CELIA OF THE SEALS

DONOVAN

with DANNY THOMSON
(Concert Bass Fiddle)

The seals are one of the creatures of the earth in danger of extinction by our stupidity

Donovan

MADE IN U.S.A.

MANUFACTURED BY: EPIC RECORDS, CHEYENNE, WYOMING

"Celia of the Seals" isn't the pretty words or lyrical fantasies you'd expect from Donovan.

It's about greed and heartless killing. And his new Epic single is a plea to stop it all.

It's a statement that Donovan has never made before.

"Celia of the Seals" is a love song for two great ladies: Celia and Mother Nature.

Donovan. "Celia of the Seals."

"RCA will be manufacturing records far beyond the lifetime of anyone in this room." This was the comment of Irwin Tarr, planning V.P. of RCA Records speaking last week at the label's press unveiling of its new Dynaflex LP process (see separate story in this issue). Thus, the exec, who, by the way, spearheaded RCA's drive in the 8-track cartridge field, firmly set the record straight with regard to the LP: it's hear to stay. So is, we must say at this point, is the tape cartridge in one form or another.

But, the point we'd like to make is that the LP, the mainstay of the recording business for the past 20 years and still 75% of most manufacturer sales, has been, perhaps, taken for granted of late, especially in view of the growth of the tape cartridge area. Our intention here is not to pass on the merits of Dynaflex, but to reiterate the need for innovative thinking with regard to the LP itself. The LP, as good as it is, can stand improvement in greater sound excellence and the ability to withstand careless handling and worn styli. As RCA president Rocco Laginestra put it: "although RCA's most recent technological advances have featured Stereo-8 and Quad-8 cartridges, the engineering labs have not abandoned the disk for tape."

It's understandable for an industry to take for granted its longtime best-seller when its basic design has remained basically the same. Add, too, the emergence of the tape cartridge and the considerable and often successful attempts to improve the sound qualities of the tape cartridge, which still has some ways to go before it measures up to the standards of the LP. But, as label engineers work to fine-tune the cartridge, they must not neglect research-and-development on a best-seller that stands to be one "beyond the lifetime of anyone in this room."

The LP, which can boast its own set of conveniences in its friendly competition with the tape cartridge, is here to stay. The industry should see to it that it grows in technical excellence as befits pre-recorded music's best-seller.

FTC Seeks Rules On Phono Power

WASHINGTON — The Federal Trade Commission has proposed a trade regulation rule regarding the advertising of power output of sound power amplification equipment for home entertainment products.

The proposed rule provides that it would be an unfair method of competition and an unfair and deceptive act or practice to represent, expressly or by implication, any power output (in watts or otherwise), power band or power frequency response, or distortion capability or characteristic of sound power amplification equipment without disclosing:

- the manufacturer's rated minimum sine wave continuous RMS (effective) power output in watts per

FRONT COVER:

Curtis Mayfield first appeared on record in 1958, singing background harmony on Jerry Butler's "For Your Precious Love." He became lead singer of The Impressions in 1960 and led that group through ten years of singles and albums that were hits and messages at the same time. His compositions and performances have presented black pride, brotherhood and common sense: "This Is My Country," "Choice Of Colors," "Mighty Mighty," "Keep On Pushin," "We're A Winner," "Amen," "People Get Ready" and many others. Late last year Mayfield went solo and his first album, "Curtis," has hit the album charts and has spun off a hit single from the LP, "Don't Worry (If There's Hell Below We're All Going To Go)." Mayfield is currently on a national personal appearance tour prior to a European jaunt. Together with Eddie Thomas, Mayfield owns and operates the Curtom, Thomas and Mayfield labels, all distributed, marketed by Buddah Records.

MIDEM '71: Another Fest Of Deal Making

CANNES, FRANCE—Thousands of people from the world's music capitals wandering in and out of the Convention Hall—the Palais des Festivals—shaking hands, stepping into offices, negotiating deals for licenses, masters, songs, etc. That was the looks of MIDEM '71.

Bernard Chevy, convention coordinator, obviously has everything down to a science. Because things moved more smoothly than ever in the early rush this year.

Convention booths and their adjoining offices filled four floors this year. There wasn't a vacant booth in sight. Companies getting maximum benefit out of the convention were, of course, the smaller and newer operations, since most of the larger companies were already affiliated with global representation. But, the younger firms and the more modest ones were in constant state of flux in setting up rep deals.

Of course, some of the larger companies used the opportunity of MIDEM to examine the possibility of changing their licensees as their contracts expire in certain territories.

A gala cocktail party in "La Casino" started the festivities opening night. At this writing, the first gala featured Elton John, Eric Burdon, Richie Havens, Aguaviva, Robert Charlebois, Julien Clerc, Gougousi, Buffy St. Marie, Cat Stevens and the Franc Pourcel Orchestra. A midnight cocktail party was also on the agenda for Monday (18) night's activities. A complete report on MIDEM '71 will appear in next week's issue of Cash Box.

RCA: Dynaflex(ing) Its LP Muscle

Better Traction, Less Noise Claimed

NEW YORK—Those thin albums that have been appearing in recent months are not the result of economical skimping, at least in the case of 12 million albums from RCA and several labels serviced with custom pressings by the company. That figure was released by RCA as part of a year's testing for the Dynaflex pressing technique unveiled by RCA last week.

Disclosure that the label's thin LP's were in fact a means of providing better record traction and eliminating several causes of surface noise and wear was bolstered by the company's statement that since the first issue of Dynaflex disks, its complaint mail had been significantly reduced. In fact, only one-in-nine letters could be attributed to Dynaflex pressed disks, and the "surface noise" gripes were reduced by some 85%.

"The Dynaflex record," according to RCA president Rocco Laginestra, "has proved so superior in a year of initial testing that the bulk of the company's output of new LP's will employ the process."

As described by Irwin Tarr, planning division vp, "the slim Dynaflex records are just a continuation in the advancement of thinner, more flexible and lighter disks. We have gone from a 440 gram vulcanized rubber version in the first flat disk recordings to the 200 gram shellac 10" disk, to vinyl LP's of 187 grams and the 135 gram conventional album. Dynaflex weighs only about 91 grams slightly lighter than several other thin disks now being used at other labels."

Technical Advantages

The weight reduction in Dynaflex is matched by a shrinking of the record thickness from 50/1000 of an inch in conventional LP's to 30/1000. This gives the disk greater flexibility to afford better traction and avoid warpage.

According to Rex Isom, RCA chief engineer and head of the team that developed Dynaflex, the thin disk is four times more flexible than conventional albums and because its elastic limit is greater, it returns to original flatness even when "abusively bent or poorly stored."

The flexibility also allows Dynaflex disks to adhere better to the turntable or other disks virtually doing away with slippage in playing.

"The thinner profile," he continued, "allows more uniform molding during the pressing process making for a more homogenous disk to eliminate much surface noise; and the thinness also aids in elimination of gas in the plastic ridding disks of blisters that cause pops or skipping in replay."

In addition, the thinner disk used with standard grooveguard raised edges provides a 2° flatter angle of entry for the stylus, cutting down the violence to both stylus and groove from the conventional record.

Tarr commented that the lightness does give record companies a small cost-saving factor since the weight reduces shipping and postage costs, but more important, the mass being 1/3 less enables RCA to employ highest quality compounds whose cost would have been prohibitive in conventional weights. "Thus, Dynaflex is giving the consumer a better record without increasing the selling price."

RCA is now making available literature to familiarize consumers with the advantages of Dynaflex and the name logo which is included on future record jackets.

Boulding To Industry: Reach Black Buyer Outside Ghetto

NEW YORK — Reaching the black record buyer outside the ghetto and recent increase in the wholesale prices of recordings got the spotlight at last week's meet here of the Association of Record Dealers.

Jerry Boulding of radio station WWRL delivered a "take the blindfold off" address in which he accused the industry of failing to rack black records outside of black areas, on the assumption that "... all black people live in Harlem and shop only in the mama and papa stores ...". "... why does a black record have to be top 30 in the national charts or be forced by a WWRL on WABC before it gets racked?" he stated. He added, "Why would a white promotion man bring a black record to black radio station and ask them to play it and not follow through to make certain there are records in the stores to back up that airplay?" "Do you think (the black listener) wants that record so bad that he's going to go to Harlem to buy it?" (According to a Stax Records survey, 50% of traffic in key department stores are black).

Response To Boulding

Stan Kaiser, from Stans Record Shop (Bronx), raised objections over what he felt were inadequate survey reports. Boulding, proceeded to explain the WWRL method of chart movement. Kaiser asked that a committee be set up to meet with WWRL and establish a closer rapport between stores and the station. Mickey Gensler, ARD president, added that this committee should periodically meet with all of the radio stations in New York. A vote was taken and passed & a committee is now being formed. In commenting on Boulding's terms "take off the blindfolds," Neil Bogart called upon New York stores to take the first step by eliminating categories in record stores (e.g. Melanie should not be under female folk artist and Curtis Mayfield under male R & B artist). Perhaps people will start to consider music as music without the color boundaries was the thought behind this. The suggestion was met with an enthusiastic response.

Price Debate

A heated debate took place over the question of will the stores prefer the increase from .05 cents to .07 cents on album product as instituted

Iannucci Exits Capitol Records; Gortikov To Helm

HOLLYWOOD — Sal Iannucci's 17-month post as president of Capitol Records ended suddenly early last week with announcement by Stanley Gortikov, president of Capitol Industries, of Iannucci's "end of tenure" at the company, effective immediately.

Gortikov, who also serves as chairman of the board of the label, will also operate Capitol as president. The announcement was believed to have followed a recent board meeting where it was decided to end Iannucci's association with the label. Gortikov cited "... policy difference between us" as the root of the development.

The overall financial picture at Capitol Industries has not been good of late. In the first fiscal quarter, ended Sept. 30, the company showed a net loss of $809,000 compared to a profit of $1.3 million in the same period a year before. For fiscal 1970, ended last June, profits came to $8.7 million, compared to $6.6 million a year before.

As for Capitol Records, the company is understood to have had a serious LP return problem. It has also invested heavily in new acts that received debuts in LP form.

Before joining Capitol, Iannucci served as vp of National General Corp., having been involved in the formation of its music division. Before this, he was in the business affairs department of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Gortikov indicated "there will be no interruption in the continuity of company operations and plans, since other executives are continuing in their present capacities."

Usher Leaves RCA

HOLLYWOOD — Gary Usher, under a "mutual agreement," has resigned his post as rock music division vp for RCA Records, headquartered at the label's Sunset Blvd. address. He has produced two RIAA certified gold albums and two gold singles in his years in A&R, including a Brian Wilson composition, "Little Honda" (Hondells on Mercury) and "The Byrds Greatest Hits" lp on Columbia.

NICE GUYS DON'T FINISH LAST. THEY JUST FINISH

TOP THIRTY.

For twelve years Curtis Mayfield has been regularly solving the problem that plagues every concerned person in the music business (and a lot of people outside of it) -- how do you combine hits with true, positive artistry, something that makes people's heads feel good as well as pays the bills?

In the midst of all the hate, pseudo-intellectual jive, copping out and pawn-pushing, Curtis has had a sane message and workable solution to the problems that are putting the knife in this country.

It's love, combined with common sense.

But some people have a hard time catching on. We're getting a lot of radio resistance to Curtis' first solo single, one of his most important and positive artistic statements.

It's also a hit.

"Don't Worry (If There's Hell Below We're All Going To Go)" scares some people. But that's because they haven't gotten into the lyrics. What Curtis is saying is that there's nobody so holy or righteous that he's without sin or can't be wrong. Curtis wants these people to stop working against each other and work together. Otherwise we'll all go down the drain. He says we're tired of hearing "Don't worry" when there's plenty to worry about.

Anybody out there think that isn't true?

This isn't the first time Curtis has gotten radio resistance to his music and his message. He got it on "Choice Of Colors", "Amen", "Keep On Pushin'", "It's All Right", "This Is My Country", "People Get Ready", "Gypsy Woman", "Fool For You", "I'm So Proud" and "Check Out Your Mind".

We're tired of seeing nice guys finish top thirty.

When they have every right to be number one.

Bernie Block and Stan Drayson, who formerly headed the operation, have left the distributorship and are expected to announce a new distributorship.

Prior to their departure, Block and Drayson, along with two other employees, sold their stock in Dome to the GRT Corp. making the New York distributorship a wholly-owned subsidiary of the GRT Record Group, a division of the GRT Corporation. Levy commented, "The total acquisition of Dome Distributing strengthens the overall position of the GRT Record Group and greatly enhances our growth potential in the industry. We will now be bringing to Dome a far more substantial operating base and more efficient and modern systems and procedures. This will be of immeasurable benefit to the record and tape lines we distribute."

Calling the move "both an opportunity and a challenge," Hoffman stated that "The New York market is in need of a vital and aggressive distributorship. Dome has always been known for its strong promotional campaigns and we will continue and enhance them with the most up-to-date marketing and merchandising programs. We will shortly announce new labels that are joining us and are now seeking still more lines to represent."

AF Opens Drive On 'Goggles' LP

NEW YORK — Audio Fidelity Records has kicked off a major promo campaign for its album of "The Goggles," a new group starring in the NBC-TV special, "Looking Through Super Plastic Elastic Goggles" (to be shown on NBC-TV this Sat. (30) at 12 noon EST). There's a special press kit mailing to key music dealers, reviewers, newspapers and magazines throughout the country. The kit, consisting of background material about the show, biographies of the group, cardboard goggles, the cover of the Big Three 45-page folio of the Goggles' music, and other descriptive material, is contained in an album folder-container which represents a pair of goggles when opened and is a self-contained display.

MCA 'Sound Conspiracy' LP Previews Upcoming Product

NEW YORK — MCA Records has just completed a series of meetings with all its branches and distributors to introduce the "MCA Sound Conspiracy."

Mike Maitland, president of MCA Records, Jack Loetz, exec vice president, Tony Martell, vice president marketing and creative services, and Marvin Paris, director of sales for MCA Records, were among those leading four teams out in the field in the past couple of weeks, introducing new MCA Records product directly to independent distributors, district managers, branch managers, promo managers, salesmen, and radio stations.

Martell stated, "The year 1970 ended with a tremendous momentum for MCA Records. This, of course, was generated by some truly outstanding product on the Decca, Kapp and Uni labels. Presently this momentum has already surpassed itself and we hope to enhance it more so with a three months' coordinated sales, marketing and advertising promotion — the "MCA Sound Conspiracy." We are offering our entire organization a viable method to promote and merchandise new and current acts scheduled for January, February and March release dates, in addition to the release of acts already established.

Single Price LP

As part of the three-month 'MCA Sound Conspiracy' program, the company is releasing a 12-inch "Sound Conspiracy" LP that features selected cuts from 11 new acts recently signed by Decca, Kapp and Uni. This, in effect, is a preview album of acts that will be released during the three months' promotion. The album is attractively packaged, complete with short biographical sketches and album cover pictures of each of the new acts represented. This preview album carries the same suggested list price as a single record and offers all levels of distribution the same mark-up as a single record. "We feel that if there is any activity at all to be generated by an album of this type, we want it available at the dealer level and not in any other fashion," Martell said.

In effect, Martell added, the album itself is eleven singles, priced as one single.

"The Sound Conspiracy' preview album will be a limited edition," he continued. "We have made a quantity of these LP's available to the top 150 college stations in the country. They

McCartney Suit Hearing Questions Beatles' Finances

LONDON — Are the Beatles rich enough to meet their tax liabilities? This is the question posed as a result of a hearing here last week to determine whether the High Court will grant permission to dissolve Paul McCartney's partnership with John Lennon, George Harrison and Ringo Starr, and appoint a temporary receiver of the partnership business. McCartney also wants information about the finances of the team.

