Atlantic Nashville Ups Blackburn

RICK BLACKBURN HAS BEEN PROMOTED to the position of vice president of operations and general manager for Atlantic Nashville. The announcement was made by Atlantic co-chairman/co-chief executive officer Doug Morris. In his new capacity, Blackburn will oversee Atlantic Nashville's A&R, promotion, sales & marketing, artist development and publicity. Before this promotion, Blackburn was vice president of operations, Atlantic Nashville—a position he held since July 1989.

Prior to joining Atlantic, Blackburn was senior vice president/general manager for CBS Records Nashville. Blackburn joined CBS in 1976 as vice president of marketing, and in 1978, was promoted to vice president/general manager—a position he held for four years. During his years with CBS, he signed Roseanne Cash, Ricky Skaggs and Sweethearts Of The Rodeo to name a few. Blackburn also held positions at A&M and Mercury.

EXECUTIVES ON THE MOVE

■ Michael P. Schulhof has been named chairman of Sony Music Entertainment (formerly CBS Records, Inc.), while retaining his position as vice chairman, Sony USA. Masaaki Morita assumes the title of executive vice chairman and chief operating officer, Sony USA. ■ Lawrence H. Katz has been promoted to vice president/general manager, operations, West Coast for both SBK Records and EMI Music Publishing. He will oversee all of EMI Music Publishing's business and administrative operations on the West Coast and will oversee all West Coast activities at SBK. Katz was previously vice president, business affairs for SBK. ■ Private Music has named Julio Proietto vice president, finance & business administration. A CPA, he comes to the label from Warner Bros. Television. ■ Bruce Shindler, formerly national promotion manager for RCA/Nashville, has joined the staff of PolyGram as director of national country promotion. Shindler, a native of East Meadow, Long Island, formerly worked promotion for Elektra/Asylum, Lifesong and Mainstreet Records before joining the staff of MTM Music Group in 1984 as director of national promotion. He assumed his position at RCA in 1988. ■ Kevln Herring has been promoted from PolyGram midwest regional promotion manager to the newly-created position of manager of national country promotion for PolyGram. Herring, who is from the Detroit area, served as music director for WWWW in Detroit from 1980 until 1987, when he joined the company. ■ BMG International has made three new appointments. Allan Fried has been named director, A&R, making him responsible for the handling of all international artists recording in the U.S. He comes to the labels from EMI Music Publishing, where he was New York creative director. Steve Pedro has been promoted to director, finance and administration. He was most recently manager, finance and administration, for the Latin and Asia/Pacific regions, a post now assumed by Jeff LeSueur. ■ Mute Records has named Adam Kaplan director, marketing and sales. Kaplan comes to the label, which recently signed a licensing and distribution agreement with Elektra, from Virgin Records, where he was a marketing coordinator. ■ Capitol Records has promoted Julie Borchard to the position of director, international artist development. Borchard reports directly to Tom Corson, vice president, international artist development for Capitol.

WHEN I WAS 75, IT WAS A VERY GOOD YEAR: We imagine that Mr. Sinatra—rolling around the world like he was a youngster—will probably have that to say about 1990. Not everybody will be so jubilant about the year passed, however, and none less so, perhaps, than Walter Yetnikoff, whose road to unemployment was paved by a little book called Hit Men. CBS is the company, of course, although next week it'll be called Sony Music and Mr. Yetnikoff's deeds there—good, bad or indifferent—will begin to fade from memory. And Sony Music, under chairman Michael P. Schulhof, will begin to put its house in order.

It was a very good year for guys like David Geffen, whose sale of his label to MCA, followed by MCA's sale to Matsushita, made him a zillionaire. The Matsushita deal was the biggest such transaction in entertainment history, involving a movie studio, a record label, plenty of real estates, all sorts of things. Some worried about the continued de-Americanization of the music business, others said, "Hey, we made our bed, we lie in it." The beds are increasingly in Japan and Europe. As for MCA Records, chairman Al Teller, a survivor of a war with Mr. Yetnikoff, seemed to have things well in hand.

Irving Azoff had himself a good year, finally readying the launch of his own label, and the folks at Terry Ellis' new Imago, similarly poised, are probably a happy clan too. Atlantic set up a new division, East West America, and PolyGram created the PolyGram Label Group, to market its product alongside its '89 acquisitions: A&M and Island. But nobody's happier than the wallet-fat folks at SBK who are "Ice, Ice Baby"-ing all the way to the bank. Whatever you or yours think of Vanilla Ice and Wilson Philips and pizza-eating turtles, SBK had itself a very good year indeed.

Vanilla Ice represents the continued pop-ifying of rap, but nobody, save maybe a music critic of two, seems to be complaining. Ice is the faster-seller, but M.C. Hammer—rapper, dancer, corporate pitchman—has got the figures: Sales of Please Hammer, Don't Hurt 'Em were at seven-million and counting last time anybody checked. As to the aging rock and rollers of yesteryear, Paul McCartney's return to his Beatles songs was the biggest concert draw, while Paul Simon, chiming in with his first release since the multi-Grammy-winning Graceland four years ago, and the Traveling Wilburys chalked up some fast album sales. Bonnie Raitt, of course, trundled off an armful of Grammys this year, and nobody seemed more surprised than she. And we'd be remiss if we didn't mention Harry Connick, Jr. and Deee-Lite, who've brought sighs of earlier eras to our troubled young decade.

There are happy rappers in Florida, too, as 2 Live Crew rode the nation's to-censor-or-not-to-censor frenzy to the top of the charts. It was a year when people couldn't even figure out what censorship was or wasn't. Sinead O'Connor, for example, was a Saturday Night Live no-show because of her objections to comic Andrew Dice Clay's infantile, misogynous humor, but rigorously defended Luther Campbell's similar bent. And then MTV pulled the plug on Madonna's video, and everybody was scratching their heads again. Putting record retailers and rappers on trial for words is censorship. Forcing Madonna to cut her video would be censorship. Not giving tax money to controversial artists is not censorship. It is reprehensible, but it's not censorship. Anyway, albums ended up with stickers, and Tipper Gore said she was happy. If she's happy, we're happy.

Also fighting the law this year was independent promoter Joe Isgro. He won.

POINTS WEST

NEW FIELDS OF THE PALACE: Just when it seemed that The Palace was history, the trendy Hollywood nightspot recently reopened with a TSOL show thanks to the independent JFK Productions. Key figures in JFK (as in Just For Kicks, not John F. Kennedy) include Mark Jason (who was with The Palace when it went under), Meredith Brunswick (who's been involved with Tattoo, Scarlet Letter and other L.A. clubs) and Leo Fenn. Publicist Ilene Proctor describes The Palace's next event, scheduled for December 29, as an "acid rock show." And on New Year's Eve, JFK is scheduled to present an L.A. Guns show at The Palace.

SKIN TIGHT: While The Ohio Players haven't had a major hit in over a decade, a recent show at Pepper's in the City Of Industry near Los Angeles proves that the soul/funk band still has a powerful live show and deserves to be back on top. Fronted by lead vocalist/guitarist Leroy "Sugarfoot" Bonner, the currently unsigned Players are now a quintet that also includes bassist Darwin (the band's newest member), guitarist Chet Willis, drummer James "Diamond" Williams and keyboardist Ron Nooks. Missing was a horn section—which was a key element of the band during the '60s and '70s—but The Players projected so much soul and passion that it wasn't missed that much. The Players performed some material from their last album on the defunkt Track label, Back, but concentrated primarily on such '70s Mercury hits as "Fire," "Skin Tight," "Love Rollercoaster," "I Wanna Be Free," "Heaven Must Be Like This," "Sweet Sticky Thing," and "Fopp" and omitted hits from the Westbound years like "Pain," "Pleasure," "Funky Worm," "I Wanna Hear From You" and "Varee Is Love." Hopefully, the Players will soon be signed by a truly supportive label and have another shot at the big time.

—ALEX HENDERSON

EAST COASTING

ROCKS AND GRAVEL: Odd, this Frank Sinatra. He wears a crummy little toupee while on stage, but sheds it when being filmed at home being licked by puppies. I liked that 75th birthday TV show, but it was a little ungeshaupt... Need a bit of religion around this Christmastime? Well, deck your CD with Something

Got a Hold of Me: A Treasury of Sacred Music and I Hear Music in the Air: A Treasury of Gospel Music, the latest two releases in that fine RCA Heritage series. Although it compounds the confusion between white religious and black religious music (calling the former "sacred," the latter "gospel") it does it awfully musically. Countrywise on the first one (Bill Monroe, the Carter Family, Uncle Dave Macon, etc.), a cappella jubilee style on the second (the Golden Gate Quartet, the Southern Sons, the Four Gospel Singers, etc.). Hell, it all beats another spin through the "Little Drummer Boy" (ba-rump-a-bump-bump).

GROOVE MERCHANTS: Two of the busiest guys around town this year were James Brown hornmen Fred Wesley (left) and Maceo Parker who, under various different band names, kept the Brown sound alive on East Coast dance floors. Here they do it up at S.O.B.'s, in support of Maceo's Verve album.

