EDITORIAL Off To A Flying Start

With reports of banner holiday sales coming in from dealers across the country, coupled with a record attendance of 50,000+ expected at this year's Winter Consumer Electronics Show (CES) in Las Vegas, it looks as though 1981 may indeed bear the fruits of last year's labors. For the past 12 months, the industry struggled to right itself after the disasters of 1979; and by the end of the year, even the tragic death of John Lennon was unable to stem the momentum.

Momentum is the key word. Throughout 1980, a lot of kinks were ironed out, and new ideas and approaches were tested under fire. Today, the industry can feel confident that such innovations as returns policies and the National Assn. of Recording Merchandisers (NARM) "Give the Gift of Music" campaign can really work over the long haul.

In addition, it is encouraging to see the growing strength of the video industry — as exemplified by the record number of exhibitors present at this week's Winter CES. The 50,000+ participants in the convention will be able to see displays of all three videodisc systems, a technological advance whose impact upon the future of the music business cannot be determined at this time.

It is clear that 1981 is off to a flying start. While a host of problems still remain — among them, the cancerous practices of counterfeiting, bootlegging, piracy and home taping — Cash Box is encouraged to see things in such a different state than one year ago today.

Christmas Sales Jump 10-30%, Spark Retail Optimism For '81

by Marc Cetner

LOS ANGELES — Continuing the trend established over the Thanksgiving weekend, record sales for Christmas week were up slightly over last year. Spurred on by the abundance of hit product, a sales surge in the wake of the death of John Lennon and the predictable last minute Christmas rush, retailers cited sales increases of 10-30% over the same period last year.

Kenny Rogers' "Greatest Hits," Barbra Streisand's "Guilty," Stevie Wonder's "Hotter Than July," John Lennon and Yoko Ono's "Double Fantasy," AC/DC's "Back In Black" and a plethora of other blockbuster releases were the chief reasons for the accelerated store traffic.

While unit sales were up slightly, the upward trend in revenues was also aided by the increased cost of albums over last year, as retailers generally upped their shelf prices to anywhere from 20 cents to one dollar since Christmas in 1979.

In addition, with the increased volume of such accessory items as blank tape, tape cases and record cleaners — estimated by some retailers to be nearly 25% ahead of last year — supporting rising record revenues and the strong array of product released for the holiday season, retailers expressed confident optimism for early 1981.

Record Bar Up

"It was a great Christmas," said Ed Berson of the 10+ store Record Bar chain based in Durham, N.C. "We were 16% up over last year. Christmas fell on a Tuesday last year, so that left us with three more shopping days and a bunch of plus business this year.

"The Lennon death, tragic as it was, got people thinking records, and the strong product kept business up. As long as the flow of hit product continues, we're staying optimistic for the future."

Echoing Berson's sentiment of optimism for 1981 was Mark Silverman, principal of the 19-store, Washington, D.C.-based Waxie Maxie chain. "We were up over last year by 30% and well ahead of our speculations," said Silverman. "We're hopeful that the strong product will continue in '81. In any event, the sales momentum will act as a buffer into the first part of the year."

More wary of 1981 was Ben Karol, president of the King Karol one-stop and retail chain in New York, who experienced one of the strongest Christmas sales seasons of any retailer in the country.

Less Competition

"We were 50% ahead of last year," said Karol, "and the #1 reason was because the death of John Lennon translated into sales a full two weeks before Christmas and stayed strong until after the holiday. There was also a lot less competition in the New York market, as well, with Korvettes gone and Goody's at limited inventory."

"But, the record business is too fluke to get too optimistic about the future," he continued. "A record usually sells for 60 or 90 days and then dies out. You have to have a steady supply of new and meaningful product, otherwise the market dries up real quick."

"Records are still the best consumer value in the entertainment market," added Jason Shapiro of the Pittsburgh-based National Record Mart chain. "No other product can say that it is cheaper than it was in 1950. Take into consideration that 30 years ago, records sold for $3.98 and were only 20 minutes long. They are twice as long now with better fidelity. So in reality, they're a better buy."

Prices Are Reasonable

Agreeing with Shapiro was Alan Levinson, head buyer of the Turtles chain in Atlanta. "The price of a record is simply convenient for the Christmas shopper," explained Levinson. "It's easy on the pocketbook."

Judge Denies Capitol's Motion For Preliminary Injunction In Hagar Suit

by Michael Martinez

LOS ANGELES — A Marin County Superior Court Judge denied a motion by Capitol Records Dec. 22 seeking a preliminary injunction to block label artist Sammy Hagar from entering a recording agreement with another company. In the same action, Superior Court Judge E. Warren McGuire terminated a Temporary Restraining Order (TRO) that Capitol had obtained after filing a breach of contract suit against Hagar last Oct. 17.

Capitol contends in the suit that Hagar, whose 1975 two-year, with a three year option, contract expires during January 1981, still owes the company product.

One week following the Marin County filing, attorneys representing Hagar's Steady State, Inc., for which he acts as president, filed a breach of contract suit in Los Angeles Superior Court charging that Capitol failed to provide tour support and did not follow through on contract provisions that called for promotion considerations.

Both cases are still pending, despite the injunction denial, in each court venue.

In the order denying the preliminary injunction motion and terminating the temporary restraining order, Judge McGuire said, "Considering (1) the public policy relating to enforcement of negative covenants; (2) the evidence of breach of plaintiff's obligation to reimburse defendant for the 1980 European Tour; and (3) the cases of MCA Records, Inc. vs. (Olivia) Newton-John (90 CA(3)18); Mackem vs. Johanson (174 Fed. Supp 522); Lemat Corp. vs. Barry (275 CA (2) 671) as to duration of the contract period, the court declines to issue a preliminary injunction and terminates the TRO..."

NMPA, AGAC, RIAA To Appeal Royalties Ruling

by Earl B. Abrams

WASHINGTON — Any thought that the final decision of the Copyright Royalty Tribunal (CRT) raising the mechanical royalty rate to four cents per song (Cash Box, Dec. 27, 1980) would hold without litigation was dispelled last month when petitions for review were filed by all parties in the federal appeals courts.

The National Music Publishers Assn. (NMPA) filed its notice of appeal in the Second Circuit Court of Appeals in New York. The NMPA felt the July 1, 1981 effective date for the new royalty fee was too late; that it should be earlier — presumably Jan. 1, 1981. Late last month, the American Guild of Authors and Composers (AGAC) also filed its petition for review in the same court. AGAC, however, made no comments on the basis for its appeal.

The Recording Industry Assn. of America (RIAA) filed its appeal in the District of Columbia Circuit Court in Washington earlier in the month, but also made no mention of what elements of the final decision it objected to. The recording industry, however, maintained throughout the almost year-long proceedings before the CRT that any increase in mechanical royalties would be opposed vigorously.

Although the CRT made its decision known Dec. 19, 1980, the official announcement was scheduled to be published in the Federal Register on Jan. 2, 1981. The CRT decision, voted by four of the five commissioners, increased the mechanical royalty fee from 2.75 cents per song, or one-half cent per minute to four cents per song or three-quarters cents per minute, effective July 1 this year. The CRT also proposed that adjustments be made each year based on the changes in the average suggested list price of albums or tapes in the 12-month period ending Oct. 31, 1981 and annually thereafter. The average listed price, the CRT said, would be determined from surveys and/or studies. CRT said also it would consider any comments or studies ter CES ever, according to the Electronics Industries Association/Consumer Electronics Group (EIA/CEG), sponsors and organizers of the event.

New videocassette recorder and videodisc player introductions and demonstrations will be among the top product highlights at the show, as between seven and 10 hardware manufacturers will bow and/or display videodisc player units. New model projection TVs, electronic games, home satellite communication systems, personal computers, digital audio systems, auto sound items, advanced telephone devices and security systems will also be showcased, in addition to video software, according to EIA/CEG senior vice president Jack Wayman.

"Despite the fact that sales of durable goods in the U.S. were off in 1980, particularly automobiles, which were down approximately 40%, the consumer electronics business remained surprisingly stable, and I think that's reflected in the response to the Winter CES this year," said Wayman, who projected that the total numbers of attendees at the ninth annual Winter show would be "around 50,000."

Videodisc Units Selling Well In Spite Of Software Ills

by Richard Gold

NEW YORK — Videodisc players proved to be a success at retail during the Christmas selling season. Dealers carrying the Pioneer and Magnavox laser-technology videodisc systems reported that sales matched or exceeded their expectations, and they indicated that consumer interest in the new product is growing steadily. However, most of the retailers interviewed by Cash Box were critical of recurring quality control and supply problems with the laser-read videodisc software. Pointing to 50% defective disc rates in some cases, as well as serious gaps in software availability, the retailers noted that consumer demand for the players could be undermined if these problems are not solved swiftly.

The dealers were generally enthusiastic about the initial consumer reaction to the videodisc players. "I think that sales are probably a little better than we expected," said John Furlong, divisional merchandise manager for the Brooklyn-based Abraham & Straus department store chain. Although company policy prevented him from disclosing sales figures for the videodisc units, Furlong said those 11 of the store's 12 outlets carrying videodisc hardware are "re-ordering constantly."

Paul Cruise, video consultant for the nine-story Crazy Eddie chain here, said his company "sold out" of videodisc players. Dennis Miranda, a supervisor at the five-store Stereo Magic chain in Rockland County, N.Y., said, "I have a very hard time keeping the videodisc players in stock." Buddy Corn, the owner of Bryce Audio in Manhattan, said videodisc player sales "seem to be taking off a little more than I anticipated." Corn added that he sold "between 30 and 50" of the Pioneer Laserdisc systems.

Defectives Problem

Although the retailers reported very few consumer complaints about hardware performance, they said crucial defects continue to plague the videodiscs, which are manufactured by Discovision Assoc., a joint venture between MCA and IBM in Carson, Calif.

"The software is just not up to par yet," said Miranda, who reported a "tremendously high return rate" of 50% on the videodiscs. "There are a lot of problems with the software," said Cruise, who noted that the most frequent customer complaints involved poor picture quality or mispackaged product. Dave Froelich, manager of J&R Music World in Manhattan, said, "very poor quality control and unavailability of videodiscs" had been a major problem at his store.

Larry Coulter, operations manager and video buyer for Father's & Sun's, a key sub-distributor based in Indianapolis and the first non-hardware dealer to enter the videodisc business (Cash Box, Oct. 18), said there were "two different types" of defective videodiscs. According to Coulter, whose company formed an alliance with the Hi-Fi Buys audio chain in order to get a videodisc software franchise, customers are "living with" discs that produce a "scratchy, fuzzy picture." Coulter added, however, that those discs bedeviled by a "frame-stop" fault that prevents the disc from playing beyond the defective point, "are the ones that people won't keep."

Like most of the dealers interviewed, Coulter said videodisc quality problems were exacerbated by an unreliable backup supply situation. "MCA Distributing was

Federal Mediator To Pass On AFM's Bid To Producers

LOS ANGELES — A representative of the federal Mediation and Conciliation Service (MCS) was scheduled Monday (Jan. 5) to present film producers a set of responses and proposals from the American Federation of Musicians (AFM) in the latest efforts to quell the five-month old strike.

Federal mediator Phyllis Cayse said after her meeting with the producers she would have a clearer idea of how far the disparate groups stand from settling on a commercial television and home video product residuals contract.

Both Cayse and AFM president Victor Fuentealba declined to comment on what new union settlement "concepts" were included in the package to be presented to producers, but Fuentealba did say there have been some "concessions from the union's settlement position."

In other developments, the union dropped its unfair labor practices claim with the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) that was filed shortly after talks between the union and management ceased last Oct. 29. Fuentealba initially announced that management had dropped its refusal-to-bargain claim against the union, which was also brought before the NLRB. But NLRB officials confirmed last week that the claim was still before the board, resulting in Fuentealba publicly admitting the error.

Jack Craig

Craig Named To RCA VP Position For U.S., Canada

NEW YORK — Jack R. Craig has been named division vice president of RCA Records for the U.S. and Canada, effective immediately. The announcement was made by Robert D. Summer, president of RCA Records.

In announcing the appointment, Summer said, "In March 1980, when Craig joined RCA Records as managing director, record division, RCA Limited (U.K.), we were aware that we had brought to RCA Records one of the most respected executives in our industry, a man with the capability to fill any position within the company. We are now placing him in one of the most important offices in our organization, where I am certain he will make a tremendous contribution to the success of our North American operations."

Highlights of Craig's U.K. involvement included the extension of a long term international association with Al Stewart and the signings of the Steve Gibbons Band, The Tourists, Grand Prix and Scartlet Von Vollenan.

New Duties

Craig's new responsibilities for RCA Records' U.S. commercial operations include A&R and marketing activities, as well as direction of RCA Records' Canadian operation.

In speaking of his appointment, Craig said, "Since joining RCA, I have been greatly heartened by the company's commitment to making RCA Records fully competitive in every market. The North American market is the world's largest and most challenging. My first concern in meeting that challenge will be to broaden RCA's roster of established artists so the division will have a constant flow of best selling, chart-topping product. Increasing our share of the market will depend on our success in making RCA the most attractive company for stars to be associated with.

It's been a long haul for gritty-voiced Riva/Mercury recording artist John Cougar. The Seymour, Ind. native has recorded four albums prior to his new "Nothing Matters And What If It Did," but he didn't receive national attention until last year's self-titled effort.

The scrappy performer has always branched a powerful blues rock voice and displayed the ability to write pop songs with great hooks, such as last year's "I Need A Lover" (which scored big for Pat Benatar), but he has finally broken the Top 75 with his latest release.

Cougar, who was born John Mellen-camp, began devoting full time to his musical career after graduating from college and unsuccessful attempts as a radio station executive and a telephone installer. Under the wing of David Bowie manager Tony DeFries, who had become intrigued with Cougar's demo tape, he landed a deal with MCA.

Two albums later — one released into obscurity by MCA and one that still remains in DeFries' vaults — Cougar found himself in Los Angeles meeting his soon-to-be manager, Billy Gaff, who also handles Rod Stewart and acts as label chief of noted European label Riva Records, released a Cougar album entitled "Biography" two years ago. However, the label didn't have U.S. distribution then, and while the record received notice internationally, Cougar remained somewhat of a stranger in the U.S.

All that came to an end in 1980 when Riva found distribution through Mercury Records, and Cougar and his journeyman rockband, The Zone, had a successful tour of the U.S. clubs in support of the namesake album.

The album carried such hot rockers as "Hotel Lies" and "I Need A Lover." His latest effort, produced by Muscle Shoals guitar great Steve Cropper, is even more of an improvement upon Cougar's R&B-tinged rock style.

Betty Alexenburg Dies

NEW YORK — Betty Alexenburg, 65, mother of Handshake Records' Ron Alexenburg, died on Saturday, Dec. 20, in Long Island Jewish Hospital. She is survived by her husband, Max, and sons Ron and Dean. Services were held on Sunday, Dec. 21, in Woodbury, New York; and burial was in Chicago.

In lieu of flowers or baskets, Alexenburg has asked that contributions be made to the local Haddassah Chapter or to Cancer Research.