McCartney's lawyer, David Hirst, claimed that financial affairs of the group are in "an appalling state" and "there probably is not enough in the kitty to meet" tax liabilities.

The hearing was adjourned after counsel for the other three Beatles, named as defendants in McCartney's action, agreed to deposit money due the partnership into an account jointly held by lawyers for the two sides pending a full hearing in about a month.

McCartney's reasons for ending the partnership, Hirst said, were that the Beatles do not perform together, that he had never been given audited accounts in the four years since their partnership was formed and that he objected to Allen Klein, president of ABKCO Industries, as exclusive business manager.

Klein Answers

Klein made the following statement in London last week in reply to McCartney's counsel's charges:

"Paul McCartney's Application in the Chancery Court today before Mr. Justice Stamp was ex-parte (without hearing the other side) and therefore without any opportunity of reply by any of the people named in the allegations.

"It should be pointed out that neither ABKCO Industries, Inc., nor myself are parties to the action.

"While it would be inappropriate to comment, item by item, on the statements made in court, I wish to categorically deny that the Beatles' finances are in 'an appalling state,' and I wish to make it clear that the partnership is solvent and has more than sufficient net current assets to meet all income tax and surtax liabilities on this income to the four individual partners; Apple Corps, Ltd. is solvent and has more than enough cash to meet all its tax and other liabilities and Messrs. Lennon, Harrison and Starkey have more than sufficient personal assets to meet their own personal tax liabilities.

"At the hearing, the true state of their affairs — financial and otherwise — will be made abundantly clear."

5 New Albums From Roulette

NEW YORK — Five new albums will spearhead a late Jan. release from Roulette Records.

These include new packages from Don Cooper and Don Crawford, both of whom have had prior albums with Roulette and, says the label, are enjoying consistent sales, particularly from college bookstore and campus outlets where they have frequently appeared in concert. Cooper toured last season with Blood, Sweat & Tears, appearing at numerous collegiate functions and accompanied BS&T to Europe.

A new contemporary rock group from the New York area known as Dust Bowl Clementine offers a debut album and the release also includes two specialty packages: Brand X, a collection of bawdy songs performed by Oscar Brand is being shipped with its cover warning against airplay or exposure to minor children because of the risqué content; an album of readings by WNEW-TV deejay Roscoe is geared toward exposure on contemporary media and selective marketing to boutiques, souvenir "head" shops and similar outlets.

Three Degrees LP
Roulette Records has also initiated a company-wide campaign in behalf of The Three Degrees album, "Maybe" based on activity surrounding their current chart single, "You're The One" which is among the album's selections.

The LP was originally titled for the group's hit single "Maybe" and, with the breakout of a second single, has reaped large reorders from numerous areas throughout the country.

Sales and marketing vice president Sonny Kirshen stated that pressure sensitive stickers denoting inclusion of "You're The One" in the album have been shipped to all distributors for attachment to stock and efforts are being made to affix the stickers to existing stock at racks and retail outlets. Image posters of The Three Degrees have been designed and are in production for immediate shipment as well.

Further enhancing the album, noted Kirshen, is the great amount of attention focusing on still another selection from the album which, coincidentally is the flip side of "You're The One." Their current hit is coupled with what is believed to be the first new vocal rendition of "Stardust" in well over five years and is capturing one stop activity in response to juke box demand.

Advertising Could Boost Self And Tele-Cassettes In Future

NEW YORK — Forecasting a time when the market has stabilized "after the splintering effects of CATV and the visual cassette," Manning Rubin noted, "it will be the far thinking advertiser with a full measure of home programming who will reap the rewards."

The senior vice president and creative director of Grey Advertising, reached this conclusion last week in a talk to members of the Video-tape Production Association.

Pointing to the advantages afforded by through-television cassettes, he noted that the cartridge has distinct uses for the advertising community since it is able to reach small collections of people with similar interests. Pharmaceutical commercials could be programmed into cartridges either for use in hospitals as patient programming or on educational material for doctor training; hardware-store

NTD Into Ed Cassette

NEW YORK — National Tape Distributors has signed an exclusive distributing/marketing agreement with Imperial International Learning Corp., to distribute a line of educational cassette tapes in the U.S.

Distribution will begin next month in music stores, toy departments, supermarkets, book stores, electronic outlets and specialty locations.

The initial release will be 15 programs in Imperial's "Grademaker" cassette series for children between 4 and 11 years old. Each Grademaker package includes a 40 to 60-minute tape and a fully illustrated activity book.

National Tape becomes the first tape and record rack merchandiser to distribute a line of educational tapes in all its music outlets and specialty stores.

"As we look into the future, other mass merchandisers will certainly follow our lead and establish complete educational departments," said James Tiedjens, NTD president.

Imperial utilizes educators to write scripts for its educational tapes, and has produced more than 725 programs on cassette and reel tapes.

"In the long-range future, we can certainly visualize both audio and video being a major part of the educational scene and, therefore, a driving force in the setting up of complete educational departments in retail stores," Tiedjens added.

Motorola & Dolphin Deal On EVR Filming

NEW YORK — Side by side articles on a Dolphin Productions film and the Motorola search for software to incorporate in EVR tele-cassettes have led to a deal between the firms. Allan Stanley of Dolphin last week announced the sale of EVR rights to "The Bermuda Race" to Motorola which is currently considering a second boating film from the unit.

Dolphin, a division of Computer Image Corp., is also working on a series combining computer animation and live action as well as other films for the home video cassette market. The tele-productions are Dolphin's latest development, earlier works centering on commercials, industrial and educational films.

Superbowl Show To Cartrivision

MIAMI — The climax game of this year's Professional football season, last weekend's "Superbowl" between the Dallas Cowboys and Baltimore Colts will be shown in highlights on a Cartrivision cassette for the '71 debut of the system. The contest was filmed for audio/cassette release by Avco's division through an agreement made last Oct. with NFL Films.

distributed "how-to" cassettes are a natural for manufacturers of power tools or materials used on a specific program; in-hotel entertainment programming would be especially suited to advertising by merchants in the area; etc.

The gains, however, would bring a new responsibility and elevation from advertisers, since viewers turning to this medium as an escape from the commercial interruption would force advertising to come up with inventive spots to make the viewer want to watch rather than "fast-forward" past the ads.

With the employment of advertising, the advantages to the advertiser would also be passed on to the filmmaker, he said, since financing of projects for telecassette would in large be taken care of from this added source of revenue.

Electro-Voice Shows 4-Channel Decoder Encoder Available For Professional Radio Application

NEW YORK — Electro-Voice has held its first New York showing of two products aimed at the four-channel music market. Debuted the Friday before last (15) here, the Electro-Voice products include a four-channel encoding unit to enable radio FM stations to broadcast complex-stereo programmings from four-channel material and a consumer decoding device to untangle the transmission into four separate sound channels from their home FM tuners.

The decoder is also capable of turning stereo recordings, tape or disk, into four-channel material.

As shown, the decoder is able to distinguish original phasing of the studio four, eight or sixteen tracks mixed down to two-channels in making a stereo recording. It thus manages to feed separate information from two-channel input for individual information in each of four channels during playback. The sound then achieved is not the result only of two front channels with ambience provided at the rear; nor is it a separation based on different frequency capabilities in front and rear. All channels have full frequency ranges.

The decoder is being marketed in

Shell Oil Offers Two Films In EVR

NEW YORK — Two titles from Shell Oil's educational film library will be offered to schools and universities in EVR format in 1971. According to Harry E. Smith, vice president of marketing with CBS electronic video recording division, the 16mm color titles are "The River Must Live" (21 min.) and "The Fossil Story" (19 min.). The first is a photographic essay on causes, effects, and solutions to pollution of waterways. The second film tells the story of earth-locked remains of huge creatures and tiny organisms that serve as clues to places where oil might be found.

The two films will be made available on free loan and for purchase by schools and adult groups. Shell presently makes close to 100,000 individual deliveries a year to meet requests for its films. Subjects range from aviation to food, and from health to the sciences. The firm's present inventory comprises some 12,000 prints.

1971 Consumer Electronics Show Sells Out Record Exhibit Space

CHICAGO — A record 220,000 square feet of exhibit space has been leased to manufacturers to introduce their new consumer electronics lines at the fifth annual Consumer Electronics Show in McCormick Place, June 27-30.

The 1971 CES represents a milestone in a number of areas, according to Jack Wayman, staff vice president at the Electronic Industries Association's consumer electronics group, sponsor of the event. The first time this trade show has been held outside of New York City, it will have the largest number of exhibitors ever assembled in the United States to introduce new lines of consumer electronic products; It will occupy more space than any such show ever has in the past, all on one floor. "A record attendance of upwards of 35,000 is expected," he added.

In announcing at the January show committee meeting that all exhibit space is "sold out" and all available space assigned to exhibitors, Wayman noted there is a waiting list of manufacturers who would like to be in the show, which is attended by retailers, distributors, sales representatives, manufacturers, importers, and allied industry guests.

The 220,000-plus square feet of net space to be used by exhibitors is 50 per cent more than manufacturers utilized during the 1970 CES in New York.

"During the four-day event, more than 250 exhibitors will occupy spaces ranging from 200 to 7,500 square feet on the upper level at the new McCormick Place. Adding to the newness of the show will be the fact that manufacturers will be able to utilize the 50-foot height of the exhibition floor, for multi-level displays," Wayman said.

The CES will be the first exhibition of consumer electronics products to occupy McCormick Place after it is totally completed.

Complementing the Consumer Electronics Show will be the simultaneous exhibition of music products, sponsored by the National Association of Music Merchants. The "Music Show" will be held on the lower level during the same week.

C. J. (Red) Gentry, director of sales and marketing for the division stated, "these newly created positions are part of our program to strengthen our auto sound organization so that Motorola will capture a considerably greater share of the booming auto sound market."

Carroll joined Motorola in 1955 as an auto sound salesman. He rose through the sales ranks to his most recent position of a full line regional sales manager for Motorola consumer products.

Owens Nat'l Sales Mgr. For Panasonic Radio

NEW YORK — Maurice Owens has been named national sales manager of radio and stereo products for Panasonic's consumer electronic group. Owens has more than 20 years of experience in the field of consumer products management, coming to Panasonic from the Westinghouse Electric Corp.

February with a retail price just under $60, and will include complete instructions for rigging into sound systems at home, since a second amplifier and two added speakers are necessary to establish four-channel capability.

Electro-Voice has also arranged tie-ins with two record labels to make available four-channel recordings as free inclusions in sales with the unit. First samples of these disks are being pressed by Enoch Light's Project Three and Dick Schory's Ovation Records to show the unit's capabilities with true 4-channel recordings.

Electro-Voice will be stressing, in campaigns for the model, that stereo recordings already in the consumer's collection and new disks purchased before 4-channel recordings become readily available will not be obsolete since they are turned into quad by the decoder.

Ampex Markets New Rapid Duplicator

REDWOOD CITY — Ampex has marketed a new master reproducer for rapid duplication of cassette, cartridge and reel-to-reel recordings. Thomas E. Scholten, marketing manager for the professional audio products division, said the Model RR-200 reproducer can drive up to 10 Model 3400 slave units duplicating as many as 200 copies of 30-minute-per-side tapes in one hour. It is designed for use by master recording studios and in educational and industrial applications where large numbers of tape copies are required.

This fully-transistorized RR-200 replaces the tube-type 3000 Series of duplicators in the Ampex line.

We asked Roy Clark to be the first artist to record Francis Lai's Love Story theme with its Carl Sigman lyric. Roy said: "there are two sides to every Love Story, and I want to tell it my way—vocally on one side and instrumentally on the other." The result is a masterpiece. One side is the definitive vocal of the Love Story song. The other is as tender and loving an instrumental as has been recorded of this great theme.

WIRL-Peoria

Getting 'Fiercely Local' Pays Off

When you are in Peoria and your biggest competition comes from Chicago, which is 125 miles away, life can be depressing. That was the situation of WIRL, the 5,000 kw. Top Forty station in Peoria which was being outdistanced in the ratings race by a Chicago station. But lately that has changed and now WIRL is tops in virtually every time slot.

Let program director Robin Walker tell you how it happened. "We just became fiercely local in our entire approach. Local minded in our news, editorials, sports, promotion, even our humor. Plus we began to accent the entertainment aspect of broadcasting. Now, at the time when most stations are striving to be relevant and real, we try to be even more, we try to be exciting too."

Unpredictability is the key word in describing the WIRL form of entertainment. That's why, last week, in the dead of winter the station had two bikini clad girls making a snowman in the city's downtown district. "When people think of us," explains Robin, "we like them to say 'What are those guys going to do next?'"

As for what they will do next, they plan to continue along in the Top Forty groove that is working so well for them now. Discussing the future of Top Forty radio, Robin points out that it is probably the most flexible type of format. "We can adjust ourselves to a trend more easily than other kinds of stations."

WIRL also believes in the importance of editorializing and they air as many as eighty editorial messages a week. They are changed daily. The station also broadcasts Bradley University basketball games, extremely popular in the Peoria area.

Follow Anne Murray With CBC's 'Telescope'

NEW YORK — Co-producers David Pears and Sam Levine of Canadian Broadcasting Company's "Telescope" series, and a two-man camera crew, are filming Canadian entertainer Anne Murray during her stay in Hollywood for the taping of her fifth Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour guest appearance. Footage will be incorporated in a half-hour documentary profile of Miss Murray's rise to stardom during the past year.

Blue Thumb Offers KHJ 'Swan' Tapes

LOS ANGELES — Blue Thumb is having 50 videotape copies made of a production number which KHJ-TV's "Boss City" created for Tyrannosaurus Rex's single, "Ride A White Swan" and these tapes will be offered to TV stations around the country.

Don Graham, Blue Thumb's vice president, is predetermining the markets which can use this insert. Phil Aarsen, the new producer of the "Boss City" show, created the special technical effects which ran the length of the single on a recent program.

Aarsen's concept for visually showing the Blue Thumb single revolved around a "T. Rex" poster slowly spinning counter clockwise, with the heads of the two lead singers emerging from the center, two girls dancing in space and blue thumbs swirling around.

This marks the first time Blue Thumb has had a TV show feature on one of its artists reproduced for promotional use in other markets.

WSM-AM Beams Atomic Time

NASHVILLE — A few days ago WSM-AM (650), Nashville, became the only commercial broadcaster with "Atomic Time," the most accurate time in the Eastern United States. Pete Montgomery, veteran WSM engineer, explains it as a four-tenth of a second "beep" every 15 minutes over the powerful, clear-channel facility which serves most of the Mid-South during the day and most of the nation at night.

Thus, WSM now supplements service handled previously by the Bureau of Standards. When the Bureau transmitted its time standard from Washington, D. C., the eastern United States had the benefit of its accuracy. But the Bureau moved its stations WVN, WWVL, and WWVB to Fort Collins, Colorado about a decade ago.

Since then, by the time the signal got to the east it had lost some of its accuracy. Montgomery blames this on "length of path changes" and although it's minuscule, it's enough to be noticeable where precision measurements of time or frequency are involved.

"WSM decided to do a little public relations in the scientific field," Montgomery said. "The precision crystal idea was to make the station sufficiently accurate to be used as a secondary standard in the eastern United States."

MADE IT WITH THEM — Elektra southern regional promotionman Kirk Mattle, center, was the bearer of gold records when he visited program director Bob Mitchell, left, and music director Mike Green, right, of WTIX-New Orleans. Plaques were awarded for their part in making "Make It With You" by Bread a hit single.

