grown tremendously. The Friday night show opened with a tight intro from Milsap's formally clad nine-piece band which led into the blind artist's entrance to the spotlight. Milsap obviously feels quite comfortable as a bandleader, and this was apparent as he broke into the first strains of the joyous track "What A Difference You Made In My Life." This optimistic pop song set the tone for the evening and showcased Milsap's wide-ranging voice and wealth of good feeling.

The crack six-man band and three female backing vocalists then helped Milsap work into an infectious groove on the melodic "Don't Know How Much I Love You."

"Any Day Now" followed with Milsap venturing away from his piano and up to the mike at the front of the stage. Throughout the show, he consistently presented an attitude of confidence in speaking with the crowd and performed many of his hits — Milsap has had 24 country #1s and two A/C chart-toppers! — and that confidence captured the audience's hearts. Milsap even joked with the crowd as he seemingly walked too close to the stage's edge and then knowingly caught himself.

The show was highlighted by Milsap's newest material from his CHR breaking "One More Try For Love" LP, and some of the brightest spots were the single "She Loves My Car," which is now appearing in rotation on MTV, and "Still Losing You." This night, Ronnie Milsap proved that while his forte may still be country music, he is indeed one of Nashville's strongest contenders for pop/CHR crossover success.

"Sunday In The Park" Captured On LP

by Lee Jeske

NEW YORK — Stephen Sondheim is not a typical Broadway composer. He doesn't write razzle-dazzle show-stoppers that can be lifted in their entirety and handed to Las Vegas lounge crooners. In fact, he doesn't write songs — he writes shows; the comparison with operetta is not out of place when discussing the musicals of Stephen Sondheim. Company, Follies, A Little Night Music, Pacific Overtures, and Sweeney Todd are complete — the music and lyrics are of a piece. They aren't used, necessarily, to advance the show: they are the show.

That is also the case with the latest Sondheim creation, "Sunday In The Park With George," a frequently brilliant examination of the interaction between artists and the world around them. With a book by James Lapine, Sunday In The Park With George is a fabrication about the life of French impressionist painter, George Seurat. It imagines a relationship between Seurat and many of the figures in his famous "A Sunday Afternoon On The Island Of La Grande Jatte," which currently hangs at The Art Institute of Chicago. Act One takes place in the Paris of Seurat; Act Two revolves around Seurat's great-grandson, a modern artist who works with lasers and struggles with many of the same problems that haunted Seurat. Mandy Patinkin plays both artists and Bernadette Peters plays Seurat's love interest and their granddaughter. The show is currently running on Broadway at the Booth Theatre.

When RCA Records set out to record the cast album of "Sunday In The Park With George," it met with a number of problems. There is an unusual interest in documenting the shows of Stephen Sondheim, so much so that Sondheim's last Broadway show, Merrily We Roll Along, which flopped, was waxed. Thomas Z. Shepard, responsible for the recording of "Merrily," is the producer of the recently-released "Sunday" LP. Due to the great interest in Sondheim's music, an attempt was made to record all the show's musical numbers. Thus, the single disc runs about an hour and ten minutes. With connective bits of dialogue thrown in, the album stands on its own as a unified piece. Complete with full libretto and a detailed synopsis, the experience of the Broadway production is as successfully captured on disc as is possible (Sondheim's musicals tend to be smallest-chamber productions, and this is no exception. The choreography is minimal that it's listed in the Playbill "Movement.")

Another problem was physical performance of the music. The pieces are so demanding that, in some cases, several takes had to be spliced together. The cuts are indistinguishable in the finished product, however.

Sunday In The Park With George, a marvelously satisfying Broadway musical is also "Sunday In The Park With George," a marvelously satisfying original cast recording.

Volunteer Jam Cable Broadcast Set

NASHVILLE — Under the terms of a national broadcast agreement which was reached between Sound Seventy Productions, Inc. and ConcerTVview, a division of Sports View Co., a Nashville-based pay-per-view cable program distributor, The Charlie Daniels Bands' annual Volunteer Jam concert will be made available to millions of cable subscribers across the nation.

Volunteer Jam XI, which is scheduled for Feb. 2, 1985 at Nashville's Municipal Auditorium, will be broadcast as a made-for-cable live special, available only to cable system operators and pay-TV subscribers and with all or part of the programming being made available through cable operators to local FM broadcasters for stereo simulcast.

Walter Heeney, ConcerTVview vice president of marketing, said of the event's eight-hour broadcast, "Volunteer Jam will become the longest continuous broadcast of a concert ever and only the third musical event ever offered pay-TV subscribers. It is preceded as a pay-TV special event by the very successful Rolling Stones live cablecast in 1981 and The Who concert in 1982."

He added that the Rolling Stones and The Who concerts were available primarily on the west coast and only through addressable systems, while the Volunteer Jam signal will be available to all systems through 'electric ticket' equipment, which makes all systems addressable.

"Those on addressable systems need only sign up with their participating cable systems. Those on non-addressable systems need the exclusive ConcerTV ticket and TickeTVviewer, which will be available from cable operators and through area convenience stores."

The TicketViewer is a hand sized box which connects to the subscriber's television set and the 'electric ticket' is

NARAS Honors Lee

NASHVILLE — Entertainer Brenda Lee has been selected as the recipient of a special Governor's Award, presented by the Nashville Chapter of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences (NARAS).

