You'll wonder where the Raiders went

When you listen to the new Mark Lindsay record, the first thing you'll notice is the obvious lack of Raiders. It's a pretty Jim Webb tune. Done up with strings and such.

(If you're a fan of Paul Revere and The Raiders, fear not. Mark is still with the group. He simply wanted to do a song that wasn't quite in keeping with the Raiders' image.)

Mark's first single, alone, is called "First Hymn From Grand Terrace." And it looks like it'll go from "good music" to "top 40."

Or is it the other way around?

U. S.-English Sounds: Active Global Stalemate

American and British disk creativity is running just about neck-and-neck in the global chart race. From Britain, to across the channel to across the seas to other Continents, there is a remarkable split between U. S. and British-made disks doing strong chart activity. (The survey excludes the U. S., where local product rules the roost by an overwhelming margin, but more about that later).

There are a number of interesting aspects to this situation. The common-denominator in most countries where there is a strong market for original sounds from the U. S. and England is the Beatles, who, after five years since the start of their impact on the world music scene, continue to make steady, chart-topping appearances (the group's current world-wide smash is "Get Back," with the "Ballad Of John & Yoko," despite its controversial references to Christ, also a runaway hit). But, going down the rest of the talent lineup giving both nations global stature it's practically a toss-up over which act follows the Beatles in popularity. Some of the leaders are the Fifth Dimension, Mary Hopkin, Tommy Roe, Tom Jones, Elvis Presley, Simon & Garfunkel and Frank Sinatra.

This stalemate, if you will, in the dominance of one country's product over another seems to indicate several present day facts of pop music life. It indicates a strong comeback of the American sound following the invasion of the British that helped revolutionize pop music. To the credit of the American scene, it, too, has carried the sound revolution further down the road to new vistas by an almost flag-waving response to the British goings-on. The so-called "underground movement for instance, generated new pop music concepts and that old standby, Rhythm & Blues, got a new recognition of its own, as a result of door-opening white artist imitations of the real thing. In America, these invigorating new influences on the general pop market tended to supercede the sounds from England, so that at this juncture the U. S. chart, with only a half-a-dozen or so exceptions (one of them the Beatles, of course), is once more a U. S.-dominated one. Adding a note of the negative, it's also true that no new dramatic approaches have come from either side of the Atlantic in the past year, ones that can offer the international market a flood of talent from either the U. S. or England and thus put one country's product far in the lead.

At this point, however, it would seem that sounds in general have settled down to a level where it is not innovation that is important, but how artists handle the sounds now in general acceptance. This puts the artist in the spotlight, and from a perusal of the international charts, the world of music likes the way U. S. and English acts are handling themselves.

See MGM Board Naming Ron Kass To Key Position

NEW YORK — The appointment of Ross Kass as general manager of MGM Records and Big 3 Music is expected at this week's meeting of the MGM board in New York. At this point it's all speculation, with no official word from MGM or Kass. Kass recently left the Beatles Apple disk operation in England.

FRONT COVER:

In these days of quickly formed, quickly disbanded groups, Creedence Clearwater Revival, together since their junior high school days, stands out. When the group finally got down to the business of recording, they did it with a bang, hitting with their initial single, "Suzie Q," and album, "Creedence Clearwater Revival."

Since then, Creedence has grown into one of the hottest disk and in person acts in the country, pulling s.r.o. audiences in a host of major settings. The group headlined this past weekend's Pop Festival at Devonshire Downs, near Hollywood, and heads into summer with a flock of major engagements including dates in Fairfax, Va. (July 2); Atlanta (4); Mobile (5); Tampa (6); Seattle (11); Vancouver (12); Portland (13); Fillmore East, N. Y. (18, 19); Atlantic City Pop Festival (Aug. 2); Singer Bowl, N. Y. (9) and the Woodstock Pop Festival (16).

Fantasy Records has claimed million dollar sales on the group's two albums (2nd was "Bayou Country") and million record sales on the "Proud Mary" and current "Bad Moon Rising" singles. Creedence, consisting of John Fogerty (who also produces), Tom Fogerty, Stu Cook and Doug Clifford, is currently working on a third album for late July release.

Com'wealth United Starts Indie Label Setup; Len Sachs VP, GM; See Distrib Acquisitions

NEW YORK — Commonwealth United Corp., a music business factor with production, music publishing and recording studio holdings, has entered into the disk field with the formation of Commonwealth United Music Records.

The label, an off-shoot of CUC's music division, Commonwealth United Music, will be administered by Len Sachs, who leaves a 9-year association at Atlantic Records (most recently as vp and director of sales & merchandising), to accept his new industry role. As vp and general manager, Sachs will direct sales, merchandising and distribution. All product will be controlled creatively by CUM, whose Charles Koppelman, president of CUM, and Don Rubin will guide both external and integral product flow.

Although an indie distrib network will handle the company's product, Koppelman indicated that the company will further extend its interests in the music field by the acquisition of distrib outlets, with some announcements along this line expected in the near future.

An Aug. 1 target date has been set for the CUM label's debut on the market. Talent now being recorded will be part of a three singles, three album introduction of the line. In addition, soundtracks of films coming through CUC will be released on the label. In Dec., CUC will release "The Magic Christians," a film starring Ringo Starr and Peter Sellers. The score, being penned by John Sebastian, as a CUMR track release sometime in Dec. in conjunction with the release of the film. Sebastian is a writer in the CUM stable.

Rubin, Koppelman, Sachs

Although claiming sales of $20 million in recordings placed on various labels, CUM hopes to release greater profit margins with its own indie-handled label. As Don Rubin explains it: "now that we can control a record from its inception until it reaches the stores, we increase its chance of success and CUM's dollar share of that success."

Koppelman is presently negotiating foreign deals and tape rights. Also, the label will soon announce the filling of posts in national sales and production.

Bruce Rozet, CUC's chairman of the board, announced the formation of the label in a joint statement with Koppelman.

RCA Switches To Roberts In St. Lou

NEW YORK — RCA Records will be distributed in St. Louis by Roberts Distributing, according to Jack Burgess, vp of commercial sales. Interstate Supply Co., the label's previous outlet in the city, will continue to be the distrib for RCA Consumer Electronic Products, Burgess said. Robert L. Hausfater is president of Roberts; Norman Hausfater is vp and general sales manager.

Roberts was acquired last year by Transamerica, which also has acquired Musical Isle, a large rack operation in St. Louis administered by Roberts.

Bud Dain: Industry No Longer Geared For 'Borderline' LP Release Schedules

NEW YORK — There's little room today for the "borderline" LP package.

This is the contention of the Liberty Records & Imperial labels' general manager, Bud Dain, who is presently guiding the company's release schedule. According to Dain, today's record market cannot absorb large LP release schedules that feature, in his view, many "borderline" LP's that will fall by the sales wayside.

Today's LP product, Dain explains, requires intensive sales and promotional work before a successful sales pattern begins to emerge. This can only be achieved by work on a limited number of LP's, he adds. Although he thinks the business should try to express its traditional belief in "left-field" hits, Dain feels that the business should only do so with the realization that even this kind of product must be promoted to the hilt. Otherwise, he declares, sales and promotional efforts must be directed towards product with the greater chance of succeeding.

In backing-up his LP release philosophy with a handful of LP's each month, Dain says he can outperform in sales a 20 plus album release with concentration on four or five albums.

With regard to breaking LP's by newcomers, Dain says he has utilized the growth of speciality (e.g. underground) disk shops in view of the emergence of big users. These outlets, he notes, can be key barometers of exposure for new LP acts.

Such dealers may be asked to stock a modest amount of product. The outlet may then be involved in radio station ad time financed by the label, but making reference to the store as the source for the LP. Through this manner, Dain explains, the label can determine the potential of the album and make a decision as whether or not to pursue similar tests in other cities.

Shelby Singleton Buys Sun Label; Philips Part Of Full Reactivation

NASHVILLE — The Sun label, original home for many of today's top stars, has been purchased by the Shelby Singleton Corp.

In announcing the acquisition, Shelby Singleton, president, did not disclose the purchase price, but said that Sam Philips, founder of the label, had agreed to a long-term working arrangement with the company, now to be known as Sun International Corp.

The deal signals an intensive reactivation of the company. According to Noble J. Bell, SSC exec, there are 2700 complete master tapes of such artists as Johnny Cash, Jerry Lee Lewis, Charlie Rich, Roy Orbison, Bill Justis, Carl Perkins, among others. It's to be recalled that Philips discovered and produced these acts, including Elvis Presley, whose Sun masters were turned over to RCA when Presley joined that label. Philips was also a pioneer in disk sessions in Nashville.

The Sun masters will re-appear in newly designed LP packaging now underway. In addition, the first week in July will see the start of an extensive advertising and promotion campaign, Singleton noted.

Singleton said Sun had sufficient dates by Johnny Cash to produce 17 Cash albums. He claimed that his distributors, informed of this, are ordering at least 150,000 copies each when available.

Singleton also said that new talent will emerge on the label as recorded by Philips, Singleton and SSC staffers. Sun International will now be located at SSC offices in Nashville, where SSC's sales and promotional units will assume these responsibilities.

JACKIE DE SHANNON

Think of your fellow man
Lend him a helping hand
Put a little love in your heart
If you see it's getting late
Oh please don't hesitate
Put a little love in your heart

CHORUS

And the world will be a better place
And the world will be a better place
For you and me
You just wait and see
Take a good look around and
If you're lookin' down
Put a little love in your heart
I hope when you decide
Kindness will be your guide
Put a little love in your heart
And the world will be a better place
And the world will be a better place
For you and me
If you just wait and see
Put a little love in your heart

Another day goes by
And still the children cry
Put a little love in your heart
If you want the world to know
We won't let hatred grow
Put a little love in your heart
And the world will be a better place
And the world will be a better place

Musician's Fund At $5.8 Mil In 10th Yr.

LAS VEGAS — The 72nd Convention of the American Federation of Musicians opened last at the Stardust Hotel, highlighted by President Herman Kenin's report that the AFM-EPW (Employers Pension and Welfare) Fund now covers 90,000 AMF members who perform in broadcasting and on phonograph recordings, motion pictures and other work. The Fund balance now stands at $33½ million, Kenin told the more than 1,100 delegates representing the Union's nearly 700 locals.

Ten years ago, in the Fund's first year, it received $1 million in employer contributions. "In our tenth year, it received $5,870,000," Kenin reported.

Kenin also noted that membership in the Federation has grown to 297,000, up from a previous count of approximately 280,000.

In a wide-ranging address that stressed the importance of "exploration of new areas and new ways of doing things," Kenin took note of the "serious and chronic crisis facing U.S. symphony orchestras." He urged "vigorous action in petitioning our government to increase the piddling amounts of money earmarked for support of the symphony orchestra in America."

Kenin asked the convention to consider "a bold new program . . . to protect young musicians from the vicious exploitation now so prevalent in the field of rock 'n' roll: to enter into an

NATRA Confab In DC Runs August 13-17

NEW YORK — The National Association of Television & Radio Announcers (NATRA) will hold its 1969 convention at the Washington Hilton Hotel Aug. 13-17.

Attention this year, the association said, will be "focused on business." "There will be strong deemphasis on entertainment, promotion or exposure of commercial product. If we are to get ourselves together, it can only be done in an atmosphere where business is the key word."

"If there was ever a time that NATRA was in a fish bowl, it will be this year," says Del Shields, exec secretary. "We will be on the steps of the Capitol; we will stand there for all the world to see whether or not the National Association of Television and Radio Announcers can take care of business."

The Capitol Regional of NATRA (Balt.-Wash.) will be the host for the convention.

NATRA is requesting again this year that all credit arrangements be made prior to the meet. The association said it advised the hotel that lack of credit authorization will necessitate payment of all rooms in advance and other services on demand.

Imperial Rivers Push Aimed At Wide Market

LOS ANGELES — Imperial Records' advertising/merchandising campaign for Johnny Rivers' new "Touch Of Gold" LP, in the planning for several months, will span all phases of the rock market, from sub-teen thru heavy underground. Full and half-page ads have already been placed in Flip, Go, Rolling Stone, Circus, Evergreen, The Village Voice and ten underground newspapers.

"With most artists," explained Eli Bird, Imperial's national sales and promotion manager, "it is relatively easy to pinpoint the market which we want to saturate. However, with Johnny Rivers, his appeal is so universal and his fans make up such a heterogeneous group, that it is unfair to zero in on one record buying market, and neglect another. Hippies and housewives from New York and Peoria all seem to dig Johnny Rivers."

In addition to print ads, Imperial is pouring $100,000 into radio spots, which will be broadcast on AM and FM stations in large and small markets.

A hanging mobile depicting "A Touch Of Gold" and four other Rivers' album, a mounted 24" by 24" album blowup, a multi-colorer poster of Rivers "in concert," and an ample supply of counter supplements and biographies have been cooked up by Imperial's ad/merchandising department for service to department and music retailers carrying "A Touch Of Gold."

Imperial has set up a similar campaign, with a smaller budget, for Rivers' latest single, "Muddy River." Underground radio and press, plus the usual media are being utilized here also.

"WILLIE & LAURA MAE JONES"

Atlantic 2647

Willie and Laura Mae Jones
Were our neighbors a long time back
They lived right down the road from us
In a shack just like our shack
The people worked the land together
We learned to count on each other
When you live off the land
You don't have the time
To think 'bout another mans color

The cotton was high
And the corn was growing fine
But that was another place
And another time

Sit out on the front porch
In the evening when the sun went down
Willie would play and the kids would sing
And everybody would mess around
Daddy would bring out his guitar
And play on through the night
Now and then Willie would grin
And say hey you play all right
— Made me feel so good —

Now I remember the best times of all
When saturday came around
We all would stop by Willie's house
And say do you all need anything from town
He'd say no, but why don't you all
Stop on the way back through
And I'll get Laura Mae
To cook up some bar-b-cue
— You know that's good —

The cotton was high
And the corn was growing fine
But that was another place
And another time

The years rolled past
The lands n' took back all they had given
We all knew we had to move
If we was gonna make a livin'
So we all moved on
And went our 'separate ways
Sure was hard to say goodbye to Willie and Laura Mae
— Jones —

The cotton was high
And the corn was growing fine
But that was another place
And another time

Many are called, but few are chosen.
Many are made, but few are sold.

Ask Detroit, ask Chicago, but don't ask me,
because I'm telling you, damn it!

The biggest selling album to date.
"HOT BUTTERED SOUL"

What Detroit is telling you, what Chicago is telling you, and what I'm telling you today ...
tomorrow the whole world will be telling you.
Sure there are only four tracks. Certainly they are long tracks. But I bet you won't dare play just one!

"Hot Buttered Soul" Isaac Hayes Enterprise ENS 1001

NEW YORK

Good Old Rock 'N Roll

Chartreuse socks. Belted-in-back pants. Pizza as a new taste delight. Alan Freed. Memories of the 1950's are upon us, unavoidably. Cat Mother riding the charts with a melange of rock-a-billy tunes. Dunhill releasing an album of old hits redone. The MC5 cutting Little Richard tunes. The Beatles playing around in a studio with old Ben E. King material. The Who jamming old rock tunes backstage. Chuck Berry at the Fillmore. Little Richard at Central Park. Fats Domino coming to the Fillmore in Sept. The Everly Brothers at the Bitter End. And Elvis Presley riding in the #1 slot on the singles chart. And that's not even thinking about the 15 or so oldies currently riding the charts in mostly sterilized and watered down versions.

The only part of the '50's music scene not back in strength is the pure group vocal sound (although the new Little Anthony and the Imperials' single, "Out Of Sight, Out Of Mind," does bring the old days back). The Five Satins, the Flamingos, the Heartbeats, the Charts, the Moonglows . . . and endless other combinations of outlandishly dressed crooners, thrilling audiences at the Apollo, Loew's State, the Brooklyn Fox, Brooklyn Paramount. Will those days ever return? Do we want them to return? Why not!

IN SOUNDS: Central Park's Schaefer fest kicks off Thurs (26) with Benny Goodman and Lionel Hampton, spirals upwards Fri with Tiny Tim and levels off Sat with Arthur Brown and Rhinoceros . . . Procol Harum, the Byrds and Raven at the Fillmore (27,28) . . . Savoy Brown at Ungano's, along with A&M's John Braden . . . Pazant Brothers at the Scene

Blind Faith

DON'T MISS NET's show on the Doors, being aired as part of its Critique Series (in N.Y. this Wed, 25, at 9:00 pm). Moderator Richard Goldstein, in a counter analogy to Janis, doesn't get it together as well live as he does on paper, but he still turns a mean phrase or two. WNEW's Rosko scores heavily as a video personality, bringing his points home with a firm grip. Freelancer Al Aronowitz and Jazz 'n Pop editor Pat Kennelly also contribute. Oh

Sheliah Kent

yeah, the Doors are there too, singing and rapping.

Jim Capaldi, ex-Traffic drummer, has joined Spooky Tooth, replacing Mike Kelly. He'll be with them for their upcoming U.S. tour . . . Producer Jimmy Miller has left the Chris Blackwell organization . . . Joe Cocker can do no wrong and should leave the U.S. (his current tour has been extended) a major star. Parties for him in L.A. and San Francisco brought a heavy turnout of rock personalities . . . Monkees concert at Forest Hills, was cancelled. No explanation given.

Al Altman, at Screen Gems/Columbia, excited about three of his tunes included in the new Ed Ames album, ness. After a year and a half with indie producer Jerry Ross, Sheilah Kent has moved to Craig Braun Album Graphics, where she'll be hawking album covers to some lucky disk firm execs.

Blind Faith (Clapton-Baker-Winwood-Gretch) makes its New York debut at Madison Square Garden on Sat., July 12. Delaney & Bonnie and Friends, along with a new English group, Free, also on the bill.

"Hi. I'm Jenny Dean. I'm A groupie, perhaps one of the biggest," is a fairly close paraphrase of the radio ad campaign RCA has launched to support the Lighthouse during their New York gig at the Village Gate. Groupie consciousness has reached an all-time high (Felix Pappalardi has Jenny Dean signed to a disk pact) and should go even higher as Alan Lorber's "The Groupies" documentary circulates around. Lorber is distributing the album, by mail-order, thru his own ALP Records (available for $4.98 from Box 1192, Radio City Station). Having heard the album, and knowing several of the groupies involved, we have to congratulate Lorber on capturing the true flavor of the scene.

Columbia's Man guested (via video tape) on the Ed Sullivan stanza last night, while at the same time performing at the Toronto Pop Festival. In addition to their appearance, Man's current single, "Sister Salvation," was used to background a stop-action sequence wherein famed pop artist Peter Max created an original piece for Sullivan's viewers.

Barbara Keith, formerly with Kangaroo and now on her own, breaking in her act at Gerde's Folk City.

The Hyphen-Ator Syndrome

Several months ago, at the Gavin Radio Program Conference in Vegas, writer-producer Jimmy Webb noted that, in the past few years, it has become possible "for the young, creative writer to do something original and unique and be recognized for it . . . the finest pop music that has ever been written at any time is being written today and is going to be written in the next five years." He labeled this the "parenthesis syndrome," explaining that the writer is the guy in parenthesis under the song's title.

Our Funk and Wagnall suggests that a "syndrome" is "an aggregate set of concurrent symptoms indicating the presence and nature of a disease." With this in mind we submit that the most significant syndrome of the last decade in our business is involved with the hyphenators, those compleat artists who force editorial writers to pound out hyphen after hyphen in an effort to describe their blessed abilities. For example, Jimmy Webb is actually a composer-arranger-producer-singer-publisher. Glen Campbell, who more often than not sings Jimmy Webb comps, is a singer-actor-guitarist-composer. And Bobby Darin, who just completed his first screenplay and expects to direct the forthcoming flick, is a composer-lyricist-actor-singer-publisher-arranger-record producer-record executive-scenarist-film director. A far cry from that by-gone era when Benny Goodman was merely a band leader-clarinetist and Frank Sinatra was a singer-period.

PROLIFERATION ALONG THE PACIFIC — A reminder to east coast labels and pubberies, still not represented on the coast, that in last week's CB eight of the top twelve singles and ten of the top fifteen LP's came from coast based artists and/or labels.

LOVELIER, THE SECOND TIME AROUND — "Hottest Ticket At B' Way B.O." notes Variety and U.A.'s Del Roy suggests that "Midnight Cowboys" recently marked up "the biggest week's gross of any film in the history of N.Y.'s east side." The

Jerome Hellman-John Schlesinger produced movie, which has not yet opened here but has been press previewed at least thrice, will undoubtedly elicit a repeat Academy nomination for Dustin Hoffman and another for co-star Jon Voight. Flick is 1 — the most shattering indictment of a culture since Vittorio De Sica's "The Bicycle Thief" 2 — probably one of the ten best films to ever come out of Hollywood and 3 — a threat to win more Oscars than any movie since "Ben Hur."

It also marks the return of a song which we first encountered about a year ago on a Capitol single featuring its composer, Fred Neil. It was subsequently included in a Nilsson LP on Victor and managed, as a single, to climb into our Top 100 chart. It should be back with a vengeance. Much higher as a result of its inclusion as an integral part of the soundtrack score. The song is titled "Everybody's Talkin'."

Manuela

"I'm told that Jerry Hellman heard the song in my LP," says Nilsson, "and tested it out on a rough cut of the film. It apparently worked because he called and asked if I'd like to see the film. I ended up seeing it eight times (it could very well be the best American film in the past ten years) before I added new tracks."

Prediction: Both Nilsson's single (re-released on Victor) and the U.A. soundtrack LP will be top ten come Autumn with the main title theme (being cut instrumentally by a slew of artists) also a chart winner.

#1 in Germany — West Germany's No. 1 fem songstress, Manuela, currently in town for English speaking and singing lessons and also promoting her initial single and LP (premiering this week on London) is out "West Coast Girl of the Week." Manuela has sold more than five million records since her career began six years ago. "How Near is Love" is her first side in English. In case you're wondering, Manuela scored #1 in a poll recently conducted by Bravo Magazine with such potent talents as Mary Hopkin (#4), Lulu (#6) and Aretha Franklin (#13) also-rans.

"Our West Coast Girl for All Seasons" is 14 year old Alix Jody Geller who, this week, is being graduated to Taft High in Woodland Hills. She plays piano nearly as well as anyone and is currently writing her first novel. And now that Alix is practically a full grown woman, we hope she'll

A new promotion firm 22nd Century Productions has been formed here by recordbiz veteran Dick Gassen and Chi attorney Charles Witz. Offices are located at 70 W. Hubbard. Speaking of Decca, label's new regional promo manager Doug Lee stopped by the CB office to intro songster Ken Stella whose bow outing is "I Wanna Spend My Whole Life Lovin' You" . . . Billy Eckstine, Bobby Doyle and The Grassroots headline the 6/27 guest lineup on Hugh Hefner's "Playboy After Dark" TV'er (WGN) . . . Picks of the Week

THE HAPPENINGS (Jubilee 5666)

Where Do I Go/Be In (Hare Krishna) (2:35) (United Artists, ASCAP—Rado, Ragni, MacDermot)

Latest "Hair" tracks to be singled out, and the second vocal melody, the Happenings' treatment of "Where Do I Go" and the "Be In (Hare Krishna)" is headed for heavy action. Easy-going vocals, a polished across-the-board appeal in the production and the strength of this material should set sales figures soaring. Flip: No info available.