Columbia Records is releasing the Godfather III soundtrack. The music is one of the best things in this rather mediocre movie ("Turkey Tetrizzini" cracked one wag after a screening), so the album's probably a winner. And if you want to hear Harry Connick's crooning of the "Love Theme" from the movie, you've got to sit through all two hours and 48 minutes: he pipes in about halfway through the closing credits. Better you should buy the album. Better still you should just watch the first two movies over and over and over and over. Best performance in III: Joe Mantegna. Worst performance: Sophia Coppola. Oddest character: Eli Wallach as Don Altacocker, a longtime family friend. If he's such a longtime friend, how come he never showed up in the first two films. Better you should see Awakenings or Green Card: small, quiet, low-keyed, old-fashioned movies.

Did I mention how much I enjoyed the first releases on Rounder's new Bullseye Blues imprint. Charles Brown, Champion Jack Dupree (recorded back home in New Orleans, his first trip there since they tore down Storyville) and Luther "Guitar Junior" Johnson at the top of their games, and snazzy newcomer John Mooney (who's been turning heads in the Crescent City for a few years now) playing something somebody called "delta dance music," meaning blues with a bit of a syncopated skip. I'll buy that... And while we're in Rounder's territory, I have to say that I think that Brave Combo's A Night on Earth is the goofiest album I've heard all year. Accordion madness, and I love it all, especially the high-speed Italian medley. These guys know their accordion styles (from tango to horas) and they're all here. Hey, Rounder, Rykodisc, one of you guys: How about an accordion compilation? A fat CD with fine representative samples of all of it: forro, zydeco, tango, township jive, klezmer, etc.

Good line from an old Humphrey Bogart movie: Bogie to saloon keeper: "Joe, how's business?" Joe: "It's like show business. There's no business."

Merry Christmas.

—LEE JESKE

UK BUZZ

BUZZING AROUND: The Happy Mondays threw a party in the Aquarium of London Zoo, swirly with dry ice and speedy with strobe. Kids ordered orange juice, very psychedelic. It celebrated not only the inexorable rise of the Mancunian heroes, but in the person of Shaun Ryder it celebrated the death of the boy bimbo. "I ain't sexy, I just look evil and ugly. But some girls like that, don't they?"

They do indeed, but some girls don't. They prefer '70s footballer, curled Craig McLachlan, who held a sweet little bonfire soiree, with indoor fireworks and kiddies, earlier that evening. One of the prerequisites of a bimbo is someone who believes fame by association will bring lasting fulfillment. Girl bimbos for a short time marry high profile men. Boy bimbos believe if they are famous for acting, say, in a soap opera like Home and Away, they are automatically qualified for singing, or, conversely, the very first boy bimbo, Bowie, still believes that because he was famous for singing he could automatically turn out an Oscar-winning performance.

Interesting to note, Whitney Houston has finally shared her secret: She's been going out with Eddie Murphy for years. Funny she chose to tell the world about it the week before her new schmaltzy album was trotted out.

BY LEE JESKE

WRAP IT UP: The following is from an article called "Jazz Comes Back!," the cover story of a major news magazine:

"All of a sudden le jazz is hot. Pushed into a neutral corner by rock in the '60s, jazz has come out fighting. The signs of rebirth are everywhere, from Chicago's avant-garde and New York's Bohemian lofts to the hundreds of Dixieland lovers in New Orleans...

"Then years ago in New York there were fewer than ten jazz clubs. Today there are 80. Seven years ago in Boston there was just one. Now there are 21. Their number has doubled in Los Angeles in the last three years, and on Chicago's Lincoln Avenue it's reaching the proportions of an epidemic...

"Jazz not only has a past but it has a future again. They talk of it in Los Angeles' The Baked Potato, a meeting ground for visiting and local professionals, who play for each other and delighted audiences. Even in Detroit, eviscerated by inner-city blight, eleven big bands, eight fusion groups and more than twenty small combos are busy re-creating the legendary McKinney's Cotton Pickers and exploring bebop...

"A fresh young audience has defected from rock. They're young—in their late teens or 20s—and they're bored by rock's heavy-handed rhythms and unrelenting volume. "Rock is all resolution without any of life's complexity," says one 24-year-old in Los Angeles. "Jazz is closer to the modern dilemma. I play it late at night to meditate to."

"...But the most telling statistics are in reissues, which are being released by almost every major company. Of the 692 new jazz listings last year in the Schwann catalog, nearly half were reissues—more than ever before. None other than Charlie (Bird) Parker...led all the rest, with eleven albums released.

"Much of the youthful interest in classic jazz is fallout from the detonation of jazz-fusion..."

Sounds familiar, right? The story appeared in the Newsweek of August 8, 1977. Herbie Hancock's V.S.O.P. Quintet—five fusion players returning to hard bop—was on the cover.

Okay, what's the point? The point is that 1990 was another year when the return of jazz—real jazz, real people improvising over real chord changes—was trumpeted throughout the land: in Time, in The New York Times, on TV, in feature films, hither, thither and yon.

But jazz never goes away—it hasn't gone away since it was first recorded 75 years ago—it's just that the national media tends to pay a bit more attention to it every so often. The youth of the players today? Not much different from the youth of the players of yesteryear: Pick a major jazz figure and look up how old he was when he made his first record. Right: Many were teenagers, all were in their 20s.

Now, I'm not meaning to sound curmudgeonly about all of this attention, really I'm not. Most of these youthful young players, who have been consolidating around major labels this year, are talented, and some of them are turning into great musicians. Wynton Marsalis, at this point, has finally become a genuinely great musician, about the best trumpeter going if you ask me. I'm a big fan of Harry Connick, Jr.—he's the most purely entertaining musician jazz has produced in ages—but he's in a no-win critical position. Some of the press is so ga-ga over him, that there's a backlash in the jazz press: Hell, he's not that good. The truth is, he hasn't created a damn thing. Yet. But he's only 23, and he's loaded—positively groaning—with talent. If he doesn't let the temptations of hype, or the crankiness of the serious press, drag him down.

If there was a trend this year, it was not, as many of us had predicted, that the young hard boppers began to move forward; it was that they began to move further backwards. That's what's coming in '91 folks: An even deeper exploration of jazz history. Wynton—whose ear has been turned by Louis Armstrong and Jelly Roll Morton and Duke Ellington—is leading a trend back towards pre-bop. That, if you ask me, is a good sign. At least things are moving. (But there's one thing missing: composers. Where are this generation's Ellingtons, Monks and Minguses?)

Is there nothing new under the sun? Well, there is, but unfortunately it's crawling back under the carpet. The Jazz Passengers, Henry Threadgill, Steve Lacy, Steve Coleman, Geri Allen, the Lounge Lizards, Bill Frisell, Julius Hemphill...there are many players attempting to take jazz to places it's never been before; sometimes failing, sometimes succeeding, but never sitting still.

Major labels and U.S. jazz festivals, however, are paying only scant attention, less every day.

Saxophonist-composer Roy Nathanson, leader of the Jazz Passengers, said this recently: "You know, jazz was always edge music, it had some kind of edge. And it doesn't anymore. That's why there's this whole business about 'the resurgence of jazz.' It's not a resurgence of jazz, it's just become a classical form now. I'm not against guys like Wynton Marsalis, but I think that whole attitude is bullshit."

Roy is not wrong, but it doesn't matter: jazz is healthy, the spirit of jazz is healthy, and its abundantly rich heart and soul will win out. I'm an optimist. Things are good.

A lot of jazz musicians died in 1990, including three of the greatest practitioners in the music's history: Sarah Vaughan, Dexter Gordon and Art Blakey. Three people who changed music, simple as that. Creators, artists of the highest sort. People whose influence and inspiration can not be summed up in words. But they're summed up in music every minute of every day of every week.

Happy new year.

MALVERNE DISTRIBUTORS: Malverne Distributors is now owned by Independent National Distributors, Inc. (INDI), a national wholesaling network for which George Hocutt acts as chief operating officer. Malverne's current staff will remain intact. Jerry Winston will remain president of Malverne and will join INDI's board of directors. Malverne, which was founded by Al Hirsch 45 years ago, distributes Fantasy (the nation's largest indie), Malaco (home of soul veterans Johnnie Taylor and Denise LaSalle), Concord (whose roster includes jazz veteran Phil Woods and salsa/Latin jazz great Tito Puente), Next Plateau, Select, K-Tel and other indies...

2001: After hearing Saxxy's current single, "Keep Yo Butt At Home," Erick Sermon of EPMD decided to do a remix. The remix will appear on a reissue of the single along with a cover of The Miracles' 1974 hit, "Do It, Baby." Sassy's forthcoming album on 2001 Records is titled Pretty Enemy...

INDIE REVIEWS

ALBUMS

□ SHIRLEY SCOTT: Oasis (Muse MCD 5388)

Though Shirley Scott has been gigging in and around her native Philadelphia and the Delaware Valley in recent years, Oasis is the veteran jazz organist's first new album in more than a few years. Clearly, she hasn't lost her chops. "Blues Everywhere," (which boasts a captivating solo by the album's producer, tenor great Houston Person) the Count-conscious "Basie In Mind," the groovin' "Do You Know A Good Thing When You See One" and readings of J.J. Johnson's "Lament" and Nat King Cole's "Nature Boy" are pure Scott—gritty, funky, blues-drenched, accessible soul-jazz. Scott's sidemen on Oasis also include trumpeter Virgil Jones (who's gotten down on his share of Charles Earland dates), Charles Davis (who blows on tenor instead of baritone), bassist Arthur Harper and drummer Mikey Roker.