Duane Allen of the Oak Ridge Boys announced Lee's selection at a press conference last Tuesday. The Governor's Award will be formally presented at a banquet, titled "Tribute To A Legend," at the Vanderbilt Plaza Hotel Sept. 6 at 7:30 p.m. Allen is serving as chairman of the event.

Allen noted in announcing the award, "This is an award not given every year, but only when the governors feel that a person has made a contribution to the recording industry that merits recognition surpassing all other traditional awards and honors." Lee will join Wesley Rose, Bill Williams, Roy Acuff and Kitty Wells as the fifth recipient of the award in the chapter's 20-year history.

Brenda Lee has sold over 80 million records worldwide, including 12 gold singles, and she has had more double-sided hits than any other female artist. Lee's classic renditions include such songs as "I'm Sorry," "Sweet Nothin's," and "All Alone Am I." Having performed in 52 foreign countries, Lee's concerts included the Palladium in London, the Olympia Theatre in Paris, and a Royal Command Performance for the Queen of England. She still performs annually in Japan.

"Million-Airs" Honored By BMI

NASHVILLE — The Broadcast Music, Inc. (BMI) recently held a luncheon to honor the 30 newcomers to BMI's "Million-Airs" list. Based on broadcast performances, the songs to achieve this recognition were of an average length of three minutes and had been broadcast 1,000,000 times, had been played at least 50,000 hours or continually for 2,083-1/3 days. The 30 songs join the BMI "Million-Airs" list to total 598 songs to date, with southern writers and publishers representing over one-third of that figure.

BMI vice president Frances Preston presented framed awards to the writers and publishers of the songs. Joe Moscheo, vice president administration and Del Bryant, director performing rights relations, assisted in the presentation.

In addition to the 30 "Million-Airs" honored, five special awards were presented to songs which have attained the status of multi-million performances. The songs with their respective status, writer and publisher include: "Gentle On My Mind," four million, John Hartford, Ensign Music Co.; "For The Good Times," three million, Kris Kristofferson, Buckhorn Music Publishing Co.; "Tennessee Waltz," three million, Pee Wee King, Redd Stewart, Acuff-Rose Publications, Inc.; "Blue Bayou," two million, Joe Melson, Roy Orbison, Acuff-Rose Publication, Inc.; "Mr. Bo Jangles,"

STATION PROFILE — KKIX-FM/Fayetteville is a 3,000-watt station located at 104 on the FM dial covering northwest Arkansas, northeast Oklahoma and southwest Missouri. A relatively new station, KKIX debuted on the air Sept. 29, 1983 with its present country format. The station's air personality lineup is Tom Sleeker, 6-10 a.m.; Braz McDonnell, 10 a.m.-2 p.m.; Donna Britt, 2-7 p.m.; Cary Bass, 7 p.m.-midnight; and John Anthony, midnight-6 a.m. The station's general manager and sales manager is Doug Whitman while Sleeker serves as the music director and program director. Britt is the assistant music director and the news director is Roger King.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION NETS $85,000 — WMAQ/Chicago recently hosted its 10th anniversary charity concert at Lambs Farm, a residential and training center for mentally retarded adults, in Libertyville, IL. More than 70,000 people were in attendance to hear a two-day concert weekend that raised over $85,000 for the farm. The star-studded bill included Gary Morris, Mel McDaniel, Lane Brody, The Wright Brothers, The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, Bandana and others. The station's morning team hawked autographed souvenirs from all of the Chicago major league sports teams and the stars themselves raising $1,000 more for the farm.

MARATHON SOFTBALL GAME — KVEG & KFM-FM/Las Vegas and the media will battle Las Vegas area 7-11 convenience stores in a 100-inning slow pitch softball game. The contest will begin at 8 a.m. and last through the day until 100 innings have been completed. In this fourth meeting of the two rivals, the rules have been slightly altered so that each batter will have only one pitch to get a hit, walk or strikeout. Each inning will consist of either three outs or five runs. The stations will air play-by-play reports and all proceeds from the game and concessions will go to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

STATION CHANGES — KFH & KBRA/Wichita has named Michael Dean news director of the stations. Dean is a veteran of 20 years in radio and has previously worked with KSAL/KYEZ/Salina as news director. KBCB/Corpus Christi has named Mike Laurel as its new music director.

AEXILE (Epic 34-04567)

Give Me One More Chance (2:46) (Pacific Island/Tree — BMI) (J.P. Pennington, S. Lemaire) (Producer: Buddy Killen)

The exciting energies of the group Exile bounce this tune entitled "Give Me Just One More Chance" from beginning to end. Written by members J.P. Pennington and Sonny Lemaire, the song from the forthcoming "Kentucky Hearts" LP is an upbeat showcase for Exile's distinctive blend of harmonies, with a fine snappy production. This effort should once again take the group to the top of the charts.