WORKIN' 9 TO 5 — Songstress Dolly Parton has been making the national TV rounds to talk about her co-starring role in the 20th Century-Fox film 9 To 5 and her latest album of the same name.

NEW FACES TO WATCH

Yarbrough & Peoples

Cavin Yarbrough and Alisa Peoples grew up singing together, hoping to be "discovered." Now, with their debut Mercury album, "The Two Of Us," moving up the top of the albums chart and the single, "Don't Stop The Music," firmly lodged in the B/C Top 20, the duo's dream have begun to come true. "We didn't expect the success we're having," said Yarbrough. "We believed in our producer, Lonnie Simmons, and in our songs, but we didn't know how we'd be accepted. We just put it out and hoped."

Yarbrough and Peoples are not only singers but musicians and songwriters, having penned (in collaboration with Simmons and co-producer Jonah Ellis) over half the album's songs, including the hit single, and contributing keyboards, synthesizer and percussion, too.

The duo first met as young piano students in Dallas and soon were singing leads in the same church choir. Both named Gladys Knight, Stevie Wonder and Donny Hathaway as influences, although Yarbrough insists, "I listen to everything — country, pop, Gospel, R&B, all forms of music, even a guy singing on the street."

Yarbrough gained early performing experience with a local band, Grand Theft, with whom Peoples occasionally performed. During this time, he met the Wilson brothers (pre-Gap Band) and toured with Leon Russell and Mary McCrary. Yarbrough now says of those days, "I learned lessons about communicating with an audience that I never could have learned in school."

In 1977, Yarbrough and Peoples formed a group and were discovered playing the Dallas club circuit by the Gap Band, which led to a move to L.A. "Charlie Pride used to come see us play," Peoples recalled, "and when we'd get discouraged, he'd tell us to keep writing and singing and that it would eventually happen for us."

Both singers name producer Lonnie Simmons as "the mastermind" behind the album's successful blending of R&B and pop styles. Simmons noted that "my main contribution to production is that I spend a lot of time listening to the kinds of music that's getting over in the clubs I own in L.A. — Max 151 of Beverly Hills and the Total Experience — and I try to know what's happening now and what's going to be happening musically in the next few months."

"The Two Of Us" runs the gamut from late-night ballads to all-out dance floor assaults, for, as Yarbrough said, "Our music has no one particular direction — it comes as we feel it. We try to project a universal message through the music, a good feeling, good dance rhythms and lay a message in there, mostly love and belief in yourself, and, of course, don't stop the music!"

Yarbrough and Peoples have just completed a video promotion film and are planning to put together a band, "mostly people we know from Dallas," for live appearances both in the U.S. and Europe in the Spring. The duo has also contributed material to an upcoming album by Goodie, as well as writing songs for its next album.

The Tremblers

"I don't believe in regurgitating music," says a still boyish Peter Noone, ex-Herman of Herman's Hermits and current leader of Johnston Records group The Tremblers. "The fabulous '60s? The '80s are going to be much more exciting."

Still bristling with a manic, mischievous energy, Noone (who rivals Dick Clark for the title of rock 'n' roll's Dorian Gray) came out of self-imposed retirement in southern France and journeyed forth to Los Angeles with the dream of starting another band in 1978. It wasn't quite as easy as it may sound since the spectre of the Hermits, '60s British pop darlings and a group which sold some 51 million LPs during its career, continued to loom over Noone's head. But inspired by the new rock bands he caught in L.A. during his visit there, he was determined to make his mark once again.

The result of Noone's efforts over the past two years is an album, "Twice Nightly," that reflects a decided shift from the sugary sweetness of the Hermits' "Mrs. Brown" into a gutsy pop/rock stance. All of the cuts are originals, with the exception of a revved up cover of Elvis Costello's "Green Shirt," and it's definitely a group project. . . no star grandstanding for Noone.

"I didn't want to use my name in the group's name," stresses Noone. "That was the whole point of starting a band. Everyone has a piece of the record so it all works out. As for Herman's Hermits, the only thing that's good for anymore is the name gets my foot in the door for interviews and radio shows."

However, Noone, who was born in the English "little working class village" of Davy Hulme, does not shy away from talking about his past or the band which brought him wealth and international stardom.

Noone cut his first record with the Hermits at 15, which promptly took him on a career that would keep the teenager on the road for seven years.

He was 17 by the time the Hermits made their first movie, Hold On, from a script that he now says was "ridiculous." But they were still "kids," as he puts it, travelling to exotic places like Japan to give concerts to "hordes of screaming little girls." After experiencing his own sort of Beatlemania for several years, Noone tired of the road and packed it in to live quietly with his wife in a house near Cannes. Not quite content to live off his lucrative investments, Noone began getting together with "local freaks" in the mid-'70s, jamming on old Chuck Berry numbers in a custom designed rehearsal hall. He knew he had caught the performing bug again.

While in the U.S. two years ago, Noone looked up keyboardist Gregg Inhoffer, who he remembered from a '60s psychedelic band called Pepper Fog and who played on Dylan's "Blood On The Tracks" LP. The next recruit for the band was lead-guitarist Geo Connor, a "rock 'n' roll survivor" in L.A. who worked with Tonio K., Dyan Diamond, Jamie Sheriff, The Bulls and other local groups. Drummer Robert Williams was recommended by Stan Lynch of Tom Petty's Heartbreakers. Bassist Randy Rice was added later.

Record Retailers Began To Support Gun Control Push

LOS ANGELES — In the aftermath of the shooting death of John Lennon Dec. 8, handgun control organizations around the country continue to gain support from private citizens and business organizations, including record retailers, in their efforts to back formal regional and national gun control legislation. Charles Orasin, executive vice president of Handgun Control Inc. in Washington, D.C., said the citizens' lobby group is presently initiating a "major" direct mail campaign to heighten public awareness of the group's activities; while in California, the Southern California Coalition for Handgun Control is in the process of planning a "recruiting drive" for 1981. A "campaign kickoff" meeting is scheduled for Jan. 8.

"The response has not dissipated at all, at this point," said Handgun Control's Orasin. "We're still sorting through the thousands and thousands of letters and donations which keep pouring in here daily, and we have lots of different programs on the board for the new year, the most immediate being our direct mail campaign. Most of the donations we've been receiving have specifically been noted as tributes in memory of John Lennon."

Orasin further stated that what is necessary now is for citizens and "all interested groups" to help "sustain the momentum" for a handgun control legislation push in the wake of the Lennon shooting.

Joy Dell, representative of the Southern California Coalition for Handgun Control, said the group has been working for "a realistic gun control law for several years," but at a meeting Dec. 10, group organizers decided to earmark 1981 as "the year to recruit more members, find a way to attract enough money and gain influence to mount a successful initiative campaign." If necessary, she further noted, the group will hire an outside agency to run the campaign.

Recording industry related efforts to support handgun control legislation have included a number of smaller retailers taking out advertisements in local newspapers urging area residents to write to gun control lobbies or local legislators. Herb Sherman, owner of the Record Cove in Monterey, Calif., took out an ad in the Dec. 16 edition of the Monterey Peninsula Herald stating that the store "will donate one dollar for each John Lennon album or tape sold to further gun control legislation." The ad featured a mini of Lennon and Yoko Ono's "Double Fantasy" LP and a quote from the Lennon song "Give Peace A Chance."

The Southern California Coalition for Handgun Control is located at 8455 Beverly Blvd., Suite 400, Los Angeles, Calif. 90048. The telephone number is (213) 653-1166.

FBI Milwaukee Raids Hit Four Big Pirates

NEW YORK — Illegally manufactured LPs, audio and video cassettes, eight-track tapes and related mastering and manufacturing equipment, with an estimated value of more than $2 million, were confiscated in Milwaukee by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) on Dec. 20.

Coordinated raids were made by FBI agents at Acoustic Media Recording Service, Sunrise Distributors, Seven Mile Flair and Rummage-O-Rama. The busts stemmed from an ongoing FBI investigation into tape piracy activities in the Milwaukee area.

Seized in the raids were 200 masters on cassettes; 1,522 assorted finished bogus LPs, cassettes and eight-tracks; 905 blank cassettes; several hundred thousand counterfeit cassette labels; two high-speed, professional cassette duplicators; a new shrink tunnel and L-sealer; and assorted other equipment.

At Sunrise Distributors, agents confiscated some 20 Betamax videocassettes of illegally duplicated movies, including Star Wars and The Empire Strikes Back. Details on the pirated video product were conveyed to the Motion Picture Assn. of America (MPAA) by the anti-piracy intelligence unit of the Recording Industry Assn. of America (RIAA).

According to case agent Eric Kruss, no arrests have yet been made in connection with the Milwaukee raids, but the investigation is continuing.

Third Quarter Sales Up For Schwartz Brothers

NEW YORK — Schwartz Brothers, Inc. reported sales of $8,328,146 for the third quarter ended Oct. 31, 1980, up 8.4% from $7,680,224 for the third quarter 1979, according to James Schwartz, president. Nine-month sales also rose 5.8% to $22,234,906 from $21,011,454 for the 1979 period.

After a federal income tax credit of $63,463, a net loss of $63,463, or eight cents per share, was reported for the quarter, down sharply from the $188,505, or 23 cents per share, loss for the same period in 1979. The nine-month net loss was $433,953, compared with a loss of $383,753 a year earlier.

Schwartz Brothers, Inc. is a wholesaler and, through its Harmony Hut subsidiary, a retailer of records and tapes. The company recently announced the formation of a new division, SBI Video, to distribute pre-recorded home video tapes, blank video cassettes, accessories and tape storage furniture. Sales of approximately $31 million are projected for the coming year.

Craig Named As RCA Records VP

This will be my top priority."

Prior to joining RCA Records in March, Craig was most recently senior vice president and general manager of Columbia Records at CBS, Inc. In his position as head of the Columbia label, Craig had total responsibility for the A&R and marketing activities, with full responsibility for signing artists to the label and coordinating label marketing efforts for every Columbia release.

Started In The Field

Craig's career at CBS Records began in the label's field organization in 1960, and he held executive sales positions in the South, Midwest and Northeast regions. In 1972, he was named vice president of sales and distribution for CBS Records. Two years later, he was promoted to the position of vice president of marketing for CBS Records, and in 1976, he was promoted to vice president and general manager of marketing for CBS Records. Another promotion came in 1977, when he became senior vice president and general manager of marketing for CBS Records, a position he held until June 1978, when he was named senior vice president and general manager for Columbia Records.

Craig will be headquartered at RCA Records' home office in New York.

Six Arrested In RCA Cassette Theft Plot

NEW YORK — Six arrests have been made and at least 10 more are expected as a result of an investigation into an alleged million dollar cassette tape theft ring in RCA Record's East Indianapolis, Ind. warehouse and distribution center.

Police made the arrests Dec. 5, following eight months of investigation. Among those arrested were four present and one former warehouse employee, although police say the evidence points to two separate theft operations. Large quantities of stolen tapes are alleged to have been shipped to Chicago, Michigan and Florida.

Estimated Losses

Police speculate that RCA incurred double losses on the goods through stolen tapes being repurchased by RCA as unsold goods. Estimates placed the monthly loss through theft at $30,000-$50,000 worth of tapes.

Approximately 3,000 cassette tapes and 100 8-tracks were recovered during the recent arrests.

THIS MUSIC OF BUSINESS — Radio Records' chief Dick Kline will soon be working his records through a distribution system he knows well. Expect Atlantic Records, for whom he once was national promotion VP, to announce a distribution pact with the label . . . Radio syndicators are tripping over themselves battling for the rights to 20 hours worth of material from the "Campuchea" concerts, not on the forthcoming Atlantic LP . . . Local retailers should note that Korvette's has sold the lease to its midtown store, but is giving "serious consideration" to running 10 stores in the New York-Long Island area, according to chairman Joseph A. Ris . . . Sid Bernstein is managing Ornette Coleman . . . Look for less DOR 12" promo records from Warners . . . Predictions for '81: Look for most majors to follow Warners' lead vis a vis indie promo men.

SEX MACHINE IN OVERDRIVE — James Brown recently performed on Saturday Night Live. The airborne Brown is pictured above, with his band, The JB's, in the background.

Also look for a massive consolidation of Ariola's record business interests under the aegis of Elliott Goldman. SPOTLIGHT ON JAMES BROWN Y'ALL. HE'S THE KING OF US ALL Y'ALL — As the soul revival picks up steam — at least, in this town — it seems only right that the mantle of greatness again be worn by James Brown, who led the pack when soul first reigned in the '60s. What the revival has made clear — sometimes through painfully bad examples — is that soul music's original strength was a combination of both artist and rhythm section, and that the silent stars of the era were the peerless rhythm sections of the studios of Motown, Stax, Fame, Duke, etc. Which is only one reason Brown has an edge. Unlike many of the soul revivalists who are crafting their comebacks with pick-up and throw-together bands, Brown has been recording and touring non-stop with his four horn, two-drum rhythm section enduring soul's bleakest hour: the disco years. Which is not to say that Brown hadn't been a casualty. In the '70s most of Brown's funk innovations were taken, extended, and modernized by Brown's ex-bassist Bootsy Collins, and Collins' new guru and head funkateer George Clinton. Brown, too, was not unscathed by the cataclysmic changes in '70s music. Live, his performances were less inspired, and vitiated by his misplaced overtures to Las Vegas style. His records, as well, suffered from a strained attempt at reconciling his funk with the different demands of disco. The strongly opinionated Brown is not hesitant to admit that he now travels the comeback trail. "It was a mistake to do the disco thing," he reflects. "But people now realize that soul music has something that disco couldn't capture. And while I love Brad Shapiro (who produced Brown's last Polydor LP, "It's Too Funky In Here", the first time Brown had eschewed producing himself) his work with me proved one thing — that James Brown must produce himself." Brown is also sensitive to what he perceives as "a whole network of young people who want to see James Brown come back." This has been spearheaded by spunky roots-rock indie Solid Smoke which has taken exceptional care with the reissue and promotion of Brown's legendary live recording at Harlem's Apollo Theatre in 1962; in fact, the LP, retitled "Live And Lowdown At The Apollo," even enjoyed a brief resurgence of chart activity. Brown is keenly aware of the demands of his renewed acceptance. He's reassembled his backup vocal group, the Famous Flames, and has given more vocal time to original flame Bobby Byrd, who can lean into a mike like no one else; when he and Brown duet on "Soul Power," there are few duos, including Sam and Dave, who can match them. He's also reactivating some of the Flames wilder stage routines complete with leaps and splits, and not least, he is having new capes made up for the first time in ten years. Ever the sharp businessman, Brown is also using his regenerated cult success to goose the mainstream of the biz. Prior to renegotiating with Polydor, word has it that Brown took extra material from some recent sessions to his old friend Henry Stone at TK, whose release has also increased interest in JB. "Solid Smoke and TK are in the record business," says Brown. "Polydor is in the distribution business." With all this activity, Brown is keeping still more irons in the fire. He plans to cut a gospel album, possibly with The Swanee Quintet, and may do a tribute record to his old R&B favorites like Charles Brown. Would Brown pursue the rap-record style he flirted with on his recent "Rapp Payback" cut for TK? "No," he says firmly. "Why should I get on a bandwagon I started years ago? Whatever anybody else is doing, that's what I don't want to do."