□ HELLHAMMER: Apocalyptic Raids 1990 A.D. (Noise 4831-2-U)

If you can imagine the growling (dare I call it singing?) of death-metal thrashers like Deicide and Cannibal Corpse combined with slower riffs that actually groove and have some sense of melody, you can picture Apocalyptic Raids 1990 A.D.—which consists of bonecrushing metal sides that were recorded in 1984 but previously unreleased in the U.S. Hellhammer, a band that enjoyed a cult following, shouldn't be confused with Hellwitch, Hellbastard or Hellmonster.

BEST THE GREAT CITY OF CHICAGO IS HOME TO INDIES

ranging from the blues-oriented Alligator to the underground Wax Trax to the rootsy Flying Fish to the house-oriented D.J. International to quite a few other house-inspired labels. The Windy City has its share of jazz clubs; so it seems appropriate that the new jazz label Best Recordings is based in the Chicago suburb of Elmhurst. But during a recent interview, jazz pianist/label selfes national. We've got artists from Memphis and New York. We've got L.A. people we're negotiating with. As I say, Chicago just happens to be the place where we answer the phones."

Best, which was open for business in January 1990, released three jazz-pop albums in 1990—all of which are by Chicago-based artists: a big band effort by Vodicka; Frank Caruso & Mike Colby's Mango Tango and a Christmas album by vocal group The Caroling Party. Best's first release in 1991 will be New York-based percussionist Mike Freeman's Street Shuffle. Vodicka notes, "There's five artists at the moment we're ironing out the details with; so I'm not at liberty to mention their names yet. After the first of the year, we should be making an announcement pertaining to our roster. Some of them are new artists; some are established artists."

Some jazz labels lean toward a particular style of jazz. Concord, for example, is known primarily for mainstream acoustic jazz, while ECM is generally associated with cutting-edge fusionists like Carla Bley and Steve Swallow. But Vodicka emphasizes that Best is striving for diversity. A hypothetical: what if Chick Corea and Marcus Roberts were both unsigned and approached Best? Vodicka responds, "We'd be talking to them both in a minute. We don't want to get pigeonholed into one type of thing. I don't really believe in typecasting—if it's good, it's good. We don't want to be just a traditional-type label, and we don't want to be just a fusion label."

Ed Vodicka

president Ed Vodicka stressed that Best's A&R antennas extend way beyond Lake Michigan.

"Chicago's just a place where we hang our hats," Vodicka asserts. "We operate nationally, but it just happens that our offices are in Chicago. Chicago's a great place to do business—that's why there are a lot of corporate headquarters here. We plan to bring Chicago's talent to the forefront because there's a lot happening here musically, but we really consider our-

AVC: In 1991, the CEMA-distributed AVC Entertainment plans to get busy with rap/dance artist Rocca's debut single, "Funk It Up." That dopejam will appear on the 19-year-old Californian's debut album, Got 2 B Funky, as will a remake of Wild Cherry's "Play That Funky Music"... The next single from Augusta, Georgia soul/pop/rock posse Le Class' debut album, School Of Cool will be "That's What Love Can Do." Also on AVC's agenda for 1991 is the debut album by hardcore L.A. rapper Madrok, who isn't on the gangster tip but comes hard and correct and cold kicks crazy knowledge, boyeeeee...

Rappin' With The Retailer

BY JEFF KARP AND SCOTT SALISBURY

Reporting: Helen Timberlake

"Vanilla Ice has been huge. Red Hot and Blue is doing really good. Paul Simon and Whitney Houston have been flying out, along with both the Madonna album and video. Bette Midler and the Barry Manilow Christmas album have been real surprises, they're doing great. Both Frank Sinatra boxes are doing remarkably well! They're right up there with the Led Zeppelin box. Guy has been our top R&B seller and Run DMC is also one of our biggest right now. We're starting to see some good movement with Dana Dane and Monie Love. L.L. Cool J and Big Daddy Kane are also doing good. We just got in the new Ice Cube and we expect it to do great."

HARMONY HOUSE, Park Forest, Illinois

Reporting: Don Wilson

"Pop wise anywhere from Madonna to Paul Simon. There's a lot of rap in our top ten this week. Mariah Carey is doing well also on the pop side. R&B wise Ralph Tresvant is doing really well! Guy is doing great, as well as Al B. Sure and Anita Baker. M.C. Hammer is doing good as always. Candyman and X-Clan aren't doing too bad. For country the new Hank Williams, Jr. is doing pretty good. Out of the box Yanni was ridiculously crazy. I think next week the new Madonna will hit number one. I've sold a lot of Vanilla Ice this week so I think it'll stay pretty strong. Jane's Addiction and Johnny Gill will probably move up as well!"

HARMONY HOUSE, Troy, Michigan

Reporting: Sandy Bean

"Well, Madonna is strong for pop. I have no doubt that the video coming out will help with her album sales. I think she's a really smart lady! Vanilla Ice is doing extremely well. Bette Midler and Stevie B are also doing good. The Traveling Wilburys are doing good to. The Led Zeppelin box is selling like a new release. Too Short, Poison and the new Van Morrison are doing well. That new Phil Collins live album is doing really well as is the new Whitney. Country wise, Garth Brooks and Clint Black are just neck in neck. Both of their first albums are also in the top ten which is really surprising! Indie wise we're selling a lot of Luke Skywalker, N.W.A. & Ice Cube, mostly rap type music is really strong on the indie end."

KSG DISTRIBUTING, Layton, Utah

Reporting: Rick Vander Does

"The hot things for us are Vanilla Ice, M.C. Hammer and Bette Midler. AC/DC has just started to really kick in. Paul Simon, Madonna and Poison are also real strong for us. Janet Jackson and the New Kids' Step By Step have really jumped up again. We're also noticing increases in the Traveling Wilburys. We're doing some real good stuff with Guy. We're also starting to see Surface making some good moves. In country sales, it's both Garth Brooks albums and both Clint Black albums that are really dominating. We're showing a little bit with Reba McEntire. Michael Martin Murphy's Cowboy Songs is doing real well and the Chet Atkins/Mark Knopfler album is blowing out of here on CD. The New Age titles are doing real well for us. Mannheim Steamroller has three albums in our top ten. Yanni, The Narada Wilderness Collection and Michael Jones are doing great! Other indie stuff that's doing good is Ice Cube, N.W.A., Run DMC and Salt N' Pepa."

TOWER RECORDS, Berkeley, California

Reporting: Martha Lopez

"The new Paul Simon is doing amazing business! It's blowing out the door and has picked up Graceland with it. Madonna's Royal Box Set is doing really good. The Robert Johnson box set and the Cure's remix album are both doing fantastic business! The Simpsons caught me off guard, they have been very strong right out of the box. Peter Gabriel was also a strong break out, debuting #3 on our charts. R&B wise, Ralph Tresvant is our hottest album. Paris has also been real strong. The Texas Tornados has been a hot country seller for us. Our strongest indie right now is Run DMC."

NATIONAL RECORD MART, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Reporting: Dave Goist

"It's Bartmania here! The Simpsons debuted at #4 on our charts. We've been real impressed with the Led Zeppelin box. We new it was going to be big, but it's turned into a real steamroller! The New Kids remix album is doing well. Yanni has really taken off. We're expecting big things out of the C & C Music Factory. Their single is steadily climbing and should reach our top ten. Our top two are still Vanilla Ice and M.C. Hammer, and they're way out in front! Guy and Ralph Tresvant should stay solid for us for a long time. We're seeing good moves on Candyman, in fact we're having a hard time keeping it in stock. On the country side, it's a Garth Brooks Christmas! The Chet Atkins/Mark Knopfler is starting to pick up. As far as the indies, the new Ice Cube has started off pretty well."

HEAVY METAL

BY ALEX HENDERSON

A HEADBANGIN' 1990: There was a time when rock & roll was, generally speaking, the music of choice among young white Americans. But in recent years, that demographic has become less likely to listen to rock exclusively and is likely to turn its attention to pop, rap, dance music or R&B/pop as well. In 1990, more 17-year-old white youths are likely to check out N.W.A., Bell Biv DeVoe or Lisa Stansfield than a white youth who was 17 in 1977 was likely to pay equal attention to Parliament/Funkadelic and Led Zeppelin. Notice how much more integrated an Ice Cube or Public Enemy show is in 1990 than an L.T.D., O'Jays or New Birth show was in 1977. This doesn't mean that back then, there weren't fanatical soul fans who happened to be white—but it does illustrate that rock isn't as primary as it once was for white American youth.

Here's the interesting thing: in 1990, the rock artists who fared well on the pop charts tended to be metal or hard rock acts—including AC/DC, Warrant, Slaughter, Winger and Poison. Of course, Bruce Springsteen, David Bowie, U2 and John Cougar Mellencamp didn't come out with new albums this year. While metal/hard rock and rock in general may have lost some ground to pop, R&B and rap, headbanging is nonetheless alive and well...

