LUTHER INGRAM: 'WRONG' IS RIGHT

Do as most
Top-40 stations do. Play Mac Davis,
"Baby Don't Get Hooked On Me."

Better than half the Top-40 stations in the country are getting fast, listener approval by programming Mac Davis' best single, "Baby Don't Get Hooked On Me." And more stations are being added every day.

In Billboard, it's already half way to the top of the charts with a Bullet.

So it only stands to reason that when the remaining stations get on board, Mac Davis will go the rest of the way.

On his way to the top,
Mac Davis, "Baby Don't Get Hooked On Me."

Destroying Our Musical Heritage

It's one thing for an old-line music publisher to sow and reap the fruits of a contemporary image; it's another matter for a company of this sort to simply walk away from its past, a past that has flowed with remarkable songs, whatever their ability at this time to make a go at it in commercial exposure.

What is particularly distressing is word we have received that many original manuscripts by some of our foremost pop composers are being literally discarded in the refuse pile. We know of one particular instance whereby a writer of more standards than we can list in this space has seen many of his original song manuscripts thrown away without an attempt by the publisher to contact him so he, the creator, could decide their fate. What a disastrous turn of events in the documentation of our glorious pop music heritage! If a music publisher finds it's "clean-up-time," surely the writer himself or a musical historian should be assigned the task to make sure these precious documents find a new home—so that in years to come we can offer future generations a valuable portion of Americana in its original form. Is it possible that this irresponsibility is also affecting the works of some of the major contemporary writers?

It is surely time that the music industry play a role in seeing to it that important musical documents find a safe port. One or more of its organizations should provide for this material if it is the desire of the writer or music publisher to make certain they are not lost to posterity. The Library of Congress would be happy to have a hand in all this, of course.

It is the wise music publisher who makes sure his catalog is ever serving the needs of the current musical scene. This does not mean, however, that what "does not sell" is therefore worthless. As a matter of fact, it would behoove any old-line publisher to constantly review his so-called "non-commercial" music to determine if material, which once enjoyed good popularity, is applicable to today's tastes. Whatever the case, destroying original musical manuscripts is something that no one in this business should tolerate.

A NATIONAL NEWS MONTHLY

AVAILABLE THROUGH ALL LOCAL BUDDAH DISTRIBUTORS

UNI "...unquestionably his most important comment to-date!"

Youth Audio Mag Formed Under Buddah Distribution

NEW YORK — It's supposed to look good on paper—and on records. It's a new audio magazine called Current Audio Magazine, which Buddah Records has acquired for national distribution beginning in New York next week (24).

Designed for an 18 to 35 year old market, the magazine will combine the printed word and audio interviews to offer a magazine news concept. A monthly dated at two-month intervals, the first issue features interviews, all in stereo, with Mick Jagger, Ted Kennedy, Elvis Presley's recent New York press conference. Also, writer Ed Sanders speaks on the topic of "Manson Will Escape." Stories and features also appear on a special 10-page insert. A 4-color photo of Jagger is featured prominently on the sleeve.

According to Buddah co-president Neil Bogart, the firm's network of distributors are excited about the idea, as are such large users as Amos Heilicher and Handleman. Also, Korvette's plans its own promotion on the magazine when it debuts in New York next week. National distribution will follow a week later. Designed at this time for retailer sale only, the magazine will retail at $2.49, with a distributor price of $1.24. A year's subscription is being offered at $22.

Michael Goldstein, publisher, expects an initial sale of 100,000 copies. To him, it's a new form of journalism that allows an unrestricted, uncensored point-of-view. The magazine is not licensed for airplay.

Bogart pointed out that Buddah's stake in the project is simply a distribution function. The label has no financial stake in it, nor does it have any editorial involvement.

The magazine will be sold to retailers as a pre-pak, with a special display noting: "Current Audio Magazine is More Than A . . . 10 page Magazine, 12 inch. LP Record. It's Something Else All Together."

In addition to Goldstein, former head of a publicity firm and an entertainment reporter for the local NBC-TV station in New York, the Current Audio Magazine staff consists of Jeff Kamen, editor; Michael Kaminski, art director.

A tape deal, foreign rights and newsstand rights are now being negotiated.

Goldstein said he is presently preparing a second volume, dated Sept.-Oct. He said that he expects many of his original stories to gain national prominence.

Audio Mag For Radio Bows, Too

NASHVILLE—Programmer's Digest, described as the "The Voice of Broadcasting," is a new audio mag for the radio trade. The first volume is out, with a number of recorded "stories" from various segments of the broadcast scene.

A division of Audio Video Corp. of America, its publisher and editor is Buddy Blake, the recording promo vet of Nashville. It'll be published 26 Mondays a year, with a special year-end issue. Price is $2.70 an issue, with a regular subscription price of $60 a year.

Pickwick Int'l Product Meets In NY, LA, Chi

WOODBURY, N.Y. — Pickwick International's new product will be shown at a trio of July sales meetings in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles, reports Rich Lionetti, marketing chief. Pickwick/33 will debut 29 new LP's and six 2-LP sets. The full line of new product will be simultaneously released on Pickwick/8 tapes as well. The company will also unveil its advertising, promo and merchandising plans for the coming months.

The first sales meet will take place on July 18 at the Steer Palace at Madison Square Garden in New York, where eastern rack jobbers, distributors and press will join the Pickwick execs for coffee and cake at 10:00, attend an audio-visual presentation and then continue discussions over cocktails and lunch.

The Chicago presentation, which will be for the entire midwest, will be held on July 20 at the Regency Hyatt House. The west coast is scheduled for July 26 in The Tower on top of the Occidental Building in Los Angeles.

'RCA Experience' Banner Unveils Fall LP Product

106 Albums For Aug.-Sept.

NEW YORK — Under the banner of "The RCA Experience," RCA Records unveiled last week an Aug.-Sept. album release that it termed "the strongest roster of artists to represent RCA in many years." A total of 106 albums will be marketed for fall sales.

Last Monday (10), the label began a city-a-day marketing campaign for the fall product, also bringing word of the product to its marketing-sales-promo forces in Memphis, Chicago and Los Angeles.

The meetings, encompassing all RCA and its custom labels product, visually and sonically presented product.

Also covered were the company's extensive plans to support the product in the market place with advertising, promo, exploitation and publicity.

A task force, headed by Mort Hoffman, vice president of commercial operations, first made a presentation for some 100 persons in New York, then immediately flew to Memphis for the second of the four meetings, the next day.

Hoffman opened the meeting by stating that RCA, which last year had the biggest sales year in its history, had, because of intensive efforts on the part of its sales-promotion forces around the country, substantially increased its sales volume over the last year. "But we are not yet where we want to be, and this product, some of the strongest ever released by any company, coupled with your increased sales efforts, can put us where we want to be at the end of the year."

Following Hoffman's remarks, an audio-visual presentation of all RCA product to be released in Aug. and Sept. was made to the group.

30 'Best' Red Seal Classics

NEW YORK — RCA Records is introducing a series of 30 albums under the title, "Music America Loves Best" in Aug.

Peter Munves, director of classical music for RCA, said the series, which will be on the Red Seal label, will be launched with an Aug. release of 15 albums to be followed by another 15 in Sept., and will be supported by "significant" advertising, promo and publicity.

"The classical market is like a funnel," Munves said. "The largest number of buyers are at the mouth of the funnel, the trickling through at the (Cont'd on p. 19)

FRONT COVER:

Luther Ingram's "If Loving You Is Wrong" (bulleted at #5 this week) was certified gold 20 days after release. The Stax-distributed KoKo Artist will make his first major appearance since the waxing of his chart-topper August 20th at the Watts-Stax Festival '72 in Los Angeles.

Born in Jackson Tenn. and raised in a small town outside of St. Louis, Ingram came to New York as a session singer. His first chart records ("Ain't That Lovin' You," "My Honey & Me") were recorded in Memphis, but he now calls Muscle Shoals his recording home. He began to build into a national Top 40/soul star through appearances with Isaac Hayes. He also co-wrote the Staple Singers' hit, "Respect Yourself." His second LP, "If Loving You Is Wrong" is set for release later this month.

NMPA To Study Int'l Taxation

NEW YORK — The National Music Publishers' Association is undertaking a study of the tax structure in all major markets abroad as they affect royalties earned abroad by American music publishers.

Leonard Feist, exec vice president of NMPA, in announcing the intention of the study, stated: "The international tax structure is highly complex and it is difficult for the individual publisher to keep in mind the regulations of various countries in which he does business. It is not NMPA's intent to create a professional analysis, but, rather, a simple guide which a publisher may have at hand for ready reference." The study is being made jointly with the Association of American Publishers because, to a great degree, the impact of foreign taxes is the same for book and music publishers.

A noted government economist who recently retired will make the survey. It is hoped that it will be printed and distributed to NMPA members by the fall. It is contemplated that the study will be maintained on a current basis by the periodic distribution of information on changes as they occur.

Fillmore To Rock Again

NEW YORK—The Fillmore East Theatre, which had been closed for over a year, is scheduled to reopen in September under new management. Located at 105 Second Ave., the Fillmore was sold to Frank N. Morgenstern, realtor and investor, for an undisclosed amount. Morgenstern said that when he reopens the theatre in the fall, he would continue with its former policy of presenting a wide range of musical styles including rock, jazz, r&b and folk music.

Bill Graham opened the Fillmore East in 1968, three years after the opening of the Fillmore West in San Francisco.

More Firms Respond To Flood Aid

PHILADELPHIA — The WEA label family and Capitol are among the latest companies to respond to a free-jacket campaign for flood victims on the eastern seaboard. Previously, RCA, Columbia, Mercury and Shorewood Packaging started the ball rolling to enable consumers to replace destroyed sleeves resulting from the floods.

In the Pennsylvania area—where in Wilkes-Barre alone some 250,000 were affected—Phil Slavin, sales manager of Bandstand Record Service, personally went to Eastern Records Pressing Plant in New Jersey and picked up 1500 jackets. They were soon gone, as were 3000 jackets from RCA. Customers have also been instructed on how to wash records and tapes. Root Electronics of Wilkes-Barre handed out the jackets, and radio station WSCR in the area supplied this information as a public service via deejay Vince Alpert.

Slavin, terming the effort a "wonderful response" from the industry, also had praise for the efforts of Bob Summer and Gene Settler of RCA. "Without their unquestioned initial support, I don't know if this project would have gotten off the ground," he stated.

CBS Again Goes Outside In Prexy Choice

NEW YORK — Arthur Taylor, 37, exec vp and chief financial officer and director of International Paper Co., has been named president of the Columbia Broadcasting Co. He fills the vacancy, effective July 31, created by the death of Charles T. Ireland on June 8. Like Ireland, who served with ITT before joining CBS, he has had no broadcasting experience. But, recent CBS financial reports indicate that the company is now doing less than half of its business in TV and radio. Ireland died just eight months after taking over as president of the company.

Stax Readies Pressing Of 150 Mil Disk

NEW YORK — Stax Records, will mark the pressing of its 150 millionth record this month with the release of the Staple Singers new single "This World."

Sparked by exec vice president Al Bell, Stax Records in less than a decade has rocketed to a dominant position in the music world via its "Memphis Sound."

Artists include Isaac Hayes, the Staple Singers, Carla Thomas, Soul Children, Luther Ingram, Johnnie Taylor, O. B. McClinton, William Bell, The Bar-keys, among others.

The label says it's not changing a basic policy—to permanently base its headquarters in Memphis.

The company will not shift its center of operations to either New York or Hollywood, going against a pattern being set by some recording companies.

Convinced that Stax' "Memphis Sound" is the most pure form of black music being produced in America today, the company is now readying a record number of album and singles releases for the immediate six months ahead.

Among the major hits that have contributed to Stax success are the Isaac Hayes album of his Oscar-winning "Shaft" theme, the Staple Singers' "Respect Yourself" and "I'll Take You There" from their album "Beatitude: Respect Yourself" and Van Peebles' "Don't Play Us Cheap" from the Broadway hit.

Other major Stax artists include Johnnie Taylor, who contributed to the label's first gold record, "Who's Making Love?", Jean Knight ("Mr. Big Stuff"); the Dramatics on Stax-Volt with "In The Rain," their second gold single; Booker T & The MG's ("Green Onions"); Otis Redding ("Dock of the Bay"); Sam & Dave ("Soul Man"); Carla Thomas ("B.A.B.Y."); Rufus Thomas ("Funky Chicken"); and Eddie Floyd ("Knock on Wood").

Future plans call for expansion into all areas of the entertainment business, including television specials and motion pictures featuring Stax artists.

Musical Isle 7th Branch In Denver

NEW YORK — Musical Isle of America, the rack-jobbing concern, which is part of the United Artists mass merchandising division, opens its seventh branch this week in Denver, Col.

According to Norm Weinstroer, vice president of MIA at central buying headquarters of the firm in St. Louis, the branch will be complete in every detail, including a 10,000 square foot layout for warehousing operations, which also includes one-stop record and tape services.

Bob Krug has been named branch manager, and Vivian Ludi, a well-known figure for 15 years in the Denver juke box and vending machine field, will be in charge of the juke box operator sales. Chuck Wright has been named resident salesman for the firm.

At the same time, Roberts Records, the St. Louis indie distributor, which is also a part of UA's mass merchandising division, will also open a branch in Denver, in the same premises. The Roberts Records Denver office will be under the direct supervision of Norman Hausfater, vice president of Roberts, St. Louis.

MIA's new Denver branch, located at 855 Inca Street, is starting operations with two major chains already in the customer fold. These include the May Company and the Burstein-Applebee chain, known in the area simply as B-A.

Signpost's First Major Album Release

NEW YORK — Five new albums are the first major album release from Artie Mogul's new label, Signpost Records, an Atlantic Custom Label. LP's feature Danny O'Keefe, the English Congregation, Bones, Fela Ransome-Kuti and the Africa '70 with Ginger Baker, and Bob Ruzicka.

"O'Keefe" highlights O'Keefe in a selection of self-composed songs accompanied with the artist's own lead guitar work. Produced by Arif Mardin, the album was recorded in Atlantic's studios in New York.

"Jesahel," includes the English Congregation's single, "Softly Whispering I Love You," as well as a selection of contemporary ballads like Carole King's "Will You Still Love Me Tomorrow." Produced by John Burgess in London, the album of tasteful material features packaging designed by Richard Mantell.

Produced by Richard Perry, "Bones" introduces the rock group of the same name on the Signpost label with a selection of eleven original songs.

"Fela Ransome-Kuti and The Africa '70 with Ginger Baker" is highlighted with the work of drummer Ginger Baker (formerly of Cream, Blind Faith and Air Force) playing live with some of Africa's top musical talents.

"What The World's All About" is the debut album of Bob Ruzicka, a singer/songwriter working within the context of country music, backed by such Nashville luminaries as Charlie McCoy, Jerry Shook and Kenny Buttery. Produced in Nashville, naturally, by Danny Davis.

