EDITORIAL

Coming Alive . . .

One highlight of the NARM convention in New Orleans was the fine cross-section of performing artists. The music industry represents a variety of musical genres, and considering the limited time at NARM, a solid variety was on hand.

Artists including Donna Summer, Dolly Parton, Wayne Newton, Lionel Hampton, The Jacksons, Jane Olivor, Anthony Newley and songster-speaker Harry Chapin reflected the diverse ground which comprises the music business today.

The importance of artists appearing at a function like this is two-fold. First, it presents a personality to the accounts which can only help to increase artists' exposure at the retail level. Secondly, it showcases major artists to accounts which may not have the time or logistics to see them in concert.

Often times, the music industry becomes bogged down with telephone and vinyl while leaving the personal touch and attention to suffer. There are people behind those four-color album jackets who are dependent upon the thousands of merchandisers across the nation for their success, and they welcome any opportunity to close the widening gap between business and art.

NEWS HIGHLIGHTS

- Robert Summer appointed president of RCA Records.
- House subcommittee holds performance rights hearing in Los Angeles.
- Sales outlook improves for mass merchandiser record departments.
- Justice Department backs WBAI in obscenity case.
- Yetnikoff honored at NARM awards banquet.

Summer Replaces Couttolenc As RCA Records President

by Mark Mehler

NEW YORK — Robert D. Summer has been appointed president of RCA Records, replacing Louis Couttolenc, who will return to his former corporate responsibilities as president and general manager of RCA-Mexico.

Summer, recently appointed division vice president of RCA-U.S.A., had been directing RCA's entire domestic record operation, while Couttolenc had been emphasizing international affairs.

Paul Potashner, group vice president of RCA Corp., described Summer as an executive who "enjoys outstanding rapport" with artists and management, as well as with RCA's customers and its worldwide organization of licensees and subsidiaries. Potashner added that in his new job, Summer will have the "full support" of RCA Corp. in making the record division a "more competitive force" in the industry.

Potashner added that Couttolenc, who was appointed president in 1977, had completed his one-year assignment of restructuring RCA Records' worldwide operation, boosting its earnings potential, and finding and developing his successor. Couttolenc will continue to be available for corporate assignments such as his year-long U.S. project.

Summer became division vice president of RCA Records International in 1973. In 1977, he was named division vice president of marketing operations, and two months ago he was tapped as division vice president of RCA-U.S.A. A 20-year RCA veteran, he is a graduate of Carnegie-Mellon University in Pittsburgh.

Expanding Goals

In a recent interview with Cash Box,

Summer spoke of his plans to expand the company's marketing goals and to seek new labels for distribution. More specifically, Summer stressed the need for better in-store merchandising, as mirrored in the company's recent merchandising blitzes on behalf of Dolly Parton, Elvis Presley, and Jefferson Starship. Summer went on to state that RCA expects to develop "strong new relationships" with other labels in the future, and he suggested that these labels would help "fill holes" in RCA's present musical repertory.

Summer himself plans to take a direct role in signing acts, and he stated that RCA would concentrate on the development of new artists.

and the American Council for the Arts. They were joined by an RIAA panel comprised of association president Stanley Gortikov; Jerry Moss, chairman of A&M Records; Joe Smith, chairman of Elektra/Asylum Records; Alan Livingston, president of the 20th Century-Fox Entertainment Group; and Gene Norman, president of Crescendo Records.

Representing broadcasters were Peter Newell, vice president and general manager of KPOL-AM & FM; Willie Davis, president of KACE-FM; John Dimling, vice president, research, National Assn. of Broadcasters; Major Short, former recording artist turned South Dakota broadcaster; and representatives of the

Outlook Improves For Record Departments In Discount Stores, But Problems Remain

by Mark Mehler

NEW YORK — The rising retail price of LPs at major specialty record chains, the increasing value of records as traffic builders and the proliferation of superhits are keeping mass merchandisers in the record business.

For example, J.C. Penney, which last year stunned the industry by announcing that no new stores would carry records or tapes, has over the past year phased out these departments in only about 60 of the 350 outlets that previously carried recorded product. Subtracting the 35 new stores opened during that period, none of which have LPs, Penney's continues to sell records in some 290 out of 385 units.

Jon MacMullen, Penney's new record buyer, suggested that the 60 managers of exiting stores who exercised their option of eliminating records did so because "sales were not meaningful enough to justify the department as a traffic builder." He added that, overall, the chain does not view records as a profit maker, but as an excitement builder.

MacMullen noted that, after only one week in the job, he doesn't feel qualified to speculate on the long-term future of Penney's record departments. However, he hinted that the outlook was probably not as bleak as it seemed last year.

Other Chains Stress Records

Meanwhile, among the nation's leading mass-merchandised record operations, Sears, Montgomery Ward, and K mart appear to be leading the way with increasingly aggressive advertising and bigger and more attractive department layouts. This trend has been evident for some time (Cash Box, July 2, 1977), but the tremendous demand for Elvis Presley product last year and the ever-rising sales of the "Saturday Night Fever" soundtrack have dramatically boosted rack sales. Likewise, the fact that increasing wholesale costs have forced the nation's specialty record retailers to hike their prices has also helped make racked accounts more competitive, according to general merchandisers.

John Kaplan, executive vice president of the Handleman Co., which racks K mart nationally, spoke of the chain's new experiment with the "supermarket" approach.

The Overland Park, Kansas, K mart outlet currently contains a 3,200-square-foot record department, while two other K marts feature 1,800-square-foot departments. "We're hoping that this experiment is successful; if so, we'll be opening more larger record departments around the country," Kaplan said. The commitment to increased space and advertisement (K mart has budgeted about 33% more money for total advertising this year) stems from the belief that music has become an indispensable

House Subcommittee Reviews Performer Rights Issue In L.A.

by Alan Sutton

LOS ANGELES — Although the United States is the world's largest exporter of copyrighted sound recordings, it doesn't receive a cent as a result of foreign airplay of American records, the director general of the International Federation of Producers of Phonograms and Videograms told a congressional hearing in Los Angeles last week.

Stephen Stewart, who flew here from London to testify before the House subcommittee meeting, argued in favor of a bill calling for performance royalty payments to artists and record companies whenever their work is played on a radio, TV, a jukebox or other means.

By so doing, he said, the United States would fall in line with 55 other developed countries that now recognize performance rights and also begin to collect royalties from overseas airplay, which in some cases is based up to 90 percent on American-produced recordings.

Lines Drawn

The recording and broadcast industries retrenched along familiar battlelines during the two-day hearing at the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

Performers and manufacturers argued that they are entitled to a share of the profits broadcasters derive from their work, which they contend is used to build audiences, draw advertising and increase revenues.

NARM Photo Highlights See pages 38, 54 and 56.

Broadcasters countered that free airplay on their stations contributes to the bulk of the record industry's sales, and that a new performance royalty on top of what they already pay to writers and publishers would drive many marginal stations out of business.

While the subject of the hearing was HR 6063, a bill authored by Rep. George Danielson (D-Calif.), both sides responded to Register of Copyrights Barbara Ringer's statement strongly endorsing the royalty, which was included in her recent report to Congress (Cash Box, March 25). Performers and manufacturers lauded the report; broadcasters called it "inaccurate" and based on "conjecture."

Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier (D-Wisc.) chaired the meeting with Danielson, Rep. Thomas Railsback (R-Ill.) and William Cohen (R-Me.) attending.

Proponents of the royalty payment included Jack Golodner of the AFL-CIO, AFTRA's Sanford I. Wolff, AF of M president Victor Fuentealba, along with representatives of the Los Angeles Philharmonic

MCA To Support 'FM' Double Album With Big Promo

LOS ANGELES — The soundtrack album from the soon-to-be-released Universal film "FM," which provides a close-up look at a national radio station, is being readied for release in mid-April by MCA Records.

The double-album will feature cuts by Boston, the Doobie Brothers, Eagles, Dan Fogelberg, Foreigner, Billy Joel, Steve Miller, Tom Petty, Queen, Linda Ronstadt, Boz Scaggs, Bob Seger, James Taylor, Jimmy Buffett, Steely Dan, Randy Meisner and Joe Walsh.

According to MCA president Mike Maitland, the "FM" soundtrack will be supported with one of the most extensive marketing campaigns ever undertaken by the label. Double-truck advertising has been placed in 10 trade papers and consumer advertising will cover all national news magazines, music-oriented publications, college papers and dailies.

Billboards are being designed for placement in the Westwood area of Los Angeles and on the Sunset Strip and posters will be utilized for in-store display.

MCA's radio campaign will include 30 and 60-second spots on AM, adult contemporary, country and FM formats.

Justice Dept. Backs WBAI In Brief To Supreme Court

by Joanne Ostrow

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In a brief filed with the Supreme Court last week, the Department of Justice opposed the Federal Communications Commission's attempt to ban certain "dirty words" on radio. The government urged that the Court of Appeals ruling be upheld; the lower court had reversed the FCC's censuring of Pacifica station WBAI, saying the Commission's order was vague and constitutionally "overbroad."

The Justice Department also urged the court to drop the issue there, instead of ruling on how far the FCC can go in regulating language on the air. "It is unnecessary to consider what, if any, lesser regulation of 'indecent' language might be permissible," the brief said.

The case, FCC v. Pacifica Foundation and United States, was accepted by the Supreme Court in January. The National Association of Broadcasters filed a friend of the court brief contending that the FCC does not have the authority to censor from radio broadcasts words it considers indecent. The NAB said, "The danger to First Amendment interests is evident from the widely varying constructions the Commission has given the term 'indecent' over the

Michael Abramson

Abramson Named National Promotion Director For RCA

NEW YORK — Michael G. Abramson has been appointed director of national promotion for RCA Records. He will be based in the company's New York headquarters.

Abramson joined RCA in 1972 as the local promotion representative in Cleveland and subsequently moved to the label's New York offices as product merchandising manager. He has served RCA in a number of capacities, including director of artist development, director of marketing projects, director of product merchandising, and national album promotion manager.

years and from the broad and indefinite sweep of its order in this case."

The Justice Department originally joined the FCC in defending its order before the Court of Appeals. The order censured WBAI for airing George Carlin's "seven dirty words" monologue on Oct. 30, 1973, at an hour when children were likely to be in the audience. Justice said its support of the FCC was offered "mistakenly, we now believe."

Statutes Cited

In its brief, the Justice Department stated its belief that section 1464 of the Criminal Code (on anti-obscenity law) is the statute that governs the case, not section 326 of the Communications Act, which prevents the FCC from assuming any power of censorship. It was the latter statute that Circuit Judge Tamm used to overrule the FCC in Appeals Court.

The government, represented by Solicitor General Wade H. McCree, Jr., concludes that section 1461, "construed in the light of the First Amendment, does not authorize the Commission's present attempt to absolutely outlaw certain words on radio, wholly without regard to context, for all or most of the broadcast day."

Kiss Special Scheduled Solo Albums Planned

NEW YORK — Four different solo albums from the members of the rock band Kiss will be released to coincide with the group's motion picture debut for NBC-TV in September, according to a spokesman for Casablanca Records.

The two-hour, made-for-TV film, "Kiss Meets The Phantom of the Park," begins filming May 1 at Kings Dominion Amusement Park in Richmond, Va. Executive producer Joseph Barbera of Hanna-Barbera Productions describes the special as "the first rock gothic mystery film for television."

The Casablanca spokesman also said that an intensive television ad campaign will promote the solo albums.

Atlantic Records Live Studio LPs As Radio Promo

NEW YORK — A live AC/DC session in May will be the third release in Atlantic Records' continuing "Live From The Atlantic Studios" promotional LP series. The label recently kicked off the series with a session by Detective, recorded before a live audience. The second release in the series was by the LeBlanc-Carr Band.

Each of these LPs, taped at Atlantic Studios in New York, is sponsored by a radio station that has been instrumental in supporting the particular Atlantic-affiliated Since Jimmy Buffett's new ABC album, "Son Of A Son Of A Sailor" just shipped gold, it is clear he is sailing toward new horizons. Symbolically perhaps, Buffett recently traded the "Euphoria," the boat pictured on the cover of his platinum album, "Changes In Latitudes — Changes In Attitudes," for a larger boat to spend two months on the ocean.

It was "Changes" which brought him his greatest success to date, but he obviously wants to continue moving onward and upward.

Not only is the new LP well on its way to topping "Changes," debuting at number 48 bullet on this week's Cash Box Top 100 Albums chart, but he will be appearing in the motion picture "FM" which is to be released this summer.

Buffett's penchant for the Caribbean is still much evident on the latest record, as is his unusual sense of humor, in songs such as "Cheeseburger In Paradise" and "Cowboy In The Jungle." With all this momentum behind him, it should be smooth sailing from here on out for Jimmy Buffett.

New Faces To Watch

Nielsen-Pearson

About eight years ago Reed Nielsen and Mark Pearson found themselves standing outside naked — watching their lodging and $30,000 in uninsured equipment go up in smoke. Two years later they lost all their equipment again, this time in a warehouse fire.

Some people might have thrown in the towel and said the fates weren't with them, but these two singer/songwriters rolled with the punches and "played acoustic duo for a couple of years after that."

Four years ago the duo got together with John Bowen and Steve Boutte and began what is now known as the Nielsen-Pearson Band. The group's debut album came out on Epic Records in January.

"Actually we find that in a lot of ways things are harder for us now than they were before we had a record out," says Pearson, with a smile. "We have to watch over the people who watch over us and there are a lot more things to worry about going wrong. We used to just have to worry about food and shelter and, of course, another fire."

The group's namesakes first met nine years ago when both were handling singing and songwriting duties for bands in the San Francisco bay area. "We both felt the pressure of fronting groups, so it was great that Mark and I could share our songwriting and performing responsibilities," says Nielsen. "We must have written more than 200 songs in the last nine years together. We have so much material it's hard to decide on songs for a 35-40 minute set like we did at the Roxy recently. We're used to playing four-hour bar gigs."

"Since Reed and I write all the songs and do the lead vocals, people tend to forget that we're a quartet," adds Pearson. "Steve and John have gotten other offers, but we tailor the material for them, which partially makes up for Reed and I getting all the attention."

On stage, the Nielsen-Pearson Band is straight-ahead rock 'n' roll, with a progressive country flavor. They don't use theatrics, but they have a personable charm that combines with their zestful lyrics to create a thoroughly enjoyable show. Their harmonies are reminiscent of the early Doobie Brothers, who the group says is now their favorite band.

The group is currently negotiating with managers and booking agents to represent them, and they hope whomever they decide on works out as well as their signing with Epic has.

"Epic has the CBS strength behind them, but maintains a manageable size," says Pearson. "We had good results with the showcases we had before we signed a label deal and got some attractive offers. But Epic promised us free reign over the album, so we went with them."

"The album was first set for release in the fall, but the company was smart and had it wait until after the holiday rush for release — and that has helped us get attention."

Bee Gees Plan U.S. Tour Dream Signs Gotham

LOS ANGELES — RSO recording artists the Bee Gees will tour the U.S. this summer with 50 concert appearances scheduled. The tour, "Bee Gees Fever '78," is slated to begin in mid-summer.

Good Rats

The Good Rats are another of those bands that have been around since the late 1960s, played some good energetic rock 'n' roll, but somehow never did much commercially. Until now, that is.

Their new LP on Passport Records (marketed through Arista), "From Rats To Riches," marks a major turning point in the band's history. When the group's second Passport LP is released later this year (the group will be entering the studio shortly), it will be the first time the Good Rats have ever released more than one LP on any label.

Joe Franco, the drummer, notes that Passport and Arista have made long-term commitments to break the act nationally. Last weekend, the Rats headlined their first show at the Bottom Line in New York, released a single, "Just Found Me A Lady" and started getting ready to enter the studio again. They just returned from a successful tour of the midwest and plan a Canadian tour later this spring.

Franco suggests that the Rats' new-found success is due more to good marketing and promotion than to any change in musical style. "Basically, we're doing the same kind of music now that we've been doing for the past five years," he says. "High-energy rock, with some ballads and some swing numbers thrown in to allow people to mellow out for awhile."

The Rats' debut LP, issued on Kapp Records in 1969, was highly praised by critics but was a commercial flop. Frustrated by the lack of cooperation at the label, the band split up. Peppi Marchello, founder, lead singer, and writer/arranger, and his brother, Mickey, kept the idea of the band together by hustling odd jobs while trying to interest any label in their tapes. In 1973, they formed the present group that consists of the Marchellos, Franco, John Gatto (on guitar and keyboards) and Lenny Kotke (on bass).

The band signed to Warners in 1974, produced one LP, "Tasty," and then abruptly had their option dropped. They then formed their own label and recorded "Rat City In Blue" in 1976. That LP similarly failed commercially, due to distribution difficulties with the record company which had distributed it.

Last year, they inked with Passport, joined with producers Flo and Eddie (formerly of the Turtles), and got a new co-manager, Mike Olivieri.

Clearly, the Good Rats are survivors. Managing themselves through most of their career, doing over 300 gigs a year, and starting their own label, the band has paid its dues several times over.

"It's finally starting to happen for us," says Joe Franco excitedly. For the band that ends its concerts by throwing rubber rats into the audience, it is recognition well-earned.

NEW YORK — Salsoul Records new pop/rock label, Dream Records, has announced the signing of Gotham to the label. Their debut album, entitled "Gotham," will ship imminently.