The Constitution took a beating when a Nevada couple helped bring Judas Priest to trial, alleging that the band's music encouraged their son's suicide. While the jury ruled in The Priest's favor, it's insane that the case even went to court... Artistically, 1990 was a triumphant year for The Priest, whose Painkiller was a welcome return to sledgehammer metal after some flirting with more commercial hard rock. Headlining a tour with opening acts Testament and Megadeth, The Priest remained one of metal's most engaging live attractions... Similarly, Dio's Lock Up the Wolves was a welcome return to metal form after some excursions in popdom... The gutsy Rick Rubin, president of Def American Recordings, deserves applause for seeking originality and vision instead of signing the many generic Warrant and Poison clones plaguing the Sunset Strip. Slayer's Seasons In The Abyss turned out to be the Def American death-metalers' most successful offering as well as 1990's most captivating metal effort. Def American also fared well artistically with albums by Danzig, Trouble and The Black Crowes... Next to Seasons, 1990's strongest thrash efforts included Megadeth's Rust In Peace, Anthrax' Persistence Of Time, Testament's Souls Of Black, Death Angel's Act III, Suicidal Tendencies' Lights...Camera...Revolution, Annihilator's Never Neverland, Exodus' Impact Is Imminent, Jane's Addiction's Ritual De Lo Habitual, Flotsam & Jetsam's When The Storm Comes, Scatterbrain's Here Comes Trouble and Xentrix' For Whose Advantage. Numerous other thrash albums were released in 1990, many of which sounded one-dimensional... Jane's Addiction's Perry Ferrell gets the gas face—a straight-up diss for slapping fans in the face by discontinuing a show at Philly's Tower Theatre because of his displeasure with the venue. A melee occurred, resulting in 22 arrests and two injuries. Ferrell said that continuing the show would have been like "faking an orgasm"—an "orgasm" he would have faked were he a true professional and not given to childish, self-serving behavior... Bruce Dickinson took some flack for the title track of his debut solo album, Tattooed Millionaire, which dissed the type of Sunset Strip automatons that are all image and no substance. What's the matter, glamsters? Is the truth painful?...

A highly def and dope trend is the funk-metal movement, which has involved posers ranging from Living Colour to The Red Hot Chili Peppers to 24-7 Spyz to Faith No More. LC's second album, Time's Up was inspired by mainstream metal, thrash, punk, funk and rap, while The Electric Boys' Funk-O-Metal Carpet Ride blended metal, hard rock, funk and psychedelia. Other noteworthy albums on the funk-metal and funk-rock tips included 24-7 Spyz' Gumbo Millennium and Primus' Frizzle Fry, Psychefunkapus' Psychefunkapus and Heads Up!'s Soul Brother Crisis Intervention...

Kudos to Atlantic for its excellent four-CD Led Zeppelin boxed set... Robert Plant pleasantly surprised us with Manic Nirvana, his most rockin' solo album yet... Mother Love Bone showed a great deal of promise on its first full-length album, Apple. Tragically, lead vocalist Andy Wood wasn't around to see Apple's release—he died of a drug overdose several months before it came out... 1990 was a year in which Ozzy Osbourne, Guns 'N' Roses, Aerosmith, Skid Row, Metallica, Van Halen, David Lee Roth, Motley Crue, Faith No More and The Cult didn't release new albums... 1990 was a year of bands with outrageous names, including Cannibal Corpse, Enema Milkshake, Sarcastic Cadaver, Concrete Fetus, Entombed, Carcass, Hellbaster, Hellmonster, Hellwitch, Braindead, Napalm Death, Death, Corpsegrinder, White Zombie, Naked Raygun, Dayglo Abortions, Coroner, Autopsy, Obituary, Sadistic Intent, Sadus, Athiest, Ignorance, Bloodcum, Erotikill, Godflesh, Android, Heathen, Dark Angel (not to be confused with Death Angel or Morbid Angel), Forced Entry, Methadone Cocktail, Barracuda, Deicide, Rest In Pieces, Snailface, Puppets Of Mankind, Gorilla Biscuits and Liquid Jesus... Unsigned bands that showed promise include The Wanted, Steel Prophet, Savage Grace, Sedition, Confessor and Mesheen...

Other noteworthy albums of 1990 included AC/DC's The Razor's Edge, Sweet F.A.'s Stick To Ya Guns, Agony Column's Brave Words & Bloody Knuckles, King Diamond's he Eye, Queensryche's Empire, The Almighty's Blood, Fire & Love, Pigma Love Circus' self-titled live album, Lita Ford's Stiletto, Vixen's Rev It Up, Doro Pesch's Doro, Chastain's For Those Who Dare, Little Caesar's Little Caesar, Iron Maiden's No Prayer For The Dying, Toranaga's God's Gift and Vicious Rumors' Vicious Rumors...

RAP/DANCE

THE TOP STORY OF THE YEAR was undoubtedly the whole 2 Live Crew controversy. Far bigger and more important than the group itself, their ongoing trials and tribulations brought the issue of free speech and artistic expression to the forefront of the industry and country. The debate still rages with no real end in sight. Unfortunately, the Crew weren't quite up to handling the can of worms they opened and though their "Banned In the U.S.A." single addressed their situation, it did so clumsily and with little real insight. The rest of the album was basically more of what they're infamous for.

Public Enemy released a new album that, predictably, had some fans (and critics) screaming that they'd lost it, while others saw it as proof positive—if any were still needed—that Chuck D. and Co. are so far ahead of the pack that the nearest competition isn't even on the same plane. Controversial before its release, Fear of a Black Planet, didn't soothe anyone's fears, raised as many questions as it answered, and let no one off the hook.

Run-D.M.C. made their comeback album, the aptly titled Back From Hell, one that mattered. Though the consensus is that the rap genre has progressed in leaps and bounds since the trio's heyday, there was general agreement that Run-D.M.C. have bounced back from their creative slump. And if they're not breaking new ground, they are reclaiming lost turf.

L.L. Cool J. See above and adjust accordingly. N.W.A. and "the traitor" (their word, not mine,) Ice Cube, both released their first efforts since the two parted ways, and Cube's controversial Amerikkka's Most Wanted, a surprise commercial smash, emerged the victor in an undeclared contest.

Digital Underground brought hardcore '70s-style funk to rap, A Tribe Called Quest went off the jazzy end, and Jungle Brothers were somewhere in between and beyond, and all three were some of the brightest lights in 1990's rap roster.

The Beloved made a bit of a splash with their Happiness album, but nowhere near as big as it should have been. No one else, other than Deee-Lite made the whole "positivity" vibe so attractive and appealing. They deserve a huge audience.

Stevie V. promised much with the impossible seductive dance hit, "Dirty Cash," then delivered admirably on the CD, The Adventures of Stevie V. Ditto PolyGram labelmate, Cathy Dennis, who fronted D-Mob for their trip up the charts ("C'mon Get My Love" and "That's the Way of the World") then struck pay dirt with her debut single "Just Another Dream" and the album, Move To This.

Milli Vanilli crashed hard and burned fast, though just as quickly there sprang up some bizarre (and bizarrely appealing) defenses of the group(?). It would take an act of God, though, to bring these two back anywhere near their past glory.

RHYTHM & BLUES

DEPENDING ON HOW YOU SEE IT, r&b is either a) dead and hasn't yet realized it or b) going through a painful period of growth and expansion. The answer is probably b. As Freddie Jackson said when I spoke to him earlier this year, r&b is always going to be here, no matter what new trends come up and no matter where technology pushes or pulls it. One thing that is also clear is that, no matter what your taste in r&b, there was someone there to fulfill your needs.

On the more traditional side, Regina Belle, Brenda Russell, Oleta Adams, Whitney Houston, Dianne Reeves, Anita Baker, Mariah Carey, Freddie Jackson, the Gap Band, and more, offered CDs that went down smoothly and where either brilliant voices or sharp lyrics (occasionally but all too rarely, both) took center stage.

On the other hand, Bell Bive Devoe personified the new school. Their hip hop inflected r&b was used to cradle attitude, lyrics that could drive a feminist insane, and voices that were technically very weak, but brimming with style and assurance.

Johnny Gill and Ralph Tresvant, two more members of New Edition spreading their wings, also released albums heavy on the production and the attitude, and while Tresvant's is a solid package, Gill's is less than the young man is actually capable of. One of the few young talents with the potential to fill the void left by greats like Otis Redding, Gill's recorded output this year was a matter of a major talent selling itself short for consumer palatability. But such is the game.

Freddie Jackson put on his dancing shoes this year, but didn't forget that fans want him to spin out those silky ballads. He hit the top of the charts with a slightly amended formula.

COCINANDO

BY TONY SABOURNIN

YEAR-END MEMORIES CHOKE ME UP SO LET'S SKIP OVER THEM.

Still, 1990 has been a banner financial year; thus 1991 merits some speculative label forecasts, with the following caveats: 1.) This is the first of two parts. Wait to read both parts, as the message is in the overall content, rather than in a given sentence or paragraph. 2.) The list below is not in any type of order. Everyone knows who is #1. Draw your own conclusions as to the remaining positions.

Recent confidential research of key area distributors places CBS Discos as the market leader, with estimated sales of $5 million this December alone. Although no one at the label will certify this number with a seal, anyone will gladly confirm that each quarter this year has been a record-setting one. The sales horses have unquestionably been there all year long: Kaoma, Ana Gabriel, Gloria Estefan, Azúcar Moreno, Luis Enrique (with Mi Mundo and the Eddie Santiago compilation), La Mafia and Gilberto Santarrosa.