The Signpost album release will be supported with a custom-tailored national advertising, publicity and promo campaign, featuring both trade and consumer placements. Additionally, a point-of-sale merchandising and marketing campaign will enhance Atlantic's sales plans on a dealer and consumer level.

Court Upholds 'Star Rights'

NEW YORK — Judge Irving B. Kaufman, writing for the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, recently granted plaintiffs Robert Stigwood Group Limited, Leeds Music Limited, and Leeds Music Corporation, another major victory in an action brought to enjoin unauthorized performances of "Jesus Christ—Superstar," when he vacated an order of the lower court in an action brought against Lon Hurwitz, a Detroit promoter, Evergreen Ltd., a Canadian group supplying a cast identified as American Rock Opera Co., Jujamcyn Theatres Trust, the owner of the Shubert Theatre in Philadelphia, and Sam Schwartz, the general manager of the theatre. The action had been commenced in December when a week of "Jesus Christ—Superstar" performances advertised as "Superstar, a Symphonic Rock Concert," were scheduled for presentation at the Shubert Theatre in Philadelphia.

The performances went forward when the lower court denied an injunction based upon representations that the scheduled performances would consist only of a number of selections from "Superstar," mixed with other original and traditional material. The resulting performances, however, consisted of the opera virtually in its entirety, with only two additional works tacked on. As Judge Kaufman noted, the performances were a dismal failure artistically and financially. Consumer fraud actions in Philadelphia, brought both by the attorney general and a private consumer group, resulted in substantial refunds to the ticket purchasers.

Entertainment Co's Brighter $ Showing: Walt Disney's Top $ Report CBS Gains In 2nd Qtr

NEW YORK—Disney World in Orlando, Fla. helped Walt Disney Productions reach record financial levels in the quarter ending July 1, and the nine month period of the company's fiscal year.

For the quarter, revenues reached $86,172,000, compared to $45,896,000 a year before. Net income was $10,259,000, compared to $6,749,000. For the nine month period, revenues hit $220,026,000, compared to $118,411,000. Net income came to $24,668,000, compared to $16,373,000.

Metromedia 2nd Quarter, 6 Months Up

NEW YORK—Metromedia, Inc. revenues for the second quarter of 1972 amounted to $42,192,197, compared to $37,898,513 in the previous period. Net income came to $3,389,099, compared to $2,626,983.

For the first six months of the year, revenues amounted to $82,984,066, compared to $73,574,151 for the first six months of 1971. Profits were $1,040,969, compared to $97,569.

Golden Crest Earnings Up

NEW YORK — Earnings of Golden Crest Records increased to $279,639, or 30¢ per common share, for the fiscal year ended March 31, compared with $247,619, or 26¢ per share during the 52 weeks ended April 2, 1971. Sales for the latest period were $3,226,186, compared with $3,137,755, according to Clark F. Galehouse, president.

Golden Crest produces records for its own and other labels, and edits and finishes films for TV commercials.

'Grass Harp'; Cast LP Outlives Short B'way Run

NEW YORK — In an era when the million-selling album is not a rarity, what is the significance of an LP that is in its fifth pressing with a modest 10,000 in sales?

For Ben Bagley's Painted Smiles label's original caster of the musical version of "Grass Harp," the answer lies in the fact that the show closed on Broadway after only seven performances. Yet, three weeks later the show was recorded, under unusual circumstances, and sales of the album are now past the base of show music buffs who can be counted upon to buy any cast LP for their collection. This brings to mind Columbia's album of Leonard Bernstein's "Candide," which survived a poor Broadway showing to become a catalog item at the label.

The show, according to composer Claibe Richardson (Kenward Elmslie wrote the lyrics for the production based on the Truman Capote play), is still to be heard from. A film deal is imminent and stock companies will take the production to various parts of the country.

Interestingly, the instrumental portion of the LP was cut in Cologne, Germany as a cost-cutting measure, while the vocals were done in New York. The show starred Barbara Cook, Carol Brice, Russ Thacker and Ruth Ford.

One of the enthusiastic supporters of the LP is retailer Sam Goody, Inc., whose window at his 49th St. store features a "Grass Harp" display.

NEW YORK — CBS estimates second quarter net income at $20.5 million on estimated net sales of $318.8 million, compared to 1971 second quarter net income of $16.3 million on net sales of $285.8 million, report William S. Paley, chairman, and Frank Stanton, vice chairman.

Estimated second quarter earnings per share are 71¢, compared with 56¢ for the second quarter of 1971.

For the first six months of 1972, consolidated net income is estimated at $32.8 million on estimated net sales of $642.6 million. Comparable 1971 results were $22.9 million and $570.8 million respectively. Estimated six months earnings per share are $1.13, compared with 78¢ for the first half of 1971.

MGM: Another Profitable Qtr

CULVER CITY, CALIF. — Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Inc., has completed its seventh consecutive profitable quarter. For the 12 weeks ended June 3, income before extraordinary items increased to $1,052,000 from $706,000 in the similar period last year.

Income before extraordinary items for the 40 weeks ended June 3, increased 15% to $6,256,000, or $1.06 per share, on 5,925,495 average shares outstanding. This compares with $5,411,000, or 91¢ per share, for the same period in the previous year.

In addition, the company reported an extraordinary gain of $1,842,000, or 31¢ per share, for the 40 weeks ended June 3, resulting from the sale of properties in India, Australia and Culver City. This compares with an extraordinary gain of $333,000, or 6 cents per share for the same period in 1971.

Construction is proceeding on the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., which is scheduled for completion by October, 1973.

Last May, the company sold substantially all of the assets of the company's record and tape operations as of Sept. 1, 1971, to MGM Records, Inc., a newly-formed Polygram subsidiary. The gross revenues of the record and tape operation have been excluded from revenues reported above.

The assets of the record and tape operations were sold at their approximate net book value; however, the company will derive future income from licensing agreements.

Greene Sues Famous Music On Label Deal

HOLLYWOOD — A $25 million breach-of-contract suit has been filed in Los Angeles Superior Court by Charles Greene against Famous Music and Greene Bottle Records. Under a deal previously announced, the label was formed with Greene as president and Famous as the manufacturer and distributor.

According to the complaint, an oral agreement was entered into between Greene and Famous last Oct. 11, whereby the corporation would be formed with Famous to own 80% of the stock and Greene 20%, with an annual budget of $667,108. The agreement, the action noted, was for five years, with a two year termination clause if Famous sustained a net loss of $500,000.

Outside of the court action, Greene claims the label is continuing to sign and record talent and expects to sign a new distribution deal within two weeks.

A spokesman for Famous would not comment on the action, since he contended that the company had not been served with the complaint.

In addition, Diamond will be taking on additional responsibilities as a talent scout for the Columbia label.

Before joining April/Blackwood, Koppelman had been head of Koppelman-Rubin Music, the successful music publishing firm that was acquired by Commonwealth-United as part of its all-over music operation. Since leaving Commonwealth-United, Koppelman continued the administration of his publishing catalog, which includes John Sebastian, Tim Hardin, Bobby Darin, Bonner and Gordon and Roy Royer.

GFR, Knight Sued Over Management

"We were anxious for our own special and consequently preferred to avoid over-exposure by guesting on the various variety and late-night programs," Utley explained. "It's pleasant to find that patience is still rewarded."

Abkco Label

'Gold' Series

HOLLYWOOD — ABKCO Records has announced the release of 20 "Gold Forever" 45 rpm. classics. Charlie Nuccio, vp and general manager of ABKCO Records said, "The initial response from our distributors has been nothing less than sensational, especially with the renewed interest in hits of the late '50s and '60s. The initial release consists of records by Shubby Checker, Terry Knight, Bobby Rydell, the Orlons, the Dovells, Charlie Grace, Tymes, Bob Seger, Dee Dee Sharp, and the Rays.

Nuccio indicated the initial "Gold Forever" shipments would ship on July 19.

Bee Gee Expanding

LATHAM, NEW YORK — Bee Gee Records & Tapes expects to double its warehouse facilities by Sept. 30, according to Leonard Smith, president.

Warners Markets July LP's

NEW YORK — Warner/Reprise Records and its affiliate labels, Bearsville, Capricorn and Raccoon, have shipped their July release that includes new albums by Van Morrison, Black Sabbath, T. Rex and Sals & Crofts.

Van Morrison's fifth Warner Bros. album, titled "St. Dominic's Preview," comes on the heels of Morrison's most successful personal appearance tour. "Black Sabbath Vol. IV," is the group's fourth album. Black Sabbath is currently touring the United States. Seals & Crofts' second album for Warner Bros. is "Summer Breeze." T. Rex's third Reprise album is "The Slider," an album that received 1,000,000 advance orders in England.

Curved Air's third album is "Phantasmagoria." Both Labelle and the Doobie Brothers are represented with their second Warner Bros. albums, "Moon Shadow" and "Toulouse Street," respectively. "Rhythm and Poetry" is the first solo album from Charles Wright, who was the lead vocalist and guiding force behind the Watts 103rd Street Rhythm Band.

"Letters" marks Jimmy Webb's third solo album since his transition from writer to writer-performer. Frank Zappa, founder of the Mothers of Invention, steps out of that role for his second Hot Rats solo album, titled "Waka/Jawaka-Hot Rats." Pentangle guitarist John Renbourn is heard on his third Reprise solo album "Faro Annie." Geoff & Maria Muldour, who are veterans of the Kweskin Jug Band, have recorded "Sweet Potatoes," which is the follow-up to their "Pottery Pie" LP. Singer-composer Tom Paxton's second Reprise album "Peace Will Come," includes 11 new tunes. Thirty Days Out encores with "Miracle Lick," an album produced by group member Jack Malken. Making his solo debut on Reprise is Tom Rapp, who as leader of Pearls Before Swine, is found on four Reprise Albums. Rapp's album includes new versions of such Pearls favorites as "Rocket Man," "The Jeweler" and "These Things Too."

The Warner/Reprise July release also serves to introduce a number of new artists. Captain Beyond debuts on the Capricorn label. White Witch, a theatrical band from Tampa, Florida, also debuts on the Capricorn label. Two Englishmen, Roger Saunders and Matthew Ellis, make their debuts on the Warner Bros. label this month with "The Roger Saunders Rush Album." Ellis attended Cambridge and has fared well in England with two previous albums.

Debuting on the Reprise label are Allen Toussaint, John Cale, Howard Kaylan and Mark Volman, Steve Young and Seanor & Koss. Toussaint makes his Reprise debut with "Life, Love and Faith" a collection of 12 originals. Warner Bros. producer John Cale, who was an original member of the Velvet Underground, steps out on his own for a classical motff album titled "The Academy In Peril." Howard Kaylan and Mark Volman moved from the Turtles to the Mothers of Invention prior to surfacing this month with their own album, "The Phlorescent Leech & Eddie." Steve Young's Reprise debut, "Seven Bridges Road," was recorded in Nashville under the supervision of Paul Tannen. Seanor & Koss were the driving force behind Savage Grace and have returned to Reprise with an album produced by Englishman Shel Talmy.

The Bearsville label presents Sparks, who were originally named Halfnelson. The Sparks album was produced by Todd Rundgren.

Cooper Gold

NEW YORK — Alice Cooper's Warner Bros. album "School's Out" has been certified gold by the RIAA, signifying sales in excess of $1 million.

"School's Out" marks the second gold album for Alice Cooper. The band's previous LP "Killer" also surpassed $1,000,000 in sales.

5th Get Gold

NEW YORK — Bell Records has one more gold record to its Fifth Dimension collection—this one for the group's current single, "Didn't Get To Sleep At All."

This is The Fifth Dimension's second gold single for Bell. The first, "One Less Bell," sold well over the 1½ million mark. In addition, Bell has received gold records for their three Fifth Dimension album release, "Portrait," "Love, Lines, Angles and Rhymes" and "5th Dimension-Live."

'Flashback' As Bell LP's

NEW YORK — Bell Records will be releasing a series of albums based on its "Flashback" singles series. Set for release in July are two "You Must Remember These" LPs, Volume I with 16 tunes and Volume II with 12 songs; and a "Nostalgia I" LP, on Big Tree Records. All list at $4.98.

Bell's decision to issue the LPs was made after a two month promotion on the "Flashback" series, which ran from May 1 to July 1, and a thorough market survey made in the field by the label's executives.

According to vice president in charge of sales, Oscar Fields, "We sold over 250,000 units by the end of the promotion and we've had individual orders that ran as high as 25,000 pieces."

Among the 67 singles in the "Flashback" series are such golden oldies as "In The Still Of The Night" by the Five Satins, "Story Untold" by the Nutmegs, "The Letter" by the Box Tops, "La La Means I Love You" by the Delfonics, "Back Up Train" by Al Green and many more. The flavoring is heavily r&b as well as pop.

Atlantic 'Charleston' Soundtrack

NEW YORK — Atco Records is rush-releasing the original soundtrack recording of "Come Back Charleston Blue" in conjunction with national premiere playdates of the motion picture throughout the country.

The entire score for the film was composed and conducted by Donny Hathaway, supervised by Quincy Jones. "Come Back Charleston Blue" is the sequel to "Cotton Comes To Harlem," and like the previous film, stars Godfrey Cambridge and Raymond St. Jacques in the lead roles.

Produced by Samuel Goldwyn, Jr., the Warner Brothers attraction was directed by Mark Warren from a screenplay by Bontche Schweig and Peggy Elliot based upon the novel, "The Heat's On," by Chester Himes.

Stones Add Extra NY Date

NEW YORK — To meet the demand for tickets, the Rolling Stones have scheduled an additional New York appearance for Tuesday, July 25 at 2:30 p.m. at Madison Square Garden, according to Peter Rudge, tour manager. Three other New York concerts were already set for July 24-26 at 8 p.m. at the Garden. All four concerts are being produced by Sunday Promotions Inc.

Under the supervision of a firm of certified public accountants, tickets for the Tuesday afternoon show will be distributed by the same postcard selection system that was used to choose ticket-holders for the Stones' other New York appearances.

Enough cards were drawn originally from the more than ½ million received, to cover the possibility of a fourth show being added. Notification cards for the three evening concerts were mailed Wednesday, July 5; cards for the afternoon show will be sent out within the next two days. The cards specify a time period during the week of July 10 when the person is to come to the Madison Square Garden box office with money to pick up the seats.

The certified public accountants will continue to oversee the entire ticket distribution process at the Garden until all seats are dispersed.

Contrary to misinformation being circulated, people who sent in more than one card to the drawing were not disqualified. Only if more than one of their cards were drawn were the extra requests, above and beyond the first card, disqualified; the first card was valid.

LORI LIEBERMAN

first thought all she wanted was to marry a TV writer. Now she wants to be a good/great singer (and she is).

"Love Must Be The Reason" answers an important question.

"Why is James Last so popular all over the world?"

Because James Last performs the world's hits in a way that makes them his hits.