SNIFFS "n" SNORTS — The Fanla All-Stars will perform at MIDEEM, after which they'll embark on a five-country European tour . . . Guitarist Ronnie Drayton has replaced Robert Quine in punk-funk group Deadline . . . P.I.L.'s John Lydon was recently acquitted of assault charges in Dublin . . . Rastaman Robbie Shakespeare has been jailed in Jamaica for alleged possession of a gun . . . Clash vocalist Joe Strummer is assembling an album culled from tapes of his old band, the 101ers . . . Pianist and PIR founder Leon Huff will sing on his next album . . . Billy Joel and Molly Hatchet will perform at Charlie Daniels' next Volunteer Jam . . . Sire has lost the Undertones . . . Chrysalis retains Stiff Little Fingers.

LENNON POST-SCRIPT — At the time of John Lennon's death, he and Yoko Ono were working on what was to have been a four song EP entitled "Yoko Only." The 12" disc was to have included two tracks from "Double Fantasy," a different version of "Open Your Box," and a new song called "Walking On Thin Ice." . . . The Beatles film classics soundtracks Help and A Hard Day's Night will be rereleased in Dolbyized stereo . . . Last, and definitely least, the New York Post reported a circulation rise of 150,000 for the issue which featured a cover photo of Lennon's corpse in the morgue. Happy New Year

RINGIN' IN THE NEW — The arrival of a new year is always cause for celebration in the jazz community. The clean-slate optimism that invariably marks the occasion, goes hand-in-hand with an opportunity to get out and hear some good music. With that in mind, it should come as no surprise that New Year's Eve, 1981 brought the new year swinging in at full blast. Chief among the noisemakers was National Public Radio's Jazz Alive program, which presented a seven and a half hour live stereo broadcast from four cities. Beginning at New York's Seventh Avenue South with The Brecker Brothers, the satellite transmission traveled to Detroit's Dummy George's to hear a quartet co-led by tenor man Houston Person and vocalist Etta Jones. Veteran organist Shirley Scott's trio rounded out the Motor City segment, and the broadcast pushed on to Chicago for singer Johnny Hartman and trumpeter Clark Terry at Rick's Cafe American. The final stop was San Francisco's Keystone Korner for a last big blow-out with saxophonists Sonny Stitt and Dexter Gordon, trumpeter Woody Shaw, guitarist Kenny Burrell and pianist Red Garland. Meanwhile, revelers in New York seeking their music in the flesh had their hands full trying to decide who to hear. Among the merry-makers were Dizzy Gillespie, making a rare small club appearance at Fat Tuesday's, James Moody at Palsson's, and a double bill of Betty Carter and The Heath Brothers at the Bottom Line. Also in the Big Apple were Jimmy Cobb at Jazz Forum, Joe Carroll at Jazzmania, Lou Donaldson at Sweet Basil's, Tommy Flanagan and Red Mitchell at Bradley's, The Lounge Lizards at the Peppermint Lounge and Defunkt at both Mikell's and Squat (figure that one out).

BIG BEN BLOWS AGAIN — Ben Webster, tenor man extraordinaire, will be the subject of a 102-hour radio festival on WKCR-FM in New York. The station, which in the past has presented marathon profiles of Miles Davis, Roy Eldridge, John Coltrane, Sonny Rollins, Oscar Pettiford, Louis Armstrong, Teddy Wilson, Thelonious Monk and others, chose Webster as a profile subject because of the saxophonist's diverse recording career, unique style and broad influence. Making his mark with the territory bands of the southwest, Webster's early work with people like Fletcher Henderson, Lionel Hampton, Benny Carter, and Stuff Smith preceded his prominence as a soloist with the Ellington Orchestra from 1939-43, and again in 1948. He spent much of the fifties touring with Norman Granz's Jazz At the Philharmonic groups, and working with his own small groups. In the early sixties, Webster migrated to Europe where he worked and recorded steadily until his death in 1972. From his first recordings to his last, Webster was an artist constantly developing and expanding his music, and the wealth of quality recordings he left offers a cross-section of many of the trends and periods of jazz. The festival broadcast will begin on Jan. 11, and conclude on Jan. 15. Despite the amount of work in researching, gathering, and chronicling this much music, WKCR is already planning future festivals to focus on Max Roach and Steve Lacy.

PIANO SUMMITS — Columbia Records is sponsoring two concerts to spotlight the keyboard artists on its labels. Entitled "One Night Stand: An Evening of All Stars," concerts featuring Herbie Hancock, Rodney Franklin, George Duke, and Charles Earland, performing with Ron Carter, Earl Klugh, Noel Pointer, Stanley Clarke, Hubert Laws, Bobby Hutcherson, Buddy Williams, Manolo Badrena, and Arthur Blythe will be held at the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion in Los Angeles on Jan. 12, and at Carnegie Hall in New York on Jan. 20. Special guests will include Ramsey Lewis and Bob James in Los Angeles, and Eubie Blake and Sir Roland Hanna in New York. Several pianos will be on stage to facilitate quick changes in group personnel, and highlights will include the premiere of an original composition for a six-piano ensemble. Columbia plans to record the concerts for a live album, and proceeds from the concerts will go to local charities. . . In another fund-raising event, Friends of Duke Ellington held a dinner at the Coconut Grove of the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles on Jan. 3 to establish a Leonard Feather Scholarship at the Duke Ellington School of the Arts in Washington, D.C. Performing at the dinner were Louis Bellson, Sarah Vaughn, and Joe Williams.

BETTY CARTER MINI INTERVIEW — In a recent interview with Cash Box, the superb vocalist, Betty Carter, discussed her feelings and some of the reasons she began Bet-Car, her own record label which has been marketed out of her home in Brooklyn since the first half of the seventies: "It was a tug of war for me with the big labels, because I'm afraid they really didn't know what to do with me. They got excited when I did the album in '61 with Ray Charles. They figured 'Oh boy! She's gonna go big!' But you're never big when you do it with somebody, it's never like doing it yourself. In those days, commercial radio stations were only playing records that were three minutes long, and every tune on the Ray Charles LP was five, six, eight minutes long. So you knew it was never gonna get any commercial airplay, only on late night FM jazz programs. I knew I wasn't ready for what they wanted. I can't be commercial, because conservative is just not my stick and I've gotta be me. I'd have to search for something, patch something, really think commercial, which would change my whole lifestyle. I understand the record companies, that it's all about money. And I understand that I'm really not that commercial person who's gonna make them a whole bunch of money. But in the fifties we did have record companies that would record artists because they were potentially good. And some artists grew up on record labels: Art Blakey, Horace Silver, Miles Davis, those kids grew up on Prestige and Blue Note." As an owner of a small independent label, does Carter feel any increased interest from the major labels for acts that can be inexpensively produced and return a small but consistent profit? "They're realizing that only now," opines the singer, "because they're in such dire straights. With the kind of money record companies were making overnight, there was no way you could tell a record company that they didn't know what they were doing, that they were gonna get into the position they're in today." Carter's own record company, Bet-Car, can be reached at 117 St. Felix St., Brooklyn, N.Y. 11217, and its most recent release, "The Audience With Betty Carter" is well worth checking out.

JAZZ ALBUM PICKS

OF MYTHIC WORLDS — Sun Ra — Philly Jazz PJ 1007 — Producer: Sun Ra — List: 7.98

There are other worlds not known to most of mankind, and Sun Ra's is one of them. His recent "discovery" by new wave devotees notwithstanding, Sun Ra has been making music for over 40 years, and he runs the gamut on this live recording. The Arkestra works out on the title track and "Mayan Temples," while Sun Ra goes it alone on "Over The Rainbow" and "Inside The Blues." Recorded at the 1978 Ann Arbor Jazz Festival.

THE HOT SHOT — Dan Siegel — Inner City IC 1111 — Producer: Dan Siegel — List: 7.98

Siegel is a fusion keyboardist/composer with a fresh, light touch. His arrangements steer clear of the hackneyed, and his keyboard work is intelligent and inventive. A native of Eugene, Ore., Siegel should garner some national radio attention with this one, particularly through tracks like "Sweet Talk," "Full Moon" and "The Hot Shot."

PHIL TALKS WITH QUILL — The Phil Woods Quartet with Gene Quill — Columbia Jazz Odyssey PC 36806 — Producer: Jim Fogelson — List: 5.98

Recorded in 1957 and first issued in 1960, this is something more than a blowing session. Although out-and-out battling is in evidence on "Scrapple From the Apple" and "A Night In Tunisia," cooperation and sympathy are the watchwords on "Hymn For Kim" and "Dear Old Stockholm." Two versions of "Doxie" are thrown in for good measure, giving the session takes a well-rounded, satisfying sound.

Federal Court Denies Tape Pirate's Appeal

NEW YORK — A Federal judge recently rejected an effort by convicted tape pirate David Heilman to overturn a judgement for more than $6 million against him on the grounds that Grand Jury secrecy rules were violated during his trial by a local court in Milwaukee.

Heilman alleged in his suit that the plaintiffs in his case, Mercury vs. E-C Tape, had been involved in a disclosure of Grand Jury documents in violation of section 6(e) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure. Heilman charged the Department of Justice, Ron Piette and Rick Florsheim (attorneys for the plaintiff record companies in the action) with alleged misuse of Grand Jury materials. He sought dissolution of the Grand Jury, disclosure of all Grand Jury minutes and transcripts, imposition of contempt citations against the Justice Department and the lawyers, and a temporary restraining order enjoining the release or use of any documents which had been submitted to the New York County Grand Jury of November 1978.

But Federal Judge Pierre Leval of the U.S. District Court for the southern district of New York denied Heilman's motion on Dec. 10, holding that "none of the policies which underlie Grand Jury secrecy were implicated" by disclosure of the documents in question.

In the Mercury vs. E-C Tape action, Judge Michael Barron of the Milwaukee County Circuit Court handed down an amended compensatory and punitive damage award of $6,740,728 against E-C Tape and Heilman on March 6, 1980. The court also held that the plaintiff recording companies were entitled to a permanent injunction against Heilman and his company.

Heilman has also been convicted and sentenced to six months in jail with a substantial fine by the U.S. District Court in Chicago following a trial on charges of copyright infringement.

Irving Spice Dies

NEW YORK — Violinist Irving Spice, a leading session player for over 30 years, died at St. Clare's Hospital in Manhattan on Christmas Day. He was 65 years old.

Spice headed a group known as the Spice Strings. He played on literally hundreds of hit records, and in recent years was a sought after string player for disco sessions.

Spice had no surviving relatives.

Appeals Court Orders Hearing On Sony Suit

LOS ANGELES — An expedited hearing was ordered last week by the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit in the lawsuit brought by MCA/Universal Studios and Walt Disney Prod. against Sony Corp. over the legal issues concerning off-the-air videotaping. With the expedited hearing now set for Feb. 6, a decision is expected to be handed down within a matter of months.

Federal Judge Warren J. Ferguson had previously denied all requests for injunctive relief and damages made by MCA/Universal and Disney in their suit, which challenged the sale and use of Sony's Betamax videotape recorder, Oct. 2, 1979 (Cash Box, Oct. 13, 1979). MCA/Universal and Disney attorney Stephen Kroft immediately appealed the decision, but the hearing itself was expected to be delayed for another one to two years.

The lawsuit was originally filed in November 1976, when MCA/Universal and Disney charged that off-the-air videotaping of their copyrighted motion pictures violated U.S. copyright laws.

RIAA Distributes New UPS Shipping Guide

NEW YORK — The Recording Industry Assn. of America (RIAA) is distributing its new United Parcel Service (UPS) Weight Shipping Guide to its members. The second part of what is planned as a three-part RIAA Freight Transportation Guide, the Guide was prepared by Behme Assoc., consultant to RIAA under direction and guidance of its Traffic Committee.

Available To NARM

Dealers and manufacturers of tapes and records often move small orders of 200 pounds or less. In doing so, the choice is between motor carrier or UPS, and the Guide provides instructions allowing selection of the most economical transportation. The supplement and the original edition covering common carrier regulations is being made available to members of the National Assn. of Recording Merchandisers (NARM) for the benefit of customers shipping returns and exchanges to manufacturers.

Part three of the Guide, an Air Cargo Shipping Guide, will be available to member companies early in 1981.

Information on the RIAA Freight Transportation Guide and the UPS Weight Break Shipping Guide is available from RIAA, 1633 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10019.

LENNON DISMEMBERED — Even before the world has had a chance to dry its tears over the death of the most beloved Beatle, the presses of crass commercialism have rolled. And while the streets will be deluged with no less than eight books on John Lennon in the next few months, two instant novels have already reached bookstore shelves. Let's hope that the other paperback books aren't of the same low caliber as Bantam books' Strawberry Fields Forever: John Lennon Remembered. Coming barely 12 days after the ten-minute silent vigil to commemorate Lennon's death, Strawberry Fields represents a new low in "cut up and paste together magazine and newspaper articles" journalism. The Vic Garbarini, Brian Cullman and Barbara Graustark biography is not only filled with presumptions, typos and factual inaccuracies, but seems wholly a pander to the death market. The book's only saving grace is the republication of Graustark's entire Newsweek magazine interview with John and Yoko, which took place while the two were recording "Double Fantasy" earlier this year. We're also fearful that the just shipped Manor Books' John Lennon: Death Of A Dream is yet another flimsy homage to the musical genius. The book's text is written by George Capozzi Jr., whose main qualification for the job was that he wrote the instant book on confessed "Son Of Sam" killer David Berkowitz. Even tackier than the instant biography is the knowledge that Manor decided to publish its book at 4 a.m. Dec. 9, not 6½ hours after Lennon was shot. And while the slapdash biographies and the morgue picture on the cover of a recent National Enquirer are beyond bad taste, we were pleased to see that Rolling Stone magazine paid its respects to the Walrus with reverence. Readers might be taken aback a bit by the cover of the Jan. 22 edition, but after observing the inside explanation seeing Annie Leibovitz photos and reading introspective articles by Messrs. Marcus, Flippo, Cott and Marsh one can only tip their hat to the rock publication.

A LOVE HATE RELATIONSHIP — The Cash Box staff was more than pleased to receive a visit from Wendy Orleans Williams and The Plasmatics last week. The famed New York shock rockers stopped by to chat after a triumphant show at the Santa Monica Civic, and Wendy O. proudly displayed her new black and white Mohawk haircut. "Now people will stop mistaking me for Suzanne Sommers and Deborah Harry," giggled Williams. The buxom punkette also had time to tell us that the practice of covering her breasts only with electricians tape during the bands stage show was her attempt at rock 'n' roll equality. "Men like Jim Morrison and Iggy Pop were overtly sexy and its my job to show that women can have their fun too." The conversation was not always so lighthearted, however, as Williams got quite serious when talking about the band's essence. "We're about release," explained the porno bar star turned singer. "And we feel that when the kids see us destroy a Cadillac, cut up furniture with a chainsaw and shoot off a shotgun they find release instead of holding all their frustration and anger in." And although the band's nihilistic punk sound will never win any awards for musicianship or inventiveness, they're explosive stage show just might. "Our acts of violence against Cadillacs and furniture are a love hate thing," offered Williams. "People work all their lives to obtain these objects so they love them and hate them at the same time. We're there to vent that frustration." On tour for the next eight weeks, the band is finding that they have an audience outside of ultra-hip New York as well. "New York is such a real town with its derelicts and bag ladies," said Williams. "We couldn't have formed any place but there. But L.A., which is supposed to be so mellowed out, went crazy for us — and we even have a fan club in Minneapolis. People all around the country seem to be hungry for our type of show." The mohawk coiffed band, which is said to be label shopping, will be promoting its recently released Stiff LP "New Hope For The Wretched" on ABC-TV's Fridays Jan. 16. "We're hoping to give TV addicts a little release," added Williams.