In 1991 I expect Sony Discos to take fuller advantage of its parent label's distribution system to make deeper inroads into Anglo chains, a channel closer to mall-buyers than barrio aficionados. This strategy causes one to deduce various trends. One is that, to match Hispanics' assimilation into suburbia, the label will make an effort—in those cases where the artist's linguistic fluidity makes it pleasant and possible—to bi-lingualize as many productions as possible in 1991. The downside? Hispanic distributors, who until now have virtually had the Anglo chains all to themselves, will be muuy pee-ed off at the enormous loss of income. Still, because of the artistic and promotional magnitude of Sony (gee I'm really getting used to the change), they'll be forced to buy its products anyway.

We won't even entertain further thoughts on the monopolizing results of the alliance with Ralph Mercado's RMM Records and his almighty venue control in New York, since it's almost an accepted fact. Sony Discos' pressure in the Tejano market will probably be even stronger in 1991. Business instincts tell me that by the time these lines are read, CBS/Sony Discos would have flooded the onda circuit with the choicest Personal Best compilations from Cara Records' roster, a move that could bring Capitol/EMI-Latin's potential market losses to the neighborhood of medio million, thus far.

Don't be surprised either if, sensitive to the feedback received from its recent release avalanche, Sony Discos redoubles its promotional staff in key markets, with staffers specifically assigned to certain artists, to the extent of creating a separate and complementary infrastructure. Don't expect the label to be A&R-shy either. They are planning to get bigger by leaps and bounds. We know of at least three contract discussions with tropical stars (two on Discos, one on International) waiting for the new year's outbreak to set signatures onto contracts. Ay, Mamá!

The core of Fonovisa's control of the Western areas—Los Bukis, Los Tigres del Norte and Bronco—by themselves sell more than many other labels' entire annual rosters. Wisely guided by Guillermo Santizo, l' tré grisé of all eminence grisés, the company has widely augmented its financial base via a quiet diversification program in the booking and publishing areas, continuously sustained by its relation with Mexican media giant Fonovisa and the revolving migration pattern between Mexico and California and Texas.

However, this demographic and corporate adherence, according to the general consensus, has prevented the label's growth in the Northeast and Puerto Rico, in spite of its above-average presence in Miami and larger commitment to the continuously dwindling rock en español trend. Since Fonovisa has obviously been successful with this formula for the longest time, and has shown no interest in improving it, the safe bet here is on status quo for 1991. But since the fall of the Berlin Wall nothing's safe.

WEA Latina, on the other hand, is the prototype for efficient Japanese-style management, for never have so few sold so many units so soon. They are very precise, very deliberate, and simply don't make mistakes. A few artists, promoted consistently and persistently. This strategy brought about solid ripples, profitable productions, like Chantelle and Suzy González' debut releases which, more important for the label's future, left a good taste on the distributors' lips.

Then of course, there's Luis Miguel, with arguably the most arrogantly talented young lips in the business, who can sing "Mary Had a Little Lamb" in Swahili and make it both interesting and saleable. My personal hope is that L.M. has been a good boy in 1990 so Santa brings him what he desperately needs: a good manager that a.) keeps him close, warm and tender with the U.S. Spanish media, with whom he had negative encounters throughout his recent tour; and b.) kicks his ass in the We(a)stern direction toward English bilingual pop, so the kid can perhaps become labelmate Madonna's next video bedding partner. If this happens, I'll bet my condo Luis M. will be the one to finally vaporize The Immaculate One's halo.

Look for WEA Latina to strike a symbiotic marketing deal with an onda tejana entity, to lay the marketing mattress for recent signings Patsy Torres and Inocencia, and to continue its involvement in the tropical market, without discounting the strong possibility that they could dip into their U.S.-leading corporate pockets for the correct (and I repeat myself, correct) artist acquisition. It probably wouldn't hurt if they made a little noise about themselves too. They've earned it.

Thoughts on Sonotone and M.P.I.; TH/Rodven and Capitol/EMI-Latin; and Karen, Kubaney and Combo will be reserved for my return from Christmas vacation in our Jan. 19 issue.

Till Then, Live Happily, Safely and Prosperously!

1990: Breaking In, Going To The Top & Making Headlines

BY KIMMY WIX

AS 1990 CONCLUDES ITS COURSE, our thoughts begin to reflect on the many changes, events and headlining announcements which have occurred throughout the year. Once again, Country Music has witnessed another year of "breaking the record" when it comes to breaking an artist, and 1990's flood of new talent, including countless hat-acts, some future country queens and several country new-wavers, perhaps sparks the meatiest news of the year. Although many of the new-on-the-scene faces have been paying their dues for quite a while, it was the year 1990 that saw them soar. A vast number of new artists broke onto the chart, reaching as high as the top 50 slot, while others managed to rocket all the way to the top.

The 1990 New Face line-up, all of whom have garnered Top-50 status, includes such artists as Doug Stone, Mark Collie, Mac McAnally, Prairie Oyster, Alan Jackson, Michelle Wright, Joe Barnhill, Trader Price, Scott McQuaig, Kelly Willis, Tim Mensey, Matraca Berg, Shelby Lynne, Carlene Carter, Lee Roy Parnell, Tim Ryan, Mark Chesnutt, McBride & The Ride, Pirates Of The Mississippi, Mike Reid, Aaron Tippin, Pam Tillis, Ray Kennedy, Joe Diffie, Clinton Gregory, John Andrew Park, Rob Crosby and Kevin Welch, just to mention a few. And the list goes on as we prepare to roll into 1991.

BATTLE FOR THE GOLD: Just as many new voices have been revealed, so have many new albums been released, and the past year has certainly experienced a battle for the top sales slot. Although many artists, including those new ones, who have taken home the gold and even platinum for garnering commanding retail figures, a grand total of only nine have succeeded in holding the number one position of Cash Box's Top 75 LP Chart. Those #1 top sellers include Clint Black, Reba McEntire, the Kentucky HeadHunters, Randy Travis, Ricky Van Shelton, Hank Williams Jr., George Strait, Vince Gill and Garth Brooks.

REMEMBER WHEN...The Country Radio Seminar 21 provided us with a Road Map For The 90's. RCA Records announced its expansion plans, which included (NEMO), the Nashville Entertainment & Music Operations organization. The Nashville Network purchased Country Music Television (CMT). The Highwaymen, which consists of Waylon, Willie, Johnny & Kris, kicked off their highly-acclaimed 90 Tour. Lawrence Productions opened its doors to Nashville and introduced DPI Records and two publishing companies. 16th Avenue Records announced plans to immediately close its doors. TNN produced and aired the

All-Star Salute To Country Music, which honored the the vast accomplishments of Ralph Emery. Alabama was presented with the first Radio Seminar Humanitarian Award. Inside Country Music, the first video magazine devoted exclusively to country music, was released. George Strait took home the Entertainer of the Year honors from both the 25th Annual Academy Of Country Music Awards and the 1990 Country Music Assn. Awards. Ricky Van Shelton garnered the Entertainer of the Year Award from the TNN/Music City News Awards. Minnie Pearl celebrated 50 years with the Grand Ole Opry. Conway Twitty celebrated 25 years in country music. The Country Music Assn.'s 19th International Country Music Fan Fair registered more than 24,000 people. CBS Records/Nashville revealed plans to expand and operate under a dual-label promotion and A&R structure. Capitol Records unloaded an enormous number of artists from its roster. Patty Loveless announced her secret-kept marriage to producer Emory Gordy Jr. after being married for almost two years. Naomi Judd announced her retirement plans due to an illness, while Wynona Judd announced her plans to go solo. Paulette Carson of Highway 101 also confirmed that she too would soon take on a solo career. The J.D. Hinton Band won the Marlboro Music National Talent Roundup. Tennessee Ernie Ford was inducted into the Country Music Hall Of Fame. The Nashville music industry banded together to boost the morale of the American soldiers in the Middle East through Operation Desert Song. Country On The Court was the result of a star-studded line-up of country artists teaming together to play basketball for charity. Various country greats joined voices to create some phenomenal vocal-event singles, including Vince Gill & Reba McEntire, Kenny Rogers & Holly Dunn, Southern Pacific & Carlene Carter, the Forester Sisters & the Bellamy Brothers, Tanya Tucker & T. Graham Brown, Keith Whitley & Lorrie Morgan, Kathy Mattea & Tim O'Brien, Chet Atkins & Mark Knopfler, Kenny Rogers & Dolly Parton, and Randy Travis & George Jones. Former MCA artists The Bellamy Brothers signed an agreement with Atlantic Records. Black Tie's "Learning The Game" release rocketed up the country charts and has thus far been tagged the highest charted independent single of the year. The Statler Brothers signed an agreement with TNN to host a new variety series. 30,000 Japanese country music fans gathered for the 2nd annual "Country Gold" concert festival in Kumamoto, Japan. Remember?

If you had three Hall of Fame artists, Johnny Cash, George Jones and Tom T. Hall along with Tommy Cash singing together on one song, and if that song was written by a major songwriter, Tom T. Hall, and if that song was a great positive topical song, and if that song was also the music contained in a great music video, wouldn't you want to program it? You bet you would.

THE SONG: THOUGHTS ON THE FLAG

THE RECORD: THE TOMMY CASH 25TH ANNIVERSARY ALBUM

A hit album with great music and four country legends singing together with Connie Smith.