Claire Olivier, sales manager of the label, says that distributor reaction is "high and the LP's should be ready for distribution by early Feb." Next on the schedule are releases by Lee Wiley, Jack Hylton, Ambrose, Noel Coward and Gertrude Lawrence, and more of the Ray Noble/Al Bowlly series. Also, due to the reaction to the Nanette, Borden has decided to intensify sales effort on the two-record set, "Through The Years with Vincent Youmans."

bel has made an outside production arrangement for the new Bo Diddley album, "Another Dimension," which was produced by Bob Gallo for Lou Lofredo Productions. A special promotion, publicity and advertising campaign will be launched prior to the album's March release, Bo Diddley's February 7 appearance at Madison Square Garden with the Rock & Roll Revival will launch the program.

Recorded at sound View Studios in Long Island, the new album features Bo Diddley doing songs by the generation of musicians who have learned from him. Bo cut three songs by Creedence Clearwater, who have recorded his classic "Who Do You Love." Al Kooper's "Love You More" is also on the album, along with two new Bo Diddley tunes — "Shut Up Woman" and "Pollution."

The outside production arrangement, a rarity for the Chess group of labels, was negotiated by Edwards with Lou Lofredo and Marty Otelsberg, Diddley's manager.

Esther Phillips Burnin' Atlantic SD-1565

Esther Phillips has seen changes aplenty in her years in the record business. At the tender age of thirteen she was discovered by band leader Johnny Otis in Los Angeles and opened, billed as "Little" Esther Phillips, at the famed Barrelhouse Club in that West Coast r&b center in the Forties and Fifties. In late 1948 her first disc appeared on the Modern label with Otis backing her up but it met with little success. In 1949 Johnny and Esther moved over to the Savoy label and had a smash hit with "Double Crossin' Blues" and followed it up with a booting "Cupid's Boogie" in 1950. In 1952 Otis folded things up for a while and Esther went out on her own with scant success, recording for a variety of small Southern labels. Personal problems and ill health led her home to Houston in the mid-Fifties, where she spent a couple of years recuperating and then, like a true artist, hit the road again. 1962 was the turning point in her career when she waxed the c&w tune "Release Me" for the New York-based Lenox label. It sold a million and led to a whole, much disputed, album of c&w tunes and landed her a reputation in the supper-club, easy-listening circles that contrasted solidly with her tough, little-girl role in the Forties and Fifties. Atlantic bought her contract up in 1965 and pursued the c&w tune thing at first, but soon allowed her to cover The Beatles' "And I Love Her," that turned out to be her last big hit. Albums followed on Atlantic, but these were basically string-loaded and full of standards.

With this album—recorded live at Freddie Jett's Pied Piper Club in Los Angeles—Little Esther lets her hair down once more and proves she is yet a blues singer extraordinaire, with healthy dashes of jazz-inflected stylings a la Dinah Washington, Carmen McCrae or Nina Simone overwhelmingly in evidence. Her tight, little-girlish voice rocks out on "Cry Me a River Blues" and enchantingly possesses one on her live version of "And I Love Him." Not to mention her sensuous, emotionally abusive "I'm Getting 'Long Alright" that's "for all my lady friends in the house tonight—I do most of my blues songs for the ladies because we always have the blues." She moans her way into the "ice man," "meat man" and "coal man" peopled tune in syncopatedly funky fashion.

And that is only part of side one of this disc. Side two includes a live version of her come-back tune, "Release Me," that is lyrically propulsive as the tight ensemble, including Cornel Dupree on guitar and Jack Wilson on piano, moves things along expertly. Side two also contains two ballads that, as Leonard Feather accurately notes, "take on the coloration of the blues." Entitled "If It's the Last Thing I Do" and "Please Send Me Someone To Love," both feature Esther moaning, wailing and emoting off of deliberate piano backing, curling the notes at times and elongating states of mind as she holds syllables at other moments. Intensity mingled with gospel-stung syncopation.

Esther Phillips returns on this marvelous album that should be another stepping stone in her up and down career. She deserves a break and this album demonstrates she still has that low-down r&b feel coupled with a jazz ballad sense of timing and coloration that matches Nina Simone.

UA Readies Bruce, Humblebums Albums

NEW YORK — United Artists Records is repackaging the "Lenny Bruce Midnight Concert" album recorded at Carnegie Hall, in New York, in 1961, and is scheduling it for a Feb. 15 release. The album will combine Bruce's humor with a contemporary art cover, and UA expects the new package to do well in progressive and underground markets. Recently, UA has released an album by the Humblebums, a folk/rock group consisting of Gerry Rafferty and Billy Connolly. The LP, "Open Up The Door," will be tried in with the groups cross country tour and extensive promotional campaign.

Picks of the Week

THE TEMPTATIONS (Gordy 7105)

Just My Imagination (3:39) (Jobete, BMI—Whitfield, Strong)

Having conquered the bold end of the rock sound spectrum, the Temptations turn toward the opposite extreme with their softest single performance in recent time. Exceptional material for markets that generally overlook the team's material could make this an across the entire board hit. Flip: "You Make Your Own Heaven" (2:49) (Same credits) The customary Temps, back on "Cloud line."

TOM JONES (Parrot 40058)

She's a Lady (2:52) (Spanka, BMI—Anka)

A superb teaming of the Tom Jones voice and a song that makes the most of his image appeal, "She's a Lady" gives the artist a powerhouse for top forty and MOR playlists. Not to be confused with the John Sebastian favorite, this "Lady" moves more quickly and with a production impact to drive home a Jones showcase. Flip: "My Way" (4:12) (Spanka, BMI—Francois, Revaux, Thibaut, Anka)

BOBBY SHERMAN (Metromedia 206)

Cried Like a Baby (3:20) (Almo, ASCAP—Williams, Doerge)

A considerable alteration in his musical approach takes Bobby Sherman out of the sugar-coated class by adding a tang of blues in both material and piano arrangements. Still supported by surging brass and his across the board delivery, Sherman here gives his fans something more than they might have expected. Flip: "Is Anybody There" (2:18) (Green Apple, BMI—Williams)

CARPENTERS (A&M 1243)

For All We Know (2:28) (Pamco, BMI—Karin, Wilson, James)

The theme from "Lovers & Other Strangers" is treated to the Carpenters' specialty in this new side from the group. A beautiful handling of the lovely material and the in-movie success of "For All We Know" assure a strong showing on MOR and top forty lists. Flip: no info.

R. DEAN TAYLOR (Rare Earth 5023)

Ain't it a Sad Thing (2:28) (Jobete, BMI—Taylor)

Bright return from his first hit showing gets R. Dean Taylor back into the top forty running. Rapid-paced pop-folk side with a sparkle that should wrap up teen receptions for that "Indiana Wants Me" man. Flip: "Back Street" (3:32) (Same credits)

VAN MORRISON (Warner Bros. 7462)

Blue Money (3:40) (Van Jan/WB, ASCAP—Morrison)

Romping back from "Domino," Van Morrison heads further into the blues base that marked his early hit material, but which now serves as a change of recent pace. Play from his newest LP has presaged strong receptions on AM and FM boards. Flip: "Sweet Thing" (4:10) (Van Jan, ASCAP—Morrison)

JAMES TAYLOR (Warner Bros. 7460)

Country Road (3:30) (Blackwood/Country Road, BMI—Taylor)

Unveiling another James Taylor gem via single release, the artist now crops up with "Country Road" as the latest in his hit streak. Somewhat akin to his "Fire & Rain" sound, the new release should have little problem streaking into top forty running. Flip: no info.

DONOVAN (Epic 10694)

Celia of the Seals (3:00) (Peer Int'l, BMI—Leitch)

His first single in about a year presents Donovan working with fragile sounds and a vehement message. Despite the gentle ballad introduction and light melodic charm, the story is of the inhuman hunting and slaughter of seals so brutally exposed during the last two years. Flip: "Song of the Wandering Aengus" (3:55) (Peer Int'l, BMI—Yeats, Leitch)

THE FLAMING EMBER (Hot Wax 7010)

Stop the World & Let Me Off (2:35) (Gold Forever, BMI—Dunbar, Wayne, Bond)

The piercing sound of the Flaming Ember billows once more with a towering side that should land in the upper reaches of both R&B and top forty lists. Strong dance side with a lyric that is bound to tempt sales action. Flip: "Robot in a Robot's World" (2:57) (Gold Forever, BMI—Holland, Dozier)

MUNGO JERRY (Janus 148)

Baby Jump (4:12) (Our, PRS, Dorset)

Shaking off their novel lightness, Mungo Jerry blends early rock in the Jerry Lee Lewis manner with their instrumental supercharging to turn out a compound blues dance side for top forty thought. Flip: "The Man Behind the Piano" (Our, PRS—King)

DUSTY SPRINGFIELD (Atlantic 2771)

What Good is I Love You (2:50) (Pineywood, BMI—Greenwich, Rashkow)

A particularly fine ballad snaps Dusty Springfield back to the brighter side of melancholia. Strong performance, song and production should have the new Springfield building sales action on both teen and MOR levels. Flip: "What Do You Do When Love Dies" (2:38) (Screen Gems/Columbia, BMI—Weiss, Unobsky)

CAT STEVENS (A&M 1231)

THE GENTRYS (Sun 1122)

Wild World (3:15/2:49) (Irving, BMI—Stevens)

Two earlier versions of this song have made slight impressions on the American market, now the author's performance and the Gentry's interpretation arrive with even greater impact. Both these later-comers concentrate on the rhythmic attraction of the song and should do better top forty.

Picks of the Week

THE EQUALS (Bang 582)

Black Skin Blue Eyed Boys (3:30) (Piccadilly, BMI—Grant)

The Equals have hit before, but they've never sounded this good even in their heyday. Super instrumental work and a driving new message lyric give the group enough power to surge into blues and top forty charts while gathering some FM momentum as well. Flip: "Ain't Got Nothing to Give You" (3:35) (Piccadilly, BMI—D&L Gordon)

Newcomer Picks

ARKADE (Dunhill 4268)

The Morning of Our Lives (2:37) (Wingate, ASCAP—Price, Walsh, Barri, Gross)

Light strings and a beautiful love song give Arkade the group's best shot yet at gaining national attention from teen and MOR stations. Song is used as a "Bridal Fair" theme to add exposure beyond the radio level (which is also beginning to shape up). Flip: no info.

EDDIE JASON (RCA 0422)

I'm Together Again (2:28) (Larry Weiss, ASCAP—Weiss)

The easygoing drift of "Raindrops Keep Fallin'" and a bright vocal from Eddie Jason give him a powerful debut on the performer side of things. The producer's touch adds enough icing to tempt across the board pop and MOR play on the way to the winner's circle. Flip: "Sweet Tomorrow" (2:26) (Colgems, ASCAP—Snyder, Kusik)

ARTHUR WILLIAMSON (Capitol 3037)

Eyes (3:25) (Three Bridges, ASCAP—Bernstein, Millrose)

Ballad with the spiritual quality of "Bridge Over Troubled Water," but carrying a more contemporary arrangement introduces Arthur Williamson with a long-shot side that could captivate top forty audiences. Flip: "Come On, Come On" (3:28) (MBP/Chappell, ASCAP—Bernstein, Millrose)

THE CROSSTOWN CHILDREN (Crewe 600)

It Took a Long Time (3:16) (Saturday, BMI—Crewe, Brown, Bloodworth)

A children's chorus, cute as it may be, needs more than the cute approach. This side has more. Delightful arrangements and a tasty bit of material should start exposure and sales through the entire pop spectrum. Flip: no info.

Choice Programming

Choice Programming selections are singles which, in the opinion of our reviewing staff, are deserving of special programmer consideration.

PACIFIC GAS & ELECTRIC (Columbia 45304)

The Time Has Come (To Make Your Peace) (3:14) (Modern, BMI—Woods) Blues brought up to date with a helping of dance appeal to make this an FM and top forty shot. Flip: no info.

MICHAEL PARKS (Verve 10653)

I Was Born in Kentucky (3:45) (Tree, BMI—Slate, Henley) Exceptional ballad side from the "Lonesome Highway" man. Potent MOR and good top forty and country prospect. Flip: "Turn Around Little Mama" (3:35) (Dixie Jane/Twig, BMI—Crutchfield, Parks)

CHARLES RANDOLPH GREAN

SOUNDE (Ranwood 891) Bullfrog (1:55) (Delmore, ASCAP—Coben) Novelty instrumental which has that indefinable flair to motivate MOR exposure and make a go of breaking top forty. Flip: "Singalong Junk" (2:16) (Maclen, BMI—McCartney)

PEGGY SCOTT & JO JO BENSON

(Atco 6805) I Thank You (2:25) (Walden/Birdees, ASCAP—Hayes, Porter) One of Sam & Dave's hits comes back from a new duo setup to suit Peggy & Jo Jo in their label debut. Flip: "Spreadin' Love" (2:34) (Chatawa, ASCAP—Puckett)

AL DOWNING (House of the Fox 4)

I'll Be Your Fool Once More (3:02) (House of the Fox, BMI—Downing) Giant sized vocal and a smooth piece of material should wrap up R&B action and could spread this side's sales. Flip: no info.

FARQUAHR (Elektra 45713)

Start Living (2:40) (Maltese/Ragmar, BMI—Farquahr) Following "Streets of Montreal," Farquahr turns out a less controversial ballad with teen AM and FM appeal. Flip: "Hanging on By a Thread" (2:42) (Same pubs, BMI—Farquahr, Ragovoy)

RICK NELSON (Decca 32779)

Life (Matragun, BMI—Nelson) Easy-moving ballad with an interesting melody line for MOR as well as top forty thought. Flip: "California" (3:00) (Same credits)

ETHAN FROME & THEN SOME

(Happy Tiger 569) Always Leaving, Always Gone (2:00) (Four Star, BMI—Monda) Bright, florid ballad side which has a performance aimed to snare top forty interest. Flip: "Pretty Thing" (2:18) (Unart, BMI—Barry, Greenwich)

WIGWAM (Verve Forecast 5114)

Call Me on Your Telephone (2:23) (Suite 7/Rare Magnetism, ASCAP—Pembroke) Very strong new group has a style that could establish top forty and some FM rapport. Flip: "Wishful Thinker" (3:45) (Rare Magnetism, ASCAP—Pembroke)

The Concert That Gave Way To Title Bout

HOLLYWOOD — The Muhammed Ali-Joe Frazier heavyweight championship fight March 8 at Madison Square Garden has already proved a financial bonanza for James Taylor, Warner Bros. recording star.

Taylor's manager, Peter Asher, had a $10,000 deposit for a concert at the Garden for that night, but somehow officials got their dates mixed up. When Asher consented to move the concert date to March 10, the Garden gave him a reduction on the arena rental price, and also handed him six ringside tickets for the fight.

Wood's 'I'm Hip' w/Attarack-Heller

HOLLYWOOD — Ray Harris, vice president of Attarack-Heller has announced the formation of a production and publishing venture with pop R&B singer-composer Brenton Wood. Deal marks another step for Attarack-Heller in its continuation of production and publishing expansion which began in '70 and will continue in '71.

Brenton Wood has formed pop company agreement with A-H which will include production of artists and securing of talent, both to be co-managed by Wood and A-H head Seymour Heller. Wood's publishing company will be called "Oogum Boogum" (after his first hit record) and will be an ASCAP firm. Production Co. will be named "I'm Hip." Wood will work directly with Attarack-Heller A&R director Ed Cobb and co-staff producers Emory Gordy, Jr. and Spooner Oldham. Wood's first project will be to produce group he discovered called Black Flag. Brenton, himself a recording star, hit the top of the charts a few years back with "Oogum Boogum" followed by "Gimme Little Sign", "Baby, You Got It" and many others.

This latest deal is one in a series negotiated by Attarack-Heller during its '70-71 expansion program. Others included the formation of their Producers Workshop, an agreement with Cinemation Industries to furnish background music for feature films produced by Arngrim Productions, an alliance with Tommy Roe and his Troupe One diskery, plus various production deals with recording companies producing artists on their rosters.