Managers Series:

Fitzgerald & Hartley Striving To Advance Artists Careers

by Carita Spencer

LOS ANGELES — Larry Fitzgerald and Mark Hartley, partners in the Fitzgerald and Hartley Company, are faced with a unique situation as personal managers. While their roster of clients includes The Brothers Johnson (in association with Quincy Jones Productions/Mellow Management), singer-songwriter Tom Jans and the self-contained unit Toto, it is a multi-dimensional project with Rufus And Chaka Khan that they describe as their "current challenge" — a challenge that involves developing three separate careers from one act.

"Rufus has worked with a very exciting female singer for a long time and at this point, we're in the process, with Chaka's management, of developing three careers from one act," explains Fitzgerald. "Chaka is going to be doing her own thing and will also work with Rufus. The group will now be delivering two albums a year for ABC, one with Chaka and one without."

He continues, "We are now in the process of developing an identity for Rufus separate and apart from Chaka; they will be touring with her and as a group themselves. We're taking a nucleus of a career and hopefully developing it into a superstar act. That's a real challenge."

Stress Longevity

"What we're interested in and what is more meaningful to us than anything is an artist's career," adds Hartley. "We are interested in working with people who have longevity and have a long-term future and are able to pass over musically and are able to crossover in terms of careers. I think it's just as important for a writer who can write hit songs to think about possibly applying that knowledge elsewhere, in motion pictures, for example, or applying musical knowledge in the same way. We're in-

Tyrrell Presents PACE Awards At FORE Luncheon

NEW YORK — The New York chapter of the Fraternity of Record Executives (FORE) recently presented its fourth annual PACE Awards at a luncheon held at the Marriott Essex House.

Jim Tyrrell, vice president of marketing for Epic Records, Portrait Records, and the CBS Associated Labels, presented the 1977 PACE Scholarship to Terrence Morgan, and announced the selection of Marcia Ann Gillespie, editor-in-chief of Essence Magazine, as the 1977 PACE Award Mentor. Gillespie will guide Morgan through his college career.

Tyrrell initiated the PACE Awards, which aid deserving minority students who desire a career in the music industry. He also founded the New York Chapter of FORE.

Gillespie has been editor-in-chief of Essence, the only magazine directed specifically at black women, since May 1971. Previously, she was a researcher for Time-Life Books, and she worked with Life magazine in 1968 on their four-part black history series.

Morgan, who attends New York's Music & Art High School, has also studied on scholarship at the Manhattan School of Music. He was a soloist with his junior high school chorus, sang two principal roles in an opera production, and is also very active in extra-curricular activities.

terested in developing and nurturing careers."

Implicit in the Fitzgerald-Hartley philosophy is the belief that "management is forever." They look upon career management as long-term commitment, which requires "total personal involvement" once they start working with an artist.

"It's a marriage," says Hartley. "It's the devotion to each other. They have to believe in you as well as you believe in them. You have to profit from each other. You have to live through the highs, which is easy, and make it through the lows. The highs in this business are real high and the lows are real low. It's an emotional business on every level."

Maintaining and developing a comfortable and productive atmosphere for the client is imperative, according to Fitzgerald and Hartley. It means taking this responsibility to heart and giving maximum support to the artist, especially in financial dealings and in emotional and personality problems which sometimes inhibit an artist's career.

All of this, contends Fitzgerald, contributes to the complexities involved in personal management and "demands expertise and knowledge in all areas of the entertainment business, including and not limited to the basic principles of law." Both men feel adequately prepared with the experience they have had together and individually.

Multi-Faceted Job

"You have to have a feel for the creative side plus you have to have some knowledge of marketing, advertising, promotion and as a manager you expand on that artist's career and hopefully formulate a sound business as well and guide your client creatively and otherwise," Fitzgerald adds.

Although their company is relatively young, Fitzgerald and Hartley's relationship, as a result of previous business associations, goes back about five years to the time when each was working for Columbia Records. Fitzgerald was president of Caribou Records/Caribou Management in Los Angeles (which managed Chicago and the Beach Boys, among others) for 10 years, beginning around the same time Hartley started working part-time (while attending college) in the mailroom at Columbia in Colorado. This eventually paid off the Hartley who, after doing promotion work in Denver and then in northern California, came to Los Angeles to work for Epic Records as product manager.

"My primary function," explains Hartley, "was to be kind of a liaison between the artists and the record company in the area of packaging and marketing advertising and trade campaigns. My main concern at Epic was to put together the Caribou Record label from the standpoint of working as a direct liaison between Caribou and CBS. As that relationship grew and as we got more involved, I joined Caribou at that point. I was there exactly one year and I was handling promotion and marketing for the label as well as the management company, seeking talent and doing really a little of

by Peter Hartz

LOS ANGELES — At a recent meeting of the California Copyright Conference, the newly elected 1978 board of directors was officially seated. Replacing outgoing president Jay Lowy is Helen King, who is also president of Songwriters Resources & Services. Irwin Pincus was elected vice president. Pincus is professional manager, April Blackwood Music. Bernard Brody, who is an independent publisher, Music Clearance, will fill the treasurer post. Molly Hyman, general manager of Harrison Music, was named secretary with Wayne Powers, professional manager of Northridge Music/Henry Mancini Music Group, serving as assistant secretary.

Other members of the conference board are: Michael Goldson, Irwin Coster, Barbara Brunow, Al Kohn, Kim Guggenheim, Jesse Kaye. Returning directors are: Ronny Schiff, Kim Espy, Hannah Russell, Terri Fricon, Rick Riccobono and Sam Trust. Alternates are: John Sippel, Malcolm Beelby and Hy Kanter.

Featured Speakers

The featured speakers before the Conference were Claude Hall, publisher of the Claude Hall Radio Report, and Albert Ciancimino, vice president and counsel of SESAC.

In his comments before the assembled publishers, label representatives and performance rights society members, Hall stressed the difficult fight faced by ASCAP and BMI over the "pay for play" controversy concerning radio station payment for right to broadcast music. Hall stressed that major opposition was organized by the National Association of Broadcasters.

"Broadcasters feel they are responsible for selling records. They do not feel they need to pay additionally. NAB also has a $4 million budget for operating expenses and this affords a strong Washington lobby.

"Although it has been a long-standing practice in foreign countries such as Australia for radio to pay for the right to broadcast music, the practice has met great resistance in the United States. Part of the reason is the hit record. Because radio plays such a crucial role in breaking records, record companies have been interested in getting airplay at any cost.

Tighter Playlists

"As stations compete for ARB ratings, playlists have become tighter and tighter with the number of records being played continually shrinking. Instead of the Top 30, playlists now have perhaps 7-12 current songs apart from goldies. A friend, Augie Blume properly named it the 'instant recurrent format.'"

Noting that 17% of the radio stations in the country are automated, Hall said that

Polydor Inks Nolan

LOS ANGELES — Kenny Nolan has signed a long-term agreement with Polydor Incorporated, recording himself and other artists for his newly formed record company, announced Polydor Records' president Fred Haayen.

Nolan's first release on Polydor will be "A Song Between Us," his first album since "I Like Dreamin'," which now also joins the Polydor catalog. Nolan has had previous experience with Polydor outside the United States. Many of his songs have been chart toppers in England on the Polydor distributed Chelsea label.

East Coastings/Points West

EAST COASTINGS — TOUCH OF CLASS — CBS and Casablanca sustained their reputations for throwing lavish parties with two recent affairs, one held in New York for Art Garfunkel, the other in Atlanta for Donna Summer. Both events featured a preponderance of tailored three-piece suits and fashionable evening gowns, as well as an incredibly sumptuous outlay of food and drink. The atmosphere at Garfunkel's Tavern-On-The-Green party was the more somber of the two, but it was also more star-studded. Those making an appearance included Peter Brown, Dan Hill, Shelly Duvall, Carly Simon and Lorne Michaels. Breaking up the solemnity was Scott Muni holding a balloon, and an animated conversation between Paul Simon and Walter Yetnikoff. Down at the Hilton in Atlanta, Casablanca not only set up a mini-disco, complete with local dj, but had two huge blocks of ice shaped as Donna's initials.

THE SEARCH FOR ROOTS — Root Boy Slim, discovered by Warner Bros. Records in Washington, made his Los Angeles concert debut recently at the Roxy. Pictured backstage after the show are (l-r): Pete Johnson, Warners executive director of product management; the Root; and Bob Merlis, Warners national publicity director.

Atlanta's music people showed up in force, and Casablanca folk assuredly went home with more than a few new friends.

NO BUSINESS LIKE — The business may not have been holding its breath for this one, but "Punk Magazine" decided that a photo spread featuring the "wedding" of Deborah "Blondie" Harry and Joey "Teapot" Ramone was in order. So the scene was set for a "Mutant Monster Beach Party" pix session to be held (where else?) in a Manhattan loft. Debonair Ray D'Arlando was scheduled to perform the ceremony, but eased out at the last minute, only to be replaced by David "Mick" Johanson. Joan Jett from the Runaways was the maid of honor, but a scandal of sorts erupted when it was discovered that Debby already had a ring on. Realizing, though, that bigamy is about as shocking as littering in the punk world, Johanson went ahead and tenderly slipped a pop-top on the blushing "bride." White rice was thrown.

NAMES IN THE NEWS — John Travolta is forming his own production company, and has already signed a two-picture deal with Orion Pictures, the new company formed by disgruntled United Artists movie executives who quit that outfit recently. . . Graham Parker will be out with a new live double album. . . Bob Marley's U.S. tour starts May 4 in Tampa, Florida, and will wind up on June 18. . . George Benson tentatively set to open new Apollo Theatre. . . Alice Cooper will kick off an 11-city tour in Des Moines, Iowa on April 27. Alice's people promise "machine-gun carrying chickens," among other Cooper favorites. . . Aretha Franklin set to sing on the Oscar show. . . Odd Combo Dept.: The Sylvers and Tom Jones on tour together. . . Miriam Makeba and Stokely Carmichael legally separating after eight years of marriage. . . Sweet will open for Bob Seger, who just kicked off his long-awaited tour. . . Tom Robinson, rock 'n' roll rebel, took a limo to Studio 54 his first night in New York. Upon leaving, he discovered that the limo was gone. Next day, it was found abandoned and burned in Harlem. Somebody must be trying to tell you something, Tom. . . A midnight show has been added to Elvis Costello's only New York appearance on May 6. . . Mink DeVille, who's opening for Elvis this tour, recently scoured the bars of New Orleans looking for a new piano player, after Bobby Leonard left the band. Their new album is called "Return To Magenta". . . Terry Cashman and Tommy West ventured all the way to Missoula, Montana to sign singer Nina Kahle. . . Barry Manilow and The Captain & Tennille are the subjects of new books written by Mark Bego, and published by New York-Tempo Books.

BROADWAY BITS — "Runaways," the Elizabeth Swados musical which packed 'em in at Joseph Papp's downtown Public Theatre, moves to Broadway's Plymouth Theatre May 6. . . The show has tough competition for top new musical, though, as Bob Fosse's "Dancing" has copped rave reviews and box-office sell-outs. . . Finally, a show called "Rock Wars" is set for Broadway this summer, utilizing live bands in the theatre who will perform their own material.

BACK IN THE U.S.A. — Renaissance, currently on tour this side of the Atlantic, opened in New York, and members John Tout and Annie Haslam stopped by the Cash Box office while in town. Haslam described their latest album, "A Song For All Seasons," as the group's "most accessible" to date, and mentioned that Renaissance was strongly urged by their label to come up with shorter songs with the AM market in mind. Heeding the advice, the group used producer David Hentschel, their first outside producer in seven albums. Unfortunately, Haslam contracted a throat infection after leaving New York, and the group had to postpone a few dates.

PUBLIC SERVICE — Here's a book that looks like it might be valuable to anyone in the entertainment industry: "Gadney's Guide To 1500 International Contests, Festivals & Grants In Film & Video, Photography, TV-Radio Broadcasting, Writing, Playwriting & Journalism." The reference book covers all sorts of ways you can get money from places that want to give it away, and runs 500 pages. It's available from Festival Publications, P.O. Box 10180, Glendale, California 91209 at $15.95 a copy. As they say in Times Square — check it out.

HELLO DOLLY — Robert Summer, division vice president of RCA Records U.S.A., presented recording artist Dolly Parton with her first gold records at the recent NARM Convention. Dolly was honored for her LP, "Here You Come Again," and for her gold single of the same name.

Charles Palkert

POINTS WEST — NO MORE PLAYING POSSUM — Elektra/Asylum artist Carly Simon begins a series of concert appearances April 9, her first in six years. Beginning at the Paradise in Boston, Carly will move on to perform in Philadelphia, Bethlehem, Pa., Paramus, N.J., Stony Brook, N.Y., Middletown, N.Y., winding up at the Bottom Line in New York City. Additional mini-tours for spring and summer months are expected to be finalized after the first leg of her 1978 tour is completed. She will be backed by David Spinozza, Steve Gadd, Bill Mernit, Michael Malner, Warren Bernhardt, Tony Levin and

FEATURE PICKS

ELTON JOHN (MCA 40892)

Ego (3:57) (Jodrell/Leeds — ASCAP) (E. John/B. Taupin)

Interesting record. Taken from a forthcoming LP (July?), this song about "craving the spotlight" is multi-layered and ambitious. Piano licks resemble Keystone Cop silent film score; vocals are characteristically strong; solid guitar work. Top pick.

TED NUGENT (Epic 8-50533)

Yank Me, Crank Me (3:33) (Magicland — ASCAP) (T. Nugent)

Manic young Ted is at his best live and this track from the "Double Live Gonzo" album rides the bluesy driving beat and makes the crowd jump. Vocals and searing guitar licks aim straight ahead.

LYNYRD SKYNYRD (MCA 40888)

You Got That Right (3:38) (Duchess/Get Loose — BMI) (S. Gaines/R. VanZant)

The driving joy of Skynyrd's music lives on in this track taken from the "Street Survivors" album. Tough vocals, strong sliding guitar work, boogie beat, sparkling piano licks and tight hook make the rock really roll. Top 40 kicker.

HEART (Mushroom 7031)

Heartless (3:54) (Andorra — ASCAP) (A. Wilson/N. Wilson)

The bass work pops and runs, giving this track taken from the "Magazine" album a funky bottom. Ann's unique soaring vocals wrapped around a lyric about "sinning in the name of rock 'n' roll" ought to bring Top 40 playlists to their knees.

ODYSSEY (RCA JH-11245)

Weekend Lover (3:15) (Featherbed/Desiderate/Unichappell — BMI) (S. Kinzer/D. Randell)

This re-recorded track from the "Odyssey" LP is about an undercover girl whose lover man is on the family plan. Flighty and smooth strings, excellent vocals and a tasty sax solo make this a solid follow-up to "Native New Yorker."

CAPTAIN & TENNILLE (A&M 2027)

I'm On My Way (2:42) (Pink Flower) (M. Safan)

The lonesome cowboy beat of this gentle and rising rocker is intriguing. Tennille's vocals are smooth and soothing and background vocals add fine embellishments. Dragon's production is clean. Likely Top 40 riser.

TOWER OF POWER (Columbia 3-10718)

Lov'n' You Is Gonna See Me Thru (3:24) (Coultron — ASCAP) (C. Coulter)

The funky keyboard playing is outstanding on this song taken from the "We Came To Play" album. The beat is strongly coursed by steady, high-hat work. Ringing guitar, horns and edgy vocals add jump to this R&B climber.

GEORGE DUKE (Epic 8-50531)

Dukey Stick (Part One) (3:30) (Mycenae — ASCAP) (G. Duke)

Duke is a man of the times and this funky, danceable number has all the accoutrements of goodtime R&B — plenty of jive talkin', handclaps, funky guitar and the beat. Pop playlists would do well to get on the stick.

SINGLES TO WATCH

DAVE MASON (Blue Thumb/ABC BT-276)

Only You Know And I Know (3:30) (Irving — BMI) (D. Mason)

This classic rock song from the "Alone Together" album was never originally released as a single by Mason. The double-timing martial drum beat, solid acoustic and electric guitar work and Dave's vocals make the track a strong contender for Top 40 playlists.

AIRWAVES (A&M 2032)

So Hard Living Without You (3:30) (Irving — BMI) (K. Charter/J. Bettis)

These three guys — Dave Charles, Ray Martinez and John David — have a good clean pop sound. Taken from their "New Day" LP, this track has a slow perk keyboard beat and a pleasing weave of vocals. Easy Top 40 add.

GERRY RAFFERTY (UA-X1192-Y)

Baker Street (4:08) (Hudson Bay — BMI) (G. Rafferty)

This interesting song from the "City To City" album features tasty sax passages, effective vocals, strings and a nice blend of jazz, pop and funk influences. Added percussion broadens the beat. Nice pop add.

CHOCOLATE MILK (RCA JH-11222)

Girl Callin' (3:40) (Marsaint — BMI) (A. Toussaint)

Impeccable harmonies and a simple assertive drum and rhythm guitar beat make this one of the smoothest R&B/pop tracks heard in a while. The hook is cleanly executed. Nice sax work. From "We're All In This Together."

SMOKEY ROBINSON (Tamla/Motown T 54293F)

Daylight & Darkness (4:00) (Bertam — ASCAP) (S. Robinson/R.E. Jones)

This soulful ballad about the paradox of love is a delight. Smokey's vocals are emotionally expressive. The keyboard work is bright and shiny; the bass work has a quiet presence. Imagistic lyric. R&B and Top 40 material.

ROBERT JOHN (Ariola 7693)

Give A Little (3:02) (High Sierra — BMI/All Rite — ASCAP) (M. Piccirillo/T. Pedrick/R. John)

Remember "The Lion Sleeps Tonight?" John's high register vocals are excellent on this tight R&B influenced number. The cascading hook is infectious. Stirring strings and sax solo are effective. A favorite pick.