The First Time (3:08) (McGuffey Lane/Intuit-BMI) (S. Douglas, R.E. McNelley, J. Schwab, D. Tyler) (Producer: Marshall Morgan, Paul Worley)

"The First Time," McGuffey Lane's second single release from its Atlantic America LP "Day By Day," is an easy flowing love ballad revolving around the theme of first time experiences all the way from riding a bike to falling in love. Member Bob McNelley takes the vocal lead on this tune, with the rest of the group supplying smooth background harmonies on the chorus. The production is light and fitting for the single, which also happens to be a nice co-writing effort by the new group.

COUNTRY COLUMN

VIDEO FIRST FOR MILSAP AND NASHVILLE — With 10 female dancers, a red 1957 Ferrari, a '58 Edsel convertible, a new Ferrari, three new Corvettes and several celebrities Ronnie Milsap has made another distinction for himself as well as for Music City by becoming the first Nashville-based label artist to have a video on the popular music television channel MTV. The video is based on Milsap's very uptempo recording of "She Loves My Car" from his latest RCA LP, "One More Try For Love," and was directed by David Hogan, who received an American Music Award for his direction of Alabama's "Dixieland Delight" video, and produced by Marty Gurfinkle. Milsap said of this video venture, "If you're going to make advances in your life, you're going to have to take chances; if you're going to be a leader you can't be afraid." Now the video itself is described as "high voltage action" and with its wide assortment of celebrities and flashy cars that description certainly sounds adequate. Included in lineup for cameo appearances are Herve Villechaize, formerly Fantasy Island's "Tattoo," Exene and John Doe of the rock group X, actress Britt Ekland, Scott McGinnis from The Search For Spock, Knight Rider's Rebecca Holden and the actress/model daughter of Jane Mansfield, Mariska Hargitay. For those who can't wait to view She Loves My Car on MTV, the story line is explained by producer Gurfinkle as, "a used car salesman who dozes off to sleep in his showroom and dreams of beautiful dancing girls. The dream goes on to outside locations — downtown Los Angeles, Hollywood and different beaches around Santa Monica and Malibu."

GATLIN ACTING DEBUT — Larry Gatlin will make his acting debut in a new fall episode of ABC's Hardcastle & McCormick. Pictured with Gatlin is Brian Keith, star of the prime time action-drama.

AND MORE VIDEOS — Director David Hogan was also at Nashville's Exit Inn recently with Alabama to film two upcoming videos from their recordings "Fire In The Night" and "I'm Not That Way Anymore," off of their "Roll On" LP. Both will be conceptual pieces and "I'm Not That Way Anymore" will flashback to the younger days of the boys from Alabama and show some of their high school yearbook photos. Meanwhile four other popular gentlemen, The Oak Ridge Boys, taped a video of their current single, "Everyday," at The Tennessee Performing Arts Center with director Ken Waltz, who has done video product on Huey Lewis & The News and Cyndi Lauper. Country video is, indeed, on the loose.

CHURCHILL PRODUCTIONS FORMED — Jim Halsey, president of Churchill Records & Video, Ltd., announced the formation of Churchill Productions, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary which will promote live entertainment shows. The new company plans to concentrate its promotions at the major state fairs and country fairs, renting buildings, paying talent fees and themselves promoting attractions. Clint Mitchell, president of the Tulsa-based Churchill Productions, announced that expectations are to promote a minimum of 75 events within the next 16 months, with the July 28-29 weekend of the Montana State Fair which headlined Willie Nelson and the Beach Boys being the first event to have taken place. Other performers scheduled for dates include: Waylon Jennings, Sylvia, Lee Greenwood, The Oak Ridge Boys, Don Williams and David Copperfield. Mitchell, formerly production manager of the John Bauer Concerts Co., was also a vice president of Front Stage, Ltd. and promotion director for Contemporary Productions.

WORLD'S FAIR GOES COUNTRY — Country music was highlighted at the World's Fair in New Orleans with a three-day "Country Music Special," Aug. 3-5, which featured Waylon Jennings, Janie Fricke, Charley Pride, George Strait, George Jones and John Anderson performing at the Liggett & Myers Quality Seal Amphitheatre. It has also been announced by the Mississippi Pavilion at the Fair that Grand Ole Opry comic and Yazoo City's favorite son, Jerry Clower, will be honored with a day-long tribute by World's Fair officials Sept. 23. Festivities for the event will include a reception for area dignitaries, press receptions, a VIP luncheon, a parade with Clower serving as grand marshal and an evening performance. The salute to Clower will mark the first such honor bestowed to a country music entertainer.

CONCERT SET BY NARAS — The Nashville chapter of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences (NARAS) has announced a special concert at the Vanderbilt Plaza Hotel, featuring composer/singer Paul Williams and Nashville-based songwriter Steve Davis, to take place on Aug. 21. Davis and Williams, who have been writing together recently, will debut some of the new songs at the event, besides each giving a solo performance. Proceeds from the concert will go to the Nashville chapter of NARAS and the Vanderbilt Children's Hospital, with the Vanderbilt Plaza hosting an elaborate buffet as part of its grand opening activities, and with Y-107 serving as the promotional source for the event. Tickets for the concert can be purchased through the NARAS office for $25 each, or $20 for NARAS members.