THE SIMPLE SONG OF HARDIN — Tim Hardin, folk-great who composed such classic songs as "If I Were A Carpenter," and "Reason To Believe," was found dead of an apparent heart attack in his Hollywood apartment Dec. 30. The 39-year-old singer songwriter's death comes as a major shock to the folk rock community as his song themes and jazz-blues inflected style was a great influence on many of today's top songwriters, including Bob Dylan. Hardin was born in Eugene, Ore. and is a direct descendant of legendary outlaw John Wesley Hardin.

WESTWORDS — Gregg Rolie, founding member of platinum Columbia act Journey, has left the band to pursue a solo career. Rolie's first post-Journey project will be production chores on the debut album by San Francisco band 4-1-5. . . The Babys have cancelled the remainder of its current North American tour after leader Jonathan Waite tore several ligaments in his leg during a recent show in New York. . . Irving Azoff will executive produce the soundtrack to the upcoming UA movie based on the futuristic comic book Heavy Metal. Considering that most of Azoff's acts are as mellow as a cello, fitting the mood of the film will take some doing. . . E/A has obtained the rights to the Randy Newman penned score to Milos Forman's Ragtime.

IN MEMORIUM — Cash Box sends its deepest sympathy to the family of Feyline Presents, Inc. production manager David Denny, who died from injuries sustained in a car accident Dec. 15.

OOPS! — Due to a typographical error, the lead item in the Points West column for Dec. 27 referred to Peter Gabriel as a dirty progressive rocker and failed to mention the correct title of the new Talking Heads album. The misprinted line was intended to list the 10 albums that received the most in-house play among the Cash Box West Coast editorial staff and should have read: "Group 87," Ambient II" by Brian Eno, "Bass Culture" by Linton Kwesi Johnson, "Multiplies" by Yellow Magic Orchestra, "Dirty Mind" by Prince, Peter Gabriel's third solo album, "Remain In Light" by Talking Heads and "Chipmunk Punk" by The Chipmunks.

RONNIE RIDES AGAIN — Ronald Reagan may not have moved into the White House yet, but he's already having his second LP readied. MCA should have its Ronnie LP, "Freedom's Finest Hour," out any day, and we hear British prankster label Stiff is finishing up production on "The Wit And Wisdom Of Ronald Reagan." The send-up is expected to contain excerpts from such vintage Reagan movies as Bedtime For Bonzo.

marc cetner

HITS OUT OF THE BOX

ARC OF A DIVER — Steve Winwood — Island
 ILPS 9576 — Producer: Steve Winwood —
 List: 8.98

It's always a rock 'n' roll event when this reclusive artist releases an album, and "Arc Of A Diver" is no exception. Further refining that fragile R&B jazz cum progressive rock sound that has marked his post-Traffic work, Winwood weaves his celestial keyboard figures around insistent funk rhythms. His high airy vocals and the lyrics of Will Jennings make this subdued fusion-oriented album a complete success. Winwood and Steely Dan are the two leaders of this subtle jazz rock sound, and while they might meet resistance AOR-wise, the two are pioneering a new progressive adult pop genre.

STAND IN THE FIRE — Warren Zevon —
 Asylum 5E-519 — Producers: Warren Zevon
 and Greg Ladanyi — List: 8.98

This Hollywood werewolf blew the mellow Southern California singer/songwriter cliché out of the water with songs like "Poor Poor Pitiful Me" and "Lawyers, Guns And Money," and on this eagerly anticipated live collection, he proves just how hard he can rock. His wry wit and black sense of humor are in peak form on this stellar 10 song collection. The LP, recorded last summer at the Roxy in L.A., contains such Zevon classics as "Werewolves Of London" and "I'll Sleep When I'm Dead," as well as new gems like the title cut and "The Sin." A barn burner for AOR.

FEATURE PICKS

DEFUNKT — Hannibal/Antilles HNBL 1301 — Producers:
 Byron Bowle and Janos Gat — List: 7.98

Satire in black abounds on this unique left field blend of hard bop jazz and the crème de la funk. Combining the deep, danceable bottom made famous by the P-Funk congregation with searing horn shots reminiscent of the hottest Kool and the Gang, accented by the polyrhythmic quirkiness of the Talking Heads, this band of New York-based street musicians has managed to bring jazz to the dance floor, where similar attempts have faltered or failed.

HOUSE OF MUSIC — T.S. Monk — Mirage WTG 19291 —
 Producer: Sandy Linzer — List: 7.98

As the name suggests, T.S. Monk is the son of jazz piano great Thelonious Monk, Sr. While his father's jazz influence can be felt, Monk's band sports a stylish uptempo R&B funk style. The band has done a lot of listening to Chic and Kool And The Gang, but the New York City aggregation has its own effervescent party style. Ballads like "The Last Of The Wicked Roman-cers" are charming, but bouncing, horn-filled romps like "Bon Bon Vie" and the title cut are the band's forte.

WALL OF VOODOO — I.R.S. SP 70401 — Producers: Wall Of Voodoo — List: 4.98 — EP

I.R.S. has scooped up two of the best new L.A. bands in Wall Of Voodoo and Oingo Boingo. The more austere and frightening of the two new music bands is Wall Of Voodoo. The fivesome began as a group that composed unsolicited science fiction film scores, and the hauntingly surreal synthesizer/rhythm machine style remains an integral part of the group's sound. Nightmarish, shrill and always interesting, the band has a bright future ahead.

CASTLE DONNINGTON: MONSTERS OF ROCK — Various
 Artists — Polydor PD-1-6311 — Producers: Various — List:
 7.98

The fervor for heavy metal has died down of late, but when this earth-rattling concert was recorded live in England last August, the head banging craze was at its zenith. The Donnington Festival featured some of Europe's premier high decibel units in Rainbow and Scorpions, and the disc captures all the feedback and fury that the bands can muster. Rebellious, raucous and alive with the cry of banshee vocals and ham fisted guitar rhythms, this LP is a must for metallurgists.

MY BABE — Roy Buchanan — Waterhouse 12 — Producer:
 Roy Buchanan — List: 7.98

Tiny little Twin Cities-based Waterhouse Records has been doing some pretty big things in the past year. Two of its most prestigious achievements were the signings of guitar giants Roy Buchanan and Mike Bloomfield. Product from Bloomfield can be expected shortly, but Buchanan's searing blues rock guitar can be heard at its finest on his debut for Waterhouse, "My Babe." The title cut and "You Gotta Let Me Know" illustrate how well the guitarist can blend with a rock band, but the album's highlights are gut ripping instrumentals like "Blues For Gary."

Judge Denies Capitol Motion For Injunction In Hagar Case

Engel, who is representing Hagar, said that perhaps the key factor leading to the judge's decision was evidence entered on Hagar's behalf that indicated there was a strong possibility Hagar's claim that Capitol had not supplied the foreign tour support would hold up during trial.

He said there was a strong "likelihood of success" for Hagar to obtain legal relief in his breach of contract suit.

Engel also said the public policy justification employed by Judge McGuire referred to reasoning that it was "unfair to grant such an injunction after the duration of the contract."

Agreeing that it appeared the judge based his decision in part on the likelihood of Hagar succeeding in his legal action, Bob O'Neill, head of Capitol's legal department, said the injunction denial "does not mean that the end result (after a trial) will not be different."

"Obviously it would have been nice to win in the injunction hearing, but not getting the injunction does not mean we can't win our case," O'Neill said.

Substantial Import

Engel said the case was precedent setting because it could have substantial import to recording artists in their future dealings with labels, and other performers, and because it recognized the value of the Olivia Newton-John case against MCA.

O'Neill said that Capitol lawyers haven't yet decided on a plan of action and are still viewing alternatives. He said that lawyers for the company may be prepared next week to continue with the pending court cases.

Engel and O'Neill concurred that even if Hagar were to lose the pending court battles, Capitol would most likely opt for cash compensation settlement, rather than trying to force Hagar to deliver additional product to the label.

"You know, it gets hard to make an artist produce when they don't want to," O'Neill said.

NMPA, AGAC, RIAA To Appeal Royalties Ruling

submitted by Nov. 3 of each year by interested parties.

Where suggested retail prices are unavailable, CRT said it would make the annual adjustments based on average wholesale price of albums. Average wholesale price, CRT noted, is to mean the highest price at which an album or tape is normally available for sale by the record manufacturer to non-affiliated, regular customers based on average per unit price of 100 or more albums shipped for resale.

Both Leonard Feist, president of NMPA, and Alvin Deutsch, attorney for AGAC, expressed a degree of satisfaction at the CRT ruling when it was announced last month. Feist remarked: "We believe that this adjustment is fully justified by the record..."

"The four cents floor recognizes that songwriters are an individual group," Deutsch added.

Earlier, Stanley Gortikov, president of RIAA, had termed the CRT decision "unconscionable."

SINGLES

NEW AND DEVELOPING ARTISTS

PHIL SEYMOUR (Boardwalk WS8x 5703)
Precious To Me (2:50) (Hearmore Music/On The Boardwalk Music — BMI) (P. Seymour)

Singer/drummer Seymour split the Dwight Twilley Band to venture out as a solo recording artist and ended up on the Boardwalk label. His debut single more than adequately proves that his prodigious talents for weaving light, simple pop/rock hooks with crystalline high backup harmonies have ripened over time, even without his Tulsa cohort.

MOON MARTIN (Capitol 4963)
Love Gone Bad (3:20) (Rockslam Music, admin. by the Bug Music Group — BMI) (M. Martin)

Martin hit the Top 40 for the first time on his own with "Rolene" from the "Escape From Domination" LP although he has been well represented on the airwaves and charts in the past through covers of his "Bad Case Of Loving You" and "Cadillac Walk." He should have another good shot at Top 40 with the Eagles-like harmonies and early R&B flavor of this ballad.

CITY BOY (Atlantic 3789)
You're Leaving Me (3:55) (Zomba Enterprises, Inc. — BMI) (Mason, Slamer, Ward)

Why City Boy's glossy brand of pop/rock hasn't reached a wider audience is a small mystery. The band's multi-layered high harmonies, perhaps its most distinctive asset, seem made for pop radio and here the soaring vocals are grafted onto a melancholy symphonic melody that will undoubtedly make a lot of people take notice.

DEBRA LAWS (Elektra E-47084)
Be Yourself (5:00) (Hulaws Music — BMI/New East Music — ASCAP) (D. Laws, N. East)

Adapted by the production skills of her musically distinguished brothers Ronnie and Hubert, Debra Laws knocks out a lyrically and musically upbeat message on this nicely paced R&B/pop tune from her forthcoming "Very Special" LP. A sleek string arrangement fills out the basic keyboard-rhythm combination, also featuring top-notch reed additions.

FEATURE PICKS

GABRIEL (Ad-Class 0001)
I'm Never Going To Feel That Way Again (3:50) (Waste Away Music/Pasa Alta Music — BMI) (B. Maciocia)

The debut for Providence-based Ad-Class Records could well be the independent label sleeper of the new year, as this startlingly bright tune by Gabriel crackles with top flight vocal work, most notably from Dylan backup singers Terry and Mona Lisi Young.

NEILSEN/PEARSON (Capitol 4965)
Two Lonely Nights (3:27) (Third Story Music, Inc./Poorhouse Music — BMI) (R. Nielsen, M. Pearson)

Reed Nielsen and Mark Pearson could well follow in the footsteps of the successful pop/MOR duo England Dan and John Ford Coley, judging from their auspicious start with "If You Should Sail." This vibrant tune establishes Pearson as a top-notch vocalist in his own right.

CHERI GAGE (Martian 1009)
96 Tears (2:44) (Ed. Arguello Pub. Co — BMI) (Martinez)

Add a dose of rock and R&B rhythm and a dollop of Blondie-like female new wave vocals to ? & The Mysterians' original '60s Tex-Mex hit, and you begin to get an idea of what this cover is all about. Already getting play on Southern California new wave radio mainstays KROQ and KNAC.

ROY AYERS (Polydor PD-2154)
Love Fantasy (3:28) (Roy Ayers Ubiquity — ASCAP) (R. Ayers)

Ayers treads a fine line between R&B and jazz, but walks it with such finesse that his thick, richly textured music appears effortless. The noted vibraphonist and arranger utilizes the feathery tones of the Fender Rhodes piano with a supple rhythm and jazzy guitar on this fine duet, the title track from his current LP.

FIREFALL (Atlantic 3791)
Staying With It (3:01) (ATV Music Corp./Braitree Music/Snow Music — BMI) (T. Snow, J.L. Parker)

The title of Firefall's first single from its new "Clouds Across The Sun" LP is more ironic than it may initially appear since the band hasn't had a hit in awhile. But, Rick Roberts says at the song's opening, "This is it," and the band backs it up with musical muscle.

HITS OUT OF THE BOX

PAT BENATAR (Chrysalis CHS 2487)
Treat Me Right (3:15) (Blackwood Music Inc./White Dog Music — BMI) (D. Lubahn, P. Benatar)

THE DOOBIE BROTHERS (Sesame Street/Warner Bros. WBS 49642)
Wynken, Blynken And Nod (3:19) (Silkie Music Publishers — BMI) (E. Field, L. Simon)

Going hand in hand with the upward trend in record sales were the revenues generated by sales of accessories. Strong sales of such items as blank tape and tape cases were reported by many retailers. Two such stores were Cavages in Buffalo and Everybody's Records in Portland.

"Accessories were selling phenomenally," said John Grandoni of Cavages. "Blank tape sales were especially outrageous. I'd say they were up over last year anywhere from 25-50%."

"The blank tape made great stocking stuffers," added Don Crouch of Everybody's, "but we've really diversified in our accessory lines. We had dramatic success with video games by Atari, Mattel, Entex and the hand-held Coleco games."

The healthy sales picture for product and accessories and the spirit of the holiday season also received a heavy boost from the National Assn. of Record Merchandisers (NARM) "Give The Gift Of Music" campaign, which retailers rallied around in force.

Many stores chose to run promotional slogans along with the NARM logo.

"Our own promotional slogan for Christmas was 'A Season Of Magic,' and it ran beautifully with the Gift Giving idea," said the Record Bar's Berson. "Also, our employees wore a pin that had that NARM logo, and that caught customers' eyes."