NRBQ (Mercury 554)

I Love Her, She Loves Me (2:28) (NRBQ — ASCAP) (J. Spampinato)

Gentle beat, pleasant melodic line, toy piano licks and decided McCartney sound characterize this nice ballad taken from the "NRBQ At Yankee Stadium" album. Vocals are gentle and effective. Top 40 and MOR material. A possible sleeper star.

3 OUNCES OF LOVE (Motown 1439F)

Star Love (3:49) (Jobete — ASCAP/Stone Diamond — BMI) (G. Wright/R. Vann)

Discovered by The Commodores, 3 Ounces Of Love is a new group signed to Motown, and this track from a forthcoming album features excellent singing and a nice arrangement of spacey funk. Prepared for R&B and pop playlist lift-off.

THE WHISPERS (RCA YB-11246)

(Let's Go) All The Way (3:25) (Free Delivery — ASCAP/Wah Watson/Joseph and Art — BMI) (M. Ragin/R. Burke/A. Posey/J. Brown)

Silky vocals and solid horn arrangement characterize this funky number. Strings add sweep. Easy funk drum beat and love lyric ought to give this track a chance to go all the way on R&B and pop playlists.

DOROTHY MOORE (Malaco/TK 1048)

Let The Music Play (3:47) (Two-Knight — BMI) (F. Knight)

Bass, drums and rhythm guitar work up a moderate dancing beat on this track taken from Moore's name album. Horns and strings ride the wave. Dorothy's voice is funky and gets under the skin. R&B mover.

MIKE PINERA (Capricorn CPS-0288)

Alone With You (3:10) (Western Shores — ASCAP/Bayard Pub. — BMI) (M. Pinera)

Taken from "Isla," Pinera's debut album with Capricorn (he used to be a member of Blues Image), this ballad has a tasty blend of rhythm and lead guitar work and effective vocals. Suited to Top 40 playlists.

ALBERT KING (Tomato 10002)

Chump Change (3:40) (Groovesville — BMI) (B. Murphy/E. Morgenson)

Do you know what you've got after the fed, state and local taxes? After the light and phone bill? After child support? That's right. Chump change. This funky romp from the King has wit, strong background singers and pop arrangement.

EDDIE KENDRICKS (Arista 0325)

Ain't No Smoke Without Fire (3:47) (Blackwood — BMI) (D. Bugatti/F. Musker)

A nice arrangement of horns, strings, gentle bluesy-funk guitar and backing vocals makes this ballad about the vicissitudes of love a nice pick for R&B and pop playlists. Kendrick's vocals are smooth and bright.

HARVEY MASON (Arista 0323)

Till You Take My Love (3:29) (Masong — ASCAP) (H. Mason/D. Foster)

With Harvey providing an easy dancing beat, his high register female singers admirably handle the lyric and hook about waiting for love. Horns and strings fill. Suited to R&B and dancing pop playlists.

SHARON REDD/ULA HEDWIG/CHARLOTTE CROSSLLEY (Columbia 3-10713)

Ain't No Man Worth It (3:32) (Childstar/Society Hill — ASCAP) (A. Willis/B. Lipman)

Excellent vocal harmonies and a message-for survival are featured on this track from the "Formerly Of The Harlettes" album. Dedicated to the struggle of "blah-blahs" against the tears, the track ought to find a nice pop home.

Records

LONDON TOWN — Wings — Capitol SW-11777 — Producer: Paul McCartney — List: 7.98

One of the true superstars in the music world, Paul McCartney continues to produce some of the tastiest pop songs around. This time out he and Wings offer 14 songs and more than 50 minutes of beautiful melodies and sparkling music that should fly straight to the top of the charts. "With A Little Luck" is already a smash single and "Morse Moose And The Grey Goose" is a prime AOR cut. Overall, a brilliant collection.

THIS YEARS MODEL — Elvis Costello — Columbia JC 35331 — Producer: Nick Lowe — List: 7.98

Elvis Costello so far has produced the highest yield of any of England's new wave crop imported to our shores. His second album is every bit the equal of his superb debut LP, enabling Costello to transcend the early comparisons to Graham Parker and Bruce Springsteen and emerge with an identity all his own. Key to that image is his stance against the shallowness of human character which is happening too much in today's mechanized, passionless society. For AOR and Top 40.

YOU CAN TUNE A PIANO, BUT YOU CAN'T TUNA FISH — REO Speedwagon — Epic JE 35082 — Producers: Kevin Cronin, Gary Richardson and Paul Grupp — List: 7.98

If you like your rock 'n' roll to sizzle without burning and be passionate without being pretentious — then REO Speedwagon has the LP for you. This mid-western quintet has been rocking for almost a decade, and at this point they've got it down. Powerhouse cuts like "Roll With The Changes" and "Say You Love Me Or Say Goodnight" are what this album is all about. Already the fourth Most Added FM Album this week, this could be REO's breaker.

DOUBLE DOSE — Hot Tuna — Grunt/RCA CYL2-2545 — Producer: Felix Pappalardi — List: 9.98

This double-album should announce to the general public what the rabid Hot Tuna cult has known since the band's inception. The proof of the musical pudding is in the live performances. A variety of styles are touched on here, with side one spotlighting Jorma Kaukonen on such Tuna classics as "Embryonic Journey" and "Killing Time In The Crystal City" and a plethora of full-tilt rockers on the other sides. AOR programmers should gulp this one down whole.

YOU'RE OK I'M OK — Billy Swan — A&M SP 4686 — Producer: Booker T. Jones — List: 7.98

With his first album for A&M, Billy has gone back to the freewheeling rockabilly style with which he created the outstanding "I Can Help" in 1975. Legendary rock 'n' roll figures Otis Blackwell, Scotty Moore and the Jordanaires lend their hands on several tracks giving the session a true rock 'n' roll spirit. Additional touches such as Leo Sayer's harmonica on the title tune and Swan's own organ make the album a total delight. AOR, Top 40 and country programmers all should pick up on this one.

MANDRE TWO — Motown M7900R1 — Producer: Andre Lewis — List: 7.98

In addition to superbly producing and arranging this disc, the Masked Marvel penned five out of the eight tunes himself and two of the remaining three with a partner. This second offering has some interesting and innovative compositions, among them Stephen Stills' "Fair Game," "I Like Your Freaky Ways," and "Doing Nothing, Nothing Doing." Anything goes. For a variety of playlists.

PURE POP FOR NOW PEOPLE — Nick Lowe — Columbia JC 35329 — Producer: Nick Lowe — List: 7.98

The title says a lot about the first domestic release by the man who has produced Elvis Costello and Dave Edmunds, among others. The songs are framed in classic pop melodies and arrangements, but as might be expected from someone with Lowe's track record, the lyrics often offer stark contrast to the bright pop sound. "Marie Provost" is a perfect example with its bouncy melody and story about an actress who goes to Hollywood from New York, fails and winds up as dinner for a canine. Great sense of humor.

SECOND WIND — Delbert McClinton — Capricorn CPN-0201 — Producer: Johnny Sandlin — List: 7.98

McClinton's latest release features consistently top-notch arrangements by the Muscle Shoals Horn Section and his own backup band. McClinton's style is reminiscent of the Allman Brothers, especially in his vocals. He also uses other artists' material, such as Johnny Cash's "Big River" and Jesse Winchester's "Isn't That So." His own writing style is in the southern folk-rock genre that tells a story and entertains musically. For AOR playlists.

NO PROBLEM HERE — Mac McAnally — Arlola America SW 50029 — Producers: Clayton Ivey & Terry Woodford — List: 7.98

Mac is back with his second LP and a hearty second helping of his well-crafted story-songs that always deserve a close listen. McAnally's mostly mellow, acoustic-oriented songs take a lighthearted, slightly off-center approach in their examination of a variety of subjects which range from funerals to dating plastic dolls to love. Although most of the emphasis here is on McAnally's vocals and lyrics, his guitar playing is also noteworthy. His songs should do well on AOR, pop and easy listening stations.

MAGAZINE — Heart — Mushroom MRS-5008 — Producer: Mike Filcker — List: 7.98

With their legal hassles behind them, the Wilson sisters, Nancy and Ann, and the rest of Heart are back with an outstanding power pop collection. Their new single, "Heartless," rates with earlier Heart rockers and the title track is another beauty. Two excellent live cuts, including "I've Got The Music In Me," are an added bonus. As the saying goes, especially if you're an AOR or pop programmer, you gotta have Heart.

... AND THEN THERE WERE THREE ... — Genesis — Atlantic SD 19173 — Producers: David Hentschel and Genesis — List: 7.98

Genesis fans have received one shock after another as band members left the group one after another, most recently Steve Hackett. As the title says, only three members are left, but their new release is nonetheless brilliant. With no compromise in the group's musical quality, these 11 songs may well be the best Genesis album yet. Initial AOR response — this is the week's second Most Added FM Album — indicates this could be an air-wave giant for months to come.

WE CAME TO PLAY — Tower Of Power — Columbia JC 34906 — Producer: Steve Cropper — List: 7.98

Oakland's Tower Of Power is back with perhaps the group's best effort since "Back To Oakland." Famed session guitarist Steve Cropper adds his production expertise and some hot guitar licks to spice up the LP, already quite hot from the sizzling Tower horns. Best cuts include the current concert favorite "Lovin' You Is Gonna See Me Thru," the irresistible "Yin-Yang Thang" and the powerful "Share My Life." Already getting heavy R&B and AOR airplay.

PHOTOGENIC — NOT JUST ANOTHER PRETTY FACE — Melanie — Midsong MCA-3033 — Producer: Peter Schekeryk — List: 7.98

Melanie is back, with a mix of classics ("Knock On Wood" and "Let It Be Me"), covers of pop hits ("We Can Work It Out" and "California Dreamin'") and four of her own new songs. Prominent among the new songs is "Record People," which gives the industry quite a ribbing. Overall, the remarkably sustained and moving album is proof that this pretty face has been gone too long. Deserves substantial airplay, with something for every format.

ARCHIVES — Rush — Mercury SRM-3-9200 — Producers: Rush and Terry Brown — List: 13.98

This three-man band from Canada has long been regarded as one of the more inventive groups from north of the border, and this 3-LP set containing material from three albums released in 1974-75 shows why. All the songs were composed within the group, and Geddy Lee, Alex Lifeson and John Rutsey all shine as musicians as well. AOR programmers should have a field day picking songs off this top-notch collection.

FINAL EXAM — Loudon Wainwright III — Arista AB 4173 — Producer: John Lissauer — List: 7.98

With some of the most well-wrought, whimsical lyrics around and plenty of infectious melodies to boot, Wainwright really makes the grade on this LP. A serious songwriter with a comic style that's in a class all its own, Wainwright takes the out-of-the-ordinary approach here as he stabs back at hecklers, school and collect callers. And as always, his manic-depressive vocals add a delightful dimension to his lyrical punch. Straight A's on this one.

GOTHAM — Dream DA3501 — Producer: John J. Williams — List: 7.98

Gotham might be described most easily by just calling them the Pointer Brothers. The male vocal trio, like the Pointer Sisters, takes some old standards, such as "South Rampart Street Parade" and "Jersey Bounce," as well as some contemporary tunes by the likes of Elton John and Billy Joel and dresses them up in fancy vocal arrangements. A varied album which projects a number of sounds and styles that should be good for several formats.

GRINGO — United Artists LA845G — Producers: Snuff Garrett and Steve Dorff — List: 6.98

Gringo. The very name conjures up images of the Pecos, parched horizons and buzzards hovering over a lone prospector. But wait! This band from New England has a veritable posse of talent and is armed with 10 of the catchiest pop-rockers ever to hit the musical trail. Pop programmers who can't find room on their playlists for Gringo have until sundown to get of town.

GOOD, BAD & FUNKY — Shotgun — ABC AA1060 — Producers: Stuart Alan Love, David Chackler and Shotgun — List: 7.98

Arm yourself with some good ears 'cause you'll need a couple to get a load of this. The title tune is an indication of things to come, but don't get discouraged by the latter adjectives. All seven members exercise their writing abilities on this second effort, which is enhanced by excellent musicianship. Take a shot. "I Wish I Could See You Again," "Love Attack" and "All Spaced Out (All Funked Up)" are good ones. R&B programmers should take aim at this one.

John Denver

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NYC — John Denver's annual pilgrimage to New York filled the Garden with his faithful following, who were treated to rousing two-and-a-half hour show.

With support from a lively country-rock band, assembled for the 53-date concert tour, Denver performed some 30 selections from his RCA catalog including the title song from his latest LP, "I Want To Live." He also did songs by Tom Paxton ("Bet On The Blues"), Eric Andersen ("Thirsty Boots"), and the Beatles ("When I'm 64"). Instead of the string ensembles he has toured with in the past, Denver's superb band consisted of four men who have recently been associated with Emmylou Harris — Herb Pedersen (banjo and guitar), James Burton (guitars), Glen D. Hardin (keyboards), and Emory Gordy (bass). In addition, there were three excellent background vocalists, including Renee Armand, plus Jim Horn on woodwinds and Hal Blaine on drums. The group's forays into bluegrass were especially effective, highlighted by their rendition of Pedersen's "High Sierra."

Denver's songs embrace his ecological concern for our natural resources, and his best work in this area is dramatically stated. Accordingly, the warmly-received "To The Wild Country," "Thank God I'm A Country Boy," and "Rocky Mountain High" went over well with the crowd.

To ensure that no one sat "behind" the state, Denver performed on a revolving platform to better communicate with his audience. The intimacy of the occasion was further enhanced by several potted plants that surrounded the circle of musicians.

Denver can hardly be considered a complex man, for his songs deal simply and directly with life's basic pleasures. He brought a touch of sentimentality and all-American idealism to his work when he sang of nature's beauty, but demonstrated a more personal side with the lovely ballad, "How Can I Leave You Again." The transition helped to provide some insight into what makes Denver the great popular entertainer that he is.

Art Garfunkel Dan Hill

CARNEGIE HALL, NYC — Art Garfunkel's recent appearance here was literally a rare treat for young and old. Playing to an audience that ranged from teens to people in their 40s and 50s, the performer of the current hit, "Wonderful World," filled the venerable hall with a soft golden glow.

The program was divided between material from Garfunkel's solo albums, including his latest, "Watermark," and songs which were popularized by Simon And Garfunkel. Among the latter were renditions of "April Come She Will," "Cecilia," "Bridge Over Troubled Water," and "Sounds Of Silence." All of these tunes were beautifully sung by Garfunkel, whose high tenor has retained its honey-smooth quality over the years; but the outstanding triumph of the evening was his gentle, resigned vocal and impeccable phrasing in "Bridge Over Troubled Water."

One of the more striking recent numbers in the concert was Jimmy Webb's "Crying In My Sleep" from "Watermark." Joined by co-vocalist Leah Kunkel (who is credited as a backup singer on the album) in the chorus, Garfunkel gave the song a strong emotional impact, both musically and lyrically. "All My Love's Laughter," another Webb tune, also worked well; although the Irish flavor provided by the Chieftains on "Watermark" was missing, Chung Young Lee's tasteful cello playing added a different color which was equally welcome.

The musicians backing Garfunkel form a very talented group ("It took me eight years to find them," he told the audience). Outstanding among the players was guitarist Alan Roth, who wove a dazzling tapestry of notes on acoustic in several songs and delivered a wonderfully plunky electric sound in "Cecilia."

At her best, Leah Kunkel harmonized with Garfunkel as well as Paul Simon once did. But there were some rough edges in her rendition with Garfunkel of "Wonderful World," and her solo performances suffered by comparison with those of her golden-voiced partner.

The show opened with a spell-binding set by Twentieth Century-Fox recording artist Dan Hill. Straddling the fence between folk and MOR/pop, Hill sang a string of self-penned numbers that had the same kind of direct lyrics that grace his hit single, "Sometimes When We Touch." However, most of his vocals sounded clearer than his performance of that song. With lyrics as warm and witty as Don McLean's, and a delivery that evokes comparison with Steve Goodman, Dan Hill has something very special to offer concert audiences.

Blue Oyster Cult Teaze

CONCERT BOWL, TORONTO — Blue Oyster Cult is one of the more realistic hard-nosed rock bands today. From the school of hard knocks and soft leather, they don't cut corners when it comes to giving the crowd what they want.

Their high-decibel performance in the 9,000-seat Concert Bowl (one half of Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens) was, aurally and visually, one of the most sense-fulfilling shows to be found in the realm of hard rock.

The band is one of the few in existence that can tastefully use lasers and lighting effects to enhance, and not digress, from a show. Their relentless rock, coupled with an elaborate technological display, made the show multi-dimensionally satisfying.

The group featured music from their six albums, but highlighted their most recent release, the already-platinum "Spectres" album. Buck Dharma, as always, was the musical highlight of the concert, playing some flashy, inspiring lead guitar, as the band poured out a chunky percussive base.

During the course of the show, the band played old favorites like "Harvester Of Eyes" and "ME262," as well as newer songs like "The Golden Age Of Leather" and "Godzilla." The latter song featured a diverse drum solo by Albert Bouchard, as well as an excellent display of laser beams and smoke, which created hologram-like projections at the front of the stage.

The group ended with "Born To Be Wild," and a fireworks display, which emanated from all sides of the band's lighting stand and the floor of the stage. The crowd demanded more and received "Don't Fear The Reaper," the band's hit single.

One of the more pleasant surprises was the opening act, Teaze. The hard-rock quartet showed signs of being an emerging Canadian group during their forty-minute set. Good guitar solos, and an enthusiastic stage presence, gave the band instant rapport with the unfamiliar Toronto audience.

The group warmed up the crowd and was called back for an encore, a feat almost unheard of for an opening act in Toronto.