THE BOX TOPS (Mala 12040)

Soul Deep (2:25) (Earl Barton, BMI — Thompson)

An extra effort commercial side that should bring the Box Tops back in the running for excellent top forty showings, this new track reunites the team with material from their "Letter" writer. Extremely strong outing that is bound to break wide open Flip: "(The) Happy Song" (1:55) (Press, BMI — Chilton)

SMOKEY ROBINSON & THE MIRACLES (Tamla 54184)

Abraham, Martin & John (2:51) (Roznique, BMI — Holler)

Currently on the top 100 with "Doggone Right," Smokey Robinson and the Miracles have been spotlighting their version of "Abraham, Martin & John" on a series of television appearances. The exposure has already triggered anticipation and response that indicates double-hit singles action for the act. Flip: "Much Better Off" (2:49) (Jobete, BMI — Robinson, Moore)

WILSON PICKETT (Atlantic 2648)

Hey Joe (3:05) (Third Story, BMI — Roberts)

Pickett has been into something else since "Hey Jude," either reworking or re-introducing blues off-shoots for the soul market. Latest is a blistering treatment of the Jimi Hendrix name-maker that features the Pickett vocal dynamite and his superb backup team on top of the material. Flip: "Night Owl" (2:20) (Cotillion, BMI — Covay)

JOE TEX (Dial 4093)

That's the Way (3:45) (Tree, BMI — Tex)

Off his humorous run, Joe Tex is back into the love message ballad slant that he carries off so well. The unique Tex ability is matched by an impressive song which is gilt-edged for r&b listeners and could break open as a teen summer favorite on the pop side. Flip: "Anything You Wanna Know" (3:45) (Same credits)

THE MOMENTS (Stang 5005)

I Do (Gambi, BMI —)

Back from "Sunday" and looking for yet another increase to maintain the steady sales growth of the group, The Moments burst into an impressive blues-ballad side with the markings of a winner. A lot of Philly-oldie splendor and just a trace of Dells influence give the side powerhouse potential. Flip info not included.

SOLOMON BURKE (Bell 806)

That Lucky Old Sun (3:00) (Robinson, ASCAP — Smith, Gillespie)

Returning to the best seller lists with "Proud Mary," Solomon Burke has come up with a sensational reading of the standard (Frankie Laine oldie) that will keep him racking up sales. Side is super-charged with some excellent instrumental support and had gained radio action from Burke's LP even before the single came out. Flip: "How Big a Fool" (2:15) (Tamiko/The Kids, BMI — Burke)

THE ZOMBIES (Date 1648)

If It Don't Work Out (2:27) (Mainstay, BMI — Argent)

Melodically carrying the appeal of "Time Of The Season," this new Zombies track comes off completely different as a result of a far greater rhythmic emphasis that should touch off a top forty fuse for the side. Solid teen track with runaway power. Flip: "Don't Cry For Me" (2:11) (Mainstay, BMI — White)

RHINOCEROS (Elektra 45659)

I Need Love (2:43) (Nelchell, BMI — Williams)

Third single from Rhinoceros scores with a booming rock impact that is certain to shake up listeners expecting the "Apricot Brandy" follow-up to follow the team's last-time-out style. Hard hitting and filled with the sales power to explode. Flip info not available.

JULIUS WECHTER & THE BA JA MARIMBA BAND (A&M 1078)

I Don't Want to Walk Without You (2:45) (Paramount, ASCAP—Loesser, Styne)

Going the route that re-charged Herb Alpert's sales battery, Julius Wechter turns vocalist on this easy-going soft summery side. Standard is lightly treated with a bit of the Baja Band humor and is a left-field choice to gain momentum across the pop board. Flip info not included.

LITTLE ANTHONY & THE IMPERIALS (United Artists 50552)

Out of Sight, Out of Mind (2:38) (Nom, BMI—Hunter, Otis)

Oldie that is remembered by the Five Keys is turned into a '69 hit runner by Little Anthony & the Imperials. Aside from the return to their old name, the act revives much of the style that marked early efforts in a showing that should blossom on the charts. Flip: "Summer's Comin' In" (2:59) (United Artists, ASCAP—Marks)

LOU RAWLS (Capitol 2550)

Your Good Thing (2:51) (East, BMI — Hayes, Porter)

Lou Rawls has finally returned to the kind of material that could add the extra spark for hit connection. Latest side kicks the movie theme habit and gives Rawls a powerful ballad with emotional huskiness to match his vocal toughness. Excellent r&b prospect with pop potency. Flip: "Season of the Witch" (5:50) (Peer Int'l, BMI — Leitch) Outstanding performance of this much-cut song. Faces the length problem that retarded earlier singles.

Picks of the Week

JOAN BAEZ (Vanguard 35092)

If I Knew (2:47) (Fennario/Robbins-Chandos, ASCAP — Duscheck, Marden)

Coming off an interesting sales showing singleswise with "Love Is Just a Four-Letter Word," Joan Baez presents a novel combination of Nashville and rock styles on a follow-up side that should capture enough attention to start a sales surge again. Flip: "Rock Salt & Nails" (3:50) (Flatt & Scruggs, BMI — Phillips)

JOHN HARTFORD (RCA 9753)

Orphan Of World War Two (2:42) (Glaser, BMI — Hartford)

Extremely well received through his television performance and from his latest LP, John Hartford's "Orphan of World War Two" promises to become a FM anthem and AM breakout. Soft-spoken protest ballad in the best of taste, the side could prove Hartford's first single breakthrough. Flip: "I Didn't Know the World Would Last this Long" (3:54) (Same credits)

WILLIAM BELL & MAVIS STAPLES (Stax 0043)

Love's Sweet Sensation (2:59) (East/Memphis, BMI — Floyd, Cropper)

Terrific teaming of William "I Forgot to Be Your Lover" Bell and Mavis Staples whose voice is captured with greater reflection of its electrifying impact than in recent sides. Standout track that has pop/blues momentum enough to skyrocket. Flip: "Strung Out" (3:05) (East/Memphis/Groovesville, BMI — Briggs) Another brilliant side well worth attention.

LOU CHRISTIE (Buddah 116)

I'm Gonna Make You Mine (2:41) (Pocket Full of Tunes, BMI—Romeo)

Pulsing with the style that has given Lou Christie his biggest breakouts before, this new track features the teen power to breakthrough on the sales side. Material is a cute teen romance song that picks up momentum from some exciting instrumental touches. Flip: "I'm Gonna Get Married" (3:28) (Kama Sutra, BMI—Christie, Herbert)

MASKED MAN & THE AGENTS (Dynamo 136)

Get Away Dreams (2:55) (Catalogue/Den, BMI—Bethea)

Getting away from the "One Eye Open" groove that has served him so well Bethea, the Masked Man, turns up with a very, very strong rhythm side that should mount a heavy sales drive. Medium paced song is aimed at both dance fan and listening audiences. Got the makings of a runaway r&b and solid pop seller. Flip: "I Wouldn't Come Back" (2:07) (Same credits)

JOHNNY MATHIS (Columbia 44915)

A Time For Us (2:50) (Famous, ASCAP—Kusik, Snyder, Rota)

Just a brilliant vocal version of the "Theme from 'Romeo And Juliet,'" that's all! Mathis' reading of the song that is currently #2 instrumentally carries much of the manner that gave him "Maria," and should make this the decisive vocal version of the hit. Excellent. Flip: No info supplied.

TONY SCOTTI (Liberty 56118)

Those Lazy, Hazy, Crazy Days of Summer (2:35) (Comet, ASCAP—Carste, Tobias)

Bright revamping of the years back Andy Williams hit that features 'live' party effects and a chuckling effervescence that will earn the attention of MOR, adult and may teen stations. Could be the biggest yet for Tony Scotti. Flip: "I Miss You So" (2:27) (MCA, ASCAP—Henderson, Scott, Robin)

Newcomer Picks

MYRTH (RCA 0191)

We Got to Get Together (2:58) (Al Gallico, BMI — Mulholland, Kenrich, Cook, Drury)

The pressure-packed instrumental tension that marked the Friends of Distinction puts an internal explosiveness behind the vocal of Myrth's debut outing. Same producer, but a different approach in this slow rhythmic keg of sales dynamite. First twenty seconds are enough to mark this side for top forty breakout and blues support. Flip: "Get it Straight" (3:13) (Gallico, BMI — Cook, Cork, Drury, Guthrie)

CHARLIE McCLENDON & THE MAGNIFICENTS (Colossus 101)

We're Gonna Hate Ourselves in the Morning (2:12) (Rising Sons, BMI — Ward, Alexander)

Debut side for this group and the Bell distributed label is a wierd combination of Bill Deal and the Box Tops. The diamond-in-the-rough kind of non-gloss production that has revived early rock flavor to successful advantage is joined here by a romping group performance likely to take off. Flip: No info included.

THE INTRIGUES (Yew 1001)

In a Moment (2:50) (Odum & Neiburg, BMI — Intrigues)

Fine blues showing from the Intrigues gives this splendid ballad a shot at grabbing breakaway attention. Side is steeped in oldie harmonies and comes across with a dance rhythm which should give the side a running start toward the charts. Flip: "Scotchman Rock" (2:06) (Same credits) Yew Records, 250 W. 57th St. NYC.

WAYNE CARSON (Monument 1152)

(Don't Let the Sun Set on You) In Tulsa (3:09) (Earl Barton, BMI — Thompson)

Best known to fans as the composer of "The Letter," Wayne Carson (Thompson) has come up with the performance that will establish him as an artist. Tremendous material with a powerful story-line and the outstanding combination of pop-country and rock style to give "In Tulsa" heavy sales impact. Flip info not supplied.

DANNY EZBA'S GOLD (Jamie 1377)

Queen Mary (3:05) (Renner-Dandelion, BMI — Armistead, Baker)

Coming out of Houston in the Bubble Puppy manner, this new act has already broken out of the Texas area with a side that sounds like a nationwide winner. Booming blues-rock track is capped by a very fine vocal showing which should set up chart sales action for the master pick-up. Flip: "It's a Cryin' Shame" (Renner, BMI — Armistead, Baker, Buchanan)

Choice Programming

Choice Programming selections are singles which, in the opinion of our reviewing staff, are deserving of special programmer consideration.

MASON WILLIAMS (Warner Bros.-7 Arts 7301)

A Gift of Song (4:30) (Irving, BMI — In-gles) Pretty ballad offering with Mason Williams singing once more. The misty-sweet style makes "A Gift of Song" likely fare for MOR and soft sound stations. Flip: "A Major Thang" (3:15) (Irving, BMI — Williams)

BARBRA STREISAND (Columbia 44921)

Little Tin Soldier (3:51) (Canopy, ASCAP — Webb) Almost a soloist version of a Gregorian chant, this unusual Jim Webb composition is exquisitely rendered by Barbra. Lyrics could capture the added underground attention to break this side wide open. Flip: "Honey Pie" (2:37) (Maclen, BMI — Lennon, McCartney)

LALO SCHIFRIN (Tetragrammaton 1533)

DON RANDI (Capitol 2546)
Theme from "Che" (Fox-Fanfare, BMI — Schifrin) Two distinctly different readings of the Lalo Schifrin title theme from "Che." The material is served with an MOR/adult sparkle in Schifrin's own 2:00 version from the soundtrack; but Don Randi's 3:40 handling has the novel percussion approach of a "Good, Bad & the Ugly" to possibly spark top forty programmer interest. Music deserving of more attention than the movie reviews might have indicated.

21st CENTURY (Dot 17256)

Every Little Heartache (2:43) (Brunswick, BMI — Goodloe, James) Blues backup and a good pop performance make this side a highly attractive effort for top forty consideration. Flip: "Got No Reason" (2:35) (Same credits)

JERRY VALE (Columbia 44914)

He Who Loves (2:29) (Blue Seas/Jac, ASCAP — Bacharach, David) Jerry Vale offers a light, breezy reading of a pretty tune from the always-powerful Bacharach-David catalog. Tune should become a good music favorite with ease. Flip: No info available.

PAULA SYDNEY (Capitol 2535)

I Wanna Be Free (2:06) (Screen Gems—Columbia, BMI — Boyce, Hart) Tune, intro'd by the Monkees on an early album, is hardly recognizable in this soft-beat good music recitation by Paula Sydney. Deck has Summer possibilities. Flip: "Pretty For Me" (2:32) (Westwood, ASCAP—Florence, Allen)

MILT OKUN ARRANGEMENT (Decca 732515)

Oh, Calcutta (2:57) (Window Wide, ASCAP — Walden) Title tune from the current off-Broadway success gets a fine vocal chorus treatment from the Milt Okun Arrangement and should do well at soft-sound outlets. Flip: "Yellow Cat" (2:42) (Cherry Lane, ASCAP — Fromholz)

JACK JONES (RCA 0185)

The Last Seven Days (4:00) (Beechwood, BMI — Hille, Moring) Change of pace outing from songster Jack Jones is a tale of Genesis-in-reverse, describing the repossession of nature's creations. Could become a heavy winner. Flip: "Sweet Child" (2:52) (Westwood, ASCAP — Jones)

JOEL GREY (Columbia 44907)

Don't Remind Me Now Of Time (2:58) (Callee, ASCAP — Yarrow, Simon) Lamenting ballad from "You Are What You Eat" receives a sensitive reading from Broadway star Joel Grey. With enough exposure, deck could be picked up by Top 40 outlets. Flip: "1941" (3:11) (Rock, BMI — Nilsson)

JOHN ROWLES (Kapp 2018)

World Of The Young (3:28) (Peer Int'l, BMI — Reed, Stephens) Though regarded with English esteem as a Tom Jones/Engelbert Humperdinck rival, John Rowles has not yet achieved the same success stateside. Another brilliant ballad which could turn the trick this time out. Flip: "That Wonderful Sound" (3:21) (Francis Day & Hunter, ASCAP — Reed, Stephens)

FRANCINE "PEACHES" BARKER (Columbia 44910)

Traces (2:55) (Low-Sal, BMI — Buie, Cobb, Gordy) Marvellous rerun of the Classics IV hit by Peaches (and not Herb). The attractive material is matched by an equally superb vocal. Flip: "Angels In The Sky" (2:51) (Daedalus, BMI — Barker, Tillman)

KOTTON KANDIE (SSS Int'l 772)

Summer Bug (2:32) (Shelby Singleton, BMI — Saxon, Capello) Summer dance side with a sugar coating and cute teen lyric idea. Could gain enough momentum to climb into the sales lists. Flip info not included.

FAMILY DOGG (Bell 785)

Way Of Life (4:07) (Maribus, BMI — Greenaway, Cooke) Stylish British outing with a folk tinge and mixed teen/MOR sound. Tempo picks up midway to add a bit more teen importance. Flip: "Throw It Away" (2:00) (Mother Mistro, ASCAP — King, Most)

JIMMY REED (Bluesway 61025)

Don't Light My Fire (2:35) (Alstein, BMI — Smith) Charged up an bristling with the combined power of blues and underground-rock appeals, this Jimmy Reed side is an enticing track for FM and r&b attention. Flip: "The Judge Should Know" (2:45) (Alstein, BMI — A & L Smith)

JOHNNY WINTER (GRT 9)

Gangster of Love (2:27) (Andrea, BMI — Watson) Very early Johnny Winter whose style is completely unlike today's. Commercially, though, the reputation and oldie-flavor (Chuck Berry, Bo Diddley combined) could turn up an off-the-wall winner. Flip: "Road Runner" (2:02) (Arc, BMI — McDaniel)

THE ELECTRIC PRUNES (Reprise 0833)

Sell (3:15) (Newcomer, BMI — Herron, Herron) Been a while since this act had a single, and they've changed from Electric Prunes to an English-type act in the Spooky Tooth mould. Powerful sound that could explode. Flip: "Violent Rose" (2:24) (Newcomer, BMI — Herron, Whetstone)

DAVE CORTEZ & THE MOON PEOPLE (Speed 1014)

Happy Soul (With a Hook) (2:55) (Slew/First Date, BMI — Jackobeck, Clowney) Remember Mr. "Happy Organ"? Well, Dave "Baby" Cortez is back, a bit older and a good deal more soul-ed. Long-shot that could pay off. Flip: "Fishin' with Sid" (2:25) (Slew/Peek-a-Boo, BMI — Craft, Martin, Lewis) Speed Records, 345 W. 58th St. NYC 10019.

PAULETTE PARKER (Duke 451)

(Gimme Back) My Love (2:20) (Don, BMI — Malone, Williams) Powerful vocal showcase on a rhythm side that has enough punch to drive into the playlists at r&b stations. Exposure is likely to spark a sizeable sales response. Flip: "Should I Let Him Go" (2:54) (Same credits)

THE STAPLE SINGERS (Stax 0039)

The Challenge (3:11) (East/Memphis, BMI — We Three) Message ballad with a rousing arrangement and "Everyday People" effectiveness. Could capture heavy enough exposure to take off saleswise. Flip: "The Gardener" (2:20) (Same credits)

Choice Programming

Choice Programming selections are singles which, in the opinion of our reviewing staff, are deserving of special programmer consideration.

IRONING BOARD SAM (Atlantic 2649)

Non Support (2:14) (Cotillion/Mikel Hooks BMI — Moore) Unusual down-home outing that has gathered action in several southern cities and could come into the winner's long-shot spotlight via r&b and FM breaks. Flip: "I've Been Used" (2:51) (Cotillion/Goldteak, BMI — Crout)

CLIFTON CHENIER (Bell 811)

Black Gal (2:30) (Tradition/Flat Town, BMI — Tradit.-Arr: Chenier) Picked up as a master seeing action in New Orleans, this strangely arranged blues side is a powerful lid with the potential to set FM-blues fans on their ears. Flip: "Frog Legs" (2:10) (Same credits)

THE MOTIONS (Philips 40624)

Freedom (2:56) (B.I.E.M.) — Ben-nink, Warner) Breezy rock side with a bit of the summertime happiness to carry it into the programming spotlight. Dutch group with a likely noisemaker. Flip: "What's Your Name/Little Boys Life" (2:53) (B.I.E.M. — Warner, Vennick)

AORTA (Columbia 44870)

Strange (2:34) (Ribbage Ribbage, BMI — Hoagland) Bristling underground rock and blues sound gives this track a heavy appeal that could pay off on the top forty circuit. Flip: "Ode to Missy Mztsfpkkl" (3:05) (Edgewater, BMI — Donlinger)

THE BUOYS (Scepter 12554)

These Days (2:43) (Lou Levy, ASCAP — Gill) Pretty pop tune with a bit of oldie flavoring in the instrumental end to complement a light-lyrical jaunt. Story line is interesting and could prove just the hook to bait across the board receptions. Flip: "Don't You Know It's Over" (2:38) (Our Children's/C-Sharp, BMI — Fur-manski, Bozena)

THE MAJIC SHIP (Majic-L 519)

Hummin' (Pronto/East, BMI — Hayes, Porter) A noisemaker song, done this time by a group that has seen regional success before; good combination to stir up top forty exposure and possible breakouts. Flip: "It's Over" (2:17) (Luristan, ASCAP — Majic Ship)

THE GROOVERS (A&M 1077)

He'll Break Your Heart (2:59) (100 Butler Road/Conrad, BMI — Butler, Mayfield, Carter) Sparkler from the Jerry Butler catalog of hits is revived with a bit of the "iceman" style and strong pop slanting. Flip: "I Need You" (3:20) (100 Butler Road/Screen Gems, BMI — King Goffin)

GENE "BOWLEGS" MILLER (Hi 2161)

Frankenstein Walk (2:25) (Jec, BMI — Miller) Blues novelty that moves on with a smashing instrumental track that could create explosive dance fan action. Might reach for the breakout standings. Flip: "Everybody Got Soul" (2:57) (Same credits)

THE HONOLULU ZOO (SSS Int'l 773)

Susua (1:45) (Brindaban, BMI — Morgan) Totally unlike rock sounds around, this track could score off-the-wall explosion that will have the top forty quaking. Long shot side with a teen slant. Flip info not supplied.

JULIE DRISCOLL, BRIAN AUGER & THE TRINITY (Atco 6685)

Save The Country (2:53) (Tuna Fish, BMI — Nyro) Song has been tried as a single several times before, but like "Get Together," it's possible that audiences are now in a listen to the lyric mood. Could come through this time round. Flip: Longer, complete track 3:56.

HUGO WINTERHALTER (Musicor 1368)

FERRANTE & TEICHER (United Artists 50554)
Popi (Unart, BMI — Frontiere, Gimbel) Two delightful performances of the theme from "Popi" will be vying for first honors in the easy-listening and MOR spotlights. The Hugo Winterhalter reading is a bit more youth-oriented, featuring vivid orchestral and rhythm lines; Ferrante & Teicher tackle the side with an even stronger tambourine backdrop, but more delicate strings. Toss-up.

RAMSEY LEWIS TRIO (Cadet 5645)

Wanderin' Rose (2:54) (Portable, BMI — Creque) Pretty pop-jazz-blue mixture with a bit of melancholy and some flashy keyboard sparkle to tempt across-the-board receptions for the new Lewis offering. Flip: "If You've Got It-Flaunt It — Pt. 1" (2:45) (Ramsel, BMI — Lewis, White, Eaton)

THE TURNAROUNDS (Tangerine 999)

Soul Walk (2:22) (Pass-Alta/Pan World, BMI — McWhorter, Aleong) Hearty r&b workout with the vocal vibrance and instrumental power to strike up breakaway programmer receptions. Prospect to break pop. Flip: "Somewhere In This World" (2:18) (Pasa-Alta/Pan World, BMI — Russell, Hunt-Thouston, Aleong)

McKENDREE SPRING (Decca 732510)

What Will We Do With The Child (2:53) (Serendipity, BMI — Holmes) Excellent song from the Serendipity Singers' catalog, and a group growing in popularity join forces for a buildup that might see sales breakouts. Stunning ballad with a "With Pen In Hand" message. Flip: "If the Sun Should Rise" (3:53) (Duchess, BMI — McKendree)

NEON (Columbia 44893)

Long Tall Sally (2:30) (Venice, BMI — Johnson, Penniman, Blackwell) Booming revival of the Little Richard classic comes on with the liquid fire and teen discotheque flair to score. Flip: "Back To Brooklyn" (2:14) (New Beat/Blackwood, BMI — Hill, Scaltrito) Very fine FM track.

THE UNIQUES (Paula 324)

Toys Are Made For Children (2:23) (Press, BMI — Penn, Oldham) Interesting look at love in a lyric that could turn on teen sales. Fine vocal showing could bring the Uniques home with a new winner. Flip: "My Babe" (2:30) (Arc, BMI — Dixon)

THE THREE SOUNDS (Blue Note 1950)

Sugar Hill (Metric/Wally Roker, BMI — Ervin, Grayson) An enchanting bit of jazz material in a pop mood. The pretty instrumental performance should find MOR welcomes that might spur sales. Flip: "Sittin' Duck" (Metric/Roker, BMI — Higgins) Piano showcase ala Ramsey Lewis.

C. J. LEACH (Shelia 551)

What Give A Soulman Soul (2:49) (She-Gen, BMI — Price, Richmond) "I'm A Man" framework is contemporized with a lyric that is bound to break this record throughout the south and into national blues charts. Flip: "Branded" (2: 1/2) (She-Gen, BMI — Price, Pauling, Leach) Shelia Records, Englewood, N.J.