Shapiro of the National Record Mart also mentioned that the chain wrapped the

SESAC To Make Cuts

NEW YORK — SESAC, the music licensing company, recently announced that it will be streamlining and restructuring its operation.

Speaking at the Dec. 29 year-end meeting of the board of directors of SESAC, Inc. in New York, board chairman Alice H. Prager stated that SESAC "will reorganize where necessary from staff levels to top management, in an all-out campaign to fully concentrate on the collection of royalties due our writers and publishers in the many new areas covered by the revised Copyright Law. This will mean a reduction in staff in some areas and the replacement, shifting, and addition of staff in others."

Noting that the company is entering its 50th year, Prager pledged that SESAC would "continue to vigorously pursue its collection of fees due its affiliates for the use of their copyrighted material."

NARM slogan around Columbia Records' "Nice Price" logo, and said that his company will give both themes support in the new year.

Overwhelmed By Response

"With TV, print and record ads, record jackets and in-store display, we figure that in the three weeks prior to Christmas, the NARM logo and slogan were receiving exposure 25 million times a day," said NARM executive vice president Joe Cohen. "We have been overwhelmed by the industry's acceptance of the campaign. With the 'Give the Gift Of Music' theme, we've done more to promote the industry in the last nine months than anyone has in the record business' 100 years."

Licorice Pizza's Larry Foster summed up the retail community's zeal for the NARM campaign best when he said, "Every time people see that logo and slogan, we consider it a hit for us as well as them."

AT IT AGAIN — The Federal Communication Commission (FCC) supported proposal to reduce spacing on the AM band from 10 to nine kHz and thereby make it possible for the addition of hundreds of new stations in this country, received little support in data contained in the economic and engineering reports submitted to the FCC by the Committee on Radio Broadcasting's Group on Radio Spectrum Allocations. The committee was created by the FCC last Sept. 22 to provide advice on the economic, social and technical factors involved in reducing AM spacing from 10 to nine kHz. In response to the findings of these reports, which seem to support the National Assn. of Broadcasters' (NAB) position opposing the nine kHz proposal, NAB president Vincent Wasilewski reiterated the NAB's demand that action on this issue be deferred until adequate studies are made. The NAB and broadcast associations from Canada and Mexico recently petitioned the FCC to defer action until 1985 (Cash Box, Dec. 13, 1980). The committee's findings, which were based on studies conducted by A.D. Ring, consulting engineers, and the accounting firm of Frazier, Gross & Clay, concluded that the FCC philosophy of "more is always better" is not acceptable. According to a NAB summary of the committee's report, the findings revealed that "listener demand for new stations is greatest in the small and large markets and from an engineering standpoint, small markets offer the greater opportunity for creation of additional radio stations. However, because the broadcast economy is not sufficiently profitable to absorb a large number of new stations, AM radio in particular will face large revenue losses with the least potential for success in medium and small markets." A non-technical cost study prepared by Frazier, Gross & Clay for the NAB also estimated that $500 million worth of radios presently being used by consumers would become obsolete with a nine kHz shift. "The irony is that sparsely settled regions hold the best prospects from an engineering standpoint to shoe-horn in new stations," said Wasilewski, "while the entrepreneurial demand is in the big metropolitan areas, and where for the most part, under the most grandiose FCC proposal, this is an engineering impossibility. The engineering and economic data submitted to the Commission buttresses our arguments. This is one area where solid research, not social aspirations, must dictate," he concluded.

KHJ Media Blitz Promotes Country Format And Image

by Mark Albert

LOS ANGELES — Former Top 40 giant KHJ has launched a massive promotional push to introduce its new country format to Los Angeles and outlying markets. The campaign, which began on Nov. 7 when the station switched formats, includes outdoor advertising, television spots and print advertising, as well as a variety of new musical IDs featuring a number of easily recognizable country music stars.

Nancy Podbielniak, director of marketing and creative services for KHJ, explained that a campaign of this magnitude was necessary in eliminating the station's old identity, while at the same time establishing a new image.

"KHJ had a brand image that was so strong," she said, "that we needed to show as many people in as many different ways that while we're still KHJ, we're offering something completely different to better serve our listener's needs."

Utilizing the theme "We All Grew Up To Be Cowboys," the campaign was inaugurated in November with a series of musical IDs specially written by noted Nashville songwriter Lewis Anderson (lyrics co-written with Podbielniak) and performed by country artists such as Rosanne Cash, Katy Moffatt and Rodney Crowell. This was followed by an outdoor advertising campaign initiated in mid-December, highlighted by billboards featuring Dolly Parton, Kenny Rogers, Charlie Daniels, Barbara Mandrell, Crystal Gayle and Willie Nelson.

The next phase, which began Dec. 26, was the implementation of a television blitz with 30-second spots tied in with the artists featured on the billboards and a newspaper advertising campaign. The TV spots are running on six stations, while the newspaper campaign debuted with a full page ad in the Sunday entertainment supplement of the Los Angeles Times.

"The beauty of this campaign is the cross promotion of the billboards, TV spots, print ads and musical IDs that tie together our theme of 'We All Grew Up To Be Cowboys,'" Podbielniak stated. "The TV spots open with a shot of one of the billboards that furthers people's familiarity and association of those artists with what KHJ is

Killen Buys Balance Of Tree Stock Following Stapp's Death

by Richard Imamura and Jim Sharp

NASHVILLE — Buddy Killen, president of the Nashville-based Tree International publishing house, has acquired the balance of the company's stock in the wake of the recent death of partner and Tree founder Jack Stapp. Although unwilling to disclose terms of the transaction, Killen did confirm he had bought the 60% share of the company owned by Stapp's estate. (Killen already owned 40% of the company).

Buddy Killen

"It was an automatic thing," said Killen of his acquisition of the balance of the company. "It was something Jack and I had worked out some time ago, that the balance of the company would go to the remaining partner if one of us died. It was something we had worked out to protect ourselves."

While financial figures were not disclosed, Tree International officials noted that late last year, Stapp and Killen had declined a sale bid in excess of $40 million. Tree International, with its Tree Publishing (BMI) and Crosskeys (ASCAP) subsidiaries, is one of the largest Nashville publishing houses, with nearly 100 staff songwriters and more than 6,000 songs in its catalog, in addition to a production company, Tree Prod.

New Position

Killen will retain his current position as president of the company and assume new duties as chief executive officer. Stapp's position of chairman will not be continued.

"Except for the changes at the top, it will be business as usual," said Killen on whether the company would change direction or personnel in the wake of Stapp's death. "The company is solid and stable, and we are not for sale."

"We are already putting together a lot of new, exciting plans," Killen added. "There are many things we are planning and doing now, which we will announce at the appropriate time in the future, that have given us a lot of optimism. Let me just say there are a lot of exciting things on tap."

Killen, 48, a native of Florence, Ala., joined Tree International in 1953 as a song plugger. In 1956, he discovered "Heartbreak Hotel," which became Tree's first big hit and helped launch Elvis Presley's career.

By 1957, Killen had become a stockholder in the company. He then worked his way up the company ladder until he was named president in 1975. Along the way, he worked with a wide array of artists, including Dottie West, Roger Miller, Joe Tex, Bill Anderson, Carol Channing, Grand Funk Railroad and Paul McCartney. He will continue his work as a producer for T.G. Sheppard, Ronnie McDowell and Tex.

Universally Mourned

Stapp, who died Dec. 20 in Nashville following a long illness, was a respected figure on the country music scene. Founder of Tree International, which grew to become one of Nashville's largest publishing houses, Stapp was instrumental in launching or maintaining many careers in country music, and his death was universally mourned throughout the industry. The funeral and interment took place in Nashville Dec. 22.

"We lost one of the great motivators of all time when we lost Jack Stapp," said Tree songwriter Sonny Throckmorton. "He never failed to tell how much he loved songwriters and to give a pat on the back and tell how gifted a person was."

Prominent Tree songwriter Curley Putman, who has been with the company for 17 years, said, "Losing Jack was a great loss to the whole music business, but to me it was like losing one of my own family;" and Red Lane, Tree songwriter who was signed over 16 years ago by Killen, added, "I always felt like Jack was a friend first and a publisher second, and there's nothing worse than losing a friend."

Finally, Bobby Braddock, yet another well-known Tree songwriter, summarized the feeling around Nashville by saying, "Jack was a man with great foresight. Many, many years ago, he recognized Buddy's talent and energy and, therefore, Tree's potential. That's why Tree is where it is today, and, with Buddy in complete control, I feel it will continue to grow."

WILLIAMS GARNERS AWARDS — MCA recording artist Don Williams recently received gold album plaques on both sides of the Atlantic — in the U.S. for his "I Believe In You" and "Best of . . . Volume II" and in Europe for "A Touch of Don Williams," distributed by K-Tel. In addition, he received a silver plaque for "Portrait" in the United Kingdom, with distribution by MCA. Pictured attending the presentation of U.S. awards are (l-r): Jim Foglesong, president, MCA Nashville; Williams; Garth Fundis, producer; and Chic Doherty, vice president, marketing, MCA.

Rabbitt To Star In National Television Sports For Miller Beer Throughout '81

NASHVILLE — Eddie Rabbitt will be seen on national television throughout 1981 in a Miller High Life beer advertising campaign that features a live performance of the Elektra recording artist's current single, "I Love A Rainy Night."

The campaign features 30, 60, and 90-second spots with a live rendition of the single taped during Rabbitt's appearance last Nov. 29 at the Mesa Community now all about," she added.

The campaign, according to Podbielniak, is aimed at the 25-49 year old audience — a great many of whom were teenagers and young adults during the station's heyday as the "Boss Radio" king of Top 40 in the '60s and early-'70s. She noted that producing different musical IDs and further enhancing the billboards with illustrations of Southern California lifestyles is intended to show the broad mass appeal that country music and country artists have today. She also said that the various billboards and TV spots were exclusively produced for the KHJ campaign.

In conclusion, Podbielniak said, "This is just the tip of what is going to be an on-going extensive campaign in telling Los Angeles listeners what the new KHJ is all about."

Amphitheatre in Mesa, Ariz.

Rabbitt's agreement with Miller calls for the commercials to run a minimum of one year, distinguishing Rabbitt as the first country artist to appear in a national prime time ad campaign for a major corporation for 52 weeks.

Although Miller originally intended to begin airing the spots in March, the company reportedly was so pleased with the results that it ran the spot during the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day. Miller also has purchased time for the ad during the AFC and NFC championship games and the Super Bowl.

Currently "Rainy Night" is in the top five of the Cash Box Country Singles chart and in the top 30 on the pop chart. The single is the second from Rabbitt's gold LP, "Horizon." "Driving My Life Away," the first single, went gold. "Rainy Night" is reportedly approaching gold status with sales in excess of 750,000.

Miller will run a parallel radio campaign, the details of which have yet to be announced.

Exceptionally heavy radio activity this week

Exceptionally heavy sales activity this week

It began as a barn dance.

When announcer George Hay and an octogenarian fiddler, Uncle Jimmy Thompson, inaugurated the show in 1925, it was known as the "WSM Barn Dance."

Millions now know it as the Grand Ole Opry,[®] Mother Church of Country Music. And each year hundreds of the industry's prime movers make the pilgrimage to Nashville for the Opry's birthday bash.

These are the disc jockeys from 33 states, recording company executives, New York and Hollywood film industry executives, advertising executives, and talented musicians and singers who are the heirs to an institution created by their predecessors.

This year's party included the largest contingent of national and international media representatives ever. SINGLES REVIEWS

NEW AND DEVELOPING ARTISTS

EDDY RAVEN (Dimension DS/1017)
Peace Of Mind (2:52) (Milene Music — ASCAP) (E. Raven)

This self-penned tune showcases Raven's vocal style superbly. Strong guitar licks and an upbeat melody combine with tight production by Ray Pennington to yield an impressive single, alive with an energy and excitement that demands a listen.

DOUGLAS (Door Knob DK-80143A)
Have Another Drink (2:24) (Davray Music Publ. — PRS) (R. Davies)

The "A" side to this single does not do justice to this new artist's talents, but it could be the vehicle to launch his career. The "B" side is very suitable for programming and offers a more realistic sample of his talent. An interesting cover of the old Kinks classic.

THE COUNTRY COLUMN

STARTING OFF ON THE RIGHT FOOT — First of all, welcome to 1981 and the first Country Column of the new year. . . Tom T. Hall spent a wee bit of his holiday in his studio, the Toy Box in Nashville, working on a self-produced single for release the first quarter of '81. This month (January), Hall will also begin a three-month hiatus from touring to complete his upcoming novel for Doubleday Publishers, New York.

BUSINESS NEWS — Cary Baker, publicist with Ovation Records, resigned from that post, effective Jan. 1. Baker will be involved with freelance writing work, as well as some record and video production. He can be reached at P.O. Box 375, Wilmette, Ill. 60091. His telephone number is (312) 328-6714. We wish the best of luck to Baker in all that he pursues.

Bobby Springfield, one of the contemporary Christian field's hottest new acts and a notable country songwriter as well, is looking for an act, gospel or country, to front for a possible spring tour. Personally, we feel Springfield would be an excellent opening act for the Oak Ridge Boys. His high energy level is similar to the fast action shows the Oaks perform. It might be worth some consideration.

The Rangers opened shows for T.G. Sheppard and Sheila Andrews at the Hitchin' Post in Bristol, Tenn. recently, before traveling to the Bananas Club in Albany, Ga. for a return engagement.

Actor Slim Pickens released a single in December titled "Christmas In November." The accompanying press letter stated the single is not a "Christmas song," so if any of you radio people have it in hand, you may want to give it a listen.

Congratulations to Deadly Earnest guitarist Mike Balas and wife Connie on the birth of their new son, Zebulun Michael.

The Oak Ridge Boys will be hosting the 50-hour Hickory Creek Reunion radio special, produced by Bart McClendon Broadcasting. The special, which will air in early spring, will feature a host of country artists in a fantasy concert situation.

Tammy Wynette recently returned from Honolulu, where she taped a segment of the Mike Douglas Show.

Hee Haw personality Archie Campbell will be doing a series of television and radio commercials for Howard Brothers Discount Stores throughout 1981.

Stan Hitchcock will be taping the fourth series of his Ramblin' Productions Syndicated television show March 22-28 at the School of the Ozarks in Point Lookout, Mo. Ramblin' Prod., Ltd. is handling the booking of the talent for the spring series.

James Marvell, former lead singer for the '60s rock group Mercy, has a new country release called "Urban Cowboys, Outlaws and Cavaleers" on Cavaleer Records. Some of you may remember the Mercy's 1969 hit, "Love Can Make You Happy."

Country Music Hall, a PBS-TV special music series, will kick off its 1981 season with RCA artist Razy Bailey. The series was made available to PBS stations through the PBS satellite system on Dec. 26. Through this service, the Bailey show can be picked up by individual stations at different times throughout 1981. Meanwhile, Bailey's Bob Montgomery-produced album is scheduled for release the first quarter of 1981.

