Correcting Ills On An Individualized Basis

More than 1300 tradesters who attended the recent NARM convention are now into their second work-week since the meetings and are hopefully aware that that $20 billion industry predicted by Larry Uttal in his keynote address will be more fancy than fact if the industry doesn't begin to act like it can command such volume or something close to it.

The NARM meet reiterated and, for some, brought to light a steady flow of problems that, in a phrase that best suits the illnesses, is "eroding the confidence" of trade and consumer alike in terms of profitability and respect for the industry's wares.

For tradesters who viewed the convention with seriousness of purpose (conventions always draw the hangers-on), their attendance at various speeches, seminars and rap sessions was a matter of digesting an endless stream of statistics and complaints, most of which, were presented in a frank manner. Pick an area in the business and a major problem arises, whether its pricing, piracy, the indie distributor and even what should be the bright prospects of quad sound and the video disk. Some offered solutions which were not necessarily to be taken as general answers to the industry's ills. What may work for a few may not hold for the industry as a whole. For in individual circumstances the same solutions do not apply.

But, everybody wants answers, and they're not easy to come by. There is, however, an underlying base to everybody's operation. And that is, to repeat ourselves, profitability and consumer respect for the industry's product.

Without these two components, there is no future, much less a worthwhile present. We believe that most of the NARM talk was stimulating enough to provoke investigation into their own operations by all factors in the business represented at NARM. NARM conventions may not be the ultimate source of solutions to the industry's ailments. Suffice to say that they raise questions and often can claim a good deal of rationale. If answers for everybody are not readily at hand, the individual may be able to uncover some solutions by a detailed shakedown of his own setup and how it relates to profits and consumer confidence.

Classics At Radio City:

Col. Sees More Youth Interest Outside Of Traditional 'Halls'

Davis Cites Objectives

NEW YORK — Taking classical music out of the non-youth atmosphere of the "concert hall" and into a less traditional showcase was a major theme of the Columbia Records-sponsored classical happening at Radio City Music Hall starting at 12 midnight on Friday, Mar. 2.

The event, featuring members of the label's classical catalog, drew 6,000, 5,500 of which paid $4 to $7 to attend the show. While a loser in terms of monetary profits for the label, the Monster Concert-KeyBoard Colossus was profitable in other ways, according to Clive Davis, president of Columbia, who emceed a portion of the event.

Davis Remarks

"We just felt it was about time,"

FRONT COVER:

Elton John continues to rock his way into the hearts of millions with every single and album he records. "Crocodile Rock," one of the hottest selling singles in MCA's history, culled from his latest LP, has received RIAA gold certification and is rapidly approaching the two million mark after being released only a short time. Almost simultaneously, and after being on the charts only four weeks, MCA's latest LP release, "Don't Shoot Me I'm Only the Piano Player" moved into the number one spot on the charts and also achieved gold status. To date Elton John has been awarded five gold LPs for MCA recordings of "Elton John," "Tumbleweed Connection," "Honky Chateau," "Madman Across the Water," and now, "Don't Shoot Me I'm Only the Piano Player." In fact, each of these LPs has sold in excess of one million units, earning a platinum award from MCA.

Davis says, "that we took classical music out of the traditional institutions so that it doesn't have to be performed in one type of place, but can be equally exciting in any place that can guarantee the type of sound best suited for classical music."

Davis made judgement on the sizable youth turn-out by declaring that "in the growing sophistication of rock music the transition to classic has been appreciable. We felt that if this was the case, and youth was not attending classical concerts in the numbers their interest seemed to indicate, we wanted to hold a concert at midnight at a place that could guarantee us a good sound. We also wanted to show that given a proper environment youth already interested in classics—we weren't interested in converting anyone to the classics—would turn out. And, of course, they did."

The Columbia classical move is also indicative of the general upswing in classical sales in recent years. Columbia had previously reported a 40% increase in classical sales for 1972. Other labels with strong classical commitments have also announced similar volume increases.

Columbia plans to inject a strong classical note at its week-long concert at the Ahmanson Theatre in Los Angeles. (Cont'd on p. 24)

Jazz Composers Claim: Works 'In Limbo'; No Logging Depth

NEW YORK — A crusade to place jazz, particularly extended works in the area, into the general mainstream of music, has been undertaken by a number of jazz writer-performers.

These jazzists, led by Herbie Mann, claim that jazz is "in limbo" with regard to its placement on the American musical scene. In particular, they are seeking, from the standpoint of their membership in ASCAP, what they feel should be a more equitable distribution of performance fees, contending that ASCAP is not fully monitoring their music on jazz radio, with special emphasis on FM outlets.

In a letter mailed to individuals who will be up for election to the ASCAP board this week, Leonard S. Mietus of Mietus Copyright Management, states: "While this office could single out several jazz composers, we will simply illustrate the case of one, namely . . . Herbie Mann. Herbie has perhaps 250 compositions with ASCAP, virtually 99% of them are recorded. There are no less than 40 albums on the market featuring the top flutist—Herbie Mann. While Mann's works are performed on local and FM stations throughout the nation, the usual ASCAP statements indicates a pick-up of perhaps five or six titles under the monitoring system. Unless Herbie comes up with a monumental hit—like "Memphis Underground"—his earnings are incredibly low via ASCAP. Paradoxically, his earnings from Atlantic Records are incredibly high, quarter after quarter. It is our contention that a writer and publisher like Herbie Mann does not share properly in the society's revenue."

In another example, set forth to Paul Adler, distribution manager of ASCAP, Laurie Goldstein of the John Levy management office, states on behalf of jazzist Les McCann: "...I... strongly feel that ASCAP is doing its members a serious injustice by under-rating its contemporary composers."

Mann cites that one of his works, the 30-minute "Concerto Grosso," is weighted by ASCAP in the same manner as a "two minute work." Ironically, Mann adds, if he performed the work as soloist with Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic he would get full 30 minutes credit from ASCAP, since the piece would fall under ASCAP's symphonic weighting formula. "What I'm disturbed about is the use of 1910 (Cont'd on p. 24)

ASCAP, BMI Jazz Comment

ASCAP had the following statement to make with regard to the place of jazz in its monitoring system:

Various formats in terms of musical content are used by radio stations. The ASCAP survey system is designed to reflect the music used in all kinds of formats. The extent to which stations with any particular kind of format come into the sample is commensurate with income received by ASCAP from those stations; thus, the stations with a jazz format come into the sample in proportion to the money received by ASCAP for those stations.

The survey in this form was designed by an independent survey organization—the Joel Dean Associates. FM stations were included in the survey at the beginning and are presently included, and so are stations of any type of format including jazz. The survey is updated each year and, as a matter of fact, it is presently being reviewed as part of a continuing process.

In regard to the special weighting given to symphonic works, this determination was made some years ago and was based on the fact that symphonic works had less frequent access to public performances licensed by the Society than works in more popular idioms—including jazz and jazz-related fields. In addition, it is often difficult to distinguish precisely between jazz and jazz-oriented pop and pop itself. This matter has been reviewed several times and is not closed for future re-evaluation to determine whether some change is appropriate.

BMI Comment

According to a spokesman from BMI, extended jazz works receive multiple credits as long as they are performed in their entirety. "Jazz works have been evaluated with classics as far back as I can remember," the spokesman added.

Settler Exits RCA

NEW YORK—Gene Settler has left his post as vp of marketing at RCA Records. The label did not announce a replacement for Settler.

Pigpen Dies

SAN FRANCISCO—Pigpen, bass player of the Grateful Dead, died last Thurs. (8). Death was attributed to liver failure. He had not toured with the band for some months due to hospitalization from previous liver disorders.

Grammy Winners: Broad Range

NEW YORK — The 15th annual Grammy awards went to a wide range of musical talents. While four artists won dual awards, no pop artist received more than two. RCA Records was associated with nine of the winners, but a total of 17 label groups were honored by at least one statue.

Winners of the Grammy, the recording industry's most highly coveted award, were presented with their awards last week (3) on the Record Academy's CBS television special and at membership presentations simultaneously held in Nashville and Los Angeles.

Eleven of the 15th annual NARAS awards were revealed on "The Grammy Awards Show" presentation, in selected pop, r&b, c&w and classical categories. The remainder were announced at the local NARAS membership banquets.

Accepting her award for best pop female performance, Capitol's Helen Reddy uttered the quote of the evening on the CBS special: "I'd like to thank the people at Capitol. I'd like to thank Jeff Wald—he makes my success possible. And I'd like to thank God, because she makes everything possible." Ms. Reddy received her Grammy for "I Am Woman."

Centralized Music Vending Machine Invented

NEW YORK — An electrical engineer has received a patent for a music vending machine that utilizes master recordings at a central station.

With the device, Patent 3,718,906, the customer puts in his money and selects a particular recording. He then receives a cassette recording of the work he has chosen. According to the inventor, Robert W. Lightner, several companies have expressed interest in the idea.

Interestingly, such a system of obtaining recordings was suggested by Larry Uttal, president of Bell Records, in his keynote address at the recent NARM convention. Part of Uttal's speech speculated on prospects for the year 2001 in the music industry.

Vending machines as such for recordings are not new. There have been illegal devices wherein a customer can make a duplicate of a pre-recorded cartridge after inserting the proper amount of money. But, the new device would be the first to make use of a central bank of recordings outside of the location of the vending unit itself.

Stanton Exits Big 3 To Form Indie Operation

HOLLYWOOD — Allen Stanton, for the past 3 years vp and general manager of Big 3 Music (Robbins-Feist-Miller), has left the operation to enter independent record production. Allen Stanton Productions starts off with Stanton's reuniting with the Sandpipers on A&M, for whom he produced, while exec producer and A&R head of the label, "Come Saturday Morning." Also, he's placed a new group, Nighthawks, with ABC/Dunhill in a deal with label president Jay Lasker. A single is due soon, with an LP to follow.

Stanton has also reactivated two publishing firms he has in partnership with Jerry Moss and Herb Alpert. They are Good Sam Music (BMI) and LaBrea Music (ASCAP). The firms publish material by Emmet Rhodes, Lee Michaels, Larry Marks, Brewer & Shipley and Alan & Marilyn Bergman.

For his production firm, Stanton said he will seek new acts from both the U.S. and Europe.

Besides his 3 year A&R slot with A&M, Stanton held key A&R posts with Columbia Records and Kapp Records.

BACK WHEN MY HAIR WAS SHORT

by Glenn Leopold

Back when my hair was short, I was a white sock sport
Wore pointed shoes and pegged pants
Drank till my eyes were red, hid Playboy neath my bed
Slicked my "D.A." for the dance!

Back when my hair was short, I met some friends in court
For stealing hubcaps from cars
Chain smoking under the stars
Played all night pinball in bars . . .

And dreamed about love, we were experts on love
We talked our way all around it
And even if we had found it, we couldn't respond

Slowly I changed my ways, college and long hair days
Seeing three concerts a week.
And honest-to-God hippie freak, too busy eating to speak . . .

Except about love, we held rallies for love
But no one knew what they stood for
How many months were they good for, the meaning is gone

Soon when my hair is short, I'll make a full report
Of how I came back alive, and what it takes to survive
Wringing the truth out of jive

I'll tell you of love, more than ever it's love
No lack of faith undermines it
Because it's the hope that we'll find it, that makes us go on

Back when my hair was short, I was a white sock sport
Only beer parties till three
College appealed to me, eastern philosophy
Learning to set my mind free . . .

MCA Adds Five Acts 'Building Year' Program

UNIVERSAL CITY—Mike Maitland, president of MCA Records, and Artie Mogull, vice president in charge of artist acquisition and development, have signed five major artists as part of MCA's "new artist development program for 1973." MCA launched the program by pacting the Persuasions, Martha Reeves, Toni Brown, Blue Mink, and Lee Clayton.

Song Nominee Set For Oscar Voting

HOLLYWOOD — After a delay occasioned by the disqualification of Curtis Mayfield's "Freddie's Dead" from "Super Fly" (because the lyric was not used on the soundtrack), the music branch of the film world's Academy last week was finally able to announce the five songs nominated for an Oscar this year. They are:

"Ben" from the movie of the same name, a Cinerama release, music by Walter Scharf and lyrics by Don Black.

"Come Follow, Follow Me" from the Robert Radnitz production "The Little Ark," music by Fred Karlin with lyrics by his wife, using the professional name Tylwyth Kymry.

"Marmalade, Molasses & Honey" from "The Life and Times of Judge Roy Bean," music by Maurice Jarre, lyrics by Marilyn and Alan Bergman.

"The Morning After" from Irwin Allen's "The Poseidon Adventure," music and lyrics by Al Kasha and Joel Hirschhorn.

And "Strange Are the Ways of Love" from "The Stepmother," music by Sammy Fain with lyrics by Paul Francis Webster.

The Academy's music branch has yet to announce its nominations in the category of original dramatic score. A rebalancing was called for when part of the "Godfather" score was discovered in an earlier film.

The Oscars will be presented, as previously announced, on March 27 at the Chandler Pavillion in Los Angeles, and broadcast by NBC-TV.

Cohn: Looking For The Communicators of Tomorrow

HOLLYWOOD — With his first four albums in release and a hefty merchandising campaign under way, Larry Cohn took a few minutes last week to reflect on the six months or so he has served as Playboy Records' exec vice president and the role he sees the company playing in today's crowded market.

To the question, why another record company? Cohn replied, "Because there's plenty of room for another creative force in this business, and because there's always a good deal of talent around—and I mean talent of a substantial nature. When it comes to talent, we're very much in the market, looking for the communicators of tomorrow."

Four of them, represented in Playboy's initial release, are an exceptionally "communicative" singer/songwriter named Laurie Kaye Cohen, soul brother Sam Russell, a shouter with jack-hammer drive named Sharon Cash, and a bunch of sturdy rockers known collectively as Brownstone.

"It took us six months to put out this release," Cohn said, "but that's because we're not interested in just making master purchases when we can find artists to build, that is artists who will be viable performers in future years. That's the real key to this business."

Artist Roster Limits

"With the majors seemingly getting bigger and merging into even tol Records, are an a cappella singing group with a repertoire including over 163 songs. They have performed everywhere from subway stations to Lincoln Center's Philharmonic Hall. They have also been together as a group for eight years with no personnel changes. A major concert tour in which the Persuasions will join Lou Reed is currently being planned.

Martha Reeves (of Martha and the Vandellas) is back after devoting a year to assembling a new act and finding a new personal manager. Martha is best remembered for such Top 20 hits as "Come and Get These Memories," "Heat Wave" and "Dancing In The Street." Producer Richard Perry anticipates product in June.

Toni Brown, formerly keyboard player for Joy Of Cooking, has signed with MCA as a solo artist. Toni's songwriting abilities have

Post/Pasin 'Surplus' Deal w/K-Tel

NEW YORK — Carl Post/Don Pasin Organization, Inc. has made an exclusive one year deal with K-Tel, dealing in TV advertised album product, to purchase "surplus" albums from the company.

According to Post, the firm has already purchased one million albums, including K-Tel's "hits" series of polka, pop, country, honky-tonk and fiddle product. The Post-Pasin firm is now selling the product to rack-jobbers. K-Tel, which produces its own albums from sessions obtained from various labels, has grown into a major operation that advertises on TV for product it makes available to chain outlets.

Post was formerly associated with NMC Corp. as vp, and Pasin has previously been associated with Premier Albums and Radiant Cassette. Their firm is located at 1619 Broadway in New York.

larger conglomerates, I feel that many artists today are shying away from them and looking for more personalized treatment elsewhere. And that's where we come in. Even though we're part of a very large company — a world-wide organization, in fact—I want to keep this part of it small and family sized. I don't want the artist roster ever to exceed two dozen, so I can give every artist we come up with a good shot.