Renaissance

NEW YORK CITY CENTER — Renaissance exhibited many glittering facets as the group began a four-night run here recently. While they are still basically a "progressive" group, the Sire recording artists showed themselves capable of rendering pop and MOR tunes which would sound fine on AM radio.

Much has been made of the classical influence in Renaissance's music, and one could certainly hear it in lead singer Annie Haslam's breath control, in some of John Tout's keyboard chops, and in the "orchestral" depth of the arrangements.

But when compared with the classical fusion experiments of Yes or ELP, Renaissance sounded closer to the pure pop inspiration of an Abba or the more rockified aspects of Genesis. This was especially evident when Renaissance performed cuts from their latest album, "A Song For All Seasons."

For example, in "The Day Of The Dreamer," Haslam's voice soared above a smooth, well-integrated mix of electric guitars and synthesizer strings, while the drummer provided a driving rhythm. Harmonies were unusual without being eccentric. Similarly, in the album's title track, a snappy rhythm and tight instrumental work, created a supportive framework for Haslam's surging vocal.

Haslam must be heard in person to be fully appreciated. In "Things I Don't Understand" from "Turn Of The Cards," she had the hard-edged stridency of a Grace Slick; but in the song's middle section, her long, lovely, wordless lines floated softly above the audience. In contrast, Haslam made her voice sound appealingly childlike in "Can You Hear Me Call" from "Novella." And in another number from the same album called "Midas Man" she hit a couple of amazingly high notes.

In the middle of the set, Betty Thatcher, who wrote "Mother Russia," came out to introduce her song. What followed was a fair example of the Renaissance style. After a few bars on the piano, Michael Dunford laid down an acoustic guitar pattern. Tout then began to play a sort of Russian folk melody on the keyboard, which Jon Camp on electric guitar and drummer Terence Sullivan used as material for a rock'n'roll song. This kind of layered buildup, with Haslam entering after several lines had already been set in motion, was typical of the group's arrangements.

If Renaissance demonstrated any weakness, it was the tendency of the musicians to take their listeners into unfamiliar harmonic territory. But when they stuck with pretty melodies and recognizable hooks, their material worked like a charm.

England Dan & John Ford Coley

ROXY, L.A. — England Dan And John Ford Coley have come up with a winning formula for pop performers. They enjoy themselves on stage, play a mix of mellow and country-rock songs and throw in their familiar hits at just the right intervals. Their recent Roxy appearance, their first in Los Angeles as headliners, showed both the strengths and weaknesses of their formula.

The duo, and their five-man backup band, have a ceaseless pleasantness to their act that seems to make them perfect for television exposure, which has already been a key factor in their career. But their stand-up comic patter is out of place at a club like the Roxy, especially in the face of such obstacles as one the worst feedback attacks in recent memory. Their smiles are beautiful, but inconsistent with many of the tender love ballads they perform so well.

But musically, except for a somewhat slow opening, the Big Tree duo was first-rate. Hits like "Night Are Forever Without You" and "I'd Really Love To See You Tonight" stand the test of time, and all the material off their latest LP, "Some Things Don't Come Easy," worked well. The most invigorating song was the new album's title track, which featured fiery instrumentation by all the band members leading up to a stirring climax.

Private Stock's Franklin Micare opened the set. Micare has a strong voice and did some excellent material in a variety of different styles. His strongest selection was "Hot Jazz," which included a vocal trumpet imitation that was stunning. No doubt more will be heard from this solo artist.

Eric Von Schmidt

MCCABE'S, L.A. — In a rare concert appearance, Eric Von Schmidt and friends appeared here recently to a full house at the very intimate McCabe's Club. One of the original figures in the '60s folk revival out of Cambridge, Mass., Von Schmidt revealed to the crowd his knowledge of folk blues with a well-conceived set which included a mixed bag of Leadbelly-influenced country blues, folk ballads, funky New Orleans jazz, and a gospel tune.

Supported by Debby Green on electric bass and Mitch Greenhill on electric guitar and mandolin, Von Schmidt opened the set with his own classic blues number, "Champagne Don't Hurt Me, Baby" (made famous by Taj Mahal). The next piece, a "Tex/Mex" tune, "Sweet Margarita," which told a cute story about life south of the border, showed off Von Schmidt's husky baritone voice (vaguely reminiscent of Little Feat's Lowell George). There was considerable good-natured banter with the audience.

The best tunes of the night, however, were yet to come. Von Schmidt's clever mocking ballad, "Wet Birds Fly at Night" flowed into some superb guitar riffs on the spine-tingling "Love Comes Rolling Down." The intensely urgent feeling of "He Was A Friend Of Mine" won the audience over and all three songs featured the fine slide guitar and mandolin work of Greenhill.

In the smokin' "When You Get Old, You Get Wise," Von Schmidt picked up the tempo and kept the energy high as he moved into a song from his upcoming album on Philo Records, which is entitled "Champagne Don't Hurt Me, Baby."

At this point in the show, Eric brought out a few of his friends to help him with the last three numbers. Keyboardist Dave Barry and soprano sax player Jim Rothermel (a member of Jesse Colin Young's band) really cooked on Von Schmidt's "It's the Doing" and a hand-clapping rendition of the traditional "Will The Circle Be Unbroken" which Von Schmidt has fondly nicknamed "Can A Serpent Be Housebroken" (who else could get away with lyrics like "Who unchained my brains and threw away the Key, and who cut down the limbs of my family tree").

Denver Indictments Name 5 In A Ratings Tampering Case

by Joey Berlin

DENVER — A Denver county grand jury has handed down indictments charging five people with felonious criminal impersonation and conspiracy for allegedly tampering with Arbitron ratings diaries. Named in the indictments are Harold Moore and Rodney "Bud Elliot" Stambaugh, program director and news director, respectively, at KHOW-AM, Dan Davis and Hal Widsten, both formerly with KLZ-AM, and Davis' wife Paula.

The city and county of Denver in the indictments allege that Davis received six

Two Fired

ARB diaries in the fall of 1977 from his former wife, who had been chosen by Arbitron to supply ratings information. The indictments accuse Davis of using the diaries to inflate his own and the station's ratings.

Moore and Stambaugh were originally indicated at the end of last year on similar charges, dating back to spring 1976, but that indictment was dropped as incomplete and a new indictment was handed down with the Davis-Widsten indictment on March 16.

Hearing Dates

Moore and Stambaugh are scheduled for an arraignment hearing on April 7 on their two counts. A motions and arraignment hearing for Widsten and the Davises has been set for May 19 on the same two counts.

An Arbitron spokesman indicates the tampering allegations were brought to the ratings service's attention before the November/December 1977 Denver report was issued, preventing the publishing of an inaccurate book. "We sent out more than two million diaries in the past year, so this is bound to happen sometimes," says the spokesman. "But we are very, very security conscious and use many security procedures, so these types of incidents are in fact quite rare."

Two Fired

Davis and Widsten were both fired by KLZ, which now employs a "modern country" AM format, although a spokesman for the station said both were terminated before the indictments came in. Davis' lawyer contends that his client's dismissal was not the result of his failure to discuss the tampering allegations with the station as much as the station's desire to change formats. KLZ had used an adult contemporary format up until March 11. Davis has since been hired by Denver television station KWGN.

Moore and Stambaugh are both still with KHOW, which employs an MOR personality format. "Both indictees are innocent until proven guilty," notes station general manager Joe Parish, "and we are supporting them 100 percent."

Kendalls' 'Heaven' Hit Brings Label Into Nash. Mainstream

by Bob Campbell

NASHVILLE — The remarkable "overnight" success of The Kendalls and "Heaven's Just A Sin Away" has shot Ovation Records, a virtual newcomer to country music, dead center into the mainstream of the music industry here. And Ovation has proved through sound leadership and solid business knowledge that a small label can take advantage of a first hit and build a strong operational base.

"Heaven's Just A Sin Away" was released in late July of 1977 as the original 'B' side of "Live And Let Live." But once Ovation realized that "Heaven" was the obvious single, its organization had the ability and determination to work the song until it reached the #1 spot in all trades by the middle of October. And The Kendalls' second single, "It Don't Feel Like Sinnin' To Me," sits this week at the #2 spot on the Cash Box Singles chart.

The guiding force behind Ovation is owner and president Dick Schory, who entered the country market with a wealth of music industry experience under his belt. Although he could not foresee the quick success of The Kendalls, Schory approached country music with a sober eye.

"I am convinced, and have been convinced for some time, that a small label that knows what it is doing can carve a niche in this business, especially in the country field," said Schory, who formed Ovation eight years ago and maintains the head office in Glenview, Ill. "We are treating the country field like a business, and there are certain basics you have to do in sales and promotion.

'Respect Your Product'

"You have to respect your product, and you have to work it," Schory added. "People have got to know about it. When a record is getting airplay, it has got to be in the stores. It's got to be on the key racks in volume. The only way we moved the amount of product that we did on "Heaven's Just A Sin Away" (combined United States and Canadian sales total over one million units) is because it was out there when the people wanted to buy it.

"It took us exactly five days of watching that record in three markets to get on it," continued Schory, who worked with RCA for 12 years. "I think the markets were Macon, Ga., Peoria, Ill. and San Antonio, Tex. Joe Sun (Ovation country promoter) called me and said, 'I think we've got the 'B' side. We've watched it, talked to a couple of stations and the phones are ringing off the wall.' Well, we immediately re-serviced everyone in the country field with the 'B' side, and from then on it was work. We worked that record for four solid months. Once the public responds, if you can control your markets, your production flow and your distributorship, you can bring it home. We've done it again with the new single."

After initial success, many small labels make the mistake of trying to expand too quickly and spending too much money. But Schory has a definite gameplan for the future of Ovation here.

"You have to concentrate on one objective," Schory said. "If you have limited funds and a limited staff, then you have to concentrate on using whatever muscle you have in developing an artist's career and working his product. Regardless of how successful we are, our philosophy is that we are going to concentrate on a very small number of artists. But we will try to do with each act exactly what we did with The Kendalls. We can't work 20 acts. We are selling more records now than a lot of labels do in country music. Some labels may have five or six records on the charts at once, but they are not working any one piece of product and bringing it home to its full potential.

"Now, with two pieces of product out on The Kendalls, we are doing extensive point of purchase display material," he added. "We are doing a three by three-foot album blowup. We have a poster, divider cards, and we have a dummy jacket for window display. The Kendalls are established now. It's like money in the bank. But you still have to work every piece of product like it's the first record."

Breaking Phillips

Ovation is working now towards breaking new artist Alan Phillips, whose debut single, "We'll Turn Down The Invitation," has been on the market three weeks. As a promotional idea, Ovation recently sent out

COUNTRY

The Country Column

MCA's Joe Ely has been out on the road the last couple of months entertaining the folks and gathering disciples. MCA reports its traveling west Texas minstrel is being met with sellout crowds, standing ovations and general bedlam wherever he goes. Ely's current album, "Honky Tonk Masquerade," has received nearly unanimous rave critical reviews in all music publications. At a recent date in St. Louis, Joe had a chance to meet Chuck Berry, one of Ely's longtime idols. Ely talked Berry into joining him on stage, and the two artists sang impromptu duets on "Jambalaya" and "Mountain Dew." In addition to other honors, Ely's first MCA album, "Joe Ely," was selected by Melody Maker magazine in England as the "1977 Country Album of the Year."

Country music pioneer Tex Williams is having a career resurgence. On Denim Records, Williams will soon have a new album released, "Tex Williams — Then And Now," which will feature his standards "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke That Cigarette" and "Nancy Ann's Hotel." Tom Bresh and Commander Cody have also recorded versions of "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke That Cigarette." Tex will tour Iran and Australia this summer.

RCA's Tom T. Hall utilized winter this year to finish his second book and restructure his road show. Hall's first book was a treatise on songwriting, "How I Write Songs . . . And How You Can Too."

Kitty Wells, Wendy Holcombe and Connie Cato entertained recently on the Jackson, Tenn. Muscular Dystrophy Telethon.

Producer Huey Meaux escaped from Texas for a few days recently and traveled to Los Angeles where his artist Freddy Fender was taping several television shows and appearing at the Palomino Club. Meaux, a colorful man with a long history in the music business, had to sit still for a few interviews himself. He also conversed with fellow southerner Jim Nabors during the taping of The Jim Nabors Show. Understand they talked about crawfish and southern cooking.

Country songwriter Jerry Abbott, who has written for Freddy Fender and Johnny Paycheck, recently signed a recording contract with Churchhill Records. Abbott's first release will be "I Want A Little Cowboy."

MCA artist Kenny Starr has been busy cutting local television commercials for the First American National Bank and for South Central Bell Company's Yellow Pages. Starr's new single release will be "The Rest Of My Life."

The Kendalls have purchased a new silver eagle bus to help smooth out the grind of the road.

MCA's Loretta Lynn will be traveling to England soon to tape a segment of the "Muppets" syndicated television show. While in England, Loretta and her husband, Mooney, will take a short vacation. As soon as she returns, Loretta will begin making plans for her annual "Pow Wow and Fish Fry" which will be held June 3 during "Fan Fair." She holds this event each year for her fan club members in appreciation for their support.

Ervin Woolsey Gets ABC Post

NASHVILLE — Ervin Woolsey has been named national country promotion director for ABC Records. The label's president of Nashville operations, Jim Foglesong, said that Woolsey assumes his new responsibilities immediately. Woolsey formerly was in charge of midwest regional country promotion for ABC.

"We are pleased to have a person of such extensive experience and credibility for this position," Foglesong said. "Ervin brings with him not only familiarity with our artists and product, but also quite a bit of savvy and ingenuity."

Activity has been hot recently at Quadratic Studios here. Norbert Putnam has completed production work on a new Jesse Winchester album on Bearsville Records, and Mentor Williams (writer of "Driftaway") has been in from California doing production work on artist Jody Payne. And Stella Parton, Eddie Rabbitt, Jack Clement and Donna Fargo have all recorded recently at Quad's Studio. In the past, Quad has hosted the likes of Neil Young, Joan Baez and John Prine.

Joining RCA's Jim Ed Brown and Helen Cornelius in a Hot Springs, Ark., concert recently were Jim Ed's sisters, Maxine and Bonnie. Along with Jim Ed, the two ladies formerly were members of "The Browns." The reunion inspired some harmony work on "Scarlet Ribbons," "The Three Bells" and "The Old Lamplighter." Speaking of Helen Cornelius, she has been nominated for the upcoming Academy of Country Music's "Best New Vocalist."

RCA artist Beverly Heckel, whose single, "Borrowing," has just been released, has signed for an upcoming tour with MCA's Loretta Lynn. Opening April 21, the tour will also feature her husband, Polydor artist Johnny Russell, and First Generation's Ernest Tubb. The tour will begin in Dayton, Ohio and end May 21 in Canada. This will be the first major tour for Heckel.

Here are a couple of press releases sent to CB offices this week in honor of April Fool's Day:

Gusto's Red Sovine, encouraged by the success of "Lay Down Sally," has decided to hire The Rolling Stones to open his concerts on an April tour.

MCA's Jerry Clower and Steve Martin, longtime admirers of one another, had a chance to chat during the Grammy Awards in Los Angeles. The two came up with a joint album project to be recorded on the "Knock 'Em Out/Crazy Kind Of Guy" label. The album name? Try "Excuuuuuuuse Me, Marcel Ledbetter."

THE KENDALLS — Old Fashioned Love — Ovation OV-1733 — Producer: Brian Fisher — List: 6.98

On the surface, The Kendalls' success can be directly traced to the public's infatuation with "cheatin'" songs. And although references to "cheatin'" and sinnin' run rampant throughout the album, The Kendalls are pure country singers in the best sense of the word. They keep their music down to earth and simple, which is an effective counterpunch to the fancy, over-blown productions and arrangements most country singers seem to think they need these days. And hidden on this record is a shining jewel — "Pittsburgh Stealers" has hit written all over it.

THE STATLER BROTHERS — Entertainers... On And Off The Record — Mercury SRM-5007 — Producer: Jerry Kennedy — List: 6.98

The Statler Brothers have worked their way square into the hearts of middle America... and there are a lot of those folks out there. The Statlers' concerts have become automatic sell-outs, and this album should do as well. With impeccable harmony and years of experience behind them, The Statlers sit at the top of country vocal groups. Produced by Jerry Kennedy, this record paints a well-rounded picture of the group's artistry. "Do You Know You Are My Sunshine" and the sensitive "When You Are Sixty-Five" are standout cuts.

MARCIA BALL — Capitol ST-11752 — Producer: Nell Wilburn — List: 6.98

Marcia Ball is an Austin, Texas-based lady who brings the soul and sensitivity of the Texas Hill Country to her music. With producer Neil Wilburn, Ball has chosen with care a wide variety of old and new songs. She has also used material by known and unknown songwriters. With record support, Marcia has the talent and intelligence to join the ranks of Linda Ronstadt and Emmylou Harris. "Leaving Louisiana In The Broad Daylight" and "Circuit Queen" highlight this album.

BILLY JO SPEARS — Lonely Hearts Club — United Artists UA-LA-859-G — Producer: Larry Butler — List: 6.98

Larry Butler manages to dress up country music with pop flavor without destroying the basic "feel." And this is definitely the case on Billy Jo Spears' latest album. Billy Jo is a versatile vocalist who can slip easily in and out of pop and country music, although her staple is country. She tends to record songs with a strong storyline, such as "Lonely Hearts Club" and "His Little Something On The Side." "The Lovin' Kind" is also a recommended cut.