Harris leaves for Europe next week to tie up additional potential artists and to firm agreements already in the process of consummation.

Marks Music Corporation; "Never On Sunday", published by Esteem Music Corp. and Sidmore Music, Inc.; "Spanish Eyes", published by Roosevelt Music Co., Inc.; "Somethin' Stupid", published by Greenwood Music Company; and "Maria Elena", published by Peer International Corporation.

In the complaint, the plaintiffs seek statutory damages together with attorneys' fees and court costs. The action was filed in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois on January 8, 1971.

'Lolita' Name Change

NEW YORK — "Lolita, My Love" is the new title of the Alan J. Lerner-John Barry musical currently in rehearsal for an opening on Broadway in late March.

John Neville is starred as Prof. Humbert Humbert. Dorothy Loudon, Leonard Frey and Lorna Luft have featured roles. The part of Lolita is being played by a 15-year-old Annette Ferra of Van Nuys, California, who was selected after more than 1,500 young hopefuls were auditioned coast-to-coast.

"Lolita, My Love" is based on Vladimir Nabokov's classic novel, "Lolita."

NEW YORK—LOTTI GOLDEN: WHERE THE SIDEWALK STARTS

Recent years have seen the emergence of country as a musical form of widespread appeal. Country singers, once almost the exclusive property of Nashville and the back roads of America, have ascended to national and even International heights. But what of the city singers, the ones who pay their dues on fire escapes, on the elevated railroad and on the "staircase between the floors?"

The last phrase belongs to Lotti Golden and Lotti Golden belongs to the city. All the city and not just her native New York. Her voice is by turns like a paving stone, like an August night on St. Mark's Place, like an early morning breeze coming off the North River. Her stance is uncompromising but like most city girls she is on the side of the angels.

At age 19 Lotti released her first LP, "Motor-Cycle," a critical success, which was one of the first "concept albums" in that it focused almost exclusively on the world of the East Village. Two years pass. Little is heard from this Lotti Golden. Then in the waning weeks of 1970, "Lotti Golden," her second record, wider in scope and richer in spirit, arrives.

With it arrives Lotti herself, a couple of years further on, a group of experiences deeper. Lotti has the unusual ability to stand back from her material and judge it as reflecting the station where she happened to be at the time of recording.

Her songs are peopled with real men and women and they ring with authenticity. Cuts like "Just Like The River (Ballad Of Jimmy Hill And Me)" are edged with the sadness of realization that those we love the most may be capable of the ultimate violence. "Lately (I Feel Like I Wanna Wake Up Out Of This Dream)" is personal anguish with deja vu undertones.

When Lotti visited our offices recently, she came across as a quietly confident

HOLLYWOOD—CONCERT ASSOCIATES ROAD: ROCKY & REWARDING

"The rock business is good, it's the political climate that's bad," says Jim Rissmiller (Concert Associates, Beverly Hills), referring to the attitude of city fathers from Anaheim to Azusa, San Fernando to San Diego, regarding rock concerts.

"Auditorium managers know they must book rock shows. They are responsible to the public. Almost every building is a civic facility," reminds partner Steve Wolf.

Both men admit that concert promoters have a grapevine about "no show" and late groups. "But groups have matured," Wolf adds. They realize that today concerts are big business. They know it's not just a one night killing. They check out lighting, facilities, everything."

How do they foretell ticket problems which might cause disturbances?

"If we see a sell-out, we try to reschedule a second show, if possible," explains Wolf. Rapport with the youngsters who go to concerts is attempted by use of student security guards, who deter gate crashers. The Beverly Hills promoters acknowledge that concert goers are, in the main, orderly and acclimated to concerts. "Audiences are expanding every year," says Wolf. "They are getting younger—and older. As more teenagers go into their 20's, they continue the concert habit."

One of the reasons for an older audience is that "the music is being watered down to a softer sound," says Rissmiller. "There is more folk and country."

Another point from Wolf—"The days of the quick buck operator are over. Concert promotions have finally gone legit—it's a business."

Concert Associates averages 6-7 concerts a month in this area, more than most promoters. And many times they compete against themselves, staging shows in nearby locations the same night.

"We'll have to present even more shows in '71 to stay even, financially, with '70," says Rissmiller. "That's because everything has gone up but our ticket prices." That includes newspaper ad rates, building rentals, wages—and groups are certainly commanding more money than they were only a year ago."

As a result Wolf and Rissmiller continually seek new acts. They work with record firms, study the charts, listen to FM as well as AM stations, visit small clubs. The pair who helped Jack Kent Cooke build his Forum into the "Madison Square Garden of the West" allow that rock concerts may be setting new box-office records year after year. But "economics" are a major factor. "We have to be aggressive. And let's not forget the competition—from other promoters, colleges, clubs—"no wonder my golf handicap has gone from a 12 to a 17 in the past two years," Rissmiller mourns, "you just can't listen to KMET or book Poco at Lakeside."

AND WHO'S TOM SHAW?—Speaking of Lakeside, one of its more illustrious members gets our sport of the month award. Following his own L.A. Open, Glen Campbell drove up to Pebble Beach a couple of weeks ago for the Bing Crosby tournament, MC'd the NFL Pro Awards dinner on the 21st, tees off on the Andy Williams Tourney near San Diego on the 26th and then on to the Bob Hope Classic in Palm Springs on Feb. 10. Last time we checked, Campbell's handicap was down to a seven. Could be a 4—by the time he gets to the Phoenix Open.

PIRATES SAIL NEW CHANNELS—A bootlegged tv show? Shelter Record officials have been tipped off that a video taped version of Leon Russell's one hour special aired over KCET last Nov. is now making the rounds of affluent underground music buffs.

MUSKOGEE VS. MUSCATEL—Asked if he intends further excursions with "the message kick," to fan his "Muskogee" success, Merle Haggard said (on the NET special devoted to his career), "I'm determined not to become repetitious. There are guys in country music who write and sing only drinking songs. That's how you get typed—and soused."

NANTUCKET SLEIGHRIDE—Mountain—Windfall 5500

"Nantucket Sleighride" is utterly staggering in its power and love. The wealth of musical information stored within its nine tracks is, indeed finite, but it will be some time until you come to the end. Material of steel and lace, Chinese Box arrangements of instruments within instruments, production techniques that allow the music to flower open from the center and fan out on either side, all this and so much more. A highwater mark for Mountain, Felix, and rock itself, and proof positive that those who think 1971 will be the year of soft-styled influences are sorely mistaken. Years from now the production of rock's music on album will be judged by the advanced techniques used here.

KENNY ROGERS & THE FIRST EDITION GREATEST HITS

KENNY ROGERS & THE FIRST EDITION GREATEST HITS—Reprise-6437

Kenny Rogers & The First Edition put together a package of instant gold that includes all of their chart singles. "Ruby, Don't Take Your Love To Town," "Something's Burning," "Heed The Call," "Just Dropped In," "Reuben James," "Love Music," "But You Know I Love You," "Tell It All Brother," "Momma's Waiting," and "Love Woman," are all contained in this best of all possible albums.

FOR THE GOOD TIMES—Dean Martin—Reprise-6428

Dino, with the assistance of the Jimmy Bowen Orchestra and Chorus, put together a fine easy listening set containing "A Perfect Mountain," "She's A Little Bit Country," "For Once In My Life," "Sweetheart," "Marry Me," "Georgia Sunshine," "For The Good Times," "Invisible Tears," "Raindrops Keep Fallin' On My Head," and "Raining In My Heart." Dino is in excellent style, and the package should delight his many fans.

HIGHWAY—Free—A&M-SP 42 87

Following their two chart singles, "All Right Now," and "The Stealer," and their successful LP, "Fire And Water," this new album by the English quartet seems destined to click. Package contains nine original tunes ranging from funk-rock, to Free's slow, soothing blues style. "Be My Friend," "Sunny Day," "Love You So," and "Soon I Will Be Gone," are outstanding tracks, but the entire album is good, and as clean as can be. Set was produced by Free, and engineered by Andy Johns—a winning combination.

PARANOID—Black Sabbath—Warner Bros.-1887

Emerging in late 1970 as the latest English super group, and reaching the pop charts with their first album release, Black Sabbath returns with their second LP effort that contains what is destined to become a smash single, "Paranoid." Combining pure hard rock with the mystifying vocals of Ozzy Osbourne, Black Sabbath wails through their eight original tunes with the greatest of ease. "Planes Caravan," "War Pigs," "Iron Man," "Electric Funeral," "Fairies Wear Boots," "Rat Salad," and "Hand Of Doom" are contained in the group's next hit album.

SPACESHIP EARTH—Sugarloaf—Liberty-LST 11010

"Life and environment are inseparable parts of a greater whole . . ." according to the philosophy of Sugarloaf, and their concept in "Spaceship Earth." Album contains "Rusty Clouds," "Rollin' Hills," "Hot Water," "Country Dawg," and "Mother Nature's Wine," along with the title tune that rounds out the environment section. "I Don't Need You Baby," "Woman," "Music Box," and "Tongue In Cheek" represent the group's philosophy on life. Much progress has been made since "Green Eyed Lady," and their first LP.

EMERSON, LAKE & PALMER—Cotillion SD 9040

First release, then, from the trio to end all trios. Keith Emerson mastermind of the Nice and rock's most creative and advanced keyboardist; Greg Lake formerly lead singer with King Crimson; Carl Palmer one of Britain's most gifted guitarists, late of Atomic Rooster. Much fascinating classical piano from Keith along with his mad organ work. Highlight of the lp is Greg Lake's twelve and a half minute "Take A Pebble," although each track is a gem in itself. If this volatile threesome manage to stay together they will become '71's most creative British group force. In any case, this is a remarkable album: a landmark in rock; a true shining masterpiece.

DELIVERIN'—Poco—Epic-KE 30209

1971 will be the year of Poco. It has to happen that way. Poco is the most refreshing group in the music business, and all of their combined energies and talents were pooled to create one of the finest live albums ever recorded. For Rusty Young, Richie Furay, Jim Messina, George Grantham, and Timmy Schmit, it all came easy. They just played, and in the process, they revealed their feelings and sentiments. Happiness. Joy. Peace. "Kind Woman," "Child's Claim To Fame," "Pickin' Up The Pieces," "You'd Better Think Twice," "Grand Junction," and "Consequently So Long," are all included. If you've never seen Poco live, sit back and enjoy. They'll be around forever.

Newcomer Picks

MCDONALD AND GILES—Cotillion SD 9042

Ian McDonald and Michael Giles, both formerly with King Crimson, present us with two extended musical suites of gentle complex music that moves from one important statement to another with free-wheeling grace. Ian enchants with an awesome variety of instruments ranging from guitar to organ to flute to zither and on. Michael, on drums and percussion provides a similarly awesome variety of tones. Joining the duo are Peter Giles on base, Stevie Winwood (who has a piano and organ solo) and Michael Blakesley on trombone. Like Mountain, ELP, and Elton John, McDonald and Giles create their own musical world that is the mark of rock in its highest and purest form.

SOMETHING BETTER—Warren Marley—A&R-ARL 7100/004

Something better than what Warren Marley has given us on this first album, is indeed difficult to imagine. Marley poured out his soul for this new release, and upon listening to the LP, all of his talents become evident. A singersinger. A stylist. Powerful performances on each and every track. "Golden Slumbers," two James Taylor tunes, "Anywhere Like Heaven," and "Something's Wrong," and five original compositions by Marley himself. All in all, a marvelous package!

ANTHEM—Buddah BDS 5071

Anthem, new three man band, makes an impressive bow with an album rich in musical treasures, both vocally and instrumentally. Working off a guitar, bass, drums set-up, they come up with a tight sound rare in debut disks. We particularly liked "You're Not So Mean," with its very effective drum play by Bobby Howe, as well as "New Day," featuring some winning harmony. Title song is another strong cut and an extended piece "Misty Morns" takes the listener down exciting jazz edged pathways. Power packed offering.

CHELSEA—Decca DL 75262

Chelsea, whether it be the New York or London version, is known as a varied and colorful part of town. Now it is also known as a five man group, which has put out an album of more than passing interest. Throughout this LP, the mood shifts, from fast paced items such as "Rollin' Along," a good example of happy music, to the more percussive rhythms of "Ophelia" and the gentleness of "Let's Call It A Day." An original offering from a band which should be heard from some more.

girl, not aggressive, just certain of her own development as an artist and aware of her potential. She spoke of the future, of becoming more involved in music, of getting into film. There is an existential quality about her which is specially appealing. It's good that she is open to the possibilities. e.k.

AL DE LORY: HE WEARS MANY HATS

What can you say about a guy who records a single of "Theme From 'Love Story'" only to find himself in competition with seven or eight other versions? That he already has a group of gold records to his credit, many of them gained as Glen Campbell's producer. That he produced one of the Lettermen's finest recordings, "Hurt So Bad." That his version of "Song From M*A*S*H" was one of the more refreshing singles of last year. That he recently composed the music for the film, "Norwood" (starring Glen and Joe Namath) and that he looks to more film scoring assignments in the future.

We discussed motion picture soundtrack trends with Al De Lory when he was in town on a promotional trip for his "Theme From Love Story." He feels that movie music is going through a transitory stage and cites "The Graduate" and "Easy Rider" as examples. Both of these films, as well as many others, have tied together hit songs which were not written specifically for the screenplay. In the case of the former, they were all the work of Simon & Garfunkel, while in "Easy Rider" they were from a number of composers. "This is a little thing that happens in the middle," says Al, "while movie scoring is moving from one trend to another."

Whichever way it moves, Al feels that he will become more involved in film scoring. He found his experience with "Norwood" more than a little uplifting. "I approach each melody with the idea of writing what the specific scene calls for," explains Al. "When I'm writing for a film I'm also writing something that may become popular." Al is a talented young man who has moved from playing piano for others, into production and now into composing and performing on his own. His future looks bright.

SHORT TAKES—Hoyt Axton's "Snow Blind Friend" finally being released as a single—it's the cut we suggested a long time back from the Steppenwolf 7 lp. . . . Dunhill also rushing out Axton's comp, "Joy to the World" on 45RPM from Three Dog Nite's "Naturally" album . . . Janis Joplin's "Me and Bobby McGee" side now looks like a top tenner for Columbia—that's another cut we touted months ago after advance hearing "Pearl." . . . Jimmy Webb just closed to mixed reviews at the Troubadour (but lots better than his Dorothy Chandler notices) cut a live album during his stay at the coffee bistro—could his his next for Reprise . . . Public relations firms of Gershman & Gibson (formerly Garshman Swaney & Gibson) adding another third name—it's now Gershman, Gibson & Stromberg. Gary Stromberg has been with the firm for the past three months—firm has offices in L.A. and N.Y. . . . Bobby Stevens, who has formed his own Rustic label, has a strong sleeper in Mike Jarrett's comp., "All Goin' Down Together," a cynical-political-rhythm-blues epic . . . Bill Medley, who closes a two week engagement at the Kings Castle on the 26th, mates with Suzie Robertson on Feb. 6th—will be spending part of his honeymoon in Tahoe . . . Peter Asher has signed 21 year old Kate Taylor to a management and production contract. Miss Taylor, James Taylor's sis, will record on Atlantic . . . A six hour television show? That's what producer Alan Baker is planning at KCET this April (with rock pianist Leon Russell). Negotiations are now under way between Baker and the Shelter Records performer-exec . . . Mike Burns, former talent scout and FM promotions man for Kapp, tapped as nite jock and programmer for KABC-FM . . . Mike Coolidge and George Costello, account execs for Columbia Productions' coast operations, returned from Puerto Rico meetings . . . Lettermen cutting their 30th lp for Capitol this week . . . Rave reviewing Sammy Davis Jr.'s re-opening of the "Now" Grove last year we labeled the room a "cold, tasteless, barn-like auditorium . . . a recreation of the nitery in the Al Jolson 'Wonderbar' flick of the mid-thirties . . . more 'then' than 'now.'"