"We're putting that roster together now, with the purpose of creating an across-the-board label with artists in every category. Believe me, we're listening to everything that comes in—and we're out there looking. By July we should have a regular release pattern of three LPs a month."

Meanwhile Cohn, backed by the chief of Playboy's overall entertainment program, Sal Iannucci, is in the envious position of being able to draw on the international resources of the parent company. In Iannucci he also has the advantage of working with a man with record experience who can see, in Cohn's words, that "to commit to the record business, as Playboy has, is to commit to a longevity situation. Like any other facet of the entertainment business, it takes time and money. You can't just build a record company in six months or a year."

Motown's Abner Says Label Committed To Indie Dist.

HOLLYWOOD—During a period of widespread criticism leveled at independent distributors, E. G. Abner, II, president of Motown Records, has come out strongly in favor of independent distributors. Abner made his statement at a specially called meeting of Motown distributors in Los Angeles following the NARM convention held in that city.

"Independent manufacturers and independent distributors working in unison have helped build the great industry we have today. The independents opened up this industry to new creative talent and new entrepreneurs." Abner continued, "I don't think any of us want to go back to the days when four or five companies controlled the business and the total volume was less than one hundred million dollars."

Warning

Abner warned that an independent distributor today would survive only if he delivered a full range of top quality promotion and distribution services. But those distributors who will deliver top quality service are essential to the continued growth of the industry as a whole.

Abner said, "Top quality distributors helped build Motown and those are the distributors to whom we want to deliver the top quality product in which we are going to invest huge sums this year."

Labels Win State Juris. In Pirate Suit

NEW YORK — The 10th Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals has reversed a Federal judge's order refusing a motion by a group of labels to keep a pirate action under state court jurisdiction and vacating a temporary injunction.

Last Nov., R. A. Ridges Distributing, Inc. and Tape Head Co. of Salt Lake City sought to have the action transferred from a state court to a Federal District Court, and were successful. Upon appeal, the labels have won state jurisdiction in the case and have had re-instated a temporary injunction against the defendants.

Julian Abeles, Music Lawyer Dies At 80

NEW YORK — Julian T. Abeles, the lawyer who dealt in music copyrights for 50 years, died here last week (6) in Presbyterian Hospital at the age of 80.

As a senior partner in the law firm of Abeles & Clark, Abeles had been active in recent years in the industry's fight against recording piracy as counsel the Harry Fox Agency, the music publisher representative, and the Music Publishers Association.

In 1924, Abeles gained attention by winning a plagiarism suit by the writers and publishers of "Dardenella," who claimed that the Jerome Kern song, "Kalua," had copied the bass style of the hit.

Abeles also represented The Big 3 (Robbins-Feist-Miller) Music and E. B. Marks Music. He was also a member of the panel established by the Library of Congress to revise the Copyright Act, and was a trustee of the Copyright Society of the U.S.

Abeles is survived by his wife, Rose, and two granddaughters.

Gaye, Smokey Robinson, Rare Earth, The Supremes, Eddie Kendricks, David Ruffin, Junior Walker, The Miracles, and others, Motown, according to Abner, expects to have the strongest album and single lineup in the company's history. He also told the distributors, "those are the sure things on which we expect your maximum effort. We also have some incredible new talent which we expect you to help us break. If we can do those things together, we will all be strong."

Abner indicated that there would be "no more free rides" for anybody associated with Motown. "We will release only quality product," he said, "and we expect maximum effort for every release."

Abner expressed concern about the trend toward larger companies and conglomerates in the industry wiping out competition and the opportunity for the small man.

ABC/ Dunhill Consolidates Publishing Div.

HOLLYWOOD — Eddie Lambert, general manager of ABC/Dunhill Publishing, has announced this week the immediate consolidation of all its publishing companies into one ASCAP and one BMI firm.

In essence, the move will incorporate all songs that were previously controlled by Trousdale Music Publishers, Inc., Pamco Music, Inc., Westpar Music Corp., and Porgie Music, Inc., into ABC/Dunhill Music, Inc. (BMI) Those songs that have been copyrighted through Wingate Music Corp. and Ampeco Music, Inc., will now be incorporated into American Broadcasting Music Inc. (ASCAP)

One of the major benefits seen by shifting into this new formation is the ease with which any song can be identified as falling under the umbrella of ABC/Dunhill Publishing. It will also clarify the total control and strength of the company.

Jerry Blaine Dies At 62

NEW YORK — Jerry Blaine, for many years a leading figure on the indie label scene, died of a heart attack at his home on Long Island, N.Y. on Sat. Mar. 3. He was 62.

Blaine, a former bandleader, was president of the Jubilee/Josie group of labels, which fell under the tag of Jubilee Industries as his company diversified into such areas as record pressing. His company owned Monarch, a large west coast pressing plant which was eventually sold to Viewlex, Inc.

Blaine also made his mark in the distribution area, being a pioneer in the setting up of a branch concept. Cosnat Distributing, for an indie label. At one time, there were nine Cosnat offices around the country.

The Jubilee label made its mark with a series of "Bloopers" albums, consisting of "goofs" made by various radio and TV personalities. His company also sold millions of LP's by "blue" comedienne Rusty Warren. In the pop field, Jubilee/Josie registered with hits by Don Rondo, the Tokens, the Happenings, among others. Blaine retired from the business several years ago.

Blaine is survived by his wife, Anne, his son, Steve, two daughters, his father, Harry Block, and two brothers, Ben and Elliot. A funeral service was held on Monday, Mar. 5, at the Nassau North Chapels in Great Neck, N.Y.

U.K. Label U.S. Office; Wardell Named Gen. Mgr.

NEW YORK—Jonathan King, President of UK Records world-wide, has announced the opening of the company's American headquarters in New York. UK Records, distributed exclusively by London Records in the U.S. and Canada, has also announced the appointment of Don Wardell, former promo manager for the British Decca group of labels, as general manager. Shirley Jones will assist Wardell.

Wardell was chief announcer for Radio Luxembourg from 1963-1970 prior to joining British Decca. Shirley Jones worked at Abkco for 18 months in New York, prior to which she was assistant to the head of the BBC's Radio One.

In the six months that UK Records has been in existence in England, it claims to have achieved fourth place in sales against all other British labels. In a five month period of time U.K. Records has sold 3,000,000 singles. According to London Records, a special promo push is to be done on the label's latest releases, which are "Shotgun Wedding" by Roy C and "April Love" by eleven year old Ricky Wilde.

Court Orders GFR Concert Money Held

SAVANNAH, GA. — The United States Federal Court has ordered the City of Savannah to deposit with the Court approximately $31,000 representing monies derived from the performance of Mark Farner, Donald Brewer, Melvin Schacher at the Savannah Civic Center Auditorium.

At the same time, Federal Judge Lawrence dismissed the City of Savannah as a defendant in the trademark infringement case filed by Terry Knight and GFR Enterprises, Ltd. against the City, the performers, and Andy Cavaliere and ordered the lawsuit to be continued in the New York Federal Court.

"While it is true that Judge Lawrence dismissed the City of Savannah in the case, his honor, directed the City of Savannah not to pay the performers and promoters the sum of approximately $31,000 and the lawsuit has been transferred to the New York Federal District Court for adjudication," commented Knight from Savannah.

Col Caster: 'Night Music'

New York — Columbia Records has announced plans to record the original score of Harold Prince's production, "A Little Night Music." The Broadway musical, starring Glynis Johns, Len Cariou and Hermione Gingold will be recorded next week at Columbia's 30th Street studios and produced by Goddard Lieberson. Lieberson, a pioneer in the field of original cast and soundtrack, recording for the label with such classic LPs as South Pacific, My Fair Lady and The Sound of Music is returning to producing after a brief hiatus.

Written by Hugh Wheeler, "A Little Night Music" is based on Ingmar Bergman's film, "Smiles Of A Summer Night." Set in Sweden at the turn of the century, the show features words and music by Stephen Sondheim, the winner of last year's Tony Award for his score for "Follies." In the past, Lieberson and Sondheim have collaborated on such best selling Broadway score LPs as Gypsy, Company, Anyone Can Whistle, Do I Hear A Waltz and West Side Story.

The purpose of the disk is to answer questions about the company for those already interested and to acquaint others with this new operation. Mancini RCA Veep Of Promo

NEW YORK — Frank Mancini has been appointed vice president of promotion by RCA Records.

Mort Hoffman, vice president of commercial operations, said that in the newly created position, Mancini will continue to direct the national activities of RCA Records' field promo staff, national promo and artists, and will take on the added responsibility for the development and implementation of a commercial plan for all RCA recorded product. The appointment is effective immediately.

Mancini joined RCA Records in 1970 as director of promo. Immediately prior to joining RCA, he had been vice president of the Lionel Entertainment Corp., in which capacity he had established a production company, a management company, two publishing firms and a record company, whose product he then promoted and sold.

Before joining Lionel, he had been director of promo for MCA, Inc., for a year.

Previous to that, he was with MGM Records for a number of years, serving in several sales and promo positions, and finally becoming director of promo and artists relations.

1st Elektra Album In Quad

HOLLYWOOD — Elektra Records is readying its first quad releases since adopting the JVC CD-4 discrete system a few weeks ago.

Existing tapes of "The Best of Judy Collins," "The Best of Bread," "The Best of the New Seekers," "The Best of the Doors," "No Secrets," and "Stardrive with Bob Mason," are all being mixed to quad.

Bruce Morgan, Elektra chief engineer, has expanded recording studio A to accommodate the label's quadraphonic entry with a full-pannelled 16-Buss system. "It's a full-house quad, set-up," emphasized Morgan.

Malamud OK

Jules Malamud, the executive director of NARM who just renewed his six year contract for that position, reported last week that the reason he didn't attend the awards dinner (the convention's concluding event) was not due to illness, as erroneously rumored, but simply because as Jules disclosed, he had worked two consecutive weeks sans sleep and was actually ordered to bed by his doctor for exhaustion.

NEW YORK — David Geffen, president of Asylum Records, has announced that Jerry Sharell has been appointed general manager of Asylum Records.

In his new position, Sharell will work directly with Geffen, involved in all areas of Asylum's operations. To be based in Asylum's headquarters in Los Angeles, Sharell will occupy his new offices beginning March 12.

Brown said he was not at liberty to divulge his future plans.

WB Music To Open Office In Nashville

LOS ANGELES — Warner Bros. Music has announced that the company will open a Nashville office on or about April 1.

Ed Silvers, president of Warner Bros. Music, stated, "We have been planning the adjacent move into the Nashville market for quite a while now but waited for what we thought was the proper time. Understanding the growing need of the Nashville community, we feel our catalog will lend itself perfectly to any and all country and pop recording presently being undertaken in the south."

Heading the new Warner's office will be Johnny Slate, seven year vet of the music industry. Slate spent two years as professional manager at Tree International and as a writer he's had songs recorded by major Nashville artists including Johnny Cash, The Carter Family, Tammy Wynette and George Jones, David Houston, Kenny Price, Del Reeves, Michael Parks and the Hillside Singers. Most recently Slate was vice president of Windchime Productions, an indie production company.

Slate is expected to be in Los Angeles for one week for meetings with Silvers and Mel Bly, exec vice president of the company.

Belkin Atlantic W. Coast Op. Dir

NEW YORK — Jerry Greenberg senior vice president and general manager for Atlantic Records has announced that Herb Belkin had been appointed director of west coast operations for the company.

For the past three years, Belkin has served with Capitol Records, first as director of eastern operations, and finally as general manager for A&R. In the latter capacity, he was responsible for signing many groups to the label, including Raspberries, Ten Wheel Drive and the re-signing of Grand Funk Railroad.

Mr. Belkin's new position with Atlantic will entail supervision of all areas of West Coast operations, including sales, promotion, advertising, publicity and A&R activities.

Karen Williams To New RCA Post In Promo

NEW YORK—Karen Williams has been appointed trade paper liaison/college promotion coordinator at RCA Records, according to Frank Mancini, vice president of promo, to whom she will report.

Ms. Williams joined RCA Records in June of 1971 in the A & R department. In Oct. of 1971, she joined the promo department, where she worked with Tom Cossie, manager of national album promo.

Knight Signs 'Mystery' Group For Management

NEW YORK — Terry Knight has undertaken the exclusive, world-wide personal management of a rock group presently known as "Faith," whose identity will not be disclosed until at least after the release of their first album under a new group name.

Knight made no announcement regarding a label affiliation for the group's first new LP, due, he said, "to certain contractual details which must be worked out first by the lawyers."

It is known, however, that Knight has been commuting between his Nassau, Bahamas home and London, where he has been seen with various members of some of England's biggest groups.

He said that in negotiating with members of the group they had asked him—and then made part of the contract signing—that he not reveal their names or their past.

The new signing for Knight is his first managerial venture since he signed the Grand Funk Railroad three years ago this month. He does not manage Mom's Apple Pie, heard on his Brown Bag label.

15th Annual Grammy Awards

record of the year award (for "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," which also brought an award to writer Ewan MacColl as song of the year) and the award for best pop performance by a duo with Donny Hathaway (for "Where Is The Love?"). Atlantic's Aretha Franklin also was doubly honored: as top female r&b vocalist (for the LP, "Young, Gifted And Black") and as best soul gospel performer (for the LP, "Amazing Grace").

The Temptations received two awards connected with their Gordy recording "Papa Was A Rolling Stone": best r&b vocal performance and best r&b instrumental performance. The work also brought writing honors to Barrett Strong and Norman Whitfield as the best r&b song of the year.

Conductor Georg Solti won three awards in the classical category: His London recording of Mahler's Symphony 8 in E-flat Major (which garnered an engineering award for Gordon Parry and Kenneth Wilkinson) was cited as the classical album of the year and as the best classical choral performance. Solti also won in the best classical performance by an orchestra category for his performance of Mahler's Symphony #7.

Repeat Winners

Five musicians were honored in the same category this year as they were at the 14th annual presentation last year. Aretha Franklin (Atlantic) duplicated her prior success in the female r&b vocal category. Chess' Muddy Waters once again walked away with top honors in the ethnic category (this year for his "The London Muddy Waters Session). Columbia's Vladimir Horowitz once again was honored as best classical instrumental soloist and Duke Ellington duplicated his prowess in the big band jazz category. Composer Michel Legrand once again was honored as the writer of the best pop instrumental work (this year for "Brian's Song").

Enterprise's Isaac Hayes, who was cited for last year's "Shaft" won another Grammy this year for his "Black Moses" LP as the best pop instrumental performance by an arranger, composer and choral leader. Charley Pride (RCA) added to his Grammy awards from last year by being cited as the best male c&w vocalist.

A total of 17 label groups were represented in the list of 47 Grammy awards. RCA led the pack with nine awards (one of which went to their custom label, Wooden Nickel); Atlantic garnered seven and the Columbia/Epic group received five (two for the mother label, and one each for Philadelphia International Monument, and Stax-affiliated Enterprise).

London walked off with four awards while the Famous group (represented by one each for Dot, Blue Thumb and Paramount), Phonogram (as represented by two for Mercury and one for Philips) and Gordy/Motown all were honored with three awards each. Warner Bros. received two Grammys as did Capitol (one of which honored Angel). Eight additional label groups each received one award: United Artists, Apple, A&M, CTI, Chess, Bell, Polydor and MCA (Uni).

Balloting

Winners of the Grammy are determined each year on the basis of two rounds of balloting by the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences, whose more than 3,000 voting members, all actively engaged in the creative aspects of recording, are distributed through six chapters in Atlanta, Chicago, Los Angeles, Memphis, Nashville, and New York. Tabulating is done in utmost secrecy by the independent accounting firm of Haskins & Sells.