DOLLY PARTON — In The Beginning — Monument MG 7623 — Producer: Fred Foster — List: 6.98

Dolly has come a long way since her Monument days back in the middle '60s, but these tracks are not bad at all. In fact, it is interesting to note the strains of pop influence which ran through her music even at this early stage. Her voice sounds thin, but the songs (all written or co-written by Dolly) are surprisingly good. "Fuel To The Flames," "Put It Off Until Tomorrow" and "As Long As I Love" are excellent cuts which stand up well today.

KENNY DALE — Red Hot Memory — Capitol ST-11762 — Producer: A.V. Mittlestedt — List: 6.98

Capitol believes Kenny Dale has the makings of a major country entertainer, and he is enjoying more and more chart success. Dale's newest album could give his career another boost because this is a strong, solid effort. There are no frills here, just good country music. And Kenny's voice is precisely suited for his laid-back, easy-listening singing style. Along with the title cut (currently on the CB chart), the classic "Sweet Memories" and "The Loser" round out this well-produced album.

COUNTRY RADIO

THE COUNTRY MIKE

HAS TOM ALLEN BEEN FOUND ??? — The strongest and most reliable rumor of the week indicates that heavy changes are in the air at the big D... WDEE/Detroit. Sources say that Tom Collins is out as operations director, with Tom Allen, formerly at KBOX/Dallas, to take over the helm soon. The plot thickens when you learn that WDEE's owner, Globe Broadcasting, has recently been purchased by Combined Communications, which also owns KIIS AM & FM/Los Angeles, among other radio and TV stations. The president of Globe, Glenn Killoren, says that he hasn't learned of any changes to be made by Combined. Cash Box was unable to locate the president of Combined for comment, but we should know something by next week... so stay tuned.

KSON/San Diego sponsored Willie Nelson, The Charlie Daniels Band, and Don Bowman in concert at the San Diego Sports Arena on March 28. Each hour the station gave away a Willie belt buckle, T-shirt or album. The winners qualified for free tickets to the concert and a complete Willie Nelson library.

MUSIC DIRECTOR PROFILE... KYNN/Omaha has an MD who might have been an auto mechanic instead of a jock. Chris Taylor got tired of playing with distributor caps, though, and got into radio while going to school at Mankato State University in Minnesota. While in Minnesota, Taylor had stints at both KYSM/Mankato and KOLM/Rochester, Minnesota. Later, he went to WMAD/Madison, Wisconsin as music director when it was a country station. Taylor has been with KYNN for about one year as the MD and evening jock. In the Oct.-Nov. ARB, KYNN debuted with a 5.1 share, beating the combined numbers of KOOO AM & FM by a full share and a half. The new lineup at KYNN features a new all night jock, Bill Hoover midnight-6. The rest of the talent looks like this: Dave Martin 6-9; Bill Corey 9-noon; Chris Taylor noon-3; Paul Jones 3-6; and Terry Benton 6-midnight.

CFGM/Richmond Hill, Ontario has been running some unusually titled contests recently... such as the "Why Does Don Williams Always Wear A Hat" contest. Music Director Joe LeFresne has implemented a new day for music calls. LeFresne will take calls on Tuesday 10-noon at 416-961-1310.

WMAQ/Chicago is gearing up for what seems to be the biggest and most extensive bumpersticker campaign ever. MAQ has had over two million bumperstickers printed to give to listeners in the eight-county Chicago metropolitan area. The "WMAQ Is Gonna Make Me Rich" stickers, when spotted by a WMAQ "Q-Truck", will be worth a valuable prize to the driver. The station plans to run the promotion through next fall in conjunction with one of their sponsors.

A major yearly journalism award given by the Texas Municipal Courts Association is being named for the late Frank Boardman, who was news director for KENR/Houston at the time of his death. Boardman died last March after a broadcasting career that spanned almost 40 years.

WTSO/Madison will be sponsoring "Country Against Cancer" at the Dane County Coliseum on May 27 to raise money for the American Cancer Society. WTSO needs country artists to perform for free. The Cancer Society will provide transportation, hotel and meal expenses for any artist willing to help them out. If you know somebody who might be interested... have them give Andy Witt a call at 608-274-1070.

If you're looking for a laugh... call the KDJW Dugg Collins music line sometime when Collins isn't there. He leaves some strange messages on that code-a-phone at 806-372-2412.

Kendalls' 'Heaven' Hit Brings Label Into Nash. Mainstream

fake invitations to djs, distributors and press advertising a "swingers" party. This novel concept created some interest in Phillips's new record. Now, Schory plans a strong campaign to break his single.

"We launched Alan Phillips about two weeks ago," Schory said. "We did the teaser invitation thing, and I think the early response we are getting from key reporting stations indicates we may have a good record. Now we have to do everything in our power to work that record on the phone and in mallings. We have a weekly activity sheet that goes out to the trades, radio stations, one-stops and all of our distributors and key promotion people. It has a recap of all trade charts and playlists on our product. That kind of flow of information to the people who move our product is why we are selling records. Of course, The Kendalls had a 'people's record' that wasn't planned. But we knew what to do with it when it did break, and now we are taking the new record to the top."

First Single

Ovation released its first country single, "Making Believe," barely a year ago. Covered by Emmylou Harris, The Kendalls' version charted in the 70s and stopped. But "Heaven's Just A SIn Away" came along and everything changed for the better.

Up until January of this year, Ovation had no office here, and producer Brian Fisher was the sole representative for Ovation in Nashville. Sun had promoted "Heaven" as an independent promoter and only joined Ovation as a full-time employee last December. And at the time The Kendalls signed with Ovation in late 1976, they were without a label. Fisher, a longtime friend of Schory, had been a largely unsuccessful independent producer here for nearly three years before signing The Kendalls to Ovation. But success has changed everything from top to bottom for Fisher and the entire Ovation organization.

Ball Park Thrills Abound In Midway's New 'Extra Inning' Baseball Game

CHICAGO — Commenting on the release of "Extra Inning," Midway's new video baseball game, the firm's director of marketing Stan Jarocki noted that, "It is a basic goal here at Midway in the creation of equipment to design a feeling of realism into each new game. Through imaginative use of graphics, sounds and an accurate representation of its real life counterpart, Extra Inning is a good example of this."

"It has a real take-me-out-to-the-ball-game atmosphere," he continued, "from the opening musical refrain of the same name, through the cheering crowd and 'charge' sounds, to the closing rendition of 'Good Night Ladies.'" The player really gets the feeling that he is at the old ball park."

Distinctive Features

Extra Inning will accommodate one or two players and has two distinctive new key features which, the factory feels, sets it apart from its predecessors. The first actually inspired the name of the game since it enables players to earn a bonus inning. This is accomplished by lighting all of the letters in the word M-I-D-W-A-Y which is spelled out across the outfield.

The second key attraction is the special bonus scoring feature. In this, the word SPECIAL lights up on the playfield, at random, signifying that the next pitch offers a bonus score. If the player gets any safe hit while the special feature is lit, the scoring is doubled.

The game also has an "easy-hard" switch which is set at the operator's option. If "easy" is used, the player is allowed to light up the MIDWAY letters in sets of two rather than individually and a double score is earned for any kind of hit up to a home

'Extra Inning'

Communication Stressed At 4th Atari Distributor Meeting

PEBBLE BEACH, CA. — More than 100 distributors from around the country gathered at the Del Monte Lodge here March 12-15 for the fourth annual Atari distributor meeting.

The purpose of the meeting, according to national sales manager Frank Ballouz, was "to improve communication with our distributors by bringing them all together as a unit to hear their problems and suggestions."

The informal activities began on Sunday as the participants were bussed to Atari founder and chairman Nolan Bushnell's nearby estate for a western-style barbecue. Later that evening a cocktail party and buffet was held at the Del Monte Lodge.

Monday's business meeting was devoted exclusively to a customer service presentation to familiarize distributors with Atari's new parts and support procedures. Among the company executives who addressed the group were sales chief Ballouz, field service manager Don Smith, seminars manager Fred McCord and customer service representative Dave Tucker. Engineer Noah Aglin gave an update on the latest technological developments at Atari.

Market Expansion

Tuesday's session focused on marketing. It was pointed out that, in addition to its extensive year-round advertising and promotional campaigns, this year Atari will exhibit at a dozen or more major trade shows in an effort to expand the market for coin-operated amusement games.

"At these shows we're selling Atari equipment but also doing a service to the entire industry," said Ballouz of Atari's intensified convention activities. "The only way we are going to sell more games is to develop new players and new locations."

In addition to Ballouz, the group heard presentations by eastern regional sales manager Howard Rubin, western regional sales manager Don Osborne, marketing services manager Carol Kanter and marketing research analyst Colette Weil.

Top Execs Speak

The final business meeting closed with speeches by top Atari executives on the direction of the company and the future of the industry as a whole. Chairman Bushnell addressed the distributors, along with president Joe Keenan and marketing vice president Gene Lipkin.

Throughout the three-day meeting there were numerous social activities, including golf, tennis, sightseeing and backgammon. A gala cocktail party and new product presentation Tuesday evening was followed by the annual awards banquet and dance.

The event was coordinated by western regional sales manager Osborne, who is already at work scouting possible locations for next year's meeting.

Gottlieb Releases 'Sinbad' 4-Player

CHICAGO — The newest solid-state four-player pinball machine to come off the assembly line at D. Gottlieb & Co. is a model called "Sinbad," which is equipped with the noted Gottlieb/Rockwell solid-state control system.

Moviegoers will recognize the colorful and dramatic graphics of the machine from the recent Columbia Pictures film "Sinbad and the Eye of the Tiger." As reported in the March 25 issue of Cash Box, Gottlieb has launched a promotional tie-in with the movie and will shortly make available to its distributors a special Sinbad poster.

The game's playfield action centers on 10 drop targets of various colors, which can activate the multiplier values and light the top rollovers for super high score, extra ball and replay. The machine's new multiplier bonus scoring feature allows for two, three, four and five times bonus. Bonus scores can be advanced up to 75,000 points.

Operators can view the new model, which is being displayed in factory distributor showrooms.

CHICAGO CHATTER

Watch for the new 100-selection phonograph being introduced by Seeburg. Model is called "Celestia" and it's a real beauty.

THE AMOA audio-visual slide presentation has been a featured attraction recently at many a state association meeting, with AMOA's president Don Van Brackel serving as moderator. Don, as we all know, was instrumental in putting the entire program together and it is really a very interesting and informative presentation, which concisely defines the various aspects of the coin machine industry. The package can be purchased through the AMOA office.

THE NEWLY RELEASED Bally "Mata Hari" pinball machine has certainly made an impact on the European market, as we learned from Tom Nieman. To single out Germany, for instance, Bally's initial order has been the largest to date from this country. Domestic deliveries are scheduled to begin in mid-April and, based on U.S. distributor reaction, the machine should be among the strongest sellers of the season.

EMPIRE DIST. is moving its Chicago headquarters to a new location at 2828 N. Paulina. Distrib's Jerry Marcus tells us they hope to be settled in by June and everyone's really looking forward to moving into the large, one story building which has great accommodations for offices, showroom, and all departments — plus plenty of parking and even loading docks. Additionally, the new location is much more accessible for customers.

GOTTLIEB'S MARKETING VEEPEE Marshall Caras just returned from a whirlwind trip to Florida where he visited with many distributors and heard all sorts of great things about the factory's new "Sinbad" four-player. Also the subject of high praise, he said, was Gottlieb's "Cleopatra" pin, with many citing specific experiences of the machine's outstanding reliability. Marshall anticipates a good spring selling season for pinballs — especially Gottlieb models.

BRAND-NEW FROM Midway Mfg. Co. is an exciting video baseball game called "Extra Inning." A real sign of spring, we might add. Anyhow, firm's director of sales Larry Berke said that sample shipments to Midway distributors have been in progress so watch for it. . . . Incidentally, belated but sincere congratulations to Larry and his wife, LaVerne, on the March 10 celebration of their 30th wedding anniversary. The big day was doubly exciting in that Larry's in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Schwartz, celebrated their 50th at the same time. Mr. Schwartz is quite well known in the coin machine industry, having been an active member of it for more than 40 years.

SCHOOL IN SESSION — World Wide Distributors hosted a phonograph service school March 7 at the Holiday Inn in Eimhurst, Ill. The session, which drew approximately 60 operators and servicemen, was conducted by Seeburg's field engineer Ed Urgitis. His presentation focused on troubleshooting the new Seeburg STD 4 phonograph. As part of the course, actual service calls were placed on the phonographs and the class was required to determine and correct the problems as quickly as possible. In the top photo, Urgitis is shown addressing one of the class sessions. In the bottom photo, the class was broken up into smaller groups for a more intimate presentation on troubleshooting techniques.

EASTERN FLASHES

Robert Jones International-Syracuse is planning a gala birthday party to celebrate the start of its fifth year in business. The big event will take place on Sunday, April 30, from 2-8 p.m., at the Syracuse office (601 Thompson Road, North) and, as RJ's Tony Procopio noted, it'll be a fun-filled afternoon with games, prizes, food, drink and all the trimmings — so ops are invited to bring their wives and children along.

AL KRESS OF Coin Machine Dist., Inc. tells us he's enjoying brisk business these days at both his Peekskill office and the recently opened Long Island branch. Customers are finally able to get out and do some shopping, he said, without being hampered by bad weather. An extra hand out there during spring vacation was fourth grader Kathy Kress — daddy's little helper.

JERRY GORDON AND PETER BETTI are back at the No. Bergen premises of Betson, after traveling to the west coast to attend the big Atari distributors meeting. Present business, Jerry tells us, is very good. The distrib's been moving a lot of Rock-Ola phonos — namely, models 474, 471 and 468. Stern's new "Stars" pin is testing out extremely well and Jerry noted that the newly arrived "Clowns" cocktail table is starting to happen. Atari's "Sprint I" and Midway's "Clowns" upright are among the hottest, most consistent sellers of the moment.

BOB CATLIN OF ROWE-ALBANY tells us that the next factory sponsored phonograph service school will be coming up very shortly in Grand Rapids, Mich. Dates are April 18-22. Rowe schedules these courses on a regular basis throughout the year as a special service to its distributors and customers, and the classes are generally held in Grand Rapids.

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

The previously announced changes in principals and management at El Cajon-based Cinematronics, Inc. (Cash Box, Jan. 28, 1978) have taken hold and the systems are apparently in place. That impression is the result of a conversation last week with company president Jim Pierce, who noted: "A lot of good things have been happening. Just seven weeks ago we had 15 employees; now we have 100. 'Space Wars' came off the line real well and demand has increased since it has been in the field." Now that's good news.

THE RECENT C.A. ROBINSON company Midway service school drew an estimated 300 operators and servicemen to the distrib's Pico Blvd. showroom for another outstanding presentation by Midway's Andy Ducay. The session focused on electronic troubleshooting and repair with two new Midway games — "Extra Inning" and the company's first color video model, "Sea Wolf II" — on prominent display. A footnote worth mentioning: Andy's afternoon presentation was interrupted unexpectedly by a singing telegram in honor of C.A. Robinson president Al "Mr. B." Bettelman's birthday.

AN ATARI HOME VIDEO PINBALL game was the top prize in the recent Time 2000 pinball tournament, hosted by Pinball Wizard Game Center, Davenport, Iowa. The winner was 19-year-old Steve Behrens of Davenport, who bested 15 other finalists with a score of 213,630 on Atari's "Time 2000" solid-state pingame. According to game center president Dick Galloway, "These tournaments are a good way to increase player enthusiasm and they stimulate interest in the sport of pinball."

New Sorter/Counter From Brandt Lets The Operator Set Coin Stops

WATERTOWN — A new coin sorter/counter for banks, savings and loans, vending companies and other high-volume money handling firms that allows the operator to set the exact amount of coins to be delivered to each bag, was announced by brandt, Inc.

The Model 936, scheduled for April production at Brandt headquarters, Watertown, Wisconsin, stops automatically when the desired quantity of coins is reached. The operator-set bag stops make the machine particularly flexible and adaptable to any coin-counting operation.

Controls are easily set, and the operator is free to perform other tasks while the 936 is sorting, counting and totaling up to 600 coins per minute. Mixed coins from the hopper are handled in one operation.

The new Brandt unit has a memory which always retains an accumulative total, and an instantaneous electronic readout giving batch and accumulative figures. Back-up mechanical registers by denomination add to the operator's total control, according to the manufacturer.

The 936 is finished in a soft desert tan color to enhance a variety of settings. It stands 20 inches deep, 19 inches wide and 25½ inches high, and weighs 115 pounds.

Optional equipment includes an automatic feed holding up to 19,000 dimes. An optimum load of coins is automatically regulated and maintained.

Also available is a Model 946 printer to record coin totals, and a security stand in which bags hanging from the machine are locked.

All Brandt equipment is constructed for precision, durability and long life. Machines are backed by service provided through factory-trained specialists nationwide.

For further information about the Model 936 and its capabilities, contact Brandt, Inc., Watertown, Wisconsin 53094.

Criner Appointed At Beatrice Foods

CHICAGO — Gary Criner has been promoted to vice president-controller for Beatrice Foods Co.'s Dairy, Soft Drink and Agri-Products Divisions, it has been announced by William W. Granger, Beatrice Foods corporate executive vice president.

Criner, who has been serving as administrative assistant to the president of the Western Dairy and Soft Drink and Agri-Products Divisions, in his new position will be responsible for the accounting programs and procedures for the three divisions.

A graduate of Northwestern University with a major in accounting, he joined Beatrice Foods in 1962 as a member of the corporate office accounting staff. In 1964, he was promoted to controller of the company's Waukegan, Ill., dairy plant and then advanced to controller of the Chicago butter plant.