His latest album is filled with some of the freshest arrangements you're likely to hear.

Songs like Neil Young's "Heart of Gold", Carole King's "It's Going To Take Some Time", "The Godfather", and "Summer Of '42" are given that distinctive LAST touch.

"Love Must Be The Reason" (PD 5509), by James Last, has all the musical answers.

Picks of the Week

CHICAGO (Columbia 45657)

Saturday In The Park (3:56) (Big Elk, ASCAP—R. Lamm)
The hornrockers paint a scene of inner city greenery that's sure to grow to Top 10 by summer's end. You can hear, see, smell, taste and feel it. Flip: "Alma Mater" (3:52) (same—T. Kath)

JAMES BROWN (Polydor 14139)

Good Foot-Part 1 (3:36) (Dynatone/Belina/Unichappell, BMI—J. Brown, F. Wesley, J. Mims)
Clean, crisp sound from King James, bound to follow in his own goodly hit footsteps. Flip: Part 2 (2:39) (same credits)

THE STAPLE SINGERS (Stax 0137)

This World (3:39) (Sunbeam, BMI—H. Schapiro, G. Friedman)
Gospel-rocker with much of the appeal of their "I'll Take You There" smash. The Staples continue to keep it all together. Flip: "Are You Sure?" (4:27) (East/Memphis, BMI—H. Banks, R. Jackson)

GRAHAM NASH & DAVID CROSBY (Atlantic 2892)

Southbound Train (3:18) (Giving Room, BMI—G. Nash)
Duo should do even better than they did with "Immigration Man" with this harmonica-dominated folk ballad about going home. Extraordinary track from their top charted LP. Flip: no info. available

TOMMY JAMES (Roulette 7130)

Love Song (3:35) (Mandan, BMI—T. James, B. King)
As the lyrics relate, this is not just "words and rhymes." It's the strongest he's been since "Draggin' The Line." Indian Summer chart heat. Flip: no info. available

CURTIS MAYFIELD (Curtom 1975)

Freddie's Dead (Theme From "Superfly") (3:15) (Curtom, BMI—C. Mayfield)
Anti-drug missive pulls not a punch, lyrically or musically. Should do as well or better than "If There's A Hell Below" both pop and soul. Grand production. Flip: no info. available

URIAH HEPP (Mercury 73307)

Easy Livin' (2:37) (Bron, ASCAP—Hensley)
Hardrockers have the breakthrough Top 40 single they've been looking for. There's justified excitement in these grooves. Flip: "All My Life" (2:46) (same—Box, Byron, Kerslake)

ALBERT KING (Stax 0135)

I'll Play The Blues For You (Part 1) (3:35) (East/Memphis/Rogan, BMI—J. Beach)
The blues live when Albert's doin' his thing. Soothing soul with Top 100 eyes. Flip: Part II (3:55) (same credits)

JERRY WALLACE (Decca 32989)

If You Leave Me Tonight I'll Cry (2:42) (Leeds, AS—G. Sanford, H. Mooney)
Jerry's sequel hit to his "To Get To You" winner was originally showcased by him in an episode of Rod Serling's "Night Gallery" TVer. It's a ballad in the old Nat King Cole groove with a country flair: in short, a real pleaser. Flip: "What's He Doin' In My World" (2:07) (4 Star BMI—C. Belew, E. Bush, B. Moore)

BO DIDDLEY (Chess 2129)

Infatuation (3:40) (Heavy/Bo-Kay, BMI—K. & E. McDaniel)
Totally contemporary sound for Bo that's commercial and catchin'. Female chorus gives him strong support for a chart item of major pop and soul proportions. Flip: "Bo Diddlely-Itis" (2:55) (same—E. McDaniel)

Choice Programming

Choice Programming selections are singles which, in the opinion of our reviewing staff, are deserving of special programmer consideration.

JB's (People 610)

Givin' Up Food For Funk—Part 1 (3:06) (Dynatone/Belinda/Unichappell, BMI—J. Brown, F. Wesley, L. Knetchel)
Having passed the peas, they're now funk'n' without need of sustenance. Sure soul item. Flip: no info. available

SPIDER (Capitol 3393)

Burnin' (3:02) (Mossyrock/Captain Crystal, BMI—M. Deasy, L. Knetchel)
Delta based Leon Russell-ish sound could see Spider crawl up the charts and weave a web of success. Flip: no info. available

JOHN TWOMEY (GP 517)

The Only Love (2:21) (Terry, AS-CAP—E. Kean)
John sounds a bit like an American Gilbert O'Sullivan on this ballad. Will see action with play. Flip: no info. available

MARK GUERRERO (Capitol 3373)

Rock And Roll Queen (2:48) (Ynez/Brown Bag, BMI—M. Guerrero)
Sunny approach to a blues rocker that has potential broad-based appeal as a Top 100 item. Flip: no info. available

GERONIMO BLACK (Uni 55339)

Let Us Live (3:55) (Damont, ??—A. Cahan)
Horn rock from a band with a touch of the devil in their collective soul. FMs should start this one roll-in'. Flip: "59 Chevy" (2:55) (same credits)

THE ROCK FLOWERS (Wheel 32-0039)

Double Scoop (2:47) (Pocket Full Of Tunes/Ringling Bros. & Barnum & Bailey, BMI—J. Cymbal, P. Clinger)
Some fattening pop/rock—but who's on a diet? Trio really shines here. Flip: no info. available

CHRISTINE HOLMES (Buddah 316)

Oh My Joe (3:00) (Maribus, BMI—Macauley, Cook, Greenaway)
Doesn't take long to get into this one, a pleasingly light soft shoe for romantics. MOR play should generate sales and Top 40 attention. Flip: no info. available

THE FAMILY AFFAIR (Authentic 506)

I Had A Friend (3:40) (The Family Things/Beryl, BMI—E. Carpenter Jr.)
Interesting production makes this a standout among anti-drug tunes. Has a taste of jazz (both straight and Latin) so that it should please many markets. Flip: "I Am People" (3:35) (same credits)

ROY HYTOWER (Anthem 51009)

It's Not What You Think Of Me (2:39) (Unart/Ishmael/Jerdot, BMI—R. Hytower)
Hytower's high on soul and communicates it. Up-tempo tune of self-confidence could be a sleeper. Flip: "I'm In Your Corner" (2:47) (same credits)

THE SOUL CHILDREN (Stax 0132)

Don't Take My Kindness For Weakness (3:00) (East/Memphis, BMI—J. Banks, E. Marion, H. Thigpen)

Their follow-up to "Hearsay" hooks you with an intro that smokes and keeps you there with their gospel-flavored harmonies. Flip: "Just The One (I've Been Looking For)" (3:20) (same—A. Isbell, E. Floyd, S. Cropper)

MANDRILL (Polydor 14142)

Get It All (3:19) (Mandrill/Intersong-USA/Chappel, ASCAP—Mandrill)
A monster in every sense of the term. Tight, bright harmony, beautifully blaring brass and rhythm galore. Up of the week! Flip: no info. available

ENGELBERT HUMPERDINCK (Parrot 40071)

In New York, Howard Stein's first production of the summer was a Bette Midler sell-out at Carnegie Hall (June 23) grossing $16,500. With the exception of one date at the Academy of Music (Uriah Heep, John Baldry, White Trash on Aug. 5), Stein will be outdoors for the summer.

1972 will mark Stein's second year at Gaelic Park, an outdoor, on-the-grass concert facility in the Riverdale section of the Bronx. Gaelic Park has a gross potential of $100,000 ticketed at $5.00 for the 20,000 general admission. A July 13 date with the Allman Bros. Band, Captain Beyond and Strawbs was the first of the series. August Gaelic Park dates include the Jeff Beck Group, Argent, Flash, Blue Oyster Cult (2); Yes, J. Geils Band (16); Humble Pie, Edgar Winter (22); Deep Purple, Fleetwood Mac, Silverhead (30). Tentatively scheduled is the Jefferson Airplane (13 or 14).

In the Atlanta market, Stein's July productions began with Procol Harum and Eagles at the Sports Arena (13). Uriah Heep, John Baldry and White Trash are scheduled at the Sports Arena (19) with a capacity of 3000 and a $15,000, gross potential. Also in July will be Black Sabbath at the Municipal Auditorium (22), a 5500 seat hall with a $25,500 gross potential. August dates are the James Gang, Captain Beyond at the Auditorium (14); Deep Purple, Fleetwood Mac, Silverhead at the Auditorium (28). Two shows are set with the Allman Bros. Band at the Auditorium (30 & 31) owing to their immense popularity in the South.

Stein produced Edgar Winter, Groundhogs and Black Oak Arkansas at the Miami-Hollywood Sportatorium (June 17). Stein will be going into the Miami-Hollywood Sportatorium on a regular basis beginning in the fall. Stein also initiated his summer schedule in Chicago with Black Sabbath and Groundhogs at the 4300 seat Arie Crown Theatre, selling out two months in advance. Popular demand for an Alice Cooper performance at the 12,000 seat Amphitheatre (July 28) necessitated the addition of a second show. Appearing for Stein in August are the Jeff Beck Group, Argent and Blue Oyster Cult at the Arie Crown (8).

In the Minneapolis—St. Paul market, Stein is introducing rock shows to the Minneapolis Armory, a 7000 capacity facility grossing $35,000. The "Grand Opening" of the Armory will feature Alice Cooper (July 27). August Armory dates are Emerson, Lake & Palmer (10); Black Sabbath (28).

Top 1 Night Stand For Three Dog

HOLLYWOOD — Three Dog Night has achieved what is believed to be the biggest payday for a single performance, taking home in excess of $125,000 as its share of a $1,320,000 gross recorded for the group's headline stand Saturday night, July 8, at the Pocono Speedway in eastern Pennsylvania.

The Dogs played to an audience of some 120,000 who paid a flat $11 per person at the box-office to take in the event, described by some as a rock festival reminiscent of Woodstock. (Unofficial estimates placed the total crowd upwards of 200,000).

Previous record for one show, $100,000 has been attributed in past years to both Elvis Presley and the late Jimi Hendrix.

Pocono Speedway is an auto race-track in the resort town of Long Pond.

The Dogs also scored with SRO concerts Friday (7) at Milwaukee Arena, and Sunday (9) at the Hemisphere Arena in San Antonio.

The Milwaukee date saw 11,838 people contributing $65,357 at the box-office. At San Antonio, 10,000-plus people paid a gross $53,000-plus. Tickets both nights were scaled from $4-6.

Three Dog Night next plays The Forum in its hometown, Los Angeles, on this historic summer Tour of Tours, and Mayor Sam Yorty has declared the occasion, Friday, July 14, as "Three Dog Day for Three Dog Night" in the city.

Pocono Speedway is simply the latest instance—albeit the largest—of record-setting for the group. Virtually every stop has been capacity since the Tour of Tours began in mid-June.

RCA Classics

other end are the connoisseurs and dedicated classical buffs. Any manufacturer who wants to stay in the classical music business neglects the beginning and occasional buyer of classical product at his own risk. Therefore, we have decided to fill a crying need of beginning and occasional classical buyers by issuing a basic library of the Music America Loves Best.

"If you ever have been in a record store, you know the confusion and frustration that greets the beginning buyer who doesn't know where or how to get started. The new RCA series is an answer to this prayer and need. The 30-album library will contain many famous top-selling performances and recordings which already have sold hundreds of thousands of copies. In this series, they will reach an even wider market," he continued.

Munves said that each album is built around the theme, "The World's Favorite" . . . world's favorite symphonies, world's favorite concertos . . . showpieces . . . rhapsodies . . . dances, in addition to world's favorite Gershwin, Tchiakovsky, etc.

The series boasts the top names in RCA's classical roster of artists: Van Cliburn, Arthur Rubinstein, Leontyne Price, Placido Domingo, Sherrill Milnes, Fritz Reiner and the Chicago Symphony, Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra, Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops Orchestra, Jascha Heifetz and many more. He also noted that the recordings have been re-mastered for superior sound, and in many cases, have been re-coupled to give the consumer the most value for his money. All will have new covers designed with the beginning buyer in mind.

Munves noted that the new series will benefit dealers also. "It offers dealers who are just getting into the classical business for the first time a basic stock inventory of top turnover product."

In conclusion, Munves said: "This is a merchandising breakthrough which offers the consumer for the first time a complete guided tour through a basic classical library."

Cartravision Unveils Video Tape Catalog

CHICAGO—A consumer catalog describing the initial group of video tape programs available for the Cartravision® system—one of the first publications of its kind in the home entertainment industry—was released here at the Consumer Electronics Show.

The 24-page inaugural collector's item, "Video Cartridge Program Sale Catalog," has been released to the first 200 dealers who will be selling video cartridges throughout the United States. There are 111 titles initially listed.

The titles were selected from a library of several thousand programs licensed for distribution by Cartridge Television Inc to owners of the Cartravision system, and new cartridges will become available periodically.

To accommodate a broad range of consumer preferences, the first group of titles include a wide spectrum of themes ranging from sports, personal improvement, cooking and wine-tasting mystique to color-accented music, religion, travel, cultural enhancement, cartoons and other children's subjects.

A number of the offerings in the new sale catalog have been originally produced for the new cartridge television medium.

Others are equally uncommon, such as a short subject from the National Football League, "Football Follies," depicting hilarious gridiron bloopers made by pros. There are also sight-and-sound recordings of Super Bowl games and highlights of others featuring such teams as the Dallas Cowboys, Baltimore Colts and Miami Dolphins.

In the cultural area, one of the Cartravision originals is a new translation of Anton Chekhov's "The Swan Song," starring Richard Kiley and Michael Dunn. The adaptation, representing the first dramatic work made expressly for cartridge television, is by Daria Jitkoff of Rice University.

It was produced by Claude Woolman, creative director of CineRep Productions, who described it as "brilliant entertainment." In the play, he said, Chekhov "has filtered through comedy what is really the opposite . . . we see the fundamental sadness of growing old, which of course happens to every being."

'Canned Cassettes' From Certron Corp.

LOS ANGELES—Certron Corporation's new Canned Cassettes have "exceeded all expectations and may prove to be the fastest-selling new product ever introduced by the company," according to Certron Vice President Marketing/Sales Ray Allen.

Allen reported response to the revolutionary new cassette merchandising system, introduced at the Consumer Electronics Show in Chicago was highly enthusiastic with orders exceeding company estimates.

Certron's "Canned Cassettes" feature six ninety or sixty minute length cassettes sealed in a recyclable can. "Graphics, point of purchase materials and our overall marketing plan is aimed at the youth market," Allen said.

The "Canned Cassettes" offer several major advantages including a pilfer proof package, protection from shipping damage, ease in warehousing and retail display, as well as keeping the cassettes fresh, reported Allen.

"Our market tests show, and the buyers agree, that the six-to-a-can concept is attractive to buyers and should help increase retail sales volume. With the cassettes sealed to retain freshness, the consumer is encouraged to buy two or three cans and keep them ready for use."