A PERSONAL MESSAGE FROM...

CHRIS LeDOUX

AL LeDOUX

ACS, Inc.

We would like to express our sincere appreciation to Mr. George Albert, his CASH BOX staff and Chuck Dixon for their interest in and support of the 'Western' country music of Chris LeDoux.

We would also like to add thanks to radio and television programmers who have taken the time to review our singles and video and for airing this INDIE artist.

Also many thanks to our dealers and distributors who have stocked and sold our albums and paid us ON TIME.

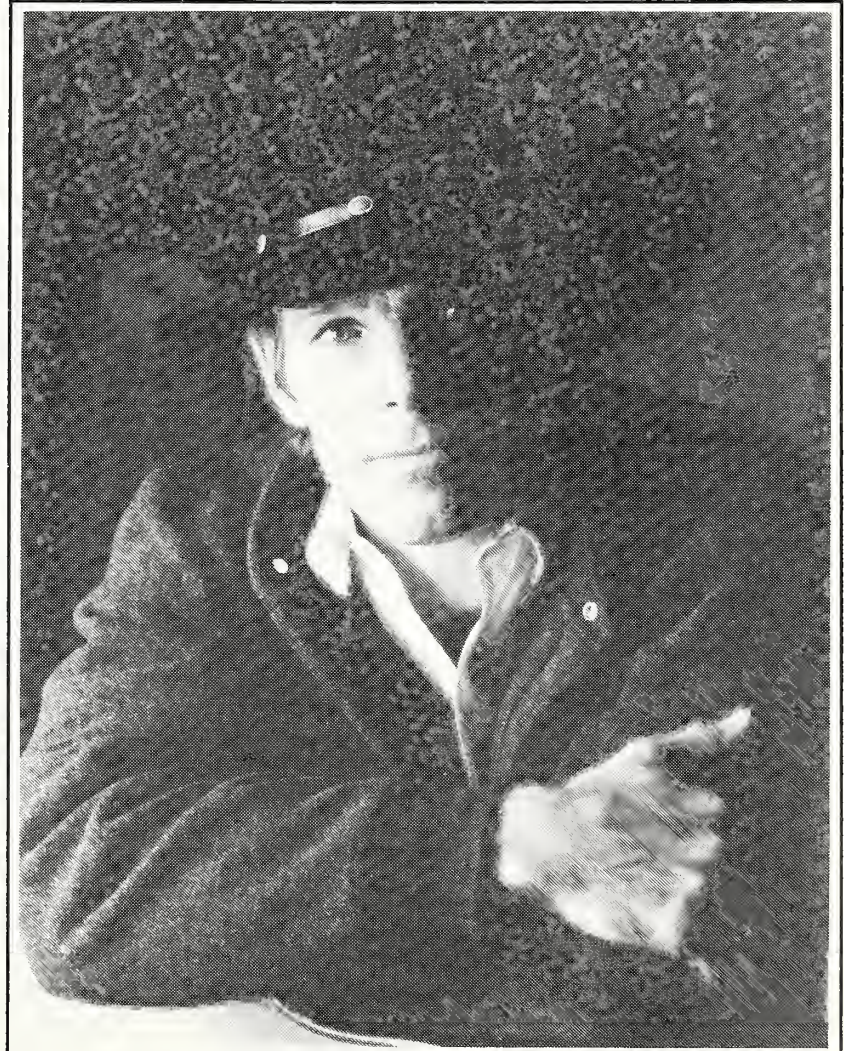

Who says an INDIE artist and company cannot be successful? Put out a quality product and get the help of all the above -- including companies like ARISTO, INDIE BULLET, and GARY BRADSHAW -- and success will follow.

A tip of the hat to all of you!

Freddy Fender, Doug Sahn, Augie Meyers and Flaco Jimenez are all enjoying a second debut as the Texas Tornados. The group appeared along with Alan Jackson and Larry Gatlin & The Gatlin Brothers at KIKK Radio's 9th Annual Free Fall Concert on October 13th in Houston's Hermann Park. Houston Park Police estimated that 28,000 KIKKers came out to enjoy the Tornado's "conjunto" music. Pictured from (l-r) are: Augie Meyers, KIKK's Joe Ladd, Freddy Fender, Flaco Jimenez and Doug Sahn.

INDIE INSIGHT

During the recent International Assn. of Fair Managers Convention held in Las Vegas, Nevada, country great Mickey Gilley took a moment to greet and pose with recording artists Jody Miller and Robin Brooks, who are currently performing at the Desert Inn throughout the month of December. Pictured from (l-r) are: Al Embry, agent; Gilley; Miller; Brooks; and Nashville talent agent Billy Deaton.

INDIE SINGLE REVIEW

□ RONNIE RUSSELL: "Since I Lost You" (Killer K-134AA)

Producer: Tommy Dee

Writers: J.L. Crabb/S. McElwain

As Russell's gravelly tenor vocals latch on to the emotions of a heartbroken soul, the remainder of the ~"Since I Lost You" single takes control—causing the listener to compare his own personal heartaches to those which are revealed in such lyrics of melancholy. Although "Since I Lost You" ultimately produces a bleak reflection of love, elements of hope and inspiration also shine through as Russell delivers a commanding performance built with earnest talent, heart-hooking vocals and complete sincerity. A sensual melody and keen production also join hand-in-hand to provide a sure audience pleaser.

□ REDNECK THE BAND: "Caring Less And Less About More And More" (Zamgonz ZLG-1017)

OUT OF THE BOX

□ MATRACA BERG: "I Got It Bad" (RCA 2710-7-RAA)

Producers: Wendy Waldman/Josh Leo

Writers: Matraca Berg/Jim Photoglo

When opening a 12-dozen carton of eggs and one of the eggs is brown, which egg would perhaps receive the most attention? Exactly! Berg is simply one of those few artists whose writing, vocals and genuine personality are totally different, and such qualities, in addition to some top-notch singles, have brought her into the country scene by storm. "I Got It Bad" sparks one of the most unusual cuts from Berg's Lying To The Moon LP. The lyrics are quite simple—revealing how love can often get the best of us, but as they ride along Berg's haunting vocals and this cut's fun-n-lazy tempo, "I Got It Bad" comes off sounding like one in a million. Production that sparkles and slick instrumentation on this number line up perfectly with Berg's free-spirited delivery—turning "I Got It Bad" into one good egg.

FEATURE PICKS

□ HANK WILLIAMS, JR.: "I Mean I Love You" (Warner Bros./Curb CD4606)

Producers: Barry Beckett/Hank Williams, Jr./Jim Ed Norman

Writer: Hank Williams, Jr.

This former Entertainer of the Year continues to entertain and it's cuts like this which earn him such praise. "I Mean I Love You," which comes from Hank's Lone Wolf project, whips out some mushy lyrics, fancy piano work and a firecracker voice, joined together to create a great two-stepper.

□ BAILLIE & THE BOYS: "Treat Me Like A Stranger" (RCA 2720-7-RAA)

Producer: Kyle Lehning

Writers: Michael Bonagura/Peter McCann

This lady's vocals drift out like chimes, and that alone is enough to keep listeners tuned into the rest of the song, but from beginning to end, "Treat Me Like A Stranger" proves to be more than worth the listen. This soft-touch ballad about love's first-stage emotions and adventures flaunts heart-felt lyrics, some pretty piano licks and will most likely be a number that will gradually grow on us as radio discovers a bit more depth with its every play.

YO, RADIO...Thanks for a great year!!!

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

COMING UP:

PATTY LOVELESS AND MASON DIXON HEADLINE BENEFIT CONCERT:

The Justin Boot Company recently announced plans for its inaugural Stock Show Gala to be held in Fort Worth, Texas. The entertainment-packed evening will include an all-star musical performance featuring country western stars Patty Loveless and Mason Dixon. The gala evening, which will coincide with the opening of the 95th Fort Worth Stock Show Rodeo on January 18th, will raise money for the Justin Cowboy Crisis Fund. The Cowboy Crisis Fund, which was established in 1989, lends a financial hand to rodeo performers who are seriously injured while competing, and to the surviving spouse and children of those who are killed in the arena. In addition to 170 patron tickets for sale, 3,000 tickets are available for general admission to the event.

HANGIN' GOLD RECORDS
P.O. BOX 1684 • HENDERSONVILLE, TN 37077

(Dear readers, publishers and everyone who has been so supportive through the year: Merry Christmas, Happy Hannakah and Happy New Year...to be continued in '91...)

CDs continued their upward surge, and DATs remained primarily the stuff of Christmas future. Boxed sets were increasingly pressed up, as labels realized by the cartonload that consumers would willingly shell out big bucks for fancy, seemingly definitive collections of their fave raves. Bo Diddley, the Bee Gees, Led Zeppelin, Jelly Roll Morton, Robert Johnson (the success story of the year in the reissue department), Elton John, Eric Clapton (boxed set II), the Byrds, Roy Orbison, Sidney Bechet, Frank Sinatra...the list seemed endless, the stacks of boxes reaching to the ceiling.

Not reaching to the ceiling, but quickly overstuffing landfills, were CD longboxes. What to do? How to package the CD so that stores could safely and attractively display them but buyers didn't have a hunk of cardboard to dispose of as soon as they got home? Ban the Box became a crusade, with artists like Peter Gabriel and Raffi nixing the cardboard for their releases. A&M says that the new Sting album, due next month, will try out a piece of cardboard that actually folds down into its own container. It's a noble cause and the tip of an ages old battle: the needs of the retailers vs. the needs of the manufacturers. Stay tuned.