In 1969, he returned to the Chicago General Office headquarters as a staff auditor, advancing through various staff positions to become senior auditor and audit supervisor.

Williams Schools Stress Participation

CHICAGO — Since the introduction last year of its first solid-state pinball machine, "Hot Tip," Williams Electronics, Inc. has been conducting a steady succession of service schools in an effort to familiarize distributors, operators and service personnel with all of the specifics of the new system. The special program of instruction was launched with the intention of initially being able to provide the course for Williams' entire distributor network.

Recent Williams seminars included the following:

- On Feb. 16, Williams' instructor Paul

Stern Bows 'Stars' Solid-State Pin

CHICAGO — A mirrored backglass emphasizes the outer space theme depicted in the graphics and design of the new "Stars" four-player pinball machine, recently premiered by Stern Electronics, Inc. The machine's attractive appearance is complimented by several innovative playfield features the factory is introducing on this particular model.

For example, there are two sets of spinning targets, capable of accumulating scoring value when either the stationary or drop targets are hit, and players have two sets of drop targets by which they can earn double or triple bonus and extra ball. "With these skill shots," said Stern's marketing director Stephen Kaufman, "the game is a player's dream."

A prototype of Stars has been shipped to the factory's distributor network, according to Kaufman, and volume production was scheduled to commence upon completion of the present run on "Stingray," the firm's current four-player.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the factory at 1725 Diversey Parkway, Chicago, Ill. 60614.

'Stars'

Dussault, assisted by the factory's Jim Kline, conducted a day-long session at the Columbus, Ohio branch of Cleveland Coin International. The school ranked as one of the distrib's most heavily attended.

- More than 160 attended the two schools sponsored by Sefco. Distg. Co., Inc. in Hanover, Md. and Richmond, Va., respectively. Student participation is a very important factor during the session and many even spend their break time at the machines.
- Williams' initial solid-state seminar in Chicago likewise drew heavy distributor representation. Sefco staffers who completed the course included Ken Mullinix, electronics technician; Harry Baumgaertner, operations manager and Nick DiSebastiano, manager-electronics group.
- Eastern Music Systems Corp. of Philadelphia sponsored two schools on Feb. 27 and 28, and 100 service people representing about 50 operating firms were in attendance.

Brunswick Introduces New Billiard Supply Line

CHICAGO — The consumer division of Brunswick Corporation has introduced its extended line of billiard supplies for 1978.

Included in the group are two laminated cues — the M-11 and the Willie Hoppe Commemorative — which are extensions of the firm's Sterling Elite series of two-piece cues. Also included are the Professional Series of two-piece cues — comprised of the Tital which is a four-prong cue of solid maple and ebony stock, and the Richmond and Imperial eight-prong cues. A new one-piece cue, the Autograph, is available in standard 57-inch length and a 59-inch model.

Two net sets of billiard balls have been added to the Brunswick line this year — Vitalite, which are preferred for tournaments, and Casino, a new and simple idea in eight ball, according to the company. The latter set is made up of seven red and seven yellow balls, an eight ball and a cue ball, and is considered to be ideal for commercial billiard rooms.

Midway Announces New 'Extra Inning' Video

(continued from page 39) run while the bonus light is on. When the switch is set at "hard" the player must light up the letters with six hits and, in addition, must hit a home run in order to double scoring when the special light is on.

The game abounds in numerous other play features which are characteristic of the popular American sport — hits, walks, errors, strikeouts, double plays, etc. It is adjustable to one, two or three innings with multiple pricing combinations. Dimensions are 67 inches high, 26½ inches wide and 32 inches deep and the model has a 23 inch monitor, double coin chutes and a micro-processor system with built-in Rom and Ram testing. Cabinet graphics and design attractively depict the sport.

"Baseball fan or not," Jarocki concluded, "Extra Inning is exciting, competitive and full of fun, like a game should be."

Seeburg Announces New 'Celestia'

CHICAGO — A dramatic galaxy of colors and lighting, combined with futuristic design and touches of chrome and sparkling silver, are among the visual enhancements of the new Seeburg "Celestia" 100-selection phonograph, which is currently in production at the factory. The model is designed for the location with space limitations. It features solid-state circuitry with 10-button digital selector.

The sound system consists of two top mounted exponential horns and two 12-inch base mounted woofers for a broad musical reproduction which should be suitable to the acoustical needs of the location, according to the factory.

The decorative title display is easy to read and the model's "equalization feature" is designed to accommodate all of the current recordings. Celestia has built-in provisions for volume control and the exclusive Seeburg Tormat Memory Unit.

Optional accessories include the noted Seeburg Remote Volume Control as well as the self-contained solid-state paging system which readily plugs into the 'Celestia'

Celestial amplifier. Further information may be obtained by contacting Seeburg at 1500 N. Dayton St., Chicago, Ill. 60622.

Bally To Proceed With Casino Plan

(continued from page 39) Bally is one of the two companies to file an application for a permanent casino license.

Aquisitions

Bally has purchased the Dennis Hotel in Atlantic City and has a long-term lease on the Marlborough-Blenheim, two of the resort's major properties.

The company said it is confident it will satisfy the very stringent requirements of the New Jersey Casino Control Act, and is hopeful that its June 1980 target date for opening its hotel-casino complex will be met.

Summer Music Seminar Set For Montreux

MIAMI — The University of Miami School of Music is preparing what it terms the "Montreux Music Encounter" to run concurrently with the Swiss Montreux International Music Festival. It will be held at Chateland School overlooking Lake Geneva.

The event will take place July 2-30, 1978, offering a unique opportunity for students, teachers, musicians and technicians to sharpen their skills in jazz techniques, recording procedures and the intricacies of the music business.

Montreux Music Encounter is a program of the world renowned University of Miami School of Music in cooperation with the Montreux International Music Festival, Mountain Recording Studios and NARAS Institute, the educational arm of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences. Permanent faculty members are Montreux Music Encounter is offering two separate attendance packages. Package one includes airfare from the U.S., meals, course materials and a pass to jazz week at a cost of $1,495. Package two, designed for Europeans, includes everything but the airfare at a cost of $995. Enrollment is limited. Further information can be gained through contacting the University of Miami School of Music, P.O. Box 248165, Coral Gables, Florida 33124.

JAZZ ALBUM PICKS

LOVELAND — Lonnie Liston Smith — Columbia JC 35332 — Producers: Bert deCoteaux and Lonnie Liston Smith — List: 7.98

Lonnie Liston Smith's first album for Columbia is one of those moody, laid-back (for the most part) jazz efforts that is perfectly suited to late-night listening. Donald Smith is the featured vocalist on three of the album's eight tracks and his soothing, fluid style fits right in with the mellow feel. But it's not all easy going, as the group shows on "Bright Moments" where they really kick up some dust.

A PORTRAIT OF BUD POWELL — Al Haig — Interplay 7707 — Producer: Al Haig — List: 7.98

It is about time someone got around to Bud Powell, the great pianist who, along with Parker, Gillespie and Monk, was a major force in the emergence of modern jazz. Haig tackles the music with considerable success. Working with a trio, he essays five Powell originals and one other tune ("Reets & I") which were part of Powell's standard repertoire. Haig's playing has a depth of feeling not always present in his recent work. A thoroughly creative effort and one that deserves an encore.

THE MAIN MAN — Eddie Jefferson — Inner City 1033 — Producers: Leon Thomas and Irv Kratka — List: 7.98

Jefferson is the originator of the idea of putting words to jazz solos and any new recording by him is worth a listen. There are three new things here mixed in with some previously recorded specialties, and the backing is by a nine-piece band, with excellent Slide Hampton arrangements. Good blowing by Charles Sullivan, Hamiet Bluiett and Junior Cook. This one is a ball from start to finish.

LIONEL HAMPTON PRESENTS: BUDDY RICH — Who's Who In Jazz — WWLP 21006 — Producer: Lionel Hampton — List: 7.98

The second release in Lionel Hampton's new "Who's Who In Jazz" series features "the drummer's drummer" with an eight-piece combo on newly-recorded (1977) material. The band wastes no time getting down to business, launching immediately into "Moments Notice" and "Second Tune," two swinging be-bop charts. Throughout the session, Hampton's vibes compliment Rich's masterful percussion to lend a light, airy quality to each of the songs.

Konitz teams his alto with the seldom-heard tenor of Ted Brown and a sterling rhythm section (bassist Rufus Reid stands out). The material is original but based on standard changes in the best tradition of the Lennie Tristano school. Solid inventive playing by all concerned and a splendid debut for this newly revived (and potentially significant) label.

GLIDER — Auracle — Chrysalis CHR 1172 — Producers: Teo Macero and James Di Pasquale — List: 7.98

Auracle's debut album shows the youthful group can handle a variety of styles, from jazz-rock through straight jazz and fusion. The sextet consists of highly proficient instrumentalists, with Steven Rehbein's percussion especially tasty. Richard Braun (trumpet, flugelhorn) and Stephen Kujala (woodwinds) make it through some rocky runs flawlessly and Kujala's innovative, unorthodox sax solos add dimension to the original charts.

Fitzgerald & Hartley Striving To Advance Artists Careers

everything there. That's when Larry and I really began planning together."

Policy differences prompted each to leave the company and seek out his own business ventures in the music industry in addition to personal management. Other interests they share are a production company and a company called "Pic Disc" which is responsible for the albums which have a picture of the album's cover directly on the disc.

"We really wanted to do something our way," says Fitzgerald; "we really wanted to enjoy what we did and we wanted to take on projects that we would be genuinely enthused about and could believe in. That's the kind of option you have when you have your own company as opposed to another company where they say 'okay, you do work on this, this and this.' That isn't the case here."

He continues, "We work on things we really want to and that gives us an opportunity to expand in areas other than management. That's kind of it. To do what we want to do, when we want to."

Tour In Progress

Rufus has begun working on their solo project for ABC and began touring with Chaka March 17. The tour will run through May and a Los Angeles date is tentatively scheduled for June. Subsequently, the group will finish the solo album around August and after it's released, a national tour is planned. Fitzgerald and Hartley contend that they work very closely with the group, spending enormous amounts of time in the studios with them. In their opinion, the group has expanded remarkably, personally and otherwise. In addition to producing and writing (they produced their past three albums), some of the group's members are involved in projects with other artists as well.

"It's a situation in which they have really expanded their careers in terms of the three recording situations," says Hartley. "It seems real healthy, everyone is very happy and excited about it. It's good for all parties involved because it allows Rufus to musically do some things that they probably wouldn't have done in the past and I'm sure it will allow Chaka, in her solo situation, to do things that she's been wanting to do for a long time. And then together it's the same as it has always been — very compatible, warm and a good working situation."

"It's a challenge for them," Fitzgerald adds, "and a good one because they are really very talented. We've found that putting creative people together goes hand-in-hand with management."

The Fitzgerald and Hartley Company recently finalized an agreement with Quincy Jones Productions/Mellow Management for direct involvement with the management of the Brothers Johnson. As the partners explained, they will be working very closely with Jones and Eckstine in developing other artists as well.

"What we've established in the first seven months of this company," explains Fitzgerald, "is a foundation for us to do anything we want to do. Our clients have someone to put it all together for them and direct them; we feel that's our responsibility. Being able to put all the elements and ideas together and make them practical . . . making them work, whatever it takes. Never giving up — ever."

Joe Caro. The tour also coincides with the release of her new album, her eighth for Elektra, "Boys In The Trees," and the single from it, "You Belong To Me" . . . Arista's Barry Manilow begins his first tour in more than a year June 24 in Providence, Rhode Island covering two months and ending with an eight-day stint at the Greek Theatre in L.A. August 27-Sept. 3. The tour will include stops in 14 cities with concerts ranging from one day to two weeks in length. The two-week engagement will be at the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas . . . Eddie Rabbitt made his debut as a resort attraction in Lake Tahoe recently, opening shows for Olivia Newton-John. An effective pairing, considering Rabbitt has the same effect on his female fans as Olivia has on the males in her audiences.

WHOLE LOTTA TAPING GOIN' ON — Recording studios seem to be inordinately busy for this time of year, with some claiming they are seeing a rush normally seen only in the fall, when manufacturers have major Christmas releases. Filmways/Heider Studios in Los Angeles have had dozens of artists in recent weeks including the Beach Boys, the Captain & Tennille (for a TV special), Carole Bayer Sager, Robin Trower, Minnie Riperton, John Mayall, Cal Tjader (for a direct-to-disc), the Temptations and Tanya Tucker, among others. At Kendun Recorders in Burbank, the long lineup of recently recorded artists includes Marilyn McCoo And Billy Davis Jr., former Eagles member Randy Meisner, the Alpha Band, Bloodstone, Hues Corporation, Stargard, Bobby Vinton and Fantasy act The Boppers. Ringo Starr has been working on his debut album for Portrait at the Burbank Studios. Also at Burbank has been War, Bill Conti and Sonny Burke, Gary Le Mel (working on the title track from "Straight Time" starring Dustin Hoffman) and Sorcery. Quadrafonic Studios in Nashville have seen recently Stella Parton, Jack Clement (on his album begun four years ago), Donna Fargo, Eddie Rabbitt and Jesse Winchester. These are only a few of the studios which are experiencing heavy activity, but most of the 155 studios in L.A. County are operating at top speed and, according to one estimate, averaging about 120 hours a week.

HARRISON LINEUP — George Harrison reportedly has selected the musicians to work with him in London on his new album. His rhythm section will include Neil Larsen, keyboards; Willie Weeks, bass; Andy Newmark, drums; and Eric Clapton helping out with lead guitar work. They will work for five weeks in George's home studio in London . . . Cash Box chart researcher Ken Kirkwood was presented last week with not a gold, not a platinum, but a solid tin record of NRBQ's "Live At Yankee Stadium" album by the group's manager Mike Limbo . . . The town councils of Melbourne and Sydney, Australia had to revise their municipal codes with respect to public gatherings in the wake of teen-rocker Lef Garrett's recent appearances in those cities. Some 35 people were injured when push came to shove, including manager Stan Moress, who came away with two cracked ribs and a dislocated elbow. Leif soon will embark on a promotional tour here in the U.S. with stops in most major markets . . . Caldera is in Capitol's studio working on its third album with Eduardo del Barrio and Jorge Strunz co-producing. Caldera is handled by Eighth Note Management, which recently added singer/songwriter Carmine Lauro and guitarist Alberto De Almar to its client roster . . . "Tumbling Dice" will be the fourth single taken from Linda Ronstadt's "Simple Dreams" album . . .

WHO WAS THAT MASKED MAN? — Folks at both RCA and Rocket Records say they know nothing about the cryptic note we received last week. Packed in an unmarked white envelope was a note in a variety of type faces and letter styles, much like those ransom notes often used in television and movie mysteries. It read, "RCA vice president A&R west coast Neil Portnow seen lunching with Rocket A&R exec Tony King . . . Is there a deal in the works?" As previously mentioned, no one seems to know anything about the origin of the message . . . Speaking of Tony King, he did celebrate recently his 20th year in the music business as noted here last week, as well as his birthday. It wasn't, however, the youthful Rocket exec's 40th. Despite two decades in the biz, the fact that he started at such a tender age gives him several years before he hits the big "four-oh" . . . The first 14 dates on John Denver's current nationwide concert tour are sold-out. In all, 53 concerts will be performed in 44 cities . . . Debut albums by Elvis Costello and Meat Loaf have gone gold in Canada (50,000 units). They are the first gold records for both artists in any country.

THE MAGIC OF MUSIC — The Associated Press recently reported that Michelle Booth, a 15-year-old London schoolgirl who had been in a coma for 11 days after being thrown from a train, opened her eyes after hearing Roy Orbison tell her to get well. Orbison sent a tape-recorded message by plane from his home in Nashville after her parents said he was their daughter's idol and his voice might help bring her out of the coma. The doctors at the hospital said they could not tell if Michelle's response was to the message or other efforts to stimulate her brain. Before Orbison sent the personal message, tape recordings of his hits had been played at her bedside in the intensive care unit. A hospital spokesman said, "Her state of unconsciousness doesn't appear to be so deep now. We're hopeful she'll soon come out of the coma." . . . Texas songwriter Townes Van Zandt is working on his eighth album, this one being produced by Chips Moman for Tomato Records . . . Jim Stafford will return to the Aladdin Hotel's Bagdad room April 18-May 7, sharing a bill with Bobble Gentry. Stafford just completed another engagement at the Las Vegas hotel . . . The Sanford/Townsend Band will appear with Joey Heatherton April 21-23 at the Sahara in Lake Tahoe . . . The USC Trojan football team reportedly has adopted Warren Zevon's "Werewolves Of London" as its unofficial fight song and even play the tune during drill exercises. The Trojans predict this will force crosstown rivals UCLA to adopt Jackson Browne's "Running On Empty" . . . BAM (Bay Area Music) Magazine will now be available throughout California, instead of just the San Francisco Bay Area. It will also be published twice monthly. BAM also has issued its Southern California edition of The Mix, an exhaustive guide to the recording studios in the Los Angeles and surrounding areas. It is free and can be found at recording studios and various music shops . . . One Man's Ceiling Is Another Man's Floor: Although Chuck Comstock will be only one floor away from his comrades at Cash Box in his new sales position with RCA Records, he will still be missed. Serving over the past 15 months as reporter, Points West author, album and concert reviewer without peer and, most recently, accounts director, Chuck always livened up the office with his unique personality and (a)wry sense of humor, over the months, made us both laugh and groan. Good Luck, Chuck.