STUDIO TRACKS — In Nashville's Sound Emporium, Rio Records artist Chris Waters is cutting "My Lady Loves Me (Just As I Am)," a follow-up single to his first. The upcoming release was produced by the artist and studio president Jim Williamson, who also engineered the recording. Waters, who penned the Dr. Hook hit "Sexy Eyes," is a staff writer for April Blackwood. . . Epic artist Joe Stampley and producer Ray Baker recorded at Sound Emporium Dec. 16, with Billy Sherrill engineering.

An official "Volunteer Jam VII" poster has been created by contemporary painter Pau! Harmon. The collector's edition posters are available through mail order (Sound Seventy in Nashville) for seven dollars apiece, including handling.

Columbia's Bobby Bare was the guest of honor when Austin City Limits' sixth season was previewed by the New York press at the Lone Star Cafe, Dec. 16. Preview party guests viewed the program on a giant TV screen while they munched on a Texas-Mexican buffet. The season opener, which will feature the Charlie Daniels Band, will premiere on 260 PBS stations Jan. 8.

BAH! HUMBUG! — Warner Bros. recording artist Rex Allen, Jr. experienced a not-so-merry Christmas when his bus was stolen from a parking lot near Nashville. Authorities spotted the vehicle burning about 30 miles outside of the Tennessee capital and indicated it had been blazing for about three hours. An undisclosed amount of equipment was found in pieces near the bus. The case is being investigated by Nashville police and the Cheatam County Sheriff.

CASH BOX REPORTING LIST NEARING COMPLETION — For the past several months, Cash Box has been reviewing the status of its present list of reporters in order to more fully and accurately reflect the Top 100 songs in country music. Next week, the new list will be completed and distributed. The selection of reporting stations was not based on any input from record labels or independent promoters. Instead, the list was compiled from research done within the office and from information received from stations wishing to become reporters. Thanks to all the stations that sent in corresponding materials. We will list the new reporting stations in next week's column.

PERSONALITY PROFILE — Scott Wallace was recently appointed program director for Texas powerhouse KLIF/Dallas-Ft. Worth, which began its country career Jan. 1, 1981.

Scott Wallace

Wallace began his radio career in 1959 with WAAT/Trenton, Pa. at an early age and worked his way to a spot as the evening director. Then acquiring different goals, he became a medical student at Syracuse University for a short period . . . until he heard radio calling him back. Wallace spent the next several years with WAMS/Wilmington, Del., doing the morning shift, and WRW/Reading, Pa., where he handled the programming chores, before moving back to WAMS again. Then Wallace decided to change mediums, moved to Washington D.C., and spent the next year-and-a-half working in television. Next came a freelancing period from 1970-73, where he worked as an independent talent consultant, handling acts in the Washington-New York area. Wallace resumed his radio career in 1973, heading west for contemporary rock station WROK in Peoria, Ill. Then, in 1976, he found himself in Boston as half of "Scott and Crunch," a popular mid-day talk show team. After doing mornings with WCAR/Detroit (now WCXI) and KZLA/Los Angeles, Wallace has found a home with KLIF, "The New Texas Legend," and considers the career change "extremely exciting," especially considering the tremendous staff at KLIF as it begins its country career.

NEED SOME PRODUCT — WKIR/Jackson, Tenn. is entering the new year with a new format. The FM, former AOR station is now broadcasting country music and is in need of record service from all labels. WKIR boasts 100,000 watts, reaching into the states of Kentucky, Arkansas, Missouri, Alabama and Mississippi, as well as Tennessee. Please address all correspondence to Bob Ryan, program director, WKIR-FM, 122 Radio Rd., P.O. Box 1119, Jackson, Tenn. 38301, or telephone (901) 427-3316.

HOSTAGE VIGIL — WHK/Cleveland invited all other area radio stations and its listeners to join in a Christmas Eve candlelight vigil in remembrance of the American hostages still being held in Iran. The stations asked listeners to light a candle outside their homes at 8:00 p.m. and to hold the candle for 417 seconds, commemorating the number of days the Americans have been held hostage.

SPREADING THE WORD — AI Turner has been named the official "KAYSON COWBOY" by KSON/San Diego. Turner will be galavanting throughout the KSON countryside each evening, visiting all the country night spots delivering promotional paraphernalia, and occasionally sitting in on bass guitar with local nightclub bands. In addition, Turner will call the station every night to report his activities and the happenings at the clubs about town. He will also act as emcee for the television version of the KSON Country Roadshow seen Fridays at 8:00 p.m. on Southwestern Cable 16 and Mission Cable 24.

ANOTHER IN NEED OF SERVICE — Bob Tate, a 33-year radio veteran presently doing the all night show on KTWO/Casper, Wyo., is in urgent need of record service. KTWO is a clear channel, 50,000 watter serving the Northwest, Alaska, Hawaii and northwest Canada. Please send emergency aid to Tate at KTWO, P.O. Box 2720, Casper, Wyo. 82602.

KUDOS FOR MUTUAL — More than two weeks prior to the airing of Mutual Radio's New Year's special, the program had been completely sold out. According to Mutual vice president in charge of sales, Arthur Kriemelman, Country Music Countdown — 1980 had cleared on over 700 stations, blanketing all of the top 100 markets. This established the New Year's countdown as the "highest clearing music special in recent radio history."

WSIX/Nashville Raises $30,000 At 'Parade Of Pennies' Christmas Drive

NASHVILLE — WSIX Radio here recently sponsored its 19th annual "Parade of Pennies," a pre-Christmas fund raiser that generated over $30,000 to buy toys for 2,-800 needy children. The primary projects included a series of live remote broadcasts, two the weekend after Thanksgiving from an area shopping center and the third from the display window of a downtown department store.

The first two remotes featured such country music artists as Don King, Kelly Foxtan, Webb Pierce and Cindy Cash, as well as soap opera stars Clint Richie, who portrays Clint Buchanan in One Life To Live, and Candy Early, who plays Donna Tyler in All My Children. The artists were on hand to answer questions and sign autographs.

Christmas Message

The third remote had WSIX-AM announcer Jim DeMarco and recording artists Dave Dudley and Orion talking with shoppers. Additional support came from recording artist Sonny James, who recorded a Christmas message encouraging listeners to support the "Parade of Pennies."

The campaign culminated with a Christmas party for the children Dec. 20 at the Nashville Fairgrounds. O.B. McClinton, better known as "The Chocolate Cowboy," was on hand to entertain the guests of honor.

WELCOME TO THE WINTER CES — Record crowds are expected to converge on the Las Vegas Convention Center (pictured above at last year's Winter CES), Hilton Hotel and Jockey Club exhibition facilities during the 1981 Winter Consumer Electronics Show Jan. 8-11. 857 exhibitors will take up 517,000 square feet of floor space in the three areas over the course of the four-day event.

50,000+ Expected For CES

more time at home, upgrading their television and video systems," continued Wayman. "Thus, VCR unit sales had already hit about 751,000 three weeks prior to the end of 1980 and were expected to reach 850,000. And it was an all-time record year in television sales."
Lud Huck, current chairman of the EIA/CEG and president of General Electric Video, a division of General Electric Television, concurred, saying, "This has been a good year for the television industry. We're in the midst of a heavy replacement cycle and consumers are looking at a TV set as a valuable commodity. VCR sales have gone right through the roof. I'm very bullish on the market for the new year."
Wayman further stated that while sales of home audio and hi-fi products hit "sort of a plateau" in 1980, with components down 10-15%, he noted that audio package components, which will be high-lighted by many manufacturers at the CES, were up 10-15% and sales of portable AM/FM/cassette units, or "boom boxes," also in great array at Las Vegas, "mushroomed" during the past year.

Some 30 audio manufacturers will be displaying compact, lightweight cassette units at CES, similar to the Sony "Walkman" or comparable models, an indication of the sales success of those players during 1980. Personal radiocassettes have also done "very well," according to Wayman, and a number of new models will be prominently featured at the show.
Games Doing Well
In the area of electronic games, Wayman noted that hand-held units did "extremely well" during 1980, with many new models slated to be on display at the show, while Mattel's Intellivision and Atari's home video games also sold well in 1980, further examples of an expanding growth market.

Leading personal computer manufacturers such as ATF (Apple), Radio Shack and Texas Instruments all "broke prices" in 1980, stated Wayman, which helped boost sales further in that market. Wayman added that new models on display at the Winter CES should carry even lower pricing.

Despite the drop in new car sales, Wayman said sales of auto sound products have been off "only around 10%," which meant that many people were installing new units or upgrading their present ones. Many of the new auto sound products, said Wayman, will be on display at open exhibits outside the convention facilities.

"There have been a lot of encouraging signs that the consumer electronics business will be healthier in 1981, and I think we'll see that at the show," concluded Wayman. "Exports of U.S. electronics goods more than doubled this year, particularly in video products, and many audio and hi-fi manufacturers are broadbasing their product lines to include video, as have a good number of audio specialty stores. The challenge of our business, as I see it, is to continue to move the marriage of audio and video and take video from one percent to 50% of American homes."

Exhibit Space Packed

Among the highlight exhibits at the show will be the new CES Advertising and Promotion Showcase and the Retail Cross Merchandising Exhibit. The Advertising and Promotion Showcase, sponsored wholly by the EIA/CEG, is designed in the actual layout of a retail store and will feature 500 items, including print advertising, direct mail, radio and TV spots, point of purchase materials, consumer premiums and giveaways. The Retail Cross Merchandising Exhibit, sponsored jointly by EIA/CEG, the Recording Industry Assn. of America (RIAA) and the National Assn. of Recording Merchandisers (NARM), will serve as a home entertainment retail cen-

Kenny Rogers' "Greatest Hits," according to Gary Giorgi, vice president of product development for the company, was compiled digitally from a modified format based upon the Sony PCM 1600 digital unit from several master tapes. Giorgi will also demonstrate two new company products, the Geo-Disc stylus alignment tool, and UHQ (Ultra High Quality Recordings) at MFSL's technical exhibit suite 830 at the Jockey Club in Las Vegas. Sales of the product are expected to begin in early spring.

with a Commodore Pet 2001 home computer; a Sansui digital receiver and hi-fi rack, Revox B-790 turntable and Wharfedale E-30 speakers; Magnavox videodisc player and new Advent large-screen projection unit, with MCA Videodiscs; Sharp VC-7400 VHS VCR, 13B25 TV receiver, Video Showcase from Liberty Fixture, wire recorded videotapes from RIAA/VIDEO member companies, supplied by Video Unlimited; Pioneer car stereo demonstration display; and Liberty Fixture record racks, Ampro tape display, Crystal Clear audiophile disc rack, pre-recorded tape and disc product provided by Alta Distributing and audiophile display from CBS Mastersound.

Other Highlights

Other areas of special interest at the show include the International Visitors Center, headquarters for the more than 5,000 foreign visitors expected; the Retail Resource Center, which includes 15 exhibitor/participants; the Consumer Electronics Publications area, with some 58 exhibits; and a Trade Association Area with five exhibits.

The number of Winter CES Conferences has been expanded in number to five this year (see "1981 Winter CES Agenda"), with a new format to cover the industries five major product categories — "Car Audio," "Video," "Audio," "Personal Electronics" and "Personal Communications."

from several master tapes.

In addition, MFSL will undertake a market research study targeted at consumers of high fidelity audio software, under marketing director Pete Senoff. Information for the study, slated to cover a six month period, will be gathered in chronological stages from three separate sources: direct response evaluation forms enclosed in each LP package, telephone interviews and personal in-store interviews.

Direct Disk Lab of Nashville has slated the release of "Peter Gabriel" and B.B. King's "Midnight Believer" half-speed mastered LPs for January, following its latest release, Elton John's "Good-bye Yellow Brick Road," according to Jim Callahan of the firm. The company is also planning to issue never-before-released albums by Buddy Rich and Lionel Hampton as part of a project jazz series of half-speed mastered recording during the first quarter of 1981.

Direct Disk Lab's top-selling LPs to date have been The Who's "Who Are You," followed by Loggins and Messina's "Full Sail" and "Blood, Sweat & Tears." Although Direct Disk will not have a booth at the Winter CES, company president Joe Overholt will be in attendance.

Nautilus Recordings, based in Pismo Beach, Calif., will be auditioning its two new releases, "Rumours" and "Minute By Minute," at Audio Demo booth A-265 of the Convention Center, according to director of marketing Baxter Boyington. The company will also announce its scheduled February releases, ABBA's "Arrival" and The Police's "Zenyatta Mondatta" at the Winter CES, but Boyington noted that its Super Sleeves, slated to be displayed at the show, have been temporarily delayed in production and will not be shown.

Vid-Disc Catching On Despite Software Ills

just not prepared, but I don't blame them entirely," Coulter said. "Pioneer's initial hardware rollout was supposed to be more gradual." Most observers agreed that Pioneer, in its rush to beat the RCA Selectavision videodisc (which is due late in March) to the nationwide market, failed to anticipate that its software-supply allies would be overburdened by the initial demand for discs.

Fill Problems Multiply

"I've only got 50 of the 75 discs I've been trying to order," said Coulter. According to Miranda, "most of our videodisc customers have already bought everything available in the way of movies, and they're waiting for more." Furlong said that A&S has been "getting a regular supply of videodiscs, but the consumers' appetite for more and more films is voracious." Cruise noted that Crazy Eddie "wanted 90 movies and got only 30."

These comments on software supply are at odds with the views of Bud O'Shea, vice president of marketing for MCA Discovision, the chief programming arm for laser-optical software. O'Shea recently told Cash Box that he was confident that the company's catalog of 65-75 feature films and an additional 50 titles of children's and instructional programming would be sufficient for the initial hardware rollout.

Bill Mount, vice president of programming for Discovision Assoc., stood by a recent statement in which he said, "This is a high-technology product. There have been some technical, production and system problems that have arisen, and we are solving them as they come up." Mount also quoted a recent comment by MCA Discovision president James N. Fiedler to the Reuters news agency, "We have been experiencing a 10% defective rate, but the problem is not a serious one." Fiedler also said that most of the discs reported as defectives were manufactured between one and two years ago. Mount stressed that Discovision's videodisc plant is "operating at full capacity."

Bright Future Ahead

In spite of the very real problems snagging the videodiscs, the dealers felt that the software quality and distribution defects would be worked out in the near future. They see the videodisc players as a mainstay of what they believe will be a booming videophile market in the '80s. "The videodisc players have a higher turnover than any product that's been introduced in my memory," said Miranda, who cautioned that the software problems "must be worked out soon" to protect the integrity of the videodisc concept.

Significantly, most of the retailers felt that both videodiscs and video cassettes will be able to co-exist and flourish during the decade. "Most of the people who bought videodisc players, already have video cassette recorders — they just wanted to be the first on their block with the new machine," said Cruise.

Furlong said that many customers were attracted by the lower cost of videodiscs ($25) compared to video cassettes ($50 and up). He added that his customers seemed to prefer the higher-priced Pioneer Laserdisc player ($750) to the Magnavox Magnavision System ($700), because of the Pioneer unit's optional remote-control feature.