BETTY & CECIL (Sound Scape 100)

Kingdom (in Your Heart) (2:31) (Alakazam, BMI — Byrd) Enjoyable side with some smooth melodic material and a talk-break in the old-fashioned manner. Just plain bright, and listenable blues/pop effort. Flip: "Tell 'Em About Me" (2:18) (Same credits)

Frank Brody New PD of Station CKLW

DETROIT — Frank Brody has just been named program director of CKLW which beams into this city. The Canadian has been a dee jay with the station for the past three years and will continue, at present, to be on the air as a personality during the 9AM to Noon slot daily.

In his earlier years he had been a dee jay in Hamilton and Edmonton, Canada.

Mercury Looks To Indie Producers

NEW YORK—Mercury Records is looking to independent producers to provide the company with product on both new and established acts, according to Bob Reno, director of recorded product for the Mercury family of labels.

Label is already reaping profits on Moms Mabley's "Abraham, Martin & John," produced by indie producer Barry Oslander (who also doubles as a full-time Mercury engineer).

Reno has already concluded agreements with numerous independent production companies for Mercury artists. Newly-signed soul singer Timothy Wilson is already in the studio with George Kerr, producer of the Hesitations and the O'Jays.

Rare, 'Total Concept' Prod. Firm, Opens

NEW YORK — Rare Productions, a multi-media production firm (movies, TV, Broadway, off-Broadway, records) that will lean heavily towards product with heavy merchandising potential, has been formed by Russ Robbins. Robbins, experienced in both the merchandising and screen ends of the business, is currently lining up an exec force to handle the different areas of exploitation, and expects to be in full operation by mid-Summer.

Though the firm will be involved in various areas of the music business, an internal disk outlet is not currently planned. Robbins is currently negotiating disk deals for two writer/singers signed to the publishing wing of Rare, Michael Minstrel and Numa Woods.

"Basically, Rare will be working with projects and concepts that have a long life span, to assure profitable merchandising tie-ins," Robbins explained. "All projects are pre-planned well in advance so that thorough groundwork can be laid for exploitation. Possible conversion of a movie or play to TV series, for example, would not be left to chance. We'll have the whole thing set-up before we begin work on anything."

"In keeping with the 'total-concept' theme, all our projects will involve music, and we will be heavy users and producers of original music. Though we are building an internal operation, we will be using outside sources to fill our needs."

Robbins has been working on various concepts for the past three years, with many projects completely finished or in complete story form. Although keyed at the youth market, Rare is hoping to keep all its product suitable for the general public.

Roger Stone To TRO Talent Post

NEW YORK — Roger Stone has joined the professional and talent development wing of The Richmond Organization. Stone will report directly to v. p. Marvin Cane, according to Howie Richmond, president.

In his new post, Stone will function in two basic areas. On the talent side, he'll be launching a sustained campaign aimed at finding, developing and producing new talent. This facet of his operation will be associated with TRO Workshop Productions Ltd., a division of the company.

Secondly, he will be closely involved with developing usages of TRO's extensive catalog of contemporary writing talent, including Procol Harum, The First Edition, The Who and The Moody Blues, among others.

Stone is already at work with two new groups, with initial disk productions scheduled within the next fortnight. Stone will not only produce discs, but will also seek to exploit their compositions through records by other artists.

The new TRO staffer, the son of Famous Music professional chief, Dick Stone, is a graduate of the Southampton campus of Long Island University. He was a member of various college bands as vocalist and piano player and during summer vacations he worked at Hill and Range Music. Since graduation, he has worked with The Happenings, and later with producer-publisher, Herb Bernstein.

Melba Moore, of "Hair," will be produced by Jim Fragale, with a single to be released shortly. David Rubinson, who cut Moby Grape and the Chambers Brothers, is producing Group Therapy while Paul Leka, producer of the Peppermint Rainbow and the Lemon Pipers, is working on a new single by Leslie Gore.

Dee Dee Warwick's reading of "Ring Of Bright Water," heard over the opening credits of the new film, was produced by Ed Townsend and Jack McMann. Negotiations with Cinerama Releasing Corp. for Miss Warwick's film vocal were conducted by Reno.

Wide Range

Stressing the diversity of product, Reno said that Malachi McCourt, "Tonight" show raconteur, will be produced by Davis Hess, while two new pop groups — Sunday Season and Charity — will be studio'd by Ron Dante and Gene Allen's Weno Productions. Dante and Allen wrote the score and lyrics for the Broadway musical "Billy."

New producers are being assigned to such established Mercury artists as Gloria Lynne, the Left Banke and the McCoys, while newcomer artists such as the Family Affair, who hail from Cleveland, are in the process of "being matched with the right producers," said Reno. Production agreements are also being concluded with Ted Cooper, Rod McBrien, Milan, Helen Miller, Rose McCoy and other independent producers.

Making constant talent and master purchase tours, Reno cited the label's acquisition of the original soundtrack LP of "Dark Shadows," the popular daytime TV serial, as "part of our 'Be There First' program." Produced by Charles Grean, the LP features both music and dialogue from the show. Reno acquired the LP master from ABC Merchandising, a division of the American Broadcasting Company.

McCullough Prod. Bows

ATLANTA — John McCullough has opened McCullough Productions, Inc. at Suite 600, 1447 Peachtree Street, N. E., Atlanta, Georgia 30309 (telephone no. 404-892-3927). The new firm will be active in record production, music publishing, booking and management. BMI and ASCAP publishing companies are currently being set up.

McCullough produced and had the original publishing on the hit, "Stay," by Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs. He had co-publishing on the click, "Double Shot (Of My Baby's Love)," by the Swinging Medallions, and he co-wrote "The Return Of The Red Baron," the Royal Guardsmen's hit.

Blood Turns Gold

NEW YORK — Blood, Sweat and Tears has picked up their second RIAA Gold disk, this one for their "You've Made Me So Very Happy" single, which went over the million-copy mark last week. The nine-man jazz/rock group had previously achieved a Gold record for the million-dollar LP, "Blood, Sweat and Tears." The group's current single, "Spinning Wheel," is riding in the #12 slot this week.

Amos Signs Pop Art Experimental Band

BEVERLY HILLS — An aggregation called the West Coast Pop Art Experimental Band has been signed by Amos Records. Bruce Hinton, general manager of the label, said that the initial album and single from the group will both be titled "Where's My Daddy?"

Purcell On Tour

NEW YORK — GWP Records' chief Jerry Purcell took off today (23) on the first half of a 28-city tour on behalf of his recently formed label. He will meet with deejays, rack jobbers and distributors.

He'll visit Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco before returning to New York on July 7th, and he'll begin the second portion of his tour in late July.

Producer's Profile

The Producer's Profile spotlight usually shines on those producers heavily involved in the business of packaging instant recognition rock acts, and we sometimes tend to forget the massive adult buying power which is concentrated on other areas of the market. One area in particular which can, if handled right, provide lucrative and long-term sales, is the movie and TV soundtrack field. And one of the leading producers in this field is Dot's Tom Mack.

From yesterday's big bands to the pop sounds of the 60's, music is the way of life for Tom Mack. Based at Dot Records in Hollywood, Tom has been with the company since it first established offices in California.

Tom's recent projects include film soundtrack albums such as "The Odd Couple" and "Rosemary's Baby" for Dot, "More Mission: Impossible" for Paramount Records and the upcoming "Paint Your Wagon" release on Paramount. He is in charge of recording such Dot regulars as Liberace, Frankie Carle and The Mills Brothers, and handles Count Basie's Dot sessions.

Before he joined Dot, Tom had directed Capitol's Custom Services operation and provided independent production assistance for a number of small labels. Prior to that, he had served as Sonny Burke's assistant at Decca for five years. Earlier in his career, Tom had been trombonist and manager for bands such as those led by Glenn Miller, Claude Thornhill and Artie Shaw.

Jazz Days

In his early years at Dot, Tom produced a number of jazz sessions using Louis Armstrong, Paul Horn, Red Norvo and other prominent musicians of several eras, which were recently re-issued in new packages as "The Classic Collection" series. It was Tom who produced Ken Nordine's "Word Jazz" albums, which today are underground classics. Tom also produced the soundtrack album from "The Ten Commandments," an item which is still selling steadily.

Two years ago, Tom began his association with Lalo Schifrin, and has produced all of Lalo's Dot albums. Their latest collaboration, music from the TV series "Mannix," will be released soon on Paramount Records.

The Mills Brothers have enjoyed a new upsurge in popularity under Tom's expert direction, including several chart singles and two albums with the Count Basie Orchestra.

Always interested in new concepts for his artist, Tom cites the success of the Mills Brothers' "Cab Driver" as an example of how an established artist may enjoy even greater popularity with the right material. Along the same track, Tom has inaugurated a new series of recordings featuring pianist Frankie Carle performing atmospheric versions of big band hits of the '30's, '40's and '50's. A Count Basie album now being edited is a "live" performance recorded at the Tropicana in Las Vegas and featuring songs that have been highlights of the Basie band's history, this time in updated arrangements.

"I'm basically an album producer," said Tom, "but when I cut albums with my artists I try to make nearly every track a potential single." This approach paid off well for him last year, when he had four singles on the Top 100 charts — all culled from the albums.

Columbia Inks Dyson

NEW YORK — Columbia Records has signed singer Ronnie Dyson to an exclusive recording contract. Billy Jackson, Columbia popular A & R producer, will be producing Dyson's disks.

Dyson, a protege of television personality Merv Griffin, has already been signed for 25 guest appearances on Griffin's new CBS show. The original singer of the song, "Aquarius" in the Broadway musical, "Hair," Dyson has been playing one of the leads in that musical for the past year. He has been featured with such performers as James Brown, Steve Lawrence, Eydie Gorme and Diana Sands.

THE STRAIGHT A'S GO STRAIGHT TO KAPP: Kapp Records has signed the Straight A's, a vocal/instrumental group, to an exclusive recording contract. Present at the pacting are members of the act; their producer Billy Meshel (standing center), Herb Gordon (far right), Kapp's national promotion director; Pete Garris (next to Gordon); and Sydney N. Goldberg (at desk, right), Kapp's vice president and general manager. The Straight A's first release for the label, Rogers and Hart's "Blue Moon," was issued last week.

Tape News Report

Tape Seminar Wraps Up EIA Show

NEW YORK — The explosive impact of tape equipment on the entire electronics industry was effectively noted by Jack Wayman who said that 90% of the displays at this year's Consumer Electronics Show featured tapes or tape related equipment. The staff vice president of EIA's consumer products division also stated that according to EIA estimates, tape factory sales would this year reach $11,000,000 as a conservative figure.

Wayman's remarks prefaced a three-and-one-half hour tape seminar on the final day of meetings. The conference included hour-long panel discussions on the cassette, cartridge and reel-to-reel configurations and a half-hour wrap-up regarding tape and accessories.

Coexistence/Consumer Education

Two of the major themes that were reflected in the separate discussions were the vital need for consumer education on the part of tape manufacturers and salesmen, and the call for economic coexistence among the configuration spokesmen.

Speaking for retailers on the cassette panel, Don Lombardi (Zayre Corp.) brought up both issues citing a "fear factor" between configurations that has held up buying and merchandising on many levels. "There is great uncertainty over which form is to be dominant, driving the others into obsolescence." He pointed to the coexistence that was early achieved between record manufacturers with 33/45/78 speeds and the different sized disks. In conclusion, Lombardi said that the tape manufacturer has been too slow in educating the public about the advantages of each form. Al Barsimanto (Crown-Industrial) stressed building cassette not as the "conqueror" of other forms, but as an electronic convenience with the advantages of functioning as an educational product, an industrial and business aid and fast sales-communication aid.

Wybo Semmelink (North American Philips) stressed the coexistence motif by forecasting "no sudden death anywhere." As in the case of so many products, each innovation or alteration takes years to supplant its predecessors. "What we must avoid, throughout the industry, is getting into hip-

National Tape Merger Absorbs Lewerke-Kaffel

MILWAUKEE — National Tape Distributors and the Lewerke-Kaffel group of 5 California distributing and recording companies have completed a merger agreement to be accomplished through an exchange of stock with Nat'l Tape the surviving company. The combined operation will serve more than 2,000 retailers through the U.S. and estimates a '69 sales volume in excess of $25 million.

National, which offered its stock to the public in March of this year, will exchange shares for all the outstanding stock in California Record Distributors, Hitsville Inc., Merit Distributing Corp., United Tape Corp. and the Vault Recording Corp. All five of these firms are principally owned by Jack Lewerke, Ralph Kaffel and Mrs. Stella Terr. According to National's president James Tiedjens, they will retain their current positions with the Calif. operations and all three will elected vice presidents and board members of National Tape.

The California firms are to continue operating independently as Nat'l Tape Distributors, Inc. subsidiaries with no changes in management or staff being contemplated.

A similar exchange-of-stock merger was effected by National earlier last month with Record Distributing Co. of Houston.

hip-hooray spirits where a sales drive goes into such divergence and 'gold rushing' that disorganization sets in. What we have here is not a revolution to fear, but an evolution."

Cartridge Session

The coexistence accent was recalled at the start of the second seminar meeting on cartridges. Oscar Kusisto (Motorola automotive products div.) emphasized the channelling of efforts to hit individual configuration maximums. No obsolescence is needed for a form.

Harold Wally (Wally's Tape City) showed the effectiveness of consumer education by describing the means he used in building his retail outlet. He also noted that by beating the customer display problems, clients would be able to see, feel, touch, hear and understand products better. This will not only increase impulse buying, but enable consumers to make up their own minds in making a purchase freeing sales personnel and increasing satisfaction.

Frank Stanton (Playtape) called for a reduction in the engineering hoopla which is confusing the public both through standardization and simplification. Particularly important, he said, were the displays of adapter equipment which gives player units the ability to accept more than one configuration. New player configurations were predicted by the year's end by James Gall (Lear-Jet).

During the open-reel panel discussion, both major themes were combined by Paul Van Orden (General Electric) whose view is that no configuration will be replaced for a considerable amount of time, and, at present, consumers who become better acquainted with equipment tend to trade-up to reel product for excitement of editing, complexity, etc.

He reflected the general optimism that was shared on all the seminar panels, and though the audience dwindled by the start of the reel-to-reel segment, the main cause for high spirits was shown in Art Gaines' (Superscope) comment that even with unit sales slowing, open reel's dollar sales and profits continued to soar. Gaines also noted that growth in all the other areas would expose new tape listeners and buyers who will be shifting upward for quality. "Cassettes are actually becoming a great help to all other configurations."

Education of the consumers was the most widely agreed on note of the tape accessories group which agreed that this area could be used in developing a complete tape center concept to attract and keep customers. Don Hall (Ampex) opened the session with a parallel between tape novices and "the woman who drives a car and thinks of maintenance only in terms of filling it when it runs out of gas." If the consumer is properly acquainted with available accessories, the group concluded, they become a regular source of profit requiring small display space and having long-shelf-life beside being an incentive for shoppers visiting one store rather than a less fully supplied center.

Roulette/GRT Renew Tie '73

SUNNYVALE, Calif. — Roulette Records and GRT Corporation have just extended their prerecorded tape license agreement into 1973. The extension was jointly announced last week by Roulette president Morris Levy and GRT marketing manager Tom Bonetti.

Bonetti stated that 1969 Roulette sales through May had surpassed the calendar year 1968. A rush release and special promotion is now being planned for Don Cooper, a new Roulette artist whose first recording has gone into release a week ago.

Liberty/UA Ties-In Cassette & Cartridge With Two Ad Schemes

LOS ANGELES — Tie-ins of tape product with two advertising drives have been set by the custom entertainment division of Liberty/U.A. Inc. The special use of tape products has just been arranged for campaigns now being activated with Norelco Inc. and Standard Oil of Indiana.

In both cases, Liberty/U.A. has produced demonstration commercials from scripts supplied by the clients. These taped spots are to be used by Norelco for on-the-spot consumer introduction to the firm's new cassette units. Placed in department and music stores, the demo-cassettes demonstrate the sound of units through five short announcements and five songs pre-recorded as a sales aid.

Standard Oil uses similar demonstration cartridges in explaining its current mid-west drive for Standard gas stations. Customers are being offered a reduced purchase price on a brand-name 8-track auto playback unit when purchasing four tires. Liberty/U.A. produced a 20 minute demonstration cartridge tape explaining the deal and giving examples of tape music.

Anticipating "favorable response" from these first efforts, Dick Blase, director of premium sales, said "Liberty/U.A. custom entertainment has the capacity to enter into large scale consumer commercials." He noted that the LST diversification was of critical importance in producing and duplicating the product and expressed the hope that these projects would lead to similar efforts in the future.

Beginner Consumers Keyed-On By BASF

NEW YORK — Several new products introduced by BASF Systems at the Consumer Electronics Show last week showed emphasis on the amateur and starter tape buyer. Highlights of the BASF tyro line are a "Starter Kit" aimed at the first-time buyer of a tape recorder and the introduction of a complete line of BASF recording tapes in blister packs for the amateur hi-fi market.

The firm also displayed a new plastic cassette mailer package for 60, 90 and 120 minute BASF cassettes now available for dealers. This mailer, approved by the US Post Office, includes an adhesive address label and index in polypropylene plastic container similar in design to the home storage library boxes from BASF. A special display rack for the new cassette mailer package was also shown.

Beginners' Products

BASF's starter kit is being offered at a suggested $19.99 retail and includes literature and instructions to answer questions and explain techniques and procedures for the first-time tape user; a four-reel assortment of BASF recording tape; spare professional-type tape reel and hobby box containing splicing, editing and marking tape utensils.

The newly blister-packed line of BASF tapes was called the first complete sound tape product line available in this manner by Tom Dempsey, marketing manager of sound & video products for the company. Developed primarily to encourage impulse buying, the packaging will service distribution through mass merchandiser outlets employing self-service. It will sell at the same price as standard packaging.

Lear Jet Sales Meet Previews 18 Products

NEW YORK — Lear Jet Stereo, Inc. staged its national distributors meeting last week in New York to coincide with the opening (15) of the Consumer Electronics Show.

Citing "pre-selling and preconditioning the consumer," Lear Jet's James Gall, vp and director of marketing, stated that "with the new products we're introducing today and the in-depth merchandising and advertising plans we have to support this introduction, we'll be giving our distributors and dealers the strongest sales support in the industry."

A series of 18 completely new Lear Jet products was then unveiled including a set of portables, all-new home music systems and an expanded series of auto units. Among the highlights were a reasonably priced 8-track cartridge auto recorder and a home recorder system for 8-track use.

Each distributor was supplied with a complete Lear Jet Stereo 8 sales meeting kit contained in a briefcase with a complete dealer show presentation, related sales materials and color spot presentations for radio and television advertising. With the kit, each distributor is completely supplied for presentations in his marketing area for dealers.

Abraskin Heads Tape Sales With Scepter

NEW YORK — Al Abraskin has just been named tapesales manager for Scepter and its affiliated labels. Abraskin is a five-year music business veteran who began with Cameo-Parkway, worked with MGM's tape division and ITCC.

In announcing the appointment, Scepter's president Florence Greenberg said that he would report directly to Scepter vp Sam Goff and handle tape product from the label and its Wand, Hob, Mace and Toddlin' Town affiliates.

GWP's Cassette, 8-Tr Distrib Rights to ITCC

NEW YORK — Jerry Purcell and James Elkins, presidents of GWP Records and ITCC respectively, have just concluded a deal giving product distribution rights for cassette and 8-track cartridge recordings from GRT and its Tribute Records subsidiary to ITCC.

Under the agreement, ITCC will distribute a minimum of eight albums per year for three years. Purcell estimated, though, that "the actual total will be at least double that."

First albums released will include Dizz Gillespie's "Soul & Salvation" and the Mission's "Let's Get Together." Both are Tribute recordings. Planned from GWP in the near future are albums featuring Debbie Taylor, the Hesitations, Betty Barney, the Pazant Brothers, the Pastors and the Persians.

Publicity-Promo-Merchandising

International Tape Cartridge Corp. is to implement a full program of publicity, promotion and merchandising on behalf of the GWP & Tribute releases via its vp of new product James Tyrell in coordination with GWP vp Paul Robinson and Gene Armond, national sales and promotion manager.

Pop Picks

SUITABLE FOR FRAMING — Three Dog Night — Dunhill DS 50058

Three Dog Night's debut album, in addition to going Top 20, provided three hit singles, building the group into a super-strong chart threat. Once, again, on its second album; the group turns to a wide variety of sources (including itself) to come up with a powerhouse collection which includes "Feelin' Alright," "Eli's Coming" (a Laura Nyro tune), "Easy To Be Hard" (from "Hair") and group member Danny Hutton's "Dreaming Isn't Good For You." Set is already on the charts.

MAKE IT EASY ON YOURSELF — Burt Bacharach — A&M SP 4188

Hit tunesmith/arranger/producer Burt Bacharach turns recording artist once again to conduct (and on one song, sing) his own interpretations of his tunes. Material ranges from past disk hits; Make It Easy On Yourself (the vocal), "Do You Know The Way To San Jose," "This Guy's In Love With You" and "Any Day Now; tunes from "Promises, Promises"; and two new tunes, "Pacific Coast Highway" and "She's Gone Away. Hal David gets co-writing credit on all but the last two tunes.

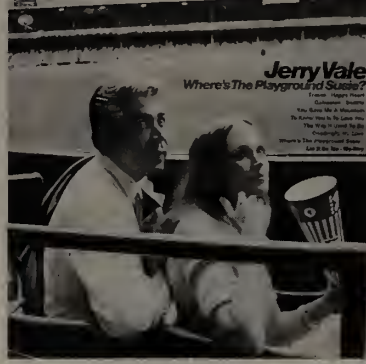

SAUSALITO — Al Martino — Capitol ST 180

A consistently excellent album seller, Al Martino shows no signs of breaking the pattern he has established. His new album shows his talent to be very much intact. His smooth, rich voice is as good as ever. Among the numbers on the LP are the title tune, which was on the Top 100 for the chanter recently and "Traces," "Glad She's A Woman" and "Sandy When She's Sleeping." An item to stock

DOING HIS THING — Ray Charles — ABCS 695

For his latest album, Ray Charles has called upon singer/writer Jimmy Lewis to provide 10 contemporary-soul tunes, and Lewis, with an occasional assist from Charles and others, has come through in fine style. Charles' familiar vocal stylings are easily adaptable to any sound, and he handles such tunes as "Finders Keepers, Losers Weepers," "You Ought To Change Your Ways," "We Can Make It" and "That Thing Called Love" with his usual ease. Another hit for his collection.

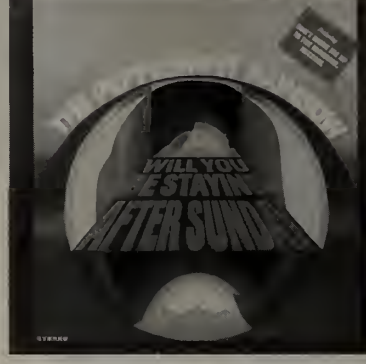

WHERE'S THE PLAYGROUND SUSIE? — Jerry Vale — Columbia CS 9838

Singer Jerry Vale's devoted audience will be delighted with the artist's latest album, as the chanter delivers graceful, warm renditions of 11 pop tunes, all of which scored for others on the Top 100. Topnotch readings of the title song, "Traces," "Happy Heart," and "My Way," highlight the LP. Vale, a consistent album-seller, should find heavy sales and subsequent chart action with this one.