HANK SNOW FOUNDATION BENEFIT — Country music veteran Hank Snow will host his seventh annual Hank Snow Benefit Concert For Abused Children at the Grand Ole Opry House Aug. 23. The foundation was formed in 1978 to raise funds for child abuse prevention, intervention and treatment programs by accepting applications from nonprofit organizations which provide services to the abused victims and their families. The benefit will feature performances by Snow and his Rainbow Ranch Boys, Johnny Tillotson, Boxcar Willie, Razzy Bailey, Johnny Russell, Kevin Moore, Juanita Rose, The Little General Cloggers, The Carolee Singers and Joe Edwards and band.

Christian Music Complex Open House

NASHVILLE — The Gaither Music Co., Alexandria House, Spring House, Pinebrook Recording Studios, and six other Christian music affiliated companies recently held an open house to display their state-of-the-art 20-acre Christian music complex in Alexandria, Ind.

Employees of the various companies conducted tours of each facility for the over 1,000 guests who attended. Bill and Gloria Gaither and members of The New Gaither Vocal Band were on hand for the event.

The complex was originally organized as a result of the needs generated by Bill and Gloria Gaither's songwriting and The Bill Gaither Trio organization. The Gaithers have been involved in the Christian music industry for 23 years, and have released over 30 albums. The Gaither Music Co. was formed to manage the administration of the over 500-song catalog written by Bill and Gloria Gaither.

The companies housed on the complex include: The Bill Gaither Trio; The New

Gaither Vocal Band; The Gaither Music Co.; Alexandria House, the country's largest single distribution source of sacred/Christian music; Pinebrook Recording Studios; Printer Zink; Songbird (air transportation); Spring House Assoc. (promotion); and Stage II Productions (sound and lighting.)

THE RHYTHM SECTION

QUEST FOR THE GOLD — Last year Lillo Thomas had two goals in mind. A world-class sprinter in high school, he decided to seize the opportunity of an upcoming Olympic year and resume his dormant track career, a career interrupted by a commitment to his music. Thomas might have become the first celebrity debut album for Capitol, "Let Me Be Yours," in 1983, Thomas has followed with "All Of You," just released and featuring the hot single, "Your Love's Got A Hold On Me," along with a beautiful duet with Melba Moore on the title track. It's the second collaboration between Thomas and Producer Paul Lawrence and a production that should increase Thomas' already considerable following. Radio stations KISS-FM and WBLS-FM jumped on the single and it was dubbed "smash single pick of the week." Not only has Thomas found success in the U.S., but he has gained a large international following as well. He recently made his television debut in Rio on a Brazilian soap opera, "Champagne." The great thing about Thomas is his all-American nice guy personality. This is a real regular guy, despite all the attention he's received from being a top-notch recording artist, a genuine Olympic hopeful and a talented illustrator schooled in design. The quality that continues to stick out of this pack of talents, though, is the voice, a velvety dream that inevitably invokes comparisons to Luther Vandross, but which commands more power and sexiness. Thomas has been out capitalizing on this, his most marketable attribute, hitting promotional stops in Atlanta and Houston. He spoke recently from Texas. "We're just out, saying 'Hello,' signing autographs and stuff like that. They're starting to put the tour together now. We're looking to get together in late August to go out on the road. When I get back I'll start to put my band together." But first things first. While in Houston, Thomas was scheduled to pay a hospital visit to children stricken with cancer. It's all in a day's work for the singer, who recently appeared with Moore and New York Governor Mario Cuomo to christen a truck full of Olympic well-wisher dubbed "The Spirit of Los Angeles." Thomas' high visibility doesn't belie the quality of his music, shaped by Lawrence to encompass many styles and moods. Besides the contemporary synthesized dance standards, Lawrence has helped Thomas create authentic yet original interpretations of the soul classics, "Just My Imagination" (on the first album) and "My Girl" (on "All Of You"). The way Thomas' new record has jumped out of the box, it's evident that the Olympics' loss is music's gain. After all, gold is gold, brother, whether you're making records or breaking records. Thomas' gonna be doing both for some time.

LILLO AND FRIEND — Lillo Thomas presents Governor Mario Cuomo of New York with a gift after the two appeared together at the sendoff for the "Spirit of Los Angeles" truck bearing messages for Olympic hopefuls (Photo by Juanita M. Cole).

SUGAR HILL HONORS WYNNE — Sugar Hill Records has devised a grant to aid the young sons of Philippe Wynn, the ex-Spinners lead singer who died recently after suffering a heart attack during a performance at an Oakland, California nightclub. The company is re-releasing the solo album "Philippe Wynn," according to a recent mailgram, "for the express purpose of getting funds to help his family. All proceeds of this album will be given to the family."

HEY, MISTUH KOT-TEHR! — Lawrence Hilton-Jacobs, late of ABC's "Welcome Back, Kotter," has been signed to Street City Records, and his first release, "I Never Been Here Before," will ship in August. Street City Records is the company of Crusaders founder and ex-trombonist Wayne Henderson. The company's product is distributed by Allegiance Records, which is also looking for good things from Rodney Salsberry's first release. Both Jacobs and Salsberry were TV veterans before cracking the recording nut.

MARLEY COMPILATION — Islands Records has just released "Legend," the best of Bob Marley and the Wailers. The record, which was remixed by Eric Thorngren, documents the extraordinary career of the late Bob Marley, who died in May of 1981. "Legend" entered the British charts in May at No. 1 and has remained there for 13 weeks. The first single to be released from the album is "Is This Love," scheduled for an early-August release.