Phonogram Intro Tom T. Hall To NY

CHICAGO — Phonogram, Inc., is sponsoring and promoting a concert by Tom T. Hall Mar 15 at Carnegie Hall. This will mark Hall's first official appearance in New York.

Phonogram has rented Carnegie for the date, and is handling all advertising and marketing aspects. This includes in-store and city-wide outdoor poster campaign announcing the concert plus advance mailers to key store accounts in the New York City area. There will also be a press party before the show at the Mercury Studios adjacent to Carnegie Hall. The show will coincide with the release of Hall's new album, "The Rhymer and Other Five and Dimers." According to Phonogram vice president, A&R, Charlie Fach, "We feel Tom T. can gain acceptance with the entire pop audience. This is why we are presenting him in the best possible setting in terms of media exposure."

Representatives from rock, country and trade magazines, the New York daily newspapers, plus contemporary and country radio stations, will be attending the concert. Phonogram is also flying in several major writers for the show.

Although primarily known as a country music artist, Hall had a Top 40 hit a year ago with "The Year Clayton Delaney Died" on the Mercury label. He was recently named Country Music Artist of the Year by Rolling Stone, Songwriter of the Year by the Songwriters Association of Nashville, and was awarded a grammy earlier this month for Best Liner Notes by NARAS.

Even though Carnegie Hall marks his first scheduled New York appearance, Hall performed "unofficially" there a few months ago.

Also appearing with Tom T. Hall at Carnegie Hall will be another Mercury artist, Mike Seeger.

Picks of the Week

CARLY SIMON (Elektra 45843)

The Right Thing To Do (2:57) (Quackenbush, ASCAP—Simon)

It's not going to be an easy task to follow up "You're So Vain," but this seems to be the natural successor. As usual, fine vocals and a most interesting set of lyrics will set this one spinning to the very top of the national charts. Flip: "We Have No Secrets" (3:57) (same credits)

BILLY PAUL (Phila. Int'l 3526)

Am I Black Enough For You (3:19) (Mighty Three, BMI—Gamble, Huff)

"Me & Mrs. Jones" was just the beginning of a sensational pop career for Billy Paul who proves his worth with another number one candidate culled from his debut album. This one is sure to go all the way to the top of both pop and r&b charts in no time at all. Flip: "I'm Gonna Make It This Time" (4:23) (Mighty Three, BMI—Lang, Sigler)

LOGGINS & MESSINA (Columbia 45815)

Thinking Of You (2:17) (Jasperilla, ASCAP—Messina)

Switching from the rock 'n roll format of their "Your Mama Don't Dance" smash to the overly commercial "Thinking Of You," the new Columbia super duo will most certainly sustain their current chart popularity. This is going to be one to watch in the coming weeks. Flip: No info. available.

THE PARTRIDGE FAMILY (Bell 45-336)

Friend And A Lover (2:29) (Screen Gems/Columbia, BMI—Farrell, Janssen, Hart)

Culled from their highly successful "Notebook" album, David Cassidy and his musical TV family rock it up with another top 40 contender sure to please their legions of fans and plenty of programmers. Immediate sales is a certainty. Flip: No info. available.

DON MCLEAN (United Artists XW 206 W)

If We Try (3:29) (Yahweh Tunes, BMI—McLean)

Follow up to "Dreidel" finds McLean back in his "Vincent" bag of soft, poetic music with a certain magic that will spark immediate sales in both pop and MOR areas. This disk will increase McLean's ever growing following. Flip: No info. available.

TIMMY THOMAS (Glades 601)

People Are Changin' (3:20) (Sherlyn, BMI—Thomas)

Timmy Thomas, the one man band, returns with a brand new single follow up to his million selling "Why Can't We Live Together." As was the case with his prior outing, the accent is on Thomas' lyrical message which brings home a most important point. Looks like another immediate success. Flip: "Rainbow Power" (3:05) (same credits)

HONEY CONE (Hot Wax 7301)

If I Can't Fly (3:23) (Gold Forever, BMI—Bond, Perry)

It's been some time since Honey Cone have had as sensational a record as this. All the excitement necessary to make this outing a chart contender are present. Honey Cone will soon be returning to both the pop and r&b charts to stay as soon as this one gets around. Flip: No info. available.

TOMMY LEONETTI (Columbia 45807)

Wasn't It Nice In New York City (2:54) (Colgems, ASCAP—Gold)

Priceless ballad will soon make its way on to many MOR and pop playlists, as one listening seems to tell you that this one could become a giant record. Fine vocal delivery highlights this outing destined for immediate programming. Flip: No info. available.

Newcomer Picks

BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN (Columbia 45805)

Blinded By The Light (3:58) (Sioux City, ASCAP—Springsteen)

Newcomer Bruce Springsteen is building himself quite an underground following, but the release of this single will bring in the light of day. Sounding much like early Dylan, but especially like "My Back Pages," artist lets loose with a lyrical barrage of images and pictures. Disk is definitely worthy of pop consideration. Flip: No info. available.

SYLVIA (Vibration 521)

Pillow Talk (3:41) (Gambi, BMI—Robinson, Burton)

Record is already breaking in major r&b markets, and could easily muster up enough strength to cross over into pop field as well. Highly reminiscent of the Spinners' "Could It Be I'm Falling In Love" track, it looks as though Sylvia will have a huge hit on her hands in the weeks to come. Flip: No info. available.

HOLLYWOOD—THE WORLD IS A GHETTO AND FAR OUT IS IN IT'S NORTHERN HEMISPHERE

"Der em gold in dem ghettos," and all you have to do to find it is to wait, "The World Is a Ghetto" and sell over a million copies as United Artists recording group War recently did. When reliable Webster defines the word ghetto as "a quarter of a city in which members of a minority group live because of social, legal, or economic pressure," this definition ironically enough applies to War's aegis Far Out Productions. It's originators Jerry Goldstein and Steve Gold formed the company when the two of them found out that they had become their own outre minority group. This is the story of how two disparate people, totally unrelated and from different backgrounds, hap to form a minority group, somewhat motivated by economic pressure, and take two universal aversions "war" and "ghetto" and transform them into a money-making enterprise.

It all began when Jerry Goldstein was persuaded to leave New York by then newly formed Uni Records. Jerry didn't need to come west to prospect for gold since he had already garnered his share writing songs for Freddy Canon, Dee Dee Sharp, Chubby Checker, Dion, Jerry Butler, Pat Boone, Bobby Vee, the Belmonts, and the Monkees. He also produced the McCoys, the Angels, and Every Mothers Son. Nevertheless he sojourned to California and to Uni Records, whose motto at that time boasted "It's happening at Uni," unfortunately it never quite happened during Jerry's tenure. He produced a few of Uni's early hits like "In the Midnight Hour" and "The Flower Children," but Uni's rainbow at that time was predominantly red and that's when Steve Gold entered the pernicious picture.

Steve was a comedy writer turned accountant who was sent by MCA, figuratively, in a midnight hour with wreath in hand to close up Uni Records. When he arrived to play "coroner," as he calls it, Uni was experiencing it's first big success "In-cense and Peppermints." This record had been a purchased master and not something Jerry had produced. It was while Steve waited around, ledger in hand, to see what would happen that he met Jerry Goldstein. The two of them, as they recalled, were in a state of ambiguity over what their functions were to be. Steve kept his hearse parked overtime while Jerry remained quiescent to see just what would resolve. They tallied, "Our first venture together was to leave."

WAR

They first became poster moguls via their company, The Visual Thing. The inception of Far Out Productions can partially be attributed to some pretty pillow peddlers whose pillow talk spoke of Eric Burdon seeking representation. Shortly thereafter Eric Burdon and War (largely comprised of a rhythm section who backed Deacon Jones) emerged and helped launch Far Out. That was three gold albums ago. Eric became abeyant due to contractual litigation and found a sort of amnesty in Far Out assuming other duties until his own "burdon" has been properly dealt with. His inauguration to the far-out minority was honed by legal pressure. During the interview, this poignant artist, responsible for over ten gold albums, sat disenchantedly mapping out a camping trip to Mexico, where he planned to go just to get away and spill the wine, until the whole consternating affair blows over.

Another elite member of the minority is Murray Roman, the comedian, who possibly felt the pressure of being socially ahead of his time. He is now assisting the career of Far Out pactee Jimmy Weatherspoon, who will be announcing a record deal soon. Far Out's fourth member is Terry McVay, who oversees all of the bookings for War.

There's always at least one of those divergent patriarchs, either Steve or Jerry, who accompanies the group on the road to make sure things go smoothly and to see just who is War's audience. Steve opined it's everyone from Joe Namath to twelve-year-old teeny boppers. One thing is for sure, the group has a lot of fans proven by their new single, "The Cisco Kid," which preshipped a million copies.

Goldstein and Gold (their last names alone demarcate their achievement in the record industry) have come a long way since their first company, The Visual Thing. They have also since become masters of the audio thing. If indeed the world is a ghetto, and we are all coinhabitants, then the most desirable solution is to produce records a la Far Out Productions and to saunter through it's domain with the jingle of coin in our pockets and the jangle of toe tapping soul in our hearts.

NEW YORK—WILLIE MITCHELL: THE MIDAS TOUCH

When Willie Mitchell's name is mentioned to the average Al Green fan—the fan who will wear out more than one copy of, "Look What You've Done For Me," "How Can You Mend A Broken Heart," or "I'm Still In Love With You"—in many cases, the fan just responds with a kind of quizzical look, inquiringly, "Well, who the hell is Willie Mitchell?" Explaining that Willie Mitchell is a musician, a recording artist in his own right, writer and an arranger; also the vice president of Hi-Records usually will not prompt too much of a reaction. But, mention Willie Mitchell as the producer of Al Green records and the quizzical look suddenly turns to a rapturous smile. Anyone or anything closely associated with Al will make a fan fall out.

Taking absolutely nothing away from Al Green who exploded onto the '70's musical arena as one helluva super-cool Black vocalist, and who also has had a tremendous impact on the total musical scene it is to Willie Mitchell that much credit must be given for putting together the sound and style that has hurled Al Green into his ranking status as a super-soul star.

Willie says, "Al is 'the Preacher', if he decided to pursue the profession, he would be right at home in a pulpit". Of his singing ability and talent, "Al is truly a great artist who can sing any song and anything in the world." This is exemplary of the respect and admiration Willie has for Al. On the other hand, Al feels the same admiration for Willie. Al seldom fails to let his audiences know that Willie Mitchell is his producer.

Paying Ones dues

For both of these men, success was not achieved easily. There was plenty of frustration, heartache and years of grinding it out at gigs throughout the country.

For Willie Mitchell, in particular, things really began in 1959 when Joe Cuoghi and partners set up a label called Hi, Joe also brought Mitchell into the fold. A building in South Memphis, which had been a local movie house (and the engraved name 'Royal' is still visible on the front, although the marquee is gone) was converted into a recording studio and in '59 the studio opened with one track facilities. It was also in May of the same year that Walt Maguire, then serving as London Records sales chief, announced to the trade that a rockabilly single, "I'm So Lonely" b/w "I'll Be Alright" by Jay B. Loyd, on Hi, was to be distributed by London, and the Hi label is still being distributed by London. Joe Cuoghi, (who died in '70) was responsible for the singing of Bill Black's Combo to the newly formed label. Bill was one of the original members of the combo that backed Elvis Presley. As Presley's fame grew, personal appearances began to diminish. Bill, a play-by-ear guitarist struck out on his own and Cuoghi recognized Black's talent. The Bill Black combo, produced by Cuoghi, came up with many instrumental hits. The label did come up with three gold records in the beginning and then went cold as an iceberg.

Meanwhile, Mitchell was getting his thing together. Willie began playing trumpet at age eight, and he studied music through school and later took advanced studies in theory, counterpoint and arranging.

Aside from his trumpet artistry, Willie's talent allows him to handle a trombone, sax, mellophone and keyboards. When Willie and his Combo were not out on gigs or putting it together at a local nitespot, especially during the Sixties, Willie was doing his thing at countless recording sessions. Sessions that had him in Detroit, New York, Nashville or anywhere the Mitchell horn and style was needed. He was on many of the Bobby Bland sessions. He also cut the first Carla Thomas on Stax. But, it was the Hi studio that was his major concern.

To put the record straight, tho, it was not all records and music for Mitchell. There was the period of time when Willie worked in a repair plant, repairing useful items such as, refrigerators, television sets, radios and what have you. The 8-6 job was also sandwiched with a 8-4 gig. He would rush home, a neat-2 story brick house where he spent some 18 years of his life, greet his wife, Anne, their two daughters and a step-son; have his dinner and be off to the gig. Arriving home after 4 a. m. allowed him enough time for forty winks, and, presto, it was time to leave for the plant. (By the way Willie and Anne, are grandparents, two boys and they're both adored most of the time, says Willie.

It is his limitless energy, his experiences, coupled with his talent and love for the studio that has made Mitchell one of the most knowledgeable record producers of today. He can and does put it all together, from the very inception of the idea for a record, right on through to the mother laquer and the final pressing.

1968 was a turning point for Hi Records and Willie Mitchell. Willie rode into

Ovation Launches 'Sound' Series For Quad LP Market

HOLLYWOOD — Ovation records, a pioneer in quad disk sound, is launching a series of quad sound effects albums. Dick Schory, president of the label, says he plans to have a total of 15 albums in the series before the end of the year, with the first five set for release in the near future. They include "Sounds of Nature," "Sounds of Today & Tomorrow" and

"Sounds of the Road."

In addition to the "sounds" line, Schory is laying claim to the first $6.98 list double-pocket quad album, "Hugo Montenegro's Hollywood Gold, Vols. 1 and 2."

Schory's new quad "sounds" line recalls his "sound" efforts during the early days of stereo. In the mid-50's, he was involved in the first stereo demonstration product for many of the leading hifi manufacturers when stereo was only available in open-reel configuration. On the Concert Disk label, he produced one of the first stereo LP's, "Re-Percussion." Then at RCA, his stereo LP, "Music for Bang, Baaroom & Harp," was an early stereo success. He went on to become RCA's "sound image" man until the early 60's.

Schory formed Ovation as an all-quad (matrix) label in March of 1969, after having had experimented with quad since early 1961. Today, the Ovation catalog includes a total of 31 albums, available in matrix LP, matrix 8-track cartridge, discrete 8-track cartridge and discrete open-reel. Ovation and its sister label, Black Jazz, plans 20 additional albums by the end of the year.

Meyer, Garcia New A&M Posts

HOLLYWOOD — Creative services vice president Gil Friesen has made two key executive changes in his department.

Bob Garcia, former publicity director of A&M, will immediately assume the newly created position of director of artist relations. He will be helping to co-ordinate communication between the management companies and agencies in relation to their activities with A&M artists. He will also be initiating various communication networks with A&M personnel in the field and artists who are involved in concert tours.

"It is becoming vitally important that we continue to emphasize the need for a highly personalized and meaningful communication with our artists," Friesen said. "Bob's appointment is just another indication of our desire to emphasize our total commitment to our artists in all of our activities at A&M."

Andy Meyer, presently the director of college promotion and artist tours for A&M, will assume the position of director of publicity. He will administer all publicity and public relations functions for the company, while continuing his present involvement with the college market.

semantics about music," Mann says. Mann cited works by such other jazz composers as Cannonball Adderly, Horace Silver and Bill Fisher as falling into a similar problem.