MEMPHIS QUEEN — Carla Thomas — Stax STS 2019

After a long string of chart successes, Carla Thomas has emerged as a major disk and live talent, and her latest (and perhaps best) album should further her rep as Memphis queen of soul. In addition to her recent single (from "Hair") "Where Do I Go," Carla contributes such strong efforts as "More Man Than I Ever Had," "He's Beating Your Time," "Unyielding" and "How Can You Throw My Love Away." This set has a healthy future.

WILL YOU BE STAYING AFTER SUNDAY — Peppermint Rainbow — Decca DL 75129

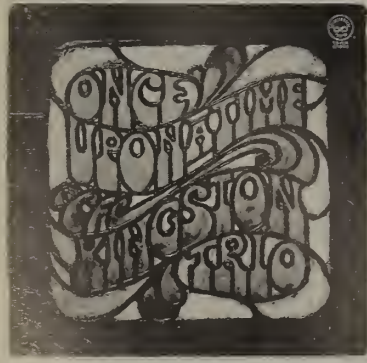

Titled after and including the group's recent hit, this set should chalk up an enviable number of spins and sales for the Peppermint Rainbow. The group comes across with a host of light rock numbers that will appeal to many. The Rainbow's current chart-climber, "Don't Wake Me Up In The Morning, Michael," is also here and will add sales strength to the LP. Watch this one closely.

DAMES AT SEA — Original Cast — Columbia OS 3330

Billed as the "new 30's musical," "Dames at Sea" is an Off-Broadway triumph. It took some time to achieve a cast LP, but here it is. The "new" angle, of course, is that the score was written in the perspective of today, taking friendly swipes at the film and Broadway words and music of the 30's. The cast makes it all sound straight on record, making even more improbable the innocence of that long ago time.

Pop Best Bets

ONCE UPON A TIME — Kingston Trio — Tetragrammaton TD 5101

Recorded live at the Sahara-Tahoe in Lake Tahoe, Nevada, this 2-record set was made by the Kingston Trio before the act disbanded. Throughout the disks, there is a feeling of excitement, spontaneity, and just plain fun. Some of the group's biggest hits are included in the live shows that make up the package: "The M.T.A. (The Boston Subway Song)," "Greenback Dollar," "Scotch And Soda," and, of course, "Tom Dooley." There are 24 songs in all in this double-LP that no Kingston enthusiast will want to be without.

SHANGO — A&M SP 4195

Shango, a four-man steel band, offers a rhythmic, driving, zestful set of pop ditties, with the LP featuring their recent Top 100 entry, "Day After Day (It's Slippin' Away)." The group also serves up their latest single, "Ljuba Ljuba"/"Mama Lion;" "Um Um Um Um Um," a while-back Major Lance hit; and a joyous, romping version of Lennon-McCartney's "Ob La Di, Ob La Da." Package could catch on with a host of disk-buyers.

MY WAY — Dizzy Gillespie — Solid State SS18054

Ace jazz trumpeter Dizzy Gillespie pops up on the Solid State label with the same old horn, a top group of sidemen and some surprisingly pop-contemporary arrangements. In fact, "My Way" is a pop album. "Galveston," "This Girl's In Love With You," "Games People Play" and the "Aquarius/Let The Sunshine In" medley from "Hair" are some of the new tunes that should help move the album, "Birk's Work," an old Gillespie tune, is also included.

THE VELVET UNDERGROUND — MGM SE 4617

The Velvet Underground takes a journey through musical psychedelia, low-keyed in the main, but a trip that should be interesting to a good number of listeners. The Velvet Underground composed, arranged, and conducted all selections on the album. Vocally and instrumentally, the group creates an evocative, sensuous sound, and the LP could pick up considerable sales.

capitol

We put it in an Album.

Al Martino's "Sausalito." The album that has been warming in the wings. A best. His style developed to a sweet-as-wine, occasionally sensual lyricism. Includes the fresh sounds: "Sandy When She's Sleeping," "Traces," "Glad She's A Woman," "Memories," "Then I'll Be Over You."

ST-180. Arranged and produced by Al DeLory. Available on Records and on Tape.

TOGETHER AGAIN FOR THE FIRST TIME — Carol Burnett & Martha Raye — Tetragrammaton T-106

"Together Again For The First Time," Carol Burnett and Martha Raye have a fulfilled time which the listener will enjoy as much as the two singer/comediennes who recorded this album. Bob Hope joins in the fun by writing the liner notes. Carol and Martha team up on the title song, and six other happy tunes; Carol solos on two other numbers, as does Martha. Disk-buyers who wish to combat depression would do well to take steady doses of this LP.

MAVIS STAPLES — Volt VOS 6007

Mavis Staples, of the famed Staples Singers gospel group, goes solo and soul in this Steve Cropper-produced set, and the album's appeal could easily spread to the underground/contemporary market. Mavis unleashes a trained, experienced and powerful voice on such items as "The Choking Kind," "A House Is Not A Home," "Son Of A Preacher Man," "Chained," "Security" and "You Send Me."

WINDMILLS OF YOUR MIND — Peter Duchin — Decca DL 75120

Pianist Peter Duchin should keep his fans happy with "Windmills of Your Mind." The set which, in addition to the title tune, includes such selections as "Light My Fire," "Stormy" and "The Worst That Could Happen," is pleasant all the way through, and should receive a nice amount of attention from middle-of-the-road outlets. Duchin chose a batch of new tunes which he thought leant themselves well to instrumental interpretation, and his followers should agree with his judgment.

THE NASHVILLE STRINGS PLAY GREAT COUNTRY HITS, VOL. II — Columbia CS 9830

Contemporary country hits are given lush, mellow treatments by the Nashville Strings, and the result should be plentiful good music spins and sales. Such biggies as "Stand By Your Man," "Laura (What's He Got That I Ain't Got)," "Wichita Lineman," "My Elusive Dreams," and "What's Made Milwaukee Famous," are included in the package. Lots of MOR programming fare on this album.

Jazz Picks

PLANET LOVE — Ernie Watts Quartet — World Pacific ST 20155

Saxman Ernie Watts, a former member of the Buddy Rich Orchestra, steps out on his own with this debut album on which he plays alto and tenor sax. He fronts a jazz quartet which includes Clarence McDonald, piano; Stanley Gilbert, bass; and Robert Morin, drums. Watts plays with smooth lyricism punctuated by sharp bursts of inventive improvisation. The artist wrote the title track and two other numbers on the LP; he also adapted "Going Home," which he performs beautifully. A very impressive jazz set.

Classical Picks

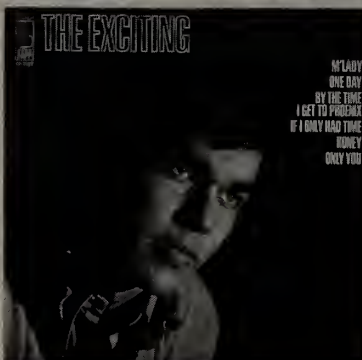

WORKS FOR HARMONICA — Larry Adler/Royal Philharmonic/Morton Gould — RCA LSC 3078

On this album, famed harmonica player Larry Adler performs four works written especially for him. Malcom Arnold's Harmonica Concerto, Op. 46, opens the set, and is followed by Arthur Benjamin's Harmonica Concerto, Vaughan Williams, Romance for Harmonica and String Orchestra and Darius Milhaud's Suite for Harmonica and Orchestra. Adler's performance is excellent, and he is ably supported by the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, conducted by Morton Gould.

NUCLEUS OF SOUL — O.V. Wright — Backbeat 67

Soul/blues singer O.V. Wright is no stranger to the disk scene, having been responsible for several regional hits. His latest album could pull good sales in many areas. In addition to several of his own tunes, Wright interprets "Blowin' In The Wind," "Pledging My Love" and several newer tunes including "I'll Hate Myself Tomorrow," "Why Not Give Me A Chance" and "I Want Everyone To Know."

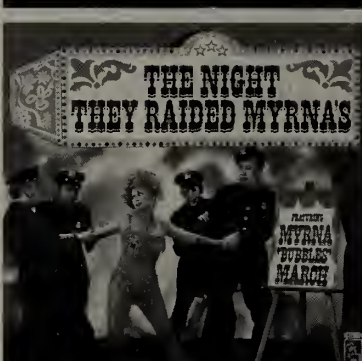

THE EXCITING JOHN ROWLES — Kapp KS 3597

Molded in the Tom Jones, Englebert Humperdinck image, John Rowles will appeal to basically the same audience. His latest outing finds him crooning such tunes as "Only You (And You Alone)" (the Platters oldie that is more than due for a revival), "If I Only Had Time," "(Sittin' On) The Dock Of The Bay," "Honey" and "By The Time I Get To Phoenix." Good music stations could pick up on this set.

GREECE — Request SRLP 8139

The vocal and instrumental sounds of Greek folk music are heard in this recording, which features the talents of a noted Greek Orchestra, Les Faiakes. Violin, clarinet, lute, "lyra," "santouri," bouzoukia and the human voice all join together to create the distinctive music which, heard once, is immediately identifiable the second time. Devotees of Greek music should find this set to their liking.

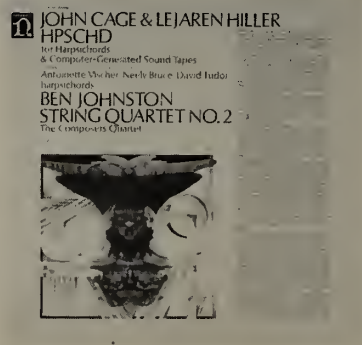

THE NIGHT THEY RAIDED MYRNA'S — Myrna March — Kapp KS 3603

Songstress/composer Myrna March harkens back to the heady days of burlesque, as she sings 11 tunes that represent the best music of that era. Miss March wrote the words and music of "Don't Touch" and the lyric of "Tell Me What You Want Me To Do," both of which are on the LP. Her performance is dynamic, vivid, and sparkling, as she delivers such top material as a "Walk Right In/Let Me Entertain You" medley, "Teach Me Tonight," "My Heart Belongs To Daddy," and "Thanks For The Memory."

KARMA — Pharoah Sanders — Impulse AS 9181

Tenor saxist Pharoah Sanders performs three jazz sessions in powerful, bristling style. The music is highly experimental in form - dissonant, searching, and played with great technical skill. All three selections ("The Creator Has A Masterful Plan," "Colors," and "Light Of Love") were written by Sanders. Lyrics are by Amosis Leontopolis Thomas. Jazz listeners who enjoy the more experimental trends will find this album of much interest.

CAGE & HILLER: HPSCHD/JOHNSTON: STRING QUARTET NO. 2—Vischer/Bruce/Tudor/Composers Quartet—Nonesuch H 71224

One side of this album contains "HPSCHD," a piece for harpsichords (played by Antoinette Vischer, Neely Bruce and David Tudor) and computer-generated sound tapes composed by John Cage and Lejaren Hiller. Included is a KNOBS computer printout for playback control (the listener is to adjust the volume and treble and bass controls on his amplifier as the piece is being played). Side 2 of this disk contains Ben Johnston's excellent "String Quartet No. 2, performed by the Composers Quartet.

Tuning In On...

WWRL-New York: Grass Roots Approach To Social Ills

Norman Mailer, recent and unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Mayoralty of New York, wrote in the New York Times that "we are out on the lottery of the days," arguing in his article that New York City was in a time of deep trouble. If the city were a hospital patient, Mailer implied, its condition would be critical.

Public Service

WWRL-New York, a 5,000 watt radio station that broadcasts 24-hours-a-day, seven days a week to serve the black community, is attempting to minister to the patient's condition. The outlet's public service programming is not relegated to Sundays, traditionally the day upon which most stations air broadcasts considered to be in the public interest. Throughout the week, WWRL broadcasts "Job Opportunities," a program on which various business organizations buy time and list job openings. This feature is programmed in three-minute segments between records, once every 90 minutes.

Another daily WWRL public service program is "Social Whirl," also aired every 90 minutes in three-minute segments. WWRL offers free publicity to any non-profit organization, such as churches and other groups that are involved in projects of interest to the outlet's listeners.

WWRL's Music

WWRL's music is selected on the basis of the material, not the artist, says Jerry Boulding, operations manager, who determines the length of the playlist. The station programs 45 singles, including hitbounds, with five or six instrumentals added for balance. Three oldies are spun every hour, and six to eight oldies receive airplay on weekends. These oldies consist of "super old" and "gold oldies," and are part of WWRL's extensive oldies library. Overall, the station's record library includes about 1,400 disks. The heavy WWRL personality line-up is: Gregory (6-10 a.m.), Hal Atkins (10 a.m.-2 p.m.), Jerry Bledsoe (2-6 p.m.), Al Gee (6-10 p.m.), Gary Byrd (midnight to 6 a.m.), and weekend personality Jeff Troy.

A major WWRL music feature is "Weekend Spectacular," which, over a three-day period, airs selected cuts from the albums of the artist being spot-lighted that weekend. WWRL initiated "Weekend Spectacular" a month ago.

'Household Hints'

Alma John, who has been director of women's programming at WWRL for 16 years, is the hostess of another important community service program, "Household Hints." On this broadcast,

Alma John advises women on how to get the most value for their money when they are shopping. She warns them against credit traps and offers information about proper dieting procedures as well as various other health hints. Mrs. John recently took 30 youngsters on a trip to Washington, where they visited Representative Shirley Chisholm (D.-New York) and Adam Clayton Powell. The visitors also saw the home of Frederick Douglass, 19th century Negro leader, journalist, and statesman.

Part of WWRL's commitment to its listeners involves the station's "Soul Truck," which drives throughout New York City and New Jersey, hosting band concerts and trying to keep New York cool during the potentially explosive summer months. The WWRL air personalities riding the Soul Truck lead block parties in the ghetto areas of the city and have brought messages of hope for social change to as many as 1,700 youths at a single block party.

An additional WWRL public service feature, "Tell It Like It Is," is broadcast on Sundays from 4:30 p.m. A telephone talk show, this program has had guests ranging from current Mayor John Lindsay to representatives of the militant Black Panthers. "Tell It Like It Is" is hosted by Bernie McCain.

WWRL news director Dick London heads a news staff of five reporters, four of whom hold college degrees. Operations manager Jerry Boulding describes the integrated WWRL news team as broadcast journalists rather than deejays filling in as newsmen. WWRL maintains a completely equipped mobile unit containing a telephone and a two-way radio. At 20 minutes after the hour, the outlet programs headlines, and at 20 minutes before the hour there are five to six minutes of news. WWRL receives feeds from UPI and AP.

'A Tale Of Two Cities'

Jerry Boulding, speaking of WWRL, uses the phrase "A Tale of Two Cities," a phrase that has been heard at the station's Woodside studios to define WWRL's relationship to New York. The outlet has a large audience composed of both blacks and whites; WWRL is a major New York media that aims at a dialogue between blacks and whites. It is perhaps not irrelevant to conclude this piece by noting that tapes of music played over WWRL are included in the soundtrack of "Midnight Cowboy," a film that deals with the alienation of strangers in New York City, who, although they are white, are nevertheless cut off from an urban society that has neither the time nor the greatness of heart to care whether they live or die.

KHJ To Spin CB Deejay Poll Winners June 28

For the fifth successive year KHJ-Radio in Los Angeles will be "saluting the nation's deejays" with a special four-hour broadcast previewing the winners of the annual Cash Box D. J. poll. Once again Sam Riddle will be the jock naming the winners while playing their most successful sides of the past year. Show is set for Saturday morning, June 28th. Categories will include "Most Programmed Records," "Most Programmed Albums," "Most Programmed Males, Females, Instrumentalists, Groups and Orchestras" as well as "Most Promising Females, Males, Orchestras, Instrumentalists and Vocal Groups."

Unusual We To Pulsar

NEW YORK -- Pulsar Records, the Los Angeles-based label manufactured and distributed by Mercury Records, has signed a ten-member contemporary soul group from Los Angeles named Unusual We. In announcing the group, Pulsar president Irwin Garr said the group would soon record an LP in Los Angeles.

TAKING A REHEARSAL BREAK is 16-year-old Karen Wyman, as she chats with Ed Sullivan, on whose show she appeared on June 22. The TV'er was the first of five appearances she will make on the Ed Sullivan Show, and enthusiastic response to her singing led to Decca's offering her a huge advance guarantee. Karen is managed by Ken Greengrass, and is signed to Greengrass' B&K Records, released through Decca. She is expected to begin recording next month.

Radio News Report

WWDC-Washington spurred Congressional reaction with its documentary of the D. C. ambulance problem, and an accompanying series of editorials. Lawrence J. Hogan of the U. S. House of Representative (R., Md.) commended WWDC in the House for its "enlightened public service in bringing to the public's attention through a series of searching reports, the problems related to ambulance service in Washington, D. C." Hogan urged his fellow congressmen to study the documentary and editorials particularly as they discharged their "legislative responsibility for the District of Columbia." WWDC newsman Ross Simpson researched, wrote, and presented the 12-part documentary, which was aired over a two-week period after exhaustive study of the problems. The broadcasts were based on interviews with city officials, ambulance crewmen, hospital personnel, and actual emergency runs with Simpson aboard Ambulance #7 on Washington streets. An overload of ambulance calls that are not true emergencies was revealed by Simpson's in-depth probing. Much ambulance time is taken up with simple transportation or "taxi" runs as they are called, while persons who are seriously injured or ill must wait long periods in some cases, until one of the 10 ambulances serving Washington is free. Often long hours elapse between the call for help, the study showed, and the ambulance arrival. Investigation revealed that, at the center of the problem, is the need for some authority to define an emergency, and to screen ambulance requests so that true emergencies will have priority.

PORTRAIT OF PEOPLE RADIO: Petula Clark, Warner Bros./Seven Arts recording artist, dropped in at CFCF-Montreal during her visit to that city, to record I.D.'s commemorating the station's 50 years of broadcasting. The music director of CFCF, known as the People Station, Bob Johnston, holds a copy of Petula's latest album, "Portrait Of Petula," which has gone Top 40 on the charts.

Several live pop concerts will be presented this season by KLAC-Los Angeles in a joint effort with Concert Associates, it has been announced by Richard Janssen, vice president and general manager of KLAC. Dionne Warwick, Scepter recording artist, begins the series with a performance at The Forum in Inglewood Friday night, July 25. She will sing a number of her Bacharach-David hits, including "Alfie," "Promises, Promises," "This Girl's In Love With You," and "Do You Know The Way To San Jose." On the program with Dionne will be the Woody Herman Orchestra, Hugh Masekela, and the Watts 103rd Street Band. Les Crane, who hosts the 4-7 p.m. segment each afternoon on KLAC, will emcee the show. A heavy radio, newspaper, and outdoor advertising campaign will support the concert, and special audience-involving promotions will be featured on KLAC.

The Carl Ally Agency of New York has commissioned Delaney & Bonnie and Friends to write and perform the original music for a TV commercial for the agency's Hertz account. The 60-second commercial, which is now in production, is based on a concept developed by Rick Levine and David Alshuler, vice presidents and copy and art group heads for the agency. Group members Bonnie Bramlett and Leon Russell composed a special song for the film, entitled "Lonesome And A Long Way From Home." The group will record the tune for the commercial's soundtrack. The Carl Ally Agency contacted the group after hearing their Elektra album, "The Original Delaney & Bonnie And Friends," on a New York radio outlet. After completing a cross-country promotion and p.a. tour, including an appearance on the "Tonight Show," the act returned to Los Angeles to headline at the Magic Circus last week (20).

Gary Kines, music director of WGOW, new 5,000 watt rocker in Chattanooga, is requesting better record service. The outlet's playlist demands heavy play of hot new records and Top 20 established hits. Since this wears out disks, says Kines, WGOW needs duplicate service. The music director is asking record companies to clear up their mailing lists and classify WGOW as a dominant Top 40 station in the south. Bob Reich, program director of the outlet, made this request jointly with Kines.

Columbia recording artist Tony Bennett will entertain a large number of deejays and radio station personnel from across the nation in celebration of his latest single, "Play It Again, Sam," via an arrangement with Caesar's Palace. The performance takes place during the artist's current engagement at the Las Vegas hotel (June 20-July 16), where Woody Herman is on the bill with Tony.

Twenty-four-year-old singer Ronald Kenoly, formerly from Kansas, won first prize in the 1969 edition of the KGFJ-Los Angeles Soul Search. In addition to $500 in cash from the outlet, Ron was chosen by Stan Bly, general manager of west coast operations for Bell Records, to receive a recording contract with the label. Ron will also make a guest appearance on Rosey Grier's ABC-TV show.

SPUTTERS: William Sebastian Hart, whose Sunday evening "Concert Hall" program has been aired on WCBM-Baltimore for nearly 15 years, will conduct the National Symphony Orchestra in a special concert next month (12) in Washington's Constitution Hall. WIOD-Miami program manager Elliot Nevins was appointed a Royal Knight of the 9th annual Royal Poinciana Fiesta at ceremonies recently held in the Bayfront Park Bandshell. The honor was conferred by the City of Miami Beautification Committee in recognition of "efforts on behalf of the entire community" for the success of the Poinciana Fiesta.

VITAL STATISTICS: Bob Galen, formerly the featured personality on the morning drive-time program at WREC-Memphis, has been named host of WCBM-Baltimore's all-night music program, "East of Midnight." Gary Corry, previously with WUBE-Cincinnati, has been designated program director of WQXI-Atlanta. Recently joining WQXI as air personalities are Simon Trane, formerly with KRUX-Phoenix, and Neale Blase, previously of KOMA-Oklahoma City.

Gold For Who's 'Tommy'

NEW YORK -- "Tommy," the Who's 2-disk Decca album containing their rock opera of the same name, has been certified by the Record Industry Association of America (RIAA) as a million dollar seller. The album, written and recorded by the Who, was certified just three weeks after its release.

The rock opera, "Tommy," which was hailed by the New York Times as "just possibly the most important work that anyone has yet done in rock," was written by lead guitarist Peter Townshend with contributions from other members of the Who. It includes the group's recent hit single, "Pinball Wizard". It was produced in England by Kit Lambert and Chris Stamp.

Festival Pic Bright; Woodstock Adds Day

NEW YORK — As the Pop Music Summer Festival season got underway this past weekend with a three day event at Devonshire Downs, Calif., the picture for several other major events looked considerably bright.

The Woodstock Music & Art Fair, originally skedded for a two day run, Aug. 16 & 17, has added an extra day, Friday, Aug. 15, to make room for additional top-name British groups. Already signed for that date are the Who, Joe Cocker and his Grease Band, the Incredible String Band, Ravi Shankar, Joan Baez, the Grateful Dead, Santana and Sweetwater. Contract negotiations are still underway for additional talent.

Pop festivals in Atlanta (July 4,5), Denver (June 27-29) and Seattle (July 25-27) are all reporting good business so far. Talent is still being booked for the Seattle date.

Capitol Pacts Grand Funk RR

NEW YORK — A group from Michigan called the Grand Funk Railroad has been signed by Capitol Records. The three men in the group are Mark Farmer, guitar; Don Brewer, drums; and Mel Schacher, bass.

Capitol is rushing the group into its studios to cut both a single and an LP for immediate release. Recordings by the Grand Funk Railroad will be produced by the label's artist-producer Terry Knight through his Good Knight Productions. The group's original material is published by Knight's Storybook Music Company.