OCEAN TO OCEAN — For a Trinidad-born musician reared in London, Billy Ocean has a surprisingly American pop/funk sound. The singer, whose "Caribbean Queen (No More Love On The Run)" has spent a fast six weeks galloping up the urban contemporary charts, had a big Top 5 R&B hit in 1982 with "Nights (Feel Like Getting Down)" and was voted "Top new Male Artist" by Cash Box the same year. His new album, "Suddenly," is produced by Keith Diamond, except for one cut handled by Robert "Mutt" Lange. The album was recorded in New York and London. It's a tasteful disc full of great grooves and a great break for a music business survivor whose first taste of music was from a blue ukelele, a Christmas present from mom.

INTERNATIONAL DATELINE

Argentina

BUENOS AIRES — The establishment of its own sales organization by Microfon, after three years of distribution by RCA, has become one of the main topics of conversation these days. As we have reported before, the idea of Mario Kaminsky, head of the company, is to work with few accounts and let one-stops and distributors deal with the rest of the market. The point is that to reduce his own overhead costs and stock, Kaminsky has to convince these distributors to share the risks and not only the profits. Microfon has bought the warehouse of Distribuidora Galicia and would like to ship most of the merchandise to dealers once a month and only bestselling records more often. In the past dealers phoned every day (in some cases twice a day) asking for small amounts of merchandise, which resulted in high transportation costs.

EMI will begin shipping the first WEA albums under its new contract of direct distribution. Roberto Ruiz, who handles the WEA operation, will probably move soon to the Polygram offices if the joint operation arrangement between the two groups receives the green light at headquarters.

RCA toppers Jorge Schutt, Mario Lopez and Adolfo San Martin will travel this month to Miami to attend an international convention in that city and pay a fast visit to New York. The company will unveil new product by Gabriel Ogando, Valeria Lynch, Jose Larralde and Los Iracundos at the gathering, while the Brazilian branch, headed by Manuel Camero, will offer new recordings by chanteuse Perla, among others.

More about EMI: Clive Kelly, international director of operations of the group, will visit Buenos Aires this week and discuss business with the local people.

Interdisc topper Ruben Aprile has returned from a one-week stay in the States, where he contracted several labels for distribution in this country. Among them are the Fantasy group of labels (which includes Stax, Prestige and Milestone); Buddah; Can't Stop Productions; Bearsville and others. Aprile will probably jet to the States once again in a couple of months, but this time to the west coast.

Polygram has signed a new contract with musician, composer and pianist Ariel Ramirez, who has recorded for many years for the company but has been associated with Microfon most recently. The company has also released the soundtrack of the film "Breakdance," which is expected to become another strong box office smash in the near future.

CBS continues its promotional work for its "Heavy Metal" series, which has been very well received in the market; the Quiet Riot album, for instance, has been averaging good sales, and Judas Priest is another promising group for this market, reported Norberto Tejero to Cash Box.

Japan

TOYKO — Embassy Home Entertainment Co., Ltd., based in the U.S., has entered into the video market (disk and tape) of Japan and established a branch office in Tokyo. A joint announcement was made by Andre Blay, president of the company, Robert Cook, vice president, and Tatsuji Nagashima, chairman of Kyodo-Tokyo on July 17 in Tokyo. According to the announcement, the company will release videodisks and tapes in this country with 10 titles on Sept. 21, 1984. First releases in Japan will include New York 1997, The Producers, The Fog and Paradise.

The Structure for Protection and Observation for Copyrights has been established in Japan by nine sponsors who are closely related with the copyrights of both videodisks and tapes. Yasushi Akutagawa (chief executive of JASRAC), Hijime Ishikawa (chief executive of the association of TV-program planning in Japan), Tatsuhiro Ishida (chairman of video association of Japan),

Shigeru Okada (chairman of movie manufacturing association of Japan Tokugen Yamamoto (representative of the committee for protection of illegal duplication for international movies) are included among sponsors. According to these promoters, this structure will carry on business to protect the copyrights in which observation and disclosure for illegal uses of the copyright of both audio and video, investigations and warnings for violences of the copyright, enlightenment and prevalence of the copyright thoughts are included. According to Akutagawa, the structure will receive new members who support the business of this entity.

RCA Appoints Kollar To Canadian Division

LOS ANGELES — Don Kollar has been appointed general manager of RCA's record division, Canada. Kollar will report to G. Denton Clark, president and chairman of the board for RCA's Canadian subsidiary.

Kollar replaces John Ford who was recently appointed to a new post in RCA's New York headquarters. Formerly director of finance for the Canadian division, Kollar will be based in the Canadian headquarters in Markham, Ontario.

Volunteer Jam Broadcast

punched into the TicketViewer to descramble the picture.

Joseph E. Sullivan, Sound Seventy president and Daniels' manager, noted that the concert would still follow the traditional Jam format, "The CDB will present its full concert set followed by appearances from an extensive roster of surprise musical guests. As before, music will range through all genres, with some artists joining The CDB and others playing short sets."

Heaney said, "Cameras will be in the audience, onstage and backstage to capture the entire feel and ambiance of this unique contemporary festival. We will take commercial breaks between sets and performances will not be interrupted."