Nevertheless, the market for video cassette recorders is well established and should continue to grow apace with the "home entertainment" boom predicted by industry analysts for the energy-pinched '80s. "Videocassette recorders are outselling the videodisc players right now," said Corn, "but videophiles will buy both." According to Furlong, "There's no question that VCRs are the bigger sellers now. People are more familiar with them, and there's the important difference that you can record with cassettes." The amount of available software is also an important factor favoring video cassette players. "The video cassette business has also suffered from supply problems, but there are thousands of titles available," Coulter noted.

'Mammoth Undertaking'

The proliferation of home entertainment video products will pose new problems for retailers in 1981. In addition to the projected March rollout of the RCA videodisc players, a third, incompatible "VHD" (video high density) videodisc system has been promised by the Matsushita Electric Co. for late in the year.

"The retailer is really up against it with all these new systems," Furlong said. "The inventory for all the videodiscs and tapes is going to be a mammoth undertaking."

WHAT'S IN-STORE

PAVAROTTI PROMOTION PROVES SRO AT LAURY'S — "The most spontaneous outpouring of affection since Caruso," is the way one prominent opera critic described public reaction to London Records superstar Luciano Pavarotti. The Italian tenor's December in-store appearance at Laury's Discount Records Chicago Loop store illustrated how much planning is combined with charisma for record-selling records. Between 4:00 p.m. and 1:00 a.m. on a windy, rainy, freezing afternoon and night, Pavarotti greeted 2,000 affectionate fans. He signed albums, kissed babies, posed for pictures and accepted accolades. "We told him that we were going to cut off the line at quarter past midnight," said Art Shulman, director of stores for Laury's. "Pavarotti wouldn't hear of it. 'No! No! No!' he said. Anybody come, anybody sees." The promotion was originally set for 5:00-7:00 p.m. It started early and ran seven hours overtime.

DOWN MEXICO WAY — A four-day trip to Mexico for two, top prize in the Ziggurat display contest and promotion, went to Record Bar #42 in Savannah, Ga. Manager Tom Holloway said the prize was won by Susan Hunt, the employee who designed and constructed the winning display. Ziggurat, which records for Equity Records, takes its name from the temples of the ancient Assyrians and Babylonians. Hunt's display included a three-dimensional, 4½ foot gold temple with Ziggurat product at the pinnacle. A wall display with the cartoon character Ziggy explained what a ziggurat is and Ziggurat was featured as "New Artist of the Month." Kirby Kinman, president of Equity Records, said Robin Sutton of Decatur, Ga. won a $785 stereo system, top prize in the customer contest. To win, Sutton correctly completed a crossword puzzle on Ziggurat. The answers were on the album cover, inside sleeve or in the music. In addition to these prizes, Equity Records is also giving each Record Bar manager a personalized, limited-edition Ziggurat belt buckle.

IN-STORE ACTION AT THE BARS — At the Wilmington, N.C. Bar, Level IV, a local jazz group, performed as the highlight of a jazz promotion with Guitar Works. Giveaways in the promotion included 25 Inner City jazz LPs and a Roland amp. . . In Hickory, N.C., anyone who purchased a pair of jeans during "Western Weekend" at the Body Shop was entitled to two dollars off the Urban Cowboy soundtrack. . . In a promotion for Tim Weisberg's "A Party For One," the Record Bar at Cameron Village in Raleigh, N.C. and MCA Records gave a "Party for Two." The winner in a drawing was entitled to a free dinner for two and an evening of free beer and entertainment at the Silver Bullet Saloon. . . At the New Bern, N.C. Bar, a local chamber music group, The Craven Consort, performed at the Bar as part of a Nonesuch classical promotion. All Nonesuch product was on sale for the promotion. . . In Charlotte, N.C., the "Skate Party of the '80s," co-sponsored by Record Bar at a local skating rink, corresponded with sale prices on albums by the Commodores, Diana Ross, Teena Marie and High Inergy. Prizes at the party included albums, Record Bar T-shirts and gift certificates. . . At the St. Louis, Mo. store, any customer who brought in a rock received one dollar off Rockpile's latest LP "Seconds Of Pleasure" at any of five area Record Bars. Customers were also invited to register for a "95 Seconds of Pleasure" record run at the Chesterfield, Mo. Record Bar. . . Finally, in Norfolk, Va., the first 100 customers to go into Tracks Records & Tapes and "flash" WMYK radio K-94 on a button, T-shirt or hand written sign, received a Flash Gordon T-shirt, a pass for two to the premiere of the film and two discount coupons for the soundtrack.

Buddy Holly Compilation To Be Released By MCA

LOS ANGELES — MCA Records is set to release "The Complete Buddy Holly," a six-record, 122-song compilation the second week of January. Additionally, a 64-page souvenir scrapbook will be included.

The boxed set, originally released last year in England, is divided into six sections, including "Lubbock, Texas — Western and Pop;" "Clovis, New Mexico — Buddy Holly & the Crickets;" "New York, N.Y. — Planning for the Future;" "Nashville, Tennessee — Changing All Those Changes;" and "Clovis, New Mexico — And on to New York;" and "The Collectors Buddy Holly."

The package includes Holly singing "That'll Be The Day" and "Peggy Sue" on the Ed Sullivan Show in December 1957; as well as interviews with Sullivan, Alan Freed and Dick Clark.

THE RHYTHM SECTION

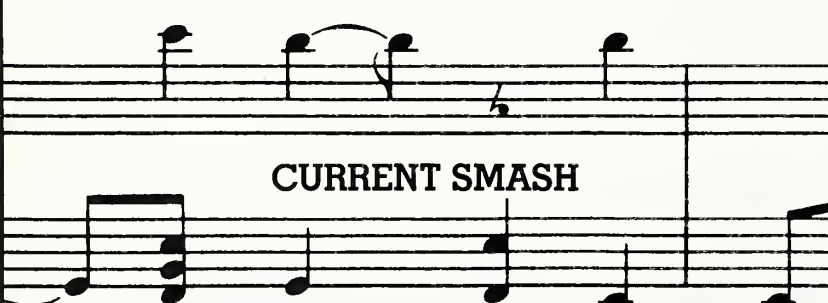

HEALTHY INHERITANCE — That sweet, smooth sliding saxophone vamping, which is an elementary component of the Crusaders' prolific sound, finds more personal identity on saxophonist/bassist Wilton Felder's second solo album on MCA, "Inherit The Wind." Says Felder, " 'Inherit The Wind' is my personal way of saying what the Crusaders and our music have always said — that people have to do the best they can. On a solo album you can let your own personality surface. I think 'Inherit The Wind' shows a side of me that is not often evident with the Crusaders," he added. Despite the more personal approach of Felder's music, weaving a sparkling tapestry of some inspired soul, easy jazz fused with the best elements of the Crusaders' sound, the palate is pleased on tunes like the title track and "Someday We'll All Be Free," written by the late Donny Hathaway. The personality of the music is supplied via interpretations of Felder's perceptions of music and people. He credits John Coltrane's technique, Cannonball Adderly's phrasing, Sonny Rollins' timing and Wayne Shorter's originality with helping to form his own approach to playing the reed instrument. Blues artists passing through his hometown of Houston, Tex. while he was young can also take credit for providing Felder with some of the vocabulary that comprises his own musical language. But according to Felder, "Everything around me which I am able to experience helps me feel what others feel. Striving to feel other people helps me understand what they feel." He said the feelings represented on "Inherit The Wind," are not the kind of music you hear all the time, hopefully. "But, as is the case with the Crusaders' approach to "feeling out" people so they may understand audiences' music sensibilities, Felder's music is created to please listeners and the creator. "We know we must sell records, but we believe that if we play what we feel, people can feel the satisfaction we enjoy." Felder added that "in the very near future" the Crusaders may be operating their own label, though he declined to discuss any label affiliations or artists who are being considered for the label's roster. It would be ironic — and apt — if the label's first artist is Wilton Felder, Jr., who made his professional debut on his father's "Inherit The Wind."

WOMEN IN THE GROOVE — The Black Music Assn. (BMA) received a bevy of positive comment from a large portion of the 50 participants in the association's pilot career management seminars for women in the music industry. The seminars, which were conducted by New York-based consultant Elaine Dowe Carter, were initiated by the BMA's Women's Steering Committee under the supervision of Glenda Gracia, executive director of the association. Key issues covered during the seminars ranged from power and competition to identifying and resolving problems that are perceived to exist between blacks and whites.

MISS CLEAN BATHE — Opportunity is such a rare bird, one must seize it before it eludes the grasp like a feather in the wind. Clare Bathe, who recently signed with Posse Records and released the single "Forever," will have an opportunity to perform before millions of TV viewers with the legendary Lionel Hampton during the inauguration of President-elect Ronald Reagan. Bathe and Hampton will take time out during their Super Bowl week gig

Domestic Acts Spur Holiday Sales Throughout Tokyo, Yokohama Areas

by Koza Otsuka
TOKYO — Record and tape sales on the first weekend of December in Tokyo and Yokohama were up about 20%, according to a survey conducted by the Cash Box Tokyo office.

Chiharu Matsuyama, Yumi Matsutoya, Mayumi Itsuwa, Tatsuro Yamashita and Junko Yagami of Japan and two international acts, ABBA from Sweden and The Nolans from the U.K., were the main contributors to the increase in sales. The background music tape, which had showed unexpected high sales at the same season of the last year, again generated strong sales, though not as much as last year.

The reports from main dealers in the area are as follows:

At Asakusa-Yorodo in downtown Tokyo, the expected strong surge had not come yet, but the sales in the period were up a little above usual days. The lack of big hits is the main reason for the slow start. The main sales were concentrated around "Enka" (Japan's traditional popular song) by Aki Yashiro, Harumi Miyako, Biko Kawanaka and Kazuko Matsumura.

At the Ginza-Yamanogakki in the central area of Tokyo, the sales in the first week of December were rather fine, with an increase of 10% over the same term of the previous year.

At Shinjuku-Teltomusen, also in the central area of Tokyo, very good sales about

ABBA Album Reaches #1 Spot In 10 Countries

LOS ANGELES — Swedish recording group ABBA's "Super Trouper" LP has reached the #1 position in 10 countries. Led by the U.K., where sales have reached 1,250,000 units, other countries where the LP has reached #1 are Denmark, Norway, Sweden, The Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland, France, Belgium and Austria.

30% up over the prior year were observed. The sales on Sunday (Dec. 7) were the highest record in the history of the company.

In the Kichijoji-Shinseyido-Ronron suburbs of Tokyo, a very good start with the sales about 40% up sales over usual in the week occurred.

Finally, at the Kikuichi Music Center in Yokohama, sales were almost even with the usual days. However, the company is expecting a 25-30% increase in sales from the last holiday season.

Musicians Union Urges U.K. To Back U.S. Strike

LONDON — The U.K. Musicians Union is writing to its branches nationwide asking them to support the embargo on recording film or TV soundtracks for the U.S.A. Complaints have been received by the union from studios and musicians alike about the loss of income and ill-feeling caused by the embargo, but union secretary John Morton has stood firm in his support of the AFM (American Federation of Musicians).

Estimates at the value of work lost as a result are impossible, though it has been stated that studios and musicians could have been quarter of a million pounds (over $500,000) richer than they are, but for the ban. Outside of that dispute, other money would seem to be lost because American producers would rather use facilities where they do not have the delay of their sessions being vetted by the union.

As the volume of record work continues to decrease, there is more emphasis by the studios on attracting video work, but the AFM ban on some American soundtracks is cutting more work than it should.

Argentina

BUENOS AIRES — Mexican singer and composer Jose Marla Napoleon came to Buenos Aires to shoot some scenes for the upcoming movie Las Vacaciones del Amor, which is being produced by Microfon Records with film company Aries as part of a string of musical movies designed to promote pop artists. Napoleon was feted with a lunch at the Emiliana Restaurant, with good press attendance.

Tom Jones has had some troubles during his current visit to Chile and Argentina — half-empty stadiums. The chanteur interrupted his previous visit last March, and was supposed to fill the dates this time, but his fans have lost part of their interest, according to the boxoffice results.

British group The Police has also been in Buenos Aires, performing at the Obras Stadium to an audience of 4,000 people. CBS and impresario Grinbank arranged a full-fledged promo campaign for the artists, and some chart action is expected soon.

RCA general manager Jorge Schutt has predicted a cautious 1981. He told Cash Box that 1980 has been "mild," with good hits like ABBA and Village People. Schutt is also president of the Chamber of Record Producers, which is worried by a possible increase of piracy in the tape field. At this moment, there is little activity, if compared to other countries; but recent reports from the northern part of Argentina and Uruguay reveal there is counterfeiting in Paraguay, a neighbor country, and the tapes could be smuggled into Argentina.

EMI is having good success with a TV-advertised selection with the top hits by the Beatles, which is sold at full price. The news about John Lennon's death renewed interest around his latest single and may have influenced this album.

The latest trend among local companies is a move towards regional music. Although revenues from the markets in the interior are small compared to a "nationwide" hit, promotion costs and recording expenses are very low, and sales of 20,000 to 30,000 albums are attained frequently, with 10,000 units easily sold if the group or soloist is known in more than one province.

Brazilian lark Gal Costa came to Buenos Aires for dates at the Coliseo Theatre, with Polygram exec Roberto Menescal at hand for chats with the Phillips people here and Korn-Intersong Publishers. Menescal returned to Rio with some local songs to be recorded by Brazilian artists in both Spanish and Portuguese.

Spanish group Parchis will be returning in a couple of weeks to shoot a movie here and appear in Mar del Plata, Argentina's main resort. The group's second LP here has reached the 100,000 mark.

Alan Cardover of K-tel has also been in Argentina, talking business with Ruben Aprile, president of Interdisc, K-tel's licensee in this market. Interdisc recently signed a distribution agreement with Phonogram covering some, but not all, provinces.

EMI has released the double-record soundtrack of Urban Cowboy, the John Travolta movie featuring music by Eagles, Linda Ronstadt, Anne Murray and others. There is also a new volume of Frank Sinatra's evergreens, an idea well accepted by music lovers in this country. Under the WEA banner, there is also a new LP recorded recently by Elis Regina in Brazil.

CBS has re-released "Los siete pecados," one of the best waxings by local pop group Vivencia, which has been recording for the label its entire career. There is also the return of the "Even In The Quietest Moments . . ." album by Supertramp, under the A&M logo, whose representation in Argentina was recently acquired by CBS. It was previously handled by EMI.

RCA has released a new single and album by Palito Ortega on the Chango label, which is owned by the artist and pressed and distributed by the company. On the pop side, the latest single by group Los Moros has been showing very good sales, and the latest entry by Pomada is also running well. The company has been intensifying its action in the regional markets, too.

State-owned TV channel ATC will be present at MIDEM with its own booth. The general manager of the record division of ATC, German Klein, is travelling to France with Oscar Belalch and Bernardo Bergeret, who is in charge of promotion and A&R at the plant.

Sicamericana's Nestor Selasco reports strong reaction to the launching of Italian chanteur Gianni Nazzaro in Argentina by his company. The artist has been performing in this city and received plenty of promotion during the past three weeks, after his stint at the Bauen, aimed at newspeople.