Brian Sullivan Found Dead In Lake Geneva

NEW YORK — A report from the American Embassy at Bern, Switzerland, last week, revealed that tenor Brian Sullivan was found dead in Lake Geneva. Sullivan was in Geneva to sing Siegfried in Wagner's "Gottterdammerung" at the Grand Theatre, but sources say the role was given to another singer. Sullivan, who had arrived in Switzerland in May (the Grand Theatre engagement ran from May 13 to June 9) was reportedly missing for "some days."

In the 1940's, Sullivan sang on Broadway as Gaylord Ravenal in "Showboat" and Sam Kaplan in "Street Scene." Opera was his forte, however, and from 1948-1964, he was a leading singer at the Metropolitan in New York.

Sullivan, who was 49 at the time of his death, is survived by his widow, two daughters and a son.

Milkwood Signed To Polydor By Rubott Management

James, Cordell Open

The Brotherhood;

Set Columbia Deal

NEW YORK — Artist/producer Tommy James and indie producer Ritchie Cordell have formed The Brotherhood, a music complex that will include a production company, several music publishing firms and an artists management agency. The new firm has already received an assignment from Columbia Records to produce the Exiles, a group handled by Mark Alan's New Beat Management.

James stressed that The Brotherhood has been created to handle all projects and assignments not connected with his activities as Tommy James and the Shondells. James will continue to produce himself with the Shondells and all business affairs for the group will continue to be coordinated through Tommy James and the Shondells Production Co.

Cordell was instrumental in James' career, writing and producing such Shondells hits as the million-selling "I Think We're Alone Now," as well as "Mony Mony," "Mirage," "Get Out Now," "I Like The Way," "It's Only Love" and "Out Of The Blue."

James said that he intends The Brotherhood "to develop as a community of artists and fellow entertainers — a young people's creative complex." The Brotherhood will also seek new writers and young independent producers for "training and development" as well as pursue an aggressive master purchase program.

expanding dialogue with these youngsters and their parents. Their insights and exposure can offer a positive contribution to "musicians of every age and musical persuasion", he said.

The force of music is growing, economically and socially, Kenin noted. "One dollar of every five spent on recreation in this country goes to music."

"It's remarkable to realize that today, in our country's largest cities, our parks are safe at night only when live musical concerts are performed!"

The musical audience is changing, Kenin said; and "we must broaden our base to reach this different audience... New idioms, new musical forms, will bring new force to music."

Senator Howard Cannon (D. Nev.) traced the history of the Federation in its struggle to win "honorable wages and working conditions for musicians." The Senator announced that he will vote against the surtax and will work for reform of the existing income tax structure.

Business of the Convention, continued through Thursday, June 19, included election of officers. The AFM also welcomed appearances by Jack Benny, Senator Gale McGee, Congressman Robert Giaimo, and Father Norman J. O'Connor.

EYEING ALBUM ARRANGEMENTS are Kenny Burrell (center), jazz guitarist who records for Verve; Johnny Pate (r.), the label's recording director; and Warren Stevens, Burrell's manager. They were working at recording sessions in Chicago for an album scheduled for fall release. Kenny Burrell's current Verve LP is "Night Song."

Talent On Stage

MOTHERS OF INVENTION CHICAGO — YOUNGBLOODS

FILLMORE EAST, N. Y. — "Art is anything you can get away with," said Marshall McLuhan. Perhaps that quote, flashed upon the big Fillmore Screen by the very artistic Joshua Light Show during the Mothers Of Inventions' concert here last weekend, should have read: "Rock is anything you can get away with," Frank Zappa.

You can put me down for being an uncultured clod, Frank, and I'll take it gracefully. I like rock. I like to watch you put the Mothers thru their paces, using your entire body as a baton, twisting and shaping the music as the inspiration strikes you. I like to hear your satiric takeoffs on 1950's group rock, and I even like to hear your straight renditions of 1950's group rock (although the loss of Ray Collins' voice takes some of the edge off your vocal group sound). But seriously, Frank. A ballet for electric oboe and bassoon and other woodwinds, with two Mothers leaping around on stage and running up and down the aisles, that's a little too much. (That was the opening number for Friday's late show. Saturday's late show featured a similar, but somehow better sounding version, without the choreography).

If you're going to get into classical music (and there's no reason you shouldn't), let everybody know about it in advance. Maybe you should pre-plan your programs the way the really big orchestras do, and put big ads in the Sunday Times saying "Come see Frank Zappa conduct the Mothers in a new work for comb, gong and rattle". After all, how would you like it if Bernstein started singing "Sunshine Of Your Love" in the middle of a Beethoven program?

The only thing that bothered us about the Youngbloods was that their set was too short. (Although Bill Graham, or Kip Cohen, wisely let them play an extra-long set). The Youngbloods have always been into country music, but there used to be a large dose of heavy, loud rock thrown in which never seemed to blend well. Last week, as in their previous Fillmore appearance several months ago, the trio poured forth a fragile, yet solid stream of music that seemed to envelop the audience in peace. Even their gifted improvisation was delicate. "Let's Get Together," a tune off the first Youngbloods' LP, was their encore. The tune is finally taking its place on the Top 100 charts and the next time the Youngbloods appear at the Fillmore, it should be as headliners.

One of Chicago's key voices was silenced recently when bass player Peter Cetera had his jaw broken at Los Angeles' Dodger Stadium last month. The loss has apparently affected the group greatly, for they failed to live up to the word of mouth that preceded them. Though several of the tunes, including the opener, struck me as excellent, most of the material was weak. Though Chicago has horns, and uses them well, their emphasis is on the rhythm section. Their instrumentation was at most times good, but every so often dropped down several notches, carrying my head with it. Not a very good feeling. Chicago attempts more that most big rock groups (with one notable exception), and even though they seem to succeed more than most, their ratio of attempts-successes is not as high as it should be.

ROUNDUP

VARIOUS PLACES AROUND N.Y. — Some expectedly good performances, some surprises and some letdowns are always a part of the average musical week in this city, and last week was no exception.

David Rea, former guitarist with Ian & Sylvia, has been out on his own for some time now, but somehow I always seemed to arrive after his performance was over. I finally caught up with him at the Cafe Au Go Go. He was my surprise for last week. In addition to being an exceptionally fine guitarist, and possessing a distinctive and enjoyable voice, Rea stands out as a writer and picker of material. His forte is humorous country-blues and some of his songs verge on recitation. His use of the instrumental portion of "Wildwood Flower" as a backdrop to a song about wildweeds (the smoking kind) was especially catching.

The McCoy's, back home at Steve Paul's Scene, have gotten even deeper into the blues idiom than we expected. Coupled with their talent for writing top-grade material, their instrumental expertise makes them the most enjoyable American blues-oriented group we've seen yet. One late night jam we caught found Buddy Miles sitting in on organ and it was pure dynamite.

Slim Harpo, also at the Scene last week, has picked up a new, young band, and also sounded much better. The group, which can also do some nice things on their own, gave Slim a good cushion to display his talents against, and the vet blues singer/guitarist took full advantage.

The Motions, another Dutch group, may be very big in their own country, but they still have a lot to learn before their ready for the U.S. Their original material is weak, and their readings of American hits, such as the Rascals' "You Better Run," while having some good points, soon begins to grow thin.

The New York Rock & Roll Ensemble were on the second day of their engagement when we caught them at the Bitter End. They've incorporated the material from their new album, "Faithful Friends" (due out this week) into their act, but aside from that they have not changed much. The interesting thing about the Ensemble continues to be their use of classical instruments and themes in a semi-rock form, and though it's a gimmick, it's a good one. Their long, two-movement vocal interpretation of "The Brandenburg" (current single) struck us nicely, as did "Wait Till Tomorrow" and the title tune of the album.

On the same bill were Kenny Rankin and Jerry Merrick, combining their talents for the first time. Both Rankin and Merrick are talented songwriters, and although they support each other with guitar work and some harmony, they perform their own material individually. Rankin's soft voice and the amazing ways he can use it, impressed me as it has in the past, but Merrick's voice didn't have quite the same effect. Perhaps with a little work they will click solidly as a team, but for the moment we prefer Rankin as a solo.

THE WHO POCO

BONZO DOG BAND

THE MAGIC CIRCUS, L. A. — One of the most potent nights of rock entertainment in some time took place opening night at a new club, the Magic Circus, currently housed in the Hollywood Palladium. Lawrence Welk's usual stomping ground became the showcase for The Who, POCO, and the Bonzo Dog Band.

Thw Bonzos were making their initial American rock club appearance and if they get half the reaction elsewhere that they got here, they'll easily conquer America. They're the British counterparts of the Mothers of Invention—featuring some of the strongest parody and satire ever presented in pop... all done with that sence of sly, mocking British humor. Led by the infamous Vivian Stanshall, the Imperial group went through the history of popular music, from the crooning of Frank Sinatra to the love-raunch-rock songs of Richie Valens and Elvis Presley. Stanshall is a master of mimicry, intonation, and pantomime and his five cohorts gave him quite ample backing. Their "oldie" lyrics are masterful ("from the canyons of your heart, to the ventricles of your love..."), as is the variety of their presentation, encompassing instrumentation (about 20 different instruments), props (speech bubbles, bubble machines dedicated to Lawrence Welk), makeup and costumes.

Poco came on next and proved that Buffalos still roam... members of the Buffalo Springfield, that is. Richie Furay and Jim Messina of the former group lead a four man contingent that seems to have as much fun performing as the audience does watching. The group performed material from their new Epic album, employing rockified country through some of the richest harmonies ever heard. Particularly noteworthy was improvisational process of Rusty Young on pedal steel guitar.

The Minute the Who came on, the audience rushed the stage and stayed within inches of the group the rest of the evening... witnessing one of the greatest exhibitions of rock ever presented locally.

The Who performed about 90% of their new rock-opera, "Tommy", the story of a deaf, dumb, and blind boy and it came off even better than their Decca recording. This, of course, was due to the tremendous visual effect of Peter Townshend's guitar chord bashing, Roger Daltry's lasso-like microphone swinging, and the blazing drumming of mad Keith Moon. Between the musical tightness of "Tommy" as an opera and the inherent tightness of the Who as a group, the fusion of the two becomes an instant classic. Following "Tommy", the group bowed out as they came in... in a blaze of good, ol' rock and roll, with "Summertime Blues", "Shaking All Over", and a long, extended version of "Magic Bus".

P. S.

DR. JOHN THE NIGHT TRIPPER

UNGANO'S, N. Y. — Dr. John the Night Tripper made quite an impact with his first album, "Gris Gris," released last year to a lot of critical acclaim and some moderate sales successes. His first New York appearance was also a moderate success, but gave indications that with a little improvement, Dr. John could yet sweep the country with his Cajun mysticism.

The trouble with the show I caught (I've heard from reliable sources that there was at least one far better show that week) was with the backing band and lack of backing vocalists. Since Dr. John (producer Mac Rebeck in reality) doesn't claim to sing, once can't judge him on that basis, and, as a voodoo chanter, he succeeds admirably. His material did seem to get a little repetitious, but there again that can be attributed to a missing undercurrent of excitement that should have been contributed by the rest of the aggregation. After all, the whole secret of voodoo is to catch the audience up in the happenings.

After a good opening with "Gris Gris," Dr. John settled into mediocrity for several songs, finally emerging to show his true power on "Black Spider," a tempo changing piece which even found the band interested in what was going on. "I Walk On Gilded Splinters," the good doctor's almost single-hit of last year, lost a little in the translation to the stage, but the spell was quickly reweoven with "Twilight Zone" and a tongue-in-cheek patriotic tune built around "My Country Tis' Of Thee" (off the second album).

The good witch doctor will be back in New York shortly, I'm told, with a better band and a handful of pretty virgins to be sacrificed to the gods of music. From all indications, it should be a powerful ceremony.

Bayou Records, a division of Arhoolie Records, and ethnic music label specializing in rural blues and well-known to folk-blues aficionados, was represented at the negotiations by Arhoolie president Floyd Soileau.

Oscar Fields, director of national promotion for Bell, said "Black Gal" has been receiving play on both underground and R & B stations.

Summertime 45's Get World Pacific Push

LOS ANGELES — World Pacific Records has launched extensive promo activities to support two 'Summertime' singles, "Frozen Orange Juice" by Peter Sarstedt and "Hey, Little Girl" by the Soul Cadets.

Sarstedt, who hit internationally with his last single, "Where Do You Go To (My Lovely)," is planning a national promotion tour of the U.S. in the immediate future, with several club dates and TV spots already lined up. In addition to a heavy ad schedule, World Pacific is setting up a promotional contest tie-in with a large orange juice manufacturer.

The Soul Cadets featuring Mel Brown are managed by Ron Townson of the Fifth Dimension who also produced their single. Their music combines the Afro-American sound of conga drum and maracas with the R&B electricity of guitars and organ.

"Both 'Frozen Orange Juice' and 'Hey, Little Girl' were released at just the right time," said Ben Scotti, national promotion manager for World Pacific/Soul City Records. "Starting about mid-June people lose their craving for songs that stress death, war and unrequited love. They want uplifting, happy songs which go with convertibles and both our 'Summertime' releases fit this description... we're expecting great things from them."

Beverly Hills Staffer

LOS ANGELES — Beverly Hills Records has added Ramona Richey, formerly with Liberty Records, to its staff. NEW YORK — Columbia Records has just bought the master of the single, "If I Didn't Have A Dime," which is a hit in Richmond, Virginia. The single is being rushed into immediate release, according to an announcement by Bob Devere, label A&R manager of independent productions.

The record was spotted by Steve Popovich, Columbia's assistant director of national promotion, on the Southern Music Survey, put out by Dick Reus of Radio Station WLEE in Richmond. Popovich then brought the record to the attention of Bob Devere, who purchased the master from Tom Maeder and Charles Bradshaw of Stagecoach Productions. The two producers have been signed to an exclusive contract with Columbia.

Record Reviews

Choice Programming

Choice Programming selections are singles which, in the opinion of our reviewing staff, are deserving of special programmer consideration.

DEE DEE WARWICK (Mercury 72940) Ring Of Bright Water (2:30) (Ampco, BMI — Cordell, Botley) Dee Dee Warwick will be heard singing this tune in the flick of the same name, and the wide exposure (not to mention Miss Warwick's popularity and talent) will give it a good shot at the charts. Flip: "Next Time (You Fall In Love)" (2:30) (Chappell, ASCAP — Cacavas, Becker)

MICHAEL P. WHALEN (Pete 713) Lisa Comes To You (2:51) (Wingate, ASCAP — Brown) Contemporary ballad from Michael P. Whalen, in the Leonard Cohen tradition, could be the side this gifted young talent has been looking for. Qualifies for Top 40, MOR and underground play. Flip: "A Late Night Love Song" (3:30) (Petersen, BMI — Whalen)

PAUL DESMOND (A&M 1075) Lady In Cement (3:00) (20th Century, ASCAP — Montenegro) Paul Desmond's saxophone shines jazzily on this title tune outing from the white back Frank Sinatra flick. Disk could be another "Peter Gunn." Flip: "Samba (Struttin') With Some Barbecue" (3:08) (Leeds, ASCAP — Armstrong)

HERB BERNSTEIN'S NEW CRUSADE (Metromedia 127) Infinity Blue (2:44) (Jillbern/Pocket Full Of Tunes, BMI — Dorff) Bright and bouncy instrumental with vocal chorus should earn Herb Bernstein's New Crusade a lot of good music airplay. Don't neglect the flip: "Ode To Wes" (2:41) (Jillbern/MRC/Pocket Full of Tunes, BMI — Bernstein, Freedman)

HUNGRY TIGER (White Whale 313) Fee-Fi-Fo-Fum (2:22) (Kaleidoscope/Moffit, ASCAP — Moffit) Another bubble-gum outing based on a catch phrase, this deck from the Hungry Tiger could easily capture strong teen attention. Flip: No Info

BOOK OF MATCHES (Bell 803) Hard To Be Without You (2:38) (Screen Gems-Columbia, BMI — Fischhoff, Powers) English-sounding teen-aimed deck has some strong qualities, including a catchy chorus and a good performance by Book Of Matches. Could break thru. Flip: "Something's Up" (2:19) (Screen Gems-Columbia, BMI — McGaw)

MIKI (GNP Crescendo 428) Swan Lake (2:39) (Hill & Range, BMI — Dallon) Tradition tune gets a commercial arrangement and performance from Miki (Dallon) and should start showing up on good music station playlists shortly. Flip: No info available.

ALBERT COLLINS (Imperial 66391) Do The Sissy (2:48) (Corridor, SESAC — Hollister) Blues guitarist Albert Collins could break into the Top 40 market with this listenable and danceable workout on one of the current dance crazes. Collins' guitar work and vocal punctuation excel. Flip: "Turnin' On" (2:47) Same credits.

Choice Programming

Choice Programming selections are singles which, in the opinion of our reviewing staff, are deserving of special programmer consideration.

SATURDAY'S PHOTOGRAPH (Columbia 44904) Gentle Loving San Francisco Man (Blackwood/Doppler, BMI — P. & S. Nunn) Soft and gentle as its title, this sunny tune from Saturday's Photograph is a good candidate for Top 40 and MOR attention. Flip: "Summer Never Go Away" (2:09) Same credits.

THE CRYSTAL MANSION (Capitol 2543) Everything's In Love Today (3:10) (Golden Egg/Beechwood/Luvlin, BMI — White, Caswell) The reputation that this team has accrued in teen and underground areas should begin to pay back dividends to this easy-going side. May break top forty and FM. Flip: "Country" (3:20) (Thrice, ASCAP — Faulkner)

DONNA WEISS (Atco 6688) I'm Only Human (3:15) (Screen Gems/Columbia, BMI — Weiss) Featuring a vocal sound that combines a little of Dusty and a bit of Cher, this newcomer artist pumps a power into her own material that should start things happening top forty-wise. Good teen ballad that could break loose. Flip: "Bonafide Love Me" (3:19) (Tree, BMI — Hurley, Wilkins)

CHUCK BARRIS (Capitol 2536) Too Rich (3:37) (Chuck Barris, ASCAP — Barris) TV's game czar Chuck Barris ("Dating Game," "Newlyweds Game," etc.) makes an artist debut with a big-band rock side. Reputation could open enough doors to spark reaction. Flip: "I Know A Child" (4:40) (Same credits)

THE NEW LIFE (Amaret 107) Only For Our Minds (2:15) (Daje, BMI — Shapazian, Krikorian, Van Maarth) Exceptional rock side with enough promise to come through for an FM showing. Likely to spread from there to top forty. Flip: "Strollin' Sunday Mornin'" (2:20) (Daje, BMI — Wood)

CRAZY HORSE (M. O. C. 671) Love (2:06) (Jec, BMI — Gordon, Yancy) Flashy, fiery, booming side with a glaring statement in the lyrics and matching instrumental shock. Side comes on so strong that it's bound to grab first impression action. Flip: "High On Lovin'" (2:15) (Jec, BMI — Park)

GEORGIE BOY (SSS Int'l 771) Til He Calls My Name (2:52) (Shelby Singleton, BMI — Smith, Lewis) Off and running from the very start, this blazing blues workout has the dynamite impact to spearhead breakaway response. Could turn into a pop runner as well. No flip info supplied.

PAL CRAWFORD (Jamie 1376) The Bed (2:50) (Heard, BMI — Rabbit) Several releases of this song last year created confusion and split play among them in teen, country and easy listening areas. Now, Pal Crawford has the field all to himself with an r&b/rock reading. Strong. Flip: "Show A Little Appreciation" (1:45) (Dandelion, BMI — Rakes)

COUNTRY MILE (World Pacific 77918) Tonight I'll Be Staying Here With You (2:25) (Big Sky, ASCAP — Dylan) Lumbering rock and underground side lightly colored in Big Pink. The appealing material and lustrous arrangement could spur teen interest. Flip: "I Who Have Nothing" (3:28) (Cotillion/Trio/Milky Way, BMI — Donida, Mogol, Leiber, Stoller)

AL GREEN (Hi 2164) One Woman (2:59) (Rhomers, BMI — Rhodes, Chaimers) Slow tasty ballad side aimed at the r&b market with point blank power. Very fine performance which should stir action. Flip: "Tomorrow's Dreams" (2:14) (Jec, BMI — Mitchell, Green)

THE GREATEST LITTLE SOUL BAND IN THE LAND (Congress 6002) Something for My People (2:38) (Pelew, ASCAP — Jackson) Familiar J.J. Jackson instrumental line is charged with power in this bright dance-rhythm side that is likely to grow as a blues area hit. Flip: "Win, Lose Or Draw" (3:55) (Meager, BMI — Ousley)

SCOTT WALKER (Smash 2228) Lights of Cincinnati (3:19) (Arch, ASCAP — Macaulay, Stephens) Pretty side that is certain to see heavy MOR exposure and could well pop into the teen areas. Very fine performance. Flip: "Two Weeks Since You've Gone" (2:48) (B.I.E.M. — Engel)

FRANK IFFIELD (Hickory 1540) Let Me Into Your Life (Damian, ASCAP — De Angelis, Hotlen) Latest from this English artist is a stunning side which unifies much of the British and French ballad flavors to form a powerful pop offering. Could well happen. Flip: "Mary In The Morning" (3:28) (Pamco, BMI — Rasknow, Cymbal)

ANDY RUSSELL (Capitol 2516) Bring Me Sunshine (2:30) (Bourne, ASCAP — Dee, Kent) Softly spun spellcaster for attractive adult programming. Enticing lyric is matched by a small combo backdrop and nice vocal performance. Flip: "Julie" (2:10) (W-7, BMI — Reed, Mason)

JON & ROBIN (Abnak 138) Give Me Your Love (3:30) (Metric, BMI — Holiday) A good song that's been cut before with noisemaker results. "Give Me Your Love" is treated to a heavy rock handling that could spur top forty action. Flip: "Lonely One" (2:20) (Jetstar, BMI — Clark)

THE AD LIBS (Share 104) Giving Up (3:01) (Trio, BMI — McCoy) Familiar ballad is super-charged by a standout vocal and intriguing orchestration. Side is a powerful entry for pop and blues market action and could break away saleswise. Flip: No info included.

TIMOTHY WILSON (Blue Rock 4087) Love Is Like An Itching In My Heart (2:45) (Jobete, BMI — Holland, Dozier, Holland) One of the Supremes hits from the between-peaks period, "Love" has the unique H-D-H style that makes any reading an enjoyable one. This new performance is likely to see solid r&b market acceptance. Flip: "I Wanna Know Right Now" (3:10) (Natra/MRC, BMI — Kerr)

JOE BUTLER (Kama Sutra 264) Revelation: Revolution '69 (2:29) (Faithful Virtue, BMI — Butler, Finiz) Dynamite song could easily become a key track in the FM programming area. Overcoming likely AM objections, the side has a heavy shot at coming home a sales winner. Flip: No info supplied.

ZUCKERMAN'S DREAM (Columbia 44831) The Revolution's Over (3:07) (Jonathan, ASCAP — Carney) Very interesting folk-pop track in the vein of Peter Sarsted's recent "Where Do You Go To My Lovely." Lyrical weight and overall production quality could attract the momentum to project this side into best seller showings. Flip: No info afforded.

SKIP JACKSON & THE SHANTONS (Dot-Mar 324) I'm On To You Girl (ASCAP — Jackson) Rambling instrumental vigor and handsome group vocals influenced by the Philadelphia blues outings of recent months give this side a heady magnetism. R&b interest might put the side on the charts. Flip: "Promise That You'll Wait" (2:15) Same credits. GI's plea that could add sales for the team. Dot-Mar Records, 103 Belmont, Jersey City, N.J.