New youth oriented graphics were introduced in "Double Play," two cassettes in poly bags with colorful headers: "Triple Play," with three cassettes; "Repair Kit," with everything needed to transfer tape from jammed cassettes into a new case and Tape Caddy, featuring four 8-track cartridges in a self-adhesive container for mounting in cars or on walls.

"Our goal is to provide the retailer with the complete line of recording tape needs, covering all quality and price levels supported by an aggressive marketing plan that will help the consumer select Certron products."

Certron's 'Triple Play' Introduced At CES

"Triple Play," one of five major products introduced by Certron Corporation at the Consumer Electronics Show, features three cassettes available in various tape lengths and "Liteline Mini Posters" for added youth market sales incentive. The new youth oriented graphics are featured on several of the company's new lines.

Gerow D. Brill New S/T GM

LEONIA, NEW JERSEY—Alfred Markim, president of the S/T Videocassette Duplicating Corporation, announced that Gerow David Brill has been appointed General Manager. Brill comes to S/T from the CBS Electronic Video Recording (EVR) Cassette Processing facility in Rockleigh, New Jersey, where he had been Manager of Engineering.

Markim pointed out the specific problems inherent in filling the post of General Manager of the first videocassette duplication plant of its kind. "We needed a man with a strong background in business and engineering, as well as in-depth experience with videocassettes, a field that's still in its infancy. In Jerry Brill, we were fortunate to have found a man who had been number two man at CBS's EVR facility."

Brill was equally enthusiastic about his association with S/T. He forecasts the burgeoning of the videocassette industry during the next two decades, with highly divergent program content appealing to a wide variety of educational needs and consumer interests. He compares the growth position of the videocassette industry today with that of the television industry 20 years ago.

The S/T Videocassette Duplicating Corporation is the largest facility duplicating onto the ¾" Sony U-Matic videocassettes from film and all major video tape formats. The plant opened in May and duplicated in excess of 2,000 videocassettes during its first week of operation. An annual duplicating capability of over one million videocassettes is anticipated by the end of this year.

NMPA To Hold Symposium In Sept. On New Technologies

NEW YORK—The National Music Publishers' Association has announced a Symposium on Music Publishers and The New Technologies to take place at the Hotel Plaza in New York City on September 25, 1972. Three significant and specific current developments—video cassettes, cable TV and satellites—will be the subjects of the discussion. Authorities on each of these subjects will speak on the present state of the technology and future projections.

In announcing the Symposium, Salvatore T. Chiantia, President of NMPA said: "One of the many functions of the music publisher in the world of music has always been to keep abreast or, indeed, in advance of the potential impact of technological innovations on his product. It is interesting to note that at our Annual Meeting in 1922—50 years ago—the members of our organization engaged in a lengthy discussion on the problems and promises of a then-new technology—radio. At the time, 'wireless telephone' was emerging from an

NEW YORK—Warner/Reprise will be releasing the historic six-sided "Goodbye To The Fillmore" package in tape form throughout the United States announced Warners Director of Tape Operations, Lou Dennis.

"Goodbye To The Fillmore" captures on tape the closing days of rock's vital and prestigious venue, the Fillmore, and records for posterity the music of San Francisco and America's top rock bands. In sequential order the "Goodbye To The Fillmore" package features the following performances: Side 1, "Hello Friends," Lamb; "So Fine," The Elvin Bishop Group; "Pana," Malo. Side 2, "Poppa Can Play," The Sons of Champlain; "White Bird," It's a Beautiful Day; "Fresh Air," Quicksilver Messenger Service; "Mojo," Quicksilver Messenger Service.

Side 3 opens with an introduction by Bill Graham and sequesters into "Back On The Streets Again," Tower of Power; "Baby's Callin' Me Home," Boz Scaggs; "I Just Want To Make Love To You," Cold Blood. Side Four, "Passion Flower," Stoneground; "Henry," New Riders of the Purple Sage; "Casey Jones," Grateful Dead; "Johnny B. Goode," Grateful Dead. Side 5, "Keep Your Lamps Trimmed and Burnin'," Hot Tuna; "Incident at Neshabur," Santana; "Silent Way," Santana. Side 6 closes the package with Taj Mahal, Boz Scaggs, Elvin Bishop and friends jamming on "We Gonna Rock" and "Long And Tall." "Goodbye To The Fillmore" concludes with Bill Graham's goodbye speech.

amateur state into a commercial business. Music publishers were among the first to recognize the potential change which was about to take place in the music business. Our Symposium this fall will be the first, we hope, of a series to keep pace with the rapid technological advances which confront us today."

While there will be speakers on each of the three subjects, as well as a luncheon speaker who will interrelate all three technologies, the Symposium is planned as a working session. The speeches will be kept to a minimum, small discussion groups are planned, and it is hoped that there will be active participation by all, rather than passive listening. Because the Symposium will be a working meeting, attendance will be limited to members of the National Music Publishers' Association and resource persons and invited guests.

ASCAP Plaque To Honor R&H

NEW YORK — ASCAP will honor an historic event in the musical theatre this week (18) with the unveiling of a plaque celebrating the initial show collaboration of writer-members Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II.

In the spring of 1942, the two ASCAP talents met for lunch at the Barbary Room of Manhattan's Berkshire Hotel to discuss the possibilities of creating a musical based on Lynn Riggs' play titled "Green Grow the Lilacs". The result was "Oklahoma!", a show that took the 1944 Pulitzer Prize, ran for five years and nine weeks on Broadway.

Among the prominent music figures who will attend the brief five PM ceremony and subsequent cocktail-reception will be composer Rodgers and ASCAP president Stanley Adams, who will unveil the plaque on the Barbary Room wall. Dorothy Hammerstein will represent her late husband.

Grindl To Elektra

NEW YORK — Elektra Records has signed Grindl, a New York-based band, according to company president Jac Holzman.

Newport Folk Benefit

CARNEGIE HALL, NYC—Even in this enlightened age, there are some who still typecast Pete Seeger as a rebelrouser. Would that this minority could have witnessed how America's living folk legend prevented a potentially dangerous situation from ever getting started. Due to the time overrun of part of a Newport Jazz Festival date in the hall, ticket holders for this benefit were forced to create a traffic jam in the street until a half-hour past ticket time. Tempers were high, but they were quickly cooled upon entry. For there was Pete, guitar in hand on the stage to entertain you as the hall belatedly filled. The only sound was tremendous applause between songs. The Columbia artist is unparalleled in crowd control as well as crowd pleasing. An audience participation on "Wimoweh" closed his set just as the hall was totally packed. He also helped close the first show debuting with Arlo Guthrie. We can hardly remember a more beautiful circle of sound than that offered up in this concert.

The bill's blues choice was Robert Pete Williams. First show, he told us how he was sorrowed by the passing of Fred McDowell and how he intended to "learn how" to bottleneck in his memory. He then proceeded to prove that he already had been practicing quite a bit.

The first half of the first show was closed by James Taylor; after intermission the crowd was treated to the debut of Mimi Farina with Carole McComb and Eric Weissberg. It's unusual that Mimi would have chosen a voice so close to Joan Baez's to accompany her, since both she and we have had it up to here with "sister" comparisons. But Carole's voice blends beautifully with Mimi's, and Carole also does wonders on pedal steel. Together (with the help of Weissberg's proficiently funky bass) they surely cast a spell that audiences cannot break out of easily. The A&M act will hopefully have an album for us soon.

Unquestionably, the highlight of the first show was the performance of Richie Havens. Although Taylor did a beautiful set, the crowd had expected nothing but the most soothing best from him. Havens on the other hand, surprised all by performing with only Paul Dino Williams' acoustic as back-up, yet outdoing the excitement usually associated with amped band sets. Havens' raps seemed clearer and more to the point than ever, and the mood he created was totally cosmic. If the stormy Forest artist were to go back to his original acoustic demeanor on his next LP, it would no doubt prove his most triumphant yet. Undoubtedly, he gets more mileage out of less clutter.

Havens used some of this mileage to get to a recording session right after his early set, so he couldn't play the second show. There was, however, a surprise set by Eric Anderson that nicely filled the Havens slot for the later listeners.

James Taylor was incredibly anxious to leave—someone said that his girlfriend, Carley Simon, was in the hospital, but no one knew for sure. He asked for an earlier set in the second show, so he came out toward the middle. When he stepped before the mike, all his anxieties channeled themselves into pure musical energy, and he delivered one of the best sets we've ever seen him do, creating his mood with "Close Your Eyes" and "Something In The Way She Moves."

For his last number, Taylor then called up Eric Anderson, who sang his "Thirsty Boost" while Taylor provided distinctive backup guitar. At the end of the song there was thunderous applause, and both Anderson and Taylor bowed and left the stage. Taylor split immediately, but Anderson didn't know how much of the applause was for him and how much of it was for superstar Taylor. When Eric went back onstage and played "Blue River," he found out that he really didn't have to worry, since a large chunk of the applause was returned to him on his own.

Arlo Guthrie used the most tasteful combination of folk and rock music for the occasion. Folky enough to be accepted by the purest purists, but rocky enough to add lots of life to the show. Pete Seeger joined Arlo for the evening finale of "Jacob's Ladder." Like he began the early show, Pete closed the late show—in total control of everyone and having the time of his life.

The concert was produced and coordinated by Lew Linet with production assistance by Alice West. All proceeds go toward rebuilding the Newport Folk Festival. r.a. & m.d.

Charley Pride

INTERNATIONAL HILTON, LAS VEGAS — When describing Charley Pride's debut at Vegas words such as entertainment, command, and professionalism must be used. With a large orchestra backing him on all numbers (unusual for a country music act), Pride put together a show at the International Hilton that touched upon his last 17 albums, five of them gold, drawing the best songs from each.

Though showing signs of nervousness with some minor stage pacing, Charley was very much in command and showed why he was voted Artist of the Year by the Country Music Association in 1971. It is this knack for great on-stage performing that has made Charley one of the first black men to reach stardom in this particular vein of music.

Signed in 1965 by Chet Atkins for RCA, Pride has been heaped with honors for the very songs he included in the Vegas act, including "All I Have For You," "Kiss an Angel Good Morning" (his first gold record), and Henry Mancini's "All His Children," for which he received an Academy Award nomination.

Aside from his on-stage charisma, Pride's (main) strength lies in his voice. With little of the "twang" that is so prevalent in country music, Charley delivers lyrics with a powerful, mellow style that flows pleasantly to the listeners ear.

To hear the Charley Pride sound one can easily pick up his latest LP "Charley Pride Volume 2." But to fully appreciate the man he must be seen in his element—on stage, singing to the people.

Also on the bill were the North Door Singers, who provided some fine background vocals for Charley in addition to their own act. d.e.

Dave Mason

SANTA MONICA CIVIC AUDITORIUM — When it comes right down to no-nonsense, well-played rock music, Dave Mason has a way of establishing and then re-establishing his position as one of our finest and most dynamic performers. He was in the best of form on this date and was backed up by a group of musicians totally into his music. The organist, Mark Jordan, was especially brilliant, perfectly countering Dave's guitar and supplying the vocal harmony. The unusually talented band also included Lonny Turner on bass, Richie Jaeger on drums, Rocky Dezaveau on congas and the singing Pebble Sisters.

There was none of the tension or uncertainty that has characterized much of Dave's career. This night his confidence and strength were more than evident, and the crowd responded immediately. Mason's music is also very strong and often quite unique in an oddly familiar way. It is rock, without apologies and without gimmicks, and Dave himself never succumbs to staged or stagey behavior. Mason is content to expose himself through his music only, and as a result, the feeling and effect of the music itself is more apparent.

In all aspects, Mason's performance more than lived up to the notices he has been unanimously receiving on this tour. He has unquestionably come back strong from the confusion that marred his last record and seems to finally have his future well in hand.

The concert opened with an excellent introduction to the newest addition to Asylum's stable of artists, J. D. Souther, with a hidden Linda Ronstadt backing him up vocally. He was followed with a set by Cold Blood. j.w.

Anne Murray England Dan & John Ford Coley

TROUBADOUR, L.A. — Anne Murray's Troubadour debut was transformed from an anticipated evening of country folk music to a snowbird of a different color. Anne Murray, like so many artists who become identified with their biggest hit, has outgrown the hit, so much so that her performance of "Snowbird," although enthusiastically greeted, was a low point of a beautiful set.

Miss Murray performed much of the material from her new Capitol album "Annie," but with an important musical difference, which was evident even before the charming Canadian songstress appeared on stage. The difference is her six piece back up group named Richard. Once on stage, Anne Murray broke immediately and somewhat nervously into "You Can't Have a Hand on Me," a Billy Gale tune with a pronounced bass line, heavy beat, meaningful lyrics and a chorus that would hang perfectly on The Band. In her other songs Miss Murray sounded surprisingly gruff, allowing the country sweetness of her voice to peak out only during less powerful, softer songs. It is apparent she is trying to make, or has made, the ever-more-subtle transition from a country artist to a "city" artist. There is no doubt that the petite blonde has the talent to entertain any audience she chooses; the question is whether the audience, particularly the record buyer, will disregard the old labels, watch the snowbird melt away, and let Miss Murray work her magic.

Opening the evening at the Troubadour were A & M's England Dan and John Ford Coley, two young men from Texas whose soft acoustic sound and gentle harmonies are pleasant yet not quite distinctive enough to make much of a lasting impression. "Free the People," soon to be released as a new single, was the high point of the set. Like their other material, it is a tasteful, full song, slightly lacking in the excitement necessary for a hit. b.c.

Lionel Hampton

RAINBOW GRILL, NYC — Lionel Hampton and his aggregate opened July 10, in the local nitery for a 3-week stand and a celebrity packed dinner crowd was on hand to greet Hampton, a major musical personality and, above all, one of the finest representatives as a musical goodwill ambassador for our state department.

There was a considerable opening delay while a camera crew completed preparations for filming the Hamp's entire first set; but, once those vibes went into action there was no stopping the show and the audience thrilled to every moment.

The Hamp band, sparked by the exuberance of Lionel, effortlessly breezes along regardless of what musical bag is reached into, and the offerings, swinging or mellow, bluesy or funky, magically carry one along with the jazz and vibe master. Hampton is also featuring a sultry vocalist, Stella Marrs who did an excellent version of, 'Let's Stay Together', the Al Green chart rider. This particular set included musical selections from all over the world that have been given the special Hampton stamp. Aside from the standard hits, a funky jazz version of the theme from 'Shaft', 'Aquarius' and 'Spinning Wheel' kept things rolling along at a spine tingling pace. Even after an extended opening set, the Hamp kept moving along for the dancing pleasure and the floor was packed. They could have continued straight through the night and nobody would have left.

On these hot summer nights, the Grill is the place to be for the coolest sounds in town. d.d.