Germany

MUNICH — This correspondent made a trip around the world in December, missing the Christmas parties that are a prevailing part of the record business in Germany. The greatest gathering of the industry executives has again been at the annual Musikmarkt Christmas bash. More people than ever before followed Uwe Lencher's invitation to laudate the outgoing year where business hasn't been so bad after all. A general increase of 12% has encouraged the industry to put its emphasize for 1981 into new artists development, especially where the synthetic disco is dead and the art of the music is coming to new recognition.

Peter Maffay has just reached sales of one million album units and thus becomes the leading album seller in this market, with his new single entering the charts at #17, a song written by the TELDEC East German group KARAT, "Ueber sieben Bruecken musst Du gehen."

Another German artist is presently in Hollywood. Udo Jurgens, who just finished his successful European tour, is taping a TV special at the Hollywood Palladium, with Catherina Valente. . . In Singapore, James Last gave a great concert, but was torn into pieces by local critics, considering Last a tiring affair. But then, lots of James Last product displayed in local stores, confirmed Polygram's number one presence in that market. EMI's John Forrester is not too happy with the pirate and bootlegged records which are overflowing the market in Asia. Steven Tan from Polygram Singapore feels that a copyright law is expected to pass after coming elections, until then they just have to deal with the pirated product.

TOKYO — The Village People's Can't Stop The Music single, released in May on Nippon Phonogram, is finally beginning to show strong sales here. Sales have been boosted by the release of the movie. Together with the single, the soundtrack LP is expected to climb the charts soon.

Toshiba/EMI is expected to release three LPs and three cassettes in January 1981 as part of its classical offerings for the new year. The records will include Mendelssohn's "Symphony Italia," Verdi's "Four Seasons" and "Puritan" by the Berlin Philharmonic, conducted by Herbert von Karajan. The cassettes will include product by the Roger Wagner Chorale, von Karajan and the Berlin Philharmonic and Beethoven.

Total October sales of records in Japan dropped slightly in volume compared to the same period last year, while revenues rose slightly. More than 16.7 million units were shipped during October, a two percent drop from last year; but revenues of 16.6 billion yen represented a five percent increase over the same time period, according to Saburo Watanabe, president of the Japan Phonographic Record Assn. (JPRRA). Unit volume, however, rose four percent over September 1980 totals, with the revenues rising a corresponding 10%.

With the dual purpose of high efficiency and stimulation of business activities by selecting youngsters for promotion, Polydor Records has reorganized its system. Five departments will take the place of the old controlling and marketing units. The new departments are controlling, planning, business, organization and sales.

Gerhard Augustin, managing director of Gammarock Record Co. Ltd. (based in Munchen, Germany) visited Japan for five days starting Dec. 14, 1980 (Augustin, by the way, is the Cash Box correspondent in Germany). During his stay in Tokyo, Augustin met with Shoo Kaneko, managing director of Victor Musical Industries; Kunihiko Mural, president of Alfa Records; and others.

Trio Records Co., Ltd. is planning to establish new record company in United States, according to Ichiro Tsuboi, president of the company. While declining to disclose any details, Trio seems to be planning to build the company through a joint venture with a United States label. Games Unlimited Holds Convention

HARTFORD, CT — The Hartford Civic Center here was the scene of the first Games Unlimited Convention. The Convention, which was held Oct. 23-26, drew more than 10,000 players and extensive media coverage. The event focused on such classic home games as chess, backgammon, scrabble and the like with coin-operated amusement machines also featured and, during the four-day show, surfacing as a hit attraction.

A $10,000 pinball tournament, which attracted over 500 entrants, and a $500 video competition, were among the main events. The show format included displays, demonstrations, lessons and competition play. A games arcade was set-up in the exhibit area alongside the various other exhibits of board games, card games and so forth. The inclusion of coin-operated machines proved to be a very effective image builder for the industry, according to Arnett & Associates, sponsor of the show. "The fabulous response to this show is only the beginning," Arnett advised. "This will become an annual event to be held on the west coast and the east coast. We feel that the coin-operated games were a valuable addition to the games show."

Plans are currently being formulated for next year's show and further information may be obtained by contacting Arnett & Associates, 25 C. Canton Rd., Simsbury, Conn. 06092 or Carol Kantor at Business Builders, P.O. Box 209, Cupertino, Calif. 95015.

Exidy's 'Spectar' Packed With Action

SUNNYVALE — "Spectar has the action appeal that makes a good game for today's player," commented Lila Zinter, sales and marketing manager at Exidy, referring to the firm's latest video upright game. "Field reports show it to be a strong piece with good indications for an exceptionally long earning life," she added.

The new machine was initially revealed at the 1980 AMOA convention in Chicago.

Spectar is an adventure game of fast action and quick responses. A pattern of pods appear as the battlefield and enemy "Rammers" emerge from the pods to seek out the player's ship. To intensify the action, two other enemy targets appear with more speed and accuracy as an added danger for the player.

The game has clearly defined skill levels using patterns and colors; a featured objective being to progress to new and more complex battlegrounds. Each time the Rammers are destroyed a new field appears and bonus points are scored. The game becomes increasingly difficult at each level and players enter medieval forests, geometric cities, a maze of armored crosses and other new battle environments to add to the challenge. The ship is controlled with Exidy's new durable 4-way joystick and a fire button on the control panel.

Spectar is designed for easy servicing and maximum operation flexibility. There are optimum coinage and number of turns per play options for the operator. Another option on this game is the choice of four languages — English, Spanish, French or German — for the video message.

Two Appointed At Gottlieb & Co.

"I have known Jim Phillips for most of his years in the business," said Herrick, commenting on the appointment, "and it is a great pleasure to welcome him to Gottlieb. Many of our distributors are well acquainted with him, so he will soon be renewing old friendships during his first swing around the territory. Jim's duties will be manifold but none will be more important than acting as a communicator between the factory and Gottlieb distributors."

Phillips lives in the Denver area, is married and has two children.

William J. Kwasniewski has been named vice president-finance and administration at Gottlieb, announced company president Robert W. Bloom. Kwasniewski joined the company in May 1979 as controller, after having been vice president of financial administration of a major manufacturer of consumer leisure time products.

"It is a great pleasure to make the announcement of Bill's promotion," commented Bloom. "His reputation as a top flight financial executive was known to me before he joined Gottlieb and he immediately demonstrated a skillful and imaginative approach to company finance as well as a knack for working creatively with both our distributors and our own people."

Kwasniewski lives in suburban Naperville, Ill., is married and has two children.

New Language Option Ready For Exidy Games

SUNNYVALE — Beginning with the new "Spectar" model, Exidy is introducing an optional language change feature for video messages, which is geared to the company's growing market outside of the U.S. and will subsequently be available on all future products. Exidy pointed out that this option will also have appeal in certain ethnic areas in the states where foreign languages may be dominant.

The new option may be applied via a switch on the printed circuit board that allows the operator to easily change the language from English to French, Spanish or German so that all of the video messages and instructions will appear in the selected language. "We feel that having the video message in the native language of the area where the game is located will enhance the play appeal and thus the collections from the game," explained Pete Kauffman, Exidy president. "The growth of the international market is significant and Exidy is adding this feature as well as exploring other specific needs in foreign markets to make our games more adaptable."

A language specialist is being contracted by the firm to translate the instructions for Exidy product development and the tran-

Midway's

PAC-MAN™

Infringement Policy

The PAC-MAN™ video game, sold exclusively in the United States and other countries in the Western Hemisphere by Midway Mfg. Co., is the hottest new game on the market. We at Midway are very pleased with the excitement which has been caused by the introduction of the game.

Unfortunately, copiers have also been caught up in the excitement and are attempting to market games which imitate the PAC-MAN™ video game and which Midway believes infringes its various proprietary rights in the game, including its copyright registered by the United States Copyright Office, Registration No. PA83-768. Midway acquired its proprietary rights by exclusive license and assignment from Namco, the originator of the game.

Midway intends to take all legal action necessary to protect its proprietary rights against all copiers of the PAC-MAN™ video game and the sellers of such infringing games.

In making the announcement, Rosen stated, "We are fortunate in having a man of Mr. Kally's background for this new key position."

PARTY TIME — Several hundred Ohio operators and their guests were in attendance at the recent sixth annual dinner party, sponsored by the Ohio Music and Amusement Assn. (OMAA). CHICAGO CHATTER

BY THE END OF THIS WEEK many area tradesters will be enroute to London to participate in the annual ATE convention, which will take place at Olympia hall Jan. 12-15. As usual, the event is expected to draw a heavy American turnout and seasoned participants who were never too thrilled with Alexandra Palace are optimistically curious about the new convention site.

THE FRED GRANGER S have departed for Scottsdale, Ariz. where they will maintain their residence and enjoy leisurely living for awhile. The newly retired AMOA exec told Cash Box that he will continue to serve the association in a consultant capacity but at present will devote full time to a much deserved rest. The present stature of AMOA exemplifies the major contributions of Fred Granger during his 17-year tenure. In passing the mantle to Leo A. Droste, the new executive vice president of AMOA, Granger said the association will be "in very good hands" as it moves into a "new period of growth and development."

JUST PRIOR TO the holidays Loewen America's field engineer Rus Strahan completed a series of service schools that took him into Oregon and Washington, two new markets for Loewen. He also conducted an informal session for Advance Automatic Sales in San Francisco on the day preceding the distrib's annual banquet, held at Bimbo's out there for some 400 or more guests. Loewen president Bert Davidson was also on hand at the gala. Rus mentioned that the new NSM Prestige ES-2 phono is doing well in the U.S. market.

"GALAXIAN" in both upright and cocktail table models, is still a tremendous seller at Midway Mfg. Co., as we learned from sales director Larry Berke. And coming up very fast is "Pac-Man," Midway's latest video entry. It's a pleasant departure from the traditional space theme, is lots of fun to play and has wide appeal for players of all ages, Larry pointed out. Looks like another big hit for Midway.

DOMESTIC DELIVERY OF "Berzerk," Stern's outstanding video follow-up is scheduled for mid-January, according to company exec Tom Campbell. Factory already has "unprecedented advance orders" and expects that this model could develop into its "biggest game ever," Tom added.

STATE ASSOCIATION NEWS

Among the first state association conventions in the new year will be the sixth annual Music Operators of Minnesota show, Jan. 16-18, at the Holiday Inn Central in downtown Minneapolis. MOM lobbyist Robert Lutz will be one of the speakers and his topic will be "Blueprints for Grass Roots Legislation." The state group is currently in the process of establishing a state legislative program and, to raise funds for this endeavor, sponsored an equipment auction of more than 100 machines ranging from old jukeboxes and pinballs to some antique games and slots, as well as records and pool cues. The event received full membership support. In addition to donating equipment for the auction, operators made cash pledges to help underwrite the costs, members and officers volunteered their services and Ray Hibarger of Hanson Dist. served as chairman of the Auction Committee. Plans are to make it an annual event. At present, Minnesota ops are concerned about a impending sales tax increase and the possibility of other "detrimental legislation" and want to be as prepared as possible both financially and in numbers.

MUSIC OPERATORS OF MICHIGAN recently initiated a rather unique membership service — Hertz rental discount rates. Members may now rent a car, at specially discounted rates, covering specific areas of the country.

THE OHIO MUSIC & AMUSEMENT ASSN. is seeking a new headquarters office. The building the group has been occupying at 41 S. High St. in Columbus is being torn down for reconstruction so the office will be temporarily closed through at least Jan. 5, 1981 pending relocation to other quarters. OMAA will shortly announce the dates of its next two-day mini school, to be held early next year with Jack Silvernell instructing, and the class will deal exclusively with phonographs. Also coming up is a Jan. 5-14 digital/video school, to be held at Howard Johnson's North in Columbus with AMOA instructor Don Miller conducting.

BUSINESS IS GOOD at Empire Dist., Inc. and at the present rate of momentum 1981 has to be a terrific year, in the opinion of marketing chief John Neville. There are so many great games coming out, he said, some of which are on test and doing very well; these include Exidy's "Spectar," Stern's "Berzerk," Cinematronic's "Star Castle" and Taito America's "Polaris." Other new pieces will be coming forth shortly. A hit seller at Empire is Midway's "Pac Man," in upright, mini-myte and cocktail table, John added; and, while "Missile Command" is still in demand, the new Atari "Battlezone" is also moving extremely well.

Atari Announces Three Distributor Appointments For France, Germany

SUNNYVALE — Sue Elliott, international sales manager at Atari, Inc., recently announced the appointment of three new international distributors for the company's product line. Amiro France and Salmon S.A. will distribute Atari games in France; Nova Apparate GmbH and Company will join Lowen Automaten, which currently represents the line, as an Atari distributor in Germany.

"We are very pleased to welcome these three distributors to our international distributor group," stated Elliott commenting on the appointments. "As Atari continues to grow, our international marketplace grows along with us. With the addition of Amiro and Salmon in France, and Nova Apparate in Germany, our customers in these two countries will be that much better serviced. These three new distributors will help to keep our operators in France and Germany up to date on all of the latest Atari products."

Language Option

slation will then be verified by distributors in the respective countries. "We want to be sure that the translation includes the common 'player terminology' in each language," noted Lila Zinter, sales manager. "This new feature will potentially give the games a higher play frequency in areas where language differences has caused barriers in the past."

The language option is being offered with Exidy's "Spectar" game as part of the company's effort to improve product flexibility and adaptability to best meet the needs of the marketplace.

In three coordinated raids on Dec. 9, Federal enforcement agents confiscated an estimated $4.2 million in manufacturing equipment and counterfeit and pirated product in Oklahoma City and Norman, Okla. Equipment seized from an operation known as Screen Creations yielded bin loop duplicators, slave units, winders, a graphics camera, and approximately 300 master tapes, according to Edmund Pistey of the F.B.I.'s Oklahoma City, Okla. office. In a related raid at Roysales in Brownwood, Tex., 4,000 counterfeit and pirated tape recordings were seized by Federal agents.

Two days later, law enforcement officials recovered 50,000 8-track tapes and cartridges, 100,000 pirated labels, and 500 pre-recorded pancakes from Sound Theatre, a manufacturing operation in New Kensington, Pa. David Russick was arrested by Federal agents and charged with violation of Federal copyright laws. Walter Weiner of the F.B.I.'s Pittsburgh office estimated the value of the seizure to be $400,000.

On Dec. 13, agents of the F.B.I.'s San Francisco office visited the San Jose Swap Meet in that city and discovered at least 11 vendors selling counterfeit and pirated tapes in Spanish and English. One seizure of an undisclosed quantity was made by the agents. The vendors, who meet daily at the Swap Meet, were put on notice that checks for illegal activity would be conducted on a regular basis.

In November, two record pressing plants in the Los Angeles area were raided by agents from the F.B.I.'s Los Angeles office following a lengthy undercover operation. Raids on Nov. 19 at Globe Records in Bellflower, Calif., and at Virco Processing and Pressing in Alhambra, Calif., resulted in the seizure of 11 fully-automated record pressers, 3,200 finished copies of the "Rod Stewart's Greatest Hits" LP, and four sets of laquers and stampers. Although there were no arrests, Edward Best of the F.B.I.'s Los Angeles bureau said that the investigation was continuing. He said the value of the record pressers was $400,000.