NEW YORK

BEFORE WE CONTINUE, a word from our editor on his recent trek to Philadelphia:

Like the comic who dreams of playing Hamlet, or the ad copywriter who visualizes a Pulitzer prize winning novel, many pop composers believe fulfillment lies in a "serious" work. Henry Mancini is a man with the tools to accomplish such a venture. He's a true melodist and his own orchestrator. This combination plus the recollections of his boyhood in Pennsylvania has evolved into a three section work called "Beaver Falls 37," which will be part of his first conducting chore with the Philadelphia Orchestra Pops. The recording was made last week at the Philadelphia Academy of Music, where, by the way, stands the only podium in the world that contains ducts to draw cool air for the maestro on hand. We can't comment fully at this point on the full value of the work, but what we heard uses the lush Philadelphia to its best advantage and much of the aforementioned Mancini gifts.

CONGRATS TO: Kenny Kagan, gatekeeper at the Scene, married last week . . . Alan Richmond, president of ARW Productions, an ad and film production company, marrying Susan Goldberg, director of promotion for Polly Bergen's cosmetic firm . . . Biff Rose, who made the "On The Scene" feature in the July Playboy . . . Karen Lippert, a publicist at Doubleday, who received Tiny Tim's 'Classic Beauty of the Year' award. Doubleday publishing Mr. Tim's book, "Beautiful Thoughts."

It was Barry Melton and the Fish last week, when the Vanguard group played Le Cave in Cleveland. Joe McDonald took a brief leave to play a role in an off, off, off-Broadway (San Francisco, in fact) theatre production. Joe will make a solo appearance at the Fillmore East on the 25 & 26 of July on the bill with Crosby, Stills & Nash.

Indie promoter Cal Styles touring the Southern market thru July for Souville's "Found A Love" by Milli McLaine . . . The Brass Buttons off to Puerto Rico for a six-week gig at the Caribe Hilton. Group should have a new disk pact by the time they get back . . . It was a good week for Tony Cabot. Over 200 of his musicians were working affairs under the Cabot banner . . . The Majic Ship, a popular N.Y. hop group, now on Majic L Records with "Hummin'" . . . The Classics IV, who've been five for some time, are now six. English White has been added on sax.

OUTSIDE GIGS: Delaney & Bonnie and Friends to write and perform music for a Hertz TV spot . . . England's Amen Corner to write the title tune for AIP's "Scream And Scream Again," starring Vincent Price and Christopher Lee. Group will also make a brief appearance . . . The Impressions to appear at the finals of the Miss Black America Beauty Pageant 1969, being held Aug. 22 at Madison Square Garden. Curtis Mayfield will write a theme song for the affair . . . Melanie to compose original music and songs for "All The Right Noises," currently filming in London. Olivia Hussey, Judy Carne and Tom Bell star.

Tuesday At Wednesday's

At an evening with the Peer Southern Organization, held on a recent Tuesday at Wednesday's Discotheque, Sid Maurer (r), American rep for Donovan, presented a plaque to Ralph Peer II, the firm's exec vp, for Peer Southern's highly successful efforts on behalf of Donovan.

AN EXCERPT FROM A PRESS RELEASE: sent out by Belkin Productions a Cleveland concert promotion firm: The Doors . . . receiving national publicity due to an alleged incident in Miami . . . have returned to the concert trails this past weekend (15, 15) . . . (with shows in Chicago and Cleveland) . . . The audiences were well behaved with the age group between 14 and 23. There was absolutely no incident in either city which would cause any disfavor among public officials or concerned parents . . . Jim Morrison . . . seemed very concerned that the entire group put forth a good show.

Atlantic City Steel Pier will feature week-long shows by Sandler and Young, Lesley Gore, Baja Marimba Band, the Cowsills, Duke Ellington, O.C. Smith, Count Basie and Tiny Tim. Lesley Gore kicks off the festivals this Wed. (25)

Fillmore East's Bill Graham presented the first of what will hopefully turn out to be a series of free concerts at Central Park, yesterday (Sunday). Show featured the Grateful Dead, who headlined the Fillmore this past weekend. If all worked out well, Graham and 100 Fillmore staffers, plus assorted friends, cleaned the Mall before and after the date.

The program, kicking off today (23) and running thru Aug. 15, was unveiled to the company's distributors last week by Joel Friedman, the label's marketing v.p.

New albums include "Smash Hits" by Jimi Hendrix, "Ike & Tina Turner's Greatest Hits," and "Don Ho's Greatest Hits," while the catalog lists such items as "The Very Best of the Everly Brothers," "Petula Clark's

"Each of the albums in the program," Friedman said, "has a proven track record, and are absolutely proven hit material. We hope to expose the albums to millions of new buyers, as well as create store traffic not previously available."

As an indication of the hit potential, Friedman pointed out that a good number of the albums have already earned R. I. A. A. Awards as million sellers, such as The Association album, the Everly Brothers album, and others.

"In Jimi Hendrix, we have probably the hottest act in the business today," said Friedman, "with the company reporting numerous requests by distributors and dealers alike for new product."

Ike & Tina Turner

"In Person," Ike and Tina Turner's first Minit album is number 115 on the charts this week, and the disk buying public's favorable response to the LP reflects the audience enthusiasm generated by an "Ike and Tina Turner Revue" when the soul duo performs in person. Ike and Tina, backed by the four Ikettes, and the Kings of Rhythm orchestra, have appeared in concert throughout the country since 1960. Ike Turner was born and began performing in Clarksdale, Mississippi. After graduating from high school, he started forming the original Kings of Rhythm, who played mostly in the Clarksdale area in the beginning. Then their popularity earned them a recording session in Memphis, where they cut "Rocket 88," a Turner penned tune which was a huge hit in Cleveland, and the Baltimore-Washington area. Annie Mae Bullock, the future Tina Turner, was born in Brownsville, Tennessee, where she sang in gospel choirs and talent shows. In the mid-1950's, she moved with one of her sisters to St. Louis, and subsequently met Ike in a nightclub where he was performing. She sang several numbers with Ike and the Kings of Rhythm, later joined the group, and became Ike's wife.

Cat Mother & the All Night Newsboys

The formation of Cat Mother & the All Night Newsboys began in June 1967, when Roy Michaels, bass guitar; and Bob Smith, organ & piano, cut out from New York's Greenwich Village and traveled to the Monterey Pop Festival. It was at that point that Roy and Bob first felt that they could make a steady go of it in the music business. Back in New York, they met Charlie Chin, perhaps the only Chinese-American banjo player on the east coast. Within a few days, they were joined by Michael Equine, drummer, and 4/5 of Cat Mother was complete. Eventually, the group found Larry Packer, who was classically trained on the violin and could play mandolin and guitar as well. They played a few gigs at New York's Electric Circus, to enthusiastic response. Later they met Jimi Hendrix, who co-produced their first album, "The Street Giveth And The Street Taketh Away." The group's debut single, taken from the LP (on Polydor), "Good Old Rock 'n' Roll," is slotted in the #57 position on the Top 100 this week.

Free dirt!

We know what you're thinking. This time, you say, those loonies in the Warner/Reprise Fun and Games Dept. have really flipped out. Pig Pen look-alike contests. Van Dyke Parks 1¢ sales. Win-a-Fug Dream Date tournaments. Free Randy Newman albums. But...free dirt!?

If that's what you're thinking, you're alone.

Our controller, Mr. Gitlin, is convinced we're crackers.

Mr. West, our esteemed treasurer, had to go home early when he heard about this one.

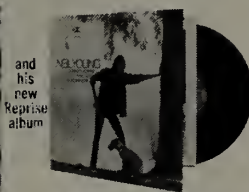

Miss Penny in shipping has demanded tranquilizers, overtime, and an Easter bonus for her boys if they have to bag dirt.

But what the hell. Nobody understood Galileo either. Read on.

The reason for this unprecedented giveaway:

NEIL YOUNG

EVERYBODY KNOWS
THIS IS NOWHERE

This is Neil's second solo album. Those of us who are Neil Young freaks thought he deserved a little help from his friends. Something to give him an edge on the other $4.98 albums out there glutting up the market. But it had to be in keeping with Neil's image.

Which is to say, unpretentious.

Honest, direct, sincere.

Down-to-earth.

And that, folks, is how we arrived at

DIRT

Now, this is no ordinary dirt we're giving away. Not any of that Pacoima or Wilkesbarre or Mineola stuff. We wouldn't touch that. This is 100% pure Topanga Canyon dirt, from the famed section of Los Angeles where Neil lives.

Topanga, as you know, is one of the better-known canyons that house the people who make music hereabouts. Removed from the center of the L.A. music scene by almost 20 miles, it is a dusty-woody path leading from Malibu on the south to a questionable suburban sprawl on the north.

Say "Topanga" to some in L.A., and the first response you'll get is probably a grim-lipped "hippie." But Topanga carried Goldwater in 1960, and the American Legion post there is a powerful one.

Still, it's where Linda Ronstadt lived when the world began to spin. Tim Buckley has a house there, slammed up against a mountain. It's where Barry McGuire began getting back to nature. It's where a lot of old Byrds and former Buffalo Springfield (besides Neil) have lived. Spirit calls it home.

And it's also where the world's leading publisher of nudist magazines lives.

How do you come by some Topanga dirt?

Fill out the form below and jam it to us in the grubbier envelope you can find.

I have checked the kind of dirt I want.

American Legion dirt.

Nudist dirt.

(Hurry. There's only so much dirt we can take out without arousing the American Legionnaires and nudists.)

Neil worked hard writing all the songs on his new album. We're going to be working hard digging and bagging.

We'd be pleased if you'd do something, too. Buy the album.

If a package of soil turns you on, think of what two sides of Neil Young might do.

Celebrity House, Combo Restaurant & Disk-Tape Store, Bows In S.C.

NEW YORK — The first in a chain of roadside, franchise units that combine a fast food restaurant with a discount record and tape store opened on June 14 in Greenville, South Carolina. Created by the recently-formed Celebrity Systems, Inc., the units are called Celebrity Houses and are designed to appeal to the youth market. The Greenville unit is owned by Interstate Management Associates, a Celebrity Systems affiliate which has agreed to build at least 58 Celebrity Houses throughout six southern states within the next five years.

A host of broadcasting and entertainment personalities, government figures and press representatives attended the opening of the first Celebrity House. Gary Lewis and Sam & Dave, the stars of a show held by Celebrity House the evening of the opening in the Greenville Memorial Auditorium, were present. The show also included a new folk-rock act called the Hubbels and a Greenville area group, Moses Dillard and the Textown Display.

A diversified operation which concentrates in the entertainment and leisure-time markets, Celebrity Systems is headed by Ewen P. Barnett, Jr., chairman of the board, and Peter Falcone, president, both of whom are founders of the corporation. Hugh M. Eaton is vice president and treasurer.

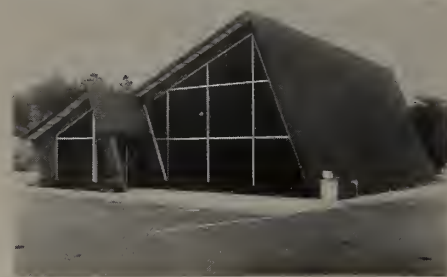

Barnett co-founded Management Television Systems, Inc., a firm which markets large screen closed circuit communication equipment and establishes communications networks for industry, government and educational institutions. Prior to that, he had controlling interest in a British closed circuit TV company. He formed Barnett Pictures Corp., a firm which acquired foreign movies for resale in the U.S., in 1963.

Falcone was formerly in account management with a New York ad agency, Benton & Bowles. Eaton joined Celebrity Systems as comptroller and director of sales. Before that, he was with the Monsanto Company, where he worked as secretary to the European budget committee and as an international marketing manager.

The Celebrity Houses will be serviced with records and tapes by National Merchandising Services Corporation, the rack jobbing firm which is now a wholly-owned subsidiary of Celebrity Systems. NMS initially specialized in the military market and now services department stores and military exchanges on the East Coast and outside the U.S. Larry L. Goughan, owner and president of NMS before the Celebrity House acquisition, retains his title as president. Joseph L. Lyons, former director of national account sales at CBS Records, is vice president of marketing for NMS (he is also vice president of marketing for the music division of Celebrity Systems).

Interstate Management Associates is 50% owned by Celebrity Systems and 50% owned by IMA president R. Hugh Daniel, Jr. Daniel previously held an executive position with the Daniel Construction Company.

Hope Plays 'Roberta' Again On TV Special

NEW YORK — Bob Hope will celebrate the 36th anniversary since he first appeared in the hit Broadway musical "Roberta," by recreating his famous role for television audiences on "Chrysler Presents The Bob Hope Special," to be aired in Nov.

"Roberta" was first presented in New York in November, 1933, and ran for a total of 255 performances. Hope was cast as a bandleader called Huck Haines, and it was the big break he had been waiting for. Up till then he had played a succession of theatrical bit parts, but with the success of "Roberta," the doors opened to more Broadway starring roles, radio and, finally, Hollywood.

The original Broadway cast included Fred MacMurray, Tamara, Ray Middleton, Sidney Greenstreet, Faye Templeton, George Murphy and Lyda Roberti. Jerome Kern & Oscar Hammerstein wrote the score, which includes "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" and "Yesterdays."

This time Hope will play the role on the stage of the Bob Hope Theater at Southern Methodist University, Dallas. Hope gave over $800,000 to the school to build the theater, which was opened last year.

Joining Shorter as v.p. of Euphoric will be Barry Lane, past national promotion exec for Buddah and most recently director of national singles promotion for ABC Records.

Bell is scheduled to issue "Hard to Be Without You" this week as the team's debut single.

"Kitty Wells Country Kitchens" Bow

NASHVILLE — Decca Records artist, Kitty Wells, who headlines her own nationally syndicated TV show and longtime publisher of her personalized "Kitty Wells Cookbook," becomes the newest star entertainer to enter the franchise field with the inauguration of the "Kitty Wells Country Kitchens."

Kitty's co-star husband, Johnny Wright, in making the announcement revealed plans for a double debut with this week's grand opening of two in-operations "Kitty Wells Country Kitchens" in Mobile, Ala. He stated that a third location has been firmed up and will be under construction almost immediately.

A pair of profit-proven Mobile businessmen head the new Kitty Wells franchise corporation. Lonnie I Watts, owner-operator of the Quarter Note Supper Club in Mobile is president and chairman of the board. Watts has 24 years of successful food and management experience. Second in command is Jimmy E. Phelps, president and general manager of the Mobile Memorial Gardens, who also has cemetery interest in Mississippi, Georgia and South Carolina. Phelps is secretary-treasurer of the new franchise firm.

Kitty and Johnny have been married 32 years, have three youngsters, several grandchildren and a show business marriage engineered to allow Kitty to be a fulltime wife, homemaker and highly touted cook of the "down home" country school.

Initial "Kitty Wells Country Kitchen" operations are two locally owned Mobile, Ala., Ruler of the Roost Country Fried Chicken carry-out restaurants. The two operations have been converted physically and operationally to a specially developed standardized image and operation blueprint that will trademark all future "Kitchen" franchises.

Food fare, Wright states, will maintain the personalized flavor of Kitty's home kitchen techniques and recipes. Family styled meals fashioned from historic country foods such as fried chicken, fresh water catfish, country gravy and biscuits, hash brown and hush puppies will be supplemented with popular sandwich selections like corn beef, pastrami, ham, beef, and the Po'boy.

Legal experts instrumental in laying the groundwork for the first franchise venture include Mobile attorney Reginald H. Stephens who has his own law firm and Nashville attorneys Ren Cantrell and Grant Smith of the Clement/Smith Law Firm. (Frank Clement, senior partner, is former three-time governor of Tennessee.) Stephens is the attorney and legal counsel for the franchise operation. Cantrell and Smith represent Kitty and Johnny.

The Charlie Lamb Corporation of Music City has been retained to map out and handle initial press conferences and promotional campaigns which will spark the inauguration of the culinary and country music "Queen's" franchise flagship.

Gardner, Hudson Form Mgt. Firm

DALLAS — Jack Gardiner, program manager of KBOX in Dallas, Texas, and Bill Hudson, president of Bill Hudson & Associates, Inc., in Nashville, Tennessee have jointly announced the formation of Gardiner/Hudson Management. The firm, which will offer consulting services to broadcasters will specialize in modern C&W stations working in both sales and programming. Both men have successful track records as C&W consultants, having worked together in launching several of the nation's top radio stations on C&W formats.

Gardiner, who currently programs KBOX in Dallas and WONE in Dayton, Ohio for Group 1 Broadcasting, successfully launched WPLO in Atlanta, Georgia, and WHIY in Orlando, Florida on modern C&W formats several years ago. Recent stations launched by Gardiner include WONE in Dayton, WCAW in Charleston, West Virginia, and KJEM in Oklahoma City. In addition both Gardiner and Hudson have worked with several stations across the country in upgrading their existing C&W format.

Grammer Guitar Sold

NASHVILLE — Billy Grammer has sold his stock and relinquished its directorship in Grammer Guitar, granting him more time to pursue his independent producing goals.

Grammer, who simply maintains "there's so little time and so many things to do in life," eased off on his personal appearance roster a few years ago and devoted his time and talent to designing, developing and manufacturing the Grammer Guitar, noted today as one of the finest flat-tops on the market.

He later affiliated his company with the Ampeg Corporation, continuing to oversee and work with the Grammer Guitar, but also delving into the independent producing bag. His creative ability and feeling of satisfaction gained from "helping newcomers in this business that's been so good to me," has prompted Grammer to sell out completely to Ampeg his interests in the manufacturing firm so he "can concentrate more on producing."

The former "Gotta Travel On" gold record winner reported latest results in his independent producing endeavors includes the new Monument release of "Cry On Lonely Fool" by newcomer Ramona Parish of Columbus, Ga.

Gardiner, in discussing the new management firm commented: "Bill and I have worked with each other for some time and found our combined experience covers every phase of a broadcast operation." Hudson, whose background includes programming, sales, and agency feels there is a growing need for a total management firm to serve the modern C&W broadcasters. "We receive calls every day from stations who are not doing an aggressive job of programming and selling, and are about to be met with competition in their market. Many of the broadcasters are in need of a new look and sound to their format. If they don't upgrade they're going to be greatly surprised when another station goes modern country and grabs their ratings."

The Gardiner/Hudson Management firm will have home offices in the Braniff Towers in Dallas, Texas managed by Gardiner with a branch office in Nashville headed by Hudson. The firm will offer a complete consulting service including programming, sales, promotion, personnel, and advertising.

Cash To Perform At Newport Fest

NEWPORT — Many top country music artists will be performing on this year's Newport Folk Festival. The opening concert Thursday evening, July 17, will feature Johnny Cash, who has become a most important figure in country music today and is currently star of his own network TV show. Cash will do "Folsom Prison Blues," "Ring of Fire," "Daddy Sang Bass," and many others which have made him famous. He will be joined on the program by his wife, June Carter; Carl Perkins, who had a big hit with "Blue Suede Shoes" several years ago; Doug Kershaw, composer of "Louisiana Man"; and Johnny's own band, The Tennessee Three.

Also appearing on the Thursday evening program will be Billy Edd Wheeler, whose songs have been recorded by many different artists, including Glen Campbell ("Ann"), Richie Havens ("High Flying Bird"), and Johnny Cash ("Jackson"). Billy himself recently did well with his own recording of "West Virginia Woman."

Two performers who came from a country background and who have been very successful in the pop world will appear on the program Saturday evening, July 19. The Everly Brothers, who sold millions of records with songs like "Wake Up Little Suzie," "Bird Dog," and "Dreaming," will perform with their father, Ike Everly, a country musician from the '30's. They will sing some of the songs they were brought up on, like "Kentucky," "I'm Here To Get My Baby Out of Jail," and many other country classics which helped give the Everlys their unique style.

Also on Saturday evening will be a secondary concert at Rogers High School, featuring the "Story of Bluegrass," with some of the greatest Bluegrass musicians in the country, including Bill Monroe and the Bluegrass Boys, Mac Wiseman, Don Reno and Bill Harrell and the Bluegrass Cut-ups, Tex Logan, and many others.

The country sound will carry straight through to the closing concert Sunday evening, July 20, with John Hartford, composer of "Gentle on My Mind", who has become familiar to TV audiences through his appearances with the Smothers Brothers and Glen Campbell.

TORONTO — Allan Matthews, field promotion manager for Apex Records (The Compo Company) is currently involved in a country promotion which includes catalogue from United Artists, Kapp and Apex. Artists receiving the benefit of this promotion include: Del Reeves, George Jones, Bobby Lewis, Don Messer, Mel Tillis and many others.

Effective during the months of June and July the campaign also offers special dealer incentives and store promotion material. One of the mainstays of the promotion is Apex recording star Don Messer, who began his annual summer tour recently which will take him and his Jubilee crew including Graham Townsend, Marg Osborne and Charlie Chamberlain on a series of one nighters through the two months and cover the country extensively.

Messer has been the focal point of much press lately with the CBS-TV network dropping his weekly show. Much criticism of this action by the press and letters of protest from many thousands of viewers failed to have the CBC reinstate the show. The Messer TV show has since been picked up by CHCH-TV in Hamilton for airing in the fall and possible syndication.

Great Britain

The Rolling Stones are readying a number of personal and television appearances, ending a prolonged spell away from the public eye. They are due for concerts at Rome's Colosseum on June 25th and 26th, and their performances will be filmed under the supervision of an unnamed Italian director for global distribution to TV networks. Apparently there is to be no admission charge for the public attending the dates. Lead guitarist Brian Jones has left the group because of his disagreement with the type of material Mick Jagger and Keith Richard are writing for its repertoire. He has been replaced by 20-year-old Mick Taylor (from the Fleetwood Mac) whose first date with the Stones was a telerecording for David Frost's American TV series. The parting with Jones is reported to have been amicable and is the first personnel change in the group since its rise to fame and the selling of an estimated total of over 43 million records throughout the world. A new Stones single is in the offing, and the group plans a London concert some time in July. Jagger's hair will be trimmed and he will wear a false beard for his impending movie role as Australian bushranger Ned Kelly.

Warner Brothers-Seven Arts Records and publishing operation is now installed at 69 New Oxford Street, London, W.C.1, adjacent to the premises of the Dick James group of companies. WB-Seven Arts London disk chief Ian Ralfini has named Mike Everett as marketing manager with effect July 1st. 35-year-old Everett has been sales manager at Philips Records and has a total of six years service with that company. Terry Stanley is financial controller for both WB-Seven Arts Records and publishing, having come to the post after holding a similar position at MGM Records, and Mike Willis is in charge of TV and radio promotion after experience with CBS Records and a music newspaper. As previously reported, Frank Shaw is copyright manager for WB-Seven Arts publishing after occupying the same position with Ardmere and Beechwood; Carole Chapman from Apple is Ralfini's personal assistant, and Des Brown from MGM is handling press and promotion. WB-Seven Arts is finalising its first album releases under the new set-up.