At the time show involved a ten dollar (weekends) and eight dollar (weeknites) cover. Even after additional renovating and refining, lowering the tab and strong promotional pitches, room failed to pull crowds. Last week came the inevitable announcement from Ambassador Hotel execs—closing for six months (starting at the end of April) or until economic conditions improve. Current act—Buck Owens. Sammy closing the room in April. The Grove had cost more than $1,000,000 to renovate. What Davis, who booked the "Now" Grove (with others) failed to realize: there was never anything really wrong with the decor of the old Grove. What was (and is) urgently required is a recognition of the revolutionary "alterations" in contemporary entertainment. harvey geller

Pop Best Bets

JAMES TAYLOR AND THE ORIGINAL FLYING MACHINE 1967—Euphoria EST-2

So popular has James Taylor become. This album, loosely strung together from studio sessions of four years ago, looks like it will gather lots of sales potential. Certainly it is of interest as a collector's item, but it includes a distracting amount of false starts and meaningless chatter. For the record, Taylor is heard on lead vocal doing now familiar material such as "Rainy Day Man" and "Brighten Your Night With My Day," as well as some less powerful songs. Taylor fans may want to have it in their collections.

ROGER WILLIAMS GOLDEN HITS VOL. II—Kapp-KS 3638

A collection of Roger Williams' golden hits reads like the academy awards nominations for best songs of the year. "Gentle On My Mind," "Alfie," "Galveston," "The Impossible Dream," "A Taste Of Honey," "Up Up And Away," "Softly, As I Leave You," "This Guy's In Love With You," and the "Love Theme From Romeo And Juliet," are all included. Album is perfect for the easy listening audiences and MOR stations.

NEW GENERATION—Chambers Brothers—Columbia-C 30032

The Chambers Brothers get it all together for this new and impressive package of funk-rock. Highlighting the set is their latest release "Funky," which is destined to become their biggest single to date. Also included are "When The Evening Comes," "Are You Ready," "Practice What You Preach," "Reflections," "Young Girl," "Pollution," "Going To The Mill," and the title tune, "New Generation." Album should do well considering their large commercial and underground following.

SOMETHING/MISTY—Pete Fountain—Coral-CRL 757516

Soft, soothing and romantic are just a few of the words that can be used to describe the moods of this latest Pete Fountain album. Something Misty. Something cool and fresh. Contemporary. The LP, one of his very best to date, contains many classic tunes such as "We've Only Just Begun," "Sunny," "Close To You," "Misty," "Green Green Grass Of Home," as well as two Beatles favorites, "Something," and "Here, There and Everywhere," and a medley from Jesus Christ Superstar.

Jazz Picks

THE PRICE YOU GOT TO PAY TO BE FREE—Cannonball Adderley Quintet—Capitol SWBB-636

Here are four new sides by Cannonball and his cohorts, and a very nice double album set it is. All the selections, and there are twenty, were recorded "live" at an open studio session, and audience reaction is enthusiastic. Cannonball intro's Nat Adderley, Jr., his 15 year old nephew who does justice to the title song, which he also wrote. Nat, Sr. vocalizes on several tunes and there you have it, a spirit of family which endows the album with a together sound not easily forgotten. As for the Quintet, their sound is as tight as ever. A choice jazz package.

RAHSAAN RAHSAAN—Rahsaan Roland Kirk—Atlantic SD 1575

Roland Kirk has been in the vanguard of contemporary jazz musicians for some time now and this album, his latest, gives evidence that he intends to stay there. Which is good news, as he is one of the most inventive free spirits recording today. Here he turns his magic on the classic "Satin Doll," endowing it with new vibrancy, and a medley which includes "Sentimental Journey," "Lover" and a Dvorak piece must be heard to be perceived. Kirk is very much into the potential of instruments and his piano styled saxophone is only the latest of his devices. A special album from a genuine artist.

CAT STEVENS

Cat has a new single out.
"Wild World" /
"Miles from Nowhere" AM 1231
from his new album,
"Tea for the Tillerman" SP 4280

His debut performances at such venues as the Fillmore East and the Troubadour evoked excitement of Elton-Johnish proportions. Since those performances FM programmers have been playing selections from his new Tea for the Tillerman album as if there were no tomorrow. Perhaps the most-played selection, Wild World, has just been released as a single, meaning that Cat is about to become as big with the AM audience as he is already with the concert and FM audiences.

Hot Tuna/Brethren Taj Mahal

FILLMORE, NYC—Something's been happening at the Fillmore of late, and with each passing week, it becomes more obvious. There used to be a time when week after week, the most talented groups in the music business would appear before sell out crowds. Nowadays, almost anyone can appear there and sell out! Where has all the talent gone?

Electric Hot Tuna (not to be confused with acoustic Hot Tuna) appeared at the Fillmore last weekend (15-16) and did virtually nothing to deserve their standing ovations. Those who came to see Jorma Kaukonen and Jack Cassidy were satisfied. Those who came because they heard of Jefferson Airplane were satisfied. But those who came to seek musical enlightenment were not satisfied at all.

Now electric, Hot Tuna performed a set of country, blues, and semi rock material that went absolutely nowhere. In fact, the only interesting aspect of Hot Tuna is the addition of Papa John Creach on electric violin. And even he was unable to add any vitality to the set!

Imagine if every big rock group followed in the footsteps of Jefferson Airplane and the Grateful Dead! Imagine if Led Zeppelin, Mountain, The Who, Grand Funk, Santana, Jethro Tull, Creedence Clearwater, and dozens of other top name attractions all subdivided into two or three additional groups! Where would we be then, my friend? Then, as is the case with Hot Tuna, we would be paying to SEE a performer, and NOT to hear his music!

Picture, if you will, Robert Plant and Jimmy Page as Stuffed Cabbage, performing gospel songs to a sell out crowd; or Ian Anderson singing Polish folk songs—Eric Clapton with John Doe and Friends doing their renditions of the Ventures greatest hits—Leslie West and Felix Pappalardi running through their favorite Russian dances . . . Funny, isn't it? But if the present trend continues, it may become a reality.

Fortunately, the two acts that preceded Hot Tuna had something

'No, No, Nanette'

MUSICAL comedy has not really given way to musical theatre. Show music buffs may want us to believe this as they talk of "integrated musicals" (not racially, but song-and-book) and the like. After all, isn't Broadway's all-time musical champ, "Hello Dolly!" really a musical comedy circa the middle 60's? Thus, I am not surprised at the success accorded and due the "new" revival of "the 1925 musical," "No, No, Nanette." The show is good musical comedy, and when good musical comedy is expertly done—it's Ruby Keeler-Busby Berkeley "camp" nonsense aside—Broadway audiences are going to be receptive to it—at least they're going to get a chance to thanks to all-out critical raves. Simply put, the show works. Even memories of Sandy Wilson's kidding "Boy Friend" (circa 1954) fails to destroy a simple-minded plot set to simple, but simply delightful Vincent Youmans music. And the dancing by Bobby Van, Helen Gallagher and, yes, Ruby Keeler, is joyous. And the sets and costumes are an entertainment in themselves. Musical theatre may have to play the Met after "No, No, Nanette." The cast LP's coming on Columbia. I hope it includes the wonderful sound of good old tap-dancing, too. i.l.

to offer. Taj Mahal, complete with a four piece tuba section, managed to add a new dimension to the blues. Performing selections from his most recent album, he proved his versatility both as a musician and as a fine vocalist. Taj Mahal should be seen to be believed, for he is a showman in every sense of the word.

Opening the show were Tiffany recording artists, Brethren, who proceeded to overwhelm the audience with their individual talents and imaginative blend of country/gospel music. Highlighting their set were "Everybody In The Congregation," and final, "Provided For," two first rate, original compositions. Tom Cosgrove, Stu Woods, Rick Marotta, and Mike Carson are all studio musicians, and their respective talents shone through. Before Brethren, they performed with all Kooper, Ten Wheel Drive, and Bob Dylan, to name a few. They are unique, and as tight on stage as can be expected. Look for Brethren to make it's mark during the coming year. They deserve to be heard. k.k.

B.B. King

CAESARS PALACE, LAS VEGAS—Last year, Caesars took a long shot and put Blood, Sweat & Tears in the main room for three days and got paid off handsomely with SRO crowds. This year, the same hotel has taken another long shot by featuring B. B. King in the main room for a series of special 2:00 a.m. shows, and while the financial results aren't in yet, the musical results were outstanding.

B.B. was called upon for the task because of his handsome showing in Caesars' now-defunct lounge earlier in the year, and despite a serious obstacle placed in his path by the hotel itself, came thru again. The aforementioned obstacle was provided by the opening act, Scherri St. James and the Company, a below par musical aggregation even by Vegas' not-to-contemporary standards, who were certainly out of place before the mostly knowledgeable audience that the King pulled in.

How does one review a man who has just been presented (by ABC/Dunhill topper Jay Lasker) with a plaque bestowing upon him the "Biggest New Star of 1946 Award"—In belated recognition of 25 years of paying dues the hard way? I guess the right way would be to say that B.B. King is one of the greatest electric guitar players around, that he can pack soul into his voice and his body even when wearing a tux, that age only seems to make him better and that he weilds, even at 3:00 a.m., a stage presence that crushes any resistance.

In Sony Freeman and the Unusuals, B.B. has found a backup band that perfectly frames and intensifies his own enormous talents, and the result was evident in the well-paced show, which included such standard King fare as "Every Day I Have The Blues," "All I Want Is A Little Bit Of Love," "Someday Baby," "Why I Sing The Blues," "Please Accept My Love," and, from the far distant past, "Sweet Sixteen." B.B.'s recent chart hits, "The Thrill Is Gone" and Leon Russell's "Hummingbird" (also the inspiration for a dog) were the only new numbers, and, in truth, it must be said that perhaps a little more new material might have been in order. Minor quibbles and Scherri St. James aside, it was an exciting evening, which, hopefully, will pave the way for more recognition of contemporary talent. After all, even us hippies like to feed the slots once in awhile. a.r.

MIDEM Festival

CANNES, FRANCE—Surprises galore were the order of the day at the 5th MIDEM Festival's first gala night, thanks to Eric Burdon and a turned on audience.

Things seemed to be under control as the packed house heard from Aquaviva (12 Spanish students who sing poetic lyrics—a feel somewhat reminiscent of Les Companas). Robert Charlebois, a Quebec vocalist, was excellent on stage singing in French, and Richie Havens closed to a cheering audience with his rendition of "Rocky Raccoon."

Julieu Clerc, the lead in the French version of "Hair," did extremely well, and England's Cat Stevens is a definite star of tomorrow as he performed two original compositions, "Father & Son," and "Wild World." It's just a matter of time before Stevens breaks through. Following Stevens, Frank Pourcel did a pretty orchestral version of "Hey Jude," and Iranian singer Gougoush, plus a Greek newcomer rounded things out.

Then, Eric Burdon and War turned things upside down. They were supposed to perform for only a short while because the second show, scheduled to begin at 10:30, already had lines forming outside, and Elton John was supposed to follow Burdon. This is where things went haywire!

Burdon was very strong, and turned everyone on with a gusty, sensational performance. He performed a medley of tunes that lasted some 30 minutes, but cheers for an encore brought him back for an additional quarter hour as he performed "Tobacco Road." By this time, the people in the streets, dressed in brief formal attire, were clamoring in the 45 degree weather, and were hoping to get in for the second show. As a result, Elton John was unable to perform.

The situation was partially rectified during the second show by having Burdon go on first, since his equipment was already set up. Elton John later closed the abbreviated second show with a powerful, well received set.

The show ended at 1:30 a.m. and was followed by a party at the Whiskey A Go Go hosted by Eddie Barclay. The last we heard was that the party was still jumping at 7 a.m.

by RCA, Stax, and Roulette Records, or would they prefer an industry increase for all albums at $5.98. The overwhelming feeling of retail outlets was that they would rather absorb the .05 cent to .07 cent loss and continue to see majority of product rather than accept an industry increase to $5.98. The feeling was that the customer would buy much less product and they would lose customers. Stan Marshall, representing Elektra Records, said although at this moment his company was not planning a general price increase to $5.98 he personally was in favor of the $5.98 price. Most labels at the meeting seemed to agree that if albums were $5.98 the public would not squawk and they would continue to buy product.

The next ARD meeting will be held on Feb. 16. Record and retail those wishing to attend should contact Gensler at (212) 244-1881. To date, over 50 stores are paid up members. And 12 associate members including, Buddah, MCA, Atlantic, Springboard, BetaRecords, Elektra, Empire State Record Sales, Malverne Records, ABC Record and Tape Sales, Paramount, Scepter, and Polydor Records.

channel,

- the load impedance (e.g., 4, 8, 16, ohms) for which the manufacturer intends the equipment to be used,
- the rated power frequency response, and
- the rated percentage of maximum total harmonic distortion at any power level from zero watts to the rated power output.

The proposed rule permits optional disclosures under certain conditions.

A hearing on the proposal will be held at 10 a.m., Tuesday, April 13, in Room 532, FTC Building, 6th St. and Pennsylvania Ave., N.W., in Washington, D.C. Interested parties may orally present data, views or arguments. Those desiring to deliver prepared statements should file them with the Assistant Director, Division of Industry Guidance, Federal Trade Commission, Washington, D.C., 20580, not later than April 6.

The rule would extend to radios, record and tape players, radio-phonographs and/or tape combinations, components audio amplifiers and the like.

The industry has, for a number of years, been unable to agree on a single standard for rating amplification equipment. The Commission said, wide abuse of output ratings has occurred as a result of the use of ratings based on numerous standards and testing methods. For example, the rating of amplification equipment in terms of music power or peak power permits a gross exaggeration of the output figure, a Commission staff member said. In such cases, a consumer might purchase a stereo set represented as capable of 100 watts output in preference to a set rated only 50 watts output, believing the 100 watt set to be superior. In fact, the stereo rated 50 watts output may be comparable or superior.

Based upon information presently available, the Commission believes that the most reliable method of rating power output of amplification equipment is by its RMS or continuous power output capability.

In the absence of a single industry standard, therefore, the Commission believes that the rating of power output of amplification equipment according to the RMS or continuous power method will provide the consumer with a valid and meaningful basis for comparison in the marketplace.

Kitty Wells Signs With Buddy Lee

NASHVILLE — Artist-agent Buddy Lee has announced the signing of Kitty Wells, Johnny Wright, and Bill Phillips to an exclusive booking contract. Known world-wide as the Kitty Wells — Johnny Wright Family Show, the group was all smiles as each member officiated the new pact with Lee.

Kitty Wells, known as the "Queen of Country Music" since 1952, began her career as a featured vocalist with the "Johnny and Jack Show." A few years later, she became Mrs. Johnny Wright. Her first big record came in 1952 on the Decca label entitled "It Wasn't God Who Made Honky Tonk Angels." An immediate smash, Kitty rapidly became the first female artist to rise to the top of the country music world. She became a member of the Grand Ole Opry the same year, and has reigned as "Queen of Country Music" to this day.

Johnny Wright is a native Tennessean, hailing from nearby Mount Juliet. Son of a well known 5-string banjo picker, and grandson of an excellent fiddle player, Johnny moved to Nashville where he met Jack Anglin and formed the team of Johnny & Jack. Before long the two were signed to a recording contract with RCA, and began a rapid succession of hits such as "Poison Love," "Ashes of Love," "Down South In New Orleans," and others. Joining the Grand Ole Opry in 1947, Johnny & Jack began touring with Roy Acuff and The Smokey Mountain Boys. The act was broken up in 1963 by the death of Jack Anglin, and shortly thereafter Johnny moved over to Decca Records where he has remained. His hit singles include "Hello Viet Nam," "Smellin' Like A Rose," "Love Ain't Gonna Die," "Music To Cry By," "Love Everybody and Everybody Will Love You," and recently, "A Place Where Heartaches Hang Around."