GTI Summer Jazz

FELT FORUM, NYC — With rain failing to dampen the spirits of both hard core jazz aficionados and the casually curious, Madison Square Garden's Felt Forum hosted "GTI Summer Jazz", a well-programmed presentation of individual instrumental leaders reprising riffs with which they've become identified and augmenting each other's efforts in ensemble play.

From the opening siren of Grover Washington's "Inner City Blues" audience vibes got hotter, setting a pace well matched to the music tempo.

Outstanding were Stanley Turrentine's "Sugar", the aforementioned Grover Washington tour de force and solos by Freddie Hubbard, Hank Crawford and Hubert Laws. Consistently fine rhythm backup came from bassist Ron Carter, drummer Jack DeJohnette and Bob James on Electric piano. Milt Jackson appeared all too infrequently in ensemble and limited his solo showcase to a brief hint of his vibe virtuosity.

Brazilian percussionist Airto proved a visual as well as an auditory delight with his assortment of shakes, rattles, gourds, bells and other noise-makers—some indigenous; others innovative.

Vocalist Ester Phillips, appearing both in the opening stanza and after intermission drew a standing ovation for her blend of jazz, soul and earthy interpretations in her first New York appearance in seven years. Unques-ASHGROVE, L.A. — "Clap your hands! If you don't feel like calppin', stomp your feet!! If you don't feel like stompin' your feet, shake your tail feather even if you have to do it in your seat!!! So went the words of Big Ella, and so went the people at the Ashgrove. It was obvious that the "Albert King I'll Play the Blues For You Review" had come to town. Hit by good showmanship and down-to-home blues, a jumping audience began chanting for the man. And when things were finally at their highest, out came Al to prove the acclaim was well deserved.

Albert King

The lefthanded King, who plays a righthanded guitar upside down, stepped on stage and let loose with some real solid blues. Ranging from old to new, King whirled through numbers like "Born Under A Bad Sign," and his latest single, "I'll Play the Blues For You."

The name Big Ella (5'7" and 200 lbs.) should not go unmentioned as she had set the tempo for things to come with a bouncing, funky dance and song routine that had the people rolling right along with her.

The Albert King Review is comprised of excitement, entertainment, and just damn good music. This show is one that should be seen by all blues lovers. m.a.

tionably the star of the show, she portends to be a major force in vocalizing the music of today. p.t.

POP PICKS

SEVEN SEPARATE FOOLS—Three Dog Night—ABC Dunhill DSD50118

It will take you a while to get past the beautiful boxed jacket which also includes seven suitable for framing color cards depicting each member of the group in an appropriate role. But once you get to the disk itself, you'll be glad to discover that Three Dog Night has done it again. Done what? Put together another superlative set—the kind that has kept them on the charts these last three years. We're glad the boys finally got around to "Tulsa Turnaround," a little refrain which has long been ideal for them. Other gems: "Freedom For The Stallion" and a great version of "My Old Kentucky Home," which just happens to be written by Randy Newman who penned "Mama Told Me Not To Come." A super outing—and that's no fooling.

TRILOGY—Emerson Lake & Palmer

Latest venture from rockdom's most explosive trio finds them working out once again in a near-classical vein. As per usual, Keith Emerson provides most of the sparks, capering grandly on piano, organ and Moog synthesizer. Of the new pieces we particularly liked "From The Beginning," a tune composed by Greg Lake. For the more traditional minded there is a treatment of a selection from Aaron Copland's "Rodeo." This group grows more popular with each passing day—this album should find its way onto the top ten in nothing flat.

WAKA/JAWAKA—HOT RATS—Frank Zappa—Bizarre Reprise 2094

"Sometimes I feel like a Motherless child," Frank Zappa might well have sung on this excursion sans his usual traveling mates. Instead he has chosen to concentrate on a free-wheeling improvisational semi-jazz type set which has much to offer. Side one which consists of a seventeen minute thing called "Big Swifty," is a fascinating example of Zappa's instrumental technique while side two contains a couple of vocal numbers more in keeping with the Mothers' standard madcap fare. Should scurry onto the album chart before long.

SANFORD AND SON—RCA LPM—4739

First came the television show and now comes the record. And the same success story which took place with "All In The Family" should be in the cards for this album featuring dialogue from the popular series "Sanford And Son." No stranger to records, Redd Foxx is nothing short of devastating as he delivers each comic line in incomparable fashion. Slap this disk on the turntable and get set to laugh a lot.

SUNDEGO'S TRAVELLING ORCHESTRA—Jim Price—Dunhill DSX 50125

Long respected as a session man and an integral part of the accompaniment to such groups as Delaney & Bonnie and The Rolling Stones, Jim Price now emerge with a beautifully crafted debut album on which he plays a variety of brass instruments and sings in a winning style. Price is at his best when he's romping and stomping—check out "Roll & Rooll & Roll," "I Can't Find The Road" and "I Ain't Got The Blues No More." They're like powerful blasts of fresh air. LP is already beginning to pick up considerable airplay and should make a chart appearance soon.

CORNELIUS BROTHERS AND SISTER ROSE—United Artists UAS-5568

On the basis of their two Top 3 singles alone (their debut item, "Treat Her Like A Lady" and their current "Too Late To Turn Back Now,") this one can be expected to be a huge sales item. But there's some more fine music going down here: "Just Ain't No Love (Like A Lady's)," "Good Loving Don't Come Easy" and a treatment of Al Green's "Let's Stay Together" (the only non-original in the package). For those wondering what Sister Rose can do in the spotlight, there's "Gonna Be Sweet For You." Recorded in Miami, this group could well start a "city thing" going for the town, a la Memphis and Detroit. This is indeed a sound to be reckoned with.

TOO YOUNG—Donny Osmond—MGM SE 4854

The heartthrob of the younger set has come up with his tastiest album yet. Donny's current hit single, "Too Young," is only one of the vintage songs revived. Others include "Donna," "Pretty Blue Eyes," "Lonely Boy" and a likely contender for singles honors, "A Teenager In Love." But it's not all a nostalgia trip—"Last Of The Red Hot Lovers" and "To Run Away" are a couple of catchy new items. Donny's legions of loyal fans will put this LP on the high rungs of the chart pronto.

FOXY LADY—Cher—Kapp KRS-5514

Here's the new Cher album and it's great. How's that for a smart opener? Well, it's true. The Foxy Lady has done it again—taken ten songs and stamped them indelibly with the imprint of her personality and style. Her chart single, "Living In A House Divided," kicks it off in splendid fashion and the artist never lets up, turning in fine renditions of Leon Russell's "A Song For You," Hoyt Axton's "Never Been To Spain" and a lovely number called "It Might As Well Stay Monday." Superior listening fare here.

PEACE WILL COME—Tom Paxton—Reprise 2096

For his second album on Reprise Records, Tom Paxton has again produced a collection of subtle persuasion. The folk troubadour whose career started with the almost autobiographical "Ramblin' Boy" has evolved the social commentary song to far-reaching horizons—the surface simplicity of a Paxton tune adds even further to the depth and sophistication of its inner meaning. His songs stress evolution rather than revolution, as evidenced by the title tune, "Peace Will Come." Other featured selections are "Jesus Christ S.R.O.," "You Came Throwing Colors," "I Lost My Heart On A 747," "California" and "Retrospective."

EARLY FACES—The Small Faces—Pride PRD-0001

Long before Rod Stewart happened to join them, the Faces were making beautiful music together. This collection of ten songs really goes back to their earliest years. It is really Early Faces. It is also really good to listen to, thanks mostly to the energetic vocal performance of Steve Marriott, who, of course, is now the driving force behind Humble Pie. Listen to the boys do the old Del Shannon hit "Runaway" and pick up on "Come Back And Take Hurt Off Me." Prime stuff. Should find ready acceptance among Faces and Pie fans alike.

PLAY IT AGAIN, SAM—Original Soundtrack—Paramount PAS 1004

Everybody's favorite schnook enlists the aid of Humphrey Bogart to enhance his love life and the results are a hilarious movie. This soundtrack features original dialogue and music from the film; lots of laughs in the former and some nicely swinging jazz in the latter courtesy of the Oscar Peterson Trio. Naturally, "As Time Goes By" is here too, as conducted by Billy Goldenberg, who also composed the score.

NICE TO BE WITH YOU—Gallery—Sussex SXBS 7017

The title tune went #1, and the group could well prove a stable and successful pop band with this easy-on-the-ears LP. They re-do two oldies in fine fashion: Jerry Butler's "He Will Break Your Heart" and The Innocents' "Gee Whiz," but the accent is on more recent and largely original material, penned by the group's lead vocalist, Jim Gold. In the latter category, "Ginger Haired Man" and "Lover's Hideaway" stand out. To top off the package, Mac Davis' "I Believe In Music" and Neil Diamond's "Sunday And Me." It's nice to have 'cause it's so nice to hear.

NEW YORK—ROBIN & JO: PICK A PAIR Husband and wife performing duos aren't exactly a new show business phenomenon. Without even trying, teams like Les and Mary, Steve and Eydie and Sonny and Cher pop to the mind. Which brings us to Robin & Jo who are completely unlike any of those acts. Pretty catchy beginning for this article, eh?

Robin & Jo are Robin McNamara and his wife Joanne and their first single, a new version of the Dixie Cups "Chapel Of Love," (a blasto from the pasto all right) has just been released on the A&M label. If your recall of seasonal smashes is intact, you no doubt remember that Robin's "Lay A Little Lovin' On Me" was one of the really fine summer hits of 1970. And chances are you caught him in the New York production of "Hair," in which he appeared for several years, eventually performing in the lead male role.

Robin is your classic case of being in the right place at the right time. He wandered into an audition for "Hair" more out of curiosity than any real conviction that he'd win a part. But win one he did, enabling him to put as ornery a string of odd jobs as you could imagine (exterminator, warehouse worker, etc.) firmly behind him. When we spoke to Robin, he had been out of the show for more than a year but was on the verge of re-uniting with the cast for a McGovern fund-raising benefit. "Whenever the 'Hair' people get together, he said, we have some kind of party. There is still a strong bond among the players.

But though Robin agrees that it's fun to reminisce, he has his eyes fixed on the future. "I was offered a role in a Broadway show," he pointed out, "and it was really tempting. But I had to turn it down. I had three years of that and what I really want to do now is work with Joanne and make Robin & Jo a hit act."

"Performing together just sort of happened, I guess. We've been married for five years and we've known each other since high school so obviously by now we have our thing together." Their thing consists of several vocal solos by Robin, backed by a six man group called Sunshine. This is followed by the appearance

HOLLYWOOD—MARK VOLMAN & HOWARD KAYLAN: EVEN MY MOTHER LIKED ME AS A TURTLE

He was respectful to his elders. He never used dirty words. Most of his records sold a million copies. And so what if he was a little overweight?

But everything changed for Mark Volman when the Turtle joined the infamous Frank Zappa and became a Mother. When Mark and his high school friend and fellow Turtle Howard Kaylan joined Zappa, they experienced a terrific backlash by instantly going from respectable to despicable—a big overnight change. Now Kaylan and Volman are lashing back as the Phlorescent Leech and Eddie, a new Reprise act and album able to leap tall metaphors with a single belly roll, and a show full of laughs.

Kaylan and Volman inaugurated their new act at the Funky Quarters in San Diego where, between sets, they tried to explain their incredible name. "We got the names Leech and Eddie because one of our old road managers was real straight and the other was real square," explained Mark. "Actually," fabricated Howard, "we had three hats. In one, we had adjectives. In the other, nouns. And in the third boy's names. We picked one from each. We could have been the Incredible Fig and Roger."

The truth of the matter is that Kaylan and Volman were involved in litigation when they joined the Mothers and so couldn't use their real names. But what's in a name? "Nothing," said Mark. "At least even if people can't remember our name, they'll call us the guys who call themselves that even though they're not. Some promoter called us up and said 'You can't call yourself that. It's dumb.' But we were with Frank for two years, so anything goes."

Touring the country with Kaylan and Volman are four musicians including Ansley Dunbar and Don Preston both of whom are also ex-Mothers. The disassociation of the four musicians from the Mothers is in part due to the fact that Zappa is still recuperating from leg injuries inflicted at a European concert of Jo and she and Robin sing a few songs together. Then she gets the solo spotlight to close out the show. If it sounds uncomplicated and laid-back, it's probably because it is. Robin & Jo are that sort of people.

Robin & Jo

Last week when we got together for a long lunch, it was like being with old friends, though we scarcely knew Robin and were only meeting Joanne for the first time. Robin recalled a single he made some time ago called "Mary, Jane & Me." "It was a great song but a lot of radio stations got scared off because they thought we were talking about marijuana. What it was though was a song about a guy getting it on with two different girls at the same time. The flip side was a little number called "Beer Drinking Man." I suppose you could say those two songs sum up what I'm all about."

The public will be finding out what Robin & Jo are all about when the couple begins touring and once their first album is released. They just began a three week gig at Gulliver's in Port Chester, N.Y. and will be traveling extensively come fall. In the studio, they will be working with Jeff Barry, who produced their single and with whom Robin has written numerous tunes. Admittedly we're prejudiced in favor of nice people but when Robin and Jo make it big, niceness will have played only a minimal part. And talent will have made up the difference.

when he was thrown off of the stage and into the orchestra pit by the over zealous, jealous boyfriend of one of his fans. Neither Kaylan nor Volman wanted to remain idle while Zappa recovered; so the separation may or may not be permanent, but certainly is amicable.

Kaylan and Volman will admit that they are not the most serious of musicians and in fact refer to themselves as "a couple of schleps who are just doing a job." The job that they are doing is "to reflect the concept of our emotional environment." The surprisingly serious songs that do just that "are songs about what we all go through every day. Fighting one minute and loving the next minute. The songs are a reflection of our lifestyle, and that's just a reflection of your lifestyle." Their new-found seriousness comes as a reaction to doing only comedic music for the last two years. Besides, this time Kaylan and Volman claim not to be striving to be pop stars ("We're not skinny enough").

The fun of the Phlorescent Leech and Eddie for Kaylan and Volman is playing second bill again for the first time in seven years. The boys don't miss the tension and pressure of the top bill and in fact enjoyed warming up the San Diego audiences for Sweathog. Later in the tour, they'll be opening for Sha Na Na, Rare Earth and other top name artists. They've decided that starting at the bottom is the only way to get to the top and still be able to look down with pride.

"I just want to be able to look back and say I made it without using the name Turtles," said Mark. "We worked with Frank, and we worked with The Turtles, and we worked with T-Rex. We joke about all those big pop stars in our act, and we say that they'd be nothing without us, but it's only out of jealousy. We want to be as big as those people so they'll mention us in their show. But, they'd be nothing without us anyway."

Included in the Phlorescent Leech and Eddie Show are many of the bits and dialogues that helped make the Mothers' recent shows so enjoyable. Notably present are the famous performing daredevils, the Zanzini Brothers, a family of acrobats impersonated by the band, appear at any convenient moment or lull to do one of their mind boggling stunts such as the Chalice of Horror, the Pyramid Trick or the Ring of Fire. The Zanzinis are far from thrilling yet always near hysterically funny through their existential non-tricks; like throwing a plush toy dog through a flaming hoop of strings to caliope organ music and drum rolls.