According to Mann, he has received greater royalty payments for his compositions from European societies than he has in the U.S., the birthplace of jazz. Mann feels that jazz is not being accorded fair treatment from radio itself. In bringing his product to pop stations, he's often told to bring it over to the jazz deejay. "But it's a hit, goddamn it," is one of his replies, an all-to-frequent one in Mann's view.

Others from the Columbia classical roster who appeared at Radio City included Monster Concert, the multiple piano ensemble headed by Eugene List. The music performed ranged from Bach and Sousa. Biggs, of course, played Radio City's monumental Mighty Wurlitzer organ, while Newman was part of a chamber orchestra featuring Ani Kavafian and Paula Robison as solo violin and flute, respectively.

NMC's Selter Cites 'Solid Position'

NEW YORK — Jesse Selter, president of NMC Corp. told shareholders at the company's annual meeting here that the record and tape rack jobbing firm is "in solid financial position despite the business temporarily lost through the closing of 21 White Front discount stores on the west coast."

The NMC chief exec, referring to the discontinued operations of 21 out of a total of 72 retail record departments leased from White Front's parent, Interstate Stores Buying Corp., and operated by MNC's Lease & License, Limited subsid, declared that "while the company regrets the loss of volume generated by these stores, we consider the closing of these units as only a temporary setback and are making efforts to fill the gap and move ahead to new growth in the future. We are presently liquidating the inventory of the closed departments and are negotiating with Interstate in anticipation of the resolution of our differences with them." He noted that the 21 record departments represented about $6 million out of a total of more than $21 million in volume reported by NMC in fiscal 1972.

Loggins & Messina Jim Croce

CARNEGIE HALL, NYC — Anyone who still thinks Loggins & Messina is not an act for the masses should have seen the looks on the young little faces at the early concerts during the duo's two-day booking here. The audience for these shows were solidly high school freshman and younger. It is comforting to know that the power of music can force an act's singles onto the AM airwaves. And it is even more comforting to be able to appreciate such an obviously crowd-pleasing contingent on musical merits alone.

The show has to be one of the slickest around. Kenny Loggins opens with acoustic guitar and vocals, gently working the pace up for Jim Messina's entrance, then that of the rest of the band. The Buffalo Springfield alumnus is a perfect contrast to the bearded Loggins—while Kenny jumps like a corn kernel in a popper, Jim rarely moves from his position. The show doesn't look half as visual as it sounds. And the movement in the seats is about as animated as it can get without assuming orgiastic proportions.

In the particular set we caught, they offered up extended versions of both "Angry Eyes" and "Vahevala" as well as the shorter cuts from their two Columbia albums. The inevitable encore of "Your Mama Don't Dance" only showed they were tired around the edges. At the heart of the matter, Loggins & Messina are the eternal goodtime band that knows just how to keep it that way.

Dunhill's Jim Croce took some time getting to the crowd. Or actually, they took some time getting into him. Opening for L&M is a mixed blessing—and only an act as persistently entertaining as Croce's can reap the benefits.

Accompanied by the ever-improving back-up of Mauhy Muehlheisen, Jim eventually brought a positive reaction out of L&M-fixated young-uns with his hits "Operator" and "You Don't Mess Around With Jim" as well as songs from his new "Life & Times" LP like "Roller Derby Queen." He didn't receive a simple encore—he was forced back.

And the children went home humming songs from both acts. So don't sell them short. The kids are alright.

Jackie & Roy

RAINBOW GRILL, NY — When it came to cool group vocal sounds in the 50's, names like Lambert, Hendricks & Ross, the Hi-Lo's and, of course, Jackie & Roy (Krall) come to mind. Well, the latter duo is still very much into this now rare pop artform, and doing it as well as ever. Recording now for the hot CTI label, Jackie & Roy are making a month-long engagement at this night-spot atop the RCA Building, and they're plying their vocal wares with an engaging informality, not to mention uniformly good taste. Ranging wide in material—from the Gershwins' "They Can't Take That Away from Me," from "mother trunk" as Jackie puts it—to John Sebastian's "Magical Connections," a charming piece about love being well as the pair perform with an ease and good-nature that never sounds forced or stagy. Two other standout selections are Leonard Bernstein's "Simple Song" ("Anything but," notes Roy) from his "Mass" and the appreciative duo hit by Roberta Flack and Donny Hathaway, "Where is the Love." A group of four fine young and cool musicians backup, with Roy also on electric piano, Jackie & Roy make the cool 50's sound as contemporary as ever.

Blood, Sweat & Tears Bruce Springsteen

SANTA MONICA CIVIC — It's not everyday that a star is born, especially in the opinions of weary judgemental critics, but last week this auspicious event took place and the crowd who had actually come to hear Blood, Sweat & Tears was "blinded by the light" of brilliance demonstrated by new Columbia artist Bruce Springsteen. There he was at the piano, confidently singing his melodic convictions, and it was the audience who was scared. Scared because here was an artist who performed assuredly, who was sometimes whimsical, sometimes strange, but overall quite remarkable, and they didn't know who he was. That was then. That same audience knows about Bruce now, and it's quite possible that Columbia sold close to 2,991 copies of his album, the seating capacity of the civic, after that performance.

He sang a collection of tomorrow's hits including his new single, "Blinded by the Light" culled from his debut LP. Tremendously exciting was his "Spirit in the Night," a song in a Van Morrison genre, which featured Clarence Clemmons on saxophone. C. C. is something to see. He makes that sax come alive. The song that clearly indicated that Bruce is a fresh, resplendent creative force is his Circus Song. Maybe because it's risable, maybe because its exaggerations read true, but mostly it's a fabulously imaginative piece. It's the kind of song that would make his contemporaries envious that they didn't think of it first, or ever for that matter. The question to ponder over Springsteen's future is where can you go when you're a super star from the start?

Next came the headliners with their new lead singer, Jerry Fisher. These forerunners of the jazz/rock idiom are still pleasing audiences with "And When I Die" and "You Made Me So Very Happy" along with newer hallmarks like "I Can't Move No Mountains." Even with new personnel in the nine man group, they manage to live up to the stature of their name. Nevertheless Bruce Springsteen was a hard act even for pros like B,S&T to have to follow.

Stevie Wonder Azteca Finnegan & Wood

SANTA MONICA CIVIC — Three evidently is not a lucky number even for Stevie Wonder, who has done quite well with "Superstition," but even his most loyal votaries must have found it a difficult wait sitting thru two preceding acts, both of which must have thought they were the headliners. Finnegan & Wood, a honky-tonk blues band (no label as yet) seem adept enough as musicians, but their material is plainly jejune. Their enthusiasm for what they were doing was inspiring, and at least they have a good time even if they presently don't seem to offer the same to an audience.

The next act, after a too-long intermission, was Azteca replete with 17 musicians. This latin-oriented act is visually very exciting to watch, but most of their tunes sound like their Columbia hit "Ain't Got No Special Woman." Since that happens to be a particularly good tune, it makes listening to its other variations still enjoyable.

After they encored, and the audience experienced still another resentful respite, Stevie and his back-up group Wonderlove came on stage. Stevie opened by reverberantly singing one, two, three, four (no other lyrics), which must have reminded the audience of nearly as many intermissions they had had or of how many hot dogs each consumed while waiting. Stevie was good, especially on "If You Really Love Me," but was performing before a sold-out crowd whose spirits truly had waned.

Mt. Airy

FOLK CITY, NYC—A crowded room full of press people curious enough to see what two Chapins, one "Duelin' Banjo" and a former record executive-turned performer would sound like as one act were genuinely pleased to discover Mt. Airy—about as smooth a contingent as has ever debuted here. The musical world, in addition to looking for another Beatles, is also seeking another Lovin' Spoonful. This group comes as close as they care to. The overall vocal sound of the band, and their at-ease feel with their country-rock genre proves something special now and indicates an "extra-special" for some time to come.

Bob Hinkle is on lead vocals and guitar, with occasional trips to the mandolin and autoharp. A former exec at Ampex Records (for whom he also recorded a fine solo LP), he is the group member with the most outward thrust of a voice. In the more traditionally mellow department is the lead of Tom Chapin, seen weekly as the host on a very heavy ABC children's show, "Make A Wash." Tom sticks to guitar, and has assumed many of the lead vocals which Bob took on the group's debut LP for Thimble (distributed by Audio Fidelity). This brother of Harry Chapin could well prove the focal point of the quartet—a position which will be a friendly fight to the finish because of the strong individual talents involved.

Tom's brother Steve is the comedian of the group. His harmonies, both straight and falsetto, complete the group's highly identifiable vocal sound. His bass playing is as purposeful, and he also doubles on piano.

Last, but certainly not least—over in the quiet corner—is Eric Weissberg. In the course of the evening, he impressed everyone on fiddle, banjo, electric guitar and pedal steel. The famed bass player from just about any important folk revival disk session you care to name has since gone on to "Duelin' Banjos" fame. He doesn't talk or sing cause he doesn't have to.

In addition to their hit-sounding single "Grizzly Bear," and other strong performers from their LP, they displayed two new and unique originals: "Willie" is a strong country reggae, while "Peanut Butter" came off like a cross between an early Motown winner and a high school cheer.

Mt. Airy is indeed a musical peak of a band.

Muddy Waters Bonnie Raitt Lightnin' Hopkins

CARNEGIE HALL, NYC — Someone in the audience was heard comparing this bill to a cream cheese sandwich on pampernickel. But anyone who doubted that Warner's Bonnie Raitt deserved to share the same stage with two of the world's greatest living bluesmen is now a pessimist-turned-believer. Despite a problematic sound system which simply could not work for her, Ms. Raitt established herself as a supertalent. If superstardom does not follow suit for her, we shall put the latter term in a corner and never speak to it again.

While it has long been established as axiomatic that whites can sing the blues, too many of them hit the stage like they have to construct a copious geometric proof of the theorem. They simply try too hard, imitate beyond any sense of originality or put on airs that reek for miles. Bonnie Raitt may do Sippy Wallace tunes, but she'll do them as Ms. Raitt. She may impress you with her bottleneck, but it's hers and not some memory of days gone by. Accompanied by Freebo on bass, John Hall on guitar and one hell of a blind pianist, Lou Terriciano on magical 88's, Bonnie performed songs from her two LPs to thunderous applause and lovingly rapt attention.

The sight of Texas bluesman Lightnin' Hopkins is a rare treat indeed for New York audiences. While the sound system worked for him, a back-up duo he must have found in some playground on the way to the hall did not. Those who could get into takin' their Lightnin' as it comes were totally satisfied. He opened the show with his unique electric/rural blues and could have played all night.

Muddy Waters has been playing New York quite heavily of late. It looked like this was about to show in his set, for the electricity just wasn't there for the first two numbers. But suddenly, the harp player got the feelin'. Muddy quickly picked it up, zipping it over to the drummer so that the rest of the guys could join in. The Chess artist was recently honored with a Grammy in the "ethnic" category—but considering how much blues is now in the soul of rock fans, we wonder if he shouldn't be considered just plain "music."

Melba Moore

COPA, NYC — Melba Moore, effectively dazzling an opening night audience with quick costume changes—as the orchestra, including strings, held the spotlight, Melba chose a couple of key moments to rush to the off stage dressing room and before the audience, thinking the show was over, got to a standing ovation, Melba quickly reappeared with a different gown, the swiftness of the changes and the pacing of the show made it workable—is a charming soul-lovely with a soul-power voice. She has a wide repertoire and an excellent vocal range. Easily gliding from funky-soul to semi-classical and pop show tunes, Melba turned the audience on with a soul version of the Melanie hit, "Brand New Key". She hadn't worked for a few months, there is no doubting the fact that the gal has talent, and this undoubtedly was the reason for a slow start, but the audience was on her side and as the show progressed it got better and she socked it to her opening night audience. Given the proper material for a soul-pop hit Melba would be welcome toast on any given occasion.

NEW YORK — Buddah Records has made a major realignment of its promo division, leading to promotions and staff additions.

Neil Bogart and Art Kass, co-presidents of the Buddah group, announced the appointment of Buck Reingold to the position of national promotion co-ordinator. Reingold has been with Buddah for the past four years, joining as New York promotion director and subsequently becoming east coast promotion director.

Under the new promo set-up, the country will be divided into four operating arenas: the West, under Stan Najolia; the South, under Wade Conklin; the Midwest, under Bruce Bird; and the North East, under Joe Bilello. Regional and local promotion men will report to national and regional operations directors.

The appointment of regional men is as follows: In the Midwest, Ray Beyda, residing in Chicago; for the West Coast, Jerry Doughman, residing in Los Angeles. Local promo directors include Ken Benson in Detroit, Bob Di Pietro in Hartford, Bruce Shindler in New York and Mike Khotovich in San Francisco.

Buck Reingold

In a parallel set-up, the R&B promotion staff is under the overall direction of Cecil Holmes, vice-president and general manager of all R&B activities. The staff will be guided by R&B promo director Johnny Lloyd, based in Atlanta. Richard Smith, working out of Detroit has been named regional director for the Midwest, with Charlie Knox, handling local promo in the Chicago area. Tom Young has been appointed to cover the Texas region. Additional appointments will be made within the next four weeks.

Album promo for the Buddah Group will continue under the direction of Larry Harris in New York and Mike Berns in L.A., co-ordinating and covering these activities throughout the country.

Reingold's position becomes effective immediately, with Kathi Turo named as Reingold's assistant. In commenting on the new set-up, Reingold stated "Our basic game plan will be one of intense co-ordination, passing on national information to our operating directors, regional and local promotion men, who in turn will be able to supply current information to their radio station outlets."

Reingold continued, "We have a promotion staff of 17 people working exclusively for the Buddah Group, and that number will be increased to 21 within the next four weeks. Furthermore, there are additional promotion representatives assigned to cover the individual labels distributed by the Buddah Group, and we are also receiving strong support from the local promo men engaged by our independent distributors."

The artists relations department is headed by Ron Weisner, vice president, and assisted by Fran Bivona. Each of the promo reps will continue to coordinate all appearances with Weisner as well as Buddah's publicity department.

MCA Signings

long been noted and according to Los Angeles Times critic, Robert Hilburn, she "has become one of the most valuable writers in contemporary pop music." MCA predicts a July release for Toni's first LP.

May will bring the first album release by Blue Mink. They currently have a smash single in England titled "By the Devil," which will be released in the States this week. Roger Cook and Madeline Bell are Blue Mink's lead artists. Roger Cook, along with Roger Greenaway wrote the hit single "I'd like To Teach the World To Sing." He currently has a single on Buddah's Kama Sutra label titled, "If It Wasn't For the Reason."

Lee Clayton, whose various hit songs out of Nashville include Waylon Jennings' "Ladies Love Outlaws," will debut for MCA in mid-July. Clayton is a Kris Kristofferson discovery and will be produced by Mentor Williams. Williams also produced the new Dobie Gray hit single "Driftaway" from the recently released MCA LP.

Commented Maitland: "We are extremely pleased with these acquisitions, not only as a display of a wide diversity of sales potential but also as the beginning of 1973 as our 'building year.' Extensive marketing, promotion and sales programs will be developed by Rick Frio, Pat Pippo and Vince Cosgrave relative to the release of these artists' product. With Artie's incredible talent for finding talent and MCA's enthusiasm for our 'building year,' the future looks brighter than ever."

At six, my old alarm clock rang
 I was half asleep and thinkin' it's the telephone
 No fightin' for a shower and a shave with real hot water
 Since I live alone.
 The covers kept me warm last night
 No hasslin'
 And I wasn't crowded off the bed
 I even had a real hot meal for breakfast
 Made of warm beer and a cigarette.