Causes? AIDS led the list, and not a moment too soon. Saving the rainforests and animals were in there too, and fighting censorship, real or imagined, got some worthy backs up. Losses? Sarah Vaughan, Leonard Bernstein, Dexter Gordon, Pearl Bailey, Sammy Davis Jr., Aaron Copland and Art Blakey, to name a few. No great loss? Milli Vanilli. (Although one suspects that the lip-synching issue will continue to haunt us. Some critics, on their high horse, say, "Hey, it's okay if acts lip-synch, as long as it doesn't hurt the entertainment value of the performance." Others, on perhaps higher horses say, "Lip-synchers?!? Banish the bastards!!!" We say, Why doesn't somebody ask the kids what they think. And as for NARAS' taking the New Artist Grammy from Milli Vanilli: Does that mean the Simpsons won't be eligible for the prize next year?)

Paul Simon, on the Rhythm of the Saints, wrote something to the effect that while the music suffers, the music business thrives. We leave you with that: sufferers, thrivers, samplers, lip-synchers, moguls, staffers and fans. And anybody we somehow neglected.

YEAR END BITS AND PIECES: David Bowie and EMI Records USA have ended their seven-year relationship. "Amicably," we're told... Rick Dees, he of Rick Dees Weekly Top 40, and Wally Clark, he who executive produces it, have gotten together to form CD Media, which will sell and market the show after the first of the year, when its deal with Unistar Radio Network runs out... CBS Fox Video will release five titles in a new "Hall of Fame Collection" series, spotlighting artists who are members of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame: Jerry Lee Lewis Live in London, Bob Dylan: Hard to Handle, Simon & Garfunkel: The Concert in Central Park, Paul McCartney's Give My Regards to Broad Street and Mick Jagger in Running Out of Luck. All will list for $19.98 and will be available on Jan. 17, the day after this year's Hall of Fame induction ceremonies... Whitney Houston will warble the national anthem at the Super Bowl, Jan. 27 in Tampa.

1990 IN REVIEW

(A synopsis of happenings in the coin-op industry as reported in Cash Box over the past 12 months).

JANUARY: Paul R. Scribner is appointed national sales manager of the Jukebox Division at Pioneer Laser Entertainment...Data East offers guarantee on solid state flipper coils which eliminates the possibility of flipper coin burnout for at least one year...Arachnid, Inc. became a member of the AMOA/Dart Assn., joining Merit and Valley as the three manufacturer sponsors of AMOA/NDA...Atari releases Four Trax, its deluxe new off-road simulation game; along with its Badlands universal driving kit...Shadow Dancer is the newly intro'd kit from Sega...Eight winners received fully stocked, classic-design jukeboxes from Miller High Life and AMOA as the grand prizes awarded in a radio contest which was held in conjunction with the 100th anniversary celebration of the jukebox...Among other new products introduced this month were Bally's Tri-Sports which incorporates three video sports games into one cabinet; Williams' Bad Cats pinball machine; Atari's Skull & Crossbones kit; and two new kits from Capcom, namely, Final Fight and Buster Bros.

FEBRUARY: Taito America Corp. settled into its spacious new facilities at 390 Holbrook Drive in Wheeling, IL...Mondial International Corp. organized a new distributing company, Mondial Distributing, Inc., which will take over Mondial International's distribution operations in Springfield, New Jersey, with Anthony P. Yula, Sr., remaining in charge as senior vicepee and Anthony J. Yula, as executive vicepee...Klaxx, which is based on an abstract puzzle theme, was recently intro'd by Atari...Konami's Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, after providing a much needed shot in the arm in the marketplace, is as strong as ever, and will remain in production for as long as the demand continues...An AMOA Pinball Promotion Committee has been formed to coincide with the celebration, in 1990, of the pinball's 60th anniversary...With regard to the parallel issue (specifically the Red Baron versus Taito case) the Supreme Court has decided not to hear the case, meaning the decision of the 4th Circuit Court, stating that it is legal to buy and sell parallel printed circuit boards, but illegal to "publicly perform" them, still stands...Bob Lentz joins Midway Manufacturing Company as sales manager for the Bally pinball and Bally/Midway video product lines...AMOA's second annual "Play Your Heart Out" jukebox promo gets underway...Jaleco moves into modern, more spacious new facilities in Northbrook, Illinois...Ameri Corporation, one of the industry's newest manufacturing firms, releases its first product, Ameri-Darts...Ben Rochetti departed his post as veepee of production at Taito America to pursue other interests...Pioneer hosted a series of regional meetings for the purpose of setting up a U.S. distrib network for the marketing of its CD and video jukeboxes...James E. Griffiths is promoted to vice president of international operations at Valley...Among other new products intro'd this month are SNK's Search and Rescue video upright and Williams's Whirlwind pin.

MARCH: A new subscription service called Record Source International has been formed for the purpose of providing jukebox ops with much needed 45 vinyl records...Interest in redemption machines continues to mount...ACME '90 gets underway in Chicago's Hyatt Regency...Cleveland Coin announces plans to open a branch in Indianapolis...American Vending Sales has been appointed a distributor of Williams' pin/video products in Illinois...The trade mourns the death of industry patriarch Jack Gordon...What with ACME '90 and all, a number of new pieces made their debut this month, including Bally's Game Show pin, Konami's Aliens video, Data East's Phantom Of The Opera pin, Gottlieb's Silver Slugger pin, SNK's NEO-GEO system, GrandProduct's Slick Shot, Taito's Battle Shark, Bally Midway's Trog, Bromley's Little Pro Golfer, FABTEK's Sports March and Raiden kits, Sega's G-Loc, to name a few...Bernie Powers joins Merit as director of marketing...Total attendance at ACME '90 was 5,257 (up from '89) and, likewise, the number of exhibiting firms as well as the amount of exhibit space reflected significant increases. Event scored good grades in the trade.

APRIL: Atlas Dist. of Chicago is in the process of opening up a branch office in Indianapolis...A jukebox licensing agreement has been reached and the fee structure is: $275 per year for the first machine; dropping to $55 each for two to ten machines; and $48 each for eleven or more machines...Cadash and WGP were recently intro'd by Taito...Carson City Mfg., known for its unique design in jukeboxes, intro's its latest model called Juke

Jock, which looks like a huge tennis shoe...Laura Rezek departed her post as marketing manager at Midway to join Bally Gaming in Las Vegas as manager of marketing communications...Mondial's Tony Yula, Sr. is chosen "man of the year" by the Northeast Amusement Industry group of state organizations...Betson intro's new Skee-Toss redemption machine for the kiddie players.

MAY: Joe Dillon departed his post as president of Taito America Corp...Galaxy Force, which portrays a simulated spaceship flight, is released by Sega, along with M.V.P....Seeburg, which has been experiencing some tight cash flow problems, is negotiating with a number of investors in the hope of infusing capital into the company...Williams intro's Smash T.V....Bloxxed is the new conversion kit from Sega...AMOA hosts another highly successful Government Affairs Conference in our nation's capitol; with AAMA co-sponsoring and providing very significant membership back-up...Beautiful Hawaii was the setting for Atari's national distribs meeting where such new products as the Thunder Jaws kit, the Gumball Rallye redemption game and the Hydra video game were unveiled.

JUNE: Trade mourns the death of coinbiz luminary Marvin Roth, who suffered a fatal heart attack at the age of 64...Konami intro's its new Lightning Fighters kit...The Florida Amusement Vending Assn.'s annual state convention in Orlando attracted over 750 attendees and featured a layout of 94 exhibits...Star Tech Journal launched a regional seminar program designed for advancing coin-op technicians...Rollergames is a new pin released by Williams...C.A. Robinson & Co. scheduled two major product presentations at their Los Angeles and San Francisco facilities...Bally's new Pool Sharks pin hits the market...AAMA honors Jon Brady (Brady Distg.) with its first President's Award for achievement; and Steve Koenigsberg (State Sales & Service) with its Joe Robbins Awards, likewise, for his numerous contributions and service...AMOA and the performing rights societies agreed to allow jukebox ops an additional two months to comply with the new licensing procedures...Taito-Japan exec Minoru Suzuki is named president of Taito America Corp., succeeding Joe Dillon who recently departed the company...AMOA, in cooperation with its Pinball Promotion Committee, announced plans for the formation of the International Pinball Flipper Assn., which would be patterned after its National Dart Assn...Coinbiz vet Ben Rochetti has formed his own company, Double Play, Inc., which will concentrate on the design, manufacture and sale of coin-op products. JULY: The Illinois Coin Machine Operators Assn. hosted its most productive, most well attended state convention to date (6/15-17), during which a Truth In Amusement Committee was officially established...Columns is the new one or two player video game from Sega...Taito America intro's three new games at its distribs meeting in Chicago; namely, Top Landing, Thunderfox and American Horse-shoes...Premier intro'd its new Vegas pin...Illinois op Ray Shroyer hosts a big pin/dart tournament in Streator, IL...Data East Pinball releases its Back to the Future pin, complete with a fullscale promo back-up...Leland intro's World Soccer Finals...Joe Dillon rejoins Williams as vice president-sales for the Williams/Bally Midway product line...Atari Games Corp. has repurchased its stock from Namco America, Inc...Sega will be introducing its new Moonwalker video game, designed by superstar Michael Jackson (who plays a major role in the entire game theme), at its upcoming distribs gathering in Napa Valley, California.