Mark Volman and Howard Kaylan are determined in their own comedic-serious and always delightfully musical way to corner the market on schitzoid rock. "Not neurotic rock a la Alice," explained Mark, "But totally normal schitzoid rock." Suddenly the Phlorescent Leech and Eddie join arms and sing responsively and spontaneously—

"You are my Sun sign.
My only Sun sign.
I am an Aries,
You are one too.
Your rising's Leo,
My Moon's in Taurus.
You're a Catholic, I'm a Jew."

NEW YORK—LARRY GROCE: THE COMPLETE MEDIA MENTALITY WITH A SMILE
There are a few creatives among us who can't bottle their gifts or themselves, at least not in a standard-size container. Daybreak's Larry Groce is into so many things, it's hard to know just where to start telling you about him. But while he's serious about everything he does, there is also a cherubic slant to all his efforts. His creations come in various sizes and shapes, but in each non-container, there's something that bubbles and refreshes.

In addition to writing lyrics for his music, he's also written a number of children's books which are currently being illustrated by friend John Beland, guitar and dobro player with Swampwater. One's about "The Little Kid Who Grew A Moustache" and winds up saving the mayor's daughter by rescuing her from a well with his unusual growth. Another is "Oscar Drooley And The Blame-It Machine" and concerns a boy who constructs a mechanical device to take all the hard knocks he always seems to encounter because of his age and size. Larry is also a playwright, and here the accent is also on semi-fantasy based in reality. In one, a gunman interrupts a TV talk show in progress. In another, a Howard Hughes type attempts to replace New York's Grand Central Station with a cornfield.

Larry Groce is a poet without as well as with musical accompaniment. A few years ago, he wrote four parodies of Rolling Stone verse and later discovered that a friend had sent them to the bell-bottomed equivalent of Fortune where they were immediately accepted for publication. Three have already run and the fourth will, unless Jann Wenner is reading Cash Box regularly these days.

Groce has two fine albums on Daybreak, but his greatest "hit" thus far isn't even on a label in the industry sense of the term. A number of years ago he recorded an LP of hymns of the Christian Science church (he became actively involved with the faith at the age of 16), and to date, it has sold in excess of 100,000 disks and tapes. The baroque style of the session (dominated by recorder and harpsicord) is far removed from his commercial, secular moods, and he even sang in different "voice" because he felt it was warranted. The organization frequently flies him to various meetings and convocations to perform, but since he has been able to support himself through his other endeavors, he no longer accepts payment for these appearances. He does receive royalties from the hymn LP and feels that is remuneration enough. He has also been asked to do another sacred LP, and Daybreak has no objections to what some other labels might feel is a rather unconventional arrangement.

Though he now calls L. A. home, Larry works chiefly on the Texas college and club circuit (he's originally from Dallas) and is considered very much a part of the Dallas scene which also includes B. W. Stevenson, Mike Nesmith and Michael Murphey. The rest of the country is also learning about Larry, and not to belittle his company's promo efforts, much is due to his personal touch. Groce is rather successful at walking into an FM station and walking out having been interviewed on the air or having done an on-the-spot live concert. He's visited KDNA in St. Louis, KRLD-FM and Columbus' WCOL-FM to name a few with very positive hopes and he is hardly ever disappointed. Larry has found that (interestingly enough) commercial stations are usually more willing to let him do his thing on the air than are college outlets.

Larry is also his own manager and booker. Not that he doesn't trust anyone else with his career—it's just that as long as he can find time for everything, he'd just as soon do it himself.

One intriguing gig he got with the help and support of Daybreak was a spot in the Ondo Nueva Festival in Caracas. He was the only solo act on the bill, and was able to communicate well with the audience no matter what their native tongue.

Larry's characters in his music are varied, but always vivid and totally convincing. One of his tunes is about The Duke Of Windsor, another about the business-oriented everyman behind his desk-fortress and his secretary who cannot go along with his inattentiveness to human problems. His ability to set life to music has brought in comments from reviewers both over-and underground of the kindest sort: "the best thing to come along since Kristofferson," "did more for me in two listens than James Taylor did in 20."

He's working on his third LP for Daybreak, using quite a few tunes penned by "new" Texas composers who are old friends, one or two traditionals, and tunes by Marty Robbins and Frank Wakefield. He described his production goal (yes, he produces himself too) as "simplicity." And it's a simple fact that more and more people will be finding out about him very soon.

Pop Best Bets

TOM RAPP—Reprise 2069

Here we have a specially-Rapped package of tunes for which the Pearls Before Swine were best known. Perhaps the ultimate in underground groups, the Pearls built a loyal if not large following, and were the first to use many concepts and sounds that are now common to pop music. The group always revolved around the creativity of Tom Rapp, and what's so special about this set is that he has recorded new versions of the old tunes, and has thrown in some very recent originals. Highlights are "Grace Street," "The Jeweler," "Charley And The Lady," "Margery," "Sail Away" "Snow Queen" and "These Things Too."

MAMA LION—Family FPS 2702

Mama Lion is a quintet that hits you right between the eyes. Sparked by the intense and throaty vocals of Lynn Carey, they tear into songs like most people tear into an ear of buttered corn. Comparisons between Lynn and the late Janis Joplin will be inevitable but superfluous. Lynn is very much her own woman as she demonstrates on songs like "Can't Find My Way Home," "Ain't Too Proud To Beg" and especially "Cry." Her accompanists are excellent throughout. Look for this Artie Ripp produced group to create excitement over the coming months.

W.C. FIELDS FOR PRESIDENT—Rich Little—Caedmon TC 9101

Revivals of W.C. Fields films abound throughout the land as does interest in the Presidential election. What better time then to combine the two with comedy in mind. Impressionist Rich Little has taken the words of Fields on a host of subjects including marriage, the federal income tax, etiquette, business knowhow and babies. His voice is practically a duplicate of Fields. It all adds up to a topical and highly amusing LP. Caedmon might have a strong charter here.

RICK SPRINGFIELD—Capitol SMAS-11047

Rick Springfield is a talented young newcomer whose first album is an interesting assortment of original songs—most of them melodic and up-tempo. "Come On Everybody," "Hooky Jo," and "Speak To The Sky" are the sort of rhythmic items which are immediately likeable but it is on the softer numbers that Rick really excels. Listen to "What Would The Children Say" and particularly to "1,000 Years." Latter's as good a song as has come along this year.

LOVE MUST BE THE REASON—James Last—Polyder PD 5509

Love is the bond which ties together these eleven songs, performed by James Last, his orchestra and chorus. There are "Speak Softly, Love," "The Way Of Love," "I Don't Know How To Love Him," "Wedding Song (There Is Love)," and several more tunes on a romantic theme. Just the thing for MOR programmers to make the summer days that much more pleasant.

A ROCK & ROLL COLLECTION—Buddy Holly—Decca DXSE7-207

The current oldies revival and the tribute paid to Buddy Holly via Don McLean's "American Pie" smash are only two reasons why response to this gathering of two dozen songs will meet with good response. The overriding reason is that these selections, half done with the Crickets, represent important contributions to the history of rock even while they sound great right here in 1972. All the Holly hits are here plus some lesser known stuff which is also first rate.

U.S. Agency To Film Owens Recording Session

BAKERSFIELD — The U.S. Information Agency recently arrived in Bakersfield, Cal., from Washington, D.C., to film a 16mm short at the studios of Country star Buck Owens.

Buck and his Buckaroos were filmed in a recording session and the cameras tried to depict all the different and varied aspects of recording in the United States. Buck was featured as he sang, performed instrumentally, instructed his group, and later as he mixed-down the tape on the 16 track console.

Other artists participating in the session and who were also captured on celluloid were Buddy Alan and The Bakersfield Brass, members of the Buck Owens All American Show now touring the U.S. and the world.

The entire purpose of the filming was to produce a 3-4 minute short feature to be shown through the Information Agency in close to 50 countries throughout the world, including South America, Southeast Asia, and India, to give foreign lands an idea of how records are produced here in America.

Chart/Contour Tape Release

ATLANTA — Contour Tapes, Atlanta, Georgia, has just released the first 8-track cartridges produced under their contract agreement with Chart Records of Nashville. Contour has obtained the right to produce cartridges and cassettes on any of the Chart albums six months after release date. In addition, Contour has released 8-track cartridges of its own two artist groups, Marks of Excellence and Music City Twin Pianos.

Contour Tapes, a subsidiary of Cartridge Control Corp., made its first recordings in the summer of 1971. These were produced for Contour by Danny Davis, leader of the Nashville Brass, and were recorded at the RCA and Woodland Studios in Nashville. At the same time, a tape was being produced at Project 70 Sound Studios in Atlanta by John Barbe, also for the Contour label.

The first 8-track cartridges to be released are: "Big Girls Don't Cry", Lynn Anderson; "Lynn Anderson with Strings"; "I'm Alright", Lynn Anderson; "Greatest Hits, Vol. I", Lynn Anderson; "Songs that Made Country Girls Famous", Lynn Anderson; "The Best of Lynn Anderson"; "At Home with Lynn", Lynn Anderson; "Are You From Dixie", Del Wood; "The Best of Junior Samples"; "Greatest Hits", Anthony Armstrong Jones; "Best of Our Country Girls", Various Artists; For The Good Times", The Marks of Excellence; "Bridge Over Troubled Waters", The Marks of Excellence; "Love Story", The Marks of Excellence; "Golden Keyboard Favorites", Music City Twin Pianos; "Nashville's Greatest Hits", Music City Twin Pianos; and "Sounds of '70's Vol. 1"

The entire second half of the symphony performance was devoted to Price, with the 85 piece Dallas Symphony providing background under the direction of Anshel Brusilau. Cam Mullins was brought to Dallas from Nashville to handle the arrangements with the symphony for the performance.

Country Artist of the Week: BOBBIE ROY

ONE WOMAN'S TREASURE—Music has never been far from German born Bobbie Roy's mind. As an army "brat" Bobbie has had many moves and they have all included steps toward becoming a country music's recording artist.

After winning first place in talent contests in and around the Virginias, Bobbie moved to Nashville and became a regular on WSM's Noon Show, where Capitol producer Bill Walker discovered her and signed her to a recording contract. Her first record, "One Woman's Trash (Is Another Woman's Treasure)", received immediate acceptance and is climbing the national charts.

Personal management and booking is by Frank Rogers, executive director of the Pro-Celebrity Golf Tournament in Nashville.

Contreras' Cartwheel Promo Post

NASHVILLE — John Contreras, veteran entertainment business promotion figure, has been promoted to the national promotion post at Cartwheel Records. Contreras succeeds Dale Morris in the job. Morris has been moved up to vice president in charge of marketing and promotion for Cartwheel.

Before joining Cartwheel, Contreras served as manager for Walter Sill Amusements of Kentucky. Contreras' background also includes considerable involvement with the country music industry. John was one of the key figureheads in putting together the World Talent Search, a benefit for the Southeastern Indian Antiquities Survey, Inc. SIAS' projected goal is to build an Indian center at Mound Bottoms along the Harpeth River, a few miles from Nashville. In connection with the talent show, John and Steve Ham, of Quadrafonic Studios, produced a recording session with one of the winning groups.

Porter Wagoner. "Ballads of Love."

An altogether beautiful album.

Porter has recorded just about every kind of album there is, but never before an album composed solely of love songs.

Never until now. Songs like "Love's Melody," "The Hands of Love," "Denise Mayree" (dedicated to his daughter—that's her on the album cover).

"Ballads of Love." Musical definitions of every kind of love there is.

C & W Singles Reviews

Picks of the Week

DOLLY PARTON (RCA 0757)

Washday Blues (2:00) (Owepar, BMI—P. Wagoner)

Dolly Parton spreads new blue cheer with this Porter Wagoner tune that sports cute lyrics and one of the funkier c&w arrangements going. Bound to come up on top of the load. Flip: "Just As Good As Gone" (2:26) (Owepar, BMI—D. Parton).

LIZ ANDERSON (Epic 10896)

Astrology (2:45) (Greenback, BMI—L. Anderson)

Liz Anderson has written a farout original that puts the astrology charts to music. The lyrics and arrangement should waste no time in boosting this tune on many charts, both pop and country. Flip: no info available.

JEAN SHEPARD (Capitol 3395)

Just Like Walkin' In The Sunshine (2:22) (Central, BMI—N. Merritt, A. Woodward)

The title of this song is an apt description of the music contained therein. A bright and shiny tune with perfect sales potential during the summer months. Flip: "Candlelight World" (2:34) (Tree, BMI—R. Lane).

KENNI HUSKEY (Capitol 3394)

Hollywood & Vine (2:03) (Blue Book, BMI—B. Morris, F. Morris)

Kenni sings a song about a friend waiting to be discovered by hanging out on Hollywood & Vine. Kenni doesn't have to wait, she's all set to go with a potential hit sound. Flip: "You'll Never Miss The Water (Till The Well Runs Dry)" (1:55) (Blue Book, BMI—B. Owens, D. Rich).

STEVE YOUNG (Reprise 1100)

Many Rivers (2:57) (Golden Chain/Ridge, BMI—S. Young)

A talented lyricist-composer already well-known in folk circles for his "Seven Bridges Road," Steve Young sings another original and shows that he can become a very big country talent. Flip: "Seven Bridges Road," (3:22) (same credits).

WARNER MACK (Decca 32982)

You're Burnin' My House Down (2:40) (Page Boy, SESAC—W. McPherson)

The man who had a chart showing with "Draggin' The River," returned home to find that his girlfriend was a pyromaniac. A funky "torch" song that could blaze its way to a good slot with the proper exposure. Flip: "Your Warm Love" (2:35) (Forrest Hills, BMI—H. Beach).

MAC WISEMAN (RCA 0758)

On Susan's Floor (2:50) (Jack, BMI—V. Mathews, S. Silverstein)

Bluegrass veteran Mac Wiseman has a top prospect in this vividly lyrical Shel Silverstein-Vince Mathews composition that already has received fine folk treatment from Gordon Lightfoot. Flip: "Song Of The Wildwood" (3:02) (Gold Dust, BMI—B. McDill).

Best Bets

SANDY BAGLEY & THE WILDWOOD ANGLES (Wrayco 219)

Powmia (3:13) (Maple, ASCAP—C. Null) This record concerns all those American soldiers who are prisoners of war (POW) or missing in action (MIA). Sandy Bagley sings this Cecil Null tune with convincing emotion—it's written about her husband Bobby and makes a poignant statement. Flip: "You'll Go Away Hungry Today" (3:03) (Cedarwood, BMI—C. Null).