I'm O.K. you're O.K.
 And everything is fine
 We run into each other

And we say it ev'ry time
 But, I've got a funny feelin'
 That the two of us are lyin'
 If I'm O.K. and you're O.K.
 Then why have we both been cryin'

At work my friends all slap me on the back
 And tell me how I ought to celebrate
 They'd love to join me
 But their wives have dinner on the stove
 And want 'em home by eight.
 I stopped in at the liquor store
 And bought myself some canned food and a jug of wine.
 I got home and made some dinner

And aside from ptomaine poisoning
 I'm doing fine.
 (Chorus)
 There's no one here to try and change
 The channel at the halftime on a football fan.
 And I get to read the paper
 And I didn't have to fish it from the garbage can.
 Nights are long in empty beds
 And Johnny Carson's never gonna take your place.
 I think it's time to tell the truth
 And hope you feel the same next time we're Face to face.

Warning Issued On Use Of Glenn Miller Name

NEW YORK—The Glenn Miller Estate has issued a warning against the use of the name of the late bandleader, in connection with a musical organization, without its expressed consent.

David Mackay, exec of the estate and attorney for Glenn Miller Productions, Inc., issued the warning, following attempts to identify the name of Glenn Miller with a proposed new orchestra.

The most recent concerns a report of the revival of the Glenn Miller Army Air Force Band. This was originally organized during World War II by the bandleader, and was regarded as the most popular service musical organization at the time.

Starting last Nov., newspaper accounts have stated that Harold (Doc) Winter was planning to revive the band, and that he has obtained rights to the name from the Miller Estate. According to Mackay, such permission has not been granted.

"All common law rights to the Glenn Miller name are vested in the Glenn Miller Estate," said Mackay, "and the rights to any use of the Glenn Miller name in connection with an orchestra and its activities is the sole and exclusive property of Glenn Miller Productions, Inc."

"The production company has been licensed by the Glenn Miller Estate and, in turn, has registered in the U.S. Patent Office the name of Glenn Miller as its exclusive service mark. Violation of the exclusive rights of Glenn Miller Productions, Inc., may result in injunctive relief, accounting for profits and treble damages."

Mackay also pointed out that there is only one musical organization at the present time, which is legally authorized to carry the name. It is the Glenn Miller Orchestra, currently led by Buddy De Franco.

Miller disappeared while on a military flight from England to France on Dec. 15, 1944. He was a major in the service.

"New York Environment" Stax Campaign Launches Soul Children on 40-City Tour

NEW YORK — In line with Stax Records' policy of launching new talent, the company announced a total "New York Environment" campaign to herald the New York debut of The Soul Children at The Apollo Theater from Mar. 23-29.

A total advertising, promotion and publicity campaign is planned for the group including record store appearances, department store appearances, disc jockey visits and a round of newspaper, television and radio interviews with both the white and black press.

On the air spots, flyers and special promotional material for display in high schools and college will also be instituted by Stax Records.

According to Charles Graziano, manager of The Soul Children, their debut in New York will be followed by a 40-city tour across the country. A line-up of TV and radio promotional appearances has been arranged by Stax representatives in all cities.

The Soul Children are featured in the Stax/Wolper production of "Wattstax" filmed last summer. This tour will involve their speaking about the concert in Watts and their role in the film, along with references to the other participants such as Isaac Hayes, The Bar-Kays, Carla Thomas, Albert King, Eddie Floyd and The Staple Singers.

The Soul Children have had three big singles to date: "The Swetter He is," "Hearsay" and "Don't You Take My Kindness for Weakness," and are currently riding high with "All That Shines Ain't Gold," from their second LP, "Genesis." Produced for Stax by Al Jackson and Jim Stewart, the single is currently receiving heavy airplay on the West Coast.

The group's first album was "Best of Two Worlds," also produced by Jackson and Stewart.

In line with the "New York Environment" campaign, The Soul Children LPs and singles will be awarded as special prizes in radio contests set up locally by the Stax promotion Staff.

Phonogram Signs Oscar Perry, Huey Meaux Discovery

NEW YORK — Phonogram, Inc. (formerly Mercury Record Productions, Inc.), has signed R&B artist Oscar Perry, it was announced by Charles Fach, Phonogram VP/A&R. Perry, a Huey Meaux discovery, cut his first single for the Mercury label, "You Can't Mend a Broken Heart with the Same Old Threads," in Huey's new Houston, Texas, facility, Sugar Hill Studios. Meaux produced the session.

Sugar Hill, which now boasts a complete 16-track system, is, ac-ording to Huey, the same basic facility he used to produce such classics as Roy Head's "Treat Her Right," The Sir Douglas Quintet's "She's about a Mover" (also written by Meaux), Joe Hinton's "Funny How Time Slips Away," and past Mercury product by Joe Barry, Wayne Talbert, and Jivin' Gene, among others. The studios were bought by Meaux, who then completely redesigned and rewired them. Sugar Hill has been in operation for three months.

R & B INGREDIENTS

—De-Lite Records' party honoring Kool & The Gang, which was held at the Half Note Club in NYC, was a big success. The party, held Feb. 28th, drew nearly 250 people including trade and record personnel. Kool & The Gang performed for the throng. The new Main Ingredient (RCA) LP, promises to be a monster with several Stevie Wonder tunes some of which were written especially for the group, is entitled, "Afrodisiac" . . . Both artists are donating their talent to help the post-sponsored event entertaining as well as make the local community aware of the black contribution to American heritage and culture. In addition to leading acts, such as the Cleo Parker-Robinson Dance Ensemble, the black expo offers the works of black artists from America and Africa who will share the limelight with a black achievement exhibit at Murr Service Club throughout the expo.

JAZZLINES—Of the newer and younger "jazz" musicians on the contemporary scene, Doug Carn is indicative of a "new direction" in music, which also has to include established artist such as Chick Corea, but the Doug Carn septet featuring vocalist Jean Carn (his wife) promises to be an album with many improvisational techniques and the release on Black Jazz Records (distributed by Ovation) promises to be well worth a listen. don drossell

"Cope" Cops

CHICAGO — With the naming of "Don't Bother Me, I Can't Cope" as the grammy winner for best original cast album, the rollicking musical chalks up yet another award in a constantly growing list of honors.

Playing to record breaking crowds at the Happy Medium Theater, the show, by Chicagoan Micki Grant, has already received the Outer Circle Critics award for best musical, two Obie awards, two New York drama desk awards, the first image award for theater ever given by the NAACP and a special outstanding achievement award presented to Micki Grant by Mademoiselle magazine.

The Grammy award was announced in Nashville, Tenn., early Sunday, March 4 at 2:00 a.m. Jointly accepting the award were Rudy Stevenson, "Cope" lead guitarist in the Broadway company, as well as lead guitarist for the Fifth Dimension and vocalist Aretha Franklin.

Word of the award reached Micki Grant at 2:15 a.m. in New York on the stage of Carnegie Hall where she was performing in a late night benefit for CORE.

Miss Grant, a product of Englewood High School and the University of Illinois, is not only the author and composer of "Cope".

Five-Year Study At Texas U. Reveals Dimensions Of Radio Programming

NEW YORK — Psychologically-oriented research into the effects of music is rarely designed from radio's viewpoint. One of the few studies in this area was recently completed at Texas Women's University under the guidance of Dr. Tom Turicchi. The findings of the five-year project, recently published in the CHUM Report, come under the heading "psychographics"—the audience's psychological impressions of and reaction to various aspects of radio programming.

New Records

Dr. Turicchi's study utilized a group of MOR listeners, ages 25-49, and determined that this audience prefers cover versions to the original hits, even where the first recording went Top 20. In general, new records were not a tune-out: overall response was more positive to new than to established records. Initially, a repetition yielded more positive responses to a given record; but there is a point of diminishing returns for this response, with tuneout resulting much beyond that point. Where story records were the object of the response, that point occurred much sooner: listeners eventually memorized the story lines and found themselves bored by the record after an initial favorable response to the introduction.

The study also showed that listener response was very keenly attuned to the positioning of a specific record.

AFM Statement Seeks To Limit Prime Time Re-Runs

NEW YORK — The American Federation of Musicians' general counsel Henry Kaiser has filed a statement with the F.C.C. supporting a proposal to limit the amount of prime time that network-owned and affiliated television stations may devote to reruns, and to require specific identification of rerun material.

The action taken by the 315,000-member union deprecates the use of excessive TV reruns. It points out that the escalation of reruns specifically and adversely affects musicians as well as all other artists involved in television production. The loss of employment, the Federation statement notes, is "incalculable," but "the loss of growth in creative talent is perhaps even more incalculable and more significant . . . Quality entertainment cannot be achieved by repetitious reruns of limited artistic expressions."

Finally, the AFM statement denounces reruns for jeopardizing the "vitality and growth of the television industry."

YOU'VE WON THAT LOVIN' PEELIN'—Steve Lawrence & Lydi Goime (center) greet Mr. & Mrs. Philby Cramer backstage, opening night for the MGM duo at Caesar's Palace. The Cramers won the night on the town courtesy of KVEG's Valentine's Day Contest.

Blend and shadings of music in and out of commercial sets, news and jock raps revealed different responses to the same record, depending on what occurred before and after the music. A given record played in an environment of commercials, news and jock raps revealed different responses depending on what occurred before and after the music. Records played in an environment of commercials, news and jock talk showed a greater response than a string of back to back disks. Up-tempo records tended to lose their positive edge when more than three were played back to back. A similar reaction to back-to-back slow records was observed. A mix of slow, medium and fast tunes elicited the best overall response.

Jingles

Short jingles were found to be negatively received: listeners could not remember the call letters. Long jingles, those with music and voice, had a better test effect. Listeners retained the call letters without a tune-out factor resulting from excess music of length.

Music Effects

The Texas study also revealed eleven specific responses to music in general. Effects of music in the positive direction included its ability to increase metabolic rates, accelerate breathing (and hence decrease its regularity), speed up voluntary activities (such as typing or writing), increase the extent of muscular reflexes employed in writing, drawing and related activities. Music also facilitated attention to other stimuli.

In the negative direction, music generally tended to delay fatigue (and consequently increased muscular endurance), reduced normal suggestibility and lowered the threshold for external stimuli (allowing them to be perceived at lower levels). Music had variable effects on muscular energy, pulse, blood pressure and the electrical conductivity of the body. Other studies have shown that music has variable effects on nervous tension.

With more studies such as this one, station managers may soon be looking for program directors with Ph. D's in psychology.

Govt. Cuts Am. Indian KTDB Funds

RAMAH, N. M. — The future of the nation's first American Indian owned and operated radio station, KTDB, is in jeopardy, due to decisions by both the Bureau Of Indian Affairs and the Office of Economic Opportunity to terminate grants to the organization.

The concept behind KTDB began to take shape in 1970, as a means of bringing residents of the Ramah Navajo in closer touch with a new high school constructed in the area. The only prior communication within the region was one 17-family party line phone. KTDB began on-air operations late last April. According to Stephen Corman, spokesman for the station, "For many people, KTDB has replaced the telephone and newspapers as a way of communicating." Half of the programming on the volunteer-staffed station is broadcast in Navajo.

Ramah Isolated

Ramah lies 60 miles southeast of the main Navajo reservation in the northwest part of New Mexico, effectively isolating the 1400 inhabitants from most government programs. The average family income is under $2,000.

KTDB is now forced to solicit public donations which are tax deductible. Contributors are urged to contact the station through Box 18, in Ramah, New Mexico 87321.

The nation has previously become aware of the Indian's plight through violence at historical sites such as Alcatraz and Wounded Knee. The citizens of Ramah hope to set a different kind of historical precedent.

THE BEST OF BREAD—Bread—Elektra EKS—75056

Surely one of the most successful pop recording and composing teams in the business. Bread has at long last picked their choicest slices for one LP. Side one features their six biggest singles, from "Make It With You" to "Diary." The second side focuses on their most requested LP cuts and turntable single hits from their previous LPs. David Gates is certainly a producer/performer/writer extraordinaire. Every note on this superstrong album attests to that major fact. Should be their biggest yet, and one of the year's heavies.

COSMIC WHEELS—Donovan—Epic KE 32156

His first LP in almost three years. That is event enough. But here, on two tracks in particular, we get a hard rock Donovan—a funky version of the world's best known troubadour. The title track and "The Music Makers" represent the kind of change in direction that is both pleasantly surprising and very commercial. "I Like You" and "Appearances" are both quite beautiful love songs. And the cuteness that is also a part of Donovan shows up on "The Intergalactic Laxative" which answers the questions "What do the astronauts do after they eat?" Fans will eat this one up. And the newest generation of record buyers will immediately love him too.

EAT IT—Humble Pie—A&M SP 3701

The Steve Marriott hard workin', hard rockin' machine is back again with a 2-record set, something along the lines of a "Mad Dogs & Englishmen" concept transformed into a studio setting. The fourth side was recorded live in Scotland and features an extended jam on Junior Walker's "Road Runner," as well as a powerhouse version of The Stones' "Honky Tonk Woman." Steve Marriott contributes all the originals (save for one where The Pie wrote the music). They are nicely balanced by material from Ike & Tina, Edwin Starr and Ray Charles. The Blackberries are well-integrated as a supporting vocal trio—their solos are the album's best moments.

ALONE TOGETHER—Donny Osmond—MGM SE-4886

The two sides of Donny's new single release, "The Twelfth Of Never" and "Life Is Just What You Make It" lead off side one. Sonny James' hit, "Young Love" is given a strongly commercial reading on the second side; it's a natural for the young Osmond who has done and is still doing so well with oldies. But the new material here is not to be overlooked: Sedaka & Greenfield's "Other Side Of Me" and "Sunshine Rose," and the various contributions by Donny's brothers, especially "Do You Want Me?" One of Donny's best.

BYRDS—Gene Clark, Chris Hillman, David Crosby, Roger McGuinn, Michael Clarke—Asylum SD 5058

"Byrds" is the title of the album which brings five of the greatest historians of folk-rock back together for a class reunion. While McGuinn went on to carry the banner of "The Byrds," the other four members went their separate ways until this session became a reality. Clarke, McGuinn, Hillman and Crosby have contributed new material to complement tunes by Joni Mitchell, and Neil Young. "Things Will Be Better" has that single quality to it. Of the other cuts, "Laughing" will probably come in for the most FM airplay.

NEITHER ONE OF US—Gladys Knight & The Pips—Soul S 737L

The female-fronted quartet has since signed with another label, but they're at this very minute hotter than ever as a Motown act with the album's title song in the Top 10. The ballad doesn't set the mood for this LP—no one tune here does. This is a very expansive package, traceable to the fact that no less than seven arrangers contributed to the nine cuts here. Best bet for a follow-up single is Bill Withers' "Who Is He (And What Is She To You)," already a well-known song from his "Still Bill" LP. Lyrics on "And This Is Love" smack of standardism as well.

POOR MAN'S PARADISE—Tracy Nelson/Mother Earth—Columbia KC 31759

The fanatical fans of this group used to explain that the reason why the rest of the world hadn't yet caught on to this Nashville-based contingent was that it couldn't make up its minds what to call them. With their first for Columbia, perhaps now the time is right to simply knight it "Mother Earthmusic" and spread the good word from there. Tracy Nelson still ranks as one of the world's greatest vocalists, capable of melding together country and blues styles; her reformed band is her best yet. The new album is highlighted by Andy McMahon outdoing himself on keyboards and very strong brass lines. David Buskin's "When I Need Your Most Of All" and their own Jack Lee's "Goin' Back To Tennessee" lets you know that sooner than later, they will explode.