"Get Back" by the Beatles was voted top of the international pops in "European Pop Jury" broadcast earlier this month. Runners up were "Proud Mary" by Creedence Clearwater, "Dizzy" by Tommy Roe, and "Israelites" by Desmond Dekker. The contest was organised by the European Broadcasting Union jointly with the BBC, and the program reached 12 million listeners in Britain, West Germany, Belgium, Italy, France, Sweden, Finland and Norway. Each country entered two records of its choice selected from its current hit parade, one of which had to be by a national of that country. "Get Back" was entered by the Northern Europe group of Norway, Sweden and Finland; "Proud Mary" by Belgium; "Dizzy" by Great Britain; and "Israelites" by Germany. Voting was by 1,600 people comprising the combined studio audiences of the eight participating countries operating push buttons, and David Gell was the London compere.

Basil Margrave has been named general manager of the Fidelity group's Advance complex of movie and recording studios worth £1,500,000 which are due to open in north London at the end of the year. Margrave was formerly general manager of Century 21 Toys and Publishing, a subsidiary of Associated TeleVision, and has also been production administrative controller and director of Pye Records, assistant to the ABC TV program controller, and production manager at Southern TV.

"Promises, Promises," the Burt Bacharach-Hal David stage musical, will open at the Prince of Wales Theatre in the fall, probably October. United Artists is releasing the Broadway cast album on June 27th, and A&M is issuing a Burt Bacharach single of "I'll Never Fall In Love Again" on that date together with an LP containing that title and three others from the show. Hal David is expected in London at the end of July in connection with casting the British production, and there is a possibility that Marlene Dietrich may also play a London season concurrent with the show with Bacharach supervising musical arrangements for both. The music for "Promises, Promises" will be published here by Blue Seas Music and Jac Music which are administered by Franklyn Boyd Music.

Mike Vernon, Blue Horizon chairman and producer, flew to the States June 22nd for a month's recording schedule with the label's American artists. In New York he is recording an album by Garfield Love with Sonny Freeman's orchestra, a Downhome LP featuring Guitar Crusher, Benny Ferguson, and Detroit Washboard Willie, and an album and single by the 18-voice Brooklyn Gospel Singers. Vernon will also record Otis Spann, Gate-mouth Brown, Curley Mayes and Clarence "Frogman" Henry.

Hopes that the Arts Council might come to the rescue of any BBC orchestras axed in the Corporation's impending reorganisation were dashed by Arts Council chairman Lord Goodman. He said the Council was "deeply concerned" about the future of some BBC orchestras, but had no spare funds with which to subsidise them.

Peter Sarstedt has begun writing a musical set in the old American West for impresario Michael Codron. He will work on both the storyline and the music and songs, but no firm date for fruition has yet been set. Sarstedt is also penning the main theme song for the forthcoming movie "In Search Of Gregory" starring Julie Christie which will be premiered in the fall. Sarstedt will probably record the song for use in the soundtrack and as a single.

The £176,000 Maltings concert hall at Snape, venue for the annual Aldeburgh Festival, has been gutted by fire, and this year's Festival has had to be staged at hurriedly improvised alternative locations, mostly local churches. The Maltings became renowned during its short life for its excellent acoustics, and classical recordings and a TV jazz series took place there. The hall was fully insured, and composer Benjamin Britten, closely associated with the Maltings and the Aldeburgh Festival, said that it would be restored in time for next year's event.

World Record Club has been pleasantly surprised by the strong-selling custom for "Lady Be Good," an album featuring historic performances by Fred and Adele Astaire and George Gershwin at the piano. The LP is part of WRC's series of vintage reissues featuring stars like Peter Dawson, Binnie Hale, George Formby, Cicely Courtneidge and Jack Hulbert. WRC will shortly release an LP comprising original recordings of songs used in "Oh! What A Lovely War" with the movie's director Richard Attenborough reading some Great War poetry.

Musician Union 'Advice' Helps Get U.S. Musicians Off Eng. TV

LONDON — Acting on the advice of the Musicians Union, the Department of Employment and Productivity, has imposed a ban on American musicians appearing on British television during visits to this country. First victims of the new restriction were The Ohio Express, who arrived June 12 for a three-week tour and were due to appear in BBC TV's "Top of the Pops" the same evening. Their agent, Geoffrey Franklyn, said "The group feels they have been victimized over something they had nothing to do with. They were not told about the TV ban until they arrived in Britain but they will continue their tour." Hitherto, the Musicians Union and their transatlantic counterparts, the American Federation of Musicians, have permitted visiting groups to make two television appearances. Now the Musicians Union has advised the Department of Employment and Productivity to prevent any British TV dates by American musicians until the Musicians Union reaches an agreement with the A.F.M.

Quality Extends Vaughn Campaign

TORONTO — Quality's national merchandising manager albums division, Ed Lawson, has just completed a successful campaign that resulted in many sales being chalked up for Billy Vaughn product. The campaign received such national acceptance it was necessary to extend the promotion for an extra two weeks. Window streamers, in-store displays and the use of Vaughn product as store samplers created the necessary interest for success. The most popular Vaughn items were "Windmills Of Your Mind" and "Look What I Found In The Attic."

Lawson is now in the midst of a similar campaign to boost the sales of all catalogue product by Lawrence Welk.

CHUM's Wood Sets Maple Leaf Net

TORONTO — J. Robert Wood, program co-ordinator at CHUM revealed to a meeting of record execs (11) the setting up of a network of Canadian radio stations, from coast to coast, a progressive action that would "build a Canadian record industry."

The Saturday prior to this meeting (7) Wood had met with Frank Gould of CFOX Montreal and Mike Rutledge of CHUM and later talked with Roy Hennessy of CKLG Vancouver which resulted in the laying of the foundation for this Maple Leaf Network. Besides the three stations mentioned other members are: CHED Edmonton, Don Hamilton & Keith James; CKXL Calgary, Bob Robertson; CJME Regina, Johnny Onn; CKOM Saskatoon, George Johns; CHLO London, Paul Ski; CKOC Hamilton, CKPT Peterboro, Ken Cassavoy; CFRA Ottawa, Eldon Dean & Al Pascal; and CJCH Halifax, Bill Ozard & Danny Roman.

Listing Review

The 12 member stations will be supplied each week with an agenda listing Canadian records to be reviewed. Selections will be listed according to preference on a points basis, to be transmitted to each of the member stations through a weekly conference call. Three selections will be chosen to be played by all participating stations and given a minimum of two weeks exposure to determine its hit potential. Should listener reaction be favorable the record will be charted. The Canadian selections, which could receive up to 8 plays per day, will not receive any fanfare but will be integrated with their playlist. The selections will also appear on charts and surveys distributed to the public by member stations.

The Toronto meeting was called to impress Canadian record execs with the importance of this operation and to stress more rigid control over the distribution of new releases to member radio stations. It was also revealed that highlights of each conference call and summary of the records reviewed will be reported in a weekly newsletter by J. Robert Wood (Chairman) and sent to record companies, participating stations and the trades.

Although there will be no recruiting campaign it's expected the Maple Leaf Network will grow but only one station in any market will be considered because of the exchange of confidential information and playlist which is anticipated between member stations.

Most of those in attendance agreed that this new network could be the break the Canadian recording industry was looking for. As well as the personalized service of Canadian re-

Al Bano's 'Pensando A Te' Is '69 Winner Of Italy's 'Summer Disk'

ST. VINCENT — "Pensando a Te" as performed by Al Bano is 1969's "Summer Disk" in Italy. Winning entry comes after two months of competition wherein 56 records hoped to become one of the 12 songs to enter the final three nights of the contest at St. Vincent.

The contest, inviting the public to select the winners, is regarded as one of the major stimuli to summer sales in Italy, which are traditionally strong. The Bano disking of the winning is already Italy's best-selling record.

Organized by the Italian Phonograph Association (AFI-APDI) in cooperation with the state radio-TV company (RAI), steady radio coverage of the entrants since April helps sell a lot of the competing disks. Also, the contest applies only to original Italian productions, pushing local talent to release first-rate sounds.

The three nightly finals were held in the Casino de la Vallee's hall with small audience of 400 people and 20,000,000 TV watchers reached through the cameras of RAI.

MC's at the finals were Pippo Baudo

Sam The Man Opens 1st New Franchise Store

TORONTO — Sam Sniderman, of Sam The Record Man, regarded as Canada's top record retailer, moved one step closer to establishing the neighborhood record dealer. Friday June 13 saw the first of Sam's new franchise stores open to the public in the Golden Mile Plaza of Scarborough, a thriving suburb of Toronto.

Sam's master touch in sales promotion was evident at the new store's opening. LP's were offered at a penny apiece. Many other in-store activities kept the security control almost out of control.

Prices in the new stores will not be the same as in the main store. Prices will, as much as possible, accommodate the taste and trends of the area it is situated in. All orders will come through the central location by means of telecommunications.

Sniderman hopes to get several other locations underway shortly and his long range plans include a network of Sam's stores from coast to coast. His son Robert, who recently joined Sam in the business, is looking after the new franchise venture.

Toronto's Pop Fest Stars Top Talent

TORONTO — The first pop festival for Toronto (21-22) has created much interest throughout the area. Many of the groups appearing have good Canadian representation. Regarded as the top draw on the bill, Blood Sweat and Tears, has Torontonian David Clayton Thomas up front and currently hitting with their Columbia LP and single "Spinning Wheel". RCA's Steppenwolf, also happening on the charts has a sizeable Canadian representation within their ranks.

Late news from Jack Lazure of Gamma Records has his top artist Robert Charlebois attending. Charlebois, regarded as the biggest French/Canadian happening in many years has had much luck with his self penning of "Lindbergh" and is currently climbing the charts with another original "Coeur en chomage".

From the Polydor roster comes its current big seller, Elyse Weinberg, now moving towards the Canadian charts with her lid of "Deed I Do". Miss Weinberg's LP has also become a national seller.

Capitol's Band, a Canadian group who once backed Bob Dylan, has also been signed for the Festival.

Warner Bros/7 Arts is represented by Kensington Market, a Toronto group who have had much success throughout the U. S. and are seeing good action on their LP "Aardvaark".

Many of the record companies showcasing artists at the pop festival have arranged for hospitality rooms in the Sutton Place Hotel where they will entertain radio and press and allow their artists the opportunity of important interviews.

Other top names included on the bill include Tiny Tim, Al Kooper, Johnny Winter, Carla Thomas, Procol Harum, Chuck Berry, Eric Andersen, Dr. John, Rotary Connection, Modern Rock Quartet, Sly and The Family Stone and many others.

Advance ticket sales have been reported as brisk. Should this first festival be a success it is expected the event will become annual.

Australia

The first really big promotion by the (C.M.G.A.) Country Music Guild of Australasia was held recently at the Regal Theatre in Liverpool, suburban Sydney. The Guild has been in operation for only a short eight months since the whole idea of the association was first conceived by a group of country music enthusiasts who elected Jack Argent, head of the Leeds Music group, as the Guild Chairman.

The big night at Liverpool, before a capacity audience, was kicked-off with the screening of the American film "Country Music On Broadway." The other half of the show featured some of Australia's top country music acts on stage.

Local pop idol, and EMI recording star Johnny Farnham is suing his manager Darryl Sambell. In a Supreme Court writ issued in Melbourne Farnham claims that he believes something like (Aust) $30,000 is due to him. The writ says that Farnham engaged Sambell as his manager on August 1st, 1967 for a fee of 20% of all his (Farnham's) earnings. The writ calls for Sambell to produce books and all records of money received on behalf of Farnham. The writ also seeks damages. Due to the fact that Farnham is still only 20 years old, this legal action has been instituted on his behalf by his father. Johnny Farnham rose to enormous heights of popularity throughout Australia with his giant hit "Sadie, The Cleaning Lady" which is now the biggest-selling single ever in this country.

Dick Williams hosts the newly-launched national television pop series for ABC-TV here called "Hit Scene." It is national on a truly grand scale in that it is beamed over no less than 74 outlets which gives some great coverage to Australian acts. Dick can use overseas film clips in the show. Address them to him personally at G.P.O. Box 1686, Melbourne, Victoria, 3001. The ABC network here is operated by the Australian Broadcasting Commission on behalf of the Federal Government, and, as such, is completely non-commercial.

Local group the Flying Circus had a terrific run with their first single "Hayride" which has sold in excess of 20,000 copies for EMI. Their follow-up deck is "La, La," and initial reaction is very strong indeed with all kinds of air-play. Their "Hayride" deck is to be released in the United States by Cresendo.

The film, "The Thomas Crown Affair" is now running in Australia, and it might be just what is needed to get the song "Windmills Of Your Mind" going in these parts. Noel Harrison sings it on the soundtrack package which is in release here through Festival on the U/A label. Australian Record Company has the Harrison side on a single on Reprise.

E. H. Morris & Co. Ltd., through the Chappell office here, are now out with the sheet copy on "The Real Thing," the giant local smash for Russell Morris. Song was written by disc-jockey/singer Johnny Young.

Phonogram Records have announced the release in New Zealand of the strong local hit "Lady Scorpio" by the Strangers which is on the Philips label. The song was written by former Seeker member Bruce Woodley in collaboration with Hans Poulsen.

Festival Records have rush-released the album, "The Best Of Earl Grant" to coincide with Grant's recent visit to these shores. Earl Grant has been to Australia on many occasions now and each time he seems to win more and more friends with his dynamic in-person performances.

Publishers J. Albert & Son have whipped a broadcast restriction on the new deck for the Easybeats, "St. Louis," which was composed by group members George Young and Harry Vanda. A couple of stations here had received advance copies of "St. Louis" and were programming it before the restriction notice was published by APRA.

The new Sweet-Peach label is out with two new singles from their Adelaide (South Australia) studios. One features Cannery Row with "Listen To The Music"; the other carries Inkase with "Rene." Both discs were produced for the company by Kevin Roper. Sweet-Peach product is distributed nationally by the Phonogram group.

American star Eddie Fisher is to do a personal appearance season at the Chevron Hotel in Sydney commencing around the middle of July. To coincide with the visit, his latest single, "I'll Pick A Rose For My Rose," will be issued here through EMI on the Tamla/Motown banner.

The idea of launching a block of LP's in a single sales campaign, concentrating all the efforts of the diskery on it, has been widely accepted by the industry during the past months. RCA started it about a year ago with an idea like the "Record For The Summer" Italian campaign with very good results. Another campaign this year included even an album tagged "Welcome 69". Now, the latest addition to this policy is CBS with a mass outing of twenty LP's with highlights like a new LP by Sandro and another one by strong-selling folk artist Roberto Rimoldi Fraga. Sicamericana has started a sales campaign for the Reprise and Warner Bros-Seven Arts label naming June "The Month of Reprise And Warner Bros." and working on the whole catalog. RCA devoted this month to its tango catalog, as it has done during the past two years, with good sales results.

Mauricio Brenner of Fermata infos about a new showing of paintings related to the "14 With Tango" LP. This time they belong to the Uruguayan painter Jorge Paez Vilaro who has recreated in painting the themes of the fourteen tunes included in the album. The place is, once more, Buenos Aires and the works have been shown during the summer in Punta del Este, the plushiest Uruguayan summer resort.

Odeon's artist Atahualpa Yupanqui has returned from a several months tour of Europe during which he gave concerts in Paris, London and Madrid.

The diskery has released two LP's, one of them in the Coleccion Musical budget series and the other one at regular price. There are also new LP's by British chanter Engelbert Humperdinck, Tulio Enrique Leon, Alci Acosta, Nova Bossa Cuatro and singles by Yaco Monti, Coco Diaz, Ramona Galarza and Richard Anthony.

Phonogram is working on the promotion of the new single by chantress Julia Elena Davalos, "Disculpe," a tune that won one of the Uruguayan song festivals last summer. There are also several new Archiv LP's, and an LP cut by well-known folk guitar player Eduardo Falu, "Falu 69."

Aznavour Show On Radio Luxembourg

PARIS — Radio-Luxembourg will devote four hours each day for one week starting Monday, June 23 on a talk and music show starring Charles Aznavour. Radio Luxembourg which covers most of the Continent will set Azna-vous up in a studio with a bank of telephones where he will play music and answer questions from the listeners, which are expected to be received from all countries in the Radio-Luxembourg coverage area.

Aznavour will be on the air from 12 noon to 4:00 P.M. from Monday, June 23 through Friday, June 27.

The finalists have been picked and everything is set to roll for the big music event of the year in Germany, the German Pop Music Contest. The contest will be held in Wiesbaden on July 3rd and carried by German TV live and in color. The event has produced sales exceeding a million records for the finalist tunes almost every year that it has been held.

This year, it's going to be a very German contest as almost all of the contestants have no international popularity at all. The lineup includes Mary Roos, Jacob Sisters and Tonia for CBS, the Leismanns and Daniela for Ariola, France Gall and Paola for Teldec, Pat Simon for Metronome, Roberto Blanco for Vogue, Bonny St. Claire for Electrola, Bata Illic for Polydor and Gaby Berger for Hansa. However, this contest is not for the best singer but for the best song, and relatively unknown artists do help to keep a certain objectivity in choosing the best melody.

Electrola have changed their executive structure around. Dr. Ladislaus Veder will become a non-executive consulting director of the entire EMI concern. Wilfried Jung and Dr. Gerhard Hundertmark have moved up to executive managing director posts with Mr. Jung handling distribution, production, advertising and marketing and Dr. Hundertmark the business management and pressing.

Rolf Budde has "Back in the USSR" by Chubby Checker and "Come On And Get It" from Joe Simon on their push list.

The Bavaria studios will celebrate their 10th year with a Gala evening in Munich on October 31st. On hand for the event will be Conchita Bautista, Hildegard Knef, Esther & Abi Ofarim, Anneliese Rothenberger, Catherine Valente, Silvio Francesco, Horst Jankowski, Waldemar Kmentt, Hermann Prey, Sadi, Vico Torriani and Lester Wilson. The event will also be televised.

German Saga has officially changed their name to German Opp. Business manager and co-owner is Heinz Juergens.

Larry Yaskiel of Antenna promotions has offered Germany's journalists a bet. Larry bets a case of whiskey against a bottle of whiskey that "Oh Happy Day" from the Edwin Hawkins Singers will sell at least 150,000 records in this year. The way the record is moving, there won't be many takers.

Liberty writes that Sigfried Loch just returned from London where President Al Bennett held the European committee meetings. Sy Zucker, Vice President of Liberty/UA, Mel Fuhrman, director of Blue Note/Solid State, and Mike Lipton, Vice President for UA Records, stopped by at the Munich office.

EDITORIAL:

Where Are We Going; Where Have We Been?

After running along the same theme for a succession of editorials, operators may be wondering about our preoccupation with what we call the "leisure 70's"; why, like Paul Revere, we run around warning the trade to get ready for the leisure boom. Sure, everyone by now recognizes the fact that more leisure hours, with more money available to spend enjoying those leisure hours, will be given to the average American in the immediate years ahead, but just how do jukebox and games operators exploit the boom to make more money. Honest question.

Well, to answer it, let's look back over the years to see what the trade has accomplished up till now. For one thing, it's provided the proverbial "poor man's opera", the coin phonograph, to entertain Joe Citizen during his leisure hours. You sometimes wonder why they don't turn on the radio instead (and wouldn't they do just that if it weren't for the jukebox). Well, you can't select the tunes you want to hear (or the girl wants to hear) on the radio. That's why the jukebox has succeeded. The trade has also given the location customer the most convenient way of all to compete in sport with his friends, while still holding onto a beer with one hand. We've given him the pin-game, the shuffle alley, the coin table, the target rifle, the . . . well, we've given it.

Games and music boxes . . . there they are. Some of them belong to you. They make money. Up till now, we've done pretty good entertaining the folks. During the leisure decade we'll do even better, by sheer weight of numbers, if nothing else. But the question is, how much more could be made with the equipment and knowledge at hand to grab off a better share of that buck . . . grab off part of that leisure dollar that will be spent at the movies, on the beach, for travel, vacationing, gardening, etc. etc.?

We like to offer answers to the questions we bring up, but just this once, let's leave the floor open to the experts — the operators. Just let's leave one thought in mind — there's an inflating dollar, a shorter work week coming, apparently endless prosperity and a brand new problem dawning on modern man — where does he go and what does he do to kill time. Well, what is the music and games trade going to do to answer that question? Think about it.

Take A Realistic African Safari Hunt On ChiCoin's New Target Rifle Gallery

ChiCoin SAFARI

CHICAGO — Chicago Coin's brand new "Safari" target rifle, released to the amusement trade this week, is a masterpiece of realism. Its sophisticated combination of black-lit jungle artwork, eerie animal sounds (via tape cartridge), bursting flashes of light when a target is hit and realistic recoil in the rifle itself provide the location customer about the closest approximation to an actual safari hunt as he could find, without going to Africa itself.

Herb Oettinger, director of marketing at ChiCoin, has expressed nothing but praise for the factory's engineers and production designers for the creation of the piece. "It brings rifle galleries up another notch," he said,

"and is bound to boost the operator's gun collections quite a few notches more."

The game, programmed for 10¢-25¢ play, offers a wide variety of bonus scoring features, including a special flashing moon target and an extra high score when four front targets and four moving targets are hit. The rifle game should be available for inspection at all ChiCoin distributors by this printing.

Grieve Succeeds Parker As Spaulding President

CHICOPEE, MASS. — Edwin L. Parker, seventh president of A.G. Spaulding & Bros. Inc., announced his retirement from that position effective June 30th. Parker will be succeeded as interim president by P.M. Grieve, president of Questor Corp., Ohio-based parent company. Spaulding itself acquired Fischer Manufacturing Co. late in December.

Parker said that he and Grieve had been working toward this top-management change for some time, but that both recognized the need to get certain important corporate matters settled before such a change could logically be made, such as the merger of Fischer.

Parker's services will continue to be available to both Spaulding and Questor under his consultant's contract with the company.

Parker states: "I expect to consult; to write and speak on the issues of our times, and to read a lot. It is likely I will fish a little, and my wife and I have some long-delayed traveling to catch up. We might even learn to play golf!"

DIME-N-LEAGUES is now looking forward to even a bigger season, with more and more operators realizing what promotion of their equipment can do to increase collections and profits, according to league's manager Joe Westerhaus, Jr.

"We are looking forward to a very successful and exciting Grand National Tournament. As far as we know, no one has ever had a tournament such as this type, and should be of great interest to all," he stated.

Lake Placid Olympic Arena Hosts NYS 8-Ball Meet

256 Compete In 1st Adirondack US Bill Tourney

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. — On the peaks of the Adirondack Mountains, vacation-land of America, the Northern New York Table Operator Group held their first U.S. Billiards sanctioned 8-Ball championship in the convention hall of Olympic Arena (where in 1932, Sonja Heine won the World Figure Skating competition).

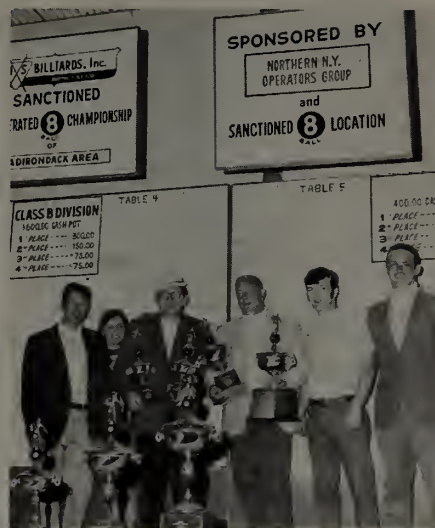

Two hundred and fifty-six 8-ball winners assembled to vie for $2,200 in cash prizes and trophies. Each had survived elimination matches the previous eight weeks at their respective locations.