BOBBY KIRKPATRICK (Country Showcase America 121)

Candy, Candy (Sweetness Of Candy) (2:34) (CSA, BMI—Gosman, O'Leary) Bobby Kirkpatrick has here a catchy tune that stays true to its name; take a little taste and you'll be back for more. Should command substantial airplay in multiple markets if given proper exposure. Flip: no info available.

JERRY CLOWER (Decca 52993)

Knock Him Out John (2:36) (Leeds/Doorway, AS-Clower, Andrews, Wilkes) The Mouth Of Mississippi weaves another backwoods story in the form of a folksy monolog. Not really a chart contender, but a fine item for specialty programming. Flip: "The Meek Shall Inherit The Earth" (3:05) (same credits).

DANNY EPPS (Columbia 45641)

Still Water, Sad Song (4:04) (Sheet, ASCAP—D. Epps) Danny Epps wrote this slow and sad ballad which he performs with solid emotions. Depending on the promotional effort given to it, this local color ballad could either go all the way to the top or be forgotten by the wayside. Flip: no info available.

BOB YARBROUGH (Sugar Hill 21)

Rose, You've Left A Thorn In My Heart (2:49) (Candle, ASCAP—J. Hurley) The rather vivid image of this song title is backed up by a descriptive and original single from Bob Yarbrough. Stands a decent chance for survey action. Flip: no info available.

PAT MCKINNEY (Mega 0084)

Jersey 33 (2:32) (4-Star, BMI—B. J. Robinson) This Betty Jean Robinson ballad receives understanding interpretation in the unique vocal stylization of Pat McKinney. Flip: no info available.

JEFF YOUNG (Rice 5051)

California Lady (2:50) (Newkeys, BMI—J. Young) In an original composition, Jeff Young tells the bright and energetic tale of his West Coast lover. The banjo and the beat are a perfect marriage for a commercial sound. Flip: "Loving Her Completely" (2:34) (Newkeys, BMI—D. Stock, J. Young).

THE COUNTRY CAVELEERS (Cutlass 124)

Now I Can Live Again (2:22) (Jack, BMI—J. Clement) The Country Caveleers come across with a clean sound, tight harmonies and a very pleasing and catchy tune. Should be hitbound in c&w markets. Flip: "Stop In The Name Of Love" (2:06) (East Memphis, BMI—J. W. Anderson).

PEGGY SUE (Decca 32984)

Bread Upon The Waters (2:21) (TRO/evil Eye, BMI—S. Silverstein) Shel Silverstein strikes again! This time Shel is represented by a bouncy ballad that could take Peggy Sue on a nice excursion up the charts. Flip: "Coffe And Tears" (2:15) (Sawgrass, BMI—J. McCord).

Country LP Reviews

THE LONESOMEST LONESOME—Ray Price—Columbia 31546

If you happen to be a Ray Price fan already, then you don't have to know that it's been two years between this album and his "For The Good Times" LP, because you've been counting every single day while waiting! Price has a fanatic following that will immediately shoot this album to the top, and for good reasons. Ray is c&w's ultimate Golden Throat, and string arrangements by Cam Mullins are smooth as silk. Featured cuts are "Empty Chairs," "One Night To Remember," "That's What Leaving's About," "But I Was Lying" and "Time."

ELEVEN ROSES—Hank Williams, Jr.—MGM 4843

With the top single on the Cash Box country charts for the past two weeks, Hank Williams, Jr., launches heavily into the LP market with an album revolving around his single hit. With every new album, Hank gains stature from increased popularity as well as added musical depth. Hank Williams, Jr. is a self-made man, with his highly individual style coming through strong on tunes such as "Hamburger Steak, Holiday Inn," "Just Like Me," "Big Fool Of The Year," "Divorce Or Destroy" and "She."

WHY DON'T WE GO SOMEWHERE AND LOVE—Sandy Posey—Columbia 31594

Sandy Posey is breathing new life into country music. She is not afraid to do something different if she feels it, even if at first it is considered against tradition. She knows that she must do what she feels, because she must tell the truth and she must be heard. She has a lot to say both lyrically and musically and her voice rings with a determination and strength that place her in a class by herself. If people are ready for what she has to offer, then this could easily be one of the top country albums of the year. Includes "Together," "The Joy Of Being A Woman" and the title tune.

YOU ALMOST SLIPPED MY MIND—Kenny Price—RCA 4763

Fresh back from a very popular case of "Charlotte Fever," Kenny Price has gained his solid reputation from his uptempo hits, the most recent being his "Super Sideman" single. The slow, ballad sound of the title tune is an indication of this new album's direction—a new slow and highly emotional style that fits Kenny very well on tunes such as "Show Me A Man," "Whiskey Dirt," "A Poor Man's Gold" and "Don't Let The Good Life Pass You By."

TWO DIVIDED BY LOVE—The Kendalls—Dot 26001

The winners of the new group category of Cash Box's annual Directory Issue country poll, the Kendalls have here an album of smoothly arranged and tightly harmonized songs that use their "Two Divided By Love" hit as a springboard. Royce and Jeannie Kendall are father and daughter, which certainly adds an interesting point of view to the love songs they sing. The fine and tasty production by Pete Drake is the finishing touch on a set that includes "Big Silver Jet," "Easy To Love," "Baby, What's Wrong With Us" and "Can't Make It Under City Lights."

THE BEST OF JOHNNY BUSH—Million 1001

Having a "Best Of . . ." album as the first album for both Johnny Bush and Million Records is a pretty good trick, but it looks as though Bush and Million might pull it off. Although "I'll Be There" was his most sizeable hit to date, the rest of these could easily catch on, and then this would become a genuine "Best Of . . ." after having been out for a year or so. Titles include "What A Way To Live," "My Cup Runneth Over," "You Gave Me A Mountain," "You Ought To Hear Me Cry" and "Warmth Of The Wine."

Country Roundup

Conway Twitty says, "I Can't Stop Loving You" . . . The 4th of July was officially named "Tom T. Hall Day," and the entire week "Tom T. Hall Week" by City Council of Olive Hill, Kentucky. Tom T. was featured in a show on Saturday evening, July 1 and all of East Kentucky was invited to the affair which is an annual homecoming . . . For the third straight year the Statler Brothers celebrated the 4th of July in their hometown, Staunton, Virginia. An old fashioned day of flag waving and entertainment was held to benefit charities of the Staunton area . . . Partheme Music hosted Gloria Jean, star of the silver screen and tv for three decades, recently in preparation for a demo session and her debut into country music as a singer. Gloria Jean was trained as an operatic singer and already had her own radio show and was a seasoned stage performer by the time Joe Pasternak, producer for Universal Studios found her and signed her for a career. That career encompassed 34 motion pictures at Universal for the young woman who started her first movie at the age of ten. Gloria, who has been in semi-retirement for the past several years, is exploring the possibility of getting a Nashville label and using her voice for the modern pop country sound.

Curly Putman, president of Green Grass Music in Nashville, and Jimmy Bowen, professional manager of the publishing firm, have announced the signing of Johnny Slate to an exclusive writers contract . . . While in Kansas City for his two week engagement at the Starlight Theater, Tennessee Ernie Ford visited KCKN AM-FM. He did an hour of Gary Brazeals' 3-6 PM drive shift. Ernie also gave KCKN a world exclusive to his new single that will be released on Capitol, in August. It's called "Pea Pickin' Chef From Tennessee." Also, a new album featuring the single will be released in the fall. The Ford crew was having difficulty coming up with a title for the album so Ernie suggested that KCKN listeners name it. The KCKN contest is drawing great response. The winner receives a complete Ernie Ford album collection and a phone call from Ford.

Cotton Harp, formally of the Las Vegas circuit, moved into Belen, New Mexico, along with Ray Robertson, to handle Little Richie Johnson Enterprises. Ray took over district manager for R&J Advertising and Harp took over Belen Imports and Music Publishing, all headed by Little Richie Johnson. Cotton has been in the music field over 20 years and is well known by many music people . . . "Singing Spring," it is called—the 150-acre Hickman County, Tennessee farm estate purchased by Liz and Casey Anderson recently. The third largest spring in Hickman County, flowing three hundred gallons a minute, is on the property and it is for this spring that Liz named the future homesite of the Andersons . . . Right on the heels of the disbursement of over $30,000 to the charities of the Music City Pro-Celebrity Golf Tournament, recording star Glen Campbell announced that he will return to Nashville for the 1972 tournament which will be held Oct. 13-15 at Crockett Springs International Golf and Country Club.

Epic's Welton Lane headlined a benefit for Kentucky's Pleasure Ridge Volunteer Fire Dept. recently and, according to an official spokesman, "he doubled the crowd draw of what they've usually had in previous years." All proceeds from the event went to the WHAS Crusade for Children . . . The Judy Lynn Show will headline the "Summer Festival" in Milwaukee, July 22, along with Charley Pride . . . Mel Street, whose Royal American recording, "Borrowed Angel", is fast climbing the charts, made this first Grand Ole Opry appearance in Nashville on July 8 . . . A number of show business personalities have entered politics in recent years, and now a Georgia politician has entered show business. Senator Roscoe Dean of Jesup, Georgia has recorded an original work entitled "A Ballad to George Wallace." He said, "I don't exactly sing, I narrate a very inspirational message with the strains of the 'Battle Hymn of the Republic' in the background." The Jesup senator said the recording is a patriotic tribute to the Alabama governor.

Young, new artist, Bobby Kirkpatrick, has signed an artist contract with Country Showcase America Records of Beltsville, Maryland. First release is titled "Candy, Candy" . . . Semie Moseley, president of Mosrite of California, Ind., manufacturers of Mosrite guitars, and Charles A. Ross, president of Kustom Electronics, Inc., Chanute, Kansas, have entered into an agreement which gives Kustom exclusive distribution rights on all Mosrite guitars . . . George Riddle, veteran country artist, has signed with Brite-Star, with first release titled "She's My Woman" . . . Tennessee Governor Winfield Dunn recently proclaimed June 20 as "Jerry Reed Day" throughout the State of Tennessee, in which he urged all citizens of Tennessee to watch the "Jerry Reed When You're Hot, You're Hot Hour" over the CBS TV Network.

The Compton Brothers latest Dot album, entitled "Yellow River" features their last hit single by the same name and contains some of their funmaking songs as well as several more in a more serious vein . . . OMAC Artist Corp. of Bakersfield, California, informs us that Tony Booth has an upcoming tour of Texas and the southwest in the offing for August following his tour of Hawaii in July . . . Bill Anderson and the Po'Boys and Jan Howard are spending a busy July with twenty personal appearance dates . . . Nashville Brass leader, Danny Davis, was recently made honorary Chief of Police in Jackson, Mississippi . . . Chet Atkins, vice president of RCA Records' Nashville operation, recently presented gold albums of Charley Pride's recordings to RCA's engineering staff, Mike Shockley, Tom Pick, and Les Ladd.

Paul Rich, vice president of Carlin Music has returned from a visit to America with more catalogues added to his British company. During a previous Stateside visit, Rich acquired from Stax, British representation of "Shaft" which got as high as No. 3 in the U.K. charts. This time he again visited Memphis and negotiated with Stax for representation of "I'll Take You There" single and "Beatitude Respect Yourself" album by The Staple Singers. Other deals from this house are to follow. He also picked up the publishing rights to the Davimar company of Teo Macero which has around 300 copyrights. Macero has produced such artistes as Miles Davis, Charlie Mingus, Dave Brubeck, Johnny Mathis, Charlie Byrd etc. and is to produce Tony Bennett's next single. Another big publishing catalogue deal negotiated by Rich is for representation to the Oyster and Openend music companies which houses such talents as Sea Train, Trevor Beach, John Hall, Mark Lingman and others.

This month sees the launching of Atlantic's "Heavy and Alive" campaign with the release of nine albums by such aces as Dave Brubeck, Gary Burton, Stephane Grappelly, Gerry Mulligan etc. This promotion of Atlantic's vast jazz catalogue has been brought about since the changeover of distribution from Polydor to the WEA organisation. A "Heavy and Alive" sampler is also being released retailing at 99p. Other artistes to be included in the campaign are the MJQ, Rahsaan Roland Kirk, John Coltrane, Thelonious Monk and Charlie Mingus. Included in the release is a particularly fine album by Dave Brubeck produced by president of Atlantic Records, Nesuhi Ertegun titled "Live at Newport" recorded at the 1971 Newport Jazz Festival and features a live version of the Brubeck classic "Take Five". Ertegun is said to be responsible for the amalgamation of the two jazz greats Gary Burton and Stephane Grappelly on the "Paris Encounter" album. Recorded in France while Burton was on tour, Grappelly, a resident musician at the Hilton Hotel in Paris, commented that he would like to perform with Burton. Ertegun heard of these wishes—hence "Paris Encounter".

Johnny Cash is to play three concerts in London this September following his sell-out tour last fall. Accompanying will be his wife, June Carter, Carl Perkins, Glen Shirley, The Statler Brothers, The Carter Family and his backing group the Tennessee Three. Cash is one of the few chart successful country singers in both the U.K. having recently been in both album and single charts with "A Thing Called Love". CBS release his follow-up single "Kate".

Tony Defries has left the Gem group to form a new company Mainman which will have offices in London and New York. Nick Graham will be responsible for the London office while Defries takes care of New York. Defries is responsible for David Bowie and Mott the Hoople, the latter group having now left the Island label and signed to CBS world wide. CBS are to issue a single "All The Young Dudes" written and produced by Bowie while Hoople will undertake a U.K. tour in September.

Pentangle are to undertake tours of Australia, New Zealand, Scandinavia and Britain, the most extensive in their five year history, to coincide with the release of their first Warner-Reprise album "Solomon's Seal". They take off on August 8th returning to begin their biggest ever U.K. tour October 8th.

The third live "In Concert" program on Radio Luxembourg has been scheduled for early August featuring David Bowie. Previous artistes have been the Beach Boys and the Grateful Dead. Also on July 29th an entire evening of The Rolling Stones will be broadcast including an interview taken during their final concert at Madison Square on July 26th.

EDITORIAL: Professionalism

The music and games operating trade is slowly and inexorably moving into an era best described as "business professionalism." Chit sheets, notes written on napkins and backs of envelopes have given way to data processing equipment at many operations. Barrels of old records are now neatly filed on bookshelves. Collections are metered and/or totalized. Loans are measured by a banker's criteria instead of on an educated guess spiced with greed. Play-pricing, minimum guarantees and new machine requests are decided upon in the operator's office and passed down the route as policy rather than thru the traditional operator-location argument in the back booth of a bar.

Such is the direction of this trade—professionalism. And such is the distinction of the more successful routes. This professionalism in staff, route and office procedure makes for a slicker, better integrated, more vigorous route—a route under total finger-tip control of its operator-owner.

Many tradesters from the "mom and pop" school of back-pocket operating have found that by getting all their records in order and by establishing an organized work schedule for themselves and their employees, the operation runs smoother, grows more consistently and nets a more sensible dollar with less bad-risk write-offs.