A WIZARD/A TRUE STAR—Todd Rundgren—Bearsville BR 2133

Todd Rundgren is a merry-go-round on speed. You can't stand there looking at it if you want to keep your body in working order—the best you can do is think yourself onto one of the horses and take the ride right along with him. Each side is longer than twenty-five minutes, and if you're not wiped out by the production, you have appendages on either side of your head that have only been passing for ears all this time. Best bet for a single would be "La La Means I Love You" (The Delphonics oldie from his soul medley) or the eastern dance-influenced "Zen Archer." Randy Brecker's horn is amazing here. The self-proclaimed "new renaissance man" does it again!

THE CAPTAIN AND ME—The Doobie Brothers Warner Bros. BS 2694

The group that hit big with "Listen To The Music" and followed it up with "Jesus Is Just Alright" have a very strong chart item here with their third LP. It is one of the finest things Ted Templeman has ever produced; it marks one of the highpoints in synthesizer rock as well, for here the arp becomes as much a part of the ensemble as the guitars—it is not some tagged-on gimmicky afterthought. Many strong tracks—best of the lot would be "China Grove," "Natural Thing" and "Ukiah." Strings on "Dark Eyed Cajun Woman" are reminiscent of B. B. King's "Hummingbird."

THE SINGER—Liza Minnelli—Columbia KC 32149

That "Z" lady has recorded another strong LP for the label, her first straight studio effort for Columbia. The program is filled to the brim with current hits. Those that work best are the ballads and Latin-flavored numbers. Her version of Stevie Wonder's "You Are The Sunshine Of My Life" will give the original a run for its money on MORs, and her treatment of "Oh Babe, What Would You Say?" comes across like a showstopper that could well have been in "Cabaret." Snuff Garrett produced the session with arrangements by Al Capps and Marvin Hamlisch.

POP/COUNTRY PICK

MY SECOND ALBUM—Donna Fargo—Dot DOS 26006

The combination of Donna's original material and vocal style together with Stan Silver's production brought this new face simultaneous pop and country fame with her first LP. Now working on her third big single, "Superman," her second LP takes off from there. In addition to her own tunes, she delivers "You Don't Mess Around With Jim" and a fine version of Lobo's "I'd Love You To Want Me." And for those who think Donna can't move you with a sad song, there's a believable singing suicide note in "Forever Is As Far As I Could Go."

NEWCOMER PICKS

MT. AIRY—Thimble TLP-2

The label, distributed by Audio Fidelity, is already making noise with the single pulled from this strong LP of unpretentious country rock—"Grizzly Bear." That particular Youngbloods gem is joined by a number of originals by band-member Bob Hinkle as well as songs associated with Kim Weston and Tracy Nelson Mother Earth ("Take Me In Your Arms"), Nilsson ("She Sang Hymns Out Of Tune"), the Band ("Rag Mama Rag") and Flatt & Scruggs ("Foggy Mountain Breakdown"). Group members alone are grounds for a hit—including Harry's brother Tom ("Make A Wish") Chapin and Eric ("Dueling Banjos") Weissberg. Good clean music for fun and profit.

the top 10 of the CB R&B and also the top 100 singles chart with a single he produced, called, "Soul Serenade" written by Gusley Dixon. The Mitchell albums, produced by Joe Cuoghi, "It's Sunrise Serenade and a follow up, "Hold It" also began to stimulate considerable interest in the Mitchell style and sound. It was the year for another significant event. Willie and his band had a gig in Midland, Texas and a singer named Al Green was on the same show. Willie said, "I was sitting at the bar when my band was rehearsing the Al Green tunes. Gracious God of Glory, this man singing is a super star." When Al was introduced to Willie, Mitchell said, "Al, I'll make you a star in 18 months," Al replied, "I can't wait that long." Willie finally convinced Al to return to Memphis, but it took a couple of big bills to clear up Al's bills at the hotel. When they got into Memphis, Al said that he needed about $1600 to clear up his obligations in Grand Rapids. Willie gave him the stake and he didn't hear from Al for several months. Finally, Al called Willie and told him he was ready. Willie and Al locked themselves in a room with a piano and spent weeks and long hours in developing material. Willie taught Al a whole new delivery style. The Mitchell musical style is often times called "old fashioned" and his comment to this is, "I want my music to go up and down. I believe in the bottom and I believe in the top. I want it to ride and lope."

Mitchell also admits that Gamble-Huff and Thom Bell are driving him crazy, but Willie says, "you can believe I'm giving them some sleepless nights." Mitchell has been coming through with a hit on no later than the third record with each artist he is producing. Aside from Al Green, the Hi artist he's producing include, Otis Clay, Syl Johnson and Quiet Elegance. One of the outstanding discoveries about this sincere and compassionate man is the fact that he is totally positive and totally together.

Today, Mitchell is on the recording scene with a title theme single of, "Last Tango In Paris". He has a Memphis-tight studio band and his brother James is also contributing string arrangements. The single proves he has not lost his recording flair.

Willie commented, "The more one travels through life, the more one discovers that nothing in life is really commonplace". Being tuned into the Mitchellesque style is a beautiful experience. The man has a midas touch. don drossell

HOLLYWOOD—TOMMY LEONETTI: A HIT WEATHER OR NOT—Weather conditions in southern California served as an inspiration recently for Albert Hammond, who co-authored with Mike Hazelwood, "It Never Rains in Southern California." Hammond and Hazelwood, who then resided in England, admit to writing about the legendary haven without ever having seen it. Now Tommy Leonetti (you remember this cum laude from the Sinatra school) has a brand new Columbia single called "Wasn't It Nice in New York City" written by Britisher Christian Gold, who likewise has never heretofore seen New York. This climatic chant appeals this time to those who favor romantic rains, the antithesis to the other song.

Tommy, who sings his own five-part harmony on the record, also co-produced it with Dave Bloxham (Scott English, the Greyhound) for U.K. Productions. Tommy, the original Pin Ball Wizard, found the tune at Screen Gems Music in England, requested a demo, and filed it away in his combination lock brief case. He had been in the United Kingdom doing television and cutting some big orchestrated 35-piece sessions he had planned to sell independently. When the product was finished he took it to Dick Asher and Mike Smith at CBS in London. They listened politely but rather insouciantly, finally explaining that they are basically committed to rock sounds. As a coup, Tommy played the publishers demo, "Wasn't It Nice in New York City," and acknowledged that this tune was really where his head was at. One listen and "Wasn't It Nice" became a rhetorical question.

Tommy hosted his own television show in Australia and had the international hit "Kum Ba Yah" not too long ago, but this Columbia single definitely indicates a resurgence in his career. He told Cash Box that he would be doing the Tonight Show, Mike Douglas, and Merv Griffin to promote the new record. ron baron PASSING REMARKS—New Alice Cooper album, "Billion Dollar Babies" is going to make believers of all who think the group is all gimmick and little talent. It's their finest album to date, and it's very solid, too. This is the one we've all been waiting for . . . New Procol Harum LP released this week, and it's a winner . . . Keyboard freaks will really get off on the first solo Rick Wakeman album on A&M. Rick is the keyboard man for Yes, and his album, "The Six Wives Of Henry VIII" is a reflection of Wakeman's talents on piano, organ, moog, and every other keyboard instrument imaginable . . . Great things are happening with the new Jerry Lee Lewis set, "The Session." There's going to be a single from it very shortly, and we're convinced that the album is top 10 material.

There are currently eight soundtrack albums on the top 100. "Lady Sings The Blues" at #4; "Dueling Banjos" at #2, "Trouble Man," #12; "Wattstax," #20; "Superfly," #62; "Across 110th Street," #56; "Lost Horizon," #60, and "Godspell" at #85. An additional note, there are presently 15 greatest hits packages on the top 170 album chart. This of course proves that consumers want an entire collection of records from their favorite soloists or groups.

Our very own Arty Goodman is flying to Philadelphia to cover the Alice Cooper concert at the Spectrum. Watch these pages next week for a detailed report of the entire event . . . If you're interested in listening to one of the funniest comedy albums ever recorded pick up a copy of Robert Klein's "Child Of The 50's," and enjoy. Everything about the package is brilliant, including the incredible cover art work and ingenious poster which is included. The album is already being programmed on dozens of FM stations across the country. Don't miss out on this one.

On the singles front, the possibilities for the number 1 spot are tremendous. There's "The Cisco Kid" by War; "You Are The Sunshine Of My Life," Stevie Wonder; "Who Was It," Hurricane Smith; "Hallelujah Day," Jackson 5; "The Right Thing To Do," Carly Simon; "Am I Black Enough For You," Billy Paul; and Trammy Thomas' "People Are Changing". It's going to be interesting, to say the least.

It now looks as though CTI Records will receive its first ever gold album award for "Prelude Deodato" which is currently bulleted at the #9 spot on the Cash Box charts. k. k.

POP PICKS

SWEET THURSDAY—Great Western Gramophone—KZ-32039

Regardless of whether the group took its name from the John Steinbeck novel, the Johnny Mathis tune or the lyrics of their own "Sweet Francesca," this quintet has been the pot o' gold at the end of many rainbows for folks successful enough to track down the original Tetragrammaton pressing. Now that it's readily available as the first LP release from this Columbia-distributed label, it should find its way back to the charts. Group featured keyboard wiz Nicky Hopkins, Johnny Almond partner Jon Mark and Cat Stevens cohort Alun Davies. If this is now to be regarded as a period piece, it's certainly a most commercial one. "Dealer" and "Sweet Francesca" are classic.

FOGHAT—Bearsville BR 2136

To some of the English, the cover may mean only "stone and bun." But these guys have been around enough on these shores to think of it solely in terms of the music with which they've made their mark—"rock 'n roll!" All the material here is original, save for the Chuck Willis tune "Feel So Bad" previously famed by Elvis and Little Milton. Most viable rockers as 45's would be "Long Way to Go" and "What A Shame" which reminds us a bit of Derek & The Dominoes interpreting Deep Purple's "Woman From Tokyo."

ABOUT US—Stories—Kama Sutra KSBS 2068

The second LP from the group that brought you "I'm Comin' Home" has a concept behind it that has much in common with the one behind The Beatles' "Abbey Road." Even to the final band, "What Comes After," which is much like "The End" in feeling. Album includes their past singles, "Top Of The City" and "Darling" along with Michael Brown's "Circles," a superbly done piano instrumental that's commercial and fun. Ian Lloyd's lead vocals continue to bring the group a bit of that Rod Stewart magic.

MOM'S APPLE PIE #2—Brown Bag BB-LA073F

On this, their second LP for Terry Knight's diskery, the ten-man band from Ohio is given a bit more room to show their horn ability. Comparisons with Chicago should not be unexpected here. Most successful cuts are the rhythm ballads and mood pieces, including their new single, "Love Plays A Song" and "Every Mother's Son." The overall sound is relatively uncluttered for a group this size; should bring them wider attention than their first. The extended "Rain" should see much FM play.

WHAT AM I CRYING FOR?—Dennis Yost And The Classics IV—MGM South-MSH-102

The group best remembered for "Stormy," "Traces" and "Spooky" are currently on the charts with another one-word title — "Rosanna." That, plus the title song, have brought the group renewed success since moving to the label. To further heighten the buyer appeal here, there are two fine covers in "It Never Rains In Southern California" and "Sweet Surrender." "One Man Show" has the earmarks of a biggie — the melody recalls "Daddy Don't You Walk So Fast."

COLLECTION—Steven Tilston—MCA-315

Steve Tilston is a British acoustic singer-composer, who also plays harmonica. He's backed by a four-man group, and a sparsely used complement of studio musicians on strings and brass. Album was produced by Sam Charters at London's Sound Techniques. Steve's voice is very accessible and easy to relate to. Best cut is "Falling" but the Salvation Army Band-like arrangement on "One Man Band" could make it an important track as well. All material is original.

Country Artist of the Week: EARL RICHARDS

THE ACE OF MUSIC—Earl Richards has been in the music business all of his life and has many different music business accomplishments to his credit.

His father, grandfather, great-grandfather, and great-great-grandfather were all musicians and singers.

In Amarillo, Texas, where he was born, his dad started teaching him to sing and play the guitar about the time he learned to walk and when he was eleven his dad's friend, country music great, Bob Wills, heard him sing and play the guitar, and Wills signed him to an exclusive week end contract.

On completion of his education he became one of the original members of Buddy Holly and the Crickets until the fatal plane crash which ended the career of most of the group. He then became a much sought after back up singer for nearly all country artists who recorded in Nashville. He was also a recording artist on the United label with hits to his credit such as "House Of Blue Lights", "Shake 'Em Up And Let 'Em Roll", "Sunshine", and "Down Along The Cove".

As a writer Earl has had songs recorded by the Everly Brothers, Brenda Lee, Lawrence Welk, Vicki Carr, Tom Jones, and others.

Richards had the unique distinction of starring in three full length all color motion pictures before he recorded his first country song.

Today Earl Richards has added the title of "executive" to his artistic accomplishments. He is now part owner and executive producer of Ace Of Hearts Records where he has his hot chart climbing single, "Margie, Who's Watching The Baby", which he and his associate Gene Kennedy produced.

All booking for Earl Richards is by Atlas Artists Bureau, Inc.

Bill Walker Suit Against Fargo/Silver

NASHVILLE — Producer/arranger Bill Walker has filed a $500,000 law suit in circuit court against Donna Fargo and her husband Stan Silver. The suit, filed by Walker in Nashville Friday March 2, alleges that Walker was contacted by Silver in 1971 to help in the production of recordings which resulted in the million selling records, "Happiest Girl In The Whole U.S.A.", and "Funny Face," plus others that credit and recognition was not given his work and the agreed on royalties were not paid.

According to Walker, he, on Silver's request, and because of Silver's claim to inexperience in the country field of music, secured the recording studios and necessary personnel, chose the musicians, and in fact personally conducted and supervised each and all the sessions.

Walker further claims that when the masters, or recordings, were sold to Dot Records, it was the agreement between Stan Silver and himself that Walker would share equal credits as co-producer of the material and that he would be given credit on the record label.

However, when Donna Fargo's records were released Silver was listed as sole producer, one result of which was the fact Silver was presented an award by the Country Music Association as "Producer Of The Year". Walker claims this has deprived him of the enhancement to his reputation that would have existed if he had been recognized as the producer of "Happiest Girl In The Whole U.S.A.", and "Funny Face".

Bill Walker, a native of Australia, has worked on the International level as a producer, arranger and conductor for a period of some 15 years having been in charge of RCA's South African operations, Teal Records, and his produced recordings by Bobby Roy, Ferlin Husky, Stu Phillips, Roy Rogers, Wanda Jackson, Connie Eaton, and others.

A preliminary restraining order has been issued by circuit court Judge Joe Loser restraining Dot Records (Paramount Pictures) and Donna Fargo's Production Company (Prima Donna) from distributing any profits from the recordings until a hearing can be held.

Age-old favorites, as well as the top country hits for 1972, were presented during the telecast, with special tribute paid to Country Music Hall of Famer, Hank Williams. The Williams segment of the show portrayed Eddy Arnold and Tennessee Ernie Ford singing many of the standards by the famous composer.