The Volunteer Jam has in past years been involved in numerous live and taped radio broadcasts, including syndication specials for King Biscuit and the international live broadcast for the Voice of America. Last year's event was produced by Dick Clark Productions and Sound Seventy for television, syndicated by Multimedia Entertainment, sponsored by Skool and Proctor & Gamble and aired in 110 American markets.

Sullivan stated, "Historically, Volunteer Jam has sold out in advance with only about 30 percent of tickets available to fans from outside Middle Tennessee. It is the fans, of course, who make this event what it is . . . one of a kind. Now, through ConcertView, we're able to give all CDB fans everywhere a chance to be a part of Volunteer Jam. Through the Voice of America, this year Volunteer Jam became an international audio 'happening.' Now, it will be both an audio and a video red letter day in the 1985 calendar of musical events."

Reggae And Independents

One of the major drawbacks for reggae in the past and even now has been the unwillingness of commercial radio to give the music any backing. Progress has been made recently with Doug Wendt's "Midnight Dread" show moving to the commercial KQAK in San Francisco and other reggae shows taking hold on commercial radio in Washington, D.C. and Miami. The bright spot on radio for African/reggae music has always been college radio and noncommercial radio which have roughly 500 reggae shows airing in the U.S. weekly. Of these, the most influential is broadcast from Santa Monica, California's National Public Radio station KCRW and hosted by former Island national promotions director Roger Steffans. The show, called "Reggae Beat International" is heard in 36 American cities and over the Voice of America to 20 million Africans. Radio shows such as these help display the scope reggae has attained even without huge amounts of promotional money behind it.

In the same manner, retail outlets specializing in African, reggae and calypso music have begun to spring up in many urban centers. While many of these are frequented by the local Jamaican population, others such as Barton's in Los Angeles and Cool Runnin' in Manhattan appeal to a broad-based demographic and are doing a rousing business even though most of their product comes from independent labels/distributors and imported records. Roothe Benzenberg of Cool Runnin' said, "Business is going very well, though we are still fairly new and even though we get no radio support. We get more support from the independent labels like Ras or Heartbeat than from Island. Island, in terms of music, puts out some very good and popular things, but we get absolutely no help from them. We have to deal with the independents because they give so much more. They advertise with us."

Each of the links in this network is helping to keep reggae healthy as a music form in America. Other signs that point to a renewed respect and appreciation for the music form are the inclusion of "Best Reggae Album" in the 1985 Grammy ceremony and expected good response for such live shows as the World Music Festival to be held at the Hollywood Bowl on August 19 featuring Peter Tosh, Mighty Sparrow and others, the 1985 sunsplash held this August in Jamaica and the Sunny Ade/Black Uhuru U.S. tour set to begin soon. While the independents and their colleagues in the various industry roles are promoting reggae and African music tirelessly, it must also be noted that the commercial success for such groups as Culture Club and the Police have also helped to bring a new audience to the music. Steffans noted, "Many times at reggae shows I run into people who say to me, 'I'm here because of the Clash and Mikey Dread,' or 'I'm here because I love the Police.' It's a reverse influence and you can't deny that it exists. We have to be a little grateful for that music bringing new folks to reggae."

bandshell and screens especially incorporated in its design for the event. A massive fireworks display was also featured.

Climaxing the Olympics will be a special appearance by Motown recording artist Lionel Richie at the closing ceremonies to the summer games. Richie is slated to perform his hit single "All Night Long," to which he has added lyrics in honor of the athletes, providing a musical summation to the event.

Blues Great Thornton Dies

commercial success with the release of "Hound Dog," a song that would later be immortalized by Elvis Presley. The song, which reached number one on several R&B charts, was stylized by Thornton's homemade, off-the-cuff sound effects which totally dominate the music as the record fades.

Thornton, known as an aggressive blues shouter much in the style of Big Joe Turner, also played the drums and country-style straight harp which was later to become her trademark. Relocating in the San Francisco Bay area in the late '50s, her career initially suffered but was revived again by the increased popularity of the blues in the '60s. In 1968, Thornton's "Ball And Chain" became a staple in Janis Joplin's repertoire and earned Thornton added recognition but little extra income.

Throughout the '70s Thornton continued to record and play at blues festivals in this country and Europe. Her appearances at the Newport Folk Festival, The Monterey Jazz Festival and the 1980 Kool Jazz Festival won her critical acclaim and continued to build her a loyal following.

Funeral services were held July 31 in central Los Angeles. The ceremony was conducted by Johnny Otis, who is now a minister. In attendance among others, were Joe Turner, Blind Joe Hill and Jimmy Witherspoon, who sang a short song in the artist's memory. Funeral arrangements were pending up until the last minutes due to lack of funds.

A benefit to help fund the funeral was held Sunday, July 29. The rest of the money was donated by various individuals and organizations. The Rosebud Agency in Northern California responded to the call for help, as did the Southern California Blues Society which covered some of the costs of the funeral arrangements and will be holding a benefit August 12.

Betty Miller of the Blues Society, a non-profit organization responsible for booking much of L.A.'s blues, remarked, "there are people living in beautiful houses and driving beautiful cars that made money off of Big Mama Thornton. And here this lady has to die penniless."