If you are still operating out of your back pocket, are interested in streamlining your business along more professional lines but are not in a position to do it yourself, there are many firms in the yellow pages who, for a fee, will send a specialist to point the way for you.

Roth Novelty Co. Recovering from Wrath of Agnes

WILKES-BARRE—"Our company is battered but unbeaten" was the brave, victorious statement issued last week by Marvin Roth, president of the Roth Novelty Co. here. Roth Novelty, situated smack center in the most devastated section of flood-ravaged Pennsylvania, is now refurbishing practically from the ground up. Since the waters receded, Roth's staff has been working diligently and without cessation to restore its services to the area's music and games operators and, according to Merf Roth, "we are, indeed, making fantastic inroads on all fronts."

Temporary facilities have been established at 60 North State street, immediately behind their washed-out Pennsylvania Ave. headquarters. Phone service is reportedly back in action, but any tradester who may experience difficulty reaching the firm is advised to write, care of the N. State St. address.

"The flood-damage we sustained is vast and beyond your imagination," Roth declared in a mailed statement to his friends and customers, "but we do not seek your sympathy or ask for special consideration.

"But you can help by doing the following," he continued in his July 5th statement:

"Postpone your purchases of new equipment for a very short time until we are in a position—WITHIN DAYS—to make delivery of new and "fresh" merchandise coming from all manufacturers.

"Buy from us flood-damaged or somewhat distressed merchandise (at substantially reduced prices) that you might restore at your leisure in your shop and use effectively. All machines that have been in water are clearly marked—as you know, we will not misrepresent. We do not have the time or the capability to restore all of this equipment quickly. Visit us and make your own selections!

"Pay your bills now. Our need for funds has never been so great. You know full well that our terms have always been the most liberal in the industry—and we propose to continue this policy when we return to normalcy. BUT WE NEED YOUR ASSISTANCE NOW!

"To those of you who have also been crippled by this flood, we want you to know, and this is important, that as soon as we become viable—a going-concern offering full services—we will be pleased to aid you, in any regard, within our capability, in revitalizing your business, without any profit motive . . . whatever you do—DO NOT GIVE UP—it will not be long, and we will all "be back" stronger than ever."

tors, with attention to be given to specialized market segments during the Sunday convention sessions.

NAMA member firms and non-member manufacturers and suppliers can register in advance through the association's Chicago office, Schreiber said. Nonmember operators should obtain their complimentary registration badges at the Convention Hall in Atlantic City.

"Naturally, we would be glad to hear from any operating companies right now if they want to join NAMA before they come to the Convention," Schreiber said.

NAMA No-Fee Reg. for Ops

CHICAGO — Operators attending the 1972 NAMA Convention-Exhibit in Atlantic City this fall will be able to register without paying a fee, continuing an experimental policy first tried at the association's annual Western Convention this spring.

NAMA president Dick Schreiber expressed the hope that many non-member vending and foodservice company owners and their personnel will take advantage of this opportunity to become better acquainted with NAMA, its services and its people.

"We join the exhibitors in extending its get-acquainted invitation to those who have not yet seen NAMA at close range," Schreiber said. "There are many reasons why more than 2,000 vending organizations are active and paying dues in our national association. The convention is a good way for nonmembers to see and meet NAMA's people. We hope that by opening the door wide we'll draw even more operators from the Eastern states than in Philadelphia four years ago."

The NAMA Convention-Exhibit is scheduled for October 12 through 15 at the Atlantic City Convention Hall. Under another new policy the event is scheduled from Thursday through Sunday.

In recent years nonmember operators were required to pay a $50-per-person registration fee.

The $75 registration fee for non-member manufacturers and suppliers will be continued at Atlantic City, with additional personnel from such companies to be charged $50 per person.

Tentative program plans for the convention meetings are aimed at singling out specific potential markets for vending and food service contrac-

AROUND TOWN—Howard Kaye, sales director for the Irving Kaye Sales Corp., advised that the plant will shut down for its annual vacation July 17th and will reopen August 1st. Meantime, there'll be an answering service to facilitate the trade. Howard, incidentally, has begun shipping Kaye's brand new Super Soccer table soccer in the "standard" model. The "standard", first of three models in the Super Soccer series, offers a pile of fine features for games ops including built-in recessed ball return, a split hinge which permits the top to come off for ease of installation, chromeplated steel rods supporting realistically-decorated players, and all housed in a cabinet made of Finnish birch ply laminated with melamine. Those distributors who've already received samples are tickled with the item, says Howard and the company looks forward to a long, healthy production run.

Wurlitzer promo vet A.D. Palmer, with his right-hand man Vic Zast, jetted into Fun City for day of photo taking last Tuesday. Certain new product and merchandising aids were photographed for use in brochures and promo material A.D.'s preparing. . . . The Wurlitzer plant, by the way, gets back in action on the 24th after its annual vacation shut-down. . . . U.S. Billiards' sales chief Len Schneller just returned from an eleven day vacation on the road with the wife and Mr. and Mrs. Driks, his son Stu's in-laws. The two couples put in some heavy road mileage, visiting such cities as Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec on their way back from several restful days at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. . . . U.S. Billiards veep Dick Simon & family all moved into new home in Dix Hills, Long Island.

ON THE AVENUE—The excessive heat we've been experiencing has cut down the number of operators visiting the Tenth Ave. showrooms a bit. Those spotted along coinrow have their tongues hanging out and advise that routework is a bit of a drag since many stops have no air conditioning and you can't even get a break paying a service call. Equipment has been moving pretty well right along, tho, this spring and summer, with healthy action on shuffles and add-a-balls, according to dealers we chatted with. Tables are moving normally for the summer, and table collections are doing pretty well.

Atlantic New York has racked up some fine sales on the Seeburg Firestar Bandshell juke thru spring-summer promotion. And Murray Kaye advised that the Seeburg Marauder 100-selection phonograph has taken off nicely in big town. "It's the ticket for locations that where floor space is at a premium," says the K. . . . Atlantic's shop and service crew is in its vacation period now; half the staff took the last two weeks off, the remainder will be out this week and next. Murray himself takes off his usual Friday's, and can be seen teeing off at Dyker Beach Golf Course bright and very early.

Interstate United Corp. is opening four more restaurants in Manhattan, this time at the giant new Uris Building at 55 Water Street (reportedly the world's largest private office building). The eating and drinking stops will be named: "The Buttonwood Tree", "The Dutch Corner", "The Dinghy Bar" and the "Over-the-Counter" . . . Phil Kass, prominent equipment financier in these parts (Conditional Purchase Co., Inc.) has reportedly acquired Bedford Capital Corp., also a prominent finance company operating out of Brooklyn.

Genial Louis Wolberg at Runyan's Tenth Ave. showroom proudly notes his daughter Pearl graduated cum laude from Brooklyn College with degree in Physical Education. Pearl plans to enter the city's high school system in the fall; meantime is doing work at a summer camp. The Wolberg's incidentally, recently went thru the pure hell of moving to a new apartment in Brooklyn, but are settled in now. Recent music operators down to the Runyon showrooms for equipment and parts include Vic DeCerbo (V&R Enterprises, Patchogue), Herb Cook of Cutchogue, Long Island, Len Helischer of Inter-County and Lou Hirsch of Silvertone in the Bronx.

MEETING DATES—Upstaters are reminded by Shirley Werner that New York State Guild meeting's set for this Wed. nite at the Hotel Washington in Newburgh. Starts at the usual 7:30 PM hour . . . The New York City UJA bunch will also be gathering that night for committee meeting. Man of the Year for the 1972 fund raising campaign will be selected at that go-round. Place is the NYU Club at 123 W. 43rd.

Among those back from annual vacations are Eunice Colson, gen. secretary and Dolores Hopson, book-keeper, Gulf Coast Distributing Co. Bossman L. C. Butler took week off for fishing trip during July 4th Holiday period. Larry Twardowski, sales mgr., H. A. Franz & Co. Russ Reeder and Anne Thome, manager and record sales respectively, Record Service Co. Jack Stazo, head of Big State Vending Co. . . . Jack Chambers, owner Jack Coin Machine Service, no doubt is the oldest serviceman from point of continuous service in Houston area. He started with firm of Stelle & Horton on Louisiana St., Houston's first distributing firm organized in early Thirties. He was a nephew of Harold Horton, co-owner of the concern. Horton died a few years ago. Jack has been in the coin machine business well over 40 years. . . . Lt. Michael Reeder, son of Russ Reeder, head of Record Service Co. here, has been assigned to Army Medical Service Corps in Frankfurt, Germany. Michael graduated from U.S. West Point Military Academy last June.

On Jan. 1, 1956 Harold W. Daily officially changed name of his firm from South Coast Amusement Co. to H. W. Daily, Inc. and started dealing in phonograph records exclusively. Today his firm is rated among tops in Texas one stop service concerns. Bulk of work is now carried on by sons, H. W. Daily Jr. and Don Daily. H. W. Works every day in his office but generally ready and willing to discuss sports, politics or any other current topic with all comers. . . . L. C. As a most fitting gesture Butler had a proof set of silver coins commemorating the event struck by the Philadelphia Mint (the best).

CHICAGO CHATTER

Fullscale production schedules were being resumed this week at the Bally, Midway and Rock-Ola plants following the just concluded annual vacation shut-down.

CRYSTAL RECORDS PREXY John Hogan was a Cash Box visitor last week to tell us about a new single he has just released for operators. It's an instrumental featuring organist Barbara Sellers doing "Down The Road A Piece" and "Wave". Label enjoyed some success here a few months back with Miss Sellers' recording of "Night Train."

THE WURLITZER "Cabaret" and "Carousel" phono models are among the top items of the day at National Coin Machine Exchange—as Mort Levinson tells us. Distrib's export department is also very busy these days!

AN EXCEPTIONALLY LARGE crowd of operators and service people attended the recent service school on the Seeburg cold drink vender, hosted by World Wide Dist. Irv Ovitz said it was one of his department's most successful sessions—and "everyone was quite impressed with Seeburg engineer Dick Prybl's presentation" . . . World Wide's Springfield office is as active as ever and as smooth running as ever, thanks to the efforts of Art Wood who spends a good part of each week serving customers in that area.

TALKED TO HYMIE ZORINSKY OF H. Z. Vending & Sales in Omaha, who's sharing the common problem (at this time of the year) of surviving with a skeleton force during the vacation months. "Things do get a little rough," he said, "but we manage. We're selling a lot of Rock-Ola phonographs, as well as current Gottlieb and ChiCoin games. We're pretty excited about the new ChiCoin "Commando" gun which arrived last week and is on display in our showroom."

ALTHOUGH THE Chicago Dynamic Industries factory will be closed for vacation from July 17 thru 28 (resuming production on the 31st), the firm's parts department, shipping department and office will remain open. Marketing manager Chuck Arnold will be at his desk, as usual and we imagine those orders for Twin Rifle, Commando, et al will continue to pour in—as usual!

SAID A QUICK "hello" to Joe Kline of Atlas Music Co., and that was just about the size of our conversation! Things were that busy out there—and Joe had umpteen calls waiting!

HERE'S A SCOOP FROM Bill DeSelm—samples of the brand new Williams "Stockade" rifle will be forthcoming immediately after the factory's vacation shutdown (July 17 thru August 4), to be followed by full production schedules when the plant re-opens on August 7. That'll give the trade something to look forward to!

ON THE SINGLES SCENE: Once again Gus Tartol of Singers One Stop passes along his list of some of this area's top operator singles. Among them, "Everybody Likes It" by Steve Karmen (Audio Fidelity), "Sunday Kind Of Love" by Lenny Welch (Atco), "MacArthur Park" by Andy Williams (Columbia), "If You've Got The Time" by Sammy Kaye (Project 3), and "Goodby To Love" by The Carpenters (A&M).

MILWAUKEE MENTIONS

The Lake Geneva Playboy Club, a swingin' spot all year around but especially so during the resort season, added several acts to its current entertainment schedule—including Peggy Lee (7/28-8/5), Jack Jones (8/11-20) and Melba Moore (8/22-9/3).

PAUL JACOBS OF Wurlitzer Dist. Corp. is in the process of catching up, following his recent 2-weeks absence for army reserve duty. "Summer business so far has been very, very good," Paul said. The distrib chalked up a record sales month in June! "The Wurlitzer 'Cabaret' phonograph is one of our fastest moving items," he added, "and we find it's almost impossible to keep stock on dart games, like Midway's 'Bulls Eye' and the Electro Dart, which are also strong sellers for us!"

UNDERSTAND THE HASTINGS DIST. INC. picnic was a big success! Everyone had a ball—and Willy Bohrer, as chef, did an outstanding job! . . . Jack Hastings will be making plans very shortly for a summer vacation with his family. Until that time, however, he'll be concentrating pretty much on filling orders for the Rock-Ola "447" phonograph and the Frigidaire ice machine which are currently in such big demand out there!

ON THE SINGLES SCENE: Following are some new releases which John Janowski of Radio Doctors feels will score very heavily with local operators: "Love Isn't Love" by Bobby Lee Trammell (Souncot), "I'm Gonna Knock On Your Door" by Billy Crash Craddock (Cartwheel), "One For My Baby/I've Got You Under My Skin" by Frank Sinatra (Capitol) and "Make It Easy On Yourself" by Johnny Mathis (Columbia).

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

Leo Simone (Struve Distributing Co.) is raving over the new dart game from Electronic Sensing Products, Inc., called, 'Electro*Dart'. Leo says this is one of the most exciting dart games that he has experienced in sometime, and there is plenty of two-player competitive action to add to the excitement. The game is completely electronic including the scoring. The control unit can be placed anywhere, or may be hand held, and the unit is wireless remote control. And, above all, says Leo, the game occupies no floor space. Location earnings have been outstanding, according to operators' reports. Williams 4-player, 'Honey' also moves out to operators as fast as shipments arrive. Leo says he is now awaiting the 'Superstar' . . . Equipment is moving at a good clip at Portale Automatic Sales says Jimmy Wilkins. The Chicago Coin machine gun, 'Commando', a new target game is now on the showroom floor, says Jimmy, and without question is going to be a whooping success. Also, expected another shipment of, 'Super Bowl' the new shuffle from Chicoin that has been nothing short of sensational. Other top items are the, 'Sea Hunt', from Allied Leisure Industries and the 'Space Computer', the Nutting Associates unique target game.

Activity at C. A. Robinson & Co., says Hank Tronick, continues hot and heavy with hardly a dull moment from the time that the doors open until they close—more often than not, it is very difficult to establish a closing time. Hank says, Midways 'Bulls Eye' dart game is scoring a tremendous hit on location and its earning power is making many an operator perk up and order what is proving to be one of the best bar games to hit the market since pool tables. Bally's 'El Toro' is proving to be a classic insofar as flipper games are concerned. After the huge success of Bally's 'FireBall', it hardly seemed possible that El Toro would enjoy the same volume of sales, relates Hank.