CLASSICAL CLIPS

NEW YORK — To celebrate Rudolf Serkin's 75th birthday, Columbia Masterworks has issued a double recording of a concert which the pianist gave at Carnegie Hall last December. One of the more interesting things about this album, called "Rudolf Serkin On Television," is that, although the concert was filmed for television, it will not be televised until next season. So if you were kicking yourself for missing the show, relax — and prepare yourself by listening to this album, which includes sonatas by Haydn, Beethoven and Shubert, and Mozart's "Rondo In A minor." As an added bonus, the set includes an attached booklet that features an article about Serkin, an interview with him, a complete Columbia discography, and lots of pictures.

THE ONE AND ONLY — Speaking of pianists, when RCA recording artist Vladimir Horowitz signed autographs recently at a Sam Goody store in New York, the place was reportedly mobbed by 3,000 fans who lined up a full block on 51st Street. Meanwhile, claiming that more than 100,000 copies of the new Horowitz LP were sold within three weeks of its release, RCA is predicting that the title will soon appear on the pop charts. One sign of this activity, the label notes, is Handleman's announcement that it will rack the Horowitz Golden Jubilee live concert album across the board, highlighting it at the huge K mart discount chain. According to RCA, Handleman has already ordered 23,000 copies . . .

NEW AND RARE — Authentic versions of two well-known Chopin waltzes will be made available to the general public for the first time with publication of original manuscripts unearthed by pianist and Chopin scholar Byron Janis. Two separate versions of the waltz in G flat major (op. 70, No. 1) and the Grand Valse Brillante in E flat major (Op 18) will be published in a single volume in both engraved and facsimile form by the Edu-Tainment division of Envolv Music Group and will be distributed by G. Schirmer . . .

Deutsche Grammophon arranged the radio premiere of Mozart's early opera, "Mitridate, Re Di Ponto," K. 87, on 25 classical stations across the U.S. during the first half of March. DG's world premiere recording of the work was made in 1977 at the time of the opera's successful production during Salzburg's Mozart week. The four-record set was released on March 13. . . DG also recently recorded a performance conducted by Leonard Bernstein of Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis." The orchestra was the Concertgebouw of Amsterdam, and the soloists included soprano Edda Moser, alto Hanna Schwarz, tenor Rene Kollo and bass Kurt Moll. Proceeds from one of Bernstein's four concerts in Holland were donated to Amnesty International . . .

CLEVELAND'S 60th SEASON — The Cleveland Orchestra's 60th Anniversary Season will open in September and close next May with concerts conducted by Lorin Maazel, the orchestra's music director. During the season, Maazel will complete his cycle of Mozart symphonies, begun several years ago, and will also conduct works by Olivier Messaien during a "Messaien Week." Among works which the orchestra will premiere are Shostakovich's Violin

Met Opera Guild Releases Fifth In Historical Series

NEW YORK — The Metropolitan Opera Guild recently hosted a party at the Metropolitan Opera House to commemorate the release of the fifth in the Guild's series of historic broadcast recordings.

Taken from a 1939 radio broadcast, the recording of Strauss' "Der Rosenkavalier" features Lotte Lehmann as the Marschallin, Rise Stevens as Octavian, Emanuel List as Baron Ochs, Marita Farrell as Sophie, and Friedrich Schorr as von Faninal. The conductor is Artur Bodanzky.

The deluxe-packaged album contains a complete libretto and an illustrated booklet with articles by Rise Stevens on her personal reminiscences of "Der Rosenkavalier" performances and by Mrs. John DeWitt Peltz, the Metropolitan's archivist, on the history of "Der Rosenkavalier" at the Met. The booklet also features excerpts of Lotte Lehmann's own writings about her performances of the Marschallin.

The recording was produced by RCA Records, under the auspices of the Metropolitan Opera Guild and its managing director, Darlo Sorla. It will be mailed to all donors of $100 or more to the Metropolitan

CLASSICAL ALBUM REVIEWS

DVORAK — Symphony No. 9 ("From The New World") — Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Carlo Maria Giulini, conductor — DG 2530 881 — List: 8.98

This is quite simply one of the most exciting and most expertly performed performances of the "New World" available on disc. A profound musical intelligence shines through nearly every measure, while the symphony's warmth and majesty are equally well-projected. The Chicago ensemble's crisply matched brass are especially telling in the outer movements, and the English horn solo of the Largo sounds almost human.

THE GUITAR ARTISTRY OF LIONA BOYD — London CS 7068 — List: 7.98

Revealing more of the promise that she demonstrated on her debut album, entitled "Liona Boyd—Classical Guitar," this artist offers a winning combination of flawless technique and expressivity. Included on this LP are transcriptions of pieces by Pescetti, J.S. Bach, Cimarosa, Besard, and Mussorgsky ("The Old Castle" from "Pictures"). Boyd also gives loving renditions of guitar works by Totumo de Guarenas, Gaspar Sagreras, Antonio Lauro, and Robert Feuerstein, as well as a self-penned title.

SHOSTAKOVICH — Symphony No. 5 — Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Andre Previn, conductor — Angel S-37285 — List: 7.98

As noted previously in Cash Box, the Chicago Symphony recently made several recordings under various guest conductors. This LP, along with the Giulini/New World album reviewed above, is one of the best of the group, and may also be the finest performance I have yet heard Previn conduct. It is his second traversal on disc of the Shostakovich Fifth, and shows a thorough appreciation of the score's many subtleties.

LATIN

'Latin Roots' Set For June Opening

by Ray Terrace

NEW YORK — NBC-TV news journalist Felipe Luciano, musicologist Joe Conzo, Latin musician Charlie Palmieri, and Andy Gonzalez of Conjunto Libre have announced an important milestone for Latin music and culture — the first Latin Roots Musical Exhibit.

Made possible by the National Endowment for the Arts and Schlitz Brewery, the exhibition will be taking place at Lincoln Center's Library (66th St. and Broadway) June 23-Labor Day. It is also being supported by George Wein of the Newport Jazz Festival in recognition of Latin music's contribution to the jazz world. A permanent museum is a hope for the future.

Luciano first came to the attention of the media as host of a radio show called "Latin Roots" on radio station WRVR-FM. One of the few Latin music shows to be heard on a major English language station, it became a "must" for lovers of Latin music (today referred to as "Salsa"). Luciano got directly involved in the battle that was waged several years ago which inevitably led to the recognition of Latin music by NARAS (National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences). He asked his listeners to petition the board of directors of NARAS so that "our" music would get the recognition it deserved.

An all-out effort is now being made to collect musical instruments, memorabilia, costumes and anything that pertains to the New York Latin music heritage from the '30s to the present. Tito Puente's first set of timbales, Machito's scrapbook, and many other fascinating objects will be displayed for the first time. The items will be loaned for the duration of the exhibit. Anyone who has any contributions to be made can call (212) 868-3793 as soon as possible.

LATIN BEAT

This time last year Hector LaVoe toured Mexico and did very well, but his recent visit was one few Mexicans will ever forget. He did SRO business in Mexico City and Vera Cruz, breaking all previous records. "Salsa" fans stood in line, but were unable to get into the venues Hector appeared in.

It is now official. Angel Canales and Sabor have signed with Ralph Mercado Management. Timing is important, and if ever the time was right for Canales to break through it is now. He proved his popularity when he appeared at Roseland Dance City March 10.

Celia Cruz has re-signed with Vaya Records for a five year period, and Pete "El Conde" Rodriguez has re-signed with Fania Records for the same period of time. Both artists will record two albums a year for their respective labels.

"Salsa" music lovers will have an opportunity to see Venezuela's most popular "salsa" band in concert when Ralph Mercado and Ray Aviles present the group at the Felt Forum of Madison Square Garden on Saturday, April 15. The band, Dimension Latina with Andy Montanez, which will appear at the "Salsa Fever" concert, arrive in New York on March 25 to kick off a two month tour.

There will be two concerts on April 15, one at 7:30 and one at 11:30 p.m.

Appearing with Dimenson Latina will be Pete "El Conde" Rodriguez, singing songs from his new album, "A Touch Of Class," and some familiar "oldies," and flute wizard, Fajardo, with his All-Stars, whose current album is titled "Selecciones Clasicas." Extra added attraction will be one of the most talked about young artists on the "Salsa" scene, Angel Canales, being referred to as "El Diferente." He will be appearing "in concert" with his band, Sabor. Emceeing the concerts will be Paquito Navaro and Polito Vega.

The young, international singer, Fausto Rey, who impressed many at his recent Radio City appearance on February 26, is currently on a promotional tour in Puerto Rico March 10-20 pushing his debut LP for the international Label distributed by Fania, entitled "El Amor Es Natural." He is scheduled to do some TV and radio appearances while on the Island.

King Clave has just signed a long-term contract with Discolando Records.

Guillermo Acosta has been re-elected president of Asociacion Mexicana de Productores de Fonogramas (Amprofon).

Latin Picks

CON MUCHA SALSA — Vitin Aviles — Alegre JMAS-6011 — Producer: Louie Ramirez

Veteran singer Vitin Aviles needs no introduction to salsa music. He has been recording swinging tunes all his life. In fact, the Latin music industry has labeled him as the originator of the late Tito Rodriguez sound on vocals. All cuts in this album are excellent. Honorable mention goes to Ray Coen, Charlie Palmieri and Eddie Martinez for their swinging arrangements. All musicians on this album are fantastic. Without any doubt this album should go very high on Latin charts.

AHORA Y SIEMPRE — Tito Allen — Alegre JMAS-6012 — Producer: Louie Ramirez

This is Tito Allen's third round with the Fania Family. He has proven himself a super star since leaving Tipica 73 and Tito Puente. On this album he is surrounded by the top Latin musicians in the business. Most of the cuts are moving salsa numbers except for two boleros and one merengue. Tito Allen stands out in "Ciudad Solitaria." The album closes with a jazzy samba which is great.

LLAVES DE LA TRADICION — Ismael Rivera Y Cortijo — Tico 1419 — Producer: Pancho Cristal

Something new and old is what this album has in a reunion of Ismael Rivera and Cortijo. Two pioneers of Latin roots from Puerto Rico. Borinquen is proud, New York is grateful and the rest of the Latin world agrees because the Ismael Rivera-Cortijo combination makes people dance, gives happiness and continues their tradition of Bombas, and Plenas. The best cuts are "La Soledad," "Cucala," "Borinquen Bomba Ae," and "Yo Soy Del Campo."

Warner Executives Evaluate Commitment To Black Music

by Carita Spencer

LOS ANGELES — Three years ago The Meters, Allen Toussaint, Larry Graham and Graham Central Station constituted Warner Brothers' commitment to the area of black music. Now, the roster of black entertainment at the company consists of some of the industry's top artists which include George Benson, Ashford And Simpson and Bootsy Collins. As the number of artists has grown, so has the company and subsequently their commitment to black music, according to executives of Warners' black music marketing division.

Tom Draper, vice president and director of the division, assessed the company's present position in relation to black music saying that the company is now a major contender for the top spot in black music.

"At this point," said Draper, "The success that we've had over the last two and a half years has been nothing short of sensational for a company that a lot of people, quite frankly, thought could never move into the area of black music and do an effective job."

Staff Increase

Draper cited the increase in the division's staff as a positive indication of the growth and expansion of black music at Warners. Additionally, the jazz marketing department was recently established and there are plans to expand into the area of gospel music in the near future.

"We expect a great deal of growth in these areas," Draper said. "We are expanding from a strictly R&B base to really getting into additional areas of music that affect black people. We're becoming a total black music operation."

"With our well rounded, well represented roster," he continued, "and a company that has proven itself to be the number one pop company in the industry, we feel that we can make a practical application and draw from the success in that area by making the area of black music happen just as successfully. We're just scratching the surface right now."

Eddie Gilreath and Cortez Thompson, national directors of sales and promotions, respectively, expressed similar attitudes in their comments.

Credibility

"We are trying to bring Warner Brothers to a position that will enable us to attract artists in addition to being able to offer them more," explained Gilreath. "We have been recognized by retail and radio persons as well as artists as one of the better companies. We have that respect going for us and we want to make sure that we don't lose it. It is important to establish credibility in black music," he said, "because people at one time looked at the R&B (as it was then called) business as a very shakey industry. People didn't respect it as they should have. We strive to become more professional in our approach to all facets of the industry on a day to day basis from the production of the product to the merchandising, promotion and selling of the product. Professionalism is the key to our present success and to greater success in the future."

From a promotional standpoint, Thompson agreed that the professional approach is the best approach. Having just joined the staff (coming from WOL radio in WAR SCORES YOUNGBLOOD — Recording group War has been chosen to write and perform the music for the soundtrack to "Youngblood," an American International Pictures release scheduled for release in April. The film stars Lawrence Hilton-Jacobs of "Welcome Back Kotter." Pictured standing (l-r) are: War's Lee Oskar and Charles Miller; producer Alan Riche; War's B.B. Dickerson; Jacobs; producer Nick Grillo; War's Papa Dee Allen and War's producer Jerry Goldstein. Shown kneeling (l-r) are: Bryan O'Dell, actor; War's Harold Brown and Lonnie Jordan; engineer Chris Huston and Howard Scott.

THE RHYTHM SECTION

TOO HOT? — Members of Heatwave were faced with a neat situation in Oklahoma while preparing for a date there. The engine of the limo which was to transport them from the airport to the hotel exploded and caught fire. Fortunately none of the fellas were inside and no injuries occurred. The group is presently touring with Rufus And Chaka Kahn and apparently smokin'. "Central Heating," their new LP, will be available next week. The single is (no pun intended) "The Groove Line" and is the second Most Added R&B Single this week. What was the name of that limo service? . . . On the subject of explosions, a recent showcase at a Los Angeles sound studio was a musical one, no casualties although a lot of people were affected, among them Maurice White of Earth, Wind & Fire/Kalimba Productions, and some other record company individuals. The group, Starburst, is headed up by saxophonist Azar Lawrence, who is producing the group in association with Andrew Woolfolk of EWF, whose younger brother Darryl is the group's drummer. A number of other impressive musicians round out the group, including trumpet player Delbert Taylor, formerly with Gil-Scott Heron's Midnight Band.

MORE POWER — Mike Jeffries is the new vocalist for Tower Of Power, scheduled to perform at the Roxy, April 9-10. Jeffries is from the bay area via one of the southern states

Washington as program director) he indicated that he was "highly impressed" and described Warners as a professional company.

"Warner has a good black roster," he affirmed. "Through the efforts of people like Eddie Gilreath, Oscar Fields, everyone else in the WEA branches and the regional and local people, there exists a total campaign to really establish a name identification for Warner Brothers. That is encouraging."

In his new capacity, Thompson will coordinate a staff of 15 promotion people; seven regionals and eight locals "doing whatever is necessary to get the job done." Although he has never worked in promotions before, he feels that his previous experience will be advantageous (after being on the other side) in motivating his people, supplying them with the proper tools and knowledge of how to use them. In his opinion, there are no problems in getting records played. "If you promote records to the best of your ability, you will get records played," he said.

"Radio people consider themselves to be professionals at the radio level and they want to be approached by professionals," he explained. "Promoting records is not the same as it used to be. Promotion people now come equipped with information and support from their companies in terms of marketing efforts, track records, and you must have good product. Promoting in itself is doing it professionally, providing radio people with all the information they can possibly use to encourage them to go on a record."

Thompson continued, saying that while black stations are a little more receptive to white product, he personally doesn't feel that there is a "problem" getting black records on white stations. Black stations, he said, have resisted pop product just as strongly as white stations have resisted black product. He added, "Ultimately some records do crossover and go to the top. If one record can make it then why can't another? It's all a matter of how you go about doing it."

Gilreath injected that a station sometimes will react to exactly how much support the record company is giving to a product in terms of merchandising efforts.

In relation to Warners' custom labels, Whitfield and Curtom, Gilreath and Thompson indicated that priorities do not exist in conjunction with merchandising or promoting the products. "We work all product," they said, "some harder than others because the product itself dictates to you what should be done with it by the amount of airplay as well as marketing, consumer and retail response." "It's a close working relationship with no distinctions. We work to deliver the records," added Draper.

In an effort to involve themselves to a greater degree with small black retailers, Warner Brothers has offered to supply the retailers with business people who will work with them to establish a better system of running their businesses. "It will be an educational process for them and us," stated Gilreath. "We try to help everyone that we involve ourselves with, making them more knowledgeable on our day to day functions and what they can do to better themselves. It obviously will help us in the long run."

Pointing out that black music has always been a major influence on music in this country, Draper professed that the influence would be much greater in the future and defined its development thus far as "a stratification of black music."

"Black music is far more sophisticated now," he commented. "It's going to become more defined as we move forth into it and as it gains greater overall general acceptance. We are at a point now where we are about to explode. The generation of sales of over a million album units from black airplay alone is a positive sign. I expect to see that trend gaining strength in the years to come."

Atlantic Records Live Studio LPs As Radio Promo

act. The sponsoring station gets the opportunity to broadcast the disc first, and each LP begins with an introduction by a representative of the station.

Live In Studio

According to Atlantic, the series represents the first time studio-recorded live performances have been made available on disc. The LPs will not be commercially released, but will be made available to FM and college stations around the country.

Each album in the series will contain a previously unreleased song, and will feature a picture of the artist on the front cover, superimposed on a giant record label. The back cover contains production notes and other data on the artist.

An Atlantic spokesman noted that a sponsoring radio station could use its album for its own promotional purposes, including contests in which the winners are bussed to New York to attend the live recording session.

Atlantic currently plans the release of one LP per month. Jimmy Mack will enter the studio for a June release, and future releases will be announced.

record companies should pay greater attention to seeking access to automated playlists.

"Radio is changing. Some of the guys today don't know music as well as they know numbers. The dee jay is having less and less influence on what is played. There are a couple of Top 40 stations in the Los Angeles market that are marginally profitable. When stations start to fail, a great new radio concept will be discovered: the new record and the dee jay."