Johnny and wife, Kitty, co-host their weekly syndicated TV show, The Kitty Wells-Johnny Wright Family Show, which features Bill Phillips, and their band, The Tennessee Mountain Boys.

A featured performer on the TV show and popular Decca recording artist, Bill Phillips has been a member of the Kitty Wells — Johnny Wright Show for the past 13 years.

Jobete Launches Country Campaign

HOLLYWOOD — A major push to fully develop catalog product in the area of Country & Western music is among 1971 programs launched by Jobete Music Company, Inc., and Stein & Van Stock, according to Herb Eiseman, general professional manager of the Motown publishing subsidiaries.

Eiseman, former board chairman of the Hollywood-based Academy of Country & Western Music, remarked, "Jobete through the years has been fully-aware of the suitability of our material for C&W audiences.

"The awareness has worked the other way, too. Now we're simply expanding on both the proven poten-

Hall Of Fame Honors Radio Contest Winners

NASHVILLE — During brief ceremonies held recently at the Country Music Hall of Fame, officers and members of the board of directors of the Country Music Association honored the winners of CMA's annual Country Music Month broadcasting contest. Present for the occasion were representatives of WLKE, Wau-pun, Wisconsin, winner, second place WIBX Radio of Utica, N. Y., and third place, WYNR, Brunswick, Georgia. Trophies were presented by Roy Horton, chairman of the Country Music Month committee and a member of the board of directors.

Judging was completed last month on the contest for promoting October as Country Music Month and announcement made of the winners. The primary criteria for the contest is the quality of the promotion of October as Country Music Month. Consideration is given to the variety and ingenuity of the promotion as well as the quality, but the judges stressed that quality is the basic concern for this creates the most favorable attitude in the minds of the listening audience.

tial of songs already in the catalogs and the creative vitality of our contract writers."

Glen Campbell's "Honey Come Back" on Capitol was cited by Eiseman as one example. The Jimmy Webb ballad is in the Jobete catalog. He also pointed to "Someday We'll Be Together Again," the Bill Anderson-Jan Howard smash on Decca that hugged the hit charts for more than 15 weeks, and "It Takes Two," a hit by Connie Eaton and Dave Peel on Chart Records.

"It's not a matter of Motown music going Country," Eiseman remarked. "A hit song is a hit song, no matter how it's arranged or by whom it's performed. We have many songs in our catalogs that tell the Country story."

More than 100 Jobete (BMI) and Stein & Van Stock (ASCAP) songs have climbed into the Top 10 on best-seller charts during the past decade.

CMA Board Hears NARM Film Format

NASHVILLE — The CMA's special presentation on Country Music to the NARM convention, March 1st in Los Angeles was revealed to the board of directors by Bill Farr and Bill Williams, co-chairmen of the presentation committee at their quarterly meeting in Houston, Texas.

The entire presentation will involve several minutes of introduction by one of the statesmen in the country music industry, followed by the film slightly less than 15 minutes long. The film will be followed by a live Country Music presentation by Merle Haggard. The live show will be approximately 40 minutes in length.

A special brochure of facts is being printed for distribution to the conventioners.

The feature film makes use of a specific character named "Albert" who has no feeling for Country Music whatsoever but figures and facts turn him on. With this clever approach the film portrays the awakening of Albert to America's best selling entertainment product — country music. He becomes so overwhelmed by the tremendous growth of country music in figures and facts that his attitude . . . NARM conventioners will find out what happens.

Incident to production of this multithousand dollar film has been the assembly of vast amounts of figures and facts from every facet of the entire business where country music has been exposed. The effort undertaken by CMA and its members has involved much of the large and small companies in the country music business.

The board meeting took up other matters of importance among which were the following: Tentative proposals for a Spring Country Music Festival oriented toward the fan rather than trades people. Estimates of several thousand who would be interested in participating in such a festival were disclosed by Committee heads, Irving Waugh and Hubert Long. Live shows and televising are considered as essentials to such a festival.

1971 Country Music Month Celebration was the subject of extensive planning according to country music chairman, Roy Horton, who reported his committee expects to move into exploitation of untouched areas for promotion of October as Country Music Month. He mentioned the possibility of reaching the national motion picture theatres with public service promo slides or film strips.

CMA's participation in the Third International Country Music Festival at Wembley Pool, London, England during Easter holidays in conjunction with the quarterly CMA Board Meeting. Announcement was made of numerous business and social functions correlated with the meeting and festival. The board meeting will be held at the Churchill Hotel April 10-11.

The new Country Music Radio Sales Kit was reported by chairman Don Nelson. The new kit is 75% laid out and artwork should be completed by the April meeting.

Record Merchandising Committee report by Jim Schwartz included the heavy cooperation by the record men in the NARM presentation.

Other items included Bill Williams reporting on public relations and the passing of a resolution offering CMA's support to efforts by various organizations across the nation to instigate a Jimmie Rodgers Memorial Stamp release by the post office in 1971; announcement by the banquet chairman, Frances Preston, of consideration for innovations which may increase the number of conventioners who can see CMA's Banquet Show.

Other committee reports were made by Ralph Emery, membership; Joe Talbot, meeting arrangements; Bill Denny, awards; Jim Schwartz, by-laws, Bill Lowery, CMF; Harold Hitt, finance; Wesley Rose, elections; Richard Frank, insurance; and Gary Buck, international.

The meeting was chaired by Richard Broderick, board chairman and Wade Pepper is president. All but five of the forty-one officers and directors of CMA were in attendance. Also present were Jo Walker, executive director and Cecil Whaley, public relations director. Dick Frank, counsel for the board was also present.

Owens Sings For KLAC Radio Promo

LOS ANGELES — Buck Owens, one of the nation's leading country music personalities and star of the weekly CBS Country Music program Hee Haw, is featured in a series of television spots promoting KLAC's recent change to a modern country music format.

As part of a mammoth advertising effort, over 300 spots will be aired on KNXT, KNBC, KABC, KHJ, KTTV and KCOP during the next 4½ weeks. According to William Dalton, vice president and general manager of the Los Angeles Metromedia station, this is one of the most extensive television campaigns ever undertaken by any Los Angeles radio station to date. The spots were produced for KLAC by Metrotape West at the facilities of KTTV.

Welty Exits Jamboree

WHEELING, W. VA.—Due to points of disagreement over basic management policies, Quentin W. Welty has announced his resignation as general manager of Jamboree USA, Inc. The termination of his affiliation with the Jamboree and the parent corporation, Basic Communications, Inc. of New York City, becomes effective February 15th. Regarding the Wheeling operation Welty said, "The future potential of the area, Jamboree USA and WWVA in the country-music field is absolutely unlimited. The organization should achieve for itself a much more important position and role in this field in the near future. However, I feel that I have not been able to accomplish what I had hoped for, and felt it was necessary for me to step out." Welty's future plans are not definite at this time.

The Government White Paper on the introduction of commercial radio is expected to be published within the next four weeks, and speculation about the exact nature of the independent service is gathering momentum. One widespread theory is that the BBC will be deprived of its 247 metres slot on the medium band over which it broadcasts its Radio 1 pop service, and this wavelength will be given to a commercial operation. There is no official confirmation that this is so, and Radio 1 controller Douglas Muggidge has stated that the Corporation would fight such a proposal tooth and nail. Radio 1 was the direct result of the former Socialist administration outlawing and closing down the offshore pirate radio stations with its Marine Offences Bill, and it is the BBC radio channel which attracts most listeners while being the cheapest to run. The Campaign for Independent Broadcasting has revised its original recommendations to Minister of Posts and Telecommunications Christopher Chataway.

The first CIB proposals envisaged regional rather than local indie radio stations broadcasting on VHF, but the organization now believes that it will be advisable and necessary for the VHF transmissions to be supplemented by medium wave output during the daytime. The CIB blueprint anticipates about 30 regional stations around the U.K., plus approximately a dozen city center operations and believes that ample needle time for disk programming can be agreed with the Musicians Union providing the regional stations tape shows using local MU members in sufficient quantity. The CIB believes that Chataway is thinking in terms of indie radio on a local rather than regional basis and also that he will decree catering for specialist and minority interests on a public service basis. It disagrees with this approach more which it considers unviable in economic terms of the advertising aspect, and because it thinks that the BBC should cater for specialist and minority interests. The CIB, which is the direct descendant of listener organizations, begun during the days of offshore pirate radio, submitted its amendments to its original proposals to the Minister on January 11th and now everything waits upon the White Paper and its fate in Parliamentary debates. Whatever transpires, the current state of the economy bugged by inflation and the doldrums of the advertising industry will combine to increase the hazards of would-be commercial radio operators. The starting date for commercial radio is expected to be the spring of 1972 or possibly the following year.

Indie producer Norman Newell has signed a long-term deal with Philips, Polydor and the joint budget enterprise recently formed by the two labels. Newell will work out his existing contracts elsewhere, but henceforth his product will be handled by the Philips-Polydor groups. He first achieved prominence in the record industry when he joined Philips in its infant British days in 1953, moving from there to the production staff of EMI before becoming independent some years ago. Newell has produced albums by Shirley Bassey, Julie Andrews, Petula Clark, Frankie Vaughn, Judy Garland and Marlene Dietrich among many others, and he is also noted for show cast album works.

Laurance Cross has been named general manager of Ampex Stereo Tapes, Europe, and has already arrived in Britain to work out of the company's Reading establishment. He succeeds Gerry Hall, who resigned last year to join the American Picker Corporation which manufactures X-ray equipment. Cross will report to Ampex vp and music division general manager Donald Hall. He was formerly manager of the company's Asian-Hong Kong division, and has seen sales service in several sectors of its American and international operations.

Former Polydor creative services chief Alan Bates is talent scouting for Purple Records, a new indie label formed by Deep Purple managers John Coletta and Tony Edwards. Negotiations are in progress for distribution of the label by a British disk major and details of a worldwide deal are expected by the end of this month. Acts already signed for Purple are British duo Curtis Muldoon, Canadian-born singer Ellyse Weinburg, formerly with Tetragrammaton and Yvonne Elliman, who played the role of Mary Magdalene in MCA's hit "Jesus Christ—Super Star" set. She is re-recording "I Don't Know How To Love Him" from that work with its composer-producers Andrew Lloyd-Webber and Tim Rice.

Actor Keith Mitchell whose TV portrayal of Henry VIII won such critical acclaim has cut an album of the King's songs under the title "Keith Mitchell Sings Ancient and Modern" for release on Southern Music's Spark label. The 'modern' side includes his current single "I'll Give You The Earth". Still with Southern Music Johnny Tudor has waxed "Don't Take Your Love Away" also for release on Spark. The song penned by Geoff Stephens and Southern's managing director Bob Kingston won the Gibraltar Song Festival for Britain last year.

Record Merchandisers, the joint racking consortium in which most of the British majors participate, is due to enter the tape market on February 1st. RM is installing cassette and cartridge racks in eighty stores of the Woolworth chain and will service one hundred branches of Dixon's photographic shops with tape product. RM managing director Ian Miles stated that consortium members and outside companies will be drawn upon in the compilation of a catalogue of one hundred best-selling albums. Each company supplies its own best-seller list, and the composite hundred will be based upon these. RM will act as wholesaler to the Dixon chain, but will furnish Woolworth branches with wire unit and wooden browser racks.

Engelbert Humperdinck's American tour has been extended with a new series of concert and cabaret dates. He is to film another TV spectacular in March before flying back home to Britain for six weeks. The new American dates extend his tour—already almost a year old—until late August. Meanwhile back home Decca issue a new Humperdinck release, an Italian song entitled "Santa Lua".

American promo man Gerald Hoff has been named general manager of the Threshold label by the Moody Blues, who own it, and has arrived from Los Angeles to take up his new post at the Threshold headquarters in Cobham, Surrey. He will be responsible for the development of the Threshold label throughout Europe, signing new acts and organizing promotion. Moody Blues producer Tony Clarke said Hoff was the ideal man for the job because there was an instant rapport between him and the group.

Page International chief Larry Page has signed a three-year licensing pact with Philips for his new label Nepentha, which was originally to be called Rocking Horse. Page intends it to be an outlet for singer-songwriters and anticipates "a very important place" for it in today's market. Nepentha will make its bow in March with six albums including "Scarecrow's Journey" by American-born Robin Lent; "Into Your Ears" by former Honeybus leader Pete Delo; "Earth and Fire" by the Dutch group of that name, and "Showcase" by David Matthews, who penned the Matt Monro song "We're Gonna Change The World".

INTERNATIONAL MUSIC SECTION

Andwella, who record for Reflection Records, have created a lot of interest with their highly praised "World's End" album and, as a result, are currently touring Europe to be followed by a tour of the States where they are signed to Dunhill Records. A new album "People's People" with all tracks penned by group leader David Lewis has just been issued. Andwella are—left to right: Dave McDougall, David Lewis, Jack McCulloch (ex. Thunderclap Newman) and Dave Struthers.

Belgium

Polygram reports that the following artists will appear in TV-shows: Jef Vanuytsel in the Dutch show "Voor de vuist" (January 29th), Rare Bird in "Pop Shop" (January 26th). Samantha Jones performs in the Antwerp "Sportpaleis" (January 29th) and Emerson Lake & Palmer in "Theatre 140" (February 7th and 8th). The LP "Emerson Lake & Palmer" is very successful. New LP's are "Joost Nuissl" and "Kurt Fleming", an own product recorded in Vienna with opera and operetta tracks. Jimmy Frey got a gold record for his single "Rozen voor Sandra".

Vogue released the singles "Real Good Time" (The Faces) and "Mungo Blues" (Mungo Jerry.) The LP's "Mick & Roel" and "Hugo Raspoet" sell well. They are own Vogue products.

Polydor released Alain Delville's "Paris Nanterre". On February 15th James Last performs in Antwerp. James Brown performs in Antwerp and Brussels on February 28th.

Fonior released the singles "Rozen Die Bloeien (Corrie & De Rekels) and "Do It" (Neil Diamond). His follow-up for "Cracklin' Rosie" is already in the BRT National top 30.

Inelco released the LP's "Whatever" (Friends of Distinction), "De Kadullen" and "The Savage Rose". The two last LP's are own products.

CBS-Artone released the LP "Potlach" (Redbone). Lynn Anderson's "Rose Garden" was chosen as the BRT 2 Hitgolf pick of the week.

Gramophone changed its name in E. M. I. Belgium. The company released the USA hits "I Think I Love You" (Partridge Family) and "Stop The War Now" (Edwin Starr). In the series "Golden Memories" are now singles by Tino Rossi, Ron Goodwin, The Beatles and Camillo. There is also a new Tamla Motown campaign with the albums "Everything Is Everything" (Diana Ross), "New Ways But Love Stays" (The Supremes), "The Temptations live at London's Talk of the Town", "War & Piece" (Edwin Starr), "Third Album" (Jackson Five), "Changing Times" (The Four Tops), "Singed, Sealed, Delivered I'm Yours" (Stevie Wonder), "Again" (Jr. Walker & The All Stars) and "16 Super Hits" (Marvin Gaye). Other news: Malachi, an English group, has just recorded an excellent LP in Brussels. It is produced by E.M.I. Belgium and it is to be released early in 1971. E. M. I. Belgium has also another group under contract: Tour Eiffel. Their first single is expected in February. The Vipers, and independant production, issued by E. M. I. Belgium, released their first single on this label. Titles are "Reflections of Charlie Brown" and "Watching The World Pass By". The young Belgian singer Serge Emmanuel released the following titles "Tu Peux En Rire" and "Il Ne Fallait Pas". Both songs are published by Ardmore & Beechwood Belgium. This artist has been chosen to share the leading part of "Hair" with Jacques Hustin. This musical comedy takes place from January 22nd at the "Theatre Du Passage 44" in Brussels.