Picks of the Week

CONWAY TWITTY (MCA 40027)

Baby's Gone (3:00) (Twitty Bird, BMI—C. Twitty, B. Parks)

Coming home to an empty house and finding out a loved one has moved on is the story behind this soft, smooth country ballad destined for the top of the charts. Instant programming is a sure shot. Will Conway's wonders ever cease? Flip: Dim Lonely Places (2:54) (Twitty Bird, BMI—C. Twitty, L. E. White)

BUCK OWENS & THE BUCKAROOS (Capitol P-3563)

Ain't It Amazing, Gracie (2:06) (Blue Book, BMI—B. Owens, G. Garrison)

Up tempo, toe tapping, top programming item from Buck should meet immediate success and put him back at the top of the charts again. The solid, electric picking is an absolute delight. Flip: The Good Old Days (Are Here Again) (2:38) (Blue Book, BMI—B. Owens)

JOE STAMPLEY (Dot 17452)

Bring It On Home (To Your Woman) (2:06) (Gallico/Algee, BMI—N. Wilson, J. Stampley, C. Taylor)

Culled from his latest album, this tune, a bouncy country outing should reinforce Joe's popularity and once again send him soaring up the charts. Pop markets will be picking up on this one, too. Flip: no info. available.

SONNY JAMES (Capitol P-3564)

Reach Out Your Hand And Touch Me (2:19) (Marson, BMI—R. Hollingsworth, S. James)

The Southern Gentleman has got himself another hit in this rapidly tempo changing country ditty. Will immediately delight both country programmers and listeners and should be topping the charts in no time. Flip: Just Keep Thinking Of Me (2:05) (Marson, BMI—J. Skye)

TOMMY CASH (Epic 5-10964)

Workin' On A Feelin' (2:40) (Tree, BMI—R. Lane, R. Porter, T. McKeon)

The feeling is love and this one is destined to work its way to the top of the charts. Tommy is finally proving to be a lot more than just Johnny's brother. Flip: no info. available.

JUNE CARTER CASH (Columbia 4-45789)

Follow Me (2:42) (Cherry Lane, ASCAP—J. Denver)

June delivers this pretty John Denver pop flavored country ballad with sweet charm and finesse. Looks hit bound in a big way in both pop and country markets. Flip: The Lights Of Magdala (2:23) (Jacob's Well, ASCAP—L. Murray)

SLIM WHITMAN (United Artists XW178-W)

Hold Me (2:24) (Blue Echo, ASCAP—R. Griff)

Another Slim ballad heavy on hit potential. Sensitive lyrics should have great personal appeal to country listeners as well as keeping c&w programmers busy with their phones. Flip: So Close To Home (3:05) (Rosena, ASCAP—B. Duke)

JEANNE PRUETT (MCA 40015)

Satin Sheets (2:58) (Champion, BMI—J. E. Volinkaty)

Jeanne demonstrates strong country vocals and smooth delivery on this fine tune stressing that money doesn't always buy happiness. Should be a big chart winner and a programming favorite as well as establishing Jeanne as a powerful new female in country circles. Flip: Sweet Sweetheart (2:31) (Screen Gems/Columbia, BMI—C. King, G. Goffin)

RED STEAGALL (Capitol P-3562)

True Love (2:45) (Chappell, ASCAP—C. Porter)

Red's version of this Cole Porter classic is given an entirely new life through this mellow country rendition. Steel guitar throughout adds definite flavor and should make this one a big winner. Flip: Something Nice And Easy (2:52) (Palo Duro, BMI—R. Steagall)

Best Bets

TROY SEALS (Atlantic 4051)

There's A Honky Tonk Angel (Who'll Take Me Back In) (2:42) (Danor, BMI—T. Seals, D. Rice) This pretty country ballad, dominated by sweet steel guitar, should bring Troy to the forefront of country singers. Solid recording will make the song a chart hit and programming favorite. Flip: no info. available.

Hands Off (2:45) (Conrad, BMI—P. Bowman, J. McShann) Up tempo, solid country pickin' tune with occasional vocal passages makes this an interesting chart contender. What's Left looks like a group to watch in the future. Flip: Smokie Part II (2:54) (Jec, BMI—B. Black)

ENTERTAINER OF THE YEAR—Loretta Lynn—MCA—300

Although Loretta's latest is titled after her recent country music award, it would not be overstating matters to claim that she is the entertainer of any year. This album continues her already established fine tradition of recording the best country material available and delivering it with the style and grace that only she can. Included are her current hit, "Rated X", "Legend In My Mind", "Hanky Panky Woman" and "Possessions". A sure fire winner in, and for, The Entertainer Of The Year.

SHE NEEDS SOMEONE TO HOLD HER (When She Cries)—Conway Twitty—MCA—303

Conway is the master of spinning a country ballad and his newest collection is no exception. Ten of the albums eleven tracks are smooth, easy going ballads, all of which are guaranteed to generate strong interest. Leading the pack is the beautiful title track and other highlights appear on "Don't Cry Daddy", "Sweet Memories", "Dim Lonely Places" and "I Don't Believe I'll Fall In Love Today". All in all, this collection is well worth the while and should be an immediate chart winner.

LONESOME, ON'RY & MEAN—Waylon Jennings—RCA—LSP—4854

The past year has been good to Waylon and he in turn has reciprocated the favor by performing better than ever before. His latest is this excellent collection of country tunes with a definite pop spicing which should find him the same audience as one Kris Kristofferson. Highlighting this compilation of tunes is Kristofferson's "Me And Bobby McGee", Mickey Newbury's "San Francisco Mabel Joy" and Waylon's current Cook-ing hit, "You Can Have Her". If there was an album meant to solidify Waylon's country standing and fully introduce him to pop audiences, this is it. As a result, '73 looks to be even better for Waylon than '72 was.

AFTER YOU/PRIDE'S NOT HARD TO SWALLOW Hank Williams, Jr.—MGM—SE—4862

Hank, Jr.'s past collections have always been solid, tasteful country packages which have always pleased programmers and listeners alike. This latest collection has that same appeal. Through ten tracks, Hank, Jr. successfully portrays seven ballads, an uptempo blues piece and two cute country fun songs in his fine tradition. Highlights appearing on this package include the happy "One Out Of Three Ain't Bad", "I Love You A Thousand Ways" and both title cuts. "Country Music—Those Tear Jerking Songs" is hysterical and alone is worth the price of admission. This one looks like another smash for Hank Williams, Jr.

INTERNATIONAL AMBASSADOR OF COUNTRY MUSIC—George Hamilton IV—RCA—LSP—4826

George has been proclaimed country music's international ambassador and rightfully so for no other country artist has done more to introduce the musical form to the world than he has. This album is a full circle demonstration performed in George's own inimitable style. Included in the wonderful collection are Leonard Cohen's "Suzanne", Gordon Lightfoot's "Christian Island", "Green Green Grass Of Home", "The Leaving Of Liverpool" and "Hoshi no Komoriuta (Mem'ries of Mama)" which should be indication enough of the album's international flavor. The collection is yet another necessary George Hamilton IV excursion and another huge plus for International Country Music Public Relations..

TWO SIDES OF 'CRASH'—Billy 'Crash' Craddock—ABC ABCX-777

Billy 'Crash' Craddock's latest could not have been more aptly titled. This collection of ten powerhouse tracks perfectly demonstrates both sides of this fine country singer over two completely individual album sides. The first is the softer side, stressing five ballads, the most impressive of which are "What Does A Loser Say" and "A Living Example". The second half of this collection is the lighter, upbeat side where 'Crash' hangs loose and expertly sings happier country tunes the highlights of which appear on Merle Haggard's "I'm A White Boy" and Boyce/Hart/Farrel's "Come A Little Bit Closer". 'Crash' has two definite sides and both are well worth getting into.

Mendes will then play two concerts in Hong Kong, presently scheduled for April 23rd.

CBS/Sony Records of Japan is releasing Mendes' new single "Love Music," to coincide with his Japanese visit. Mendes records for Bell Records in the United States, and the same single has just been released by them in the U.S.A. The single is produced by Bones Howe, the first outside producer Mendes has used in several years. Howe is famous for his productions of the Fifth Dimension, Elvis Presley, and the Association.

Amutronics Scores With Golf Game

CHERRY HILL, N. J. — Amutronics Inc., New Jersey mfr. of electronic amusement devices, has moved into volume production on their Par-3-Golf 100% solid-state game, wall mounted for commercial locations. A result of months of intensive preparation and development, the remote-controlled device has incorporated a number of Amutronics "exclusives."

One of these exclusives, according to Fred Pliner, president, is "The unique, numeric readout module for scoring the game. Because of prohibitive cost, units of this type are usually replaced by cheaper, more mechanical designs."

However, determined to produce a totally superior game for their accounts, Pliner and Mort Bricklin, VP in charge of production, put their team of engineers to the task of designing and manufacturing their own module.

The Amutronic readout device, using a 7447 I.C. to decode and drive the seven lamps for each digit, allows the display block to be easily removed for access to all pluggable lamp units. Re-marked Pliner, "Our Amutronics readout module is just one of a dozen electronic exclusives that go to make Par-3-Golf a dream-of-a-game. It's easier for the technician, and for the operator, a far more effective money-maker on the wall." VP Bricklin confirms reports have been received from all over the country, on the Par-3-Golf game, chalking up $100 a week gross or better for operators. "And it's going to get better," says Bricklin, "with a game that's thoroughly location-tested, like ours."

PAUL COHEN

PITTSBURGH — Paul Cohen, a veteran in the coin industry for over a quarter of a century was unanimously elected vice president of the Banner Specialty company at its recent board meeting, it was announced by Al Rodstein, president.

"Paul has been a tower of strength in Banner's Pittsburgh office for 20 of his 25 years in the industry as next in command to Herb Rosenthal, senior Vice President," Rodstein stated.

"He is as knowledgeable about the earning power of coin operated equipment as anyone in the entire nation due to the feel acquired over the past twenty five years which has been cultivated in part by a total commitment to the company's objectives. We are certain that Paul's host of friends in the industry will acclaim his upward move at this time," Rodstein declared.

Labels Singles & Operations

This may seem like a rather trivial subject to deal with—the record industry's present study on the "benefits" of going back to the small center hole in the 45 single—but we think it's worth exploring since it's kind of symptomatic of the whole relationship (or the lack of it) that exists between record people and jukebox people.

We're certain the label executives will take the operator's need of the wide hole in the 45 into consideration, should they in fact go back to pressing disks with the smaller "LP" sized hole . . . whether that may require pressing them in such a manner that the thing can be easily punched out or some such consideration to the trade whose machines require the larger center hole, for obvious technical reasons. We, of course, hope they stay as they are, tho many label people feel more singles could be sold to consumers if they didn't have to "fiddle around" with that big spindle on their expensive stereo rigs just to play a 45.

Point is, the record trade should really bow to the needs and wishes of the folks who buy most of the singles. According to MONY's Ben Chicofsky, the operator buys more than 50% of them these days. So, if true (and many in both trades agree with Ben on the trade's percentage), why not leave things as they are?

Chicofsky's thoughts on record people and jukebox operators (see separate story this issue) range from mild to strident. He sees this new move as only one more symptom of the record trade's relative disregard of the operator, and wishes that the days of old would return when record salesmen would make personal calls to the route headquarters. He feels they'd peddle more of their wares that way.

Point is, the center hole incident does in fact once more show record and jukebox people in separate camps. Getting together should be a primary thought for both parties.

Breither Promotion

CHICAGO — Bud Lurie, president of the Seeburg Products Div., the vending and coin equipment manufacturing facility of Seeburg Industries, recently announced the appointment of Bob Breither the position of senior vice president—vending sales, for that division.

Breither's history in the vending industry and coin-operated fields span a 35 year period with both the Seeburg organization and with Seeburg's subsidiaries. His broad spectrum of experience has taken him into engineering design, service, equipment and marketing and sales areas.

In making the appointment, Lurie commented, "we have long recognized Bob's very special expertise in our industry. He's an institution within himself. We rely upon him heavily in all areas of manufacturing and sales here. I extend to him my heartiest congratulations."

Breither is currently on the board of directors of NAMA. It is a post he has held for four years.

ACA & For-Play Introduce New Rally Video Game

For-Play Rally

LOS ANGELES — Mickie Greenman, sales vice president of A.C.A. Sales and Service, has announced the release of a new video skill game called 'Rally'. The "television" control game is manufactured by For-Play Manufacturers Corp. of Burbank . . . A.C.A. Sales is their exclusive national and international distributing representative.

"The For-Play Rally, and copies of it are already on location in taverns, bowling alleys, and arcades," Greenman declared. "Wherever it is placed, you can count on unbelievably high income."

The For-Play Rally, according to Greenman, is an amazingly fast game and is designed as either a one-player or two-player for "that special extra income. It is loads of fun and extremely competitive so that it appeals to all ages," he declared. The unit's size is comparatively small, requiring little floor space at the location.

Rally features a 16" screen, lively sound effects and a solid state circuit. It comes shipped at 25¢ play.

"Skill is enhanced and the life of the game ensured because no two games are alike on Rally," Greenman declared.

A.C.A. is currently in the process of shipping samples of Rally to their U.S. distributors . . . the same distributing firms which previously scored with the For-Play Las Vegas Rifle Gallery game.

Super Baseballer from Chicago Coin With Sound Effects

CHICAGO, ILL. — Latest entry from Chicago Coin for the summer baseball crowd is "Baseball Champ," a two-player, high scoring game that comes complete with sound effects. According to Chuck Arnold, Chicago Coin's marketing director, players can hit the ball over the bleachers and out of the ball game. "Every home run is accompanied by the roar of the crowd. It's an extra play-reward that we've designed into the game to keep player interest high.

"Baseball Champ is built into a self-contained console to give players a panoramic view of the playfield Arnold declared. "That way they can feel that they're right in the ball park, watching all the action close up." The console has a formica control panel, roll-about casters, and a slide-out front panel for maintenance access.

Arnold said that the game has seven playfield targets, three bleacher targets, two scoreboard targets and the unique extra value target, the bleacher roof top. When a ball goes over the bleachers, it is out of the ball park for extra value.

Chicago Coin distributors are now taking orders for "Baseball Champ" and should be contacted for additional information and delivery.

New Larger H.Q. Now Housing Rowe Parts & Service

WHIPPANY — Rowe International, Inc. recently relocated their entire Service Parts warehouse and shipping facility into larger and more up-to-date quarters a short distance from their main manufacturing facility on Troy Hills Road here in Whippany. The new facility will allow easier access to the stock-piled parts and provide more efficient service to Rowe's distributors and licensees throughout the U. S. and abroad.

The formidable task of transferring the parts from the former location within the main Whippany plant to the new facility was accomplished in one week-end with crews working 24 hours around the clock. Full Service Parts operations resumed at the new location on Monday morning with uninterrupted parts shipments to Rowe customers.

The new warehouse boasts 23,000 square feet of floor space devoted to service parts exclusively. Manned by a staff of 24, the facility contains an inventory of some 14,000 parts ranging in complexity from simple hardware items to complete refrigeration sub-assemblies. The building incorporates four loading docks and includes a complete packaging and shipping facility for domestic and export distribution.

In discussing the move, Jim Abato, corporate director of Customer Services for Rowe, stated, "Rowe's local distributor network with their showrooms, parts inventories, and service departments, coupled with factory backup support through our toll free WATS telephone lines, have proved successful. Our newly expanded parts service department is part of Rowe's continuing program to provide operators with the most efficient customers service in the industry."

Atari/Midway Pact

HOLLYWOOD — Nolan Bushnell, president of Atari Inc., has announced the granting of a license to Midway Manufacturing Co., allowing Midway to produce its latest video game. Bushnell, along with vice-president Ted Dabney, also heads Syzygy Co., Atari's engineering firm.

Midway's Henry Ross commented, "We felt that the best way to produce the reliability operators demand in video

Rowe Names New Promotion Mgr.

RONALD MIELBRECHT

WHIPPANY — The appointment of Ronald J. Mielbrecht as sales promotion manager of Rowe International, Inc. has been announced by Jim Newlander, vice president, marketing-domestic distribution, for the Whippany, N. J. based firm. Mielbrecht's duties will include the development and administration of advertising and sales promotion programs for the company's sales and marketing operations. He will report to Dan Denman, director of marketing services.