SESAC's Role

Albert Ciancimino discussed SESAC and its role in the music industry. Founded in 1931 as a family business, SESAC is the second oldest performance rights organization in the U.S., noted Ciancimino. The 1977 gross revenue was listed as $3.5 million with operating expenses accounting for 40-50%.

Stressing several differences between SESAC and ASCAP and BMI, Ciancimino said, "Our founding philosophy was based on licensing users with an annual fee vs. the percentage of user income basis favored by ASCAP and BMI. Because of our structured payments, SESAC offers young writers and publishers the advantage of knowing exactly what they can expect to receive."

Distribution

Distribution of monies to SESAC members is determined by a six factor index which includes: 1) total number of copyrights of member; 2) the diversity of the catalog; 3) the growth of the catalog; 4) the member's seniority; 5) promotion activity; and most importantly, 6) performance activity.

SESAC members include 470 publisher catalogs and 1,000 writers which represents over 150,000 compositions running the gamut of music from classical to rock. SESAC has licensing agreements with 38 foreign organizations to administer and collect royalties abroad for SESAC members.

Hill & Gallant Get Top Junos; Rush Is Group Of The Year

by Kirk LaPointe

TORONTO — Dan Hill topped off an impressive year for himself in Canadian music, by winning three Juno music awards at the annual presentation ceremonies held March 29 in Toronto.

Hill won the Best Male Vocalist and Composer Of The Year honors, and his album, "Longer Fuse," was voted Best Selling Canadian Album Of The Year. Hill's producers, meanwhile, Matthew McCauley and Fred Mollin, won Junos for their production work on both Hill's album and his single, "Sometimes When We Touch."

Patsy Gallant was the most prominent female recipient at the awards program, held annually to honor Canada's most popular musicians. Gallant won Best Female Vocalist honors, and her single, "Sugar Daddy," was voted the "Best Selling Canadian Single Of The Year."

Group Of The Year

Rush won the Group Of The Year award and when they gave their acceptance speech, guitarist Alex Lifeson said, "I'd like to thank Dan Hill for not being a group." Afterwards, the band was jubilant at winning the top group award but didn't look at it as revenge against a critical press. "The award is nice," said bassist Geddy Lee, "but we don't look at it with vengeance, as getting back against the press and the media who have treated us roughly since our inception. It's nice to see that the recording industry can ignore a critical media and vote on the merits of the popularity of our music."

The awards ceremony, hosted by comedian David Steinberg, was televised live on the CBC television network. The awards are based on artist sales in Canada, and are voted upon by 600 members of the Canadian Academy Of Recording Arts and Sciences (CARAS).

Award Winners

The following is a list of the award winners in each category: Best Selling Album: Dan Hill, "Longer Fuse;" Best Selling Single: Patsy Gallant, "Sugar Daddy;" Female Vocalist Of The Year: Patsy Gallant; Male Vocalist Of The Year: Dan Hill; Group Of The Year: Rush; Composer Of The Year: Dan Hill; Country Female Vocalist Of The Year: Carroll Baker; Country Male Vocalist Of The Year: Ronnie Prophet; Country Group Of The Year: The Good Brothers; Best New Female Vocalist: Lisa Dal Bello; Best New Male Vocalist: David Bradstreet; Best New Group: The Hometown Band; Producer Of The Year — Single: Matthew McCauley and Fred Mollin for "Sometimes When We Touch;" Producer Of The Year — Album: Matthew McCauley and Fred Mollin for "Longer Fuse;" Best Album Graphics: Short Turn's album jacket, designed by Dave Anderson; Best Classical Recording: "Three Borodin Symphonies" by the Toronto Symphony Orchestra; Best Jazz Recording: "Big Band Jazz" by Rob McConnell And The Boss Brass; Engineer Of The Year: (tie) Terry Brown, at Toronto Sound Studios, for "Hope" by Klaatu; and David Greene at Nimbus Nine Studios, for Rob McConnell and The Boss Brass' "Big Band Jazz;" Instrumental Artist Of The Year: Andre Gagnon; Folksinger Of The Year: Gordon Lightfoot; International Best Selling Album: "Rumours" by Fleetwood Mac; International Best Selling Single: "When I Need You," Leo Sayer.

This judgment does not affect a previous decision of Mr. Justice Goff when he held that a song in which the words and music were written by different authors is a collective work which would not revert.

Promo Video, Print Media And Film Give Blondie High Profile

by Peter Hartz

LOS ANGELES — In November 1977, "In The Flesh," a single by Blondie taken from their self-named album, topped the Australian pop charts. One of the principal reasons for this chart success by the Chrysalis recording group (then signed to Private Stock) was the utilization of video as a promotion tool.

The Blondie video trailer was financed by Peter Leeds, manager of the group. Fronting several thousand dollars and teaming with Richard Robinson who recently co-produced Lou Reed's album, and Bob Gruen, whose photographs of Kiss appeared in a recent issue of Playboy Magazine, Leeds produced a striking trailer which the Chrysalis licensee in Australia, EMI, succeeded in placing on the popular "Countdown" television show. A strong sales response followed directly the airing of the trailer.

"Blondie is perfectly suited to video. Their show is dramatic and exciting and most importantly, the members of the band are attractive and present a good image. Deborah Harry is a beautiful woman. I think she is one of the most beautiful women in rock. In addition, she has worked very hard to develop her presence."

Individualizes

In markets saturated with releases, the Blondie video trailer provided a unique method of individualizing the band. It embodies their sound with faces and images, creating a broader impact on the unknowledgeable audience.

In September 1977 when Blondie purchased their recording contract back from Private Stock, Leeds made it a point to discuss video with the band's new label, Chrysalis.

"If a record company cannot understand the promotion value of video, it makes me doubt the marketing knowledge of the operation. I discussed with Terry Ellis, who signed Blondie to Chrysalis, the importance I place upon video. Because of his cooperative understanding, we arranged the production of a new video produced in England by Peter Wagg and directed by Keith McMillian. We filmed 'Denis' and 'Detroit 442' from the 'Plastic Letters' LP in January and we filmed 'Presence, Dear' (possibly the new single) in March.

"Chrysalis has an excellent understanding of the value of video as well as an organized international operation to exploit it. The international headquarters in London takes all my material — whether stills or video — and distributes it internationally to the licensees who work the product."

Persona

This strategy was similar to that used by Leeds and Chrysalis to build an international print media image for Blondie. Through a public relations effort coordinated by Toby Mamis, Blondie has appeared on the covers of 15-20 different publications, according to Leeds. This high profile has allowed Blondie to reach potential audiences for their records and also to develop the important ingredient of persona.

Sam Shaw Film

In addition to the promotional video trailers of Blondie, noted producer and director Sam Shaw, who was responsible for much classic Marilyn Monroe footage, did a 27 minute feature film on Deborah Harry which is slated for a May premiere in New York, double-billed tentatively with "Performance," the film starring Mick Jagger.

The film production crew was the same crew that worked on the film "Opening Night." John Cassavetes worked the handheld floating camera on a sequence filmed at the Whiskey in Hollywood during a Blondie date in October.

"While I was doing 'Opening Night,' I wanted to make a short shot of Deborah but it kept expanding. I think she is the most exciting girl I've seen," said Shaw.

"The film is going to make the rounds of the country in the theatres first," said Shaw, "and I have had some queries from television also. Norman Smith will be handling the distribution on the west coast. He will decide whether we couple the piece with one other film — such as Performance — for the whole run or whether we use selected pieces. That remains to be decided."

Adds Leeds, "I think Deborah is an intelligent woman. She can do whatever she wants to. Her career could encompass film and music."

Track Reaches The End

LONDON — Track Records has gone into liquidation with debts of over 70,000 pounds. The announcement was made by managing director Maffalda Hall, who also claims a personal loss of 2,000 pounds. Existing releases will go ahead on the Track label through their distributor, Polydor Records.

GOLDEN BLONDIE — Holland gave Chrysalis recording group Blondie its first number one record. Blondie's new single "Denis" reached the top of the Dutch charts within four weeks after release. The group was recently in Holland to accept a gold record for the "Plastic Letters" album from Ariola Benelux managing director Wim Schipper. The album was Chrysalis Records' first number one hit in Holland since Ariola started to represent the label for the Benelux countries July 1 1977. Pictured (l-r) are: Jimmy Destri; Frank Infante; Nigel Harrison; Schipper; Chris Stein; Deborah Harry; and Clement Burke.

Subcommittee Hearing Held In L.A.

National Radio Broadcasters Assn. Also testifying against the bill was Nicholas Allen, legislative counsel for the Amusement and Music Operators of America.

Unfair Distinction

Golodner, director of the AFL-CIO's Department for Professional Employees, which is comprised of 26 unions representing singers, actors and musicians, noted that composers and arrangers are already protected under the copyright law but performers are not. That distinction is unfair, he testified, and discourages would-be performers from pursuing their careers.

He went on to say that broadcasters, jukebox operators and background music firms that profit from sound recordings return little or nothing to the performers. "After more than half a century of catering to the concerns of those who exploit recorded performances," he said, "the time is overdue for our government to attend to the needs of those who create these performances."

Golodner argued further that the creation of a performance royalty would help to ease the pressure on government subsidies for the performing arts.

AFM's Fuentealba argued that recorded music has displaced the jobs of "many thousands of musicians" who once worked in restaurants, cabarets, dance halls and similar places.

Consumers pay more for records, he claimed, because recording companies alone must assume the costs of a "high-risk business." If income were available from broadcast royalties, Fuentealba argued, pressure on record prices would ease.

While acknowledging that radio exposure does help sell records, AFTRA's Wolff said this does little for the career of the anonymous background musician and vocalist.

Radio Profits Up

He also disputed the broadcasters' claim that radio stations cannot afford to pay any royalty. According to statistics compiled for the NAB, Wolff said it was projected that radio station profits would increase nearly 86 percent in the 10-year period from 1975 through 1985, going from $1.7 billion annually to $3.2 billion.

Similarly, the RIAA panel attacked various broadcast arguments against performance rights. For example, they defended the proposed 50-50 royalty split between artist and record company on the grounds that the latter contributes significant creative input before, during and after the recording session.

Newell of KPOL in Los Angeles opposed the Danielson bill, saying that radio stations provide free air time which is "by far the most important factor in generating record sales," accounting for 80 percent of album sales. "Without radio, the record industry would be a fraction of its present size," he said.

Newell took issue with the Register of Copyrights' assumption that radio stations can pass along the added costs of a performance royalty to their customers. "Most stations cannot raise their rates just because they want or need to," he argued. "Rate increases have to be accompanied by increased audience or increased demand for air time."

Another broadcast argument was raised by NAB's Dimling, who argued that performers' compensation problems could be solved by bargaining more effectively with the record companies. "The financial problems of the musician cannot be solved by imposing what amounts to a tax on broadcasters," he said.

Speaking for the nation's jukebox operators, AMOA's Allen noted that record companies cannot be viewed as creators because they do not contribute a copyrightable element to a musical recording. By including manufacturers as beneficiaries of the proposed royalty, he argued, the constitutionality of the bill is "thrown into serious doubt."

At the conclusion of the meeting, chairman Kastenmeier indicated that this would be the "principal hearing" on the subject of a performance royalty, adding that the Register of Copyrights would at a future date be called to testify before the committee in Washington, D.C.

Met Opera Guild Releases Fifth In Historical Series

Opera Fund. Gifts can be mailed to the Metropolitan Opera Fund, Box 930, New York, New York 10023.

According to Anthony Bliss, director of the Metropolitan Opera, the Opera Guild has already received donations totaling more than $2 million from the series of broadcast performances. All but one of the historic recordings have been produced by RCA.

At the reception, Rise Stevens said a few words about the recording, noting that it doesn't include the full score which is usually performed today. This was the case, she said, because in 1939, the opera was just coming back into vogue, and conductors usually cut the score to accommodate the public. She also paid homage to the late Lotte Lehmann.

Bliss announced that Darlo Soria would be leaving his post as the Guild's managing director. However, he will continue to act as a consultant for the Metropolitan Opera Association. No replacement has yet been posted for Soria.

CONTEMPORARY PROGRAMMING — It looks as if the music of Messiaen will be "in" next year. Besides Cleveland's "Messiaen Week," Zubin Mehta, the future music director of the New York Philharmonic, will be featuring the composer's work in three concerts with the orchestra. Other modern music which either Mehta or guest conductors are programming includes pieces by Webern, Verese, Boulez, (U.S. premiere of a new work), Druckman (world premiere of his Viola Concerto), Carler, Bassett, Barber, Taneev, and Ligeti. So, despite the departure of Pierre Boulez, it appears that the New York Philharmonic will continue to champion the cause of contemporary art music...

Outlook Improves For Record Depts.

commodity to Americans, Kaplan added.

Easy Credit

Al Geigle, Montgomery Ward's national retail sales manager, cited still another reason for increased record sales at mass merchandise outlets: easy credit. Many small specialty record shops are cash businesses, Geigle indicated, and with most LP retailing for $6 or $7, multiple purchases now require either a credit card or a lot of cash.

"The kids all have their parents' credit cards," Geigle asserted. "As long as we can offer that convenience, we can stay in the record business." He added that, over the past few months, Montgomery Ward has appointed its first "record department managers." Previously, part-time help serviced both the record and electronic departments. Ward's prices have also become more competitive, and its ad budgets have risen for the approximately 400 outlets that stock records.

Kaplan, however, sounded a few sour notes. "It's true that Penney's isn't out of the record business, but it's not a good situation. Not only have they dropped some departments, but they've reduced the sizes of many existing units. And from an overall pricing standpoint, we still lack the spread; and that remains a key problem in our efforts to be competitive."

In addition, some rack jobbers are reporting heavy returns on hit Christmas product. And while wholesale prices have risen for retailers, they have not dropped at the rack level.

It's the same story, really," concluded Geigle. "Records are a highly identifiable product, and we have to take advantage of that without going crazy in our pricing. But there are still lowballers out there who are making things difficult for everyone."

1977 Cox Merger Boosts Revenues

LOS ANGELES — The merger of Cox Cable Communications, Inc. back into Cox Broadcasting Corporation in 1977 contributed to an 11 percent increase in Cox Broadcasting's 1977 operating revenues, according to Clifford Kirtland, Jr., president of Cox Broadcasting.

Speaking at the company's 14th annual meeting last week, Kirtland told shareholders that broadcasting and cable television will be the primary boosters of the anticipated increase in consolidated sales and earnings for the first quarter of 1978 compared to the first three months of last year.

Every area of broadcast revenues, except one, is up for the 1978 first quarter, shareholders were told. Television and FM radio continue to be the leaders, with both local and national advertising strong. AM radio is up in local advertising revenues but behind in national spot advertising.

In addition to the company's five VHF television stations, Cox owns and operates five AM and seven FM radio stations. The board of directors declared a regular quarterly cash dividend of 16¼ cents a share on common stock, payable April 18 to shareholders of record April 3.

Profits, Revenues Rise At ABKCO Industries

NEW YORK — ABKCO Industries has reported increased profits and revenues for the first quarter ended December 31, 1977. The company reported profits of $186,012, compared to a loss of $68,408 for the last three months of 1976. Revenues were $2.83 million, up from $2.77 million in the previous year's period.

During the three months ended December 31, 1976, ABKCO incurred expenses of $196,963 in connection with litigation over the Apple Companies. No such litigation expenses occurred during the last three months of 1977, as a settlement was reached early last year.

Paul, Jan Berger, Al DeMarino and Helen Baker. In addition, the fund is supported by ABC Records, Essence Magazine, RCA Records and Arista Records.

The 1977 Scholarship Committee consisted of chairwoman Carla Edwards, Dick Monica, Ron Moseley, Jan Berger, Toni Luck, Stewart Bosely and Joan Green. FORE executive committee members Cheryl Tyrrell (who coordinated the luncheon), Dick Monica and Ron Moseley also helped make the event a success.

Besides Tyrrell, speakers at the luncheon included Dr. George Butler, vice president of jazz and progressive marketing for CBS Records; L. Judy Simmons, executive director of Human Resources Administration of New York City; Frankie Crocker, special A&R consultant for Polydor; and Bob Law. The Rev. Buster Soares delivered the invocation.

Retail Explosion

LOS ANGELES — The California-based Wherehouse chain is planning to add 15 outlets, one a week through June 30, which will bring its number of stores to 111. According to Lee Hartstone, founder/president of the Wherehouse's parent company, Integrity Entertainment Corp., the expansion will make the chain's number of stores second only to Pickwick's.

Two of the new stores will be in Los Angeles, with another five in the greater metropolitan area. San Diego will also see two more Wherehouse outlets and four others are set for central California. Two Big Ben's record/tape/accessories stores will open in the Los Angeles area as well. One of the Big Ben's will operate in a 15,000 square-foot converted supermarket and the other will be housed in one of the five former Wallichs' stores that Integrity assumed during bankruptcy action.

The 53rd National Record Mart store, "Oasis," opened for business on March 31 in Bloomfield, Pa. A&M recording artist Gino Vannelli was on hand for ribbon-cutting ceremonies at the 13,000 square-foot store, which is located close to the University of Pittsburgh campus about three miles from downtown.

ABC Records has serviced record retailers nationwide with one of their first EPs pressed for a jazz artist, "A Sample of Sample." The seven-inch, 33 rpm, two-sided EP features excerpts from keyboard player Joe Sample's first solo album, "Rainbow Seeker." Sample is a founding member of ABC jazz group the Crusaders. Stores are distributing the unusual sales tool free to customers. Joey Berlin