Just after releasing the first LP by The Pebbles, it is in almost every Belgian hitparade, especially in the hitparades of BRT. The Tenderfoot Kids, whose record was single of the week in "Formule J", will pass shortly on T. V. in "Pop Shop". The event of the month certainly is Nicoletta, in Brussels from January 13th to 15th. Her last record "Quel Est L'Homme" was very well received. She will be the middle of a press-meeting, which will gather the world of the show business. When returned in Paris, Nicoletta will start a movie with Claude Le Louch. The group Iron Butterfly gives a concert in the "Palais des Beaux-Arts" of Brussels on February 2nd. The group Yes occupies the first part. Led Zeppelin come to Belgium next spring. The Soft Machine will give several concerts in the "Theatre 140" and in the Conservatoire of Liège. Concerning the forecast of the hits of the beginning of 1971, James Anderson's "Mama, Mama" could be very quickly at the top of the hitparade in the same way as Charles Aznavour's "Yesterday When I Was Young". Maurice André on trumpet and Marie-Claire Alain on organ were in Brussels for a concert in the "Eglise des Carmes". The French organist Jean Costa gave a concert in the "Eglise St. Laurent" at Liège, for the artist fund. The program included Pachelbel, Bach, Franck and Widor. We draw your special attention to the fact that the Erato subscription of last autumn had an enormous success, just as the six concertos of Vivaldi revealed by R. T. L. (STU 70.623).

Polydor rush-released the original soundtrack of the MGM movie picture "Ryan's Daughter." This beautiful musical score, written by Maurice Jarre could saleswise well become a second "Dr. Zhivago." While the original version of the "Ra ta ta" by the Rotation is still selling extremely well, Polydor now issued also two local versions, sung by respectively Remy Ray and Stafke Fabri. Other singles which were released are "Annelise" by the Lilac Street Band, the J. J. Band's "Get together" and "Drugbay" and "Como Estas" by El Chicles. These three records are RKM Productions. Alain Delville's "Paris-Nanterre" is getting strong reaction. The first record by this young and talented artist could well become a smash. On the LP field, Polydor released among others the "Non Stop Dancing-Vol. 11" by "Party King" James Last, and the long awaited fourth album by Herman Van Veen entitled "Voor een verre prinses."

R.; "Why Can't People Be People." A new local recording on "Darli Dirla Dada" has just been released by Les Nanas.

R.K.M. news: We are pleased to inform you that Jimmy Frey went to Holland last week together with Roland Kluger and Bart Van de Laar, in order to record in Dutch the present fantastic Belgian hits: "Waar de zon schijnt" and "Rozen voor Sandra." Polygram released the singles "Black Ship Blue Eyed Boys" (The Equals) on President, "Schabadaba Ding Dong" (Dan and Jonas), a British-Belgian production on Biram, "Rosemary" (Mark Hamilton) on Carrere and his follow-up for the gold record "Comme J'ai Toujours Envie D'aimer." Samantha Jones comes to Belgium for a few appearances. She has a new LP entitled "The Other Jones," of which the track "Best of both worlds" was put on single.

Name a country.

Leaving aside the Iron Curtain areas we doubt that you could name a country of any size where EMI records aren't high up in the sales charts. With 5,000 other companies battling for the business it's EMI's unique international know-how, its gigantic resources in plant and people — and of course the world's greatest names on its labels — that enables it to graph-up sales currently running at one fifth of the total world market. With 30 Companies and a score of licensee Organisations spaced around the globe (and with more to come) we are thoroughly equipped not only to meet this astronomical demand but to stimulate it.

We plan also to expand Fona's business as time goes on."

HOLLYWOOD — Monument Records has severed its distribution agreement with Decca Records Ltd., for the manufacture and sale of their catalog in England and Ireland, it has been confirmed by Bobby Weiss, Monument vice-president and director of its international division.

"We sincerely regret leaving Decca after the past four years of Monument being identified with their own label in England plus Decca's first association with Fred Foster's company since the inception of the label 12 years ago," said Weiss. "However," stated Weiss, "the fifth year of the agreement called for specific added guarantees which we were not able to reconcile with Decca and this left us no choice but the termination."

Monument president Fred Foster stated, "We always enjoyed a highly profitable relationship with Decca and they with Monument. We are leaving behind many good friends at Decca and in particular, I should like to extend the 'thanks' of our firm to Sir Edward for his always-generous support and friendship."

Weiss, at the Monument international headquarters in Hollywood, reports that there are numerous London-based record companies seeking the available England/Ireland distribution rights to Monument and associate catalogs (Sound Stage 7, Magic Carpet, Rising Sons, 440 Plus and Tambourine) and the various proposals are now being discussed. Currently active with Boots Randolph, Kris Kristofferson, St. David's Road, Moody Scott, Kent Meade and the Remington Sunshine plus singles from the previously-issued lp's of Joe Simon and Tony Joe White, Monument will be making new product available within the next 30 days.

Holland

The past year was a very successful one for N. V. Phonogram. In the "Top 100 1970" compiled by Radio Veronica from the weekly charts the company has 31% of the big hits 1970. Heavy promotion by N. V. Phonograms promo-men giving Elton John his first chart-record with "Border Song" (DJM) and two best selling albums. The Van Der Graaf Generator did a fantastic concert at the Amsterdam Paradiso, which was packed to the last seat. With the group was Charisma director Tony Stratton-Smith. British singer Samantha Jones visited Holland for a photo-session and a cover story for Panorama Magazine. Due to weather conditions she finally ended up with a short holiday in Amsterdam. Holland's TV-personality no. 1 Willem Duys presented a Golden Disk to the Les Humphries Singers during the top-rated TV-show "Voor De Vuist Weg". The record which brought the award to the group is "To My Father's House" (Decca), a no. 1 record in Holland for five consecutive weeks. The record has passed the 125,000 figure and is still on the Dutch charts.

CBS-Artone pays this month special attention to the singer-actress Barbra Streisand and releases together with the premiere of the movie "On A Clear Day You Can See Forever" the original soundtrack album of the movie-picture in which she performs with French actor Yves Montand. The Dutch television will broadcast two colour-shows of Barbra while her current single "Stoney End" (a composition by Miss Laura Nyro) gets a really powerful airplay on the Dutch radio stations.

Bovema's top group The Cats signed a new long-term contract with the company. To celebrate the re-signing, a special dinner was held in the group's hometown of Voldendam attended by the group members and their wives, their manager Jan Buys and their producer Klass Leyen, plus executives from Bovema. Bovema's has signed a licensing agreement with Ed Barsky's A&R label and LP's scheduled for release include those by John Blair & Keith Textor. Bovema recently signed a contract with Ted Easton's Jazz Band—the best selling Dixieland orchestra in Holland. Owing to EMI Records' recent acquisition, Bovema is happy to announce the future releases of recordings by the Idel Race, The Balls and Love Affair. Although the Beach Boys Amsterdam concert was 5 hours late in starting due to weather problems, it was well worth waiting for! The Dutch press proclaimed it the best-ever Dutch pop concert. Eric Burdon and War will appear at Amsterdam's well-known club Paradiso on 20th January and on 19th February give a concert in the Concertgebouw, Amsterdam. The group will also be appearing on VPRO television on 21st January. The Shirley Bassey TV spectacular will be transmitted on 6th February in Holland.

Jeffrey Kruger of Ember Records signed after interesting talks with Neeram's managing director Hans I. Kellerman and label manager Hans Officier contracts referring the distribution and representation of the Ember label in Holland. Frank Zappa and The Mothers of Invention (Reprise) are very popular in Holland these days, probable because of their t.v. appearance in VPRO's "Piknik", half a year ago, and the concert tour last month. After having released recently the albums "Weasels Ripped My Flesh" and "Chunga's Revenge" (high in the album charts), label manager Hans Officier released the two record set "Uncle Meat". Because of the favourable development in musicassetes-business Negram will release in cooperation with Ampex from now on both the records and the musicassetes of the Dutch acts Tee Set, Dizzy Man's Band, Q 65, George Baker Selection and After Tea. Dennis Kaplan and Mickey Eichner visited Amsterdam and signed a contract for 3 years with Negram's director Hans I. Kellerman for representation of their new Jubilee-group, including the Josie-, Jubilee- and Euphoria-labels.

Bospel Music N. V. signed a contract with Doraflo/Blue Disque Music for the Benelux-countries and has at the moment the sole-agency of that company and of the publishers affiliated. Mexico Guillermo Arriaga, former member of Discos Musart promotion office staff, has been promoted to the post of publicity manager of the firm.

By the end of 1970 these were the Discos Capitol de Mexico ten best sellers: "Y Volvere" with Los Angeles Negros; "Mi Amigo El Viejo Mar" with Cesar Costa; "Un Vaso de Vino" with Cesar Costa; "Let It Be" with The Beatles; "Peleas" with Altemar Dutra; "Negra Paloma" with Cesar Costa; "Cantemos Aleluya" with Carlos and Patricia Lico; "Ven-ezuela" with Los Socios del Ritmo; "War" with Edwin Starr and "Candida" with Dawn.

Vicente Fernandez, 1970 most popular folk singer, will begin the new year with "Ay, Amigo" and "Prisionero." The possibilities of this CBS/Columbia Int'l single are very good, Gilberto Parra, the producer, reported. "Christie's LP" including "Yellow River" their big hit, is another CBS released. Christie is for the moment Epic's best seller in Latin America with over 200,000 copies of singles sold in Mexico, Brazil and Argentina together in only three months. (Mex. 55,000-Brazil 150,000 and Arg. 30,000).

Enrique Márquez in front of Discos Orfeon editorial is doing a fine job. In just few months a consistent increase in the production of records and the broadcasting of the firm's music has been noticed.

Hector Martinez Anaya, manager of Editorial Mundo Musical, S. A., will celebrate the firm's 10th Anniversary with a Champagne-cocktail and will award the best product and composers of the last twelve months, as well as the most distinguished composers of the decade. The prized 1970 songs are: Bacharach/David's "Raindrops Keep Fallin' On My Head"; Ray Whitley's "I've Been Hurt"; Fidel Valadez's "Libro Abierto"; Ramon Ortega's "Ni En Defensa Propia"; "Te He Prometido" by Leo Dan and "Me Quede Sin Ti" by Carlos Colorado. The Editorial's distinguished composers of the decade are: Homero Aguilar, Tadeo Arredondo, Rafael Carrión, Fernando Z. Maldonado, Ramon Ortega, Abelardo Pulido, Rafael Ramirez, Felipe Valdéz Lea, Antonio Valdéz Herrera and Salvador Velazquez.

Mario Freidberg, Discos Tizoc general manager, understanding the importance of the Avco-Embassy catalogue is personally assisting in everything related to the line expecting it will score in 1971.

Piero's "Pedro Nadie," first place in the Rio de Janeiro Festival, has been released by CBS/Columbia Int'l with "Este Amor Que Paseo Contigo" on the other side. Speaking of CBS, we most report that Jaime Diaz de Sandi resigned to the post of Promo and Advertising manager exactly two months after his nomination.

EDITORIAL: Security Now!

As most in the nation know by now, New York City's Police Dept. pulled a "job action" last week which took almost 85% of the patrolmen off the street for six days before returning to duty. While the news media, whether accurately or inaccurately, "reported" no appreciable increase in street crimes during that period, more than a few music and games operators in the city suffered an undue number of machine breakin's just the same.

The New York trade's reaction, for the most part, consisted of a route-protective action based on more frequent visits to locations. Some even collected from their more "insecure" stops every day during the "job action", to keep the cash boxes as empty as possible, as well as the cigarette inventory down. If the machines were going to be hit, at least they'd save something in coins and smokes.

The "six day breakin war" kind of brought a growing big city problem to a new head. Most, if not all, big city operators can recount many incidents over the past few years of tables being pried into, juke raped, cigarettes smashed, all apparently by inexperienced but desperate vandals who are satisfied to spend a couple of tense hours breaking into a stop, then into the machines—and risk all for the few dollars they'd take out.

Like everything else in big cities these days, the breakin problem's going to get worse before it improves. There are plenty of "answers" around—from burglar alarms, to safe-type cash doors—but none, we think, are 100% effective against a dope addict bent on getting at your dough. The real answer is to triple and quadruple police protection, stiffen punitive penalties against captured offenders and immerse all equipment in concrete every night. But until that day comes, the best answer is to visit the stops as frequently as possible and at least minimize the loss should that stop get hit.

Another good trick is to permit your customers to empty your cash boxes every night and leave the cash doors wide open. Totalizers would give you more peace of mind if you did this, but be honest, there are plenty of your customers you'd trust to give you an honest count, totalizer or not. But one thing your customers should do, especially those in "hot" neighborhoods, is keep all the lights going every night. If they complain about the electric bill, so throw them a few bucks.

It's difficult for the operator with over a hundred stops to consider safeguarding every single location on his route by more frequent service and the rest. Costs too much in time and labor, maybe. But measure the cost of this kind of security against how much you've lost thru breakin's and see if it makes sense.

New Rock-Ola 446 Class Juke Ships

CHICAGO — Edward G. Doris, executive vice president of Rock-Ola Manufacturing Corporation, has announced that production and deliveries have begun to Rock-Ola's customers on the Console Deluxe Model 446 phonograph.

Along with the 160 selection Model 444 and the 100 selection Model 445, traditional type phonographs, this furniture styled Model 446 was introduced to the Rock-Ola distributor organization at Point Clear, Alabama, last October and to the Music Operators of America both at the M.O.A. Show and during the distributor Open House Week in the middle of October.

As Doris describes it, the Model 446 is a "beautiful yet functional piece of furniture but at the same time is a coin-operated phonograph with all the features and quality of its 160 selection counterpart, the Model 444. Don't let its beauty fool you" he said. "It is constructed with all the ruggedness and durability that characterizes all of Rock-Ola's hard-working phonographs". Though it looks like a piece of handcrafted furniture, he stated, inside and out it is built to withstand normal location abuses.

It has a beautiful Patrician walnut veneer cabinet with surfaces covered with decorative polyester overlay to make it stain and mar resistant if cigarette butts or wet glasses are placed on it. The decorative front door cathedral panels are made of high impact polystyrene to withstand the heaviest of abuses," he said.

According to Doris, the 446 was styled to be at home in the most tasteful surroundings wherever the emphasis would be on mood and decor—such as a cozy little out of the way restaurant or the most luxurious dining room type of locations. "In locations where music is not desired during the noon hour, all the location owner has to do is close the lid and the coin-operated phonograph disappears and becomes a beautiful Mediterranean style piece of furniture. Truly, the 446 can go where no other coin-operated phonograph has ever gone before, but for the operator's top locations, it is suitable to fit anywhere."

Bally Vampire 2 PL

CHICAGO — 'Vampire,' A brand new 2 player flipper, is now being delivered by Bally Manufacturing Corporation, to its U. S. distributors.

The 'horror' motif creates an eye-appealing voodoo effectiveness, and definitely has repeat play appeal.

Paul Calamari, sales manager of Bally, stated "the styling of the backglass and playfield—a take-off on the popular 'horror' movies—gets attention on location. And collection returns indicate that 'Vampire' ranks among the very top money-makers in the two-player class."

The player can get free balls in two different ways. In addition to free balls through the easy-to-open free ball gate, each free ball scoring 3000, a free ball pops out to the shooter tip, when either of the two side targets are hit, after Target Bonus has advanced to 5000 without being collected.