Etta James echoed Miller's sentiments,

"you sit back and you look at television and you see the history of this and the history of that and Willie Mae's name never comes up. It's like they took a big eraser and scratched that part of history out." James concluded that the life of Big Mama Thornton personified the classic blues singer: "Willie Mae lived the blues."

by Camille Compasio

A full contingent of AMOA officers, along with executives from two of the phonograph manufacturers headed for Washington July 27 to attend a meeting on the jukebox royalty fee issue, which was being chaired by Sen. Kastenmeier. No particulars as to the meeting agenda were available as Cash Box went to press but we all know that the industry is staying on top of this situation in an earnest effort to adjust the current CRT fee structure in favor of the $50 one-time rate that is contained in Sen. Zorinsky's bill (SB.1734). The group scheduled to represent the trade at this meeting included AMOA's Dock Ringo, John Estridge, Wally Bohrer and Leo Droste, Rock-Ola's Bette Lockhart, Merrill Krakauer and/or Jerry Gordon of Rowe, Bob Schuckman of Jenner & Block and William Ris, representing AMOA's lobbying firm in Washington.

And speaking of AMOA, Leo Droste advised that exhibit space is going fast during this final stage of booth assignments, to the point where there are less than 10 spots left. A lot of first-time exhibitors (estimated at more than

Bobby Vinton To Headline AMOA Show

CHICAGO — Popular recording artist and entertainer Bobby Vinton has been booked to headline this year's AMOA banquet stage show, Oct. 27 during the association's 1984 International Exposition, at the Hyatt Regency Chicago (Oct. 24-27).

Bobby Vinton has enjoyed a highly successful show business career over the past 20 years and is among the few artists who have successfully headlined in Reno and Atlantic City, in addition to playing Las Vegas at least 20 weeks per year. Over the years he has established himself as one of America's top cabaret performers and most versatile entertainers.

His long list of singles which have become classics over the decades includes "Roses Are Red," "Mr. Lonely" and "Blue Velvet." His songs are recognized throughout the world and his famous "Melody Of Love," which was a number one hit song in the nation was adopted by Polish Americans as their new national anthem.

Vinton's success in the recording industry carried over to other areas of entertainment. For three years, he hosted his own weekly syndicated television series which aired in over 140 cities throughout the U.S. and Canada. He also hosted a highly rated network variety special for CBS-television and starred in two John Wayne movies, Big Jake and The Train Robbers.

Over the past five years, he has been honored by over one hundred national organizations and more than a dozen mayors across the U.S. for his unique contributions to ethnic communities. As a tribute to his talents and community services, the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce bestowed an honor upon Bobby Vinton which is given to few individuals — a bronze star on the world famous Hollywood Walk of Fame on Hollywood Boulevard in Hollywood, California.

Konami Accelerates Copyright Policy

CHICAGO — Konami, Inc. has steadfastly pursued copyright or trademark infringers of its games and most recently restated its commitment to an ongoing, nationwide investigation and enforcement of its copyrights and trademarks with intent to "prosecute all pirates to the fullest extent of the law," according to a company spokesman. Counterfeiters are subject to civil penalties which include fines of up to $50,000 per violation and/or criminal penalties which will result in incarceration.

It is too soon to estimate foreign attendance, as Droste pointed out, however, a German trade group has already confirmed its attendance and AMOA has been in contact with a number of foreign organizations expressing interest in attending. This year's banquet show will be headlined by Bobby Vinton and his revue, which should be a big draw. AMOA Expo '84 is indeed shaping up very well. Show dates are Oct. 24-27 at Chicago's Hyatt Regency.

Rowe V/MEC. Mac Brier of Atlas Music Co. items that the Rowe video jukebox has been taking in some good earnings over a three-week period at the Times Square arcade, which is located in the heart of the city of Chicago and is one of the showcase locations for the piece.

Dateline El Cajon, CA — home of Cinematronics, Inc. where, according to sales veepee Tom Campbell, the factory is getting ready to sample ship its new licensed video game called "Scion." New machine will be enroute in a couple of weeks — so watch for it.

Positive vibes from Jersey. Betson-Moonachie enjoyed a good month of July, attributable to servicing the Jersey shore resort trade, of course. However, business on the whole has been going along nicely. "We are working on a lot of positive projects," according to veepee Art Warner, which should bring encouraging results in future months, he indicated. Responding to our comment about the rather depressed state of the industry Warner looked back over his 20 years in coin-biz and said, "I believe that business today is no worse than it was in 1977." He feels the current climate is not so much a problem of "bad business" but more of a situation where distribs are geared up for a volume today that is "unrealistic." "We were all spoiled by the video games explosion, which generated an unsurpassed demand for equipment," he observed. This makes sense when you think about it. He went on to explain that the operator who maintained a diversified equipment line and did not put all of his eggs in one basket by depending completely on videos alone, will remain healthy. As for the present, "the operator who thinks he can stop buying is only fooling himself," Warner cautioned, "he must maintain his route and cannot afford to let it deteriorate." How do you turn things around in the current marketplace? "A viable product" from the manufacturers is one answer he suggested.