Mielbrecht comes to Rowe from Peoples Trust/United Jersey banks where he served as advertising manager. His background includes experience in public relations, advertising, photography, and mass media. He is a graduate of Georgetown University in Washington, D. C., and presently resides in Hackensack, N. J. with his wife, Chris, and their two year old son.

games was to make use of Atari's proprietary technology."

Atari is now manufacturing "PONG," which Bushnell describes as a current high seller whose distribution is rapidly spreading throughout the country. The Atari/Syzygy combo has a number of new games slated for production in the near future, the next of which will start later this quarter.

MONY's Chicofsky Chides Labels; Says Op's Power Is "Understated"

NEW YORK — Ben Chicofsky, managing director of Music Operators of New York (MONY), took the record industry to task last week for, as he put it, "their growing apathy about 45 rpm singles in general and in the jukebox operator and his needs in particular."

Citing the jukebox singles mailing program (which he considers only half a loaf), the simultaneous inclusion of single tunes on LP's, and such recent developments as a study by labels to return to the small center hole in singles, Chicofsky wonders whether record people spend five minutes a week thinking about the jukebox business and what its members may need.

"Years ago, major labels, and many record distributors, had sales representatives pay personal calls on larger operators to show off their new product. Today you've got a handful of labels mailing out some of their new singles to a limited list of operators, Chicofsky stated. "We should have every label on a mailing program and for those major record companies who have staff, we should see a return to the days when operators and their route record buyers were called on periodically to discuss new product."

Chicofsky continued: "music people say the single today only represents between 5% and 10% of the overall dollar intake. That may very well be, but have they forgotten that it's the single that launches the act and the followup LP they rely on for profit? And on that note, do they truly realize that the operating business is buying well over 50% of those singles and programming them on machines which also serve as individual 'radio stations' pushing the act and the tune every time it's played in a location? Maybe the 70 million or so singles our industry buys, and then plays for the public, pale in comparison to the dollars generated by LP's and tapes, but even putting the promotional value of singles aside, labels can make more money from the jukebox trade if they bother to create or increase a merchandising program to coax operators into buying more than the three per week national average."

"And there's one more misconception I'd like to correct," he stated. "Record people think operators only buy hits off the chart. Certainly the chart singles dominate a weekly purchase list, but our industry requires far more than chart material. There are simply not enough hits around to adequately program a machine. We need lots of filler stuff, and more

Newman New NAMA Super Council Sec.

CHICAGO — Donald G. Newman, assistant to the director of government affairs of NAMA, is being assigned as secretary of seven NAMA chartered state councils in addition to his present responsibilities, according to Dick Schreiber, president.

Newman will function under the direction of William R. Brandstrader who until now has been responsible for the management of sixteen NAMA affiliated state groups.

The following states will be assigned to Newman, effective this month: Alabama, Colorado, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee. Brandstrader will continue to supervise these councils' legislative programs and handle all activities for the following states: Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio, Texas and Wisconsin.

"Our council activities have increased considerably in the past several years and to supply the kind of NAMA staff support now required in terms of travel and time, Don Newman's additional assignments will help us to serve the councils better," Schreiber said.

particularly, specialty stuff and middle-of-the-road softer music, for many of our stops. Labels can help operators to select more and better records just by communicating what's available and making educated suggestions on what should go where, not just saying 'this is a great jukebox record for all your stops!'

"Today, both singles in general and jukeboxes in particular are grossly underestimated in the role they play in music sales. There are many in the record business, tho, who take advantage of opportunities to communicate with operators. We put out a journal for our annual association convention each year and dozens and dozens of artists take out photo ads. They're smart enough to know the power we as operators have in creating a hit record. There are also several labels who still realize our power and they're the ones who are selling singles in large volume, retail and operator, which in return helps sell the LP's."

"So, record manufacturers get wise. Smarten up and don't kill the goose that lays the golden egg," he declared.

Blackpool Coin Show Well Attended

BLACKPOOL, ENGLAND — The 1972 "Blackpool Coin Machine Exhibition" took place at the Golden Mile Centre Feb. 28-Mar. 2nd. This show, which caters predominantly to the Scottish, Irish and English operating market, normally enjoys excellent attendance (comparable to the MOA Expo in the USA) and this year was no exception.

All current American and foreign-made equipment was in exhibition at the respective distributor displays. The single American tradesman in attendance, Barry Feinblatt of United Amusement International, said that buying and selling was "extremely brisk."

Feinblatt himself, as overseas sales agent for the Safeguard Coin Box produce line, helped staff the ALCA Electronics display. He advised that "every single manufacturer and distributor in attendance at Blackpool expressed considerable interest in using the Safeguard coin boxes in their equipment," and that ALCA, Feinblatt's Safeguard representative for the United Kingdom, wrote numerous orders for equipment during the course of the exhibition. Several of those firms that will be utilizing the Safeguard product line include Music Hire, Rhein-Automaten Ltd.,

PRW Sales, Alfred Crompton, London Coin, Coin-A-Drink Ltd., Ganesmade, Bell Fruit and ACE.

EASTERN FLASHES

AROUND TOWN—Reservations are out to MONY, New York Guild and Westchester Guild members (plus many in the record trade locally) announcing the May 18-20 combined associations convention weekend. Ben Chicofsky once again stresses first-come-first-served. There are a limited number of rooms this year (at the Mount Airy Lodge in the Poconos) so better fill yours out and send it back pronto! . . . Meyer Parkoff of Atlantic New York sent us a clipping from a recent New York Times which carried a lengthy feature article on a new restaurant which recently opened in Fun City. It's a class place, according to the description, and the owner said "you can't imagine how important the jukebox is in setting a mood." We won't mention the stop, because the same owner went on to criticize the jukebox playlist, saying only 15 disks and "anything to do with this place." The rest, apparently, were hard rockers. Says Meyer: "the proper record selection for each location is of paramount importance to the success of the jukebox in bringing in good collections. The operator can then request a large percentage of the collection for his services in to that location." Meantime, Atlantic's resident sales chief Murray Kaye stated unequivocally: "Things seem to be picking up now that the warm weather is upon us. (It seems that all the customers are beginning to migrate back from Florida). Their new addition to the line, the Seeburg FCI-Regency 160 sel. phono console is doing very well. "The customers are flipping out over them and its a very gorgeous piece of machine. We're all out now but are expecting a new shipment very shortly."

Meanwhile, down the street, Al D'Inzillo of Albert Simon, Inc. states that the "aerojet" is doing very good and all Williams pieces are selling big and that is just a question of availability because they are doing so well. They are expecting the "Upper Deck" shortly. Again he says that there is a very good market surge (good weather). Also a lot of out of town arcade buyers are stopping by to visit, saying Hi and to buy. They have run out of the 447's but they are expecting a new shipment very soon . . . Al Simon himself paid a call on the Amutronics factory in Cherry Hill, N.J. last Wed., visiting with prexy Fred Pliner and getting a peek at six new products on the drawing board. Simon distributes the Amutronics line of electronic games in New York.

UPSTATE ITEMS—The New York State Operators Guild will hold its next regular meeting March 21st at the Woronock House on Route 376 in Wappingers Falls. Shirley Werner, secretary, says it's the usual 7:30 PM starting time . . . Guild members have received convention weekend reservations by now. We forget to mention the rates above: it's $39.00 per day, double occupancy, in the New Regency. Children's rates (to age 12) and with parents is $18.00. Age 12 to 16 is $24.00. . . . Al and Donna Kress christened their new twin daughters last Sunday and threw a lavish reception for friends at Mario's in Peekskill.

An electrical engineer has received a patent for a music vending machine that utilizes master recordings at a central station. With the device, Patent 3,718,906, the customer puts in his money and selects a particular recording. He then receives a cassette recording of the work he has chosen. According to the inventor, Robert W. Lightner, several companies have expressed interest in the idea. Interestingly, such a system of obtaining recordings was suggested by Larry Uttal, president of Bell Records, in his keynote address at the recent NARM convention. Part of Uttal's speech speculated on prospects for the year 2001 in the music industry. Vending machines as such for recordings are not new. There have been illegal devices wherein a customer can make a duplicate of a pre-recorded cartridge after inserting the proper amount of money. But, the new device would be the first to make use of a central bank of recordings outside of the location of the vending unit itself.

HERE AND THERE—Great news item in recent Stan Boody Philly Inquirer column all about his bout on the Brunswick Air Hockey game. Stan took on a couple of "experts" and promptly beat the pants off 'em. Also gave lavish praise to the Air Hockey unit in his column; the machine is one of Philadelphia's current favorites . . . Gary W. Dawson, sales manager at American Soccer, Inc. (Chester, Pa.) said due to increased sales of their coin and non-coin table soccer line in the past several months, they've moved to larger facilities in Twin Oaks (near Chester). "This move will enable us to improve the speed and quality of our service to the trade," Gary declared. Their non-coin, or "home" model, incidentally, is just out and according to Gary, has "taken off with real gusto!"

Wurlitzer service engineers Hank Petet and Karel Johnson held two-day Service Seminars February 20 through 23 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and St. Louis, Missouri. Jukebox servicemen at these seminars were introduced to the mechanical and electrical workings of Wurlitzer's Americana Model 3700 phonograph as well as a chance to participate in Wurlitzer's Serviceman's Sweepstakes.

As a result of the two-day Seminars, Frank Dippolito of Dippolito Brothers Vending in Pennsauken, New Jersey, Edward Barnes of Barnes Vendors in Jacksonville, Illinois and Raymond Beucke of Taylor Sales in Belleville, Illinois became finalists in Wurlitzer's Serviceman's Sweepstakes.

These three Wurlitzer Servicemen join sixteen prior finalists as possible winners of an all-expense paid weekend for two at a famous fishing, golfing or sight-seeing resort.

Those attending the seminar in Philadelphia on February 20 and 21 were: Frank Dippolito of Dippolito Bros. Vending in Pennsauken, N. J.; LeRoy R. Hartman of Fairmore Amusement in Reading, Pa.; Rodney A. Teter of Tri-State Music Co. in Mechanicsburg, Pa.; Peter A. Kershbaumer and Ed Keating of CBS Vending in Langhorne, Pa.; Earl R. Walton of Tri-State Music Co. in Millersville, Pa.; Phil Smyth of Dana Vending in Allentown, Pa.; David R. McFetridge of Paula Vending in Allentown, Pa.; Mahlon Beury of Pottsville, Pa.; Mike Weinstein and Richard Sukinik of David Rosen, Inc. in Philadelphia, Pa.

In attendance at the seminar in St. Louis on February 20 and 21 were: Edward Barnes of Barnes Vendors in Jacksonville, Ill.; James Richardson of Rolla Music Co. in Rolla, Mo.; Bill Gentry of Littleton Bros. in Sikeston, Mo.; Wiktor K. Nordling of St. Louis, Mo.; John Henske of Henske Music in Litchfield, Ill.; A. J. Ventimiglia and Forrest D. Rowland of Schaffer Music in Alton, Ill.; Dennis Abraham, Daniel J. THE ROWE SEVILLE

For the sophisticated interior . . . the Seville by Rowe. The elegant style is subtle. The warmth of quality woods, the timeless universal Mediterranean beauty, enhance the traditional atmosphere. Even the lighting is quieter. And, its mood varies with different ambient light conditions.

The Seville by Rowe . . . it "fits" superbly . . . anywhere.

CHICAGO CHATTER

With the midyear Board of Directors meeting only a couple of weeks away, the local MOA office staff is hard at work finalizing the details for the various business and social functions connected with the 3-day session. In stressing the importance of this particular meeting Fred Granger said, "It is during this series of meetings that most of the arrangements for our annual convention are set-up and the new committees elected." Since 1973 is the year of MOA's 25th anniversary and the association wants this year's Expo (Nov. 9-10-11) to be something exceptional, Fred pointed out that there'll be a lot of new ideas exchanged and much dialog on Expo '73! Meeting will take place March 22-23-24 at the Americana Hotel in Miami Beach. As of this writing, attendance is already very near the 100% mark!

ROCK-OLA MFG. CORP.'S AD MANAGER George Hincker arranged to have three Rock-Ola "450" phonographs on display in the record departments of E. J. Korvettes (Morton Grove), Playback (Ford City) and Goldblatt's (State Street) to help United Artists Records kick-off its new catalog of oldies. The promotion ran for two full weeks and was just about wrapping up at press time—and, we understand, the young people were as excited about the gorjus juke box as they were the new records!

WILLIAMS ELECTRONICS INC. IS currently concentrating on quantity shipments of its "Upper Deck" baseball game which was very recently released to the trade. It's being extremely well received, Bill DeSelm tells us. Also on the present delivery schedule is the "Cape God" shuffle. Distributors and operators can look forward to a new 4-player from Williams called "Fun Fest". Sample shipments will commence in mid-March with quantity delivered to follow—so watch for it!

GOT THE WORD FROM Chet Kajeski of Martin & Snyder one stop in Detroit on two recently released singles that are happening big with operators in his area. Titles are "Delta Queen" by Don Fardon and "Frankenstein" by Edgar Winter.

THE ENTIRE SALES AND MANAGERIAL staff of Empire Dist. gathered at the Marriott Motor Hotel here last weekend (9-10) for a series of business meetings, climaxed by a cocktail and dinner party on Saturday. Empire execs Gil Kitt, Joe Robbins and Jack Burns presided over the activities and Bally Mfg. Co. was represented by Ross Scheer, Bill O'Donnell Jr., and Dan Conroy . . . Jack Burns, by the way, had just returned from a vacation trip to Florida with his wife, Sibby. They really had a ball, he said, spending some time at the Siesta Key on Crescent Beach and in Pompano where they visited with former Indiana operator Fred Keidaish and his Phyllis.

THE NAME OF THE GAME is "Baseball Champ" and it's the new 2-player action game Chicago Dynamic Industries Inc. began sample shipping last week. Marketing manager Chuck Arnold tells us the game is enjoying wide acceptance in the trade and "re-orders are already pouring in!" Also very much in demand out there, according to Chuck, is the "Citation" shuffle.

MILWAUKEE MENTIONS

The current line of Rowe phonos and vending equipment is selling very well at Pioneer Sales & Services, according to Joel Kleiman and Sam Cooper. Pioneer recently hosted a service school on the All Purpose Merchandiser and the session attracted more than 35 ops and service people from various areas of the state. Dave Morcon of the factory's field engineering staff and Dan Karolzak, Pioneer's vending sales manager, conducted the school. On the subject of "Air Hockey" Joel was most enthusiastic. The Brunswick game continues to be one of the most consistently in demand items at Pioneer. Also in the games line, Joel mentioned that the current Allied Leisure arcade pieces look very good.

EMPIRE DIST. IN GREEN BAY is experiencing growing pains! Distrib recently purchased additional space adjacent to its current headquarters, which will enlarge the Empire premises by something like 4,000 square feet! . . . Bob Rondeau was telling us how good business is and how much he is looking forward to the upcoming release of a new Bally pingame. "Pong", a new 2-player which Empire recently added to its games lineup, has really developed into a very strong item out there, according to Bob.

ON THE SINGLES SCENE: Gordon Pelzek of Record City spotlights the following as very active with area operators: "The Twelfth Of Never" by Donny Osmond (MGM), "Sing" by The Carpenters (A&M), "Little Willy" by Sweet (Bell), "Teddy Bear Song" by Barbara Fairchild (Columbia), "Margie Who's Watching The Baby" by Earl Richard (Ace Of Hearts) and "Bitter Bad" by Melanie (Neighborhood).