AUGUST: Sharon Harris is named president of the newly formed International Flipper Pinball Assn...Pigskin 612 A.D. video is released by Midway...Pioneer Laser Entertainment relocated their offices to Long Beach, California...AMOA's Jukebox Promotion Committee met in Chicago to discuss several planned projects...Two new pins hit the market, namely, Bally's Radical and Williams' Diner...WMS Industries completed the refurbishing of its entire Chicago factory, where Midway and Williams products are manufactured...Atlas Distg., Inc. has moved its Chicago facilities into a larger, more modern building...Vet operator Hoke G. Seymour of Sarasota, Florida passed away at the age of 84...Betson's Skee-Toss redemption game and Leland's Pig Out video are among new releases hitting the market...More than 75 distribs from around the world were on hand at Warner Communications headquarters in New York to view two new Atari pieces—Race Drivin' and Pit Fighter...Pinball Expo '90 is slated for Nov. 9-10 in Chicago...Bonanza Bros. video is intro'd by Sega.

SEPTEMBER: Sega sets fall delivery date for Michael Jackson's Moonwalker...Air Inferno is released by Taito...Jennifer B. Mullin has been appointed marketing assistant for the coin-op division at SNK Corp. of America...Punk Shot is the new 4-player dedicated upright (and kit) from Konami...A new trade show, the National Amusement & Vending Expo (NAVE) is scheduled to debut in Louisville next year...Video gaming in Illinois is the subject of two regional meetings sponsored by the Illinois Coin Machine Operators Association's Truth In Amusement Committee...AMOA-NY campaigns to save cigarette vending machines in New York City where a threatened ban is pending...Premier intro's Gottlieb's Deadly Weapon pin...Coinbiz vet Marty Glazman has joined Kaneko of Japan as president of the newly established Kaneko U.S.A., Ltd. subsidiary...Taito America's marketing chief Natalie Kulig and her husband, Gene, welcome their first child, Zachary Alexander, who was born Sept. 1.

OCTOBER: Rowe unveiled its new LaserStar CD 100A and CD-51 (compact) jukeboxes during its annual distrib meeting in Palm Springs...Robert Stewart has been promoted to director of manufacturing at Atari Games...Williams intro'd its new Riverboat Gambler pin...Adonna Jerman was promoted to executive director at ICMOA, the Illinois state association...Coinbiz vet and former Atlas staffer Mac Brier announced his retirement after 44 years in the business...Among new products scheduled for upcoming release are: Midway's Dr. Dude and His Excellent Ray pin; Leland's Ataxx strategy game and Grand Product's Dyno Bop redemption game...Coinbiz vet Steve Blattspieler has joined Irem in the newly created position of vice president of sales...SNK's NEO-GEO system has developed into one of the hottest items of the year...AMOA Expo '90 is held in New Orleans, where American Laser Games' Mad Dog McCree and Data East Pinball's Simpsons practically stole the show. Attendance was over 7,000 and the increased exhibit space displayed a full array of equipment.

NOVEMBER: This is the time for post-AMOA Expo distrib showings and they are being held in growing numbers across the country...Eddie Gensburg, one of the industry's pioneer distributors, died at the age of 81...Cisco Heat is the new video driving game from Jaleco...Williams intro'd its Hit The Ice hockey video game...Alvin Gottlieb has formed a new company called A. Gottlieb & Co., which will concentrate on product design...Rock-Ola intro's its new Mirage compact disc jukebox...Mondial Distg. Inc. has acquired Active Amusement Distributors, Inc. of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh...Loewen America is currently marketing the new NSM HyperBeam CD jukebox line, which consists of the Silver Sky, Silver City, Fire Bird and Fire Country models...Brute Force is the new video game from Leland.

DECEMBER: The trade mourns the death of coinbiz vet Ben Rochetti who suffered a fatal heart attack at the age of 57...Valley Recreation's Emil Marcet announced his retirement after 23 years with the company...Jim Chapman, formerly of Taito America, has joined Sega as a regional sales manager...The Jukebox License Fees have been reduced by $3 for next year...New York ops score a major victory when the county legislature approves a local law allowing cigarette vending machines in locations where minors are restricted...Just before Congress adjourned, a new court ruling allowing parallels was approved, much to the delight of the nation's operators...The ACME '91 trade convention has been moved from Bally's Hotel to the Sands Expo & Convention Center in Las Vegas...Looking back over the past 12 months, I would prefer to concentrate on the positive factors that emerged rather than the attitude of negativism that seemed to prevail, particularly on the operator and distributor levels. Granted, there is a need for some new ideas and product themes to brighten the market climate and generate enthusiasm among players. But on the other hand you've had such terrific earners as Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles and Simpsons to at least create a spark; and there were a few interesting pieces that came out of AMOA Expo '90. Redemption equipment has been doing much to fill the void for a lot of operators. And how about those marvelous CD jukeboxes and those consistent earners, the pool table and the dart game. The past 12 months saw a tremendous emphasis on the legalization of video gaming machines. Whether this could be a plus or a minus for the industry remains to be determined. Sure, it would be a dream come true to have nothing but hits out there—and the key word is dream—but we must face reality by doing the best we can with what we have at hand and never for a moment losing hope that better things will come. Happy New Year everyone—and here's to a prosperous 1991!

Coinbiz '90: That's A Wrap

BY Doc English

OKAY, WHO STOLE 1990? It was here just a minute ago. If you had to paint a portrait of the coin machine business in 1990, what color would you use? Black, gray, perhaps a silver lining? Granted, it was not the best of times, but it was not the worst of times. It certainly was not the age of video.

Video, video, where art thou, video? Reeling from a barrage of curses and criticism, no doubt. The unceasing litany—exorbitant prices, threadbare themes, nothing new under the sun. The same old, same old. Haven't we become redundant on this subject? In '90, we rode the coattails of Turtles, while Atari Pit Fighter and SNK NEO-GEO took up some of the slack in the second half. Race Drivin' was probably the year's best arcade piece. Atari still knows how to make a top notch driver. Capcom's Final Fight and Magic Sword were arguably the two leadomg kits, but kits as a whole were a disappointment. No longer the bargains they once were, operators are reluctant to buy heavily or unless they become closeouts. No new technology appeared to rescue video or raise it to a new plateau. Maybe Mad Dog McCree and F15 Strike Eagle will make 1991 reviews.

While video faltered, pinball surged. The year belonged to Data East—three pinballs, three winners. Phantom of the Opera, Back to the Future and The Simpsons. Williams/Bally will have to try harder and both Fun House and Bugs Bunny... (in January) may be an answer. Premier will have to try even harder to win the operator's acceptance. For those of you who dabble in the refurbished, used pins were even more popular than new. No one can be sure if the renewed interest is primarily a consequence of the lack of interest in video, but it's a thought.

Darts and pool tables! Valley, Dynamo, Arachnid, Merit; names to conjure with in '90. 'Twas a very good year. The market expanded. Pool and darts were not relegated to shot and beer joints, but were now considered chic, upscale. Every large scale entertainment center had to have pool tables. Pool clubs opened where male and female young, upwardly mobile professionals could rub elbows and various other parts. Darts continued to be the darling of league play. Manufacturers, distributors and operators had to pinch themselves to make sure that these bread and butter, meat and potatoes markets were real and not a dream. As one operator succinctly stated, "Darts and pool? That's the only thing on my route making money." As a postscript, keep your eye on air hockey. The comeback has begun.

Speaking of expanding markets, and we were, redemption took one king size step forward. Not only did people already operating redemption add to their lineup, but more importantly many operators revamped their thinking, their routes, their arcades, and tasted redemption for the first time. Factories that had never produced a redemption game hopped aboard the bandwagon, albeit some fell right off. Stand-outs were Betson Klondike, Bromley Rock 'N Bowl, Coastal Pop-A-Ball, Partec Bozo's Grand Prize; and still around Skee-ball, Boomball and Basketball.

Gray area games, namely poker, captured most of the headlines, and political battles for legalization begun in '90 will spill into '91. Whether passage will help or ultimately hurt the industry is unclear, but it will certainly change its face. Some manufacturers fear that legitimate poker parlors will slice into their sales, that Jacks or Better will shove them into a corner.

Probably the most significant development of 1990 was the proliferation of compact disc phonographs. In '89, Rowe had the territory pretty much to itself, but a year later it is just one of many quality machines—Rock-Ola, NSM, Wurlitzer, Seeburg (still hanging in there), and the new kid on the block, Pioneer. Maybe next year Mirage, Fire, Firebird and One More Time will be household names.

For a moment, we are waxing philosophic; much easier than waxing old Chevys. Attention all you doomsayers and gloom-sayers, you know what the saddest part of '90 was? Not the plight of video, not the high cost of equipment, not the few dollars less in the collection box. The saddest thing was the friends, relatives and colleagues we have lost. Never seem to know for whom the bell tolls. So if you've got your health and make a decent living, what are you complaining about? Enjoy your life more than somewhat, and have a healthy, happy new year.