The Target Bonus, which scores up to 5000—or a free ball—and the Kickout Bonus, which scores up to 10,000, are two additional reasons for the popularity of 'Vampire.' High Score hits, in fact, stand out all over the 'Vampire' playfield, from the 3000-scoring Kickout Hole at the top of the field to the 1000-scoring left OutLane, which also kicks the ball back up the playfield for a repeat performance, whenever the mysterious Kicker Light is lit.

'Vampire' can be operated with 3 or 5 balls, with or without Match Feature. And, anyway you operate, you can be sure 'Vampire' will 'vamp' big revenue returns.

Bally Corp. Forms French Subsid

BILL O'DONNELL

CHICAGO — Bally Manufacturing Corporation (OTC), recently announced that it has formed a new subsidiary in France as part of a continuing international expansion program commenced in 1969.

Bill O'Donnell, president of Bally, reported that Bally France S. A., 80% owned by the parent company, will be managed by a French citizen with long experience in the coin-operated equipment business, who will own the minority interest in the company. He said that the new company will be headquartered in Paris and will distribute Bally games throughout the country.

"The establishment of new companies in partnership with nationals of various countries has proved very successful for Bally," O'Donnell commented. "We will continue to employ this approach in the company's overall expansion program." He also noted that Bally has set up the Bally International Division to supervise the growing number of overseas subsidiaries and affiliates.

In the last half of 1969 Bally purchased Bally Continental, Ltd., Antwerp, Belgium, and a two-thirds interest in Automatimport AB, Stockholm, Sweden. Through these companies Bally also holds interests in Bally Service AB, Stockholm.

EASTERN FLASHES

AROUND TOWN—Chatting with MONY president Al Denver, we find the location break-in problem going from bad to worse these days. Al thinks many of the thieves are desperate kids who are driven to hitting the locations to get dough to support a narcotics habit. Many other operators concur that the break-in situation is directly related to dope. "What can you do," Al asks. "You can visit the stops as often as you like sometimes, but they're ahead of you. I've had a place here that got hit every week, and by the way they'd get there just before we collected, it had to be an inside job. You know, the thing discourages you from buying new equipment for these places. You'd like to have it but you don't want to have it busted up." Al's association activities took him out to Brookhaven, Long Island last Wed. for a visit with the Suffolk County Tavern Owners Assn. where he addressed the group on the problems of owning the equipment themselves. Al was accompanied by Ben Chicofsky of MONY and the Mathews brothers from Huntington.

ON THE ISLAND—Last week we presented the meeting of Long Island operators (Thurs. night, Jan. 23rd) almost as a sub-association of ICMOA. We got a few calls from a few ops out there who reminded us their monthly dinner get-togethers are really just social and have little to do with association matters. Matter of fact, many of the Island's operators are members of ICMOA and MONY but say the meetings are really social.

NEW ENGLAND NEWSNOTES—Talked record-talk at length with Dick Mitchel of Dick's Record Co. (one stop) in Dedham, Mass. last week. Dick, whose place of business is in Trimount's new building, has an excellent rapport going with the New England juke trade. His picks are especially valued, since his reputation in this regard is super. He's got such a good ear for a pending hit that even superstation WRKO of Boston calls him to learn what's happening. . . Pinball received sympathetic publicity in a story titled "Dime and Dime Again, Sweetheart" which appeared in the January edition of The New Journal, published by undergraduates of Yale University. Although not an "in depth" study, as was the famous 1966 Esquire story, the Yale article is a kindly, nostalgic accolade to pinball and includes original observations, such as a theoretical but plausible explanation of American preference for single-player games: ". . . even in an anti-technological age the relationship of an American and his machine is a sacred and a personal thing. Nobody plays my machine but me, buddy."

"Dime and Dime Again, Sweetheart" developed from a telephone conversation between the author and Herb Jones, advertising manager of Bally Manufacturing Corporation.

HOUSTON HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Lois Huddle, H.L.H. Corporation, was winner of a 1971 model AMI new phonograph awarded by drawing at an informal party held right after office hours on Jan. 6, at Central Sales Inc., 91 Dennis, Houston. Writer of CASH BOX "Houston Happenings" column was elected to pluck the lucky number. Cold weather, marked by sleet, iced over highways and profusion of icicles, held attendance down to just enough people for an enjoyable evening. E. R. (Red) Giles and dazzling wife Delta from Louisiana, journeyed farthest to the affair. Besides extensive coin machine operations, the Giles own numerous ritzy nite spots in the Crawfish State. . . Harold Horton, half-owner of the first coin machine distributing concern in Houston, died early this year. Stelle & Horton, on Louisiana St. was name of the firm. After Ralph Stelle, other partner of the distributorship, was killed early in Thirties during a hunting trip accident (thrown from his horse), the firm dissolved and from then until about 1960 Harold was engaged in various types of coin machine operations in Houston and environs. At time of his death, Horton owned and operated a large cigarette machine route in Alice, Texas, a prosperous town in the Rio Grande Valley. Harold Horton most likely was personally the best liked coinman ever to do business here. . .

Bill Scrimsher, LE Corp., soft voice, pipe and all, looks more like a college prof than the top notch parts and service man he's reputed to be. . . Stopped by in passing at Port City Music & Dist. Company on Washington Ave. but W. L. (Bill) Morrison, owner and son Al Morrison, executive manager were out seeking Coin of the Realm so missed a visit with them. . . Elvin D. Ainsworth, with plenty of milage on his coinmatic speedometer, has moved his Ainsworth Distributing Co. from McKinney Ave. to a more centrally located spot at 809 Stewart. Along with extensive coin machine operations, Ainsworth is also a licensed Realty Broker. . . William Powell, owner of NASA Amusement Co., is comparatively new in coin operated field. Reports have it that he is doing better than good. . . Op O. L. Waltmon, a big fellow that he is, appears even more so when topped with his western style sombrero. . .

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

Hank Tronick of C. A. Robinson & Co. reports that Bally's new "Target Zero" is proving to be one of the first hits of the early 1971 season. Record earnings are being reported by operators, not only in arcade type locations but in bar locations as well. Coupled with this money maker comes Midway's "Jet Rider" which should prove most effective in combining motorcycle action and rock music. H. T. goes on to say that used equipment sales have been exceedingly brisk for this time of year with late used equipment bringing premium prices—and premium trade-ins which makes for a most healthy situation insofar as the operators and distributor are concerned. Robinson's Parts Department is taking on a whole "new look" as the finishing touches are being put on the new parts room which is sporting a beautiful counter backed with striking displays of coin machine and pool table parts. Mike Hall's efforts in the design and construction of the new parts room is to be commended—and he is being congratulated by all the operators who come in to see them. They knew all the time but the figures now substantiate the fact that C.A.R. has enjoyed the best sales year in its long history. So states Al Bettelman after an apparent "enjoyable" session with the accounting organization that audits the books. As the old saying goes—it gets better all the time.

CHICAGO CHATTER

Shades of Bella Lugosi! A new two-player flipper made its debut this week and it's called "Vampire"! Produced by Bally Mfg. Corp. and ready for delivery as of now, the new game is styled after the popular horror movies and "will 'vamp' the coins right out of the players' pockets" to quote sales manager Paul Calamari! Stop by your local Bally distrib and have a look at it! . . . In a recent survey conducted by the IAAP it was determined that there was a decided increase in park business for '70 over 1969. Here's the breakdown: of the 45 member replies to IAAP's questionnaire, 39 parks reported increased business while 6 experienced a downturn. Latter was attributed, in large measure, to poor weather conditions which is quite a major factor, of course . . . The Restaurant Division of Canteen Corp., which operates a gourmet restaurant in New York's Lincoln Center, just opened a family type restaurant, "Clancy's", in suburban Carol Stream, Illinois. Stanley R. Rapp is the manager. Canteen hosted a grand opening party for the local press prior to the restaurant's official public opening on the 22nd . . . The big item at Chicago Dynamic Industries—"Night Bomber", of course! It's definitely top priority on the production schedule, according to Mort Secore.

Got the word from Joe Kline that Atlas Music Co. will host a service school on the Rowe MM5 Presidential line of phonographs, at 6:30 PM on Wednesday, January 27. Class will be conducted by the factory's Hank Hoevenaar. Invitations have been sent to operators and service personnel from the area. Refreshments will be served in the Atlas showrooms following the presentation . . . Richard Prutting of Little LP's Unlimited in Northfield, Ill. has added six new items to his current release list—"Neil Diamond Gold", "Dr. Fountain's Magical Licorice Stick Remedy For The Blues" by Pete Fountain, "Golden Favorites Vol. II" by The Mills Brothers, "Fifteen Years Ago" by Conway Twitty, "The Patsy Cline Story" and "Third Album" by the Jackson 5 . . . While World Wide Dist.'s Art Wood is in the hospital in St. Louis undergoing a check-up, Bob Parker will be covering his territory and handling the World Wide Springfield office. Distrib's Chicago headquarters is plenty busy these days! Harold Schwartz says the Seeburg Musical Bandshell is without a doubt one of his hottest items. Factory shipments are arriving on schedule and moving out just as fast! Great! Salesman Chuck Furanec was in the office for a brief spell and then out again, into the cold, covering the south side of Chicago. We've been having some weather here—below zero temperatures, sleet, snow, the whole works!

Rock-Ola Mfg. Corp. is receiving all sorts of glowing reports from across the country on the factory's current lineup of phonographs, namely, the "444", "445" and "446" models! . . . The big three at Williams Electronics Inc. this week are "Flotilla", "Dipsy Doodle" and the "Cimarron" shuffle alley! . . . The Vendo Company just issued its 1971 schedule of Food Schools to be held in Kansas City, Mo. Dates are Jan. 19-20-21; March 9-10-11; May 11-12-13; August 10-11-12; October 5-6-7; and December 14-15-16. Operators desiring further information are asked to contact James D. Hughes at Vendo . . . Our congrats to COIN. The Nebraska state association will be celebrating its 20th anniversary this year. COIN's most recent meeting was held on Jan. 17 (see separate story).

MILWAUKEE MENTIONS

Business has been "extremely good", especially in the music department, at Empire Dist. these past weeks. The entire Rock-Ola line of phonographs is being very well received according to Bob Rondeau. The distrib recently put the brand new "446" on display and it's certainly attracting plenty of attention! A few weeks back Empire launched an "experimental" series of "question and answer" sessions aimed at the new serviceman, to help familiarize him with the various types of coin machine equipment he'll be handling. These sessions are conducted by Joe Eggner of Empire's service department and two of his assistants, who explain the basics of the equipment and are available for any questions the newcomers might have. To date the subjects covered have been the Smokeshop line and the Rock-Ola phonograph models. A total of 40 showed up for both sessions! With this kind of response Bob Rondeau intends to continue the program indefinitely . . . Nice chatting with Russ Townsend of American Vending Corp., who's steadily building up his newly acquired operation. "We've upped our equipment about 8% in the 3 months we've been in business and are looking forward to a very prosperous '71! In the course of our conversation Russ touched on a pertinent problem faced by many operators across the country—the "faulty" phonograph record. He feels the record companies should do whatever is necessary to alleviate this situation, inasmuch as it sometimes results in damage to a phonograph when an irate customer, dissatisfied with the quality of the record he selected, kicks the phonograph in retaliation!

Project 500 Lauded by COIN

OMAHA — A regular membership meeting of the Coin Operated Industries of Nebraska (COIN) was held here Sunday (17) at the New Towers Hotel Courts. Despite the Super Bowl game, Ed Kort, COIN president, stated that the meeting was well attended.

The agenda was full and included the following topics:

Federal Government's New 'Project 500'—Operator's are in favor of this program (Which is a Government apprenticeship training assistance program for Veterans.) There is a new program under consideration in Washington which would increase the amount of "assistance" and the length of training for mechanics, and service personnel. Operators were advised to contact their state agencies for more information concerning the program. In view of the closing of the Denver training school for mechanics, operators are in favor of continued Government assistance and feel that the 'Project 500' is needed.

Tax Bill 1360 is Jeopardized—1360 is the licensing and taxing of machines $100.00 per year for the license plus $10.00 for all equipment (except juke boxes.) Members would prefer that 1360 remain as is—since it is one way to discourage direct sales. A committee was appointed to study the situation because there are efforts being made in some quarters to repeal this bill.

Service Charge Contracts—Operator Steve Chelin announced a system he recently inaugurated at several of his locations. He issues a contract to the location specifying that X amount will be deducted to cover service charges. Steve Chelin said this would work especially well for new locations.

Break-In Legislation—Breaking into machines in the State of Nebraska is classified as "petty Thievery." Members feel stronger legislation (similar to Washington and Kansas) is needed to protect operators. A committee was formed to look into this problem.

COIN intends to step up its public relations in 1971. Copies of the MOA juke box booklet were passed out at the meeting and members were encouraged to deliver the speech in their respective communities. Ed Kort and Howard Ellis offered to assist in any way they can.

Also under consideration for 1971 is a pool tournament which would include the States of Missouri, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. Ted and Jack Nixon of Tarkio, Missouri gave out MOA Brass Meets; Mid-Year for D.C.

CHICAGO — Fred Granger, executive vice president of MOA, announced that in informal meeting of MOA officers would be held this past Sunday (24) at his office to discuss the possibility of instituting a centralized accounting and bookkeeping service for the organization's members. "We've had quite a few requests from members the past few months about this," Granger said. "The meeting is just to explore the in's and out's of such a service. Should the executives find the idea plausible, we'll take it from there."

Granger also advised that the mid-year board meeting for MOA directors will definitely be held in Washington, D. C. but specific date have not yet been set. Washington was chosen, Granger said, because the directors feel the copyright bill will probably come up before the Senate this spring and they want to restate the industry's position to their Senators beforehand.

informative literature on pool tournaments. A follow-up meeting will be held January 31 in Omaha to formulate the necessary tournament plans.

4-Channel Juke Bowed by C.M.I.

NEW YORK — Cameron Musical Industries Ltd. held a private press showing here on Tuesday (19) at the Edison Hotel to demonstrate the Cameron version of a 4-channel stereo jukebox.

Jack Gordon, Cameron president, revealed that by the addition of two more component speakers to the original two, another 200 watt stereo amplifier and several other conversion units — then utilizing the newly-introduced Electro-Voice 4-channel decoder, a stereo record could be electronically separated into four separate pieces of musical information and play authentic 4-channel music for the location patrons through four separately positioned speakers.

"Sound is a major sales factor," Gordon advised. "While the mechanism is essentially designed to use stereo singles and Little LP's, the new 4-channel mechanism would also greatly enhance the playback fidelity of a standard monophonic disk. However, Gordon stated that the ideal record would be one which had used the Electro-Voice "encoder" during the mastering process before the record is plated and pressed.

Dick Murphy, Cameron sales, also displayed a 4-channel San Sui Synthesizer, adaptable to the Cameron unit, which does basically the same job as the Electro-Voice. The San Sui serves as a channel mixer; the front panel has 4 view-meters, registering needle readings of the 4 channels. "While the San Sui is expressly designed to perform the same separating task as the Electro-Voice decoder, it is also viewed as a powerful merchandising gimmick for increasing jukebox play as well as better bar business. We call it the 'adult toy,'" Gordon said, referring to the San Sui mechanism. "We want location people to set it up right on the back bar shelves where the folks can see it. The bartender can fascinate the customers by toying with the dials and demonstrating thru the four speaker meters how quad-phonetic sound really works." He stated though, that the San Sui is optional equipment.

Basically, Gordon feels that the operator can now increase his minimum guarantee because he can go to the location and present the Cameron 4-channel stereo and Electro-Voice decoder as a traffic builder. "The operator is offering a new sound to location customers. During an introductory offer, the suggested list price to operators is $1,495, which includes the Electro-Voice encoder," he stated.

Cameron mechanism equipped for 4-channel. Note twin amplifiers. Decoder is not shown.