The tournament playoffs were held Sat. June 14th and Sun. June 15th, with all operators, contestants and location owners very well pleased in the manner and style that the meet was conducted, under the leadership of Len Schneller, director of tournaments and sales manager of U.S. Billiards, Inc.

The playoffs were fought across eight tables; competition was again handicapped in the A, B, C and Womens divisions. Each 1st place champion received a green blazer with 8-Ball emblem designating him or her as a champion of the Adirondack Area.

Mayor Peacock of Lake Placid opened the ceremonies by presenting Schneller with a pin bearing the Lake Placid Emblem and welcomed all to the Adirondack tournament. Sunday evening, the Mayor honored the assemblage by making presentations of prizes and awards to the champions and their location owners.

Chairman and host operator for the meet was Jack LaHart of Upstate Vending. Representing the local U.S. Billiards distributor and one of the tournament organizers was Bob Catlan of Bilotta Enterprises' Albany branch office.

The hero of the Adirondack Area 8-Ball Tournament Knobby Knoblauch holds two trophies; location owner Mitchell of the Double M Restaurant holds another two. All locations Knobby operates captured runner-up trophies.

The playoffs received considerable publicity from the press and broadcast media, before, during and after the event. Schneller himself starred in a 15 minute interview on station WIRD when their representatives brought a remote unit right into the Convention Hall. The press made particular reference to the fact that 8-ball competition in the Lake Placid area (dependent almost exclusively on winter tourists) brought in a new and exciting reason for vacationers to visit the area during the summer. Schneller described the two-day event as a "new high... in every fashion."

Tournament winners and their prizes were:

A DIVISION — Larry Bickford took the grand prize of $500, champions jacket and trophie for his location, the Ganesvoort Hotel. Operator was Hank Knoblauch of H. Knoblauch & Sons.
B DIVISION — Winner was Tom Haley for $300, champion's jacket and trophie for the Little Tavern. Operator was Charlie Benedict of Valley Vending.

C DIVISION — Ed McGowan took top spot for $200, jacket and trophie for the Glens Falls' Double M Rest. Operator again was Hank Knoblauch.

WOMENS DIVISION — First place gal was Madeline Sellers for $150, jacket and trophie for Freddie's. Jack LaHart of Upstate Vending was the operator.

Other operators whose locations had runners-up in the event included Paul Brock of Paul Novelty and Duke Huntington of Huntington Novelty. Operator's wives who participated in the behind-the-scenes tournament work included Mrs. Tom Oddy of Upstate Vending, Mrs. Paul Brock of Paul Novelty, Rose Catlan of Bilotta Enterprises, Mrs. Charlie Benedict of Valley Vending and Reba Schneller, wife of the tournament manager.

Schneller gave special praise to Billy LaHart's efforts in keeping the event running smoothly, describing him as "my right hand man".

700 Celebrate Wedding of Johnny, Jr.

NEWARK, N.Y.—Over 700 (count them) 700 guests gathered together Sat. June 14th here in Newark to celebrate the marriage of John Bilotta, Jr. and Kathy Peters. The wedding took place in St. Michael's RC Church where a Nuptial Mass was celebrated before family and close friends of the bride and groom. The giant reception which followed in the Sodus Point Dolphin Club was reminiscent of the late Mike Todd's extravanganzas but certainly within the scope of the groom's father Johnny Bilotta (the Sol Hurok of the jukebox business).

In addition to family friends and other guests, a generous contingent of coin industry notables were on hand for the affair, including Wurlitzer Phonograph Div. chief Roy Waltemade, his sales manager Bob Bear and service executive Al Dietrich; Howard Reinhard, president of BRAD, Inc. and inventor of the famed cue stick tip; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Galenti of International Mutscope, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Lipsky of New York City's Lipsky Distributors, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Grillo of Flower City Distributing in Rochester and chain store operator Herb Weaver and his wife.

JAYBEE Records' Roberto Quinlan belts out 'Merry Go Round of Love' for the guests, accompanies by the Copa Trio.

BALLY SHIPS NEW 'GATOR' FOUR PLAYER

Chicago—"Triple free ball gates are the big features of Bally 'Gator,' said Paul Calamari, sales manager of Bally Manufacturing Corporation, Paul Calamari, announcing delivery this week of the new 4-player flipper-type game.

"International research," Calamari added, "convinced us that the biggest single play appeal factor in the flipper field is the opportunity to utilize skill to release free balls. So we decided to give the players the maximum number of gates that can be squeezed into a playfield. 'Gator' was natural for the name of a highly 'gaterized' game and if 'Bally 'Gator'' sounds like 'aligator'—well, 'Gator' snaps at every coin that comes in sight!

"Top and middle gates ring up a whopping 500 score, while returning the ball to the shooter tip, and the bottom gate yields the conventional 50 points, plus free ball. Top gate can be opened two ways—by crossing number 6 rollover or by hitting bumpers 4 and 5. Middle gate is opened when the ball rampages around the panel, kissing bumpers 1 through 5, while the bottom gate is as easy as 1, 2, 3 to open — those being the bumper numbers that unlock the gate.

"Of course, free ball scores are only part of the high score thrills built into 'Gator.' At the very top of the playfield are three rollovers each scoring 100 when lit; and all the way down the field the panel is studded with two dozen different score building targets, including the old favorite 'special when lit' rollover which delivers on replay, one added ball or 500 points, depending on style of play.

"Needless to say, 'Gator' includes the famous Flipper-Zipper, which holds the ball a busy, score-gobbling captive on the playfield. Available in standard or add-a-ball models, 'Gator' is top money-maker either way," Calamari added.

Entertainment was provided by the Copa Trio as well as by JAYBEE Records' artist Roberta Quinlan singing her current jukebox hit 'Merry Go Round of Love'. The food and drink was lavish (including 25 cases of New York State champagne) and the fun ran into the late hours.

The newlyweds immediately left for a two week honeymoon in Nassau, via a brief stay in Miami Beach.

The bridal party counted 18 in all, including flower girl and ring bearer, and of course, the bride and groom.

Johnny Bilotta, in the tux at center, poses with Newark friends who also happen to be sponsors of the town's popular Co-Pilots minor league baseball team.

Wurlitzer At F.A.B.

PENSACOLA, FLORIDA — When F.A.B. Distributing Company, Inc. of this city held its recent three-day service school, it had twenty men in attendance who represented top operators in the F.A.B. Florida territory.

The parent corporation, F.A.B. Distributing Company, Inc., is headquartered at 3721 Navy Boulevard. Fletcher A. Blalock, from whose initials the organization's name is derived, is its president. Michael J. Gonzales manages the operation.

The Blalock organization might well be termed a "family affair." Two sons, Fletcher E. Blalock and Albert Blalock, along with a son-in-law R. E. Potts, are associated in a subsidiary company called Blalock Music. A brother-in-law of Fletcher A. Blalock is associated with Blalock-Pensacola Amusements. He is LaRue Pittman.

Instruction for the service school was under the direction of two experienced Wurlitzer field service representatives, Harry D. Gregg and Robert Harding. The course outline consisted of: 1. Mechanical operation of the Wurlitzer American III phonograph chassis. 2. Electrical circuit. 3. Schematic reading. 4. Remote equipment. 5. Trouble shooting. 6. Review of all phases of the Wurlitzer Americana III Phonograph.

HOUSTON HAPPENINGS

Unusual activity at H. A. Franz & Co. as sales people and serviceman demonstrated Tobacco Counter. Seeburg's truly revolutionary new cigarette machine. The machine, available for immediate delivery, has outstanding improvements too numerous to mention here, including special location of money box . . . Cute little Jane Peeler, United Record Distributors, recently spent five days in Las Vegas, Nev. . . Well known Charlie Boothe now with Jamie Guyden Records . . . On June 10th young Ronnie Jamail, son of George Jamail, head of Central Sales, Inc. (Rowe AMI and wholesale records) became the proud owner of a brand new Suzuki X6 Hustler motorcycle. Had first look at new vehicle as Ronnie was leaving Central Sales Record Store with batch of records . . . Op. Frank Hoback, owner Homuco, pleased as are most all others, over extended curfew hours for city nite spots. New law should be effective by opening of Fall Season . . . Ben Wells, salesman for Gulf Coast Distributing Co. (Wurlitzer) mentioned that his record was holding up exceptionally well . . . When R. M. Stone, outstanding record retailer, opened his third store he became owner of three outlets in as many major shopping centers of the city. Stone said "Maidens Prayer" by Chubby Wise, latest release of Stone's Stoneway Label, appeared headed for the hit bracket.

Quite an impressive deal is the new entrance to Record Service Co. on Louisiana St. J. R. (Russ) Reeder is head of that major wholesaling one stop record concern . . . This season, as of the past several, H. W. Daily, Inc. (major one stop record service, record and music production) is sponsor of a team in Pee Wee baseball league. The Daily incorporation, with offices in two other large Texas cities, is headed by founder and president H. W. Daily and actively managed by sons Harold W. Jr. and Donald . . . Excellent business condition report from Port City Music and Dist. Co. This reputable, bona fide operating firm was established years ago by Bill Morrison, is now run by he and son Al. Al, who evidently does most of the heavy lifting, said their business actually was better than present conditions warranted . . . Semi-retired 81 year young A. F. (Al) Lemke came home from hospital several weeks ago. In critical condition at last report. No visitors and telephone calls discouraged . . . Thanks to L. C. Butler, president Gulf Coast Distributing, for a dandy sports wall calendar, and invitation to use firms choice box seats located directly behind Houston Astro dug out. Hope to accept his offer, maybe twice, during July while son-in-law is here from Venezuela on vacation.

Si Redd Cites Coinbiz Philosophy To Press

Attending the three-day service school were Arthur Stokes of Birmingham, Alabama; Clarence Thornton, LaRue Pittman, Nelson E. Britt and Perry E. Knowles of the Blalock-Pensacola Amusement organization; Clearoe Allen and C. H. Stumpe attended for SAC Enterprises of Warrington, Florida; Joe Gunn represented his own organization, Joe Gunn Music Company which is located in Tuskegee, Alabama.

William H. Craft attended for Blalock-Pensacola Amusements and Aubrey Irby for JET Amusement Company of Moss Point, Mississippi. C. D. Brasell of the Brasell Amusement Company came from Mobile, Alabama for the school; Sam Crockett represented the host distributor, the F.A.B. Distributing Co., Inc.

Representing Blalock Music of Pensacola were Harry M. Emery, Eugene P. Rhodes, Albert Blalock, R. E. Potts and Fletcher E. Blalock. Jerry Barnetto, John Britt and Leo Trader also attended the three-day Wurlitzer service school hosted by the F.A.B. Distributing Company, Inc. in Pensacola.

RENO — Si Redd, Manager of the Bally Distributing Co. here, recently was the subject of an elaborate feature article in the Nevada State Journal newspaper, which included the photo at left. Journal reporter Len Crocker really got to the teeth of what Si attempted to convey when he said "the key to success of coin-operated machines is fun. If people have fun, they'll play them and if they don't have fun, they won't play them."

Redd, whose principle concentration is on gaming equipment, was quoted as saying, "the day of the high roller gambler is gone. Now we're going to have to get the play from 98 per cent of the people we used to get from 2 per cent . . . we're going to have to take a play for fun approach."

With this philosophy, Redd was reported to have boomed the company's fruit machine sales in Northern Nevada to ten times the volume it had achieved in the previous two years.

"Gaming devices account for about 98 per cent of Bally's business in Nevada . . . but we have a steady eye on the other 2 per cent," Redd was quoted. "If we can give younger people a wholesome place to amuse themselves at coin-operated games, it'll free their parents to enjoy themselves more during their visit to Nevada. If they have fun, they'll come back," he said.

The article closed with a flashback into Si's extensive career in the coin business, from the depression days to his distributing business in Mass. to his current position in Reno.

EASTERN FLASHES

AROUND TOWN — Funtronics president Stan Rayboy, back from brief vacation, tells us shipments of Ping Pong games has arrived. Plenty of locations waiting on the piece, after phenomenal success of their Pitching Horseshoes piece game. Stan, meanwhile, had to put in some long hours on his Ray Mark music route, setting up some summer spots. Too much work, he says, but the business is real good . . . Guys on the street buzzing about tragic Paramount fire. We suppose they're wondering what it must feel like to have so much go up in flames. Al Miniaci, back from Florida after getting news of the fire, assessing the damage last week, info's the company records were saved as they were protected in the safe, but plenty of vendible supplies went up, especially the cigarettes. Real shame . . . Murray Kaye, sales topper at Atlantic New York, moving great number of Seeburg soda machines these days, notably the Choice-Vend can units. Good golfing weather recently, the Kaye says. All the Atlantic sales people are active golfers, as they ably demonstrate at the fall associations outing in the Catskills each year. . . Speaking of that outing, Ben Chicofsky's mailing is about to go out and he'd sincerely like to get his reservations in before time this year. Affair will be held again at the Homowack Lodge October 3, 4 and 5th. Work on the convention journal continues well, says Ben, who's hoping the record companies once again come thru as they should for the music operating trade.

ANOTHER BILOTTA EXTRAVAGANZA — Well, we've been to weddings then we've been to WEDDINGS! The knot-tying doings at Newark, N.Y. Last Saturday (June 14th) was about the most lavish fete ever staged in our memory. In the typical Bilotta style, big John sent his son John, Jr. and bride Kathy Peters off into wedded bliss to the tune of two bands, over 700 guests, food and drink that included New York State champagne (what else?) fried chicken and good Italian Macaroni. Plenty of trade notables made the trip up to Newark, N.Y. for the delightful affair, headed by Roy Waltemade and Bob Bear (& wives) from Wurlitzer, Larry and Missus Galenti of Mutoscope, the Abe Lipsky's from New York, Howard Reinhart from BRAD, Inc. of Detroit and Joe and Faye Grillo of Rochester. Entertainment highlight of the reception (held at the Dolphin Club in Sodus Point) was the one and only Roberta Quinlan singing her JAYBEE single 'Merry Go Round of Love' for the guests. Matter of fact, we all enjoyed singing along with Roberta out at the bar (didn't know Johnny had such a good voice!). Also got a big kick touring the Jackson Perkins Rose Gardens with guest Virginia Stanton who explained the in's and out's of cultivating the delicate flowers (Newark's the rose capital of the world, ya know!). Was a delightful day all round. See photos on news pages.

UPSTATE ITEMS — Tom Greco info's he'll once again be exhibiting the NSM Prestige 160 phonograph at this Wednesday's gathering of the New York State Operators Guild in Kingston's Governor Clinton Hotel. The following day will call for an operator service class on the NSM line at the Greco showrooms in Glasco, conducted by Cliff Stauffer of the Associated Coin Amusement co. in Oakland California . . . Len Schneller of U.S. Billiards comes back from Lake Placid with glowing reports on outcome of big Adirondack coin table operators 8-ball tournament. Operator Jack LaHart, one of the contest's prime movers, said enthusiasm was high and community response to the event was top drawer. Bilotta's Albany branch manager Bob Catlan (U.S. Billiards distributor) also acted as one of the tournament's organizers. See details and photos elsewhere. . . Galuppi Enterprises, Syracuse and Albany one-stoppers, have begun issuing a record programming sheet for their operator-customers, complete with pick hit predictions from the Pop to the Teen categories. Looks real good and first set of picks certainly appear to be the very best of the new releases . . . Our belated congrats to Carl Pavesi on his 20th election to the presidency of the Westchester Operators Guild; also to Lou Tartaglia and Seymour Pollak on their elections.

THE JERSEY BOUNCE — Rumors buzzing around about negotiations between a big public vending corporation and one of Jersey's larger music, games and cigarette routes . . . Bert and Hugh Betti feted their dad Humbert, Sr. to a testimonial dinner last Thursday at the Montammy Country Club in Alpine, Big attendance was expected at press time. . . There's plenty of exciting things awaiting the visitor to United Billiards. Art Daddis' fascinating new 'Bimbo 3-Ring Circus' piece is a pure delight. A coin-operated puppet theater which the kids manipulate by four button controls, 'Bimbo' also pipes out nursely rhyme tunes to accompany the puppet's dancing. Just great fun and should be a tremendous item wherever the kids congregate. Art says he's starting to ship now so watch for it. We also took a close look at United's new Tension Control Unit and found it based principally upon a basic pneumatic timing device, very clever, very effective. It simply permits about a 10 second margin of error to the player after he plunges in the coin mech — ten seconds which permit any balls still rolling down the runway to drop into the drawer. Sometimes players rush to start another game, often too quick for the last ball to arrive in the drawer and consequently loose it in the trap. The TCU cuts this out. A couple of other innovations are also on the drawing boards at United, slated for announcement in the next few months. . . Both of Rowe's promotion execs, Jim Newlander and Jim Dittman, off on the road part of last week. Understand new design feature on the MM-3 Music Miracle had them busy . . . Paul Kotler, National Shuffleboard Co. president, says his three plants, scattered about Northern Jersey, will be phased out shortly as they move all production and office equipment into giant new facilities in Green Brook. Plant is located on Route 22.

HERE AND THERE — Chatted with Ron Gold out at Cleveland Coin, one of the Williams distributors who received letter last week from Sam Stern, advising of his resignation and thanking them for their fine association with him . . . Sam Rubin, popular sporting goods salesman in the New York area, will be handling Fischer Mfg. home tables for the East Coast, from Maine down to Washington DC . . . Mickie Greenman of Associated Coin Equipment in Los Angeles called to tell us their service engineer Cliff Stauffer was on that TWA Boeing 707 that was skyjacked to Cuba last Tuesday. Cliff spent the night in Castro's Paradise, returning next day to Kennedy Airport in New York and finally up to Glasco, N.Y. and Greco's office, where he was headed in the first place. Mondial sales exec Dick Sarkisian on jury duty last week and this up in White Plains. However, being in "the pool", Dick managed to get a few hours off last Wed. and Thurs. to get down to the office and make some calls. . . Johnny Bilotta in Miami again last week on his Fun 'N Food project, leaving immediately after son John Jr's wedding. Young John and his bride Kathy, we heard later on, are honeymooning in Nassau . . . Big Rowe Music Miracle service school held at Runyon's Jersey showrooms drew exceptionally large attendance, according to Morris Rood.

CHICAGO CHATTER

The big news from Bally Mfg. Corp. this week is the official release of "Gator," firm's exciting new 4-player flipper type game! (See story). Shipments are currently in progress to Bally distributors across the country! . . . Certainly enjoyed seeing so many familiar faces from the coin machine industry at the recent Israel Bonds testimonial to Nate Feinstein. Needless to say, the entire affair was a huge success, due in no small measure to the efforts of chairman Sam Millman and co-chairmen Avron Gensburg and Sam Stern and, of course, Nate's wife, Eve, who was singled out several times during the evening for her numerous contributions! . . . Invitations are in the mail for the upcoming 2-day service school, on the NSM Prestige 160 and Consul 130, to be held in the Specialty Sales Corp. of America showrooms on June 27-28. Ronnie and Larry Kaghan expect a good turnout of operators and service personnel from the Illinois and Indiana areas.

As of last Monday, Chicago Dynamic Industries began shipping its new "Safari" gun. Stop by your local ChiCoin distributor for a looksee! Mort Seore tells us the factory is in full production, in anticipation of a very healthy sales run! . . . Speaking of new equipment, D. Gottlieb & Co. has just released "Target Pool." Results from test locations have been great, according to Alvin Gottlieb, indicating this'll be another big one for the firm! . . . Rock-Ola Mfg. Corp. execs on the move: Dr. Dave Rockola is on an extended European business trip; Ed Doris is on the Texas scene and Les Rieck is making a swing through the areas of Kansas, Nebraska and St. Louis. The Rock-Ola plant, by the way, will be closed for vacation commencing the evening of June 26 to re-open July 14.

Principals in the Iowa Illinois Operators Group Pool Tournament will have a meeting on Thursday (26), at the Bring 'Er Inn (Milan, Ill.) to map out further arrangements for the upcoming second 8-ball pool tournament scheduled to begin September 1. Tournament manager Bob Vihon and the committee of four, consisting of Howard Harkins, Orma Johnson Mohr, Pete Langbehn and John Cox, are handling all the details.

ICMOA has a meeting scheduled for next month in Springfield. More details later. The local MOA office is buzzin' with activity these days. After all, Expo is less than three months away and there's a lot of paperwork to be done. Suffice it to say, Fred Granger and Bonnie York are plenty busy! Those dates are September 5-6-7, Sherman House, Chicago! . . . Jack Mittel, vice president-sales at Williams Electronics Inc. will be departing for Europe around June 30 on an extended business trip. Jack's itinerary will include stops in Sweden, France, Switzerland, Germany and England. He'll return to the states July 12. Bon voyage!

Coinbiz photog Joe Gino was the envy of just about every male in town — since it was learned that he had the assignment of meeting the luscious Lainie Kazan at O'Hare airport last week! Lainie, by the way, is currently appearing in the Lake Geneva Playboy Club. . . Got the word from Joe Ceddia of Lormar that the following singles are scoring big with local operators: "Ruby Don't Take Your Love To Town" by Ken Rogers & the First Edition (Reprise), "Color Him Father" by The Winstons (Metro-media), "Near You" by Brad Swanson (Thunderbird), "I Love Your Love" by the Nashville Brass (RCA) and "Yesterday When I Was Young" by Roy Clark (Dot).

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

VOICE OF THE PEPPLER . . . We are speaking of course of Ron Pepple of Northwest Sales. Ron just recently returned from a tour of the Orient, covering such exotic places as Hong Kong, Manila and point east. DRIVE MASTER GETS THE CHECKERED FLAG AT PORTALE AUTOMATIC SALES . . . Spoke with Bob Portale the other day and he informed us that he is very pleased with the success that this piece of equipment has been able to attain. This simulated auto has been sensational in the arcade department. He said that a new rifle game is due in from Chicago Coin. Rock-Ola phonographs have continued to be a steady seller, as well as United Billiards new table with the even newer "quarter back" feature. It comes equipped with the "Silver Fox" tension control unit. STRUVE SELL-O-TON DRAWING TO A CLOSE SOON . . . Leo Simone says that this whole promotion will culminate when everyone (or just about) gets together on August 23rd for their big party which will be held at the International Hotel (Natch). Hear that a carload of U. S. Billiards tables just arrived. These new tables are all metered so that they can check the amount of plays. Leo tells us that Kenny Kanemoto has been made head of the parts department. Working right along side of him will be Cliff Beninga.

CHARLIE ROBINSON JOINS JET SET (WELL-ALMOST) . . . Hear that Charlie Robinson flew in from Zurich to take care of some business but is flying right back to complete his European Tour. We are sure that all Charlie's friends throughout the country will be glad to know he is holding up admirably, under all the rigors that having a ball on a European vacation can bring. Plus he reports that he feels as great as people have said he looks. Oh well, some people just seem to adapt themselves well to having a wonderful time, and we know now that C. R. has joined that illustrious crew, as we sit here clacking away at our good old Remington. Speaking of crews, our favorite crewer of them all, none other than Sandy Bettelman, Al's youngest son, is off to Syracuse with the UCLA crew to compete in the annual regatta. We are sure that Leah and Al would just love to go back and help pull those oars! Unfortunately, with the pressure of a very busy month, it's just about impossible for them to get away at the moment.