During the course of our conversations with various distribs this past week, a suggestion was made that the manufacturers should go into the archives and try to recycle some of the hit equipment of the past — like rifle galleries and baseball games, for example — price them reasonably and put them on the market!

Video lottery games. California operators are naturally concerned about the proposed installation of video lottery games in that state. The proposal will be put to a vote on the November ballot and if it passes the machines could be out on location as early as January of '85. To add to the operators' dilemma, public opinion is highly in favor of the video lottery games. Considering the size of the state of California, if there is to be a campaign in opposition to the lottery, the cost would be prohibitive — something in the neighborhood of a couple of million dollars. Cash Box spoke with Dennis Loper at the California Coin Machine Association office, who indicated the possibility that other interested parties who oppose the video lottery might spearhead such a move . . . Latest development in Ohio is the approval by lottery officials of the installation of 50 player activated computer terminals in Columbus and 50 in Cleveland within the next six months, as noted in the latest Ohio Music & Amusement Assn. newsletter. These terminals, which operate much like bank teller machines, are part of a marketing experiment that could be the first step toward installation of video lottery games in Ohio

Prizes Offered In NAMA Membership Drive

CHICAGO — A round trip for two on Delta Airlines anywhere in the U.S. or to Bermuda, an Amana Microwave Oven and a $100 gift certificate await the winners in the 1984 "Super NAMAGAM" new member recruiting effort which was announced this month by the National Automatic Merchandising Assn. (NAMA).

Each individual who enlists a new NAMA member before the Oct. 1 deadline will have one chance for each new member recruited in a prize drawing which will be held at the NAMA Convention in Atlanta on Oct. 11, as noted by R. David Clayton, the association's membership chairman.

Any owner or employee of a NAMA member firm is eligible to participate and need not be present at the drawing in order to win, Clayton said. Recruiting a new member in any category, such as operators, suppliers, distributors or manufacturers will count. Those who recruit more than one new member will multiply their chances by the number of members enlisted.

"As of the end of May we had 2,277 members and we hope that this competition will help us to reach a significant number of new companies by the October deadline," Clayton added.

Individuals who did not receive the contest notice and member application forms in the mail should contact Mildred Larson, NAMA director of membership services at 7 S. Dearborn St., Chicago, Illinois 60603.

AGMA Lends Support To 'Operation: Home Free'

CHICAGO — The Amusement Game Manufacturers Assn. (AGMA) is encouraging arcade operators to participate in "Operation: Home Free," a national public service program designed to return runaways safely to their homes. The program is sponsored jointly by the Trailways Corporation and the International Assn. of Chiefs of Police.

"Because many runaways may seek refuge in game rooms with other peers, we feel the coin-op amusement game industry has a tremendous opportunity to reach these youngsters by prominently displaying the Home Free poster," stated AGMA executive director Glenn Braswell.

A recent USA Today report estimates that runaways are returning home via Trailways at a rate of 10 per day.

Braswell said that several hundred orders have already been placed through AGMA for the 22 x 28 Home Free poster. Operators who are interested in participating are advised to contact AGMA at 703-548-8044.

Konami Copyright Policy

Casey, has been assigned to execute Konami's enforcement plans. To date, Konami has prosecuted over 58 alleged infringers in: New York on Oct. 28, 1983; Kentucky on April 6, 1984; and Vancouver, B.C. and Toronto, Ontario, Canada on April 17, 1984.

Porterfield said, "We are conducting our own investigations and working in conjunction with law enforcement agencies on an ongoing basis throughout the continent. Consequently, Konami is prepared and equipped to initiate immediate enforcement litigation wherever counterfeiting problems may be found."

Konami believes that copyright and trademark infringement is a very serious problem affecting the entire industry and has decided to adhere to the strictest and most severe prosecution policies in an effort to combat this practice. The company feels that a far-reaching and aggressive enforcement policy can achieve a healthier and more prosperous environment for the coin machine industry.

Game Plan Appoints Dennis Rhodes, Ent.

CHICAGO — The appointment of Dennis Rhodes Enterprises as a direct factory authorized distributor has been announced by Game Plan, Inc. of Addison, Illinois. The distributorship is located at 669 Madison Street in Memphis, Tennessee.

In commenting on the announcement, Game Plan's marketing vice president Hugh Gorman stated, "Dennis and Linda Rhodes in conjunction with Larry and Jeff Brooks will offer local operators competent and meaningful guidance in all aspects and phases of industry related matters. This distributorship is staffed by professionals with many years of experience and Game Plan is delighted to establish this relationship which we are confident will prove beneficial to all operators served by the Rhodes organization."

AMOA Adds Category To Annual Awards

CHICAGO — In recognition of the role that cigarette manufacturers have in being sensitive to the cigarette vendors' needs and problems, the AMOA Awards Committee and board of directors unanimously voted that a new category be entered into the awards presentation, which annually takes place during the AMOA Expo banquet.

The new award category, entitled "The Best Cigarette Vending Machine Promotion" of the year, honors the cigarette company that best promotes its product through marketing techniques that benefit the cigarette vendor/operator.

The new award was initiated as a result of last year's amendment to officially accept cigarette vendors into the AMOA membership, which presently controls or owns approximately 50 percent of all cigarette vending equipment in the country.
